THE UNIVERSITY OF WINNIPEG

To the graduates of 2008:

Congratulations!

It is a great pleasure for me to be with you on this special occasion, to shake your hand and wish you well as you set out on the next venture in your life. You have much of which to be proud, since the successful completion of your University of Winnipeg degree bodes well for your future success, in your career and in your community.

And all of us benefit from your success, because society is immeasurably enriched by the kind of critical and creative thinking you have acquired here.

Whatever you choose to do, whether you change the world or just change the life of one individual, do your very best at it, and know that we will be watching you with pride.

Chancellor,
The University of Winnipeg

THE UNIVERSITY OF WINNIPEG

To the graduates of 2008:

It was Aldous Huxley who said, “There’s only one corner of the universe you can be certain of improving, and that’s your own self.”

As a new graduate, you have experienced the transformative power of education and you are aware of the importance of looking inward. Now as you take your insights, knowledge and skills into the world, the focus will shift to looking outward and your contribution to the whole.

You have the unique opportunity to engage in change. Participate in your community and dare to dream big.

Our priority at The University of Winnipeg is to offer the very best post-secondary education and to nurture in you the special sense of belonging to a global community.

As a graduate myself of this University, I value the life-long skills learned here; the importance of critical thinking, the strength of community and interconnectedness, curiosity, and just as importantly, compassion. You have honed your abilities to look beyond the obvious. Now embrace your role as a global citizen and remain socially aware and active.

I also encourage you to return and pursue your academic career at UWinnipeg as a graduate student. New graduate programs offered here include a Master of Arts in Aboriginal Governance, Master of Science in Applied Computer Science and Society, Master of Science in Bioscience, Technology and Public Policy and beginning next year, a Master of Arts in English with a focus on Cultural Studies. These programs are unique in Canada.

In both the Globe & Mail and Maclean's Magazine, The University of Winnipeg ranks annually in the Top-10 of Canada's post-secondary institutions according to you, our students. It is our goal to have all our graduating students, year after year, leave us with the same high level of satisfaction.

In the years ahead, I encourage you to stay in touch with us. As new alumni, you are now members of a family of nearly 40,000 people who have passed through our doors as students and graduates.

Please accept my sincere congratulations and best wishes for your adventures ahead.

Sincerely yours,

President and Vice-Chancellor,
The University of Winnipeg

The Alumni Association of The University of Winnipeg

To the graduates of 2008:

On behalf of more than 40,000 alumni, let me offer my congratulations to you for completing your course of studies. It is now my pleasure to welcome you as a member in The University of Winnipeg Alumni Association.

You are each very fortunate to have had the opportunity to learn, build relationships and contribute to a first-class University community. We, too, are privileged to have had this chance to learn from you. I encourage you, in whatever challenges and opportunities lie before you, to apply what you have learned here in the service of others – locally and globally.

Wherever your journey takes you, I encourage you to remain connected to us via Alumni Association activities and communications. We need you to help us in our quest to make our University a relevant and beneficial place to be. Your insights and experiences will be valuable in this regard.

All the best in your future and once again, congratulations and WELCOME to the alumni family!

Honorees

Pat Broe, Honorary Doctor of Laws

Denver-based entrepreneur Pat Broe's unique foresight and role in the development of Manitoba's north has been visionary. His significant investments have enhanced the Port of Churchill and have contributed substantially to the economic health of northern Manitoba.

In 1997, Broe and his company OmniTRAX Canada, Inc., one of North America's leading transportation services companies, rescued 1,300 km of rail line in northern Manitoba from abandonment. He also acquired the Port of Churchill, spending considerable resources, time and effort in establishing the port as a vital trade link between Canada and Europe, the Middle East, Africa and South America.

Beyond business involvement, Broe has made significant personal contributions to Churchill and The University of Winnipeg. He is the leading donor with the Town of Churchill and the University in the development of a sustainability plan, designed to enhance the quality of life and ensure the future of Churchill by improving the ecological, economic and social conditions of the community.

Broe and his company now serve as the leading transportation enterprise focused on the increasing importance of the north in conjunction with supporting The University of Winnipeg's efforts to establish Churchill as a leading northern sustainable community.

As well, Broe's generosity and progressive thinking were vital in the creation of the OmniTRAX Broe Quest series of free public international conferences launched by The University of Winnipeg in 2004. The Quest series explored relevant topics such as global citizenship, war-affected children and transformative education.

Pat Broe is awarded an honorary Doctor of Laws degree for his significant contribution to the broader understanding of Manitoba's north, and for his demonstrated commitment to social, economic and ecological sustainability and University of Winnipeg initiatives.

Phil Fontaine, BA, LL.D Honorary Doctor of Laws

Phil Fontaine is National Chief of the Assembly of First Nations and a member of the Order of Manitoba who has made many positive contributions to Canada. He is a dedicated and highly respected leader. Fontaine has been a dominant force and advocate for First Nations people since the 1970s. Fontaine began his instrumental work in facilitating change and advancement for First Nations people as Chief of Sagkeeng First Nation. He was just 28 years old.

Fontaine is legendary for his negotiations skills and his soft-spoken manner. His accomplishments are many and significant.

Fontaine's vision for First Nations people included self-determination and the implementation of treaty and land rights as he negotiated the first comprehensive self-government plan for Manitoba First Nations. Through tireless efforts, he was also instrumental in the protection of Aboriginal and treaty rights in the Canadian constitution.

Fontaine played a pivotal role in exposing abuses within the residential school system. As an eloquent survivor of residential school, his voice as a key negotiator led to the resolution and settlement of claims and to an historic apology by the Government of Canada in the House of Commons.

He has served in key provincial and federal positions including Manitoba Regional Chief for the Assembly of First Nations, Grand Chief of the Assembly of Manitoba Chiefs and Chief Commissioner of the Land Claims Commission.

Fontaine is awarded an Honorary Doctor of Laws in recognition of his unflinching integrity, his visionary and exemplary leadership, and his advocacy and commitment to First Nations people and to Canada.

Frank Hechter, DMD, MSc, MEd, PhD

Fellowship in The University of Winnipeg

The Fellowship in The University of Winnipeg is conferred to those who have served the University with distinction on a volunteer basis.

Dr. Hechter is a remarkable volunteer with contributions as a former Board of Regents Chair – in his professional field of work – and in serving the community.

Professionally, Hechter is an orthodontist with a particular interest in the areas of continuing education and research which led him to obtain an interdisciplinary PhD in Education, Educational Psychology and Psychology. Hechter's service in the health fields extends beyond his professional services in dentistry. He has been a member of the Sanatorium Board of Manitoba through the Manitoba Lung Association for nearly a decade and volunteered with the Provincial Tuberculosis Steering Committee.

A strong leader during his tenure as Board Chair (1998-2000), Hechter also served the University as a Board member from 1993-2003 and was part of search committees at various times for the University President and Chancellor positions.

A family man and sports enthusiast, Hechter has volunteered from the grassroots levels (AAA hockey and AA baseball) to the elite-levels of amateur sports (Pan-American Games committees and the 2009 Royal Bank Junior A Hockey Championships bid committee). He has also dedicated his time to the United Way.

James Currie, BSc, MSc, PhD

The Erica and Arnold Rogers Award for Excellence in Research and Scholarship

Currie is a leading mathematics researcher. His present research interests include ordered sets, graph dimension and quantum computing. His principal area of research is in a field of pure mathematics called combinatorics on words, and within this specialty, Currie is one of the world's leading experts on repetitions in words and pattern avoidance.

Currie studies problems that are often posed in deceptively simple language but can be quite difficult to solve. He has enriched his field by solving those problems and by introducing new mathematical tools – including the probabilistic method and the fixed blocking method – to advance further research.

Currie has published 36 papers in high-quality, peer-reviewed journals. Along with other scholarly publications, Currie has spoken at numerous conferences. His research profile on the international stage has inspired other academics to work with him or under his tutelage.

The Erica and Arnold Rogers Award for Excellence in Research and Scholarship was established by Erica and Arnold Rogers, friends of The University of Winnipeg. Dr. Rogers, a medical doctor, and his wife Erica, valued the contribution by faculty members to research and scholarship.

James Christie, BTh, MDiv, MA, DMin The Clarence Atchison Award for Excellence in Community Service

Dr. Christie has dedicated his career to service to the community. His contributions have been both local and international in scope.

Locally, Christie's efforts in religious dialogue have resulted in establishment of a Muslim prayer room at The University of Winnipeg while his passion for human rights has helped with the integration of the African community, and brought General Romeo Dallaire to Winnipeg. His work with Dallaire continues through the Child Soldier Initiative, which is dedicated to ending the use of child soldiers globally.

Internationally, Christie chairs the World Federalist Movement, which is the leading NGO in the coalition for the International Criminal Court. He is also the President of the Canadian Coalition of Churches and he has created cooperative programs with universities in China and Uganda.

Most recently, Christie has accepted the role of Secretary General of the G8 Religious Leaders 2010 Summit, which will see more than 100 participants travel to Winnipeg from France, Germany, Italy, Canada, Japan, the United Kingdom, the United States, Russia (G8) as well as Africa for three days of dialogue devoted to advancing the Millennium Development Goals adopted by the G8 countries in 2000. The goals encompass pressing global concerns ranging from eradicating extreme poverty to combating HIV and malaria to ensuring environmental sustainability.

The Clarence Atchison Award for Community Service was established by Investors Group to honour the former President and Vice Chair of Investors Group, Clarence E. Atchison. Together with an impressive record of business accomplishments, Dr. Atchison devoted many hours to community and social service in Winnipeg, serving on many boards and advisory councils. He was a long time member of The University of Winnipeg Board of Regents, acting as Chair from 1968 to 1970. The award is given to a University faculty or staff member to recognize their contribution of time, expertise and service to the community.

The Honourable Howard Pawley, PC, BA, LLB, QC, OM, QC, LLD Distinguished Alumni Award

The Hon. Howard Pawley completed his undergraduate degree at United College in 1957 before going on to complete his law degree. Pawley has devoted himself to a life of distinguished public service, including leading the province as Premier of Manitoba from 1981 to 1988. His government entrenched French language rights, launched the giant Limestone hydro generating project and negotiated major export agreements of hydro electricity to the United States, introduced pay equity and progressive changes to the Human Rights Code.

During his political career, Pawley served as an MLA for Selkirk from 1969 to 1988. He held several cabinet positions in the NDP administration of Ed Schreyer before becoming Leader of the Official Opposition from 1979 to 1981 and eventually Premier. Ironically, the Pawley government followed that of another United College alumnus, the Hon. Sterling Lyon.

Pawley left Manitoba in 1990 to become Associate Professor of Political Science at the University of Windsor and has been Adjunct Professor of Political Science there since 2000. He has served as the Stanley Knowles Professor at the University of Waterloo and as visiting Professor in Canadian Studies at the University of Washington in Seattle.

Among his many accomplishments, Pawley is a gifted teacher who inspires youth with his passion and commitment to social justice.

Pawley is President of the Harry Crowe Foundation and is a Vice-President of The Canadian Broadcast Standards Council and the Canadian Civil Liberties Association. In 2001, Pawley was appointed an Officer of the Order of Canada.

The University of Winnipeg Coat of Arms

The Coat of Arms of The University of Winnipeg was officially adopted by the governing bodies of the University during the academic session of 1972-73.

The elements found within the Coat of Arms have been associated over the years with both Manitoba and Wesley Colleges, the ancestors of United College. The bunch of grapes in the lower portion of the inner shield derives from the Coat of Arms of Manitoba College. The grape symbol has its origin in the College seal adopted in the charter of 1871. The cross, the lamp, and the open book derive from the Coat of Arms of Wesley College, designed in 1897 by Dr. J.H. Riddell. The cross, the symbol of sacrificial service in the interest of humanity, was the basis for his design and upon it he placed a shield, the symbol of protection. The lamp, the symbol of light, also represents learning, to which the Colleges have been devoted to for over a century in the Province of Manitoba. The open book, representing instruction in the way of life and the bringing of understanding to the student, symbolizes knowledge in a general sense, although it may carry overtones of the Holy Scriptures in a more limited interpretation.

The motto, placed upon a scroll below, is the United College motto, her retained: Lux et Veritas Floreant (Let Light and Truth Flourish). The words catch the central import of the lamp (light) and the open book (truth), and express the hope that both may flourish (as the grape) in our country (the cross).

Academic Dress

Academic dress originated in medieval times to provide warmth in the damp halls of learning. In its present form it includes a gown, hood (worn over the shoulders), and a cap or mortarboard. All universities have distinctive dress for each degree offered which explains the variety seen in the academic procession.

University of Winnipeg academic dress conforms to the North American Intercollegiate Code. All graduates wear a black gown which varies according to the degree conferred. The bachelor's gown is worn closed in front and is distinguished by its pointed sleeves. The master's gown is designed to be worn either open or closed in front and has closed sleeves with an opening to free the hands. The front portion of the sleeve below the opening has a long semi-circular cut-out. Doctorate gowns also may be worn open or closed. They are faced with velvet.

The edging colour on the hood indicates the faculty in which a degree is conferred: Theology – red; Science – gold; Education – blue; Arts – white. The width of edging is determined by the degree: three inches for doctors; two inches for masters and bachelors. Hoods are lined in red with a white chevron.

Honorary doctors' gowns are red in colour and are faced with white velvet. They are worn with red Tudor bonnets. The hood colour signifies the honorary degree: white for Laws; golden yellow for Science; admiral blue for Letters; purple for Divinity. Hoods are lined in red and white, The University of Winnipeg colours. Fellows wear a gown of blue with neither hat nor hood. Members of the University's senior administration wear gowns of varying colours. They do not wear hoods.

The Banner

The banner, prominently displaying the Coat of Arms, was unveiled in 1988. The volunteer effort of Pat Corner, Fran Farquhar, Susan Ferguson, and Sonya C. Wright took more than 1,000 hours. Over 400 meters of thread and 30 meters of wool material went into the project using traditional techniques such as quilting, embroidery, and crewel.
