

THE UNIVERSITY OF WINNIPEG

The University of Winnipeg
The Ninety-Fourth Convocation for the Conferring of Degrees

The University of Winnipeg
Duckworth Centre
Thursday, June 9th
Friday, June 10th

*Spring
Convocation* 2011

To the graduates of 2011:

Congratulations!

I am proud to join you on this extraordinary occasion and wish you well as you move forward as leaders in our global community.

Convocation marks a day when the whole University turns its focus to its reason for being. This is a university where the next generation of leaders is born and where students from all walks of life can achieve their dreams.

Every one of you has much to be proud of today and I encourage you to take great satisfaction in seeing the results of your hard work. You are the star of the show; relish your accomplishments!

Today we look to the future in great anticipation and optimism. University of Winnipeg graduates have much to offer Canada and the world beyond our borders. Be persistent and pursue your goals and know that you will have our continued support along the way.

Mr. Robert Silver, BSc(Hons)
Chancellor
The University of Winnipeg

To the graduates of 2011:

It is my honour and pleasure to offer my sincere congratulations for your achievements. We are here to celebrate the hard work and resolve you have demonstrated in completing your degrees. Today is a testimony to your commitment and determination. You have succeeded. Enjoy it.

On this great occasion, it is wise to reflect on all those who have supported your endeavors. We pay tribute to your family and friends, who have offered wisdom, patience and generosity of spirit, and have contributed to your success.

And to our faculty members, we give thanks, for their commitment to providing UWinnipeg students with the knowledge and skills demanded in today's economy. This is what makes the educational experience at UWinnipeg unique. Our downtown campus, combined with the wide variety of degree programs, and smaller class sizes allows for an enriched learning experience between faculty and students.

For the first time in decades, the campus is expanding to better serve future generations of students with world-class facilities, while strengthening Winnipeg's downtown and inner-city neighbourhoods. You have contributed your energy and talents in making this a better place for the many students who will follow in your footsteps.

Some of you may enter directly into new careers, and others may decide to continue with further studies. As new alumni, you are now members of a family of more than 40,000 people who have passed through our doors as students and graduates. We have created a new UniverCity Club which sincerely welcomes your participation. Club members help the University continue to offer accessible world-class education, revitalize the downtown and build an inclusive community.

I encourage you to stay in touch with us. On behalf of our faculty and staff, congratulations and please accept my best wishes for your adventures ahead.

Sincerely,

Lloyd Axworthy, PC, BA, PhD, LL.D, OC, OM
President and Vice-Chancellor

THE UNIVERSITY OF WINNIPEG

To the Class of 2011:

As President of The University of Winnipeg Alumni Association, I want to congratulate each student for accomplishing a wonderful milestone, graduating with a University education. What you have done is really quite phenomenal. You have spent the last few years delicately balancing your studies with family life, work schedules and personal responsibilities. I think you are amazing. I applaud every one of you on your graduation.

A University education places you in good stead for the rest of your life. Some of you will continue your studies and some will join the working world soon. Regardless, you have proven to yourself that you are capable of overcoming much. School was not always easy; life gets in the way. You found the inner strength to persevere and get the paper written, do the lab assignment and pass the exam. You have tested your inner resolve and shown yourself, and I would say the outside world, that you are a strong and determined person.

On a personal note, I am very proud of you. I graduated from this great school years ago and the time spent here taught me tremendous life skills which I draw upon almost daily to help me with work, family and life. I am confident you too have developed, here at UWinnipeg, the life skills already that will propel you into future success in all aspects of your life. Well done, people.

Mike Cook, BA, LLB
President of the UWinnipeg Alumni Association

Jonathan F. Fanton

BA, MA, PhD

Honorary Doctor of Laws

Dr. Jonathan Fanton is a leading advocate for a more just, sustainable and peaceful world who has devoted his professional life to promoting innovation in higher education, global justice and philanthropy.

As President of the John D. and Catherine T. MacArthur Foundation (1999-2009), Fanton provided critical support for Canadian-led initiatives such as the Ottawa Treaty banning antipersonnel landmines, creation of the International Criminal Court and formation of the doctrine of "Responsibility to Protect." He continues to be one of the world's leading advocates for an integrated system of international justice and for four years, served as chair of Human Rights Watch, the largest U.S. based human rights organization, which operates in 70 countries.

During Fanton's tenure, support from the MacArthur Foundation enabled The University of Winnipeg to engage in a number of conservation and land use planning projects with First Nations communities in Northern Manitoba.

In 2008, UWinnipeg hosted experts from the MacArthur Foundation's groundbreaking digital learning initiative, focused on understanding how digital media are changing the way young people learn, play and socialize.

Fanton pioneered a distinct style of higher learning as President of the New School for Social Research in New York City (1982-1999). The New School is renowned for inspiring students to create positive change in the world. Under his tutelage, the New School also embraced the immediate neighbourhood and became a force for change and redevelopment in lower Manhattan, by sponsoring market gardens and new housing.

Fanton's determination to reach for that which is possible has had a significant impact around the world, in Canada, and most especially, here at The University of Winnipeg.

David A. Golden

LLB, LL.D, OC

Honorary Doctor of Laws

David A. Golden has made his mark by launching a distinguished career in public service that spans close to half a century and he significantly contributed to making Canada a world leader in science, advanced technology and telecommunications.

Golden was a prize student at Winnipeg's Peretz School, and earned a prestigious Rhodes scholarship to Oxford University, which he deferred, to enlist with the Canadian Army during World War II. He returned to his studies after his release in 1945 after he survived four years in a Japanese prisoner of war camp in Hong Kong.

After his studies, Golden experienced an impressive rise through the ranks as a Canadian public servant to become the first Jewish deputy minister in Ottawa in 1954. He served as Deputy Minister of Defense Production and subsequently Deputy Minister of Industry.

Golden chaired the Parliamentary Centre of Foreign Affairs and Foreign Trade and presided over the Air Industries Association of Canada. In 1969, Golden oversaw Telesat as the first president and helped establish a number of satellite firsts in the world and by providing an important service to Canada and Canadians. Under his leadership, Telesat launched Anik A1, the world's first commercial domestic communication satellite in geostationary orbit, making history.

After his retirement from Telesat, he continued to serve on various boards including Atomic Energy of Canada, MITEL, Pratt & Whitney Aircraft of Canada, Provigo and the Conference Board.

The University of Winnipeg is honoured to present David A. Golden with an Honorary Doctor of Laws for his leadership as a public servant, his work in the field of communication technology and for his insight in bridging the worlds of government and business to help them work together for the benefit of all Canadians.

William D. Roberts

BA (Hons), MA, MBA

Honorary Doctor of Sacred Letters

William D. Roberts is a visionary who has demonstrated skills as a journalist, broadcaster, public policy analyst and educator. He is currently President & CEO, ZoomerMedia Limited, Television Division, a publicly traded multi-media company devoted exclusively to the needs and interests of Canadians over 45. Prior to this he was President and CEO of S-VOX, Canada's foremost provider of television and digital content focused on spiritual awareness and personal growth.

Roberts has consistently advanced freedom of the press and freedom of expression and has championed the cause of women and multiculturalism in Canada and abroad. A concrete example of his commitment is reflected in his seminal role in the establishment of Vision TV, a network dedicated to the intersection of faith, culture and politics.

He is a consistent advocate for the rights and freedoms in the quest for human dignity and global community and is a strong supporter of the Knowles/Woodsworth Centre at The University of Winnipeg.

Skilled in finance, marketing and business administration, Roberts has successfully led many cultural organizations to improved productivity and profitability by providing insight and guidance. He shares his knowledge as an educator on many levels including teaching broadcast communications and policy at the university level.

Roberts also has notable expertise in international relations, policymaking and advocacy regarding civil society. He is a sought after advisor and contributor to government, business, academia and media organizations.

Today, The University of Winnipeg is honoured to present William D. Roberts with an Honorary Doctor of Sacred Letters for his remarkable career in advocacy, public service and broadcast communications.

Leslie Spillett

Honorary Doctor of Laws

Leslie Spillett has made vast contributions for more than three decades to Winnipeg's inner-city and Indigenous community as an activist and advocate. She brings Indigenous and non-Indigenous Manitobans together on a wide range of issues that touch many aspects of the human spirit.

Spillett founded one of Manitoba's most visionary Indigenous organizations a decade ago, Ka Ni Kanichihk, (translated from Cree meaning "those who lead"), to support women and their families. Culturally-based, Aboriginal-led services include leadership development, mentorship, skill-specific training, community and economic development.

During that same time Spillett launched an annual June dinner entitled Keep the Fires Burning, an event that recognizes the importance of traditional knowledge and the status of Indigenous women.

Spillett also reaches out to honour marginalized youth. She founded Anishinaabe Oway-Ishi Inc. to recognize the outstanding achievements of Manitoba's Indigenous youth.

She served four years in an executive role on the Native Women's Association of Canada Board of Directors. During her tenure she began the Sisters in Spirit campaign to raise awareness and action regarding the hundreds of missing, murdered Indigenous women in Canada and participated in the Amnesty International research, and subsequent report Stolen Sisters. Spillett has represented these missing women at a UN World Conference Against Racism in 2001 and at a UNESCO conference in 2005.

Spillett also invests her time and contributes to The University of Winnipeg in a number of ways. She volunteers her time with the Indigenous Advisory Circle for the Master's in Development Practice Program and has been a dialogue associate for Global College. She is also an instructor for Adventures in Global Citizenship, an intensive summer institute on human rights.

Today, The University of Winnipeg is honoured to present Leslie Spillett with an Honorary Doctor of Laws for her notable career as a compassionate advocate and activist.

Robin Bryan, BA

Campus Sustainability Recognition Award

Robin Bryan has played a key leadership role in developing UWinnipeg's active transportation facilities and culture since 2009. He was a key organizer in the campaign to establish a $2 student levy to fund programming for the UWSA Bike Lab. He founded a team of avid winter cyclists called the Ice Riders – a team whose membership ballooned over the 2010/2011 year from 10 to over 50 riders. Over the same academic year, as the first ever Bike Lab coordinator, he played a key role in developing cycling programming on campus such as “Winterize your Bike” workshops, training for less experienced winter riders, and regular bicycle tune-up sessions.

The buzz that Robin has helped generate about the UWSA Bike Lab and the Ice Riders team has migrated outside of the University in this short time, and their logo, message and work is recognized throughout Winnipeg in the cycling community. They have participated in conferences bringing together cycling groups from across Winnipeg and were recently featured in the Manitoba Eco-Network's Eco-Journal.

Robin is also an environmental activist in the broader community. He has fought for years to put an end to industrial logging activity within the boundaries of provincial parks in Manitoba and Ontario. In 2008, Robin was rewarded for his efforts when the Manitoba Legislative Throne Speech banned logging in four of the five parks with logging operations. In recognition of his work, Robin received a Brower Youth Award, North America's most prestigious prize for young environmental leaders; he is only the second Canadian to win the award. Robin has also worked as the Outreach Coordinator of the Wilderness Committee, Canada's largest member based, citizen funded wilderness protection group.

Parvin Ghorayshi, BA, MA, PhD

Professor Emeritus
Clifford J. Robson Memorial Award for Excellence in Teaching

There is no higher honour for professors than being recognized and appreciated by students and respected by colleagues. Parvin Ghorayshi is a professor of sociology at The University of Winnipeg, is well loved and respected by her students, and is being honoured with both the title of Professor Emeritus, lifelong excellence in teaching, research and community involvement within the University, and with the Clifford J. Robson Memorial Award for Excellence in Teaching. These two awards command the respect of her colleagues and her students and are two of the highest honours that can be bestowed on a faculty member.

Ghorayshi's teaching style is unique and effective, with a passionate delivery that engages her students. She is described by a student as “gifted with a great teaching style, promoting learning and flexibility while teaching to think critically. Her acceptance of challenging points of view is encouraged without criticism. Parvin and her tireless commitment to her students inspires me to become a better student.”

Known for her research, Ghorayshi breaks down barriers between people and cultures while acknowledging their differences. “It is important to respect individual experiences,” she says. This journey is openly and collectively shared with her students as she encourages each student to pursue their own path.

A social justice advocate and feminist, Ghorayshi has devoted herself to research that touches a wide variety of domains including gender, the Middle East, feminism, economic sociology, and community development. One of her colleagues describes her “as a courageous researcher frequently far off the beaten track doing exceptionally detailed and insightful research.” Her students benefit from this strong tenacity and commitment to research.

Ghorayshi encourages class debate, allowing students to employ their knowledge and learn from their peers. She inspires confidence in her students by stressing their unique experiences and the ability of each individual to make a contribution.

The Clifford J. Robson Memorial Award for Excellence in Teaching is earned by gaining the respect, support, admiration and recognition of students. Ghorayshi has earned this acknowledgment, a testament to her commitment, care and dedication to her students and her field of study.

Margo Goodhand, BA (Hons)

The Distinguished Alumni Award

Margo Goodhand is a leader and a mentor. Through her great achievements she has made her mark in the world of journalism and in her local community.

Born and raised in Winnipeg, she graduated from The University of Winnipeg in 1979 with an honours degree in Politics and English. Goodhand then went on to complete post-graduate studies in Journalism in British Columbia.

Her career began as a journalist for the West Ender in Vancouver. From there she became the first female news editor in Medicine Hat. This led to working for both the Winnipeg Sun and the Winnipeg Free Press. Goodhand has been a reporter, columnist, copy editor, and section editor. As a result of her journalistic talent and dedication, in 2007 Goodhand was named Editor of the Winnipeg Free Press.

Under her leadership, the Winnipeg Free Press won the Excellence Award from the Canadian Journalism Foundation and a Michener Citation for meritorious public service journalism in 2009. Goodhand published the first ever “pink” newspaper in 2008 as a way to increase awareness of breast cancer. This endeavour raised thousands of dollars and the paper became a well known souvenir. This kind of dynamism and creativity has become the hallmark of the paper and has established the Winnipeg Free Press as one of the leading newspapers in Canada.

Goodhand believes in the integrity of journalism and is an active mentor to journalists and students. She serves on the National Newspaper Board of Governors, the Winnipeg Poverty Reduction Council, the John Dafoe Foundation Board of Governors and the President’s Advisory Council for the University of Manitoba.

As seen through her many accomplishments, she takes great pride in her work as well as in her community. Goodhand continues to provide people with a voice and brings light to issues that matter to Manitobans.

Melanie O’Gorman, BA, MA, PhD

Faculty of Business and Economics Chartered Accountants of Manitoba Excellence in Teaching Award

Melanie O’Gorman is an Assistant Professor in the Department of Economics at The University of Winnipeg. She joined the department in 2006 after completing her Ph.D. at the University of Toronto. Her research is in the areas of economic development, education and macroeconomics, and she has done field work in Pakistan and Tanzania. She has recently published in the Journal of Development Studies and the Journal of Policy Modeling.

This award acknowledges Professor O’Gorman’s extensive teaching contributions at the undergraduate level and her work in the development of a new economics graduate program. At the undergraduate level, Professor O’Gorman has taught nine different courses, ranging from first-year to honours level, and taught numerous reading courses above load over the past four years. In addition, she has made significant and innovative contributions in the development of two new courses, Microfinance Theory and Practice and Introduction to Economic Development, and has taught and developed a new online Intro to Macroeconomics course.

This award also recognizes Professor O’Gorman’s contribution to the development of the new graduate program in Development and Resource Economics. Professor O’Gorman played a leading role in the development of the program and the preparation of the Letter of Intent and Formal Proposal submitted to the University Senate and COPSE.

Eleoussa (Louesa) Polyzoi

BSc(Hons), MA, PhD

The Erica & Arnold Rogers Award for Excellence in Research and Scholarship

Faculty of Education Professor Louesa Polyzoi has spent more than 20 years as an active researcher at The University of Winnipeg with the subject of healthy child development always at the core of her research.

Polyzoi has attracted national and international funding for studies that have investigated adolescents at risk, the relationship between respiratory illness in children and school absenteeism rates, and talent development in at-risk children in Russia and Canada.

Polyzoi has published more than 60 peer-reviewed manuscripts and has delivered more than 100 conference presentations – a significant achievement in and of itself. Beyond this, she has maintained an outstanding research program, one that is well-respected in worldwide education circles. Her work has had significant impact on local, national and international educational policies and practices.

Polyzoi often includes her students in her research activities. She has also supervised PhD students at the University of Manitoba.

She is a frequent participant and contributor to University of Winnipeg and Faculty of Education committees.

A scholar in the truest sense of the word, Polyzoi has earned the respect of her students and colleagues. She is a fine ambassador for The University of Winnipeg.

Ingrid Truderung

The Robin H. Farquar Award for Excellence in Contributing to Self-Governance

Ingrid Truderung has served students, faculty, staff, and the senior management team at The University of Winnipeg for 35 years with grace, integrity, humour and passion. Most especially, in her seven-year role as the “go to person” in the President’s office, Truderung’s leadership and diplomatic skills were stretched daily as she juggled multiple demands and deadlines, solved problems quickly and efficiently, found resources within tight budget constraints, and acted as tireless ambassador, recruiter and champion for all things UWinnipeg.

Truderung joined the University community in 1976, initially in Technology Services, then moved into Employee Relations (now Human Resources). She accepted a temporary position as Executive Secretary in the President’s Office in 2004 and quickly became indispensable, creating a high-functioning executive office from the ground up. She never left, and in 2010 was appointed Administrative Officer, President’s Office.

Because of her extraordinary enthusiasm and discretion, Truderung was often called upon to liaise with government officials, donors, high-level diplomats and visiting lecturers. She was just as quick to assist a colleague or student in need, especially international students who could be found seeking advice in her office.

Truderung served the University on numerous committees, including I Heart UWinnipeg Committee, the Honourary Degrees committee, and search committees for members of senior administration. She leads by example, is the first to volunteer and goes beyond expectations to shoulder new responsibilities whenever needed.

Her diversified and finely-honed skills have served the University well in achieving its goals and objectives. Just as importantly, Truderung’s wit, common sense and compassion have touched everyone who knows her, and will leave a lasting legacy of excellence at UWinnipeg.

The University of Winnipeg Coat of Arms

The Coat of Arms of The University of Winnipeg was officially adopted by the governing bodies of the University during the academic session of 1972-73. The elements found within the Coat of Arms have been associated over the years with both Manitoba and Wesley Colleges, the ancestors of United College. The bunch of grapes in the lower portion of the inner shield derives from the Coat of Arms of Manitoba College. The grape symbol has its origin in the College seal adopted in the charter of 1871. The cross, the lamp, and the open book derive from the Coat of Arms of Wesley College, designed in 1897 by Dr. J.H. Riddell. The cross, the symbol of sacrificial service in the interest of humanity, was the basis for his design and upon it he placed a shield, the symbol of protection. The lamp, the symbol of light, also represents learning, to which the Colleges have been devoted to for over a century in the Province of Manitoba. The open book, representing instruction in the way of life and the bringing of understanding to the student, symbolizes knowledge in a general sense, although it may carry overtones of the Holy Scriptures in a more limited interpretation.

The motto, placed upon a scroll below, is the United College motto, her retained: Lux et Veritas Floreant (Let Light and Truth Flourish). The words catch the central import of the lamp (light) and the open book (truth), and express the hope that both may flourish (as the grape) in our country (the cross).

*A*cademic dress originated in medieval times to provide warmth in the damp halls of learning. In its present form it includes a gown, hood (worn over the shoulders), and a cap or mortarboard. All universities have distinctive dress for each degree offered which explains the variety seen in the academic procession.

University of Winnipeg academic dress conforms to the North American Intercollegiate Code. All graduates wear a black gown which varies according to the degree conferred. The bachelor's gown is worn closed in front and is distinguished by its pointed sleeves. The master's gown is designed to be worn either open or closed in front and has closed sleeves with an opening to free the hands. The front portion of the sleeve below the opening has a long semi-circular cut-out. Doctorate gowns also may be worn open or closed. They are faced with velvet.

The edging colour on the hood indicates the faculty in which a degree is conferred: Theology – red; Science – gold; Education – blue; Arts – white; Business and Economics – drab. The width of edging is determined by the degree: three inches for doctors; two inches for masters and bachelors. Hoods are lined in red with a white chevron.

Honorary doctors' gowns are red in colour and are faced with white velvet. They are worn with red Tudor bonnets. The hood colour signifies the honorary degree: white for Laws; golden yellow for Science; admiral blue for Letters; purple for Divinity. Hoods are lined in red and white, The University of Winnipeg colours. Fellows wear a gown of blue with neither hat nor hood. Members of the University's senior administration wear gowns of varying colours. They do not wear hoods.

*T*he banner, prominently displaying the Coat of Arms, was unveiled in 1988. The volunteer effort of Pat Corner, Fran Farquhar, Susan Ferguson, and Sonya C. Wright took more than 1,000 hours. Over 400 meters of thread and 30 meters of wool material went into the project using traditional techniques such as quilting, embroidery, and crewel.
