You have accomplished great things, demonstrating a drive and passion that will fuel your path forward. You don't have to look far to find University of Winnipeg graduates leading initiatives, volunteering their time, and championing change that makes an impact locally and globally. This community is there for you, rooting for you, as you launch your career or take the next steps in your post-secondary journey.

We are so proud of you and know great things are in store for you!

From the President

Congratulations Graduates!

Convocation is a special time for our University community. It is an opportunity to celebrate your academic success. On behalf of the Board of Regents, our faculty, and staff, I extend our sincere congratulations.

During your time at The University of Winnipeg, you have shaped your critical-thinking skills, experienced the value of a diversity of views, and ignited your curiosity and determination to contribute to a better society. Whether you are continuing your studies with us, at another institution, or pursuing your career, I know that you will be a leader. Your voice will be important to the future of our province, country, and the world.

On behalf of The University of Winnipeg, your professors, instructors, and the staff who supported you throughout your degree, please accept our very best wishes.

Sincerely,

*Today you cross

From the Alumni Association

As President of The University of Winnipeg Alumni Association, I am pleased to offer congratulations on behalf of our Association. Your hard work and dedication have culminated in this very special day. I am so happy to share in your excitement and proud to acknowledge your success.

I remember with fondness my personal excitement standing on the front lawn of Wesley Hall in 1971 taking graduation photos. There were no cell phones back then, just an ordinary camera. Now, 51 years later, I am still proud to be an integral part of this university community.

Today you cross the path from students to alumni. You will join our alumni family of over 50,000 individuals who share a common turning point in their educational lives – the invaluable experience of studying on this unique urban campus.

By becoming an active member of the Alumni Association, you can remain connected to, and supportive of, The University of Winnipeg and its students. We hope that, through the Alumni Association, you will maintain and enhance your professional and community affiliations.

We are delighted to be here today to hand you your Alumni Association pin. Wear it proudly.

Though you are leaving us today, this is not goodbye. Please stay connected. Keep up to date with alumni activities on social media, and feel free to contact your Alumni Office with the latest updates on where your life has taken you. You are one of us now! Welcome!

Honourees

Honourees

Alex Wilson

BA, EdM, EdD, LLD

Honorary Doctor of Laws

Dr. Alex Wilson is an acclaimed educator, scholar, and researcher whose commitment to building and sharing knowledge about land-based learning, and Two Spirit identity, history, and teachings has influenced educational policy at regional, national, and international levels.

Wilson is from and lives in the Opaskwayak Cree Nation. The first Canadian First Nations woman to receive a doctorate from Harvard, her experience as a teaching fellow in Harvard's first interdisciplinary course on First Peoples and governance led to the formation of two courses that now serve as a foundation for training curriculum in communities throughout Canada and the United States.

A leader in land-based learning pedagogy and research methodology, Wilson co-developed and currently oversees the Indigenous land-based education graduate program at the University of Saskatchewan.

A champion of the rights of queer, trans, and Two Spirit people, Wilson's work addresses some of the most pressing issues facing Indigenous communities: chronically insufficient housing, record-high suicide rates, and Missing and Murdered Indigenous Women, Girls, and Two Spirit People.

She has published and presented extensively on issues of sexuality, gender, culture, community, and spirituality. Her efforts to revitalize Cree culture and her dedication to supporting LGBTQ2S+ and First Nations people have earned her recognition from the Manitoba Legislature and Canadian Parliament.

As an organizer of the Idle No More movement, which calls for honouring and fulfilling Indigenous sovereignty and the protection of the land, water, and sky, Wilson co-developed the revolutionary environmentally sustainable housing project "One House, Many Nations," which dovetails with her work on housing conditions in Indigenous communities.

In recognition of her vast contributions to championing Indigenous rights, sharing knowledge about two-spirit identity, and revitalizing land-based education, The University of Winnipeg is proud to bestow upon Dr. Alex Wilson an Honorary Doctor of Laws.

Honourees

Diane Redsky

LLD

Honorary Doctor of Laws

Diane Redsky, a member of Shoal Lake First Nation 40, is a community leader whose dedication to supporting healthy families and empowering women is instrumental in strengthening the health and well-being of Winnipeg's Indigenous community.

Thanks to Redsky's leadership – professionally and as a volunteer – there are innovative programs to support Indigenous women and children, safe havens for survivors, and recovery programs for people in need.

As executive director of the Ma Mawi Wi Chi Itata Centre, Redsky plays a vital role in the delivery of community-based services and programs centred around the values of Ma Mawi Wi Chi Itata, which means "We all work together to help one another" in Ojibway.

She is a well-spoken advocate for ending violence against women. Her commitment to creating safe spaces to support women and girls affected by sex trafficking has led her to gather data, lobby policy makers, and develop programming for survivors.

She led the National Task Force on Sex Trafficking of Women and Girls in Canada

when it delivered a comprehensive strategy to end sex trafficking in Canada. She has partnered with the RCMP provincially and nationally, shared her expertise with federal and provincial governments, represented Canada at the United Nations, and provided instrumental guidance in the development of UWinnipeg's course Sex Trafficking: Global to Local. Her work with the Joy Smith Foundation ensures every Canadian is safe from sex trade practices by educating the public and supporting front-line organizations that rescue and rehabilitate victims.

Redsky's contributions to advancing human rights and improving the lives of Indigenous women and girls has been recognized with many awards, including the YWCA Woman of Distinction, The Joy Smith Foundation Leadership Award, and the Order of Manitoba.

For her commitment to empowering Indigenous communities through health, justice, education, and social services, The University of Winnipeg is proud to bestow an Honorary Doctor of Laws on Diane Redsky.

Besner's name is synonymous with fellowship for his integrity, collegiality, love of language, and sharp wit. These attributes, combined with his notable contributions through scholarship, community, governance, and administration have left an indelible mark on UWinnipeg.

Nominated four times for the Clifford J. Robson Memorial Award for Teaching Excellence, Besner also enjoyed a prolific and influential research career; has authored over 50 journal articles and book chapters; edited two special journal issues; served as the general editor of the Laurier Poetry Series; and published 10 books (as author, editor, or translator) in addition to his new memoir Fishing With Tardelli: A Memoir of Family in Time Lost.

Honourees

Ben Trunzo

MSc, CAT(C)

Clifford J. Robson Memorial Award for Teaching Excellence

For more than three decades, Ben Trunzo has inspired students with his enthusiasm and unwavering passion for Kinesiology and specifically Athletic Therapy.

Trunzo graduated from The University of Winnipeg in 1978 with a BA in Psychology before continuing his studies at the University of Manitoba and the University of Alberta. In 1986, he returned to UWinnipeg as assistant athletic therapist, rising to head athletic therapist one year later, where he worked for two decades before becoming a full-time faculty member in the Faculty of Kinesiology and Applied Health.

Trunzo's commitment to providing students with a practical and thorough understanding of the field is unrivalled. He is known for his challenging weekly quizzes, which have helped many students cultivate a greater understanding of kinesiology and athletic therapy. He motivates students to strive for excellence, and many say his high expectations propelled them to not only reach but exceed the goals they set for themselves.

Throughout pandemic-related shutdowns, Trunzo went above and beyond to ensure his students received a premier education. His willingness to provide additional teaching time allowed students who otherwise may have faced pandemic-related roadblocks to complete degree requirements on time and challenge national certification exams.

His dedication to his craft is evident in his relationship with the Canadian Athletic Therapists Association (CATA), where he received a Distinguished Educator Award in 2013. After first joining as a student member in 1981, he was certified by CATA in 1987 and has since served on the board of directors and examination review and high-performance provider committees, ascending to the role of CATA president from 1992-93. In 2021, he was named to the CATA Hall of Fame.

Trunzo has also served provincially as a board member of the Manitoba Athletic Therapist Association and in 2012 he received the MATA Chuck Badcock Special Recognition Award that recognizes an individual's outstanding contribution to the profession of Athletic Therapy in Manitoba.

For the lasting impression he has left on his students and his positive influence on the University's national reputation in the field of athletic therapy, The University of Winnipeg is proud to present Ben Trunzo with the Clifford J. Robson Memorial Award for Teaching Excellence.

Honourees

Sharissa Neault

BA (Honours)

Valedictorian

Graduating with a Bachelor of Arts in psychology, Sharissa originally arrived at UWinnipeg in 2015 with an interest in pursuing social work. However, she fell in love with psychology and made it her major in her second year.

During her time at UWinnipeg, she says many faculty and staff members had a profound impact on her; introducing her to psychology, making her feel welcome as an Indigenous person, and encouraging her interest in research. However, it was Dr. Melanie Martin who had the biggest impact – in both her studies and life.

Sharissa says that if one day she becomes a professor, she hopes she can work half as hard as Dr. Martin.

Outside of classes, Sharissa served as the President for UWinnipeg's chapter of the Canadian Indigenous Science and Engineering Society. She also worked with the Manitoba Indigenous Cultural Education Centre to share Ininimowin (Cree) with others on TikTok.

Through the Canadian Indigenous Science and Engineering Society, Sharissa had the opportunity to meet Indigenous scientists from all over North America through conferences.

She says it was an incredible experience that helped her remember her ancestors who were scientists long before colonization.

As she looks ahead to life after university, she remains committed to her language and culture, and knows she will continue to honour that commitment wherever she ends up.

She intends on taking the Graduate Records Examinations before pursuing a master's degree and PhD in psychology.

Honourees

Callum Goulet-Kilgour

BA (Honours)

Valedictorian

Callum Goulet-Kilgour was drawn to a Bachelor of Arts in Economics for its vast and varied impact on major policy decisions – as well as the way it draws from mathematics, political science, business, philosophy, history, and other fields.

His most memorable University of Winnipeg moment was the chance to interview David Suzuki and Stephen Lewis as part of his work with The Uniter.

As a recipient of two Undergraduate Student Research Awards, Callum had the privilege of working alongside world-class scholars on projects combining quantitative analysis with social, cultural, and political considerations.

A lifelong learner, he believes that his university education comes with a duty to help others. During his time at UWinnipeg, he learned the importance of respectful dialogue, free speech, intellectual curiosity, commitment to social justice, and the celebration of diversity. This is knowledge that he plans to take with him into his future career.

He says one of the most amazing things about his UWinnipeg experience has been the amount of research he was able to take part in.

The chance to take part in Honours level courses with small class sizes opened doors for him to participate in innovative research that gave him a more in-depth understanding of his chosen field. He recently had the chance to present one of his essays at the Canadian Economics Association Conference in Ottawa.

He encourages his fellow graduates to think about what the world needs and align this with their unique skills and interests. His goal is to find a career that matches both.

Valedictorian

Philippe Larouche has long understood the beauty and poetry of a body in motion. It was, after all, his career as a professional ballet dancer that led him to The University of Winnipeg's Department of Kinesiology and Applied Health.

And while he initially arrived at UWinnipeg seeking a way to more effectively train for his career in the arts, he discovered that it wasn't just academic lessons that would leave a lasting impression. The people he met here had a huge impact. Every one of his professors offered an unexpected perspective, challenged how he understands the world, and enriched his experience at UWinnipeg.

Philippe is no stranger to academic achievement. He was recognized with an NSERC Undergraduate Student Research Award and the 2021 Dr. Henry Woltman Scholarship, which is awarded annually to the most promising student entering the final year of the Kinesiology and Applied Health major.

His advice to present and future students is to focus not on the result but the process.

"No one path is the same," he said. "Allow yourself the freedom to be unsure, to change your mind, and to take your time."

As he prepares for what comes next – including CSEP and nutrition certification, as well as the possibility of pursuing his master's or medical school – Philippe is thankful for all the opportunities he has had at UWinnipeg.

A World of Diversity

Our campus is a place of inclusion and the diversity of our student population is a tremendous strength. While some of our students grew up around the corner, others come from First Nations and Treaty areas across Manitoba, from provinces across Canada, and from communities around the globe. They have come here to learn and grow – and we are proud to help them prepare for a bright future and get ready to make their mark on the world.
