- The University is not responsible for the continuance from term to term of any award which it has not itself created.
- The terms governing an award are normally followed by the Senate, but the Senate reserves the right to make such modifications in the terms as the Senate Committee on Student Services recommends.
- The Senate reserves the right not to award a particular scholarship in any year where there is no candidate with a grade point average of at least 3.00 and not to award a particular medal in any year where there is no candidate with an average of at least 3.75.
- Except where the Senate has agreed to stipulations to the contrary for donors, undergraduate awards administered by the Senate Committee on Student Services are equally available for competition by part-time and full-time students.
- The University of Winnipeg will not administer any new student scholarships, bursaries, prizes, or fellowships that discriminate on the basis of race, creed, political belief, colour, ethnic or national origin, sex, sexual orientation, or age. Exceptions to these guidelines will be considered by the Senate Committee on Student Services in accordance with the "special programs" provision of the Manitoba Human Rights Commission, which permits forms of assistance whose purpose is to address the needs of disadvantaged groups or individuals.

Scholarships

- If a student is registered for less than the maximum course-load of 30 credit hours and the student's total scholarship entitlement exceeds the total fee assessment for that session, the scholarship entitlement will be disbursed only up to the amount of the fee assessment. Any remaining scholarship entitlement may be used in subsequent academic sessions which begin within a twelve-month period of the end of the session in which the first registration occurred.
- Most awards require a continued registration at the University. There is a twelve-month period from the time the award is made until the award money may first be claimed. (Entrance scholarships must be claimed in the academic year for which they are offered).
- The awards account will always have first claim to any fee refund which results from a course-load reduction, irrespective of any fee payment a

CANADIAN ARMED FORCES SUBSIDIZATION PLANS

The high professional ability required of present day military officers demands the best in education and training. The Department of National Defence therefore sponsors programs of university education and leadership training for selected young men and women who have the potential to become officers in the Canadian Armed Forces. The admission standards are high, but for those who qualify the way is open to a challenging and rewarding career.

The programs sponsored are the Regular Officer Training Plan (ROTP), Medical Officer Training Plan (MOTP) and Dental Officer Training Plan (DOTP). Training given under these plans is divided into two parts: normal attendance at university throughout the academic year and military training each summer. A period of compulsory military service is a condition of acceptance to any of these plans.

ROTP - This plan combines university subsidization with career training as an officer in the regular component of the Canadian Forces. Successful applicants are enrolled in the rank of Officer Cadet. They are required to maintain a good standing both academically and militarily while in the plan. All tuition and other essential fees are paid by the Department of National Defence. As well, a monthly salary is paid to cover living expenses. Free medical and dental care is provided. Annual leave with full pay and allowances may be granted each year, usually before and after the summer training period. On graduation the Officer Cadet is commissioned as an Officer in the rank of 2nd Lieutenant.

Undergraduate students are also eligible to apply for this program provided they have at least one full year remaining before graduation.

An applicant must a) be a Canadian citizen, b) be physically fit for enrolment in the Canadian Forces, and c) if ROTP - be at least 16 years of age on the first day of January of the year he/she commences first year studies at university, or if MOTP or DOTP - be at least 17 years of age.
