Pre-Physical Therapy

Physical therapy (or physiotherapy) is the art and science of rehabilitation by restoring the maximum levels of independence and functional movement to individuals with physical or physiological disorders. In the treatment of disorders, physical therapists use techniques such as tissue manipulation, therapeutic movement, heat, cold, and ultrasound.

You have the vision, determination, and passion to become a physical therapist, and you're looking for a university with a strong reputation, personal attention, and excellent research opportunities to help you gain admission to physical therapy. Come to The University of Winnipeg for your pre-professional studies and put our small class sizes, community atmosphere, central location, and reputation for excellence to work for you.

Our campus is located in the heart of downtown Winnipeg—central to Winnipeg's medical library, major hospitals, research centres, and labs such as the National Microbiology Laboratory and the National Research Council's Institute for Biodiagnostics; it's a great location for studying, volunteering, research, and entertainment.

As a University of Winnipeg student, you will get to know your professors and other students because of our small classes and community atmosphere. Our excellent professors—including five Canada Research Chairs—are supportive and accessible, contributing to the many successes of our students.

With students at the second, third, and fourth-year levels doing research alongside some of our most innovative professors, we offer you research opportunities that are not available to undergraduate students at other universities. You can also gain hands-on experience in your area of study by working as a marker or lab demonstrator, participating in co-op programs and practicum placements, and getting involved with one of the many active student groups on campus.
