Terry Hidichuk, Executive Director

*My hope that summer, like a sun-drenched dream, might linger through September splashed away with days and days of rain and endless grey.
But then I woke to see a welcome stream of sunlight fall on me. This autumn day, bestowing skies of blue, begged summer stay - then into evening glided with a gleam!*

It is not quite autumn but it's getting close. We live in hope that we can somehow beat the inevitable and stretch out one more day of summer. As I write this however, the weather is beginning to change and the leaves will soon be driven by wind and rain into gutters and onto sidewalks and streets. Fall will be upon us. The change of weather and landscape are not the only changes that are coming. The easiness of summer is being pushed aside by the busyness of fall. The campus is a virtual place of stillness as July moves into August. But thankfully as August moves into September, the campus becomes a hive of activity. People are back: students, faculty and staff.

I want to take this opportunity to welcome the students back. Welcome to you who are returning from summer vacation or from longer periods of hiatus. Welcome to those students who are beginning their programs. Let the adventure begin.

And this final word, to all reading this newsletter: come by and see us sometime.

Regards
Terry
