INTRODUCTION
The study of History deals with the past— it interprets human affairs and institutions as they change in time. The University of Winnipeg's History Department offers courses which are designed to lead students, in stages, to an understanding of the historian's craft and of the historical process.

The History Department's program of study is organized into four levels that provide a natural progression from generalized to more specialized study in a particular area of interest.

The 1000-level courses are intended to introduce students to the discipline and the skills necessary for the study of history. Several different 1000-level courses are available in any given year and cater to a wide variety of interests. Courses at the 2000 level are broad surveys, and provide a general examination of the major themes in a number of different areas of study including world history, social and thematic histories, the history of science, and the history of art. Courses at the 3000 level pursue, in greater detail, one or more of the themes explored in the general surveys. Their purpose is to provide the student with deeper insight into the processes of historical thought, research and writing. They also promote group discussion and permit the student to present his/her work orally to fellow students. Courses at the 4000 level are Honours seminars intended for upper level students. In a small group setting, students examine the relevant literature on historical issues and present their own research to the seminar for discussion.

Most graduates with degrees in history find that the skills they have developed—critical analysis, writing reports, and small group discussion—serve them well in the worlds of government, business and law. Some history graduates choose to pursue a career in education, while others find career opportunities in non-profit organizations, libraries, archives, and public history institutions such as museums.

GENERAL INFORMATION
Prerequisites
Students who are not History Majors are welcome to select 1000-, 2000-, and 3000-level courses.

1000-Level Courses
Only 6 credit hours at the 1000-level in History may be used as credit towards graduation.

Graduate Studies
The History Department also offers Graduate Study as part of a Joint Master's Program with the University of Manitoba. For details see the Graduate Studies section of this Calendar.

4000-Level Courses:
Minimum 3.0 GPA (B) in major courses (students lacking the requisite 3.0 GPA should consult the department concerned regarding eligibility to take 4000-level courses). Permission of the Department is required for each 4000-level course.

Re-numbering of Courses
Since 1988, the Department has renumbered many courses. Students may not receive credit for a currently-listed course if they have already completed it under its former number.

The Department of History has organized its courses into areas of specialization. These divisions are provided as guidelines to the Areas of Study available for concentration. Areas of Study are identified by the second digit in the course number as follows:
