It also has a strong affiliation with the Prairie Climate Centre, which is a collaboration between the University of Winnipeg and the International Institute for Sustainable Development. Conceptually, the College is a place where people located in or associated with the College work together, and with others within the University and beyond, to assess some of our most pressing environmental issues, especially those related to the key issues of climate change, urban environments, water resources, indigenous development, and the North. Since these issues have many points of intersection, the interdisciplinary approach of the College is perfectly suited to the development of the conversations, collaborations, policies and solutions that are so desperately needed to address our environmental problems, locally and globally. The College is a frequent host or sponsor for special events and lectures related to its key issues.

m. Centre for Rupert's Land Studies (CRLS)

The Centre for Rupert's Land Studies is unique in its focus on Rupert's Land, the vast Hudson Bay watershed region claimed by the Hudson's Bay Company from 1670 to 1870, and its borderlands. We foster interdisciplinary research and conversation among all who share an interest in the history and peoples of the Hudson Bay watershed, with particular emphasis on Indigenous and fur trade history and the immense resources of the Hudson's Bay Company Archives, nearby. Since 1984, the Centre has been a nexus for sharing information, new research, and perspectives through three major means:

- Biennial Colloquiums---informal conferences that have met in a wide range of settings linked to Indigenous people and the fur trade.
- Publication of monographs, Colloquium proceedings, and Indigenous oral history materials, for example, the stories of Louis Bird at www.ourvoices.ca. The Rupert's Land Record Society series of documentary volumes, co-published with McGill-Queen's University Press, offers carefully researched original source materials for scholars, students, and communities. Subscribing members receive our biannual Rupert's Land Newsletter.
- Research assistance and networking, linking CRLS members and others across North America and abroad who have common interests and questions. We also maintain a roster of locally available assistants qualified to help with archival and other research.

The Centre offers annually the C. Richard Harington Fellowship to a student pursuing advanced studies in its areas of interest. It is also home to a small research facility and to the Elizabeth B. Losey Fur Trade Library of about 1000 works, many of them rare and out of print, and other resources.

It was created to support theoretical physics research in Manitoba. It has carried out this mandate by encouraging collaboration between members of the Institute, by financially supporting expert seminars in the research areas of concern, and by financially supporting the long term visits of internationally respected scientists to the Institute to facilitate collaboration between these scientists and Institute members. The permanent members of the Institute include all theorists in the Physics Departments at The University of Winnipeg and The University of Manitoba, as well as theorists from Brandon University.

o. Institute of Urban Studies (IUS)

The Institute of Urban Studies is an independent research arm of the University of Winnipeg. Since 1969 the IUS has been both an academic and applied research centre committed to exploring urban issues in a broad, non-partisan manner. The Institute focuses on inner-city, environmental, Indigenous, and urban development issues and frequently partners with government, the private sector, and community-based organizations. Since 1992, the IUS has produced The Canadian Journal of Urban Research, a multidisciplinary scholarly journal dedicated to publishing articles addressing a wide range of issues relevant to urban studies. Its mandate also includes working with local communities and mentoring new scholars. The IUS has worked with hundreds of students, community leaders, and scholars to produce more than 450 research reports, books, and other publications. This collection of historic and contemporary work is now available digitally on the Institute's website (<http://www.uwinnipeg.ca/ius/>). To further assist students, faculty, and community members engaged in urban research, the Institute also operates a lending library located, with our offices, on the 3rd floor of Richardson College, 599 Portage Avenue, Winnipeg.

p. The Institute for Women's and Gender Studies

Supported by funding from the Margaret Laurence Endowment for Women's Studies, the Institute for Women's and Gender Studies (IWGS) was created with a mandate to strengthen and facilitate the development of Women's and Gender Studies (WGS) in the University and the community. IWGS is housed in the Department of Women's and Gender Studies and extends the work of the department through support to collaborative feminist work, scholarly research, art, activism, and student engagement. The Institute, structured as a collective, fosters feminist pedagogy, community education and programming, collaborative research, artistic production, and scholarship which: furthers an understanding of women and gender; works toward understanding and eliminating sexism, racism, classism, colonization, discrimination, and social inequalities; and develops the creative and transformative potential of the university, community, and society. Educational programming may include: feminist speakers and events; documentary and film screenings and discussions; and various workshops and co-sponsorships of feminist activities. IWGS is committed to social justice for all peoples, deepening feminist knowledges and dialogue, and engaging in feminist praxis.
