

IMPORTANT NOTES

Updated April 7, 2024

New to the University

1. Additional Measures for English Language Requirement

Senate has approved the use of the UKVI (United Kingdom Visas and Immigration) version of the IELTS (International English Language Test System) as a measure students can present to fulfill the University's English Language Proficiency. In addition, the Admissions Office has included two online versions of existing tests, the IELTS Online test, and the TOEFL (Test of English as a Foreign Language) Home Edition.

2. Bachelor of Kinesiology General Degree Requirements

Senate has approved the removal of the 12 credit hour Social Science Requirement, and an increase from 6 to 12 credit hours of Science Requirement, for the Bachelor of Kinesiology (BKIn) degree. This change is in effect for the 2024-25 catalog year.

3. Chemistry Requirement for Biology Degrees

Introductory Chemistry, CHEM-1111(3) and CHEM-1112(3), will now be required for all Biology degrees (3-Year, 3-Year Business Stream, 4-Year, 4-Year Business Stream, Honours). This change is in effect for the 2024-25 catalog year.

4. Criminal Justice Master's Stream Name Change

The "Professional/Course-Based" stream in the Master of Arts in Criminal Justice is being changed to the "Course and Knowledge Synthesis Project" stream.

5. Radiation Health and Safety

Senate has approved the discontinuation of the Bachelor of Science in Radiation Health and Safety that was offered in conjunction with CancerCare Manitoba. Efforts will be made to assist any students with sufficient coursework already completed in the program to be able to finish, and advising will be provided for other interested students to find an alternate program. This change does not affect the Bachelor of Science (4-Year) in Radiation Therapy.

ACADEMIC TERMS - The University of Winnipeg offers courses in three terms. The Fall and Winter terms each have 12 weeks of classes and 2 weeks of evaluation. A full course (6 credit hours) is normally taught over two terms and a half course (3 credit hours) over one term. However, a course may also be taught in a condensed or expanded time frame. The Spring term has 8 weeks of class and there is a Summer session during the months of July and August.

FIPPA and PHIA - The Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act (FIPPA) and The Personal Health Information Act (PHIA) both apply to The University of Winnipeg. The Vice-Presidents of the University have responsibility for the implementation and oversight of all matters related to both pieces of legislation. Should any of the university's policies conflict with FIPPA or PHIA, the provisions of FIPPA or PHIA shall prevail unless otherwise expressly provided for at law.

LOSS OF SERVICE - No liability shall be incurred by The University of Winnipeg for loss or damage suffered or incurred by any student or third party as a result of delays in or termination of services, courses or classes by reason of: acts of God, fire, floods, weather, riots, wars, strikes, lock-outs, damage to University property, financial conditions, or other happenings or occurrences beyond the reasonable control of the University.

NATIONAL DAY OF ACTION AND REMEMBRANCE OF VIOLENCE AGAINST WOMEN - In recognition of the "National Day of Action and Remembrance of Violence Against Women," The University of Winnipeg Senate passed a motion that on December 6: there be academic amnesty for assignments, papers, participation marks, and attendance marks for that date; that no tests or exams be held after 3:30 p.m. on that date; and that classes operate on a normal schedule on that date.

RELIGIOUS HOLIDAYS- Students may choose not to attend classes or write examinations on holy days of their religion, but they must notify their instructors at least two weeks in advance. Instructors will then provide opportunity for students to make up work or examinations without penalty. On the recommendation of The Senate, a list of religious holidays is included below.

GLOSSARY

Updated April 24, 2024

-A/B-

Academic Calendar: This annual publication provides key information for students on many aspects of their studies at The University of Winnipeg, including general regulations, degree requirements, grading policies, and course descriptions. There are two separate calendars: an Undergraduate Academic Calendar and a Graduate Studies Academic Calendar. Both documents can be found on the University's website: <https://www.uwinnipeg.ca/academics/calendar/>

Academic Misconduct: This refers to dishonest student behaviours that subvert academic standards. Examples include, but are not limited to, plagiarism, cheating, improper research/academic practices, obstruction of the academic activities of another, impersonation, falsification or unauthorized modification of an academic record, and aiding and abetting academic misconduct. See Regulations and Policies in the Calendar.

Admission: The process of applying to and providing the necessary documentation to enroll in a degree credit program at The University of Winnipeg. Please see: <https://www.uwinnipeg.ca/future-student/admissions-reg.html>

Adult Learner: Any person who has been out of the educational system for three years or more and is taking courses with an educational goal in mind. Adult Learners can be attending university for the first time, returning after a significant break, transferring credits from other post-secondary institutions, or seeking a second degree. Please visit: <https://www.uwinnipeg.ca/adult-learner-services/who.html>

Alumni: Graduates of University degree programs and PACE (Professional, Applied and Continuing Education) certificate and diploma programs are collectively called alumni. Upon graduation, these students automatically become members of the Alumni Association. Students who have successfully completed 30 credit hours of degree-credit courses may apply for Associate Membership.

Appeal: An avenue of recourse available to students who wish to seek redress for what they deem to be an unfair decision of a faculty member or the University administration, or to obtain exemption from a policy or regulation. Appeal procedures are outlined in Regulations and Policies in the Calendar. Some examples include deferred final exams, incomplete term work, retroactive withdrawals, and grade appeals.

Audit: An audit student is someone who has paid a reduced fee and has been granted permission by the instructor and department to sit in on a course. An audit student may not participate in the class, except by invitation of the instructor, and is not entitled to write tests or exams, to have work graded, or to receive course credit.

-C-

Catalog Year: This term refers to the year of the Academic Calendar containing the requirements a student must complete to earn a degree. Because degree requirements may change over time, a student may choose to change the catalog year to utilize requirements from newer or older calendars that fit best with their academic record. Students may only select a catalog year during which they attend the University.

Challenge for Credit: A method through which a student may, with appropriate evidence and documentation, be able to obtain credit based on an assessment of their informal and non-formal learning. PLAR or 'challenge for credit' procedures are outlined in the Regulations and Policies section of the Academic Calendar. For more information, contact Adult Learner Services.

Chair: The head of an academic department.

Cognate Course: A course from a related discipline deemed to complement the chosen area of study and to encompass knowledge and skills relevant to that area. Example: Courses in Sociology are cognate courses for Psychology.

Collegiate: The division of the University which offers a Grades 9 – 12 high school program.

Contact Hours: This term refers to the total number of hours of instruction for a specific course. This number includes weekly lectures, labs, and tutorials, as well as any other scheduled requirements.

Convocation: The ceremony at which degrees are conferred upon students, after which they are called graduates or alumni.

Coordinator: The head of an interdisciplinary program or department unit.

Corequisite: A specific course or requirement which must be undertaken at the same time as a prescribed course, if it has not already been completed.

Credit Hours: The “weight” of a course reflecting the amount of class time. Most courses are valued at 3 credit hours (three lecture hours per week for ONE term) or 6 credit hours (three lecture hours per week for TWO terms). The number of credit hours is noted in brackets after the course number e.g. PSYC-1000 (6) Introductory Psychology is worth 6 credit hours. A student must successfully complete a specified total number of credit hours as part of meeting degree requirements. For example: 90 credit hours must be completed for a three-year BA. A student must also successfully complete a specific number of credit hours in the Major subject. See Degree and Major Requirements as well as Areas of Study in the Academic Calendar. Some courses, especially in science and languages, have labs. Labs are mandatory, but do not count in your credit hour totals.

Cross-listed: A course which is cross-listed by two or more academic departments (e.g. MATH and STATS; HIST and CLAS; ECON and BUS) relates in content and perspective to both disciplines. As such, it may be offered under either department's course number. A cross-listed course may be used to partially meet the Major requirements of either department, regardless of the course number at the time the course was successfully completed.

-D-

Dean: The administrative head of an academic unit at the University.

Deferred Exam The opportunity granted to a student by the Senate Appeals Committee or an academic department to write a final exam or final test at an alternate time from the scheduled date. Appeal procedures are outlined in Regulations and Policies of the Academic Calendar.

Discipline: A branch of knowledge or learning.

Drop/Withdrawal: A student may choose to drop, or withdraw voluntarily from, any course up to and including the designated voluntary withdrawal deadline for that course. (See “Course Drop” and “Course Withdrawal/Drop Schedule” on the website for details.) The University may withdraw a student involuntarily from a course due to non-payment of fees, unacceptable classroom behaviour, or other issues.

Elective: A course not prescribed by the requirements of a program, but acceptable within that program and chosen by the student.

Experiential Learning: Uses direct experience and reflection on that experience as a means of learning. It includes activities such as co-ops, practicums, internships, fieldwork, service learning, and PLAR/RPL.

Experimental Courses: New courses offered by departments on a trial basis to gauge interest in particular topics.

-F-

Faculty Members: The teaching and research staff of the University.

Faculty: A Faculty is a division of the University. The University of Winnipeg has the Faculties of Arts, Business and Economics, Education, Kinesiology, and Science.

Fee Payment Schedule: This term refers to the schedule of fee payment dates and deadlines for students. The dates are set by Financial Services and are not negotiable. <https://www.uwinnipeg.ca/fees/>

FIPPA: The acronym for the Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act of the Government of Manitoba.

Formal Learning: This type of learning occurs within an educational institution, in the presence of a knowledge expert with an established curriculum to be completed within a specified time toward a credential, such as: courses completed at universities, colleges, and extended and continuing education departments.

Full-Time Student: A student who is registered for a minimum of 9 credit hours per term.

-G-

Grade Point: The numerical value given to an alphabetical letter grade used in the assessment of academic performance.

Grade Point Average: A numerical index of performance, the Grade Point Average or GPA is calculated by dividing the number of weighted grade points achieved by the number of credit hours successfully completed. A cumulative GPA is based on all course attempts for which grades were received. The graduation GPA is based only on those courses which are presented for graduation (e.g., the best 90 credit hours for a 3-year degree that satisfy degree requirements, excluding failed courses and using the best grade in any course that was repeated).

Graduate Program: A program of studies that leads a student to a Master's degree.

Graduation: The process whereby students, having completed all the requirements in a prescribed course of study, are awarded the degree(s) earned, after which they are called graduates or alumni. A student must apply, in advance, for graduation – see Regulations and Policies of the Academic Calendar.

-H/I/J/K/L-

Humanities: Refers to disciplines or courses that focus on the study of ideas about human culture and its expression through art forms and systems of thought.

Humanities Requirement: The obligation of students in all degree programs to complete a minimum of 12 credit hours of designated Humanities courses. See Degree and Major Requirements in the Calendar for a list of courses which may be used to meet this requirement. <http://www.uwinnipeg.ca/academics/calendar/docs/degreeandmajorrequirements.pdf>

Incomplete Term Work: This term refers to the opportunity, granted to a student by the Senate Appeals Committee or an academic department, to complete items of term work after the end of the evaluation period for a course. Appeal procedures are outlined in Regulations and Policies of the Calendar.

Indigenous Course Requirement: Students first enrolling in Fall Term 2016 or later must take at least 3 credit hours from a list of courses approved by Senate. They may choose from a number of courses in which the greater part of the content is local Indigenous material — derived from or based on an analysis of the cultures, languages, history, ways of knowing, or contemporary reality of the Indigenous peoples of North America. For more information and a list of eligible courses, please see the Degree and Major Requirements section of the Academic Calendar or visit <http://uwinnipeg.ca/indigenous-course-requirement>.

Informal Learning: This type of learning occurs anywhere, anytime, and with anyone. It is how individuals manage their everyday lives, such as: dealing with emerging health issues, rearing children, conducting household renovations, volunteering in the community, hobbies, and managing projects at work.

Institutional Credits: See “Residence Requirement.”

International Students: Defined as non-Canadian students who do not have Permanent Resident status and have had to obtain the authorization of the Government of Canada to enter Canada with the intention of pursuing an education. The Admissions Office at UWinnipeg can give applicants more information about admission requirements and procedures (email intladmissions@uwinnipeg.ca). International, Immigrant and Refugee Student Services (IIRSS) provides a wide range of services and supports to incoming and current international students. They also host a variety of fun events and informative workshops throughout the year. See their website: <https://www.uwinnipeg.ca/student/intl/>

-M/N/O-

Major: The Major is the area of specialization undertaken as one of the requirements for a degree. Departmental Majors require a student to take a minimum number of courses in an individual department. Interdisciplinary Majors require a student to take relevant courses from a variety of departments in order to specialize in a topic which crosses disciplinary boundaries.

Minor: Students taking any undergraduate degree program may choose to add a Minor as a secondary area of interest. Always check what specific 18 credit courses are required to fulfill a minor designation. Only certain programs offer Minors. For a list, see the Degree and Major Requirements section of the Calendar.

Non-Academic Misconduct: Students have a responsibility to act in a fair and reasonable manner in their interactions with their peers, faculty, staff, and administration and in their use of University property. Examples of Non-Academic Misconduct include threats, using abusive language, violence, and disruptive behaviour. See Regulations and Policies in the Academic Calendar.

Non-Formal Learning: This type of learning is any educational activity that has clear learning objectives, but usually takes place outside of an educational institution or does not lead to credentials: conferences, seminars, and workshops through the workplace, training for volunteers and community programs.

-P/Q-

Part-Time Student: A student who is registered in fewer than 9 credit hours per term.

PHIA: The acronym for the Personal Health Information Act of the Government of Manitoba.

Plagiarism: This is a form of academic dishonesty where an individual presents work of another person, in whole or in part, as his or her own. Here “work” includes, but is not limited to, essays, oral presentations, lab reports, art and performance compositions, diagrams, computer reports or software, research results. Plagiarism also includes submitting the same work for evaluation to more than one course without the consent of each instructor to do so. See Student Discipline under Regulations and Policies of the Academic Calendar.

PLAR: The acronym for Prior Learning Assessment and Recognition. See definition below.

Post-Secondary Education: An optional stage of formal learning that occurs after secondary education.

Practicum: A course of study based on the practical application of theory to field work or research. In the BEd program, practicum applies to the courses and/or time that students spend in a school student teaching.

Pre-Professional Studies: A group of courses that can be taken at UWinnipeg and used to fulfill the admission requirements for professional programs at other Canadian universities. Admission requirements may be taken at The University of Winnipeg for professional faculties and schools including, Chiropractic, Dental Hygiene, Dentistry, Law, Medical Technology, Medicine, Occupational Therapy, Optometry, Pharmacy, Physical Therapy, Physician Assistant, Radiation Therapy, Respiratory Therapy, Social Work, and Veterinary Medicine.

Prerequisite: A specific course or requirement which must be met before a course can be taken.

Prerequisite Waiver: Written permission from the instructor and/or department for a student to register in a course without the stated prerequisite.

Prior Learning Assessment and Recognition: This educational initiative provides learners with opportunities to identify, demonstrate and gain recognition for what they already know and can do. It allows learners to obtain credit for university-level knowledge and skills gained through informal and non-formal learning and/or other educational programs ineligible for transfer credit. Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL) is also a term used for PLAR. Procedures for PLAR are outlined in the section Regulations and Policies of the Academic Calendar. Contact Adult Learner Services for more information.

Professional, Applied and Continuing Education (PACE): A division of UWinnipeg, PACE offers intensive full-time and flexible part-time certificate and diploma programs. PACE's unique education model blends university-level academics with practical hands-on experience in high-growth career fields with strong employment prospects such as project management, human resources, business management, network and ICT security, big data and machine learning, and marketing, public relations and strategic communication, to name a few.

-R-

Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL): Provides learners with opportunities to identify, demonstrate, and gain recognition for what they already know and can do. Four main areas under RPL are: Mature Access, Transfer Credit, PLAR-Challenge for Credit Process, and Military Training and Service.

Registration: The process of officially enrolling in courses for a particular Term(s).

Requisites: Are requirements that must be met in order to take a course and receive credit for it. They may include prerequisites (courses that should be completed beforehand) and/or cerequisites (courses to be taken concurrently, including labs).

Residence Requirement: The total number of credit hours that must be taken at The University of Winnipeg in order to qualify for a degree from the University. This is referred to as "Institutional Credits" in the "Student Planning" online tool.

Retroactive Withdrawal: This term refers to the opportunity, granted to a student by the Senate Appeals Committee, to retroactively be withdrawn from a course after the voluntary withdrawal date. Appeal procedures are outlined in Regulations and Policies of the Calendar.

Sciences: The disciplines or courses that are devoted to the systematic observation of and experimentation with the material and the functions of the natural or physical world.

Science Requirement: The obligation of students in all Bachelor of Arts, Bachelor of Business Administration, and Bachelor of Kinesiology degree programs to complete 6 credit hours of Science courses. Bachelor of Education students have science requirements as part of their program as well. Students in some Science degree programs may have additional science requirements to fulfill in addition to the science courses in their major department. See Degree and Major Requirements in the Academic Calendar for a list of courses which may be used to meet the science requirement, or go to <http://www.uwinnipeg.ca/academics/calendar/docs/degreeandmajorrequirements.pdf>

Section: The University of Winnipeg may offer the same course multiple times per term. To specify the class, a three-digit section number is assigned and can be found in the Timetable or on WebAdvisor/Student Planning.

Social Sciences: The disciplines or courses that focus on the scientific study of society and social relationships and behaviour.

Social Science Requirement: The obligation of students in Bachelor of Arts (4-Year), Bachelor of Business Administration (4-Year) and Bachelor of Kinesiology (4-Year) degree programs to complete 12 credit hours of Social Science courses. See Degree and Major Requirements in the Academic Calendar for a list of courses which may be used to meet the Social Science requirement: <http://www.uwinnipeg.ca/academics/calendar/docs/degreeandmajorrequirements.pdf>

Student Planning: A web-based, self-service module of WebAdvisor that allows a student to plan courses towards an undergraduate or graduate degree at The University of Winnipeg, and to register for courses in the coming Terms.

Taxation Receipts: The T2202 tax form (Tuition and Enrolment Certificate) is available to students online through their WebAdvisor account at the end of February. T2202a forms are not mailed to students. Students must go online to retrieve and print their own forms.

Term: A designated period in the academic year during which courses are offered. Typically, Fall Term runs from September to December and Winter Term runs from January to April. Fall/Winter Term covers the entire period, from September to April. Spring Term spans from May to August, with courses starting on different dates throughout this time period.

Timetable: The list of courses which are offered during a particular term or terms. <https://www.uwinnipeg.ca/timetable/>

Timetabling: The act of selecting and scheduling courses from the timetable.

Transcript: The official document prepared by the Student Records Office of each student's complete academic history.

Tuition: The course and ancillary fees charged to students who register for courses. Specific fees are charged per student, per term, and per credit hour. These fees do not include textbooks. Costs may vary depending on mode of course delivery.

<https://www.uwinnipeg.ca/fees/tuition.html>

-U/V/W-

Undergraduate: A student registered in a program of studies which leads to a Bachelor's degree.

WebAdvisor: The University's online registration system. Anyone can go to the University's website and click on WebAdvisor to search and read about course offerings for an upcoming term. Admitted students with a user ID and password can also use this system for other functions, such as to review their student history/transcript/financial statement and to access final grades. The Student Planning tool, available to current students through WebAdvisor, facilitates degree planning and course registration.

Withdrawal/Drop: A student may choose to drop, or withdraw voluntarily from, any course up to and including the designated voluntary withdrawal deadline for that course. See "Course Drop" and "Withdrawal Schedules" on the website for details: <https://www.uwinnipeg.ca/registration/withdrawal-schedules.html> The University may withdraw a student involuntarily from a course due to non-payment of fees, unacceptable classroom behaviour or other issues.

Writing Requirement: The Academic Writing Requirement refers to the obligation of students to take a writing course. This requirement is intended to aid students in developing their writing skills and strategies to the level generally expected of university students. Students may be exempted from the requirement in accordance with one of the criteria listed in the Degree and Major Requirements section of the Academic Calendar. Course descriptions for Academic Writing are included in the "Rhetoric, Writing and Communications" department section of the Academic Calendar.

2. Mission Statement

a. Mission

The University of Winnipeg is committed to excellence in post-secondary education through undergraduate and selected graduate programs, rooted in the liberal arts and culminating in degrees such as those in Arts, Business Administration, Science, Education, Kinesiology, and Theology. In pursuit of our mission, we are guided by the knowledge that our primary responsibility is to our students, to whom we strive to offer a community which appreciates, fosters, and promotes values of human dignity, equality, non-discrimination and appreciation of diversity. We view both accessibility and excellence as important goals, and will endeavour to make the University as accessible as we can while maintaining high standards of quality in our academic programs. In the practice of scholarly enquiry through both teaching and research, we provide students with breadth and depth of knowledge, the skills to communicate effectively and to make informed decisions, an understanding of the ethical problems facing our society, and an appreciation of the full range of human, aesthetic, and environmental values. The University of Winnipeg values academic freedom, self-governance and community service.

b. Guiding Principles

The following abilities are central to a sound undergraduate liberal arts and science education: the ability to express oneself clearly and to read and listen critically; the ability to think logically and analyze quantitatively and qualitatively; the ability to relate the methods of the natural and social sciences to our natural and social environment; the ability to make informed and discriminating ethical and other value judgements; and the ability to interpret persons, things, events and circumstances from multiple philosophical, historical, cultural, and scholarly perspectives. An undergraduate liberal arts and science education enhances professional programs and provides a basis for life-long learning.

In keeping with the traditions of our founding colleges, The University of Winnipeg is concerned with developing our students' intellectual capacities, and their sense of self-worth and of responsibility to the community. We seek to increase their awareness of important moral issues, to develop and foster their concern for the welfare of others, and to enrich their understanding of the interdependence of all aspects of life in the modern world. This may be achieved through the application of multi-disciplinary approaches to the study of important issues wherever possible.

The unique character of The University of Winnipeg derives from the fact that we are a medium-sized university with a primary focus on undergraduate liberal education. This enables us to offer considerable breadth and depth in our programs while maintaining reasonable class sizes and enhanced interaction among students and between students, faculty and staff. It is an important part of our mission to preserve and, wherever possible, to enhance this character through carefully planned academic development and attention to the needs of our students, both full and part-time. The University will continue to seek improvements in its physical facilities and amenities, including ways in which the University can have a positive impact on the broader environment. These actions will require increased attention to matters of funding, through continued advocacy before the provincial government and the public on the University's financial needs, and through efforts to raise funds from the private sector in support of programs, facilities and scholarships.

In the true spirit of the nature of universities, The University of Winnipeg has an important role in the creation of new knowledge and the exploration of new ideas. Through support of the research and other scholarly activities of faculty members, including participation in graduate studies both within the institution and in collaboration with other universities, the University ensures that teaching and learning keep pace with the ever-changing state of knowledge. Further, we are committed to providing our undergraduates with opportunities to participate in, and contribute to, these activities at a relatively early stage in their academic development.

Through the Faculty of Graduate Studies, The University of Winnipeg will work in partnership with other colleges and universities and with various denominations and religious traditions to provide certificate and graduate programs in Theology.

Our commitment to excellence is extended to include secondary education through The Collegiate, and to life-long learning through Professional, Applied and Continuing Education (PACE).

As essential components of the University tradition, the values placed on equality and diversity, academic freedom, self governance and community service, provide the environment whereby a community of scholars, students, and faculty may have the freedom to examine ideas responsibly, and to participate in the academic operations of the institution through processes which reflect a balance between democracy, efficiency, innovation, and accountability. Our mission and role in society requires that we foster an exemplary employment environment and adopt policies and measures which foster an atmosphere free from racism, sexism, and all other forms of stereotyping, harassment, and discrimination. The University of Winnipeg values the contributions of all staff members to our academic enterprise, and will endeavour to provide a healthy work environment, improved career opportunities, and job satisfaction.

The University of Winnipeg strives to pay particular attention to ways in which institutional resources – human, cultural, athletic, and recreational – can improve the quality of life in the broader community. This includes cooperation with business, industry, government, and community groups, and actions which ensure that the public is well-informed about the University and has ample opportunities to communicate with it.

The University of Winnipeg recognizes that our most valuable community resource is our alumni. We are committed to maintaining our ties with our graduates through open communication, through increased involvement of our alumni in the activities of the University and the Alumni Association, and by providing opportunities for further education.

8. Course Auditors

The University welcomes applications from Canadian and international students. All new students must apply for admission to the University. Notification of acceptance is required before students may register in courses. Students are admitted to the University on the basis of high school standing or previous studies at another university or college.

It is a matter of academic honesty to disclose all institutions attended at admission. Withholding information can result in cancellation of acceptance or dismissal from the University. You must disclose studies that you passed and failed.

1. Admission Process

All students who wish to study at the University for the first time must submit a completed application for admission.

See website: <https://www.uwinnipeg.ca/future-student/apply/ready-to-apply.html>

After evaluation, applicants receive formal notification of the decision.

Students who attended United College prior to July 1, 1967 must apply for admission before they can register for a course.

Applicants for off-campus programs must follow the same application procedures and meet the same requirements as regular on-campus students.

International students may not apply for undergraduate studies more than twice without previously attending The University of Winnipeg.

a. Student Number

A Student Number is assigned to each student upon application. It identifies student files, and appears on official documents including the official letter of acceptance and all statements of examination results issued by the University. The Student Number and applicant's full name should be quoted in all contact with University offices.

b. Application Fees

Each time an applicant applies to the University for admission or readmission, an application fee is required. This fee, non-refundable and not applicable to tuition fees, must accompany the application for admission.

See website: <https://www.uwinnipeg.ca/future-student/apply/ready-to-apply.html>

c. Required Documentation

All documents submitted in support of an application must be official. Copies are not acceptable in most situations unless documents are able to be verified online. Please see the following link for more information

(Supporting Documents section):

<https://www.uwinnipeg.ca/future-student/apply/ready-to-apply.html>

Documents submitted with an application become the property of the University and will not be returned. Misrepresentation, falsification of documents, or the withholding of requested information with respect to the application, can result in the cancellation of acceptance and registration or dismissal from the University. Any information on falsifications may be shared with the Association of Registrars of the Universities and Colleges of Canada and/or other post-secondary institutions. The following supporting official documents must be submitted with a non-refundable application fee before any application will be considered:

- Official Transcripts:
 - From secondary school showing all courses taken, grades achieved and proof of graduation
 - Post-secondary institutions attended, whether or not the work was completed or unsuccessful.
- Proof of Citizenship:
 - Permanent Residents are required to provide proof of immigration status as well as the "Landed On" date
 - Those born outside of Canada are required to provide proof of citizenship.
- Change of Name:
 - Married persons whose academic credentials may be in their birth name or previous married name must submit a marriage certificate for each change. Changes of name for reasons other than marriage must also be substantiated by appropriate certification.
- English Language Requirement
 - Those whose primary language is not English must meet one of the conditions as set out in the English Language Policy. See website: <https://www.uwinnipeg.ca/future-student/international/lang-req.html>

- Educational History:
 - Applicants must provide a detailed account of their educational activities between secondary school to the date of application for admission. This should include any additional high school, college, university, language classes, etc. This information must be included on the application for admission.
- Translation:
 - Official translations, certified by an educational or embassy official, or made by a certified translator, are required for records that are not in English or French.

Please note: The University of Winnipeg may verify documentation submitted with the issuing body.

d. Application Deadline Dates

The application and all required documentation must be received by the Admissions Office by the scheduled deadlines. See website:

<https://www.uwinnipeg.ca/future-student/apply/ready-to-apply.html>

e. Acceptance

Acceptance in time to register cannot be guaranteed if the application for admission form and/or the required documents are received after the specified deadline date.

Students who do not register within one year of their acceptance will be required to re-apply.

The University does not accept all applications for admission and may refuse to accept applications for admission at any time. International applicants particularly should be aware they shall be denied admission on the basis of their educational history if there are indications they are not a bonafide or degree-seeking student in Canada.

f. Readmission

Domestic students who have previously attended The University of Winnipeg and who fall into one of the following categories must apply for readmission by completing an Application for Continuance Form. See website:

<https://www.uwinnipeg.ca/future-student/requirements/continuing.html>

This applies to the following students:

- Students who have not been registered in courses at the University for three or more terms; or
- Students who previously completed a degree program at the University and who wish to return to take further courses towards a second degree or for general interest.

International students who have previously attended The University of Winnipeg and wish to return after three or more terms must submit a new application for admission, including a declaration of educational history.

All students who attended another university or college since their last registration at The University of Winnipeg must provide an official transcript for evaluation by the Admissions Office. Registration will not be permitted until the evaluation is done. Transcripts from all institutions attended must be disclosed with the application, and necessary information such as course descriptions must be provided within four months of being admitted.

Students who were on Probation or Suspension status in their last UWinnipeg term, who have subsequently taken courses at another institution, must achieve Regular status by completing courses at The University of Winnipeg. Only after achieving Regular status will they be eligible to receive transfer credits. Students should contact the Admissions Office when their status changes to Regular.

Students on Not Allowed to Continue status who have not registered at any university or degree-granting college for at least three years may choose whether to retain or forfeit their credits. A request to forfeit credit must be made in writing to the Admissions Office. The status on admission or re-entry will be determined by pre-university qualifications and current University of Winnipeg admission requirements. International students are not eligible for Forfeit of Credit.

g. Retention of Documents

The documents supplied to support an application for admission will be retained for one year from the date of acceptance. After this time period, the application form, transcripts and other materials related to the application will be destroyed. Irreplaceable documents will be returned to the applicant via registered mail (UPS), only if requested before one year. (Fee will be requested for this service.)

2. Admission into a Program of Study

Students are asked to select a program at the time of application, but are permitted to change their degree program during the course of their studies.

a. Enrolment Limits

Completion of the minimum requirements does not guarantee admission to any course or program at the University. In those instances where the number of qualified applicants exceeds the number that, in the opinion of the University, can be accommodated, the University reserves the right to select from among the qualified applicants.

Applicants seeking admission to some limited enrolment programs (e.g. Education, Applied Environmental Studies, Joint Communications, Radiation Therapy, Athletic Therapy) are subject to a selection process. International students may not be eligible to enroll in all programs.

b. Admission to the Faculty of Education

Space in the Faculty of Education is limited and not all eligible applicants may be admitted.

- Students currently registered in a BA or BSc program may apply for admission to the Integrated BEd program with advanced standing.
- Successful applicants will need to submit and be cleared on a formal Criminal Record Search Certificate including a Vulnerable Sector Screening, and submit and be cleared on a formal Child Abuse Registry check before admission can be finalized. Applicants who have a criminal record should also be prepared to present an official fingerprint search/disposition. Please see the Education section of the Calendar for more information.
- Students are admitted to the Integrated BEd or After-Degree programs for studies commencing in the Fall Term.
- Applicants to the Integrated BEd Program must meet Regular or Mature Status.
- International students are not eligible to enroll.

Expanded Admission Policy

The Faculty of Education has established a policy of expanded admission to aid in the recruitment of a group of education students who generally reflect the diversity of the population in Manitoba. Categories of expanded admission include: Indigenous Peoples of Canada, Persons of Racialized Communities, and Special Consideration. Please see the Education section of the Calendar for further information.

Certified Teachers

Certified teachers must have their documents reviewed by the Professional Certification Unit, Manitoba Education prior to submitting their application for admission.

c. Radiation Therapy

Space in the Radiation Therapy Degree Program is limited to six to eight Manitoba Residents and not all eligible applicants may be admitted.

- Students who have completed the specified 24 credit hours of pre-requisites may apply for admission to the Radiation Therapy 4-yr BSc with advanced standing.
- Successful applicants will need to submit and be cleared on a formal Criminal Record Search Certificate including a Vulnerable Sector Screening, and submit proof of current certification of cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR) at the basic Life Support (BLS) Health Care Provider (HCP -Level C).
- International students currently attending The University of Winnipeg and who meet eligibility requirements are also eligible to apply

3. Student Admission Categories

A student admitted to the University will receive one of the following status designations:

Regular: meets Regular Status entrance requirements.

Conditional: has completed the high school courses for entrance requirements with an average between 50-64.99%. (International students are not eligible).

Concurrent: has registered in a specified number of first-year University of Winnipeg courses while completing entrance requirements at the University's Collegiate. International students must meet high school graduation requirements in their home country and have graduated.

Accelerated: has special admission to a partial first-year Arts and Science program, while attending a Manitoba high school and simultaneously completing subjects necessary to meet regular entrance requirements.

Mature: meets Mature Status entrance requirements, and will turn 21 years of age or older during the calendar year in which he/she first registers. (International students are not eligible)

Mature Access: meets Mature Access criteria and may enroll in two specified courses. Upon successful completion (minimum grade of C), the student will move to Mature Status. (International students are not eligible)

Probationary: has completed some university courses and does not meet the minimum performance standard. (International students are not eligible).

Visiting: has a letter of permission from another university to take courses at The University of Winnipeg.

Second Degree: has obtained a first university degree from The University of Winnipeg or another university.

For more information on admission status categories, visit: <https://www.uwinnipeg.ca/future-student/admissions-req.html>

4. Admission Requirements

Admission requirements for Canadian and international students can be found online. <https://www.uwinnipeg.ca/future-student/admissions-req.html>

a. Out-of-Province Canadian High School Applicants

Candidates must present standing in Grade 12 English and meet the graduation requirements according to their home province.

<https://www.uwinnipeg.ca/future-student/requirements/out-of-province-hs-students.html>

b. International Applicants

Candidates will be considered for admission to the University on an individual basis. Meeting the minimum academic requirement does not guarantee admission. The University reserves the right to set a level of academic proficiency to determine acceptance.

<https://www.uwinnipeg.ca/future-student/international/how-to-apply.html>

5. English Language Requirement

The language of instruction at The University of Winnipeg is English. That means you must have a level of ability in English that allows you to participate in all aspects of university study, including lectures, reading, writing, and discussion. If English is not your first/primary language, you must show you are ready to study here by meeting the English Language Requirements of the University. Students will not be admitted until this requirement has been met, at the discretion of the Admissions Office.

<https://www.uwinnipeg.ca/future-student/international/lang-req.html>

6. Transfer of Credit

Students who have been pursuing post-secondary studies at another institution may apply for admission to the University, seeking to complete the work for a first Bachelor's degree; such applicants must be students in good standing at the former institution. Students seeking a second Bachelor's degree should refer to Degree and Major Requirements.

Applicants seeking admission with transfer credit are advised that the courses transferred, together with those they subsequently take at The University of Winnipeg, must meet the general and specific requirements of the Faculty and department in which they choose to major. Applicants should not assume that they will complete the degree with a number of credit hours equal to the difference between total hours required for the degree and transferred hours.

Credits that are transferred from institutions outside of Canada (excluding the USA) or non-AUCC institutions will be transferred in a "S" grades and will not count toward the overall grade point average of the student.

a. Other Institutions

Students wishing to have credits from another institution assessed for credit toward their degree at the University must disclose this on their application for admission and provide the necessary information like course descriptions within four months of being admitted. Documentation received after the four-month period will not be evaluated and no credit will be granted. Failure to disclose post-secondary studies can result in cancellation of acceptance or dismissal from the University. See website:

<https://www.uwinnipeg.ca/future-student/requirements/transfer.html>

b. International Baccalaureate Program

Credit or advanced standing is granted in specific subject areas for Higher Level and some Standard Level courses, provided a minimum score of 4 has been attained. An official copy of the International Baccalaureate results must be forwarded to the Admissions Office, or a request may be submitted to IB to enable the University to access official results electronically. Accepting credit is voluntary and students may elect to decline the credit or advanced standing. For complete details visit <https://www.uwinnipeg.ca/future-student/requirements/ap-and-ib-info.html>

c. Advanced Placement Program (College Board)

Credit or advanced standing is granted in specific subject areas on the basis of Advanced Placement (College Board) examinations provided a minimum score of 3 has been attained (in some cases a score of 4 is required). An official mark statement from the College Board must be forwarded to the Admissions Office. Students may elect to decline the credit or advanced standing. For complete details visit <https://www.uwinnipeg.ca/future-student/requirements/ap-and-ib-info.html>

7. Forfeit of Previous Credit – Statute of Limitations

Students who have not registered at any university or degree-granting college for at least three years may choose whether to retain or forfeit previous credits. Earned grades will still appear on the transcript but will no longer count towards your GPA.

A request to forfeit credit must be made in writing to the Admissions Office. The status on admission or re-entry will be determined by pre-university qualifications and current University of Winnipeg admission requirements.

Forfeit of credit will not be granted after a student has graduated from The University of Winnipeg. Students who forfeit credits under the three-year statute of limitations must fulfill the University degree requirements which are in place when they resume their studies. Students are limited to one opportunity to forfeit credit during their academic career. (International students are not eligible.)

8. Course Auditors

This applies to non-University of Winnipeg students only. Course auditors do not receive credit for courses completed. Students may attend courses at The University of Winnipeg as an auditor provided they receive written permission from the instructor to audit the course. The online application must be filled out and submitted. Supporting documentation for normal degree-program admission will not be required for domestic applicants. International applicants must meet the English Language Requirement and provide supporting documentation. Please visit: <https://www.uwinnipeg.ca/future-student/international/lang-req.html>

1. Information and Advice

As expressed in its guiding principles, The University of Winnipeg is committed to fostering an environment in which "a community of scholars - students and faculty - may have the freedom to examine ideas responsibly, and to participate in the academic operations of the institution through processes which reflect a balance between democracy, efficiency, innovation and accountability." To this end, the governing bodies of the University have developed various regulations, policies and procedures to guide the activities of this community. Many of these regulations and policies are described or cited in this section. Advice and further information can be obtained from an Academic Advisor. Each policy statement mentions an individual or department to contact for advice and further information.

2. Regulations Pertaining to Registration

a. Period of Study for an Undergraduate Degree

While the University continues to offer students the conventional route of full-time study towards their degrees, students may choose to pursue the degree on a part-time basis or through some combination of full- and part-time studies. There is no limit to the time it takes to earn a degree.

b. Definition of Full-time / Part-time Students

Students will be registered in one of the two following categories:

- Full-time - Registered for minimum 9 credit hours per term
- Part-time - Registered for fewer than 9 credit hours per term

Students participating in experiential learning opportunities encompassing 30 hours or more per week for the length of the regular academic term may also be considered full-time in certain circumstances.

c. Progress through Degree

Students are considered to have completed the individual years of their degree programs at the following points:

- First year - 30 credit hours completed;
- Second year - 60 credit hours completed;
- Third year - 90 credit hours completed;
- Fourth year - 120 credit hours completed;
- Fifth year - 150 credit hours completed.

d. Course Auditors

Auditing a course means taking the course without receiving academic credit towards a degree. Audited courses will be recorded on the student transcript as AU.

Current students may attend courses as an auditor provided they first request permission to audit the course from the instructor prior to their registration appointment date. If approved to audit the course, permission will be emailed to Registration.

Students wishing to change their registration from credit to audit, or audit to credit, may do so during the period for course and section changes. Any changes after this period must be appealed to the Senate Appeals Committee through Academic Advising.

For information on fees to audit a course, please see Fees on the University website.

For descriptions of all student categories, see the "Admissions" section of this Academic Calendar.

e. Maximum Course Load per Term

There is a limit to the number of credit hours a student may take per term.

Regular Status

The normal maximum course load for Regular status is 15 credit hours per term.

- Students who have completed 30 credit hours or more, with a GPA of 2.5 (C+) or higher, may register for 18 credit hours per term without seeking written permission.
- All other Regular status students must seek the written permission of an Academic Advisor if they wish to register for more than the normal maximum course load.

• Probationary/Conditional Status Students

Probationary and Conditional status students may register for a maximum of 9 credit hours per term. Students wishing to register for more than 9 credit hours per term must seek written permission of an Academic Advisor before registration.

• Mature Status Students

Mature status students are limited to 12 credit hours per term unless written permission for an overload is obtained from an Academic Advisor.

• Concurrent Status Students

Concurrent students are allowed a maximum of 15 credit hours per term in courses taken at the Collegiate and the University (a full credit course in the Collegiate is equivalent to 6 credit hours).

f. Requisites (Prerequisites & Corequisites)

Requisites are requirements that must be met in order to take a course and receive credit for it. They may include prerequisites (courses that should be completed beforehand) and/or corequisites (courses to be taken concurrently, including labs).

A prerequisite is a course that must be successfully completed before a student can register for another course.

Many second, third and fourth year courses have prerequisites which are noted in the course descriptions. It is the student's responsibility to ensure that all requisites are met or a departmental waiver is obtained before registration.

Students who believe they have background comparable to the material in a prerequisite course may ask either the Department Chair or the course instructor for permission to take a course without having taken the prerequisite course(s). Students must first obtain approval for the prerequisite waiver prior to being registered. If approved, either the instructor or the Department Chair (or designate) will enter the waiver and you can register for the course. If the course is full, you can place yourself on the course wait list. For more information, please go to the "Registration" section of the University's website, under "Requisite Waivers, Department Approvals and Granted Petitions."

Note: If you are on a Waitlist and a seat becomes available, an email will be sent to your UW Webmail account with instructions on how to claim your seat in the course. For more information, please go to the "Registration" section of the University's website, under "Wait Lists."

High School Prerequisites for First Year Courses

The following departments and programs have Senior 4 (Grade 12) or equivalent prerequisites which must be met before students may take introductory courses in these departments.

| In order to register for: | | you must have standing in: |

g. Recommended Pre-Registration Advising

Academic Advising is highly recommended for all newly accepted, first-year, continuing and transferring students. Academic Advisors can assist students with detailed information related to registration, programs, courses, procedures, student services and academic supports. This can be done after a student has been admitted to the University or at any point throughout their education.

First-year students can particularly benefit from information about the registration process. The University of Winnipeg offers First Year Information (FYI) sessions prior to each term. For details, please go to uwinnipeg.ca/fyi. A First-Year Information video series and First-Year Essentials guide can be found at the same link.

The feedback and guidance of an Academic Advisor is available for all students. Students also have access to an online tool called "Student Planning" through WebAdvisor. Student Planning should always be used in conjunction with the Academic Calendar.

Please be aware that Bachelor of Education students are required to meet with designated BEd Advisors regarding course selection and planning. BEd Advising info can be found here:

<https://www.uwinnipeg.ca/education/directory/academic-advising.html>.

Students with disabilities may benefit from contacting Accessibility Services prior to registering for courses.

<https://www.uwinnipeg.ca/accessibility-services/>

Please contact Academic and Career Services at (204) 786-9257 or advising@uwinnipeg.ca to set up an appointment (30 minutes), or attend a drop-in session (10 minutes), Monday to Friday. The drop-in schedule can be found here: <https://www.uwinnipeg.ca/academic-advising/>. The Academic and Career Services office is located at 489 Portage Avenue, 1st Floor, Rice Building.

h. Major Declaration and Advising

Students are asked to declare a Major before registering for their 36th credit hour of course work and are required to declare the Major before registering for their 60th credit hour of course work.

The best way to choose a major is to become well informed! Knowledge about the wide range of options for majors - together with a good understanding of your interests, goals and preferences - will help you pick the best major for you. Academic and Career Advisors are available to help. Appointments with an Advisor can be booked on the website uwinnipeg.ca/advising or by emailing advising@uwinnipeg.ca or calling (204) 786-9257. Tips for Major selection can be found on the Academic and Career Services webpage: <https://www.uwinnipeg.ca/academic-advising/>

Students are normally required to consult with, and receive written permission from the Department Chair or Program Coordinator before declaring a Major. Major Declaration forms are found online at "Forms" on the Current Students webpage and at Student Central.

For further information on declaring a Major, please see Degree and Major Requirements.

i. Letters of Permission / Registration for Courses at Other Post-secondary Institutions for Transfer of Credit

University of Winnipeg students who want to take courses at other recognized universities or accredited colleges for transfer of credit to the Faculties of Arts, Science, Education, Kinesiology, and Business and Economics must apply for a Letter of Permission (LOP) by the deadline date for each Term. Letters of Permission must be obtained prior to a student's registering for courses at the host institution. See <https://www.uwinnipeg.ca/student-records/letter-of-permission.html>

NOTE: Students taking courses at two post-secondary institutions must have one of them as their home institution and be on approved visiting status at the other, unless participating in a formal joint program between the two.

- To be eligible for a Letter of Permission students must be on Regular Status and have successfully completed, at time of application, a minimum of 18 credit hours of University of Winnipeg course work with a minimum GPA of 2.0 (C). This requirement also applies to Transfer Students. (No Letters of Permission will be issued to students whose status is Mature, Conditional, Concurrent or Probation.)
- Students who have not registered in courses at The University of Winnipeg for one or more years must complete an Application for Continuance before the Letter of Permission will be processed.
- If there is a HOLD on a student's record, the HOLD must be cleared before the Letter of Permission will be processed.
- Each LOP application must be accompanied by the appropriate non-refundable fee.
- A separate application and fee is required for each term (i.e. Fall, Winter or Spring) and institution regardless of the number of courses being considered. The term is determined by the Start Date of the course(s).
- Eligible students must be pursuing a degree or pre-professional studies at The University of Winnipeg and be requesting permission to take courses acceptable for credit in their degree program.
- Written permission from the appropriate department chairperson is required for courses being used towards a major or honours program courses. (The department chairperson's signature must be on the LOP form or a signed official letter must accompany the LOP form.) Students wishing to take a course that will not be used towards their major are strongly encouraged to meet with an academic advisor prior to submitting their application.
- The Letter of Permission or specific course(s) listed on the form will not be approved if the course(s) listed is offered at The University of Winnipeg. Students may be eligible to receive the Letter of Permission or register for the denied course(s) if they provide a valid written explanation as to why they would like to register for the course(s) at the host institution(s).
- A course description must be provided for each course requested for institutions inside Manitoba (with the exception of new courses offered) and detailed course outlines/syllabi must be submitted if courses are to be taken at institutions outside of Manitoba.

- Students may not exceed the maximum course load permitted per term as stated in the Calendar, in the Regulations and Policies section #2e. Written permission must be obtained from an Academic Advisor for a course overload.
- Students must apply to the host institution(s) as a Visiting Student. Upon approval of the Letter of Permission, one copy will be mailed to the student and the other mailed to the host institution.
- Students must notify the Student Records Office in writing by the beginning of the term if they did not register for the course(s) approved for transfer of credit. If the term has already started, students must provide the Student Records Office with either a Letter of Non-Enrolment or an official transcript to prove non-enrolment or course withdrawal.
- It is the student's responsibility to ensure that an Official Transcript listing final grades is forwarded to the Student Records Office one month after completion of the course(s). Failure to do so will result in an "F" grade(s).
- A maximum of 30 credit hours of course work may be taken on Letters of Permission for degree credit.
- Courses taken on a Letter of Permission cannot be used to fulfill The University of Winnipeg major or degree residence requirements. Students are cautioned to check the Calendar for the residence and degree requirements.

j. Holds

Any hold(s) such as a Library or Fee Hold on a student record must be cleared before a student may register. Suitable arrangements must be made with the department/area from which the hold originated to clear a record.

k. Student Health Plans

Domestic and International Student Health Insurance (Extended)

- The UWSA Health Plan is an extended health, vision and dental plan offered by Green Shield and implemented by the University of Winnipeg Students' Association (UWSA). This plan is for full-time domestic students who are not already covered under their own or their parents' benefits plans and all international students.
- Most full-time students (except for Theology, Graduate, and undergraduate exchange students, who are not automatically enrolled but are able to Opt-In) and all international students, full and part-time, are included in the UWSA Health Plan and are automatically charged for this benefit as part of their registration.
- The UWSA Health Plan does NOT cover doctor visits, lab costs, or hospital costs. It is an extended plan for items such as prescription drugs, dental work, vision benefits, vaccinations, and ambulance service.
- Full-time students (those taking 9 credit hours or more in any one term), excluding international students (who are required to be enrolled on the plan as part of their terms of study) may opt-out of the UWSA Health Plan if they provide proof of alternate coverage by completing the Opt-Out online process by the annual Opt-Out deadline.

- The annual Opt-Out/Opt-in/Opt-Change deadlines are as below:

September 16, 2024 for the Fall Term

January 17, 2025 for Winter Term

All Opt-Outs can be done online. The Health Plan is renewed annually and students can only Opt-Out in the first semester of their study. For example, students enrolled in the Fall Term can Opt-Out in the Fall only. Please visit <https://theuwsa.ca/healthplan/> to opt-out before the deadline.

- If students Opt-Out in a timely manner, the fee will not appear in their student account. If students opt-out later, the fee is refunded into their account. Please contact Student Financial Services for issues regarding fee assessment at studentfinancial@uwinnipeg.ca.

- Part-time students (those taking less than 9 credit hours in any one term) may choose to join the plan by filling out the digital Opt-in/Opt-Change form by the deadline.
- First Nations students are automatically opted out at the beginning of the year and can choose to extend their coverage by filling out the digital Opt-in/Opt-Change form before the Opt-Change deadline.
- All students can extend their UWSA health coverage to their spouse and/or dependents by filling out the digital Opt-in/Opt-Change form by the deadline.
- Students who were previously registered as spouse/family must complete the opt-change online after the health plan expires on August 31.
- Accessibility students under reduced course load must apply to opt-in to the health plan online to be included in the health plan and have to do so every year.

For details, see website: <http://theuwsa.ca/healthplan/>

International Students: Manitoba Blue Cross (Basic and Extended)

All Undergraduate and Graduate international students studying at UWinnipeg for longer than 6 months are automatically enrolled in the Manitoba International Student Health Plan (MISHP), which provides students with basic and emergency medical coverage within Canada. Enrolment is mandatory, and will guarantee that you have health coverage immediately upon arrival in Manitoba. Students can only opt out of this insurance plan if they have valid Manitoba Health (Provincial Health) coverage, there are no exemptions based on your current location/residence. For more information, see: www.mishp.ca

Guard.me More health insurance plan (Basic)

Visiting or exchange student studying at the university for a short duration (typically one or two terms), will be enrolled in guard.me health insurance. This coverage encompasses both basic/emergency and extended health insurance, providing hospital, emergency, ambulance, and private nursing services. For comprehensive details on coverage, please reach out to International Student Services or visit <https://www.uwinnipeg.ca/iss/information-for-all-students/health-insurance.html>.

International Students: UWSA Green Shield health insurance plan (extended)

All international students are required to purchase extended health coverage through The University of Winnipeg Student Association, offered by Green Shield. This plan covers prescription drugs, vision, dental, ambulance, and repatriation of the deceased. For a full listing of coverage details, please contact UWSA Health Plan Office or visit <https://theuwsa.ca/healthplan/>. This coverage is mandatory of all international students, regardless of whether they hold any other insurance coverage.

The University assumes no liability for any failure by the student to maintain adequate medical, hospital, vision or dental insurance, nor is the University responsible for any costs not covered by the student's personal insurance plan(s).

l. U-Pass

An initiative of the UWSA, the U-Pass is a universal bus pass program in which students pay a fee at the beginning of each Term and receive a bus pass that is valid for the Fall and Winter Term (September- April). Students can choose to purchase a post-secondary semester pass at Winnipeg Transit retail locations (like 7-11 and Shoppers Drugmart).

Students that are eligible can opt-out via the form available on the website. Accessibility students with reduced course load can opt-in for the U-Pass. The form is available online. For more information, please visit <https://theuwsa.ca/u-pass/>.

3. Classroom Regulations

The following section describes the rights and responsibilities of students with regard to attending lectures and completing course work. For information about grading and minimum performance levels, see Grading.

a. Attendance

Students are expected to be regular in their attendance at lectures and in the completion of work required in each course. Poor attendance may result in loss of term marks. Absence may be excused by instructors on the grounds of illness, disability, or challenging personal circumstances that are beyond the student's control. In the case of illness or challenging personal circumstances, the instructor may require a medical certificate or other evidence if several classes are missed. In the case of disability, the instructor may engage with Accessibility Services to discuss accommodations for students. Only registered students, those providing disability-related support, and guests with prior permission of the instructor are permitted to attend classes.

b. Course Outlines

At the beginning of each course, students will receive a course outline. The outline, approved by the Department Review Committee or equivalent, should include, but not be limited to the following:

- An indication of the topics to be covered;
- An indication that all topics listed on the outline may not be covered;
- An indication of equipment authorized for use in exams (e.g., calculators);
- A list of all items of work on which the grade of the class is based and indication of the weight of each individual item of work;
- Clear assessment criteria if marks will be given for participation and/or attendance;
- A clear indication of when the items of work need to be administered and/or submitted, and specific penalties, if any, for late submission of work;
- Guidelines specifying a numerical (percentage) range for letter grades assigned to individual items of work and the course final grade;
- A note that final grades will be approved by the Department Review Committee or equivalent and may be subject to change;
- The voluntary withdrawal date, without academic penalty;
- The date of the last test/examination or the last item of work such as an essay or project in the class;
- Reference to the appropriate items in sections of the Calendar dealing with Senate information on appeals, withdrawal dates, and academic misconduct such as plagiarism and cheating;
- A reading list or other indication of the amount of reading expected in the class;
- A statement indicating whether or not it is a requirement that work submitted for evaluation be either typed or text processed;
- A statement indicating whether or not students will be asked for photo-identification when writing a test or examination;
- Reference to the availability of Accessibility Services.

c. Completing Course Work

Students are expected to complete the work required in each course. Such work may include, but is not limited to, term papers, project reports, presentations, mid-term and other tests, and final examinations. In some situations, students who have not completed the required work by the end of the term may appeal for an extension or deferred exam. See Senate Appeals.

d. Course Withdrawal/Drop

A student may choose to drop or withdraw voluntarily from any course, up to and including the designated voluntary withdrawal deadline for that course. (See "Course Drop Information" and "Course Withdrawal Schedule" on the website for details.) The University may withdraw a student involuntarily from a course due to unacceptable classroom behaviour or other issues. In such case, no credit is awarded for the course, and the student is not entitled to any evaluation of coursework that was not yet evaluated prior to the date of withdrawal.

e. Format of Submitted Work

Instructors may require that work submitted for evaluation be either typed or word-processed. This requirement must be stated in the course outline.

f. Identification at Tests and Examinations

Students must have ID available upon request when writing tests and examinations.

Students who are unable to present identification may complete the test or examination, but must produce identification within one working day. The test or examination is not graded until identification is assured.

g. Entry to and Exit from Final Examinations

Late students may not enter a final examination once the first 30 minutes of the examination time have elapsed. They should contact their instructor regarding the possibility of rescheduling or deferring the exam. Students may not leave a final examination until the first 30 minutes of the examination time have elapsed.

h. Posting of Grades

Instructors may choose to post grades for individual items of work outside their offices. When final grades are posted after the end of the course, students should be aware that such grades have not yet been approved by the department, and may be subject to change.

4. Grading

This section describes the grading system and the calculation of grade point averages (GPA). Grades obtained by students in their program of studies are governed by the following Senate regulations.

a. Final Grades

Final grades are determined by a combination of:

- the weight or value of grades on work completed during the course, as prescribed in the course outline, including the final examination grade;
- evaluation of class participation, seminar presentation, and discussion.

To receive credit, students must obtain a grade of A+, A, A-, B+, B, C+, C, D, or S (Standing). Note: A grade of "Standing" indicates successful completion of a pass/fail course, or completion of courses taken at international universities or colleges. Total credit hours earned in "Standing" courses are counted towards the degree but are not included in the GPA calculation. Students receive no credit for a failing grade (F). This grading system applies to all Undergraduate and Graduate courses.

All final grades are issued by Student Records, upon approval by Departments and Programs, on behalf of The University of Winnipeg Senate.

b. Notification of Grades

During the term, instructors must return or show evaluated term work to students with any comments and the assigned grade within a reasonable time period following the completion of an assignment. In most courses, students can expect that the grades for at least 20% of their term work will be available to them before the voluntary withdrawal date.

After the term is completed, grades assigned to all term work must be available to students no later than 10 working days following the date designated for a final examination in a course. Students are responsible for getting the grades for individual assignments from the instructor or the Department when course work, including the final examination, is graded after the close of classes.

Instructors may return or keep final examinations for a period of one year. Students who have filed an appeal against the final grade have the right to see the final examination. Official final grades are made available to students through the Registrar.

c. Repeating Courses

Unless otherwise noted in the course description, a given course may be used only once for credit toward major or degree requirements.

A course may be attempted a maximum of two times if passing grades are achieved in both attempts. This maximum may be waived by the department or program at their discretion. Students may repeat any course regardless of the previous grade. Students do not have to repeat courses in which they get a failing grade unless the course is required as part of their degree program. Repetition of a course does not result in removal of the previous attempt from the student's record, though the cumulative Grade Point Average calculation may be affected.

Note: A course title and/or description may be updated from one year to the next, but if the course number stays the same, this indicates that it is essentially the same course and cannot be repeated for additional credit, unless explicitly noted in the course description. When registering, please check course numbers carefully to avoid taking the same course twice.

d. Calculating the Grade Point Average (GPA)

Final grades in each course are reported in letter grades to get the grade point average, or GPA. The following table indicates the relationship between letter grades and grade points.

Grade Point System

| Subjective evaluation | Letter grade | Grade points earned | | Weighted grade points | |
|-----------------------|--------------|---------------------|----------------|-----------------------|----------------|
| | | 6 credit hours | 3 credit hours | 6 credit hours | 3 credit hours |
| Excellent | A+ | 4.5 | 2.25 | 27 | 13.5 |
| | A | 4.25 | 2.125 | 25.5 | 12.75 |
| | A- | 4 | 2 | 24 | 12 |
| Good | B+ | 3.5 | 1.75 | 21 | 10.5 |
| | B | 3 | 1.5 | 18 | 9 |
| Satisfactory | C+ | 2.5 | 1.25 | 15 | 7.5 |
| | C | 2 | 1 | 12 | 6 |
| Marginal | D | 1 | 0.5 | 6 | 3 |

There are two types of grade point averages (GPA), degree GPA and cumulative GPA.

Note: The University of Winnipeg does not have a standardized numerical grade conversion scale for each letter grade it awards.

e. Degree GPA (Graduation GPA)

The degree GPA is calculated on credit hours used for a degree. It is calculated by dividing the weighted grade points by the number of credit hours passed. The number of credit hours in "Standing" courses are used towards a degree but are not included in the GPA calculation. If courses have been repeated, the higher of the two grades is used.

f. Cumulative GPA

The cumulative GPA is currently calculated on all credit hours attempted. It is calculated by dividing the weighted grade points by the total number of credit hours passed and credit hours failed. The number of hours in "Standing" courses is not included in this calculation. In the case of a repeated course with passing grades on both attempts, there was a change in policy in Spring 2009. If one or both attempts were prior to Spring 2009, both grades and the number of credit hours in both courses will be included in the calculation. If both attempts were in Spring 2009 or after, only the better grade will be included in the GPA calculation. This policy on repeat attempts does NOT apply if one of the attempts is an F. In that case, both the F and the passing grade are included in the cumulative GPA calculation. All course attempts appear on the transcript.

5. Transcript of Academic Record

A student's record is confidential and as such transcripts are issued only at the request of the student. Upon written request of the student, an official transcript of the student's academic record can be produced by Student Records. All transcript requests must be accompanied by payment and a Transcript Request Form (see Transcripts on the website or visit Student Central). Digital transcripts will be issued using MyCreds at <https://mycreds.ca/>. Transcripts will normally be issued within five (5) working days after the written request has been received by Student Records. However, during peak periods this process could take seven to ten (7 - 10) working days. Transcripts showing Fall Term grades are available at the end of January, Fall/Winter and Winter Term grades at the end of May, Spring Session grades at the end of July, and Summer Session grades at the end of August.

Transcripts will not be issued until all financial obligations to the University and any "Holds" which have been placed on the student's record, including Library, Admissions, and Awards and Financial Aid, have been cleared.

Students who require proof of degree completion prior to convocation can request a letter from the Convocation/Academic Program Officer in Student Records.

6. Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL)

The University of Winnipeg has established three methods to recognize for credit the prior learning a student may have achieved beyond traditional university or college courses. These methods include (a) RPL for Admissions, (b) challenge for credit, and (c) military service.

RPL Policies:

- Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL) for credit (for courses) is only available to students who have been admitted to The University of Winnipeg's Faculties of Arts, Business and Economics, Education, Kinesiology and Applied Health, or Science.
- Credits gained through RPL cannot be used to fulfill The University of Winnipeg residence requirements.
- A maximum of 60 credit hours from the combination of RPL credits and transfer credits can be used toward a degree.
- Credits obtained through the RPL will be recorded on the student's official transcript as PLAR.

Note: Regulations and procedures for RPL in the Professional, Applied and Continuing Education (PACE) and Graduate Studies Programs may differ from those of the Faculties of Arts, Business and Economics, Education, Kinesiology and Applied Health, and Science. Please check with PACE or Graduate Studies for information

a. RPL for Admission

Students may be admitted to the Undergraduate Faculties or Graduate Studies on the basis of an RPL assessment in lieu of regular entrance requirements. This assessment will be conducted by the Admissions Office in the case of undergraduate applicants or the Dean of Graduate Studies Office in the case of graduate studies applicants, and will be done in consultation with the Coordinator of RPL.

b. Challenge for Credit

Prior Learning Assessment and Recognition (PLAR) at The University of Winnipeg is a method by which students may, with appropriate evidence and documentation, be able to obtain credit toward a degree based on an assessment of their informal and non-formal learning, including non-transferable formal learning.

Procedures:

- The student must apply to and be accepted by The University of Winnipeg.
- The student reviews PLAR instructions on the Adult Learner Services website and then consults with the Coordinator of RPL in Student Services and applies for Challenge for Credit.
- Included in the Challenge for Credit Application, the student must provide a summary of prior learning and receive permission to PLAR a course for credit from the Department Chair/Instructor offering the course.
- The student will complete appropriate advising and orientation as determined by the University and the department.
- The Department Chair/Instructor will determine the appropriate mode(s) of assessment for the course(s) (e.g., portfolio, examination, demonstration, interview, presentation).
- Once the student and Department Chair/Instructor agree to proceed with PLAR, the student must complete and sign an Assessment Agreement Form in consultation with the Department Chair/Instructor and return the form to the Coordinator of RPL.
- The fee (½ the regular course tuition/registration/student life fees) must accompany the Assessment Agreement Form.
- Within the set deadline the student completes the agreed upon assessment(s).
- If the student is not successful in challenging a course, a note to this effect will be placed in the student's file but will not be entered on the student's WebAdvisor transcript or the official transcript.
- If a student is not successful in completing the assessment process, one further attempt can be made to challenge for credit after a minimum of six months, provided the student produces evidence of additional learning. The course instructor may inform the student of areas where learning is inadequate and may be able to recommend ways to acquire or demonstrate that learning.

Regulations:

- Academic credit should be awarded only for demonstrable learning, not for experience.
- The student may use a maximum of 30 credit hours of PLAR towards a degree.

- The student who is successful will receive a grade of S ("Standing") in the course rather than a letter grade.
- Credit will only be awarded for work meeting the standard expected of students who successfully complete the course with a grade of "C" or better.
- The student may only use PLAR for courses delivered by The University of Winnipeg (i.e., only courses which appear in the Course Descriptions section of this Calendar or in The University of Winnipeg Timetable).
- Students may not be considered for PLAR in a course if they have previously registered in that course or its equivalent at The University of Winnipeg or another university. Exceptions to this rule will be made for those students who have withdrawn within the first two weeks of a course.
- Challenge for Credit in the Faculty of Education: Students cannot request challenge for credit for Curriculum, Instruction and Assessment Courses or Practicum Blocks. However, students may request challenge for credit in other Education courses; please follow the previously outlined procedures and policies. For more details refer to Faculty of Education, General Information.
- Credits granted for prior learning at The University of Winnipeg may not always be transferable to or recognized by other post-secondary institutions. It is the responsibility of the learner to determine transferability or acceptance.
- For more information on PLAR, consult the website at <https://www.uwinnipeg.ca/adult-learner-services/index.html>

c. Recognition of Prior Learning for Military (RPLM) Training and Service

The University of Winnipeg welcomes and serves the needs of Canadian Regular and Reserve Forces, retired members, and veterans as they complete their degrees. Through RPLM, The University recognizes Military Training and Service.

Procedures:

- The student must apply to and be accepted by The University of Winnipeg.
- The student must complete, date, sign and submit a University of Winnipeg Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL) Military Request Form, including a Member Personnel Record's Resume (MPRR) to the Coordinator of RPL.

Regulations:

- The student may use up to 24 credit hours for Military Training and up to 6 credit hours for Service/Rank for a maximum of 30 credit hours of RPLM towards a degree.
- Credits obtained through the RPLM will be recorded on the student's official transcript as RPLM-1001 and/or 2001 and/or 3001 Military PLAR as general electives, with a grade of "S" (Standing).
- Credits granted through RPLM at The University of Winnipeg may not always be transferable to or recognized by other post-secondary institutions. It is the responsibility of the learner to determine transferability or acceptance.
- If you haven't applied for admission and would like to discuss your prior learning and educational plan first, please call 204-786-9257 to schedule an appointment with an Adult Learner Services and RPL Advisor.
- For more information on RPLM, consult the website at <https://www.uwinnipeg.ca/adult-learner-services/index.html>

7. Academic Standing and Status Evaluation

a. Grade Point Requirements for Degrees granted by the University of Winnipeg

| Degree | Minimum weighted GP | Credit hrs | Minimum Cumulative GPA | Notes |
|------------------------------|---------------------|------------|------------------------|---|
| BA, BBA, BPHE, or BSc 3-Year | 180 | 90 | 2.0 | Minimum 2.0 GPA —on UWinnipeg courses used for graduation —on Courses used for the major Only courses with D or better can be used for graduation. The 90 credit hours presented for graduation must meet all degree requirements. Students on probation may try a maximum of 120 credit hours to gain a degree. Students with Regular status and a cumulative GPA of 2.0 or better may exceed 120 credit hours in attempting to gain a degree. |
| BA Honours | | 120 | 3.0 2.5 | Minimum 3.0 GPA —on honours subject courses, including course repeats and failures Minimum 2.5 GPA —on non-honours subject courses where Fs are not included and in the case of repeated courses, only the highest grade will be used |
| BKin or BSc Honours | | 120 | 3.0 2.75 | Minimum 3.0 GPA —on honours subject courses, including course repeats and failures Minimum 2.75 GPA —on non-honours subject courses where Fs are not included and in the case of repeated courses, only the highest grade will be used |
| BA, BBA, BKin, or BSc 4-year | 240 | 120 | 2.0 | Minimum 2.0 GPA — on UWinnipeg courses used for graduation — on courses used for major Only courses with D or better can be used for graduation The 120 credit hours presented for graduation must meet all degree requirements. |
| Integrated BEd/BA or BSc | 300 | 150 | 2.0 | Minimum 2.0 GPA. The 150 credit hours presented for graduation must meet all degree requirements. |
| Second Bachelor's degree | | | 2.0 | Minimum 2.0 GPA in courses presented for graduation Requirements for the degree being sought must be met by courses presented for graduation and relevant courses credited in the earlier degree. |

Awards, Bursaries, Scholarships, Prizes and Medals The University of Winnipeg is committed to assisting students with their education costs while also recognizing academic excellence. UWinnipeg offers a large number of bursaries, awards, scholarships and prizes for students in our community, including first generation students, Indigenous students, students with disabilities, athletes and those enrolled in specific majors or programs.

Current information and annual updates on UWinnipeg awards and financial aid can be found at <https://www.uwinnipeg.ca/awards/>

Definitions:

- Awards are based on a combination of financial need and academic achievement.
- Bursaries are provided to students with satisfactory academic standing who demonstrate financial need.
- Scholarships are based on any combination of academic achievement, campus/community involvement, leadership, volunteerism, or any other senate-approved criteria.
- Prizes recognize achievement in a specific area of study or participation in an event or competition.
- Medals recognize academic achievement and are typically awarded at the spring convocation ceremony.

Most bursaries, scholarships and awards are selected using UWinnipeg's online awards management system. Academic information found in the student record (gpa, major, current courseload, etc.) is automatically entered into the student's annual awards application.

At the start of the academic year, students are responsible for providing and updating any personal information required for award eligibility which is not found in the student record.

Examples include but are not limited to: resumes, letters of reference, annual financial need declaration; evidence of leadership, volunteerism, campus/community involvement, etc.

To be competitive and considered for as many bursaries, scholarships and awards as possible each year, students are advised to:

- Log-in to their online awards account before each term of study and update their personal information;
- Visit uwinnipeg.ca/awards regularly for information and updates;
- Declare their major;
- Declare Indigenous ancestry/status;
- Maintain a full-time courseload in Fall and Winter terms;
- Read all emails and reminders from the university and UWinnipeg Financial Aid & Awards.

Academic Proficiency Scholarship

Scholarships are awarded each academic year to current students who have achieved a cumulative grade point average of 4.00 or better on at least 12 credit hours completed in the previous Fall/Winter and Summer sessions combined. Students will be considered after the completion of 30 credit hours at The University of Winnipeg. Eligible students will be ranked by GPA and scholarships will be awarded from the top GPA down until all of the annual funding has been disbursed, or until the last eligible student has receives a scholarship, whichever comes first. Graduates are ineligible.

| Sessional GPA | 12-15 credit hours | 18-21 credit hours | 24-27 credit hours | 30+ credit hours |
|---------------|--------------------|--------------------|--------------------|------------------|
| 4 | $100 | $150 | $200 | $250 |
| 4.1 | $150 | $200 | $250 | $300 |
| 4.2 | $200 | $250 | $300 | $350 |
| 4.3 | $250 | $300 | $350 | $400 |
| 4.4 | $300 | $350 | $400 | $450 |
| 4.5 | $350 | $400 | $450 | $500 |

Entrance Scholarships and Awards

The University of Winnipeg offers a variety of scholarships and awards for first-year students entering studies directly from high school. UWinnipeg Special Entrance Scholarships are awarded automatically to current grade 12 students as part of the regular fall term admissions application and according to the annual deadline. The University also offers a number of entrance scholarships and awards which require a separate application. Following admission to the University, new students will be sent information on how to log-in to their awards portal to apply. See uwinnipeg.ca/awards for the most current information.

In-Course Awards for Current Students

Each academic year, The University of Winnipeg offers more than 700 different scholarships, awards, bursaries and prizes to current students. First-year and returning students must log-in to their student awards portal prior to the start of every term to update their personal information in order to be considered for in-course awards. See uwinnipeg.ca/awards for the most current information.

Convocation Medals

Gold and silver medals are awarded at spring convocation to students who have achieved the highest standing in their degree program and major. To be considered, students must have completed all of their degree requirements during the most recent academic year following the previous spring convocation. Students who graduate in the fall or winter term convocation periods remain eligible to be considered for medals at the next spring convocation. No student will be awarded two medals in the same department or two medals for overall performance in an undergraduate degree, except for a student in the Integrated B.Ed. program who is receiving two degrees simultaneously. A cumulative grade point average of at least 3.75 (B+) is the minimum requirement to qualify for a convocation medal; cumulative grade point averages are competitive.

Deans' Honour List

Students will be considered for the Deans' Honour List after the completion of 30 credit hours at The University of Winnipeg. This academic distinction is awarded to current students with a cumulative sessional grade point average of 3.55 or higher on at least 18 credit hours completed in the previous fall, winter and summer terms combined. Students with a sessional grade point average of 3.55-3.99 are recognized as a "Student of Distinction." Students with a sessional grade point average of 4.00+ are recognized as a "Student of Highest Distinction."

c. Minimum Performance Requirements to Remain in a Program

An evaluation of student performance is conducted following the term in which students have completed their first 18 credit hours, and then following each subsequent term to determine if students have a sufficient GPA to continue in their program.

–Students who achieve the minimum performance level are considered to be in good standing.

–Students who do not achieve the minimum performance level are placed on probation.

–Students who continue to perform unsatisfactorily are placed on academic suspension.

–To continue at the University on Regular status, students must meet the minimum grade point level shown in the Minimum Performance Table below.

–Students who accumulate more than 30 credit hours of failing grades exceed the number of course attempts allowed to get a degree, and are not allowed to continue with their studies.

To calculate minimum performance the student must have achieved a minimum GPA on the credit hours attempted according to the scale in the table below. If a grade is S (Standing), it is evaluated as a grade point of 2.0 for purposes of this calculation.

Minimum Performance Table

| Credit hours attempted | Minimum GPA |
|------------------------|-------------|
| 18 – 30 | 1.4 |
| 30.01-60 | 1.5 |
| 60.01-90 | 1.6 |
| 90.1+ | 1.65 |

d. Probationary Status Students

Students are placed on probation when their end of term evaluation shows that their performance level has fallen below the minimum required. Probationary status is effective immediately.

When students are on probation, their performance level is re-evaluated after subsequent terms. At that time, to remain at the University, they must have achieved one of the following conditions:

– To regain Regular status, students must meet the minimum performance level based on all courses attempted.

– To remain on Probationary status, students must obtain a minimum 2.0 GPA on courses attempted since the last assessment.

Failure to achieve either of these two conditions will result in academic suspension.

Students on probation cannot enrol at other universities to try to remove the probationary status, and should consult an Academic Advisor to discuss their course load, their course selection, and the effects of probation on their academic career. Students on probation may take a maximum of 9 credit hours per term.

Students in the Integrated BEd program who are placed on probation are removed from the BEd portion of the program but can remain in the Arts or Science program. They can seek readmission to the BEd program as a Transfer or After-Degree applicant if they achieve Regular status and meet the admission requirements. Applicants to the BEd program must be on Regular or Mature status.

e. Mature Status Students

Mature status students are admitted on probation. After 24 credit hours, if they meet the minimum performance level indicated in the Minimum Performance Table, they are given

Regular student status. They may be given Regular status if they meet the minimum performance level with fewer than 24 credit hours. If they do not meet the minimum performance level, they are not allowed to continue with their university studies. If a student is registered in the term during which notification of the impending status change is sent, the not allowed to continue status becomes effective at the end of that term, unless the student chooses to withdraw immediately.

Students on “not allowed to continue” status must re-apply for admission and must meet Regular status admission requirements. Degree credit is granted for courses previously completed at the University. In extraordinary circumstances, students may appeal for reinstatement. (See Appeals).

f. Academic Suspension

Probationary students who don't meet one of the conditions in #7d will be placed on suspension. Please refer to #7d Probationary Status Students above and see the Minimum Performance table. If a student is registered in the term during which notification of the impending status change is sent, the suspension or withdrawal becomes effective at the end of that term, unless the student chooses to withdraw immediately.

The first academic suspension is normally for one calendar year. A student on academic suspension cannot resume studies until the suspension period has expired. To seek reinstatement after a first suspension, the student must see an Academic Advisor after completing the Application for Continuance process.

Second and subsequent suspensions are for two years. To seek reinstatement after a second or subsequent suspension, the student must submit a request for reinstatement in writing to the Senate Appeals Committee. (See Appeals). Submission of an appeal does not assure reinstatement.

g. Not Allowed to Continue Status

Students who receive more than 30 credit hours of failures have exceeded the maximum number of course attempts to get a degree, and are not allowed to continue their studies. They may choose to sit out for three years and request forfeit of credit if they wish to return. (See Admission and Readmission).

If a student is registered in the term during which notification of the status change is sent, the withdrawal from the university becomes effective at the end of that term, unless the student chooses to withdraw immediately.

In extraordinary circumstances, students may appeal in writing for reinstatement to the Senate Appeals Committee. (See Appeals).

h. USupport/Student Success Advisors

The University of Winnipeg offers USupport to help current students who may benefit from additional academic support.

At approximately the half-way point of each term, faculty members are asked to identify students who are missing classes, not participating in class, or showing poor performance. These students are then contacted by the University's Student Success Advisors who offer guidance, support, as well as referral to other services on campus, as appropriate.

Students are also welcome to self-identify for USupport or to contact Student Success Advisors directly at any time during the term with their academic issues. Please email for an appointment: studentsuccess@uwinnipeg.ca

8. Student Discipline

a. Academic Misconduct

POLICY

Purpose:

In order to promote academic integrity, fairness, and an atmosphere of collegiality at the University, this Policy sets out the principles and procedures governing academic misconduct committed by students. The intent of this Policy is to ensure that students do not commit acts of academic misconduct.

Scope:

This Policy applies to all students enrolled at the University, including, but not limited to, those in undergraduate certificate, diploma and/or degree programs, graduate certificate, diploma and/or degree programs; and Professional Applied and Continuing Education (PACE) certificate or diploma programs.

Responsibility:

The Vice-President Academic, on behalf of The Senate of the University, is responsible for the development, administration, and review of this policy.

Definitions:

i) Plagiarism

Plagiarism is a form of academic dishonesty in which students present published or unpublished work (written, digital, or other) of another person or persons, or one's own prior work, in its entirety or in part, as their own original work.

While scholarship quite properly rests upon examining and referring to the thoughts and writings of others, when excerpts are used in any work submitted for evaluation, the sources must be acknowledged, using an accepted format for the discipline.

Work of another person can include, but is not limited to, essays, literary compositions and phrasing, oral presentations, performance compositions, chemical compounds, artworks, laboratory reports, research results, calculations and the results of calculations, diagrams, constructions, computer reports or software, and material derived from sources such as CD ROMs, DVDs, the Internet, and/or other digital sources.

Acts of plagiarism may include, but are not limited to, one or more of the following:

- not giving recognition to the author for phrases, sentences, thoughts, code, or arguments incorporated in written work, software or other digital sources, which can take the form of incomplete footnotes, endnotes, references and/or bibliographies; not using quotation marks or referencing appropriately when quoting directly; submitting, in whole or in part, someone else's work as one's own;
- not referencing appropriately, when quoting indirectly, to indicate the source of the ideas and work of another;
- submitting the same work for evaluation to more than one course, without the consent of each instructor to do so;
- two or more students submitting identical or virtually identical work for evaluation when the work was intended to be completed individually.

ii) Cheating

Cheating is an attempt to gain an improper advantage in an academic evaluation (e.g., examinations, tests, or assignments).

Acts of cheating may include, but are not limited to, one or more of the following:

- copying another person's answer;
- communicating with others at a test/exam with the purpose of obtaining, exchanging, or imparting information being tested;

- consulting unauthorized sources to obtain assistance, including, but not limited to, written, digital, and/or other aids not approved by the instructor;
- obtaining a copy of an examination or test, or examination or test questions before they are officially available;
- purchasing exams, essays or other assignments, in whole or in part, and submitting these works for evaluation as one's own.

iii) Improper Research/Academic Practices

Engaging in dishonest research practices is academic misconduct, including, but not limited to, one or more of the following:

- fabricating or falsifying investigative results and reporting those as valid;
- taking or using other people's research results without permission and/or acknowledgment;
- misrepresenting research results or methods through selective omission or manipulation of research design, data or citations;
- referring to resources known not to exist or the listing of others who have not contributed to the work;
- contravening the University's Policy and Procedures on Integrity in Research and Scholarship as that Policy relates to students.

iv) Obstruction of the Academic Activities of Another

It is academic misconduct to interfere with the scholarly/academic activities of another for malicious interference or in order to gain unfair academic advantage.

v) Impersonation

It is academic misconduct to impersonate someone or to allow oneself to be impersonated, in writing, digitally, or in person in class, in a test or examination, in connection with any type of course assignment or requirement, or in connection with any other University requirement. Both the impersonator and the person impersonated may be accused of academic misconduct.

vi) Falsification or Unauthorized Modification of an Academic Record

It is academic misconduct to falsify, fabricate, or in any other way modify an examination/test, transcript, grade, letter of recommendation, permission form, admission form, continuance form or other academic document, including, but not limited to, one or more of the following:

- making false claims or statements;
- submitting false information (e.g., false medical or other such certificate);
- altering official documents or records (e.g., transcripts);
- omitting information (e.g., failing to divulge facts about previous attendance at another postsecondary educational institution on an admissions application or continuance form).

vii) Aiding and Abetting Academic Misconduct

Knowingly aiding and abetting anyone in an act of academic misconduct shall itself be considered academic misconduct, including, but not limited to, one or more of the following:

- writing or providing an essay or other assignment in whole or in part for another student to submit as their own;
- offering for sale, or facilitating the sale of, exams, essays, or other assignments, in whole or in part, with the awareness that these works would be submitted for evaluation;
- profiting or benefiting from the results of impersonation.

Principles:

The University has a responsibility to set standards of student conduct that promote and maintain an environment in which academic integrity is understood and valued, and serves as the basis for student learning.

The purpose of defining academic misconduct is not to be punitive, but rather to encourage appropriate student conduct and, when necessary, to identify and regulate student academic misconduct that infringes on the culture of academic integrity upon which the University is built.

Students shall not commit acts of academic misconduct.

Academic misconduct shall include any of the following:

- Plagiarism
- Cheating
- Improper Research/Academic Practices
- Obstruction of the Academic Activities of Another
- Impersonation
- Falsification or Unauthorized Modification of an Academic Record
- Aiding and Abetting Academic Misconduct

A student alleged to have committed an act of academic misconduct has a right to be accompanied by another person for any personal attendance before University officials and/or committees pursuant to this Policy.

Any student found to have committed an act of academic misconduct may be penalized.

The procedures for determining if a student has committed an act of academic misconduct shall be fair and conducted in accordance with the rules of natural justice.

Review:

This policy shall be reviewed in conjunction with the Procedures review at least once every five years.

PROCEDURES:

Purpose:

To implement the Academic Misconduct Policy, the procedures outlined in this document shall be followed.

Responsibility:

The Vice President Academic, on behalf of The Senate of the University, is responsible for the development, administration and review of these procedures.

Definitions:

- The terms "head" and "chair" refer to the person responsible for the management and administration of a program and/or department.
- Time Period: In these Procedures, days are specified as either calendar or working days. In either event, calculation of days does not include days on which the University is: closed for statutory holidays or closed due to flooding, power outages, security threats, or other such extraordinary occurrences, or otherwise shown as closed in the University Academic Calendar, in which case the calculation of the number of days will be extended by the number of days the university was closed.
- Additionally, all Definitions in the Academic Misconduct Policy are incorporated into these Procedures and shall apply as fully as if they had been set out verbatim herein.

Principles:

1. A student alleged to have committed an act of academic misconduct has a right to be accompanied by another person for any personal attendance before University officials and/or committees pursuant to this Policy. The accompanying person may provide support by supplementing the student's presentation to:
 - raise specifics of the case as previously discussed between that person and the student;
 - raise procedural matters if correct procedures have not been followed;

-assist in overcoming barriers the student may be experiencing including language comprehension issues or discomfort presenting;
-deliver a closing statement.

2. Every effort shall be made to ensure that confidentiality is maintained by the University at every point in the process up to the final determination. Additionally, every effort shall be made to ensure that anonymity is maintained in all case summaries and reporting except that the University shall be free to report or disclose a finding of academic misconduct on any official University records including a transcript or in response to a question by other academic institutions.

3. No person who was previously involved with the consideration of allegations of academic misconduct may be involved as a voting committee member in later stages related to that same incident.

4. At the onset of any level of the process, a student alleged to have committed an act of academic misconduct shall be notified that they may raise an objection concerning conflict of interest or bias at the outset. If the student fails to do so, they are deemed to have waived any objection.

5. Where an objection concerning conflict of interest or bias has been raised, the student may appeal a dismissal of a conflict or bias objection to the Senate Academic Standards and Misconduct Committee, which shall determine if the conflict or bias objection has merit, and, if so, the entire process shall be repeated, so as to remedy the conflict or bias.

6. Archival files pertaining to academic misconduct shall be maintained by the Dean/Associate Dean of Arts who is Chair of the Senate Academic Standards and Misconduct Committee.

Process:

The stages of an academic misconduct allegation are as follows:

LEVEL I: Instructor level - where allegation occurs within a course or where an allegation arises in respect of conduct other than within a course.

1. Allegations arising within a course:

Where circumstances indicate academic misconduct may have occurred within a course, within 2 working days of suspecting academic misconduct has occurred, the Instructor shall notify the student via their official University of Winnipeg student email address about their concern of academic misconduct. The student will be given an opportunity to meet with the Instructor within 5 working days of that notification. Within the following 5 working days, the Instructor shall either grade the materials or commence the Academic Misconduct Procedures by informing the person responsible (Department Chair, Coordinator, Department Review Committee (DRC), or Academic Review Committee (ARC) Chair) for that faculty, department or division, in the form of a written report, which shall, at a minimum, include the following:

- a) the date on which the alleged misconduct occurred;
- b) a statement and detailed description of the alleged misconduct;
- c) any documentary or other evidence that supports the allegation of misconduct;
- d) a record of any communication with student(s) involved in the alleged misconduct.

Grading guidelines for Instructors:

The Instructor, or other person responsible for student academic matters, shall not assess a penalty for an alleged act of academic misconduct, for example, by giving a failing grade for a course solely on the basis of alleged academic misconduct occurring in the completion of a discrete element of the course (e.g., presentation, essay, test, or examination). If evidence of academic misconduct is discovered, the Instructor, after initiating the Procedures under this Policy, shall delay grading the item in question, pending the outcome of the Academic Misconduct Procedures, and inform the student of the reason for the delay.

Where academic misconduct is suspected during an exam, the Instructor shall -

- not suspend the exam process;
- not suspend the exam for the student or the student(s) concerned;
- allow the student(s) to continue to completion;
- collect all available allegedly offending materials at the time they are discovered or otherwise record the circumstances, including by electronic or photographic means;
- note concerns on the submitted exam, including refusal on the part of the student to cooperate; and
- at the time exam is received, communicate the concern to the student(s) and notify the student(s) they will be invited to meet with the Instructor within 5 working days.

If a course has ended in which academic misconduct has been alleged, and final grades must be submitted, the Instructor shall submit final grades for the course, without entering a grade for the student in question, and notify Student Records, with a copy to the faculty, department or divisional designate (for example, DRC/ARC Chair, Department Chair, or Director), that this grade is pending and will be submitted upon completion of the Academic Misconduct Procedures.

2. Allegations arising other than within a course:

If allegations of academic misconduct arise other than within a course (e.g., transcript forgery, false documentation), the head shall provide a written report of the allegations, directly to the Chair of the Senate Academic Standards and Misconduct Committee, including the same information required from an Instructor as outlined above. The Chair shall give written notice of the allegations to the student and refer the reported allegations to the Senate Academic Standards and Misconduct Committee in writing.

LEVEL II: The Faculty, Department or Division

Within 2 working days of receiving the Instructor's report under Level I, the person responsible (Department Chair, Coordinator, Department Review Committee (DRC) or the Chair of the Academic Review Committee (ARC)) for that faculty, department or division, in the form of a written report, shall notify the student in writing via their official University of Winnipeg student email address and by certified letter of the allegation of misconduct. Such notice shall include the Instructor's written report of the alleged misconduct and notification of the student's opportunity to be heard, in writing and in person, within 10 calendar days of receiving the notice. The Instructor and the Chair of the Senate Academic Misconduct Committee shall be provided with a copy of the notice sent to the student.

At the expiry of:

- a) 10 calendar days (if no representation in writing is received or the student has not appeared in person to be heard) or
- b) 5 working days after receiving the student's representation in writing or the student having appeared in person, the faculty, department or divisional designate as may be appropriate shall:

i) review all available and relevant information and documents (which may include meeting with the student),

ii) make a recommendation to the Senate Academic Standards and Misconduct Committee as to whether or not an act of academic misconduct has been committed, and recommend an appropriate penalty.

The student and the Instructor will not be informed of this recommendation at this point of the process.

Within 2 working days of making its recommendation, the faculty, department, or divisional designate shall forward the complete record of the process to the Chair of the Senate Academic Standards and Misconduct Committee, which record shall include the following documents:

- a report of the process to that point, reasons for the recommendation, and the recommended penalty, if applicable;
- the Instructor's file;
- a record of any communication with and by the student in question; and
- any further relevant materials, including course outline and any departmental policy regarding academic misconduct.

LEVEL III: The Senate Academic Misconduct Committee

The Chair of the Senate Academic Standards and Misconduct Committee upon receipt of the written report of the faculty, department or divisional designate, or upon receipt of allegations of misconduct arising other than within a course, shall notify the student in writing of:

- the recommendation of Level II and of their right to appeal the recommendation, or
- where allegations of misconduct arising other than within a course have been received, the student's right to respond to the allegations.

The student shall have 10 calendar days from receipt of such notice to appeal the recommendation or respond to the allegations by making a submission in writing and/or to request in writing to appear before the Committee. Any such submission by a student must be received within the 10 calendar day period.

Committee Process

Within 10 calendar days of receiving the notice of recommendation from the Level II committee, the student can:

- make a written submission to the Committee,
- request to appear before the Committee, or
- offer no response.

Once these ten days have passed, the Committee shall reject, confirm, or modify the recommendation of Level II.

Where the student has made a timely request in writing for an appearance before the Committee, an appearance and hearing shall be scheduled. The Committee shall have access to all relevant materials. The record at Level III shall include the following:

- all materials forwarded from Levels I and II;
- any new information relevant to the case and not presented at Level I or II;
- all Committee communications written or transcribed from the personal appearance before the Committee;;
- the notes of all Committee meetings.

Notification of Decision

The Committee shall, within 2 working days of making a decision, inform the student and the Instructor of its decision and reasons in writing, through the DRC/ARC.

Appeals

The student has the right to appeal the ruling of the Senate Academic Standards and Misconduct Committee to the Senate Academic Misconduct Appeals Committee. The Senate Academic Misconduct Appeals Committee will make a decision within 10 calendar days and that decision shall be final. In such cases, the Senate Academic Misconduct Appeals Committee shall grant or deny the appeal, based on the record at Level III.

LEVEL IV: The Senate Academic Misconduct Appeals Committee

A student may appeal a finding of academic misconduct and/or a disciplinary penalty to the Senate Academic Misconduct Appeals Committee. The student must file an appeal in writing with the Chair of the Academic Misconduct Appeals Committee within 10 calendar days of receipt of notice of the Level III decision. The appeal must state specifically:

- the decision being appealed;
- the reasons for the appeal;
- the general nature of any new evidence, if any;
- the remedy being sought.

The Senate Academic Misconduct Appeals Committee, upon timely receipt of a written appeal by a student found to have committed academic misconduct, shall, within 2 working days, notify the Instructor and the appropriate person or committee or the faculty, department or division (for example, the DRC/ARC) of the appeal.

Notification of Decision

Upon receipt of the written appeal, the Chair of the Senate Academic Misconduct Appeals Committee will notify the student in writing of their right to present further relevant information in writing to the Senate Academic Misconduct Appeals Committee, of their right to appear in person before the Committee, and of their right to be accompanied by another person during such an appearance before the Committee.

The student has 10 calendar days from receipt of such notice to present further relevant information and/or request a hearing.

Committee Process

After the 10 calendar days have elapsed, the Senate Academic Misconduct Appeals Committee shall meet. The Senate Academic Misconduct Appeals Committee shall determine its own procedures and may receive information from the student and other relevant persons in a manner they deem appropriate. The Senate Academic Misconduct Appeals Committee may request an interview with the student and/or with anyone who has information relevant to the matter.

In cases where the Committee receives a written request from a student for a hearing, the Committee shall schedule a hearing. At such a hearing, the student may be accompanied by another person.

In cases where the student does not request a hearing, the Committee may decide the matter based on the written material and other available evidence and information.

The Senate Academic Misconduct Appeals Committee will have access to all relevant material:

- all material forwarded from levels I, II and III;
- a summary report of the case, decisions and reasons for them;

- all Senate Academic Misconduct Appeals Committee communications, written or transcribed from an oral interview;
- the minutes of all relevant Senate Academic Misconduct Appeals Committee meetings;
- any new information relevant to the case and not presented at Level I, II or III;
- the confidential Dean's Office file relevant to the case;
- a summary report of the case, decisions, and reasons for the recommendation.

After considering available and relevant information and evidence, the Senate Academic Misconduct Appeals Committee may:

- uphold a finding of academic misconduct;
- revise a finding of academic misconduct;
- confirm a penalty;
- assess a different penalty; or
- dismiss the finding of academic misconduct.

Notification of Decision

The Senate Academic Misconduct Appeals Committee shall, within 2 working days, provide written notice of its decision and its reasons to the student and the Instructor through the appropriate DRC/ARC, as well as the Senate Academic Standards and Misconduct Committee.

Academic Misconduct Files

Level I: There is no permanent file kept. All documents are submitted to Level II.

Level II: There is no permanent file kept. All documents are submitted to Level III.

Level III: After resolution by the Senate Academic Standards and Misconduct Committee, a confidential file of each case is kept for a period of no longer than two years in the office of the Dean who is Chair of the Committee.

This file contains the following information:

- all material forwarded from Levels I and II;
- a summary report of the case, processes used in level III, decisions and reasons for them;
- all Senate Academic Standards and Misconduct Committee communications concerning the case;
- any new information relevant to the case and not presented at Level I, II or III;
- a summary report of the case, decisions and reasons for the recommendation;
- meeting notes of the meetings of the Committee.

Level IV: : A confidential file is kept by the Office of the Dean of Arts, who is Chair of the Senate Academic Standards and Misconduct Committee. The file contains all documentation considered during the Senate Academic Misconduct appeals process, and shall be kept for no more than two years after resolution

A confidential archival file recording all cases occurring during an academic year is kept for no longer than seven years.

This file contains the following information:

- the index of names, dates and kinds of misconduct
- penalties, and dismissals of all misconduct cases;
- a summary of each misconduct case.

When academic misconduct has been found NOT to have occurred -

- the actual records of the case shall be destroyed;
- case summaries may be kept for the seven-year period.

Case Summaries

The summary of each case shall include a brief outline of the case, any disciplinary action taken, and the reasons for the action. In all cases, the summary shall be written in such a way as to ensure complete confidentiality and anonymity for the student.

Access to Archival Discipline Files

Only the Academic Standards and Misconduct Committee and the Vice-President Academic have the right to access the archival files and only on a need-to-know basis.

Student Records and Notations of Disciplinary Action

The Chair of the Academic Standards and Misconduct Committee will notify the Records Office of all disciplinary actions taken; this includes penalties assessed, subsequent appeals, and the appeals outcomes. If the penalty involves suspension or expulsion from the University, the Chair of Academic Standards and Misconduct Committee will inform the Records Office of the need for this to appear on the student's record, how long it should remain on the record, and the conditions for removing it from the record.

The Records Office may be asked by the Chair of Academic Standards and Misconduct Committee to withhold the issuance of transcripts or statement of grades for the student disciplined, pending the expiry of the appeal or exhaustion of the appeal process.

The student's official file in the Records Office should contain only the final decisions of penalty, should the student be found guilty of academic misconduct. Where the student has been found guilty, this record will be removed upon the student's graduation. In a case where the final decision is a finding that no academic misconduct occurred, thus overturning a previous penalty, all material pertaining to the case will be destroyed.

Notations on Student History/Record

If the penalty is a lowered or failing grade for a specific item of work or for a course in its entirety, there is no notation placed on the student history and transcript. The history and transcript will reflect the grade as though it were an earned grade.

If the penalty is suspension from the University, a notation is placed on both the Student History and the official transcript. The notation is removed two years after termination of suspension.

If the penalty is expulsion from the University, the notation remains permanently on both the Student History and the official transcript. This notation may be removed only upon successful petition to The Senate Academic Standards and Misconduct Appeals Committee.

Academic Misconduct and the University Community

Evaluation and Annual Report to the University Community

An annual report shall be presented to Senate by the Chair of the Academic Misconduct Committee. The report shall be presented in such a way as to maintain confidentiality and anonymity. It will chronicle the number of cases, the faculties, departments, divisions, and units and, where feasible, the courses in which they occurred, the types of misconduct, and the kinds of penalties assessed. This report will be based on information received from levels II, III, and IV. This report will also be published so that members of the University community shall be kept informed of the nature and disposition of cases dealt with under this Policy. In addition, should the evaluation reveal a pattern of academic misconduct that is identifiable with respect to the factors evaluated, the Senate Academic Standards and Misconduct Committee may recommend to Senate changes in policy, preventative actions and/or any matters, as appropriate.

Responsibility of Members of the Academic Community

All members of the University community have the responsibility to ensure that students are familiar with generally accepted standards and requirements of academic honesty.

However, ignorance of these standards will not preclude the imposition of penalties for academic misconduct.

Review:

These procedures shall be reviewed in conjunction with the Policy review at least once every five years.

b. Non-Academic Misconduct

POLICY

Purpose:

The purpose of this Policy is to:

- outline expectations regarding how Students conduct themselves in a manner that is consistent with the values and educational objectives of the University; and
- define the manner in which the University will respond to any allegations of Student Non-Academic Misconduct.

Legal Authority:

The Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act (FIPPA)

The Personal Health Information Act (PHIA)

The University of Winnipeg Act

Scope:

This Policy applies to the Non-Academic Misconduct of Students or Student groups while on University premises, or to any Non-Academic Misconduct that takes place off-campus, or through other forms of communication including, but not limited to, social media, digital communication, written communication, or telephone, if the incident has a substantial link to the University.

This Policy continues to apply to a Student who withdraws from the University or who takes a leave of absence, if the Student was registered, enrolled, or participating in a course or program at the time that the Non-Academic Misconduct is alleged to have occurred.

Any individual can submit an allegation of Non-Academic Misconduct regardless of whether they are a member of the UW Community if that allegation has a substantial link to the University and if the Respondent is a Student of the University.

If any incident(s) occurs on campus between visitors to the University campus who are not otherwise considered part of the UW Community, or involving a former member of the UW Community, the University may investigate the incident to identify any risks that can be addressed to mitigate future incidents, to review any security response, or to revoke access or bar entry to the visitor(s) or former UW Community member involved in the incident.

This Policy is designed to be used in coordination with other University policies. If the incident violates more than one policy the decision on which policy or procedures to follow will be that of the Registrar in consultation with the Human Rights and Diversity Officer and the Complainant.

An alleged breach by a Student of the Respectful Working and Learning Environment Policy or the Acceptable Use of Information Technology Policy is considered Non-Academic Misconduct and shall follow the Student Non-Academic Misconduct Procedures. Incidents that breach the Sexual Violence Prevention Policy shall follow the Sexual Violence Prevention Procedures if the Respondent is a Student.

Definitions:

Administrator: Anyone who has sufficient authority to take or ensure the taking of remedial action including Deans, Directors, Executive Directors, the Registrar, Provost, Deputy Provost, Vice-Presidents, Associate Vice-Presidents, and the President. In the case of a Student the Administrator shall in most cases be the Registrar.

Complainant: When a Report is made alleging a violation of this Policy the person filing the Complaint is referred to as the Complainant.

Complaint: A Complaint is the result of a Report by the Complainant

Disclosure: When a person tells a UW Community member that they have experienced or witnessed Non-Academic Misconduct. A Disclosure is not a Report (see definition of Report, below). A Disclosure may be made for the purpose of support, accommodation, or seeking out information.

Investigator: An individual designated by the University to investigate a Complaint.

Non-Academic Misconduct: Conduct that has, or might reasonably be seen to have, an adverse effect on the integrity or proper functioning of the University, or the health, safety, rights, or property of the University or UW Community members. Examples include but are not limited to:

- theft, damage, or destruction of property;
- unauthorized entry or presence on University property;
- fraud or impersonation;
- disruptive or dangerous behaviours to the UW Community;
- unlawful use of alcohol or drugs; or
- other activities that result in criminal charges, conviction, a court judgment, or a decision by the Ombudsman under the Human Rights Code.

Report: A Complaint made by a Complainant concerning an incident of Non-Academic Misconduct.

Respondent: When a Report is made under this Policy the person against whom the allegations are made is referred to as the Respondent.

Student(s): Refers to any individual

- engaged in academic work at the University leading to the recording or issue of a mark, grade, or statement of performance for that work by an appropriate authority in the University or another institution;
- registered, or auditing, as a participant in any course or program of study offered by or through an academic unit or division of the University; or
- entitled to a valid University student card who is between sessions but is entitled because of Student status to use University facilities.

University: Refers to the University of Winnipeg as defined by the University of Winnipeg Act

UW Community: Refers to Students, employees, anyone holding a University appointment, post-doctoral fellows, visiting scholars, contractors, volunteers, members of the Board of Regents and Senate, and anyone who resides on University property.

Principles:

The University is committed to a safe and healthy learning, living, and working environment for the entire UW Community. As such each Student is responsible for their personal conduct as it affects the UW Community. Students who are on University property or participating in University activities are expected to act in accordance with this Policy, act lawfully, and respect the rights, privileges, and safety of others.

Any individual who engages with this Policy can expect the University to:

- treat them with fairness, dignity, and respect;
- have this Policy and any relevant policy explained to them in plain language;
- provide a fair, transparent, and unbiased process; and
- keep their information confidential except in rare instances when disclosure is required by law or for the working of this Policy.

Prohibited Conduct

All acts of Non-Academic Misconduct are prohibited under this Policy.

Retaliation of any kind is prohibited. This includes retaliation against any member of the UW Community who Reports or is witness to an incident of Non-Academic Misconduct, or who is otherwise involved in the investigation and resolution of the incident.

Vexatious or malicious claims are Non-Academic Misconduct and may result in discipline under this Policy. This does not include Complaints that were made in good faith that were ultimately found to be without merit.

Students who knowingly aid or abet another person in the commission of any infraction of this Policy also commit Non-Academic Misconduct and will be subject to disciplinary action under this Policy.

Informal and Alternative Resolution

The University recognizes that many incidents can be resolved informally without submitting a Complaint requesting investigation. When possible, resolution of incidents through informal means of conciliation, education, or mediation are to be encouraged.

The University recognizes that not all people and cultures resolve disputes or incidents by the same means. When possible and desired by both parties, the informal resolution process shall create reasonable opportunities for culturally relevant means of resolution, and to use other supports to guide such a process.

Interim Measures

The University may impose interim measures, before an investigation is concluded, where immediate action is required to protect the UW Community or the Complainant or Respondent's health and safety, or to maintain the orderly functioning and discharge of the University's mandate. Interim measures do not by nature of their imposition presuppose the outcome of any investigation.

Privacy

In accordance with provincial legislation, the University's Privacy Policy sets strict requirements on the collection, use and sharing of personal information ("PI"). These are intended to preserve confidentiality and protect individuals from undue intrusion and similar harms. However, privacy is not absolute, and exceptions to privacy may apply in limited and specific circumstances.

In the context of University policies, such requirements include:

- collecting the least amount of PI reasonably necessary to accomplish Policy objectives;
- using and sharing the least amount of PI necessary to accomplish Policy objectives;
- providing PI to only those who "need to know" the information to accomplish Policy objectives;
- not using or sharing PI for other purposes without the consent of the affected individual(s), unless an exception to consent applies; and
- taking measures to protect PI from risks such as unauthorized access, use and sharing.

For additional information regarding privacy, visit www.uwinnipeg.ca/privacy.

PROCEDURES: The purpose of these Procedures is to outline the specific actions that will be undertaken by the University to implement the Non-Academic Misconduct Policy.

Disclosures

At times Disclosures of Non-Academic Misconduct may be made without a Complaint, to UW Community members for the purpose of finding support or accommodation. Any UW Community member who receives a Disclosure should refer the person who makes the Disclosure to the Policy and Procedures.

The UW Community member receiving the Disclosure is advised to treat the information in confidence. However, in serious cases, the UW Community member receiving the Disclosure may wish to make a formal Report to the University if the person providing the Disclosure is unwilling to do so. UW Community members are encouraged to first seek advice from the HRDO, Registrar, or Privacy Officer regarding the legal and policy implications of such action.

If the person receiving the Disclosure believes the safety of the individual disclosing is at risk, the UW Community member receiving the Disclosure should discuss with the individual possibilities for addressing their safety including contacting police or Campus Security.

In the event that a Disclosure is made to Campus Security then Campus Security is required to inform the Registrar.

In order to maintain statistical information (on an anonymous basis), and to assist the UW Community member who receives a Disclosure, any individual who receives a Disclosure shall contact the Registrar to provide a general overview of the Disclosure.

In addition, the UW Community member receiving the Disclosure is encouraged to advise the individual disclosing of any on-campus supports (i.e. counselling), as well as the possibilities for accommodation.

Making a Report

If an individual chooses to make a formal Report to the University that individual shall contact the Registrar by phone, email, or by setting up a meeting with the Registrar. When a Complaint is made, the individual making the Complaint is referred to as the Complainant.

If the Complainant does not feel comfortable speaking to the Registrar they may speak to the Human Rights and Diversity Officer who shall Report the incident to the Registrar on their behalf.

Reports shall include the name and contact information of the person making the Report. Reports shall also include as much information about the incident(s) as the Complainant can provide, including:

- a description of what happened;
- information about the identity and contact information of those involved or witness to the incident(s) if known; and
- the time(s), date(s), and location(s) of the incident(s).

If the Complainant declines to provide such information or participate in the procedures associated with the Policy, the University may choose not to proceed further with the Report unless it determines there to be exceptional circumstances in which case the University may choose to act as the Complainant.

Upon receipt of a Report the Registrar will:

- address any immediate safety needs of the Complainant; and
- set up a meeting with the Complainant to explain in plain language all relevant elements of the Policy and Procedures.

If there are immediate concerns for safety and security the Registrar may request that University Security Services revoke access or bar entry of any person onto University premises.

The Complainant or Respondent has the right to be accompanied by a support person (e.g. UWSA representative, family member, friend) in any meeting related to the workings of these Procedures.

Preliminary Assessment

Based on the information available from the Complainant's Report, the Registrar will determine whether the Report:

- has sufficient information to move forward;
- whether the Complaint is trivial in nature;
- whether the Complaint is timely or whether an extension of time for the Complaint is warranted;
- whether the matter is within the jurisdiction of the University; and
- whether the Complaint establishes a prima facie case of Non-Academic Misconduct under the policy.

If the Registrar determines it is not appropriate to proceed further with the Complaint based on 3.1, the Complainant will be notified and no further action will be taken. If the Registrar determines that the matter is more appropriate to proceed under another University policy or process, they will notify the Complainant and defer the matter to the appropriate Administrator.

If the Report satisfies the parameters above, the Registrar will:

- if necessary, implement interim measures;
- notify the Respondent as per section below on notification;
- if appropriate, approach the Complainant and Respondent, on the possibility of alternative resolution, or
- if alternative resolution is not appropriate or possible, initiate an investigation.

The Registrar may redact information in response to health or safety concerns, although this may impact proceedings under this Policy.

Where a Report was made but a Complainant is unable or unwilling to proceed, the University may proceed with an investigation and for purposes of any proceedings arising therefrom assume the status of Complainant.

Notification to the Respondent

If a Report is made the Registrar will notify the Respondent of the Complaint against them, along with detail of the Complaint, and shall explain in plain language to the Respondent all relevant elements of the Policy and Procedures. The Respondent shall also be provided with an opportunity to respond to any Complaint, and this response shall be considered in any decision making arising from the Complaint.

The Registrar may determine that the Complaint is resolvable by contacting the Respondent, informing them of the incident, that their conduct has caused offence or harm, is unwelcome and not to be repeated. If the Respondent has acknowledged the incident and agreed to alter their behaviour or conduct so as not to cause the offence or harm complained of, and where the Registrar is satisfied that by the agreement, the Complainant will be notified and matter will be treated as resolved. The Registrar shall maintain a record of such resolution and may monitor the Respondent's conduct to determine compliance. If the Respondent is not compliant, the Procedures will be reinitiated with the breached agreement being considered along with the initial Complaint. No record shall be maintained in the Complainant or Respondent's student record.

Interim Measures

The Registrar shall determine whether interim measures are required, based on their preliminary assessment of factors such as risk of safety, retaliation, and accommodation needs of either the Respondent or Complainant. Consequences for violating interim measures will be clearly communicated to the Respondent and Complainant at the time they are applied.

As part of the remedy or sanction process it may be determined that certain interim measures may continue or become permanent.

Alternative Resolution

In some circumstances, the Registrar may determine that alternative resolution is the best course of action to resolve the matter before an investigation is commenced or completed. The Complainant or Respondent may request alternative resolution rather than an investigation. If the Respondent or Complainant desires alternative resolution (i.e. facilitated mediation, a written apology, and restorative justice) they must first notify the Registrar who will follow up with the other party to determine their willingness to participate in an alternative resolution process. For it to be a meaningful process, participants must engage voluntarily and remain free from reprisal.

If the Complainant and Respondent are able to reach a resolution, a written record of the resolution will be prepared by the Registrar to be signed by both parties. A copy of the signed written resolution will be provided to the Complainant and Respondent, and may be provided to relevant University Administrators if it is required to implement the terms of resolution.

In limited, less serious cases (e.g. minor classroom disputes), a University Official may be able to facilitate an informal/alternative resolution processes themselves. If any formal remedy or sanction is required they shall notify the Registrar.

A failure to comply with the terms of an alternative resolution disposition may result in the commencement or resumption of an investigation and such other sanctions or remedies as are determined under the Policy to be appropriate.

Determining an Investigation

If the matter an alternative resolution process is not viable or successful, the Registrar may recommend to the Chief Human Resources Officer (herein referred to as the "CHRO") that an investigation take place.

The Registrar may choose not to recommend an investigation where:

- there is either insufficient information to proceed with an investigation;
- the Complainant requests no investigation be commenced and the University does not assume the position of Complainant;
- the Complaint has already been resolved by another process such as informal or alternative resolution;
- the Registrar determines that the Complaint should be in abeyance pending the resolution of another process in order to protect the integrity of that process or because it is a more appropriate process in the circumstances (including but not limited to a criminal investigation); or
- the Complaint is determined to be inconsistent with the intent of the policy.

If the Registrar determines that an investigation will not take place for the reasons listed in section 7.2 the reasons will be provided in writing to the Complainant and Respondent, and the process will be considered complete.

If the alternative resolution process is not viable, and if an investigation is necessary, the Registrar shall recommend to the CHRO that an investigation be commenced.

If the CHRO accepts the recommendation of the Registrar the CHRO will take the following steps:

- designate an Investigator to conduct the investigation;
- provide the Investigator with all relevant documents;
- notify the Complainant and the Respondent of the investigation and their obligations of privacy as set out in the Policy and Procedure.

The Complainant and Respondent may be accompanied by a support person through the workings of the Policy and Procedures. The support person may supplement the Student's presentation to:

- raise specifics of the case as previously discussed between that person and the Student;
- raise procedural matters if correct procedures have not been followed;
- assist in overcoming barriers the Student may be experiencing including language comprehension issues or discomfort presenting;
- deliver a closing statement.

Conducting the Investigation

After reviewing the Report, the written response, and any relevant documentation, the Investigator shall contact the Complainant and the Respondent to arrange separate interview times. At the time of initial contact the Investigator will explain to all parties the investigation process, their duty to make their findings on a balance of probabilities, and their role as Investigator.

The Investigator will conduct interviews with the Complainant and the Respondent separately and may need to meet with each party more than one time during the course of the investigation. The Complainant and Respondent shall have the opportunity to provide the Investigator with information, documents, names of witnesses, and other submissions or evidence that they believe are relevant to the Complaint. The Investigator may request and shall be provided with any evidence they deem relevant to the investigation. The Investigator shall interview relevant witnesses and review documentary or other evidence obtained.

The Investigator shall ensure that both the Complainant and Respondent have had a full opportunity to review and respond to all material aspects of the allegations, and the evidence upon which the Investigator will rely.

The Complainant or Respondent may still request alternative resolution of the Complaint before the final investigation report is sent to the Registrar. Such requests will be considered and decided upon by the Registrar.

Investigation Report

Upon conclusion of the investigation, the Investigator shall prepare an investigation report based on the guidelines provided by the Registrar. The investigation report shall contain:

- a summary of the Complaint and the response;
- relevant legal authority(ies) and issue(s);
- a summary of the documentary and other evidence provided and relied upon;
- a summary of interview evidence from the parties and witnesses; and
- an analysis setting out the findings of fact, and a finding as to whether the policy has been breached on a balance of probabilities.

Remedy/Sanction

A summary of the investigation report including the Investigator's decision as to whether there is a breach of this policy and a copy of the Complaint and the response shall be sent to the Registrar and the CHRO. Prior to making decision about sanctions, the Respondent shall be provided with an opportunity to meet with the Registrar (or appropriate Administrator) and the CHRO.

Upon reviewing and considering the investigation report and the Investigator's decision as to whether there is a breach of this Policy, and the Respondent's response to the decision (if any), the Registrar in consultation with the CHRO shall determine the appropriate resolution, remedy, or sanction.

The Registrar (or appropriate Administrator) shall ensure the resolution, remedy or sanction is implemented and a copy of the determination shall be kept with the Registrar.

The Registrar may impose any remedy or sanction they determine to be appropriate on a principle of progressive discipline up to, and including, expulsion from the University.

Students whose sanctions include some form of financial restitution will be given the opportunity to arrange payment to the University. Failure to pay within the designated time as prescribed in a Student's sanction(s) will result in the outstanding debt being added to the Student's University account. Failure to fulfill the obligations under any sanction will result in an additional $50 fine for every sanction not complied with by the designated deadline, and the obligations under the sanctions must still be completed. Failure to comply will itself be deemed Non-Academic Misconduct and the Registrar accordingly may increase the sanctions imposed on the Student at the Registrar's discretion.

When a suspension (permanent or time-limited) is imposed the Registrar shall inform the Dean of the respondent's faculty and the Vice-President, Academic.

Appeal Process

A Respondent may appeal the decision that there has been Non-Academic Misconduct.

To appeal the decision the Respondent shall contact the Registrar to request an appeal within 15 working days of the original decision. The Respondent shall set out the reasons for the appeal, in writing.

Where a decision is appealed, the Complainant (or Registrar) shall be notified and permitted to file a written submission in response to the written appeal of the Respondent within 7 working days of receiving a copy of the Respondent's written appeal.

The appeal will be determined by a four person appeal committee formed by the Registrar. The composition of the appeal committee shall include:

- the Provost and Vice-President Academic, or delegate;
- Deputy Provost and Associate Vice-President Academic;
- an excluded senior manager responsible for Student Services; and
- One full-time Student holding no position within either the University residence system or the UWSA. If the appeal is being heard from an undergraduate Student, the undergraduate Student member of the panel shall sit as part of the panel. If the appeal is being heard from a graduate Student, the graduate Student member of the panel shall sit as part of the panel.

Upon the request of the Respondent, the Registrar may suspend imposition of the discipline pending the conclusion of the appeal. Where such request is granted, interim measures may be implemented or maintained through the appeal process.

The appeal is a pure appeal on the record, not a re-hearing of the evidence. The appeal committee may permit new evidence to be filed or in exceptional circumstances, to be heard, where such evidence was not reasonably available during the investigation. Where new evidence is permitted on behalf of one party, the other party shall be permitted a reasonable opportunity to respond

The appeal committee shall make their determination based on the following:

- whether there was a substantial procedural or legal error in the application of the policy;
- whether there is new evidence that could not have reasonably been presented earlier, and would have materially affected the decision as to breach and/or sanction;
- whether the decision as to breach is consistent with the evidence; or
- whether the remedy or sanction is reasonable in the circumstances.

In deciding the appeal, the appeal committee shall review the investigation file, the investigation report (in particular, the Investigator's findings), the reasons for appeal provided by the appellant and any response by the other party(ies), and (if applicable) the remedies or sanctions imposed.

The appeal body shall make a determination on a basis of majority vote and will communicate their reasons for decision in writing to the Registrar (or appropriate Administrator), normally within 15 working days of having received all written statements in the appeal by the Respondent and/or the Complainant. The Registrar (or appropriate Administrator) remains responsible for the implementation of any remedy or sanction arising from the decision of the appeal committee. If consensus is not reached by the appeal body, the original decision is upheld.

A decision of the appeal body is final

Maintenance of Statistics and Records

All records related to the workings of this policy, regardless of format or medium (e.g., paper records, emails, voice messages, and all electronic records), which contain personal information are protected under FIPPA or PHIA.

Records created under this Policy and Procedures will be retained by the Registrar for five years after the Respondent's last date of registration. After five years, the records will be securely destroyed or deleted.

In implementing this policy, only the fewest number of copies reasonably necessary of any record containing personal information shall be maintained. Unnecessary copies should be destroyed.

Privacy

Complainants, Respondents, and witnesses are free to speak about their own experiences. However, individuals are not permitted to share information learned solely from the investigation or subsequent decision-making process which they did not know beforehand unless consented to by the other party, and any such sharing without consent shall itself be Non-Academic Misconduct.

Privacy may be impacted and therefore limited as a result of other proceedings such as grievances filed under collective bargaining agreements or legal actions that have been commenced.

Where a decision is made that the Policy has been breached, the Complainant will be informed of the decision and that appropriate discipline has been imposed on the Respondent. The Complainant will not be informed of the specifics of such discipline unless there is a safety risk to the Complainant and knowing is paramount for their on-going safety or, in limited cases, to support other sanctions such as no contact orders. The discipline imposed on Respondents is their personal information under FIPPA, and only the Respondent may decide to release it to the Complainant. A decision regarding discipline, including any applicable sanctions, will be provided to the Respondent in full.

Conflict of Interest

In the event that any decision maker or participant in the investigation process is in a conflict of interest in regard to the incident in question or regarding any party to the incident (including a witness), they must declare the conflict and recuse themselves from any decision making or a position of influence over the outcome of a particular matter, in accordance with the University's Conflict of Interest Policy.

For more information on this policy, contact the Registrar at 204-786-9337.

9. Senate Appeals

a. Information

Students who wish to initiate an appeal must meet with an Academic Advisor. They will discuss the situation with you, give you information on the appeal procedures and initiate the necessary paperwork appropriate to the appeal. Students have the right to appeal. Decisions are made by the appropriate body and are based on the information and supporting documentation provided in writing by the student.

All appeals will require students to provide a statement, supporting documentation if applicable, and feedback from the professor if applicable. The Academic Advisor will help prepare the case and present it to the Senate Appeals Subcommittee on the student's behalf.

This section outlines the procedures established to deal with the types of appeals indicated. For further information please see:

<http://uwinnipeg.ca/academic-advising/appeals.html>.

b. Admission

Applicants who wish to be admitted to the University without satisfying normal admission criteria may submit an Admission Appeal by contacting an Admissions Officer. This appeal will be heard by the Senate Appeals Committee.

c. Credit and Audit Status in Courses

Students who wish to change their status in a course from credit to audit or from audit to credit after the course change period has passed must submit a written appeal to the Senate Appeals Committee. This appeal must give the reasons for the requested change and include written approval from both the instructor of the course and the chair of the department.

There is a fee adjustment for the late change from audit to credit. There is no fee adjustment for the late change from credit to audit.

d. Exam Scheduling

Students who have three final exams which begin and end within a 24-hour period may have one of the exams deferred. The deadline for submission of such request to the Senate Appeals Committee will be no later than ten (10) working days prior to the beginning of the evaluation period.

e. Deferred Exams and Incomplete Term Work

A student may appeal for incomplete term work (or final test) or a deferred final exam when medical, compassionate or other circumstances beyond the student's control create situations in which it is impossible, or causes undue hardship, for the student to write the final test or exam as scheduled, or to complete an item of work by the end of the evaluation period of the course.

Procedures

Students must first consult the instructor of the course. Students who cannot write a final exam as scheduled are expected to contact their instructor immediately on (or before) the day of the exam. Departmental policy may permit the instructor to reschedule an exam or final test, or to accept late term work if the proposed completion date falls before the limit for that term. Students must then meet with an Academic Advisor to obtain an appeal form. The completed appeal form, with the student's statement and instructor comments, is returned to Academic and Career Services no later than the deadline for submission of grades in the course.

If departmental policy does not permit this resolution, or the instructor denies the request, or the work cannot be completed within the time limit for the term, or the deadline for submission of grades has passed, the student must appeal to the Senate Appeals Committee.

Deadlines to Appeal

For a deferred exam, students must contact their instructor immediately, and must normally contact an Academic Advisor no later than five working days after the scheduled examination date.

For incomplete term work, students must normally contact an Academic Advisor no later than the end of the evaluation period.

Deadlines for Completing Work or Exams

Examinations deferred by the Senate Appeals Committee will normally be scheduled during a special examination period.

Incomplete term work must be submitted within a time period determined by the department or the instructor, or by the Senate Appeals Committee in consultation with the instructor.

| Term | Exam or Final Test by | Term Work by |
|--|-----------------------|--------------|
| Courses ending in December (Fall Term) | February 15 | April 1 |
| Courses ending in April (Winter and Fall/Winter Terms) | June 15 | August 1 |
| Courses in Spring Term | September 15 | October 1 |

f. Retroactive Withdrawal

Students who stop attending courses without following formal withdrawal procedures by the announced deadline for withdrawal will receive failing grades for those courses. Students may appeal to the Senate Appeals Committee for a retroactive withdrawal, on the basis of medical, compassionate or other reasons beyond their control. Students must contact an Academic Advisor to discuss the appeal. Appeals for retroactive withdrawal will not be considered if a student has graduated.

Deadline to Appeal

Normally, the deadline to appeal is the end of the evaluation period for the term in which the course was taken. (Appeals may be considered for up to one calendar year after the end of the course at the discretion of the Senate Appeals Committee, if circumstances warrant.)

g. Readmission

A student whose status has changed to "Academic Suspension" or "Not Allowed to Continue" may appeal the ruling in writing to the Senate Appeals Committee through an Academic Advisor.

Waiver of One Year Academic Suspension

Students who are academically suspended for the first time are not permitted to register for one calendar year. If students feel they have grounds to return to the University before the suspension has been served, they must see an Academic Advisor to discuss the appeal.

Readmission after a Second Academic Suspension

Students who are academically suspended for a second or subsequent time are not permitted to register at the University for two full calendar years. Students must appeal for readmission if they wish to return after the two years, or if they feel they have grounds to be allowed to return before the two years. Such an appeal must normally include evidence of success in something of an academic nature completed since the suspension. Students must see an Academic Advisor to discuss the appeal.

Readmission after being “Not Allowed to Continue”

Students who receive more than 30 credit hours of failures have exceeded the maximum number of course attempts to get a degree, and are not allowed to continue their studies. They are expected to sit out for three years and have the option to forfeit credit when they wish to return. (See Admission and Readmission). In extraordinary circumstances, they may appeal for readmission prior to the completion of the 3-year period. Such an appeal must normally include evidence of success in something of an academic nature completed since the student was not allowed to continue. Students must see an Academic Advisor to discuss the appeal.

Readmission after being “Not Allowed to Continue” as a Mature Status Student

Students on Mature Status are not allowed to continue their studies at the University if they do not meet the Minimum Performance Standard upon completion of 24 credit hours. They must complete Regular Status admission requirements in order to be readmitted. (Note: The status on readmission will normally be Probation based on university academic performance to date.) In extraordinary circumstances, students may appeal to be readmitted without having completed Regular Status admission requirements. Such an appeal must normally include evidence of success in something of an academic nature completed since the student was “not allowed to continue”

h. Waiver of Graduation Requirements

Students may appeal for a waiver of specific requirements in a degree program if there are compelling extenuating circumstances. Students should consult the Convocation/Academic Program Officer regarding this type of appeal.

i. Further Appeal

A student who has reason to believe that all pertinent information was not available when the written appeal was first considered may connect with the Chair of the Senate Appeals Committee. Consideration of the new information provided will be reviewed by the Chair. This must be done within 10 days of the original denial notification.

10. Grade Appeals

a. Grades on an Individual Item of Work

An individual item of work includes any single piece of work in a class, including the final test or examination. Appeals of grades on individual items of work are heard by the Departmental Review Committee (DRC), which rules on appeals made to the Department. Normally the Department is the highest body of appeal against grades on individual items of work.

Grounds for an Appeal

To make an appeal, a student must have cause to believe that a grade assigned on an individual item of work was unjust.

Procedures

The student should first discuss the matter with the instructor. If, after discussion with the instructor, the student has reason to believe an injustice has been done, the student may then write an appeal to the Chair of the Departmental Review Committee. Students are encouraged to meet with an Academic Advisor before they write the appeal.

For individual items of term work graded during classes, students must discuss the matter with the instructor within seven working days after notification of the grade. The written appeal to the Chair of the DRC must be submitted within two working days after the discussion with the instructor.

For final items of term work graded after the end of classes, or for final term tests or examinations, students must have submitted their written appeal to the Chair of the DRC within six weeks after the last day of exams for the term in which the course is offered.

All appeals submitted to the Chair of the Departmental Review Committee should include:

- a copy of the work which is the subject of the appeal;
- grounds for the appeal;
- a summary of the conversation with the instructor.

Students should expect that the disputed grade will be reviewed in a context other than the one that generated the original grade. Either the Departmental Review Committee or the Department Chair notifies the student in writing of the result of the appeal. The instructor will be fully informed of the student's submission.

b. Final Grades

The final grade is the official final grade that appears on the student's statement of marks from the Registrar. Appeals of final grades are heard by the Departmental Review Committee, which rules on appeals made to the Department. Normally the Department is the highest body of appeal against final grades.

Grounds for Appeal

There are only three grounds for appeal against a final grade.

- The assessment of the final grade was made without considering all individual items of work completed and submitted.
- The final grade does not appear to correspond to the grades awarded to the individual items of course work, indicating an error in calculation in developing the final grade.
- The overall assessment of the final grade is demonstrably unjust.

A processing fee is charged. It is refunded if the appeal is successful. (See Fees on the University website.)

Procedures

Students have up to six weeks after the official notification of final grades from the Registrar to submit an appeal. Students are required to meet with an Academic Advisor before they write the appeal.

The appeal should include:

- a copy of all course work which is the subject of the appeal;
- grounds for the appeal;
- any other relevant documentation.
- The written appeal is submitted to Academic and Career Services and then forwarded to the Student Records Office where it is subsequently released to the Departmental Review Committee. The Student Records Office notifies the student in writing of the result of the appeal. The instructor is fully informed of the appeal.

Further Appeal

A student who has reason to believe and can demonstrate that the Department Review Committee did not give the appeal a fair hearing may appeal the Committee's decision on procedural grounds in writing to the Senate Appeals Committee through Academic and Career Services. The appeal to the Senate Appeals Committee should be submitted no later than 30 days after notification has been received from the Departmental Review Committee.

11. University Policies

The University has a number of policies in place that are of importance to all members of the University community. The following policies are of particular importance to students:

a. Respectful Working and Learning Environment Policy & Procedures

Freedom from discrimination and harassment are fundamental rights of all members of the University community. The University of Winnipeg prohibits any form of discrimination or harassment in conjunction with University-related activities, whether on or off campus.

For more information on this policy, please contact the Human Rights and Conflict Management Advisor at w.hedges@uwinnipeg.ca or (431) 668-5354, or the Human Rights and Diversity Officer at s.belding@uwinnipeg.ca, or (204) 988-7508 or visit the website: <https://www.uwinnipeg.ca/policies/docs/policies/respectful-working-and-learning-environment-policy.pdf>

b. Service Animals on Campus Policy & Procedures

In compliance with The Accessibility for Manitobans Act, this policy details the rights and responsibilities in regard to persons with disabilities who require the assistance of a service animal while working, studying and/or visiting the campus.

For more information on this policy, please contact the Human Rights and Diversity Officer at s.belding@uwinnipeg.ca, or (204) 988-7508 or visit the University's website:

<https://www.uwinnipeg.ca/policies/docs/policies/service-animals-policy.pdf>

<https://www.uwinnipeg.ca/policies/docs/procedures/service-animals-on-campus-procedures.pdf>

c. Sexual Violence Prevention Policy & Procedures

The University of Winnipeg prohibits all forms of sexual violence, whether physical or psychological in nature.

The University offers supports, accommodations, and a reporting process for students who have experienced sexual violence.

For supports and accommodations, please contact Tianna Greaves, the Sexual Violence and Human Rights Advisor and member of the UW Sexual Violence Response Team, by phone or text at (204) 230-6660 or email at svrt@uwinnipeg.ca or ti.greaves@uwinnipeg.ca. For more information about the policy or to file a report with the University, contact the Human Rights and Diversity Officer at s.belding@uwinnipeg.ca, or (204) 988-7508 or visit the website: www.uwinnipeg.ca/askfirst.

Another resource is REES (Respect, Educate, Empower Survivors), an online reporting platform for sexual violence on campus. It allows members of the campus community to create a record of the incident and provides multiple reporting options that include anonymous report, connect to my campus, and report to police. REES also provides information about campus and community-based resources. Learn more at www.reescommunity.ca.

d. Responsible Conduct of Research and Scholarship Policy

The purpose of this policy is to promote and advance a high standard of integrity in research and scholarship. This policy has been established to address public concerns about responsibility and accountability in research and scholarship. It outlines procedures for promoting integrity among researchers and scholars and for investigating allegations of misconduct in research and scholarship. The policy applies to all members of the University community.

Copies of the policy are available through the Office of Institutional Analysis, and can also be found on the University's website at:

<https://www.uwinnipeg.ca/policies/docs/policies/responsible-conduct-of-research-and-scholarship-policy.pdf>

e. Policies on Research and Experimental Ethics

These documents contain University policies regarding the ethical conduct of research, experimentation and teaching exercises. Research or teaching exercises involving human participants or vertebrate animals cannot be undertaken by faculty, staff or students without the approval of the appropriate University committee or committees.

These policies are available through the Office of the Vice-President, Research and Innovation, and can also be found on the University's website at: <https://www.uwinnipeg.ca/research/ethics/index.html>

f. Library Policies

The following Library policies should be noted:

Copyright and Fair Dealing Policy:

The University of Winnipeg and its Library follow the Copyright Act, and the University's Copyright Policy and Fair Dealing guidelines. The Library's Copyright Office provides copyright information via its website, answers questions related to copyright and obtains copyright clearances or permissions when required. Please see <https://copyright.uwinnipeg.ca/basics/copyright-policy.html>

Borrowing Policy:

The purpose of this policy is to establish service and user responsibility guidelines for the lending of library materials and applies to all faculty, students, staff, alumni and Special Borrowers. Please see: <https://library.uwinnipeg.ca/use-the-library/borrow-renew-request.html>

g. Acceptable Use of Information Technology Policy

The purpose of this policy is to clearly establish rules and regulations outlining the usage of computers, computing and network resources and the facilities in which they reside at The University of Winnipeg. This policy pertains to all employees, students and authorized external parties (the "University community") who have been granted access to use the University of Winnipeg computer and networking facilities and resources.

The policy may be found at:

<https://www.uwinnipeg.ca/policies/docs/policies/acceptable-use-of-information-technology-policy.pdf>

h. Student Financial Appeal Policy

The University of Winnipeg's Student Financial Appeal Policy describes the specific circumstances and situations in which a student may be eligible for a tuition and fee refund upon appeal. It also outlines the financial appeal process which a student must follow and provides grounds for granting such an appeal. Grounds for financial appeal may include significant medical issues for the student; compassionate issues including death of an immediate family member; and other significant circumstances beyond the student's control which prevent them from being able to complete their courses.

For details, please see:

<https://www.uwinnipeg.ca/policies/docs/policies/student-financial-appeal-policy.pdf>

For more information, contact Academic and Career Services at 204.786.9257 or advising@uwinnipeg.ca

12. Graduation

Convocations are held three times yearly, in the Spring, Winter and Fall. The Spring and Fall Convocations have ceremonies and the Winter Convocation degrees will be conferred In Absentia (no ceremony). Students must apply for graduation by February 1 for Spring Convocation, by August 1 for Fall Convocation and by November 1 for Winter Convocation. Those graduating at the Winter Convocation may attend the Spring Convocation ceremony.

a. Application to Graduate

Students who complete the requirements for one of the University's degrees through the April series of examinations, and have applied for graduation by the preceding February 1, shall be admitted to the appropriate degree at that year's Spring Convocation. Students who complete the requirements for one of the University's degrees through the Spring Term series of examinations, and have applied for graduation by the preceding August 1, shall be admitted to the appropriate degree at that year's Fall Convocation. Students who complete the requirements for one of the University's degrees through the December series of examinations, and have applied for graduation by the preceding November 1, shall be admitted to the appropriate degree at the following year's Winter Convocation.

Applications for graduation are made online through students' WebAdvisor accounts.

Further details regarding the convocation ceremony will be forwarded by the Student Records Office to graduands who have been approved by the Senate of the University. Information about graduation may be obtained from the website, Student Central or the Convocation/Academic Program Officer.

b. Academic Dress

The correct dress for graduates of the University is described below.

Bachelors and Masters

- a mortarboard of black material with a black tassel
- a gown of black material and the appropriate shape specified by the North American Intercollegiate Code
- a hood of the colour and shape specified by the North American Intercollegiate Code

Honorary Doctors

- a round brimmed cap of red velvet
- a gown of red material and of the appropriate shape specified by the North American Intercollegiate Code
- a hood of the full Cambridge shape in white material, lined in the University colours showing a white chevron on a red field

Note: A fee is charged for academic dress rental. (See Fee Information on the website). The fee amount and other details will be included in the information sent to the graduand approximately six weeks prior to the Convocation.

1. Information and Advice

All University of Winnipeg degrees have general, major and course requirements which reflect the University's commitment to a liberal arts and science education. Students are required to develop depth of knowledge in one or more subject areas by fulfilling Major or Honours requirements; to develop breadth of knowledge by fulfilling Humanities, Science, Social Science Distribution, and Indigenous Course requirements; and to develop their writing skills by fulfilling a Writing Requirement.

While it is a student's responsibility to ensure that degree requirements are met, advising to interpret regulations, to plan programs, and to monitor progress is available from Academic Advisors. Advising for major subject requirements is provided by the department (program) offering the chosen major. Students are encouraged to develop a plan and monitor their own progress in the on-line Student Planning module.

2. General Degree Requirements

The University general degree requirements provide students with the opportunity to gain the breadth of knowledge and skills consistent with a liberal education.

a. The Writing Requirement

All students must fulfil the University Writing Requirement by course work or exemption prior to enrolling in their 42nd credit hour by taking an Academic Writing course at the 1000 level, either three credit hours from RHET-1101(3), RHET-1102(3), RHET-1103(3), RHET-1104(3), RHET-1105(3), and RHET-1106(3), or six credit hours from RHET-1110(6) and RHET-1115(6). Students eligible to take a 3 credit hour course may register in a 6 credit hour course instead. For course descriptions of Academic Writing courses, please see the "Department of Rhetoric, Writing, and Communications" section of this Calendar.

Placement Criteria:

All students entering directly from high school, except for those exempt from the University Writing Requirement, are required to take Academic Writing before they complete their 42nd credit hour and preferably in their first year

Students who are exempt from the University Writing requirement:

- students receiving 80% or more average in English 40S (2 credits)
- students receiving 5 or more in IB English
- students receiving 4 or more in AP English Lit/Comp or Lang/Comp
- students who have successfully completed 24 or more hours of transfer credit
- students receiving 7.0 or more band score on IELTS writing
- students in the After-Degree BEd Program
- students in master's-level programs
- students whose first registration at The University of Winnipeg was prior to September 1989.

Students who are required to take 3 credit hours of 1000-level Academic Writing:

- students receiving 60% or more but less than 80% average in English 40S (2 credits)
- students receiving 60% or more in English 40S (1 credit)
- students receiving 6.5 band score on IELTS writing.

Students eligible to take a 3 credit hour course may register in a 6 credit hour course instead.

Unless prescribed in a specific program, the following students are not required to meet their Academic Writing requirement with RHET-1110(6) or RHET-1115(6), but are encouraged to do so rather than with the 3 credit hour options:

- students receiving less than 60% in English 40S (2 credits) or English 40 (1 credit)
- students receiving 5.5 band score on IELTS writing

Note: Students who do not fit any of the above categories or who are uncertain of their placement should contact the Department of Rhetoric, Writing, and Communications for placement advice.

Validation of Placement: On the basis of writing done early in the course, faculty members may advise students registered in the 3 credit-hour course that a full year's work would increase their chances of improving their writing and satisfying the writing requirement, and may recommend a move to the 6 credit hour version of Academic Writing or to Academic Writing for ESL students; other students may be advised that they should move from a 6 credit hour to a 3 credit hour course. The faculty member and student may also decide, following discussion of the student's writing, that he or she could benefit from peer tutoring, available free in the Tutoring Centre and the Computer Writing Lab.

Students who are exempted from the University Writing Requirement are encouraged to take courses in the Department's upper-level group. Exempted students who are interested in working as writing tutors should inquire at the Department of Rhetoric, Writing, and Communications about the required preparatory course work.

b. The Humanities Requirement

Students must complete a minimum of 12 credit hours in Humanities courses. Where relevant, a course may fulfil both the Major and Humanities requirement at the same time. Cross-listed courses will fulfil the Humanities requirement if one of the courses is designated as Humanities.

NOTE: Courses that meet the ICR and another requirement, such as Humanities, Social Science, or Science, may be used toward both requirements. A course cannot be used toward more than two of those General Degree Requirements. For more information about the criteria for Indigenous content course approval, please go to <http://uwinnipeg.ca/indigenous-course-requirement>
- Courses designated with a * are experimental courses and may not be offered for credit towards the Indigenous requirement in future years.

f. The Subject Distribution Requirement

Students must complete a minimum of three credit hours in at least five different subject areas. This subject distribution ensures that students have breadth as well as depth in their degree.

g. The Degree Residence Requirement

Students are required to complete a minimum number of credit hours in University of Winnipeg courses to be granted a degree from the University. The number of degree and major residence credit hours required are listed in the descriptions for each degree.

Residence requirements for second degree programs are found in this section under 11.

h. The Maximum Number of Introductory Courses Allowed

Students may use a maximum of 42 credit hours at the 1000 level towards a degree at The University of Winnipeg. Of these, a maximum of 6 credit hours may be below the 1000 level.

i. The Academic Performance Requirement

Students must maintain a minimum academic performance level both to continue a program of studies and to qualify for a degree. Please refer to the section on Academic Regulations and Policies.

3. The Major

Every degree must include a subject concentration in which a minimum number of courses is taken, identified by the student and the University as the Major. The Major provides the opportunity for a student to develop depth of knowledge in a chosen field of disciplinary and/or interdisciplinary studies.

For specific information, students should read the relevant department/program section describing the requirements of the major they are seeking.

a. Major Regulations

Each department/program has its own requirement for the number of credit hours which must be taken in the declared Major subject.

There is a minimum performance requirement in Major courses presented for graduation. Students seeking 3- and 4-Year BA/BSc/BBA/BPHE/BKin degrees must have a 2.0 GPA in the Major subject courses presented for graduation. Students seeking Honours degrees must have a 3.0 GPA in all Honours subject courses.

There is a minimum entry requirement for students registering for the BA Honours, the Student-Designed Major and the Thematic Major.

Students may declare a major at the point of application to the University; they are asked to declare a major before registering for their 36th credit hour of course work and are required to declare their major before registering for their 60th credit hour of course work.

Students are normally required to consult with, and receive written permission from, departments/programs before declaring a Major.

- 3-Year: Students must consult with all departments with the exception of Chemistry, Criminal Justice, and Psychology where consultation is recommended but not required.
- 4-Year: Students must obtain program approval before each registration.
- Honours: Students must obtain program approval before each registration.
- Student - Designed: Students must consult with the Coordinator of the Flexible Major Program.
- Education: Students declare their Major to the BEd Advisor.
- Double: Students must receive program approval from both subject areas.
- Combined: Students must receive program approval from both subject areas.

b. Types of Majors

A variety of majors and combinations of majors allow students to choose programs of study most suitable for achieving specific academic and/or career goals. The official transcript will indicate the major or majors once the degree has been conferred.

- Single Major: A student chooses one disciplinary and/or interdisciplinary area as the Major subject concentration.
 - Double Major: A student chooses two disciplinary and/or interdisciplinary Major subject concentrations and meets the requirements in each Major subject as outlined by the department/ program. Both majors must be at the same degree level (both 3-Year or both 4-Year) and same faculty. Having a double major does not constitute having two degrees.
 - Single Honours: A student chooses one Honours subject concentration and meets the requirements for the Honours subject as outlined by the department/program.
 - Double Honours: A student chooses two Honours subject concentrations and meets the requirements in each Honours subject as outlined by the department/program.
 - Combined Major: A student chooses to combine courses from two Major concentrations for a single Major by completing a minimum number of credit hours in each subject area. The combined major is available in the 3-Year and 4-Year degrees. It is not available in the Honours degree.
 - Student-Designed Major: A student, with the assistance of a faculty sponsor, designs an integrated, interdisciplinary major tailored to her/his interests and goals. The courses chosen for the Major relate to a theme or focus, and must reflect both breadth and depth. The Student-Designed Major is available in the 4-Year and Honours BA and BSc and follows University requirements for those degrees. It is NOT available in the 3-Year degree.
- Students interested in pursuing this major should contact the Coordinator of the Flexible Major Program.
- Thematic Major: From time to time, interdisciplinary majors designed around a common theme of current interest will become available. The Indigenous Languages thematic major is outlined in the Areas of Study section.

4. The Minor

A student within any 3-Year, 4-Year, or Honours degree program may choose to complete a Minor, consisting of 18 credit hours of designated courses within a Department or Program other than their Major, provided that other Department or Program offers a Minor. The list of Departments and Programs that have an approved Minor appears below. Students do not declare this Minor during their program, but should submit to the Student Records Office written confirmation of completion from the Minor Department or Program as an exit requirement at the time of application for graduation. A minimum 2.00 GPA on the 18 credit hours is required, unless a higher minimum GPA is required by the Department or Program. For Bachelor of Education Teachable Minors, please see the "Education" section of this Academic Calendar.

1. User's Guide

a. Introduction

Every undergraduate department/program is listed in the "Areas of Study" section of the Calendar website.

Each department/program provides the following information in a PDF:

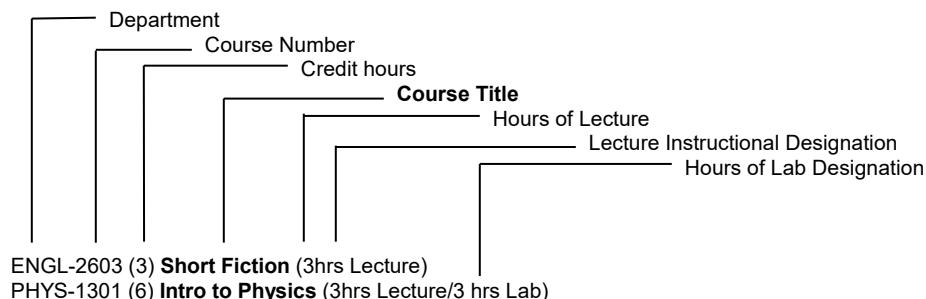

- Area of Study title and code
- List of faculty members
- List of degrees/programs offered
- Information about the discipline and career opportunities
- Requirements for each degree/diploma
- General Information about courses
- A listing of all courses offered in the department/program

A catalogue of all course descriptions for all undergraduate programs, organized by department, in alphabetical order, is presented in one large PDF called "All Course Descriptions" on the website:

<http://uwinnipeg.ca/academics/calendar/index.html>

Not all courses listed in the Calendar are offered every year. Students should consult WebAdvisor/Student Planning or the Timetable for courses offered during the upcoming term(s).

b. Key to Course Descriptions

Instructional Designations:

Lecture/Discussion
Lab
Seminar/Discussion
Directed Reading Tutorial

Project/Thesis
Variable meeting hours
Apprenticeship/Internship/Practicum Field Study

c. Course Levels

Courses at The University of Winnipeg are numbered according to the following conventions:

0000(x) These courses are elementary courses and are offered on a limited basis. Six (6) credit hours of a 0000 level course may be used towards a degree but may not be used towards fulfilling University of Winnipeg distribution, Humanities, Science or Social Science requirements.

1000(x) These are introductory courses, normally presented in a lecture format. The courses may require a high school prerequisite. A maximum of 42 credit hours of 1000 level course may be used towards a degree. The 42 credit hours may include a maximum of 6 credit hours at 0000 level.

2000(x) These are courses at the second year level and are normally presented in a lecture/discussion format. Second year courses may have first-year prerequisites.

3000(x) These courses are upper-level courses, often dealing with specialized topics. They are normally presented in a lecture/seminar format but may also be tutorials or projects. Many courses at this level have 1000-and/or 2000-level course prerequisites.

4000(x) These courses are normally required for Honours and 4-Year degrees and are highly specialized. They are normally presented as seminars, tutorials, thesis or projects but may also be offered in a lecture format. Entry into 4000-level courses normally requires the permission of a department or program.

5000(x) These courses are designed variously for the pre-Master's, Post-Baccalaureate, or Post-Graduate level.

7000(x) These courses are graduate courses acceptable in the graduate program offering them.

d. Course Weight and Value

The credit value of a course can range from 1 credit hour to 12 credit hours or more. The credit hours assigned to each course are designated as (6), (3), (1.5), etc. The meeting hours of a class vary according to the credit assigned.

PROFESSIONAL AND APPLIED STUDIES

April 4, 2024

INTRODUCTION

The University of Winnipeg offers studies in a variety of professional and applied areas. These include specialized courses related to the specific professional/applied areas integrated with a strong liberal arts and science foundation.

PROFESSIONAL STUDIES

Bachelor of Education Program (integrated with BA, BPHE or BSc)
Degree/Diploma Program in Developmental Studies/Early Childhood Education (UW/RRCP/USB)
Degree/Diploma Program in Radiation Therapy (UW/CCMB)

APPLIED STUDIES IN A 4-YEAR BACHELOR OF ARTS DEGREE

Degree/Diploma Program in Communications (UW/RRCP)

APPLIED STUDIES IN A 4-YEAR BACHELOR OF SCIENCE DEGREE

.Applied Environmental Science (UW/RRCP)

PROFESSIONAL STUDIES

Professional Studies programs culminate in one of the University's degrees. In addition, students awarded the degrees are recommended to the appropriate professional body for certification.

THE BACHELOR OF EDUCATION PROGRAM

The University of Winnipeg's Faculty of Education currently offers two routes to prepare students for the teaching profession: an Integrated BEd/BA/BPHE or BSc program and a two-year After-Degree program. Students in each of these programs can choose to prepare for teaching in the elementary or senior levels of the educational system. Upon successful completion of their program, students are recommended for permanent certification as teachers in the province of Manitoba. In conjunction with RRC Polytech, The University of Winnipeg offers joint programs in Applied Commerce, Industrial Arts, and Vocational Education. The University also offers a 5-year integrated BEd/BA program for residents of the inner city (WEC) and a specialized BA/BEd program for Aboriginal people who are working as teacher aides (CATEP). Details of the program may be found in the Education section of the calendar.

JOINT 3-YEAR DEGREE/2-YEAR DIPLOMA DEVELOPMENTAL STUDIES/EARLY CHILDHOOD EDUCATION-The University of Winnipeg (UW) and RRC Polytech (RRCP) or Université de Saint-Boniface (USB)

The Developmental Studies, Early Childhood Education Program is a four-year long professional program designed to prepare students to be early childhood educators. Students in the program complete coursework at The University of Winnipeg and either RRC Polytech or Université de Saint-Boniface. Students may begin at either UWinnipeg or a designated college. Graduates receive both a 2-year Diploma in Early Childhood Education from the college institution and a 3-year BA in Developmental Studies from UWinnipeg. Additionally, they are eligible for Early Childhood Educator III classification from the Manitoba Department of Families, Manitoba Early Learning and Child Program. Details of the program may be found in the Developmental Studies, Stream C section of the calendar.

4-YEAR RADIATION THERAPY DEGREE (The University of Winnipeg and CancerCare Manitoba (CCMB))

The University of Winnipeg offers an integrated BSc degree/diploma program in Radiation Therapy in cooperation with CancerCare Manitoba (CCMB). This program provides students with the opportunity to develop theoretical knowledge and to practice and apply skills required as a Radiation Therapist. Radiation Therapists work as members of a health care team delivering integrated care, mainly to patients with cancer. They are responsible for developing treatment plans and for the operation of CT simulators, treatment machines and other related equipment. They develop and maintain patient treatment data, interpret treatment plans, administer prescribed treatment, and provide information and supportive care to patients and their families. Students normally complete their first year of courses at The University of Winnipeg and then apply to enter year two of the program. During years two through four, courses are delivered at the CancerCare Manitoba location with additional courses at The University of Winnipeg campus and online. The joint program leads to a Bachelor of Science degree (4-year) from The University of Winnipeg. This is a limited enrollment program with eight or fewer students being accepted into year two of the program each year. Details of the program may be found in the Radiation Therapy section of the calendar.

APPLIED STUDIES IN A 4-YEAR BACHELOR OF ARTS DEGREE

4-YEAR JOINT COMMUNICATIONS DEGREE/DIPLOMA (The University of Winnipeg and RRC Polytech)

The University of Winnipeg offers a combined degree/diploma program in Communications in cooperation with RRC Polytech. Generally, students begin at the University of Winnipeg. Many students have found it is helpful to complete all 72 credit hours at The University of Winnipeg, before they go to RRC Polytech. Most complete at least 60 credit hours before proceeding to RRC Polytech, where they take the two-year Creative Communications Program. The final 12 credit hours of University of Winnipeg courses must be taken during these two years at RRC Polytech if the student wishes to graduate within four years; otherwise, these credit hours may be completed before or after attending RRC Polytech. Students are granted block transfer of 48 credit hours for their Creative Communications Diploma; they receive a BA in Communications once they have received their diploma and completed the prescribed 72 credit hours of study at the University of Winnipeg. Details of the program may be found in the Rhetoric, Writing, and Communications section of the calendar.

APPLIED STUDIES IN A 4-YEAR BACHELOR OF SCIENCE DEGREE

The University of Winnipeg and RRC Polytech have entered into an agreement to provide a program in applied studies in Environmental Studies which meets the requirements of the 4-Year BSc degree. The joint degree program requires students to take courses at both institutions in a prescribed sequence. Students who successfully complete the entire program receive a joint degree parchment from The University of Winnipeg and RRC Polytech.

APPLIED ENVIRONMENTAL SCIENCE

Applied Environmental Science provides a unique opportunity in Manitoba for students to gain theoretical knowledge, applied skills, and a liberal studies background in environmental science. The 5-year program has been designed specifically to prepare students for careers in industry where practical skills, technical knowledge, critical thinking, and problem-solving skills are essential. Students take courses at both The University of Winnipeg and RRC Polytech, completing the requirements for both a 4-year BSc degree and a 2-year diploma in 5 years. Details of the program may be found in the Environmental Studies and Science section of the calendar.

DEGREES/PROGRAMS OFFERED

3-Year BA

4-Year BA

Honours BA

Minor

INTRODUCTION

The study of Anthropology reveals the integrated patterns of social and cultural life from a cross-cultural perspective and examines the cultural and biological background of human evolution. At the University of Winnipeg, you may pursue this broad area of study within the more specific fields of Cultural Anthropology, Linguistics, Archaeology, and Biological Anthropology. For students considering a Major in Anthropology, the Department offers 3-Year, 4-Year, and 4-Year Honours BA degrees.

Anthropology provides students with academic preparation for pursuing a wide range of careers, and is especially relevant to those that apply an objective and broad-based understanding of human values and social relations. Graduates find career opportunities in numerous professional areas, including teaching, archaeological and cultural research and resource management, consulting, law and law enforcement, public service, and the health professions.

REQUIREMENTS FOR A 3-YEAR BA IN ANTHROPOLOGY

ADMISSION REQUIREMENT Students must consult with a member of the Department in planning their course of study.

GRADUATION REQUIREMENT 90 credit hours

RESIDENCE REQUIREMENT

Degree: Minimum 30 credit hours

Major: Minimum 18 credit hours

GENERAL DEGREE REQUIREMENT

Humanities: 12 credit hours in Humanities

Science: 6 credit hours

Writing: Minimum 3 credit hours of Academic Writing.

Indigenous: 3 credit hours in designated Indigenous requirement courses

Maximum Introductory Courses: Students may use a maximum of 42 credit hours at the 1000 level. Of these, a maximum of 6 credit hours may be below the 1000 level. As a result, students must take a minimum of 48 credit hours at the 2000-level or above in order to not exceed the maximum number of introductory courses.

Distribution: Minimum three (3) credit hours from each of five (5) different subjects.

MAJOR REQUIREMENT

Single Major: Minimum 30 credit hours/Maximum 48 credit hours in the Major subject.

Double Major: 30 credit hours in Anthropology and specified number of credit hours as determined by the other department/program.

Combined Major: Minimum 48 credit hours from two different majors with not less than 18 credit hours from each major subject.

Required courses:

ANTH-1001(6) Introductory Anthropology OR ANTH-1003(3) Introductory Biological Anthropology and Archaeology plus one of ANTH-1002(3) Introductory Cultural Anthropology and Linguistics or ANTH-1005(3) Introductory Cultural Anthropology- Indigenous Focus. In addition, students are required to take a minimum of 6 credit hours in courses in each of three out of four subject areas, for a total of at least 18 credit hours. Subject areas include: Cultural Anthropology (Area II), Archaeology (Area III), Biological Anthropology (Area IV), and Linguistic Anthropology (Area V). Of these, a minimum of 9 credit hours must be from three of the following:

ANTH-2100(3) Method and Theory in Cultural Anthropology

ANTH-2200(3) Method and Theory in Archaeology

ANTH-2300(3) Method and Theory in Biological Anthropology

ANTH-2400(3) Method and Theory in Linguistic Anthropology

Students are advised that a 3-Year BA is not normally sufficient for admission to graduate studies.

SUGGESTED PATTERN OF STUDY TO MEET MINIMUM REQUIREMENTS

Year 1: ANTH-1001(6) Introductory Anthropology or ANTH-1002(3) Introductory Cultural Anthropology and Linguistics plus ANTH-1003(3) Introductory Biological Anthropology and Archaeology
Year 2: 12 credit hours in Anthropology; 3 credit hours may be at the 4000 level and 3 credit hours may be at the 3000 level

The following courses are available to students without the prerequisite of ANTH-1001(6) Introductory Anthropology, or its equivalent 3 credit hour courses; ANTH-1409(3) Introductory Michif I; ANTH-1420(3) Introductory Michif II; ANTH-2103(3) Ethnography of North American First Peoples; ANTH-2202(3) Archaeology of North America; ANTH-2210(6) Rise of New World Civilization; ANTH-2211(3) Rise of Old World Civilization; ANTH-2221(3) Archaeology of the Ancient Near East; ANTH-2214(3) and ANTH-2220(6) Archaeological Field School; ANTH-2304(3) Introduction to Forensic Anthropology; ANTH-2401(3) Phonetics and Phonology; ANTH-2402(3) Morphology; ANTH-2403(3) Syntax; ANTH-2404(3) Languages of the World; ANTH-2405(3) Semantics; ANTH-3120(3) Indigenous Peoples of Arctic Canada; ANTH-3126(6) Material Culture in the History of the Indigenous Peoples of Canada; ANTH-3127(3) History of the Indigenous Peoples of the Northern Plains.

Graduate Studies

Students considering advanced training are advised to consult with a member of the Anthropology Department.

4000-Level Courses: Minimum 3.0 GPA (B) in major courses (students lacking the requisite 3.0 GPA should consult the department concerned regarding eligibility to take 4000-level courses). Permission of Department is required for each 4000-level course.

COURSE LISTINGS

The Department of Anthropology has organized its courses into four areas of specialization. These divisions are provided as guidelines to the areas of study available for concentration:

|----------|-------------------------|
| Area I | General Category |
| Area II | Cultural Anthropology |
| Area III | Archaeology |
| Area IV | Biological Anthropology |
| Area V | Linguistic Anthropology |

Students should use WebAdvisor or consult the timetable on the website for the courses to be offered in an upcoming Term.

AREA I

GENERAL CATEGORY

Note: Students should note that taking ANTH-1002(3) or ANTH-1005(3) and ANTH-1003(3) are equivalent to taking ANTH-1001(6) and provide the same credit. If only ANTH-1002(3) or ANTH-1005(3) are taken, this provides a prerequisite for Cultural Anthropology and Linguistic Anthropology courses and similarly, if only ANTH-1003(3) is taken this provides the prerequisite for Biological Anthropology and Archaeology courses.

|--------------|---|
| ANTH-1001(6) | Introductory Anthropology |
| ANTH-1002(3) | Introductory Cultural Anthropology and Linguistics |
| ANTH-1003(3) | Introductory Biological Anthropology and Archaeology |
| ANTH-1005(3) | Introductory Cultural Anthropology and Linguistics – Indigenous Focus |
| ANTH-4001(3) | Directed Readings/ Research in Anthropology |
| ANTH-4001(6) | Directed Readings/ Research in Anthropology |
| ANTH-4010(3) | Anthropology Research Seminar |
| ANTH-4011(6) | Anthropology Honours Thesis |
| ANTH-4024(3) | Bicultural Diversity Conservation |

AREA II

CULTURAL ANTHROPOLOGY

Note: Either ANTH-1002(3) or ANTH-1005(3) or ANTH-1001(6) provide a prerequisite for Cultural Anthropology courses. ANTH-1003(3) alone, however, is not an acceptable prerequisite for Cultural Anthropology courses.

|-----------------------|---|
| ANTH-2100(3) | Method and Theory in Cultural Anthropology |
| ANTH-2103(3) | Ethnography of Indigenous Peoples in Canada and the U.S. |

| ANTH-4200(3) | Archaeological Problems |
| ANTH-4212(3) | Advanced Zooarchaeology |
| ANTH-4230(6) | International Field School |

Note: The attention of students is directed to the following disciplines that are directly complementary to the programs in Archaeology: Classics, Physical Geography and History.

AREA IV
BIOLOGICAL ANTHROPOLOGY

Note: Either ANTH-1003(3) or ANTH-1001(6) fulfils the prerequisite for most Biological Anthropology and Archaeology courses. ANTH-1002(3) or ANTH-1005(3) however, do not.

|-----------------------|---|
| ANTH-2300(3) | Methods and Theory in Biological Anthropology |
| ANTH-2304(3) | Introduction to Forensic Anthropology |

INTRODUCTION

The Applied Computer Science major is designed to prepare students in the following core areas: Programming Fundamentals (object-oriented, event driven, algorithms), Information Management (database systems, data modeling, data warehousing, relational databases, query languages), Software Engineering (software requirements and design, software process, software project management), Operating Systems, Net-Centric Computing (internet programming, networks, security), Human Computer Interaction (GUI Design and Programming), Intelligent Systems (Machine Learning).

Our team-oriented courses are meant to strengthen communication skills, experience group dynamics, and foster self-confidence. The 4-year major includes the development of a team-based software project for a local IT organization. Our program will help develop analytical thinking and applied skills by blending theoretical and practical aspects of computer science.

The Applied Computer Science program can lead to a Bachelor of Science (3-year, 4-year, or Honours) or a Bachelor of Arts (3-year or 4-year). This major is focused in theories, professionalism, and fundamental computing knowledge. We recommend the four-year degree programs due to the greater depth of study. Additionally, there are three streams: Information Systems, Health Informatics, and Scientific Computing. The Applied Computer Science major is designed to provide an excellent basis for graduate studies in either computer science or applied computing.

The Information Systems stream leads to a Bachelor of Science (3-year) or a Bachelor of Arts (3-year). The Information Systems (IS) stream is aimed at students interested in focusing on information and business needs of IT industry. The stream is intended to prepare students in information oriented courses, and also in system and internet based technologies.

The Health Informatics stream leads to a Bachelor of Science (3-year) or a Bachelor of Arts (3-year). The Health Informatics (HI) stream provides students with more focused courses in Health information needs, infrastructure, standards, and jurisdiction. The HI stream complements offerings of the ACS department, and gives students flexibility of combining all three areas of IT, Business, and Health.

The Scientific Computing stream leads to a Bachelor of Science (4-year). The Scientific Computing stream (SC) stream provides a scientific foundation for applied science industries. The goal of this stream is to provide a mechanism for students to pursue the sciences as part of their studies in Applied Computer Science. The stream also positions students for success in computer science graduate studies.

Students pursuing a 3-year or 4-year BSc in Applied Computer Science, including the IS, HI, and SC Streams, have the opportunity to take a Business Stream (see the "Science with a Business Stream" section of this Course Calendar).

The Applied Computer Science program is designed to provide an excellent basis for graduate studies in computer science, information sciences, or interdisciplinary areas such as Biostatistics.

The Department offers a Masters Degree in Applied Computer Science and Society.

REQUIREMENTS FOR A 3-YEAR BA/BSc IN APPLIED COMPUTER SCIENCE

ADMISSION REQUIREMENT Pre-Calculus Mathematics 40S or Applied Mathematics 40S.

GRADUATION REQUIREMENT 90 credit hours

RESIDENCE REQUIREMENT

Degree: Minimum 30 credit hours
Major: Minimum 18 credit hours

GENERAL DEGREE REQUIREMENT

Humanities: 12 credit hours in Humanities
Science: 6 credit hours in Science for BA
18 credit hours in Science for BSc
Writing: Minimum 3 credit hours of Academic Writing.
Indigenous: 3 credit hours in designated Indigenous requirement courses.
Maximum Introductory Courses: Students may use a maximum of 42 credit hours at the 1000 level. Of these, a maximum of 6 credit hours may be below the 1000 level. As a result, students must take a minimum of 48 credit hours at the 2000-level or above in order to not exceed the maximum number of introductory courses.
Distribution: Minimum three (3) credit hours from each of five (5) different subjects.

MAJOR REQUIREMENT

Single Major: Minimum 39 credit hours/Maximum 48 credit hours in the Major subject.
Major courses are those in Required Courses and Electives.
Double Major: 36 credit hours in ACS, plus number of credit hours specified by other Major subject or program

Required courses:

MATH-xxxx(3) 3 credit hours from Mathematics

Except:

- MATH-2902 Math Prior to 1640
- MATH-2901 History of Calculus
- MATH-2903 Math for Early/Middle Years Teachers I
- MATH-2904 Math for Early/Middle Years Teachers II

STAT-xxxx(3) 3 credit hours from Statistics

6 credit hours: a) or b) below:

a)

ACS-1903(3) Programming Fundamentals I and ACS-1904(3) Programming Fundamentals II

b)

ACS-1905(3) Programming Fundamentals and one of the courses at 2000 level or above from the electives listed below.

ACS-2906(3) Computer Architecture and System Software

ACS-2909(3) Internet Programming

ACS-2913(3) Software Requirements Analysis and Design

ACS-2814(3) Applications of Database Systems

ACS-3909(3) Advanced Internet Programming

One of the following two courses:

ACS-3911(3) Computer Networks

ACS-3931(3) Principles of Operating Systems

ACS-2947(3) Data Structures and Algorithms

ACS-3902(3) Database Systems

ACS-3913(3) Software Design and Architecture

Electives: Students wishing to take further courses towards the General degree with the Applied Computer Science Major should take up to 12 credit hours from the following:

ACS-1803(3) Introduction to Information Systems

ACS-1805(3) Introduction to Programming

ACS-2102(3) Scientific Computing

ACS-2103(3) Numeric and Symbolic Computing

ACS-2112(3) Scientific Computing with Python

ACS-2803(3) Physical Computing

ACS-2816(3) Health Information Systems

ACS-2916(3) Business Application Systems

ACS-2941(3) Unix

ACS-3901(3) Principles of Software Project Management

ACS-3907(3) eCommerce

ACS-3916(3) Human Computer Interaction

ACS-3921(3) /

4921(3)

Computer Security and Privacy

ACS-3922(3) Introduction to Game Development

ACS-3923(3) Technical Communication in ICT Professions

ACS-3930(3) Topics in Applied Computer Science

ACS-3941(3) Implementation Issues in Object Oriented Languages

ACS-3947(3) Algorithm Design

ACS-4306(3) Applied Parallel Programming

ACS-4902(3) Advanced Database Systems

ACS-4904(3) Data Warehousing

ACS-4906(3) Conceptual Modelling

ACS-4953(3) Introduction to Machine Learning

ACS-4954(3) Introduction to Distributed Systems

BUS-2002(3) Introduction to Financial Accounting

Combined Major: Minimum 48 credit hours from two (2) different majors with not less than 18 credit hours from each major subject.

Required courses:

ACS-1903(3) Programming Fundamentals I

ACS-1904(3) Programming Fundamentals II

ACS-2814(3) Application of Database Systems

|--------------------|---|
| ACS-2909(3) | Internet Programming |
| ACS-2913(3) | Software Requirements Analysis and Design |

Additional Information:

Students are strongly advised to take more than 36 credit hours in Applied Computer Science.

Students who wish to strengthen their business background are advised to take courses in the Department of Business and Administration.

RRC Polytech

The Department of Applied Computer Science welcomes the transfer of RRC Polytech students into the 3-Year Applied Computer Science program. The University of Winnipeg will grant a total of 30 credit hours in transfer credits to RRC Polytech students who have successfully completed the Computer Analyst/Programmer (CAP) or the Information Systems Technology (IST) 2-year Diploma programs with an average of C+ (2.5 GPA) or better. These credits can be applied to either a Science or an Arts degree. Further details regarding the transfer of credits and course requirements are available from the Department of Applied Computer Science or from Student Services at the University of Winnipeg. Those who wish to pursue a 4-year major need to consult the Chair of the department.

Group III Other Courses:

A total of 18 credit hours (that fulfill the University's Science Requirement as listed in the Degree and Majors Requirements section of the Calendar) must be chosen from at most three departments from the Faculty of Science, not including the Applied Computer Science Department. Of these, 6 credits must be at least at the 2000 level or above. You are strongly advised to consult the Chair or the 4-Year Advisor prior to taking any Group III courses. Note, these courses provide a good opportunity to pursue a minor in another department, which typically consists of 18 credit hours.

Additional Courses.

See the 4-year BSc in Applied Computer Science

Combined Major:

Minimum 60 credit hours from two different majors with not less than 24 credit hours from each major subject.

Prescribed courses:

ACS-1903(3) Programming Fundamentals I
ACS-1904(3) Programming Fundamentals II
ACS-2814(3) Applications of Database Systems
ACS-2909(3) Internet Programming
ACS-2913(3) Software Requirements Analysis and Design

REQUIREMENTS FOR THE BSc (HONOURS) IN APPLIED COMPUTER SCIENCE

ADMISSION REQUIREMENT

Students must consult with and have the approval of the Department Chair or Chair-designate in planning their studies.
Students must have completed 30 credit hours.

GRADUATION REQUIREMENT

120 credit hours.

GRADUATION GPA REQUIREMENT

To graduate with a BSc (Honours), students must have a minimum GPA of 3.0 in all major (Applied Computer Science) courses which will be calculated on all course attempts in the major, and a minimum GPA of 2.75 in all non-major courses which will be calculated as for the general degree.

RESIDENCE REQUIREMENT

Degree:
Honours:

Minimum 60 credit hours
Minimum 30 credit hours, including 18 credit hours at the upper level (3000/4000) of which a minimum of 9 credit hours are at the 4000 level.

GENERAL DEGREE REQUIREMENT

Humanities:
Writing:
Indigenous:
Maximum Introductory Courses:

12 credit hours
Minimum 3 credit hours of Academic Writing.
3 credit hours in designated Indigenous requirement courses.
Students may use a maximum of 42 credit hours at the 1000 level. Of these, a maximum of 6 credit hours may be below the 1000 level. As a result, students must take a minimum of 78 credit hours at the 2000-level or above in order to not exceed the maximum number of introductory courses.
Minimum three (3) credit hours from each of five (5) different subjects.

HONOURS REQUIREMENT

Single Honours:

Minimum 60 credit hours in the Major.
Minimum 30 credit hours in the courses listed in Groups I at the upper level (3000/4000) of which a minimum of 15 credit hours must be at the 4000 level.

Required courses:Group I:*MATH-xxxx(3) 3 credit hours from Mathematics

Except:

- MATH-2902 Math Prior to 1640
- MATH-2901 History of Calculus
- MATH-2903 Math for Early/Middle Years Teachers I
- MATH-2904 Math for Early/Middle Years Teachers II

STAT-xxxx(3) 3 credit hours from Statistics

6 credit hours: a) or b) below:

ACS-1903(3) Programming Fundamentals I andACS-1904(3) Programming Fundamentals II

b)

ACS-1905(3) Programming Fundamentals and one of the courses at 2000 level or above from the Group II electives.ACS-2814(3) Applications and Database SystemsACS-2906(3) Computer Architecture and System SoftwareACS-2909(3) Internet ProgrammingACS-2913(3) Software Requirements Analysis and DesignACS-2947(3) Data Structures and AlgorithmsGroup II Electives*MATH-1201(3) Linear Algebra 1ACS-1803(3) Introduction to Information SystemsACS-1805(3) Introduction to ProgrammingACS-2102(3) Scientific Computing IACS-2103(3) Numeric and Symbolic ComputingACS-2112(3) Scientific Computing with PythonACS-2803(3) Physical Computing: Interacting with the Real WorldACS-2916(3) Business Application SystemsACS-2941(3) UnixACS-3907(3) eCommerceACS-3921(3) Computer Security and PrivacyACS-3922(3) Introduction to Game DevelopmentACS-3923(3) Technical Communication in ICT ProfessionsACS-3930(3) Topics in Applied Computer ScienceACS-3901(3) Principles of Software Project ManagementACS-3902(3) Database SystemsACS-3909(3) Advanced Internet ProgrammingOne of the following two courses:*ACS-3911(3) Computer NetworksACS-3931(3) Principles of Operating SystemsACS-3913(3) Software Design and ArchitectureACS-3916(3) Human Computer InteractionACS-4901(6) Senior Systems Development ProjectMinimum 9 credit hours selected from the following courses:*ACS-4902(3) Advanced Database SystemsACS-4904(3) Data WarehousingACS-4906(3) Conceptual ModellingACS-4921(3) Computer Security and PrivacyACS-4953(3) Introduction to Machine LearningACS-4954(3) Introduction to Distributed SystemsACS-3941(3) Implementation Issues in Object-Oriented LanguagesACS-3947(3) Algorithm DesignACS-4306(3) Applied Parallel ProgrammingACS-4902(3) Advanced Database SystemsACS-4904(3) Data WarehousingACS-4906(3) Conceptual ModellingACS-4921(3) Computer Security and PrivacyACS-4930(6) Research Project in Applied Computer ScienceACS-4931(3) Research Project in Applied Computer ScienceACS-4953(3) Introduction to Machine LearningACS-4954(3) Introduction to Distributed Systems

Students must complete an Honours BSc degree form available at the department office.

Any additional 3 credit courses in Group I or Group II except first year courses.

REQUIREMENTS FOR A MINOR IN APPLIED COMPUTER SCIENCE

Degree: Students completing any undergraduate degree program are eligible to complete the Minor.
 Minor: 18 credit hours in ACS (not including ACS-1453), with a minimum of 12 credit hours above the first-year level
 Residence Requirement: Minimum 12 credit hours in ACS
 Restrictions: Students cannot declare the same subject as a Major and a Minor.
 Note: ACS-1453 cannot be counted towards the ACS Minor.

GENERAL INFORMATIONPrerequisites

Students are advised to pay attention to the prerequisites for each Applied Computer Science course when planning a program of study. Students can visit the department website for more guidance.

Prerequisites are waived only in the case of clearly demonstrated equivalent knowledge. Only the Department Chair has the authority to grant prerequisite waivers.

Admission to Applied Computer Science Courses

Students are advised that a priority admission procedure may be used in the event that enrolments in Applied Computer Science courses are limited. For all courses, previous overall academic performance may be considered. For 2000-, 3000-, and 4000-level courses, grades achieved in prerequisite courses may also be considered.

Priority for entry into ACS-4901(6) will be given to students who require the course for graduation in the 4-Year degree program. Only the Chair of the department has the authority to admit students to courses that are full.

Graduate Studies

Students planning to continue with graduate studies are advised to consult with the Department before entering Year 2 of their studies.

Course Substitutions

Applied Computer Science courses were formerly numbered in the 32(MATH).xxxx series and 92/91(BUSC).xxxx. All courses with 32(MATH).xxxx and 92/91(BUSC).xxxx numbers may be substituted for corresponding ACS-xxxx numbers in meeting degree requirements.

COURSE LISTINGS

Students should consult WebAdvisor or the Timetable on the website for courses to be offered in an upcoming term.

BIOANTHROPOLOGY (BANT)

Updated February 2, 2024

Coordinator: Professor M. Roksandic; Associate Professor: Y. Chinique de Armas; Assistant Professor: T. Greenfield

DEGREE/PROGRAM OFFERED

3-Year BSc

3-Year BSc (Business Stream)

4-Year BSc

4-Year BSc (Business Stream)

Honours BSc

Minor

INTRODUCTION

This degree combines the information and methodologies of Anthropology, Archaeology, Anatomy, Biochemistry, Biology and Geography with the techniques of the physical sciences to examine human biological systems of the past and present. It is an Anthropology program which also draws on courses from the departments of Biology, Chemistry, Kinesiology, and Geography. Students in the Program will gain an understanding of comparative anatomy, cellular biology, methods in archaeology and human evolution. They will also obtain experience in up-to-date laboratory techniques and procedures. This Program offers students the option of combining experience from different fields in the Sciences and Arts to create a skill set that is interesting and unique.

The Program offers a 90 credit hour BSc (General), a 120 credit hour BSc Four Year and a 120 credit hour BSc Honours.. Students pursuing a 3-year or 4-year BSc have the opportunity to take a Business Stream (see the "Science with a Business Stream" section of this Calendar).

The Bioanthropology Program may lead to careers in government and hospital laboratories, forensic laboratories, museums and zoos. Graduates in the 4 Year Degree option could also pursue further studies in Anthropology and related sciences. This Program may also be of interest to students intending to go into medicine, dentistry, or other health-related fields.

REQUIREMENTS FOR A 3-YEAR BSc IN BIOANTHROPOLOGY

|-----------------------------------|--|
| ADMISSION REQUIREMENT | Students must meet with a Program Advisor or the Program Coordinator in planning their courses. |
| GRADUATION REQUIREMENT | 90 credit hours |
| RESIDENCE REQUIREMENT | |
| Degree: | Minimum 30 credit hours |
| Major: | Minimum 18 credit hours |
| GENERAL DEGREE REQUIREMENT | |
| Humanities: | 12 credit hours in Humanities |
| Writing: | Minimum 3 credit hours of Academic Writing |
| Indigenous: | 3 credit hours in designated Indigenous requirement courses |
| Distribution: | Minimum three (3) credit hours from each of five (5) different subjects. |
| MAJOR REQUIREMENT | |
| Single Major: | Minimum 42 credit hours with 33 credit hours to be taken from required courses and 9 credit hours as dictated from listings in LIST A and LIST B, below. |
| Double Major: | Minimum 42 credit hours in Bioanthropology and specified number of credit hours in other Major (may vary depending on interdisciplinary courses completed as they may be able to be credited to both Majors). |

Required courses:

|---------------------|--|
| ANTH-1001(6) | Introductory Anthropology OR ANTH-1003(3) Introductory Biological Anthropology and Archaeology plus one of ANTH-1002(3) Introductory Cultural Anthropology and Linguistics or ANTH-1005(3) Introductory Cultural Anthropology-Indigenous Focus. |
| BANT-2300(3) | Method and Theory in Biological Anthropology |
| BIOL-1115(3) | Cells and Cell Processes |
| BIOL-1116(3) | Evolution, Ecology and Biodiversity |
| BIOL-2301(3) | Genetics |
| CHEM-1111(3) | Introduction to the Chemical Properties of Matter |
| CHEM-1112(3) | Basic Principles of Chemical Reactivity |
| STAT-1501(3) | Elementary Biological Statistics I |

Students are required to take an additional 6 credit hours from the below courses:

|---------------------|--|
| ANTH-2100(3) | Method and Theory in Cultural Anthropology |
| ANTH-2200(3) | Method and Theory in Archaeology |
| ANTH-2400(3) | Method and Theory in Linguistic Anthropology |

Minimum of 3 credit hours as chosen from courses in LIST A – listed on following pages

Minimum of 6 credit hours as chosen from courses in LIST A or LIST B – listed on following pages

REQUIREMENTS FOR A 4-YEAR BSc IN BIOANTHROPOLOGY

ADMISSION REQUIREMENT Students must consult with the Program Coordinator when planning their studies.

GRADUATION REQUIREMENT 120 credit hours

RESIDENCE REQUIREMENT

Degree: Minimum 60 credit hours
Major: Minimum 30 credit hours

GENERAL DEGREE REQUIREMENT

Humanities: 12 credit hours
Writing: Minimum 3 credit hours of Academic Writing
Indigenous: 3 credit hours in designated Indigenous requirement courses
Distribution: Minimum three (3) credit hours from each of five (5) different subjects.
Maximum Introductory Courses: Students may use a maximum of 42 credit hours at the 1000 level. Of these, a maximum of 6 credit hours may be below the 1000 level. As a result, students must take a minimum of 78 credit hours at the 2000-level or above in order to not exceed the maximum number of introductory courses.

MAJOR REQUIREMENT

Single Major: Minimum 69 credit hours with 33 credit hours to be taken from required courses and 36 credit hours as dictated from listings in LIST A and LIST B, below.
Double Major: Minimum 69 credit hours in Bioanthropology and specified number of credit hours in other Major; may vary depending on Interdisciplinary courses completed as they may be able to be credited to both Majors.

Required courses:

ANTH-1001(6) Introductory Anthropology OR ANTH-1003(3) Introductory Biological Anthropology and Archaeology plus one of ANTH-1002(3) Introductory Cultural Anthropology and Linguistics or ANTH-1005(3) Introductory Cultural Anthropology-Indigenous Focus.
BANT-2300(3) Method and Theory in Biological Anthropology

Minimum of 18 credit hours as chosen from courses in LIST A – listed below

Minimum of 18 credit hours as chosen from courses in LIST B – listed below

REQUIREMENTS FOR AN HONOURS BSc IN BIOANTHROPOLOGY

ADMISSION REQUIREMENT

Students must have completed a minimum of 30 credit hours. Entry, continuing and graduation minimum GPA is 3.0 (B) in Honours Subject courses and 2.75 (C+) in non-Honours Subject courses.
The minimum 3.0 GPA (B) is based on all attempts (including course repeats and failures) in Honours Subject courses.
The minimum 2.75 GPA (C+) in all non-Honours Subject courses is calculated as for the general degree (i.e., F's are not included, and in the case of repeated courses, only the highest grade is used).

GRADUATION REQUIREMENT 120 credit hours

|----------|---|
| Degree: | Minimum 60 credit hours |
| Honours: | Minimum 30 credit hours, including a minimum of 18 credit hours at the upper level (3000/4000) of which a minimum of 12 credit hours must be at 4000 level. |

|-------------------------------|--|
| Humanities: | 12 credit hours in Humanities |
| Science: | 6 credit hours |
| Writing: | Minimum 3 credit hours of Academic Writing. |
| Indigenous: | 3 credit hours in designated Indigenous requirement courses |

As a result, students must take a minimum of 78 credit hours at the 2000-level or above in order to not exceed the maximum number of introductory courses. |
| Distribution: | Minimum three (3) credit hours from each of five (5) different subjects. |

HONOURS SUBJECT REQUIREMENTS

|-----------------|---|
| Single Honours: | Minimum 72 credit hours with 33 credit hours to be taken from required courses and 39 credit hours as dictated from listings in LIST A and LIST B below. Minimum 30 credit hours in upper-level (3000/4000) Honours Subject courses of which a minimum of 15 credit hours must be at the 4000 level. |
| Double Honours: | Minimum 72 credit hours in Bioanthropology required, LIST A and B courses, and specified number of credit hours in other Major; may vary depending on Interdisciplinary courses completed as they may be able to be credited to both Majors. Minimum 24 credit hours at the upper level (3000/4000) in the BANT component of the double Honours of which a minimum of 15 credit hours must be at the 4000 level. For the requirements of the other Honours subject consult the department involved. |

Required courses:

|---------------------|--|
| ANTH-1001(6) | Introductory Anthropology OR ANTH-1003(3) Introductory Biological Anthropology and Archaeology plus one of ANTH-1002(3) Introductory Cultural Anthropology and Linguistics or ANTH-1005(3) Introductory Cultural Anthropology-Indigenous Focus. |

| CHEM-1111(3) | Introduction to the Chemical Properties of Matter |
| CHEM-1112(3) | Basic Principles of Chemical Reactivity |
| STAT-1501(3) | Elementary Biological Statistics I |

Students are required to take an additional 6 credit hours from the below courses:

|---------------------|--|
| ANTH-2100(3) | Method and Theory in Cultural Anthropology |
| ANTH-2200(3) | Method and Theory in Archaeology |
| ANTH-2400(3) | Method and Theory in Linguistic Anthropology |

Minimum 21 credit hours as chosen from courses in LIST A - listed below of which one has to be the BANT-4011 Honours Thesis

Minimum of 18 credit hours as chosen from courses in LIST B - listed below

Bioanthropology: LIST A and LIST B course listings

LIST A: Biological Anthropology courses, defined as Area IV by the Department of Anthropology in the current calendar (see below) together with any experimental courses defined by the Department of Anthropology as Biological Anthropology:

|--------------------------|--|
| BANT-2119(3) | Medical Anthropology |
| BANT-2304(3) | Introduction to Forensic Anthropology |
| BANT-3206(3) | Origins of Human Culture |
| BANT-3207(3) | Zooarchaeology |
| BANT-3306(3) | Human Osteology |
| BANT-3308/4308(3) | Human Evolution |
| BANT-4212(3) | Advanced Zooarchaeology |
| BANT-4305(3) | Problems in Biological Anthropology |
| BANT-4307(3) | Advanced Human Osteology |
| BANT-4311(3) | Human Paleopathology |
| BANT-4001(3) | Directed Readings/Research in Anthropology |
| BANT-4001(6) | Directed Readings/Research in Anthropology |
| BANT-4011(6) | Honours Thesis |
| BANT-4230(6) | International Field School |

LIST B: Biology, Chemistry, Geography and Kinesiology courses:

|---------------------|---|
| BIOL-1112(6) | Human Anatomy and Physiology |
| BIOL-2111(6) | Comparative Chordate Zoology |
| BIOL-2451(3) | Introduction to Animal Behaviour |
| BIOL-3202(3) | Histology |
| BIOL-3221(3) | Cell Biology |
| BIOL-3303(3) | Molecular Genetics and Genomics |
| BIOL-3492(3) | Quantitative and Theoretical Biology |
| BIOL-3562(3) | Human Reproductive Biology |
| BIOL-3563(3) | Human Embryology |
| BIOL-3602(3) | Comparative Animal Physiology I |
| BIOL-3603(3) | Comparative Animal Physiology II |
| BIOL-4303(3) | Population Genetics |
| BIOL-4331(3) | Evolutionary Biology |
| BIOL-4501(3) | Developmental Biology |
| BIOL-4502(3) | Molecular Cell Biology |
| BIOL-4601(3) | Ecological Animal Physiology |
| CHEM-2202(3) | Organic Chemistry I |
| CHEM-2203(3) | Organic Chemistry II |
| CHEM-3502(3) | Intermediate Biochemistry I: Structure, Function and Energetics of Biomolecules |
| CHEM-3503(3) | Intermediate Biochemistry II: Intermediary Metabolism |
| GEOG-2306(3) | Introduction to Geographic Information Systems |
| GEOG-3219(3) | Quaternary Environments |
| KIN-2301(3) | Human Anatomy |
| KIN-3201(2) | Biomechanics |

Recommended:

Students are advised to take GEOG-1202(3) Introductory Earth Science.

Students considering admission to programs in the health sciences (e.g., medical school) are urged to check with the programs to which they plan to apply with respect to their requirements. In particular, such students may need to take more courses in Chemistry than are required.

REQUIREMENTS FOR A MINOR IN BIOANTHROPOLOGY

|------------------------|--|
| Degree: | Students completing any undergraduate degree program are eligible to complete the Minor. |
| Minor: | 18 credit hours in the Minor subject, with a minimum of 12 credit hours above the 1000 level. |
| Residence requirement: | Minimum 12 credit hours in the Minor subject. |
| Required courses: | 6 credit hours at the 1000 level: ANTH-1001(6) Introductory Anthropology OR ANTH-1003(3) Introductory Biological Anthropology and Archaeology plus one of ANTH-1002(3) Introductory Cultural Anthropology and Linguistics or ANTH-1005(3) Introductory Cultural Anthropology- Indigenous Focus. 6 credit hours at the 2000 level from the following requirements: BANT-2300(3) Method and Theory in Biological Anthropology and one of the following: ANTH-2100(3) Method and Theory in Cultural Anthropology ANTH-2200(3) Method and Theory in Archaeology ANTH-2400(3) Method and Theory in Linguistic Anthropology 6 credit hours at the 3000 level from the following courses: BANT-3306(3) Human Osteology BANT-3308(3) Human Evolution |
| Restrictions: | Students cannot declare the same subject as a Major and as a Minor |

DEGREES/PROGRAMS OFFERED

3 -Year BSc

3-Year BSc (Business Stream)

4 -Year BSc

4-Year BSc (Business Stream)

Honours BSc

INTRODUCTION

This degree combines the information and methodologies of Biochemistry, Cell Biology, Genetics and Microbiology with the techniques of the physical sciences to investigate living systems. It is an Interdisciplinary Program which consists primarily of courses from the Departments of Biology and Chemistry. Students in the program will gain a thorough understanding of the molecular aspects of the structure, function and metabolism of living organisms. They will also obtain experience in up-to-date laboratory techniques and procedures. This is one of the most exciting areas of science at this time and students will be kept abreast of advances in the field and their impact on humans and other life forms.

The Program offers a 90 credit hour 3-Year BSc, a 120 credit hour 4-Year BSc and a 120 credit hour Honours BSc. Graduates will be well qualified to work in university, government, and other research laboratories or in the pharmaceutical and food industries. Graduates with a 4-Year BSc or Honours BSc could also proceed to graduate studies in the Life Sciences.

Students pursuing a 3-year or 4-year BSc in Biochemistry have the opportunity to take a Business Stream – a set of core courses in the Faculty of Business that will provide them with the skills needed to enter and succeed in industry and business. After completing the requirements of the BSc degree and the set of core courses indicated in the "Science with a Business Stream" section of the Calendar, it will be noted on the student's transcript that they have satisfied the requirements of a BSc degree with a Business stream

This program also provides excellent preparation for students wishing to enter professional schools in the health sciences.

REQUIREMENTS FOR A 3-YEAR BSc IN BIOCHEMISTRY

ADMISSION REQUIREMENT Students must consult with a Program Advisor in planning their studies.

GRADUATION REQUIREMENT 90 credit hours

RESIDENCE REQUIREMENT

Degree: Minimum 30 credit hours
Major: Minimum 18 credit hours

GENERAL DEGREE REQUIREMENT

Humanities: 12 credit hours in Humanities
Writing: Minimum 3 credit hours of Academic Writing.
Indigenous: 3 credit hours in designated Indigenous requirement courses
Maximum Introductory Courses: Students may use a maximum of 42 credit hours at the 1000 level. Of these, a maximum of 6 credit hours may be below the 1000 level. As a result, students must take a minimum of 48 credit hours at the 2000-level or above in order to not exceed the maximum number of introductory courses.

Distribution: Minimum three (3) credit hours from each of five (5) different subjects.

MAJOR REQUIREMENT

Single Major: Minimum 45 credit hours in the Major subject as per the Required Courses list.
Double Major: Minimum 45 credit hours of required courses and credit hours in Biochemistry program and Specified number of credit hours in other Major (may vary depending on Interdisciplinary courses completed as they may be able to be credited to both Majors).

Required courses:

|---------------------|---|
| BIOL-1115(3) | Cells and Cellular Processes (or the former BIOL-1111(6)) |
| BIOL-1116(3) | Evolution, Ecology and Biodiversity (or the former BIOL-1111(6)) |
| BIOL-2301(3) | Genetics (or the former BIOL-3301(3)) |
| BIOL-2902(3) | Biology of Bacteria and Archaea (formerly "Biology of the Prokaryotes and Viruses") |
| BIOL-3221(3) | Cell Biology |
| CHEM-1111(3) | Introduction to the Chemical Properties of Matter (or the former CHEM-1101(6)) |
| CHEM-1112(3) | Basic Principles of Chemical Reactivity (or the former CHEM-1101(6)) |
| CHEM-2202(3) | Organic Chemistry I (or the former CHEM-2201(6)) |
| CHEM-2203(3) | Organic Chemistry II (or the former CHEM-2201(6)) |
| CHEM-3502(3) | Intermediate Biochemistry I: Structure, Function, and Energetics of Biomolecules (or former CHEM-3501(6)) |

CHEM-3503(3) Intermediate Biochemistry II: Intermediary Metabolism (or the former CHEM-3501(6))

PHYS-1101(6) Foundations of Physics I OR PHYS-1301(6) Introduction to Physics

Minimum 3 credit hours in additional core chemistry, selected from the following:

CHEM-2102(3) Thermodynamics and Kinetics

CHEM-2103(3) Atoms, Molecules and Spectroscopy

CHEM-2302(3) Quantitative Chemical Analysis

CHEM-2401(3) Inorganic Chemistry I

Minimum 3 credit hours selected from the following courses:

PSYC-2101(3) Introduction to Data Analysis

STAT-1301 (3) Statistical Analysis I

STAT-1302 (3) Statistical Analysis II

STAT-1501(3) Elementary Biological Statistics I

9 additional credit hours from Biology and/or Biochemistry and/or Chemistry at or above the 2000 level (with the exception of the former CHEM-2501(3), CHEM-2601(6) and CHEM-2801(3)) to bring the total number of Biology, Biochemistry and Chemistry courses to 45 credit hours.

Recommended: MATH-1101(6) Introduction to Calculus OR MATH-1103 (3) Introduction to Calculus I AND MATH-1104 (3) Introduction to Calculus II. This course is required for the 4-Year, and Honours BSc in Biochemistry, and is a prerequisite for CHEM-2102(3), Thermodynamics and Kinetics; and CHEM-2103(3), Atoms, Molecules and Spectroscopy. Both CHEM-2102(3) and CHEM-2103(3) are options in the 3-Year, 4-Year, and Honours BSc in Biochemistry

Note: Students considering the four-year degree in Biochemistry should note that BIOL-3901(3) is a prerequisite for BIOL-4902(3); BIOL-2153(3) is a prerequisite for BIOL-3163(3).

Note: Students should design their course selection in consultation with one of the Program Advisors.

SUGGESTED PROGRAM OF STUDY- Students must consult with Program Advisors in planning their programs.

Year 1

BIOL-1115(3) Cells and Cellular Processes

BIOL-1116(3) Evolution, Ecology and Biodiversity

CHEM-1111(3) Introduction to the Chemical Properties of Matter

CHEM-1112(3) Basic Principles of Chemical Reactivity

RHET-1103(3) Academic Writing: Sciences (if required)

STAT-1501(3) Elementary Biological Statistics I

xxxx.xxxx(6) Humanities

Electives* 6 credit hours

Year 2

BIOL-2301(3) Genetics

BIOL-2902(3) Biology of Bacteria and Archaea (formerly "Biology of the Prokaryotes and Viruses")

CHEM-2202(3) Organic Chemistry I

CHEM-2203(3) Organic Chemistry II

One of:

CHEM-2102(3) Thermodynamics and Kinetics

CHEM-2103(3) Atoms, Molecules and Spectroscopy

CHEM-2302(3) Quantitative Chemical Analysis

CHEM-2401(3) Inorganic Chemistry I

One of:

PHYS-1301(6) Introduction to Physics

PHYS-1101(6) Foundations of Physics I

Electives* 3 credit hours

xxxx.xxxx(6) Humanities

Note: (If Academic Writing is not required, Physics could be done in Year 1 and Statistics plus a 3 credit hour elective in Year 2)

Year 3

BIOL-3221(3) Cell Biology

CHEM-3502(3) Intermediate Biochemistry I: Structure, Function and Energetics of Biomolecules

CHEM-3503(3) Intermediate Biochemistry II: Intermediary Metabolism

Electives* 21 credit hours

Electives:

1) There is a requirement of a minimum of 45 credit hours in Biology, Biochemistry and Chemistry. This is made up of required courses plus an appropriate number of credit hours from the electives.

2) MATH-1101(6) Introduction to Calculus or the equivalent MATH-1103 (3) Introduction to Calculus I AND MATH-1104 (3) Introduction to Calculus II is strongly recommended. This course is required for the 4-Year and Honours B.Sc. degrees in Biochemistry and is a prerequisite for CHEM-2102(3) Thermodynamics and Kinetics; and CHEM-2103(3), Atoms, Molecules and Spectroscopy. Both CHEM-2102(3) and CHEM-2103(3) are options in the 3-Year, 4-Year, and Honours BSc in Biochemistry

3) It is strongly recommended that students who may consider doing a 4-Year or Honours B.Sc. in Biochemistry take at least one additional core Chemistry course in the second or third year.

REQUIREMENTS FOR THE 3-YEAR BSc IN BIOCHEMISTRY WITH A BUSINESS STREAM

Students must complete the requirements of the 3-year BSc in Biochemistry degree (see previous section) and the set of core courses indicated in the "Science with a Business Stream" section of the Calendar.

REQUIREMENTS FOR A 4-YEAR BSc IN BIOCHEMISTRY

REQUIREMENTS FOR THE 4-YEAR BSc IN BIOCHEMISTRY WITH A BUSINESS STREAM

Students must complete the requirements of the 4-year BSc in Biochemistry degree (see previous section) and the set of core courses indicated in the "Science with a Business Stream" section of the Calendar

REQUIREMENTS FOR AN HONOURS BSc IN BIOCHEMISTRY

ADMISSION REQUIREMENT

Students must consult with a Program Advisor in planning their studies.

GRADUATION REQUIREMENT

Graduation G.P.A. Requirement:

120 credit hours

To graduate with a BSc Honours, students must have a minimum GPA of 3.0 in all Chemistry, Biochemistry and Biology courses (calculated on all course attempts in Biology, Biochemistry and Chemistry) and a 2.75 GPA in all non-major courses (calculated as for a 3-year degree where F's are not included and, in the case of repeated courses, only the highest grade will be used).

RESIDENCE REQUIREMENT

Degree:

Minimum 60 credit hours

Major:

Minimum 30 credit hours

GENERAL DEGREE REQUIREMENT

Humanities:

12 credit hours

Writing:

Minimum 3 credit hours of Academic Writing.

Indigenous:

3 credit hours in designated Indigenous requirement courses

Maximum Introductory Courses:

Students may use a maximum of 42 credit hours at the 1000 level. Of these, a maximum of 6 credit hours may be below the 1000 level. As a result, students must take a minimum of 78 credit hours at the 2000-level or above in order to not exceed the maximum number of introductory courses.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Prerequisites

Chemistry 40S AND either Pre-Calculus Mathematics 40S OR Applied Mathematics 40S are required for registration in both BIOL-1115(3) Cells and Cellular Processes and CHEM-1111(3) Introduction to the Chemical Properties of Matter. Physics 40S AND either Pre-Calculus Mathematics 40S or Applied Mathematics 40S are required for registration in PHYS-1101(6) Foundations of Physics I. Physics 40S is not required for registration in PHYS-1301(6) Introduction to Physics.

Entrance to Program

Students normally enter the Program in Year 2 of their studies.

Note: Course Listings and Descriptions can be found under the appropriate Departmental listings:

MSc in Bioscience, Technology & Public Policy (For more information, please see the Graduate Studies Academic Calendar.)

INTRODUCTION

The study of Biology encompasses any manifestation of life, from the DNA molecule to the interactions of organisms within the various ecosystems of the earth. This broad discipline includes the subject areas of Botany, Zoology, Microbiology, Ecology, Genetics and Molecular Biology.

The Biology Department offers the 3-Year BSc, 4-Year BSc, and BSc Honours degrees.

Students pursuing a 3-year or 4-year BSc in Biology have the opportunity to take a Business Stream – a set of core courses in the Faculty of Business that will provide them with the skills needed to enter and succeed in industry and business. See the "Science with a Business Stream" section of this Course Calendar.

In addition, courses in Biology constitute the core of the Environmental Studies Forest Ecology Program, the Forest Policy and Management Program, the Biochemistry Program, the Neuroscience Program and the Bioanthropology Program.

A BSc in Biology can lead to employment in Conservation or other government departments, work as a technologist in a research or industrial laboratory, as well as a career in education. It also provides the preparation necessary for those entering several professional programs including Dentistry, Medicine, Veterinary Medicine, Pharmacy and Optometry.

Many Biology graduates also pursue post-graduate education. The necessary academic preparation for post-graduate studies is only provided by the 4-Year and Honours degrees in Biology. The 3-Year BSc is not recognized as adequate preparation by most Graduate Studies Programs in Canada or internationally.

REQUIREMENTS FOR A 3-YEAR BSc IN BIOLOGY

ADMISSION REQUIREMENT Students should consult with a member of the Department in planning their course of study.

GRADUATION REQUIREMENT 90 credit hours

RESIDENCE REQUIREMENT

Degree: Minimum 30 credit hours
Major: Minimum 18 credit hours

GENERAL DEGREE REQUIREMENT

Humanities: 12 credit hours in Humanities
Writing: Minimum 3 credit hours of Academic Writing.
Indigenous: 3 credit hours in designated Indigenous requirement courses
Maximum Introductory Courses: Students may use a maximum of 42 credit hours at the 1000 level. Of these, a maximum of 6 credit hours may be below the 1000 level.
Distribution: Minimum three (3) credit hours from each of five (5) different subjects.

MAJOR REQUIREMENT

Single Major: Minimum 30 credit hours/Maximum 48 credit hours in the Major subject.
Double Major: 30 credit hours in Biology and specified number of credit hours in the other department/program.

Required courses:

1. Mandatory courses

- BIOL-1115(3) Cells and Cellular Processes, and BIOL-1116(3) Evolution, Ecology and Biodiversity.

- CHEM-1111(3) Introduction to Chemical Properties of Matter, and CHEM-1112(3) Basic Principles of Chemical Reactivity

- Minimum 24 credit hours in other Biology courses at or above the 2000 level, not including BIOL-4111(6) Biology Honours Thesis.

2. Statistics Requirement - 3 credit hours of statistics chosen from the following courses:

STAT-1301(3) Statistical Analysis I
STAT-1501(3) Elementary Biological Statistics I
GEOG-2309(3) Statistical Techniques in Environmental Analysis
PSYC-2101(3) Introduction to Data Analysis
The former STAT-1201(6) Introduction to Statistical Analysis

3. At least 9 additional credit hours of ancillary science (non-Biology) courses at or above the 1000 level selected from the following departments/courses, for a total of at least 18 credit hours of non-Biology science. At least one other department must be represented, in addition to that chosen from the above statistics options list.

ANTHROPOLOGY – ONLY:

ANTH-2300(3) Methods and Theory in Biological Anthropology
ANTH-2304(3) Introduction to Forensic Anthropology
ANTH-3207(3) Zooarchaeology
ANTH-3302/4302(3) Primate Adaptation, Biology, and Evolution
ANTH-3306(3) Human Osteology
ANTH-3308/4308(3) Human Evolution
ANTH-3309/4309(3) Primate Behaviour
ANTH-4212(3) Advanced Zooarchaeology
ANTH-4303(3) Problems in Human and Primate Evolution
ANTH-4305(3) Problems in Biological Anthropology
ANTH-4307(3) Advanced Human Osteology
ANTH-4311(3) Human Paleopathology

CHEMISTRY – ALL courses EXCEPT:

CHEM-1111(3) Introduction to Chemical Properties of Matter
CHEM-1112(3) Basic Principles of Chemical Reactivity
CHEM-2801(3) Environmental Issues: A Chemistry Perspective (formerly Chemistry and Society)

GEOGRAPHY – ONLY:

Physical Geography courses (second digit in the course number is "2")
Geomatics courses (second digit in the course number is "3")

KINESIOLOGY – ONLY:

KIN-2204(3) Introduction to Human Physiology
KIN-2301(3) Human Anatomy
KIN-3106 (3) Exercise Physiology
KIN-3201(3) Biomechanics

MATHEMATICS – ALL courses EXCEPT:

MATH-2305(3) Philosophy and Mathematics
MATH-2901(3) History of Calculus
MATH-2902(3) Mathematics Prior to 1640
MATH-2903(3) Mathematics for Early/Middle Years Teachers I

PHYSICS – ALL courses EXCEPT:

PHYS-1005(6) Concepts in Science
PHYS-1701(6) Astronomy
PHYS-2705(6) Cosmology: Science Fact to Science Fiction

PSYCHOLOGY – ONLY:

PSYC-2101(3) Introduction to Data Analysis
PSYC-2900(3) Physiological Psychology I
PSYC-3900(3) Physiological Psychology II

STATISTICS – All courses

Combined Major: Minimum 48 credit hours from two (2) different majors with not less than 18 credit hours from each major subject.

Prescribed courses:

BIOL-1115(3) Cells and Cellular Processes
BIOL-1116(3) Evolution, Ecology and Biodiversity
CHEM-1111(3) Introduction to Chemical Properties of Matter
CHEM-1112(3) Basic Principles of Chemical Reactivity

Restrictions: Only 6 credit hours at the 1000 level will be credited towards the combined major. Any other 1000-level course would be considered as an elective.

REQUIREMENTS FOR THE 3-YEAR BSc IN BIOLOGY WITH A BUSINESS STREAM

Students must complete the requirements of the 3-year BSc in Biology degree (see previous section) and the set of core courses indicated in the "Science with a Business Stream" section of the Calendar

|-----------------------------------|---|
| ADMISSION REQUIREMENT | Students must consult with the Department Advisor in planning their studies. |
| GRADUATION REQUIREMENT | 120 credit hours, that is, 90 credit hours meeting the requirements for the 3-Year BSc plus an additional 30 credit hours. |
| RESIDENCE REQUIREMENT | |
| Degree: | Minimum 60 credit hours |
| Major: | Minimum 30 credit hours |
| GENERAL DEGREE REQUIREMENT | |
| Humanities: | 12 credit hours |
| Writing: | Minimum 3 credit hours of Academic Writing. |
| Indigenous: | 3 credit hours in designated Indigenous requirement courses |
| Maximum Introductory Courses: | Students may use a maximum of 42 credit hours at the 1000 level. Of these, a maximum of 6 credit hours may be below the 1000 level. |
| Distribution: | Minimum three (3) credit hours from each of five (5) different subjects. |
| MAJOR REQUIREMENT | |
| Single Major: | Minimum 48 credit hours/Maximum 78 credit hours in the Major subject. |
| Double Major: | Minimum 48 credit hours in Biology and specified number of courses in other Major. |

Required courses:

1. Mandatory Courses

BIOL-1115(3) Cells and Cellular Processes
BIOL-1116(3) Evolution, Ecology and Biodiversity
BIOL-2301(3) Genetics
BIOL-2403(3) Principles of Ecology or BIOL-3902(3) Microbial Ecology)
BIOL-3221(3) Cell Biology
CHEM-1111(3) Introduction to Chemical Properties of Matter
CHEM-1112(3) Basic Principles of Chemical Reactivity

In addition to the above prescribed courses, students must complete an additional minimum of 33 credit hours in Biology at or above the 2000 level.

Students taking the 4-Year BSc in preparation for graduate studies are strongly advised to enrol in the BSc Honours program (see below).

2. Statistics Requirement - 6 credit hours of statistics chosen from the following course pairings:

- STAT-1301(3) Statistical Analysis I and STAT-1302(3) Statistical Analysis II or the former STAT-1201(6) Introduction to Statistical Analysis
- OR
- STAT-1501(3) Elementary Biological Statistics I AND ONE OF STAT-1302(3) Statistical Analysis II or STAT-2001(3) Elementary Biological Statistics II or BIOL-3492(3) Quantitative & Theoretical Biology or BIOL-4471(3) Ecological Methods or the former STAT-1601(3) Elementary Biological Statistics II
- OR
- GEOG-2309(3) Statistical Techniques in Environmental Analysis AND ONE OF BIOL-3492(3) Quantitative & Theoretical Biology or BIOL-4471(3) Ecological Methods
- OR
- PSYC-2101(3) Introduction to Data Analysis AND ONE OF PSYC-2102(3) Introduction to Research Methods or BIOL-3492(3) Quantitative & Theoretical Biology or BIOL-4471(3) Ecological Methods

3. At least 12 additional credit hours of ancillary science (non-Biology) courses at or above the 1000 level selected from the following departments/courses, for a total of at least 24 credit hours of non-Biology science (or 21 credit hours if a Biology course is selected as part of the statistics requirement). At least one other department must be represented in addition to that chosen from the above statistics options list.

ANTHROPOLOGY – ONLY:

ANTH-2300(3) Methods and Theory in Biological Anthropology
ANTH-2304(3) Introduction to Forensic Anthropology
ANTH-3207(3) Zooarchaeology

REQUIREMENTS FOR THE 4-YEAR BSc IN BIOLOGY WITH A BUSINESS STREAM

Students must complete the requirements of the 4-year BSc in Biology degree (see previous section) and the set of core courses indicated in the "Science with a Business Stream" section of the Calendar.

REQUIREMENTS FOR AN HONOURS BSc IN BIOLOGY

ADMISSION REQUIREMENT

Students must consult with the Department Advisor in planning their studies.

GRADUATION REQUIREMENT

Graduation G.P.A. Requirement

120 credit hours

To graduate with a BSc Honours, students must have a minimum GPA of 3.0 on all major (Biology) courses which will be calculated on all course attempts in the major. A minimum 2.75 GPA on all non-major courses which will be calculated as for the General Degree (i.e., F's are not included and, in the case of repeated courses, only the highest grade will be used).

|----------|--|
| Degree: | Minimum 60 credit hours |

REQUIREMENTS FOR THE UNIVERSITY OF WINNIPEG / RRC POLYTECH 4-YEAR BSc (JOINT PROGRAM IN APPLIED BIOLOGY)

NOTE: The Joint Applied Science program with RRC Polytech in Biology is being discontinued. No new students will be accepted to this program.

INTRODUCTION

This is a joint degree program whereby students take courses at both institutions in a prescribed sequence. The program has been specifically designed to address the human resource needs of the health and environmental-based industries of Manitoba. Biotechnology is the area of emphasis in the Applied Biology program and the degree requirements are outlined below.

Students are required to complete courses at both institutions. Students will begin their program of study by completing 60 credit hours of course work at The University of Winnipeg. The next 30 credit hours are completed at RRC Polytech and then students return to The University of Winnipeg to complete the final 30 credit hours. Students successfully completing the entire program will receive a joint degree parchment from The University of Winnipeg and RRC Polytech. N.B. Transfer of courses between institutions applies only to students who are officially in the joint program.

ADMISSION REQUIREMENT

Students must meet the entrance requirements for admission to The University of Winnipeg.

Application to the program in Applied Biology must be completed through the Admissions Office of The University of Winnipeg by March 1st in order to enter the program in September.

GRADUATION REQUIREMENT

120 credit hours, that is, 90 credit hours meeting the requirements for the BSc General plus 30 additional credit hours.

RESIDENCE REQUIREMENT

Degree:

Minimum 60 credit hours

Major:

Minimum 30 credit hours

GENERAL DEGREE REQUIREMENT

Humanities:

12 credit hours in Humanities

Writing:

Minimum 3 credit hours of Academic Writing.

Indigenous:

3 credit hours in designated Indigenous requirement courses

Maximum Introductory Courses:

Students may use a maximum of 42 credit hours at the 1000 level. Of these, a maximum of 6 credit hours may be below the 1000 level.

Distribution:

Minimum three (3) credit hours from each of five (5) different subjects.

INTRODUCTION

The Bachelor of Business Administration degree offered through the Department of Business and Administration is designed for students who wish to pursue a career in business, or in the public, non-profit, or co-operative enterprise sectors. Our aim is to graduate socially and ethically responsible students capable of succeeding in a rapidly changing world.

The 3-year BBA is an excellent complement to a degree in another field, and is intended to be readily accessible as a part of a double degree program upon completion of additional coursework.

The 4-year BBA prepares students for managerial work and for further study in business administration such as an MBA or other graduate degree program.

In addition to the above, the joint program with Red River College offers the opportunity to obtain both a Bachelor of Business Administration degree and a Business Administration Diploma in less time than it would normally take to obtain the two qualifications, by allowing credit for work completed at the alternate institution.

REQUIREMENTS FOR A 3-YEAR BBA

|-----------------------------------|--|
| ADMISSION REQUIREMENT | Admission to The University of Winnipeg with credit for Pre-calculus or Applied Mathematics 40S or equivalent |

Corporate Social Responsibility Requirement:

Select one of the following courses:
BUS-3110 (3) Ethics in Management
BUS-3255 (3) Social Enterprise: From Theory to Practice
IDS-3101 (3) Development Ethics
PHIL-2201 (6) Moral Philosophy
PHIL-2230 (3) Moral Issues in Business
PHIL-2233 (3) Environmental Ethics
CRS-3231 (3) Ethics in Conflict Resolution

Additional Business Requirement: Minimum 9 credit hours of Business courses at the 3000 level or above (i.e., BUS-3####).

Overall BUS GPA Requirement: Students must achieve an overall minimum GPA of 2.0 in business courses (BUS-####) completed and presented for their 3-year BBA degree in order to graduate with a 3-year BBA.

Double Degree: Full 3-year BBA degree requirements as above and specified number of credit hours in the other degree program.
 Courses eligible for both programs may be counted towards both degrees.
 Please note that additional credit hours will need to be completed to receive two degrees.

Combined Major: Minimum 48 credit hours from two (2) different majors with not less than 18 credit hours from each major subject. For the Business and Administration component, the following 18 credit hours are required at a minimum.
Students will be granted one degree (e.g., BBA, BA, or BSc) that reflects the degree program in which the majority of credit hours have been completed. The transcript will indicate the two departments that comprise the combined major.

Prescribed Courses: BUS-1201 (3) Introduction to Business I
BUS-1202 (3) Introduction to Business II
BUS-2002 (3) Fundamentals of Financial Accounting
 OR
BUS-2010 (3) Fundamentals of Financial Management and Administration

BUS-2210 (3) Fundamentals of Marketing
BUS-2440 (3) Fundamentals of Human Resource Management
 OR
BUS-2103 (3) Fundamentals of Organizational Behaviour
BUS-2501 (3) Fundamentals of Operations Management

REQUIREMENTS FOR A 4-YEAR BBA General Stream

|-----------------------------------|---|
| ADMISSION REQUIREMENT | Admission to The University of Winnipeg with credit for Pre-calculus or Applied Mathematics 40S or equivalent |
| GRADUATION REQUIREMENT | 120 credit hours |
| RESIDENCE REQUIREMENT | |
| Degree: | Minimum 60 credit hours |
| Major: | Minimum 30 credit hours in BUS-#### courses |
| GENERAL DEGREE REQUIREMENT | |
| Humanities: | 12 credit hours in Humanities |

|-------------------------------|---|
| Science: | 6 credit hours in Science |
| Social Science: | 12 credit hours in Social Science |
| Writing: | Minimum 3 credit hours of Academic Writing |
| Indigenous: | 3 credit hours in designated Indigenous requirement courses |
| Maximum Introductory Courses: | Students may use a maximum of 42 credit hours at the 1000 level. Of these a maximum of 6 credit hours may be below the 1000 level. As a result, students must take a minimum of 78 credit hours at the 2000-level or above in order to not exceed the maximum number of introductory courses. |
| Distribution: | Minimum three (3) credit hours from each of five (5) different subjects. |

4-YEAR BBA GENERAL STREAM REQUIREMENT 60-63 credit hours

Required courses: 36 credit hours of core courses (21 credit hours in BUS-#### courses, 15 in cognates)

- BUS-1201 (3) Introduction to Business I
BUS-1202 (3) Introduction to Business II

BUS-2002 (3) Fundamentals of Financial Accounting
OR
BUS-2010 (3) Fundamentals of Financial Management and Administration

BUS-2103 (3) Fundamentals of Organizational Behaviour
BUS-2210 (3) Fundamentals of Marketing
BUS-2440 (3) Fundamentals of Human Resource Management
BUS-2501 (3) Fundamentals of Operations Management
ACS-1803 (3) Introduction to Information Systems
ECON-1102 (3) Introduction to Economics: Micro
ECON-1103 (3) Introduction to Economics: Macro

ECON-1201 (3) Quantitative Methods for Economics and Business
OR
MATH-1301 (3) Applied Mathematics for Business and Administration

POL-2320 (3) Government-Business Relations in Canada
OR
ECON-3311 (3) Government Policy Towards Business

Corporate Social Responsibility Requirement:

- Select one of the following courses:
BUS-3110 (3) Ethics in Management
BUS-3255 (3) Social Enterprise: From Theory to Practice
IDS-3101 (3) Development Ethics
PHIL-2201 (6) Moral Philosophy
PHIL-2230 (3) Moral Issues in Business
PHIL-2233 (3) Environmental Ethics
CRS-3231 (3) Ethics in Conflict Resolution

Additional Business Requirements: 24 credit hours of additional Business and Administration courses (i.e., BUS-####) all of which must be at the 2000 level or above, including:
 a minimum of 15 credit hours at the 3000 level or above and of those, a minimum of 6 credit hours at the 4000 level are required.

BUS-3110 (3) or BUS-3255 (3) can be used towards fulfilling both the Corporate Social Responsibility and the Additional Business course Requirements

The former BUS-3440(3), BUS-3450(3), BUS-3460(3), BUS-3500(3), and BUS-3550(3) will be considered as BUS-4440(3), BUS-4450(3), BUS-4460(3), BUS-4500(3), and BUS-4555(3) respectively for the purpose of fulfilling the 4000 level credit hours requirement within the 4-Year BBA.

Maximum BUS Courses: Maximum 78 credit hours of Business and Administration courses (BUS-####) may be used towards the degree.

REQUIREMENTS FOR A 4-YEAR BBA Concentration Stream

|-----------------------------------|---|
| ADMISSION REQUIREMENT | Admission to The University of Winnipeg with credit for Pre-calculus or Applied Mathematics 40S or equivalent |

- PHIL-2201 (6) Moral Philosophy
- PHIL-2230 (3) Moral Issues in Business
- PHIL-2233 (3) Environmental Ethics
- CRS-3231 (3) Ethics in Conflict Resolution

Concentration Area Requirements: Minimum 12 credit hours in the chosen concentration; of which a minimum of 9 credit hours are Business and Administration courses
(i.e., BUS-####)
and of those, a minimum 3 BUS credit hours at the 4000 level are required

Please note that BUS-2002 (3) Fundamentals of Financial Accounting and BUS-2003 (3) Managerial Accounting are pre-requisites for advanced courses in the Accounting concentration. Students may declare up to two concentrations.

The same course cannot be used to fulfill the requirements of two concentrations, unique courses in each concentration must be chosen.

Additional Business Requirements: Minimum 21 credit hours of Business and Administration courses (i.e., BUS-####) all of which must be at the 2000 level or above, in addition to those counted towards the specific concentration, including a minimum of 12 credit hours at the 3000 level or above 4000 Level Requirement: Minimum 6 credit hours of Business and Administration courses (i.e., BUS-4###, of which a minimum of 3 credit hours must be in the concentration).

For students completing a second concentration, they may simply subtract the credit hours in the second concentration from these 21 credit hours (i.e., they would be completing: 12 credit hours in the first concentration following the specifications noted in the Concentration Area Requirements above, 12 credit hours in the second concentration (also adhering to the same specifications as the first concentration) and 9 credit hours of additional Business and Administration courses, all of which must be at the 2000 level or above.)

BUS-3110 (3) or BUS-3255 (3) can be used towards fulfilling both the Corporate Social Responsibility and the Additional Business course Requirements

The former BUS-3440(3), BUS-3450(3), BUS-3460(3), BUS-3500(3), and BUS-3550(3) will be considered as BUS-4440(3), BUS-4450(3), BUS-4460(3), BUS-4500(3), and BUS-4555(3) respectively for the purpose of fulfilling the 4000 level credit hours requirement within the 4-Year BBA.

Maximum BUS Courses: Maximum 78 credit hours in Business and Administration courses (i.e. BUS-####) may be used towards the degree.

REQUIREMENTS FOR THE JOINT UNIVERSITY OF WINNIPEG/RRC POLYTECH PROGRAM

NOTE: The Joint program with RRC Polytech in Business is currently under review. No new students will be accepted to this program at this time.

In addition to the regular degree/programs offered, the University of Winnipeg and RRC Polytech have a co-operative agreement for a program of studies designed to afford students the opportunity to obtain both a degree (Bachelor of Business Administration) and a diploma (Business Administration Diploma) in less time than it would normally take to obtain the two qualifications, by allowing credit for work completed at the alternate institution. There are two options available.

Option A:

3-year or 4-year BBA: RRC Polytech Business Administration graduates may be eligible to receive transfer credits towards a degree at the University of Winnipeg. Upon admission to the University of Winnipeg, students' transcripts will be evaluated to determine specific credits eligible to be transferred from RRC Polytech. All students will be required to meet all University of Winnipeg degree requirements for their chosen degree, as indicated in the relevant Course Calendar.

Notes:

*High School Requirement: Pre-Calculus Mathematics 40S or Applied Mathematics 40S or equivalent. Students with Consumer Mathematics must complete additional Mathematics coursework in their first-year of the program.

* Three credit hours of Academic Writing is required if grade is less than 80% in English 40S (2 credits).

*There is a maximum number of additional credit hours that can be taken at the 1000 level in a degree program.

*Effective for new applicants for admission to the University of Winnipeg, having completed their programs at RRC from 2005/06 onward.

For complete details on transfer credits and requirements go to:

<https://www.uwinnipeg.ca/business/docs/rrc-articulation/rrc-articulation-may-2022-final.pdf>

Option B:

For University of Winnipeg BBA graduates to obtain the RRC Polytech Diploma, they must complete 50 to 75 credit hours at RRC Polytech to meet normal program requirements. The number of credit hours required will be dependent on the specific courses completed at the University of Winnipeg. Students interested in Option B are urged to consult with the Head of the Business Administration Program at RRC Polytech.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Course Selection

Students are advised to confirm Departmental offerings before planning their curriculum as certain courses may not be available in each term. Students are advised to ensure that currently listed courses do not duplicate material studied previously under different course numbers.

Students must meet Departmental prerequisites unless these are waived by the Chair of the Department concerned.

Students are encouraged to pursue courses in several discipline areas.

Students are advised to consult with the Chair or Faculty Advisor to ensure that they are correctly meeting departmental requirements.

Honours BSc

Honours BSc (Business Stream)

4-Year BSc (UW/RRC Polytech) - NOTE: This program is being discontinued. No new students will be admitted.

INTRODUCTION

Chemistry is the study of the property and composition of matter, the transformations that matter may undergo, and the energies associated with such transformations. There are five main areas of chemistry: analytical chemistry, inorganic chemistry, organic chemistry, physical chemistry, and biochemistry. The department offers a solid foundation in each of these areas, plus more advanced courses for specialization at the senior level.

The Department of Chemistry offers 3-year, 4-year, and Honours BSc degrees in Chemistry. The department is also involved in several other interdisciplinary programs, most notably Biochemistry, Chemical Physics, and Environmental Studies (Chemistry Stream). An additional option available is the 4-year BSc program in Applied Chemistry, offered jointly by the University of Winnipeg and Red River College. Students pursuing a 3-year or 4-year BSc in Chemistry have the opportunity to take a Business Stream – a set of core courses in the Faculty of Business that will provide them with the skills needed to enter and succeed in industry and business. After completing the requirements of the BSc degree and the set of core courses indicated in the "Science with a Business Stream" section of the Calendar, it will be noted on the student's transcript that they have satisfied the requirements of a BSc degree with a Business stream.

Chemists are involved in many fields, including environmental protection, pharmaceutical science, forensic science, toxicology, agricultural science, food science, education, geochemistry, biochemistry, materials science, biotechnology, oceanography, computer modelling, and plant management. Graduates from a 3-year BSc in Chemistry may proceed to professional schools in a health-related area (such as pharmacy, medicine, veterinary medicine, or dentistry), or to careers as diverse as education, library science, business administration, public administration, engineering and law. Graduates with 4-year or Honours degrees in Chemistry usually proceed directly to employment or to graduate school (to obtain an MSc or PhD degree). Ultimately, most obtain jobs either as technicians, managers, consultants or research scientists in industry or in government.

Arts students, with the required prerequisites, may take CHEM-1111(3) Introduction to the Chemical Properties of Matter, CHEM-1112(3) Basic Principles of Reactivity, or CHEM-2801(3) Environmental Issues: A Chemistry Perspective towards their Science requirement.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Prerequisites

Chemistry 40S AND either Pre-Calculus OR Applied Mathematics 40S are required for acceptance to the Chemistry Major program.

Laboratory Work

Laboratory work has been designed to complement the lecture material; students are able to work in small lab sections with the possibility of individual projects. In advanced labs, modern instrumental techniques and computer facilities are used extensively.

Pre-professional Program Requirements

Students planning to enter the Faculties of Dentistry or Medicine are required to take the following courses:

|---------------------|---|
| CHEM-1111(3) | Introduction to the Chemical Properties of Matter |
| CHEM-1112(3) | Basic Principles of Chemical Reactivity |
| CHEM-2202(3) | Organic Chemistry I |
| CHEM-2203(3) | Organic Chemistry II |
| CHEM-3502(3) | Intermediate Biochemistry I |
| CHEM-3503(3) | Intermediate Biochemistry II |

Students planning to enter professional faculties would normally take the above courses in sequence. However, provided that a minimum grade of 75 (or equivalent) was obtained in Chemistry 40S, the course CHEM-1111(3) may be taken concurrently with CHEM-2202(3), while CHEM-1112(3) may be taken concurrently with CHEM-2203(3). Also, provided that a minimum grade of B+ was obtained in both CHEM-1111(3) and CHEM-1112(3), the course CHEM-2202(3) may be taken concurrently with CHEM-3502(3), while CHEM-2203(3) may be taken concurrently with CHEM-3503(3).

REQUIREMENTS FOR THE 3-YEAR BSc IN CHEMISTRY

|-----------------------------------|--|
| ADMISSION REQUIREMENT | Students must consult with a department advisor in planning their course of study. |
| GRADUATION REQUIREMENT | 90 credit hours |
| RESIDENCE REQUIREMENT | |
| Degree: | Minimum 30 credit hours |
| Major: | Minimum 18 credit hours |
| GENERAL DEGREE REQUIREMENT | |
| Humanities: | 12 credit hours in Humanities |
| Writing: | Minimum 3 credit hours of Academic Writing. |
| Indigenous: | 3 credit hours in designated Indigenous requirement courses |
| Maximum Introductory Courses: | Students may use a maximum of 42 credit hours at the 1000 level. Of these, a maximum of 6 credit hours may be below the 1000 level. As a result, students must take a minimum of 48 credit hours at the 2000-level or above in order to not exceed the maximum number of introductory courses. |
| Distribution: | Minimum three (3) credit hours from each of five (5) different subjects. |
| MAJOR REQUIREMENT | |
| Single Major: | Minimum 33 credit hours/Maximum 48 credit hours in Major subject. |
| Double Major: | 33 credit hours in Chemistry and specified number of credit hours in the other department/program. |

Required courses:

CHEM-1111(3) Introduction to the Chemical Properties of Matter

CHEM-1112(3) Basic Principles of Chemical Reactivity

CHEM-2102(3) Thermodynamics and Kinetics

OR CHEM-2103(3) Atoms, Molecules and Spectroscopy

CHEM-2202(3) Organic Chemistry I

CHEM-2203(3) Organic Chemistry II

CHEM-2302(3) Quantitative Chemical Analysis

CHEM-2401(3) Inorganic Chemistry I

MATH-1101(6) Introduction to Calculus

OR MATH-1103(3) Introduction to Calculus I

AND MATH-1104(3) Introduction to Calculus II

PHYS-1101(6) Foundations of Physics I

OR PHYS-1301(6) Introduction to Physics

Plus an additional 12 credit hours of 2000-, 3000-, and/or 4000-level Chemistry courses.

Combined Major:

Prescribed Courses:

15 credit hours from CHEM-2102(3) Thermodynamics, CHEM-2202(3) Organic Chemistry I, CHEM-2203(3) Organic Chemistry II, CHEM-2302(3) Quantitative Chemical Analysis, CHEM-2401(3) Inorganic Chemistry I.

3 credit hours from CHEM-3101(3) Physical Chemistry of Condensed Phases, CHEM-3102(3) Quantum Chemistry and Spectroscopy, CHEM-3202(3) Reaction Mechanisms in Organic Chemistry, CHEM-3204(3) Organic Structure Determination, CHEM-3205(3) Organic Synthesis, CHEM-3302(3) Methods of Chemical Analysis, CHEM-3401(3) Inorganic Chemistry II, CHEM-3502(3) Intermediate Biochemistry I, CHEM-3503(3) Intermediate Biochemistry II, CHEM-3601(3) Environmental Chemistry.

Students must complete a Declaration of Major in a three-year Degree Program form, available from Student Central, before entering Year 2 of their studies.

Students are advised to consult with the Department when planning their studies.

REQUIREMENTS FOR THE 3-YEAR BSc IN CHEMISTRY WITH A BUSINESS STREAM

Students must complete the requirements of the 3-year BSc in Chemistry degree (see previous section) and the set of core courses indicated in the "Science with a Business Stream" section of the Calendar.

|-------------------------------|---|
| ADMISSION REQUIREMENT | Students must consult with a department advisor when planning their studies. |
| GRADUATION REQUIREMENT | 120 credit hours, that is, 90 credit hours meeting the requirements for the 3-Year BSc plus 30 additional credit hours. |
| RESIDENCE REQUIREMENT | |
| Degree: | Minimum 60 credit hours |

Major: Minimum 30 credit hours

GENERAL DEGREE REQUIREMENT

Humanities: 12 credit hours in Humanities.
Writing: Minimum 3 credit hours of Academic Writing.
Indigenous: 3 credit hours in designated Indigenous requirement courses
Maximum Introductory Courses: Students may use a maximum of 42 credit hours at the 1000 level. Of these, a maximum of 6 credit hours may be below the 1000 level. As a result, students must take a minimum of 78 credit hours at the 2000-level or above in order to not exceed the maximum number of introductory courses.
Distribution: Minimum three (3) credit hours from each of five (5) different subjects.

MAJOR REQUIREMENT

Single Major: Minimum 54 credit hours/Maximum 78 credit hours in the Major subject.
Maximum total of cognate and major courses is 84 credit hours combined.
Double Major: Minimum 54 credit hours in Chemistry and specified number of credit hours in other Major.

Required courses:

|---|--|
| CHEM-1111(3) Introduction to the Chemical Properties of Matter | CHEM-2502(3) Introduction to Biochemistry OR CHEM-3502(3) Intermediate Biochemistry I |
| CHEM-1112(3) Basic Principles of Chemical Reactivity | CHEM-3302(3) Methods of Chemical Analysis |
| CHEM-2102(3) Thermodynamics and Kinetics | CHEM-3401(3) Inorganic Chemistry II: Coordination Chemistry |

| CHEM-2302(3) Quantitative Chemical Analysis | PHYS-1101(6) Foundations of Physics I |
| CHEM-2401(3) Inorganic Chemistry I | OR PHYS-1301(6) Introduction to Physics |

Minimum 3 credit hours selected from the following courses:

PSYC-2101(3) Introduction to Data Analysis
STAT-1301(3) Statistical Analysis I (or the former STAT-1201(6) Intro to Stat Analysis)
STAT-1501(3) Elementary Biological Statistics I
Any Mathematics course numbered 2000 or above (MATH-2xxx) with the exceptions of MATH-2901(3) (History of Calculus) MATH-2902 (Math Prior to 1640), MATH-2905 (MATH/PHIL-2305 Philosophy and Mathematics) and MATH-2801(6) (Fundamentals of Computing), MATH-2903 Math for Early/Middle Year Teachers I.

Plus an additional 21 credit hours of 2000-, 3000- and/or 4000-level Chemistry courses.

Selection of Chemistry Courses: The 4-Year major requires a minimum of 54 credit hours in Chemistry. Since some senior courses are given in alternate years, all 4-Year majors are urged to seek academic advising within the Department EACH YEAR to avoid potential scheduling problems.

The following pattern of Chemistry courses is suggested:

Year 1 - 6 credit hours: CHEM-1111(3) Introduction to the Chemical Properties of Matter; CHEM-1112(3) Basic Principles of Chemical Reactivity.

Year 2 - 12 to 18 credit hours of the following required courses: CHEM-2102(3) Thermodynamics and Kinetics; CHEM-2103(3) Atoms, Molecules and Spectroscopy; CHEM-2202(3) Organic Chemistry I; CHEM-2203(3) Organic Chemistry II; CHEM-2302(3) Quantitative Chemical Analysis; CHEM-2401(3) Inorganic Chemistry I; CHEM-2502 (3) Introduction to Biochemistry; CHEM-3302(3) Methods of Chemical Analysis; CHEM-3401(3) Inorganic Chemistry II.

Note: If CHEM-3401(3) is selected then CHEM-2202(3) and CHEM-2203(3) must also be taken in Year 2. Students are advised to consult with the Department.

Year 3 - 18 credit hours in Chemistry, including the required courses that were not taken in Year 2.

Year 4 - 18 credit hours in Chemistry.

Note: A student would normally specialize in one or more areas of Chemistry (Analytical, Organic, Physical, Inorganic, Biochemistry) in Years 3 and 4 and should seek advice concerning course selection.

Note: It is recommended the following be taken in :

Year 1: MATH-1101(6) Introduction to Calculus OR MATH-1103(3) Introduction to Calculus I
AND MATH-1104(3) Introduction to Calculus II

Year 1 or 2: PHYS-1101(6) Foundations of Physics I OR PHYS-1301(6) Introduction to Physics

Students must complete a 4-Year BSc Degree form, available from Student Services.

Combined Major:

Prescribed Courses:

15 credit hours from CHEM-2202(3) Organic Chemistry I, CHEM-2203(3) Organic Chemistry II, CHEM-2102(3) Thermodynamics and Kinetics, CHEM-2302(3) Quantitative Chemical Analysis, CHEM-2401(3) Inorganic Chemistry I.

3 credit hours from CHEM-3101(3) Physical Chemistry of Condensed Phases, CHEM-3102(3) Quantum Chemistry and Spectroscopy, CHEM-3202(3) Reaction Mechanisms in Organic Chemistry, CHEM-3204(3) Organic Structure Determination, CHEM-3205(3) Organic Synthesis, CHEM-3302(3) Methods of Chemical Analysis, CHEM-3401(3) Inorganic Chemistry II, CHEM-3502(3) Intermediate Biochemistry I, CHEM-3503(3) Intermediate Biochemistry II, CHEM-3601(3) Environmental Chemistry.

REQUIREMENTS FOR THE 4-YEAR BSc IN CHEMISTRY WITH A BUSINESS STREAM

Students must complete the requirements of the 4-year BSc in Chemistry degree (see previous section) and the set of core courses indicated in the "Science with a Business Stream" section of the Calendar.

REQUIREMENTS FOR THE BSc (HONOURS) IN CHEMISTRY

| ADMISSION REQUIREMENT | Students must have completed 30 credit hours. Students must consult with and have the approval of the Department Chair or the Chair's designate when planning their studies. |
| GRADUATION REQUIREMENT Graduation GPA Requirement: | 120 credit hours To graduate with a BSc (Honours), students must have a minimum GPA of 3.0 on all major (Chemistry) courses which will be calculated on all course attempts in the major, and a minimum GPA of 2.75 on all non-major courses which will be calculated as for the general degree. |
| RESIDENCE REQUIREMENT Degree: Honours: | Minimum 60 credit hours Minimum 30 credit hours, including minimum 18 credit hours at upper level (3000/4000) of which a minimum of 9 credit hours at 4000 level. |
| GENERAL DEGREE REQUIREMENT Humanities: Writing: Indigenous: | 12 credit hours in Humanities. Minimum 3 credit hours of Academic Writing. 3 credit hours in designated Indigenous requirement courses |
| Maximum Introductory Courses: | Students may use a maximum of 42 credit hours at the 1000 level. Of these, a maximum of 6 credit hours may be below the 1000 level. As a result, students must take a minimum of 78 credit hours at the 2000-level or above in order to not exceed the maximum number of introductory courses. |
| Distribution: | Minimum three (3) credit hours from each of five (5) different subjects. |
| HONOURS REQUIREMENT Single Honours: | Minimum 60 credit hours in the Major subject. Minimum 30 credit hours in upper-level (3000 and 4000) Honours subject courses of which a minimum of 12 credit hours must be at the 4000 level. |

Students must complete an Honours BSc Degree form, available from Student Central.

REQUIREMENTS FOR THE HONOURS BSc IN CHEMISTRY WITH A BUSINESS STREAM

Students must complete the requirements of the Honours BSc in Chemistry degree (see previous section) and the set of core courses indicated in the "Science with a Business Stream" section of the Calendar.

REQUIREMENTS FOR THE UNIVERSITY OF WINNIPEG / RRC POLYTECH 4-YEAR BSc (JOINT PROGRAM IN APPLIED CHEMISTRY)

NOTE: The Joint Applied Science program with RRC Polytech in Chemistry is being discontinued. No new students will be accepted to this program.

INTRODUCTION

This is a joint degree program whereby students take courses at both The University of Winnipeg and RRC Polytech in a prescribed sequence.

Students are required to complete courses at both institutions. Students will begin their program of study by completing 60 credit hours of course work at The University of Winnipeg. The next 30 credit hours are completed at RRC Polytech and then students return to The University of Winnipeg to complete the final 30 credit hours. Students successfully completing the entire program will receive a joint degree parchment from RRC Polytech and The University of Winnipeg. N.B. Transfer of courses between institutions applies only to students who are officially registered in the joint program.

ADMISSION REQUIREMENT

Students must meet the entrance requirements for admission to The University of Winnipeg. Applications to the program in Applied Chemistry must be completed through the Admissions Office of The University of Winnipeg by March 1st in order to enter the program in September.

GRADUATION REQUIREMENT

120 credit hours, that is, 90 credit hours meeting the requirements for the BSc General plus 30 additional credit hours.

RESIDENCE REQUIREMENT

Degree: Minimum 60 credit hours
 Major: Minimum 30 credit hours

GENERAL DEGREE REQUIREMENT

Humanities: 12 credit hours in Humanities.
 Writing: Minimum 3 credit hours of Academic Writing.
 Indigenous: 3 credit hours in designated Indigenous requirement courses
 Maximum Introductory Courses: Students may use a maximum of 42 credit hours at the 1000 level. Of these, a maximum of 6 credit hours may be below the 1000 level. As a result, students must take a minimum of 78 credit hours at the 2000-level or above in order to not exceed the maximum number of introductory courses.
 Distribution: Minimum three (3) credit hours from each of five (5) different subjects.

Required Courses:

(These are the Core courses for all Applied Chemistry BSc students)

CLASSICS (CLAS)

Greek and Roman Studies

Updated November 20, 2023

Chair: Associate Professor P.J. Miller; Professor Emeritus: J. I. McDougall; Professor: M. MacKinnon, C. Whately; Associate Professor: P. Ripat, A. Surtees; Assistant Professor: M. Funke, M. Racette-Campbell, F. Vasconcellos Amaral.

DEGREES/PROGRAMS OFFERED

3-Year BA
4-Year BA
Honours BA
Minor

INTRODUCTION

Classics is the study of the Ancient Greek and Roman worlds from the perspectives of literature, history, archaeology, and art history. For various historical reasons, the Classical world and Classical languages have had an enormous influence on critical contemporary concepts as, for example, democracy, athletics, medicine, politics, and philosophy. Moreover, the literature and art of ancient Greece and Rome continue to be a source of creative inspiration for writers, artists, and filmmakers across the globe.

The University of Winnipeg Classics Department is committed to a critical approach to the ancient Mediterranean world and its diverse historical interpretations. The multicultural nature of the ancient Mediterranean world provides the opportunity to contemplate in the past issues of current importance, such as community identity in multiethnic settings, the influence of various political systems on the historical development of communities, the dynamics of social and economic inequality, the function of literature in the creation of cultural values, and the relationship between technology and leisure - or between technology and the exertion of power. The courses offered are designed to provide a broader and deeper contemplation of ancient society and of ourselves as members of our own contemporary society. Courses in Classics in themselves constitute a liberal education but may also be taken to supplement one or another of a wide range of disciplines. A degree in Classics prepares students for any pursuit that involves analytic thinking and clear communication of complex ideas.

Within the Classics Department, you may choose to concentrate on courses in Classical Civilization or on courses which study the Classical languages of Latin and Ancient Greek. The Classics Department offers the 3-Year, 4-Year, and Honours BA degrees. The Department of Classics participates in the Interdepartmental Minor in Comparative Literature. For eligible courses, please see Comparative Literature in this Calendar.

REQUIREMENTS FOR A 3-YEAR BA IN CLASSICS

ADMISSION REQUIREMENT Students must consult with a member of the Department in planning their course of study.

GRADUATION REQUIREMENT 90 credit hours

RESIDENCE REQUIREMENT

Degree: Minimum 30 credit hours
Major: Minimum 18 credit hours

GENERAL DEGREE REQUIREMENT

Humanities: 12 credit hours in Humanities
Science: Six (6) credit hours in Science
Writing: Minimum three (3) credit hours of Academic Writing
Indigenous: Three (3) credit hours in designated Indigenous requirement courses
Maximum Introductory Courses: Students may use a maximum of 42 credit hours at the 1000 level. Of these, a maximum of six (6) credit hours may be below the 1000 level. As a result, students must take a minimum of 48 credit hours at the 2000 level or above in order to not exceed the maximum number of introductory courses.

Distribution: Minimum three (3) credit hours from each of five (5) different subjects

MAJOR REQUIREMENT

Single Major: Minimum 30 credit hours/maximum 48 credit hours in the Major subject
Double Major: 30 credit hours in Classics and specified number of credit hours in the other department/program

Programs of study are available in two different areas: Classical Civilization and Classical Languages (Latin and/or Greek). Students majoring in Classical Civilization are encouraged (but not required) to take a minimum of three (3) credit hours of Introductory Latin (CLAS-1100) or 3 credit hours of Introductory Greek (CLAS-1200). Students majoring in Classical Languages must have 30 credit hours in Latin and/or Greek.

Students are advised to consult with a member of the Department as to the most desirable program to fit their individual needs.

|---------------------|--|
| Combined Major: | Minimum 48 credit hours from two (2) different majors with not less than 18 credit hours from each major subject |
| Prescribed courses: | To be determined in consultation with the Department |

|-----------------------------------|--|
| ADMISSION REQUIREMENT | Students must consult with a member of the Department in planning their course of study. Minimum 30 credit hours completed previously. |
| GRADUATION REQUIREMENT | 120 credit hours |
| RESIDENCE REQUIREMENT | |
| Degree: | Minimum 60 credit hours |
| Major: | Minimum 30 credit hours |
| GENERAL DEGREE REQUIREMENT | |
| Humanities: | 12 credit hours |
| Science: | Six (6) credit hours |
| Social Science: | 12 credit hours |
| Writing: | Minimum three (3) credit hours of Academic Writing |
| Indigenous: | Three (3) credit hours in designated Indigenous requirement courses |
| Maximum Introductory Courses: | Students may use a maximum of 42 credit hours at the 1000 level. Of these, a maximum of six (6) credit hours may be below the 1000 level. As a result, students must take a minimum of 78 credit hours at the 2000 level or above in order to not exceed the maximum number of introductory courses. |
| Distribution: | Minimum three (3) credit hours from each of five (5) different subjects |
| MAJOR REQUIREMENT | |
| Single Major: | Minimum 48 credit hours/maximum 66 credit hours in the Major subject |
| Double Major: | Minimum 48 credit hours in each Major subject as specified by the department/program |

Programs of study are available in two different areas: Classical Civilization and Classical Languages (Latin and/or Greek). Students majoring in Classical Languages must have 36 credit hours in Latin and/or Greek. Students are advised to consult with a member of the Department as to the most desirable program to fit their individual needs. Students majoring in Classical Civilization are encouraged (but not required) to take a minimum of three (3) credit hours of Introductory Latin (CLAS-1100) or three (3) credit hours of Introductory Greek (CLAS-1200).

|---------------------|--|
| Combined Major: | Minimum 60 credit hours from two (2) different majors with not less than 24 credit hours from each major subject |
| Prescribed courses: | To be determined in consultation with the Department |

REQUIREMENTS FOR AN HONOURS BA IN CLASSICS (CLASSICAL LANGUAGES)

|-----------------------------------|--|
| ADMISSION REQUIREMENT | Entry into the program after completing a minimum of 30 credit hours. Entry, continuing, and graduation minimum GPA is 3.0 (B) in Honours Subject courses and 2.5 (C+) in Non-Honours Subject courses. The minimum 3.0 GPA (B) will be based on all attempts (including course repeats and failures) in Honours Subject courses. The minimum 2.5 GPA (C+) in all Non-Honours Subject courses will be calculated as for the general degree (i.e., F's are not included, and in the case of repeated courses, only the highest grade will be used). |
| GRADUATION REQUIREMENT | 120 credit hours, with minimum 3.0 GPA (B) in Honours subject courses and 2.5 GPA (C+) in Non-Honours Subject courses |
| RESIDENCE REQUIREMENT | |
| Degree: | Minimum 60 credit hours |
| Honours: | Minimum 30 credit hours, including minimum 18 credit hours at upper level (3000/4000) of which a minimum of nine (9) credit hours must be at the 4000 level |
| GENERAL DEGREE REQUIREMENT | |
| Humanities: | 12 credit hours in Humanities |
| Science: | Six (6) credit hours in Science |
| Writing: | Minimum three (3) credit hours of Academic Writing |
| Indigenous: | Three (3) credit hours in designated Indigenous requirement courses |
| Maximum Introductory Courses: | Students may use a maximum of 42 credit hours at the 1000 level. Of these, a maximum of 6 credit hours may be below the 1000 level. As a result, students must take a minimum of 78 credit hours at the 2000 level or above in order to not exceed the maximum number of introductory courses. |

Distribution: Minimum three (3) credit hours from each of five (5) different subjects

HONOURS REQUIREMENT

Single Honours: Minimum 54 credit hours/maximum 78 credit hours in the Honours subject
Minimum 30 credit hours in upper-level (3000/4000) Honours subject courses of which a minimum of 21 credit hours must be at the 4000 level

Double Honours: Minimum 36 credit hours in each Honours subject
Minimum 21 credit hours in 4000 level Honours courses in the Classics component of the double Honours
For the requirements of the other Honours subject, consult the department involved

Required Courses for BA Honours in Classics (Classical Languages): CLAS-4400(3) Thesis

Students, particularly those intending to pursue graduate studies in Classics, are advised to take as many 4000 level courses in the two languages as possible. All 3000 level courses in the two languages are also offered at the 4000 level, and will be supplemented for Honours students to meet the requirements of the Honours program. In addition to the Thesis, Honours students in the Classical Language stream may use the following 4000 level courses towards their degree requirements:

|--|--|
| CLAS-4000(3) Advanced Studies in Classics and Classical Archaeology | CLAS-4212(3) Archaic Greek Lyric |
| CLAS-4101(3) Drama of the Republic | CLAS-4213(3) Archaic Greek Epic |
| CLAS-4102(3) Poetry of the Republic | CLAS-4221(3) Archaic Greek Tragedy |
| CLAS-4111(3) Prose Literature of the Republic | CLAS-4222(3) Archaic Greek Comedy |
| CLAS-4112(3) Prose Literature of the Augustan Age | CLAS-4231(3) Ancient Greek History |
| CLAS-4122(3) Lyric Poetry of the Augustan Age | CLAS-4232(3) Ancient Greek Philosophy |
| CLAS-4123(3) Epic Poetry of the Augustan Age | CLAS-4241(3) Ancient Greek Oratory |
| CLAS-4131(3) Poetry of the Empire | CLAS-4251(3) Hellenistic and Imperial Prose |
| CLAS-4141(3) Prose Literature of the Roman Empire | CLAS-4252(3) Hellenistic Poetry |
| | CLAS-4256(3) Tutorial in Ancient Language and Literature |

REQUIREMENTS FOR AN HONOURS BA IN CLASSICS (CLASSICAL CIVILIZATION)

ADMISSION REQUIREMENT

Entry into the program after completing a minimum of 30 credit hours.
Entry, continuing, and graduation minimum GPA is 3.0 (B) in Honours Subject courses and 2.5 (C+) in Non-Honours Subject courses.
The minimum 3.0 GPA (B) will be based on all attempts (including course repeats and failures) in Honours Subject courses.
The minimum 2.5 GPA (C+) in all Non-Honours Subject courses will be calculated as for the general degree (i.e., F's are not included, and in the case of repeated courses, only the highest grade will be used).

GRADUATION REQUIREMENT 120 credit hours, with a minimum 3.0 GPA (B) in Honours Subject courses and 2.5 GPA (C+) in Non-Honours Subject courses

RESIDENCE REQUIREMENT

Degree: Minimum 60 credit hours
Honours: Minimum 30 credit hours, including minimum 18 credit hours at upper level (3000/4000) of which a minimum of nine (9) credit hours must be at the 4000 level

COURSE LISTINGS

The Classics Department has organized its courses into two areas of specialization. This division is provided as a guideline to the Areas of Study available for concentration.

CLASSICAL CIVILIZATION

Students whose primary interest is the study of ancient Greek and Roman society and culture may complete any of a wide range of courses which do not require a knowledge of the Latin and Greek languages. These have been organized into different categories to aid the student in selecting relevant courses.

LATIN AND GREEK

A reasonable number of courses of Latin and Greek is made available to students each year. The introductory courses allow students to begin their study of the Classical Languages with no prerequisites and thus gain access to Latin and Greek literature in the original during the course of their degree. In the introductory courses (CLAS-1100(3), CLAS-1101(3), CLAS-1200(3), and CLAS-1201(3)), students are provided with the linguistic skills necessary to enable them to read Greek and Latin fluently. In the intermediate and senior language courses emphasis is placed on training students to read with comprehension as quickly as possible, and in the process of reading the ancient authors students are acquainted with the vital aspects of Greek and Roman society and culture. A wide range of offerings is available in both Latin and Greek. These courses provide students with the sound linguistic background essential for graduate work.

COMPARATIVE LITERATURE (COMP)

January 30, 2024

Note: Courses offered in the COMP Program use regular department codes.

Faculty Advisors: L. Rodriguez, S. Roldan (Modern Languages and Literatures, French); D. Gupa, J. Riley, (Theatre and Film), L. Szekely (Religion and Culture and EALC); M. Racette-Campbell (Classics); H. Snell (English); A. McGillivray (Rhetoric, Writing, and Communications).

Contacts: R. Berg, Office Manager (Modern Languages and Literatures), M. Tallin, Office Manager (Theatre and Film).

Other Department Chairs and/or Office Managers may also be contacted for information on currently scheduled COMP courses and the names of Instructors. Chairs of the participating Departments and Programs are responsible for signing off on students' Minors at the point of graduation.

PROGRAM OFFERED Interdepartmental Minor

INTRODUCTION

The Interdepartmental Minor in Comparative Literature was introduced in 2016 by the Department of Modern Languages and Literatures, as a new Minor open to all students. The University of Winnipeg is the only institution in Manitoba offering a program in Comparative Literature.

Comparative Literature is the study of literary expression across linguistic, cultural or national borders. Most often, it examines a genre, a theme, a style, an historical or cultural event, as it appears in literary works written in two or more different languages (works read in translation). The range of inquiry may include comparisons between literature and other artistic forms (such as painting, film, photography, music, or oral tradition), as well as with other academic domains (such as linguistics, philosophy, politics or science).

The Comparative Literature Minor offers a diverse intercultural reading program, aimed at international awareness, knowledge and understanding. Comparative Literature, with its intercultural and transnational focus, is particularly appealing to Humanities majors, and to any student interested in languages, bilingualism or relations between language and culture. Comparatists have, or develop, some interest in translation studies, critical theory, history, art, or cultural and literary studies, among other fields. The Minor gives students the opportunity for a flexible reading program suited to their personal interests and to a liberal arts education.

Comparative Literature is a domain in expansion in many universities in North America and in the world, and this Minor constitutes an excellent undergraduate preparation for further graduate options.

REQUIREMENTS FOR A MINOR IN COMPARATIVE LITERATURE

|----------------------------|---|
| Degree: | Students completing any undergraduate degree program are eligible to complete the Minor. |
| Minor: | 18 credit hours in the Minor subject, with a minimum of 3 credits at each level (2000, 3000 or 4000) |
| Residence Requirement: | A Minimum of 12 credit hours in the Minor subject |
| Departmental Distribution: | The COMP Minor is an Interdepartmental Program combining courses offered in different Arts departments and programs, with 9 credits required from one department, and a total of 9 credits from two (or more) other departments. Permission of Instructor may be sought for courses with prerequisites. |
| Restrictions: | Students cannot declare the same subject as a Major and a Minor. |

COURSE LISTINGS

Students are advised to consult the appropriate Timetable or WebAdvisor for courses offered during the current term.

The list of Comparative Literature courses offered in each academic year is also available at the Department of Modern Languages and Literatures, and at other departments offering COMP courses that year.

CONFLICT RESOLUTION STUDIES (CRS)

(OFFERED IN COOPERATION WITH MENNO SIMONS COLLEGE)

Updated January 30, 2024

Chair: Associate Professor R. Vander Zaag; Associate Professor Emeritus: N. Funk-Unrau; Associate Professors: A. Snyder; S. Stobbe, J. Arnold; Teaching Associate Professor: K. Ridd; Assistant Professor: J. Dueck-Read;

NOTE: As of June 30, 2023, no students will be admitted into the 4-year Conflict Resolution Studies program. The 4-year program is being discontinued. Current students pursuing the 4-year degree will be able to complete their program of studies. The 3-year program in CRS will continue to be offered. Most courses will be offered online and some courses will be offered in-person at The University of Winnipeg or at Canadian Mennonite University.

DEGREES/PROGRAMS OFFERED

3-Year BA

4-Year BA

Minor

INTRODUCTION

Conflict Resolution Studies (CRS) seeks to understand the nature and dynamics of human conflict, and to look at appropriate alternatives for dealing with conflict in ways which develop healthy relationships and prevent violence. Conflicts are analyzed from an interdisciplinary perspective together with topics such as violence, power, justice, peace, communication, culture, war, conflict transformation and dispute resolution. CRS prepares students to understand and interact constructively in response to personal, local and global conflict situations.

Conflict Resolution Studies is one of the two majors offered through Menno Simons College (MSC), an affiliated college of the University of Winnipeg. There is flexibility in this program to allow for double majors. All MSC students register as University of Winnipeg students. All degrees are conferred by The University of Winnipeg. For additional information about Menno Simons College, see "Other Programs" in the Course Calendar.

Students choosing to major in CRS should consider the following points:

1. The 3-year CRS BA is designed for students who have an interest in Conflict Resolution Studies, with a particular focus on the interpersonal, Restorative Justice, Nonviolence, or Conflict, Poverty and Development.
2. The 4-year CRS BA is designed for students who plan to pursue professional work or graduate studies in the field of conflict resolution.
3. The CRS minor is designed for students pursuing a degree within another discipline, who have an interest in the intersection of Conflict Resolution Studies, Peace Studies and their chosen field.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Prerequisites:

Students are advised that certain courses have prerequisites. Courses with prerequisites are marked with an asterisk.

Practicum Opportunities:

Practicum placements enable students to develop skills and apply classroom theory to real-life situations. They may require significant preparatory work and generally last from three to six months in either a local or an international setting. It is preferred that students taking part in an international practicum do so prior to their final semester of courses.

Students must explore options with the Practicum Director well in advance of the term in which they propose to engage in these practicum activities. To register, students need permission from the Practicum Director and they must have a cumulative grade point average of 2.75.

Required Core Courses for Practicum:

| CRS-3221(1.5) | Mediation Skills Workshop* |

COURSE LISTINGS

CRS Core Courses

These courses have been developed by CRS faculty to address core areas of importance to the theoretical and practical exploration of Conflict Resolution Studies. Introduction to Conflict Resolution Studies, Conflict Theory and Analysis, Models for Conflict Transformation, Conflict and Culture, and the Senior Seminar provide students with an overall framework for an understanding of the complexities of conflict in contemporary life and span all categories. The Coaching Skills Workshop, Mediation Skills Workshop, and Practicum provide grounding in basic skills necessary for effective conflict resolution. The remaining courses are organized in terms of three specific concentrations.

CRS Special Courses

These courses are offered on an occasional basis as the opportunity arises. The specific course concentration depends on the topic of the course at any given time. Consult the MSC Academic Advisor or Program Coordinator for details.

|---------------|--|
| CRS-2111(1.5) | Special Topics Workshop |
| CRS-2281(3) | Selected Topics in Conflict Resolution Studies |
| CRS-3262(3) | Critical Issues in Conflict Resolution |

CRS Area Courses

Area courses are rooted in traditional disciplines as well as other interdisciplinary programs and address issues that are directly relevant to the CRS Program. These courses are organized below into general categories emphasized through the CRS course concentrations, although any of these courses may relate to more than one of the CRS concentrations. Categories of research and language skills are included to emphasize the specialized cognate courses recommended for the 4-year program.

Note: Most courses from other departments and programs will have their own prerequisites. Courses requiring prerequisites are marked with an asterisk. It is the student's responsibility to determine what the prerequisites are.

Note: The Area Courses list is meant to be a list of courses complementary to the special interests of CRS students. Because curriculum offerings keep changing, and because students may have some specific interests not included in the Area Courses list, students may make application to the MSC Academic Advisor to consider some other courses relevant to their major interests for inclusion as Area Courses.

COOPERATIVE EDUCATION (COOP)

November 13, 2023

INTRODUCTION

The University offers opportunities for work-integrated learning through cooperative work experiences, called Co-ops. The University of Winnipeg's Co-operative Education Program is open to students with a declared Major in Applied Computer Science, Business and Administration, Economics, or Economics and Finance, though the program will consider students outside these areas on a case by case basis. The Co-op courses provide a university-wide means for Departments or Faculties to organize and recognize paid work terms as Co-op work terms for their students.

DEGREES/PROGRAMS OFFERED

3-Year BA

4-Year BA

Honours BA

Minor

MA - Details are available in the Graduate Studies Academic Calendar.

INTRODUCTION

The Criminal Justice program examines topics including law, crime, offenders, victims, the criminal justice system and other forms of social sanctions and regulatory controls as it relates to justice. Our students learn about historical and contemporary explanations of crime and justice, and become familiar with research literature on criminal justice agencies such as police, courts, and corrections. Students are challenged to think critically about key issues confronting the criminal justice system, the strengths and limits of possible reforms and thinking about abolition, as well as the ethical dilemmas facing criminal justice systems.

Graduates may find career opportunities in a variety of government agencies such as provincial and federal departments of justice, law enforcement; institutional, community or youth corrections; probation or parole; court systems, paralegal, victim services, civil service; policy analyst. Career opportunities are also available in non-governmental agencies which could include activist agencies, legal help centres, social welfare programming, rehabilitation counseling, and evaluation and research. The program also provides a strong background for those who wish to pursue graduate studies or law school.

DANCE PROGRAM (DANC)

Offered in Conjunction with the Department of Theatre and Film

January 31, 2024

Co-Directors: Odette Heyn, C.M., Faye Thomson, C.M.

DEGREES OFFERED IN DANCE

3-Year BA
Honours BA

INTRODUCTION

The objective of the Dance Program is to prepare Dance Program majors for graduate-equivalent training and/or professional work in performance, teaching, and/or choreography. The Program is offered jointly with the Senior Professional Program of the School of Contemporary Dancers and admission requires successful audition to the Senior Professional Program of the School of Contemporary Dancers. Continuance in the Dance Program is based on progress as assessed by the School of Contemporary Dancers. The School of Contemporary Dancers is an autonomous training centre with an international reputation. Although affiliated with the University of Winnipeg, professional assessment standards are applied by the school based on industry practice and are subject to periodic external review.

In order to avoid errors in course selection and load (which may result in the need to take additional courses for the degree), we STRONGLY ENCOURAGE students to consult with the Department's Student Advisor in planning their course of study. Call (204) 786-9955 for further information or to arrange an appointment.

REQUIREMENTS FOR A 3-YEAR BA IN DANCE

Although the program objective is designed to promote development as a professional performer and entrants must demonstrate the desire and potential to meet that goal, for students who are not proceeding to Fourth-Year Honours, the 3-Year BA offers an opportunity to complete degree studies with professional dance training which may be used to contribute to careers in teaching, choreography, or other related areas.

REQUIREMENTS FOR THE BA HONOURS IN DANCE

The Honours Program is limited to those who are seeking elite training at the level of, and who have demonstrated the ability to become, an emerging artist as a professional dancer.

Note: Registration for all Honours courses in Dance is by permission of The School of Contemporary Dancers. Students' level of development during the third year of the program must be assessed by the School of Contemporary Dancers to be suitable in order to progress to the fourth year.

ADMISSION REQUIREMENT

Successful audition and acceptance to the Senior Professional Program of the School of Contemporary Dancers.

Students may enter into the program after completing a minimum of 30 credit hours. Entry, continuing, and graduation minimum GPA is 3.0 (B) in Honours subject courses and 2.5 (C+) in Non-Honours subject courses. The minimum 3.0 GPA (B) will be based on all attempts (including course repeats and failures) in Honours subject courses. The minimum 2.5 GPA (C+) in all Non-Honours subject courses will be calculated as for the general degree (i.e., F's are not included, and in the case of repeated courses, only the highest grade will be used).

GENERAL INFORMATION

The Department of Theatre and Film (THFM) offers a series of three courses available exclusively to Dance Program students which provide theatrical training in areas of special interest to dancers: THFM-2604(2) Introduction to Stage Lighting for Dance; THFM-2605(2) Lighting for Dance Practicum; and THFM-2606(2) Self Producing for Dance. These courses are scheduled by the School of Contemporary Dancers and, taken together, provide six credit hours towards the non-dance course requirement. Students in the Dance Program will be notified of each offering.

In order to fulfill non-major requirements, students intending to complete a Major/Honours degree in the Dance Program are encouraged to look at the Calendar entries for Theatre and Film and other departments such as: Biology, Kinesiology and Applied Health, and Psychology for courses which complement studies in Dance.

DEVELOPMENTAL STUDIES (DEV)

January 16, 2024

Director: Sheri-Lynn Skwarchuk

Instructors: Katharine Tabernor, Sarah Yager, Heather Krepski, Alanna Friedman, Debra Mayer, Sheri-Lynn Skwarchuk

Academic Advisor: Katy Leverick

DEGREES/PROGRAMS OFFERED

3-Year BA

INTRODUCTION

Developmental Studies is a distinct field that draws on the integration of the perspectives and methods of many disciplines to provide a coherent analysis of the biological, environmental, and social factors that influence both individual and group development. As such, it has specific relevance for a growing number of occupations and professions, notably child care, gerontology, and family studies.

The Developmental Studies Program is an Interdisciplinary Major which differs from a regular Major program in that it is composed of offerings from several different departments. The program includes courses from the Departments of Anthropology, Biology, Business and Administration, Chemistry, Conflict Resolution Studies, English, Geography, History, Kinesiology and Applied Health, Mathematics, Philosophy, Politics, Psychology, Sociology, and Statistics. As a student of Developmental Studies, you may choose to pursue one of three streams: Stream A: Individual Human Development, Stream B: Comparative Biological Development, or Stream C: Child Development and Child Care.

Students who major in Developmental Studies (Stream A or C) may qualify for employment in government positions or in institutions dealing with early-childhood services. For those interested in pursuing this field, graduate work prepares them for research, administration, and university teaching.

All students pursuing majors are required to select courses from various groups as indicated below, depending on the stream selected. In addition, students wishing to orient their program towards specific educational goals are advised to seek advice early in their program for appropriate course selection. For more information, visit <https://www.uwinnipeg.ca/developmental-studies/index.html>

REQUIREMENTS FOR A 3-YEAR BA IN DEVELOPMENTAL STUDIES

|-----------------------------------|--|
| ADMISSION REQUIREMENT | Students must meet regular-status or mature-status admission requirements. In addition, students applying to Stream C must be accepted into the program. The Stream C Selection Committee will select students on the basis of their academic qualifications and admissibility to the program. |
| GRADUATION REQUIREMENT | 90 credit hours |
| RESIDENCE REQUIREMENT | |
| Degree: | Minimum 30 credit hours |
| Major: | Minimum 18 credit hours |
| GENERAL DEGREE REQUIREMENT | |
| Humanities: | 12 credit hours in Humanities |
| Science: | 6 credit hours in Science |
| Writing: | Minimum 3 credit hours of Academic Writing |
| | Indigenous: 3 credit hours in designated Indigenous requirement courses |
| Maximum Introductory Courses: | Students may use a maximum of 42 credit hours at the 1000 level. Of these, a maximum of 6 credit hours may be below the 1000 level. Note: Stream C students entering with a two-year ECE Diploma receive advanced standing for 30 credit hours toward a BA. These 30 credit hours are deemed to be at the 1000 level, allowing for an additional 12 credit hours at the 1000 level within the 60 credit hours necessary to fulfil the requirements for a BA. |
| Distribution: | Minimum three (3) credit hours from each of five (5) different subjects. |
| MAJOR REQUIREMENT | |
| Single Major: | Minimum 30 - 45 credit hours (depending on Stream selected) from four different Departments |
| Double Major: | Minimum 30 - 45 credit hours in Developmental Studies (depending on Stream selected) and a specified number of credit hours in the second Major. (The number may vary, depending on interdisciplinary courses completed, as they may be credited to both Majors.) |

Required courses:

Students must establish their Major program of study in one of three streams: Stream A: Individual Human Development; Stream B: Comparative Biological Development; or Stream C: Child Development and Child Care. Students are advised to consult the Department listings for course descriptions and the respective timetable for courses to be offered during the current term. They are also advised to check any prerequisites required for courses they wish to take and to consult with the Director or an advisor in planning their program of studies.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Prerequisites and Waivers

All students in Developmental Studies (Stream A, B, or C) will receive a waiver of SOC-1100(3) or the former SOC-1101(6) only for SOC-2115(6) Sociology of Socialization and Development, SOC-2103(3) Sociology of Families, and SOC-3303(3) Globalization and Families. Students who wish to take other Sociology courses must complete the prerequisite introductory course or seek a waiver from the Sociology Department.

Applicants who hold a two-year ECE Diploma from either RRC Polytech (RRCP) or Université de Saint-Boniface (USB) will receive a waiver for PSYC-1000(6) Introductory Psychology and PSYC-2200(3) Developmental Psychology I: Fundamentals.

Often, a course will list a prerequisite or indicate "Departmental permission." Applicants interested in such courses should contact the Department to discuss their qualifications. If the Department deems the applicant as having the background necessary for the course, a prerequisite waiver will be issued and the applicant may register for the course.

Education Students in the Early Years, Middle Years, and Early/Middle Years Streams Selecting Developmental Studies (DS) as their "Teachable Minor"

The following four courses are required:

1. PSYC-2200(3) Developmental Psychology I - Fundamentals (Note: The Psychology Department will waive the prerequisite PSYC-1000(6) Introductory Psychology only (for Education students who have selected DS as their teachable minor))
2. DEV-3300(3) Speech and Language Disorders
3. DEV-2004(3) Observation and Evaluation Techniques
4. DEV-3100(3) The Child, Family, and Social Policy

Advanced Internship Requirements

All students in Stream C will be required to participate in an advanced internship in their selected area of specialization (Inclusion or Child Care Administration). The goals of the internship are to provide students with opportunities to integrate theoretical learning with practical experience and focus on emerging leadership skills.

The internship will involve the equivalent of two days a week to be spent in a designated internship setting in the final term of the program. Under special circumstances, the student may elect to complete the internship over a four-week block of time (equivalent of 20 full days), after consultation with and approval of the instructor. Students will be required to develop a major project that provides a focused learning experience in their internship placement. The Topics in Leadership in ECCE course will be taught in conjunction with the advanced internship, giving students the opportunity to exchange perspectives on a broad range of issues relating to their respective fields. Students will gain information and skills through in-class discussions and presentations, reporting on experiences gained through their internship placements, and individual research and readings.

STREAM C CHILD DEVELOPMENT AND CHILD CARE INTRODUCTION

RRC Polytech (RRCP)

Stream C is an expansion of a long-standing joint program between the University of Winnipeg (UW) and RRC Polytech (RRCP). By combining the resources of both institutions, students are able to earn both the RRCP two-year diploma in Early Childhood Education (ECE) and the UW three-year BA in Developmental Studies in a four-year period of full-time study. Stream C is a professional program particularly designed for those who wish to pursue the area of early-childhood development and seek classification as an Early Childhood Educator III under the regulations of the Manitoba Department of Families. For more information regarding the RRCP program, contact Lisa Robinson, Student Records Officer, at 204-632-2328 or lrobinson@rrc.ca

Université de Saint-Boniface (USB)

Université de Saint-Boniface (USB) graduates of the two-year ECE program at USB receive 30 credit hours of advanced standing towards a BA in Developmental Studies. The University of Winnipeg recognizes the USB and RRC programs as equivalent. For more information regarding the USB program, contact Paulette Tremorin, Liaison professor with joint UW/USB program, at 204-237-1818, Ext 213, Ext. 735 or ptremorin@ustboniface.ca.

Articulation with the Advanced Diploma in Leadership in Early Childhood Care and Education Program (ECCE) through UW 's Professional, Applied, and Continuing Education (PACE)

The Advanced Diploma in Leadership in Early Childhood Care and Education is a leadership development program designed for childcare professionals who already have experience in the childcare field (e.g., childcare directors, educators, advocates, policy analysts, trainers, and supervisors). This Advanced Diploma provides a unique combination of courses from the PACE Professional Studies Program area and Developmental Studies, Stream C. It includes the following DEV courses: DEV-3100(3) The Child, Family, and Social Policy, DEV-3610(3) Topics in Leadership in Early Childhood Care and Education, and DEV-3630(3) Advanced Internship.

Application Procedures

Students must apply for the Advanced Diploma in Leadership in ECCE through PACE and at the same time complete an application for admission to the Faculty of Arts and Science. Only one admission fee will be charged. Original documentation must accompany the applications for admission. For more information, consult the UW PACE Calendar, Professional Studies, Part-time Program (<http://pace.uwinnipegcourses.ca/>) or call 204-982-6633 and request an Advanced Diploma in Leadership in Early Childhood Care and Education Information Handbook, or contact Ashlie Wilson at 982-1179 or a.wilson@uwinnipeg.ca.

Students admitted to the Advanced Diploma in Leadership in ECCE must complete the PACE courses before registering for the three Arts Degree credit courses and must obtain permission from PACE academic advisor, Stephanie Rozzi. Students who have completed the PACE courses and are ready to register for the degree credit courses should contact the PACE advisor a minimum of three to six months before the degree-course start date to initiate the Faculty of Arts admission and registration process. Please, refer to the Information Handbook.

Students receive a waiver of the prerequisite, PSYC-2200(3) Developmental Psychology I only for DEV-3100(3) The Child, Family and Social Policy. Students receive a waiver of the prerequisites listed in the course descriptions for DEV-3610(3) Topics in Leadership in Early Childhood Education and DEV-3630(3) Advanced Internship.

Recognition of Prior Learning (RPL)

RPL is an educational initiative that allows those individuals with extensive experience in the childcare field to obtain credit for equivalent university-level knowledge and skills gained outside the classroom. RPL uses valid, rigorous assessment methods which ensure that learning worthy of credit has taken place. For more information, consult the UW Calendar (adultlearner.uwinnipeg.ca) or contact Stephanie Rozzi at 204-786-9972 or s.rozzi@uwinnipeg.ca.

Specific Opportunities for Graduates of Stream C

Graduates of Stream C may find employment in a variety of governmental and non-governmental agencies dealing with early-childhood services or service-oriented professions. Positions include childcare centre personnel, supervisors, directors, and caregivers. Graduates may also find work as family home visitors functioning as family and community support facilitators, child-life therapists, or staff specializing in programs for the developmentally delayed and other children with special needs.

ENTRANCE REQUIREMENTS

Applicants may enter Stream C through one of two routes:

CATEGORY A: With a Diploma in Early Childhood Education from RRCP or USB or an equivalent diploma from another college, or CATEGORY B: Direct entry, either from high school or the work force

All students wishing to enter Stream C must first make formal application for admission to the UW and also to the Developmental Studies Program and then be selected for entry into the Child Development and Child Care program. Space is restricted in this stream. The selection process will be competitively based on academic and professional qualifications, experience, and areas of interest.

PROGRAM OF STUDIES

CATEGORY A: Applicants Holding a Two-Year Early Childhood Education Diploma from RRCP or USB

Students holding a two-year Diploma in Early Childhood Education from RRCP or USB (or equivalent) must complete an additional two years of study at UW. Students will receive 30 credit hours of advanced standing for the ECE II Diploma and will require an additional 60 credit hours of approved courses at UW to obtain a three-year BA in Developmental Studies. These 60 credit hours will include a Core Year, a Specialization Year, 12 credit hours of Humanities courses, 6 credit hours of Science courses, and 3 credit hours of designated Indigenous requirement courses. Students in Category A will be exempt from the writing requirement; however, the resources of the Academic Writing Centre are highly recommended to students who require strengthening of their writing skills. Upon successful completion of the program, students may apply to the Manitoba Early Learning and Child Care Program (the Manitoba Department of Families) for Early Childhood Educator III classification.

The program of studies consists of

|-------------|--|
| YEARS 1 & 2 | Two-Year Diploma in Early Childhood Education at RRCP or USB |
| YEAR 3 | Core Courses, UW, Stream C |
| YEAR 4 | Specialization Courses, UW, Stream C |

CATEGORY B: Applicants Entering Directly from High School or the Work Force or Transferring from another Faculty or Program

Students entering Stream C directly from high school or the work force must take 90 credit hours to complete a BA. Students complete their first two years at UW (General Arts and Science year and Core year). The UW Core requirements are equivalent to the first year of the RRCP and USB two-year ECE Diploma program. Before entering the third year of the program, students must complete a spring practicum at RRCP or USB. During the third year, students must attend RRCP or USB, full-time, to complete the requirements for the second year of the two-year diploma program, after which they will receive their Early Childhood Education Diploma from their respective institution. In the fourth year of the program, students will return to UW for the Stream C Specialization year. Upon successful completion of the joint program, students will be awarded a three-year BA degree from the UW. They are also eligible to receive an Early Childhood Educator III classification from the Manitoba Early Learning and Child Care Program (the Manitoba Department of Families).

The program of studies consists of

YEAR 1 30 credit hours of introductory UW courses, with PSYC-1000(6) Introductory Psychology highly recommended

*YEAR 2 Stream C Core courses at UW and practicum at RRCP in the spring prior to Year 3

YEAR 3 Courses at RRCP or USB (Year 2 of the two-year ECE program)

YEAR 4 Stream C Specialization courses at UW

*For more information regarding the RRCP practicum, contact Suzanne Narozniak, Coordinator of the (full-time) Two-Year Early Childhood Education Program, at 204-632-2554 or snarozniak@rrc.ca. The spring practicum runs during RRCP's intersession (May & June). Students who plan to enrol in RRCP's regular "Full-Time ECE Program" must register with RRCP's Enrolment Services Department by mid-February (after Reading Week). Students applying to RRCP's "Work Place ECE Program" need not complete the spring practicum.

Note: For all Stream C students, DEV-3610(3) Topics in Leadership in ECCE and DEV-3630(3) Advanced Internship must be taken in the final term of the student's final year of the program.

DISABILITY STUDIES (DIS)

Updated November 21, 2023

Coordinator: Professor M. Owen; Administrative Assistant: A. McGillivray

DEGREES/PROGRAMS OFFERED

3-Year BA
4-Year BA
Honours BA
Minor

INTRODUCTION

Disability Studies is an interdisciplinary program that balances theory, methods, and practice so that graduates will have both a broad education in the liberal arts and sciences, and a depth of study in the area of Disability Studies. The focus of the program is the critical analysis of disability in society which includes the study of disability as a social, scientific, cultural, historical, and political construction. This allows students to examine such topics as human rights, ethics and accountability, adaptive physical activity, sport and recreation, social movements, normalcy, eugenics, genetic engineering, family, sexuality, employment, socialization and development, aging, education, adaptive and universal design, international development, and gender issues.

Disability Studies is offered jointly with the Disability and Community Support diploma program at RRC Polytech. All students majoring in Disability Studies must complete the diploma program at RRC Polytech, and may begin their studies at either institution. The University of Winnipeg will grant a total of 45 credit hours in transfer credits (21 of which are at the 1000 level) to RRC Polytech students who have completed the 2-year Diploma in Disability and Community Support and wish to major in Disability Studies at UW.

Students in Disability Studies graduate with both a diploma from RRC Polytech and a degree from The University of Winnipeg.

REQUIREMENTS FOR A 3-YEAR BA IN DISABILITY STUDIES

|-----------------------------------|--|
| ADMISSION REQUIREMENT | Acceptance into RRC Polytech and the University of Winnipeg |
| GRADUATION REQUIREMENT | 90 credit hours |
| RESIDENCE REQUIREMENT | |
| Degree: | Minimum 30 credit hours |
| Major: | Minimum 18 credit hours |
| GENERAL DEGREE REQUIREMENT | |
| Humanities: | 12 credit hours in Humanities |
| Science: | 6 credit hours in Science (note that some Research Methods courses help fulfil this requirement) |
| Writing: | 3 credit hours of Academic Writing |
| Indigenous: | 3 credit hours in designated Indigenous requirement courses |
| Maximum Introductory Courses: | Students may use a maximum of 42 credit hours at the 1000 level. Of these, a maximum of 6 credit hours may be below the 1000 level. As a result, students must take a minimum of 48 credit hours at the 2000 level or above in order to not exceed the maximum number of introductory courses. |
| Distribution: | Minimum 3 credit hours from each of five (5) different subjects |

EAST ASIAN LANGUAGES & CULTURES (EALC)

Updated January 16, 2024

Chair: Associate Professor: W.R. Dickson (Religion & Culture); Associate Professor: J. Newmark (Religion & Culture), L. Szekeley (Religion & Culture); Lecturer: Y. He (Religion & Culture). Chinese Language & Culture Coordinator: L. Szekeley.
Japanese Language & Culture Coordinator: J. Newmark.

DEGREES/PROGRAMS OFFERED

3-Year BA

4-Year BA

Minor

INTRODUCTION

The East Asian region constitutes one of the most dynamic and intellectually rich regions in the world. The impact of East Asian economic development has been keenly felt in recent decades and the region has a major impact on world affairs. The legacy of East Asian history, religious and social values, literatures, etc., is a major factor in current affairs in the region, and this legacy will continue to shape our global future.

The EALC program is devoted to the study of East Asian cultures. The program introduces students to East Asian cultures and societies through two components: a) the study of East Asian languages (Chinese—Mandarin and Classical, Japanese and Korean), and b) the study of East Asian cultures through a multi-disciplinary approach (Religion & Culture, History, Literature, Cinema, Economics, Politics, and International Development Studies). A unique feature of the program is its focus on the intellectual legacy of East Asian cultures, introduced through the study of texts and ideas in the historical and cultural contexts that shaped them. The rationale for this focus is a belief that just as East Asian economies are having a global impact beyond the East Asian region, intellectual beliefs and cultural habits will challenge hitherto global presuppositions regarding accepted practices and habits of thought.

The EALC program is currently administered through the Department of Religion & Culture. Graduates who are interested in careers related to East Asia in fields such as education, government, and business benefit greatly from courses in East Asian Languages & Cultures. The East Asian Languages and Cultures Program participates in the Interdepartmental Minor in Comparative Literature. For eligible courses, please see Comparative Literature in the University Calendar.

4-Year BA (Concentrations: Economics, Public Policy, Environmental, Development, Financial Markets, Political Economy, or Pre-Honours)

Honours BA

Minor

Master of Arts in Applied Economics – See Graduate Studies Academic Calendar.

INTRODUCTION

Economics is the social science which explores human activity directed towards the satisfaction of human wants in the context of the limited resources available in the world. It studies the issues that arise out of the mixture of competition and cooperation among individuals, private organizations, and governments in satisfying these wants. In recent years, economics has been particularly concerned with analysis of the major economic problems of unemployment, inflation, and the distribution of wealth; with environmental and health issues; and with the alternative public and private policy responses.

The undergraduate study of Economics is directed towards the goal of a liberal arts education. Students study the historical, institutional, and theoretical background of modern economics from a Canadian perspective. This provides an analytical framework for making more informed judgements about current economic policies. One may obtain the Economics Major through the 3-Year BA, the 4-Year BA or the BA Honours degree program. Some of the courses offered are recommended for Interdisciplinary programs, and it is common for other Social Science Departments to require or recommend certain Economics courses. As a 4-Year BA student of Economics you may choose a general degree or a degree that includes a number of course areas or concentrations: Public Policy, Environmental Economics, Development Economics, Financial Markets, Political Economy or Pre-Honours.

A BA degree in Economics will lead naturally to employment in business, financial services, government, and international organizations. Graduate level studies lead to university teaching positions, independent consultancies, and research. The BA in Economics is highly recommended for students planning to go into law, accounting, or business schools.

ECON-2102(3) Intermediate Economics: Macro
6 credit hours at the 3000 level Economics

Students in the General program who are entering the third year of studies with a minimum 3.0 GPA (B) in all Economics courses may be permitted to register in a maximum of 2 (two) 4000-level courses with approval of the Department Chair.

A 4000-level course may be substituted for a 3000-level requirement.

Students who have already completed 6 credit hours in Introductory Statistics (STAT-1301(3), STAT-1302(3) or the former STAT-1201(6) or the former STAT-1301(6)) may not use the former ECON-2202(3) Statistical Analysis in Economics as credit towards any major in Economics; these students need to take additional Economics course(s) in order to meet the minimum Major requirement.

Students wishing to pursue an Honours degree in Economics are advised to complete MATH-1101(6) or the equivalent MATH-1103 (3) Introduction to Calculus I AND MATH-1104 (3) Introduction to Calculus II and STAT-1301(3) in their first year of study. These students are advised to complete ECON-2201(3) Mathematics for Economics and Finance in their second year of study.

| GRADUATION REQUIREMENT | 120 credit hours |
| RESIDENCE REQUIREMENT | |
| Degree: | Minimum 60 credit hours |
| Major: | Minimum 30 credit hours |
| GENERAL DEGREE REQUIREMENT | |
| Humanities: | 12 credit hours in Humanities |
| Science: | 6 credit hours in Science |
| Writing: | Minimum 3 credit hours of Academic Writing. |
| Indigenous: | 3 credit hours in designated Indigenous requirement courses |
| Maximum Introductory Courses: | Students may use a maximum of 42 credit hours at the 1000 level. Of these, a maximum of 6 credit hours may be below the 1000 level. As a result, students must take a minimum of 78 credit hours at the 2000-level or above in order to not exceed the maximum number of introductory courses. |
| Distribution: | Minimum three (3) credit hours from each of five (5) different subjects. |
| MAJOR REQUIREMENT | |
| Single Honours: | Minimum 60 credit hours/Maximum 78 credit hours in the Honours subject. |
| | Minimum 18 credit hours in 4000-level Honours Subject courses. |
| Double Honours: | Minimum 36 credit hours in each Honours subject. |
| | Minimum 18 credit hours at the 4000-level in the Economics component of the double Honours. For the requirements of the other Honours subject consult the department involved. |

Required courses:

Year 1: Minimum 2.0 GPA (C) required in the Introductory course(s):

ECON-1102(3) Introduction to Economics: Micro, AND ECON-1103(3) Introduction to Economics: Macro
MATH-1103(3) Introduction to Calculus I, and either MATH-1104(3) Introduction to Calculus II or MATH-1201(3) Linear Algebra

STAT-1401(3) Statistics I for Economics, Business and Social Sciences or STAT-1301(3) Statistical Analysis I, and STAT-1302(3) Statistical Analysis II

Students who have already completed 6 credit hours in Introductory Statistics (STAT-1201(6)) may not use the former Statistical Analysis in Economics (2202(3)) as credit towards any major in Economics; these students need to take additional Economics course(s) in order to meet the minimum Major requirement.

Year 2: ECON-2101(3) Intermediate Economics: Micro

ECON-2102(3) Intermediate Economics: Macro

ECON-2201(3) Mathematics for Economics and Finance

Year 3: ECON-4103(3) Microeconomics

ECON-4104(3) Macroeconomics

ECON-3201(3) Econometrics for Economics and Finance.

Years 2, 3, or 4: Minimum 18 additional credit hours at or above the 2000 level in Economics courses; minimum 18 credit hours of 4000-level Economics courses.

All 4000-level courses are Honours courses that provide the opportunity for more intensive study in a seminar setting of smaller classes while leaving scope for more individual initiative than is sometimes available in the larger, more formal lecture study. Students may be allowed to enter the Honours program after completion of Year 2 of study with approval by the Department Chair.

4000-level courses are offered on a rotating basis.

Students may not hold credit for both MATH-1101(6) Introduction to Calculus or the equivalent MATH-1103 (3) Introduction to Calculus I AND MATH-1104 (3) Introduction to Calculus II AND MATH-1102(3) Basic Calculus (Terminal).

Double Honours programs will be arranged in conjunction with the other Department involved.

Additional Information:

Students must meet Departmental prerequisites unless these are waived by the Chair of the Department concerned.

Students are encouraged to pursue courses in several discipline areas.

Students are advised to consult with the Chair or Faculty Advisor to ensure that they are correctly meeting departmental requirements.

REQUIREMENTS FOR A MINOR IN ECONOMICS

DEGREE: Students completing any undergraduate degree program are eligible to complete the Minor.

RESIDENCE REQUIREMENT

Minimum 12 credit hours

ECONOMICS AND FINANCE (EFIN)

Updated February 1, 2024

Coordinator: S. Baksj; Program Advisor: D. Ng

DEGREES/PROGRAMS OFFERED

4-Year BA

4-Year BBA

INTRODUCTION

The field of finance has its roots in the disciplines of economics and business. This program will provide students with the conceptual tools to understand a number of issues from modern finance theory and applications. The program will provide students with a solid understanding of the operation of capital markets and capital market instruments, including equities, fixed income securities, as well futures markets, options and other derivatives. The program will provide students with an in-depth understanding of topics in modern finance and financial economics as they relate to the capital structure of firms and how these financial instruments affect the overall operation of modern financial systems.

NOTE ON DEPARTMENT COURSE ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS

Economics and Finance (EFIN) students are expected to meet course requirements specified by the department offering the courses. Please note that program courses may have somewhat different requirements for registration in certain courses. For example, Economics requires academic advising and approval from the Honours Advisor to register for 4000-level courses.

NOTE: Course Listings and Descriptions can be found under the appropriate Departmental Listings: Applied Computer Studies (ACS), Business and Administration (BUS), Economics (ECON), International Development Studies (IDS), Mathematics (MATH), Philosophy (PHIL), Politics (POL) and Statistics (STAT).

Students are advised to confirm Departmental offerings before planning their curriculum, as certain courses may not be available in each term. Students are advised to ensure that currently listed courses do not duplicate material studied previously under different course numbers.

INTRODUCTION

The study of Education at the University of Winnipeg blends theoretical knowledge with classroom practice in order to prepare students for a professional teaching career. Students in the Education program take courses from a variety of disciplines such as history, philosophy, biology, sociology and psychology alongside courses that focus on curriculum and pedagogy.

The Education program at the University of Winnipeg is unique for several reasons. First, in addition to the preparation of pre-service teachers leading to provincial certification, the program provides an additional focus on urban inner-city education. Second, early in the program students are provided with the opportunity of working with teachers and children in classrooms. This enables students to begin the transition from university student to professional educator early in their university career. Finally, the program provides considerable opportunities for interested students to participate in community outreach projects and on-going faculty research.

BEd PROGRAMS

I. The Integrated BEd/BA/BPHE or BSc Program

This program requires students to complete a minimum of 150 credit hours. The Integrated BEd/BA/BPHE or BSc option makes it possible for students to work towards two degrees at the same time and it allows students who have made an early commitment to teaching to begin their studies within the first two years of their university career.

Normally, students enter the 5-year Integrated Program in the first year of university studies. Provision is made, however, for students who have already completed work towards another Bachelor's degree to transfer into the program.

In the 5-year Integrated Program students choose one of two streams:

ELEMENTARY prepares teachers for grades K-8

SENIOR YEARS prepares teachers for grades 9-12

Students must choose a major teachable area from the following:

Biology, Chemistry, English, French, Geography, German (Elementary stream only), History, Kinesiology and Applied Health, Mathematics, Physics, and Theatre and Drama.

Students must also complete a minor teachable area from:

Anthropology, Biology, Chemistry, Classics, Dance (Elementary stream only), Developmental Studies (Elementary stream only), Economics, English, French, Geography, German (Elementary stream only), History, Kinesiology and Applied Health (Physical Education), Mathematics, Philosophy, Physics, Politics, Psychology, Religious Studies, Sociology, Theatre.

II. The Two-Year After-Degree BEd Program

This two-year (60 credit hour) program is intended for students who already hold an undergraduate degree, which includes sufficient course work in two teachable areas. After-Degree students choose from the Elementary or Senior Years streams. Those interested in teaching at the Senior Years level must have a major teachable area consisting of 30 credit hours, and a minor teachable area consisting of 18 credit hours. Students interested in the Elementary stream must have a major teachable area consisting of 18 credit hours, and a minor teachable area consisting of 12 credit hours. In addition, they must have completed a Distribution Requirement consisting of 6 credit hours in English literature or French literature courses (courses in Rhetoric, Writing, and Communications cannot be used toward the English requirement); 6 credits hours in Math (only Math courses can be used to meet the Math requirement Statistics courses or research methods cannot be used), 6 credit hours in Science (only Biology, Chemistry, Physics, and Physical Geography courses can be used); 6 credit hours in Social Studies (only History and Geography courses can be used). Courses used toward the major and/or minor teachable areas can also be used to fulfill the Distribution Requirement. If students do not have 60 credit hours in their first degree which can be applied toward the BEd program, they must complete these requirements prior to applying to the program.

III. The Joint University of Winnipeg / Red River College Polytechnic Bachelor of Education Programs

The University of Winnipeg in conjunction with Red River College Polytechnic offers a five-year Integrated 150 credit hour BEd/BA/BPHE or BSc degree. Upon completion of the program, graduates will have a major in Applied Commerce, Industrial Arts and a second academic major in a teachable subject area. Students in this program do courses on site at the University of Winnipeg and Red River College Polytechnic in all years of the program.

IV. The Joint University of Winnipeg / Red River College Polytechnic 2-Year or 3-Year After-Degree Program in Applied Commerce Education, or the 3-Year After-Degree Program in Industrial Arts

These programs are intended for students who already hold an undergraduate degree.

Applied Commerce Education (2-Year or 3-Year After-Degree Programs): Students who have completed a first undergraduate degree with a significant concentration in business courses may be eligible for transfer credits at RRC Polytech. These students may be eligible to apply for a 2-year After-Degree program. Students whose first degree does not include a concentration in business courses would normally be eligible for a 3-year After-Degree program. Generally, students admitted to the 2-year After-Degree program will complete 30 credit hours of course work at RRC Polytech, and 30 credit hours of course work at UW. Generally, students admitted to the 3-year After-Degree program will complete 60 credit hours of course work at RRC Polytech, and 30 credit hours of course work at UW. Students may also be required to complete course work in a teachable minor in addition to the requirements for the BEd degree.

Industrial Arts Education (3-Year After-Degree Program): Students who have completed an undergraduate degree may be eligible to apply for a 3-year After-Degree program. Generally, students will complete 60 credit hours of course work at RRC Polytech, and 30 credit hours of course work at UW. Students may also be required to complete course work in a teachable minor in addition to the requirements for the BEd degree.

V. The Certified Teacher BEd Program

Certified teachers who have completed a minimum of one year of professional training and wish to upgrade their qualifications are eligible for this program. Students normally receive 30 credit hours in transfer credit for the year of teacher training and will be required to complete additional coursework (minimum 30 credit hours) to fulfill the requirements of the BEd/BA/BPHE or BEd/BSc.

VI. The Joint University of Winnipeg / Red River College Polytechnic Vocational Teacher Education Program

Graduates of the Red River College Polytechnic Vocational Education program who hold a limited teaching certificate may receive up to 90 credit hours towards the 150 credit hour BEd degree requirements.

VII. Winnipeg Education Centre Program (WEC)

The University of Winnipeg offers a 5-year Integrated BEd/BA program for residents of the inner-city who are 21 years of age or older by the start of the September session, who are representative of the inner-city population, and who are in need of academic, personal, and financial supports in order to pursue a university degree. Coursework is delivered on site at the University of Winnipeg. For further information contact the Winnipeg Education Centre, 2E00 - 511 Ellice Avenue, Winnipeg, MB, R3B 2E9, (204) 789-1418.

VIII. Community-Based Aboriginal Teacher Education Program (CATEP)

In partnership with Seven Oaks and Winnipeg School Divisions, The University of Winnipeg offers a specialized BA/BED degree program for Aboriginal people who are working as teacher aides. Students must be employed by Seven Oaks or Winnipeg School Divisions and attend university part-time from September - April and full-time for May, June, and July. Due to the part-time nature of this program students will take 6.5 - 7 years to complete the 150 credit hours that comprise the degree. Applicants must first apply and be accepted by their school division for admission to this program.

IX. Post-Baccalaureate Diploma in Education (PBDE)

The PBDE is a 30 credit hour diploma program developed for in-service teachers. We currently offer both a General Stream, and a School Counselling Stream. Only students that are registered in PBDE programming, or students with special status (see Internationally Educated Teachers below), may register for PBDE courses. Students in the General Stream can, depending upon their interests, needs, and/or areas of expertise, design their own, highly personalized program of studies. Students who hold a Bachelor's degree in an area other than Education, plus a full two years of related work experience, may be admitted to the General Stream. Students who complete the School Counselling Stream, and who have accumulated a minimum of two years successful teaching experience while holding a valid Manitoba Permanent Professional teaching certificate, will be eligible for a School Counsellor Certificate from Manitoba Education. Students must hold a Bachelor of Education degree in order to apply to the School Counselling stream.

Earning a PBDE has many benefits. Most notably, it allows educators an opportunity to grow personally and professionally by targeting and building their skills in specific areas. Concomitantly, it opens up possibilities for lifelong learning and personal/career enhancement for individuals who do not have the time, inclination, or background to enrol in a formal graduate program. There are other advantages as well:

- Manitoba Education, Citizenship and Youth recognizes the PBDE for salary classification purposes.
- In appropriate circumstances, Manitoba Education, Citizenship and Youth may also count some PBDE courses toward their School Clinician, Special Education, and Level 1 or 2 School Leader Certificates.
- As a recognized Diploma, the PBDE is conferred at Convocation, and often helpful for career development and advancement.

X. Internationally Educated Teachers

Internationally educated teachers have completed their Bachelor of Education degree or equivalent in another country, and are now seeking a permanent, professional teaching license in Manitoba. Internationally certified teachers are not admitted to a degree program, but are accepted on a special status so that they can complete the specific courses required for certification in accordance with an assessment by the Certification Unit of Manitoba Education and Training. These courses can be within the Bachelor of Education or Post-Baccalaureate programming. Internationally educated teachers are required to first contact the Professional Certification Unit (MET and International Teacher Assessment) to obtain a credential assessment, and will then apply to enrol in the Faculty of Education in order to complete these requirements.

EXPANDED ADMISSION INFORMATION

The University of Winnipeg affirms the values of equal opportunity, equity, and social justice. In keeping with these values, the Faculty of Education has established a policy of expanded admission to help us recruit a group of education students who generally reflect the diversity of the population of Manitoba. This policy is in addition to our Access Program at the Winnipeg Education Centre and the Community-Based Aboriginal Teacher Education Program.

Students who wish to be considered for Expanded Admission must indicate this on the Expanded Admission Student Application Form included with their application and provide supporting documentation. Applicants must be residents of Manitoba. Applications are reviewed on an individual basis and interviews may be required. Applicants are ranked among themselves and not against the general applicant pool.

Expanded Admission applicants applying to the first year of the Integrated Program must meet minimum admission requirements. Expanded Admission applicants applying as Transfer or After-Degree candidates must meet minimum admission requirements and have a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.0. Students on Probation or Not Allowed to Continue status are not eligible to apply.

Students admitted under the policy of Expanded Admission will be required to meet the same standards for progression and graduation as other students.

Note: Not all spaces may be filled.

Category 1: Indigenous Peoples of Canada

An applicant may apply for Expanded Admission if the applicant self-identifies as an Indigenous person in Canada with First Nations, Inuit or Métis heritage, and is recognized by an Indigenous community in Canada. Applicants should provide a form of documentation suitable to affirm recognition as being an Indigenous person in Canada belonging to a particular Indigenous community. An interview and additional information may be required to confirm or clarify the choice of documentation, and additional documentation may be required.

Candidates applying to the Integrated Program: Maximum 5 spaces

Candidates applying to transfer into the Program: Maximum 2 spaces

Candidates applying to the After-Degree Program: Maximum 3 spaces

Candidates applying to the Applied Commerce Education Program: Maximum 1 space

Candidates applying to the Industrial Education Program: Maximum 1 space

Category 2: Persons of Racialized Communities

An applicant may apply for Expanded Admission if the applicant is considered to be a person belonging to a Racialized Community or Communities that have been historically disadvantaged or excluded in Canadian society due to systemic racism. While Indigenous peoples in Canada are subject to similar exclusions, we recognize the preeminence of Indigenous peoples as members of distinct societies in Canada and offer a separate category of Expanded Admission. Persons of Racialized Communities are generally understood to be People of Colour, who are systemically affected by lack of opportunity and access in Canadian society due to perceptions of ethnicity and/or skin colour.

Candidates applying to the Integrated Program: Maximum 5 spaces

Candidates applying to transfer into the Program: Maximum 2 spaces

Candidates applying to the After-Degree Program: Maximum 3 spaces

Candidates applying to the Applied Commerce Education Program: Maximum 1 space

Candidates applying to the Industrial Education Program : Maximum 1 space

Category 3: Special Consideration

An applicant may apply for Expanded Admission if their educational performance has been hindered by circumstances such as:

- a) barriers resulting from personal experiences related to ethnic identity
- b) first language other than English
- c) interruption of education by war or refugee experience
- d) a permanent disability which has been formally diagnosed and supported with medical documentation
- e) a previous attempt at university which is not representative of student's ability.

Applicants applying for special consideration under points a – e must include a 1 – 2 page written statement with their application describing the factors that have prevented them from achieving a competitive G.P.A. in high school and/or university and include supporting documentation (if applicable). For Transfer and After Degree applicants this statement would accompany the mandatory autobiography that all applicants must submit.

- f) a GPA below 2.5 but with documented, successful classroom experience

Applicants in this category must:

- Have at least 24 months of recent (within the past 5 years), full-time experience working in a classroom, daycare (does not include home daycare) or before & after school program
- Have 24 months of experience completed by December 31 of the year prior to their application to the Faculty of Education
- Provide documentation of 24 months of full-time employment
Include a supporting letter of reference from their supervising teacher or principal. This is in addition to the 2 letters normally required of After Degree and Transfer applicants.

Candidates applying to the Integrated Program: Maximum 5 spaces

Candidates applying to transfer into the Program: Maximum 2 spaces

Candidates applying to the After-Degree Program: Maximum 3 spaces

Candidates applying to the Applied Commerce Education Program: Maximum 1 space

Candidates applying to the Industrial Education Program: Maximum 1 space

Adult Criminal Records and Child Abuse Registry Checks

The following policy applies to all applicants to the Faculty of Education including those applying to the Joint UW/RRC Polytech programs and ACCESS programs.

1. The Faculty of Education requires that all applicants must submit and be cleared on a formal Criminal Record Search Certificate (For Vulnerable Sector Search), and submit and be cleared on a formal Child Abuse Registry Check before admission can be finalized.
 - a) The fee for each of these documents is the responsibility of the applicant.
2. Criminal Record Search Certificate (For Vulnerable Sector Search) and Child Abuse Registry Check Application forms will be distributed at the mandatory orientation sessions for new Education students which take place in May and June. At these sessions, students will be provided with directions and deadlines.
 - - a) It can take up to 6 weeks to obtain the Criminal Record Search Certificate (for Vulnerable Sector search) and Child Abuse Registry Check. Students are encouraged to apply for these documents at the earliest possible date.
 - b) The Criminal Record Search Certificate (for Vulnerable Sector search) and Child Abuse Registry Check must be dated within the last 3 months to be valid.
 - c) Originals of the Criminal Record Search Certificate (for Vulnerable Sector search) and Child Abuse Registry Check must be presented to the Faculty of Education, Main Office. (Note: Joint UW/RRC Polytech Students should submit these documents to Red River College Polytechnic.)
 - d) An exact duplicate will be taken and stamped by the Faculty of Education representative. Originals will then be returned to the student. Students will receive a receipt acknowledging that the original documents have been seen and copied by a University representative. Those needing to mail the documents must submit the originals.
 - e) The Criminal Record Search Certificate (for Vulnerable Sector search) and Child Abuse Registry Check will be kept strictly confidential and held separate from the student's main university file.
3. In the process of getting a Criminal Record Search Certificate, some applicants may be informed that they require a Fingerprint Search. The Student Teaching Office must be notified of this immediately. A fingerprint search can take a few months and the applicant must get special authorization from the Faculty to remain in the program while the Fingerprint Search is conducted.
4. Applicants will automatically have their acceptance withdrawn and be removed from all courses if:
 - a) they fail to submit a Criminal Record Search Certificate and/or Child Abuse Registry Check by the designated deadlines.
 - b) they require a fingerprint search and have not informed the Student Teaching Office of this by August 15 (at the latest).
 - c) they appear on the Child Abuse Registry.
5. The existence of a criminal record will not automatically exclude applicants, but, applicants to and graduates of Bachelor of Education programs who have adult criminal convictions which indicate they may pose a threat to the safety and well-being of children and others in the schools will be denied admission and/or teacher certification.
 - a) Applicants who have a criminal record may be asked to present an official fingerprint search/disposition prior to admission to the program.
 - b) Decisions with regard to criminal records will be made by the Legal Records Check Committee.
 - c) Applicants will be informed of the Committee's decision in writing. Applicants who are not admitted will have their Offer of Acceptance withdrawn and be removed from all courses.
6. Applicants are not required to disclose records under The Youth Criminal Justice Act. However, if the Faculty of Education becomes aware of a youth record which raises questions relating to the safety and well-being of children and others in the schools, this may be considered relevant for admission, continued enrollment, and/or certification purposes.
7. Once admitted, the Criminal Record Search and Child Abuse Registry Check are valid for the duration of study in the Faculty of Education as long as there is no change in status. Some practicum or service learning sites may require subsequent criminal record and/or child abuse registry checks.

- a) Students are obligated to report a change in the status of their criminal record and/or Child Abuse Registry standing to the Chair, Legal Records Check Committee, Faculty of Education. Red River College Polytechnic students must inform the Chair of Teacher Education at Red River College Polytechnic.
 - b) Students who appear on the Child Abuse Registry will be immediately withdrawn from the Faculty and any ongoing Education courses.
 - c) Students reporting a change in the status of their criminal record will have their case evaluated by the Legal Records Check Committee. They will be informed of the Committee's decision in writing. Students who are not allowed to continue in the Faculty of Education will be immediately withdrawn from the Faculty and any ongoing Education courses.
 - d) The Faculty of Education has the right to remove a student from practicum while their case is being reviewed by the Legal Records Check Committee.
 - e) Failure to disclose a criminal record or listing on the Child Abuse Registry will result in immediate expulsion from the Faculty of Education.
8. The Faculty of Education cannot be held responsible for future changes in legislation which may affect eligibility for teacher certification.

REQUIREMENTS FOR THE INTEGRATED BEd/BA/BPHE OR BSc DEGREE

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS

- Space in the Integrated BEd/BA/BPHE or BSc Degree program is limited, and not all eligible applicants may be admitted.
- Students must meet regular or mature admission requirements.
- Students currently registered in a BA, BPHE or BSc program may apply to the Integrated program with advanced standing.
- The Education Selection Committee will select students on the basis of their academic qualifications and their admissibility to the program.
- Some applicants may be admitted under the category of Expanded Admission.
- Students accepted to the program will be required to submit a Criminal Record Check including a Vulnerable Sector Screening, and a Child Abuse Registry Check before admission can be finalized.
- Students are admitted to the program for studies commencing in the Fall term.

GRADUATION REQUIREMENTS

150 credit hours which meet all degree requirements as outlined for the Integrated BEd/BA, BPHE or BSc
 Minimum 90 credit hours meeting the BA or BSc requirements.
 Minimum 60 credit hours meeting the BEd requirements.

RESIDENCE REQUIREMENTS

Minimum 84 credit hours:

BA, BPHE or BSc: minimum 30 credit hours.
 BEd: minimum 54 credit hours, which must include all practicum and curriculum, instruction and assessment courses.

As a result, students must take a minimum of 108 credit hours at the 2000-level or above in order to not exceed the maximum number of introductory courses.
 Distribution: Minimum three (3) credit hours from each of five (5) different subjects.

MAJOR/ MINOR REQUIREMENTS

ARTS, KINESIOLOGY OR SCIENCE MAJOR REQUIREMENT

Minimum 30 credit hours in a major leading to a BA, BPHE or BSc Degree (see section VII, 3)

EDUCATION MAJOR REQUIREMENT

Elementary (K-8) Streams

18 credit hours in a major teachable area (see the tables at the end of the Education section for teachable majors/minors). These 18 credit hours may be fulfilled by courses used to meet the Arts, Kinesiology or Science major. However, some Arts or Science majors are not considered teachable areas. Additionally, some Education majors may require more than 18 credit hours.

Senior Years (9-12) Stream

30 credit hours in a major teachable area (see the tables at the end of the Education section for teachable majors/minors).

Note: In some cases, the major teachable area can be fulfilled by the Arts, Kinesiology or Science major. However, some Arts or Science majors are not considered teachable areas.

EDUCATION MINOR REQUIREMENT

Elementary (K-8) Stream

12 credit hours in a minor teachable area (see the tables at the end of the Education section for teachable majors/minors). These 12 credit hours may be fulfilled by courses used to meet the Arts, Kinesiology or Science major. However, some Arts or Science majors are not considered teachable areas. Students with a teachable minor in Kinesiology must complete 18 credit hours.

Senior Years (9-12) Stream

18 credit hours in a minor teachable area (see the tables at the end of the Education section for teachable majors/minors). These 18 credit hours may be fulfilled by courses used to meet the Arts, Kinesiology or Science major. However, some Arts or Science majors are not considered teachable areas. Students with a minor in Kinesiology must complete 18 credit hours.

Note: All Streams The major and minor must be selected from 2 different teaching areas.

Distribution Requirement

Students in the Elementary (K-8) stream must complete a Distribution requirement consisting of:

- 6 credit hours in English literature or French literature courses (Academic Writing courses cannot be used toward the English requirement)
- 6 credit hours in Mathematics (Only Math courses can be used; Statistics or research methods cannot be used.)
- 6 credit hours in a physical or biological science (Biology, Chemistry, Physics or Physical Geography courses can be used toward the Science requirement.)
- 6 credit hours in Social Studies (only History and Geography courses can be used to fulfill the Social Studies requirement)
- Courses used toward the major and/or minor teachable areas can also be used to fulfill the Distribution Requirement. However, students cannot use the same Geography courses to fulfill both the Science and Social Studies requirement.

REQUIREMENTS FOR THE INTEGRATED BEd/BA/BPHE OR BSc JOINT UW/RRC POLYTECH APPLIED COMMERCE EDUCATION or INDUSTRIAL ARTS EDUCATION PROGRAMS

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS

- Students must be admitted by both institutions. As admission to Red River College Polytechnic is contingent upon acceptance by the University of Winnipeg, students must submit their application to the University of Winnipeg.
- Students must meet Regular or Mature status admission requirements.
- Students currently registered in a BA, BPHE or BSc program, or students who have completed a first undergraduate degree, may apply to the Joint UW/RRC Polytech program.
- The Joint UW/RRC Polytech Education Selection Committee will select students on the basis of their academic qualifications and admissibility to the program.
- Students accepted to the program will be required to submit a Criminal Record Check including a Vulnerable Sector Screening, and a Child Abuse Registry Check before admission can be finalized.
- Students are admitted to the program for studies commencing in the Fall Term.

NOTE: Students are advised that courses taken at Red River College Polytechnic will not normally be credited toward other degree programs. For example, students who withdraw from the Joint UW/RRC Polytech teacher education program and wish to pursue only a BA, BPHE or BSc degree will lose a significant number of credit hours.

GRADUATION REQUIREMENTS

150 credit hours which meet all degree requirements as outlined for the Integrated BEd/BA/BPHE or BSc Joint UW/RRC Polytech Applied Commerce Education or Industrial Arts Education Program.

RESIDENCE REQUIREMENTS

Minimum 84 credit hours in coursework taken at UW and RRC Polytech; minimum 48 credit hours at UW.

BA, BPHE or BSc: minimum 30 credit hours. BEd: minimum 54 credit hours in course work taken at UW and RRC Polytech; minimum 18 credit hours at UW which must include all practicum and, curriculum, instruction, and assessment courses.

Teachable major: minimum 18 credit hours.

GENERAL DEGREE REQUIREMENTS

Major: Minimum 30 credit hours in a teachable subject.

Humanities: 12 credit hours in Humanities

Science: 6 credit hours in Science

Writing: Minimum 3 credit hours of Academic Writing.

Indigenous: 3 credit hours in designated Indigenous requirement courses. This requirement is met by the compulsory course EDUC 4410 Introduction to Indigenous Education.

Maximum Introductory Courses: Students may use a maximum of 42 credit hours at the 1000 level. Of these, a maximum of credit hours may be below the 1000 level. As a result, students must take a minimum of 108 credit hours at the 2000-level or above in order to not exceed the maximum number of introductory courses.

Distribution: Minimum three (3) credit hours from each of five (5) different subjects.

REQUIREMENTS FOR POST-BACCALAUREATE DIPLOMA IN EDUCATION (PBDE)

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS

To be considered for the University of Winnipeg PBDE, candidates must meet the following requirements:

- Have maintained a minimum GPA of 2.0 in all degree or after-degree programs.
- Hold a Bachelor of Education degree (or equivalent), or
- Hold a Bachelor's degree in an area other than Education, plus a full two years of related experience in a school setting. (General Stream only)

PROGRAM REQUIREMENTS

The Post-Baccalaureate Diploma in Education at the University of Winnipeg is subject to the following requirements:

General Stream

- Students must complete 30 credit hours of course work to earn their PBDE.
- A minimum of 18 credit hours must be University of Winnipeg Education courses at the 5,000 level (which also fulfills the Residency Requirement).
- Although the entire Program might be comprised of Education courses, a maximum of 12 credit hours may be below the 5,000 level and taken from any Faculty. (Students, however, may not count courses at the 1,000 level or lower).
- A maximum of 12 credit hours may be taken from other post-secondary institutions and, upon approval from the Faculty of Education, transferred to the University of Winnipeg's PBDE Program.
- There will be no credit given for professional development sessions (i.e. only formal university courses will be accepted for the PBDE).
- Students must achieve an overall GPA of 2.5 (or C+ Average) on the 30 credit hours needed for the PBDE.

PBDE Counselling Stream

The University of Winnipeg's Post Baccalaureate Diploma in School Counselling prepares students with the theory and skills needed to develop and deliver counselling programs that promote students' personal and social well being, academic achievement, and career development in schools. This program will be of interest to both novice and experienced counsellors who wish to take on expanded leadership roles in their schools. This program meets the requirements of the School Counsellor Certificate granted by Manitoba Education and Advanced Learning.

Additional Information

EDUC-5427(3) Supervised Counselling Practicum – students must have completed all other required and elective courses in order to be eligible to register for this course. This course involves completion of 100 hours of practicum in a school setting. Students cannot arrange their own placements, and cannot be placed in a school in which they are currently employed. Students may need to take a leave of absence from their jobs in order to have the time necessary to complete practicum hours. Placements are limited, and subject to cancellation if there is low enrollment.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Course Selection, Advising and Registration Information - Integrated Program, Years 1-3

- Education students are advised through the Faculty of Education Academic Advisors.
- Newly admitted students must attend an orientation prior to registering. Orientations are held throughout April - July. Dates of orientations will be provided in the registration materials students receive upon acceptance into the program.
- Registration materials for returning students can be found on-line beginning in mid-March. Specific materials necessary to registration are contained in these kits.
- Returning students are advised to participate in "early advising" which takes place in January, February, and March. It is highly recommended that students receive advising on an annual basis and before completing the end of Winter term in Years 1 and 2.

- Students are assigned a time to register and these appointment times are determined on the basis of credit hours completed and the student's grade point average. All Education students require certain compulsory Education courses throughout their program in order to meet requirements. These courses will fill on a first-come, first-served basis based during the assigned registration appointment times. Therefore, we recommend the following:

1. Register at your appointed time in order to get the best selection of courses and sections.

2. If one section of a required Education course is full, select and register for another section of that course. While you may wish to add your name to a wait list for your preferred section, it is in your best interest to be registered for the required course.

Remember that all Education students require these compulsory courses and withdrawals from the courses or movement from one section to another is unlikely.

- Education students cannot register for school practicum courses during late registration periods (September and January) due to the lead-time necessary to arrange for a school placement.

Course Selection, Advising and Registration Information - Certification

- Certification students will be assigned an appointment time to register during Tier 2 and it is expected that students will register during this time. If a student does not register at their appointed time, the Faculty of Education will not guarantee entry into courses that have filled and the student may require an additional year in order to complete all requirements.

Retention requirements must be completed in certain years. The Faculty of Education Program reserves the right to remove a student from a course if the student does not require the course for their program that particular year in order to accommodate a student who must have the course.

- The Faculty of Education reserves the right to move students from one section of a course to another section of the same course in order to balance sections and ensure that all students requiring the course are accommodated.

- We reserve the right to change a preferred course to another course which meets the same requirement if necessary to ensure that all students are able to register for the courses that they need in order to graduate.

Withdrawal or Removal from the Faculty of Education

- BEd students who are placed on probation, suspension or not allowed to continue status will be removed from the Faculty of Education and withdrawn from any ongoing Education or practicum courses.

- BEd students who do not register at the onset of a new academic year (September) will be withdrawn from the program. This regulation does not apply to certified teachers or students who have requested in writing and received permission from a Faculty of Education Academic Advisor to be kept on hold for that academic year. Generally students can have their status in the program held for a maximum of 1 year.

- Acceptance into the Faculty of Education is for that academic year only. Admission cannot be deferred. Students declining an offer of admission must reapply if they wish to seek entry at a later date. As admission is dependent on the qualifications of the pool of applicants each year, subsequent admission cannot be guaranteed.

- Students who are admitted to the program but who do not register within the specified time will have their acceptance withdrawn and must reapply.

- Students who register and subsequently withdraw from required education courses will be removed from the program unless they have received permission from a Faculty of Education Academic Advisor to withdraw.

- The BEd degree cannot be granted without completion of a minimum of a 90 credit hour undergraduate degree; however, students in the Integrated program can claim a BA, BPHE or BSc without completing the BEd portion should they wish to withdraw from the program. Such students should be aware that they will need to fulfil the University Indigenous requirement.

With the exception of the courses listed below, all Education courses can be used as credit towards an Arts, Kinesiology or Science degree:

EDUC-2512(1) Learning Theory Practicum

EDUC-2514(1) Learning Theory Practicum (WEC)

EDUC-3811(2) Teaching/Learning and the K-8 Curriculum Practicum

EDUC-3814(2) Teaching/Learning and the K-8 Curriculum Practicum (WEC)

EDUC-4710(3) - EDUC-4719(3) Elementary (K-8) Curriculum, Instruction and Assessment (all areas)

EDUC-4730(3) - EDUC-4755(3) Senior Years (9-12) Curriculum, Instruction and Assessment (all areas)

EDUC-4722(3) Elementary (K-8) Advanced Curricular Inquiry

EDUC-4761(3) Senior Years (9-12) Advanced Curricular Inquiry

EDUC-4770(3) - EDUC-4779(3) Practicum Blocks

EDUC-4835(1) - EDUC-4842(3) Early Years Curriculum, Instruction and Assessment (all areas)

EDUC-4843(1) - EDUC-4850(3) Middle Years Curriculum, Instruction and Assessment (all areas)

EDUC-4852/5 - EDUC-4870(3) Senior Years Curriculum, Instruction and Assessment (all areas)

EDUC-4872(2.5) - EDUC-4883(2.5) Practicum Blocks

- Students should also consult section XIV for additional information on Removal from the Faculty of Education.

Part-time Attendance

In Years 2-5 of the program, students are required to spend time in the schools student teaching. Students must be able to make arrangements to complete the student teaching portion of the program. For the first few years, it is possible for students to attend on a part-time basis. The certification portion of the program must be taken on a full-time basis. After-Degree students must attend both years of the program on a full-time basis.

Changing Streams

Students in the Integrated Program identify a stream upon registering for Year 1. They may change their selection up until the end of Year 2 which is defined as the completion of 61 credit hours. No changes to streams will be considered in Year 3 of the program or once students have completed 61 credit hours or more.

Changing Teachable Majors or Minors

Students in the Integrated Program identify their teachable majors and minors upon registering for Year 1. They may change their teachable subjects up until the end of Year 2 which is defined as the completion of 61 credit hours. For students in the Senior Years stream, no changes to teachable majors or minors will be considered in Year 3 of the program or once students have completed 61 credit hours or more. For students in the Elementary stream, they may change teachable subjects in Year 3 of the Program as long as they can still fulfil the requirements of the major or minor prior to entering Certification Year 4.

Challenge for Credit in the Faculty of Education

The Faculty of Education has a residency requirement which includes all Curriculum, Instruction and Assessment courses as well as practicum, therefore, students cannot request challenge for credit for any of these courses. Also, with the exception of those who have been admitted to the Certified Teacher Program, students may not transfer Curriculum, Instruction and Assessment courses or practicum into their program.

Prior Learning Assessment and Recognition (PLAR) and Faculty of Education Courses

a) Practicum Courses

In order for teaching experience to count for credit in our program it must meet all of the following conditions:

- i. be in a setting arranged by our School Placement Office in accordance with their policies and operating guidelines.
- ii. be completed under the supervision of a Cooperating Teacher
- iii. be taken with the course work and assignments required for that level of practicum
- iv. be evaluated by a Faculty Supervisor and meet the expectations required for that level of practicum

Since these conditions cannot be met without being a student in the Faculty of Education, credit cannot be granted for any teaching that took place prior to admission to the Faculty. Therefore, Prior Learning Assessment and Recognition (PLAR) credit is not available for practicum courses.

b) Teaching Methods Courses

The same type of conditions outlined in a) Practicum Courses, apply to seeking credit for teaching methods courses in the Faculty of Education as these courses are taken in conjunction with practicum. Prior Learning Assessment and Recognition (PLAR) credit is not available for methods courses associated with practicum. This includes:

EDUC-1801 or EDUC-1802 Education Today
EDUC-1810 Educational Leadership Within a Service Learning Framework
EDUC-2511 Learning Theory
EDUC-3810 Teaching/Learning and the K-8 Curriculum
EDUC-4710(3) - EDUC-4719(3) Elementary (K-8) Curriculum, Instruction and Assessment (all areas)
EDUC-4730(3) - EDUC-4755(3) Senior Years (9-12) Curriculum, Instruction and Assessment (all areas)
EDUC-4722(3) Elementary (K-8) Advanced Curricular Inquiry
EDUC-4761(3) Senior Years (9-12) Advanced Curricular Inquiry
EDUC-4835 to EDUC-4842 Early Years Curriculum, Instruction and Assessment
EDUC-4843 to EDUC-4850 Middle Years Curriculum, Instruction and Assessment
EDUC-4852 to EDUC -4871 Senior Years Curriculum, Instruction and Assessment

c) Other Education Courses

Students wishing to seek credit for courses other than Curriculum, Instruction and Assessment courses and practicum are referred to the Course Calendar, Regulations and Policies, Section 6. Challenge for Credit - Assessing Prior Learning.

FACULTY OF EDUCATION RULES AND REGULATIONS

I. Performance in courses EDUC-1810(3) (or EDUC-2800(3)), EDUC-2511(3), EDUC-2512(1), EDUC-2513(3) (RRC), EDUC-2514(1) (WEC), EDUC-3810(6) EDUC-3811(2), and EDUC 3814(2)

a) Students who receive a grade less than "C" in courses EDUC-2511(3) Learning Theory, EDUC-2513(3) Learning Theory (RRC) or EDUC-3810(6) Teaching/Learning K-8 will have their status in the program reviewed by the Performance Review Committee. As a result of this review the Committee will recommend to the Dean one of the following. That the student:

1. be required to repeat the course and/or practicum. Generally if a student is required to repeat a course they will be required to repeat the practicum. When required to repeat a course the student will be expected to achieve a minimum grade of "C" in order to be allowed to continue in the Faculty of Education. Only one repeat of the course will be allowed, or
2. be withdrawn from the Faculty of Education.

b) Students who do not pass courses EDUC-1810(3) Service Learning, EDUC-2512(1) Learning Theory Practicum, EDUC-2514(1) Learning Theory Practicum (WEC), or EDUC-3811(2) Teaching/Learning K-8 Practicum or EDUC 3814(2) Teaching /Learning K-8 Practicum (WEC) will have their status in the program reviewed by the Performance Review Committee. As a result of this review the Committee will recommend to the Dean one of the following. That the student:

1. be required to repeat the course and/or practicum. Generally if a student is required to repeat a course they will be required to repeat the practicum. When required to repeat a course the student will be expected to achieve a minimum grade of "C" in order to be allowed to continue in the Faculty of Education. Only one repeat of the course will be allowed, or
2. be withdrawn from the Faculty of Education.

c) Students will not be allowed to register for the next compulsory education course and practicum until they have completed the previous compulsory education course and practicum.

d) If a student is placed on probation, suspension or not allowed to continue status at the end of the Fall Term, they will be immediately withdrawn from any ongoing or Winter Term Education or practicum courses.

- e) If a student is placed on probation, suspension or not allowed to continue status at the end of the Winter Term, they will be immediately withdrawn from any ongoing Spring or Summer Education or practicum courses.
- f) If, during a repeat attempt, the student withdraws from the course and/or practicum, this is considered an unsuccessful attempt and the student will be withdrawn from the Program.

II. Rules and Regulations Governing Years 4 and/or 5 (Certification) of the Integrated Program

- a) Students must apply to enter the certification portion of the program. Generally this application must be received by mid-January for certification in September of that year. In order to be eligible to enter certification year 4 students must have completed 91 credit hours of the appropriate coursework for their stream with an overall grade point average of 2.0 and an average of 2.0 in their major. In order to be eligible to enter certification year 5 students must have completed all year 4 requirements.
- b) Students who have been accepted into certification year 4 or 5 and who are unable to attend can request to have their space in the program held for a maximum of one year. If, after this year, the student is still unable to attend they will be withdrawn from the program and must re-apply. Readmission to the program is subject to review and is not guaranteed.
- c) The Curriculum, Instruction and Assessment (CIA) courses and practicum blocks are linked and must be completed together. Students must register for the appropriate Curriculum, Instruction and Assessment courses and practicum blocks for their year, stream and teaching areas each term.
- d) The Faculty of Education Office will assign students to particular sections of Curriculum, Instruction and Assessment courses and students may have a restricted choice of elective courses. Students must adhere to the timetable to which they have been assigned.
- e) Students are required to attend the "start of school" experience which takes place at the beginning of the school year in each of years 4 and 5. Typically this takes place in late August before university lectures begin and is an integral part of the practicum component of certification. Students who do not attend the start of school experience will be asked to withdraw from certification year.
- f) Some components of years 4 and 5 (e.g. practicum blocks) will take place outside of the regularly scheduled university year. Students will be provided with these dates in advance and will be expected to be available for all the components.
- g) Certification year students are expected to be available for classes on a full-time basis every day from 8:30 a.m. - 6:30 p.m. All other activities or commitments must be worked around the assigned timetable. Students who cannot make this commitment are advised to defer their certification.
- h) Students who fail or withdraw from a CIA course in the Fall term of Year 4 or Year 5 will immediately be withdrawn from the subsequent CIA course in that area in the Winter term. Their name will also be forwarded to the Performance Review Committee as they will be unable to complete Certification Year 4 or 5 in the allotted time. See Section V. Failing or Withdrawing From CIA courses or Practicum in Certification for more information.
- i) Students who receive a grade less than "C" in Curriculum, Instruction and Assessment courses or who fail a block of practicum will have their status in the program reviewed by the Performance Review Committee. As a result of this review the Committee will recommend to the Dean one of the following:
 - 1. That the student be required to repeat the course(s) and/or practicum. Generally if a student is required to repeat a course he/she will be required to repeat the practicum as the practicum is an integral part of the course. When required to repeat a course the student will be expected to achieve a minimum grade of "C" in order to be allowed to continue in the Faculty of Education. Only one repeat of the course will be allowed.
 - 2. If a student receives a grade of "D" in a Curriculum, Instruction and Assessment course, the Committee may recommend that the student be allowed to continue on to the next year or graduate if all other requirements have been met.
 - 3. That the student be withdrawn from the Faculty of Education.
- j) In order to be eligible to enter Year 5, students must have completed all Year 4 requirements. Students who do not complete certification year 4 or certification year 5 in the allotted time will have their status in the Faculty of Education reviewed by the Performance Review Committee. As a result of this review the Committee will recommend to the Dean one of the following. That the student:
 - 1. be required to repeat the course(s) and/or practicum. Generally speaking if a student is required to repeat a course he/she will be required to repeat the practicum as the practicum is an integral part of the course, or
 - 2. be withdrawn from the Faculty of Education.
- k) Due to the fact that Curriculum, Instruction and Assessment courses and practicum blocks are linked and must be completed together, students may not withdraw from some C, I & A courses while remaining in others.
- l) Students will have one attempt to repeat the Curriculum, Instruction and Assessment portion and/or practicum of either year 4 or year 5 but not both. Students who do not successfully complete certification years 4 and 5 within the allotted time period will have their status reviewed by the Performance Review Committee and may be withdrawn from the program.
- m) Certification students who are placed on probation, suspension or not allowed to continue status will be removed from the BEd Program. If the student is placed on probation, suspension or not allowed to continue status at the end of the Fall Term, they will be immediately withdrawn from any ongoing or Winter Term Education or practicum courses.
- n) If, during a repeat attempt, the student withdraws from the course and/or practicum this is considered an unsuccessful attempt and the student will be withdrawn from the Program.

III. Rules and Regulations Governing the After-Degree Program

- a) Students who have been accepted into the After-Degree Program but who do not register or begin classes will be withdrawn from the program. They will not be able to "hold" their spot in the program. Such students may reapply at a future date but as admission is dependent on the qualifications of the pool of applicants each year, subsequent admission is not guaranteed. After-Degree students are admitted to the program on the basis of the stream that they select when they apply. Therefore, they cannot change streams once they have been accepted.
- b) The After-Degree Program must be taken on a full-time basis as the Curriculum, Instruction and Assessment courses and practicum blocks are linked and must be completed together. Students must register for the appropriate Curriculum, Instruction and Assessment courses and practicum blocks for their year, stream, and teaching areas in each term.
- c) The Faculty of Education Office will assign students to particular sections of Curriculum, Instruction and Assessment courses and students may have a restricted choice of elective courses. Students must adhere to the timetable to which they have been assigned.

- d) After-Degree students are required to attend the “start of school” experience which takes place at the beginning of the school year in each of years 1 and 2. Typically this takes place in late August before university lectures begin and is an integral part of the practicum component of the program. Students who do not attend the start of school experience will be withdrawn from the Faculty of Education.
- e) Some components of years 1 and 2 (e.g. practicum blocks) will take place outside of the regularly scheduled university year. Students will be provided with these dates in advance and will be expected to be available for all the components.
- f) Certification year students are expected to be available for classes on a full-time basis every day from 8:30 a.m. - 6:30 p.m. All other activities or commitments must be worked around the assigned timetable. Students who cannot make this commitment are advised to defer their certification.
- g) Students who fail or withdraw from a CIA course in the Fall term of Year 1 or Year 2 will immediately be withdrawn from the subsequent CIA course in that area in the Winter term. Their name will also be forwarded to the Performance Review Committee as they will be unable to complete Certification Year 1 or 2 in the allotted time. See Section V. Failing or Withdrawing From CIA courses or Practicum in Certification for more information.
- h) After-Degree students who receive a grade less than C in EDUC-4002(6) Foundations of Teaching and Learning will have their status in the program reviewed by the Performance Review Committee. As a result of this review the Committee will recommend to the Dean one of the following:
1. That the student be required to repeat the course(s) and/or practicum. Generally speaking if a student is required to repeat a course he/she will be required to repeat the practicum as the practicum is an integral part of the course. When required to repeat a course the student will be expected to achieve a minimum grade of “C” in order to be allowed to continue in the BEd Program. Only one repeat of the course will be allowed. Due to the sequential nature of the After-Degree Program students who are required to repeat courses must wait for the following September in order to do this, or
 2. The Committee may recommend that the student be allowed to continue on to the next year if all other requirements have been met.
 3. That the student be withdrawn from the Faculty of Education.
- i) Students who receive a grade less than “C” in Curriculum, Instruction and Assessment courses or who fail a block of practicum will have their status in the program reviewed by the Performance Review Committee. As a result of this review the Committee will recommend to the Dean one of the following:
1. That the student be required to repeat the course(s) and/or practicum. Generally speaking if a student is required to repeat a course he/she will be required to repeat the practicum as the practicum is an integral part of the course. When required to repeat a course the student will be expected to achieve a minimum grade of “C” in order to be allowed to continue in the Faculty of Education. Only one repeat of the course will be allowed.
 2. If a student receives a grade of “D” in a Curriculum, Instruction and Assessment course, the Committee may recommend that the student be allowed to continue on to the next year or graduate if all other requirements have been met.
 3. That the student be withdrawn from the Faculty of Education.
- j) In order to be eligible to enter year 2, students of the After-Degree Program must have completed all year 1 requirements. Students who do not complete years 1 and/or 2 in the allotted time will have their status in the program reviewed by the Performance Review Committee. As a result of this review the Committee will recommend to the Dean one of the following. That the student:
1. be required to repeat the course(s) and/or practicum. Generally speaking if a student is required to repeat a course he/she will be required to repeat the practicum as the practicum is an integral part of the course. Due to the sequential nature of the After-Degree Program students who are required to repeat courses must wait for the following September in order to do this, or
 2. be withdrawn from the Faculty of Education.
- k) Due to the fact that Curriculum, Instruction and Assessment courses and practicum blocks are linked and must be completed together, students may not withdraw from some C, I & A courses while remaining in others.
- l) Students will have one attempt to repeat the Curriculum, Instruction and Assessment portion and/or practicum of either year 1 or year 2 but not both. Students who do not successfully complete certification years 1 and 2 within the allotted time period will have their status reviewed by the Performance Review Committee and may be withdrawn from the Faculty.
- m) If, during a repeat attempt, the student withdraws from the course and/or practicum this is considered an unsuccessful attempt and the student will be withdrawn from the Faculty of Education.

IV. Rules and Regulations Governing Certification in the Joint UW/RRC Polytech Program

- a) Students must apply to enter the certification portion (Year 5) of the program. Generally this application must be received by mid-January for certification in September of that year. In order to be eligible to enter certification year 5 students must have completed 123 credit hours of the appropriate coursework for their program with an overall grade point average of 2.0 and an average of 2.0 in their major. The UW Arts or Science major must be completed before entering Year 5.
- b) Students who have been accepted into certification year 5 and who are unable to attend can request to have their space in the program held for a maximum of one year. If, after this year, the student is still unable to attend they will be withdrawn from the program and must be re-apply. Readmission to the program is subject to review and is not guaranteed.
- c) The Curriculum, Instruction and Assessment courses and practicum blocks are linked and must be completed together. The following courses must be registered for concurrently: Senior Years Curriculum, Instruction and Assessment: Major and EDUC-4778(3) Practicum Block - Red River College Polytechnic.
- d) The Faculty of Education Office will assign students to particular sections of Curriculum, Instruction and Assessment courses and students may have a restricted choice of elective courses. Students must adhere to the timetable to which they have been assigned.
- e) Students are required to attend the “start of school” experience which takes place at the beginning of the school year in year 5. Typically this takes place in late August before university lectures begin and is an integral part of the practicum component of certification. Students who do not attend the start of school experience will be asked to withdraw from certification for that year.
- f) Practicum blocks will take place outside of the regularly scheduled university year. Students will be provided with these dates in advance and will be expected to be available for all the components.
- g) Certification year students are expected to be available for classes on a full-time basis every day from 8:30 a.m - 6:30 p.m. All other activities or commitments must be worked around the assigned timetable. Students who cannot make this commitment are advised to defer their certification.

- h) Students who fail or withdraw from a CIA course in the Fall term will immediately be withdrawn from the subsequent CIA course in that area in the Winter term. Their name will also be forwarded to the Performance Review Committee as they will be unable to complete Certification Year 5 in the allotted time. See Section V. Failing or Withdrawing From CIA courses or Practicum in Certification for more information.
- i) Students who receive a grade less than "C" in Curriculum, Instruction and Assessment courses or who fail a block of practicum will have their status in the program reviewed by the Performance Review Committee. As a result of this review the Committee will recommend to the Dean one of the following:
1. That the student be required to repeat the course(s) and/or practicum. Generally speaking if a student is required to repeat a course he/she will be required to repeat the practicum as the practicum is an integral part of the course. When required to repeat a course the student will be expected to achieve a minimum grade of "C" in order to be allowed to continue in the Faculty of Education Program. Only one repeat of the course will be allowed, or
 2. If a student receives a grade of "D" in a Curriculum, Instruction and Assessment course, the Committee may recommend that the student be allowed to continue on to the next year or graduate if all other requirements have been met.
 3. That the student be withdrawn from the Faculty of Education.
- j) Students who do not complete Certification Year 5 in the allotted time will have their status in the program reviewed by the Performance Review Committee. As a result of this review the Committee will recommend to the Dean one of the following. That the student:
1. be required to repeat the course(s) and/or practicum. Generally speaking if a student is required to repeat a course he/she will be required to repeat the practicum as the practicum is an integral part of the course, or
 2. be withdrawn from the Faculty of Education.
- k) Due to the fact that Curriculum, Instruction and Assessment courses and practicum blocks are linked and must be completed together, students must withdraw from Certification Year 5 if they are not able to complete both the Curriculum, Instruction and Assessment course and the practicum concurrently.
- l) Students will have one attempt to repeat the Curriculum, Instruction and Assessment portion and/or practicum of Year 5. Students who do not successfully complete Certification Year 5 within the allotted time period will have their status reviewed by the Performance Review Committee and may be withdrawn from the Faculty of Education.
- m) Certification students who are placed on probation, suspension or not allowed to continue status will be removed from the BEd Program. If the student is placed on probation, suspension or not allowed to continue status at the end of the Fall Term, they will be immediately withdrawn from any ongoing or Winter Term Education or practicum courses.
- n) If, during a repeat attempt, the student withdraws from the course and/or practicum this is considered an unsuccessful attempt and the student will be withdrawn from the Faculty of Education.

V. Failing or Withdrawing From CIA courses or Practicum in Certification

- a) Students who fail or withdraw from a CIA course in the Fall term of Year 4 or Year 5 or After-Degree Year 1 or 2 will immediately be withdrawn from the subsequent CIA course in that area in the Winter term. Their name will also be forwarded to the Performance Review Committee as they will be unable to complete Certification Year 4 or 5 or After-Degree Year 1 or 2 in the allotted time.
- b) Students who fail or withdraw from Practicum Blocks in Certification will also have their name forwarded to the Performance Review Committee as they will be unable to complete Certification Year 4 or 5 or After-Degree Year 1 or 2 in the allotted time.
- c) Students who are unable to complete certification within the allotted time and who are allowed to remain in the Program will be required to do an Interim Year of study.

VI. Rules and Regulations Pertaining to Faculty of Education Interim Year

As a ruling of the Performance Review Committee, students may be required to complete an Interim Year of study.

- a) During the Interim Year the student must register for the CIA courses and practicum as laid out by the Performance Review Committee.
- b) Even if a student successfully completes practicum, Faculty of Education regulations state that if a student is required to repeat a course(s) he/she will be required to repeat the practicum as the practicum is an integral part of the course. Therefore, students in an Interim Year will be required to do additional practicum. Students may be asked to repeat block practicum(s) and/or do supplementary practicum. Regardless of previous performance in practicum, the practicum associated with the Interim Year must be passed in order to meet the requirements of the Interim Year and proceed to the next year.
- c) Students repeating practicum may also be required to complete Educ-4779 (3) Practicum Block: Supplementary.
- d) The days, term(s) and structure of practicum will be determined by the Student Teaching Office.
- e) Students may be required to sign a Performance Contract in order to be allowed to continue in practicum, begin the Interim Year, or continue in the Faculty of Education.
- f) When required to repeat a CIA course the student will be expected to achieve a minimum grade of "C" in order to be allowed to continue in the Faculty of Education.
- g) Faculty of Education regulations state that "Only one repeat of a course will be allowed" so any courses or practicum taken during the Interim Year will be considered the final attempt. All must be passed satisfactorily in order to proceed to the next year.
- h) Faculty of Education regulations also state that "Students will have one attempt to repeat the Curriculum, Instruction and Assessment portion and/or practicum of either year 4 or Year 5 but not both". Therefore, only one Interim Year will be allowed.
- i) If, during the Interim Year, the student withdraws from the course(s) and/or practicum this will be considered an unsuccessful attempt and the student will be withdrawn from the Program.
- j) Students in an interim year can work on other non-CIA courses specific to their stream such as:
- Educ-4401 Just and Effective Schooling
 - Educ-4405 Contemporary Issues in Inner-City Education
 - Educ-4410 Indigenous Education
 - Educ-4604 Classroom-Based Assessment
 - Educ-4701 Classroom Management
 - Educ-xxxx Inclusive Ed II (various)

VII. Rules and Regulations Governing Practicum Placements

A) Integrated Program and After Degree Program

1. All placements will be arranged by the Student Teaching Office. Students are not allowed to arrange their own placement. All student teaching placements will be guided by the following:
 - a) students will have at least one placement in a school with inner-city characteristics
 - b) students will experience a variety of grade levels and subject areas within their chosen stream as well as at least one placement within another stream
 - c) students will be placed in more than one school division
 - d) In order to avoid a conflict of interest or a perception of conflict of interest, whenever possible students will not be placed in schools where:
 - they are currently employed;
 - they have been employed in the past;
 - they have volunteered;
 - family members attend or are employed by the school.
2. Adjustments to the practicum dates or to the prescribed format of the practicum will not be considered. Student teaching must be completed in the manner it is scheduled (e.g. one day per week, five week block) and during the dates that are provided.
3. Students who are placed on probation, suspension or not allowed to continue status at the end of the Fall Term, will be immediately withdrawn from any ongoing or Winter Term Education or practicum courses.
4. Eligibility for a student teaching practicum requires that students be eligible for provincial certification. Students who are ineligible for practicum will be withdrawn from the Faculty of Education.
5. Students who, after admission, show an inadequate command of spoken or written English which interferes with their ability to communicate effectively in a classroom will have to complete a proficiency test conducted by a University of Winnipeg designate. Students may be required to take further courses to improve their English which may result in withdrawal from the Faculty of Education. Continuation in the B.Ed. Program will be contingent upon approval from the Language Assessment Evaluators and the Director of Student Teaching.
6. Students seeking a French immersion placement in the certification portion of the program are advised that they will be tested on their French oral and written language proficiency. This testing will be administered by Université de Saint-Boniface and will take place in the spring prior to entering Certification Year 4.

B) Applied Commerce and Industrial Arts Education (Integrated and After Degree Programs)

1. Students in the Joint UW/RRC Polytech Applied Commerce and Industrial Arts Education programs are required to complete one block of student teaching in their Arts or Science major (Integrated Programs) or minor (After Degree programs).
2. All placements will be arranged by the Student Teaching Office. Students are not allowed to arrange their own school placement.
3. Students must be registered in the appropriate Senior Years Curriculum, Instruction and Assessment courses when undertaking the practicum block.
4. Students may complete this block in either the Fall or Winter term.
5. Students are advised that if they have outstanding practicum requirements to complete at RRC Polytech, they will generally be required to complete the block in the Fall term.
6. Students must attend a "Start of School" experience, which takes place approximately the end of August. Students who do not participate in the Start of School experience will have their registration in the practicum block, as well as the associated Senior Years Curriculum, Instruction and Assessment course(s) cancelled.
7. Students are advised that the dates of their practicum block may fall outside of the regularly scheduled academic year.
8. Students will be required to spend two half days per week in their host school in the same term in which they will be completing their block. Students must ensure that they leave room in their timetable to accommodate this component of the practicum requirement.
9. Eligibility for a student teaching practicum requires that students be eligible for provincial certification. Students who are ineligible for practicum will be withdrawn from the Faculty of Education.

C) Vocational Teacher Education

1. Students in the Joint UW/RRC Polytech Vocational Teacher Education program are required to complete one block of practicum in their Arts or Science minor.
2. Placements will be coordinated by the Student Teaching Office.
3. Students will take 6 credit hours of Senior Years Curriculum, Instruction and Assessment.
4. Students who are completing courses on a full time basis will register for Curriculum, Instruction and Assessment courses relevant to their minor, and must register for their practicum block concurrently.
5. Students who hold full-time teaching positions, and who are therefore pursuing their university studies on a part-time basis, may take a General Curriculum, Instruction and Assessment course. These students may complete their practicum block either concurrently, or upon completion of this course.
6. Students are advised that the dates of their practicum block may fall outside of the regularly scheduled academic year.
7. Eligibility for a student teaching practicum requires that students be eligible for provincial certification. Students who are ineligible for practicum will be withdrawn from the Faculty of Education.

D) Withdrawing from Practicum - All Programs

1. Students wishing to withdraw from practicum courses (EDUC-2512(1), EDUC-2514(1), EDUC-3811(2), EDUC-3814(2), EDUC-4770(3) - EDUC-4779(3)) must first notify the Student Teaching Office.
2. In all cases where it is possible, the Student Teaching Office will recommend an extension to practicum rather than a withdrawal.
3. Students in years 4 and 5 (or After Degree Years 1 and 2) who are in the extended blocks of practicum, must have documented medical reasons or other documented extenuating circumstances (e.g. death in the family) to withdraw from their practicum at any time throughout the course.
4. Students should note that some practicum (i.e. blocks) may only be repeated once.

5. Students who are repeating practicum as a ruling of the Performance Review Committee and who withdraw from the practicum will be considered to have made an unsuccessful attempt and the student will be withdrawn from the Faculty of Education.

VIII. Performance Contracts

In some cases, students may be required to sign a Performance Contract in order to remain in the Faculty of Education.

- a) Failure to sign the contract will result in removal from the Faculty of Education.
- b) Failure to comply with the conditions of the contract can result in removal from the Faculty of Education.

IX. Appeals and the Faculty of Education

a) Deferred Exams, Incomplete Term Work, and Grade Appeals

1. Students are directed to Section VII Academic Regulations and Policies, 8. Appeals for information on these appeals and deadlines.

b) BEd Performance Review Committee (PRC)

1. The Faculty of Education Performance Review Committee deals with the following items:

- Students in the Integrated BEd Program who receive grades below C in EDUC-2511(3) Learning Theory or EDUC-3810(6) Teaching/Learning and the K-8 Curriculum.
 - Students in the Integrated Program who do not pass EDUC-1810(3) Service Learning (3), EDUC-2512(1) Learning Theory Practicum or EDUC-2514(1) Learning Theory Practicum (WEC) or EDUC-3811(2) Teaching/Learning and the K-8 Curriculum Practicum or EDUC-3814(2) Teaching/Learning and the K-8 Curriculum Practicum (WEC).
 - Students in the Joint UW/RRC Polytech Program who receive grades below C in EDUC-2513(3) Learning Theory (RRC).
 - Students in the After-Degree Program who receive grades below C in EDUC-4002(6) Foundations of Teaching and Learning.
 - Students who receive grades below C in Curriculum, Instruction and Assessment courses.
 - Students who fail a block of practicum.
 - Students who do not complete certification year or who do not complete the certification portion of the program within the allotted time.
 - Students who wish to enter certification and who have not met the minimum requirements (i.e., completion of 91 c.h. with an overall average of 2.0 and a 2.0 average in the major)
 - Readmissions to the program in relation to currency requirements.
 - Students who are removed from their school placement at the request of the host school.
 - Students for whom a placement cannot be secured due to the conditions of a Performance Contract.
 - Any other issues that may arise related to the performance of students in the program.
2. The PRC typically meets in January, May and August of each year.
 3. Students will be notified in writing of the decision of the PRC.
 4. Students may meet with the Dean of Education for explanation or clarification of the PRC decision.
 5. Students wishing to appeal the PRC decision beyond the Education Program should direct an appeal to the Senate Appeals Committee.
 6. There are two grounds for appealing the decision of the PRC:
 - The student has reason to believe that all pertinent information was not available when the case was considered by the PRC.
 - The student has reason to believe and can demonstrate that the PRC did not give the appeal a fair hearing.
 7. Students have 15 working days from the date of the written decision of the PRC to submit an appeal to the Senate Appeals Committee.

X. Currency Requirement

Students who withdraw from the program and seek readmission at a later date are advised that education courses completed more than 5 years prior to readmission will be reviewed for currency. Students may be required to repeat some or all of these courses.

XI. Standards of Professional Conduct for Pre-Service/In-Service Teachers

1. The Faculty of Education at the University of Winnipeg is committed to maintaining its students' freedom of thought, belief, opinion and expression. As a professional program we are committed to assisting students in becoming professionals. The Faculty of Education has the responsibility of fostering the academic freedom of students within the context of professional standards of conduct and also has the responsibility of fostering the academic freedom of students with respect for the needs of the learner. The standards describe professional characteristics and behaviours students are expected to develop and demonstrate during practicum and course work. Students who do not demonstrate these professional standards may be referred to the Faculty of Education Performance Review Committee.

- a) In keeping with the Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms the student will respect the dignity and rights of all persons.
- b) The student acts in a responsible manner which includes being punctual, dependable and trustworthy in class and during practicum.
- c) The student maintains positive interpersonal relationships with peers, faculty, school personnel and pupils by contributing, cooperating, participating and working with others in a professional manner.
- d) The student demonstrates a commitment to teaching by taking initiative, showing enthusiasm, and showing an interest in learning about teaching.
- e) The student directs any criticism of the professional activity of others to that person and only then, after informing them of the intent to do so, may direct in confidence the criticism to appropriate officials. It shall not be considered a breach of this clause to report reasonable grounds for suspecting child abuse to proper authorities according to legal requirements.
- f) The student respects the confidentiality of information about pupils, peers, school personnel, or faculty received in confidence or in the course of professional duties.

2. Professional Misconduct

As educators, Faculty of Education students are expected to model and encourage appropriate learning behaviours in themselves and their peers. Recognizing that they are part of a class and that their behaviour and attitude has an impact on the class, the goal of all our students should be to create a positive learning environment where they learn from the instructor and each other. Faculty of Education students are expected to recognize the important and crucial role of the instructor in the learning process and to award their instructors the respect and authority which is inherent in the role.

Professional Misconduct can include, but is not restricted to, the following:

- a) Persistent failure to attend class
 - b) Persistent disruptive behaviour in class such as:
 - talking in class during lectures or presentations
 - arriving late for class and/or leaving class early
 - use of cell phone in class
 - c) Persistent lack of participation in class activities
 - d) Persistent inability to function in a group setting
 - non-contribution to group activities
 - behaviour causing negative impact on group
 - e) Persistent negative or disrespectful attitude
 - f) Persistent disregard for the role and authority of the instructor
- Gross misconduct is defined as, but not limited to, intoxication (whether from alcohol or drugs), fighting or other physical abuse, indecent behaviour, theft, serious breaches of health and safety rules, uttering threats, offensive behaviour (such as discrimination, harassment, bullying, abuse and violence) and gross insubordination.

Grievance procedures may be lodged against a student under the Standards of Professional Conduct for Pre-Service Teachers. These procedures are outlined in the "Faculty of Education Grievance Resolution Procedures" document.

XII. Attendance Policy

The Bachelor of Education Program leads to a professional degree. Accordingly, students are expected to attend, be punctual and participate in all classes. These expectations acknowledge their importance for the teaching and learning process and the professional responsibilities of teachers. These expectations are implicit in Education courses, but may be emphasized explicitly in addition to the University of Winnipeg's academic regulations concerning attendance (see section Regulations & Policies, 3a Attendance).

Students are encouraged to volunteer and participate in extra-curricular activities in their host schools. However, students must ensure that no conflict occurs between the school activity and their attendance in class. Student Teachers are not to miss University classes for school activities.

XIII. Professional Development

The Faculty of Education prides itself on preparing well-rounded professional teachers who are committed to life-long learning and professional development. In keeping with this goal the faculty offers a professional development program each year for all students designed to supplement their regular coursework. This non-credit program is voluntary but students are strongly encouraged to participate in order to enhance their understanding of the classroom context and to develop additional skills beyond those acquired through academic and practicum courses. Participation in the program is considered a professional responsibility and in keeping with the expectations that will be held for them in their role as a classroom teacher.

The Professional Development Program consists of a series of seminars offered throughout the fall and winter terms. They are typically offered no more than once a week for an hour during the free slot and the topics are posted in advance. The series concludes each term well before the start of the exam period. Students receive a participation certificate for attendance at each seminar. Many students opt to include these certificates in their teaching portfolios as an indication of their commitment to professional development and the practice of life-long learning.

The topics covered in the professional development sessions are varied. They are designed to provide information and ideas that are supplementary to students' coursework but which relate to the role of the classroom teacher. Many of the sessions are delivered by representatives of organizations whose activities are related to and supportive of the educational process in schools. Others are delivered by university faculty. The topics vary each year but a representative sample of the topics includes the following: Working with Behaviorally and/or Emotionally At-Risk Children and Youth.

Violence and Abuse Prevention

Developing Resiliency in Youth Through Mentoring

Teaching in an International Setting

Summer Projects for Inner City Children and Youth

Overcoming Math Anxiety in Pre-Service Teachers

XIV. Removal from Faculty of Education

- a) Students may be removed from the University of Winnipeg, Faculty of Education programs for one or more of the following reasons:
 1. Failure to meet or maintain academic grade-point requirements as established by the University of Winnipeg and the Faculty of Education. In the case of academic Probation or Not Allowed to Continue Status, withdrawal is automatic and will take place without a review or further procedure.
 2. As a result of a ruling by the Performance Review Committee (see Faculty of Education Program Rules and Regulations in the General Calendar for more information).
 3. As a result of behaviour judged to be in violation of the Manitoba Teachers Society Code of Professional Practice or the Standards of Professional Conduct for Pre-Service Teachers or for Professional Misconduct (see Section IX of Faculty of Education Rules and Regulations in the General Calendar for more information).
 4. Failure to sign a Performance Contract.
 5. Non-compliance with the conditions of a Performance Contract.
 6. Ineligibility for a practicum placement.
 7. As the result of a change in the status of a Criminal Record or Child Abuse Registry entry.
 - Students who appear on the Child Abuse Registry will be immediately withdrawn from the Faculty and any ongoing Education courses.
 - Students reporting a change in the status of their criminal record will have their case evaluated by the Legal Records Check Committee. They will be informed of the Committee's decision in writing. Students who are not allowed to continue in the Faculty of Education will be immediately withdrawn from the Faculty and any ongoing Education courses.
 8. As a result of academic or non-academic misconduct.

- b) In the case of gross misconduct, students will be removed from practicum and immediately suspended from their courses in Education until the case is reviewed by the Dean and a final decision is made.
- c) Removal from the Faculty of Education means the student will be withdrawn from all Education courses, removed from practicum, and removed from any Faculty of Education sponsored or affiliated activities (i.e. mentoring sites, WESTCAST, international teaching opportunities, Contact to Contract, etc.)
- d) Applicants who have been removed from the Faculty of Education as a result of being on Probationary or Not Allowed to Continue Status must meet "regular" status in order to be eligible to reapply.
- If the student has subsequently completed a degree they are eligible to apply to the After-Degree Program and should follow the application processes for that category.
 - If the student has achieved regular status and is eligible to apply as a Transfer applicant they should follow the application processes for that category.
 - If, in the case of Access Programs, the student achieves regular status and wishes to re-enter the WEC or CATEP Program they should write a letter to the Director of Access Programs including:
 - their reason(s) for reapplying
 - the reason(s) they think a subsequent attempt will be successful
 - the measures they have taken to increase their chances of success in the Faculty
 - The applicant may be required to provide medical or other documentation.
 - An interview may be required.
 - Reapplication does not guarantee readmission.
- e) Students who have been removed from the Faculty of Education as a result of a ruling of the PRC and wish to reapply should be aware of the following:
- Due to the limited number of spaces applicants who have been admitted in the past receive low priority for readmission.
 - Students cannot reapply to the Program for a period of 3 subsequent academic years. (For example, if the student was removed in June of 2022 they cannot reapply until the 2025/26 year.)
 - Readmission only takes place for classes starting in September and students must apply by March 31 of the year they wish to start classes in the Fall.
 - The student must write a letter to the Dean of the Faculty of Education including:
 - their reason(s) for reapplying
 - the reason(s) they think a subsequent attempt will be successful
 - the measures they have taken to increase their chances of success in the Faculty
 - The applicant may be required to provide medical or other documentation.
 - An interview may be required.
 - Reapplication does not guarantee readmission.
 - If the applicant is granted readmission they will then complete an official application to the Faculty of Education through the Admissions Office.

INTRODUCTION

English courses are designed to develop students' confidence and ability to read and write effectively. The courses introduce students to various aesthetic, cultural, and historical factors, which influence what they read and write. Faculty members present their discipline in a manner consistent with academic freedom and an awareness of students' experiences.

Through a 3-Year BA, 4-Year BA, or Honours BA, students may choose courses covering a variety of texts from several perspectives, including the literature of different periods and genres, and the function and history of language. Some English courses are prescribed or recognized as pre-professional or professional courses, and all courses are useful to professional careers. The study of English also helps students develop competence in using language. Students with English degrees often go into such fields as journalism, business, public service, editing and publishing, law, medicine, and theology, or enter graduate school in literary or related studies to prepare for an academic career in teaching and scholarship.

The Department of English also participates in the Interdepartmental Minor in Comparative Literature. For eligible courses, please see Comparative Literature in this Calendar.

AREAS OF SPECIALIZATION IN THE 4-YEAR BA IN ENGLISH

Students pursuing a four-year degree may choose to take a general English degree (described above) or they may concentrate their studies on one of three specific areas of specialization. 1. Creative Writing, 2. Young People's Texts and Cultures, or 3. Screen and Cultural Studies.

1. Creative Writing: All students are welcome to take courses in this area, whether they choose the specialization or not. Students who complete the following course of study for the 4-Year BA will have their specialization in Creative Writing noted on their transcript.

Description

The Creative Writing specialization develops skills in reading and analyzing literature, with the goal of creating and producing original works of literary art. While maintaining an interest in literary history, form, genre, and the place of literature among the other arts, Creative Writing introduces students to methods and theories of writing in a variety of genres, including fiction, poetry, and (with courses available from the Theatre and Film department) plays and screenwriting.

Required Courses

Students are required to fulfill all current requirements for a 4-Year BA in English, listed above.
In addition, students pursuing a specialization in Creative Writing must complete the following:

Core Course:

ENGL-3101(6) Creative Writing Comprehensive

Note: the prerequisite for this course is ENGL-2102(3) and the co-requisite is ENGL-2002(3), both listed below

12 credit hours of study in additional Creative Writing courses chosen from the following list, including at least two different genres:

- ENGL-2102(3) Introduction to Creative Writing: Developing a Portfolio
- ENGL-2002(3) The Creative Process
- ENGL-3102(1) Creative Writing Field Research (may be taken up to 3 times, if topic varies)
- ENGL-3110(3) Writing Creative Non-Fiction
- ENGL-3112(6) Advanced Creative Writing
- ENGL-3113(3) Writing Short Fiction
- ENGL-3114(3) Writing Poems
- ENGL-3115(3) Writing for Children
- ENGL-3116(3) Topics in Creative Writing (see English website for current description)

THFM-2610(3) Script and Screen
THFM-2611(3) Introduction to Screenwriting*
THFM-2612(3) Script and the Small Screen
THFM-2701(6) Playwriting I*
THFM-3611(6) Advanced Screenwriting*
THFM-3701(6) Playwriting II: General*

*Note that a maximum of 9 credit hours in Theatre and Film can count toward the minimum 48 credit hours in the Major subject. Also note that Theatre and Film courses have their own prerequisites and regulations.

6 credit hours of study in courses in Canadian and/or Indigenous literatures and cultures, chosen from the following list:

ENGL-3119(3) Canadian Children's Literatures and Cultures
ENGL-3708(3/6) Canadian Literature and Culture
ENGL-3709(3/6) Topics in Canadian Literature and Culture
ENGL-3717(3/6) Indigenous Literatures and Cultures
ENGL-3719(3) Literature of Manitoba
ENGL-3723(3/6) Topics in Indigenous Texts and Cultures
ENGL-4710(3/6) Canadian Literature and Culture
ENGL-4717(3/6) Indigenous Literatures and Cultures

In addition, certain Topics courses in the English Department may focus on Canadian and/or Indigenous topics that make them eligible to fulfill this requirement. Consult an English Department advisor to be sure.

Note: Credit in the following former English courses (no longer offered) may also be used to fulfill the requirement: ENGL-3710, ENGL-3713, ENGL-3714, ENGL- 3716, ENGL-3731.

A minimum of 18 additional credit hours of study in English courses other than Creative Writing. To write well, you must be well read.

Students must consult with an English Department advisor for Creative Writing in planning their program of study and completing the required forms at each registration.

2. Young People's Texts and Cultures: All students are welcome to take courses in this area, whether they choose the specialization or not. Students who complete the following course of study for the 4-Year BA will have their specialization in Young People's Texts and Cultures noted on their transcript.

Description

The Young People's Texts and Cultures specialization allows students to focus on texts by, for, and about young people. While maintaining an interest in literary history, form, genre, and the place of literature among the other arts, Young People's Texts and Cultures also introduces students to the study of other texts such as toys, games, picture books, graphic narratives, digital media, films and performances.

Required Courses

Students are required to fulfill all current requirements for a 4-Year BA in English, listed above.

In addition, students pursuing a specialization in Young People's Texts and Cultures must complete the following:

Core Course

ENGL-2003(6) The Field of Children's Literature OR ENGL-2004(6) A History of Children's Literature

12 credit hours of study in additional courses in Young People's Texts and Cultures, chosen from the following list:

ENGL-3119(3) Canadian Children's Literature and Culture
ENGL-3160(3) Topics in Young People's Cultural and Literary Texts
ENGL-3169(3) Films for Young People

Capstone course (normally taken in the final year of the program)

ENGL-3120(6) Practicum in Literature, Literacy and Language (related to young people's texts and cultures) OR
ENGL-4160(3/6) Young People's Texts and Cultures

A minimum of 18 additional credit hours of study in English courses other than courses in Young People's Texts and Cultures.

Students must consult with an English Department advisor for Young People's Texts and Cultures in planning their program of study and completing the required forms at each registration.

3. Screen and Cultural Studies: All students are welcome to take courses in this area, whether they choose the specialization or not. Students who complete the following course of study for the 4-Year BA will have their specialization in Screen and Cultural Studies noted on their transcript.

Description

The Screen and Cultural Studies specialization focuses not only on literary texts, but also on cinematic, media, and cultural texts. Courses in this area reflect an interest in literary and cultural history; literary and cinematic forms, movements, and genres; cultural and critical theory; audience and reception studies; and the intersections between literature, film and other forms of cultural production.

Required Courses

Students are required to fulfill all current requirements for a 4-Year BA in English, listed above.

In addition, students pursuing a specialization in Screen and Cultural Studies must complete the following:

Core Course

ENGL-2146 (6) Screen Studies OR ENGL-2145(6) Field of Cultural Studies

12 credit hours of study in additional courses in Screen and Cultural Studies, chosen from the following list:

THFM-2612(3) Script and the Small Screen*

*Note that a maximum of 9 credit hours in Theatre and Film can count toward the minimum 48 credit hours in the Major subject.

Also note that Theatre and Film courses have their own prerequisites and regulations.

Students must consult with an English Department advisor for Screen and Cultural Studies in planning their program of study and completing the required forms at each registration.

REQUIREMENTS FOR AN HONOURS BA IN ENGLISH

Honours courses are designed to allow for more intensive student participation in the study of a wide range of subjects, including critical theory, women's writing, national literatures, historical periods, and individual authors and topics. While students have some flexibility in choosing their paths through the Honours program, the requirements ensure that all students graduate with an overall sense of the field of literary and textual studies. Regular attendance and active participation in seminars are required of all students registered in Honours courses. NOTE: While ENGL-2142(6) Field of Literary and Textual Studies is a required course for students pursuing an Honours BA in English, students may enroll in 4000-level courses if they have completed OR are concurrently registered in any of the following courses: ENGL-2003(6) Field of Children's Literature; ENGL-2142(6) Field of Literary and Textual Studies; ENGL-2145 (6) Field of Cultural Studies; or ENGL-2146 Screen Studies.

Prior to registration on WebAdvisor/Student Planning each Spring, students must meet with an English Department faculty advisor to discuss their program and submit an Honours Declaration form. The advising schedule is posted in the English Department and on the departmental website.

Note: Unless these courses also have an English number, they do not count as part of the minimum 54 credit hours required of Honours students.

ADMISSION REQUIREMENT

Minimum 30 credit hours completed

Entry, continuing and graduation minimum GPA is 3.0 (B) in Honours Subject courses and 2.5 (C+) in Non-Honours Subject courses. The minimum 3.0 GPA (B) will be based on all attempts (including course repeats and failures) in Honours Subject courses. The minimum 2.5 GPA (C+) in all Non-Honours Subject courses will be calculated as for the general degree (i.e. Fs are not included, and in the case of repeated courses, only the highest grade will be used).

Students must consult with an English Department advisor or the Honours Chair in planning their studies.

GRADUATION REQUIREMENT

120 credit hours

RESIDENCE REQUIREMENT

Degree:

Minimum 60 credit hours

Honours: Minimum 30 credit hours, including minimum 18 credit hours at upper level (3000/4000) of which a minimum of 9 credit hours are at 4000 level

GENERAL DEGREE REQUIREMENT

Science: 6 credit hours in Science
Writing: Minimum 3 credit hours of Academic Writing
Indigenous: 3 credit hours in courses that fulfill the Indigenous Course Requirement
Maximum Introductory Courses: Students may use a maximum of 42 credit hours at the 1000-level. Of these, a maximum of 6 credit hours may be below the 1000-level. As a result, students must take a minimum of 78 credit hours at the 2000-level or above in order to not exceed the maximum number of introductory courses.
Distribution: Minimum three (3) credit hours from each of five (5) different subjects

HONOURS REQUIREMENT

Single Honours: Minimum 54 credit hours/Maximum 78 credit hours in the Honours subject
Minimum 24 credit hours in 4000-level Honours courses
Double Honours: Minimum 36 credit hours in each Honours subject
Minimum 18 credit hours in 4000-level Honours courses in the English component of the Double Honours. For the requirements of the other Honours subject, consult the department involved.
Required Courses: ENGL-1001(6) English 1 OR ENGL-1000(3) English 1A. Minimum 3.0 GPA required for admission to Honours Program.
ENGL-2142(6) Field of Literary and Textual Studies

Distribution Requirements: Single and Double Honours

In addition to the regular degree requirements, Single Honours students are required to include courses in different areas to ensure that a full spectrum of study has been achieved: Critical Theory; Historical Area Courses; Global Literatures; Culture and Identity; Texts, Forms, and Practices. While it is not a degree requirement, study at the university level of languages other than English is highly recommended, especially for those who are considering post-graduate study in English, Cultural Studies, or related fields. Double Honours students must consult with the English Department Honours Chair or designate in planning their program to ensure that it reasonably approximates the Single Honours Distribution Requirements. Students who find it impossible to complete their distribution requirements in a given year should discuss their program with the Honours Chair or designate.

Students must complete either ENGL-3151(6) Critical Theory: An Introduction OR ENGL-4110(6) Critical Theory, in addition to a minimum of 3 credit hours in each of these five areas of study:

1. English Literature to 1789

COURSE LISTINGS

FIRST-YEAR (1000-LEVEL) COURSES

Only 6 credit hours in First-Year (1000-level) English courses can count towards a Major in English.

In order to offer students an interesting and useful introduction to university-level literary study, all sections of First-Year (1000-level) English follow the general guidelines listed in the course descriptions below. However, each section of these courses works toward these general goals by means of a different focus. Some sections concentrate on specific approaches or theories of literature (such as postcolonial or feminist); some deal with specific genres (such as poetry or short fiction); and some cover specific kinds of literature (such as popular literature or writing by women). Because each individual section of the courses varies in both content and method, students intending to enroll in these courses should consult the English Department website for descriptions of the specific content of each of the sections of the course currently being offered. After reading these descriptions, students should try to select a section with a focus that interests them. For additional information on these sections and how to satisfy the first-year prerequisite, please see "Prerequisites" in the "General Information" section.

Master of Environment and Social Change – Please see the Graduate Studies Academic Calendar.

INTRODUCTION

The Environmental Studies Program was founded in 1970 as one of the first interdisciplinary undergraduate environment programs in Canada, and one of the first few to emerge worldwide. During the last five decades the activities and the functions of the program have grown substantially with seven degree options available to students.

Following the principles of sustainability, the Department of Environmental Studies and Sciences takes an integrated and practical approach to human-environmental interactions and resource and environmental problems. The mission of the Department is to maintain and restore the health of the ecosphere and its people by i) educating and training the environmental leaders of tomorrow, ii) creating and disseminating knowledge, and iii) engaging with communities at local, regional and global levels.

The Department of Environmental Studies and Sciences (DESS) offers various degree options, noted above. BA students can take either the Sustainable Environmental Resource Systems stream or the Sustainable Urban Environments stream. BSc students can choose from among four streams: Chemistry, Forest Policy and Management, Forest Ecology and Global Environmental Systems. Students also have the opportunity to add on a Business Stream (see the "Science with a Business Stream" section of this Academic Calendar). The joint applied program with RRC Polytech is a 5-year program that includes a full co-operative education work term and students receive both a diploma and a degree.

NATIONAL ENVIRONMENTAL PROGRAM ACCREDITATION FOR BA DEGREES

The BA degrees in Environmental Studies at The University of Winnipeg were among the first of their kind in Canada to be accredited by the Canadian Environmental Accreditation Commission (CEAC) and Environmental Careers Organization (ECO) Canada. This accreditation demonstrates to students, parents, educators and industry that our BA Degrees meet a national standard of quality.

REQUIREMENTS FOR A 3-YEAR BA

ADMISSION REQUIREMENT Students must meet prerequisites where required.

GRADUATION REQUIREMENT 90 credit hours

RESIDENCE REQUIREMENT

Degree: Minimum 30 credit hours

Major: Minimum 18 credit hours

GENERAL DEGREE REQUIREMENT

Humanities: 12 credit hours in Humanities

Science: 6 credit hours in Science

Writing: Minimum 3 credit hours of Academic Writing. RHET-1106 Academic Writing: Links with the Disciplines, Environmental Studies is recommended.

The Department recommends that students take RHET-1106 early in their first year of studies as most DESS courses include multiple writing assignments.

Indigenous: 3 credit hours in designated Indigenous requirement courses

Maximum Introductory Courses: Students may use a maximum of 42 credit hours at the 1000 level. Of these, a maximum of 6 credit hours may be below the 1000 level. As a result, students must take a minimum of 48 credit hours at the 2000-level or above in order to not exceed the maximum number of introductory courses.

Distribution: Minimum three (3) credit hours from each of five (5) different subjects.

|-----------------|--|
| Single Major: | Sustainable Environmental Resource Systems, 63 credit hours; Sustainable Urban Environments, 63 credit hours. |
| Double Major: | The student must meet both the requirements of Environmental Studies and Sciences and those of the second Major Department. A course listed by both Department counts towards both Majors (unless it is clearly stated otherwise in that discipline's section of this Calendar). |
| Combined Major: | Minimum 48 credit hours from two (2) different majors with not less than 18 credit hours from each major subject. Required courses depend on second major and will be determined in consultation with the department advisor |

Required courses:

These are the core courses for all BA students.

|------------------------|--|
| BIOL-1106(3) | Environmental Biology OR CHEM-2801(3) Environmental Issues: A Chemistry Perspective |
| ECON-1104(3) | Introduction to Economic Theory |
| ECON-2317(3) | Environmental Economics |
| ENV-1600(3) | Human-Environmental Interactions |
| ENV/IDS-2603(3) | Environmental Sustainability: A Global Dilemma |
| ENV-2604(3) | Environment and Health |
| ENV-3606(3) | The Environment and Business |
| ENV-3609(3) | Research Methods and Design |
| ENV-3610(3) | Research Projects |
| GEOG-1205(3) | Science for a Dynamic World: An Introduction to Physical Geography |
| GEOG-2309(3) | Statistical Techniques in Environmental Analysis |
| IS-1017(3) | Introduction to Indigenous Studies: Politics and Governance |
| PHIL-2233(3) | Environmental Ethics |

SUSTAINABLE ENVIRONMENTAL RESOURCE SYSTEMS

Required courses:

Core courses for all BA students PLUS

|---|--|
| ENV-3035(3) | Law and the Environment OR ENV-3602(3) Environmental Governance for Sustainability |
| ENV/UIC-3025(3) | Issues in Sustainable Cities OR ENV/UIC-3603(3) Winnipeg and the Environment: A Case Study Approach |
| ENV-3612(3) | Environmental Impacts of Agriculture |
| ENV/BIOL-3476(3) | Forest Policy and Management |
| GEOG-2419(3) | Resource Development and the Canadian Environment |
| Plus: Nine credits from the Sustainable Environmental Resource Systems suggested electives list. | |

Sustainable Environmental Resource Systems suggested electives:

|-----------------------------|--|
| CRS-1200(6) | Introduction to Conflict Resolution Studies |
| ECON-2318(3) | Energy Economics |
| ENV/SOC-2502(3) | Sociology of the Environment |
| ENV/GEOG/WGS-2416(3) | Sex, Gender, Space and Place |
| ENV/IDS-2521(3) | Voluntary Simplicity |
| ENV-4616(3) | Campus Sustainability |
| GEOG-2304(3) | Introduction to Cartography |
| GEOG-2306(3) | Introduction to Geographic Information Systems |
| GEOG-2401(3) | Agricultural Geography |
| GEOG-2212(3) | Natural Hazards |
| GEOG-3216(3) | Arctic Environments |
| GEOG-3218(3) | Global Biogeochemical Cycles |
| IDS-1100(6) | Introduction to International Development Studies |
| IS-1016(3) | Introduction to Indigenous Studies: Art, Culture and History |
| IS-2050(3) | Indigenous Peoples, Lands, and Resources |
| IS-2060(3) | Indigenous Treaties in Canada |
| POL-2100(6) | Global Politics |
| POL-2300(6) | Public Administration |
| POL-3105(3) | Global Political Economy |
| POL-3411(3) | Indigenous People in Canada and the Law |
| POL-3450(3) | Sustainability and Environmental Politics |

Note: These electives also apply to the 4-year degree for this stream.

SUSTAINABLE URBAN ENVIRONMENTS

Required courses:

Core courses for all BA students PLUS

- ENV-3035(3) Law and the Environment OR ENV-3602(3) Environmental Governance for Sustainability
- ENV/UIC-3025(3) Issues in Sustainable Cities
- ENV/UIC-3603(3) Winnipeg and the Environment: A Case Study Approach
- GEOG-2414(3) The Urban Environment
- GEOG-2415(3) An Introduction to Urban Development
- Plus: Nine credits from the Sustainable Urban Environments suggested electives list.

Sustainable Urban Environments suggested electives:

- ENV/SOC-2502(3) Sociology of the Environment
- ENV/GEOG/WGS-2416(3) Sex, Gender, Space and Place
- ENV/IDS-2521(3) Voluntary Simplicity
- GEOG-2304(3) Introduction to Cartography
- GEOG-2306(3) Introduction to Geographic Information Systems
- GEOG-3402(3) Urbanization in the Developing World
- GEOG-3413(3) Urban Revitalization: Rebuilding of Decaying Cities
- GEOG-4403(3) Urban Land Use – Developmental Processes
- GEOG-4404(3) Field Research in Urban Geography
- HIST-3544(6) The History of Winnipeg
- IS-1016(3) Introduction to Indigenous Studies: Art, Culture and History
- POL-2300(6) Public Administration
- POL-2500(3) City Politics
- POL-2505(3) Issues in City Politics
- UIC-2001/IS-2301(3) Community Development
- UIC 2220(3) Urban Poverty and Policy
- UIC/WGS-3020(3) Women and the Inner City
- UIC-3030/GEOG-3432(3) Urban and Community Planning
- UIC-3050(3) Immigration and the Inner City
- UIC-3060(3) Confronting Racism and Oppression

Note: These electives also apply to the 4-year degree for this stream.

REQUIREMENTS FOR A 4-YEAR BA

ADMISSION REQUIREMENT Students must meet prerequisites where required.

GRADUATION REQUIREMENT 120 credit hours

RESIDENCE REQUIREMENT

Degree: Minimum 60 credit hours
Major: Minimum 30 credit hours

GENERAL DEGREE REQUIREMENT

Humanities: 12 credit hours

REQUIREMENTS FOR AN HONOURS BA

|-----------------------------------|--|
| ADMISSION REQUIREMENT | Students must consult with the Department Thesis Course Advisor in planning their studies. |
| GRADUATION REQUIREMENT | 120 credit hours |
| Graduation G.P.A. Requirement | To graduate with a BA Honours, students must have completed the course requirements for a BA in Environmental Studies with a minimum GPA of 3.0 on all Environmental Studies and Sciences courses, which will be calculated on all course attempts in the major. Students must also have a minimum 2.75 GPA on all non-major courses, which will be calculated as for the General Degree (i.e., F's are not included and, in the case of repeated courses, only the highest grade will be used). |
| RESIDENCE REQUIREMENT | |
| Degree: | Minimum 60 credit hours |
| Honours: | Minimum 30 credit hours, including minimum 18 credit hours at upper level (3000/4000) of which a minimum of 9 credit hours at 4000 level |
| GENERAL DEGREE REQUIREMENT | |
| Humanities: | 12 credit hours in Humanities |
| Science: | 6 credit hours |

FOREST ECOLOGY

The Forest Ecology and Forest Policy and Management streams are accredited by the Canadian Institute of Forestry (CIF) in addition to accreditation by the Canadian Environmental Accreditation Commission (CEAC) and Environmental Careers Organization (ECO) Canada. The Canadian Institute of Forestry is Canada's professional organization of foresters and leading voice for the forest industry. This designation allows graduates from these streams to have the prestige associated with a nationally recognized forestry baccalaureate program, giving students a competitive edge and the specialized skills needed to work in the forest industry or many associated professions. Graduates of the University of Winnipeg's Forestry programs receive Silver Ring recognition from the CIF which symbolizes their responsibility to manage the forest for future generations and is a commitment to life-long learning and worn with pride. The Silver Rings are presented at a special ceremony with representatives of the CIF and the University of Winnipeg. The Silver Rings recognize that students are educated and trained in the complex interrelationships of forest ecosystems, water, fish and wildlife, as well as the social, cultural and economic aspects of forestry.

REQUIREMENTS FOR A 4-YEAR BSC WITH A BUSINESS STREAM

Students must complete the requirements of the 4-year BSc in Environmental Science in any stream (see previous section) and the set of core courses indicated in the “Science with a Business Stream” section of the Calendar

REQUIREMENTS FOR AN HONOURS BSC

ADMISSION REQUIREMENT

Students must consult with the Department Advisor in planning their studies.

GRADUATION REQUIREMENT

Graduation G.P.A. Requirement

120 credit hours

To graduate with a BSc Honours, students must have completed the course requirements for a BSc in Environmental Science with a minimum GPA of 3.0 on all Environmental Studies and Sciences courses, which will be calculated on all course attempts in the major. Students must also have a minimum 2.75 GPA on all non-major courses, which will be calculated as for the General Degree (i.e., F's are not included and, in the case of repeated courses, only the highest grade will be used).

RESIDENCE REQUIREMENT

Degree:

Minimum 60 credit hours

Honours:

Minimum 30 credit hours, including minimum 18 credit hours at upper level (3000/4000) of which a minimum of 9 credit hours at 4000 level

GENERAL DEGREE REQUIREMENT

Humanities:

12 credit hours in Humanities

Science:

6 credit hours

Writing:

Minimum 3 credit hours of Academic Writing. RHET-1106 Academic Writing: Links with the Disciplines, Environmental Studies, is recommended.

The Department recommends that students take RHET-1106 early in their first year of studies as most courses in DESS programs include multiple writing assignments.

Indigenous:

3 credit hours in designated Indigenous requirement courses

Maximum Introductory Courses: Students may use a maximum of 42 credit hours at the 1000 level. Of these, a maximum of 6 credit hours may be below the 1000 level. As a result, students must take a minimum of 78 credit hours at the 2000-level or above in order to not exceed the maximum number of introductory courses.

|---------------------|---|
| Distribution: | Minimum three (3) credit hours from each of five (5) different subjects. |
| 4000-level Courses: | Minimum 3.0 GPA (B) in major courses or permission of the department (students lacking the requisite 3.0 GPA should consult the department concerned regarding eligibility to take 4000-level courses). |

HONOURS REQUIREMENT

Single Honours:

Minimum requirements for a BSc degree in Environmental Science in any of the following streams: Forest Ecology, Forest Policy and Management, Global Environmental Systems and Chemistry.

Note: GEOG-2309(3) Statistical Techniques in Environmental Analysis must be chosen for the statistics requirement.

Minimum 30 credit hours in upper-level (3000 and 4000) courses of which a minimum of 12 credit hours must be at the 4000 level.

Additional Required Course:

ENV-4701(6) Honours Environmental Studies and Sciences Thesis

THE UNIVERSITY OF WINNIPEG / RRC POLYTECH 5-YEAR JOINT PROGRAM IN APPLIED ENVIRONMENTAL SCIENCE - REQUIREMENTS

This is a joint degree program whereby students are required to take courses at both The University of Winnipeg and RRC Polytech in a recommended sequence. The program has been specifically designed to prepare students for careers in industry where practical and theoretical skills are necessary.

In the 5-year program, students are enrolled at The University of Winnipeg in years one, two and five, and at RRC Polytech for years three and four. The 5-year structure includes the benefit of a full co-op work term. (The work term credit requires that the student complete a minimum of 16 weeks of full-time, paid work experience related to their training and complete a reflective journal of their work experience.). The 5-year structure will increase future opportunities for students because they will also be eligible for certification by the Certified Technicians and Technologists Association of Manitoba. Students who successfully complete the entire program will receive a joint 5-Year BSc degree parchment from The University of Winnipeg and an Environmental Engineering Technology Diploma from RRC Polytech.

Note: Transfer of courses between institutions applies only to students who are officially registered in the joint program. The RRC Polytech courses require a laptop computer and this incurred cost is the responsibility of the student. Students must inform the Departmental Chair prior to filing their application to enroll in the RRC Polytech component of the program. Students must activate their registration when returning for their last year of the program at the University of Winnipeg.

ADMISSION REQUIREMENT

Students must meet the entrance requirements for admission to The University of Winnipeg. Application to the program in Applied Environmental Science at RRC Polytech must be completed through the Admissions Office of The University of Winnipeg by March 1st of each year in order to enter the program in September of the same year.

FRENCH STUDIES (FREN)

Updated January 30, 2024

Chair of the Department of Modern Languages and Literatures: Associate Professor S. Cook
Professors: A. Balint, L. Rodriguez; Associate Professors: S. Cook, G. Moulaison; Assistant Professor: S. Roldan.
Instructor III: M. LeMaitre; Professors Emeriti: C. Harvey, K. Meadwell, J. Nnadi, S. Viselli; Instructor III Emerita: A. Rusnak.

DEGREES/PROGRAMS OFFERED

3-Year BA
4-Year BA
Honours BA
Minor

INTRODUCTION

Spoken by over 220 million francophones worldwide, French is an official language of the United Nations, NATO, UNESCO, the Vatican, the Olympic Games, the World Trade Organization, the World Health Organization, Amnesty International, the Red Cross and many countries including Canada, Belgium, Switzerland, Senegal, Rwanda and Haïti, to name just a few. In the global world of the 21st century, becoming bilingual is more desirable and relevant than ever.

French gives you the competitive edge you need to get ahead in a whole range of careers: many federal and provincial government positions, teacher, translator, flight attendant, speech therapist, businessperson, customs officer, diplomatic aide, foreign correspondent, guide (museums, art galleries), human resources director, intelligence analyst, knowledge worker, lawyer, manager, nurse, office worker, public servant, radio broadcaster, social worker, and many more! By mastering French, you will enrich your life and enhance your career opportunities, no matter what path you choose.

In French Studies, we offer the 3-year BA (Major or Combined Major), the 4-year BA (Major or Combined Major), as well as the Honours BA.

Once you have mastered the basics, you can choose from a broad range of stimulating courses where you will discuss ideas related to cultures, literatures and languages, reflect on current events and contemporary issues, translate newspaper articles and other texts, read classics from the 17th to the 21st centuries, enjoy well-known writers such as La Fontaine or Molière, Balzac, Zola, Proust or Simone de Beauvoir, and contemporary Nobel Prize of literature laureates, Le Clézio or Patrick Modiano, investigate the evolution of French-Canadian literatures, explore the phenomenon of bilingualism and multilingualism, learn modern French vocabulary and syntax, and understand the way language works.

French Studies participates in the Interdepartmental Minor in Comparative Literature. For eligible courses, please see Comparative Literature in this Calendar.

FRENCH PLACEMENT TEST: Students with no or very little French are exempt from the test, and must instead contact the department for permission to register in FREN-1100(3). All other students registering for their first French Studies course must take the online Placement Test. The test results will assist in determining the appropriate first French course to be taken: FREN-1100(3), FREN-1102(3), FREN-1103-3(3), FREN-1104(3) or FREN-2105(3). For more details on the test, please consult the French Studies website.

REQUIREMENTS FOR A 3-YEAR BA IN FRENCH STUDIES

ADMISSION REQUIREMENT

Students must consult a French Studies facilitator or departmental advisor in planning their course of study. French Studies courses form a sequence, building on the knowledge and skills acquired at each level. Each series (language/linguistics or literature) has to be taken in numerical order, or permission obtained to do otherwise.

GRADUATION REQUIREMENT 90 credit hours

RESIDENCE REQUIREMENT

Degree: Minimum 30 credit hours
Major: Minimum 18 credit hours

GENERAL DEGREE REQUIREMENT

Humanities: 12 credit hours
Science: 6 credit hours
Writing: Minimum 3 credit hours of Academic Writing
Indigenous: 3 credit hours in designated Indigenous requirement courses.
Maximum Introductory Courses: Students may use a maximum of 42 credit hours at the 1000-level. Of these, a maximum of 6 credit hours may be below the 1000-level. As a result, students must take a minimum of 48 credit hours at the 2000-level or above in order to not exceed the maximum number of introductory courses.
Distribution: Minimum three (3) credit hours from each of five (5) different subjects.

MAJOR REQUIREMENT

Single Major: Minimum 30 credit hours/Maximum 48 credit hours.
Double Major: 30 credit hours in French Studies and specified number of credit hours in the other department/program.
Required courses: 24 credit hours in French Studies above the 1000-level.

|---------------------|---|
| | FREN-2110(3) Composition and Grammar and 3 credit hours in another 2000-level language/linguistic course. Minimum 6 credit hours in literature. Minimum 12 credit hours in French Studies at the 3000-level. Students may opt for a French Studies Major in literature or language/linguistics. Minimum 2.5 GPA (C+) in all French Studies courses is advised for continuation in the Major program. |
| Restrictions: | FREN-1100(3) and FREN-1102(3) cannot be used towards the major or the teachable major in the Education program. |
| Combined Major: | Minimum 48 credit hours from 2 different majors with not less than 18 credit hours from each major subject. |
| Prescribed Courses: | 6 credit hours at the 2000-level. 3 credit hours at the 3000-level. |
| Restrictions: | FREN-1100(3) and FREN-1102(3) cannot be used towards the combined major. |

Students are advised that a 3-year BA is not normally sufficient for admission to graduate studies.

REQUIREMENTS FOR A 4-YEAR BA IN FRENCH STUDIES

ADMISSION REQUIREMENT

Students must consult a French Studies facilitator or a departmental advisor in planning their course of study.
 Students must have completed at least 30 credit hours in French Studies.
 No more than one first-year French Studies courses may be used for credit in streams 1, 2, and 3.

REQUIREMENTS FOR AN HONOURS BA IN FRENCH STUDIES

ADMISSION REQUIREMENT

Students must consult the Departmental Honours facilitator or Chair in planning their course of study.
 Entry into the program after completing a minimum of 30 credit hours, including FREN-1104(3) or FREN-2105(3).
 Entry, continuing and graduation minimum GPA is 3.0 (B) in Honours Subject courses and 2.5 (C+) in Non-Honours Subject courses.
 Minimum 3.0 GPA (B) will be based on all attempts (including course repeats and failures) in Honours Subject courses.
 Minimum 2.5 GPA (C+) in all Non-Honours Subject courses will be calculated as for the general degree (i.e., Fs are not included, and in the case of repeated courses, only the highest grade will be used).

GRADUATION REQUIREMENT

120 credit hours, with minimum 3.0 GPA in Honours subject courses and 2.5 GPA in Non-Honours subject courses.

RESIDENCE REQUIREMENT

Degree: Minimum 60 credit hours
 Honours: Minimum 30 credit hours, including minimum 18 credit hours at upper level (3000/4000) of which a minimum of 9 credit hours must be at the 4000-level.

GENERAL DEGREE REQUIREMENT

Humanities: 12 credit hours
 Science: 6 credit hours
 Writing: Minimum 3 credit hours of Academic Writing.
 Indigenous: 3 credit hours in designated Indigenous requirement courses.
 Maximum Introductory Courses: Students may use a maximum of 42 credit hours at the 1000-level. Of these, a maximum of 6 credit hours may be below the 1000-level. As a result, students must take a minimum of 78 credit hours at the 2000-level or above in order to not exceed the maximum number of introductory courses.
 Distribution: Minimum three (3) credit hours from each of five (5) different subjects.

HONOURS REQUIREMENT

Single Honours: Minimum 54 credit hours/Maximum 78 credit hours.
 Minimum 9 credit hours in literature and 3 credit hours in language/linguistics (3000 or higher).
 Minimum 30 credit hours at upper level (3000 and 4000) Honours Subject courses of which a minimum of 15 credit hours must be at the 4000-level.
 Double Honours: Minimum 36 credit hours in each Honours subject.
 Minimum 6 credit hours in literature and 3 credit hours in language/linguistics (3000 or higher).
 Minimum 24 credit hours at the upper level (3000 and 4000) in the French Studies component of the double Honours of which a minimum of 15 credit hours must be at the 4000-level. For the requirements of the other Honours subject consult the department involved.

Students must consult the Departmental Honours facilitator or Chair to determine whether they fulfil the general Honours requirements.

Students must complete the Honours application form and append to it their most recent student history.

Students will establish their program in consultation with the Departmental Honours facilitator or Chair.

Qualified students are required to take the Department's 4000-level seminars, offered annually and in rotation.

Restrictions: FREN-1100(3) and FREN-1102(3) cannot be used towards the major or the teachable major in the Education program.

REQUIREMENTS FOR A MINOR IN FRENCH STUDIES

Degree: Students completing any degree program are eligible to complete the Minor.
 Minor: 18 credit hours in the Minor subject, with a minimum of 12 credit hours above the 1000-level
 Residence Requirement: Minimum 12 credit hours in the Minor subject
 Required courses: FREN-2105(3) Intermediate French 2 and 3 credit hours in another 2000-level course.
 Minimum 3 credit hours at 3000 level
 NOTE: These requirements apply to the teachable minor in the Education program.
 Restrictions: Students cannot declare the same subject as a Major and a Minor.
FREN-1100(3) and FREN-1102(3) cannot be used towards the minor or the teachable minor in the Education program.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Oral Proficiency Requirement

A satisfactory level of oral proficiency is required for completion of the French Studies Major. The Department provides facilities to give students practice in oral French. The degree of proficiency they attain in speaking depends largely on their own efforts. Students are able to improve their oral competence through Continuing Education or programs like Explore, sponsored by the Federal government.

French Studies courses may include an oral component, either language laboratory or conversation with native French speakers or both.

Students may be required to take an oral test at the end of the Fall and Winter terms.

4000-Level Courses: Minimum 3.0 GPA (B) in major courses. Students lacking the requisite 3.0 GPA should consult the department concerned regarding eligibility to take 4000-level courses. Permission of the French Studies facilitator, the course instructor, or the Department Chair is required for each 4000-level course.

Reference Books

Students are strongly advised to have the following reference books: a reputable French or bilingual dictionary such as Le Petit Robert (a recent edition) or the Collins Robert French-English English-French Dictionary and a French reference grammar such as Grammaire pratique (Hachette), A. Hamon.

COURSE LISTINGS

Note: FRENCH PLACEMENT TEST: Students with no or very little French are exempt from the test, and must instead contact the department for permission to register in FREN-1100(3). All other students registering for their first French Studies course must take the online Placement Test.

Note: The following course does not meet the Humanities requirement: FREN-3204(3).

Note: FREN-1100(3) Elementary French 1, FREN-1102(3) Elementary French 2, and FREN-1103(3) Elementary French 3 are given in French as much as possible. All other courses are given entirely in French.

FIRST YEAR COURSES

FREN-1100(3) Elementary French 1

Note: This course may not be used towards fulfilling the French Studies major or minor requirement.

FREN-1102(3) Elementary French 2

Note: This course may not be used towards fulfilling the French Studies major or minor requirement.

FREN-1103(3) Elementary French 3

Note: FREN-1100(3), FREN-1102(3), and FREN-1103(3) are given as much as possible in French, in order that students may learn to understand spoken French. However, some discussions and explanations may be in English.

INTRODUCTION

The study of Geography is concerned with the Earth in two ways - as the science of interaction between natural elements of the environment, such as weather, plants, soils, and landforms and, secondly, as the science of the distribution and activities of the Earth's population in response to various social and environmental factors. Systematic studies in Geography examine the locations, distributions, arrangements, and associations between groups of interrelated features. In contrast, regional studies examine the totality of geographic phenomena in a particular area. No matter what approach is taken, there are certain skills and techniques that are of geographic relevance (e.g., remote sensing, cartography, Geographic Information Systems).

As a reflection of the diversity that exists within the study of Geography and the special skills required, the Department offers courses within five areas of study: General, Physical Geography, Geomatics (formerly Techniques), Systematic Human Geography, and Regional Geography. One may earn either the 3-Year or 4-Year Bachelor's degree in Arts or Science, as well as the BA Honours or BSc Honours degree. Students pursuing a 3-year, or 4-year BSc also have the opportunity to take a Business Stream – a set of core courses in the Faculty of Business that will provide them with the skills needed to enter and succeed in industry and business. See the "Science with a Business Stream" section of this Course Calendar.

Geography offers a considerable variety of career opportunities. High schools require a continuing supply of Geography teachers. Various federal and provincial agencies dealing with conservation, urban planning, recreation, landscape architecture, and resource use also provide opportunities, especially to those with Honours or graduate work in Geography. Undergraduate training in the subject is often required for certain business careers, especially in surveying, market assessment, and location and general commercial development. Training in Geographical Information Systems is especially in demand.

| RESIDENCE REQUIREMENT | |
| Degree: | Minimum 30 credit hours |
| Major: | Minimum 18 credit hours |
| GENERAL DEGREE REQUIREMENT | |
| Humanities: | 12 credit hours in Humanities |
| Science: | 6 credit hours in Science |
| Writing: | Minimum 3 credit hours of Academic Writing. |
| Indigenous: | 3 credit hours in designated Indigenous requirement courses |
| Maximum Introductory Courses: | Students may use a maximum of 42 credit hours at the 1000 level. Of these, maximum of 6 credit hours may be below the 1000 level. As a result, students must take a minimum of 48 credit hours at the 2000-level or above in order to not exceed the maximum number of introductory courses. |
| Distribution: | Minimum three (3) credit hours from each of five (5) different subjects. |
| MAJOR REQUIREMENT | |
| Single Major: | Minimum 30 credit hours/Maximum 48 credit hours. |
| Double Major: | 30 credit hours in Geography and specified number of credit hours in another Major subject or program. |

Required Courses:

Common Geography Requirement (9 credit hours)

- GEOG-1105(3) Challenges of a Changing World: An Introduction to Human Geography
- GEOG-1205(3) Science in a Dynamic World: An Introduction to Physical Geography
- GEOG-1305(3) Mapping in a Global World: An Introduction to Geomatics

Regional Geography Requirement (6 credit hours)

- GEOG-3509(3) Regional Geography of Canada

Three (3) credit hours from among the following:

- GEOG-2503(3) Manitoba's Physical and Human Environments
- GEOG-3216(3) Arctic Environments
- GEOG-3508(3) Geographical Issues in the Developing World
- GEOG-3510(3) Prairie Landscapes
- GEOG-3511(3) Topical Regions in Geography
- GEOG-3512(3) The Human Geography of Northern Canada (fulfils the Indigenous Requirement)

Systematic Human Geography Requirement (6 credit hours)

Minimum of 6 credit hours from the Systematic Human Geography group

Electives (9 credit hours)

Minimum 9 additional credit hours from any area of Geography

Combined Major: Minimum 48 credit hours from 2 different Majors with not less than 18 credit hours from each major subject

Prescribed Courses:

- GEOG-1105(3) Challenges of a Changing World: An Introduction to Human Geography
- GEOG-1205(3) Science in a Dynamic World: An Introduction to Physical Geography
- GEOG-1305(3) Mapping in a Global World: An Introduction to Geomatics
- GEOG-3509(3) Canada's Physical and Human Environments

3 additional credit hours from the Physical Geography Group

Physical Geography/Geomatics Requirement (24 credit hours)

- GEOG-2304(3) Introduction to Cartography or GEOG-2309(3) Statistical Techniques in Environmental Analysis or STAT-1301(3) Statistical Analysis or the former STAT-1201(6) Introduction to Statistical Analysis

12 credit hours from among:

GEOG-2207(3) Climatology
GEOG-2210(3) Meteorology
GEOG-2213(3) Introductory Soil Science
GEOG-2214(3) Soil-Vegetation Systems
GEOG-2215(3) Mineralogy and Petrology
GEOG-2216(3) Physical Geology
GEOG-2220(3) Geomorphology
GEOG-3210(3) Hydrology

Minimum 12 additional credit hours from the Physical Geography or Geomatics groups (i.e., where the second digit of the course number is a 2 or 3)

External Science Requirement (18 credit hours)

Minimum of 18 credit hours selected from at least two (2) of the Departments of Biology, Applied Computer Science, Chemistry, Mathematics, Physics, and Statistics.

The following courses do not qualify:

|--------------------------|---|
| ACS-1453(3) | Introduction to Computers |
| ACS-1803(3) | Introduction to Computer-based Systems |
| BIOL-1102(6) | Biology and Human Concerns |

GEOG-3511(3) Topical Regions in Geography

GEOG-3512(3) The Human Geography of Northern Canada (fulfils the Indigenous Requirement)

Systematic Human Geography Requirement (6 credit hours)

Minimum of 6 credit hours in Systematic Human Geography

Geomatics Requirement (12 credit hours)

GEOG-2304(3) Introduction to Cartography

GEOG-2306(3) Introduction to Geographic Information Systems

GEOG-2309(3) Statistical Techniques in Environmental Analysis or STAT-1301(3) Statistical Analysis or the former
STAT-1201(6) Introduction to Statistical Analysis

GEOG-3330(3) Research Methods in Geography

Other Requirements

Students must complete a minimum of 48 credit hours in Geography. From the requirements listed, students must ensure to have taken a minimum of 12 credit hours at the upper level (3000 and 4000) Systematic Human or Geomatics courses with a minimum of 6 of those credit hours at the 4000 level.

Combined Major: Minimum 60 credit hours from two (2) different Majors with not less than 24 credit hours from each major subject.

Prescribed Courses:

GEOG-1105(3) Challenges of a Changing World: An Introduction to Human Geography

GEOG-1205(3) Science in a Dynamic World: An Introduction to Physical Geography

GEOG-1305(3) Mapping in a Global World: An Introduction to Geomatics

Single Major: Minimum 57 credit hours/Maximum 78 credit hours.
Double Major: Minimum 57 credit hours in Geography and a specified number of courses in another Major.

Required Courses:

Common Geography Requirement (9 credit hours)

GEOG-1105(3) Challenges of a Changing World: An Introduction to Human Geography
GEOG-1205(3) Science in a Dynamic World: An Introduction to Physical Geography
GEOG-1305(3) Mapping in a Global World: An Introduction to Geomatics

Regional Geography Requirement (3 credit hours)

GEOG-3509(3) Regional Geography of Canada

Physical Geography/Geomatics Requirement (27 credit hours)

GEOG-2304(3) Introduction to Cartography
GEOG-2306(3) Introduction to Geographic Information Systems
GEOG-2309(3) Statistical Techniques in Environmental Analysis or STAT-1301(3) Statistical Analysis or the former STAT-1201(6) Introduction to Statistical Analysis
GEOG-2316(3) Remote Sensing
GEOG-3330(3) Research Methods in Geography

12 credit hours from among

GEOG-2207(3) Climatology
GEOG-2210(3) Meteorology
GEOG-2213(3) Introductory Soil Science
GEOG-2214(3) Soil-Vegetation Systems
GEOG-2215(3) Mineralogy and Petrology
GEOG-2216(3) Physical Geology
GEOG-2220(3) Geomorphology
GEOG-3210(3) Hydrology

Additional Requirements (18 credit hours)

Minimum of 6 additional credit hours from the Physical or Geomatics groups.
Minimum of 6 credit hours from the Systematic Human group at the 3000 level
Minimum of 6 credit hours at the 4000 level also from the Systematic Human Group.

External Science Requirement (24 credit hours)

Minimum of 24 credit hours selected from at least two (2) of the Departments of Biology, Applied Computer Science, Chemistry, Mathematics, Physics, and Statistics.

The following courses do not qualify:

ACS-1453(3) Introduction to Computers
ACS-1803(3) Introduction to Computer-based Systems
BIOL-1005(6) Concepts in Science
BIOL-1102(6) Biology and Human Concerns

PHYS-2705(6) Cosmology: Science Fact to Science Fiction

PHYS-2812(3) The Physics of Music

Combined Major: Minimum 60 credit hours from 2 different Majors with not less than 24 credit hours from each major subject.

Prescribed Courses:

GEOG-1105(3) Challenges of a Changing World: An Introduction to Human Geography

GEOG-1205(3) Science in a Dynamic World: An Introduction to Physical Geography

GEOG-1305(3) Mapping in a Global World: An Introduction to Geomatics

GEOG-3509(3) Regional Geography of Canada

6 additional credit hours from the Physical Geography Group

REQUIREMENTS FOR THE 4-YEAR BSc IN GEOGRAPHY WITH A BUSINESS STREAM

Students must complete the requirements of the 4-year BSc in Geography degree (see previous section) and the set of core courses indicated in the "Science with a Business Stream" section of the Calendar.

REQUIREMENTS FOR AN HONOURS BA IN GEOGRAPHY

ADMISSION REQUIREMENT

Students must have completed a minimum of 30 credit hours to qualify for entry into the Honours program.

Entry, continuing and graduation minimum GPA is 3.0 (B) in Honours Subject courses and 2.5 (C+) in Non-Honours Subject courses.

The minimum 3.0 GPA (B) will be based on all attempts (including course repeats and failures) in Honours Subject courses.

The minimum 2.5 GPA (C+) in all Non-Honours Subject courses will be calculated as for the general degree (i.e., Fs are not included, and in the case of repeated courses, only the highest grade will be used).

GRADUATION REQUIREMENT

Minimum 120 credit hours

RESIDENCE REQUIREMENT

Degree: Minimum 60 credit hours

GENERAL DEGREE REQUIREMENT

Humanities: 12 credit hours in Humanities

Science: 6 credit hours in Science

Writing: Minimum 3 credit hours of Academic Writing.

Indigenous: 3 credit hours in designated Indigenous requirement courses

Maximum Introductory Courses: Students may use a maximum of 42 credit hours at the 1000 level. Of these, a maximum of 6 credit hours may be below the 1000 level. As a result, students must take a minimum of 78 credit hours at the 2000-level or above in order to not exceed the maximum number of introductory courses.

Distribution: Minimum three (3) credit hours from each of five (5) different subjects.

HONOURS REQUIREMENT

Single Honours: Minimum 54 credit hours/Maximum 78 credit hours
Minimum 21 credit hours in upper level (3000 and 4000) Honours subject courses of which a minimum of 15 credit hours must be at the 4000 level (including Thesis).

Double Honours: Student must satisfy the requirements for both the Honours BA in Geography and the requirements for the Honours BA in the second Honours department in consultation with the Geography Department Chair.

Required Courses:

Common Geography Requirement (12 credit hours)

GEOG-1105(3) Challenges of a Changing World: An Introduction to Human Geography

GEOG-1205(3) Science in a Dynamic World: An Introduction to Physical Geography

GEOG-1305(3) Mapping in a Global World: An Introduction to Geomatics

Regional Geography Requirement (6 credit hours)

GEOG-3509(3) Regional Geography of Canada

Three (3) credit hours from among the following:

GEOG-2503(3) Manitoba's Physical and Human Environments

GEOG-3216(3) Arctic Environments

GEOG-3508(3) Geographical Issues in the Developing World

GEOG-3510(3) Prairie Landscapes

GEOG-3511(3) Topical Regions in Geography
GEOG-3512(3) The Human Geography of Northern Canada (fulfils the Indigenous Requirement)

Systematic Human Geography Requirement (6 credit hours)
Minimum of 6 credit hours in Human Geography

Geomatics Requirement (12 credit hours)

GEOG-2304(3) Introduction to Cartography
GEOG-2306(3) Introduction to Geographic Information Systems
GEOG-2309(3) Statistical Techniques in Environmental Analysis or STAT-1301(3) Statistical Analysis or the former
STAT-1201(6) Introduction to Statistical Analysis
GEOG-3330(3) Research Methods in Geography

Thesis Requirement (6 credit hours)

GEOG-4901(6) Honours Geography Thesis - 6 credit hours with a prerequisite of GEOG-3330(3) (Research Methods in Geography), 36 credit hours completed in Geography, and a Geography GPA of 3.0.

Other Requirements

Students must complete 54 credit hours in Geography for the major.

Minimum 21 credit hours in upper level (3000 and 4000) Honours subject courses of which a minimum of 15 credit hours (including the thesis) must be at the 4000 level.

Average of 2.5 GPA in non-Geography courses and 3.00 GPA on all attempts in Geography courses (exit requirement).

REQUIREMENTS FOR AN HONOURS BSc IN GEOGRAPHY

ADMISSION REQUIREMENT

Students must have completed a minimum of 30 credit hours to qualify for entry into the Honours program.

Entry, continuing and graduation minimum GPA is 3.0 (B) in Honours Subject courses and 2.75 in Non-Honours Subject courses.

The minimum 3.0 GPA (B) will be based on all attempts (including course repeats and failures) in Honours Subject courses.

The minimum 2.75 GPA in all Non-Honours Subject courses will be calculated as for the general degree (i.e., Fs are not included, and in the case of repeated courses, only the highest grade will be used).

GRADUATION REQUIREMENT

Minimum 120 credit hours

RESIDENCE REQUIREMENT

Degree: Minimum 60 credit hours

GENERAL DEGREE REQUIREMENT

Humanities: 12 credit hours in Humanities

Writing: Minimum 3 credit hours of Academic Writing.

Indigenous: 3 credit hours in designated Indigenous requirement courses

Maximum Introductory Courses: Students may use a maximum of 42 credit hours at the 1000 level. Of these, a maximum of 6 credit hours may be below the 1000 level. As a result, students must take a minimum of 78 credit hours at the 2000-level or above in order to not exceed the maximum number of introductory courses.

Distribution: Minimum three (3) credit hours from each of five (5) different subjects.

HONOURS REQUIREMENT

Single Honours: Minimum 63 credit hours/Maximum 78 credit hours
Minimum 30 credit hours in upper level (3000 and 4000) Honours Subject courses of which a minimum of 15 credit hours must be at the 4000 level (including Thesis).

Double Honours: Students must satisfy the requirements for both the Honours BSc in Geography and the requirements for the Honours BSc in the second Honours department, in consultation with the Geography Department Chair.

Required Courses

Common Geography Requirement (12 credit hours)

GEOG-1105(3) Challenges of a Changing World: An Introduction to Human Geography

GEOG-1205(3) Science in a Dynamic World: An Introduction to Physical Geography

GEOG-1305(3) Mapping in a Global World: An Introduction to Geomatics

Regional Geography Requirement (3 credit hours)

GEOG-3509(3) Regional Geography of Canada

Physical Geography/Geomatics Requirements (45 credit hours)

GEOG-2304(3) Introduction to Cartography

GEOG-2306(3) Introduction to Geographic Information Systems

GEOG-2309(3) Statistical Techniques in Environmental Analysis or STAT-1301(3) Statistical Analysis or the former
STAT-1201(6) Introduction to Statistical Analysis

GEOG-2316(3) Remote Sensing

GEOG-3330(3) Research Methods in Geography

15 credit hours from the following:

- GEOG-2207(3) Climatology
- GEOG-2210(3) Meteorology
- GEOG-2213(3) Introductory Soil Science
- GEOG-2214(3) Soil-Vegetation Systems
- GEOG-2215(3) Mineralogy and Petrology
- GEOG-2216(3) Physical Geology
- GEOG-2220(3) Geomorphology
- GEOG-3210(3) Hydrology

Minimum of 15 additional credit hours of upper level (3000 and 4000) Physical Geography or Geomatics courses (excluding Thesis) with a minimum of 9 credit hours at the 4000 level (excluding Thesis).

Thesis Requirement (6 credit hours)

GEOG-4901(6) Honours Geography Thesis - 6 credit hours with a prerequisite of GEOG-3330 (3) (Research Methods in Geography), 36 credit hours completed in Geography, and a Geography GPA of 3.0

External Science Courses (24 credit hours)

Minimum of 24 credit hours selected from at least two (2) of the Departments of Biology, Applied Computer Science, Chemistry, Mathematics, Physics, and Statistics, of which 12 credit hours must be at or above the 2000-level.

The following courses do not qualify:

- | | |
|--------------------------|---|
| ACS-1453(3) | Introduction to Computers |
| ACS-1803(3) | Introduction to Computer-based Systems |
| BIOL-1005(6) | Concepts in Science |
| BIOL-1102(6) | Biology and Human Concerns |
| BIOL-1103(6) | Human Biology |
| BIOL-1106(3) | Environmental Biology |

| PHYS-1501(6) | Modern Technology |
| PHYS-1701(6) | Astronomy |
| PHYS-2705(6) | Cosmology: Science Fact to Science Fiction |
| PHYS-2812(3) | The Physics of Music |

Grade Point Requirement

GPA of 2.75 in non-Geography courses and 3.00 on all attempts in Geography courses (exit requirement).

Suggested Pattern:

Year 1: GEOG-1105(3) Challenges of a Changing World; GEOG-1205(3) Science in a Dynamic World; GEOG-1305(3) Mapping in a Global World

Year 2: 12-18 credit hours in Geography. Recommended: GEOG-2309(3) Statistical Techniques in Environmental Analysis and GEOG-2304(3) Introduction to Cartography
Prerequisite course(s) for planned Honours courses.

Year 3: 3-6 credit hours at the 4000 level in Geography.

Year 4: 9-12 credit hours at the 4000 level in Geography, including the Thesis.

4000-level courses from other Departments may be credited toward the Geography Honours Major with ADVANCE WRITTEN APPROVAL from the Department Chair.

Students must consult with the Department Chair to determine whether they fulfill the general regulations for the Honours program.

Students must complete the Honours application form before EACH registration in a 4000-level course.

Students planning to complete a Double Honours degree in Geography must consult with the Department Chair for further details.

REQUIREMENTS FOR A MINOR IN GEOGRAPHY

- | | |
|------------------------|--|
| Degree: | Students completing any undergraduate degree program are eligible to complete the Minor. |
| Minor: | 18 credit hours in the Minor subject, with a minimum of 12 credit hours above the 1000-level |
| Residence Requirement: | Minimum 12 credit hours in the Minor subject |

Required courses for Human Geography Minor:GEOG-1105(3) Challenges of a Changing World: An Introduction to Human GeographyGEOG-2304(3) Introduction to CartographyElective:

Any six (6) credit hours at the 2000 level in Human Geography, Regional, or Geomatics

Any six (6) credit hours at the 3000 level or higher in Human Geography, Regional or Geomatics

Required courses for Physical Geography Minor:GEOG-1205(3) Science in a Dynamic World: An Introduction to Physical GeographyGEOG-2304(3) Introduction to CartographyElective

Any six (6) credit hours at the 2000 level in Physical Geography or Geomatics

Any six (6) credit hours at the 3000 level or higher in Physical Geography or Geomatics

GENERAL INFORMATIONGeography Courses Which Satisfy the Science Requirement

The Science requirement for BA, BBA and BKin degrees will be satisfied by 6 credit hours from the following courses:

| | | | |
|--------------|---|--------------|---|
| GEOG-1201(3) | Introductory Atmospheric Science | GEOG-2306(3) | Introduction to Geographic Information System |
| GEOG-1202(3) | Introductory Earth Science | GEOG-2316(3) | Introduction to Remote Sensing |
| GEOG-1205(3) | Science in a Dynamic World: An Introduction to Physical Geography | GEOG-3306(3) | Advanced Geographic Information System |
| GEOG-2220(3) | Geomorphology | | |
| GEOG-2207(3) | Climatology | | |
| GEOG-2210(3) | Meteorology | GEOG-3319(3) | Advanced Remote Sensing |
| GEOG-2213(3) | Introductory Soil Science | GEOG-4203(3) | Topics in Climatology |
| GEOG-2214(3) | Soil-Vegetation Systems | GEOG-4212(3) | Topics in Earth Sciences |
| GEOG-2215(3) | Mineralogy and Petrology | GEOG-4320(3) | Projects in Geomatics |
| GEOG-2216(3) | Physical Geology | GEOG-4321(3) | Topics in Geomatics I |
| GEOG-3210(3) | Hydrology | GEOG-4322(3) | Topics in Geomatics II |
| GEOG-2304(3) | Introduction to Cartography | | |

Geography Courses Which Satisfy the Social Science Requirement for 4-year BA, BBA and BKin degrees

The Social Science requirement will be satisfied by 12 credit hours from courses in Systematic Human and/or Regional Geography (i.e. courses for which the second digit of the course number is a 4 or 5).

4000-Level Courses: Minimum 3.0 GPA (B) in major courses (students lacking the requisite 3.0 GPA should consult the department concerned regarding eligibility to take 4000-level courses). Permission of the department is required for each 4000-level course.COURSE LISTINGS

Geography courses are categorized into five major groups: General, Physical, Geomatics, Human, and Regional. Courses are distinguished by the use of the second digit in the course number as follows:

|-----------|---|
| General | Second digit is 1 (e.g. 1105(3) Challenges of a Changing World: An Introduction to Human Geography) |
| Physical | Second digit is 2 (e.g. 1205(3) Science in a Dynamic World: An Introduction to Physical Geography) |
| Geomatics | Second digit is 3 (e.g. 2309(3) Statistical Techniques in Environmental Analysis) |
| Human | Second digit is 4 (e.g. 2401(3) Agricultural Geography) |
| Regional | Second digit is 5 (e.g. 2503(3) Manitoba's Physical and Human Environments) |

Beyond the minimum requirements for each degree, students may choose courses which provide a coherent specialization within the discipline. Students are encouraged to consult with the Department Chair on guidelines for course selections.

GERMAN-CANADIAN STUDIES (GCS)

Updated November 16, 2023

Chair: Professor A. Freund

The establishment of the Chair in German-Canadian Studies was made possible through the generous gifts of the Ernst Hansch, Martin Bergen, Rubin and Christel Spletzer families and Ernie Keller, and the Federal Department of the Secretary of State.

INTRODUCTION

The Chair in German-Canadian Studies was established to give students an opportunity to study the history and culture of German-speaking immigrants and their descendants in Canada and around the world. As an interdisciplinary program, German-Canadian Studies encompass approaches from all the disciplines in the humanities and social sciences, but has been influenced particularly by History and Literature. In the courses and seminars students seek to understand the worldwide migrations from German-speaking Europe and the multiple migrations of German-speakers from all over the world to Canada. One major focus is the study of German immigrants' various forms of acculturation and identity-formation in Canada.

Course offerings are listed within the Department of History. Credit can be obtained towards the Major programs of both the History and German Studies Departments.

Students will find courses in German-Canadian Studies a useful and informative addition to a liberal arts education. While the Program itself is not aimed at any particular vocational preparation, the background it provides will be especially relevant to students interested in the complexities of migration, immigration, and multiculturalism as well as to students of a German ethnic background. The courses also prepare students who intend to write MA theses and PhD dissertations in German-Canadian Studies. Students may choose some area of German-Canadian Studies to pursue further scholarly work in such disciplines as German Studies, History, and Sociology.

COURSE LISTINGS

Students are advised to consult the appropriate Timetable or WebAdvisor for courses offered during the current term.

GERMAN STUDIES (GERM)

Updated January 30, 2024

Chair of the Department of Modern Languages and Literatures: Associate Professor S. Cook
Instructor III: K. Lovrien-Meuwese

DEGREES/PROGRAMS OFFERED

3-Year BA
Minor

INTRODUCTION

The modern German language was born in the 16th century when two groups of dialects known as Frankish and Alemannic merged into a single language. As a result of the wide circulation of Martin Luther's German translation of the Bible (1534), the new language quickly grew in influence and prestige.

First taught as a language of culture, German was the mother tongue of many brilliant writers such as Goethe, Schiller, Kafka, Thomas Mann, Bertolt Brecht and Günter Grass and many well-known composers such as Bach, Mozart, Beethoven, Schumann, Wagner and Mahler. From the 18th century onwards, German has been at the forefront of intellectual inquiry, German-speaking intellectuals having shaped the Humanities with philosophers such as Kant, Hegel, Nietzsche and Heidegger, political thinkers such as Marx, Engels, Nietzsche and Hannah Arendt, psychoanalysts such as Freud and Jung and philologists (linguists) such as Humboldt, Schlegel, Schleicher and Grimm.

German is key to understanding the complexities of 20th century European history, culture and identity, given Germany's role in World Wars I and II, the Holocaust, the Cold War, the collapse of communism in Eastern Europe and the evolution of the European Union (EU) following the reunification of East and West Germany. Now spoken by over 100 million people in Germany, Austria and Switzerland, German has more native speakers than any other European language in the European Union, and is second only to English as the language of business within the European Union.

Here in Canada, German occupies an important place in Manitoba's linguistic and cultural mosaic due to multiple migrations of German-speakers from around the world. Not surprisingly, the University of Winnipeg boasts a Chair in German-Canadian Studies and a Chair in Mennonite Studies, established to promote the study of the history and culture of German-speaking immigrants.

Acquiring a second language will enrich your life and open up many career opportunities. Whether your goals include visiting the castles and beer gardens of Europe, enjoying a performance of Mozart's Magic Flute in the original, watching a film by Wim Wenders, rediscovering your heritage, reading the works of Wittgenstein, delving into the legacy of the Cold War, analyzing Freud or embarking on an international career in business, commerce or finance, learning German is a definite asset. But if you plan to continue on to graduate studies in the Humanities, learning German is a must! Given the prominence of the German tradition of research in the Humanities, German is one of the required languages for many PhD programs.

In the department of Modern Languages and Literatures, we offer the 3-year BA (Major or Combined Major) in German Studies with challenging courses where you will discuss topics of current interest, reflect on problems of the modern world, explore the culture of Germany, Austria and Switzerland and read short texts dealing with the social and political issues of our time. As you develop your command of oral and written German, you will also develop the cultural understanding that is needed in the global community.

Each year, UW students have the opportunity to take part in our exchange program with the University of Bamberg in Germany. If you are interested, contact the German Studies facilitator for further information.

INTRODUCTION

The study of History deals with the past—it interprets human affairs and institutions as they change in time. The University of Winnipeg's History Department offers courses which are designed to lead students, in stages, to an understanding of the historian's craft and of the historical process.

The History Department's program of study is organized into four levels that provide a natural progression from generalized to more specialized study in a particular area of interest.

The 1000-level courses are intended to introduce students to the discipline and the skills necessary for the study of history. Courses at the 2000 level are broad surveys, and provide a general examination of the major themes in a number of different areas of study including world history, social and thematic histories, the history of science, and the history of art. Courses at the 3000 level pursue, in greater detail, one or more of the themes explored in the general surveys. Their purpose is to provide the student with deeper insight into the processes of historical thought, research and writing. They also promote group discussion and permit the student to present his/her work orally to fellow students. Courses at the 4000 level are Honours seminars intended for upper level students. In a small group setting, students examine the relevant literature on historical issues and present their own research to the seminar for discussion.

Most graduates with degrees in history find that the skills they have developed—critical analysis, writing reports, and small group discussion—serve them well in the worlds of government, business and law. Some history graduates choose to pursue a career in education, while others find career opportunities in non-profit organizations, libraries, archives, and public history institutions such as museums.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Prerequisites

Students who are not History Majors are welcome to select 1000-, 2000-, and 3000-level courses.

1000-Level Courses

Only 6 credit hours at the 1000-level in History may be used as credit towards graduation.

Graduate Studies

The History Department also offers Graduate Study as part of a Joint Master's Program with the University of Manitoba. For details see the Graduate Studies section of this Calendar.

4000-Level Courses: Minimum 3.0 GPA (B) in major courses (students lacking the requisite 3.0 GPA should consult the department concerned regarding eligibility to take 4000-level courses).
Permission of the Department is required for each 4000-level course.

Re-numbering of Courses

Since 1988, the Department has renumbered many courses. Students may not receive credit for a currently-listed course if they have already completed it under its former number.

The Department of History has organized its courses into areas of specialization. These divisions are provided as guidelines to the Areas of Study available for concentration. Areas of Study are identified by the second digit in the course number as follows:

- | | |
|-----------------------------------|--------------------------------|
| 0 Introductory | 5 Canada and the United States |
| 1 World History | 6 Indigenous History |
| 2 Pre-Industrial European History | 7 African History |
| 3 Modern European History | 8 History of Art |
| 4 Asian History | 9 History of Science |

INTRODUCTION

The History of Art Program focuses on the artistic achievement and its relationship to society and culture. The architecture, sculpture, painting, and other artistic mediums produced by a civilization provide an important key to its contextualization. By examining visual records of humanity's past, students can further their understanding of political, economic, social, intellectual and cultural developments.

The multidisciplinary History of Art Program introduces students to basic concepts in the field of the history of the visual arts. Students in some courses have special access to the resources of the Winnipeg Art Gallery, and the University of Winnipeg's Gallery 1C03. Students in the History of Art Program may obtain the 3-Year BA, 4-Year BA, Honours BA or Minor in History of Art.

A Major in History of Art can lead to careers in teaching or in curatorial work at commercial or private galleries and museums. Those interested in pursuing graduate studies will find their way to careers in university teaching and research, governmental research or arts journalism. The requirements for each degree are listed below.

REQUIREMENTS FOR A MINOR IN HISTORY OF ART

A minor in the History of Art enables students to deepen their knowledge of artistic production and practice (as well as curatorial practices). It will be relevant to students interested in History, English, Women's and Gender Studies, Theatre and Film, Classics, Philosophy and Anthropology, and will complement the student's major in a related or unrelated field of instruction. Those interested in pursuing a minor in the History of Art should consult with a Department Advisor to plan their course of study.

GENERAL REQUIREMENTS

18 credit hours, at least 12 credit hours of which are above the first-year level, and at least 12 credit hours of which are taken at The University of Winnipeg

Degree: Students completing any undergraduate degree program are eligible to complete the Minor.

Minor: 18 credit hours in the Minor subject, with a minimum of 12 credit hours above the 1000-level.

Residence Requirement: Minimum 12 credit hours in History of Art.

Required Courses:

6 credit hours in History at the 1000 level (HIST-1011/3 required)

12 credit hours in the History of Art at the 2000 level or above

Restrictions: Students cannot declare the same subject as a Major and a Minor.

HUMAN RIGHTS DEGREES/PROGRAMS OFFERED

3-year BA

4-year BA

Minor

INTRODUCTION

The Human Rights program examines human rights in global contexts, as mechanisms to address issues of human dignity, social justice, and global citizenship. The program explores the origins and rise of human rights concepts, and the continuing evolution of human rights definitions and debates. The program aims to equip students for education and advocacy in human rights, and to understand ways to respond to human rights abuses. A guiding premise of the program is that "human rights" are understood in multiple ways and contexts; the program includes courses from diverse fields such as anthropology, business, conflict resolution, criminal justice, international development, history, philosophy, religious and cultural studies, and women's and gender studies.

INDIGENOUS LANGUAGES (IL)

Updated January 31, 2024

Contacts: Shelley Tulloch, Chair of Anthropology; Heather Souter, Assistant Professor, Anthropology; Anke al-Bataineh, Instructor, Indigenous Languages

DEGREES/PROGRAMS OFFERED

3-year BA
4-year BA
Certificates

INTRODUCTION

Indigenous languages are the foundation of Indigenous knowledges and communities. The Indigenous Languages Thematic Major provides students with an interdisciplinary education in Indigenous Languages that focuses on revitalization, planning, and communication. Through core courses in Indigenous Studies and Linguistics, students grow as speakers of an Indigenous language and as capable proponents of Indigenous language revitalization. Elective courses from fields such as Anthropology, Conflict Resolution Studies, Education, Urban and Inner-City Studies, and Writing, Rhetoric and Communications expose students to diverse perspectives on Indigenous languages. Students have opportunities for experiential learning to complement teaching and research. Graduates of the program will join a growing community of people who are dedicated to, and have the skills to support, ongoing learning, speaking, researching, and teaching Indigenous languages, contributing to the revitalization of Indigenous languages.

CERTIFICATE PROGRAMS

The Certificates in Indigenous Languages are 30-credit-hour programs designed especially for part-time students who wish to develop specific proficiencies in Indigenous Languages, Indigenous Language Revitalization, Indigenous Language Teaching, and Supporting Multilingualism and Indigenous Languages in Schools. The Certificates in Indigenous Languages, Teaching Indigenous Languages for Vitality, and Supporting Multilingualism and Indigenous Languages in Schools are available as stand-alone credentials for non-degree seeking students, or as pre- or post-degree designations. Since the courses required for the Certificates are also part of the IL thematic major, they can be used towards a 3-year or 4-year BA, or toward an integrated B.Ed. Special cohort-based streams will be offered from time to time. Teaching Indigenous Languages for Vitality and Supporting Multilingualism and Indigenous Languages in Schools are only available in the cohort model.

Note: Courses marked with an asterisk require prerequisites and/or special permission for registration. Not all courses are offered every academic year. Students are encouraged to plan ahead, and to consult with Department Chairs and Instructors regarding course planning and possible prerequisite waivers. Students who wish to take 4000-level courses must have an overall GPA of at least 3.0 in the IL courses that they have completed. In addition, they require written permission from the Program Coordinator or their designate to register.

EXPERIMENTAL COURSES

Experimental courses are new courses offered on a trial basis to gauge interest in various topics. Students who successfully complete any experimental course receive credit as indicated. Please see the “All Course Descriptions” section of the Calendar for more information on each course.

MA in Indigenous Governance – Please see Graduate Studies Academic Calendar.

INTRODUCTION

The Department of Indigenous Studies/IS (formerly the Aboriginal Governance Program) is grounded in the intellectual and cultural heritage of Indigenous peoples in Canada and around the globe. Students from all backgrounds and disciplines develop critical thinking and cultural competency skills through interdisciplinary coursework offered by the IS faculty. The Department recognizes and honors the central role of language as carrier of culture, conveyor of tradition and knowledge, and signifier of individual and community identity by supporting the teaching of the indigenous languages Ojibwe and Cree. The relationship of the department with Indigenous peoples in Canada and abroad is one of reciprocity and support. The preparation of students includes the introduction of alternative world views involving interrelated themes of land, self-determination, cultural preservation and revitalization, indigenous knowledge and natural resources, historical agency, and representations of Indigenous peoples.

We recommend that undergraduate students in the major meet with an Academic Advisor and/or Indigenous Studies faculty to design a major that meets their needs and interests. Students who wish to combine knowledge on indigenous topics with other majors are encouraged to pursue the Minor in Indigenous Studies.

The Department of Indigenous Studies also offers land-based learning courses in close collaboration with local Indigenous communities, knowledge holders and elders.

The Department of Indigenous Studies participates in the Thematic Major in Indigenous Languages. For eligible courses, please see Indigenous Languages in this Calendar.

REQUIREMENTS FOR A 3-YEAR BA IN INDIGENOUS STUDIES

ADMISSION REQUIREMENT

Students must consult with an Academic Advisor for program planning.

GRADUATION REQUIREMENT

90 credit hours (this includes 45 credit hours from the ASGA Red River College program if applicable)

RESIDENCE REQUIREMENT

Degree:

Minimum 30 credit hours

Major:

Minimum 18 credit hours

GENERAL DEGREE REQUIREMENT

Humanities:

12 credit hours (may be met with IS language courses)

Science:

6 credit hours

Writing:

Minimum 3 credit hours of Academic Writing (This requirement is waived for students who hold the ASGA Diploma from Red River College.)

DEGREES/PROGRAMS

3-Year BA

4-Year BA

Minor

INTRODUCTION

International Development Studies (IDS) is an interdisciplinary major that challenges students to explore the causes and consequences of processes that promote some individuals, communities, and nations, and exclude others. IDS students are prepared for citizenship in an increasingly interdependent global community and are encouraged to envision paths towards a transformed, just world. The IDS program is jointly offered by Menno Simons College (MSC) and the University of Winnipeg. The interdisciplinary major of IDS can be taken alone or can be effectively combined with another major like Anthropology, Conflict Resolution Studies, Economics, Environmental Studies, Politics, or Sociology. All MSC students register as University of Winnipeg students and all degrees are University of Winnipeg degrees. For additional information about Menno Simons College, see the "Other Programs" section of this Calendar.

The IDS program builds on the strength of College-offered interdisciplinary courses, referred to as IDS Core Courses, and University-offered disciplinary courses, referred to as IDS Area Courses. IDS Core Courses accent problem-based analysis and creative thinking within an explicit ethical framework, rooted in community. IDS Core Courses also address both theoretical and practical development issues. IDS Area Courses include key courses offered by traditional disciplines and interdisciplinary programs that have historically been engaged in, or relate to, the study of development. The IDS program focuses on development processes at the global, national and community levels, but gives particular emphasis to development at the community level and to the work of non-governmental organizations and popular movements. Students in the IDS program are encouraged to engage in experience-based learning through the College's practicum program.

Students choosing to major in IDS should consider the following points:

1. The 3-Year IDS BA is designed to serve students with an interest in international issues, but who are not necessarily planning to seek work or do further study in the field of IDS. The 4-Year IDS BA is designed to serve students who plan to work in the field of development, whether overseas or in North America, and to prepare students for graduate studies in IDS or a related field.
2. The IDS Minor complements a student's major area of study with a focus on initiatives that address poverty and marginalization at the local, national or global level. Students have the option of consulting with the Menno Simons College Academic Advisor for assistance in planning a Minor.
3. From 2007-08 requirements for the 3-Year IDS BA underwent a small change and requirements for the 4-Year IDS BA underwent a significant change from 2005-06. Students who registered at the University of Winnipeg prior to 1 May 2006 may choose to follow the old IDS degree requirements or to adopt the new ones. Students who register after 1 May 2006 must follow the new requirements detailed below.
4. In 2016 the IDS Honours BA was suspended. Students who declared an IDS Honours Major before September 6, 2016 may still complete their major following the degree requirements outlined in the 2016-17 Academic Calendar (or for the year in which they declared). The Honours Major may no longer be declared.
5. Please note that some IDS Area Courses have course prerequisites. IDS students are expected to complete these prerequisites or make alternative arrangements with the particular department or program.

REQUIREMENTS FOR A 3-YEAR BA IN INTERNATIONAL DEVELOPMENT STUDIES

| ENV/IDS-2603(3) | Environmental Sustainability: A Global Dilemma* |
| SOC-3101(6) | Globalization and Social Justice: A Sociological Perspective* or SOC-3104(6) Globalization and Societies in the World System* |
| CRS-2241(3) | Conflict and Culture* or CRS-3931(3) Conflict Resolution and Human Rights* |
| WGS-2416(3) | Sex, Gender, Space and Place* |

Combined Major: Minimum 48 credit hours from two different majors with not less than 18 credit hours from each major subject.

Prescribed courses:

|--------------------|---|
| IDS-1100(6) | Introduction to International Development Studies |
| IDS-2110(3) | Participatory Local Development* |
| IDS-3111(3) | Development Aid Policy and Practise * |

Additional required IDS courses are to be determined in consultation with the MSC Academic Advisor. In addition to the minimum 18 credit hours from each major subject, students can count IDS Area courses toward the required minimum 48 credit hours.

REQUIREMENTS FOR A 4-YEAR BA IN INTERNATIONAL DEVELOPMENT STUDIES

|-----------------------------------|---|
| ADMISSION REQUIREMENT | Students must consult with the MSC Academic Advisor in planning their course of study. |
| GRADUATION REQUIREMENT | 120 credit hours |
| RESIDENCE REQUIREMENT | |
| Degree: | Minimum 60 credit hours |
| Major: | Minimum 30 credit hours |
| GENERAL DEGREE REQUIREMENT | |
| Humanities: | 12 credit hours in Humanities |
| Science: | 6 credit hours in Science |
| Social Science: | 12 credit hours in Social Science |
| Writing: | Minimum 3 credit hours of Academic Writing. |
| Indigenous: | 3 credit hours in designated Indigenous requirement courses |
| Maximum Introductory Courses: | Students may use a maximum of 42 credit hours at the 1000 level. Of these, a maximum of 6 credit hours may be below the 1000 level. |
| Distribution: | Minimum three (3) credit hours from each of five (5) different subjects. |
| MAJOR REQUIREMENT | |
| Single Major: | Minimum 54 credit hours from IDS Core Courses (30 credit hours) and IDS Area Courses (24 credit hours). Maximum 84 credit hours from IDS Core and Area Courses. |
| Double Major: | Minimum 54 credit hours from IDS Core Courses (30 credit hours) and IDS Area Courses (24 credit hours). Maximum 84 credit hours from IDS Core and Area Courses. Students must also meet the specified number of credit hours from the other major (may vary since some courses can be credited to both majors). |

As IDS is an interdisciplinary major, the normal disciplinary four-year maximum of 66 credit hours is extended to permit students to take the maximum from the IDS Core Courses (60 credit hours) plus the minimum from the IDS Area Courses (24 credit hours). IDS Area Courses beyond 24 credit hours can be used to meet cognate requirements or as electives for graduation requirements.

Cognate: Minimum 18 credit hours/maximum 36 credit hours, including a minimum 9 credit hours/maximum 15 credit hours from designated applied research or skills-related courses; a minimum 3 credit hours/maximum 6 credit hours of language study courses, plus a minimum 6 credit hours in IDS Core/Area/research/skills-related courses (if 6 credit hours of language are completed, a minimum 3 credit hours in IDS Core/Area/research/skills-related courses is required).

Minimum Major and Cognate Courses: 72 credit hours.

The cognate requirement is in addition to the major requirement (minimum 54 credit hours). Cognate requirements beyond the minimum of applied research or skills-related courses (9 credit hours) and language study courses (3 credit hours) can be met through IDS Core or Area Courses, as long as the sum of Cognate and Major Requirements is the minimum 72 credit hours.

Maximum Major and Cognate Courses: 90 credit hours

In meeting the IDS CORE COURSES requirement, all the following courses must be completed:

|--------------------|---|
| IDS-1100(6) | Introduction to International Development Studies |
| IDS-2110(3) | Participatory Local Development* |
| IDS-2171(3) | Crisis, Humanitarian Aid and Development* (formerly Crisis, Vulnerability and Development) |
| IDS-3101(3) | Development Ethics* |
| IDS-3111(3) | Development Aid Policy and Practise* |
| IDS-3199(3) | Local/National Practicum in International Development Studies* |
| IDS-4100(3) | Senior Seminar in International Development Studies* |
| IDS-4920(3) | Program Planning in Development and Conflict Resolution* or IDS-4922(3) Program Evaluation in Development and Conflict Resolution* |

In meeting the IDS AREA COURSES requirement, the following course must be completed:

|---------------------|---|
| ECON-1104(3) | Introduction to Economic Theory, or ECON-1106(3) Introduction to Economic Development, or ECON-1102(3) Introduction to Economics: Micro AND ECON-1103(3) Introduction to Economics: Macro. (Note: If ECON-1102(3) and ECON-1103(3) are taken, only three (3) credit hours are needed from the short list below.) |
|---------------------|---|

Plus a minimum of 6 credit hours must be chosen from the following:

|------------------------|--|
| ANTH-2100(3) | Method and Theory in Cultural Anthropology* |
| GEOG-3402(3) | Urbanization in the Developing World* |
| POL-3110(3) | International Organization* or POL-2100(6) Global Politics or POL-3105(3) Global Political Economy* or POL-3130(3) Canada in World Affairs* |
| ENV/IDS-2603(3) | Environmental Sustainability: A Global Dilemma* |
| SOC-3101(6) | Globalization and Social Justice: A Sociological Perspective* or SOC-3104(6) Globalization and Societies in the World System* |

|--------------------|---|
| CRS-2241(3) | Conflict and Culture* or CRS-3931(3) Conflict Resolution and Human Rights* |
| WGS-2416(3) | Sex, Gender, Space and Place* |

In meeting the IDS COGNATE requirement, a minimum of 9 /maximum of 15 credit hours must be completed from the following Research Methods and Skills Related Courses (note: courses marked with * have prerequisites):

Research Methods Courses

|-----------------------------|---|
| IDS/CRS-3920(3) | Action Research Methods* |

Other language courses may be eligible for IDS credit; please contact the MSC Academic Advisor.

An additional 6 credit hours in IDS Core/Area/research/skills-related courses are required to fulfill the IDS Cognate requirement for the 4-year IDS major (NOTE: If students complete 6 credit hours of language study, a minimum 3 credit hours in IDS Core/Area/research/skills-related courses is required).

Skills learning is an essential part of the 4-year IDS program. If you are interested to learn more, view the document, "Skills Learning to Engage in International Development," available on the MSC website at http://mscollege.ca/docs/academics/MSC_IDS_Skills_Learning_Report.pdf. In special cases, some skills learning courses may be available for academic credit BUT you must contact the MSC Academic Advisor for permission.

Combined Major: Minimum 60 credit hours from two different majors with a minimum of 24 credit hours from each major subject.

Prescribed courses:

|--------------------|--|
| IDS-1100(6) | Introduction to International Development Studies |
| IDS-2110(3) | Participatory Local Development* |
| IDS-3101(3) | Development Ethics* |

Additional required IDS courses are to be determined in consultation with the MSC Academic Advisor.

REQUIREMENTS FOR AN HONOURS BA IN INTERNATIONAL DEVELOPMENT STUDIES

NOTE: The IDS Honours BA was suspended in 2016. Students may no longer declare this Major.

ADMISSION REQUIREMENT

Entry into the Program after completing a minimum of 30 credit hours.

Entry, continuing and graduation minimum GPA is 3.0 (B) in Honours Subject courses* and 2.5 (C+) in Non-Honours Subject courses.

The minimum 3.0 GPA (B) will be based on all attempts (including course repeats and failures) in Honours Subject courses.

The minimum 2.5 GPA (C+) in all Non-Honours Subject courses will be calculated as for the general degree (i.e. F's are not included, and in the case of repeated courses, only the highest grade will be used).

Students must consult with the MSC Academic Advisor in planning their course of study.

Honours Subject courses are defined as the required IDS Core and Area courses plus the courses taken to meet the minimum IDS Honours Theory and Research requirements.

GRADUATION REQUIREMENT 120 credit hours

RESIDENCE REQUIREMENT

Degree: Minimum 60 credit hours

Honours: Minimum 30 credit hours, including minimum 18 credit hours at the 3/4000 level, and a minimum of 12 credit hours at the 4000 level.

GENERAL DEGREE REQUIREMENT

Humanities: 12 credit hours in Humanities

Science: 6 credit hours in Science

Writing: Minimum 3 credit hours of Academic Writing.

Indigenous: 3 credit hours in designated Indigenous requirement courses

Maximum Introductory Courses: Students may use a maximum of 42 credit hours at the 1000 level. Of these, a maximum of 6 credit hours may be below the 1000 level.

Distribution: Minimum three (3) credit hours from each of five (5) different subjects.

HONOURS REQUIREMENT

Single Honours:

Minimum 63 credit hours from International Development Studies: Core Courses (36 credit hours) and Area Courses (27 credit hours). In addition, 6 credit hours of designated Theory Courses (listed below) and 9 credit hours of designated Research Courses (listed below) must be completed.

Maximum 78 credit hours from IDS Core and Area Courses. Single Honours students are required to take a minimum of 30 credit hours at the 3/4000 level, of which 15 credit hours must be at the 4000 level.

As IDS is an interdisciplinary major, students may use IDS Area Courses beyond 27 credit hours as electives to meet graduation requirements.

Note: Not all Honours (4000 level) courses are offered every year. Students must plan their program in advance and in consultation with the MSC Academic Advisor to ensure they are able to meet graduation requirements by their anticipated final year of study.

IDS Core Courses (36 credit hours)

Note: Students may include a 3 credit hour Practicum in IDS (IDS-3199) in their minor, provided they meet the pre-requisites for this course. |
| Restrictions: | Students cannot declare the same subject as a Major and a Minor. |

GENERAL INFORMATION

Practicum Opportunities:

A practicum placement enables students to develop skills and apply classroom theory to real-life situations. It requires significant preparatory work and then a three to six month placement in either a local/national or international setting.

Students must explore options with the Practicum Director well in advance of the term in which they propose to engage in these practicum activities. To register, students need permission from the Practicum Director and must have a cumulative grade point average of 2.75.

Prerequisite Core Courses for Local/National Practicum (IDS 3199): IDS-1100(6); IDS-2110(3); IDS 2171(3); and additional 6 credit hours of IDS core courses.

ITALIAN STUDIES (ITAL)

Updated January 30, 2024

Chair of the Department of Modern Languages & Literatures: Associate Professor S. Cook

INTRODUCTION

The culture, history and language of Italy are centuries old. Italians have made major contributions to film, architecture, fine arts, music, food, fashion, sciences and technology. The large Italian diaspora has caused Italian - often considered one of the most romantic and melodic of languages - to become one of the most widely spoken languages in the world.

The Department of Modern Languages and Literatures offers Italian language and culture courses at the introductory and intermediate levels. Students gain knowledge and competence in oral and written Italian while also learning to appreciate the richness and diversity of Italian culture. If you plan to explore the mediaeval villages of Tuscany, visit the Uffizi Gallery in Florence, read Dante's Inferno in the original or even learn to make pizza as the Neapolitans make it, learning Italian is an excellent first step!

No previous knowledge of Italian is required to enroll in ITAL-1001(6).

COURSE LISTINGS

Students registering for their first Italian Studies course are strongly encouraged to consult a departmental advisor. Students are advised to use WebAdvisor or consult the appropriate Timetable on the website for the courses offered in the upcoming term.

KINESIOLOGY AND APPLIED HEALTH (KIN)

Updated January 31, 2024

The Department of Kinesiology and Applied Health is part of the Gupta Faculty of Kinesiology and Applied Health

Chair: Associate Professor D. Defries; Professor: G. Bergeron, M. Gregg; Associate Professors: A. Hussain, D. Telles-Langdon, R. Pryce; Assistant Professors: Y. Molgat-Seon, N. Richer; Instructors: J. Billeck, G. McDonald, L. McKay, V. Pelleck, A. Smith, B. Trunzo.

DEGREES/PROGRAMS OFFERED

3-Year BPHE
4-Year BKin.
4-Year BSc. (Athletic Therapy)
Honours BKin

MISSION

Our mission is to engage students with evidence-based experiential learning to promote health, human movement, and sport. We envision health active communities built through knowledge, research, and practice.

INTRODUCTION

Kinesiology is the art and science of human movement from a psychological, sociological, biological, mechanical and physiological perspective. Professionals in the field of Kinesiology are interested in increasing physical activity participation, enhancing sport performance, development of physical literacy, the technical and tactical aspects of coaching, the short and long term effects of exercise, and the role of physical activity in society.

The Department of Kinesiology and Applied Health at The University of Winnipeg is student-centred with small classes and labs and accessible professors. Our professors have expertise and research interests in areas that include inclusive physical activity, physical activity and aging, sports nutrition, coaching, sport and exercise psychology, motor control, exercise physiology, biomechanics, and athletic therapy

Canadian Memorial Chiropractic College Academic Pathway

The University of Winnipeg and the Canadian Memorial Chiropractic College have entered into an articulation agreement in which students can complete three years of study towards the 4 year BKin degree and apply for early consideration to the Chiropractic College after their second year of study; if accepted by CMCC, they would transfer to the Chiropractic College after their third year of study at the University of Winnipeg and go on to complete four more years of study towards a degree in Chiropractic; after which time, The University of Winnipeg will recognize one year of Chiropractic study towards a 4 year BKin degree. Upon completion, students will graduate with two degrees within a 7 year span that would have otherwise taken 8 years to complete.

To be accepted into the CMCC Academic Pathway you must contact the Department Assistant in the Department of Kinesiology and Applied Health at kinesiology@uwinnipeg.ca or by phone 204.786.9024.

REQUIREMENTS FOR A 4-YEAR BSc IN KINESIOLOGY (ATHLETIC THERAPY)

ADMISSION REQUIREMENT

Students must complete an Enhanced Major Declaration and then be successful in the selection process. Entry into this program is limited. REQUIREMENTS FOR AN HONOURS DEGREE IN KINESIOLOGY and APPLIED HEALTH

The Honours program gives students of demonstrated ability an opportunity to engage more extensively with the subject matter of Kinesiology and conduct original research within the field. Honours students must consult with and identify an Honours Kinesiology and Applied Health supervisor prior to registration in the Honours program. Students can complete an Honours degree in the 4-year BKin degree.

ADMISSION REQUIREMENT

Entry into the program after completing a minimum of 60 credit hours.

A minimum grade of 'B' in the statistics and research methods requirements

A minimum GPA of 3.0 across all Kinesiology and Applied Health courses completed at the time of application.

G.P.A. Requirement

To graduate with a BKin Honours, students must have a minimum of 3.0 on all major (Kinesiology) courses which will be calculated on all course attempts in the major. A minimum of 2.75 GPA on all non-major courses which will be calculated as for the general degree (i.e., F's are not included and, in the case of repeated courses, only the highest grade will be used).

GRADUATION REQUIREMENT

120 credit hours

RESIDENCE REQUIREMENT

Degree:

Minimum 60 credit hours

Honours: Minimum 30 credit hours

GENERAL DEGREE REQUIREMENT All general degree requirements must be completed for the BKin.

ADVISOR REQUIREMENT After completion of a minimum of 60 credit hours, interested students are encouraged to contact a faculty member with expertise in the area they wish to study to serve as an advisor. Once the faculty member has agreed to serve as advisor and has committed to supervising the student for the duration of the degree, students are instructed to contact the department Chair to apply to the honours program.

HONOURS REQUIREMENT

Single Honours: Minimum 60 credit hours in the major subject
Minimum 30 credit hours in upper-level (3000 and 4000) courses of which a minimum of 15 credit hours must be at the 4000-level.

Required Courses: Must complete all required course for the BKin degree in addition to Honours required courses).

Honours Required Courses:

KIN-3256 Honours Thesis I
KIN-4256 Honours Thesis II

GENERAL INFORMATION

Courses in the Department of Kinesiology and Applied Health are scheduled on a rotation basis. Since faculty members are responsible for multiple courses, a given course may not be scheduled annually. Every effort is made to offer all courses for timely access by students. Contact the Department to express interest in a particular course or in knowing when it will be next available.

INTERDISCIPLINARY LINGUISTICS (LING)

Updated January 29, 2024

Coordinator: I. Roksandic; Faculty: Professors: A. Desroches, P. Greenhill, Z. Izydorczyk, J. Machín-Lucas, L. Rodriguez; S. Tulloch. Associate Professors: A. McGillivray, J. Newmark, I. Roksandic, T. Whalen. Instructors: E. Buettner, K. Lovrien-Meuwese, J. Simpson.

DEGREES/PROGRAMS OFFERED

3-Year BA
4-Year BA
Honours BA
Minor

INTRODUCTION

Interdisciplinary Linguistics examines the complexities of human language across a variety of university departments. In this program, students explore elements of language structure, the relationship between language form and meaning, language variation and change over time, as well as issues of language use in daily communication in various social and cultural contexts.

Through a 3-Year BA, 4-Year BA, or Honours BA, students investigate written and spoken, literary and non-literary texts from relevant theoretical perspectives. Linguistics courses are taken in several departments: Anthropology, Conflict Resolution Studies, Developmental Studies, English, Modern Languages and Literatures, Philosophy, Psychology, Religion & Culture, Sociology, and Rhetoric, Writing & Communications, hence the interdisciplinary nature of the program. Students taking an undergraduate degree in another Major may choose to add a Minor in Linguistics as a secondary area of interest.

| ADMISSION REQUIREMENT | Students must consult with the Program Coordinator in planning their course of study. |
| GRADUATION REQUIREMENT | 90 credit hours |
| RESIDENCE REQUIREMENT | |
| Degree: | Minimum 30 credit hours |
| Major: | Minimum 18 credit hours |
| GENERAL DEGREE REQUIREMENT | |
| Humanities: | 12 credit hours in Humanities |
| Science: | 6 credit hours in Science |
| Writing: | Minimum 3 credit hours of Academic Writing. |
| Indigenous: | 3 credit hours in designated Indigenous requirement courses |
| Maximum Introductory Courses: | Students may use a maximum of 42 credit hours at the 1000 level. Of these, a maximum of 6 credit hours may be below the 1000 level. |
| Distribution: | Minimum three (3) credit hours from each of five (5) different subjects. |
| MAJOR REQUIREMENT | |
| Single Major: | Minimum 30 credit hours/Maximum 48 credit hours in the Major subject. |
| Double Major: | 30 credit hours in Linguistics and specified number of credit hours in other departments/programs. |
| Required Courses: | Minimum 24 credit hours from LIST A, including: LING-1001(6) 6 credit hours from LING-2000 series 6 credit hours from any List A courses 2100 or above 6 credit hours from any List A courses 3000 or above Minimum 6 credit hours from LIST B. |
| Combined Major: | Minimum 48 credit hours from two (2) different Majors with not less than 18 credit hours from each major subject. |
| Prescribed Courses: | LING-1001(6) 6 credit hours from LING-2000 series 3 credit hours from any List A courses 2100 or above 3 credit hours from any List A courses 3000 or above |

First-Year Course:

The Introduction to Linguistics course LING-1001(6) should be taken in the first year if possible. This course introduces and prepares students for 2000-level linguistics courses.

Upper-Level Courses:

Students in the Interdisciplinary Linguistics Program, are encouraged to take 2000, 2100, 2300 and 2400-level courses in their second year of studies and 3000, 3100, 3200, 3300 and 3400-level courses in their third year. The numbers and their order are significant in these courses. The first digit on the left represents the year of the course. This is true for all courses. If the second digit from the left is a 0, the course focuses primarily on language structure (e.g. 2001); if the second digit from the left is a 1, the course examines the use of language in the context of culture (e.g. 2101); if the second digit from the left is a 2, the course is a special studies or apprenticeship course, with a unique focus determined each year by the instructor (e.g. 3201); if the second digit from the left is a 3, the course is delivered in French; if the second digit from the left is 4, the course is delivered in German or Spanish.

Students registering in second-, and third-year-level courses may wish to consult with the course Instructor. All students registering in fourth-year/honours-level courses and/or declaring their major in Linguistics must have written approval from the Coordinator to register.

While fourth-year/honours-level courses are part of the Honours program, some students in the general program may be qualified to take them. Students who wish to take fourth-year/honours-level courses must have an overall GPA of at least 3.0 in the Linguistics courses that they have completed. In addition, they require written permission from the Program Coordinator or their designate to register.

REQUIREMENTS FOR A 4-YEAR BA IN INTERDISCIPLINARY LINGUISTICS

|-----------------------------------|---|
| ADMISSION REQUIREMENT | Students are urged to consult with the Coordinator in planning their studies. Minimum 30 credit hours completed previously. |
| GRADUATION REQUIREMENT | 120 credit hours |
| RESIDENCE REQUIREMENT | |

In addition, they require written permission from the Program Coordinator or their designate to register.

Additional Information:

Students must consult with the Program Coordinator in planning their curriculum and completing the required Permission forms at each registration. A minimum 3.0 GPA in 4000, 4100 and 4200-level courses is required; students lacking the requisite 3.0 GPA must consult the Program Coordinator regarding eligibility/permission.

REQUIREMENTS FOR AN HONOURS BA IN INTERDISCIPLINARY LINGUISTICS

ADMISSION REQUIREMENT

Entry into the program after completing a minimum of 30 credit hours.

Entry, continuing and graduation minimum GPA is 3.0 (B) in Honours Subject courses and 2.5 (C+) in Non-Honours Subject courses.

The minimum 3.0 GPA (B) will be based on all attempts (including course repeats and failures) in Honours Subject courses.

The minimum 2.5 GPA (C+) in all Non-Honours Subject courses will be calculated as for the general degree (i.e., F's are not included, and in the case of repeated courses, only the highest grade will be used).

GRADUATION REQUIREMENT

120 credit hours

RESIDENCE REQUIREMENT

Degree:

Minimum 60 credit hours

Honours:

Minimum 30 credit hours, including minimum 18 credit hours at the upper level (3000/4000) of which a minimum of 9 credit hours are at the 4000 level

GENERAL DEGREE REQUIREMENT

Humanities:

12 credit hours in Humanities

Science:

6 credit hours in Science

Writing:

Minimum 3 credit hours of Academic Writing.

Indigenous:

3 credit hours in designated Indigenous requirement courses

Maximum Introductory Courses:

Students may use a maximum of 42 credit hours at the 1000 level. Of these, a maximum of 6 credit hours may be below the 1000 level.

Distribution:

Minimum three (3) credit hours from each of five (5) different subjects.

MAJOR REQUIREMENTS

Single Honours:

Minimum 54 credit hours/maximum 78 credit hours in the Honours subject.

Required Courses:

Minimum 42 credit hours from LIST A and 12 credit hours from LIST B including the following:

Introduction to Linguistics LING-1001(6)

6 credit hours from LING-2000 series

6 credit hours from any List A courses 2100 or above

12 credit hours from any List A courses 3000 or above

12 credit hours from any List A courses 4000 or above

Additional Requirements:

Minimum 6 credit hours in the study of a second language from Aboriginal Languages (Cree, Ojibwe), Classics (Greek or Latin), Modern Languages and Literatures (French, German, Spanish, Italian), English (Old English), Religious Studies (Arabic, Biblical Hebrew), or East Asian Languages and Culture (Japanese, Mandarin).

Double Honours:

Minimum 36 credit hours in each Honours Subject

Minimum 30 credit hours in courses from List A and 6 credit hours in courses from LIST B

Required Courses: Introduction to Linguistics LING-1001(6)
6 credit hours from LING-2000 series
6 credit hours from any List A courses 2100 or above
9 credit hours from any List A courses 3000 or above
9 credit hours from any List A courses 4000 or above

First-Year Course:

The Introduction to Linguistics course LING-1001(6) should be taken in the first year if possible. This course introduces and prepares students for 2000-level linguistics courses.

Honours Students must consult with the Program Coordinator or designate in planning their curriculum and completing the required Permission forms at each registration. A minimum 3.0 GPA in Honours subject courses is required; students lacking the requisite 3.0 GPA must consult the Program Coordinator or designate regarding eligibility/permission to take 4000, 4100 and 4200-level courses.

REQUIREMENTS FOR A MINOR IN INTERDISCIPLINARY LINGUISTICS

Degree: Students completing any undergraduate degree program are eligible to complete the Minor.
Minor: 18 credit hours in the Minor subject, with a minimum of 12 credit hours above the 1000 level.
Residence requirement: Minimum 12 credit hours in the Minor subject.
Required courses: At least 6 credit hours from the following courses:
LING-2001(3) Phonetics and Phonology
LING-2002(3) Morphology
LING-2003(3) Syntax
LING-2004(3) Semantics
LING-2101(3) Language and Culture
LING-2102(3) Method and Theory in Linguistic Anthropology
LING-2103(3) Languages of the World
Six further credit hours at the 2000 level and above from List A
Restrictions: Students cannot declare the same subject as a Major and as a Minor

GENERAL INFORMATION

In the following descriptions of Interdisciplinary Linguistics Program courses, these terms are used:

PREREQUISITE: A course which students must have taken before they can enter another course.

COREQUISITE: A course that must be taken during the same session as another course.

CROSS-LISTED: A cross-listed course is available as part of a major in more than one department or program.

For the following courses there are additional prerequisites; please check the course descriptions:

LING-2301(3) Phonetics
LING-3002(3) Discourse Analysis
LING-3006(3)/4006(3) Language Typology
LING-3101(3) Institutional Discourse
LING-3301(3) French Lexicology
LING-3302(3) French Morphology & Syntax
LING-4005(3) Semiotics and Structuralism
LING-4301(3) French Lexicography
LING-4302(3) Syntax of Modern French

For prerequisites for other 4000-level courses, see individual course descriptions.

4000, 4100 and 4200-Level Courses

Minimum 3.0 GPA (B) in major courses (students lacking the requisite 3.0 GPA should consult the Program Coordinator or designate concerned regarding eligibility to take 4000-level courses). Permission of the Program Coordinator or designate is required for each 4000, 4100 and 4200-level course.

INTRODUCTION

Mathematics is the supreme intellectual achievement and the most original creation of the human spirit - Morris Kline.

Mathematics is the Queen and servant of the Sciences - Karl Friedrich Gauss.

The scope of Mathematics ranges from Computer Science to Philosophy, from Physics to Finance. Mathematics emphasizes precision and logic, but also creativity and problem solving. Students heading for Law or Medicine are well served by a first degree in Mathematics. Other graduates move into the financial sector or high technology. Some graduates choose to go on to advanced degrees, not only in Mathematics, but also in Statistics, Computer Science, Meteorology or Physics.

The department offers 3-Year and 4-Year BA and BSc degrees, and the Honours BSc. Students pursuing a 3-year or 4-year BSc also have the opportunity to take a Business Stream – a set of core courses in the Faculty of Business that will provide them with the skills needed to enter and succeed in industry and business. See the "Science with a Business Stream" section of this Course Calendar.

The Mathematics department features one of the highest levels of research activity in the University, and offers students a unique glimpse into the ongoing creation of Mathematics.

REQUIREMENTS FOR A 3-YEAR BA/BSc IN MATHEMATICS

ADMISSION REQUIREMENT

Students must consult with the Department Advisor/Honours Advisor in planning their program. Students who have not obtained a grade of at least C in MATH-1103(3) Introduction to Calculus I AND MATH-1104(3) Introduction to Calculus II or the equivalent MATH-1101(6) Introduction to Calculus are advised not to proceed in a Mathematics major.

GRADUATION REQUIREMENT

90 credit hours

RESIDENCE REQUIREMENT

Degree: Minimum 30 credit hours.
Major: Minimum 18 credit hours.

GENERAL DEGREE REQUIREMENT

Humanities: 12 credit hours in Humanities
Writing: Minimum 3 credit hours of Academic Writing.
Indigenous: 3 credit hours in designated Indigenous requirement courses
Maximum Introductory Courses: Students may use a maximum of 42 credit hours at the 1000 level. Of these, a maximum of 6 credit hours may be below the 1000 level.
As a result, students must take a minimum of 48 credit hours at the 2000-level or above in order to not exceed the maximum number of introductory courses.
Distribution: Minimum three (3) credit hours from each of five (5) different subjects.

MAJOR REQUIREMENT

Single Major: Minimum 36 credit hours/Maximum 54 credit hours.
Double Major: Minimum 36 credit hours in Mathematics and specified number of credit hours in the other department/program.
Required courses: MATH-1103(3) Introduction to Calculus I and MATH-1104(3) Introduction to Calculus II or the equivalent MATH-1101(6) Introduction to Calculus
MATH-1401(3) Discrete Mathematics
MATH-2105(3) Intermediate Calculus I and MATH-2106(3) Intermediate Calculus II
MATH-1201(3) Linear Algebra I and MATH-2203(3) Linear Algebra II

A minimum additional fifteen (15) credit hours chosen from the following courses, of which six (6) credit hours must be at the 3000 or 4000 level:

MATH-2102(3) Differential Equations I
MATH-2103(3) Differential Equations II
MATH-2202(3) Cryptography and Other Applications of Algebra
MATH-2405(3) Real Analysis I
MATH-2501(3) Introductions to Number Theory
MATH-3101(6) Introduction to Mathematical Analysis
MATH-3103(3) Methods in Advanced Calculus
MATH-3202(3) Group Theory
MATH-3203(3) Linear Algebra III
MATH-3401(3) Graph Theory

MATH-3402(3) Combinatorics
MATH-4003(3) Topics in Mathematics
MATH-4101(3) Complex Analysis
MATH-4202(3) Rings and Fields
MATH-4204(3) Topics in Algebra
MATH-4401(3) Networks, Graph Theory and Combinatorial Optimization
MATH-4403(3) Set Theory
MATH-4602(3) Measure Theory and Integration
MATH-4603(3) Topology

Combined Major: Minimum 48 credit hours from two (2) different majors with not less than 18 credit hours from each major subject. Required math courses: MATH-1103(3) and MATH-1104(3) or MATH-1101(6), and MATH-1201(3), and MATH-2105(3) and MATH-2106(3), and at least 3 credit hours of math courses at the 3000 or 4000 level.

Prescribed courses: To be determined in consultation with the Department as above.

Students who have not obtained a grade of at least C in MATH-1103(3) Introduction to Calculus I and MATH-1104(3) Introduction to Calculus II or the equivalent MATH-1101(6) Introduction to Calculus are advised not to proceed in a Mathematics major. Students intending to major in Mathematics are strongly advised to take MATH-1401(3) Discrete Mathematics in their first year. It is a prerequisite for most second and third-year courses in Mathematics. Students majoring in Mathematics are strongly advised to take both MATH-2105(3) Intermediate Calculus I and MATH-2106(3) Intermediate Calculus II and MATH-2203(3) Linear Algebra II by the end of their second year, since several third-year courses have these as prerequisites. Students are encouraged to take more than 36 credit hours in Mathematics. Students planning to go on to graduate studies are advised to consult with the Department before choosing second year courses.

REQUIREMENTS FOR THE 3-YEAR BSc IN MATHEMATICS WITH A BUSINESS STREAM

Students must complete the requirements of the 3-year BSc in Mathematics degree (see previous section) and the set of core courses indicated in the "Science with a Business Stream" section of the Calendar.

REQUIREMENTS FOR THE 4-YEAR BA/BSc IN MATHEMATICS

| GENERAL DEGREE REQUIREMENT Humanities: Writing: Indigenous: Maximum Introductory Courses: Distribution: | 12 credit hours Minimum 3 credit hours of Academic Writing 3 credit hours in designated Indigenous requirement courses Students may use a maximum of 42 credit hours at the 1000 level. Of these, a maximum of 6 credit hours may be below the 1000 level. As a result, students must take a minimum of 78 credit hours at the 2000-level or above in order to not exceed the maximum number of introductory courses. Minimum three (3) credit hours from each of five (5) different subjects. |

HONOURS SUBJECT REQUIREMENT

Single Honours:

Minimum 66 credit hours/Maximum 72 credit hours in the Honours subject.

Minimum 30 credit hours in upper-level courses (3000/4000), not including courses that are cross-listed with Statistics, and of which a minimum of 12 credit hours must be at the 4000 level.

Required courses:

|---------------------|--|
| MATH-1103(3) | Introduction to Calculus I and MATH-1104(3) Introduction to Calculus II or the equivalent MATH-1101(6) Introduction to Calculus |
| MATH-1401(3) | Discrete Mathematics |
| MATH-2105(3) | Intermediate Calculus I |
| MATH-2106(3) | Intermediate Calculus II |
| MATH-1201(3) | Linear Algebra I |
| MATH-2203(3) | Linear Algebra II |
| MATH-2405(3) | Real Analysis I |
| MATH-3101(6) | Introduction to Mathematical Analysis |
| MATH-3202(3) | Group Theory |
| MATH-3203(3) | Linear Algebra III |
| MATH-4101(3) | Complex Analysis |
| MATH-4202(3) | Rings and Fields |
| ACS-1903(3) | Programming Fundamentals I or ACS-1905(3) Programming Fundamentals or ACS/PHYS-2102(3) Scientific Computing |

Students who have not obtained a grade of at least C in MATH-1103(3) Introduction to Calculus I and MATH-1104(3) Introduction to Calculus II or the equivalent MATH-1101(6) Introduction to Calculus are advised not to proceed in a Mathematics major.

Students intending to major in Mathematics are strongly advised to take MATH-1401(3) Discrete Mathematics in their first year. It is a prerequisite for most second and third-year courses in Mathematics.

Students majoring in Mathematics are strongly advised to take both MATH-2105(3) Intermediate Calculus I and MATH-2106(3) Intermediate Calculus II and MATH-2203(3) Linear Algebra II by the end of their second year, since several third-year courses have these as prerequisites.

Students planning to go on to graduate studies are advised to consult with the Department before choosing second year courses.

REQUIREMENTS FOR A MINOR IN MATHEMATICS

Degree: Students completing any undergraduate degree program are eligible to complete the Minor.

Minor: 18 credit hours in the Minor subject, with a minimum of 12 credit hours above the 1000-level

Residence Requirement: Minimum 12 credit hours in the Minor subject

Required courses: MATH-1103(3) Introduction to Calculus I and MATH-1104(3) Introduction to Calculus II or, the equivalent, MATH-1101(6) Introduction to Calculus.

An additional 12 credit hours at the 2000 level, or higher, chosen from the following list:

| | | | |
|---------------------|--|---------------------|---|
| MATH-2102(3) | Differential Equations I | MATH-3103(3) | Methods in Advanced Calculus |
| MATH-2103(3) | Differential Equations II | MATH-3202(3) | Group Theory |
| MATH-2105(3) | Intermediate Calculus I | MATH-3203(3) | Linear Algebra III |
| MATH-2106(3) | Intermediate Calculus II | MATH-3401(3) | Graph Theory |
| MATH-2202(3) | Cryptography and Other Applications of Algebra | MATH-3402(3) | Combinatorics |
| MATH-2203(3) | Linear Algebra II | MATH-4003(3) | Topics in Mathematics |
| MATH-2405(3) | Real Analysis I | MATH-4101(3) | Complex Analysis |
| MATH-2501(3) | Introduction to Number Theory | MATH-4202(3) | Rings and Fields |
| MATH-3101(6) | Introduction to Mathematical Analysis | MATH-4204(3) | Topics in Algebra |
| | | MATH-4401(3) | Networks, Graph Theory and Combinatorial Optimization |
| | | MATH-4403(3) | Set Theory |

Note: Most upper-level math courses require MATH-1201(3) Linear Algebra I, and/or MATH-1401(3) Discrete Mathematics, as prerequisites. Students wishing to obtain a minor in Mathematics are therefore encouraged to take one or both of these courses early on in their program.

Restrictions: Students cannot declare the same subject as a Major and a Minor.

REQUIREMENTS FOR A 3-YEAR TEACHABLE MAJOR IN MATHEMATICS

MATHEMATICS MAJOR – Teaching stream

Required courses:

MATH-1103(3) Introduction to Calculus I and MATH-1104(3) Introduction to Calculus II or the equivalent MATH-1101(6) Introduction to Calculus

MATH-1401(3) Discrete Mathematics

MATH-2105(3) Intermediate Calculus I and MATH-2106(3) Intermediate Calculus II

MATH-1201(3) Linear Algebra I and MATH-2203(3) Linear Algebra II

A minimum additional fifteen (15) credit hours chosen from the following courses, of which a minimum of six (6) credit hours must be at the 3000 or 4000 level:

| | | | |
|---------------------|--|---------------------|---|
| MATH-2102(3) | Differential Equations I | MATH-4204(3) | Topics in Algebra |

| MATH-2103(3) | Differential Equations II | | |
| MATH-2105(3) | Intermediate Calculus I | | |

RESTRICTIONS: Students may not receive credit for either MATH-1103(3) or MATH-1104(3) and also receive credit for MATH-1101(6).

GENERAL INFORMATION

Prerequisites: Pre-Calculus Mathematics 40S or Applied Mathematics 40S.

Degree Credit for Introductory Courses: Students are reminded that a maximum of 6 credit hours at the 0000-level may be counted towards the degree. Nevertheless, 0000-level Mathematics courses are not eligible for degree credit. Credit towards the degree will not be granted for both MATH-1102(3) Basic Calculus (Terminal), MATH-1103(3) Introduction to Calculus I and MATH-1104(3) Introduction to Calculus II, or the equivalent MATH-1101(6) Introduction to Calculus

COURSE LISTINGS

Courses are listed in numerical sequence: Students are advised to consult WebAdvisor or the appropriate Timetable on the website for courses to be offered in an upcoming term, as certain courses may not be available in each term. Students are advised to ensure that currently listed courses do not duplicate material studied previously under different course numbers.

MENNONITE STUDIES (MENN)

February 13, 2024

Chair: B. Nobbs-Thiessen

The establishment of the Chair in Mennonite Studies was made possible through the generous gifts of Dr. David Friesen, Q.C., his family, and the Federal Department of the Secretary of State.

INTRODUCTION

The Chair in Mennonite Studies was established to give students an opportunity to study the rich story of the Mennonites, their way of life and their interaction with the wider society. Mennonite Studies is an Interdisciplinary Program, combining history, religion, culture, and literature as they relate to the Mennonites in the past and present. In the courses and seminars students seek to understand the radical Anabaptist roots of this once persecuted people, and consider their changing worlds and religious practice. Special attention is given to contributions they have made to Canadian society, including food security, peace and nonviolence, literature, and art. The question of how the Mennonites seek to come to terms with the world around them is a major part of the Program's emphasis.

A minor in Mennonite Studies is available to students pursuing a bachelor's degree. Those interested in completing a minor in Mennonite Studies should consult with the Chair in Mennonite Studies by email or phone, 204-786-9391, to plan their program of study. The Mennonite Studies Minor requires the completion of a minimum of 18 credit hours of courses in Mennonite Studies including Mennonites Studies I and II.

Students will find courses in Mennonite Studies an inspiring and informative addition to a liberal arts education. A Minor in Mennonites Studies, or courses in Mennonite Studies, will be relevant to students interested in Mennonite (or Anabaptist) faith origins, Mennonite migrations through Europe and North America, and today's Mennonite community in both the Global North and Global South.

A Mennonite Studies program will prepare students to work in a wide variety of fields, including those that focus on multicultural understanding, peace and conflict, spiritual discipline, communitarian simplicity and environmental sustainability. Such a program of study will be relevant to students intending to write MA and PhD theses dealing with Anabaptist-Mennonite subjects. Mennonite Studies courses will also prepare students to work in fields such as journalism, law, education, counselling, food security, religious leadership and public policy analysis. Students may also choose to pursue further scholarly work in a particular subfield of Mennonite Studies, one linked to such disciplines as Conflict Resolution Studies, History, International Development Studies, Religion and Culture, Sociology, and Women's and Gender Studies.

DEGREES/PROGRAMS OFFERED

3-Year BA
4-Year BA
Honours BA

INTRODUCTION

The Department of Modern Languages and Literatures is home to a variety of courses and programming, including the 3-year BA in French Studies, German Studies, and Spanish Studies; the 4-year BA in French Studies, German Studies, and Modern Languages; and the Honours BA in French Studies.

Students can begin the study of any of our languages without previous knowledge. Departmental facilitators are available to assist students in the selection of their courses, and to ensure correct placement. Students are asked to consult a facilitator when registering for the first time in one of our courses. Students can study language, linguistics and literature in a variety of courses at different levels.

In addition to registering in our on-campus programs, students in French Studies and German Studies can benefit from study-abroad programs in Tours, France, and at the Universität Bamberg in Germany.

For specific information about courses and programs in French Studies, German Studies, Italian Studies and Spanish Studies, please consult the appropriate calendar sections. The 4-year BA in Modern Languages is described below.

REQUIREMENTS FOR A 4-YEAR BA IN MODERN LANGUAGES

ADMISSION REQUIREMENT Students must consult with the Department facilitator or Chair in planning their studies.

GRADUATION REQUIREMENT 120 credit hours

RESIDENCE REQUIREMENT

Degree: Minimum 60 credit hours
Major: Minimum 30 credit hours

GENERAL DEGREE REQUIREMENT

Humanities: 12 credit hours
Science: 6 credit hours
Social Science: 12 credit hours
Writing: Minimum 3 credit hours of Academic Writing.
Indigenous: 3 credit hours in designated Indigenous requirement courses.
Maximum Introductory Courses: Students may use a maximum of 42 credit hours at the 1000 level. Of these, a maximum of 6 credit hours may be below the 1000 level. As a result, students must take a minimum of 78 credit hours at the 2000-level or above in order to not exceed the maximum number of introductory courses.
Distribution: Minimum three (3) credit hours from each of five (5) different subjects.

MAJOR REQUIREMENT

Single Major: 60 credit hours in two different languages and related courses, distributed as follows:
Prescribed courses: 30 credit hours in a main language and its culture and literature, to be selected from FREN, GERM, or SPAN, with a minimum of 6 credit hours at the 3000-level or higher. Exception: FREN-1100 and FREN-1102 may not be counted as a main language credit.

12 credit hours in an additional language, to be selected from: FREN, GERM, ITAL, or SPAN language. Exception: FREN-1100 and FREN-1102 may not be counted as an additional language credit.

Japanese: EALC-1100 and EALC-2100 OR EALC-2100 and 6 credit hours in approved EALC Japanese culture courses

Chinese: EALC-1200 or 1202 and EALC-2200 OR EALC-2200 and 6 credit hours in approved EALC Chinese culture courses

Korean: EALC-1300 and EALC-2300 OR EALC-2300 and 6 credit hours in approved EALC Korean culture courses

Cree: IS-1101 and IS-2101 OR IS-2101 and 6 credit hours in approved IS Cree culture courses

Ojibwe: IS-1201 and IS-2201 OR IS-2201 and 6 credit hours in approved IS Ojibwe culture courses
6 credit hours: LING-1001(6) Introduction to Linguistics

12 credit hours selected from any of:

Further courses in the selected main and additional languages and their cultures and literatures

Interdisciplinary Linguistics (LING) courses

MOD/ENGL-2710 Literature in Translation

PORT-1001 Introductory Portuguese

Up to 6 credit hours in a language other than the main and the additional language.

MULTIDISCIPLINARY (MULT)

Updated January 5, 2024

INTRODUCTION

The University offers a variety of courses under the department designation "Multidisciplinary." These courses may or may not be proposed by individual departments or programs, but they typically are associated with existing departments or programs. This category of courses may also be used to designate transfer credits from faculties or programs at other institutions with no counterpart among University of Winnipeg departments or programs.

|-----------------|---|
| MULT-0999(1) | Junior Research Scholar |
| MULT-1000(3) | Introduction to University |
| MULT-1005(6) | Concepts in Science |

MUSIC (MUS)

Updated January 5, 2024

INTRODUCTION

The University formerly offered a Music Program in conjunction with Concord College (now part of the Canadian Mennonite University). No Music Major or Minor is currently available, but the University offers a small number of courses in Music which may be used as electives toward University of Winnipeg degrees. The courses are a collaboration between the Multidisciplinary Advisory Committee to the Vice-President Academic, the Department of Theatre and Film, and The University of Winnipeg Collegiate.

|------------------|-----------------------------------|
| MUS-1015(3) | Ensemble Practicum (Instrumental) |
| MUS/THFM-1500(3) | Music Appreciation |

NEUROSCIENCE (NSCI)

Updated July 4, 2024

Coordinator: B. Bolster; Program Advisors: H. Aujla, A. Desroches, R. Douville, S. Forbes, P. Pearson, S. Smith, D. Williams

NOTE: The department/program code is NSCI which replaces BPSY (Biopsychology)

DEGREES/PROGRAMS OFFERED

3-Year BSc

3-Year BSc (Business Stream)

4-Year BSc

4-Year BSc (Business Stream)

Honours BSc

INTRODUCTION

Neuroscience is the branch of the natural sciences concerned with how the brain and the nervous system control behaviour in both health and disease. This rapidly developing research area includes all aspects of the structure and function of the nervous systems in humans and nonhuman species. It is interdisciplinary in nature and seeks to merge perspectives from molecular biology, genetics, physiology, anatomy, biochemistry and biophysics with those of psychology to understand the mechanisms that control behaviour and cognitive function. Understanding neural processes has applications to a variety of health and psychosocial problems including dementing diseases, traumatic brain injury, stroke, and a wide variety of developmental or drug-induced behavioural and cognitive disorders. This program prepares students for further study in neuroscience, psychology, medicine, speech pathology, and communication disorders, to name a few. Students pursuing a 3-year or 4-year BSc in Neuroscience have the opportunity to take a Business Stream – a set of core courses in the Faculty of Business that will provide them with the skills needed to enter and succeed in industry and business. See the "Science with a Business Stream" section of this Course Calendar.

NOTE ON DEPARTMENT COURSE ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS

Neuroscience students are expected to meet course requirements specified by the department offering the courses. Please note that Biology and Psychology courses may have somewhat different requirements for registration in certain courses. Biology requires no special permission to enroll in 4000-level BIOL courses, whereas Psychology requires academic advising and approval from the Honours Committee to register for 4000-level PSYC courses. Psychology approval normally requires (1) a minimum 3.0 GPA (B) in Psychology courses based on all attempts (including course repeats and failures), and (2) a minimum 2.5 GPA (C+) in all non-Psychology courses calculated as for the general degree (i.e., F's are not included, and in the case of repeated courses, only the highest grade is used). Exemptions are granted to students taking only 3 credits per term at the 4000 level.

REQUIREMENTS FOR THE 3-YEAR BSc IN NEUROSCIENCE

ADMISSION REQUIREMENT

Both Chemistry 40S and either Pre-Calculus or Applied Mathematics 40S are required for students wishing to pursue a BSc. Entry into the program after completing a minimum of 30 credit hours
A grade of C or better in PSYC-1000(6)

GRADUATION REQUIREMENT 90 credit hours

RESIDENCE REQUIREMENT

Degree: Minimum 30 credit hours
Major: Minimum 18 credit hours

GENERAL DEGREE REQUIREMENT

Humanities: 12 credit hours in Humanities
Writing: Minimum 3 credit hours of Academic Writing
Indigenous: 3 credit hours in designated Indigenous requirement courses
Distribution: Minimum five (5) different subjects

Maximum Introductory Courses: Students may use a maximum of 42 credit hours at the 1000 level. Of these, a maximum of 6 credit hours may be below the 1000 level. As a result, students must take a minimum of 48 credit hours at the 2000-level or above in order to not exceed the maximum number of introductory courses.

3-YEAR MAJOR REQUIREMENT

Single Major: Minimum 48 credit hours in the subject as per the Required Course list
Double Major: Minimum 48 credit hours in subject as per the Required Course list, and specified number of credit hours in other Major (may vary depending on interdisciplinary courses completed as they may be able to be credited to both Majors)

Required courses:

|---------------------|--|
| PSYC-1000(6) | Introductory Psychology |
| CHEM-1111(3) | Introduction to the Chemical Properties of Matter |
| CHEM-1112(3) | Basic Principles of Chemical Reactivity |
| BIOL-1115(3) | Cells and Cellular Processes |
| BIOL-1116(3) | Evolution, Ecology and Biodiversity |
| PSYC-2101(3) | Introduction to Data Analysis OR STAT-2001(3) Elementary Biological Statistics II OR STAT-1302 (3) Statistical Analysis II |
| PSYC-2102(3) | Research Methods |
| CHEM-2202(3) | Organic Chemistry I |
| CHEM-3502(3) | Intermediate Biochemistry I: Structure, Function, and Energetics of Biomolecules |
| BIOL-2301(3) | Genetics |
| BIOL-3221(3) | Cell Biology |
| PSYC-2900(3) | Physiological Psychology I |

A minimum of 9 credits hours are required from Areas 1 and 2 with a minimum of 6 credit hours in one Area.

REQUIREMENTS FOR THE 3-YEAR BSc IN NEUROSCIENCE WITH A BUSINESS STREAM

Students must complete the requirements of the 3-year BSc in Neuroscience (see previous section) and the set of core courses indicated in the "Science with a Business Stream" section of the Calendar.

REQUIREMENTS FOR THE 4-YEAR BSc IN NEUROSCIENCE

This allows program students with interests in the natural sciences to expand their knowledge of the neural basis of behavior and cognition. Students are required to consult with a Departmental Honours Advisor at the time they enroll in 4000-level courses in the Psychology Department. Appointments for advising are arranged through the departmental secretary at 786-9130. Enrolling in 4000-level courses in the Biology department does not require a consultation with a faculty member.

ADMISSION REQUIREMENT

Students are required to consult with a Program Advisor or Coordinator in planning their course of study.

Both Chemistry 40S and either Pre-Calculus or Applied Mathematics 40S are required for students wishing to pursue a BSc (Hons).

Entry into the program after completing a minimum of 30 credit hours

A grade of C or better in PSYC-1000(6)

GRADUATION REQUIREMENT

120 credit hours

GRADUATION GPA REQUIREMENT

Graduation minimum GPA is 2.5 (C+) in major subject courses (Neuroscience) and 2.5 (C+) in all non-major subject courses

Minimum 2.5 GPA (C+) based on all attempts (including course repeats and failures) in Neuroscience courses

Minimum 2.5 GPA (C+) in all non-major subject courses calculated as for the general degree (i.e. F's are not included, and in the case of repeated courses, only the highest grade will be used)

RESIDENCE REQUIREMENT

Degree: Minimum 60 credit hours

Major: Minimum 30 credit hours

GENERAL DEGREE REQUIREMENT

Humanities: 12 credit hours in Humanities

Writing: Minimum 3 credit hours of Academic Writing

Indigenous: 3 credit hours in designated Indigenous requirement courses

Distribution: Minimum five (5) different subjects

Maximum Introductory Courses: Students may use a maximum of 42 credit hours at the 1000 level. Of these, a maximum of 6 credit hours may be below the 1000 level. As a result, students must take a minimum of 78 credit hours at the 2000-level or above in order to not exceed the maximum number of introductory courses.

4-YEAR MAJOR REQUIREMENT

Single Major: Minimum 63 credit hours in the subject as per the Required Course list

Double Major: Minimum 63 credit hours in subject as per the Required Course list, and specified number of credit hours in other Major (may vary depending on interdisciplinary courses completed as they may be able to be credited to both Majors)

Required courses:

PHILOSOPHY (PHIL)

Nov. 17, 2023

Chair: A. Scarfe

Professors: B. Savickey, J. Forsey, J.R. Muir

DEGREES/PROGRAMS OFFERED

3-Year BA

4-Year BA

Honours BA

Minor

INTRODUCTION

The Department of Philosophy at the University of Winnipeg has a long commitment to an historical approach to philosophy and philosophical education which our graduates attest has served them well. Students in our Department have the opportunity to examine authors from every historical period, and from Europe, the Middle East, North America, and other parts of the world. They can investigate philosophy's fundamental metaphysical, epistemological, and axiological questions: What is the nature of the universe? What can I know? What should I become? What should I do? This historical approach allows students to encounter diverse answers to these questions and come to understand the historical origins of the dominant answers to these questions in contemporary society. In addition to courses in the Department's History Stream, students have the opportunity to select courses from the Ethics, Politics, and Value Theory Stream or the Metaphysics and Epistemology Stream.

The Department offers a variety of 3-Year, 4-Year, and Honours BA programs and a minor. Philosophy courses also provide an excellent theoretical adjunct to majors in other departments. Introduction to Logical Reasoning provides valuable critical thinking tools for all students. The Department offers discipline-specific courses such as Philosophy of Education for Education, Philosophy of Literature for English, Philosophy of History for History, Philosophy of Religion for Religion, and Philosophy of Mind for Psychology. There are also applied ethics courses such as Environmental Ethics for Environmental Science/Studies students and Health Care and Bioethics for prospective doctors, nurses, and other biomedical professionals. Philosophy of the Natural Sciences or Philosophy of the Social Sciences will be of interest to students in these programs.

In addition to increasing one's understanding of possible answers to important questions, philosophy courses enhance students' thinking and writing skills. Philosophy courses are useful to students planning careers in journalism, law, education, policy-making, politics, theology, education, administration, and counseling. Graduate Studies in philosophy typically requires students to have an Honours degree in Philosophy.

REQUIREMENTS FOR A 3-YEAR BA IN PHILOSOPHY

ADMISSION REQUIREMENT

Students must consult with the Department Chair or a member of the Department before declaring a major and are encouraged to do so before the end of their second year.

GRADUATION REQUIREMENT

90 credit hours

RESIDENCE REQUIREMENT

Degree: Minimum 30 credit hours
Major: Minimum 18 credit hours

GENERAL DEGREE REQUIREMENT

Humanities: 12 credit hours in Humanities
Science: 6 credit hours in Science
Writing: Minimum 3 credit hours of Academic Writing
Indigenous: 3 credit hours in designated Indigenous requirement courses
Maximum Introductory Courses: 42 credit hours at the 1000 level. 6 credit hours may be below the 1000 level. As a result, students must take a minimum of 48 credit hours at the 2000 level or above in order to not exceed the maximum number of introductory courses.
Distribution: Minimum 3 credit hours from each of 5 different subjects

MAJOR REQUIREMENT

Single Major: Minimum 30 credit hours/maximum 48 credit hours
Double Major: 30 credit hours in Philosophy and satisfy minimum credit hours requirement in the other Department/program.

Required courses in Single or Double Major:

PHIL-1001(6) or PHIL-1002(6)

6 credit hours of History Stream courses

PHIL-1301(6) or PHIL-2302(6)

6 credit hours from either the Metaphysics and Epistemology Stream OR the Ethics, Politics, and Value Theory Stream

6 credit hours in any Stream

Depth Requirement:

Minimum 6 credit hours must be at the 3000 or 4000 level.

Combined Major: Minimum 48 credit hours from 2 different majors with not less than 24 credit hours in Philosophy courses

Required courses:

PHIL-1001(6) or PHIL-1002(6)
PHIL-1301(6) or PHIL-2302(6)
6 credit hours from the History Stream

NOTE: PHIL-1301 and either PHIL-1001 or PHIL-1002 may be taken for degree credit.
3000 and 4000 level courses are offered in rotation.

REQUIREMENTS FOR A 4-YEAR BA IN PHILOSOPHY

ADMISSION REQUIREMENT Students must consult with the Department Chair or a member of the Department before declaring a major and are encouraged to do so before the end of their second year.
Students should already have completed 30 credit hours.

GRADUATION REQUIREMENT 120 credit hours

RESIDENCE REQUIREMENT

Degree: Minimum 60 credit hours
Major: Minimum 30 credit hours

GENERAL DEGREE REQUIREMENT

Humanities: 12 credit hours in Humanities
Science: 6 credit hours in Science
Social Science: 12 credit hours in Social Science
Writing: Minimum 3 credit hours of Academic Writing
Indigenous: 3 credit hours in designated Indigenous requirement courses
Maximum Introductory Courses: 42 credit hours at the 1000 level. 6 credit hours may be below the 1000 level. As a result, students must take a minimum of 78 credit hours at the 2000 level or above in order to not exceed the maximum number of introductory courses.
Distribution: Minimum 3 credit hours from each of 5 different subjects

MAJOR REQUIREMENT

Single Major: Minimum 48 credit hours/maximum 66 credit hours
Double Major: Minimum 48 credit hours in each major subject as specified by the Department/program
Minimum of 18 credit hours/maximum of 36 credit hours ancillary course
Maximum total of major courses is 84 credit hours

Required courses for Single and Double Major:

Program Core (30 credits)
PHIL-1001(6) or PHIL-1002(6)
PHIL-2302(6)
6 credit hours from the History Stream
6 credit hours from the Metaphysics and Epistemology Stream
6 credit hours from the Ethics, Politics, and Value Theory Stream
Stream Requirement: 9 credit hours in a Stream
Electives: 9 credit hours
Depth Requirement:
6 credits 3000 level courses
6 credits 4000 level courses

Required courses for Student Directed Stream:

Program Core (30 credits)
PHIL-1001(6) or PHIL-1002(6)
PHIL-2302(6)
6 credit hours from the History Stream
6 credit hours from the Metaphysics and Epistemology Stream
6 credit hours from the Ethics, Politics, and Value Theory Stream
18 credit hours Thematic selection of courses in consultation with the Department Chair or a member of the Department
Depth Requirement:
6 credits 3000 level courses
6 credits 4000 level courses

Combined Major: Minimum 60 credit hours from two (2) different majors with not less than 30 credit hours from each major subject

Required Courses:

Program Core (30 credits)
PHIL-1001(6) or PHIL-1002(6)
PHIL-2302(6)
6 credit hours from the History Stream
6 credit hours from the Metaphysics and Epistemology Stream

6 credit hours from the Ethics, Politics, and Value Theory Stream

Depth Requirement:

6 credits 3000 level courses

6 credits 4000 level courses

NOTE: PHIL-1301 and either PHIL-1001 or PHIL-1002 may be taken for degree credit.
3000 and 4000 level courses are offered in rotation.

REQUIREMENTS FOR AN HONOURS BA IN PHILOSOPHY

ADMISSION REQUIREMENT

Students must consult with the Department Chair or a member of the Department to enter the Honours program and are encouraged to do so before the end of their second year.

Students should already have completed 30 credit hours.

Entry, continuing and graduation minimum GPA is 3.0 (B) in Philosophy courses and 2.5 (C+) in other courses.

The minimum 3.0 GPA (B) will be based on all attempts (including course repeats and failures) in Honours Subject courses.

The minimum 2.5 GPA (C+) in all Non-Honours Subject courses will be calculated as for the general degree (i.e., F's are not included, and in the case of repeated courses, only the highest grade will be used).

GRADUATION REQUIREMENT

120 credit hours

RESIDENCE REQUIREMENT

Degree: Minimum 60 credit hours

Honours: Minimum 30 credit hours, including minimum 18 credit hours at upper level (3000/4000) of which a minimum of 9 credit hours must be at 4000 level

GENERAL DEGREE REQUIREMENT

Humanities: 12 credit hours in Humanities

Science: 6 credit hours in Science

Writing: Minimum 3 credit hours of Academic Writing

Indigenous: 3 credit hours in designated Indigenous requirement courses

Maximum Introductory Courses: 42 credit hours at the 1000 level. 6 credit hours may be below the 1000 level. As a result, students must take a minimum of 78 credit hours at the 2000 level or above in order to not exceed the maximum number of introductory courses.

Distribution: Minimum three (3) credit hours from each of five (5) different subjects

HONOURS REQUIREMENT

Single Honours: Minimum 54 credit hours/maximum 78 credit hours in the Honours subject

Minimum 12 credit hours at 3000 level in Philosophy

Minimum 18 credit hours at 4000 level in Philosophy

Double Honours: Minimum 36 credit hours in each Honours subject

Minimum 12 credit hours at 3000 level in Philosophy

Minimum 18 credit hours at 4000 level in Philosophy

Consult department involved for the requirements of the other Honours subject

Required courses:

Single Honours:

Program Core (30 credits)

PHIL-1001(6) or PHIL-1002(6)

PHIL-2302(6)

6 credit hours from the History Stream

6 credit hours from the Metaphysics and Epistemology Stream

6 credit hours from the Ethics, Politics, and Value Theory Stream

Stream Requirement: 12 credit hours in a Stream

PHIL-4800(6) or 6 credit hours 4000 level in student's Stream

Electives: 6 credit hours

Depth Requirement:

12 credit hours 3000 level courses

18 credit hours 4000 level courses (including PHIL-4800(6) or 6 credit hour 4000 level courses)

Student Directed Honours Program:

Program Core (30 credits)

PHIL-1001(6) or PHIL-1002(6)

PHIL-2302(6)

6 credit hours from the History Stream

6 credit hours from the Metaphysics and Epistemology Stream

6 credit hours from the Ethics, Politics, and Value Theory Stream

18 credit hours Thematic selection of courses in consultation with the Department Chair or a member of the Department

PHIL-4800(6) or 6 credit hours 4000 level in student's Theme

Depth Requirement:

12 credit hours 3000 level courses

18 credit hours 4000 level courses (including PHIL-4800(6) or 6 credit hour 4000-level courses)

Double Honours:

Program Core (30 credits)

PHIL-1001(6) or PHIL-1002(6)

PHIL-2302(6)

6 credit hours from the History Stream

6 credit hours from the Metaphysics and Epistemology Stream

6 credit hours from the Ethics, Politics, and Value Theory Stream

Stream Requirement: 12 credit hours in a Stream

PHIL-4800(6) or 6 credit hours 4000 level in a Stream

Depth Requirement:

12 credit hours 3000 level courses

18 credit hours 4000 level courses (including PHIL-4800(6) or 6 credit hour 4000 level courses.)

NOTE: PHIL-1301 and either PHIL-1001 or PHIL-1002 may be taken for degree credit.

3000 and 4000 level courses are offered in rotation.

REQUIREMENTS FOR A MINOR IN PHILOSOPHY

Degree: Students completing any undergraduate degree program are eligible to complete the minor.

Minor: 18 credit hours in the minor subject, with a minimum of 12 credit hours above the 1000 level

Residence Requirement: Minimum 12 credit hours in the minor subject

Required courses: Any 18 credit hours in Philosophy, subject to the above requirements

Restrictions: Students cannot declare the same subject as a major and a minor

GENERAL INFORMATION

Students are advised that 3000 and 4000 level courses are offered in rotation. To complete your degree in a timely manner, you are advised to meet regularly with the Department Chair or a member of the Department.

Philosophy Course Selection

Year 1 students are advised to take a 1000 level course, although 2000 level courses do not generally require a prerequisite. For Year 2 students, or beyond, the first Philosophy course may be at the 2000 level.

3000 level courses require a minimum of 12 credit hours in Philosophy

4000 level courses require:

A minimum of 15 credit hours in Philosophy (9 credits at 2000 level or higher)

B average or better in Philosophy courses

Written permission of the Department Chair

Courses may only be counted once for degree requirements

3000 and 4000 level Topics courses may be repeated when the topics are different

Humanities Requirement

PHIL-2302(6) Logic does not fulfill the Humanities Requirement

Credit for Logic courses received by transfer from other institutions does not fulfill the Humanities requirement

Cross-Listed Courses

Approval of the Department Chair or a member of the Department is required to count more than one Philosophy cross-listed course for credit towards the major

INTRODUCTION

The University of Winnipeg has an internationally recognized Physics Department, which offers an excellent learning atmosphere, fostered by small class sizes and individual attention from professors. Our curriculum combines foundational theoretical and experimental physics courses with new cutting-edge topical courses, such as Physical Computing, Quantum Computing, and Medical Imaging. Physicists are among the most sought-after STEM practitioners for their ability to understand the fundamental concepts underlying highly applied tasks across academic disciplines and industries and their ability to solve problems end-to-end in new and creative ways. Our graduates have a solid foundation in general physics, mathematics, statistics, data science, scientific writing, and experimental techniques enabling them to be successful in a variety of STEM fields as well as graduate school/medical schools.

Our professors' research spans a broad range of topics – from digital agriculture and robotics to subatomic physics (especially neutron and neutrino particles) and material science to the use of magnetic resonance imaging (MRI) in diagnosing disease, to the inner workings of black holes, higher-dimensional cosmology, superstrings, and quantum gravity. Students can participate in these research activities, and many find paid summer employment with the various research groups.

Where can you go with Physics?

About half of our students continue their research activities in some of the top graduate schools in North America, such as Cornell, the University of British Columbia, McGill, Waterloo, McMaster, and the University of Toronto. Several of our students continue onto medical school in either clinical or research specializations. Many of our students capitalize on the skills learned in our program at local and international companies. Our students are hired by places such as: JCA Technologies, Pluto Ventures, Ubisoft, Nvidia, Blue Origin, Boeing, 3M, Price Industries, and Cubresa Inc, in roles ranging from Computational Fluid Dynamics (CFD) Analyst to Aerospace Engineer to Data Scientist.

Your Physics Degree Options

We offer many Honours degrees to match your interests, which all include a capstone honours thesis project (PHYS-4001(6)), which gives you practical experience in research. The Honours BSc in Physics provides excellent training both for postgraduate studies in Physics and for entry into technical workplaces. The Chemical Physics Honours BSc focuses on the intersection of Physics with Chemistry and is ideal for students interested in the physics of matter. If you want to pursue a career in computing, the Computational Physics Honours BSc will give you a strong background in scientific and mathematical computing applicable to careers in data science, artificial intelligence, finance, and even gaming. The Mathematical Physics Honours BSc is a solid basis for continuing studies in theoretical physics or analytically-oriented careers. If you are interested in medical school or other careers in the health sciences, the Medical Physics Honours BSc is for you.

Students pursuing the Integrated Stream BEd degree can use the 3-Year BSc in Physics for the Teachable Major, and we strongly recommend the Minor in Physics for the Teachable Minor (Senior Years Stream). PHYS-1005(6) Concepts in Science is specially designed to provide the background needed to teach sciences in Elementary/Middle Years. The 3-Year BSc (Applied Physics Stream) is ideal if you want a grounding in Physics and are interested in Engineering as a career. The course options for this degree allow you to aim toward a wide variety of Engineering programs.

Students pursuing any 3-year, 4-year, or Honours BSc in Physics also can take a Business Stream. Students must complete the requirements of a Physics BSc degree (see below) and the set of core courses indicated in the "Science with a Business Stream" section of the Calendar.

Come talk to us and find out more about where you can go with Physics!

GENERAL INFORMATION

Prerequisites

Note that prerequisites may be waived in some circumstances; please consult the Department Chair.

Notes on Specific Courses and their Applicability

PHYS-1301(6) Introduction to Physics does not involve Calculus and is offered for pre-medical, pre-dental, and arts students. It can also serve as the first course toward a degree in Physics; students who take PHYS-1301 and decide to major in Physics should speak with the department chair.

PHYS-1701(6) Astronomy, PHYS-2705(6) Cosmology, PHYS-2777(3) The Study of Time, and PHYS-2812(3) The Physics of Music meet the Science Requirement and are intended for liberal arts students who desire a minimally mathematical approach to the understanding of science.

PHYS-2102(3) and PHYS-2103(3) - Scientific Computing and Numeric and Symbolic Computing - provide an introduction to the use of computers in science, and should be useful to anyone interested in gaining practical experience with a variety of programming languages.

PHYS-2602(3) Quantum Computing provides an introduction to the new field of quantum computers with a minimum of prerequisites. PHYS-2803(3) Physical Computing gives students hands-on experience building and controlling hardware. These courses have minimal prerequisites.

GENERAL 3-YEAR BSc DEGREE REQUIREMENTS

|-----------------------------------|--|
| ADMISSION REQUIREMENT | Students must consult with a Department advisor in planning their course of study. |
| GRADUATION REQUIREMENT | 90 credit hours |
| RESIDENCE REQUIREMENT | |
| Degree: | Minimum 30 credit hours. |
| Major: | Minimum 18 credit hours. |
| GENERAL DEGREE REQUIREMENT | |
| Humanities: | Minimum 12 credit hours in Humanities. |
| Writing: | Minimum 3 credit hours of Academic Writing. |
| Indigenous: | 3 credit hours in designated indigenous requirement courses |
| Maximum Introductory Courses: | Students may use a maximum of 42 credit hours at the 1000 level. Of these, a maximum of 6 credit hours may be below the 1000 level. As a result, students must take a minimum of 48 credit hours at the 2000-level or above in order to not exceed the maximum number of introductory courses. |
| Distribution: | Minimum three (3) credit hours from each of five (5) different subjects. |

GENERAL 4-YEAR BSc DEGREE REQUIREMENTS

|-----------------------------------|--|
| ADMISSION REQUIREMENT | Students must consult with a Department advisor in planning their studies. |
| GRADUATION REQUIREMENT | 120 credit hours; that is, 90 credit hours meeting the requirements for the 3-Year BSc plus 30 additional credit hours. |
| RESIDENCE REQUIREMENT | |
| Degree: | Minimum 60 credit hours. |
| Major: | Minimum 30 credit hours. |
| GENERAL DEGREE REQUIREMENT | |
| Humanities: | Minimum 12 credit hours. |
| Writing: | Minimum 3 credit hours of Academic Writing. |
| Indigenous: | 3 credit hours in designated indigenous requirement courses |
| Maximum Introductory Courses: | Students may use a maximum of 42 credit hours at the 1000 level. Of these, a maximum of 6 credit hours may be below the 1000 level. As a result, students must take a minimum of 78 credit hours at the 2000-level or above in order to not exceed the maximum number of introductory courses. |
| Distribution: | Minimum three (3) credit hours from each of five (5) different subjects. |

GENERAL HONOURS BSc DEGREE REQUIREMENTS

|-------------------------------|--|
| ADMISSION REQUIREMENT | Students must have completed 30 credit hours. Students must consult and have the approval of the Department Chair or the Chair's designate when planning their studies. |
| GRADUATION REQUIREMENT | 120 credit hours |

Graduation GPA Requirement: To graduate with a BSc (Honours), students must have a minimum GPA of 3.0 on all major (Physics) courses which will be calculated on all course attempts in the major, and a minimum GPA of 2.75 on all non-major courses which will be calculated as for the general degree.

RESIDENCE REQUIREMENT

Degree: Minimum 60 credit hours.
Major: Minimum 30 credit hours, including minimum 18 credit hours at upper level (3000/4000) of which a minimum of 12 credit hours are at the 4000 level.

GENERAL DEGREE REQUIREMENT

Humanities: 12 credit hours
Writing: Minimum 3 credit hours of Academic Writing.
Indigenous: 3 credit hours in designated indigenous requirement courses
Maximum Introductory Courses: Students may use a maximum of 42 credit hours at the 1000 level. Of these, a maximum of 6 credit hours may be below the 1000 level. As a result, students must take a minimum of 78 credit hours at the 2000-level or above in order to not exceed the maximum number of introductory courses.
Distribution: Minimum three (3) credit hours from each of five (5) different subjects.

REQUIREMENTS FOR A 3-YEAR BSc IN PHYSICS

MAJOR REQUIREMENT

Single Major: Minimum of 45 credit hours as per the courses listed below.

Required Courses (36 credit hours):

MATH-1101(6) Introduction to Calculus
OR MATH-1103(3) Introduction to Calculus I
AND MATH-1104(3) Introduction to Calculus II
PHYS-1101(6) Foundations of Physics
PHYS-2105(3) Mathematical Physics I
PHYS-2106(3) Mathematical Physics II
PHYS-2200(3) Electricity and Magnetism
PHYS-2302(6) Modern and Thermal Physics
PHYS-3301(6) Quantum Mechanics
PHYS-3901(3) Intermediate Physics Laboratory

Plus a minimum of 6 credit hours from:

PHYS-2202(3) Optics and Waves
PHYS-3202(3) Intermediate Mechanics
PHYS-3403(3) Thermal and Statistical Physics

Plus a minimum of 3 credit hours from:

Any other PHYS course excluding PHYS-1005(6) Concepts in Science and PHYS-1301(6) Introduction to Physics.

Recommended: Students are advised to include courses in the areas of Calculus and Differential Equations as part of their degree program. Students are advised to consult with the Department Chair before entering Year 2 of their studies.

Combined Major: Minimum of 48 credit hours from two (2) different majors with not less than 18 credit hours from each major subject.

Prescribed courses: Required courses depend on the second major area and will be determined in consultation with the department.

REQUIREMENTS FOR A 3-YEAR BSc (APPLIED PHYSICS STREAM)

MAJOR REQUIREMENT

Single major: Minimum of 45 credit hours as per the courses listed below.

Required Courses (33 credit hours):

MATH-1101(6) Introduction to Calculus
OR MATH-1103(3) Introduction to Calculus I
AND MATH-1104(3) Introduction to Calculus II
PHYS-1101(6) Foundations of Physics
PHYS-2105(3) Mathematical Physics I
PHYS-2106(3) Mathematical Physics II
PHYS-2200(3) Electricity and Magnetism
PHYS-2202(3) Optics and Waves
PHYS-2302(6) Modern and Thermal Physics
PHYS-3901(3) Intermediate Physics Laboratory

Plus a minimum of 6 credit hours from:

- PHYS-2102(3) Scientific Computing OR PHYS-2112(3) Scientific Computing with Python
(A student cannot use both of these courses to satisfy major requirements in Physics)
PHYS-2103(3) Numeric and Symbolic Computing
PHYS-2110(3) Statics
PHYS-2803(3) Physical Computing: Interacting with the Real World

Plus a minimum of 6 credit hours from:

- PHYS-3202(3) Intermediate Mechanics
PHYS-3301(6) Quantum Mechanics
PHYS-3403(3) Thermal and Statistical Physics

REQUIREMENTS FOR A 4-YEAR BSc IN PHYSICS

MAJOR REQUIREMENT

Single Major: Minimum of 66 credit hours as per the courses listed below.

Required Courses (48 credit hours):

- MATH-1101(6) Introduction to Calculus
OR MATH-1103(3) Introduction to Calculus I
AND MATH-1104(3) Introduction to Calculus II
PHYS-1101(6) Foundations of Physics
PHYS-2105(3) Mathematical Physics I
PHYS-2106(3) Mathematical Physics II
PHYS-2200(3) Electricity and Magnetism
PHYS-2202(3) Optics and Waves
PHYS-2302(6) Modern and Thermal Physics
PHYS-3202(3) Intermediate Mechanics
PHYS-3301(6) Quantum Mechanics
PHYS-3403(3) Thermal and Statistical Physics
PHYS-3901(3) Intermediate Physics Laboratory
PHYS-4901(3) Advanced Physics Laboratory

Plus a minimum of 6 credit hours from:

- PHYS-3203(3) Advanced Mechanics
PHYS-4201(6) Electrodynamics
PHYS-4602(3) Advanced Quantum Mechanics

Plus a minimum of 12 credit hours from:

- PHYS-2102(3) Scientific Computing OR PHYS-2112(3) Scientific Computing with Python
(A student cannot use both of these courses to satisfy major requirements in Physics)
PHYS-2103(3) Numeric and Symbolic Computing
PHYS-2803(3) Physical Computing: Interacting with the Real World
OR any 3000 or 4000 level PHYS course

If necessary, alternate Mathematics or Physics courses can be substituted with written permission from the Department of Physics.

Students must complete a special registration form available from the Department Chair before registering for the 66th credit hour.

Combined Major: Minimum of 60 credit hours from two (2) different majors with not less than 24 credit hours from each major subject.

Prescribed courses: Required courses depend on the second major area and will be determined in consultation with the department.

REQUIREMENTS FOR A 4-YEAR BSc (RADIATION THERAPY)

Radiation Therapy is a new program. Please see the "Radiation Therapy" section of the Course Calendar.

REQUIREMENTS FOR AN HONOURS BSc IN PHYSICS

HONOURS REQUIREMENT

Single Honours: Minimum of 90 credit hours as per the courses listed below.

Required Courses (72 credit hours):

- MATH-1101(6) Introduction to Calculus
OR MATH-1103(3) Introduction to Calculus I
AND MATH-1104(3) Introduction to Calculus II
MATH-1201(3) Linear Algebra I

|---------------------|---------------------------------|
| MATH-2102(3) | Differential Equations I |
| PHYS-1101(6) | Foundations of Physics |
| PHYS-2105(3) | Mathematical Physics I |
| PHYS-2106(3) | Mathematical Physics II |
| PHYS-2200(3) | Electricity and Magnetism |
| PHYS-2202(3) | Optics and Waves |
| PHYS-2302(6) | Modern and Thermal Physics |
| PHYS-3202(3) | Intermediate Mechanics |
| PHYS-3203(3) | Advanced Mechanics |
| PHYS-3301(6) | Quantum Mechanics |
| PHYS-3403(3) | Thermal and Statistical Physics |
| PHYS-3901(3) | Intermediate Physics Laboratory |
| PHYS-4001(6) | Honours Thesis |
| PHYS-4201(6) | Electrodynamics |
| PHYS-4602(3) | Advanced Quantum Mechanics |
| PHYS-4901(3) | Advanced Physics Laboratory |

Plus a minimum of 6 credit hours from:

|---|---|
| PHYS-2102(3) | Scientific Computing OR PHYS-2112(3) Scientific Computing with Python |
| (A student cannot use both of these courses to satisfy major requirements in Physics) | |
| PHYS-2103(3) | Numeric and Symbolic Computing |
| PHYS-2803(3) | Physical Computing: Interacting with the Real World |
| OR any 3000 or 4000 level PHYS course | |

In addition to the above, students must select a further 6 credit hours in Mathematics and 6 credit hours from Biology and/or Chemistry excluding BIOL-1102(6) Biology and Human Concerns and CHEM-2801(6) Chemistry and Society.

If necessary, alternate Mathematics or Physics courses can be substituted with written permission from the Department of Physics.

REQUIREMENTS FOR AN HONOURS BSc (CHEMICAL PHYSICS STREAM)

HONOURS REQUIREMENT

Single Honours: Minimum of 96 credit hours as per the courses listed below.

Required Courses (84 credit hours):

|---------------------|---|
| CHEM-1111(3) | Introduction to the Chemical Properties of Matter |
| CHEM-1112(3) | Basic Principles of Chemical Reactivity |
| CHEM-2102(3) | Thermodynamics and Kinetics |

POLITICAL SCIENCE (POL)

Updated Jan. 5, 2024

Acting Chair: Linda DeRiviere; Professor: Joanne Boucher, Joan Grace, Peter Ives, Aaron Moore, Tanya Narozhna; Associate Professor: Malcolm Bird, Ray Silvius; Assistant Professor: Félix Mathieu; Senior Scholar: Allen Mills; Emeritus Professor: Chris Leo

DEGREES/PROGRAMS OFFERED

3-Year BA

4-Year BA

Honours BA

Certificate in Public Policy and Administration

Minor

Master of Public Administration (MPA) – For more information, see Graduate Studies Academic Calendar.

INTRODUCTION

The study of Political Science examines power and authority at formal and informal levels – global/international, regional, national, and local. The academic discipline examines the material and non-material (historical, social, ideological, and ideational) forces that shape global/international, regional, national, and local politics. The study of Political Science is divided into a number of separate though overlapping fields, such as global/international politics, political thought, law, public policy and administration, Canadian politics, urban and municipal politics.

The Department offers the 3-Year BA, 4-Year BA, and Honours degrees, as well as a Master of Public Administration (MPA) in cooperation with the University of Manitoba. Students pursuing any of these degrees may also graduate with a Certificate in Public Policy and Administration. Students whose Major is not Political Science will find that courses in Political Science complement areas in other academic disciplines, such as Criminal Justice, Economics, History, Philosophy and Sociology, as well as in other inter-disciplinary programs, such as Urban and Inner-City Studies, Indigenous Studies, Human Rights and Global Studies and Women's and Gender Studies.

Political Science graduates enter such professional fields as the public service, the legal profession, business administration, political organizations, and teaching. In addition, the pursuit of graduate studies in Political Science can lead to a university academic career.

| Restrictions: | Students cannot declare the same subject as a Major and a Minor. |

GENERAL INFORMATION

Prerequisites

Except where otherwise indicated, there are no prerequisites for 2000-level and 3000-level courses in the Department of Political Science; however, for 3000-level courses, a previous course in Political Science would be beneficial. Students enrolling in Honours-level courses in the Department of Political Science may need to fulfill specific prerequisites. For example, students wishing to enrol in Seminar in Global Politics POL-4100(3) must first complete POL-2100(3). Note: All 4000-level courses require departmental permission.

Changing Degree Programs

Students in the Political Science Major program, or who wish to enter the Political Science Major Program, may transfer from one degree program to another provided requirements are met.

Graduate Studies

The Political Science Department participates in the Master of Public Administration program offered jointly by the Universities of Manitoba and Winnipeg. Interested students are advised to consult this website for details:

http://umanitoba.ca/faculties/arts/departments/political_studies/master_pa/index.html.

Students may also consult with the Chair of the MPA program.

Courses available for graduate credit (7000 level - GPOL) are included in the Master of Public Administration section of The University of Winnipeg's Graduate Academic Calendar.

Education Students

For Education students pursuing a Teachable Minor in Political Science, the following courses are recommended: POL-1011(6) Introduction to Political Science; POL-2100(6) Global Politics; POL-2400(6) Canadian Politics.

COURSE LISTINGS

The Political Science Department has organized its courses into five areas of specialization. Courses are listed in numerical sequence by Area of Study. Please use WebAdvisor or the appropriate Timetable on the website to find out which courses will be offered in an upcoming term, or consult with the Political Science Department Chair or Department Assistant.

PORTUGUESE STUDIES (PORT)

Updated January 30, 2024

Chair of the Department of Modern Languages & Literatures: Associate Professor S. Cook

INTRODUCTION

Portuguese is one of the most widely spoken languages in the world, with approximately 215 million people speaking the language. It is the official language of Portugal, Brazil, Angola, Cape Verde, Guinea-Bissau, Mozambique, and São Tomé and Príncipe. It is also spoken in Macau (China), East Timor, Goa (India) and in many immigrant communities in Europe, the United States, Canada, Argentina, and Australia. Portuguese is one of the official languages of the European Union and is also the fifth most common language on the Web, with approximately 83 million Internet users.

Portuguese-speaking countries boast vibrant cultural activity that includes music (fado, corridinho, samba), folklore, literature, art and sport (soccer in particular). There are also festivals such as Carnival and Capoeira. It is the mother tongue of several internationally known authors and poets, such as Luís de Camões, the most famous writer in the Portuguese language, Fernando Pessoa, Jorge Amado, and Jose Saramago, who was awarded the Nobel Prize for literature in 1998.

Portuguese immigrants arriving in Canada in the 1960s and 1970s worked in factories, railroads, mines or construction, often with people who spoke the same language. Today, in many Luso-Canadian families, the younger generation is interested in learning Portuguese in order to communicate with grandparents and older relatives, and to keep their culture and traditions alive.

Learning another language can enrich your life and open up career opportunities. Speaking Portuguese is an asset in the tourism industry and also in international trade as Brazilian exports to the rest of the world continue to increase.

DEGREES/PROGRAMS OFFERED

3-Year BA

4-year BA

Honours BA

Minor in Psychology

Certificate in Applied Psychology

For BSc degrees in Neuroscience, see the Neuroscience (NSCI) section of the Calendar.

INTRODUCTION

Psychology is the scientific study of the mind, human experience, and behaviour, ranging from the basic mechanisms of the nervous system to principles governing social relations. Topics studied include infant attachment, moral development, personality traits, visual perception, judgment and decision-making, fear conditioning, neural imaging, addiction, psychological disorders, prejudice, romantic relationships, and effective behaviour in organizations.

Given the diversity of psychology, students are encouraged to select courses from various areas that make up its core. These are physiological psychology, perception, learning, cognition, developmental psychology, personality, social psychology, and abnormal psychology. Students also take courses on the methods by which psychologists try to understand human behaviour and experience, from observations and surveys to biological procedures. In addition to coursework, students have opportunities to participate in psychological research, and to work with Psychology faculty on specific research projects. Students emerge with a sound understanding of the richness and complexity of human beings, with a broad range of competencies (e.g., spoken and written communication skills, critical thinking, quantitative abilities), and with an appreciation of how people can be understood scientifically.

The study of psychology has many benefits, both personal and professional. Psychology courses provide much specific information relevant to being students, partners, parents, and other important personal roles in life. Professional benefits are similarly diverse. Psychology courses contain content that is fundamental to numerous careers and are often part of training programs or are prerequisites for degrees in areas such as nursing or medicine, education, speech pathology, law enforcement, social services, business, and public administration.

REQUIREMENTS FOR A 3-YEAR BA IN PSYCHOLOGY

The 3-Year BA in Psychology provides students with a basic-level understanding of human behaviour and experience, and of psychological research methods. This is a useful background for people seeking employment in fields that require a general undergraduate degree or for professional programs that admit students with 3-Year degrees. Although there may be some counselling or related programs that accept students with 3-Year degrees, generally students planning graduate studies in Psychology or related fields should pursue the Honours Program.

| Single Major: | Minimum 36 credit hours/Maximum 48 credit hours. Minimum 6 credit hours at the 3000 level or above in Psychology. |
| Double Major: | Minimum 36 credit hours for Psychology and credit hours specified for other department. |
| Combined Major: | Minimum 48 credit hours from two different majors with not less than 18 credit hours from each major subject. |

Required Courses (Required courses are the same for the Single, Double, and Combined Major):

PSYC-1000(6) Introductory Psychology, or a 3 credit introductory course transferred from another university as PSYC-1000(3) minimum 2.0 GPA (C)

PSYC-2101(3) Introduction to Data Analysis or STAT-1302 or STAT-2001

PSYC-2102(3) Introduction to Research Methods

Minimum of 3 credit hours from Entry Category A (Social Sciences), to be selected from:

PSYC-2200(3) Developmental Psychology I: Fundamentals

PSYC-2300(3) Personality Psychology

PSYC-2400(3) Social Psychology I

Minimum of 3 credit hours from Entry Category B (Natural Sciences), to be selected from:

PSYC-2600(3) An Introduction to Cognitive Psychology

PSYC-2610(3) Perception I

PSYC-2800(3) Fundamentals of Animal Learning

PSYC-2900(3) Physiological Psychology I

Advisory:

Students with a 3.0 GPA (B) in Psychology courses are eligible to take 4000-level courses, but must receive permission from the Psychology Department's Honours Committee before registering for 4000-level courses.

Note that a 3-Year BA is not normally sufficient for admission to graduate studies. Students normally enrol in PSYC-2101(3) and PSYC-2102(3) in their 2nd year.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Prerequisites: PSYC-1000(6) Introductory Psychology or a 3 credit introductory course transferred from another university as PSYC-1000(3) is required for registration in all other Psychology courses. A grade of C or better in PSYC-1000 Introductory Psychology, or a 3 credit introductory course transferred from another university as PSYC-1000(3), and a minimum 2.0 overall GPA (C) is required for acceptance to the Major program.

REQUIREMENTS FOR A 4- YEAR BA IN PSYCHOLOGY

The 4-Year B.A. degree in Psychology meets the needs of students interested in psychology-related careers who require a deeper examination of psychology than provided by the 3-Year degree program, but do not require an Honours degree in psychology. Students may plan to enter careers with an applied orientation directly after graduation (e.g., human services, community settings, law enforcement, health, business), or to apply for professional programs that require a 4-Year degree, but not the more academic stream represented by the Honours degree. The program provides an opportunity for students to explore how their developing knowledge about psychological science can be applied in one or more fields of application.

ADMISSION REQUIREMENT

Students are advised but not required to consult with a member of the Department in planning their course of study.
Entry into program after completing a minimum of 30 credit hours.

GRADUATION REQUIREMENT

Minimum 120 credit hours

|---------|---|
| Degree: | Minimum 60 credit hours |
| Major: | Minimum 30 credit hours, including minimum 9 credit hours at upper level (3000/4000). |

|-------------------------------|--|
| Humanities: | 12 credit hours in Humanities |
| Science: | 6 credit hours in Science |
| Writing: | Minimum 3 credit hours of Academic Writing. |
| Indigenous: | 3 credit hours in designated Indigenous requirement courses |
| Maximum Introductory Courses: | Students may use a maximum of 42 credit hours at the 1000 level. Of these, a maximum of 6 credit hours may be below the 1000 level. As a result, students must take a minimum of 78 credit hours at the 2000-level or above in order to not exceed the maximum number of introductory courses. |
| Distribution: | Minimum three (3) credit hours from each of five (5) different subjects. |

|---------------|---|
| Single Major: | Minimum 48 credit hours / Maximum 66 credit hours Minimum of 18 credit hours at the 3000-level or above in Psychology. |
| Double Major: | Minimum 48 credit hours in each Major subject as specified by the department/program. |

Minimum of 12 credit hours at the 3000-level or above in Psychology. For the requirements of the other 4-Year Major subject, consult the department involved.

Combined Major: Minimum 60 credit hours from two different majors with not less than 24 credit hours from each major subject.
Minimum of 12 credit hours at the 3000-level or above in Psychology.

Required Courses (Required courses are the same for the Single, Double, and Combined Major):

PSYC-1000(6) Introductory Psychology, or a 3 credit introductory course transferred from another university as PSYC-1000(3) minimum 2.0 GPA (C)

PSYC-2101(3) Introduction to Data Analysis or STAT-1302 or STAT-2001

PSYC-2102(3) Introduction to Research Methods

Minimum of 6 credit hours from Entry Category A (Social Sciences), to be selected from:

PSYC-2200(3) Developmental Psychology I: Fundamentals

PSYC-2300(3) Personality Psychology

PSYC-2400(3) Social Psychology I

Minimum of 6 credit hours from Entry Category B (Natural Sciences), to be selected from:

PSYC-2600(3) An Introduction to Cognitive Psychology

PSYC-2610(3) Perception I

PSYC-2800(3) Fundamentals of Animal Learning

PSYC-2900(3) Physiological Psychology I

Advisory:

Students with a 3.0 GPA (B) in Psychology courses are eligible to take 4000-level courses, but must receive permission from the Psychology Department's Honours Committee before registering for 4000-level courses.

Note that a 3-Year or 4-Year BA is not normally sufficient for admission to graduate studies. Students normally enrol in PSYC-2101(3) and PSYC-2102(3) in their 2nd year.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Prerequisites: PSYC-1000(6) Introductory Psychology or a 3 credit introductory course transferred from another university as PSYC-1000(3) is required for registration in all other Psychology courses. A grade of C or better in PSYC-1000 Introductory Psychology, or a 3 credit introductory course transferred from another university as PSYC-1000(3), and a minimum 2.0 overall GPA (C) is required for acceptance to the Major program.

REQUIREMENTS FOR AN HONOURS BA IN PSYCHOLOGY

The Honours program gives interested students an opportunity to engage more fully with the subject matter of Psychology and to prepare for graduate study in Psychology, for advanced study in related fields, or for employment in occupations that require a more intensive understanding of psychology and its research methods. Honours courses generally have smaller enrolments and give more emphasis to research than do general courses. Honours students must consult with an Honours Psychology advisor prior to each registration period.

ADMISSION REQUIREMENT

Entry into the program after completing a minimum of 30 credit hours. Departmental Honours advising instructions may be found at:

<https://www.uwinnipeg.ca/psychology/advising/honours-advising.html>

Entry, continuing and graduation minimum GPA is 3.0 (B) in Honours Subject courses and 2.5 (C+) in Non-Honours Subject courses.

The minimum 3.0 GPA (B) will be based on all attempts (including course repeats and failures) in Honours Subject courses.

The minimum 2.5 GPA (C+) in all Non-Honours Subject courses will be calculated as for the general degree (i.e., Fs are not included, and in the case of repeated courses, only the highest grade will be used).

GRADUATION REQUIREMENT

Minimum 120 credit hours

RESIDENCE REQUIREMENT

Degree:

Minimum 60 credit hours

Honours:

Minimum 30 credit hours, including minimum 18 credit hours at upper level (3000/4000) of which a minimum of 9 credit hours must be at the 4000-level.

REQUIREMENTS FOR THE CERTIFICATE IN APPLIED PSYCHOLOGY

The Certificate in Applied Psychology acknowledges a course concentration and demonstrated interest in the application of research in psychology. It consists of required and elective course offerings from the Department of Psychology, including completion of the course PSYC-3790 with documented evidence of 90 hours of volunteer placement activities from a community, government, or private organization. The placement provides opportunities for the application of psychological principles (research on behalf of the organization or client mentoring in a supervised setting). The list of eligible organizations will be provided prior to registration in PSYC-3790(3). Founding organizational partners are New Directions and the Community Hub Information and Research Partnerships (CHIRP). Read more about CiAP at this link: <https://www.uwinnipeg.ca/psychology/certificate-in-applied-psychology.html>

Students applying for further study in clinical and counseling psychology, social work, medicine, occupational therapy, speech pathology, among other programs, may find this certificate valuable in documenting volunteer activities in organizations that apply principles of psychology (e.g., social service agencies, educational institutions). Students completing any degree program are eligible to complete the Certificate. Moreover, a student may take PSYC-3790 without completing the practicum component. This is not a stand-alone Certificate: it must be completed in tandem with a degree.

Admission Requirement: Interested students should contact the Department of Psychology in the spring prior to enrolment in the fall course, PSYC-3790(3).

Graduation Requirement: Students request the certificate once all the requirements have been met by completing a form available at the Department of Psychology. A minimum 3.00 in PSYC courses is required at the time of application for the certificate.

Required Courses:

PSYC-1000(6) Introductory Psychology or a 3 credit introductory course transferred from another university PSYC-1000(3)

PSYC-2101(3) Introduction to Data Analysis or STAT-1302 or STAT-2001

PSYC-2102(3) Introduction to Research Methods

PSYC-3790(3) Applied Psychology

Elective Courses:

Any four of the following courses with a minimum of three at the 3000 or 4000 level

PSYC-2210(3) Introduction to Educational Psychology

PSYC-2420(3) The Psychology of Sex and Gender

PSYC-2620(3) Psycholinguistics

PSYC-2700(3) Introduction to Clinical Psychology

RADIATION THERAPY (RT)

Updated April 24, 2024

Chair of Physics: B. Jamieson

School of Radiation Therapy & Education Coordinator, Radiation Oncology Program CancerCare Manitoba: C. Penner

DEGREES/PROGRAMS OFFERED

4-Year BSc

INTRODUCTION

Radiation Therapists are Medical Radiation Technologists (MRTs) who specialize in the planning, simulation and delivery of radiation treatments to patients who have diseases such as cancer. Therapists also perform patient assessments and provide education and emotional support to patients throughout the course of their treatment. The Radiation Therapy program is a Joint Diploma/Degree program between The University of Winnipeg and CancerCare Manitoba (CCMB). The Department of Physics is the administrative link from the University to the School of Radiation Therapy (RT) at CCMB. Similar in nature to the Education program; the study of RT at The University of Winnipeg blends theoretical knowledge with clinical practice in order to prepare students for a professional career in health care. Students in the RT program take courses from a variety of disciplines such as history, philosophy, biology, sociology and psychology alongside courses that focus on radiation science and patient care.

Radiation Therapy is a limited enrolment program. Students must first complete a qualifying year of studies and then apply specifically for the program; eight or fewer students are accepted each year into Year 2. Early in the program students are provided with the opportunity of working with radiation therapists and patients in the clinical setting. This enables students to begin the transition from university student to professionals early in their university career. Upon completion of the Diploma level, students are eligible to write the national certification examination administered by the Canadian Association of Medical Radiation Technologists (CAMRT). The degree level of education in conjunction with the University provides a more competitive advantage in the job market for graduates in Canada and internationally. The program also provides opportunities for interested students to participate in clinical research.

- Space in the Radiation Therapy Program is limited to a maximum of eight and not all eligible applicants may be admitted.
- This program is for Canadian citizens or permanent residents, with admission preference for those living in Manitoba. International students currently enrolled at The University of Winnipeg and meeting eligibility requirements are also eligible to apply.
- Students who have completed the specified 24 credit hours of pre-requisites may apply for admission to the Radiation Therapy 4-yr BSc with advanced standing.
- Successful applicants will need to submit and be cleared on a formal Criminal Record Search Certificate including a Vulnerable Sector Screening, and submit proof of current certification in Standard First Aid and Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation (CPR) with Automated External Defibrillator (AED) Level C.

Adult Criminal Records and Child Abuse Registry Checks

The following policy applies to all applicants to the School of Radiation Therapy (RT) at CCMB.

1. CCMB requires that all applicants must submit and be cleared on a formal Criminal Record Search Certificate (For Vulnerable Sector Search), and submit and be cleared on a formal Child Abuse Registry Check before admission can be finalized.
 - a) The fee for each of these documents is the responsibility of the applicant.
 - b) It can take up to 6 weeks to obtain the Criminal Record Search Certificate (For Vulnerable Sector Search) and Child Abuse Registry Check. Students are encouraged to apply for these documents at the earliest possible date after notification of initial acceptance into the program.
 - c) The Criminal Record Search Certificate (For Vulnerable Sector Search) and Child Abuse Registry Check must be dated within the last 3 months to be valid.
 - d) Originals of the Criminal Record Search Certificate (For Vulnerable Sector Search) and Child Abuse Registry Check must be presented to the School of RT Office.
 - e) An exact duplicate will be taken and stamped by a School representative. Originals will then be returned to the student. Students will receive a receipt acknowledging that the original documents have been seen and copied by a School of RT representative.
 - e) The Criminal Record Search Certificate (For Vulnerable Sector Search) and Child Abuse Registry Check will be kept strictly confidential and held separate from the student's main university file.
2. In the process of getting a Criminal Record Search Certificate, some applicants may be informed that they require a Fingerprint Search. The School of RT Office must be notified of this immediately. A fingerprint search can take a few months and the applicant must get special authorization from CCMB to remain in the program while the Fingerprint Search is conducted.
3. Applicants will automatically have their acceptance withdrawn and be removed from all courses if:
 - a) they fail to submit a Criminal Record Search Certificate and/or Child Abuse Registry Check by the designated deadlines.
 - b) they require a fingerprint search and have not informed the School of RT Office of this by August 30.
 - c) they appear on the Child Abuse Registry.
4. The existence of a criminal record will not automatically exclude applicants, but, applicants to and graduates of the Bachelor of Radiation Therapy program who have adult criminal convictions which indicate they may pose a threat to the safety and well-being of children are advised that they may not be eligible for employment in Manitoba or other Canadian jurisdictions.

- a) Applicants who have a criminal record may be asked to present an official fingerprint search/disposition prior to admission to the program.
 - b) Decisions with regard to criminal records will be made by the School of Radiation Therapy in consultation with CCMB Human Resources Department and legal counsel.
 - c) Applicants will be informed of CCMB's decision in writing. Applicants who are not admitted will have their Offer of Acceptance withdrawn and be removed from all courses.
5. Applicants are not required to disclose records under The Youth Criminal Justice Act. However, if the School of RT becomes aware of a youth record which raises questions relating to the safety and well-being of children and others under CCMB care, this may be considered relevant for admission, continued enrollment, and/or certification purposes.
 6. Once admitted, the Criminal Record Search and Child Abuse Registry Check are valid for the duration of study in the School of Radiation Therapy as long as there is no change in status.
 - a) Students are obligated to report a change in the status of their criminal record and/or Child Abuse Registry standing to the School of R T.
 - b) Students who appear on the Child Abuse Registry will be immediately withdrawn from the School of RT and any ongoing CCMB courses.
 - c) Students reporting a change in the status of their criminal record will have their case evaluated by the School of Radiation Therapy in consultation with CCMB Human Resources Department and legal counsel. They will be informed of CCMB's decision in writing. Students who are not allowed to continue in the School of RT will be immediately withdrawn from the School and any ongoing CCMB courses.
 - d) The School of RT has the right to remove a student from clinical while their case is being reviewed.
 - e) Failure to disclose a criminal record or listing on the Child Abuse Registry will result in immediate expulsion from the School of RT.
 7. The School of RT cannot be held responsible for future changes in legislation which may affect eligibility for professional certification.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Course Selection, Advising and Registration Information - Years 2-4

- RT students are advised through the School of RT Academic Advisor, assigned by the University.
- Newly admitted students must attend an orientation prior to registering. Orientation is routinely held the last two weeks of August. Dates of orientation will be provided in the registration materials students receive upon acceptance into the program.
- Registration materials for returning students can be found on-line beginning in mid-June. Specific materials necessary to registration are contained in these kits.
- Returning students are to participate in "yearly advising" which takes place in March at the School of RT.
- Returning students will be assigned an appointment time to register during Tier 2 and it is expected that students will register during this time for those courses that are not mandated by the program. If a student does not register at their appointed time, the School of RT will not guarantee entry into courses that have filled and the student may require additional time in order to complete all degree requirements.
- In some years certain combinations of CCMB and UW courses may not be available. In cases like this, students may be advised to register for some Year 4 courses in Year 3 and Year 3 courses in Year 4.
- Certain requirements must be completed in certain years. The School of RT reserves the right to remove a student from a course if the student does not require the course for their program that particular year in order to accommodate a student who must have the course to graduate
- The School of RT reserves the right to move students from one section of a course to another section of the same course in order to balance sections and ensure that all students requiring the course are accommodated.
- The program reserves the right to change a required course to another course which meets the same requirement if necessary to ensure that all students are able to register for the courses that they need in order to graduate.

Withdrawal or Removal from the School of RT

- BSc-RT students who are placed on academic probation, suspension or not allowed to continue status will be removed from the School of RT and withdrawn from any on-going CCMB courses.
 - Acceptance into the School of RT is for that academic year only. Admission cannot be deferred. Students declining an offer of admission must reapply if they wish to seek entry at a later date. As admission is dependent on the qualifications of the pool of applicants each year, subsequent admission cannot be guaranteed.
 - Students who are admitted to the program but who do not register within the specified time will have their acceptance withdrawn and must reapply.
 - Students who register and subsequently withdraw from required CCMB courses will be removed from the program unless they have received permission from The School of Radiation Therapy to withdraw.
 - The BSc-RT degree cannot be granted without completion of a minimum of a 120 credit hour undergraduate degree; however, students can claim a general BSc without completing the BSc-RT portion should they wish to withdraw from the program.
- With the exception of the courses listed below, all CCMB courses may be used as credit towards an Arts, Kinesiology or Science degree:

CCMB-2904(3) Clinical Education I

CCMB-3914(6) Clinical Education II

CCMB-3924(6) Clinical Education III

CCMB-3934(6) Clinical Education IV

CCMB-3944(6) Advanced Clinical Education V

- Students should also consult item XI for additional information on Removal from the School of RT.

Part-time Attendance

In Years 2-4 of the program, students are required to spend time in the clinical environment in both Winnipeg and Brandon to attain clinical competency. Students must be able to make arrangements to complete all elements of the program. These years of the program must be taken on a full-time basis. Students who complete the diploma portion of the program can continue taking the degree requirements on a part-time basis.

Challenge for Credit in the School of RT

The School of RT has a residency requirement which includes all CCMB didactic courses as well as clinical practice, therefore, students can only challenge for credit courses from other Canadian accredited radiation therapy programs.

Students wishing to seek credit for The University of Winnipeg courses are referred to The University of Winnipeg's academic regulations Section 6. Recognition of Prior Learning.

REQUIREMENTS FOR THE 4 YEAR BSc (RADIATION THERAPY)

GRADE POINT REQUIREMENTS

- Students must obtain a minimum 2.5 GPA (C+) on the 24 credit hours in the Qualifying Year courses to be considered for admittance to the diploma portion of the degree.
- Students must obtain a minimum 2.0 GPA (C) in the courses utilized toward the degree major.
 - Students must obtain a 2.0 GPA (C) on 102 credit hours and meet all Radiation Therapy requirements to qualify for the diploma.
- A student whose GPA falls below the minimum performance level and/or is on probation will be withdrawn from the program. For the "Minimum Grade Points Required to Continue" see The University of Winnipeg's academic regulations Section VII Academic Standing and Status Evaluation, 7 c.

NOTE: Also see SCHOOL OF RT RULES AND REGULATIONS section for more information.

SCHOOL OF RT RULES AND REGULATIONS

I. Rules and Regulations Governing RT Didactic Courses

a) Students who receive a grade less than "C" in courses, CCMB-2520(3) Physics of Radiation Therapy, CCMB-2540(3) Radiation Protection. Health Physics and Quality, CCMB-2550(3) Technology and Biology in Radiation Therapy CCMB-2901(3) Professional Practice and Patient Care in RT I, CCMB-2902(3) Clinical Radiation Oncology I, CCMB-2903(3) Treatment Planning & Dosimetry I, CCMB-2911(3) Professional Practice and Patient Care in RT II, CCMB-2912(3) Clinical Radiation Oncology II, CCMB-2913(3) Treatment Planning & Dosimetry II, CCMB-3901(3) Directed Studies I, CCMB-3903(3) Directed Studies II, CCMB-2560(3) Advances in Radiation Therapy and CCMB-4902(3) Independent Studies, will, have their status in the program reviewed by the Department Review Committee.

As a result of this review the Committee will recommend to the Dean of Science one of the following. That the student:

1. be required to successfully complete the course through a supplementary remediation process before being allowed to continue in the School of RT; or
 2. in the case of a year 3 or 4 course they may be required to repeat the course; and may also be required to repeat the concurrent Clinical Education course. When required to repeat a course the student will be expected to achieve a minimum grade of "C" in order to be allowed to continue in the School of RT. Only one repeat of a course will be allowed, or
 3. be withdrawn from the School of RT if the cumulative GPA for the term is less than 2.5.
- b) Students may not be allowed to register for the next compulsory RT didactic or clinical course until they have successfully completed the previous compulsory RT didactic and clinical courses.
- c) If a student is placed on academic probation, suspension or not allowed to continue status at the end of the Fall Term, they will be immediately withdrawn from any ongoing or Winter Term education or clinical courses.
- d) If a student is placed on academic probation, suspension or not allowed to continue status at the end of the Winter Term, they will be immediately withdrawn from any ongoing Spring or Summer education or clinical courses.
- e) If, during a repeat attempt, the student withdraws from the didactic and/or concurrent clinical course, this is considered an unsuccessful attempt and the student will be withdrawn from the program.
- f) Students are required to attend a yearly orientation period which takes place in late August before lectures begin and is an integral part of the clinical education component of the program. Students who do not attend the orientation as scheduled will be asked to withdraw from the program.
- g) Sessions to support clinical skills development will be routinely scheduled on Saturdays and evenings. Students will be provided with these dates in advance and will be expected to be available for all the components.

II. Rules and Regulations Governing RT Clinical Courses/Placements

a) Students who are in danger of failing or who have failed courses CCMB-2904(3) Clinical Education I, CCMB-3914(6) Clinical Education II, CCMB-3924(6) Clinical Education III, CCMB-3934(6) Clinical Education IV, CCMB-3944(6) Advanced Clinical Education V will have their status in the program reviewed by the Department Review Committee.

As a result of this review the Committee will recommend to the Dean of Science one of the following. That the student:

1. be required to successfully complete the course through a supplementary remediation process before being allowed to continue in the School of RT; or
 2. be placed on clinical probation effective for the next Clinical Education Course; or
 3. in the case of a year 3 or 4 course they may be required to repeat the course; and may also be required to repeat the concurrent didactic course. When required to repeat the course the student will be expected to achieve standing in order to be allowed to continue in the School of RT. Only one repeat of the course will be allowed, or be withdrawn from the School of RT.
- b) Students may not be allowed to register for the next compulsory RT didactic or clinical course until they have successfully completed the previous compulsory RT courses listed in section I Rules and Regulations Governing RT Didactic Courses.
- c) If a student is placed on clinical probation, their performance level is re-evaluated at the end of the next Term; the student will not be allowed to continue in the RT program unless they have regained regular status by meeting the performance level of the subsequent Clinical Education course and other courses attempted.
- d) If a student is placed on academic probation, suspension or not allowed to continue status at the end of the Fall Term, they will be immediately withdrawn from any ongoing or Winter Term education or clinical courses.
- e) If a student is placed on academic probation, suspension or not allowed to continue status at the end of the Winter Term, they will be immediately withdrawn from any ongoing Spring or Summer education or clinical courses.
- f) If, during a repeat attempt, the student withdraws from the course and/or clinical, this is considered an unsuccessful attempt, and the student will be withdrawn from the program.

g) All placements will be arranged by the School of RT Office. Students are not allowed to arrange their own placement. All student placements will be guided by the following:

- 1) students will experience a variety of clinical areas within CCMB McCharles Unit in Winnipeg and the Western Manitoba Cancer Centre (WMCC) in Brandon; it is the student's responsibility to attend as scheduled.
- 2) students will have at least one placement at the Western Manitoba Cancer Centre (WMCC) in Brandon. These will be full-time basis and may range between 2-4 weeks in length.

h) Adjustments to the clinical dates or to the prescribed-RT format of the clinical will not be considered. Clinical education must be completed in the manner it is scheduled (e.g. five days per week, fifteen-week blocks) and during the dates that are provided.

i) Students are expected to be available for clinical education on a full-time basis Monday- Friday from 6:00 a.m. - 6:00 p.m. All other activities or commitments must be worked around the assigned timetable.

j) Clinical education blocks may take place outside of the regularly scheduled university year. Students will be provided with these dates in advance and will be expected to be available for all the components.

k) Sessions to support clinical skills development and testing of clinical skills will be routinely scheduled on Saturdays and evenings. Students will be provided with these dates in advance and will be expected to be available for all the components.

III. English Proficiency

Students who, after admission, show an inadequate command of spoken or written English which interferes with their ability to communicate effectively in clinical areas will have to complete a proficiency test conducted by a University of Winnipeg designate. Students may be required to take further courses to improve their English which may result in withdrawal from the School of RT. Continuation in the RT Program will be contingent upon approval from the Language Assessment Evaluators and the School of Radiation Therapy & Education Coordinator.

IV. Withdrawing from CCMB Courses

1. Students wishing to withdraw from any CCMB course must notify the School of RT Office as this may result in removal from the program.

2. In cases where it is possible, the School of RT Office will recommend an extension to programming rather than a withdrawal, but only under the following circumstances: e.g. There is a documented medical reason or other documented extenuating circumstances (e.g. parental leave, death in the family). Extensions may not be possible if clinical placements cannot be secured.

3. Students should note that CCMB courses may only be repeated once.

4. Students who are repeating clinical as a ruling of the Department Review Committee and who withdraw from the clinical will be considered to have made an unsuccessful attempt and the student will be withdrawn from the School of RT.

V. Performance Contracts

In some cases, students may be required to sign a Performance Contract in order to remain in the School of RT.

a) Failure to sign the contract will result in removal from the School of RT.

b) Failure to comply with the conditions of the contract can result in removal from the School of RT.

VI. Appeals and the School of RT

a) Deferred Exams, Incomplete Term Work, and Grade Appeals

1. The School of RT will follow the University academic regulations and policies. Students are directed to Section VII Regulations and Policies, 9. Senate Appeals for information on these appeals and deadlines.

-If School of RT procedures do not permit resolution, the student must appeal to the BSc-RT Department Review Committee (DRC)

b) BSc-RT Department Review Committee (DRC).

1. The School of RT Department Review Committee deals with the following items:

- Students who receive grades below C in CCMB didactic courses or fail CCMB Clinical courses.
- Students who do not complete the requirements of the diploma portion of the program within the allotted time.
- Readmissions to the program in relation to currency requirements.
- Students who are removed from their Clinical placement at the request of the host site (CancerCare Manitoba McCharles Unit or Western Manitoba Cancer Centre).
- Students for whom a placement cannot be secured due to the conditions of a Performance Contract.
- Any other issues that may arise related to the performance of students in the program.

2. The DRC typically meets in January and June of each year.

3. Students will be notified in writing of the decision of the DRC.

4. Students may meet with the Dean of Science for explanation or clarification of the DRC decision.

5. Students wishing to appeal the DRC decision beyond the Education Program should direct an appeal to the Radiation Therapy Appeals Committee.

6. There are two grounds for appealing the decision of the DRC:

- The student has reason to believe that all pertinent information was not available when the case was considered by the DRC.
- The student has reason to believe and can demonstrate that the DRC did not give the appeal a fair hearing.

7. Students have 15 working days from the date of the written decision of the DRC to submit an appeal to the Radiation Therapy Appeals Committee.

VII. Currency Requirement

Students who withdraw from the program and seek readmission at a later date are advised that CCMB courses completed prior to readmission will be reviewed for currency. Students may be required to repeat some or all of these courses.

VIII. Standards of Professional Conduct for RT Students

1. The University of Winnipeg and the School of RT at CCMB are committed to maintaining its students' freedom of thought, belief, opinion and expression. As a professional program we are committed to assisting students in becoming professionals. The School of RT has the responsibility of fostering the academic freedom of students within the context of the CCMB Mission, Vision and Values and Code of Ethics and also has the responsibility of fostering the academic freedom of students with respect for the needs of the learner. The Canadian Association of Medical Radiation Technologists (CAMRT) Code of Ethics and Professional Conduct and the Competency Profile- Radiation Therapy describe professional characteristics and behaviours students are expected to develop and demonstrate during clinical and didactic course work. Students who do not demonstrate these professional standards may be referred to the School of RT Department Review Committee.

- a) In keeping with the Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms the student will respect the dignity and rights of all persons.
- b) The student acts in a responsible manner which includes being punctual, dependable and trustworthy in class and during clinical education placements.
- c) The student maintains positive interpersonal relationships with peers, faculty, CCMB personnel and patients by contributing, cooperating, participating and working with others in a professional manner.
- d) The student demonstrates a commitment to their chosen profession by taking initiative, showing enthusiasm, and showing an interest in learning about radiation therapy practices.
- e) The student directs any criticism of the professional activity of others to that person and only then, after informing those of the intent to do so may direct in confidence the criticism to appropriate officials. It shall not be considered a breach of this clause to report reasonable grounds for suspecting child abuse to proper authorities according to legal requirements.
- f) The student respects the confidentiality of information about patients, peers, School of RT and CCMB personnel, or The UW faculty received in confidence or in the course of professional duties.

2. Professional Misconduct

As future health care providers, RT students are expected to model and encourage appropriate learning behaviours in themselves and their peers. Recognizing that they are part of a health care team and that their behaviour and attitude has an impact on the team and the care they provide, the goal of all our students should be to create a positive learning environment where they learn from the instructors, patients and each other. RT students are expected to recognize the important and crucial role of the instructors, patients and their families in the learning process and to award them the respect and authority which is inherent in the role.

Professional Misconduct can include, but is not restricted to, the following:

- a) Persistent failure to attend class or clinical education placements
- b) Persistent disruptive behaviours such as:
 - talking in class during lectures or presentations, inappropriate social conversation in clinical settings
 - arriving late and/or leaving early for classes or clinical as scheduled
 - use of cell phone or other social media in class or clinical areas
- c) Persistent lack of participation in class or clinical activities
- d) Persistent inability to function in a group setting
 - non-contribution to group activities
 - behaviour causing negative impact on group
- e) Persistent negative or disrespectful attitude
- f) Persistent disregard for the role and authority of the didactic or clinical instructors

Gross misconduct is defined as, but not limited to, intoxication (whether from alcohol or drugs), fighting or other physical abuse, indecent behaviour, theft, serious breaches of health and safety rules, uttering threats, offensive behaviour (such as discrimination, harassment, bullying, abuse and violence) and gross insubordination and may result in immediate dismissal from the program.

Those who observe student misconduct should be referred to the Chair of Physics at The University of Winnipeg or the Education Coordinator, at the CancerCare Manitoba School of Radiation Therapy.

IX. Attendance Policy

The Bachelor of Science-Radiation Therapy Program leads to a professional degree. Accordingly, students are expected to attend, be punctual and participate in all classes and clinical education. These expectations acknowledge their importance for the teaching and learning process, the development of clinical competency and the professional responsibilities of radiation therapists. These expectations are implicit in CCMB didactic and clinical courses, but may be emphasized explicitly in addition to The University of Winnipeg's academic regulations concerning attendance (see section VII Regulations & Policies, 3a Attendance).

Students are encouraged to volunteer and participate in extra-curricular activities at the School of RT and at CCMB. However, students must ensure that no conflict occurs between the additional activities and their coursework. Students are not to be absent from CCMB or UW classes for extra-curricular activities or request changes in clinical schedules to accommodate such activities.

X. Professional Development

The School of RT prides itself on preparing well-rounded professional radiation therapists who are committed to life-long learning and professional development. In keeping with this goal CCMB offers professional development opportunities for all staff and students designed to supplement their regular work. This non-credit programming is voluntary, but students are strongly encouraged to participate in order to enhance their understanding of the clinical context and to develop additional skills beyond those acquired through academic and clinical courses. Participation in this programming is considered a professional responsibility and in keeping with the expectations that will be held for them in their role as radiation therapists.

Professional Development Programming includes a series of Radiation Oncology Rounds offered throughout the fall and winter terms. They are typically offered no more than once a week for an hour during the free slot (lunch) and the topics are posted in advance. The series concludes each term well before the start of the exam period. Many students maintain a record in their portfolio as an indication of their commitment to professional development and the practice of life-long learning.

The topics covered in the professional development sessions are varied. They are designed to provide information and ideas that are supplementary to students' coursework but which relate to the role of the radiation oncology program in providing health care. Many of the sessions are delivered by representatives of organizations whose activities are related to and supportive of the clinical processes at CCMB.

XI. Removal from the School of RT

- a) Students may be removed from The University of Winnipeg, School of RT programs for one or more of the following reasons:

1. Failure to meet or maintain academic grade-point requirements as established by The University of Winnipeg and the School of Radiation Therapy. In the case of Academic Probation or Not Allowed to Continue Status, withdrawal is automatic and will take place without a review or further procedure.
 2. As a result of a ruling by the Department Review Committee (see School of RT Program Rules and Regulations in the General Calendar for more information).
 3. As a result of behaviour judged to be in violation of the Standards of Professional Conduct for RT Students (see Section VIII of Radiation Therapy Rules and Regulations for more information).
 4. Failure to sign a Performance Contract.
 5. Non-compliance with the conditions of a Performance Contract.
 6. Ineligibility for a clinical placement.
 7. As the result of a change in the status of a Criminal Record or Child Abuse Registry entry.
 - Students who appear on the Child Abuse Registry will be immediately withdrawn from the School of Radiation Therapy and any ongoing CCMB courses.
 - Students reporting a change in the status of their criminal record will have their case evaluated by the the School of Radiation Therapy in consultation with CCMB Human Resources Department and legal counsel. They will be informed of CCMB's decision in writing. Students who are not allowed to continue in the School of RT will be immediately withdrawn from the program and any ongoing CCMB courses.
 8. As a result of academic or non-academic misconduct.
- b) In the case of gross/professional misconduct, students will be removed from clinical and immediately suspended from their courses in Radiation Therapy until the case is reviewed by the Dean of Science and a final decision is made.
- c) Removal from the School of RT means the student will be withdrawn from all CCMB courses, removed from clinical, and removed from any School of RT sponsored or affiliated activities.

INTRODUCTION

The study of religion aims to understand religious thought and practices as aspects of the culture and society that produced them. It offers an opportunity to explore beliefs and ideas, philosophies and mythologies, rituals and symbols, etc., that shape the cultures and civilizations of the world both in historical perspective and as contemporary phenomena. In the process of this exploration, the Religion & Culture program sensitizes students to the variety of traditions, commitments, and cultures which exist in our world, both globally and locally. It also provides an environment for students to thoughtfully reflect upon their own religious traditions and experiences as well as to think about issues and problems of modern life from a variety of perspectives.

The introductory courses are open to all students. They provide an opportunity to survey the diversity of religion in either the contemporary Canadian or the global context, or to explore the biblical roots of Judeo-Christian tradition. General interest courses are also offered at the 2000 level, and are open to all students without prerequisite. These courses do not presuppose previous knowledge or background and enable students to focus either on particular religious traditions (Indigenous, Buddhist, Biblical, etc.) or on contemporary issues in religion (sexuality, technology, new religions, popular culture, etc.). Departmental faculty members have particular interests and strengths in the areas of religion and modern culture, mythology, Chinese and Japanese religions, Buddhist traditions, Indigenous traditions, Hebrew Bible/Old Testament, Islam and the Qur'an, and gender studies. The Major program, leading to either a 3-Year BA, 4-Year BA, or a BA Honours degree, is designed to provide an opportunity to explore a variety of religious traditions and topics as well as to concentrate on areas of particular interest. The Department also participates in a Joint Masters Program in Religion with the University of Manitoba.

Graduates who are interested in fields where human interaction and/or multiculturalism are significant factors, such as education, mediation services, social work, international business and international development, employee relations, immigration services and certain areas of law and the justice system, benefit greatly from courses in Religion & Culture.

REQUIREMENTS FOR A 3-YEAR BA IN RELIGION & CULTURE

ADMISSION REQUIREMENT

Students are advised to consult with the faculty advisor in planning their curriculum at the beginning of each registration session.

GRADUATION REQUIREMENT

90 credit hours

RESIDENCE REQUIREMENT

Degree: Minimum 30 credit hours
Major: Minimum 18 credit hours

GENERAL DEGREE REQUIREMENT

Humanities: 12 credit hours in Humanities
Science: 6 credit hours in Science
Writing: Minimum 3 credit hours of Academic Writing, to be completed in the first year.
Indigenous: 3 credit hours in designated Indigenous requirement courses.
Maximum Introductory Courses: Students may use a maximum of 42 credit hours at the 1000 level. Of these, a maximum of 6 credit hours may be below the 1000 level. As a result, students must take a minimum of 48 credit hours at the 2000-level or above in order to not exceed the maximum number of introductory courses.

Distribution: Minimum three (3) credit hours from each of five (5) different subjects.

MAJOR REQUIREMENT

Single Major: Minimum 30 credit hours/Maximum 48 credit hours.
Double Major: 30 credit hours in Religion & Culture and specified number of credit hours in the other department/program.
Distribution: Minimum of 3 credit hours at the 2000 level in each of three (3) of the four (4) Areas of Study: "Historical Judaism, Christianity, and Islam", "Religion and Modern Western Culture", "Asian Religions and Culture", and "Indigenous Religious Traditions".

Required courses:
One of

REL-1002(3) Exploring Religion: the World's Religions

REL-1003(6) Exploring Religion: the Bible

Note: REL-1005(3) and REL-1006(3) at Canadian Mennonite University do not fulfil this requirement.

Maximum of 12 credit hours at the 1000-level.
Minimum 9 credit hours at the 3000 level in Religion & Culture.

Combined Major: Minimum 48 credit hours from 2 different majors with no fewer than 18 credit hours from each major subject.

Prescribed courses:
One of

REL-1002(3) Exploring Religion: the World's Religions

HONOURS BA in RHETORIC AND COMMUNICATIONS

MINOR

CERTIFICATE IN WRITING

JOINT COMMUNICATIONS DEGREE/DIPLOMA (UW/RRC)

INTRODUCTION

The Department of Rhetoric, Writing, and Communications teaches both practical communicative skills and critical thinking about communicative texts and contexts. To prepare first-year students for success in university, our introductory courses provide instruction in academic writing. (Please see Course Listings for information about how these courses are numbered and organized in order to represent the disciplinary conventions associated with different fields of learning). To prepare more advanced students for careers in communications and for participatory citizenship, our upper-level courses combine practical instruction in writing and public speaking with attention to the history, theory, and analysis of rhetoric and communication. The Department also houses the Tutoring Centre and Computer Writing Lab, both offering a range of resources for students to develop their writing abilities and prepare assignments.

In addition to writing courses at the introductory level, the Department offers a 3-Year, 4-Year, and Honours BA with a Major in Rhetoric and Communications. This program emphasizes the interpretation, evaluation, production, and precise editing of messages for a range of audiences, media, and purposes. Students in the Major practise writing in a variety of genres and read contemporary non-fiction, analyze visual and verbal arguments, trace the impact of print and electronic media on western culture, and—through the study of theory and close attention to textual practices—examine how ideology is embodied in discourse. Students with a BA in Rhetoric and Communications can enter graduate studies in such fields as Communications, Composition, Media Studies, and Rhetoric. They are also well prepared for public- and private-sector careers that depend on advanced analytical and communicative skills, especially in writing. We also offer a Minor in Rhetoric, Writing, and Communications.

Also available is a 4-Year Degree/Diploma in Communications, offered jointly by The University of Winnipeg and Red River College. The Degree/Diploma balances a well-rounded liberal arts education with applied and workplace training to prepare students for careers in Journalism, Public Relations, Advertising, or Broadcast and Media Production.

The Department offers a Certificate in Writing designed for students who wish to focus on honing their writing knowledge and practices. Since the courses required for the Certificate in Writing are also part of the Rhetoric and Communications degree program, they can be used toward a 3-year, 4-year, or Honours BA, if students choose to continue their studies.

The requirements for each of our programs are described below.

Students interested in our programs should contact the Department (204-258-3865) for basic information. Students are also encouraged to seek advice from faculty members about appropriate courses. A number of courses at the 2000-level or above may be taken for credit toward a Major in English, or counted toward any degree as electives.

REQUIREMENTS FOR A CERTIFICATE IN WRITING

The Certificate in Writing is a 30-credit-hour program that consists of current course offerings in the Department of Rhetoric, Writing, and Communications, and allows students the flexibility to create a program of study that focuses on elements of written communication, primarily in terms of genre, audience, and textual processes. Students must apply to graduate with a Certificate. Application forms are available in the Department office.

Students completing any degree program are eligible to complete the Certificate. All courses in the Certificate program are also part of the Rhetoric and Communications degree program, and they can be used toward a 3-year, 4-year, or Honours BA in Rhetoric and Communications. The Certificate in Writing is available as a stand-alone credential for non-degree seeking students or returning graduates (note that some courses, particularly those electives in English and Theatre and Film, come with prerequisites that do not count toward the Certificate).

Admission Requirement: Students must fill out a Certificate Declaration Form with the Department of Rhetoric, Writing, and Communications, and are encouraged to consult with a member of the Department in planning their course of study.

Graduation Requirement: 30 credit hours

Residence Requirement: 30 credit hours

JOINT COMMUNICATIONS DEGREE/DIPLOMA (UW/RRC Polytech)

The University of Winnipeg offers a combined degree/diploma program in Communications in cooperation with RRC Polytech. Generally, students begin at the University of Winnipeg, completing at least 60 credit hours before proceeding to RRC Polytech, where they take the two-year Creative Communications Program. The final 12 credit hours of University of Winnipeg courses must be taken during these two years at RRC Polytech if the student wishes to graduate within four years; otherwise, these credit hours may be completed before or after attending RRC Polytech. Students are granted block transfer of 48 credit hours for their Creative Communications Diploma and granted a B.A. in Communications once they have received their diploma and completed the prescribed 72 credit hours of study at the University of Winnipeg.

APPLICATION PROCEDURES

Applications to the University of Winnipeg alone do not constitute applications to the Joint Communications Program. Students must apply separately to RRC Polytech for admission to Creative Communications. In their applications to each institution, students must indicate their interest in the Joint Communications Program.

RRC Polytech does not reserve seats for joint degree students. You are advised to apply to the RRC Polytech start date you wish to attend once it is advertised on RRC Polytech's website at www.rrc.ca/cre. Offers of admittance will be made to qualified applicants based on portfolio scores in descending order until all available seats are filled. The annual application intake opens on March 1 and closes the following February. For example, for the Fall 2023 start date applications will be accepted between March 1, 2022 and February 28, 2023. Applicants not offered a seat may reapply for a future intake by submitting a new application, application fee, and portfolio based on the portfolio specifications for that application year.

SUMMARY OF THE RRC POLYTECH CREATIVE COMMUNICATIONS PROGRAM

The Creative Communications Program at RRC Polytech comprises four streams: Public Relations and Communication Management, Advertising and Marketing Communications, Media Production, and Journalism. This program requires two terms each year of full-time coursework and takes two years to complete. The program at RRC Polytech generally accepts no more than 75 applicants per year. Courses in the first year of the Creative Communications Program include introductions to journalism, advertising, public relations, and electronic publishing; broadcast media; current events; style in journalism; and business communication. The second year of the Program provides further experience with broadcast media and requires practicums in public relations, advertising, broadcast production, and journalism.

Note: Students who have already fulfilled first-year requirements and/or who have completed the Creative Communications Diploma from RRC Polytech should contact Dr. Andrew McGillivray, Chair, Department of Rhetoric, Writing, and Communications, at 204-786-9269, for further information about upper-level courses and requirements.

GENERAL INFORMATION

WRITING REQUIREMENT

University of Winnipeg students who are required to take a writing course (see Degree and Major Requirements for all Arts and Science Degree Programs) may enrol in any one of a variety of sections of Academic Writing, which is offered in both 3-credit hour and 6-credit hour versions. Students who believe their ability as writers would benefit from the extended practice offered by the 6-credit hour course are encouraged to register in Academic Writing: Extended. These students may wish to consult with Academic Advisors about their decision.

All EAL students who feel that they would benefit from extra attention paid to language learning should enrol in RHET-1115(3/6) Academic Writing: English as an Additional Language.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

Academic Writing may not be used to meet the Humanities requirement. All upper level courses offered by the Department of Rhetoric, Writing, and Communications (with the exception of RHET-2530(3) Rhetorical Grammar) may be used to meet the Humanities requirement.

Students intending to transfer to the University of Manitoba should know that Academic Writing: Multidisciplinary, Academic Writing: Humanities, and Academic Writing: Links with the Disciplines fulfil the U of M requirement of 3 credit hours of Written English. However, Academic Writing does not fulfil the first-year English requirement for the U of M professional programs in Dentistry or Medicine, nor the Approved Arts Elective for Pharmacy.

COURSE LISTINGS

ACADEMIC WRITING COURSES

The Department of Rhetoric, Writing, and Communications offers multiple sections of its first-year courses in Academic Writing. Each section teaches the essential strategies for university writing and research: the discovery of topics, the arrangement of ideas, the assessment of audience and purpose, and the practice of effective editing. Problems with sentence construction, grammar, and punctuation are addressed as the need arises.

NOTE: Only one 1000-level Academic Writing course may be used as credit toward graduation.

3 credit hour courses:

The options available to students taking the 3 credit hour version of Academic Writing fall into three general categories:

- Sections designed to prepare students for major fields of study (Academic Writing: Humanities, Academic Writing: Social Sciences, Academic Writing: Sciences, or Academic Writing: Business and Administration);
- Sections linked to introductory courses in specific disciplines (Academic Writing: Links with the Disciplines);
- Sections that take a multidisciplinary rather than a discipline-specific perspective (Academic Writing: Multidisciplinary).

Hybrid 3/6 credit hour courses:

RHET-1115(3/6) Academic Writing: English as an Additional Language (EAL) can be offered as a 3-credit hour or 6-credit hour course. Students are advised to consult WebAdvisor to determine which version will be offered in a particular academic year.

6 credit hour courses:

RHET-1110(6) Academic Writing: Extended

The specific content and approach of each section vary according to the interests and expertise of individual instructors and according to students' needs.

Further information about these courses is available in the descriptions below. Students are advised to consult the Department or Academic Advisors for more details about individual sections of Academic Writing.

Note: Information about prerequisites, corequisites, and restrictions for all sections of Academic Writing follows the description of the different options.

Note: For All Sections of Academic Writing

PREREQUISITES: EAL students must comply with the University's English language requirements: English Language Requirements | Future Student | The University of Winnipeg \(uwinnipeg.ca\)

RESTRICTIONS: RHET-1xxx(3) and RHET-1xxx(6) may not be taken by students with standing in the former CAW-1105(3), CAW-1110(6), ENGL-1100(3), ENGL-1101(3), ENGL-1121(3), or ENGL-1122(3). Students with standing in the former ENGL-0100(3) Fundamentals of Rhetoric must register in a 3-credit hour version of Academic Writing in order to satisfy the writing requirement. RHET-1115(3/6) may not be taken by students whose first language is English.

Note: Only one 1000-level Academic Writing course may be used as credit toward graduation.

RHETORIC AND COMMUNICATIONS COURSES

The Department offers the following courses in Rhetoric, Writing, and Communications

SCIENCE with a BUSINESS STREAM

Updated February 12, 2024

Students pursuing a 3-year, 4-year or Honours BSc in any department or program have the opportunity to take a Business Stream – a set of core courses in the Faculty of Business and Economics that will provide them with the skills needed to enter and succeed in industry and business. After completing the requirements of the BSc degree and the set of core courses indicated below, it will be noted on the student's transcript that they have satisfied the requirements of a BSc degree with a Business stream.

Program Advisors: All Chairs, Directors or Coordinators in participating departments/programs can provide advice on the business stream within their major.

DEGREES/PROGRAMS OFFERED

3-year BSc with a Business stream

4-year BSc with a Business stream

Honours BSc with a Business stream

Participating departments/programs: Applied Computer Science, Bioanthropology, Biochemistry, Biology, Chemistry, Environmental Studies and Sciences, Geography, Mathematics, Neuroscience, Physics, and Statistics.

INTRODUCTION

This program will address the growing demand for University graduates in science to have the basic skill sets needed to function in a business environment. Businesses are playing an increasingly prominent role in science and technology in Canada, both in fundamental research and in the commercialization of innovative ideas to the marketplace. Partnerships between industry, academic institutions, and government agencies are thus on the rise. In particular, there is an expanding private sector in the life sciences, which includes everything from pharmaceutical companies making designer drugs to environmental consultants specializing in remediation. Also, science students who expect to proceed to professional school (Medicine, Dentistry, etc.) can benefit from this degree stream since they will generally be involved in running their own small business when they practice their profession.

REQUIREMENTS FOR THE BUSINESS STREAM OF A BSc DEGREE

The program is built upon existing BSc degrees: all of the requirements of the target BSc degree must be satisfied. In addition, the student must complete the following additional 30 credit hours for a BSc degree with a Business stream.

21 credit hours of required courses:

BUS-1201(3) Introduction to Business I

BUS-1202(3) Introduction to Business II

BUS-2002(3) Fundamentals of Financial Accounting

OR

BUS-2010(3) Fundamentals of Financial Management and Administration

BUS-2103(3) Fundamentals of Organizational Behaviour

BUS-2210(3) Fundamentals of Marketing

BUS-2440(3) Fundamentals of Human Resource Management

BUS-2501(3) Fundamentals of Operations Management

Minimum 3 credit hours selected from the following courses:

BUS-3110(3) Ethics in Management

IDS-3101(3) Development Ethics

PHIL-2201(6) Moral Philosophy

PHIL-2233(3) Environmental Ethics

Plus a minimum of 6 credit hours of any additional Business courses (BUS-####) for a total of at least 30 credit hours.

A minimum of 3 credit hours of Business courses (BUS-####) must be at the 3000- and/or 4000-level.

The following electives are strongly recommended:

ACS-1809(3) Website Design and Development

ACS-2814(3) Applications of Database Systems

ENV-3035(3) Law and the Environment

ENV-3606(3)

The Environment and Business

DEGREES/PROGRAMS OFFERED

3-Year BA
4-Year BA
Honours BA
Research Methods Certificate
Minor

INTRODUCTION

Sociology is an examination of the relations between the individual and society. Studying sociology can help you to develop a “sociological imagination” which is a quality of mind that provides us with the ability to understand our own personal experiences as they are shaped by the society in which we live. Sociologists help us to understand how common sense comes to be common sense. In other words, sociology tells us how and why certain ideas are taken for granted and become popular and dominant during different social, economic, and historical time periods. A degree in sociology will provide you with the analytical tools required for engaged citizenship.

Sociology is often referred to as the “queen of the social sciences” because it uses history, anthropology, philosophy, political science, psychology, economics, and statistics to understand social phenomena such as crime, social and economic inequality, student protest, war, totalitarianism, democracies, social stability and upheaval, prejudice and discrimination, immigration and integration, and labour practices and movements.

Undergraduate sociology students learn a variety of rigorous methods used by contemporary sociologists to understand and explain the social world. In part, this involves developing foundational skills in statistical reasoning, qualitative research methods, and sociological theory.

The Sociology Department offers 3-Year BA, 4-Year BA, and Honours degree programs plus a Minor and a Research Methods Certificate. A student whose major lies in a different area may still study Sociology as an elective. Courses in Sociology complement such areas as Political Science, History, Psychology, Education, Criminal Justice, Women's and Gender Studies, and Environmental Studies. Some interdisciplinary majors also require certain Sociology courses as part of their programs.

An undergraduate degree in Sociology enables one to pursue a variety of vocations in such areas as social welfare, criminal justice, government, journalism, gerontology, urban planning, and industrial relations and administration. Provincial and federal government offices hire a large number of persons with a Sociology background. For those who wish to proceed to studies at the graduate level, a career in university teaching and research is also an option.

Required courses: 6 credit hours: the prerequisite is a grade of "C" or better in SOC-1100(3) Introduction to Sociology I: Concepts & Methods and SOC-1102(3) Introduction to Sociology II: Applications, or the former SOC-1101(6) Introduction to Sociology.
12 credit hours in Sociology courses at or above the 2000 level.
Restriction: Students majoring in Sociology cannot also complete a minor in this area of study.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Prerequisites

SOC-1100(3) Introduction to Sociology I: Concepts & Methods, or the former SOC-1101(6) Introduction to Sociology is a prerequisite for registration in all Sociology courses at the 2000 level and higher.

Course Offerings

2000- and 3000-level courses may be lecture, seminar or laboratory format, or some combination of these, depending on the orientation of the Instructor and the course enrolment. Usually they are lecture format.
4000-level courses are designed to offer the opportunity for in-depth discussion and analysis of issues and ideas on topics in which the Department members have special interest and expertise. Although 4000-level courses assume some prior experience with the subject under study, previous work experience, a keen interest in the topic or merely a strong desire to gain valuable experience from participating in a small group setting may be enough to outweigh lack of previous course experience. Students must consult with the Sociology Honours Advisor to receive program approval.

4000-Level Courses: Minimum 3.0 GPA (B) in major courses. (Students lacking the requisite 3.0 GPA should consult the department concerned regarding eligibility to take 4000-level courses.) Permission of the Instructor is required for each 4000-level course.

COURSE LISTINGS

The Sociology Department has organized its courses into six areas of study. These divisions are provided as guidelines to areas of study available for concentration. Students can move freely between the areas of study if they do not want to develop a concentration.

Students are advised to consult with Academic Advising in planning their course of study. Please refer to WebAdvisor or the Timetable available on the university website for courses to be offered in an upcoming term.

SPANISH STUDIES (SPAN)

Updated Jan. 30, 2024

Chair of the Department of Modern Languages & Literatures: Associate Professor S. Cook
Professor: J. Machín-Lucas; Instructor III: M. Ruiz

DEGREES/PROGRAMS OFFERED

3-Year BA
3-Year BA Combined Major
Minor

INTRODUCTION

With over 470 million native speakers, Spanish is second only to Chinese as a world language. Belonging to the Romance languages family which also includes French, Italian and Portuguese, Spanish derived from Latin but was heavily influenced by Arabic during the occupation of Spain, which lasted from 711 to 1492. Today, it is the official language of over twenty countries in areas such as the Americas, the Caribbean, Africa and Spain, with far more speakers in Latin America than anywhere else.

As the number of Spanish speakers continues to increase, so do career opportunities in Spanish as a language for international business, trade and law, tourism, immigration and foreign service, global, national and community development with both governmental and non-governmental organizations as well as journalism, translation and teaching. In all of these fields, learning Spanish gives you a competitive advantage. With over 14 million Spanish learners worldwide, it is easy to see why Spanish is one of the world's most influential languages.

Along with the language, you will gain the cultural awareness and understanding that is needed in today's global community.

The courses that we offer will help you to develop your communication skills and your critical thinking skills -- a must in order to grasp the subtleties of interacting with different cultures. In our courses, you will deepen your understanding of Hispanic cultures through the analysis of texts from the Internet and the media as well as through the study of films, literature and history. Whether Spanish is your first or second language or one of several that you speak, studying Spanish at the University of Winnipeg will be a rewarding and enriching experience that will give you an edge, whatever career path you choose. Our small class sizes will allow you to enjoy a more personal involvement with instructors and fellow students and give you the opportunity to practice what you're learning in a safe, supportive environment.

Spanish Studies participates in the Minor in Comparative Literature. For eligible courses, please see Comparative Literature in this Calendar.

| Single Major: | Minimum 30 credit hours/Maximum 48 credit hours |
| Double Major: | 30 credit hours in Spanish Studies and specified number of credit hours in the other department/program |
| Required courses: | Minimum 6 credit hours in Spanish Studies at the 3000-level Minimum 2.5 GPA (C+) in all Spanish Studies courses is advised for continuation in the Major program |
| Combined Major: | Minimum 48 credit hours from 2 different majors with not less than 18 credit hours from each major subject |
| Required Courses: | Minimum 6 credit hours in Spanish Studies at the 3000-level |

REQUIREMENTS FOR A MINOR IN SPANISH STUDIES

|------------------------|--|
| Degree: | Students completing any undergraduate degree program are eligible to complete the Minor |
| Minor: | 18 credit hours in the Minor subject, with a minimum of 12 credit hours above the 1000-level |
| Residence Requirement: | Minimum 12 credit hours in the Minor subject |
| Required courses: | A minimum of 3 credit hours at the 3000-level |
| Restrictions: | Students cannot declare the same subject as a Major and a Minor |

COURSE LISTINGS

Students registering for their first Spanish Studies course must consult a departmental facilitator. Please use WebAdvisor or consult the appropriate Timetable on the website for the courses to be offered in an upcoming term.

INTRODUCTION

Statistics is the science of data collection, summarization, analysis, and interpretation. A central issue of statistics is how to make inferences about populations of interest, using data obtained from samples or designed experiments. Statistical techniques are applied extensively in virtually every branch of the physical, social, biological, and human sciences. Statistical methodologies and principles of inference are based heavily upon statistical theory, which, in turn has an essential underlying mathematical foundation. Computer software is typically used for statistical analysis of large data sets.

The Statistics Department offers 3-Year and 4-Year BA or BSc degree programs. Students pursuing a 4-year BSc or BA in Statistics have the opportunity to take a Data Science Stream. Students pursuing a 3-year or 4-year BSc in Statistics also have the opportunity to take a Business Stream (see the “Science with a Business Stream” section of this Course Calendar).

As a student of Statistics, one may study theoretical statistics and probability theory, which focuses on the logical development of statistical methods. One may also take courses which focus on the application of statistical methodology to data sets from a variety of disciplines. The Statistics Department also offers courses in simulation, operations research, and stochastic modeling.

Students who are not Statistics majors will find that a background in statistics is valuable in many areas. Students considering graduate study in various fields may benefit from many of our applied courses. For some programs, certain Statistics courses are required. An understanding of statistical concepts is important for numerical literacy.

Statisticians often work collaboratively with specialists in other fields to develop methodologies and analyze data for research studies. They may assist economists in the analysis of consumer prices, or with the design and analysis of large-scale socioeconomic surveys. Statisticians may help biologists, chemists and engineers in the design and analysis of experiments, or work with medical researchers to test the effectiveness of new drugs. They may also work with researchers in fields such as agriculture, anthropology, climatology, education, epidemiology, and geography. Other opportunities can be found in finance, marketing, and quality management. Many statisticians find employment with private corporations and government agencies, including Statistics Canada.

REQUIREMENTS FOR A 3-YEAR BA/BSc IN STATISTICS

ADMISSION REQUIREMENT Students must consult with a member of the Department in planning their course of study.

GRADUATION REQUIREMENT 90 credit hours

RESIDENCE REQUIREMENT

Degree: Minimum 30 credit hours
Major: Minimum 18 credit hours

GENERAL DEGREE REQUIREMENT

Humanities: 12 credit hours in Humanities
Writing: 3 credit hours of Academic Writing
Indigenous: 3 credit hours in designated Indigenous requirement courses
Maximum Introductory Courses: Students may use a maximum of 42 credit hours at the 1000 level. Of these, a maximum of 6 credit hours may be below the 1000 level. As a result, students must take a minimum of 48 credit hours at the 2000-level or above in order to not exceed the maximum number of introductory courses.
Distribution: Minimum three (3) credit hours from each of five (5) different subjects.

MAJOR REQUIREMENT

Single Major
Double Major

Minimum 30 credit hours/Maximum 48 credit hours.
Minimum 30 credit hours in Statistics and specified number of credit hours in the other department/program.

THEATRE AND FILM (THFM)

Updated January 31, 2024

Dance: see DANCE PROGRAM (DANC)

Chair: Associate Professor C. Brauer; Professor: S. Vickers; Associate Professors: C. Borody, J. Kozak, H. McIntyre, A. Parboosingh, J. Riley; Assistant Professors: A. Evans, D. Gupa, H. Malazdrewich; Instructors: A. Frost, L. Raven

DEGREES/PROGRAMS OFFERED

3-Year BA
Honours BA
Minor

INTRODUCTION

Study in the Department of Theatre and Film encompasses the fields of both theatre and filmmaking. Theatrical study includes the full spectrum of the dramatic arts: playwriting; production; stage management; drama in education; design; directing; and the skills and techniques required of the actor. Our filmmaking program covers all areas from writing and directing through to filming and editing. The programs of study within the Department of Theatre and Film place an equal emphasis on practical and theoretical aspects of study. For our theatre students, practical training is balanced with the study of dramatic literature, history of theatre, and aesthetic and critical theory. In addition to all aspects of practical study, our filmmakers learn the theory and history of film.

The Department of Theatre and Film offers both a 3-Year BA degree (Theatre and Film) and a BA Honours degree (Theatre only). The Honours degree is designed for students who seek advanced, pre-professional training for careers in Acting, Directing, Design, Playwriting, Theatre Production and Stage Management.

Students who graduate with the Bachelor's degree in Theatre and Film may find employment opportunities in every aspect of the theatre and film worlds, from performance and technical production, directing, crewing, and editing, to general arts administration. A solid background in literature and theory may lead to further studies and teaching opportunities in a university or professional drama or film school. Some graduates establish careers in related work in public service, the professions, and the broadcasting media.

The Department of Theatre and Film participates in the Interdepartmental Minor in Comparative Literature. For eligible courses, please see Comparative Literature in this Calendar.

Education students may use Theatre and Film courses to meet either the teachable major or teachable minor requirement of their Bachelor of Education degree.

REQUIREMENTS FOR A 3-YEAR BA IN THEATRE AND FILM

ADMISSION REQUIREMENT

In order to avoid errors in course selection and load (which may result in the need to take additional courses for the degree), students are STRONGLY ENCOURAGED to consult with the Department's Student Advisor in planning their course of study. E-mail thfm@uwinnipeg.ca or call (204)786-9955 for further information, or to arrange an appointment.

GRADUATION REQUIREMENT

90 credit hours

RESIDENCE REQUIREMENT

Degree: Minimum 30 credit hours
Major: Minimum 18 credit hours

GENERAL DEGREE REQUIREMENT

Humanities: 12 credit hours in Humanities
Science: 6 credit hours in Science
Writing: Minimum 3 credit hours of Academic Writing
Indigenous: 3 credit hours in designated Indigenous requirement courses
Maximum Introductory Courses: Students may use a maximum of 42 credit hours at the 1000 level. Of these, a maximum of 6 credit hours may be below the 1000 level. As a result, students must take a minimum of 48 credit hours at the 2000-level or above in order to not exceed the maximum number of introductory courses.
Distribution: Minimum three (3) credit hours from each of five (5) different subjects

NOTE: Dance Program courses cannot be used to fulfil the Major subject requirements in Theatre and Film; they are considered to be a different subject with respect to the maximum number of courses permitted in the Major subject and to the University Distribution Requirement.

MAJOR REQUIREMENT

Single Major: Minimum 30 credit hours/Maximum 48 credit hours
Double Major: 30 credit hours in Theatre/Film and the specified number of credit hours in the other department/program

Required Courses for all concentrations except Filmmaking:

ONE Introduction to Theatre course (Only one Introduction to Theatre may be used toward a THFM major)
THFM/ENGL-2703(3) Play Analysis
One sequence of practical courses representing one concentration in Theatrical Study as defined below.
A minimum of 3 credit hours from the Dramatic Studies Group:

DRAMATIC STUDIES GROUP

THFM-2401/HIST-2190(3) Theatre History I: Aeschylus to Shakespeare
THFM-2402(3) Theatre History II: Molière to Irving
THFM/CLAS-2405(3) Staging Greek and Roman Drama
THFM-3401/HIST-3190(3) Theatre History III: Ibsen to the Present
THFM-3402/ENGL-3403(3) Canadian Drama
ENGL-2311(6) Shakespeare
ENGL-3401(6) Modern Drama
FREN-4748(3) Le théâtre classique

NOTE: These requirements do not apply to the Dance Program; see separate Calendar entry under DANC.

Required courses for FILMMAKING:

ONE Introduction to Theatre course (Only one Introduction to Theatre may be used toward a THFM major)
THFM-1010(6) Introduction to Film
THFM-2310(6) Filmmaking I: Screen Narrative Technique
THFM-2410/HIST-2191(6) History of Film
AND at least ONE of:
THFM-3310(6) Filmmaking II: Directing the Short Film
THFM-3312(6) Sound Editing
THFM-3313(6) Advanced Picture Editing

COMBINED MAJOR Minimum 48 credit hours from two different majors with not less than 18 credit hours from each major subject.

Required Courses for all concentrations except Filmmaking:

ONE Introduction to Theatre course (Only one Introduction to Theatre course may be used toward a THFM major)
THFM/ENGL-2703(3) Play Analysis
AND a minimum of 3 credit hours from the Dramatic Studies Group (see above)

Required courses for FILMMAKING:

THFM-1010(6) Introduction to Film
THFM-2410/HIST-2191(6) History of Film

EXAMPLES OF CONCENTRATIONS IN THEATRE AND FILM:

REQUIREMENTS FOR A BA HONOURS IN THEATRE AND FILM

Note: B.A. (Hons.) is not available in the Drama in Education or the Filmmaking concentrations.
For BA Honours in Dance, please see the separate calendar entry under DANCE PROGRAM (DANC).

ADMISSION REQUIREMENT

Students may enter into the program after completing a minimum of 30 credit hours. Entry, continuing, and graduation minimum GPA is 3.0 (B) in Honours subject courses and 2.5 (C+) in Non-Honours subject courses. The minimum 3.0 GPA (B) will be based on all attempts (including course repeats and failures) in Honours subject courses. The minimum 2.5 GPA (C+) in all Non-Honours subject courses will be calculated as for the general degree (i.e., F's are not included, and in the case of repeated courses, only the highest grade will be used). It is STRONGLY RECOMMENDED that students consult the Department's Student Advisor for assistance in choosing which recommended courses to take in any given concentration; e-mail thfm@uwinnipeg.ca or call the Theatre/Film office at (204)786-9955.

GRADUATION REQUIREMENT

Minimum 120 credit hours

RESIDENCE REQUIREMENT

Degree: Minimum 60 credit hours

DEGREES/PROGRAMS OFFERED

3-Year BA
4-Year BA
Honours BA
Certificates
Minor

INTRODUCTION

Urban and Inner-City Studies is an interdisciplinary Major that examines the city as a dynamic environment. The program combines a traditional urban studies focus with courses that examine various aspects of the inner city, such as the urban Indigenous experience, the immigrant and refugee experience, urban poverty, the housing problem, and the role of women. In Canada, cities continue to be centres of great challenges: from managing suburban growth, to promoting inner-city revitalization; from responding to the opportunities and challenges created by rapidly changing demographics to those created by globalization and socio-economic change. Cities are also home to increased concentrations of poverty, racism, and social and political exclusion. The Department of Urban and Inner-City Studies provides an opportunity to examine the political, economic, social and spatial context of these and many other important aspects of urban change from an interdisciplinary perspective.

The Department of Urban and Inner-City Studies is located on Selkirk Avenue, in Winnipeg's historic North End. Most classes are offered at 541 Selkirk Avenue, in Merchants Corner. We offer an innovative and intellectually exciting curriculum in a dynamic setting. This is university education, with a difference!

RRC POLYTECH

The Department of Urban and Inner-City Studies welcomes students from RRC Polytech. The University of Winnipeg will grant a total of 30 credit hours in block transfer credits to students in the Social Innovation and Community Development program and the former Community Development/Community Economic Development Program who have completed the 2-year Diploma program in CD/CED. For students who have completed 1 year and have received their Certificate in Social innovation and Community Development or CD/CED, the University will transfer 9 block credit hours. Further details regarding the transfer of credits and course requirements are available from the Department Chair or the Academic Advisor/Program Coordinator of UIC.

CERTIFICATE PROGRAMS

The Certificate Program in Urban and Inner-City Studies, and the Certificate Program in Community Advocacy, are 30-credit-hour programs, designed especially but not only for part-time students. Awarded annually by the Department of Urban and Inner-City Studies, the Certificates will indicate a pre-degree designation. Since the courses required for each of these two Certificates are also part of the degree program, they can be used towards a 3-year, 4-year or Honours BA, if the student chooses to continue his/her studies.

Please Note: Most of the Urban and Inner-City Studies course offerings will be taught at the North End Campus at 541 Selkirk Avenue.

DEGREES/PROGRAMS OFFERED

3-Year BA
4-Year BA
Honours BA
Minor

INTRODUCTION

The University of Winnipeg offers three degree options for an interdisciplinary Major in Women's and Gender Studies: a 3-Year BA, a 4-Year BA, and an Honours BA. We also offer a Minor. The Department fosters an awareness and appreciation of the realities and diverse experiences of women, men, and transgender and two-spirit people, and develops a critical consciousness of the societal inequalities affecting people, including those based on gender, race, class, age, disability, sexual orientation, ethnicity, and religion.

The Women's and Gender Studies Department is interdisciplinary program exploring gender-based experiences, cultures, and political economy. Women's and Gender Studies promotes an intersectional approach to understanding social problems and phenomena. It pays special attention to the ways sex, gender, and sexuality are shaped by colonialism, racism, ageism, homophobia and transphobia, as well as by constructions of difference based on class, (dis)ability, religion, ethnicity, and culture, among others. Our department brings these perspectives to the university, and represents feminism in the academy. In our classes, students learn about feminist movements to end sexism and related social oppressions. The department encourages diversity among its students, welcoming women, men, and trans and two-spirit persons from all cultural backgrounds. Through our curriculum, we also offer the means to contribute to social change.

Currently, there is a demonstrated need for people with training in Women's and Gender Studies to take up work in such areas as social services, education, policy development, welfare, health care, counselling and therapy, law, media, advertising, public administration, politics, finance, management, and the arts. In addition, a Women's and Gender Studies Honours degree prepares students for graduate studies.

1. Professional, Applied, and Continuing Education (PACE)

PACE offers applied certificate and diploma programs that enhance professional development and employment opportunities. PACE's unique education model blends university-level academics with practical hands-on experience to fully expand the potential of our students. Our programs specialize in high-growth career fields with strong employment prospects. PACE provides a student-centred educational experience with programs designed to grow careers and transform lives.

PACE offers programs in two formats. Our full-time programs follow prescribed schedules, while our flexible part-time programs offered through online learning, allow students to build their own schedules or enrol in just a course or two. Online courses at PACE are delivered in two formats, asynchronous where students work through the materials at their own pace and meet established deadlines, or blended online which combines mandatory live virtual meeting times with independent study.

a. Transfer Credit to Degree Programs

The following are certificate and diploma programs with degree credit articulation:

- Advanced Diploma in Early Childhood Care and Education, up to a maximum of 9 credit hours
- Educational Assistant Diploma, up to a maximum of 12 credit hours
- Introduction to University, 3 credit hours

b. Programs at PACE

Advanced Business Management

The Advanced Business Management program enhances students' management and leadership skills. In addition, the program offers graduates the opportunity to apply for the Certified in Management (CIM) designation through Chartered Managers Canada. Advanced Business Management is a full-time program. Students earn their credentials in 12 months. Upon completion of this program students earn three valuable educational credentials: Applied Project Management Certificate, Emerging Leaders Certificate, and Management Certificate.

Advanced Certificate in People Management

This Advanced Certificate in People Management program advances the human resource skills of established leaders. This program is offered in a unique cohort format that provides participants the opportunity to apply key learning back in their work environments. This is the only program of its kind in Manitoba. This is a part-time program offered online. Students earn their certificate in 8 weeks.

Advanced Diploma in Leadership in Early Childhood Care and Education

The Advanced Diploma in Leadership in Early Childhood Care and Education is a leadership development program designed for professionals in the early childhood sector who wish to enhance their administrative abilities or to exercise a leadership role. This unique programming model anchors workplace essentials, offered through PACE, to a foundational program in early childhood education, offered through the Developmental Studies degree-credit stream. This diploma program is recognized by the Province of Manitoba Child Care Education Program Approval Committee (CCEPAC) as an accredited pathway for current ECE II's to achieve their ECE III classification. This is a part-time program offered online. Students have five years to complete the requirements.

Applied Project Management Certificate

The Applied Project Management Certificate takes students through the lifecycle of a project, providing the terminology and concepts required to participate in, and lead, projects. The courses cover the planning, cost estimates and budgeting, communication strategies for stakeholders, and monitoring and controlling projects. The program is for individuals wanting to augment their education and gain the foundational knowledge and skills needed in project management or wanting to step into project management. This is a part-time program offered online. Many students complete it in less than 2 years at their own pace. Students have up to five years to complete the requirements.

Artificial Intelligence Diploma

The Artificial Intelligence program emphasizes the application of AI theory and techniques in a practical setting. In this program, graduates master the skills to create and use problem-solving algorithms to provide insights, predictions, and operationalization strategies needed to transform any organization into an innovative, efficient, and sustainable company of the future. This is a full-time program. Students earn their diploma in 12 months. Upon completion of this program students earn the Artificial Intelligence Diploma.

Digital & Social Media Marketing Certificate

The Digital & Social Media Marketing Certificate program is designed to provide students with the fundamental skills needed to develop an effective digital and social media marketing strategy that contributes to overall business success, regardless of sector. This hands-on program provides focused and industry-aligned instruction that includes real-world scenarios. This is delivered by industry professionals who bring up-to-the-minute experience and examples, helping students get a solid understanding of how to use digital and social media to further business goals. This is a part-time program offered online. Many students complete it in less than two years at their own pace. Students have up to five years to complete the requirements.

Educational Assistant Diploma

The Educational Assistant program provides valuable training to educational assistants in our school system. Students gain both the theoretical and practical knowledge needed to become a confident and effective presence in the classroom. The program focuses on the role of the educational assistant within the learning system and provides a practical understanding of exceptional children and how to help them. This is a full-time program. Students earn their diploma in eight months.

Financial Management Diploma

The Financial Management program provides students with essential financial and managerial knowledge and skills required for a wide variety of positions in the accounting and financial industry. Sustainable business approaches within a comprehensive financial framework develops individuals to solve complex business problems and improve organizational performance in an ever-changing business environment. The Financial Management Diploma is a full-time program. Students earn their diploma in 24 months. Upon completion of this program students earn two valuable educational credentials: Financial Management Diploma and Management Certificate.

Human Resource Management Diploma

This award-winning and CPHR-accredited program layers traditional elements of human resource management with a heavy emphasis on leadership, concrete business tools, and effective communication tools. The program is aligned to industry-recognized standards and best professional practice. Students will have the opportunity to obtain their WHMIS certification through the Managing Occupational Health, Safety, and Environment course. The Human Resource Management Diploma is a full-time program earned in 12 months; it is also offered in a part-time format. Graduates are eligible for their CPHR candidacy.

Introduction to University

This course is designed to familiarize students with the nature and demands of university study and help prepare them for the year ahead. Students will develop and practice study and time management skills, note-taking, essay writing, internet/library research skills, and strategies for exam preparation. Presented in a manner that parallels a typical university course, Introduction to University provides an ideal opportunity to give university a try and discover what it takes to succeed. Students who successfully complete this course with a C+ or better may transfer three credit hours to a UWinnipeg degree program. This is an online course. Students can register for either an asynchronous or blended delivery of the course

Management Certificate

The Management Certificate is designed for individuals who want to develop their professional skills and further their career. Students explore current business topics and trends and develop the skills to help businesses succeed in the current competitive environment. The certificate program emphasizes skills such as leading and motivating employees, communication, and problem-solving.

Marketing Management Diploma

The Marketing Management Diploma prepares students to work in a marketing capacity. Students acquire the theoretical foundations and a blend of skills in digital and conventional marketing to use tools, systems, and strategies to add value to any organization. Graduates give their employers the competitive edge in market-driven economies using their marketing strategy knowledge to create customer value. The Marketing Management Diploma is a full-time program. Students earn their diploma in 24 months. Upon completion of this program students earn three valuable educational credentials: Marketing Management Diploma, Digital & Social Media Marketing Certificate, and Management Certificate.

Mobile Application Development Diploma

Students in the Mobile Application Development Diploma acquire the skills to develop modern, scalable mobile applications. From initial planning and architecture mapping to front-end design and development concepts, as well as back-end solutions for both cloud and local server approaches, this program develops a complete skill set for mobile app development professionals. In addition, graduates gain critical project management and communication skills.

Predictive Analytics Diploma

This Predictive Analytics Diploma program builds foundational skills in data science with a specialization in the use of predictive models to forecast outcomes. Students learn to apply data science and predictive modelling to provide insights, predictions, and operationalize the use of data for competitive and social benefits within an organization. Graduates of this program master a range of analytical models to become strategic leaders in any industry. The Predictive Analytics Diploma is a full-time program. Students earn their diploma in 12 months. Upon completion of this program students earn the Predictive Analytics Diploma.

NOTE: For more information on any of the above programs, please visit the Professional, Applied, and Continuing Education website at <https://pace.uwinnipegcourses.ca/>

2. English Language Program

The University of Winnipeg's English Language Program (ELP) offers a variety of programs for adult learners: Academic and General Purpose English, Canadian Workplace Experience, EAL Teacher Certificate, and Customized Programs. For additional information, please contact us at infoelp@uwinnipeg.ca or 204.982.1703 or visit our website at <https://www.uwinnipeg.ca/elp/>.

14-week English Language Program

In this 14-week program, students choose to concentrate on Academic or General communication skills. For those in the early stages of proficiency, Foundations courses are available to ensure that students are adequately prepared for the Academic and General classes.

i. Foundations Stream

Beginning and mid-intermediate students study speaking, listening, writing and reading as integrated skills in the Foundations classes. There is a strong emphasis on oral communication, vocabulary acquisition and grammatical development. Reading and writing competencies are strengthened in complementary courses. This stream prepares students for the Academic/Pathway or General streams.

ii. General Stream

High-intermediate and low-advanced students advance their English language skills for personal and professional purposes, and targets the language areas of reading and writing, while emphasizing listening and speaking. Students participate in afternoon seminars to further strengthen the conversation pronunciation and listening skills that are necessary for communication.

iii. Academic/Pathway Stream

High intermediate to advanced students advance their English language skills to prepare them to enter Canadian universities, colleges, and high schools, and targets all four language areas: listening, speaking, with an emphasis on reading and writing. Students will improve their ability to read academic materials, write essays, take notes, listen to lectures, and give presentations — skills they need to be successful in a Canadian university.

Students that achieve the required grades in the highest level of this stream will meet the English Language Proficiency Requirement for admission to The University of Winnipeg's undergraduate degree programs and select graduate and professional programs. Students also earn up to 6 university credit hours that can be applied to further study at The University of Winnipeg's: 3 credit hours from the department of the first-year degree credit course and 3 unallocated credit hours.

For additional information, please contact us at infoelp@uwinnipeg.ca or 204.982.1703 or visit our website at <https://www.uwinnipeg.ca/elp/elp/full-time-programs.html>.

General Purpose English Program

In this 4-5 week program, students will have a short English language learning experience to help advance their educational or career goals. Students' communication development will be accelerated through classes that target all four language areas: listening, speaking, reading, and writing. Cultural workshops are offered in the afternoons to help students understand Canadian culture.

For additional information, please contact us at infoelp@uwinnipeg.ca or 204.982.1703 or visit our website at <https://www.uwinnipeg.ca/elp/elp/intensive-program.htm>

Canadian Workplace Experience Program

In this 7-week program, students will experience 4 weeks of English language study in the classroom followed by a 3-week placement at a local host organization, giving students the opportunity to speak English in a Canadian work environment.

Placement types include museums, libraries, radio stations, youth centres, athletic facilities, art galleries, health care facilities, restaurants, retail stores, and non-profit organizations. The recommended language levels for admission are TOEFL: iBT 61, IELTS: 5.5 overall, TOEIC: 800, or equivalent ELP program score.

For additional information, please contact us at infoelp@uwinnipeg.ca or at 204.982.1703 or visit our website at <https://www.uwinnipeg.ca/elp/elp/canadian-work-experience.html>.

English as an Additional Language Teacher Certificate Program (EALTCP)

This stand-alone program certifies students to teach English as an Additional Language (EAL) to adults in Canada and overseas, and is fully accredited by TESL Canada. Students register in classes to complete 120 hours of TESL theory and methodology, 10 hours of observation in a Canadian ESL classroom, and 10 hours of teaching in a supervised practicum in Canada.

Graduates who hold a degree from an accredited university are eligible for Professional Certificate Standard One. For more information about this accreditation, please visit the TESL Canada website at <https://www.tesl.ca/>.

Applicants whose first language is not English and are not from an English requirement-exempt country, must provide supporting documentation to show they meet the language requirements for admission to The University of Winnipeg. For more information on language requirements for admission, visit <https://www.uwinnipeg.ca/elp/ealtcp/application-registration.html>

For additional information, please contact us at infoealtcp@uwinnipeg.ca or 204.982.1816 or visit our website at <https://www.uwinnipeg.ca/elp/ealtcp/index.html>.

3. The Collegiate

The Collegiate offers Grades 9, 10, 11 and 12 of the Manitoba High School curriculum. UWinnipeg students may apply for concurrent studies, taking a partial first-year Arts and Science program while completing the high school subjects necessary to meet Regular Status admission requirements at The University of Winnipeg. The Collegiate's programs are published separately and may be obtained from The Collegiate Office, Room 1W02, Wesley Hall (786-9221) or visit <https://collegiate.uwinnipeg.ca/>

4. Menno Simons College

NOTE: As of June 30, 2023, no students will be admitted into the 4-year Conflict Resolution Studies program. The 4-year program is being discontinued. Current students pursuing the 4-year degree will be able to complete their program of studies. The 3-year program in CRS will continue to be offered.

As of June 30, 2023, no students will be admitted into the 3-year or 4-year International Development Studies program. The IDS program is being discontinued. Current students majoring in IDS will be able to complete their program of studies.

Most courses in CRS and IDS will be offered online and some courses will be offered in-person at The University of Winnipeg or at Canadian Mennonite University.

Overview

Menno Simons College (MSC) is a learning community rooted in the Anabaptist-Mennonite tradition. MSC educates students for the challenges of addressing conflict, inequality, and poverty.

The faculty is committed to excellence in teaching, research and service through programs in Conflict Resolution Studies (CRS) and International Development Studies (IDS). Grounded in a particular Christian tradition, MSC welcomes students from all backgrounds and serves as a meeting place where diverse communities gather to address critical local, national, and international issues in a spirit of appreciation for different perspectives.

Programs of Study

MSC coordinates two programs that are fully integrated into The University of Winnipeg curriculum: Conflict Resolution Studies and International Development Studies. Students can choose a 3-Year or 4-Year major in either area, or take Conflict Resolution and International Development courses as electives or minors along with other University of Winnipeg programs (see program descriptions in this Calendar).

The two majors prepare students for involvement in developing regions and conflict situations in community, organizations, and international settings. The flexibility of these programs allows for double majors, and students are strongly encouraged to combine one of these majors with another discipline.

Features of MSC Programs

- Conflict Resolution Studies (CRS) and International Development Studies (IDS) include supervised field experiences/practica, involving students in local, national, and international projects.
- Financial assistance is available for a limited number of international placements.
- Small class sizes are maintained for optimum learning environments.
- A variety of special scholarships are available to CRS and IDS majors.
- The faculty consists of 8 full-time and a variety of part-time instructors, chosen on the basis of their specialized expertise and applied experience.
- Specialized academic advising is available for CRS and IDS majors.
- Services that complement the academic programs and enhance the university experience, such as resource lists, community lunch events, a student association, and career exposure activities, are offered.

Organizational Information

Menno Simons College offered its first courses in affiliation with The University of Winnipeg in 1989 and has grown substantially since that time. Bachelor of Arts degrees with a major in Conflict Resolution Studies and/or International Development Studies are granted by The University of Winnipeg.

Students register for Menno Simons College courses/majors through The University of Winnipeg.

Menno Simons College is also a College of Canadian Mennonite University, a degree-granting institution located in Winnipeg. Procedures are in place to enable CMU students to register for courses at The University of Winnipeg and enjoy the benefits of libraries at both universities.

Additional courses in CRS and IDS are available through Canadian Mennonite University.

Faculty

The College has an interdisciplinary faculty with backgrounds in anthropology, conflict resolution, economics, geography, history, peace and conflict studies, politics, psychology, rural studies, and sociology. (A complete listing of faculty is contained in General Information.)

5. Research Institutes, Centres and Chairs

a. Centre for Access to Information and Justice

Established in 2019, the Centre for Access to Information and Justice (CAIJ) promotes: (a) the study of access to information (ATI) and freedom of information (FOI); (b) research using ATI and FOI law; and (c) public interest research. The primary objective of the CAIJ is to promote access to information as a form of access to justice. The activities of the CAIJ should appeal to scholars from across the social sciences and humanities, as well as to public interest legal professionals, investigative journalists, and access advocates in Canada and beyond. For more information, contact Kevin Walby in the Department of Criminal Justice at k.walby@uwinnipeg.ca.

b. Aurora Family Therapy Centre

Aurora Family Therapy Centre is a United Way of Winnipeg Agency Partner located on The University of Winnipeg campus where students in the Masters of Marriage and Family Therapy Program complete the majority of their supervised clinical practice. Aurora offers therapy to families, couples and individuals from the general community on a sliding scale, seeking to promote interpersonal and personal well-being in clients, while nurturing the development of well-informed family therapists who will care for families and promote hope, caring and creativity wherever they serve. Aurora staff and therapists also see hundreds of people each week in our Newcomer Community Development Program and have special programming for families of murdered and missing loved ones. For more information on the centre, please visit <http://www.aurorafamilytherapy.com>.

c.. Canada Research Chairs, Chancellor's Research Excellence Chair, and Chancellor's Emerging Research Award

The Canada Research Chairs program stands at the center of a national strategy to make Canada one of the world's top countries for research and development. Chairholders aim to achieve research excellence in natural sciences, engineering, health sciences, humanities, and social sciences. The University of Winnipeg continues to seek outstanding leaders who will create new synergies among researchers and across traditional disciplinary boundaries, and who push for innovation and research excellence.

The University of Winnipeg Chancellor's Research Excellence Chair is intended to acknowledge and advance the scholarly activity by faculty who have made exceptional contributions to research in their field.

The University of Winnipeg Chancellor's Emerging Research Award is intended to sustain and support high levels of scholarly output and to retain faculty who have made, and will continue to make, exceptional contributions to research in their field.

For listings of current and past chairs, please see:

<https://www.uwinnipeg.ca/research/research-chairs/canada-research-chairs.html>

d. Research Centre on Co-operative Enterprises

The Research Centre on Co-operative Enterprises aims to further the knowledge of the co-operative enterprise sector of the economy through the teaching and training of students, the creation of experiential/work-integrated learning activities, the conducting of research, and the engagement of industry partners. The centre will provide a combination of both scholarly work on the co-operative business model and applied research relevant to the co-op sector in Manitoba, nationally and internationally.

e. Sanford Riley Centre for Canadian History

The Riley Centre brings together into one location associations and organizations committed to researching the history of Canada. All the groups involved strive to share their knowledge of Canadian history with other groups, academic colleagues, as well as community and high school audiences. Located in Bryce Hall, the centre is named after former University Chancellor H. Sanford Riley in recognition of his many contributions to the centre and his long standing, active interest in Canadian history. For further details, please visit <https://www.uwinnipeg.ca/riley-centre/index.html>

f. Centre for Research in Cultural Studies

Cultural Studies engages with pressing issues of local and global consequence and is at the forefront of developing critical understandings of the social and political dynamics of contemporary culture. Established in 2017, the Centre for Research in Cultural Studies (CRICS) enhances UWinnipeg's ability to highlight these engagements and functions as a hub for interdisciplinary collaboration between students, faculty, and community research partners.

CRICS increases research capacity on campus by providing a context for developing methods and tools for Cultural Studies research, supporting the program of the Canada Research Chair in Culture and Public Memory, and connecting student Research Assistants, Research Associates, Visiting Scholars, and Postdoctoral Fellows to the projects of the Centre. CRICS aims to build sustainable, socially relevant research programs and raise the national and international profile of UWinnipeg as an outstanding place to do Cultural Studies research.

CRICS shares space with the Centre for Research in Young People's Texts and Cultures (CRYTC). It is located in room 3C25 at the University of Winnipeg, on the traditional territory of Anishinaabeg, Cree, Oji-Cree, Dakota, and Dene peoples, and on the homeland of the Métis Nation.

The Centre features:

- A Collaborative Research and Knowledge Mobilization Lab used for workshops, cultural production, curatorial design and display, other forms of research creation, in-person meetings, and teleconferencing
- A connected workspace for Research Assistants
- A shared office for the Centre's Research Coordinator
- An office space for the Centre Director
- A resource room
- An interview and data storage room
- An office space for visiting scholars and postdoctoral fellows

For more information, find us here: <https://www.uwinnipeg.ca/crics/>

g. Centre for Forest Interdisciplinary Research

C-FIR is a research centre at The University of Winnipeg dedicated to the development of interdisciplinary research, education, and training in the areas of forestry, forest ecosystems, forest values and the human uses of forests. The intent is to assist all forest stakeholders to reach the goals of ecosystems-based forest management. C-FIR focuses on understanding the evolution of today's forests, the current conditions of the region's forests, the values of the public and special interest stakeholders for the forest, and using past and present information to assist in understanding future changes and impacts to the region's forests.

h. The University of Winnipeg Global College

The University of Winnipeg Global College fosters global citizenship and engagement through interdisciplinary teaching, research, dialogue, and action in local and global communities. The college coordinates a Bachelor of Arts (BA) in Human Rights, a BA in Indigenous Languages, a Master in Development Practice (MDP): Indigenous Development, as well as a Master of Arts (MA) in Peace and Conflict Studies, which is a joint program with the University of Manitoba. These programs combine classroom study with opportunities for experiential learning in practicum placements and field courses in Canada and around the world.

Student engagement is facilitated through the Global College Student Advisory Council, which organizes a wide range of activities each year.

For more information on the breadth of interdisciplinary academic and community learning opportunities at Global College, please visit <https://www.uwinnipeg.ca/global-college/>

i. Centre for the Liberal Arts and Secular Society

This research institute (CLASS) comprises University of Winnipeg faculty and students engaged in interdisciplinary research concerning secularism and secularization within the liberal arts. The purpose of the centre is to engage in research focused on issues of the liberal arts in secular society. While traditional views on secularism and secularization have focused on the decline of religious adherence and a differentiation between spheres—most typically, the public (areligious) versus the private—interdisciplinary scholarship in the last decade has emerged that suggests that the secular is not simply a neutral, areligious space.

j. Oral History Centre

The Oral History Centre at The University of Winnipeg is a national leader and global innovator in developing excellence in oral history teaching, research and collaborative community development. The centre promotes oral history as a means of democratizing history and thus of working towards social justice and human rights in a globalizing world.

Established in 2012 through approval by the University of Winnipeg Senate and the University of Winnipeg Board of Regents, the OHC serves as a hub for University of Winnipeg faculty and students and Manitoba's diverse communities to collaboratively learn about the practice and theory of oral history, to work together on projects and to develop new ways of using oral history to improve the quality of life for diverse communities. The Oral History Centre...

- provides the opportunity for students, academics, researchers, archivists, and community members to become members of the OHC.
- provides resources such as professional oral history training, equipment, studios, lab workstations and technical support for oral history projects.
- promotes analysis and integration of oral history into academic research and teaching, public policy, art, and creative community development.
- serves as a virtual and real meeting place for oral historians from the community and around the world.
- offers a program of local and international conferences, lecture series, workshops, and other events.
- develops innovative digital audio and video tools for oral history research, archiving, and dissemination.

The Oral History Centre supports the University's vision and priorities of accessibility, community outreach, and capacity building. It strengthens the University's research capacities and moves research, teaching, and community building forward through university-community and interdisciplinary collaboration. For more information on the Oral History Centre, please visit www.oralhistorycentre.ca.

k. Prairie Climate Centre

The Prairie Climate Centre (PCC) – located within the Richardson College for the Environment – aims to be a world class contributor to climate change science, policy, and communications for effective education and action in the Canadian Prairies and beyond. The PCC is committed to making climate change meaningful and relevant to Canadians from all walks of life. By merging climate science, multi-media communication, and outreach strategies, the PCC turns 'knowledge into action' and helps society navigate from 'risk to resilience.' The PCC is well known as an innovator of digital tools – including documentary films and interactive websites – such as the Climate Atlas of Canada (www.climateatlas.ca). The Climate Atlas brings together the centre's expertise in climatology, digital storytelling, and community-based research across scales, and is increasingly the "go to" place for Canadians to get information about climate change. The PCC works in partnership with a diversity of individuals, communities, organizations, businesses, and governments to develop climate actions that support healthy environments and future generations. Visit the PCC's website to learn more: www.prairieclimatecentre.ca

l. Centre for Rupert's Land Studies

The Centre for Rupert's Land Studies (CRLS) is unique in its focus on Rupert's Land, the vast Hudson Bay watershed region claimed by the Hudson's Bay Company from 1670 to 1870, and its borderlands. We foster interdisciplinary research and conversation among all who share an interest in the history and peoples of the Hudson Bay watershed, with particular emphasis on Indigenous and fur trade history and the immense resources of the Hudson's Bay Company Archives, nearby. Since 1984, the Centre has been a nexus for sharing information, new research, and perspectives through three major means:

- Biennial Colloquiums—informal conferences that have met in a wide range of settings linked to Indigenous people and the fur trade.

- Publication of monographs, Colloquium proceedings, and Indigenous oral history materials, for example, the stories of Louis Bird at www.ourvoices.ca. The Rupert's Land Record Society series of documentary volumes, co-published with McGill-Queen's University Press, offers carefully researched original source materials for scholars, students, and communities. Subscribing members receive our biannual Rupert's Land Newsletter.
- Research assistance and networking, linking CRLS members and others across North America and abroad who have common interests and questions. We also maintain a roster of locally available assistants qualified to help with archival and other research.

The Centre offers annually the C. Richard Harington Fellowship to a student pursuing advanced studies in its areas of interest. It is also home to a small research facility and to the Elizabeth B. Losey Fur Trade Library of about 1000 works, many of them rare and out of print, and other resources.

m. Centre for Terrestrial and Planetary Exploration

The Centre for Terrestrial And Planetary Exploration (C-TAPE) was formally established as a University of Winnipeg Centre in March 2019.

C-TAPE is dedicated to the development of interdisciplinary research, education, and training in the areas of terrestrial and planetary exploration. The main areas of focus for terrestrial applications include environmental and Earth surface monitoring and mineral exploration. The main areas of focus in the area of planetary exploration include understanding the surface compositions of planetary bodies for insights into the origin and evolution of the solar system and for astrobiology. The overall goal is to enable participation in planetary and terrestrial exploration missions. The main components of C-TAPE's mandate include:

- Research - Research is the primary mandate of C-TAPE. C-TAPE is continuously developing new research capabilities and infrastructure that can support terrestrial monitoring and planetary exploration. C-TAPE's role includes the encouragement and facilitation of research programs through the creation of regional, national, and international partnerships.
- Undergraduate education - to develop and implement planetary and terrestrial exploration educational components and courses at the University of Winnipeg. This effort will include greater integration between course materials and the expertise and facilities of C-TAPE.
- Post-undergraduate education - to provide opportunities for the training of graduate students working on projects in the areas of terrestrial and planetary exploration. This will also include the opportunity to bring research staff (e.g., visiting research fellows, postdoctoral fellows, etc.) from outside the region to work on specific projects in addition to, or in conjunction with, the efforts of C-TAPE researchers.
- Training - to develop and provide tailored training courses, seminars, speakers, or workshops, at the Centre or in the community, which are designed to ensure that the region's workforce and researchers maintain a high level of technical competence and expertise and are able to fully benefit from C-TAPE's aggregate expertise.

n. Winnipeg Institute for Theoretical Physics

The Winnipeg Institute for Theoretical Physics is a formal Institute of both The University of Winnipeg and the University of Manitoba. It was created to support theoretical physics research in Manitoba. It has carried out this mandate by encouraging collaboration between members of the Institute, by financially supporting expert seminars in the research areas of concern, and by financially supporting the long-term visits of internationally respected scientists to the Institute to facilitate collaboration between these scientists and Institute members. The permanent members of the Institute include all theorists in the Physics Departments at The University of Winnipeg and The University of Manitoba, as well as theorists from Brandon University.

o. Institute of Urban Studies

The Institute of Urban Studies (IUS) is a research centre within the Geography department at The University of Winnipeg. Since 1969, the IUS has functioned as both an academic and applied research centre committed to exploring urban issues in a broad, non-partisan manner. Originally focused on the challenges and resiliency of the inner city, the Institute's research now encompasses the social, physical, and economic well-being of Canadian communities. The IUS frequently partners with governments, community-based and non-profit organizations, and other stakeholders in its work. Its mandate also includes community outreach and education; and mentoring new scholars. Since 1992, the IUS has produced The Canadian Journal of Urban Research, a free multidisciplinary scholarly journal that publishes articles on issues relevant to urban studies. The IUS has worked with hundreds of students, community leaders, and scholars to produce more than 500 research reports, books, and other publications. This collection of work is available on the IUS's website (<http://www.uwinnipeg.ca/ius/>). The IUS is located in the Richardson College for the Environment at 599 Portage Avenue.

p. The Centre for Research in Young People's Texts and Cultures

The Centre for Research in Young People's Texts and Cultures (CRYTC) supports scholarly inquiry into literary, media, and other cultural texts for, by, and about children and youth. The Centre provides a focus for research in the field at the University of Winnipeg, facilitates the development and management of collaborative national and international research projects, including the SSHRC Partnership Project, Six Seasons of the Asiniskaw Ithiniwak, hosts visiting speakers and researchers, and maintains links with other research centres in children's studies internationally. CRYTC was established by the University of Winnipeg in 2006, in order to recognize, organize, and extend the expertise in the study of texts for children and youth that had developed at the University, principally through the Department of English, over more than thirty years. Today, the Centre houses an office for the CRYTC director and an office for the Research Coordinator. CRYTC also shares a Knowledge Mobilization Lab and work stations for visiting researchers and research assistants with the Centre for Research in Cultural Studies (CRICS). For more information, please visit <http://crytc.ca/>.

6. Brandon University Psychiatric Nursing Program

The Faculty of Health Studies, Brandon University, offers a 4-year Bachelor of Science in Psychiatric Nursing (BScPN) program both in Brandon and at an off-campus site located in the lower level and 6th floor of the Rice Financial Centre at 491 Portage Ave., Winnipeg. The Winnipeg site operates in collaboration with the University of Winnipeg. The program combines 124 credit hours of psychiatric nursing education with studies in Arts, Science and Humanities. Graduates of the program are eligible to write the qualifying examination for licensure as a Registered Psychiatric Nurse (R.P.N.) with the College of Registered Psychiatric Nurses of Manitoba. Specific BScPN program details are available on the Faculty of Health Studies link at www.brandonu.ca.

Please contact the BScPN Student Advisor Lu Irwin, irwinl@brandonu.ca for more information.

NOTE: Students are admitted into a Pre-Psychiatric Nursing year through Brandon University. Upon successful completion of the required Pre-Psychiatric Nursing courses, students will be eligible to apply for acceptance into the BScPN program. Enrolment into the BScPN program is limited.

Admission Process for Pre-Psychiatric Nursing

Applications will be accepted from students who meet the Brandon University admission requirements. Although not required, the following Grade 12 High School subjects are highly recommended: English, Math (Pre-Calculus or Applied) and Science (Biology 40S) for admission into the Pre-Psychiatric Nursing year. Although only recommended for admission, these courses are prerequisites for certain Pre-Psychiatric Nursing courses. Also, enrolments for Pre-Psychiatric Nursing courses are constrained by enrolment caps. In some cases, Pre-Psychiatric Nursing requirements may need to be completed over two years.

Applications to the Pre-Psychiatric Nursing year must be made through Brandon University. Admission information and BU undergraduate applications are available from the Brandon University website at www.brandonu.ca or by contacting the Admissions Office at 204-727-9784. The completed application form and required documentation should be forwarded to the Admissions Office as early as possible. The deadline for applying to the Pre-Psychiatric Nursing off-campus site in Winnipeg is June 14th.

Students accepted into the Pre-Psychiatric Nursing year will have visiting status at the University of Winnipeg and will be required to attend a required registration/orientation session held at the off-campus site in Winnipeg. Students will receive a letter from the Faculty of Health Studies with details regarding the sessions.

Pre-Psychiatric Nursing

Pre-Psychiatric Nursing requirements include both University of Winnipeg and Brandon University courses as specified below for students being considered for entry into Year 2 of the BScPN program. A grade of C or better must be achieved in each course.

COURSE DESCRIPTIONS

ANTHROPOLOGY

ANTH-1001 (6) Introductory Anthropology (3 hrs Lecture) This course provides a general introduction to the four main branches of anthropology: archaeological, cultural, linguistic, and physical (biological). Topics include human evolution, the nature of culture and language, the diversity of past and present societies and their ways of life, and the causes and consequences of social and cultural change. Some instructors may devote substantially more time to certain topics than do others. Students are advised to consult with individual instructors for details.
Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ANTH-1002 | ANTH-1003 | ANTH-1005.

ANTH-1002 (3) Introductory Cultural Anthropology and Linguistics (3 hrs Lecture) This course is a general introduction to the comparative study of culture and language. Topical emphases vary. In cultural anthropology they may include economic and political organization, kinship and marriage, ritual and belief, and the causes and consequences of cultural change in the contemporary world. In Linguistic Anthropology they may include language structure, pragmatics, sociolinguistics and the ethnography of language. Some instructors may devote substantially more time than others to certain topics. Students are advised to consult with individual instructors for details.
Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ANTH-1001 | ANTH-1005.

ANTH-1003 (3) Introductory Biological Anthropology and Archaeology (3 hrs Lecture) This is a general introduction to the study of the biological nature and origins of the human species, and of the cultural and biological record of the past. Topical emphases vary but may include basic principles of biological evolution, the human fossil record, modern human variation, and archaeological evidence of the development and diversification of society and culture from earliest times to the rise of ancient civilization.
Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ANTH-1001.

ANTH-1005 (3) Introduction to Cultural Anthropology: Indigenous Focus (3 hrs Lecture) This course is a general introduction to the comparative study of human social and cultural life. Topical emphases vary but may include language, economic and political organization, kinship and marriage, ritual and belief, and the causes and consequences of social and cultural change in the contemporary world. This course focuses primarily on Indigenous peoples in North America. Some instructors may devote substantially more time than others to the study of linguistics. Students are advised to consult with individual instructors for details.
Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ANTH-1001 | ANTH-1002.

ANTH-1409 (3) Introductory Michif I (3 hrs Lecture | 1 hrs Lab) This course is an introduction to Michif language in a culturally safe and supportive learning environment. The emphasis is on task and project-based immersion learning for whole language skills useful in daily and cultural life. A special focus is on the use of verbs in simple tenses in indicative, interrogative and imperative forms reflecting the complexity of Michif's verbal morphosyntax. As a class, students work on listening comprehension, oral expression, and written skills. In the one-hour lab students practice language structured to support the acquisition of that presented in class.

Cross-listed: IS-1401(3), IL-1409(3).

Experimental Course - This course is offered on a trial basis to gauge interest in the topic. Students who successfully complete this course receive credit as indicated.

Restrictions: Instructor Permission Required. Students may not hold credit for this class and IL-1409 | IS-1401.

Requisite Courses: ANTH-1409L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

ANTH-1410 (3) Introductory Michif II (3 hrs Lecture | 1 hrs Lab) Michif II is an introduction to Michif language grounded in Métis ways of knowing, relating and doing. As per cultural teachings, classes open and close with ceremony (which is spiritual and not religious in nature). Community building and relational learning are central to course experience. The course instructor uses an immersive Comprehensible Input (CI) approach to language acquisition. The course will enable beginning students to converse with more proficient speakers and each other on more subjects involving common situations and everyday actions in a culturally appropriate manner. They will further develop their abilities to introduce themselves and others, open and close classes in a culturally appropriate manner, and give assistance appropriately in group settings. They will be able to talk with greater detail about their friends and family member, their own personal preferences and possessions, and use weather terms in complex sentences. They will be able to describe people and objects and where and how they are located in greater detail. They will be able to talk about all these situations in the past, present, future and conditional tenses. They will be able to name more common domestic and "wild" animals, birds and insects and geographic features. As well, they will be able to create and participate in the telling of simple stories. Most emphasis will be placed on listening and speaking but reading and writing in Michif will be used as appropriate. In addition, students will write personal reflections in English--and in part in Michif as able--on their learning and development as learners and speakers through the course.

Cross-listed: IL-1410(3), IS-1402(3)

Experimental Course - This course is offered on a trial basis to gauge interest in the topic. Students who successfully complete this course receive credit as indicated.

Restrictions: Instructor Permission Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and IL-1410 | IS-1402.

Requisite Courses: ANTH-1410L (lab) (must be taken concurrently); ANTH-1409 [prerequisite(s)].

ANTH-2100 (3) Method and Theory in Cultural Anthropology (3 hrs Lecture) This core course surveys the essentials of theory and method in the anthropological study of culture and society. It examines central concepts and perspectives in relation to their past development and current status, and their applications in ethnographic and ethnological research.

Requisite Courses: ANTH-1001(6), ANTH-1002(3) or ANTH-1005(3) or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

ANTH-2103 (3) Ethnography of Indigenous Peoples in Canada and the U.S. (3 hrs Lecture)

This course surveys ethnographies of Indigenous peoples of Canada primarily, with some ethnographic material from the United States. Students are introduced to the history of North American cultural anthropology and its roots in Indigenous ethnographic research. The course familiarizes students with ethnography as the primary methodology of cultural anthropologists. Students apply critical thinking skills to the methodology as they read and analyse ethnographies as representations of Indigenous societies. Emphasis is placed on the work of Indigenous ethnographers, scholars, and contributors to Indigenous-focused ethnography.

Cross-listed: IS-2103(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and IS-2103.

ANTH-2119 (3) Medical Anthropology (3 hrs Lecture)

Medical anthropology is a subfield of anthropology. It informs our understandings of the experiences and distribution of health, the prevention and the treatment of the sick in different cultural groups and the role of pluralistic medical systems. Critical health disparities between marginalized populations in developed countries as well as between developing and developed countries are increasingly prevalent and complex in nature. This course looks at ethnomedicine, disease ecology and Indigenous perspectives on health and illness.

Cross-listed: BANT-2119(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and BANT-2119.

Requisite Courses: ANTH-1001(6), ANTH-1002(3) or ANTH-1005(3) or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

ANTH-2121 (3) Traditional Japanese Culture (3 hrs

Lecture) This course surveys traditional Japanese culture through an exploration of visual and dramatic arts, literature, philosophy, and religion. Special emphasis is placed on cross-cultural roots that bridged Japan with its neighbouring countries in East Asia. The historical foundations of popular Japanese contemporary culture - Manga, Anime, and high technology to name a few - are also discussed.

Cross-listed: EALC-2721(3) and REL-2721(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and EALC-2721 | REL-2721.

ANTH-2122 (3) Anthropologists in the Community (3 hrs Lecture) Anthropologists are often engaged in research directly with communities. This may involve partnerships, collaboration or supporting communities directly as they lead their own research. Applied anthropology is a sub-field of anthropology which explores ways anthropologists work in communities to help identify and resolve challenges and grow opportunities using anthropological knowledge and methods. This course provides students with an introduction to community based research methods and research design in anthropology.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ANTH-3103.

Requisite Courses: ANTH-1001(6), ANTH-1002(3) or ANTH-1005(3) or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

ANTH-2200 (3) Method and Theory in Archaeology (3 hrs Lecture) This is a core course designed to convey the essentials of archaeological method and theory as they relate to each other. Theoretical and procedural trends are examined to illuminate the nature of contemporary archaeological research. Selected findings of this research are reviewed in accord with the major concepts of archaeology and development of the methodologies employed.

Requisite Courses: ANTH-1001 or ANTH-1003 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

ANTH-2202 (3) Archaeology of North America (3 hrs Lecture) This course surveys the archaeology of North American indigenous peoples before European contact. Major culture areas are examined, including the Southwest, Northwest Coast, Arctic, Plains, and Northeast. The regional focus may vary from year to year.

ANTH-2210 (3) Rise of New World Civilization (3 hrs

Lecture) This course covers the period from the origins of agriculture to the rise of historically recorded New World civilizations such as Aztec, Inca, and Maya. Special emphasis is given to the background and origin of food production through the domestication of plants and animals, and to the development of urban centres. Regional emphasis may vary from year to year.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ANTH-2206.

ANTH-2211 (3) Rise of Old World Civilization (3 hrs

Lecture) This course covers the origins and development of civilization in the Old World with emphasis on the prehistoric archaeological record. Topics discussed include the forces behind an increase in population density, the role of civilization and urbanism in state formation, and the problem of collapse of Old World civilizations, such as ancient Egypt, the Near East, China, and the Indus Valley. Regional and chronological coverage may vary from year to year.

Cross-listed: CLAS-2004(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and CLAS-2004.

ANTH-2214 (3) Archaeological Field School (3 hrs Field Study) This course number allows students who complete a recognized archaeological field school weighted at three credit hours to transfer equivalent credit to the University of Winnipeg. Only field schools offering both a theoretical lecture component and an intensive field component are accepted. Students must meet all requirements set by individual field schools.

ANTH-2216 (3) Archaeology in Popular Culture (3 hrs Lecture) From Indiana Jones to Tomb Raider to YouTubers covering the discovery and excavation of prior sites of human occupation, Archaeology holds a special place in the public imagination. Archaeologists have been depicted in popular culture through many formats, including movies and TV shows, literature and comics, news media, video games and more. This course critically assesses the ways in which archaeology is presented to the general public, by both archaeologists and non-archaeologists, and evaluates how the representation of archaeologists matters (or should matter) to a general audience.

Cross-listed: BANT-2216(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and BANT-2216.

Requisite Courses: Minimum 18 credit hours in any subject, or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

ANTH-2220 (6) Archaeological Field School (3 hrs Field Study) This course number is designated for students who complete a recognized archaeological field school weighted at six credit hours to transfer equivalent credit to the University of Winnipeg. Only field schools offering both a theoretical lecture component and an intensive field component are accepted. Students must meet all requirements set by individual field schools.

Note: Students must receive departmental permission to enrol in an outside field school for academic credit. Students may receive credit in ANTH-3206(6) and either ANTH-2214(3) or ANTH-2220(6).

ANTH-2221 (3) Archaeology of the Ancient Near East (3 hrs Lecture) This course traces the development of Syrian Palestinian Archaeology, including a study of archaeological remains and sites from the Neolithic period (ca. 8500 B.C.) to the Byzantine period (ca. 330 A.D.) in the Levant, or countries bordering on the eastern Mediterranean Sea from Turkey to Egypt. Emphasis is placed on techniques of recovering ancient remains as well as the interpretation of artifacts, including those associated with Biblical text or documents from other ancient Near Eastern cultures.

ANTH-2229 (3) Food, Diet and Dining in Antiquity (3 hrs Lecture) This course explores the techniques, issues, and controversies involved in reconstructing the role of food, diet and dining in Greek and Roman antiquity. Topics addressed include examination of lines of evidence (broadly encompassing ancient literary and textual evidence, depictions from art, and material remains from archaeological excavation); the economic basis for production, trade, transport and consumption of foodstuffs in antiquity; practicalities and limitations involved in cooking, preserving and preparing food stuffs; the social and philosophical context of eating and dining; the role of food in ancient religious and cult practices; medical approaches to food, diet and health in antiquity.

Cross-listed: CLAS-2920(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and CLAS-2920.

ANTH-2260 (3) Introductory Classical Archaeology: Principles and Practices (3 hrs Lecture/Lab Combined)

This course provides an introduction to the development, principles, and practices associated with archaeological analysis and study of Classical civilizations (primarily Greece and Rome). A wide range of material categories (such as buildings, coins, pottery, sculpture, geological deposits, and plant and animal remains) are considered along with the techniques devised by Classical archaeologists for understanding them and their significance as evidence for Classical societies. Dating and chronology, geography, function, typology and the interface between material remains and written evidence are considered. Curriculum includes special attention to case studies and to hands-on experience where possible.

Cross-listed: CLAS-2910

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and CLAS-2910.

ANTH-2300 (3) Method and Theory in Biological

Anthropology (3 hrs Lecture | 3 hrs Lab) This core course examines the theoretical framework of Biological (Physical) Anthropology and the nature of current human biological variation. Topics include evolutionary theory, human genetics, modern human biological variation, human adaptation to the environment, and demographic processes.

Cross-listed: BANT-2300(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and BANT-2300.

Requisite Courses: ANTH-1001 or ANTH-1003 or any 1000-level Biology course, or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

ANTH-2304 (3) Introduction to Forensic Anthropology

(3 hrs Lecture) This course introduces key aspects of forensic anthropology in a framework that is not dependent upon prior knowledge of scientific methods. Topics include approaches to the interpretation of skeletal remains and DNA evidence, and the application of information from other sciences to forensic analysis.

Cross-listed: BANT-2304(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and BANT-2304.

Requisite Courses: Completion of 30 credit hours [prerequisite(s)].

ANTH-2400 (3) Method and Theory in Linguistic

Anthropology (3 hrs Lecture/Seminar) This course examines the relationship between language and culture, including the theories and principles of linguistic anthropology. More than 20 languages are compared and contrasted in order to understand the concepts of language structure. Topics include the basic principles of phonetics and phonology, morphology, syntax, pragmatics, language change, literacy, nonverbal communication and signed languages.

Cross-listed: LING-2102(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and LING-2102.

ANTH-2401 (3) Phonetics and Phonology (3 hrs Lecture) This course describes all English consonant and vowel sounds in terms of place and manner of articulation. It also identifies how sounds are organized into syllables and words by studying the concepts of phonemes, allophones and phonological rules. Although the course focuses on English phonology, it also draws heavily on other languages to illustrate the key concepts. Students will be required to master characters and diacritics from the International Phonetic Alphabet.

Cross-listed: LING-2001(3) and ENGL-2803(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ENGL-2803 | LING-2001.

ANTH-2402 (3) Morphology (3 hrs Lecture) This course introduces students to the concepts and methods of word analysis. Students investigate the nature of morphemes (smallest units of meaning), their different types and functions, and the different ways they are organized into words. The course explores the process of word formation through derivation and compounding as well as grammatical uses of inflectional morphemes. Based largely in English, both lectures and exercises also draw on various other languages to highlight key morphological features and constructs.

Cross-listed: ENGL-2805(3) and LING-2002(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ENGL-2805 | LING-2002.

ANTH-2403 (3) Syntax (3 hrs Lecture) Syntax is the study of the arrangement of words into groups, clauses and sentences. In this course students use morphological, syntactic, semantic, and lexical criteria to define traditional parts of speech, in order to understand how these combine to form a variety of clauses and sentences types. Form, function, class and structure are introduced from the perspective of systemic functional and communication linguistics. These descriptive frameworks are contrasted with transformational generative models and others.

Cross-listed: ENGL-2802(3) and LING-2003(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ENGL-2802 | LING-2003.

ANTH-2404 (3) Languages of the World (3 hrs Lecture) Taking a general overview of the linguistic map of the world where approximately 7000 languages are currently spoken, this course looks at some of the main language families and examines evidence for genetic relationships within them. Variations within a single language, principles underlying different writing systems, as well as issues of language contact, endangered languages, and the role of English as an emerging world language are also considered. Examples are drawn from a wide range of languages.

Cross-listed: LING-2103(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and LING-2103 | LING-2404.

ANTH-2405 (3) Semantics (3 hrs Lecture) Semantics is the branch of linguistics concerned with how we construct meaning using language. It is arguably the most diverse branch, situated between the highly formalizable "inner layers" of phonology, morphology and syntax and the fuzzier "outer layer" of pragmatics. Key ideas covered in the course include: the difference between sense and reference, the application of basic rules in formal logic, prototype theory, componential analysis, and cognitive semantics; how to identify thematic roles in sentences; the functions of noun classifiers, deictics, and adpositions in different languages; and, the nature of metaphors, metonyms and image schemas.

Cross-listed: ENGL-2806(3) and LING-2004(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ENGL-2806 | LING-2004.

ANTH-2406 (3) Language and Culture (3 hrs Lecture)

The course examines how language encodes cultural dialects from different regions and time periods within various social and cultural contexts. Selected British, American, and Canadian dialects are studied from specific historical and contemporary periods. Social factors such as age, gender, ethnicity, class, socio-economic, educational, political, and religious factors are considered from a sociolinguistic perspective. The course also examines language and dialects related to various registers, such as student-teacher classroom exchange, job interviews, work talk, and casual conversation. To examine the differences in these registers, functional and systemic perspectives of communication linguistics are introduced.

Cross-listed: ENGL-2804(3) and LING-2101(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ENGL-2804 | LING-2101.

ANTH-2407 (3) Language Revitalization (3 hrs Lecture)

This course examines the need for language revitalization in the context of language endangerment that is now occurring on a global scale. Students learn about factors that contribute to languages remaining strong, as well as processes such as colonization and assimilation that have led to language shift, loss, and death. Students learn about the importance of diverse languages, and also about strategies and programs that communities have applied to maintain or regain their languages. Key language revitalization methods are taught, including language healing, language development, language learning technologies, language nests, and master-apprentice programs.

Cross-listed: LING-2104 and IS-2407.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and LING-2104 | IS-2407.

ANTH-3100 (3) History of Anthropology (3 hrs Lecture)

This course examines the development and influence of select schools of anthropological thought and practice from the nineteenth century to the present. Emphasis is given to the approach and contribution of individual scholars, and to the impact of institutions and historically significant events and trends in shaping disciplinary ideas. Additional in-depth work is required to receive credit at the 4000 level.

Cross-listed: ANTH-4100(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ANTH-4100.

Requisite Courses: ANTH-2100 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

ANTH-3117 (3) Ethnohistoric Methods and Theory (3 hrs Lecture) Ethnohistory combines ethnographic and historical methods to study changes in cultures over time. In this course students gain a theoretical understanding of ethnohistory through a series of readings that explore differences between oral and written texts. They also gain a practical understanding of the discipline through the transcription of an oral text, which is contextualized through library and/or archival research.

Cross-listed: HIST-3526(3), HIST-4526(3), and ANTH-4117(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ANTH-4117 | HIST-3526 | HIST-4526.

Requisite Courses: ANTH-2100 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

ANTH-3120 (3) Indigenous Peoples of Arctic Canada (3 hrs Lecture) This course focuses on the Inuit and their ancestors, inhabitants of Canada's Arctic and adjacent regions for nearly 5000 years. It examines the origins and development of their pre-and post-contact culture in light of archaeological and ethnographic evidence, with emphasis on regional variations in subsistence and settlement patterns, social organizations, intellectual life, and contact with Euro-Canadian institutions, ideas, and state policy. The course concludes by considering Inuit culture identity in the 21st century.

Cross-listed: HIST-3622(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ANTH-2118 | HIST-3622.

ANTH-3125 (3) Ethnographic Research Methods (3 hrs Lecture) This course offers students an opportunity to learn and apply ethnographic research and field techniques. Areas of instruction include participant observation, surveys, and interviews, the recording of data in field notes and by such means as video, photography and mapping, and ethical considerations in contemporary research settings. Additional in-depth work is required to receive credit at the 4000 level.

Cross-listed: ANTH-4125(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ANTH-4125.

Requisite Courses: ANTH-2100 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

ANTH-3127 (3) History of the Indigenous Peoples of the Northern Plains (3 hrs Lecture/Seminar) This lecture-seminar traces the history of Indigenous Peoples on the Northern Plains from the pre-contact period to the mid-20th century on both sides of the present Canadian-U.S. border. Ancient plains cultures, the introduction of European technologies, the fur trade, struggles for regional dominance and control over resources, advancing European settlement, and the establishment of reservations/reserve constitute the major topics of this lecture seminar. In a comparative approach, this course explores critical differences and similarities in Indigenous history on both sides of the Canadian and US border.

Cross-listed: HIST-3616(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course

and HIST-3518 | HIST-3616.

ANTH-3129 (3 or 6) Material Culture in North American Indigenous History (3 hrs Lecture/Seminar)

This lecture/seminar course traces North American Indigenous history from pre-contact times to the early 20th century through a close examination of Indigenous and fur trade material culture. Throughout the course of the fur trade Indigenous people and Europeans exchanged and adopted various technologies. These exchanges were of critical importance in shaping relations between Euro-American traders and Indigenous peoples. This course explores various ways in which Indigenous and European technologies complemented each other and highlights the non-material meanings associated with particular artefacts. We examine the social, cultural and spiritual connotations that Indigenous artefacts held and that European-introduced technologies and materials acquired.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and HIST-3515 | ANTH-3126 | ANTH-3129

ANTH-3133 (3) Public Anthropology (3 hrs Lecture) Contemporary anthropology has changed drastically over the last several decades. Anthropologists no longer exclusively study "primitive" societies; cultural anthropology is engaged and confronting important contemporary social, economic and political issues. In response, anthropologists now engage in these modern issues and at times take a public position. Public anthropology explores such issues as race and tolerance, health and well-being, global terror and militarism, forensic anthropology, and the Internet and other forms of the digital media. This course is designed to inform students about the development of anthropology as a relevant field of inquiry.

Requisite Courses: ANTH-2100 [prerequisite(s)].

ANTH-3134 (3) Anthropology of Food (3 hrs Lecture) Anthropology is interested in the role of food and the relationship to humans. Food is vital to our health and well-being, however there remains a constant struggle to produce, exchange and eat the food that we need to live a healthy and productive life. Our relationship with food is complex. This course examines the ways in which we understand food as essential, chosen, patterned, and dynamic. Students examine how culture shapes our food production, distribution methods, and dietary habits in all stages of our lives.

Requisite Courses: ANTH-2100 [prerequisite(s)].

ANTH-3136 (3) History of the Haudenosaunee Peoples (3 hrs Lecture/Seminar) This lecture/seminar course examines the history of the Haudenosaunee peoples in Eastern North America from precontact until the present. Emphasis is placed on the Six Nations Confederacy and the Wendat (Huron) peoples living in Canada and the United States. Topics include the origins of the Confederacy, the fur trade and Christian missions, Colonial Wars and the destruction of Huronia in 1649, the dispersal and migration of Haudenosaunee communities through the Great Lakes region, and the influence of the Canada-US border on contemporary Haudenosaunee communities.

Cross-listed: HIST-3632

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ANTH-3132 | HIST-3532 | HIST-3632.

ANTH-3160 (3) Cultural Perspectives on Global

Processes (3 hrs Lecture) The focus of this course is threefold. First it seeks to apply cultural perspectives on 'global scale theory.' Second, we discern the linkages among some of the main processes at work in 'global systems.' Main processes include communications, transportation, migration, capital, manufacture of export goods, non-state political organizations, and environmental and human health research. The emphasis is on how two or more of these interact. Third, we discuss the effects of these processes in local and regional contexts. The specific processes and their salient interrelationships are chosen in response to interests of those taking the course, and are developed by group reading and discussion, and individually in term paper projects.

Cross-listed: IDS-3160(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and IDS-3160.

Requisite Courses: IDS-1100(6) or ANTH-1001(6) or ANTH-1002(3), or permission of the Coordinator/Chair [prerequisite(s)].

ANTH-3162 (3) Social Enterprise in the Indigenous Context (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) Students study theories and practices related to social enterprise models in Canada, the UK, the US and elsewhere. The course has a particular interest in the relationship between social enterprises, related policies, and indigenous sovereignty or self-determination. Students are familiarized with the range of Indigenous social enterprises in Canada and internationally, and trained in policy and project analysis. Students put social enterprise theory into practice by creating a proposal for a hypothetical social enterprise project focused in an identified need, gap, or interest in an Indigenous community or organization.

Cross-listed: IS-3162(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and IS-3162.

Requisite Courses: 30 credit hours in any subject [prerequisite(s)].

ANTH-3170 (3) Ethnoecology as a Research Approach

(3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This course underscores the traditional ecological knowledge systems of Indigenous and local communities by examining the interactions among these communities, their knowledge, and the local environments that have sustained over time. Key themes include traditional food and medicinal plants, traditional natural resources management systems, and learning within indigenous knowledge and indigenous cultural landscapes. Such learning is explored through global case studies. Research approaches, tools, methods and ethical issues surrounding ethnoecological research within local and Indigenous communities are also explored. This course helps in developing academic and research skills in conducting interdisciplinary research that examines the relationships between nature and culture.

Cross-listed: IS-3012(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and IS-3012.

Requisite Courses: IS-1015, UIC-1001, IDS-1100, ANTH-1001, or ANTH-1002 or permission of instructor [prerequisite(s)].

ANTH-3203 (6) Archaeological Field School (3 hrs

Lecture) An intensive course planned and programmed to provide students with practical archaeological experience through excavation of one or more sites. Instruction begins shortly after regular session examinations, and employs lecture, field, and laboratory components in order to teach excavation techniques, processing, analyzing and interpreting of archaeological data.

Restrictions: Department Permission Required.

Requisite Courses: ANTH-1001 or ANTH-1003 and ANTH-2200 [prerequisite(s)].

ANTH-3204 (3) Issues in Prehistoric Archaeology (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines select issues in methodology and/or interpretation of the archaeological record of New World and/or Old World populations prior to the end of the last glacial period, circa 10,000 years ago. Content may vary from year to year and be thematic, regional, and/or chronological in nature. Information about each year's topic can be obtained from the instructor.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ANTH-4204.

Requisite Courses: ANTH-2200 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

ANTH-3206 (3) The Origins of Human Culture (3 hrs

Lecture) Looking at developments in the Old World, this course examines the two million year period from the first appearance of human culture to the agricultural revolution some twelve thousand years ago. It emphasizes the increase in cultural complexity and specialization over time, and the way that culture has permitted humans to adapt to their environment. As well as discussing the general nature of the prehistoric record, the course examines such general questions as the origins of cultural behaviour, the ecology and chronology of the Pleistocene period, demographic evolution and reconstruction, and the relationship between cultural and biological evolution. Additional in-depth work is required to receive credit at the 4000 level.

Cross-listed: BANT-3206(3), ANTH/BANT-4206(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ANTH-4206 | BANT-3206 | BANT-4206.

Requisite Courses: ANTH-2200 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

ANTH-3207 (3) Zooarchaeology (3 hrs Lecture) This course introduces analytical and theoretical aspects of zooarchaeology through lectures and laboratory exercises focusing on the comparative skeletal anatomy of various mammal, bird, fish, amphibian and reptile species. Topics include post-depositional changes to bones, sampling and recovering faunal remains, ageing and sexing of bone, reconstructing past environments and human dietary strategies, evidence of animal domestication, and bone tool technology.

Cross-listed: BANT-3207(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and BANT-3207.

Requisite Courses: ANTH-2200 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

ANTH-3210 (3) Archaeological Laboratory Methods (3 hrs Lecture) This course focuses on processing, analyzing, and interpreting archaeological materials. It examines a range of specialized techniques for studying lithic, ceramic, botanical, and geological evidence recovered at archaeological sites, and for establishing their temporal context. Additional in-depth work is required to receive credit at the 4000 level.

Cross-listed: ANTH-4210(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ANTH-4210.

Requisite Courses: ANTH-2200 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

ANTH-3213 (3) Advanced Archaeological Theory (3 hrs Lecture) Major trends in the development and application of archaeological theory are explored, with special emphasis on perspective initiated since the beginning of the 20th century. Additional in-depth work is required to receive credit at the 4000 level.

Cross-listed: ANTH-4213(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ANTH-4213.

Requisite Courses: ANTH-2200 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

ANTH-3214 (3) Ancient Environments and Ecology (3 hrs Lecture/Lab Combined) This course explores approaches, techniques, issues, and applications involved in the reconstruction of ancient environmental and ecological conditions and settings (predominantly for Greco-Roman antiquity). Topics addressed include the use of environmental archaeology (e.g., geoarchaeology, archaeobotany, palynology, zooarchaeology) in assessing paleoenvironments and paleoecology; natural resource and landscape exploitation in antiquity as determined from synthesis of literary, artistic, and archaeological datasets; climate and environmental change in antiquity; human management and mismanagement of environmental and ecological conditions in the past, including aspects of overhunting, deforestation, pollution and natural disasters. Additional in-depth work is required to receive credit at the 4000 level.

Cross-listed: CLAS-3910(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and CLAS-3910 | CLAS-4910.

ANTH-3260 (3) Classical Archaeology (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines methodological, theoretical, and topical issues in Classical Archaeology, broadly, that is, in the archaeology of ancient Greek and Roman civilizations. Particular emphasis focuses upon directions within the discipline over the past decade. Topics discussed include the integration of archaeological, scientific, artistic, and textual evidence in the reconstruction of classical cultures; the assessment of ancient Greco-Roman ecological, social, ritual, and economic life on the basis of recovered artifacts and ecofacts; and the use of archaeological survey data to examine ancient settlement patterns.

Cross-listed: CLAS-3260 (3)

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this class and CLAS-3260.

ANTH-3261 (3) Death in Antiquity (3 hrs Lecture) This course approaches various aspects relating to death in antiquity (emphasizing Roman antiquity) from the perspective of two disciplines, Anthropology and Classics. Topics include beliefs and philosophies about the afterlife; causes of death, with emphasis on diseases and demographics; the practicalities of planning for death and disposing of the dead; the methods and significance of commemoration; rituals of grief and mourning; spatial distribution of cemeteries in antiquity; methods and theories in mortuary archaeology from classical sites; and analysis of osteological, artifactual, and architectural data from such sites. Contemplation of cross-cultural comparisons on these and other topics under study is encouraged.

Cross-listed: CLAS-3320(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and CLAS-3320.

Requisite Courses: 3 credits from either Anthropology or Classics [prerequisite(s)].

ANTH-3262 (3) Health in Antiquity (3 hrs Lecture) This course explores health, disease, and medicine in the Greek and Roman world. It draws upon evidence from the ancient textual sources (especially Galen and Hippocrates), social history, and archaeology (the latter including all manner of finds - architecture, art, artifacts, environmental materials, and skeletal remains) to examine how residents of the Greek and Roman world perceived and experienced health and disease, and how they sought to combat illness and to promote healing.

Cross-listed: CLAS-3060(3) and KIN-3060(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and CLAS-3060 | KIN-3060.

Requisite Courses: 3 credits in any Classics, Anthropology, or Kinesiology course [prerequisite(s)].

ANTH-3273 (3) Material Culture in Northern Plains Indigenous History, Field Course (3 hrs Field Study) In this experiential-learning course, we explore various ways in which Indigenous and European technologies complemented each other. The first half of the course consists of seminar discussions and lectures at the University of Winnipeg. The second half of the course takes place in the field, where students can work with Indigenous Elders from nearby First Nations communities. Students learn about and experience traditional technologies, such as tanning hides and/or manufacturing archery equipment, while being accommodated in traditional tipis and/or modern tents.

Note: Students should notify the instructor in case of dietary restrictions, plant-, animal-, or food allergies. There is a surcharge per student for this course to cover honoraria for Elders and other knowledge keepers, food-related costs and costs for materials the students will be using. Please consult the History Department.

Cross-listed: HIST-3573(3), HIST-4573(3), ANTH-4273(3).

Restrictions: Instructor Permission Required. Instructor

Permission Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and ANTH-4273 | HIST-3571 | HIST-3573 | HIST-4573.

ANTH-3306 (3) Human Osteology (3 hrs Lecture) This course covers basic human osteological development and identification. Topics include indicators of age and sex and comparison of primate and non-primate features. Emphasis is on the laboratory identification of complete and incomplete human skeletal material.

Cross-listed: BANT-3306(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ANTH-4306 | BANT-3306.

Requisite Courses: Credit in at least one course in Physical/Biological Anthropology, or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

ANTH-3308 (3) Human Evolution (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines the evolution of our species, from the earliest hominins to the appearance of anatomically modern humans. Emphasis is on the material evidence for human evolution, and in particular the fossil record. Topics include the environmental context of human evolution, the anatomical features of bipedalism, and the debates surrounding the origins of Anatomically Modern Homo sapiens: Occasional laboratory sessions enhance and expand upon the material presented in lectures.

Cross-listed: BANT-3308(3), ANTH/BANT-4308(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ANTH-4308 | BANT-3308 | BANT-4308.

Requisite Courses: ANTH-2300 or BANT-2300 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

ANTH-3400 (3) Language Typology (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This course examines and classifies a number of languages by applying the basic concepts of Anthropological Linguistics to analysis of the phonology, morphology, syntax, semantics, and pragmatics of various languages. The structure of these languages is compared and contrasted to explore typological patterns and explain structural diversity of human languages. Relations between the grammar and pragmatic features of the languages are also explored. Additional in-depth work is required to receive credit at the 4000 level.

Cross-listed: ANTH-4400(3), LING-3006(3) and LING-4006(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and LING-3006 | LING-3400 | LING-4006.

Requisite Courses: ANTH-2400 or LING-2102 or permission of instructor [prerequisite(s)].

ANTH-3405 (3) Textual Analysis (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines the principles and methods of textual analysis as a language-centered approach to literary and non-literary discourse. Various texts are analyzed using six descriptive linguistic tools, namely sounding (phonology), seeing (graphology), wording (lexis), arranging (syntax), meaning (semology and semantics), and ornamenting (rhetoric). Textual analysis considers the effect of writers' choices to create different reader responses to literary elements such as developing characters, building suspense, creating humour, and achieving particular rhetorical purposes.

Cross-listed: LING-3001(6) and ENGL-3800(6).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ENGL-3800 | LING-3001.

ANTH-3406 (3) Comparative Indo-European Linguistics and Mythology (3 hrs Lecture) This course proposes an integrated overview of Indo-European tradition based on comparative linguistics, mythology, archaeology, social structure and religion. A survey of Indo-European languages, ancient and modern, including their relationships, writing systems, and sociolinguistic context, is followed by an examination of problems in analysis and reconstruction of Indo-European proto-language and proto-culture. The course further explores major Indo-European mythological and poetic traditions, and possible reconstruction of their common sources. It also examines belief systems, literary continuations of mythopoetic material, archeological evidence and historiographic records. Additional in-depth work is required to receive credit at the 4000 level.

Cross-listed: ANTH-4406(3), LING-3406(3) and LING-4406(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ANTH-4406 | LING-3102 | LING-4102.

ANTH-3407 (3) Registers of Our Daily Life (3 hrs Lecture) Students are introduced to issues involved in the research being done by linguists, text analysts, discourse analysts, and sociolinguists concerning various types of institutional discourse. They are required to carry out a research project on a register of their choice. Experimental investigations and contemporary research focus on medical, scientific, legal, business, financial, political, classroom, and media discourse.

Cross-listed: LING-3101(3), ENGL-3802(3).

Requisite Courses: ANTH-2406 or LING-2101 or ENGL-2804 [prerequisite(s)].

ANTH-3408 (3) Sociolinguistics (3 hrs Lecture | Seminar/Discussion) Sociolinguistics is the systematic study of language as a social phenomenon with a focus on the relationship between language and various social variables such as age, class, ethnicity and gender. This course examines language variations on regional (regional dialects), social (sociolects) and personal (styles and registers) level, as well as topics such as standard language, slang, jargon, politeness and taboo. It introduces students to the concepts of language ideologies, communities of practice, multilingualism, diglossia and code switching, and explores the problems of language in the contact and of language shift, revival and planning.

Cross-listed: LING-3103(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and LING-3103.

Requisite Courses: LING-1001 or ANTH-1001 or ANTH-1002 [prerequisite(s)].

ANTH-3409 (3) Language Policy and Planning (3 hrs Lecture) Language Policy and Planning addresses the ways in which people, organizations, and governments have tried to control or influence how languages are learned, developed and used. It includes the development of standardized languages, writing systems, and creation of grammars and dictionaries. It also addresses language legislation, and governments' and organizations' attempts to promote or prescribe certain languages, including in K-12 education. The implementation of language policies and plans is shaped by many factors including history, politics, and ideologies. Students in this course examine methods and theories of language policy and planning development and implementation with specific application to Indigenous languages.

Cross-listed: LING-3109

Experimental Course - This course is offered on a trial basis to gauge interest in the topic. Students who successfully complete this course receive credit as indicated.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and LING-3109.

Requisite Courses: 18 Credit hours completed in any subject area [prerequisite(s)].

ANTH-3411 (3) Indigenous Languages of South America

(3 hrs Lecture) Presenting an integrated overview of the indigenous languages of South America, this course looks at main language families spoken there, their spatial distribution, history and classification, as well as their cultural background. With 53 language families and 55 isolates, South America is not only the most diverse region in linguistic terms, but also a storehouse of unusual structural features important for understanding the full range of possible variants of human language. The course also explores typological characteristics of South American languages, potential linguistic areas, proposals of more distant relationships, and the current situation of endangered languages in this region. Additional in-depth work is required to receive credit at the 4000-level.

Cross-listed: ANTH-4411(3), LING-3104(3), LING-4104(3), and IS-3104(3).

Restrictions: Department Permission Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and ANTH-3104 | ANTH-4411 | IS-3104 | LING-4104.

ANTH-4001 (3 or 6) Directed Readings/Research in Anthropology

(3 hrs Directed Reading) This is a course which enables a student to acquaint himself or herself with the frontiers of Anthropological knowledge. In conjunction with an Instructor the student prepares a formal paper. This may be based upon specialized library research, laboratory work or field work.

Cross-listed: BANT-4001

Restrictions: Instructor Permission Required. Honours Form Required.

ANTH-4011 (6) Anthropology Honours Thesis

(3 hrs Thesis) This course is intended for but not restricted to students in the Honours program. Students undertake an independent research project in an area of anthropological interest. Presentation of the results verbally and in thesis form to the Anthropology Department is an integral part of the course. Each project is supervised by a faculty member.

Cross-listed: BANT-4011(6).

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Instructor Permission Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and BANT-4011.

Requisite Courses: 9 credit hours from ANTH-2100, ANTH-2200, ANTH-2300, or ANTH-2400 (as appropriate to thesis topic) plus at least 6 credit hours at the 3000 level and 6 credit hours at the 4000 level [prerequisite(s)].

ANTH-4024 (3) Biocultural Diversity Conservation

(3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This course focuses on the interrelationship between indigenous peoples and their environment. Indigenous and local communities contribute with understanding, practices and innovations regarding the use and conservation of biodiversity and natural resources in diverse ecosystems. The value of indigenous knowledge is recognized in international agreements and efforts are made to integrate traditional ecological knowledge into conservation and management programs. The tensions arising from the confluence of indigenous and scientific knowledge, the opposition of different epistemological approaches, the increasing loss of bio diversity and indigenous cultures, the interconnectedness between biological and cultural diversity are the central themes of this course.

Cross-listed: IDS-4824(3) and IS-4024(3).

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and IDS-4828 | IS-4024.

ANTH-4100 (3) History of Anthropology

(3 hrs Lecture) This course examines the development and influence of select schools of anthropological thought and practice from the nineteenth century to the present. Emphasis is given to the approach and contribution of individual scholars, and to the impact of institutions and historically significant events and trends in shaping disciplinary ideas. Additional in-depth work is required to receive credit at the 4000 level.

Cross-listed: ANTH-3100(3).

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Department Permission Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and ANTH-3100.

Requisite Courses: ANTH-2100 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

ANTH-4102 (3) Problems in Cultural Anthropology

(3 hrs Lecture) This seminar offers senior students a chance to investigate specific problems in cultural anthropology. Cultural anthropology encompasses all cultural and social aspects of the human experience. Potential topics include engaged anthropology which is anthropological work done from an advocacy perspective, applied anthropology done on a contract basis, community based research, virtual cultural anthropology which focuses on virtual communities and networks, Indigenous/decolonizing research with cultural anthropology, or feminist anthropology which focuses on a gendered analysis. Emphasis is on preparation and presentation of individual projects based on library, museum, or field experience. This course may be repeated for credit when the topic varies.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Department Permission Required.

Requisite Courses: ANTH-2100 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

ANTH-4105 (3 or 6) Indigenous Peoples and Newcomers in Encounter: Selected Topics

(3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This course examines the history of Canadian Indigenous Peoples from the pre-contact period to the early 20th century through the study of Indigenous biographies and material culture. This allows us to examine the history of Indigenous/non-Indigenous interaction from the perspective of individuals involved in the events we study. It familiarizes students with the cultures of Canadian Indigenous Peoples, major events in the history of contact between Indigenous and European peoples, and the construction of historical argument and interpretation, based on an interdisciplinary ethnohistorical approach.

Cross-listed: HIST-4570(3/6).

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and HIST-4570.

ANTH-4117 (3) Ethnohistoric Methods and Theory (3 hrs Lecture) Ethnohistory combines ethnographic and historical methods to study changes in cultures over time. In this course students gain a theoretical understanding of ethnohistory through a series of readings that explore differences between oral and written texts. They also gain a practical understanding of the discipline through the transcription of an oral text, which is contextualized through library and/or archival research.

Cross-listed: ANTH-3117(3), HIST-3526(3) and HIST-4526(3).

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Department Permission Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and ANTH-3117 | HIST-3526 | HIST-4526.

Requisite Courses: ANTH-2100 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

ANTH-4125 (3) Ethnographic Research Methods (3 hrs Lecture) This course offers students an opportunity to learn and apply ethnographic research and field techniques. Areas of instruction include participant observation, surveys, and interviews, the recording of data in field notes and by such means as video, photography and mapping, and ethical considerations in contemporary research settings. Additional in-depth work is required to receive credit at the 4000 level.

Cross-listed: ANTH-3125(3).

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Department Permission Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and ANTH-3125.

Requisite Courses: ANTH-2100 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

ANTH-4145 (3) Urban Indigenous Seminar (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This seminar examines selected topics dealing with urban Indigenous issues. Topics may include the viability of urban Indigenous governance, urban reserves, and Indigenous education and economic development issues in the inner city. The issue of differing conceptions of Indigenous representation and identity held by various Indigenous organizations is a particularly challenging and contentious issue in the urban context. The portability and applicability of Indigenous and treaty rights in the urban environment may also be explored. We may also analyze the unique problems created by the range of jurisdictional responsibilities towards Indigenous people in the urban environment.

Cross-listed: IS-4445(3) and UIC-4445(3).

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and IS-4445 | UIC-4445.

Requisite Courses: 6 credit hours in UIC courses, or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

ANTH-4200 (3) Archæological Problems (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This seminar is designed to give senior students an opportunity to delve into specific problems in archaeology. Attention is paid to the presentation of individual projects involving library, laboratory, or field experience.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

Requisite Courses: A course in Archaeology/Prehistory at the 2000 or 3000 level or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

ANTH-4206 (3) The Origins of Human Culture (3 hrs Lecture) Looking at developments in the Old World, this course examines the two million year period from the first appearance of human culture to the agricultural revolution some twelve thousand years ago. It emphasizes the increase in cultural complexity and specialization over time, and the way that culture has permitted humans to adapt to their environment. As well as discussing the general nature of the prehistoric record, the course examines such general questions as the origins of cultural behaviour, the ecology and chronology of the Pleistocene period, demographic evolution and reconstruction, and the relationship between cultural and biological evolution. Additional in-depth work is required to receive credit at the 4000 level.

Cross-listed: ANTH/BANT-3206(3), BANT-4206(3).

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Department Permission Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and ANTH-3202 | ANTH-3206 | BANT-3206 | BANT-4206.

Requisite Courses: ANTH-2200 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

ANTH-4210 (3) Archæological Laboratory Methods (3 hrs Lecture) This course focuses on processing, analyzing, and interpreting archaeological materials. It examines a range of specialized techniques for studying lithic, ceramic, botanical, and geological evidence recovered at archaeological sites, and for establishing their temporal context. Additional in-depth work is required to receive credit at the 4000 level.

Cross-listed: ANTH-3210(3).

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Department Permission Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and ANTH-3210.

Requisite Courses: ANTH-2200 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

ANTH-4212 (3) Advanced Zooarchaeology (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This lecture, lab, and seminar course offers in depth examination of select issues in zooarchaeological research and analysis, with special emphasis on the interpretation of human animal relations in past cultures. Topics vary but may include microscopic analysis of bone and teeth, paleoecology, quantification of taxonomic abundance, economic utility indices, mortality profiles, and determination of animal domestication.

Cross-listed: BANT-4212(3).

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and BANT-4212.

Requisite Courses: ANTH-3207 or BANT-3207 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

ANTH-4213 (3) Advanced Archaeological Theory (3 hrs Lecture) Major trends in the development and application of archaeological theory are explored, with special emphasis on perspective initiated since the beginning of the 20th century. Additional in-depth work is required to receive credit at the 4000 level.

Cross-listed: ANTH-3213(3).

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Department Permission Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and ANTH-3213.

Requisite Courses: ANTH-2200 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

ANTH-4230 (6) International Field School (Project / Thesis with variable meeting hours) This field school in Archaeology and Bioarchaeology provides in-depth training in excavation, documentation, and analysis of material from an archaeological site and is typically located outside Canada (previous sessions were held in Serbia and Jamaica). Undergraduate students from University of Winnipeg are given preference in registration, however, the field course is open to upper undergraduate and graduate students from other universities. Students are required to consult the Department chair regarding the yearly location of the field course.

Cross-listed: BANT-4230(6).

Restrictions: Instructor Permission Required. Honours Form Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and BANT-4230.

Requisite Courses: ANTH-2200 and ANTH-2300 [prerequisite(s)].

ANTH-4305 (3) Problems in Biological Anthropology (3 hrs Lecture) This is an advanced seminar designed to examine selected aspects of method and/or theory in biological anthropology. This course may be repeated for credit when the topic varies.

Cross-listed: BANT-4305(3).

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and BANT-4305.

Requisite Courses: ANTH-2300 or BANT-2300 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

ANTH-4307 (3) Advanced Human Osteology (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This course covers analysis and interpretation of human osteological material. Topics include skeletal indicators of demographic, pathological, and nutritional factors, and approaches to the analysis of these types of data. An understanding of basic skeletal identification is assumed.

Note: Permission of the Department Chair is required to register. Students registering with a GPA of less than 3.0 in Anthropology require the instructor's signature.

Cross-listed: BANT-4307(3).

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and ANTH-4304 | BANT-4307.

Requisite Courses: ANTH-3306 (or the former ANTH-4306) or BANT-3306 or permission of the instructor

[prerequisite(s)].

ANTH-4308 (3) Human Evolution (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines the evolution of our species, from the earliest hominins to the appearance of anatomically modern humans. Emphasis is on the material evidence for human evolution, and in particular the fossil record. Topics include the environmental context of human evolution, the anatomical features of bipedalism, and the debates surrounding the origins of Anatomically Modern Homo sapiens: Occasional laboratory sessions enhance and expand upon the material presented in lectures. Additional in-depth work is required to receive credit at the 4000 level.

Cross-listed: ANTH/BANT-3308(3) and BANT-4308(3).

Requisite Courses: ANTH-2300 or BANT-2300 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

ANTH-4311 (3) Human Paleopathology (3 hrs Lecture) This seminar critically examines biological and cultural concepts and perspectives related to the study of health and disease in past populations. Topics include trauma, joint disease, infections, paleoparasitology, congenital disorders, and the role of human behaviour as a determinant of individual and population health outcomes.

Cross-listed: BANT-4311(3).

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and BANT-4311.

Requisite Courses: ANTH-3306 (or the former ANTH-4306) or BANT-3306 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

ANTH-4400 (3) Language Typology (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines and classifies a number of languages by applying the basic concepts of Anthropological Linguistics to analysis of the phonology, morphology, syntax, semantics, and pragmatics of various languages. The structure of these languages is compared and contrasted to explore typological patterns and explain structural diversity of human languages. Relations between the grammar and pragmatic features of the languages are also explored. Additional in-depth work is required to receive credit at the 4000 level.

Cross-listed: ANTH-3400(3), LING-3006(3) and LING-4006(3).

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Department Permission Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and LING-4400.

Requisite Courses: ANTH-2400 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

ANTH-4403 (3) History of Linguistics (3 hrs Lecture) In this course students explore the history of linguistics from Panini, Plato, and Aristotle before the common era, through the centuries until the nineteen sixties. Theorists considered may include Thrax, Priscian, Sweet, Jespersen, Humboldt, Malinowski, Bloomfield, Sapir, and Saussure.

Cross-listed: LING-4001(3).

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and ENGL-4801 | LING-4001.

Requisite Courses: ANTH-3401 or LING-3001 or permission of instructor [prerequisite(s)].

ANTH-4406 (3) Comparative Indo-European

Linguistics and Mythology (3 hrs Lecture) This course proposes an integrated overview of Indo-European tradition based on comparative linguistics, mythology, archaeology, social structure and religion. A survey of Indo-European languages, ancient and modern, including their relationships, writing systems, and sociolinguistic context, is followed by an examination of problems in analysis and reconstruction of Indo-European proto-language and proto-culture. The course further explores major Indo-European mythological and poetic traditions, and possible reconstruction of their common sources. It also examines belief systems, literary continuations of mythopoetic material, archeological evidence and historiographic records. Additional in-depth work is required to receive credit at the 4000 level.

Cross-listed: ANTH-3406(3), LING-3102(3) and LING-4102(3).

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and ANTH-3406 | LING-3102 | LING-4102.

ANTH-4411 (3) Indigenous Languages of South

America (3 hrs Lecture) Presenting an integrated overview of the indigenous languages of South America, this course looks at main language families spoken there, their spatial distribution, history and classification, as well as their cultural background. With 53 language families and 55 isolates, South America is not only the most diverse region in linguistic terms, but also a storehouse of unusual structural features important for understanding the full range of possible variants of human language. The course also explores typological characteristics of South American languages, potential linguistic areas, proposals of more distant relationships, and the current situation of endangered languages in this region. Additional in-depth work is required to receive credit at the 4000-level.

Cross-listed: ANTH-3411(3), LING-3104(3), LING-4104(3), and IS-3104(3).

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and ANTH-3411 | LING-3104 | LING-4104 | IS-3104.

APPLIED COMPUTER SCIENCE

ACS-1453 (3) Introduction to Computers (3 hrs Lecture) This course introduces students to the basic concepts of computers: types of computers, hardware, software, and types of application systems. Students receive instruction in a variety of software intended for personal use. Software used include word processing, spreadsheets, databases, charting and graphing tools, and common Internet clients and resources. There is an extensive laboratory component.

Note: This course does not apply toward the Major or the Minor in Applied Computer Science.

ACS-1803 (3) Introduction to Information Systems (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines applications of information technology to businesses and other organizations. After an introduction to computers and data management, the course outlines various categories of information systems, (e.g., systems for transaction processing, managerial reporting, customer relationship management, decision support, enterprise resource planning, and e-commerce), with examples from current practice. System development, system security, systems consulting, and IT administration are also discussed. Focus is mostly on functional aspects of systems providing a valuable background for students in applied computer science, business and administration, and other disciplines. Students who require an introduction to personal computers and productivity software should take ACS-1453(3).

ACS-1805 (3) Introduction to Programming (3 hrs Lecture | 1 hrs Lab) This course covers elementary procedural programming concepts. Topics include: primitive data types and their manipulation, basic input and output and elementary control structures. In addition, topics related to a specific programming paradigm that is chosen for the course is covered. Students will gain hands-on programming experience in the laboratory component of the course.

Requisite Courses: ACS-1805L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

ACS-1809 (3) Website Design and Development (3 hrs Lecture) This course introduces students to the concepts, programming skills, and tools related to website design and development. The topics include: website layout; creating tables, frames, menus and forms; presenting multimedia on web pages; and Internet Protocols such as HTTP and FTP. Students gain hands-on programming experience in designing websites using HTML and Cascading Style Sheets.

ACS-1903 (3) Programming Fundamentals I (3 hrs Lecture | 1 hrs Lab) This course introduces fundamental programming concepts using an object-oriented programming language. Topics to be covered include primitive data types and their manipulation, control structures, classes, objects and arrays.

Requisite Courses: Pre-Calculus Math 40S or Applied Math 40S or ACS-1805 with a minimum grade of C [prerequisite(s)]; ACS-1903L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

ACS-1904 (3) Programming Fundamentals II (3 hrs Lecture | 1 hrs Lab) This course examines more advanced programming concepts using an object-oriented programming language. Topics to be covered include inheritance, polymorphism, sorting techniques, string processing, interfaces, files and packages.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ACS-1905 | BUSC-1901 | BUSC-1902 | BUS-1904 | BUSC-1905

Requisite Courses: ACS-1903 with a minimum grade of C [prerequisite(s)]; ACS-1904L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

ACS-1905 (3) Programming Fundamentals (3 hrs Lecture | 1 hrs Lab) This course assumes that students already have working knowledge of an object-oriented programming language as well as effective use of data types and control structures. This course begins with an overview of the object-oriented programming language and then more advanced topics in order to extend the student's programming skill. Topics to be covered include inheritance, polymorphism, sorting techniques, string processing, interfaces, files and packages.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ACS-1904 | BUSC-1901 | BUSC-1902 | BUSC-1905.

Requisite Courses: Computer Science 40S or equivalent [prerequisite(s)]; and one of ACS-1805 with a minimum grade of C, Pre-Calculus Math 40S or Applied Math 40S [prerequisite(s)]; ACS-1905L (must be taken concurrently).

ACS-2102 (3) Scientific Computing (3 hrs Lecture) Many problems arising in science are too difficult to solve analytically, and thus require analysis of some form by a computer. Using the language of C/C++, this course introduces the most common programming constructs used in scientific computing. The critical importance of data structures to represent information is emphasized, which naturally leads to an object-oriented approach to problem solving. The use of external libraries, such as those for numerical analysis, to solve more advanced problems are explored, with attention paid to checks that can be made on the reliability of the results.

Cross-listed: PHYS-2102(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and PHYS-2102.

ACS-2103 (3) Numeric and Symbolic Computing (3 hrs Lecture) This course provides an introduction to modern scientific software packages for numeric and symbolic computation that are commonly used in teaching, research and industry. Topics covered include functions, arrays, plotting, and data visualization. In an algorithmic self-contained way, this course introduces and discusses algebra, linear algebra, integration, differentiation, and the solution of differential equations with a focus on real world and scientific applications. Although there is no university-level mathematics prerequisite, comfort with basic algebra and rudimentary ideas in pre-calculus is assumed.

Cross-listed: PHYS-2103(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and PHYS-2103.

Requisite Courses: Pre-calculus Mathematics 40S or permission of the Physics Department [prerequisite(s)]; Strongly recommended: Some knowledge in Introductory Calculus (recommended prerequisite).

ACS-2112 (3) Scientific Computing with Python (3 hrs Lecture) This course introduces the basics of Python needed for scientific computing as well as some higher level data structures and features that are uncommon in lower-level languages such as C and C++. Students learn how to write modules and functions to solve a variety of scientific problems. They also learn how to take advantage of the numerical libraries NumPy and Pandas that extend Python with high-performance vectorized calculations and visualizations. Students also explore other packages, such as matplotlib, Vega-Altair and scikit-learn.

Note: This course is appropriate for all students with an interest in scientific computing, and experience with elementary computer programming is recommended.

Cross-listed: PHYS-2112(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and PHYS-2112.

ACS-2803 (3) Physical Computing: Interacting with the Real World (3 hrs Lecture | 3 hrs Lab) This course introduces computing systems that interact with the physical world. Designing systems of this type involves a combination of software and hardware development. Students are introduced to software development for microcontrollers or single board computers, with a focus on interfacing to sensors and serial communication. Hardware topics include basic circuit theory as well as components such as light emitting diodes (LEDs). In the lab component, students get hands-on experience constructing and troubleshooting circuits as well as controlling hardware with software.

Cross-listed: PHYS-2803(3)

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and PHYS-2803.

Requisite Courses: complete 18 credits [prerequisite(s)]; ACS-2803L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

ACS-2814 (3) Applications of Database Systems (3 hrs Lecture | 1 hrs Lab) This course introduces students with limited computing experience to the principles of data management. The emphasis is on practical database experience reinforced through assignments and weekly laboratory work. Students learn first to work with a workstation-based database system and subsequently they are introduced to the design of databases and their implementation in relational systems. Topics include tables, queries, forms, reports, importing and exporting data, structured query language, entity relationship models, the relational data model, and normalization of databases. Examples, assignments, and laboratory work are drawn from a variety of different disciplines.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ACS-2914.

Requisite Courses: ACS-2814L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

ACS-2816 (3) Health Information Systems (3 hrs Lecture) This course provides an overview of the important topics in Health Informatics. It discusses data as the building block for health care information including the basic concepts of data flow, data storage, and health record management within both private and public health care systems. It then addresses important issues such as security, privacy, and standards.

Requisite Courses: ACS-1803 with a minimum grade of C or permission of the Department Chair [prerequisite(s)].

ACS-2821 (3) Information Security in Business (3 hrs Lecture) The course focuses on the business aspect of information security, what information security is, and why it's important to businesses. Aside from security technologies that can be implemented to safeguard assets, aspects of governance and management of information security are considered. The development of good corporate information technologies policies and procedures, management of operational framework and controls, and information security culture and awareness are discussed in this course.

Requisite Courses: A minimum grade of C in ACS-1803(3) [prerequisite(s)].

ACS-2906 (3) Computer Architecture and System Software (3 hrs Lecture | 1 hrs Lab) The course begins with discussions of the architecture of computer hardware and progresses to an examination of system software, including its relationship to the hardware, its structure and design, and its impact on application software, system developers, and end-users. Operating system concepts such as memory management, process management, and I/O sub-systems are covered. Other topics include language processors, system utilities, security issues, and performance management. The course provides students a hands-on experience of programming at different levels such as high level, assembly, and machine code.

Requisite Courses: ACS-1904 or ACS-1905 with a minimum grade of C [prerequisite(s)]; ACS-2906L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

ACS-2909 (3) Internet Programming (3 hrs Lecture) This course provides students with an overview of Internet and World Wide Web programming, development tools, resources, utilities, multimedia, and security issues. Students will gain hands-on experience in a scripting language such as JavaScript, Rich Internet Applications (RIAs), Web Services, and Mobile Application Development. Students not familiar with HTML and CSS are strongly encouraged to take ACS-1809(3).

Requisite Courses: ACS-1903 or ACS-1905 with a minimum grade of C [prerequisite(s)].

ACS-2913 (3) Software Requirements Analysis and Design (3 hrs Lecture) This course introduces students to the requirements definition phase of software development. It provides coverage of both traditional and object-oriented approaches to requirements analysis and design of software used in business, real-time and embedded applications. Models, notations and processes for requirements elicitation, representation, and design are discussed.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ACS-2911 | ACS-2912.

Requisite Courses: ACS-1903 or ACS-1905 with a minimum grade of C [prerequisite(s)].

ACS-2916 (3) Business Application Systems (3 hrs Lecture | 1 hrs Lab) This course firstly presents structured models for business processes and data needed in common transaction processing systems such as order entry, invoicing, accounts receivable and payable, purchasing, inventory and general ledger. Also, system support for manufacturing (e.g., supply chain management, robotics), for marketing (e.g., sales force automation, customer relationship management), and for human resource management (e.g., candidate selection, collective bargaining support) is highlighted, and inter-system interfaces are considered. Large, organization-wide, integrated enterprise resource planning (ERP) systems are discussed in the context of a business case. System controls and security issues are outlined for the systems studied.

Requisite Courses: ACS-1803 with a minimum grade of C [prerequisite(s)]; ACS-2916L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

ACS-2941 (3) Unix (3 hrs Lecture) This course provides students with advanced concepts and knowledge of Unix, one of the most widely used operating systems. The course introduces students to such topics as shells, filters and pipelines, the Unix file system, processes and job control, and Internet communications. Emphasis is placed on Unix shell programming, which provides valuable tools for developing powerful applications with a minimal amount of written code.

Requisite Courses: ACS-1903 or ACS-1805 with a minimum grade of C [prerequisite(s)].

ACS-2947 (3) Data Structures and Algorithms (3 hrs Lecture | 1 hrs Lab) This course introduces fundamental data structures using an object-oriented programming language. Topics to be covered include vectors, multidimensional arrays, linked lists, stacks, queues, trees, graphs, recursion and algorithms.

Requisite Courses: ACS-1904 or ACS-1905 with a minimum grade of C [prerequisite(s)]; ACS-2947L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

ACS-2951 (3) System Administration and Networking (3 hrs Lecture) This course covers basic system administration issues of Unix and Windows operating systems (OS), principles of networking, and TCP/IP (the Internet). Students are introduced to topics such as system installation and maintenance, system, and network security and setting up different application servers such as web and SQL. Students will gain considerable hands-on experience in installing, managing, and trouble-shooting networks on the Linux and Windows platforms.

Note: In addition to Le3 there is also a La1.

Requisite Courses: ACS-2941 with a minimum grade of C [prerequisite(s)].

ACS-3700 (3) Health Informatics Practicum (3 hrs Apprenticeship/Internship/Practicum) Health Informatics Practicum is a work placement in a healthcare environment. The course facilitates professional working experience in a sponsoring health-related organization. The evaluation of the student's performance is determined by the employer's performance evaluation, a work-term performance report submitted by the student, and the departmental co-operative supervisor's evaluation. This course is graded on a pass/fail basis. Approval must be obtained from the supervising faculty member as well as from the Department Chair before enrollment.

Note: This course can only be taken once for credit towards a 3-year BA/BSc ACS degree program (Health Informatics Stream). Requisites: Students should normally have completed 30 credit hours in the Health Informatics Stream and a 3.0 GPA or Department Chair's permission.

Cross-listed: COOP-3999(0 or 3).

Restrictions: Department Permission Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and COOP-3999.

ACS-3801 (3) Principles in Information Systems (3 hrs Lecture) This course is the final course for the 3 year degree in the Information Systems and the Health Informatics streams. The course can provide integration (e.g., project management), or provide more depth in specific areas of Information Systems in order to address specific thematic needs.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ACS-3901 | BUSC-3901 | BUSC-3920.

Requisite Courses: ACS-2814 (or the former ACS-2914), ACS-2909, ACS-2913, and ACS-2816 or ACS-2916 with a minimum grade of C [prerequisite(s)].

ACS-3830 (3) Topics in Information Systems (3 hrs Lecture) This course treats specific topics in various areas of Information Systems of interest to the students, faculty members, and industry partners. This course integrates practical experience with the study of information systems in large organizations. The course is specifically designed for Information Systems stream students entering the work force. Students learn the strict professional requirements like quality assurance, standard compliances, risk containments, and integration issues. The industry partner provides students with organizational level requirements and input.

Requisite Courses: ACS-2814, ACS-2909, ACS-2913, and ACS-2916 with a minimum grade of C and permission of the Department Chair [prerequisite(s)].

ACS-3901 (3) Principles of Software Project

Management (3 hrs Lecture) This course covers principles and techniques of software project management, with emphasis on the theoretical underpinnings of the competencies that are associated with software project management. The key concepts of project planning, organization, and control are covered. Specific topics covered include task breakdown; estimating, scheduling, and tracking; process and project metrics; change control; risk analysis and management; software quality and reliability models; quality assurance; and configuration management.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course

and ACS-3801 | BUSC-3901 | BUSC-3920.

Requisite Courses: ACS-1904, ACS-2913 (or the former ACS-2911 and ACS-2912), and ACS-2814 (or the former ACS-2914), with a minimum grade of C [prerequisite(s)].

ACS-3902 (3) Database Systems (3 hrs Lecture) This course introduces the theory of relational, network, and hierarchical models. It covers in detail the techniques utilized in various stages of a relational database software development life cycle. These techniques include ERDs, relational models, functional dependencies, normalization, and physical data storage mechanisms. Query language fundamentals including relational algebra and SQL are also covered. A project involving the design and implementation of a database is required.

Requisite Courses: ACS-2814 (or the former ACS-2914) with a minimum grade of C [prerequisite(s)].

ACS-3907 (3) eCommerce (3 hrs Lecture) In this course our students explore new opportunities, risks, and technologies related to electronic commerce. Both business and technical issues are addressed. Business issues include the role of eCommerce in the marketing plan and organizational strategy in both business-to customer and business-to-business contexts. Technical topics include architecture, application models, payment strategies and security. This course is designed for double majors in Applied Computer Science and Business and Administration.

Note: For students who are not familiar with HTML and CSS, it is strongly recommended to take ACS-1809 prior to enrolling in ACS-3907.

Requisite Courses: ACS-1803 with a minimum grade of C or permission of the Department Chair [prerequisite(s)]; ACS-1809 or ACS-2909 (must be taken previously or at the same time as this course).

ACS-3909 (3) Advanced Internet Programming (3 hrs Lecture) This course provides students with a thorough knowledge of server-side web programming. Topics include n-tiered systems, session tracking, interfaces and stereotypes, dynamic web page design, database connections, and XML processing. Students gain considerable knowledge and experience by learning important features needed for e-commerce, applying advanced web application techniques, and utilizing web databases.

Requisite Courses: ACS-1904, ACS-2909, ACS-2814 (or the former ACS-2914) with a minimum grade of C [prerequisite(s)].

ACS-3911 (3) Computer Networks (3 hrs Lecture) This course is an introduction to fundamental concepts in computer networks. It covers the principles, technology, protocols, and algorithms of computer networks. The layers of the network stack are discussed, with particular focus on the internet network stack. Topics of discussion include network technologies, simple and sliding window protocols, routing and routing algorithms, congestion control, quality of service, security, and network applications.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ACS-3811.

Requisite Courses: ACS-2909 and ACS-2913 (or the former ACS-2911 and ACS-2912) with a minimum grade of C [prerequisite(s)].

ACS-3913 (3) Software Design and Architecture (3 hrs Lecture) This is an advanced course in software design that examines recent advances in the design of larger application systems. Topics include software architecture, object-oriented analysis and design, software patterns, and the Unified Modeling Language (UML).

Requisite Courses: ACS-2913 (or the former ACS-2911 and ACS-2912) and ACS-2947 with a minimum grade of C [prerequisite(s)].

ACS-3916 (3) Human Computer Interaction (3 hrs Lecture) This course covers the fundamentals and concepts of design, implementation, and evaluation of human-computer interfaces. Topics include human cognitive aspects; user-centered design; design goals and principles; interface and interaction types; prototyping and construction; and evaluation methods. In order to make a balance between theory and practice, emphasis is placed on a course-end project involving design, implementation and evaluation of the user interface for a specific application.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ACS-3816.

Requisite Courses: ACS-2909 and ACS-2814 (or the former ACS-2914) with a minimum grade of C [prerequisite(s)].

ACS-3921 (3) Computer Security and Privacy (3 hrs Lecture | 1 hrs Lab) This course introduces students to the security and privacy issues in computer systems. It covers the fundamental computer security techniques such as encryption methods, public key cryptography, hash function and signature schemes, key exchange protocols, authentication and access control models. The course also examines the applications of these techniques for multimedia security, intrusion detection, copyright and password protection, and protection from malicious programs. Privacy preserving techniques such as data aggregation, perturbation, k-anonymity and l-diversity, and ethical issues are also discussed. Students at the ACS-4921(3) level additionally undertake comprehensive project on a topic related to computer security and privacy.

Cross-listed: ACS-4921(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ACS-4921.

Requisite Courses: ACS-2906 and ACS-2947 with a minimum grade of C, or permission of the Department Chair [prerequisite(s)]; Take ACS-3921L (must be taken concurrently).

ACS-3922 (3) Introduction to Game Development (3 hrs Lecture) This course is an introduction to game design and development, with a focus on the development of 2D and 3D interactive video games. Topics include the iterative process of game design: analysis, design, prototyping, development, and playtesting; game architecture and mechanics, working with art assets (sprites, textures and models), animation, collision detection, basic artificial intelligence, game management, game user interface, development and deployment for different platforms. Through the exploration of classic video game designs and the use of industry-standard game development tools, students gain hands-on practical experience and a thorough understanding of the basics of game design and development.

Restrictions: Students may not receive credit for this course and ACS-3930 with Game Development as a topic.

Requisite Courses: ACS-2947 with a minimum grade of C [prerequisite(s)].

ACS-3923 (3) Technical Communications in ICT

Professions (3 hrs Lecture) This course addresses written and oral communication in Information and Communication Technology (ICT) work environments. Effective communication with technical personnel, system users and organizational executives are emphasized. This will include items of business correspondence, common technical documents in system development and items of end-user documentation. Students will not only learn about content and format of items of writing but will also develop writing skills through numerous practical exercises. Oral communication in requirements elicitation, meetings, and professional presentations will also be included.

Requisite Courses: ACS-2913 (or the former ACS-2911 and ACS-2912) with a minimum grade of C or permission of the Department Chair [prerequisite(s)].

ACS-3930 (3) Topics in Applied Computer Science

(3 hrs Lecture) This course treats specific topics in various areas of applied computer science of interest to the student and faculty member.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and BUSC-3930.

Requisite Courses: ACS-2913 (or the former ACS-2911 and ACS-2912) and ACS-2947 with a minimum grade of C [prerequisite(s)].

ACS-3931 (3) Principles of Operating Systems

(3 hrs Lecture) This course covers the principles and design of operating systems. In the first half of the course students are introduced to multiprogramming and become familiar with the process and thread abstractions. Students are introduced to concurrent programming. Topics include: mutual exclusion, synchronization, and inter-process communication. The second half of the course introduces students to the roles and components of operating systems, and how these components interact. Topics include process control, memory management, file systems, and input/output.

Requisite Courses: ACS-2906 and ACS-2947 with a minimum grade of C [prerequisite(s)].

ACS-3941 (3) Implementation Issues in Object

Oriented Languages (3 hrs Lecture) This course focuses on advanced features of a contemporary OO language. Emphasis is on implementation issues and strengthening programming skills of students.

Requisite Courses: ACS-2913 (or the former ACS-2911 and ACS-2912) and ACS-2947 with a minimum grade of C [prerequisite(s)].

ACS-3947 (3) Algorithm Design

(3 hrs Lecture) This course focuses on the connection between data structures and the corresponding algorithms, including simple analysis of computational complexity. The emphasis is on comparative study of alternate ways to implement solutions to computing problems.

Requisite Courses: ACS-2913 (or the former ACS-2911 and ACS-2912) and ACS-2947 with a minimum grade of C [prerequisite(s)].

ACS-3953 (3) Introduction to Artificial Intelligence

(3 hrs Lecture) This course introduces the core concepts of Artificial Intelligence (AI) and practical implementation using Python. Students explore AI agents, heuristic and local search strategies, constraint satisfaction problems, adversarial search in games, and logical agents. The curriculum emphasizes solving real-world problems such as optimization, game strategy, and logical reasoning through hands-on projects and examples. By the end of the course, participants have a solid foundation in AI principles and the Python skills needed to develop intelligent solutions, preparing them for advanced study or careers in AI and related fields.

Note: Students not familiar with Python are strongly encouraged to take ACS-1905(3) or ACS/PHYS-2112(3).

Restrictions: Students may not receive credit for this course and ACS-3930 with Introduction to Artificial Intelligence as a topic.

Requisite Courses: Data Structures and Algorithms (ACS-2947), one of MATH- 1101, MATH-1103, MATH-1104, MATH-1201, MATH-1401, and any 3 credit hour Statistics course at or above the 1000 level with a minimum grade of C [prerequisite(s)].

ACS-4306 (3) Applied Parallel Programming

(3 hrs Lecture | 1 hrs Lab) This course focuses on parallel and distributed computing in high-performance scientific application, using the parallel execution model, a generalization of the traditional single threaded paradigm. The course covers multi-core processors, concurrency, parallel execution, latency, communication and coordination among processes, message passing, shared-memory models, optimization techniques, parallel algorithms, decomposition strategies, system architecture, and performance analysis and tuning. Using the language C/C++, students gain hands on experience writing scalable parallel applications for Graphics Processing Units.

Note: Students who have taken ACS-4306 will not be eligible to take the Master of Science course GACS-7306.

Requisite Courses: ACS-2947 with a minimum grade of C+ and ACS-3913 with a minimum grade of C [prerequisite(s)]; ACS-4306L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

ACS-4901 (6) Senior Systems Development Project

(3 hrs Lecture | Project / Thesis) This course applies the principles and techniques of software project management covered in ACS-3901(3) to a significant systems development project undertaken by students in teams. A project proposal, project plan, regular status reports, and a completion report are required. All work must conform to proper analysis, design, programming, and documentation standards. Each team holds status reviews at appropriate life-cycle milestones. A final presentation and a formal demonstration of the system are required at the end of the project.

Restrictions: Department Chair Perm Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and BUSC-3920 | BUSC-4901.

Requisite Courses: ACS-2814 (or the former ACS-2914), ACS-3901, ACS-3902, ACS-3909 and ACS-3913 with a minimum grade of C, and a minimum Average GPA of 2.0 in all ACS-xxxx courses previously taken [prerequisite(s)].

ACS-4902 (3) Advanced Database Systems (3 hrs Lecture) This course is a continuation of ACS-3902(3). It deals with advanced topics in database design, use, and administration. Database design topics include enhanced ER diagrams and object-oriented data modelling. Other topics include transaction processing, concurrency control and recovery, security, and integrity. Object-oriented databases and client-server architectures will also be discussed.

Requisite Courses: ACS-2947 and ACS-3902 with a minimum grade of C [prerequisite(s)].

ACS-4904 (3) Data Warehousing (3 hrs Lecture) This course explores the role of data warehouses in supporting decision-making in organizations. Topics include definition of a data warehouse; extracting, cleansing, and transforming data; building and maintaining the warehouse; meta data; dimensional analysis and multidimensional modeling; multidimensional data structures; Star schemas; OLAP (On Line Analytical Processing); drilling down and across; and web deployment.

Requisite Courses: ACS-3902 with a minimum grade of C [prerequisite(s)].

ACS-4906 (3) Conceptual Modeling (3 hrs Lecture) This course explores the role of conceptual modeling in the development of information systems. A conceptual model is an abstraction of reality that serves as a communication mechanism between the stakeholders of a system and its developers. The course covers various approaches proposed for conceptual modeling including UML, EERD, and ORM. Students gain considerable practical experience with pertinent software tools.

Requisite Courses: ACS-3902 with a minimum grade of C [prerequisite(s)].

ACS-4921 (3) Computer Security and Privacy (3 hrs Lecture | 1 hrs Lab) This course introduces students to the security and privacy issues in computer systems. It covers the fundamental computer security techniques such as encryption methods, public key cryptography, hash function and signature schemes, key exchange protocols, authentication and access control models. The course also examines the applications of these techniques for multimedia security, intrusion detection, copyright and password protection, and protection from malicious programs. Privacy preserving techniques such as data aggregation, perturbation, k-anonymity and l-diversity, and ethical issues are also discussed. Students at the ACS-4921 level additionally undertake a comprehensive project on a topic related to computer security and privacy.
Cross-listed: ACS-3921(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ACS-3921.

Requisite Courses: ACS-2906 and ACS-2947 with a minimum grade of C or permission of the Department Chair [prerequisite(s)]; ACS-4921L (must be taken concurrently).

ACS-4930 (6) Research Project in Applied Computer Science (3 hrs Directed Reading) This course is designed to allow a student to conduct a specific research project under the supervision of a faculty member. An essential component of the course is an oral presentation and a written report of the results. Approval for the planned project must be obtained from the supervising faculty member as well as from the Department Chair before enrolment.

Restrictions: Department Permission Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and BUSC-4930.

Requisite Courses: 30 credit hours of course work in Applied Computer Science and written permission from the Department Chair [prerequisite(s)].

ACS-4931 (3) Research Project in Applied Computer Science (3 hrs Directed Reading) This course is designed to allow a student to conduct a specific research project under the supervision of a faculty member. An essential component of the course is an oral presentation and a written report of the results. Approval for the planned project must be obtained from the supervising faculty member as well as from the Department Chair before enrolment.

Restrictions: Department Permission Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and BUSC-4931.

Requisite Courses: 30 credit hours of course work in Applied Computer Science and written permission from the Department Chair [prerequisite(s)].

ACS-4953 (3) Introduction to Machine Learning (3 hrs Lecture) This course is an introduction to the broad field of machine learning. Machine learning provides the technical basis for data mining. This course examines the foundations and implementations of several machine learning algorithms. Specific topics include: rule and tree-based classifiers, bayesian models, clustering techniques and numeric prediction. Popular machine learning tool sets will be used to gain practical hands-on experience in i) preparing the data, ii) applying the various learning techniques and iii) interpreting the credibility of the results.

Requisite Courses: ACS-3902, one of MATH-1101, MATH-1103, MATH-1104, MATH-1201, MATH-1401, and any 3 credit hour Statistics course at or above the 1000 level with a minimum grade of C [prerequisite(s)].

ACS-4954 (3) Introduction to Distributed Systems (3 hrs Lecture) This course is an introduction to the broad field of distributed systems. It focuses on introducing students to the benefits, challenges, methods, and implementations of distributed systems. Reasons for deploying distributed systems, such as fault tolerance and agglomeration of computational resources are discussed. Other topics include implementation challenges such as synchronization and replication in the presence of faults. Common system architectures that address some of these challenges are also introduced. Students are expected to implement some of these architectures to reinforce the lecture material.

Requisite Courses: ACS-2906, ACS-3911 or ACS-3931 and one of the Math courses MATH-1101, MATH-1103, MATH-1104, MATH-1201, MATH-1401 with a minimum grade of C [prerequisite(s)].

BIOANTHROPOLOGY

BANT-2119 (3) Medical Anthropology (3 hrs Lecture)

Medical anthropology is a subfield of anthropology. It informs our understandings of the experiences and distribution of health, the prevention and the treatment of the sick in different cultural groups and the role of pluralistic medical systems. Critical health disparities between marginalized populations in developed countries as well as between developing and developed countries are increasingly prevalent and complex in nature. This course looks at ethnomedicine, disease ecology and Indigenous perspectives on health and illness.

Cross-listed: ANTH-2119(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ANTH-2119.

Requisite Courses: ANTH-1001(6), ANTH-1002(3) or ANTH-1005(3) or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

BANT-2216 (3) Archaeology in Popular Culture (3 hrs Lecture) From Indiana Jones to Tomb Raider to YouTubers covering the discovery and excavation of prior sites of human occupation, Archaeology holds a special place in the public imagination. Archaeologists have been depicted in popular culture through many formats, including movies and TV shows, literature and comics, news media, video games and more. This course critically assesses the ways in which archaeology is presented to the general public, by both archaeologists and non-archaeologists, and evaluates how the representation of archaeologists matters (or should matter) to a general audience.

Cross-listed: ANTH-2216(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ANTH-2216.

Requisite Courses: Minimum 18 credit hours in any subject or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

BANT-2300 (3) Method and Theory in Biological

Anthropology (3 hrs Lecture) This core course examines the theoretical framework of Biological (Physical) Anthropology and the nature of current human biological variation. Topics include evolutionary theory, human genetics, modern human biological variation, human adaptation to the environment, and demographic processes.

Cross-listed: ANTH-2300(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ANTH-2300.

Requisite Courses: ANTH-1001 or ANTH-1003 or any 1000-level Biology course, or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

BANT-2304 (3) Introduction to Forensic Anthropology

(3 hrs Lecture) This course introduces key aspects of forensic anthropology in a framework that is not dependent upon prior knowledge of scientific methods. Topics include approaches to the interpretation of skeletal remains and DNA evidence, and the application of information from other sciences to forensic analysis.

Cross-listed: ANTH-2304(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ANTH-2304.

Requisite Courses: Completion of 30 credit hours [prerequisite(s)].

BANT-3206 (3) The Origins of Human Culture (3 hrs Lecture) Looking at developments in the Old World, this course examines the two million year period from the first appearance of human culture to the agricultural revolution some twelve thousand years ago. It emphasizes the increase in cultural complexity and specialization over time, and the way that culture has permitted humans to adapt to their environment. As well as discussing the general nature of the prehistoric record, the course examines such general questions as the origins of cultural behaviour, the ecology and chronology of the Pleistocene period, demographic evolution and reconstruction, and the relationship between cultural and biological evolution. Additional in-depth work is required to receive credit at the 4000 level.

Cross-listed: ANTH-3206(3), ANTH/BANT-4206(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ANTH-3202 | ANTH-3206 | ANTH-4206 | BANT-4206.

Requisite Courses: ANTH-2200 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

BANT-3207 (3) Zooarchaeology (3 hrs Lecture) This course introduces analytical and theoretical aspects of zooarchaeology through lectures and laboratory exercises focusing on the comparative skeletal anatomy of various mammal, bird, fish, amphibian, and reptile species. Topics include post-depositional changes to bones, sampling and recovering faunal remains, ageing and sexing of bone, reconstructing past environments and human dietary strategies, evidence of animal domestication, and bone tool technology.

Cross-listed: ANTH-3207(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ANTH-3207.

Requisite Courses: ANTH-2200 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

BANT-3306 (3) Human Osteology (3 hrs Lecture) This course covers basic human osteological development and identification. Topics include indicators of age and sex and comparison of primate and non-primate features. Emphasis is on the laboratory identification of complete and incomplete human skeletal material.

Cross-listed: ANTH-3306(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ANTH-3306 | ANTH-4306.

Requisite Courses: Credit in at least one course in Physical/Biological Anthropology, or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

BANT-3308 (3) Human Evolution (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines the evolution of our species, from the earliest hominins to the appearance of anatomically modern humans. Emphasis is on the material evidence for human evolution, and in particular the fossil record. Topics include the environmental context of human evolution, the anatomical features of bipedalism, and the debates surrounding the origins of Anatomically Modern Homo sapiens: Occasional laboratory sessions enhance and expand upon the material presented in lectures.

Cross-listed: ANTH-3308(3), ANTH/BANT-4308(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ANTH-3308 | ANTH-4308 | BANT-4308.

Requisite Courses: ANTH-2300 or BANT-2300 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

BANT-4001 (3 or 6) Directed Readings/Research in Anthropology (3 hrs Directed Reading) This is a course which enables a student to acquaint himself or herself with the frontiers of Anthropological knowledge. In conjunction with an Instructor the student prepares a formal paper. This may be based upon specialized library research, laboratory work or field work.

Cross-listed: ANTH-4001

Restrictions: Instructor Permission Required. Honours Form Required.

BANT-4011 (6) Anthropology Honours Thesis (3 hrs Thesis) This course is intended for but not restricted to students in the Honours program. Students undertake an independent research project in an area of anthropological interest. Presentation of the results verbally and in thesis form to the Anthropology Department is an integral part of the course. Each project is supervised by a faculty member.

Cross-listed: ANTH-4011(6).

Restrictions: Department Permission Required. Instructor Permission Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and ANTH-4011.

Requisite Courses: 9 credit hours from ANTH-2100, ANTH-2200, ANTH-2300, or ANTH-2400 (as appropriate to the thesis topic) plus at least 6 credit hours at the 3000 level and 6 credit hours from the 4000 level [prerequisite(s)].

BANT-4206 (3) The Origins of Human Culture (3 hrs Lecture) Looking at developments in the Old World, this course examines the two million year period from the first appearance of human culture to the agricultural revolution some twelve thousand years ago. It emphasizes the increase in cultural complexity and specialization over time, and the way that culture has permitted humans to adapt to their environment. As well as discussing the general nature of the prehistoric record, the course examines such general questions as the origins of cultural behaviour, the ecology and chronology of the Pleistocene period, demographic evolution and reconstruction, and the relationship between cultural and biological evolution. Additional in-depth work is required to receive credit at the 4000 level.

Cross-listed: ANTH/BANT-3206(3), ANTH-4206(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ANTH-3202 | ANTH-3206 | ANTH-4206 | BANT-3206.

Requisite Courses: ANTH-2200 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

BANT-4212 (3) Advanced Zooarchaeology (3 hrs Lecture) This lecture, lab, and seminar course offers in depth examination of select issues in zooarchaeological research and analysis, with special emphasis on the interpretation of human animal relations in past cultures.

Topics vary but may include microscopic analysis of bone and teeth, paleoecology, quantification of taxonomic abundance, economic utility indices, mortality profiles, and determination of animal domestication.

Cross-listed: ANTH-4212(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ANTH-4212.

Requisite Courses: ANTH-3207 or BANT-3207 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

BANT-4230 (6) International Field School (Project / Thesis with variable meeting hours) This field school in Archaeology and Bioarchaeology provides in-depth training in excavation, documentation, and analysis of material from an archaeological site and is typically located outside Canada (previous sessions were held in Serbia and Jamaica). Undergraduate students from University of Winnipeg are given preference in registration, however, the field course is open to upper undergraduate and graduate students from other universities. Students are required to consult the Department Chair regarding the yearly location of the field course.

Cross-listed: ANTH-4230(6).

Restrictions: Instructor Permission Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and ANTH-4230.

Requisite Courses: ANTH-2200 and ANTH-2300 [prerequisite(s)].

BANT-4303 (3) Problems in Human and Primate Evolution (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This is an advanced seminar designed to examine selected aspects of human and/or primate evolution in detail.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ANTH-4303.

Requisite Courses: At least one course in Biological Anthropology or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

BANT-4305 (3) Problems in Biological Anthropology (3 hrs Lecture) This is an advanced seminar designed to examine selected aspects of method and/or theory in biological anthropology. This course may be repeated for credit when the topic varies.

Cross-listed: ANTH-4305(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ANTH-4305.

Requisite Courses: ANTH-2300 or BANT-2300 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

BANT-4307 (3) Advanced Human Osteology (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This course covers analysis and interpretation of human osteological material. Topics include skeletal indicators of demographic, pathological, and nutritional factors, and approaches to the analysis of these types of data. An understanding of basic skeletal identification is assumed.

Note: Permission of the Department Chair is required to register. Students registering with a GPA of less than 3.0 in Anthropology require the instructor's signature.

Cross-listed: ANTH-4307(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ANTH-4304 | ANTH-4307.

Requisite Courses: ANTH-3306 (or the former ANTH-4306) or BANT-3306 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

BANT-4308 (3) Human Evolution (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines the evolution of our species, from the earliest hominins to the appearance of anatomically modern humans. Emphasis is on the material evidence for human evolution, and in particular the fossil record. Topics include the environmental context of human evolution, the anatomical features of bipedalism, and the debates surrounding the origins of Anatomically Modern Homo sapiens: Occasional laboratory sessions enhance and expand upon the material presented in lectures. Additional in-depth work is required to receive credit at the 4000 level.

Cross-listed: ANTH-4308(3), ANTH/BANT-3308(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ANTH-3308 | ANTH-4308 | BANT-3308.

Requisite Courses: ANTH-2300 or BANT-2300 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

BANT-4311 (3) Human Palaeopathology (3 hrs Lecture)

This seminar critically examines biological and cultural concepts and perspectives related to the study of health and disease in past populations. Topics include trauma, joint disease, infections, paleoparasitology, congenital disorders, and the role of human behaviour as a determinant of individual and population health outcomes.

Cross-listed: ANTH-4311(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ANTH-4311.

Requisite Courses: ANTH-3306 (or the former ANTH-4306) or BANT-3306 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

BIOLOGY

BIOL-1005 (6) Concepts in Science (3 hrs Lecture) This course explores science at a qualitative level from this interdisciplinary viewpoint, with an aim to foster scientific literacy and develop critical thinking skills that are so crucial in today's society. Topics are drawn from biology, chemistry, geography, and physics, and range from the large - the universe, the earth, and ecosystems - to the small - cells, molecules, and atoms. Emphasis is placed on the unifying concepts running through such diversity, with activities and demonstrations forming an integral component.

Cross-listed: MULT-1005(6) and PHYS-1005(6).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and MULT-1005 | PHYS-1005.

BIOL-1102 (6) Biology and Human Concerns (3 hrs Lecture) This course deals with the chemistry of life, cellular structure and function, genetics, natural ecosystems, impact of human populations and activities, food and water safety issues, consumer health awareness, global and Manitoban environmental concerns.

BIOL-1103 (6) Human Biology (3 hrs Lecture) This course deals with the fundamental principles of anatomy, physiology, reproduction, and development. It deals with biological theories and practices using humans as the principal example.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and KIN-2204.

BIOL-1106 (3) Environmental Biology (3 hrs Lecture) This course will provide students with an understanding of the interrelationship of living organisms with each other and with their environment. The course will examine the following: the biological basis of environmental damage caused by human population growth; the use and depletion of resources; pollution; and ways in which environmental problems can be minimized.

Note: BIOL-1106 may be used towards fulfilling the science requirement for the BA degree. This course cannot be used to fulfill the requirements for the Biology major. Students must obtain credit in both BIOL-1115(3) and BIOL-1116(3) to satisfy the requirements for a major in Biology. Students can elect to take up to 6 additional credit hours at the 1000 level; however, these additional credit hours will not count towards the requirement for a major in Biology. Students who wish to use BIOL-1112(6) (Human Anatomy and Physiology) as a prerequisite for advanced courses in Biology must obtain the permission of the Department Chair.

BIOL-1112 (6) Human Anatomy and Physiology (3 hrs Lecture | 3 hrs Lab) This course deals with the biological study of the human organism; microscopic and gross anatomy; cellular and general physiology, and human genetics. This course is a prerequisite for the Degree program in Athletic Therapy.

Note: Students who wish to use this course as a prerequisite for advanced courses in Biology must obtain the permission of the Department Chair. Students must obtain credit in both BIOL-1115(3) and BIOL-1116(3) to satisfy the requirements for a major in Biology. Students can elect to take up to 6 additional credit hours at the 1000 level; however, these additional credit hours will not count towards the requirement for a major in Biology. Students who wish to use BIOL-1112(6) (Human Anatomy and Physiology) as a prerequisite for advanced courses in Biology must obtain the permission of the Department Chair. Requisite Courses: BIOL-1112L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

BIOL-1115 (3) Cells and Cellular Processes (3 hrs Lecture | 3 hrs Lab) This course focuses on the structural components, biochemistry, and physiology of cells. Special topics include macromolecules and cellular structure and function, basics of metabolism, cellular respiration and photosynthesis, cell division, Mendelian genetics, DNA structure and replication, transcription, and translation. The laboratory component introduces students to lab procedures and further supports lecture content. This course is appropriate for students who are enrolled in a (a) a BSc in Biology, Bioanthropology, Biochemistry or Environmental Sciences, (b) a teaching major or minor in BEd, or (c) the B Stream of the BA in Developmental Studies. Cells and Cellular Processes is a prerequisite for all 2000-, 3000- and 4000-level courses in Biology. It is also a required for various professional programs, including Dentistry, Optometry, Pharmacy, and Veterinary Medicine. Note: Students must obtain credit in both BIOL-1115(3) and BIOL-1116(3) to satisfy the requirements for a major in Biology.

Requisite Courses: Pre-Calculus Math 40S or Applied Math 40S, and Chemistry 40S [prerequisite(s)]; BIOL-1115L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

BIOL-1116 (3) Evolution, Ecology and Biodiversity (3 hrs Lecture | 3 hrs Lab) This course surveys evolution, ecology and biodiversity. Specific topics include evolutionary mechanisms, microevolution, speciation, phylogeny, systematics, eukaryote and prokaryote diversity, behavioural, population, community and ecosystem ecology, and conservation biology. The laboratory emphasizes the diversity of living organisms. Note: Evolution, Ecology and Biodiversity is a prerequisite for all 2000-, 3000- and 4000-level courses in Biology. It is also a required course for entry to Agriculture, Dentistry, Human Ecology, Medical Rehabilitation, Nursing Education, Optometry, Pharmacy, and Veterinary Medicine. Students must obtain credit in both BIOL-1115(3) and BIOL-1116(3) to satisfy the requirements for a major in Biology.

Requisite Courses: Pre-Calculus Mathematics 40S or Applied Mathematics 40S, and Chemistry 40S [prerequisite(s)]; BIOL-1116L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

BIOL-2101 (3) Interpretation of Data in Biological Sciences (3 hrs Lecture | 2 hrs Lab) This course introduces students to topics associated with the analysis and interpretation of scientific data. The scientific method and experimental design are discussed, along with methods and approaches to assess and interpret biological data. The lab component provides instruction in the use of both spreadsheets and statistical software to display, summarize, and present results. Communication of data summaries using styles and formats specific to various disciplines in Biology (oral, visual, and written) are covered.

Note: It is strongly recommended that students complete STAT-1301 or STAT-1501 and RHET-1103 or RHET-1105 prior to taking this course. STAT-1302 or STAT-2001 are recommended corequisites.

Experimental Course - This course is offered on a trial basis to gauge interest in the topic. Students who successfully complete this course receive credit as indicated.

Requisite Courses: BIOL-1115 and BIOL-1116 [prerequisite(s)]; STAT-1301 or STAT-1501 and RHET-1103 or RHET-1105 (recommended to be taken previously or at the same time as this course); BIOL-2101L (must be taken concurrently).

BIOL-2111 (6) Comparative Chordate Zoology (3 hrs Lecture | 3 hrs Lab) This course deals with the functional anatomy, adaptations, and evolution of the Protochordata, Agnatha, Chondrichthyes, Osteichthyes, Amphibia, Reptilia, Aves, and Mammalia.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and BIOL-2116.

Requisite Courses: BIOL-1115 and BIOL-1116 [prerequisite(s)]; BIOL-2111L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

BIOL-2115 (3) Biology of the Invertebrates (3 hrs Lecture | 3 hrs Lab) This course provides a synopsis of the major taxa of invertebrates to demonstrate the richness in diversity of this dominant sub-group of animals and to illustrate their importance to the functioning of natural ecosystems. Major aspects of invertebrate biology that distinguish invertebrates from and unite them with other taxa are considered in detail. The major biological pillars - anatomy, physiology, behaviour, ecology and evolution - are emphasized from a systems approach with appropriate, comparative examples drawn from different invertebrate groups to explain how disparate animal groups solve similar survival and reproductive problems posed by a common environment.

Requisite Courses: BIOL-1115 and BIOL-1116 [prerequisite(s)]; BIOL-2115L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

BIOL-2116 (3) Biology of the Vertebrates (3 hrs Lecture | 3 hrs Lab) This course introduces students to the evolution, ecology, diversity, and functional anatomy of vertebrate animals including fishes, amphibians, reptiles, birds and mammals. We examine different lines of evidence used to investigate vertebrate evolution, including paleontology, evolutionary developmental biology and cladistics ("tree-thinking"). When reviewing the major groups, we focus on major transformations in vertebrate life (e.g., the basic body plan, the move from water to land, the origin of flights) and the behaviour, ecology and conservation of specific groups. We highlight species of vertebrates found in Manitoba and Canada.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and BIOL-2111.

Requisite Courses: BIOL-1115 and BIOL-1116 [prerequisite(s)]; BIOL-2116L (must be taken concurrently).

BIOL-2152 (3) Introduction to Algae, Fungi and Mosses (3 hrs Lecture | 3 hrs Lab) This course provides an introduction to the morphology, life histories, evolution and ecology of the algae, fungi, mosses and their allies. Emphasis will be placed on local organisms. The laboratory work is a major component of the course.

Requisite Courses: BIOL-1115 and BIOL-1116 [prerequisite(s)]; BIOL-2152L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

BIOL-2153 (3) Biology of Vascular Plants (3 hrs Lecture | 3 hrs Lab) This course explores the evolution and ecology of the nine extant groups of vascular plants. Their success in ancient and contemporary environments is examined through consideration of structural diversity, life history, and reproductive biology. Emphasis will be placed on local flora.

Requisite Courses: BIOL-1115 and BIOL-1116 [prerequisite(s)]; BIOL-2153L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

BIOL-2301 (3) Genetics (3 hrs Lecture | 3 hrs Lab) Genetics is central to the study of Biology. It deals with the processes of heredity at all levels, from molecules to populations. Genetic analysis is a logical process; the steps we use today are much the same as those employed by Mendel. Genetic phenomena are analyzed using chemical, biochemical, mathematical, and physical techniques. This course will give you an understanding of the subject as a whole and provide you with a sound basis for evaluating contemporary issues such as genetic engineering, environmental mutagens, heritable human diseases etc. Topics to be covered will include: extensions to Mendelian analysis, mapping techniques, gene mutation, the effects of changes in chromosome number and chromosome structure, the genetics of bacteria and their viruses, the nature of the gene, recombinant DNA technology, and population genetics.

Requisite Courses: BIOL-1115 and BIOL-1116 [prerequisite(s)]; BIOL-2301L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

BIOL-2401 (1) Forest Field Skills Camp (3 hrs Lecture) This intensive two-week field course is mandatory for students in the Forest Ecology program and is designed to give students field survival and basic forestry skills. Topics include bush camp construction; safe use of boats, ATVs, and chain saws; and basic bush survival skills. Students also learn how to correctly use topographical maps, compasses, air photos, GIS maps and other forestry equipment. This course is offered at University College of the North at The Pas, Manitoba.

Cross-listed: ENV-2401(1).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ENV-2401.

BIOL-2403 (3) Principles of Ecology (3 hrs Lecture | 3 hrs Lab) This course is concerned with general concepts in ecology. Topics covered will include energy flow, biochemical cycles, populations, communities, and human ecology.

Requisite Courses: BIOL-1115 and BIOL-1116 [prerequisite(s)]; BIOL-2403L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

BIOL-2451 (3) Introduction to Animal Behaviour (3 hrs Lecture) This course provides an introduction to the evolutionary basis of animal behaviour, covering such topics as the relationship between genes and behaviour, communication, foraging, locomotion, mating behaviour, and the social interactions that contribute to the biological success of animals. Each of the major topics is outlined with respect to cost and benefits of different behaviours within particular ecological contexts and explicit examples are drawn from different animal taxa to illustrate the concepts. The course is expected to provide a foundation and context for other related disciplines in biology, especially physiology and ecology, and to illustrate how behaviours function to solve problems for animals.

Requisite Courses: BIOL-1115 and BIOL-1116 or BIOL-1102 [prerequisite(s)].

BIOL-2477 (3) Forest Measurement (3 hrs Lecture) Students study the various methods, techniques, and statistical approaches to measuring tree growth and assessing forest inventory. This course examines individual tree growth and measurement (growth and yield) and the measurement of standing and harvested trees from an inventory and volume perspective.

Note: This course is intended for students enrolled in the Forest Ecology Program in Environmental Studies. Students not in this program but wishing to take this course need the permission of the instructor.

Cross-listed: ENV-2477(3)

Restrictions: Students cannot receive credit for this course and ENV-2477.

Requisite Courses: STAT-1301 or STAT-1501 (or the former STAT-1201) or PSYC-2101 or GEOG-2309 (must be taken previously or at the same time as this course).

BIOL-2902 (3) Biology of Bacteria and Archaea (3 hrs Lecture | 3 hrs Lab) This course provides an introduction to the morphology, cellular physiology, ecology and biotechnology applications of the domains Bacteria and Archaea. In the laboratory, emphasis is placed on examining the fundamental principles and methods used in culturing, characterizing, and classifying Bacteria.

Requisite Courses: BIOL-1115 and BIOL-1116 and CHEM-1111 and CHEM-1112 [prerequisite(s)]; BIOL-2902L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

BIOL-3112 (3) Ecology and Evolution of Mammals (3 hrs Lecture | 3 hrs Lab) The ecology and evolution of living mammals is examined by considering aspects of their evolutionary history, behaviour and ecology, drawing comparisons with other vertebrate groups. Lab exercises expose students to a variety of methods used in research on mammals (e.g., analysis of carnivore diet, acoustic analysis, behavioural research, radio-telemetry). Guest presentations and field trips expose students to opportunities for professional work with mammals and other vertebrates (e.g., work in wildlife biology, zoos, provincial or federal parks).

Requisite Courses: BIOL-2403 and either BIOL-2451 or BIOL-2111 (or equivalent) [prerequisite(s)]; BIOL-3112L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

BIOL-3152 (3) Flora of Manitoba (3 hrs Lecture | 3 hrs Lab) Because knowledge of the flora of Manitoba is essential to field biologists, this course includes discussion of the origin and present composition of the Manitoba flora, identification, description, collection, nomenclature, classification, and evolutionary relationships of plants. Laboratory work consists of examination of the more important plant families and habitats in the province.

Requisite Courses: BIOL-2153 [prerequisite(s)]; BIOL-3152L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

BIOL-3163 (3) Plant Anatomy and Physiology (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines the anatomy and physiology of plants. Topics include plant and cell architecture, energy flow, acquisition and transport of resources, signal transduction, growth and allocation, and life cycles. Readings and assignments emphasize interactions between plants and their environments, interdependence between plants and other organisms, and plant adaptations to stress, disturbance, and competition.

Requisite Courses: BIOL-2153 [prerequisite(s)].

BIOL-3202 (3) Histology (3 hrs Lecture | 3 hrs Lab) This course examines the microscopic structure of vertebrate tissues and organs, with stress on mammalian histology. Consideration is also given to structure-function relationships.

Requisite Courses: BIOL-1115 and BIOL-1116 [prerequisite(s)]; BIOL-3202L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

BIOL-3221 (3) Cell Biology (3 hrs Lecture | 3 hrs Lab) This course examines the ultrastructure of cells and sub-cellular organelles. The study includes the interrelationship of structure and function, cellular biochemistry, bioenergetics, and cellular differentiation.

Note: Students are advised not to attempt this course unless they have obtained a grade of at least C in CHEM-2202(3) and CHEM-2203(3).

Requisite Courses: BIOL-1115 and BIOL-1116 [prerequisite(s)]; BIOL-3221L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

BIOL-3303 (3) Molecular Genetics and Genomics (3 hrs Lecture | 3 hrs Lab) This course deals with basic genetic techniques and phenomena at the molecular level. Topics covered include transcription, translation and the genetic code, regulation of gene expression in prokaryotes and eukaryotes, recombinant DNA technology and its applications, genomics, manipulation of sequence database information and sequence data analysis.

Requisite Courses: BIOL-2301 [prerequisite(s)]; BIOL-3303L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

BIOL-3410 (3) Freshwater Ecology (3 hrs Lecture | 3 hrs Lab) This course examines the environmental and biotic processes which operate in aquatic environments. Special emphasis is placed on Manitoba ecosystems. Topics covered include the following: water quality, physical and chemical processes operating in freshwaters, and an overview of freshwater organisms that constitute aquatic communities.

Requisite Courses: BIOL-2403 [prerequisite(s)]; BIOL-3410L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

BIOL-3452 (3) Behavioural Ecology and the Prairie

Grasslands: Field Course (3 hrs Field Study) This two-week field course takes place at two significant prairie sites: Grasslands National Park in Saskatchewan, and the McIntyre Ranch in Alberta. Students learn to design and conduct observational studies on the behaviour and ecology of diverse animal species and learn about the ecology and conservation of Canada's prairie grasslands while working alongside biologists, resource professionals and people from First Nations in the region. Students stay in tents and must be prepared to live and work outside in inclement weather conditions. Students complete their research reports after returning to Winnipeg.

Restrictions: Instructor Permission Required.

Requisite Courses: BIOL-2111 or BIOL-2116 or BIOL-2403 or BIOL-2451 [prerequisite(s)].

BIOL-3471 (3) Forest Ecology (3 hrs Lecture) This course provides an integrative, interdisciplinary discussion on structure and function of forest ecosystems, with a special reference to boreal forests in North America. Topics to be covered will include the following: the concept of ecosystem studies; global and local variations in forest type; forest ecosystem classification; processes controlling ecosystem structure and function; disturbances, succession, and ecosystem function of boreal forests; and computer modelling in ecosystem studies.

Cross-listed: ENV-3471(3)

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ENV-3471.

Requisite Courses: BIOL-2403 or GEOG-2213 and GEOG-2214 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

BIOL-3473 (3) Principles of Silviculture (3 hrs Lecture)

This course integrates biological principles of tree growth and regeneration (silvics) with the application of this knowledge to forest management (silviculture). Silvics is defined as biological life histories and environmental requirement of forest trees. Silviculture is the theory and practice of influencing forest regeneration, species composition, and growth to accomplish a variety of resource management objectives. Silvicultural practices include coverage of even-aged and uneven-aged management, and ecological reforestation principles and techniques.

Cross-listed: ENV-3473(3)

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ENV-3473.

Requisite Courses: BIOL-2153 and BIOL-2403 or permission of instructor [prerequisite(s)].

BIOL-3476 (3) Forest Policy and Management (3 hrs Lecture) This course addresses the principles and practices of sustainable forestry in Canada. It outlines the evolution of the Canadian forest industry, examining past and current forestry policy, practices, and legal frameworks. Topics include harvesting, reforestation, forest protection, private woodlot forestry, and specialty products, as well as the acts, regulations, codes, and guidelines which govern these aspects of forestry. The course examines the place of Canadian forestry within the larger context of multi-resource management, multi-stakeholder processes, and the global market. The environmental impact of forest management activities on natural landscapes is reviewed under ever changing environmental codes and restrictions and the need to produce "green products."

Cross-listed: ENV-3476(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ENV-3476.

BIOL-3492 (3) Quantitative and Theoretical Biology (3 hrs Lecture) This course explores quantitative and theoretical biology. Topics include the relationship of theory to data, hypothesis testing, spreadsheet modelling, bootstrapping and other resampling methods.

Requisite Courses: BIOL-2301 and BIOL-2403 [prerequisite(s)].

BIOL-3562 (3) Human Reproductive Biology (3 hrs

Lecture) This course presents a comprehensive overview of the biology of human sex and reproduction including the anatomy and physiology of the male and female reproductive systems, sexual response, fertilization, contraception, and sexually transmitted diseases. It provides the biological background required for critical evaluation of many current issues surrounding human reproduction and sexuality. Tutorial times will be used for the presentation of additional course information and supplemental activities such as class presentations, peer-editing exercises, videos and group projects.

Requisite Courses: BIOL-1115 and BIOL-1116, or BIOL-1102 or BIOL-1103 or BIOL-1112 [prerequisite(s)].

BIOL-3563 (3) Human Embryology (3 hrs Lecture) This course provides a comprehensive overview of the structural, functional and developmental anatomy of the human body. Consideration is given to the important events of the first three weeks of development. The normal development of several organ systems including the urogenital, cardiovascular, respiratory and digestive is examined as well as examples of abnormalities that may arise.

Requisite Courses: BIOL-1115 and BIOL-1116, or BIOL-1102 or BIOL-1103 or BIOL-1112 [prerequisite(s)].

BIOL-3602 (3) Comparative Animal Physiology I (3 hrs

Lecture | 3 hrs Lab) This course introduces the concepts of physiological homeostasis, physiological control systems and excitable cells. Principal topics are nerve physiology, muscle physiology and cardiovascular physiology.

Requisite Courses: BIOL-1115 and BIOL-1116 [prerequisite(s)]; BIOL-3602L (lab) (must be taken concurrently); CHEM-1111 and CHEM-1112 (recommended to be taken previously or at the same time as this course).

BIOL-3603 (3) Comparative Animal Physiology II (3 hrs Lecture | 3 hrs Lab) This course continues the study of animal physiology. Principal topics are respiratory physiology, whole animal metabolism, osmoregulation, digestion and endocrine physiology.

Requisite Courses: BIOL-3602 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)]; BIOL-3603L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

BIOL-3702 (3) Parasites and Disease (3 hrs Lecture)

This course provides a synopsis of the major taxa of parasites that inhabit tissues and organs of metazoan animals and a detailed consideration of the biology of organisms that reside within other organisms as parasites. Some of the course deals with clinical manifestations and treatment of endo-parasitic infections as well as the use of knowledge about life cycles for the design of effective programs of control and intervention. The synopsis of major taxa is structured to emphasize diversity of endo-parasitic organisms and to demonstrate their importance as limiting, biological factors for their hosts.

Requisite Courses: BIOL-2115 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

BIOL-3703 (3) Ectoparasitology (3 hrs Lecture) This course provides a synopsis of the major taxa of parasites and blood-feeding arthropods that live on other metazoan animals and a detailed consideration of the ways in which these organisms act directly as parasites and as vectors of other parasitic organisms. Emphasis is placed on ecological associations between host organisms and parasites as a means of understanding the epidemiology of vector-borne, parasitic diseases. Most of the course deals with the biology of parasitic arthropods as well as the use of biological information about life cycles to consider effective means of control and intervention. The synopsis of major taxa is structured to emphasize diversity of ectoparasitic organisms as a means of demonstrating the significant evolutionary success of the blood-feeding habit.

Requisite Courses: BIOL-2115 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

BIOL-3801 (3) General Entomology (3 hrs Lecture | 3 hrs Lab) The course deals with the life history, structural and behavioral adaptations, and the economic effects of insects, and insect control. The laboratory period will include the collection, preservation, dissection and identification of insects.

Note: Students are required to submit a mounted and identified collection of insects as part of the laboratory exercises. This collection should be initiated in the summer preceding registration in the course. Students should contact the instructor for further details.

Requisite Courses: BIOL-2115 [prerequisite(s)]; BIOL-3801L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

BIOL-3901 (3) Microorganisms and Disease (3 hrs Lecture | 3 hrs Lab) The course will include a study of medically important microorganisms with emphasis on viruses and bacteria, including chlamydiae, mycoplasmas, and rickettsias. Topics to be covered will include mechanisms of microbial pathogenicity and virulence; the etiology and epidemiology of important human pathogens; public health and nosocomial infections; antimicrobial agents and chemotherapy; and basic principles of host defence mechanisms. Attention will also be paid to diseases of important animal species and to plants of economic importance.

Requisite Courses: BIOL-2902 and CHEM-1111 and CHEM-1112 [prerequisite(s)]; BIOL-3901L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

BIOL-3902 (3) Microbial Ecology (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines the ecologically important activities of microorganisms, including interactions between microorganisms, plants, and animals; the cycling of carbon, nitrogen, sulphur, and phosphorus through terrestrial and aquatic ecosystems; bio-deterioration; soil, waste, and water management; resource recovery; fuel and biomass production; biological pest control; microbial transformation of man-made organic chemicals; and bio-remediation.

Requisite Courses: BIOL-2902 [prerequisite(s)].

BIOL-3910 (3) Summer Institute in Infectious Diseases (3 hrs Lecture)

BIOL-4111 (6) Biology Honours Thesis (3 hrs Project / Thesis) This course is intended for but not restricted to students in the Honours program. Students undertake a research project in an area of biological interest. Presentation of the results verbally and in thesis form to the Biology Department is an integral part of the course. Each project will be supervised by a faculty member.

Note: Enrolment in this course is limited by the availability of faculty to serve as supervisors. Students must obtain written permission from the Department Chair to register for the course. A written agreement between the student and the faculty supervisor is required before permission will be granted.

Restrictions: Department Permission Required.

Requisite Courses: BIOL-1115 and BIOL-1116, 24 credit hours of coursework in Biology at or above the 2000 level, 1 course from STAT-1301, STAT-1201, STAT-1501, or PSYC-2101, and a minimum GPA of 3.0 in Biology, and an overall GPA of 2.75, or permission of the Department Chair [prerequisite(s)].

BIOL-4112 (3) Fish Biology and Conservation (3 hrs Lecture | 3 hrs Lab) This course presents the biology of fishes, including their morphology, physiology, behaviour, ecology, evolution, and distribution. Students study human interactions with fishes and conservation of fish stocks in Manitoba and Canada.

Requisite Courses: BIOL-2111 or BIOL-2116 or BIOL-2403 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)]; BIOL-4112L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

BIOL-4191 (3) Directed Studies in Biology (3 hrs Directed Reading) This course allows students to undertake research in their areas of interest. The research may take the form of a literature review, it may be experimental in nature, or it may involve analysis of existing data. Evaluation is based on an extensive written report summarizing the student's findings. Permission to enrol is dependent on the availability of an instructor in the student's field of interest. A student may receive credit for this course only once.

Restrictions: Instructor Permission Required.

Requisite Courses: BIOL-1115 and BIOL-1116 and 4 other Biology courses above the 1000 level [prerequisite(s)].

BIOL-4303 (3) Population Genetics (3 hrs Lecture) This course covers the basics of detection and quantification of genetic variation in natural populations, and how genetic variation is affected by mutation, recombination, migration, mating patterns and changes in population size. Students are introduced to the theories of the maintenance of genetic variation by exploring natural selection versus genetic drift and how these forces affect the genetic variability of populations. Examples of the application of population genetics principles in the areas of conservation biology, evolution and human health are illustrated. The final part of the course is dedicated to the application of population genetics principles in the analysis of actual DNA and protein data.

Requisite Courses: BIOL-2301 [prerequisite(s)].

BIOL-4304 (3) Current Topics in Genetics and Genomics (2.5 hrs Lecture Project / Thesis with variable meeting hours) The field of Genetics has experienced fast changes during the last years. Advances in molecular technologies and computer sciences make it feasible to address old questions and raise new ones. This course is a combination of lectures, readings/writing, oral presentations and discussions that examine current topics in the field of genetics and genomics. Topics to be taught for this iteration of the course include genome variation and comparative genomics, evolutionary genetics, developmental genetics, and genomes and human health. Experimental Course - This course is offered on a trial basis to gauge interest in the topic. Students who successfully complete this course receive credit as indicated.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and GBIO-7304.

Requisite Courses: BIOL-2301 and BIOL-3303 [prerequisite(s)].

BIOL-4331 (3) Evolutionary Biology (3 hrs Lecture) Biologists use Darwin's framework to study the living world. This course will examine the development of evolutionary thought; evolutionary genetics; natural, sexual, and developmental selection; the levels of selection; speciation and extinction. Topics of direct relevance to humans will be emphasized.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and BIOL-3331.

Requisite Courses: BIOL-2301 and BIOL-2403, and 1 course from BIOL-2111, BIOL-2115, BIOL-2152, BIOL-2153, BIOL-2113, or BIOL-2114 [prerequisite(s)].

BIOL-4402 (3) Current Topics in Ecology (3 hrs Lecture) This course involves students in current issues and topics in ecology. The Instructor supplies a range of potential topics from which students can select ones of interest. Students may also offer their own topics for presentation. Students present a review of their topic to the class in the form of a seminar. Success in the course depends on substantial class participation and will involve peer assessment and review.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this class and GBIO-7402.

Requisite Courses: BIOL-2403 and either BIOL-3471 or BIOL-3902 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

BIOL-4411 (3) Water Quality and Health (3 hrs Lecture | 3 hrs Lab) This course deals with inorganic, organic, and biotic components of water which affect water quality. The impacts on aquatic ecosystems and on recreational, industrial, and agricultural uses are studied. The greatest emphasis is on drinking water quality as it relates to public health and water-borne illness.

Requisite Courses: BIOL-1115 and BIOL-1116 and CHEM-1111 and CHEM-1112 [prerequisite(s)]; BIOL-4411L (lab) (must be taken concurrently); CHEM-2202 and CHEM-2203 (recommended prerequisite).

BIOL-4451 (2) Forest Ecosystems Field Course (3 hrs Field Study) This is an intensive three-week field course designed to give students a comprehensive overview of forest ecology field skills. Topics include field and laboratory exercises in boreal and urban forestry; tree and plant identification; classification of forest types; forest management and environmental impact; soil classification; forest succession; dendrochronology; forest measurement; forest protection and silviculture.

Note: This course is intended for students enrolled in the Forest Ecology and Forest Policy and Management Program in Environmental Studies and Sciences. Students not in this program but wishing to take this course need the permission of the instructor.

Cross-listed: ENV-4451(3)

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ENV-4451

Requisite Courses: BIOL-2153 and BIOL-2403 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

BIOL-4453 (3) Wetlands Ecosystems Field Course (3 hrs Field Study | 3 hrs Lab) This course deals with the methods for studying the ecology of lakes, rivers and streams, and marshes: three major freshwater habitats found in Manitoba. Students will examine the methods for sampling and analyzing data on the chemical, physical, and biological components of these habitats. The adaptations of animals and plants to freshwater ecosystems will be emphasised.

Requisite Courses: BIOL-2403 (or the former BIOL-3403) or BIOL-3402 [prerequisite(s)].

BIOL-4471 (3) Ecological Methods (3 hrs Lecture | 3 hrs Lab) This course deals with the statistical properties and analysis of ecological data. Students study the practical and conceptual bases of good statistical practice 'from the ground up', including study design, presentation of scientific results, and high quality graphics. Topics include the nature of data and variables, exploratory analysis, statistical distributions and probability, study design, replication, and pseudoreplication. Students use real ecological data sets to perform simple and multiple linear regression, ANOVA, and ANCOVA. In the laboratory, students learn how to use the R open source statistical language to produce high quality graphics and to perform elementary statistical programming.

Requisite Courses: GEOG-2203 or BIOL-2403 or

BIOL-3471, and 1 course from STAT-1301, STAT-1501, GEOG-2309, GEOG-2310 or BIOL-3492, or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)]; BIOL-4471L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

BIOL-4473 (3) Dendrochronology: Principles and Applications (3 hrs Lecture | 3 hrs Lab) This course constitutes an introduction to dendrochronology; the science of tree-ring analysis. Dendrochronology is particularly appropriate for students with interests in the chronological and dynamical aspects of tree growth, forest ecology, climatology, hydrology, geomorphology, and anthropology/archaeology. The history, principles and applications of dendrochronology are reviewed in this course. Problems related to the sampling and dating of tree-ring series; the development of chronological series, the analysis and interpretation of dendrochronological data are also emphasized. This course includes a compulsory field trip during the second or third weekend of the course.

Cross-listed: ENV-4473(3)

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ENV-4473.

Requisite Courses: BIOL-2403 and BIOL-2153 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)]; BIOL-4473L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

BIOL-4474 (3) Forest Health and Protection (3 hrs Lecture) This course focuses on the effect of fire, insect, disease, and abiotic disturbances on the sustainable management of commercial forests in Canada. The course covers historic practices, current activities, and future trends in protecting commercial forests and ensuring the integrity of forest ecosystems. Students focus on the impact of forest health activities on the general ecological components of forest systems and the relationship between forest successions. Students examine the evolution of Canadian forestry protection policy and industry regulation.

Cross-listed: ENV-4474(3)

Restrictions: Students may not receive credit for this course and ENV-4474.

Requisite Courses: BIOL-2403 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

BIOL-4475 (3) Urban Forestry (3 hrs Lecture | 3 hrs Lab) This course focuses on the biology, ecology, and management of urban forests. Students examine the impact of both natural and human-induced stresses on the urban forest, including forest protection and enhancement in relation to other competing interests in the urban environment. Students discuss the development of urban forest planning and management. Students study the role of Canadian policies and regulations in influencing urban forest tree species and integration of urban forests into our communities.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ENV-4475.

Requisite Courses: BIOL-2403 or permission of instructor [prerequisite(s)]; BIOL-4475L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

BIOL-4501 (3) Developmental Biology (3 hrs Lecture | 3 hrs Lab) This course examines the molecular basis of, and the regulatory mechanisms involved in, cellular differentiation, the interaction of cells during the formation of tissues, growth, and aging in animal development.

Requisite Courses: BIOL-3221 [prerequisite(s)]; BIOL-4501L (lab) (must be taken concurrently); BIOL-2301 and CHEM-3502 and CHEM-3503 (recommended prerequisite).

BIOL-4502 (3) Molecular Cell Biology (3 hrs Lecture) Topics to be covered will include the following: cell signalling; the cytoskeleton; extracellular matrices and cell adhesion; the cell division cycle; apoptosis and cell death; the immune system and the genetic basis of cancer. Instruction will involve lectures and discussion; students will be required to write a paper and present a seminar based on a review of the primary research literature.

Requisite Courses: BIOL-2301 and BIOL-3221 and CHEM-3502 and CHEM-3503 [prerequisite(s)]; BIOL-3303 (or the former BIOL-3302 or BIOL-4302) (must be taken previously or at the same time as this course).

BIOL-4601 (3) Ecological Animal Physiology (3 hrs Lecture) This course considers physiological adaptations of animals, primarily non-mammalian vertebrates and invertebrates, to their environments. It examines short term adaptations to specific environmental stressors, and physiological strategies associated with long term adaptation to particular ecological niches.

Requisite Courses: CHEM-1111 and CHEM-1112, and any one of the following: BIOL-2111, or BIOL-3602 and BIOL-3603, or CHEM-3502 and CHEM-3503 [prerequisite(s)].

BIOL-4602 (3) Field Research in Animal Ecology and Energetics (3 hrs Field Study) This course covers field and laboratory methods for studying ecological energetics and evolutionary physiology of free-ranging wild animals. During a field camp before the start of fall term, students learn techniques for studying metabolism and energy balance in animals including small mammal trapping/identification, temperature radiotelemetry, and open-circuit respirometry. The course focuses on small mammals, but there are opportunities to study songbirds, and some non-endothermic vertebrates and invertebrates. Each student conducts an independent research project during the field camp, and presents this work in a seminar and term paper during fall term.

Note: Permission of the instructor is required to register.

Requisite Courses: BIOL-2403 or BIOL-2451 or BIOL-3602 or BIOL-3603 or BIOL-3492; a minimum of 15 credit hours of coursework in Biology at or above the 2000 level [prerequisite(s)].

BIOL-4902 (3) Microbial Physiology (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines the principal reactions of the energy and biosynthetic metabolism of bacteria using Escherichia coli as the model system. Additional topics to be discussed include metabolic diversity and catabolic activities of aerobic heterotrophs; regulation of bacterial metabolism; bacterial fermentations; chemolithotrophic and phototrophic metabolism, and fixation of molecular nitrogen.

Requisite Courses: BIOL-2902 and BIOL-3901 and CHEM-3502 and CHEM-3503 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

BIOL-4904 (3) Virology (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines variations in viral architecture; molecular processes that characterise the common steps of the reproductive cycles of viruses within a host cell; host cell responses to viral infections; and viral evolution. It includes a survey of adaptive strategies viruses use to meet specific situations, with illustrations taken from bacterial, animal, and plant viruses.

Requisite Courses: BIOL-2902 and BIOL-2301 [prerequisite(s)]; BIOL-3221 (must be taken previously or at the same time as this course).

BIOL-4931 (3) Immunology (3 hrs Lecture) Immunology is the study of the defence system which the body has evolved to protect itself from external threats such as viruses and internal threats such as tumour cells. Topics to be covered include non-specific immunity, acquired immunity, the structure, function and genetics of antibodies, antigen-antibody interactions, cells and organs of the immune system, autoimmunity, MHC and T-cell receptors, cytokine signalling and applications of immunology.

Requisite Courses: BIOL-2301 and BIOL-3221 and BIOL-3901 [prerequisite(s)].

BIOL-4950 (3) Human Neurobiology (3 hrs Lecture) This course explores the field of neuroscience from a biological perspective. Neuroanatomy and cells of the nervous system are discussed in terms of cellular networks and molecular mechanisms that govern neurological function, specifically in terms of homeostasis, motor control, perception, cognition and disease processes. This course also introduces fundamental concepts in medical neurobiology, with clear examples related to human health and disease.

Requisite Courses: BIOL-3221 [prerequisite(s)].

BUSINESS AND ADMINISTRATION

BUS-1201 (3) Introduction to Business I (3 hrs Lecture)

This course introduces fundamental concepts related to current business trends, business ownership, entrepreneurship, and general management, including organizational behaviour and human resource management. Emphasis is placed on relating course material to current events in the business world. Course delivery is primarily by lecture, and may be complemented by videos and guest speakers.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and AS-1101.

Requisite Courses: Pre-Calculus Mathematics 40S or Applied Mathematics 40S or equivalent [prerequisite(s)].

BUS-1202 (3) Introduction to Business II (3 hrs Lecture)

This course introduces basic terminology, concepts, theories and some qualitative and quantitative analytic techniques of key functional areas in business such as: accounting; finance; marketing; and, production and operations management. Student participation in an online business simulation allows students to experience a practical application of these primary business functions. Emphasis is placed on relating course material to current events in the business world. Course delivery is primarily by lecture, and may be complemented by videos and guest speakers.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and AS-1101.

Requisite Courses: Pre-Calculus Mathematics 40S or Applied Mathematics 40S or equivalent [prerequisite(s)].

BUS-2002 (3) Fundamentals of Financial Accounting

(3 hrs Lecture) An introduction to the accounting postulates used in preparing and presenting financial statements and a brief study of the role of accounting in the creation and application of business information.

Requisite Courses: BUS-1201(3) and BUS-1202(3), both with a minimum grade of C+ [prerequisite(s)]; AND ECON-1201(3) or MATH-1301(3), either course with a minimum grade of C+ [prerequisite(s)].

BUS-2003 (3) Managerial Accounting (3 hrs Lecture)

This course is an introduction to the accounting methods used by managers for financial evaluation and decision-making. It deals primarily with corporate management's point of view.

Requisite Courses: BUS-2002(3) with a minimum grade of C+ [prerequisite(s)].

BUS-2010 (3) Fundamentals of Financial Management and Administration (3 hrs Lecture)

This course introduces students to basic financial terms, procedures and concepts that provide the foundation for organizational financial management. It also examines planning, budgeting, and control within an organization as well as gathering, using, and reporting of the financial information resulting from an organization's activities.

Note: May not be taken for credit if students have completed any of BUS-3003(3), BUS-3102(3), BUS-3103(3), BUS-3120(3), BUS-3550(3), BUS-3600(3), BUS-4002(3), BUS-4005(3), the former BUS-4050(3), or BUS-4920(3).

Requisite Courses: BUS-1201(3) and BUS-1202(3), both with a minimum grade of C+ [prerequisite(s)]; AND ECON-1201(3) or MATH-1301(3), either course with a minimum grade of C+ [prerequisite(s)].

BUS-2030 (3) Management and Financial

Administration For Community Leadership (3 hrs Lecture)

As small-scale and not-for-profit structures, community-based and Indigenous organizations often face unique challenges and political/cultural realities in terms of overall management and operations. This course provides students with a good understanding of the key facets of management and administrative structures and management controls, financial statements and budgeting, performance measures, strategic planning and operations analysis and evaluation.

Cross-listed: UIC-2030(3) and IS-2030(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and IS-2030 | UIC-2030.

Requisite Courses: UIC-1001(3); or IS-1016(3) (or HIST-1009(3)) and IS-1017(3); or the former IS-1015(6) [prerequisite(s)].

BUS-2103 (3) Fundamentals of Organizational Behaviour (3 hrs Lecture) This course is designed to introduce students to the theories and concepts of organizational behaviour. The principal topics examined include the bases of individual behaviour in groups and organizations, the structural and functional imperatives of formal organizations, and administration in formal organizations.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and PSYC-2440 | PSYC-2101(6).

Requisite Courses: BUS-1201(3) and BUS-1202(3), both with a minimum grade of C+ [prerequisite(s)]; AND ECON-1201(3) or MATH-1301(3), either course with a minimum grade of C+ [prerequisite(s)].

BUS-2210 (3) Fundamentals of Marketing (3 hrs Lecture)

This course explores concepts and theories that lay the foundation for the understanding of marketing theory and practice. Students are introduced to topics on environmental scanning, segmentation and targeting, product life-cycle and new product development, consumer behaviour, marketing research, and marketing channels and distribution.

Requisite Courses: BUS-1201(3) and BUS-1202(3), both with a minimum grade of C+ [prerequisite(s)]; AND ECON-1201(3) or MATH-1301(3), either course with a minimum grade of C+ [prerequisite(s)].

BUS-2300 (3) Fundamentals of Co-Operatives (3 hrs Lecture)

Co-operatives have been working within our economic system for centuries. Millions of Canadians are members of co-operatives, but very few know what a co-operative actually is. This course highlights the nature of a co-operative and the unique management and governance features that exist within this business enterprise. Upon completing this course students have a basic understanding of what a co-operative is and what it does within our economy and society. This course introduces the factors that encourage the development of co-operatives and how these factors could affect the future development of co-operatives in Canada.

Requisite Courses: BUS-1201(3) and BUS-1202(3), both with a minimum grade of C+; OR permission of the Instructor [prerequisite(s)].

BUS-2440 (3) Fundamentals of Human Resource Management (3 hrs Lecture) This course introduces students to the theory and practice of managing an organization's human resources. Topics include human resource planning, job analysis and design, recruitment and selection, onboarding, training and development, compensation and benefits, performance evaluation, employee discipline and de-selection, and labour-management influences on the employer-employee relationship. Underlying foundational concepts include employment law, diversity, and organizational strategy.

Requisite Courses: BUS-1201(3) and BUS-1202(3), both with a minimum grade of C+, [prerequisite(s)]; AND ECON-1201(3) or MATH-1301(3), either course with a minimum grade of C+ [prerequisite(s)].

BUS-2501 (3) Fundamentals of Operations

Management (3 hrs Lecture) This course introduces students to the concepts related to operations management. These include basic linear programming, product and service design, layout of production systems, materials requirement management, aggregate planning, scheduling, inventory management, forecasting, and quality control; as well as quantitative techniques to problem solving.

Requisite Courses: BUS-1201(3) and BUS-1202(3), both with a minimum grade of C+, [prerequisite(s)]; AND ECON-1201(3) or MATH-1301(3), either course with a minimum grade of C+ [prerequisite(s)].

BUS-2755 (3) Business Planning Basics (3 hrs Lecture)

This fundamentals course introduces students to the nature of entrepreneurship and necessary components for the development of a successful business plan. As part of this process, students have an opportunity to experience some of the distinctive financing, marketing, operational, management and personal challenges of starting and managing a small business or operating as a self-employed contractor. Course methodology is a combination of lecture and discussions, case studies and guest lectures.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and BUS-3755.

Requisite Courses: KIN-1101(3) with a minimum grade of C, AND a minimum of 60 credit hours completed [prerequisite(s)].

BUS-2819 (3) Corporate Finance I (3 hrs Lecture) This course introduces students to the fundamentals of finance and presents theories and tools to be used in addressing corporate finance problems and issues. The course examines the theories and principles of financial management that relate to the practices used by corporations in the procurement, management and disbursement of capital funds. Topics include methods of capital acquisition and valuation of capital and financial assets.

Cross-listed: ECON-2819(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ECON-2819.

Requisite Courses: BUS-2002(3) with a minimum grade of C+ OR ECON-1102(3) and ECON-1103(3), both with a minimum grade of C+ [prerequisite(s)]; AND ONE of STAT-1301(3), STAT-1401(3), STAT-1501(3) or the former STAT-1201(6) with a minimum grade of C+ [prerequisite(s)]; and students must have met their university writing requirement with a minimum grade of C+ (or exemption); OR permission of the Instructor [prerequisite(s)].

BUS-2820 (3) Corporate Finance II (3 hrs Lecture) This course builds on the fundamentals introduced in BUS-2819(3)/ECON-2819(3) and discusses theories and tools used for evaluating risks and returns associated with financial assets. There is an intensive study of economic theories and principles of financial management. Topics include Capital Asset Pricing Model (CAPM), market efficiency, the cost of capital, optimal capital structure, and risk management.

Cross-listed: ECON-2820(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ECON-2820.

Requisite Courses: BUS-2819(3) or ECON-2819(3), either with a minimum grade of C+; OR permission of the Instructor [prerequisite(s)].

BUS-3003 (3) Cost Accounting (3 hrs Lecture) This is an intermediate-level, case-based course in managerial accounting which concentrates on the topics in organizational planning, financial control, and cost specifications needed to determine income and cost requirements for policy and non-routine decision-making. It follows on from BUS-2003(3) (Managerial Accounting).

Requisite Courses: BUS-2003(3) and BUS-2501(3), both with a minimum grade of C+ [prerequisite(s)]; and students must have met their university writing requirement with a minimum grade of C+ (or exemption) [prerequisite(s)].

BUS-3102 (3) Intermediate Accounting Assets (3 hrs

Lecture) This is an intermediate-level course which follows BUS-2002(3) (Financial Accounting). It concentrates on policies and practice related to the measurement and recording of an organization's assets and the asset side of an organization's balance sheet.

Requisite Courses: BUS-2002(3) with a minimum grade of C+ [prerequisite(s)]; AND students must have met their university writing requirement with a minimum grade of C+ (or exemption) [prerequisite(s)]; AND take BUS-2820(3) or ECON-2820(3) (must be taken previously or at the same time as this course).

BUS-3103 (3) Intermediate Accounting Equities (3 hrs

Lecture) This is an intermediate-level course which follows BUS-2002(3) (Financial Accounting). It concentrates on policies and practice related to the measurement and recording of shareholders' equity, liabilities, and the equity side of an organization's balance sheet.

Requisite Courses: BUS-2002(3) with a minimum grade of C+ [prerequisite(s)]; and students must have met their university writing requirement with a minimum grade of C+

(or exemption) [prerequisite(s)]; AND BUS-2820(3) or ECON-2820(3) (must be taken previously or at the same time as this course).

BUS-3110 (3) Ethics in Management (3 hrs Lecture)

This course considers the social and ethical responsibilities of management at both the individual and organizational levels. Issues considered include managers' obligations to their organizations and to individuals within those organizations, and organizations' responsibilities to a variety of stakeholders in the broad society.

Requisite Courses: BUS-2002(3) or BUS-2010(3), either with a minimum grade of C+; AND BUS-2103(3) or the former PSYC-2440(3), either with a minimum grade of C+; AND BUS-2210(3), BUS-2440(3), and BUS-2501(3), all with the minimum grade of C+ [prerequisite(s)]; and students must have met their university writing requirement with a minimum grade of C+ (or exemption) [prerequisite(s)].

BUS-3120 (3) Canadian Taxation (3 hrs Lecture) This course deals with the applications of federal and provincial income tax regulations and their impact on corporations, businesses, and individuals. Problems, issues, and planning associated with the Income Tax Act are examined. The computation of taxable income and taxes payable by individuals, corporations, partnerships and trusts are also studied.

Requisite Courses: BUS-2002(3), BUS-2103(3), BUS-2210(3), BUS-2440(3), and BUS-2501(3), all with a minimum grade of C+ [prerequisite(s)]; and students must have met their university writing requirement with a minimum grade of C+ (or exemption) [prerequisite(s)].

BUS-3230 (3) Advertising (3 hrs Lecture) This course provides students with a thorough understanding of advertising/sales promotion principles and methods. Topics include the role of advertising agencies; the function and benefits of advertising and sales promotion for business and other institutions, including not-for-profits; and the economic, social, legal, and ethical responsibilities which attend mass communication with the public.

Requisite Courses: BUS-2210(3) with a minimum grade of C+ [prerequisite(s)]; and students must have met their academic writing requirement with a minimum grade of C+ (or exemption) [prerequisite(s)].

BUS-3240 (3) Consumer Behaviour (3 hrs Lecture) This course introduces students to concepts and theories that explain a variety of processes involved when consumers (or groups) select, purchase, use and/or dispose of products and services. Topics include the consumer decision-purchase process, perception, memory and learning, motivation, self-concept, personality, reference groups, and attitude formation and change. Students learn how to analyze and interpret marketing phenomena such as retail image/environment and persuasion in marketing communications.

Requisite Courses: BUS-2210(3) with a minimum grade of C+ [prerequisite(s)]; and students must have met their university writing requirement with a minimum grade of C+ (or exemption) [prerequisite(s)].

BUS-3250 (3) Not-For-Profit Management (3 hrs

Lecture) This course explores the distinctive management challenges inherent in a not-for-profit organization. Topics include mission, governance, social marketing, volunteerism, fundraising, stakeholder services, and the impact of technology. Through case studies of actual not-for-profit organizations, students develop a framework for analyzing contemporary issues in the not-for-profit sector and for making management decisions in a not-for-profit context.

Requisite Courses: BUS-2210(3) or BUS-2103(3) or BUS-2440(3) or KIN-2100(3), with a minimum grade of C+ [prerequisite(s)]; and students must have met their university writing requirement with a minimum grade of C+ (or exemption) [prerequisite(s)].

BUS-3255 (3) Social Enterprise: From Theory to Practice (3 hrs Lecture) With their multiple bottom lines (financial, social and environmental) and ultimate goal of bettering society, social enterprises are playing an increasingly important role in the current economy. This course is designed to examine the role of social enterprises, to identify and assess their different types, to explore management issues unique to social enterprises, and to measure their impacts. Students also critically analyze examples of social enterprises in Canada and elsewhere.

Requisite Courses: BUS-2103(3) or BUS-2210(3) or BUS-2440(3) with a minimum grade of C+ [prerequisite(s)]; and students must have met their university writing requirement with a minimum grade of C+ (or exemption) [prerequisite(s)].

BUS-3260 (3) Retail Management (3 hrs Lecture) This is a lecture and case-based course designed to introduce students to the concept of retail management. This course enables students to practice the variables of the retail mix in order to develop appropriate retail strategies. Further, this course emphasizes the management of merchandise resources, human resources, and financial resources, and examines trading area analysis, location/site decisions, store operations, and retail information systems.

Requisite Courses: BUS-2210(3) with a minimum grade of C+ [prerequisite(s)]; and students must have met their university writing requirement with a minimum grade of C+ (or exemption) [prerequisite(s)].

BUS-3271 (3) Marketing Research (3 hrs Lecture) This course introduces students to marketing research, which involves the acquisition and analysis of data for use as a decision-making tool in organizations. Various marketing research methods are discussed, including qualitative methods such as focus groups and in-depth interviews, as well as quantitative methods such as survey research and conjoint analysis.

Requisite Courses: BUS-2210(3) with a minimum grade of C+ [prerequisite(s)]; and students must have met their university writing requirement with a minimum grade of C+ (or exemption) [prerequisite(s)].

BUS-3300 (3) Management of Co-Operative

Organizations (3 hrs Lecture) This course is an introduction to the unique challenges involved in the management of co-operative organizations. It builds students' appreciation of co-operatives as a viable model of economic development. The course focuses on the methods by which mainstream governance, accounting, personnel, and marketing practices can be adapted to fit the co-operative model. A combination of lectures, readings, guest speakers, case studies and discussions help students develop an understanding of co-operative principles and values and the history of co-operatives. Students learn about Manitoba's co-operatives, as well as national and international co-operative networks.

Requisite Courses: BUS-2103(3) or UIC-1001(3) with a minimum grade of C+ [prerequisite(s)]; and students must have met their university writing requirement with a minimum grade of C+ (or exemption); OR permission of the Instructor [prerequisite(s)].

BUS-3301 (3) Co-operative Entrepreneurship

Enterprises (3 hrs Lecture) This course addresses the specific challenges involved in developing a co-operative enterprise. Students learn about the competitiveness and innovation in co-operatives. The course focuses on four areas of interest: 1) start-ups and scaling up models; 2) marketing the co-operative value; 3) capitalization and accounting; and 4) internationalization strategies and new enterprises. The course requires active analysis and research.

Requisite Courses: BUS-3300(3) with a minimum grade of C+ [prerequisite(s)]; and students must have met their university writing requirement with a minimum grade of C+ (or exemption); OR permission of the Instructor [prerequisite(s)].

BUS-3302 (3) Co-operative and Credit Union

Accounting and Performance Measures (3 hrs Lecture) Co-operatives and Credit Unions utilize similar accounting practices as corporate firms. What differentiates co-operatives and credit unions is the addition of social, cultural, and environmental performance measures. Many different accounting and performance measures have been developed to keep track of the social, cultural, and environmental contributions offered by co-operatives to their communities. This course examines the different strategies that co-operative firms have adopted to measure these differentiating activities. An examination of how these accounting and performance measurements assist co-operatives in developing sustainable business practices are conducted during the course.

Requisite Courses: BUS-2002(3) or BUS-3300(3) with a minimum grade of C+ [prerequisite(s)]; and students must have met their university writing requirement with a minimum grade of C+ (or exemption); OR permission of the Instructor [prerequisite(s)].

BUS-3321 (3) Gender and Organizations

(3 hrs Lecture) Exploring gender's relevance to organizations of various types, including corporations and not-for-profits, this course addresses how gendered analysis can benefit a variety of perspectives on organizations. Taking critical and postmodern approaches to organizational theory and practice, the course considers gender with respect to such topics as leadership; management; communication; conflict resolution; diversity, inclusion, and intersectionality; power; negotiation; organizational change; organizational justice; ethics; healthy workplaces; volunteer workers; management; human resources; and globalization.

Cross-listed: POL-3321(3) and WGS-3321(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and POL-3321 | WGS-3321.

Requisite Courses: WGS-1232(6), BUS-2103(3), or POL-2300(3); OR permission of the Instructor [prerequisite(s)].

BUS-3410 (3) Compensation and Benefits

(3 hrs Lecture) This course presents students with the current theories on compensation, benefits, and pensions, and provides an opportunity to learn practical skills to manage compensation systems from the dual perspective of both the organization and the employee. Students explore issues surrounding compensation (direct and indirect) from the organizational perspective to ensure compliance, internal and external equity, and consider how compensation relates to strategic goals. The compensation issues are also discussed from the perspective of a current or prospective employee as they relate to motivation, satisfaction, and turnover intentions.

Requisite Courses: BUS-2002(3) or BUS-2010(3), either with a minimum grade of C+; AND BUS-2103(3) and BUS-2440(3), both with a minimum grade of C+ [prerequisite(s)]; and students must have met their university writing requirement with a minimum grade of C+ (or exemption) [prerequisite(s)].

BUS-3420 (3) Recruitment and Selection

(3 hrs Lecture) Attracting, hiring, and retaining the right people is key to organizational success in a competitive global market. This course provides a conceptual and practical understanding of the key aspects of the recruitment and selection functions in Human Resource Management (HRM). The material builds on concepts and theories introduced in the Fundamentals of HRM course. Knowing how crucial good staffing decisions are to an organization's success, students learn the principles, current techniques and practical applications for recruitment and selection. Material is discussed both from the perspective of the organization and from the perspective of potential and existing employees.

Requisite Courses: BUS-2103(3) and BUS-2440(3), both with a minimum grade of C+ [prerequisite(s)]; and students must have met their university writing requirement with a minimum grade of C+ (or exemption) [prerequisite(s)].

BUS-3430 (3) Occupational Health and Safety Program

Management (3 hrs Lecture) This course covers all aspects of the planning, design, implementation, and evaluation of workplace health and safety programs. Topics include legal rights and responsibilities under the shared responsibility model, hazard recognition and mitigation, risk management, emergency planning, incident investigation and reporting, disability management, and wellness and health promotion. We also explore the social psychology of safety-related behavioural compliance with particular attention to evidence based best practices in training, motivation, and process optimization. This course covers recognition, control, and elimination of bullying, racism, ableism, and sexual and gender-based harassment.

Requisite Courses: BUS-2440 and BUS-2103 both with a minimum grade of C+ [prerequisite(s)]; and students must have met their university writing requirement with a minimum grade of C+ (or exemption) [prerequisite(s)].

BUS-3502 (3) Applications of Decision Sciences to Business (3 hrs Lecture) This course provides students with quantitative techniques (modeling, optimization, and simulation) applicable to various areas of management: finance, marketing, and accounting. The methods presented to students serve as decision-making tools by helping the future manager to obtain the best decision under predefined criteria. Both the applicability and limitations of these techniques are discussed. Students learn a variety of quantitative techniques that are useful in dealing with complexities, such as multiple objectives and uncertainty. The course focuses on applications of quantitative methods in decision-making using software such as Excel.

Requisite Courses: BUS-2501(3) with a minimum grade of C+ [prerequisite(s)]; and students must have met their university writing requirement with a minimum grade of C+ (or exemption) [prerequisite(s)].

BUS-3510 (3) Supply Chain Management (3 hrs Lecture) A supply chain is a network of value-adding activities including the original acquisition of raw materials, production of the item at a manufacturing facility, distribution to a retailer, sale of the finished item to the customer, and service activities that follow the sale. How to effectively manage the supply chain is a central issue for all levels of management, regardless of industry. Students learn about updated topics and issues covered in supply chain management including supply chain design, purchasing, operations, logistics, and coordination.

Requisite Courses: BUS-2501(3) with a minimum grade of C+ [prerequisite(s)]; and students must have met their university writing requirement with a minimum grade of C+ (or exemption) [prerequisite(s)].

BUS-3520 (3) Quality Management (3 hrs Lecture) The management of Quality has evolved over the past five decades from a reactive enforcement of minimum conformance to a proactive process and design consideration that is an important strategic competitive differentiator. This course is designed to provide students with an understanding of the basics of quality management, controlling for quality, quality standards and their implementation, designing for quality as well as the strategic implications of managing various levels of quality.

Requisite Courses: BUS-2501 with a minimum grade of C+ [prerequisite(s)]; and students must have met their university writing requirement with a minimum grade of C+ (or exemption) [prerequisite(s)].

BUS-3530 (3) Applied Operations Management (3 hrs Lecture) This course explores the intersection of the application of operations management techniques and operations strategy to create more efficient and effective functionality within an organization. This course examines problems encountered in planning, operations, and controlling production of goods and services within an enterprise. Students learn how operations research and process improvements can be effectively applied in order to address complex business problems. Topics covered include waiting-line management, quality assurance and lean management, project management, scheduling, site and location analyses, and simulation modelling. Case studies are used to develop expertise in applications of operations management.

Requisite Courses: BUS 2501 with a minimum grade of C+ [prerequisite(s)]; and students must have met their university writing requirement with a minimum grade of C+ (or exemption) [prerequisite(s)].

BUS-3575 (3) Business Data Analytics (3 hrs Lecture) This course introduces students to the breadth and depth to which data analytics and artificial intelligence (AI) can be applied within today's business environment. Students are introduced to various data analysis concepts and applications, such as data visualization, data mining, text and social analytics, and big data. The course explores the ethical issues and societal impacts surrounding this cutting-edge technology. Theoretical and conceptual foundations are covered through lectures and the textbook, and reinforced through extensive use of business cases.

Requisite Courses: BUS-2002(3) or BUS-2010(3), BUS-2103(3), BUS-2210(3), BUS-2440(3) and BUS-2501(3), all with a minimum grade of C+ [prerequisite(s)]; and students must have met their university writing requirement with a minimum grade of C+ (or exemption) [prerequisite(s)].

BUS-3600 (3) Public Sector Financial Management (3 hrs Lecture) This course offers an overview of governmental units for accountants. The course deals with financial management concepts, methods, and standards used in the public sector. The focus is on the federal and provincial governments in Canada, although international issues are also covered. The course familiarizes students with planning, control, and reporting in government. Students learn to: prepare, review, and analyze government annual reports and budget documents; critically analyze public-sector performance information; review, evaluate, and/or recommend cost management and control practices in public-sector enterprises; and identify and manage risk.

Requisite Courses: BUS-2003(3), BUS-3102(3), and BUS-3103(3), all with a minimum grade of C+ [prerequisite(s)]; and students must have met their university writing requirement with a minimum grade of C+ (or exemption) [prerequisite(s)].

BUS-3660 (3) Commercial Law (3 hrs Lecture) This course provides an introduction to the legal environment in which Canadian businesses operate. Students learn background material on the Canadian constitution, courts, and legislative system. They then discuss the most common forms of business organization in Canada: sole proprietorships, partnerships, co-operatives, and corporations. Finally, students explore the law of torts and the law of contract. Students who do well in this course may customarily apply it toward the Chartered Professional Accountant program.

Requisite Courses: BUS-2002(3) or BUS-2010(3), either with a minimum grade of C+; AND BUS-2103(3), BUS-2210(3), BUS-2440(3), and BUS-2501(3), all with a minimum grade of C+ [prerequisite(s)]; and students must have met their university writing requirement with a minimum grade of C+ (or exemption) [prerequisite(s)].

BUS-3755 (3) Entrepreneurship and Small Business Management (3 hrs Lecture) This course considers the nature of entrepreneurship and the distinctive financing, marketing, operational, management and personal challenges of starting and managing a small business. Course methodology is a combination of lectures, discussions, case studies, and visits with members of the Winnipeg business community. Requirements include a feasibility study for an entrepreneurial venture of the student's own choosing.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and BUS-2755.

Requisite Courses: BUS-2002(3) or BUS-2010(3), either with a minimum grade of C+; AND BUS-2103(3), BUS-2210(3), BUS-2440(3), and BUS-2501(3), all with a minimum grade of C+ [prerequisite(s)]; and students must have met their university writing requirement with a minimum grade of C+ (or exemption) [prerequisite(s)].

BUS-3819 (3) Advanced Corporate Finance (3 hrs Lecture) This advanced finance course adds to the technical skill and conceptual understanding of accounting and corporate finance developed in previous courses. It provides an in-depth study of issues and tools that financial managers use in making decisions. Topics include capital budgeting under uncertainty, valuation and financial modelling, leasing, and options.

Cross-listed: ECON-3819(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ECON-3819.

Requisite Courses: BUS-2820(3) or ECON-2820(3) with a minimum grade of C+ [prerequisite(s)]; and students must have met their university writing requirement with a minimum grade of C+ (or exemption); OR permission of the Instructor [prerequisite(s)].

BUS-3900 (3) Topics in Business Administration and Management (3 hrs Lecture) The course examines issues in a specific business related area. The choice of topic depends on the instructor. Students gain a deeper understanding of a particular area of business through examination of its related business issues at a more in-depth level. This course is designed to include lectures and special guest speakers combined with an interactive, discussion-based format.

Requisite Courses: BUS-2002(3) or BUS-2010(3), either with a minimum grade of C+; AND BUS-2103(3), BUS-2210(3), BUS-2440(3), and BUS-2501(3), all with a minimum grade of C+ [prerequisite(s)]; and students must have met their university writing requirement with a minimum grade of C+ (or exemption) [prerequisite(s)].

BUS-3990 (3) Directed Readings in Business and Administration (3 hrs Directed Reading) This is a reading course open to students in their third and fourth years which involves independent and specialized study in an advanced area of Business and Administration. The topic and course work requirements are determined by mutual agreement of the student and instructor, and vetted by the Department Chair. A research paper is normally required. This course may be repeated once for credit when the topic varies.

Restrictions: Permission of Chair and Instr. Department Permission Required.

Requisite Courses: BUS-2002(3) or BUS-2010(3), either with a minimum grade of C+; AND BUS-2103(3), BUS-2210(3), BUS-2440(3), and BUS-2501(3), all with a minimum grade of C+ [prerequisite(s)]; and students must have met their university writing requirement with a minimum grade of C+ (or exemption) [prerequisite(s)].

BUS-4002 (3) Advanced Financial Accounting (3 hrs Lecture) This course familiarizes students with current advanced accounting concepts and theories. The major focus is on the fundamentals and advanced topics related to corporate consolidations. In addition, students examine the complex accounting and upcoming issues involved in both foreign subsidiaries and foreign currency translation. The course uses a combination of lectures/discussions, presentations and case studies.

Requisite Courses: BUS-3102(3) and BUS-3103(3), both with a minimum grade of C+ [prerequisite(s)]; and students must have met their university writing requirement with a minimum grade of C+ (or exemption) [prerequisite(s)].

BUS-4220 (3) International Business (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines both theory and application of business in an international context. It offers research insights from around the globe and shows how corporate practices are adjusted to respond to the realities of the international marketplace. Students study social, environmental, ethical and economic aspects of international businesses, and discuss the interaction between government and business. This course is designed to challenge students in their critical thinking as well as in their ability to manage risks associated with international business in foreign domains.

Requisite Courses: BUS-2002(3) or BUS-2010(3), either with a minimum grade of C+; AND BUS-2103(3), BUS-2210(3), BUS-2440(3), BUS-2501(3), BUS-3240(3), and BUS-3271(3), all with a minimum grade of C+ [prerequisite(s)]; and students must have met their university writing requirement with a minimum grade of C+ (or exemption) [prerequisite(s)].

BUS-4245 (3) Consumer Decision-Making: A Marketing Perspective (3 hrs Lecture) This course moves beyond fundamentals of marketing, delving deeper into consumer decision-making. Using a series of readings from the Journal of Consumer Research, and other leading journals in marketing, this course examines factors (i.e., mood, level of arousal, retail atmosphere variables) that influence consumer decision-making. Furthermore, students apply the research findings to help create public policy implications for a number of relevant groups in society including consumers, marketers and businesses. Students utilize the research of relevant groups in society including consumers, marketers and businesses. Students utilize the research findings to help create a framework for understanding the thought processes underlying consumers' decisions.

Requisite Courses: BUS-3240(3) with a minimum grade of C+ [prerequisite(s)]; and students must have met their university writing requirement with a minimum grade of C+ (or exemption) [prerequisite(s)].

BUS-4301 (3) Financing a Co-operative Business (3 hrs Lecture) This course provides students with knowledge of the emerging field of social finance through case study analysis and development. Students discuss the social impact and financial performance measures within the co-operative enterprises model. This includes the strategies that firms must implement in order to ensure that shareholders, stakeholders, and the recipients of the social outcomes are all included in the assessment of the firm's performance. Students are introduced to the concept of impact investing through readings and in-class discussions.

Requisite Courses: BUS-3300(3) with a minimum grade C+ [prerequisite(s)]; and students must have met their university writing requirement with a minimum grade of C+ (or exemption); OR permission of the Instructor [prerequisite(s)].

BUS-4440 (3) Contemporary Human Resource Issues (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This seminar course allows students to discuss contemporary issues surrounding the Human Resource Management and Organizational Behaviour fields. This research-based course provides an opportunity for students to explore practical solutions to resource management issues within organizations. The topics for research and discussion are primarily selected by students and may include topics such as increasing diversity in the workplace; person-organization fit; workplace monitoring/privacy issues; motivation of employees; change management; personal wellness/stress management; work-life balance; and personal accountability of managers, employees, and volunteers in corporations, co-operative enterprises, not for profit organizations, and the public sector.

Requisite Courses: BUS-2103(3) or the former PSYC-2440(3), either with a minimum grade of C+; AND BUS-2440(3) with a minimum grade of C+ [prerequisite(s)]; AND ONE of BUS/WGS/POL-3321(3) or BUS-3410(3) or BUS-3420(3) or BUS-4450(3) or BUS-4460(3) or CRS-3240(3) or CRS-4240(3) or PSYC-3450(3), with a minimum grade of C+ [prerequisite(s)]; and students must have met their university writing requirement with a minimum grade of C+ (or exemption); OR permission of the Instructor [prerequisite(s)].

BUS-4450 (3) Motivation, Teams, and Power in Organizations (3 hrs Lecture) This course builds on the fundamentals of organizational behaviour to examine three core topics: motivation, teams, and power, as well as underlying processes. Systematic study of these topics draws on perspectives from psychology, sociology, anthropology, and political science. Students explore intersections among topics through ethical, global, analytical, and action-oriented lenses. A range of instructional methods are used, including lecture, exercises, film, and case analysis.

Requisite Courses: BUS-2103(3) or the former

PSYC-2440(3) with a minimum grade B; and BUS-2440(3) with a minimum grade of C+; and one of BUS/WGS/POL-3321(3) or BUS-3410(3) or BUS-3420(3) or BUS 4440(3) or BUS-4460(3) or CRS-3240(3) or CRS-4240(3) or PSYC-3450(3), with a minimum grade of C+ [prerequisite(s)]; and students must have met their university writing requirement with a minimum grade of C+ (or exemption) [prerequisite(s)].

BUS-4460 (3) Leadership and Fairness in Complex Organizations (3 hrs Lecture) This course delves into issues of leadership, social justice, and fairness in complex organizations. Organizational settings explored include corporations, not-for-profit service agencies, self-governing Indigenous communities, and government institutions. Students examine how organizational structure, policy, social psychology, and the interdependencies between different forms of organizations can influence fairness, justice and equity. Issues are explored from individual, group, organizational, and societal perspectives. The topics for research and discussion include emerging contingency models of leadership, servant and moral leadership, followership, crisis leadership, reconciliation with Indigenous communities, best practices in diversity management, and how to recognize and mitigate toxic leaders.

Requisite Courses: PSYC-3450(3) with a minimum grade of C+; OR BUS-2103(3) or the former PSYC-2440(3), and BUS-2440(3), and ONE of BUS-3250(3), BUS-3300(3), BUS-3321(3), or BUS-3420(3), all with a minimum grade of C+ [prerequisite(s)]; and students must have met their university writing requirement with a minimum grade of C+ (or exemption) [prerequisite(s)].

BUS-4500 (3) International Management (3 hrs Lecture) This theory- and research-based course relates to developing skills needed for effective management of people, resources and processes in an international context. Students focus on management functions and behaviours necessary to develop global vision and management skills at both a strategic (macro) level and an interpersonal (micro) level. This course is particularly useful for students interested in learning about the impact of culture on international management, negotiations and strategy.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and BUS-3500.

Requisite Courses: BUS-2002(3) or BUS-2010(3) either with a minimum grade of C+; AND BUS-2103(3), BUS-2210(3), BUS-2440(3), BUS-2501(3), BUS-3240(3), and BUS-3271(3), all with a minimum grade of C+ [prerequisite(s)]; and students must have met their university writing requirement with a minimum grade of C+ (or exemption) [prerequisite(s)].

BUS-4540 (3) International Marketing (3 hrs Lecture) This theory and research-based course provides students with an understanding of concepts associated with international marketing and builds on the existing knowledge of marketing and consumer behaviour. Topics include the role of international marketing in promoting consumer and industrial products in both developed and emerging markets. The group term-project for this course is based on research that recommends appropriate international marketing strategies for a given country.

Requisite Courses: BUS-2002(3) or BUS-2010(3), either with a minimum grade of C+; AND BUS-2103(3), BUS-2210(3), BUS-2440(3), BUS-2501(3), BUS-3240(3), and BUS-3271(3), all with a minimum grade of C+ [prerequisite(s)]; and students must have met their university writing requirement with a minimum grade of C+ (or exemption) [prerequisite(s)].

BUS-4555 (3) Auditing (3 hrs Lecture) This course familiarizes students with auditing concepts and theories, the auditor decision-making process, the legal environment of auditing in Canada, the nature and sources of audit evidence, and the internal control process. This course uses a combination of lectures/discussion, presentations, and case studies.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and BUS-3550.

Requisite Courses: BUS-2003(3), BUS-3102(3), and BUS-3103(3), all with a minimum grade of C+ [prerequisite(s)]; and students must have met their university writing requirement with a minimum grade of C+ (or exemption) [prerequisite(s)].

BUS-4560 (3) Technology and Innovation

Management (3 hrs Lecture) With the dawn of the Fourth Industrial Revolution over the last decade, technological innovations have become a significant source of hope for the design and operation of more socially, ecologically, and economically sustainable systems. This case-based course assists students to develop analytical skills necessary to design and manage organizations that compete through technological innovations. Through in-depth class discussions, students draw upon theoretical concepts introduced in this course to critically analyze the emergent issues at the intersection of innovation, technology, and operations management.

Requisite Courses: BUS-3502(3) AND BUS-3510(3), both with a minimum grade of C+ [prerequisite(s)]; and students must have met their university writing requirement with a minimum grade of C+ (or exemption) [prerequisite(s)].

BUS-4602 (3) Topics in International Business (3 hrs Lecture) This advanced course provides students with the opportunity to gain a deeper understanding of a particular international business topic. In addition to their research skills, students further develop their critical thinking and analysis skills in international business.

Requisite Courses: BUS-2002(3) or BUS-2010(3); and BUS-2103(3) or the former PSYC-2440(3); and BUS-2210(3), BUS-2440(3), and BUS-2501(3) all with a minimum grade of C+ [prerequisite(s)]; AND ONE of BUS-4220(3) or BUS-4500(3) or the former BUS-3500(3) or BUS-4940(3) or ECON-3301(3) or ECON-3302(3) or IDS/ANTH-3160(3) with a minimum grade of C+ [prerequisite(s)]; and students must have met their university writing requirement with a minimum grade of C+ (or exemption) [prerequisite(s)].

BUS-4603 (3) Topics in Marketing (3 hrs Lecture) This advanced course provides students with the opportunity to gain a deeper understanding of a particular marketing topic. In addition to their research skills, students further develop their critical thinking and analysis skills in business marketing.

Requisite Courses: BUS-2002(3) or BUS-2010(3); and BUS-2103(3) or the former PSYC-2440(3); and BUS-2210(3), BUS-2440(3), and BUS-2501(3), all with a minimum grade of C+ [prerequisite(s)]; AND ONE of BUS-3230(3) or BUS-3240(3) or BUS-3260(3) or BUS-3271(3) or BUS-4245(3) or BUS-4540(3) or ACS-3907(3) with a minimum grade of C+ [prerequisite(s)]; and students must have met their university writing requirement with a minimum grade of C+ (or exemption) [prerequisite(s)].

BUS-4604 (3) Topics in Human Resource Management and Organizational Behaviour (3 hrs Lecture) This advanced course provides students with the opportunity to gain a deeper understanding of a particular human resource management or organizational behaviour topic. In addition to their research skills, students further develop their critical thinking and analysis in human resource management and organizational behaviour.

Requisite Courses: BUS-2002(3) or BUS-2010(3); and BUS-2103(3) or the former PSYC-2440(3); and BUS-2210(3), BUS-2440(3), and BUS-2501(3), all with a minimum grade of C+ [prerequisite(s)]; AND ONE of BUS/WGS/POL-3321(3) or BUS-3410(3) or BUS-3420(3) or BUS-4450(3) or BUS-4460(3) or CRS-3240(3) or CRS-4240(3) or PSYC-3450(3), with a minimum grade of C+ [prerequisite(s)]; and students must have met their university writing requirement with a minimum grade of C+ (or exemption) [prerequisite(s)].

BUS-4606 (3) Topics in Co-Operatives & Credit

Unions (3 hrs Lecture) This topics course focuses on the development, growth and sustainability of co-operative businesses (financial and non-financial). Utilizing case studies, literature reviews and environmental scans, students gain an understanding of the unique characteristics of the co-operative organizational structure. The course engages students through in-class discussions and lectures with a final outcome of a student paper. Students gain a greater understanding of the co-operative sector as a business model and social movement, and are able to compare the co-operative movement to social movements such as La Via Campesina, Food Sovereignty Movement and other grassroots movements.

Requisite Courses: BUS-3300, AND BUS-3301 OR BUS-3302, all with a minimum grade of C+ [prerequisite(s)]; and students must have met their university writing requirement with a minimum grade of C+ (or exemption), OR Permission of Instructor [prerequisite(s)].

BUS-4607 (3) Topics in Operations and Supply Chain

Management (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This course provides students with the practical skills needed to critically analyse academic papers in operations management including organizational performance, capability, strategy, flexibility, lean management, just in time, supply chain, and sustainability topics. This course incorporates a variety of methodologies including lecture, discussion, group presentation, and a high degree of interactive participation. A series of concepts, frameworks and analytic tools are presented to better understand the management of operations. Industry applications and cases illustrate concepts and challenges, which provide students with the skills of planning and writing an academic paper in the field.

Requisite Courses: BUS-3502(3) AND BUS-3510(3), both with a minimum grade of C+ [prerequisite(s)]; and students must have met their university writing requirement with a minimum grade of C+ (or exemption) [prerequisite(s)].

BUS-4750 (3) Business Plan (3 hrs Project / Thesis) In this course, students develop a business plan for an entrepreneurial venture. This project can be undertaken by either an individual or a group. Expectations include submitting the business plan to a business plan competition and/or presenting it to potential sources of funding for the venture.

Restrictions: Instructor Permission Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and BUS-2755(3).

Requisite Courses: BUS-3755(3) with a minimum grade of C+ [prerequisite(s)]; and students must have met their university writing requirement with a minimum grade of C+ (or exemption) [prerequisite(s)].

BUS-4800 (3) Investments (3 hrs Lecture) This course introduces students to the main financial instruments that are used in the investment industry, including a detailed description of financial instruments and how they are traded in financial markets. A brief review of portfolio theory is presented including a discussion of a number of key models of modern finance, including the Capital Asset Pricing Model and the Arbitrage Pricing Theory. The course also includes a detailed examination of the role and operation of fixed-income securities and equities. The course concludes with a discussion of the role and techniques of passive versus active portfolio management.

Cross-listed: ECON-4800(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ECON-4800.

Requisite Courses: BUS-2820(3) or ECON-2820(3) (or the former ECON-2319(6) or BUS-2319(6)) [prerequisite(s)]; and STAT-1302(3) or STAT-2001(3) [prerequisite(s)]; and ONE of MATH-1101(6) or MATH-1102(3) or MATH-1103(3) or ECON-1201(3); ALL with a minimum grade of C+ [prerequisite(s)]; and students must have met their university writing requirement with a minimum grade of C+ (or exemption); OR permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

BUS-4801 (3) Options, Futures, and Derivatives (3 hrs Lecture) This course is designed to provide an in-depth analysis of a number of topics in modern finance theory and applications. The main areas that are examined include Futures Markets, Option Markets and Derivatives. These financial instruments play a key role in the management of risk by firms, and have attracted increasing interest from private sector firms and the larger community. The role of these instruments in the financial markets and their effect on the financial system are examined in detail.

Note: This course is intended for students in the EFIN program.

Cross-listed: ECON-4801(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ECON-4801.

Requisite Courses: ECON-2820(3) or BUS-2820(3) (or the former ECON-2319(6) or BUS-2319(6)) [prerequisite(s)]; and STAT-1302(3) or STAT-2001(3) [prerequisite(s)]; and ONE of MATH-1101(6) or MATH-1102(3) or MATH-1103(3) or ECON-1201(3); ALL with a minimum grade of C+ [prerequisite(s)]; and students must have met their university writing requirement with a minimum grade of C+ (or exemption); OR permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

BUS-4802 (3) Topics in Finance I (3 hrs Lecture) This course provides an opportunity to study a particular finance research topic in depth. The course covers primarily theoretical aspects of finance. Possible topics include entrepreneurial finance, fixed income analysis and behavioral finance. This course may be repeated for credit when the topic varies.

Cross-listed: ECON-4802(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ECON-4802.

Requisite Courses: BUS-2820(3) or ECON-2820(3), and ECON-2201(3) and ECON-3201(3), all with a minimum grade of C+ [prerequisite(s)]; and students must have met their university writing requirement with a minimum grade of C+ (or exemption); OR permission of the Instructor [prerequisite(s)].

BUS-4803 (3) Topics in Finance II (3 hrs Lecture) This course provides students an opportunity to study a particular finance research topic in depth. The course content covers primarily empirical aspects in finance. Possible topics include financial risk and management, valuation and financial statement analysis, and valuation and financial modeling. This course may be repeated for credit when the topic varies.

Cross-listed: ECON-4803(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ECON-4803.

Requisite Courses: BUS-2820(3) or ECON-2820(3), and ECON-2201(3) and ECON-3201(3), all with a minimum grade of C+ [prerequisite(s)]; and students must have met their university writing requirement with a minimum grade of C+ (or exemption); OR permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

BUS-4900 (3) Advanced Topics in Business and Management (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This course provides students with the opportunity to gain a deeper appreciation of the issues involved in a specific business-related area. Students further develop their critical business thinking and analysis, in addition to their research skills. This course may be repeated once for credit when the topic varies.

Restrictions: Instructor Permission Required. Department Permission Required.

Requisite Courses: BUS-2002(3) or BUS-2010(3), either with a minimum grade of C+; AND BUS-2103(3) or the former PSYC-2440(3), either with a minimum grade of C+, AND BUS-2210(3), BUS-2440(3) and BUS-2501(3) all with a minimum grade of C+ [prerequisite(s)]; and students must have met their university writing requirement with a minimum grade of C+ (or exemption) [prerequisite(s)].

BUS-4901 (3) Business Strategy (3 hrs

Seminar/Discussion) In this case-based course, students take the perspective of the general manager with responsibility for the overall organization, rather than that of a functional specialist. Topics include the nature of strategy and its function for an organization; the characteristics of effective strategy; and how strategy forms and evolves in relation to an organization's environment, competition, capabilities, and the values and ambitions of its leadership. This course is intended for students in their final year of study.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and BUS-4920.

Requisite Courses: BUS-2002(3) or BUS-2010(3), and BUS-2103(3) or the former PSYC-2440(3), and BUS-2210(3), BUS-2440(3), and BUS-2501(3), all with a minimum grade of C+ [prerequisite(s)]; and ONE of BUS-3110(3) or BUS-3255(3) or IDS-3101(3) or PHIL-2201(3) or PHIL-2230(3) or PHIL-2233(3) or CRS-3231(3); all with a minimum grade of C+ [prerequisite(s)]; and students must have met their university writing requirement with a minimum grade of C+ (or exemption); OR permission of the Instructor [prerequisite(s)].

BUS-4920 (3) Business Strategy for Accountants (3 hrs Lecture) This case-based course introduces students to the process of strategic management in organizations from the perspective of senior managers concerned with long-term effectiveness and efficiency. The course introduces students to various strategic frameworks used to diagnose and solve critical problems, and/or identify and take advantage of opportunities, in a complex, ever-changing business environment. Students focus on accounting aspects of strategy in the context of how it influences, and is influenced by, the other functional disciplines.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and BUS-4901.

Requisite Courses: BUS-3003(3) and BUS-2103(3) or the former PSYC-2440(3) and BUS-2210(3), BUS-2440(3) and BUS-2501(3), all with a minimum grade of C+ [prerequisite(s)]; and ONE of BUS-3110(3), BUS-3255(3), IDS-3101(3), PHIL-2201(3), PHIL-2230(3), PHIL-2233(3), CRS-3231(3), all with a minimum grade of C+ (or exemption) [prerequisite(s)]; and students must have met their university writing requirement with a minimum grade of C+ (or exemption); OR permission of the Instructor [prerequisite(s)].

BUS-4940 (3) Emerging Markets and Business

Practices (3 hrs Lecture) In this course students focus on prevailing business practices and the process of globalization of organizations from emerging markets. The growing power of nations and purchasing power of consumers from emerging markets means that business managers need to learn to discover new consumer preferences, develop new projects, and devise appropriate strategies to market these products.

Requisite Courses: BUS-2002(3) or BUS-2010(3), either with a minimum grade of C+; AND BUS-2103(3), BUS-2210(3), BUS-2440(3), BUS-2501(3), BUS-3240(3), and BUS-3271(3), all with a minimum grade of C+ [prerequisite(s)]; and students must have met their university writing requirement with a minimum grade of C+ (or exemption) [prerequisite(s)].

CHEMISTRY

CHEM-0100 (3) Foundations of Chemistry (3 hrs Lecture) The purpose of this course is to prepare students for CHEM-1111 Introduction to the Chemical Properties of Matter and CHEM-1112 Basic Principles of Chemical Reactivity. Topics include the characterization of chemical substances, chemical reactions, chemical quantities, and chemical systems.

Note: Standing in this course will satisfy the prerequisites for CHEM-1111 and CHEM-1112 (in place of Chemistry 40S, Pre-Calculus Mathematics 40S, and/or Applied Mathematics 40S). Non-science majors wishing to take a chemistry course for science credit should take CHEM-2801 Environmental Issues: A Chemistry Perspective. This course CANNOT be used as a credit towards the Chemistry or Biochemistry majors. Students with standing in CHEM-1111 or CHEM-1112 cannot register for this course.

CHEM-1111 (3) Introduction to Chemical Properties of Matter (3 hrs Lecture | 3 hrs Lab) This course includes an introduction to atomic and molecular structure, chemical bonding, chemical reactivity, to the bulk properties of matter, and the descriptive chemistry of the elements. The laboratory component introduces students to basic chemistry laboratory practice and techniques. The fundamental concepts of chemical reactivity covered in this course and CHEM-1112 provide the essential foundation for students who wish to continue with Chemistry or Biochemistry as a major, and for students of Biology, Physics, Physical Geography, Environmental Studies, and Experimental Psychology.

Requisite Courses: Pre-Calculus Mathematics 40S or Applied Mathematics 40S, and Chemistry 40S; or CHEM-0100 [prerequisite(s)]; CHEM-1111L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

CHEM-1112 (3) Basic Principles of Chemical Reactivity (3 hrs Lecture | 3 hrs Lab) This course includes an introduction to chemical kinetics, chemical thermodynamics and equilibrium, and to acid/base and oxidation/reduction chemical reactions. The laboratory component introduces students to some of the basic techniques of practical chemistry. The fundamental concepts of chemical reactivity covered in this course and CHEM-1111 provide the essential foundation for students who wish to continue with Chemistry or Biochemistry as a major, and for students of Biology, Physics, Physical Geography, Environmental Studies, and Experimental Psychology.

Requisite Courses: Chemistry 40S and Pre-Calculus Math 40S or Applied Math 40S; or CHEM-0100 [prerequisite(s)]; CHEM-1112L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

CHEM-2102 (3) Thermodynamics and Kinetics (3 hrs Lecture | 3 hrs Lab) This course describes the principles and applications of thermodynamics, and the rates and mechanisms of chemical reactions. Laboratory work consists of experiments in the thermodynamics and kinetics of gases and solutions, and computer applications in data analysis and problem solving.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and CHEM-2101.

Requisite Courses: CHEM-1111, CHEM-1112, and either MATH-1101, or MATH-1103 and MATH-1104 [prerequisite(s)]; CHEM-2102L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

CHEM-2103 (3) Atoms, Molecules and Spectroscopy (3 hrs Lecture | 3 hrs Lab) This course is an introduction to quantum chemistry, with applications in atomic and molecular structure and spectroscopy. Laboratory work consists of experiments in molecular spectroscopy and computational methods for determining molecular structures and properties.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and CHEM-2101.

Requisite Courses: CHEM-1111, CHEM-1112, and either MATH-1101, or MATH-1103 and MATH-1104 [prerequisite(s)]; CHEM-2103L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

CHEM-2104 (3) Computational Drug Design (3 hrs Lecture) Computational drug design is a scientific research field that encompasses aspects of physical chemistry, organic chemistry, biochemistry, molecular biology, and computer science. This course explores aspects of computational drug design from a physical chemistry perspective, including crystallography, molecular modelling, ligand-protein docking, and machine-learning in chemistry. A particular focus is placed on the computational design of drugs for viral protein targets, such as human immunodeficiency virus (HIV), hepatitis C virus (HCV), and severe acute respiratory syndrome coronavirus 2 (SARS-CoV-2).

Experimental Course - This course is offered on a trial basis to gauge interest in the topic. Students who successfully complete this course receive credit as indicated.

Requisite Courses: CHEM-1111, CHEM-1112 [prerequisite(s)].

CHEM-2202 (3) Organic Chemistry I (3 hrs Lecture | 3 hrs Lab) This course is an introductory study of aliphatic carbon compounds. Topics to be covered include bonding; hybridization; resonance; acids and bases; the structure, nomenclature, synthesis and reactions of alkanes, alkenes, alkynes, alkyl halides, alcohols, ethers and amines; the stereo chemistry of organic compounds; and nucleophilic substitution and elimination reactions and their use in organic synthesis. The laboratory includes an introduction to techniques commonly used in organic chemistry, through the preparation, purification and characterization of organic compounds.

Note: CHEM-1111 may be used as a corequisite provided a minimum grade of 75 or equivalent was obtained in Chemistry 40S.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and CHEM-2201.

Requisite Courses: CHEM-1111 and CHEM-1112 [prerequisite(s)]; CHEM-2202L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

CHEM-2203 (3) Organic Chemistry II (3 hrs Lecture | 3 hrs Lab) This course is an introductory study of the chemistry and structural identification of common aliphatic and aromatic organic compounds. Topics include the structure, nomenclature, synthesis and reactions of aromatic hydrocarbons, phenols, aldehydes, ketones, enolates, carboxylic acids, sulfur- and phosphorus-containing compounds, and free-radicals. Spectroscopic instrumentation for structure determination is discussed, with an emphasis on infra-red (IR) and nuclear magnetic resonance (NMR) spectroscopy, and mass spectrometry (MS). The laboratory includes an introduction to techniques commonly used in organic chemistry, through the preparation, purification and characterization of compounds.

Note: CHEM-1112 may be used as a corequisite provided a minimum grade of 75 or equivalent was obtained in Chemistry 40S.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and CHEM-2201.

Requisite Courses: CHEM-2202 [prerequisite(s)]; CHEM-2203L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

CHEM-2302 (3) Quantitative Chemical Analysis (3 hrs Lecture | 3 hrs Lab) This is a first course in analytical chemistry which examines ionic equilibria in aqueous solutions and their use in chemical analysis. This course covers both volumetric and gravimetric analysis with a detailed examination of the pertinent equilibria involved in precipitation, acid-base, complexometric, and oxidation-reduction systems. The lab consists of a series of experiments designed to develop strong analytical techniques.

Requisite Courses: CHEM-1111 and CHEM-1112 [prerequisite(s)]; CHEM-2302L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

CHEM-2401 (3) Inorganic Chemistry I (3 hrs Lecture | 3 hrs Lab) This course provides an introduction to Inorganic Chemistry with a focus on fundamental concepts. The first part of the course deals with understanding and predicting molecular bonding and structure with examples taken mostly from the main group. The second part of the course deals with understanding and explaining the trends in chemical behaviour with emphasis being placed on the main group elements. Laboratory work demonstrates reactivity trends discussed in lecture and introduces the techniques associated with the synthesis and characterization of main group compounds.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and CHEM-3402.

Requisite Courses: CHEM-1111 and CHEM-1112 [prerequisite(s)]; CHEM-2401L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

CHEM-2502 (3) Introduction to Biochemistry (3 hrs Lecture | 3 hrs Lab) This is an introductory course in biochemistry. Topics include: the structural characteristics and biological properties of biomolecules (carbohydrates, lipids, proteins, and nucleic acids); basic enzymology; and metabolism. Examples of the application of the principles of biochemistry to the study and treatment of human diseases are discussed.

Note: This course can be taken prior to or concurrently with CHEM 3502 or CHEM 3503. Students who currently hold a B or higher in CHEM-3502 or CHEM-3503 may not receive credit for this course. Students may not hold credit for CHEM-2502 and CHEM-2503.

Requisite Courses: CHEM-1111 and CHEM-1112 [prerequisite(s)]; CHEM-2202 (must be taken previously or at the same time as this course); CHEM-2502L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

CHEM-2701 (3) Computer Techniques and Applications for Chemistry (3 hrs Lecture | 3 hrs Lab) This course introduces students to computer applications in the field of Chemistry. Topics include data handling; basic statistical analysis; graphing; drawing chemical structures, equations, and diagrams; computations; molecular modelling and minimum energies; and the incorporation of diagrams, graphs, molecular structures, and equations directly into scientific documents.

Requisite Courses: CHEM-1111 and CHEM-1112 with a minimum grade of C [prerequisite(s)]; CHEM-2701L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

CHEM-2801 (3) Environmental Issues: A Chemistry Perspective (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines a number of environmental and societal issues, such as global warming and acid rain. Basic chemical and physical concepts are introduced as required to supplement the discussion. Topics include the past, present and future use of energy in society; plastics; nutrition; and green/sustainable chemistry. Online discussion groups and assignments are used to facilitate debate and conceptual understanding. This course prepares students for introductory chemistry and environmental sciences courses. The course may also serve as a topical survey for senior science students.

Note: CHEM-2801 may be used to fulfil the Science requirement for the BA degree. It can also be used for credit towards the Chemistry major in the 5-Year BEd/BSc degree. CHEM-2801 cannot be used as major credit for the Chemistry or Biochemistry degrees.

CHEM-3101 (3) Physical Chemistry of Condensed Phases (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines the thermodynamics, structures, and physical properties of liquids, solids and surfaces. Topics include phase transitions, chemical reactions, ionic solutions, and transport properties (conductivity, diffusion, viscous flow, surface tension, and capillarity).

Requisite Courses: CHEM-2102 or permission of instructor [prerequisite(s)].

CHEM-3102 (3) Quantum Chemistry and Spectroscopy (3 hrs Lecture | 3 hrs Lab) This course examines the quantum theory of chemical bonding, molecular properties, and spectroscopy.

Requisite Courses: CHEM-2103 [prerequisite(s)].

CHEM-3202 (3) Reaction Mechanisms in Organic Chemistry (3 hrs Lecture) This course deals with the application of physical chemical principles to organic compounds and their reactions. It includes topics such as the effects of structure on reactivity, heterolytic reaction mechanisms, acidity functions, catalysis, solvent effects, and isotope effects.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and CHEM-3201.

Requisite Courses: CHEM-2202 and CHEM-2203 [prerequisite(s)].

CHEM-3204 (3) Organic Structure Determination (3 hrs Lecture) This course teaches the application of spectroscopic techniques (1D and 2D multinuclear NMR, IR, MS, UV) to organic structure determination. Classical methods still in common use are briefly covered.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and CHEM-3201.

Requisite Courses: CHEM-2202 and CHEM-2203 [prerequisite(s)].

CHEM-3205 (3) Organic Synthesis (3 hrs Lecture) This course deals with the synthesis of organic compounds. Topics include synthetic strategies, conformational analysis, use of protecting groups, and chiral induction. Molecular orbital theory will be introduced and applied to the study of pericyclic reactions.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and CHEM-4202.

Requisite Courses: CHEM-2202 and CHEM-2203 [prerequisite(s)].

CHEM-3206 (3) Advanced Organic Chemistry

Laboratory (3 hrs Lecture) This course provides students with advanced laboratory experience in Organic Chemistry. Students are exposed to the theory and application of methods for experimental design; purification of reagents; working with air/moisture sensitive reagents; and the isolation, purification and identification of natural products. Students set up and conduct several experiments and formulate reports on their work.

Requisite Courses: CHEM-2203 with a minimum grade of C [prerequisite(s)].

CHEM-3302 (3) Methods of Chemical Analysis (3 hrs Lecture | 3 hrs Lab) This course introduces students to the procedures of analytical chemistry including sampling, preparation of the sample for analysis, instrument calibration, and statistical treatment of data. Specific analytical methods discussed include potentiometry and atomic and molecular spectroscopy. This involves a series of analyses using instrumental techniques.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and CHEM-2301.

Requisite Courses: CHEM-2302 [prerequisite(s)]; CHEM-3302L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

CHEM-3401 (3) Inorganic Chemistry II: Coordination Chemistry

(3 hrs Lecture | 3 hrs Lab) This course examines the bonding, structure, and reactivity of coordination compounds of the transition metals. Building on the fundamentals covered in CHEM-2401(3), we discuss the nature of the metal-ligand bond, including its effect on physical and chemical properties of metal complexes. General trends in transition metal coordination chemistry are examined with an emphasis on understanding and predicting the reactivity and structures of coordination compounds. Laboratory work involves synthesis and characterization of transition metal coordination compounds.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and CHEM-3402 | CHEM-3404.

Requisite Courses: CHEM-2202 and CHEM-2401 [prerequisite(s)]; CHEM-2203 (must be taken previously or at the same time as this course); CHEM-3401L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

CHEM-3502 (3) Intermediate Biochemistry I:

Structure, Function, and Energetics of Biomolecules

(3 hrs Lecture | 3 hrs Lab) Topics to be examined in this course include the structure and function of biomolecules, including carbohydrates, lipids, nucleic acids, proteins, and "high energy" phosphate compounds (emphasizing the inter-relationship of structure and function); mechanisms and kinetics of enzyme-catalyzed reactions; membrane transport; and bioenergetics.

Note: CHEM-2202 may be used as a corequisite provided that a minimum grade of B+ was obtained in CHEM-1111 and CHEM-1112.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and CHEM-3501.

Requisite Courses: CHEM-1111 and CHEM-1112 and CHEM-2202 and BIOL-1115 [prerequisite(s)]; CHEM-3502L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

CHEM-3503 (3) Intermediate Biochemistry II:

Intermediary Metabolism

(3 hrs Lecture | 3 hrs Lab) This course examines major catabolic and anabolic pathways, and their regulation and integration.

Note: CHEM-2203 may be used as a corequisite provided that a minimum grade of B+ was obtained in CHEM-1111 and CHEM-1112.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and CHEM-3501.

Requisite Courses: CHEM-3502 [prerequisite(s)]; CHEM-3503L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

CHEM-3504 (3) Plant Biochemistry

(3 hrs Lecture) This course covers aspects of chemistry that are unique to plants. Topics include an introduction to basic biochemical concepts: photophosphorylation; photosynthesis; carbohydrate metabolism; nitrogen fixation; some aspects of secondary metabolism; and agricultural applications.

Requisite Courses: CHEM-2202 [prerequisite(s)].

CHEM-3601 (3) Environmental Chemistry

(3 hrs Lecture) This course in environmental organic chemistry describes the properties, partitioning behaviour and reactivity of organic contaminants and their influence on the distribution, transport and fate of the chemical in the environment. Recent literature is used to discuss current issues in environmental chemistry, with an emphasis on long-range transport and global distribution of persistent, toxic and bioaccumulative contaminants.

Requisite Courses: CHEM-2202 and CHEM-2203 [prerequisite(s)].

CHEM-3611 (3) Environmental Toxicology

(3 hrs Lecture) This course provides an understanding of how and why chemicals may damage humans and other organisms. Basic principles of toxicology and environmental chemical exposure are covered, and detailed analysis is presented of the body's defences against toxicants and the physiological and/or biochemical mechanisms by which toxicants cause effects.

Toxicological modeling and environmental risk assessment are introduced. Students apply these principles to explore emerging topics of interest in their own discipline.

Cross-listed: ENV-3611(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ENV-3611.

Requisite Courses: CHEM-1111 and CHEM-1112 or BIOL-1115 and BIOL-1116 [prerequisite(s)].

CHEM-3701 (3) Directed Studies in Chemistry (3 hrs Project / Thesis) This course is designed to allow students the opportunity to conduct individual research under the supervision of a faculty member. The study may take the form of a literature review, may be experimental in nature, or may involve the analysis of existing data.

Note: Permission to enrol is dependent on the availability of a suitable faculty member AND students must obtain written permission from the Chair of Chemistry in addition to the prerequisite. This course may only be taken once for credit.

Requisite Courses: 12 credit hours of Chemistry courses and permission from the Chair of the Chemistry Department [prerequisite(s)].

CHEM-4101 (3) Quantum Chemistry (3 hrs Lecture)

This course covers the fundamentals of quantum chemistry, with an introduction to the electronic structure theory of molecules. The course also introduces computational chemistry techniques as valuable tools for research in all fields of chemistry.

Requisite Courses: CHEM-2103 [prerequisite(s)].

CHEM-4204 (3) Medicinal Chemistry (3 hrs Lecture)

This course deals with an introduction to pharmaceuticals from natural sources and their biosynthetic origin. This also includes various methods of synthesis, and studies on structure-activity relationships of anti-inflammatory, anti-cancer and anti-microbial chemotherapeutic agents.

Requisite Courses: CHEM-2202 and CHEM 2203 [prerequisite(s)].

CHEM-4205 (3) Natural Products (3 hrs Lecture) This course provides a comprehensive overview of secondary metabolism and the origin of small naturally occurring pharmaceutically active compounds from natural sources including plants, marine organisms and microorganisms. Application of modern techniques in studying secondary metabolism and organic chemistry behind the synthesis of major classes of bioactive natural products classified based on their simple building blocks and biogenesis is discussed. These major classes of natural products are alkaloids, terpenoids, aromatic compounds and macrocyclic compounds. The application of presently reported understanding of biosynthetic chemistry in developing biotech methods to produce these small molecules at large scale is also examined.

Experimental Course - This course is offered on a trial basis to gauge interest in the topic. Students who successfully complete this course receive credit as indicated.

Requisite Courses: CHEM-2202, CHEM-2203 [prerequisite(s)]; CHEM-3502 or CHEM-3503 (must be taken concurrently).

CHEM-4302 (3) Instrumentation for Quantitative

Analysis (3 hrs Lecture) This course discusses the basic electronic principles and design of instrumentation for molecular and atomic spectroscopy as well as quantitative mass spectrometry. Students taking this course gain an appreciation of a variety of topics including basic electronics, signal acquisition, noise and signal enhancement. Apart from the classroom, students also participate in practical demonstrations in the laboratory. Theory and applications for a variety of techniques available in this course include the following: atomic absorption and atomic emission spectroscopy, atomic mass spectrometry and x-ray fluorescence.

Requisite Courses: CHEM-2302 and CHEM-3302 [prerequisite(s)].

CHEM-4303 (3) Analytical Separations (3 hrs Lecture | 3 hrs Lab) The crucial role of analytical separations in chemistry and biochemistry, both qualitative and quantitative, is discussed in detail. Theoretical background, principles of instrumentation, and applications are detailed for important chromatographic and mass spectrometric techniques for chemical isolation and identification. The laboratory exercises provide a unique opportunity to gain practical experience with modern techniques, including gas and liquid chromatography and mass spectrometry.

Requisite Courses: CHEM-2202 and CHEM-2203 (or the former CHEM-2201) and CHEM-3302 (or the former CHEM-2301) [prerequisite(s)]; CHEM-4303L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

CHEM-4401 (3) Organometallic d-Block Chemistry (3 hrs Lecture | 3 hrs Lab) This course focuses on compounds featuring transition metal-carbon bonds. Students explore physical and bonding properties, characterization methods, and fundamental reaction mechanisms of organometallic compounds. Applications of transition metal organometallics in green chemistry are examined, e.g. homogenous catalysis for organic synthesis and industrial chemical preparation.

Requisite Courses: CHEM-3401 [prerequisite(s)].

CHEM-4403 (3) Advanced Main Group Chemistry (3 hrs Lecture) Aspects of main group chemistry are covered in this course, including electron-deficient compounds, main group organometallics, and ring systems and polymers. Focus is placed on bonding descriptions of main group compounds, as well as synthetic methods and characterization techniques (NMR, EPR, mass spectrometry, X-ray diffraction). The industrial applications of main group compounds are discussed.

Requisite Courses: CHEM-3401 [prerequisite(s)].

CHEM-4502 (3) Molecular Enzymology (3 hrs Lecture)

This course examines aspects of the structure, function, and regulation of enzymes. Topics include the inter-relationship of enzyme structure and function, current theories of the chemical basis of enzyme catalysis, enzyme kinetics, and the regulation of enzyme activity.

Applications of our current understanding of enzyme biochemistry are discussed.

Requisite Courses: CHEM-3503 [prerequisite(s)].

CHEM-4506 (3) Methods in Biochemistry (3 hrs Lecture | 3 hrs Lab) This course examines the application of physical methods to problems of biochemical interest. Topics to be covered include the isolation and stabilization of proteins; sub-cellular fractionation; methods for the assay of protein activity; the determination of enzyme kinetic parameters; purification and analysis of biomolecules (especially proteins) by selective precipitation (varying pH, salt concentration, and solvent), liquid chromatography (ion exchange, gel filtration, and affinity chromatography) and electrophoresis (slab gel and capillary); ultracentrifugation; and biochemical applications of the use of radioisotopes. Although emphasis is placed on the application of these techniques to proteins, application to other classes of biomolecules are examined as appropriate.

Requisite Courses: CHEM-3503 [prerequisite(s)]; CHEM-4506L (lab) (must be taken concurrently); CHEM-4502 (recommended prerequisite).

CHEM-4507 (3) Drug Design (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines pharmacology in the context of biochemistry and organic chemistry. Topics include the discovery, design, and metabolism of drugs with a focus upon various mechanisms of action by which small organic molecule drugs serve as therapeutics for treating human diseases.

Requisite Courses: CHEM-2502, or CHEM-3502 and CHEM-3503 [prerequisite(s)].

CHEM-4508 (3) Lipids and Carbohydrates (30 hrs Lecture) This advanced biochemistry course is designed to build on knowledge acquired in CHEM-3502. A comprehensive overview on structure, properties, analysis, commercial applications and aberrant metabolism of lipids and carbohydrates is examined in this course.

Experimental Course - This course is offered on a trial basis to gauge interest in the topic. Students who successfully complete this course receive credit as indicated.

Requisite Courses: CHEM-3502 [prerequisite(s)].

CHEM-4701 (6) Research Projects in Chemistry (3 hrs Project / Thesis) This course is designed to allow students to investigate a specific research problem. Students work with a faculty member in a particular area of research while learning the techniques and methodology related to chemical research.

Note: Students are strongly urged to consult with the department at least two months in advance of any anticipated registration in this course, as approval for any planned project must be obtained from a specific faculty member as well as from the Department Chair.

Requisite Courses: 30 credit hours of coursework in Chemistry and permission from the Chair of Chemistry [prerequisite(s)].

CHEM-4703 (3) Topics in Chemistry (3 hrs Lecture) Special topics in an area of analytical, environmental, inorganic, organic, physical, or biochemistry are addressed. Please consult the Chemistry Department for the current topic.

Note: Permission from the Chair of Chemistry is required.

CLASSICS

CLAS-1011 (3) Greek Society (3 hrs Lecture) Students are introduced to the fundamental social concepts, cultural characteristics, and political institutions of ancient Greek society. Examples of topics that may be covered are the family, religion, slavery, social relations, cultural ideals as reflected in ancient literature and art, and political institutions such as Athenian democracy. Major sources of information are presented, and the problems involved in the interpretation of ancient evidence are addressed throughout.

CLAS-1012 (3) Roman Society (3 hrs Lecture) Students are introduced to the fundamental social concepts, cultural characteristics, and political institutions of ancient Roman society. Examples of topics that may be covered are the family, religion, slavery, social relations, cultural ideals as reflected in ancient literature and art, and political organization of the Republic and the Empire. Major sources of information are presented, and the problems involved in the interpretation of ancient evidence are addressed throughout.

CLAS-1100 (3) Introductory Latin I (3 hrs Lecture | 1 hrs Lab) The course is designed for students who have no previous knowledge of the Latin language. Its aim is to introduce the concept of an inflected language and to teach the basic elements of Latin grammar and vocabulary.
Note: Students with credit in Latin 40S or the former CLAS-1101(6) may not receive credit for this course.
Requisite Courses: CLAS-1100L (Lab) (must be taken concurrently).

CLAS-1101 (3) Introductory Latin II (3 hrs Lecture | 1 hrs Lab) This course is designed to expand students' knowledge of Latin vocabulary, to introduce more complex grammatical concepts, and to provide an introduction to the reading of continuous passages from Latin authors.
Note: Students with credit in Latin 40S or the former CLAS-1101(6) may not receive credit for this course.
Requisite Courses: CLAS-1100 [prerequisite(s)]; CLAS-1101L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

CLAS-1200 (3) Introductory Greek I (3 hrs Lecture | 1 hrs Lab) This course is designed for students with no previous knowledge of Classical Greek and includes a study of the basic forms, syntax, and vocabulary of the language.
Note: Students with credit in the former CLAS-1200(6) may not receive credit for this course.
Requisite Courses: CLAS-1200L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

CLAS-1201 (3) Introductory Greek II (3 hrs Lecture | 1 hrs Lab) This course proceeds to a more advanced study of the forms, syntax, and vocabulary designed to enable students to proceed with advanced studies in Greek.
Note: Students with credit in the former CLAS-1200(6) may not receive credit for this course.
Requisite Courses: CLAS-1200 [prerequisite(s)]; CLAS-1201L (Lab) (must be taken concurrently).

CLAS-2000 (3) The Heroic Age of Greece (3 hrs Lecture) This course will examine the Minoan and Mycenaean civilizations as revealed through their art and architecture. Emphasis will be laid on archaeological discoveries as evidence for the earliest history of the Aegean area, and as background to many Greek myths. Arts surveyed will include architecture, pottery, painting, jewellery, and the minor arts.

CLAS-2002 (3) Greek Art and Architecture (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines Greek art and architecture with emphasis upon their development, and their contribution to subsequent art and architecture in Europe and America. Areas studied include architecture, sculpture, painting, pottery, jewellery, and the minor arts.
Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and CLAS-2001.

CLAS-2003 (3) Roman Art and Architecture (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines Etruscan and Roman art and architecture with emphasis upon their development, and their contribution to subsequent art and architecture in Europe and America. Areas studied include architecture, sculpture, painting, pottery, jewellery, and the minor arts.
Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and CLAS-2001.

CLAS-2004 (3) Rise of the Old World Civilization (3 hrs Lecture) This course covers the origins and development of civilization in the Old World with emphasis on the prehistoric archaeological record. Topics discussed include the forces behind an increase in population density, the role of civilization and urbanism in state formation, and the problem of collapse of Old World civilizations, such as ancient Egypt, the Near East, China, and the Indus Valley. Regional and chronological coverage may vary from year to year.
Cross-listed: ANTH-2211(3).
Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ANTH-2211.

CLAS-2010 (3) Topics in Classical Studies (3 hrs Lecture) This course explores a specific area in the field of Classical scholarship. The focus of study varies from year to year. Possible topics include ancient medicine, technology, economics, warfare, and the popular reception of the Classical tradition. Information concerning these course offerings is provided by the department.
Note: This course may be repeated for credit when the topic varies.
Cross-listed: HIST-2090(3).
Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and HIST-2090.

CLAS-2050 (3) Education in the Ancient World (3 hrs Lecture) This course discusses the upbringing, socialization, and education of children and young adults in the Greek and Roman worlds. Stressing the evidence of the ancient sources, it will deal with rituals of admission into the family and community, methods of socialization (naming practices, modelling, myth), and the development and nature of schools. The course pays particular attention to ideas and practices concerned with the development of children into adults.

Note: This is a Support Course for the Education Program.

CLAS-2061 (3) Sport in the Ancient Greek World (3 hrs Lecture) The course examines the origin and historical development of sport in ancient Greece, its religious and political implications, and the nature of events and contests. Particular attention is given to intellectual and popular attitudes toward sport and the contribution made by ancient Greece in this area to Western civilization.

Cross-listed: KIN-2061(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and CLAS-2060 | KIN-2060 | KIN-2061.

CLAS-2062 (3) Sport in the Ancient Roman World (3 hrs Lecture) The course examines the origin and historical development of sport in ancient Rome, its religious and political implications, and the nature of events and contests. Particular attention is given to intellectual and popular attitudes toward sport and the contribution made by ancient Rome in this area to Western civilization.

Cross-listed: KIN-2062(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and CLAS-2060 | KIN-2060 | KIN-2062.

CLAS-2071 (3) Woman and the Family in Greece and Rome (3 hrs Lecture) This course is an introduction to the study of woman and the family in the ancient Greek and Roman world. It is organized chronologically; Athens and Rome in the late Republic and early Empire draw special attention. Topics to be treated include women and the family in myth, kinship institutions, marriage, the family as an economic unit, relations within the family, women in law, politics, religion, sport, and literature.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and CLAS-2070.

CLAS-2081 (3) Sites of the Ancient Greek and Roman World I (3 hrs Lecture) This course consists of one term of academic study in Winnipeg in preparation for its companion course, Sites of the Ancient Greek and Roman World II, to be undertaken normally in Greece or Italy. Specific content and focus of this course vary with the destination, but generally include instruction in the ancient history of the specific destination, the topography of the sites to be visited, and relevant readings of ancient sources in translation. Among other requirements, students are expected to undertake preliminary work for a site presentation to be mounted on location.

Restrictions: Department Permission Required.

Requisite Courses: 3 credits in Classics and permission of the Department Chair [prerequisite(s)].

CLAS-2082 (3) Sites of the Ancient Greek and Roman World II (3 hrs Lecture) This course follows up on Sites of the Ancient Greek and Roman World I, and consists of first-hand examination of museum collections and sites of the ancient world, normally in Greece and Italy. The destination and content of the course varies from year to year. As part of the requirements of the course, each student is expected to make a site presentation on location.

Sites are chosen prior to leaving Winnipeg in consultation with the instructor.

Restrictions: Department Permission Required.

Requisite Courses: CLAS-2081 [prerequisite(s)].

CLAS-2100 (6) Intermediate Latin Texts (3 hrs Lecture) This course includes various selections from the field of Latin literature. Students are given assigned readings and may also do exercises in translation at sight.

Requisite Courses: CLAS-1101 with a minimum grade of B or Latin 40S [prerequisite(s)].

CLAS-2200 (6) Intermediate Greek Texts (3 hrs Lecture) This course includes various selections from the field of ancient Greek literature. Students study the more advanced forms, syntax and vocabulary as used by ancient authors. They may also do exercises in translation at sight.

Requisite Courses: CLAS-1201 with a minimum grade of B [prerequisite(s)].

CLAS-2301 (3) The History of Archaic Greece (3 hrs Lecture) This course traces the history of Greece during the Archaic period from the beginning of the eighth century BCE through to the beginning of the fifth century BCE. Special emphasis is placed on the social, political and economic evolution of the Greek City-states (in particular Athens and Sparta), the failure of the Greeks to achieve political unity, cultural transformations, periods of warfare, and the Greeks' consequent vulnerability to external threats.

Cross-listed: HIST-2080(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and CLAS-2091 | HIST-2104 | HIST-2080.

CLAS-2302 (3) The History of Classical Greece (3 hrs Lecture) This course traces the history of Greece during the Classical period from the beginning of the fifth century BCE until the rise of Macedon in the mid-fourth century BCE. Special emphasis is placed on social, political and economic evolution of the Greek city-states (in particular Athens and Sparta), the failure of the Greeks to achieve political unity, cultural transformations, periods of warfare, and the Greeks' consequent vulnerability to external threats.

Cross-listed: HIST-2089(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and HIST-2089 | HIST-2104 | CLAS-2091.

CLAS-2303 (3) The History of the Roman Republic (3 hrs Lecture) This course considers the history of the Roman Republic from the legendary foundations of the city of Rome through to the beginning of the Roman Empire. Lectures trace the major cultural, military, and societal events of the Republic. Particular emphasis is placed upon the expansion of Rome's power throughout Italy and the Mediterranean, the forces that brought about the transformation of the Roman style of government from Monarchy to Republic, and later to Empire, and the problems which attended these changes.

Cross-listed: HIST-2081(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and CLAS-2096 | HIST-2081 | HIST-2096.

CLAS-2304 (3) The History of the Roman Empire (3 hrs Lecture) This course considers the history of the Roman Empire from the end of the Roman Republic through to the reign of Constantine. Lectures trace the major cultural, military, and societal events of the first three centuries of the Empire. Particular emphasis is placed upon the expansion of Rome's power throughout the Mediterranean, Europe, and the Near East, the forces, individuals, and events that affect the Empire during the period 30 BCE-c.312 CE, and the problems that attended these changes.

Cross-listed: HIST-2097(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and CLAS-2096 | HIST-2096 | HIST-2097.

CLAS-2305 (3) Europe in the Early Middle Ages (c. 300 -c. 1000) (3 hrs Lecture) This survey examines the history of Europe from the gradual collapse of the Western Roman Empire up to the emergence of states in Western Europe. The course focuses on various aspects of social, religious, political, cultural and intellectual life. Topics may include the "barbarian" invasions of the Roman Empire, the birth of Christianity and Islam, the rule of Justinian, the establishment of medieval kingdoms, the rise and fall of the Carolingian Empire, as well as Magyar and Viking invasions. Medieval documents are analyzed in class to offer a direct insight into the period.

CLAS-2405 (3) Staging Greek and Roman Drama (3 hrs Lecture) This course focuses on the staging of Greek and Roman tragedy and comedy. Examination of the surviving texts of selected plays, the remains of ancient theatres, contemporary accounts of dramatic performance and relevant artwork leads to a recreation of an ancient theatrical experience with information on stage configuration, scenery, masks, costumes, properties, gestures, dance, song, mechanical devices and stage convention. In addition to their written work, students are expected to participate in demonstrations and performances in class.

Cross-listed: THFM-2405(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and THFM-2405.

CLAS-2500 (3) The Ancient World Through Film (3 hrs Lecture) This course explores Greek and Roman epic, history, and drama through an examination of ancient sources in conjunction with film adaptations. Topics in the course range from how and why films differ from their sources, how literary and cinematic techniques converge, how the past is used to talk about the present, and lastly how modern theoretical approaches can make sense of myth and film.

CLAS-2701 (3) Classical Mythology (3 hrs Lecture) This course is designed to acquaint the student with myths found in Greek and Latin literature. Origins, functions, and interpretations of myths are examined. We also study myths as story-plots. Selections in translation from Greek and Roman writers are used to illustrate myths about the origin of the universe; gods and heroes; sagas involving Thebes, Mycenae and Troy, and the national myths of Rome.

Note: Students may not receive credit in both the former CLAS-2701(6) and CLAS-2701(3).

CLAS-2702 (3) Religion in Greece and Rome (3 hrs Lecture) This course will survey the religious beliefs and practices of the Greeks and Romans. Topics to be discussed will include the following: the worship of Olympian and Chthonic deities, oracles, orgiastic and mystery religions, Roman cults and rituals, Near Eastern religions, and the beginnings of Christianity.

Cross-listed: REL-2237(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and REL-2237.

CLAS-2703 (3) Magic and Divination in the Greek and Roman World (3 hrs Lecture) Students are introduced to the issues surrounding unofficial, and sometimes unsanctioned, religious practices in ancient Greece and Rome. The modern problem of defining the term magic in contrast to religion, science, and philosophy in antiquity is considered as ancient examples of purportedly magical activity are discussed. Particular attention is given to social and political contexts in which such activity is identified. The history of legislation against such acts is also addressed.

CLAS-2704 (3) Early Judaism: From Formative to Normative (3 hrs Lecture) This course surveys the historical events, documents, modes of interpretation, major figures and diverse communities and beliefs and practices that preceded and informed the emergence of rabbinic Judaism. The course unpacks the influence of momentous events such as Greek and Roman conquests in the Middle East, the nascent Jesus movement, and the destruction of the Jerusalem Temple in 70 C.E.. It explores how documents such as the Dead Sea scrolls, the Apocrypha and the Pseudepigrapha and authors such as Philo of Alexandria and Josephus provide insight into the formative period of Early Judaism. It introduces students to the major genres of early biblical interpretation, such as typology, allegory, and midrash and oral Torah.

Cross-listed: REL-2121(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and REL-2121.

CLAS-2750 (3) Laughter, Love, and Death: Introduction to Classical Literature I (3 hrs Lecture) Homer's Odyssey is a story of greetings and farewells, homecomings and departures, laughter and tears. Starting from a study of the Odyssey, this course traces emotions, gender relations, and human mortality across an assortment of works from the Ancient Mediterranean world. Students read texts in English translation from Archaic Greece to the Roman Empire, in verse and prose, across the genres of epic poetry, history, tragedy and comedy, oratory and more.

Cross-listed: ENGL-2750(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ENGL-2750.

CLAS-2751 (3) War, History, and Memory:Introduction to Classical Literature II (3 hrs Lecture)

Homer's Iliad is a doom-filled beginning for the literature of war, a literary monument to fate, fear, memory, and loss. Starting from a study of the Iliad, this course traces conflict, politics, and remembrance across an assortment of works from the Ancient Mediterranean world. Students read texts in English translation from Archaic Greece to the Roman Empire, in verse and prose, across the genres of epic poetry, history, tragedy, and comedy, oratory, and more.

Cross-listed: ENGL-2751(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ENGL-2751.

CLAS-2800 (3) Greek and Latin in Today's English (3 hrs Lecture) Of the 20,000 words in common use in English, about half have come from Latin, directly or through French. Greek, too, has made its contribution and continues to do so as the language of science expands. In addition to a thorough study of the formation of nouns, verbs, and adjectives from their Greek and Latin component parts, we will examine the Greek script, principles of transliteration, medical and scientific Greek, words from Greek mythology and society, Roman numerals, legal Latin, abbreviations of Latin words in common use, Latin mottoes and proverbs, and unusual plural forms in English. No knowledge of Latin or Greek is required.

Cross-listed: LING-2208(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and LING-2208.

CLAS-2850 (3) The Classical Roots of Medical Terminology (3 hrs Lecture) Knowledge of medical terminology equips students for a variety of fields. This course lays out the most important Greek and Latin roots of the vocabulary of contemporary medicine and demonstrates the predictable patterns by which these roots combine, introducing students to the concept of building language using root words, prefixes and suffixes. Students learn to define new compounds and phrases by analysis of their parts.

Cross-listed: KIN-2850(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and KIN-2850.

CLAS-2910 (3) Introductory Classical Archaeology:Principles and Practices (3 hrs Lecture/Lab Combined)

This course provides an introduction to the development, principles, and practices associated with archaeological analysis and study of Classical civilizations (primarily Greece and Rome). A wide range of material categories (such as buildings, coins, pottery, sculpture, geological deposits, and plant and animal remains) are considered along with the techniques devised by Classical archaeologists for understanding them and their significance as evidence for Classical societies. Dating and chronology, geography, function, typology and the interface between material remains and written evidence are considered. Curriculum includes special attention to case studies and to hands-on experience where possible.

Cross-listed: ANTH-2260(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ANTH-2260

CLAS-2920 (3) Food, Diet and Dining in Antiquity (3 hrs Lecture) This course explores the techniques, issues, and controversies involved in reconstructing the role of food, diet and dining in Greek and Roman antiquity. Topics addressed include examination of lines of evidence (broadly encompassing ancient literary and textual evidence, depictions from art, and material remains from archaeological excavation); the economic basis for production, trade, transport and consumption of foodstuffs in antiquity; practicalities and limitations involved in cooking, preserving and preparing food stuffs; the social and philosophical context of eating and dining; the role of food in ancient religious and cult practices; medical approaches to food, diet and health in antiquity.

Cross-listed: ANTH-2229(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ANTH-2229.

CLAS-2950 (3) The Roman Army (3 hrs Lecture)

This course considers the Roman army, from its origins and increasing professionalization during the Monarchy and Republic, to its role as emperor-maker during the third century CE. Topics may include the evidence for the army, recruitment, organization, strategy, unit tactics, troop disposition on the frontiers, and veterans. More broadly, this course examines the army's wider impact on culture and society with regard to religion, Romanization, and political life.

Cross-listed: HIST-2099(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and HIST-2099.

CLAS-2951 (3) Ancient Greek Warfare (3 hrs Lecture)

This course introduces students to the aspects of warfare in the Greek world. Students are exposed to key literary sources, like the historians Herodotus, Thucydides, Xenophon, and Polybius; poets and dramatists like Homer, Tyrtaeus, Aeschylus and Sophocles; and military manuals like Xenophon's Cyropaedia, Aeneas Tacticus' Tactica, and Philo Mechanicus' On Sieges. Students consider alternative bodies of evidence, like the physical remains of Greek fortifications. Key themes include the origins of the phalanx, the impact of warfare on the physical and mental wellbeing of soldiers, the place of the Peloponnesian War in Greek history, and the logistical capabilities of Alexander's army.

Cross-listed: HIST-2951(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and HIST-2951.

CLAS-3006 (3) Topics in Ancient History (3 hrs

Lecture) This course explores fundamental issues, specific social institutions, key historical figures, vital events, important periods, and current directions in the study of ancient Greek and Roman history in greater detail than the history survey classes allow. The focus of study varies from year to year. Examples include Greek and Roman slavery, Perikles and the Athenian Empire, the myth of Alexander the Great, and comparative Greek and Roman historiography and biography. Emphasis is placed on the use of primary source material (in translation). Information concerning these course offerings is provided by the Department.

Note: This course may be repeated when the topic varies.

Cross-listed: HIST-3006(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and HIST-3006.

Requisite Courses: 3 credits of course work in any Classics course or permission of the Department Chair [prerequisite(s)].

CLAS-3010 (3) Directed Readings in Classical

Studies (3 hrs Directed Reading) Students undertake directed readings under the supervision of a faculty member. Topic, focus, and readings are arranged on an individual basis, in consultation with the instructor. Written assignments, including a cumulative final project, are the basis of evaluation.

Restrictions: Department Permission Required.

CLAS-3060 (3) Health in Antiquity (3 hrs Lecture) This course explores health, disease, and medicine in the Greek and Roman world. It draws upon evidence from the ancient textual sources (especially Galen and Hippocrates), social history, and archaeology (the latter including all manner of finds - architecture, art, artifacts, environmental materials, and skeletal remains) to examine how residents of the Greek and Roman world perceived and experienced health and disease, and how they sought to combat illness and to promote healing.

CLAS-4255 (3) Topics in Greek and Latin (3 hrs Lecture) This course provides students who have prior experience in Latin and Greek the opportunity to explore fields of study related to philology. Examples of topics of study include papyrology, epigraphy, prose composition, and comparison of Greek and Latin literary genres. The focus of study varies from year to year. Information concerning these course offerings is provided by the Department.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and CLAS-3255.

CLAS-4256 (3) Tutorial Ancient Language & Literature (3 hrs Lecture) Under the supervision of a faculty member from the Department of Classics, students read selections from Greek or Roman works in the original Greek or Latin. Attention is given to the content and form of the words under study, and to the improvement of the students' translational skills and speed. This course may be repeated when the works under study vary.

Cross-listed: CLAS-3256(3).

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and CLAS-3256.

Requisite Courses: CLAS-2100 or CLAS-2200, and permission of the Department Chair [prerequisite(s)].

CLAS-4260 (3) Advanced Classical Archaeology: Issues and Controversies (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines issues in Classical Archaeology (the archaeology of Greco-Roman antiquity). Topics include the integration of various types of evidence in the reconstruction of classical cultures; controversies in theoretical perspectives of interpretation; assessment of ecological, social, ritual, and economic life on the basis of recovered artifacts and ecofacts; use of survey data to examine ancient settlement; the ethics of curation and collection of material from Greek and Roman sites. This course prepares students for archaeological work at the graduate level in Classical Archaeology.

Note: Students taking this course at the 4000 level must be registered as Classics honours students.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and ANTH-3260 | CLAS-3260.

Requisite Courses: CLAS-2910 or permission of instructor [prerequisite(s)].

CLAS-4320 (3) Death in Antiquity (3 hrs Lecture) This course approaches various aspects relating to death in antiquity (emphasizing Roman antiquity) from the perspective of two disciplines, Anthropology and Classics. Topics include beliefs and philosophies about the afterlife; causes of death, with emphasis on diseases and demographics; the practicalities of planning for death and disposing of the dead; the methods and significance of commemoration; rituals of grief and mourning; spatial distribution of cemeteries in antiquity; methods and theories in mortuary archaeology from classical sites; and analysis of osteological, artifactual and architecture data from such sites. Contemplation of cross-cultural comparisons on these and other topics under study is encouraged.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

Requisite Courses: At least 3 credit hours in any Classics course [prerequisite(s)].

CLAS-4400 (3) Thesis (3 hrs Project / Thesis) All Classics Honours students must complete the thesis as part of their degree requirements. This is normally undertaken in the final year of the degree. Students wishing to enrol in this course must consult the Chair of the Department of Classics well in advance of registration to determine the thesis topic. The Chair, in consultation with the faculty, assigns each thesis candidate a supervisor, under whose guidance the thesis is completed. Students are expected to meet regularly with their supervisors. At each meeting, progress towards completion must be demonstrated.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Department Permission Required.

CLAS-4500 (6) Experiential Learning in Classics and Classical Archaeology (3 hrs Apprenticeship/Internship/Practicum) This course provides practical experience through experiential learning for students in environments outside the classroom at a more intensive and more advanced level than CLAS-3500. This takes the form of practical experience in museums, laboratories, archaeological and historical sites, and active participation in excavations. The intensive instruction employs lectures, seminars, fieldwork, and on occasion laboratory components, in order to teach analytical, interpretive, and practical techniques in Classics and Classical Archaeology.

Note: This course is open only to students in the Honours BA in Classics (Classical Civilization) and the Honours BA in Classics (Classical Languages).

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Instructor Permission Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and CLAS-3500.

CLAS-4754 (3) Ancient Epic in Translation (3 hrs Lecture) Students read works of ancient epic in translation by important ancient authors (e.g., Homer, Apollonius, Vergil, Ovid, Lucan, Statius). They are introduced to the literary characteristics of the genre of epic, its specific language, content, and its modes of representation, especially simile and metaphor. This course also considers the historical context for the composition of epic. Further texts or other media that respond or react to ancient epic beyond antiquity may be studied as well, so that students appreciate the long-standing influence of Greek and Latin epic on an array of literary and cultural artifacts in the contemporary world.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Department Chair Perm Required.

Requisite Courses: At least 3 credit hours in any Classics course [prerequisite(s)].

CLAS-4755 (3) Advanced Studies in Ancient Drama in Translation (3 hrs Lecture) The course examines translations of works by ancient tragic poets and comic poets. These are of interest in their own right but also for their extraordinary influence on drama (and other cultural products) in later European societies and elsewhere, especially across the globe today. Students are encouraged to consider both the plays and their reception by later writers (or artists, composers, etc.). Students at the advanced level work closely with challenging and fragmentary sources and their scholarly interpretation, especially sophisticated theoretical approaches. This course prepares students for philological and literary critical work at the graduate level in Classics.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Students may receive credit for CLAS-3755 | CLAS-4755 only if the topic varies; Students may receive credit for ENGL-3755 only if the topic varies.

Requisite Courses: 3 credit hours in any Classics course [prerequisite(s)].

CLAS-4756 (3) Advanced Topics in Ancient Literature

(3 hrs Lecture) This course deals with the interpretation and appreciation of literary genres, authors, or works from Greek and Latin literature. The focus of study varies from year to year. Examples include love poetry, satire, the ancient novel, and letter-writing as a literary form. Information concerning these course offerings is provided by the Department. Students at the advanced level work closely with challenging and fragmentary sources and their scholarly interpretations especially sophisticated theoretical approaches. This course prepares students for the philological and literary critical work at the graduate level in Classics. This course may be repeated for credit when the topic varies.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Students may receive credit for CLAS-3756 | CLAS-4756 only if the topic varies; Students may receive credit for ENGL-3756 only if the topic varies.

Requisite Courses: 3 credit hours in any Classics course [prerequisite(s)].

CLAS-4810 (3) Slavery in Roman Society (3 hrs Lecture) Though underrepresented in evidence, slaves and ex-slaves were critically important members of Roman society. This class considers the ways that the institution of slavery and slaves themselves shaped Roman society, history, and culture. Topics of study include sources of slaves, the social attitudes and legal framework that shaped the experience of enslavement, family life, and manumission. Students taking this class at the 4000-level are given heavier or additional assignments.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

Requisite Courses: At least 3 credit hours in any Classics course [prerequisite(s)].

CLAS-4820 (3) Advanced Studies in Spectacle and Ritual

(3 hrs Lecture) This course explores ritual behaviour and display in ancient Greece and Rome. Theoretical approaches illuminate the various categories of ancient evidence. Topics for consideration may include military triumphs, theatrical and sporting events, or rites of passage. Students at the advanced level work with challenging and fragmentary sources and their scholarly interpretation, especially modern theoretical approaches. This course prepares students for historiographical work at the graduate level in Classics and ancient History. This course may be repeated for credit when the topic varies.

Note: Students taking this course at the 4000 level must be registered as Classics honours students.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and CLAS-3820.

Requisite Courses: 3 credit hours in any Classics course [prerequisite(s)].

CLAS-4830 (3) Advanced Studies in Ancient Kingdoms and City-States in the Greek and Roman Worlds

(3 hrs Lecture) This course focuses on a particular kingdom or city-state of the ancient world. The topic draws upon evidence from the ancient textual evidence, archaeology, and cultural and social history in the light of modern theory and scholarship. Students at the advanced level work closely with challenging and fragmentary sources and their scholarly interpretation. This course prepares students for historiographical and archaeological work at the graduate level in Classics and ancient History. This course may be repeated for credit when the topic varies.

Note: Students taking this course at the 4000 level must be registered as Classics honours students.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Students may receive credit for CLAS-3830 | CLAS-4830 only if the topic varies. Students may receive credit for HIST-3011 only if the topic varies.

Requisite Courses: at least 3 credit hours in any Classics course [prerequisite(s)].

CLAS-4840 (3) Advanced Studies in Provinces and Subjects

(3 hrs Lecture) This course focuses on a particular Roman province or subject population of the Roman Empire. The topic draws upon evidence from the ancient textual evidence, archaeology, and cultural and social history in the light of modern theory and scholarship. Students at the advanced level work closely with challenging and fragmentary sources and their scholarly interpretation. This course prepares students for historiographical work at the graduate level in Classics and ancient History. This course may be repeated for credit when the topic varies.

Note: Students taking this course at the 4000 level must be registered as Classics Honours Students.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Students may receive credit for CLAS-3830 | CLAS-4830 only if the topic varies. Students may receive credit for HIST-3010 only if the topic varies.

Requisite Courses: At least 3 credit hours in any Classics course [prerequisite(s)].

CLAS-4850 (3) Advanced Studies in Eras

(3 hrs Lecture) This course focuses on a specific era, or time period, in ancient and/or classical history. The topic draws upon evidence from the ancient textual evidence, archaeology, and cultural and social history in the light of modern theory and scholarship. Students at the advanced level work closely with challenging and fragmentary sources and their scholarly interpretation. This course prepares students for historiographical and archaeological work at the graduate level in Classics and ancient History. This course may be repeated for credit when the topic varies.

Note: Students taking this course at the 4000 level must be registered as Classics honours students.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Students may receive credit for CLAS-3850 | CLAS-4850 only if the topic varies. Students may hold credit for HIST-3009 only if the topic varies.

Requisite Courses: At least 3 credit hours in any Classics course [prerequisite(s)].

CLAS-4870 (3) Advanced Studies in Sexuality, Sex, and Gender in the Greek and Roman Worlds

(3 hrs Lecture) This course focuses on sexuality, sex, and gender in ancient Greece and Rome. Theoretical approaches illuminate the various categories of evidence. Particular topics for consideration include sexuality in Greece, constructions of gender in political discourse, and representations of women in art. Students at the advanced level work with challenging and fragmentary sources and their scholarly interpretation, especially sophisticated theoretical approaches. This course prepares students for philological and literary work at the graduate level. This course may be repeated for credit when the topic varies.

Note: Students taking this course at the 4000 level must be registered as Classics honours students.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and CLAS-3870 | HIST-3270.

Requisite Courses: At least 3 credit hours in any Classics course [prerequisite(s)].

CLAS-4910 (3) Advanced Studies in Ancient Environments and Ecology

(3 hrs Lecture/Lab Combined) This course explores issues involved in the reconstruction of ancient environmental and ecological conditions (predominantly for Greco Roman antiquity). Topics addressed include the use of environmental archaeology in assessing paleoenvironments; natural resource and landscape exploitation in antiquity as determined from literary, artistic, and archaeological datasets; climate and environmental change; human management of environmental conditions, including overhunting, deforestation, pollution and natural disasters. Students at the advanced level work with challenging sources, especially modern scholarly accounts. This course prepares students for graduate study in Classical Archaeology.

Note: Students taking this course at the 4000 level must be registered as Classics honours students.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and CLAS-3910 | ANTH-3214.

Requisite Courses: At least 3 credit hours in any Classics course [prerequisite(s)].

CONFLICT RESOLUTION STUDIES

CRS-1200 (6) Introduction to Conflict Resolution

Studies (3 hrs Lecture) Disagreements, hurtful relationships, bullying, verbal aggression, physical assault, genocide, and war-human conflict is widespread in personal, community, and global settings, and all experience conflict in some way. This course prepares students to deal constructively with conflict through creative problem solving, effective communication, productive use of power, skills for peaceful justice-making, and understanding gender dynamics. To deal with personal and others' conflicts, students explore approaches such as negotiation, mediation, nonviolent action, cross-cultural sensitivity, legal alternative dispute resolution, and restorative justice.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and MSC-1200.

CRS-2111 (1.5) Special Topics Workshop (1.5 hrs Apprenticeship/Internship/Practicum) This workshop offers students the opportunity to learn and practice various conflict resolution skills used within a wide variety of settings. Areas of study may include topics such as compassionate listening, faith-based community peacebuilding, identity conflict resolution skills, and diversity awareness training. This course may be repeated for credit when topic varies.

Requisite Courses: CRS-1200 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

CRS-2131 (3) History of Peace and Nonviolence I (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines the history of pacifism, peace movements, and nonviolence from ancient times to the 1700s. It focuses in particular on Europe, with special emphasis on the period from ancient Greece and Rome, to Early Modern times in Western Europe. The course also addresses history of peace in other parts of the world.

Thus, it contrasts Christian traditions of nonviolence with those of Hindu, Buddhist and other eastern traditions. For case studies, the course examines Mennonite communities in 16th and 17th century Switzerland and the Netherlands.

Cross-listed: MENN-2131(3) and HIST-2131(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and HIST-2131 | MENN-2131.

CRS-2132 (3) History of Peace and Nonviolence II (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines the history of pacifism, peace movements, and nonviolence from the 1700s to the present. It focuses in particular on North America, but also covers selected events in other parts of the world. The course, thus, contrasts Christian traditions of nonviolence with those of aboriginal, secular, and eastern cultures. For case studies, the course examines Mennonite communities in 19th and 20th century Canada and the United States where Mennonites have embraced pacifism as a fundamental principle of social organization.

Cross-listed: MENN-2132(3) and HIST-2132(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and HIST-2132 | MENN-2132.

CRS-2210 (3) Conflict Theory and Analysis (3 hrs Lecture) Analyzing social and interpersonal conflict lays the ground work for effective conflict resolution. Students encounter and critique various theoretical perspectives such as individual characteristics, social process, and social structural theories. Students evaluate the usefulness of these theories by applying them to different conflict situations, and develop their abilities to identify conflict resolution strategies appropriate to the conflict analysis. This course is closely integrated with and must be taken concurrently with CRS-2211(1.5) Coaching Skills Workshop.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and MSC-2102.

Requisite Courses: CRS-1200 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)]; CRS-2211 (must be taken previously or at the same time as this course).

CRS-2211 (1.5) Coaching Skills Workshop (1.5 hrs Workshop) In this workshop students learn and practice informal models of third party participation in conflict resolution. Under the supervision of an experienced practitioner, students learn how to coach and prepare disputants effectively, and how to facilitate informal conflict resolution intervention. This workshop is integrated with and must be taken concurrently with CRS-2210(3) Conflict Theory and Analysis.

Note: Students may not hold credit in both this course and the former CRS-2211(1.5) Conciliation Skills Workshop.

Requisite Courses: CRS-1200 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)]; CRS-2210 (must be taken concurrently).

CRS-2221 (3) Restorative Justice (3 hrs Lecture) This course identifies the principles of restorative justice and explore the application of these principles in various contexts. This will include a critical assessment of various forms of victim offender mediation, as well as the application of restorative principles at various levels within the criminal justice system, as they affect victims, offenders, and the community. Alternative models of justice as a whole will also be considered.

Requisite Courses: CRS-1200 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

CRS-2231 (3) Nonviolent Social Change (3 hrs Lecture)

This course explores the imperative of social change from a social justice perspective. After studying the meanings of power and its exercise as well as theories of non-violence, students are taken through the modalities of non-violent social action. The practicalities of planning, strategizing, and implementing non-violent struggle are covered through case study methodology. Students cover such topics as the formation of coalitions, getting media attention, framing messages, and mobilizing constituents. The course is designed to help students understand and participate more effectively in initiatives for non-violent social action.

Requisite Courses: CRS-1200 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

CRS-2232 (3) Introduction to Conflict Resolution in Educational Settings (4 hrs Lecture) This course will present an introduction to the theory and methods of conflict resolution, with special emphasis on conflict in educational settings. The course will help students to understand the nature of human conflict, responses to conflict, and models for constructive ways to deal with conflict between and among individuals and groups. Topics will include anger, power, creative dimensions of conflict, and mediation. These will be examined from an interdisciplinary perspective.

Cross-listed: EDUC-2232(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and EDUC-2232.

CRS-2241 (3) Conflict and Culture (3 hrs Lecture) In this course students explore the relationship between culture and conflict from an interdisciplinary perspective. Students examine their own cultural perspectives and worldviews as well as cultural differences in response to conflict. The course examines the origins and nature of conflict between and among cultures, with special reference to the relationships between cultural values and conflict resolution processes. Special attention is given to popular culture, religion, cultural models of conflict resolution, rituals of reconciliation, and inter-ethnic conflict in the modern world.

Requisite Courses: CRS-1200 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

CRS-2242 (3) Methods of Conflict Resolution in Educational Settings (4 hrs Lecture) This course will provide practical applications of conflict resolution skills, for teaching conflict resolution and for the implementation of conflict management programs from elementary to secondary levels. Practical skills for conflict resolution in the classroom, in the home, in the peer group, and in staff relations will be developed. Areas of skill learning will include conflict mediation, listening skills, responding to anger and violence, and classroom management. A practicum component will be included to provide the opportunity to link theory to practice.

Cross-listed: EDUC-2242(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and EDUC-2242.

Requisite Courses: CRS-2232 or EDUC 1001 or EDUC 1801, and CRS-1200 [prerequisite(s)].

CRS-2251 (3) Conflict in the Family I (3 hrs Lecture) This course is designed to help students understand how conflict develops and manifests itself within familial relationships. Students study the nature of the family through the lens of a systemic perspective by examining family structure, communication patterns, and gender issues in relation to the family life cycle. Students learn to differentiate between destructive and constructive conflict processes in the family. They then progress to an understanding of how to transform antagonistic conflict into problem solving.

Requisite Courses: CRS-1200 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

CRS-2252 (3) Conflict and Communication (3 hrs Lecture) This course provides some theoretical underpinnings of the dynamics of communication in interpersonal and small group conflict. Issues surrounding diversity are examined in depth, specifically with respect to individual and cultural differences. Direct instruction is provided in the analysis, development, and implementation of self-management and interpersonal communication skills to enhance healthy relationships and prevent dysfunctional conflict in daily life.

Requisite Courses: CRS-1200 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

CRS-2261 (3) Conflict in the Family II (3 hrs Lecture) Building upon the systemic family theory and the life cycle processes studied in Conflict in the Family I, this course closely examines specific family conflicts in marital relations, parents with younger children, parents with adolescents, single parents, step and blended families, and same-sex couples. Drawing from class discussion, the academic literature, and personal anecdotes, family relational conflict is explored for both its deepening potential and its inhibiting power.

Requisite Courses: CRS-1200 and CRS-2251 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

CRS-2262 (3) Conflict, Faith and Community (3 hrs Lecture) This course explores how conflict and conflict resolution are linked to personal faith and life in community. Students first have the opportunity to investigate what is meant by "faith" and "community." Students then explore how faith and community can shape their understanding of conflict and the practice of conflict resolution. Diverse views of conflict and faith developed by secular as well as various religious communities is examined.

Requisite Courses: CRS-1200 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

CRS-2271 (3) Conflict Within Groups (3 hrs Lecture) The dynamics of group conflict include both interpersonal interactions and collective processes. In this course students develop analytical tools and practical facilitation skills to deal with group conflict in a variety of settings: study groups, sports teams, work teams, and social change efforts. Students learn hands-on approaches for assessing complex social processes and the diverse factors in group conflict including concepts of group formation, collective decision-making, and effective facilitation. Students also study leadership and issues of power and diversity affecting groups. The teaching/learning format for this course includes lectures, small and large group work, as well as written reflections and skill development exercises.

Requisite Courses: CRS-1200 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

CRS-2281 (3) Selected Topics in Conflict Resolution Studies (3 hrs Lecture) The course is designed to introduce students to the reality and complexity of conflict situations within a number of settings, such as small and large communities, organizations, and families. The course has a strong applied component, presenting specific mediation problems through a case study approach.

Requisite Courses: CRS-1200 or permission of CRS Coordinator [prerequisite(s)].

CRS-2310 (3) Conflict Resolution, Social Change and The Arts (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) Conflict Resolution, Social Change and the Arts explores how different arts have been used to affect social change. The course looks at ways that cultural productions play a positive role in building peaceful societies. The expressive arts and other action methods can provide a bridge between personal and collective experience to help people master complex feelings in their healing process while also inspiring, motivating, and uniting social movements. The course covers theory and practice from around the world highlighting community-based arts. Students learn how to implement arts within community projects and the assessment of outcomes and, as such, make connections between artistic disciplines and community well-being.
Cross-listed: THFM-2806.
Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and THFM-2806.

CRS-2421 (3) Legal Systems and Alternative Dispute Resolution (ADR) (3 hrs Lecture) Students study the basics of the Canadian Legal System, including the Constitution, the Charter of Rights and Freedoms, and the role of Parliament and Provincial legislatures in creating laws, as a context for legal conflict resolution and various alternative dispute resolution processes. This course emphasizes the use of law to resolve conflicts. Topics include rule makers, rule enforcers, civil litigation, criminal proceedings, class actions, administrative law, and alternative dispute resolution processes such as the Indian Residential School Resolution process.
Requisite Courses: CRS-1200 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

CRS-2431 (3) Negotiation Theory and Practice (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines the theory and practice of negotiation, including topics such as negotiating skills, contextual factors, agreement implementation and follow-up, multilateral negotiation, and third party intervention.
Requisite Courses: CRS-1200 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

CRS-2443 (3) Conflict and Development Issues in Indigenous Communities (3 hrs Lecture) Within the broad frameworks of international development and conflict resolution studies, this course explores the dynamics of indigenous people globally, with special reference to the Canadian context. The course describes key elements of indigenous cultures and world views. It examines inter- and intra-group conflict and conflict resolution processes involving indigenous communities. Processes of marginalization and underdevelopment are presented in order to understand the indigenous communities' social, economic, and political situations. Strategies for community development and conflict resolution will be highlighted as means to achieve transformation.
Cross-listed: IDS-2443(3).
Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and IDS-2443.
Requisite Courses: CRS-1200 or IDS-1100 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

CRS-2521 (3) Voluntary Simplicity (3 hrs Lecture) Development is increasingly understood as a participatory, deliberate process aimed at enhancing the quality of life for individuals within community. This course examines the concept, theory, and practice of voluntary simplicity as a means of development for individuals seeking environmentally sustainable alternatives to consumer values and culture. The course explores both the historical roots of voluntary simplicity and its modern expressions and is informed by the understanding that effective conflict resolution practice is enhanced by building emotional well-being, vibrant community, sustainable environment, and social justice.
Cross-listed: ENV-2521(3), IDS-2521(3).
Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ENV/IDS-2521.
Requisite Courses: ENV-1600(3) or IDS-1100(6) or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

CRS-3220 (3) Models for Conflict Transformation (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines historical and contemporary models for nonviolent conflict transformation. It defines processes such as conflict management, conflict resolution, and conflict transformation. Students explore ways to prevent destructive conflict, the roles of forgiveness and reconciliation in divided societies, and tools to build sustainable peace. Models used to address conflicts include sustainable peacebuilding, human needs theory, transformative mediation, forgiveness, nonviolent social change, public apologies, truth and reconciliation commissions, Indigenous circles, and multi-track diplomacy. This course is closely integrated with and must be taken concurrently with CRS-3221(1.5) Mediation Skills Workshop.
Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and CRS-2220 | MSC-2103.
Requisite Courses: CRS-1200 or permission of instructor [prerequisite(s)]; CRS-3221 (must be taken previously or at the same time as this course).

CRS-3221 (1.5) Mediation Skills Workshop (1.5 hrs Workshop) This hands-on workshop offers students the opportunity to learn and practice third-party mediation in conflict resolution. Through interaction in small groups and various mediation simulations, students learn a model of mediation to deal with interpersonal conflicts, and skills to facilitate a mediation session whose aim is a constructive resolution between two people in conflict. This workshop is closely integrated with and must be taken concurrently with CRS-3220(3)
Requisite Courses: CRS-1200 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)]; CRS-3220 (must be taken concurrently).

CRS-3231 (3) Ethics in Conflict Resolution (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines the ethical dimensions of conflict resolution. The first part of the course focuses on four ethical theories: Kantian, Consequentialism, Virtue and Principlism. The second part of the course draws on specific issues in conflict resolution, especially with reference to the mediation process, such as neutrality, justice and confidentiality. This part of the course includes the analysis of case studies and codes of professional conduct.

Requisite Courses: CRS-1200(6) plus a minimum of 6 additional credit hours in CRS courses (i.e. CRS-XXXX), or permission of instructor [prerequisite(s)].

CRS-3240 (3) Workplace Conflict Resolution (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines contemporary workplace issues, causes of workplace conflict and a variety of dispute and conflict resolution responses such as negotiation, conciliation, mediation, grievance procedures, and arbitration as well as tribunals such as labor relations boards and human rights commissions. Examination of approaches to conflict resolution in the workplace includes reference to such issues as violence, bullying, harassment, organizational culture, "constructive dismissal," and other workplace concerns.

Requisite Courses: CRS-1200 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

CRS-3242 (3) Women and Peacemaking (3 hrs Lecture) This course addresses, from an interdisciplinary perspective, both theoretical and practical contributions that women have made to peacemaking in the modern world. It includes analysis of women's involvement in peace action, research, and education. Attention is given to the challenges that activists face in organizing around their identity as women, such as the challenge of building common ground among women with varied experiences and concerns.

Requisite Courses: CRS-1200 or WGS-1232 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

CRS-3262 (3) Critical Issues in Conflict Resolution (3 hrs Lecture) Using the perspectives of conflict resolution studies, this course examines issues of current social controversy as instances of social conflict, including the analysis of characteristics of conflict and directions for the field of conflict resolution. Specific issues examined vary from year to year, but may include such topics as native/aboriginal issues, alternative healing models, and issues of conflict and spirituality.

Requisite Courses: CRS-1200 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

CRS-3272 (3) Refugees and Forced Migration (3 hrs Lecture) Global trends continue to show unprecedented numbers of forcibly displaced people worldwide. Countries have struggled with how to assist refugees and internally displaced people. Less than one percent of refugees under UNHCR mandate are resettled in other countries. This course explores the root causes of forcibly displaced people; the costs associated with such movements, including economic, physical, and mental health; the responses of world governments; and the work of resettlement agencies in assisting refugees. The issues and lessons learned from the experience of resettling and integrating refugees around the world are studied, including in Canada.

Cross-listed: HR-3272(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and HR-3272.

Requisite Courses: CRS-1200 or HR-1200, or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

CRS-3290 (6) International Practicum in Conflict Resolution Studies (3 hrs Apprenticeship/Internship/Practicum) This course is an integrated work experience in an international setting for a minimum of three months. Students are expected to work 30 hours per week in a relevant organization and participate in academic exercises both before and during the practicum. Students reflect on, utilize and expand their knowledge and skills in Conflict Resolution while also examining their personal assumptions, gaining cultural awareness and enhancing their problem-solving abilities. Interested students consult with the Director of Practicum at Menno Simons College 9-months in advance of the term in which they wish to enroll.

Restrictions: Instructor Permission Required. Perm - MSC Pract Dir Required.

Requisite Courses: CRS-1200, CRS-2210, CRS-2211, CRS-2241, CRS-3220, CRS-3221, minimum GPA of 2.75 and permission of the instructor/Director of Practicum required [prerequisite(s)].

CRS-3292 (6) Directed Readings in Conflict

Resolution Studies (3 hrs Directed Reading) In this course, readings and assignments in the area of Conflict Resolution Studies will be arranged between an individual student and the instructor.

Note: This course is only available to students in their final year of classes and with a declared major in CRS.

Restrictions: Instructor Permission Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and CRS-3293 | MSC-3101.

Requisite Courses: CRS-1200, CRS-2210, CRS-3220 and permissions of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

CRS-3293 (3) Directed Readings in Conflict

Resolution Studies (3 hrs Directed Reading) This course is designed for senior students with exceptional potential in the field of Conflict Resolution. All reading requirements in the course are selected and directed by a specialist in this field.

Restrictions: Instructor Permission Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and CRS-3292.

Requisite Courses: CRS-1200, CRS-2210, CRS-3220 and permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

CRS-3298 (6) Local/National Practicum (6) in Conflict Resolution Studies (6 hrs Apprenticeship/Internship/Practicum) This six credit hour course is an integrated work experience in a local or national setting. Students work in a relevant organization in a supervised field experience and participate in academic seminars over the course of the semester. Students reflect on, utilize and expand their knowledge and skills in Conflict Resolution while also practicing workplace and professional writing and integrating conflict theories with practice. Students gain grant writing knowledge and may also craft a publishable Op-Ed. Interested students consult with the Director of Practicum at Menno Simons College 3-months in advance of the term in which they wish to enrol. Restriction: Students may not hold credit for this course and CRS-3299.

Restrictions: Perm - MSC Pract Dir Required.

Requisite Courses: CRS-1200, CRS-2210, CRS-2211, CRS-3220, CRS-3221, permission of Menno Simons College Practicum Director, and a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.75 [prerequisite(s)].

CRS-3299 (3) Local/National Practicum (3) in Conflict Resolution Studies (3 hrs

Apprenticeship/Internship/Practicum) This three-credit hour course is an integrated work experience in a local or national setting. Students work in a relevant organization in a supervised field experience and participate in academic seminars over the course of the semester. Students reflect on, utilize and expand their knowledge and skills in Conflict Resolution while also practicing workplace and professional writing and integrating conflict theories with practice. Interested students consult with the Director of Practicum at Menno Simons College 3-months in advance of the term in which they wish to enrol. Restriction: Students may not hold credit for this course and CRS-3298.

Restrictions: Perm - MSC Pract Dir Required.

Requisite Courses: CRS-1200, CRS-2210, CRS-2211, CRS-3220, CRS-3221, permission of Menno Simons College Practicum Director, and a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.75 [prerequisite(s)].

CRS-3331 (3) Genocide, War, and Violent Conflict (3 hrs Lecture) Genocide, war, and violent conflict are among the most pressing problems investigated by conflict analysts. This course helps students interpret and understand unfolding situations of large-scale violence in the world. To aid that process we examine a variety of theoretical approaches, case studies, and core debates in the area from an interdisciplinary perspective. Contemporary efforts to ameliorate selected cases of violent conflict, war, and genocide are also examined.

Requisite Courses: CRS-1200 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

CRS-3332 (3) Trauma and Violence (3 hrs Lecture) This course explores serious, violent conflict, with attention to the multifaceted causes, dynamics, and traumatic consequences of violence. It considers these issues at all relevant levels, including intrapersonal, interpersonal, familial, community, and national. Students are exposed to the existing knowledge base in research and crisis theory, and also observe and study practical skills for crisis first aid and community longer-term intervention.

Requisite Courses: CRS-1200 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

CRS-3410 (3) Models of Transitional Justice (3 hrs

Lecture) This course examines transitional justice, the processes by which societies deal with the legacy of widespread human rights abuses after a period of oppression or violent conflict in order to achieve the transition to a just and stable society. The course investigates a variety of transitional justice mechanisms, such as reparations, truth commissions, reconciliation activities and criminal tribunals.

Cross-listed: HR-3410(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and HR-3410 | HRGS-3410.

Requisite Courses: HR-2100 and HR-2200, or the former HRGS-2101, or the former POL-2101 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

CRS-3901 (3) Humanitarian Aid and Conflict: Do No Harm (3 hrs Lecture) This course focuses on the problems of providing assistance in complex emergencies, where armed conflict has generated crises requiring a humanitarian response. It covers the nature of contemporary armed conflict, the actors involved in responding to complex emergencies, and the many dimensions of humanitarian aid and intervention. Through analysis of aid's impacts on the conflict and its effectiveness at meeting human needs, the course explores models of humanitarian assistance that minimize negative impacts.

Cross-listed: IDS-3901(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and IDS-3901.

Requisite Courses: CRS-1200 or IDS-1100 and 45 credit hours of university credit, or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

CRS-3910 (3) Peace Theory and Practice (3 hrs

Lecture) This course investigates theories of peace. Theories of war and the practice of warfare have been studied a great deal; theories of peace and the practice of peace have been studied less. The course begins with attempts to define peace - a task as difficult as that of defining war and conflict - by drawing on key studies by peace research scholars like Galtung, Reardon, and Elstain. The course is conducted in a modified seminar format (half the course in large group format, the remainder utilizing small group problem-based learning).

Cross-listed: IDS-3910(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and IDS-3910.

Requisite Courses: CRS-1200 or IDS 1100 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

CRS-3920 (3) Action Research Methods (3 hrs

Lecture) This course investigates the contemporary research and field work methods commonly used by researchers and practitioners in the fields of international development and conflict resolution studies. The course emphasizes attitudes and skills necessary to conduct participatory action research. Topics and techniques covered in the course include planning for research, proposal writing, sampling strategies, interviewing and focus group techniques, life history, photovoice and participatory video, integrating qualitative and quantitative methods, and post-field work activities.

Cross-listed: IDS-3920(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and IDS-3920.

Requisite Courses: CRS-1200 or IDS 1100 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

CRS-3931 (3) Human Rights and Conflict Resolution

(3 hrs Lecture) Human rights advocates and conflict resolution practitioners both aim to build peaceable societies based on mutual respect and the rule of law. Rights advocates typically push the justice agenda while conflict resolution practitioners strive for transformation often without utilizing human rights norms and institutions as a basis for stability. This course systematically evaluates the tensions and parallels between the two fields, examining some of the ways in which human rights and conflict resolution scholars and practitioners can interact in their approaches. Basic human rights concepts are introduced and case studies are used in an exploration of the issues.

Cross-listed: HR-3931(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and HR-3931.

Requisite Courses: CRS-1200 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

CRS-4200 (3) Senior Seminar in Conflict Resolution Studies (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This course provides a broad overview of the field of Conflict Resolution Studies, and highlights the unity in the field at all scales from the personal to the global. It emphasizes major theories and practical approaches with which to analyze and address different types of social conflict at interpersonal/organizational and community/global levels. As a major component of the course requirement students research and present a mini-thesis on a topic of their choice.

Requisite Courses: CRS-1200, CRS-2210, CRS-2241, and CRS-3220 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

CRS-4224 (3) Inner Peace and Conflict

Transformation (3 hrs Lecture) The course explores the nature of inner conflict, based on knowledge and skills developed through the study of interpersonal, inter-group, and other levels of conflict. Inner conflict is viewed not as a problem or failure but as a normal and natural aspect of human experience. Inner peace is defined as a state of balance or equilibrium between the present and the emergent self. Inner conflict transformation is seen to be an ongoing process of growth and change.

Requisite Courses: CRS-1200 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

CRS-4240 (3) Workplace Dispute Resolution System

Design (3 hrs Lecture) The course is designed to develop an understanding of the nature and causes of conflict in the workplace, and the implementation of conflict resolution systems within the organization. Areas of study include systems design related to the organizational culture, context, and structure. It examines past and current conflict resolution systems, structures that are necessary to support conflict management systems, and emerging trends in workplace dispute systems design. The course then studies organizational advantages and disadvantages of investing in dispute systems design.

Requisite Courses: CRS-1200 and CRS-3240 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

CRS-4252 (3) Advanced Studies in Mediation Practice

(3 hrs Lecture) The course provides an in-depth examination of contemporary developments and issues in the theory and practice of mediation as a method for conflict resolution. These are examined in several different contexts where mediation is practiced, including areas such as victim-offender conflict, family and divorce, labour-management relations, environmental issues, conflict in schools, and international relations. In each case the examination emphasizes the social-structural circumstances that influence the nature of mediation practice. The course draws extensively on research findings and case-study materials relating to the contemporary practice of mediation.

Requisite Courses: CRS-1200 and CRS-2210 and CRS-3220, or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

CRS-4293 (3) Directed Readings in Conflict

Resolution Studies (3 hrs Directed Reading) This course is offered to senior CRS students. Readings, assignments, and course of study are selected and agreed upon in consultation between the individual student and the instructor.

Restrictions: Department Permission Required.

Requisite Courses: CRS-1200 and CRS-2210 and CRS-3220, and permission of the Department Chair [prerequisite(s)].

CRS-4350 (3) Post-Conflict Truth, Memory, and Reconciliation (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) The suffering from atrocities during war-time is often seen as producing lingering individual and collective trauma, contributing to either personal dysfunction or successive cycles of violence where oppressed groups become the perpetrators in future regimes or conflicts. This course probes the role of memory in transitional societies, with particular emphasis on using memory to strengthen mechanisms for justice and human rights. Reconciliation projects, ranging from community-based initiatives to formal legislated undertakings such as truth and reconciliation commissions are examined in depth.

Cross-listed: HR-4350(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and HR-4350 | HRGS-4350.

Requisite Courses: HR-3410, CRS-3410, or the former HRGS-3410 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

CRS-4910 (3) Conflict and the Construction of the Other (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This seminar addresses a central question raised in post-colonial theory about the way humans construct and maintain an understanding of the Other. We ask the question, "Have scholars found the idea of the Other useful as a synthesizing concept?" This problem-based, interdisciplinary seminar considers particular sites of struggle in cultural, social, and individual contexts. Finally, we ask about the implications of this inquiry for our cultural, social, and individual circumstances.

Cross-listed: IDS-4910(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and IDS-4910.

Requisite Courses: CRS-1200 and CRS-2210, and CRS-3220 or IDS-1100, and IDS-2110 and IDS-3111 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

CRS-4920 (3) Program Planning in Development and Conflict Resolution (3 hrs Lecture) Program planning is a critical first step in most interventions by development and conflict resolution organizations. This course covers blueprint planning required for preparation of funding proposals and various forms of strategic and participatory planning required for the application of results-based management and learning approaches during program implementation. Current debates regarding approaches to planning are also reviewed. Students acquire skills necessary for conceptualizing and implementing international or domestic projects undertaken by non-governmental organizations: needs assessment, goal and purpose identification, formulation of logframe, workplan and budget, and preparation of a funding proposal.

Cross-listed: IDS-4920(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and IDS-4920.

Requisite Courses: CRS-1200 or IDS-1100 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

CRS-4922 (3) Program Evaluation in Development and Conflict Resolution (3 hrs Lecture) Evaluating programs is a means of systematically assessing interventions designed to promote development and conflict resolution. This course covers formative evaluations required for program decision-making and summation evaluations applicable for analyzing outcomes and impacts to determine relevance, effectiveness, efficiency, sustainability and potential for replication of programs normally implemented by non-governmental organizations. Current debates in approaches to evaluation are also reviewed. Students acquire skills in: selecting relevant quantitative and qualitative indicators, various approaches to obtain measures for the indicators selected, approaches to analyzing collected data, and effective presentation of evaluation conclusions and recommendations. Cost-benefit analysis is covered in ECON-3316(3).

Cross-listed: IDS-4922(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and IDS-4922.

Requisite Courses: CRS-1200 or IDS-1100 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

COOPERATIVE EDUCATION (COOP)

COOP-2999 (0 or 3) Co-op Work Term I

(Apprenticeship/Internship/Practicum) This course offers a cooperative work placement or other experiential learning opportunity adaptable to a wide variety of contexts and disciplines. Students register for this course when beginning their first work term placement. Performance is evaluated by the employer and the departmental cooperative supervisor, and may include a work-term performance report by the student; grading may be pass/fail or by letter grade. The credit version normally includes an academic assignment. The course may be completed more than once for recognition on the student record. Formal co-op designation requires the completion of three work terms, i.e. 2999, 3999 and 4999.

Restrictions: Department Permission Required.

COOP-3999 (0 or 3) Co-op Work Term II

(Apprenticeship/Internship/Practicum) This course offers a cooperative work placement or other experiential learning opportunity adaptable to a wide variety of contexts and disciplines. Students register for this course when beginning their second or subsequent work term placement. Performance is evaluated by the employer and the departmental cooperative supervisor, and may include a work-term performance report by the student; grading may be pass/fail or by letter grade. The credit version normally includes an academic assignment. The course may be completed more than once for recognition on the student record. Formal co-op designation requires the completion of three work terms, i.e. 2999, 3999 and 4999.

Cross-listed: ACS-3700(3).

Restrictions: Department Permission Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and ACS-3700.

Requisite Courses: COOP-2999 [prerequisite(s)].

COOP-4999 (0 or 3) Co-op Work Term III

(Apprenticeship/Internship/Practicum) This course offers a cooperative work placement or other experiential learning opportunity adaptable to a wide variety of contexts and disciplines. Students register for this course when beginning their third or subsequent work term placement. Performance is evaluated by the employer and the departmental cooperative supervisor, and may include a work-term performance report by the student; grading may be pass/fail or by letter grade. The credit version normally includes an academic assignment. The course may be completed more than once for recognition on the student record. Formal co-op designation requires the completion of three work terms, i.e. 2999, 3999 and 4999.

Restrictions: Department Permission Required.

Requisite Courses: COOP-3999 [prerequisite(s)].

CRIMINAL JUSTICE

CJ-1002 (3) Introduction to Criminal Justice (3 hrs Lecture) This course surveys the contemporary criminal justice system from the initial contact with the offender through prosecution, disposition, incarceration, and release to the community. Emphasis is on the role of the police, prosecution, courts and corrections, as well as their policies and practices relative to the offender. Legal, empirical, and theoretical materials are covered.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and CJ-1101.

CJ-2100 (3) Foundations of Justice (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines the academic foundations of the interdisciplinary study of criminal justice. It explores political, philosophical, legal, social, and methodological foundations of the field. The course provides a base for more advanced third year work.

Note: Students must have a declared major in Criminal Justice, or permission from the Instructor

Requisite Courses: CJ-1002 or the former CJ-1101 [prerequisite(s)].

CJ-2101 (3) Criminal Justice Research Methods (3 hrs Lecture | 2 hrs Lab) A study of the principles, data sources and research methods appropriate for criminal justice research. Topics include research design, sampling scaling, questionnaire construction, survey research and qualitative methodology.

Note: Students must have a declared major in Criminal Justice, or permission from the Instructor.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and CJ-3101.

Requisite Courses: CJ-1002 or the former CJ-1101 [prerequisite(s)]; CJ-2101L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

CJ-2114 (3) Quantitative Methods and Research Design in Criminal Justice (3 hrs Lecture | 2 hrs Lab) This course is an introduction to research design using quantitative methods. It will cover the use of descriptive and inferential statistics in the social sciences, with an emphasis on criminal justice. Students are introduced to survey research and techniques of data analysis. Lab work is included to develop computer based statistical skills for use in research. This course is required for majors and honours students.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and CJ-2101(3).

Requisite Courses: CJ-1002 [prerequisite(s)]; CJ-2114 (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

CJ-2115 (3) Qualitative Methods and Research Design in Criminal Justice (3 hrs Lecture) This course is an introduction to the use of research design and qualitative methods in the social sciences, with an emphasis on criminal justice. Students are introduced to research design and qualitative methods. Topics covered include the use of different research perspectives and strategies, interviewing and ethnography, ethics, indigenous and oral history approaches, and techniques of data analysis. This course is required for majors and honours students.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and CJ-2101(3).

Requisite Courses: CJ-1002 [prerequisite(s)].

CJ-2120 (3) Policing in Canada (3 hrs Lecture) Examines the organization and operation of contemporary Canadian policing. The police occupation is assessed, including socialization of recruits. Key areas of focus include the Charter of Rights and Freedoms and police powers, the use of force, corruption, accountability, police administration and the political dimension of police work.

Note: Students must have a declared major in Criminal Justice, or permission from the Instructor

Requisite Courses: CJ-1002 or the former CJ-1101 [prerequisite(s)].

CJ-2125 (3) Victimology (3 hrs Lecture) This course focuses on the dynamics of victimization in society and its consequences. Major theoretical perspectives on victimization patterns are examined, addressing issues of gender, race, and class, and social institutions such as the family, school, and the criminal justice system. Students become familiar with socio-demographic profiles of crime victims. Victims' rights, effect of victimization (including revictimization in the media) and victim attitudes towards the justice system are discussed. This course was formerly called Crime Victims.

Note: Students must have a declared major in Criminal Justice, or permission from the Instructor.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and CJ-3125 | SOC-3125.

Requisite Courses: CJ-1002, or the former CJ-1101, or SOC-1101 [prerequisite(s)].

CJ-2130 (3) Criminal Law (3 hrs Lecture) Introduces students to the nature, purpose, scope, sources and basic principles of the criminal law. The course covers certain fundamental legal concepts such as mens rea, negligence and strict liability, and the analysis of the concept of criminal responsibility in Canada. Students engage in a critical examination of the legislative policies expressed in the Criminal Code, as well as an examination of the legal principles relating to certain specific crimes and to certain major defences. The course also considers the impact of the Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms on the criminal law.

Note: Students must have a declared major in Criminal Justice, or permission from the Instructor

Requisite Courses: CJ-1002 or the former CJ-1101 [prerequisite(s)].

CJ-2203 (3) Institutional Corrections (3 hrs Lecture) Offers an introduction to the theories of punishment and the rise of incarceration in the Western world during the 19th and 20th century. Specific attention is given to the use of correctional institutions in Canada, and current programs and practices.

Note: Students must have a declared major in Criminal Justice, or permission from the Instructor

Requisite Courses: CJ-1002 or the former CJ-1101

[prerequisite(s)].

CJ-2204 (3) Community Corrections (3 hrs Lecture)

Focuses on theories of community and the use of community based interventions in the Western world. Specific attention is given to community based correctional programs in Canada and current practices in probation, parole and conditional sentencing.

Note: Students must have a declared major in Criminal Justice, or permission from the Instructor

Requisite Courses: CJ-1002 or the former CJ-1101 [prerequisite(s)].

CJ-2222 (3) Criminal Justice Field School (3 hrs

Lecture | Lab) This course deepens students understanding of the criminal justice system and its applications across Canada through experiential learning. Although all provinces and territories are under one Federal Criminal Code, systems vary greatly between southern provinces and northern territories. In this course students visit numerous agencies operating in Winnipeg and travel to a location in the North (e.g. Rankin Inlet) to visit a variety of agencies operating there. Note that the Northern location visited may vary from year-to-year. Reflections on and comparisons of these experiences will provide students with deeper understandings of the Canadian Criminal Justice System.

Note: Students must be able to pay for flights and room and board.

Restrictions: Instructor Permission Required.

Requisite Courses: CJ-1002(3), CJ-2130(3), CJ-2100(3) [prerequisite(s)]; CJ-2222L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

CJ-3107 (3) Crime, Media and Popular Culture (3 hrs Lecture) Critically examines the depiction of crime and the criminal justice system in the media and popular culture, including television, film, print and the Internet. Key research findings and theoretical approaches to studying crime in the media and popular culture are discussed. Implications for policy, public opinion and the operation of the agencies of the criminal justice system are examined.

Requisite Courses: CJ-1002 or the former CJ-1101, and CJ-2100 [prerequisite(s)].

CJ-3117 (3) Crime Careers (3 hrs Lecture) Examines a selection of criminal careers, focusing on a variety of dimensions. Criminal careers will be examined with respect to degree, frequency and progression of criminal involvement; seriousness of the offence, public reaction to the offence; legal responses and criminal processing. The types of crimes to be examined include conventional crime (such as theft or vandalism), violent crime, political crime, organized crime, occupational crime and professional crime.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and CJ-2102.

Requisite Courses: CJ-1002 or the former CJ-1101, and CJ-2100 [prerequisite(s)].

CJ-3121 (3) Race and the Criminal Justice System (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines definitions of "race" and racism, and explores different ways of theorizing their relationship to law, criminal justice, and criminological knowledge. The course uses empirical cases in policing, sentencing, corrections, border control, and policy-making in order to explore the particular dynamics of race, the law, and criminal justice in Canada. It includes a focus on relationships between ongoing colonialism, immigration policy, the criminal justice system, and the large scale imprisonment of indigenous people and people of colour in Canada. It also considers policy and social movement responses to racism in the criminal justice system.

Requisite Courses: CJ-1002 or the former CJ-1101, and CJ-2100 [prerequisite(s)].

CJ-3122 (3) Criminal Intelligence Analysis (3 hrs

Lecture) This course examines criminal intelligence analysis in Canadian law enforcement. Skills, techniques, and challenges in the field of intelligence analysis are addressed. Specific topics include intelligence-led policing, tactical and strategic intelligence, and ethical issues. Investigations and case studies are used to facilitate comprehension of course concepts and their practical application.

Requisite Courses: CJ-2120 [prerequisite(s)].

CJ-3130 (3) Criminal Procedure (3 hrs Lecture)

Surveys critical legal issues in the Canadian criminal procedure with an emphasis placed on investigation. The course considers the relevant Criminal Code sections, constitutional provisions, common law rules and recent case law as they relate to the powers of search and seizure, electronic surveillance, charging, arrest and detention, interrogation, and an accused's right to counsel and silence. The course analyzes what constitutional, common law and statutory remedies an accused can seek when evidence is obtained improperly or there has been abuse of police or prosecutorial powers. Students are introduced to the fundamentals of other pre-trial phenomena including bail.

Requisite Courses: CJ-1002 or the former CJ-1101, and CJ-2130 [prerequisite(s)].

CJ-3184 (3) Surveillance, Information, and Criminal Justice (3 hrs Lecture) This course provides students with a critically informed understanding of surveillance in Canada. A main goal is to explore concepts and develop skills to engage with claims about surveillance and related topics such as policing. Students learn to define surveillance, information, and the relationship of surveillance to the nation-state as well as policing. With focus on empirical examples from the realm of criminal justice, students critically assess recent theoretical statements made concerning surveillance: (a) Foucault's panopticism, (b) Mathiesen's synopticism, (c) Deleuze's control societies, and (d) Haggerty/Ericson's surveillant assemblages.

Requisite Courses: CJ-1101 or CJ-1002 and CJ-2100 [prerequisite(s)].

CJ-3201 (3) Comparative Crime and Criminal Justice

(3 hrs Lecture) This course examines crime and criminal justice in cross cultural and cross national perspective. Specific attention is given to the history, development and current operation of criminal justice systems within socialist, civil, common and Islamic legal traditions. Specific topics for comparative examination include criminal law, policing, courts, corrections and youth justice. Current issues in transnational crime are examined.

Requisite Courses: CJ-1002 or the former CJ-1101, and CJ-2100 [prerequisite(s)].

CJ-3204 (3) Crime Prevention (3 hrs Lecture) Explores the history and development of perspectives on crime and crime prevention and critically examines the theoretical approaches within the field. The course will also focus on contemporary spatial perspectives on crime prevention. A variety of disciplinary perspectives analyze the relationship between crime, fear and space including geography, criminology, city planning and architecture. Specific situational and physical environmental strategies of crime prevention are discussed.

Requisite Courses: CJ-1002 or the former CJ-1101, and CJ-2100 [prerequisite(s)].

CJ-3205 (3) Professional Ethics in Criminal Justice (3 hrs Lecture) Focuses on understanding and dealing with ethical issues that arise in the criminal justice system. Different theoretical perspectives will be used to explore the social and organizational process that lead to corruption and abuse of power, systemic discrimination, and illegal behaviour by criminal justice practitioners. The use of case studies will provide a realistic picture not only of what ethical questions arise in the criminal justice system, but also of how sound moral decisions are made in response to them.

Requisite Courses: CJ-1002 or the former CJ-1101, and CJ-2100 [prerequisite(s)].

CJ-3223 (3) Green Criminology (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines the history and contemporary nature of 'green' (environmental) criminology harms as well as the diverse strategies developed to protect the environment. It explores the way in which governments, transnational corporations, military apparatuses, and ordinary people going about their everyday activities routinely harm the environment, ecology and animals. Topics include the social construction of environmental problems, pollution, illegal disposal of waste, animal rights, the prosecution of specific environmental offences, the regulation of environmental activities, environmental risk, and transnational offences. Students may also be interested in CJ/SOC-3233, which covers different material.

Cross-listed: SOC-3223(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and SOC-3223.

Requisite Courses: CJ-1002(3) or the former CJ-1101(6), or SOC-1101 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

CJ-3233 (3) Green Justice (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines inequalities across race, gender, class and locality in relation to environmental problems such as toxic waste disposal, air pollution, climate change, deforestation, and environmental disasters. It also examines the response to these inequalities in the form of local and global movements, protests, and politics. Topics include: the history of green justice; how green justices are created; differential exposure to environmental risks; the impact of green inequalities and the various responses to green injustices. Students may also be interested in CJ/SOC-3223, which covers different material.

Cross-listed: SOC-3233(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and SOC-3233.

Requisite Courses: CJ-1002 or the former CJ-1101, or SOC-1101 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

CJ-3400 (3) Selected Topics in Criminal Justice (3 hrs Lecture) Examines specific topics in Criminal Justice at the third year level. Students should consult the department regarding potential offerings in a given year.

Requisite Courses: CJ-1002 or the former CJ-1101, and CJ-2100 [prerequisite(s)].

CJ-3444 (3) Gender and the Criminal Justice System (3 hrs Lecture) This course explores Canadian criminal justice practices through a gendered lens. Students examine how gender contours our understanding of crime, its construction, and representation. Students examine the link between gender and surveillance, correction, legality, punishment, criminalization, and discipline found in criminal justice practices. The course utilizes feminist legal frameworks, historical and contemporary criminological, sociological, and political perspectives on gender and the system of justice. The primary focus is an examination of an intersectional approach to assess how the law structures and is structured by social contexts and social inequalities, including race, class, and sexuality.

Requisite Courses: CJ-1101 or CJ-1002 and CJ-2100 [prerequisite(s)].

CJ-3470 (3) Forensic Psychology (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines ways that psychological principles can inform understand of and practices in the criminal justice system (i.e., law enforcement, courts, corrections). Topics to be covered include: detection of deception, eyewitness testimony, legal decision-making, juries, mental illness in court, risk assessment, psychopathology, and corrections. Research on psychological factors in the criminal justice system and field practices are emphasized.

Cross-listed: PSYC-3470(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and PSYC-3470.

Requisite Courses: CJ-1002 or the former CJ-1101 and CJ-2101, or PSYC-1000, PSYC-2101 and PSYC-2102, or SOC-2125 and SOC-2126 [prerequisite(s)].

CJ-3500 (3) Interpersonal Violence (3 hrs Lecture) Utilizes an interdisciplinary approach to examining interpersonal violence as a critical and complex social issue. Specific types of interpersonal violence covered include child abuse and neglect, child sexual violence, spousal abuse, elder abuse, date rape and other forms of intimate sexual and physical violence. The course includes a comprehensive examination of theoretical perspectives regarding the nature and origins of interpersonal violence as well as a critical examination of the effectiveness of the mental health, child welfare, and criminal justice systems approach to interpersonal violence prevention, intervention, and policy.

Requisite Courses: CJ-1002 or the former CJ-1101, and CJ-2100 [prerequisite(s)].

CJ-3800 (6) Criminal Justice Field Placement (3 hrs Apprenticeship/Internship/Practicum) Places students in a criminal justice or human services agency. Students provide service to the community while gaining the benefit of practitioner experience. The course instructor will assist students in applying lessons learned in the class room to their respective placements through structured class discussion, reflective journals and a library paper assignment.

Note: Students must have a declared major in Criminal Justice, or permission from the Instructor

Restrictions: Department Permission Required.

Requisite Courses: CJ-2100 and CJ-2130 and permission of the Department Chair [prerequisite(s)].

CJ-4102 (3) Advances in Qualitative and Visual Methods (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This course explores advances in qualitative inquiry including visual studies and social media studies. This course covers the full cycle of a qualitative research project. The course aims to (1) develop critical skills in interpreting reports of qualitative studies, (2) improve understanding of the core methods of qualitative data collection and analysis, (3) enhance understandings of research design, as well as (4) provide experience in analyzing and interpreting qualitative data. This course is designed for students in criminal justice studies but could appeal to anyone in the social sciences or humanities.

Restrictions: Instructor Permission Required. Honours Form Required.

CJ-4105 (3) Seminar in Youth and the Criminal Justice System (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) Provides a critical examination of systemic problems and policy issues in youth justice. The course evaluates the effectiveness of current criminal justice legal reforms, interventions, treatment programs, and policies aimed at youth. Specific topics include public discourse on youth crime and justice, the social construction of adolescents involved with the youth justice system, the interface of corollary systems of child welfare and mental health, the administration of youth justice systems and a comparative analysis of the policy choices made in developing frameworks for responding to youth justice.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

Requisite Courses: CJ-1002 or the former CJ-1101 [prerequisite(s)].

CJ-4116 (3) Program and Policy Evaluation (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) Examines methodologies for the formal assessment of social programs using quantitative and qualitative methods of inquiry including survey, interview, observation and case study techniques. The political and social processes framing evaluation research are also discussed. The course requires a student project to apply lessons learned.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

Requisite Courses: CJ-2101 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

CJ-4122 (3) Capstone Seminar in Criminal Justice (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) The course traces the intellectual history of the discipline and evaluates key issues and debates in its theoretical and philosophical development broader questions about the nature and scope of justice and criminal justice are also explored. Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

Requisite Courses: CJ-1002 or the former CJ-1101 and CJ-3205 [prerequisite(s)].

CJ-4123 (3) Honours Thesis in Criminal Justice

(Project / Thesis with variable meeting hours) The Honours thesis provides students the opportunity to complete an extensive research paper or conduct a research project on a subject of interest relevant to the discipline. In addition to completing the project, students in this course are expected to meet with a faculty supervisor on a regular schedule throughout the academic year. Presentation of their research results verbally and in thesis form to the Criminal Justice Department are integral to the course. Permission of the Department Chair is required.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

Requisite Courses: CJ-4122 [prerequisite(s)].

CJ-4130 (3) Advanced Criminal Law (3 hrs Lecture)

Examines Canadian criminal law in depth with a particular emphasis on the constitutional issues affecting the disposition of the criminal trial. In addition, complex substantive areas are also surveyed. The course focuses on conceptually advanced criminal law areas including inchoate offences, advanced issues in defences, sexual offences, public order offences, offences against the state and against the administration of justice, and offences pertaining to group responsibility. Students are introduced to the fundamentals of legal research and reasoning through course assignments.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

Requisite Courses: CJ-2130 and CJ-3130 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

CJ-4200 (3) Gangs, Crime, and the Inner-City (3 hrs

Seminar/Discussion) This course examines the relationship between street gangs, crime and their impact on the inner city. The complexity of defining gangs is explored, as well as the social processes and subcultural influences that contribute to their formation. The crime-related activities of gang members in inner-city neighbourhoods such as drug market involvement and sex trade are assessed. In addition, the course considers the emergence and functioning of gangs in prisons and schools. While the course focuses on the gang situation in Winnipeg, it also compares the situation to that in the United States. This course challenges students to critically assess policies and programs proposed for gang prevention and intervention.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

Requisite Courses: CJ-1101 [prerequisite(s)].

CJ-4300 (3) Critical Criminal Justice Theory (3 hrs Lecture) Examines some of the major critical theoretical perspectives of the social sciences. The course is intended to offer an advanced discussion of Marxist, Foucaultian, and newly emerging critical realist perspectives as they are used to make sense of criminal justice.

DANC-4912 (3 or 6) Special Studies in Dance II (3 hrs Lecture)

DEVELOPMENTAL STUDIES

DEV-2004 (3) Observation and Evaluation Techniques in Child-Care Settings (3 hrs Lecture)

This course provides a theoretical and practical examination of the principles of systematic observation and evaluation in child-care settings. The focus is on studying and implementing different observational strategies ranging from anecdotal reports to event sampling methods. Practical activities and projects will provide opportunities to acquire new techniques for observing, recording, and analyzing children's behaviours, and to make valid inferences. Based on observations in selected child care settings, students will complete assignments designed to help them build skills as reflective practitioners, program evaluators, facilitators of children's learning, and providers of a healthy and safe environment.

Requisite Courses: PSYC-2200 or permission of the Director of Developmental Studies [prerequisite(s)].

DEV-3001 (3) Applied Child Development (3 hrs Lecture)

This course focuses on the application of theory and research in child development. The course covers primarily theories and research relating to developmental periods before adolescence and discusses implications of these for the practitioner, parent, and professional working with both normally developing and special needs children.

Requisite Courses: PSYC-2200 or permission of the Director of Developmental Studies [prerequisite(s)].

DEV-3100 (3) The Child, Family, and Social Policy (3 hrs Lecture) This course is designed to sensitize students to the social policy and legal dimensions of child development. It addresses the current political climate surrounding the adequacy of child care, as well as selected issues concerning the law and the rights of children. Possible topics include current social policy and provision of child-care services; law, divorce, and the rights of children with diverse needs; and issues related to adoption and foster parenting. Knowledge of effective advocacy and children's rights enables students to participate in the policy process and explore issues in the current child-care policy agenda.

Requisite Courses: PSYC-2200 or permission of the Director of Developmental Studies [prerequisite(s)].

DEV-3300 (3) Speech and Language Disorders in Children (3 hrs Lecture) This course is designed to introduce students to the field of communication disorders in children. It provides an overview of professional issues. Possible topics include the identification of different types of communication disorders, procedures in the evaluation and treatment of these disorders, and child-care program planning techniques.

Cross-listed: LING-3105(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and LING-3105.

Requisite Courses: PSYC-2200 or permission of the Director of Developmental Studies [prerequisite(s)].

DEV-3400 (3) Parents, Families, and Professionals in Child Care (3 hrs Lecture)

This course considers theory and practice in establishing and maintaining productive relationships with parents, families, and professionals in the child care setting. Topics include methods of effective communication; responsibilities to parents, families, and professionals; and the relationship between child-care settings and community resources.

DEV-3500 (3) Independent Study (3 hrs Directed Reading)

Readings in a particular topic in child care will be arranged between an individual student and an instructor. Where appropriate, a practicum may also be included as part of this course.

Note: Written permission of the Instructor and the Director of Developmental Studies are required to take this course.

Restrictions: Department Permission Required. Instructor Permission Required.

DEV-3600 (3) Special Topics in Developmental Studies (3 hrs Lecture)

The course examines relevant issues and developments in Developmental Studies. Course content varies from year to year. The topic of each course is available to students prior to registration. Students are allowed to repeat the course if topics vary.

Note: Written permission of the Instructor and the Director of Developmental Studies are required to take this course.

DEV-3610 (3) Topics in Leadership in Early Childhood Care and Education (ECCE) (3 hrs Lecture)

The course provides an opportunity for currently enrolled interning students to understand and to integrate core concepts such as mentoring, team building, strategic planning, advocacy, communication, and inclusion of children with diverse needs, as they explore management and leadership issues in childcare systems. Students acquire information and skills through in-class discussions and presentations, reporting on experiences gained through their concurrent internship placement, and individual research and reading.

Note: Written permission of the Director of Developmental Studies is required to take this course. Students are expected to take this course in the final term of their Developmental Studies program.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and DEV-3310 | DEV-3410.

Requisite Courses: DEV-3630 (must be taken previously or at the same time as this course).

DEV-3630 (3) Advanced Internship

(Apprenticeship/Internship/Practicum | 1 hrs Seminar/Discussion)

The course provides advanced field experience in the administration of childcare centres and leadership in the early childhood community. Students learn skills within such topics as childcare licensing requirements, programs and policy planning, personnel management, budgeting, the inclusion of children with special needs, and developing and implementing individualized programs. Students develop a major project in their selected area of specialization that provides a focused learning experience in their placement.

Note: Written permission of the Director of Developmental Studies is required to take this course. Students are expected to take this course in the final term of their Developmental Studies program.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and DEV-3330 | DEV-3430.

Requisite Courses: DEV-3610 (must be taken previously or at the same time as this course).

DISABILITY STUDIES

DIS-1003 (3) Introduction to Disability Studies I (3 hrs Lecture) This course addresses definitions of and approaches to disability, and the differences as a result of history and cultures. In addition, the course examines the ways in which disability is constructed in societies - including the media, workplaces service provision, families, and environmental barriers. This course is designed to be of particular interest to people with disabilities, people with interest in providing disability services, educators, caregivers, therapists, and all people with an interest in disability issues.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and SOC-1003.

DIS-1004 (3) Introduction to Disability Studies II (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines social change in terms of disability rights movements. It looks at innovative, contemporary as well as historic approaches of social change in the community and within wide-ranging institutions within the disability rights movement in a Canadian context. A specific focus is on daily and institutional sites where disability is visible including particular federal and provincial policies, social service provision and programming, and regulated local and community-based responses. Regional variations of social change within a Canadian context are fully explored. This online course is of particular interest to people with disabilities, people with interest in providing disability services, educators, caregivers, therapists, and all people with an interest in disability issues.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and SOC-1004.

DIS-2100 (3) Theorizing Disability (3 hrs Lecture) Prior to the 1970s, the concept of disability was centered on individual impairments and people with disabilities were "othered" because of their difference from ableist norms. Over the last three decades, disability activists and theorists have sought to shift the focus from a medical model to a social model. Within the social model, external obstacles are regarded as disabling, rather than non-conformist bodies. This move has had a powerful impact on a disability theorization and political action. The social model of disability has much in common with critical analyses that deconstruct and denaturalize race and gender. In this course, we will consider the implications of the social model of theorizing disability, examine the critiques, and explore the alternatives.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and SOC-2100.

Requisite Courses: SOC-1101 or DIS-1003 or DIS-1004 [prerequisite(s)].

DIS-2200 (3) Disabilities, Sexualities, and Rights (1.5 hrs Lecture | 1.5 hrs Seminar/Discussion) Links between living with disabilities and risk of disadvantage or discrimination are clear, yet focus on equity, employment access, services, and physical health needs may render invisible issues of sexual health, identity, and expression of people with disabilities. This course embraces social models and explores human rights implications of challenging bio-medical views of sexualities and disabilities, focusing on how people with disabilities embrace their sexualities and/or are prevented from doing so. Students explore these topics from critical disability, feminist, and queer perspectives. Recognizing and balancing complex and sometimes apparently competing self-identities and needs are integral from a human rights perspective.

Cross-listed: WGS-2264(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and WGS-2264.

Requisite Courses: DIS-1003 and DIS-1004 or WGS-1232 or 30 credit hours [prerequisite(s)].

DIS-3001 (3) Disability Studies Seminar I (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This upper-level seminar course, which builds on DIS-2100(3) Theorizing Disability, allows students to deepen their study of disability-related topics, social models of disability, and the works of key disability studies theorists. The focus of the course may vary from year to year, but a common theme is the consideration of the socio-political meanings of non-conformist bodies. Key questions include: "What is disability?" and "Do intersections of difference (e.g., gender, race, sexuality, class) matter?" With the aim of debating new ideas, students are expected to explore relevant scholarship on their own and with the class.

Requisite Courses: DIS-2100 or permission of the Program Coordinator [prerequisite(s)].

DIS-3002 (3) Disability Studies Research Placement (3 hrs Apprenticeship/Internship/Practicum with variable meeting hours) This field placement is designed to provide Disability Studies Majors with the opportunity to apply their research skills to a position in a disability organization. Students learn new research methodologies, work in teams and on their own, and make contacts outside academe. Placements are negotiated between students, instructors, and hosting agencies. Students are matched with agencies based on their research skills, interests, academic background, and the needs of the host. A good knowledge of qualitative research methods is required.

Restrictions: Department Chair Perm Required.

Requisite Courses: SOC-2126 or another qualitative research methods course approved by the Coordinator [prerequisite(s)].

DIS-3003 (3) Disability Studies Directed Readings (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This course provides a student at the third year level with the opportunity, in close consultation with a professor, to pursue in depth a selected area of Disability Studies.

Requisite Courses: DIS-2100 or permission of the Program Coordinator [prerequisite(s)].

DIS-3006 (3) Embodied Subjects (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This course uses an intersectional approach to embodiment that attends to how constructions of class, debility, disability, frailty, gender, race, sexuality, and other social differences come to figure in experiences and understandings of the body. We think about bodies as sites not only of social inscription but also of agency and possibility and highlight feminist and crip activism. What is embodiment? What is a subject? How are subjects embodied? What are the implications of embodied subjectivity? Why are some humans perceived as more embodied than others and how do the above constructions affect those perceptions?

Cross-listed: WGS-3006(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and WGS-3006.

Requisite Courses: WGS-2333 or DIS-2100 or permission of the WGS Chair or DS Coordinator or instructor [prerequisite(s)].

DIS-4001 (3) Disability Studies Seminar II (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This seminar course focuses on a specific theme, author, movement, approach or theory in Disability Studies, allowing students to study, discuss, and exchange ideas about disability-related topics in some depth. Course themes may include such areas as ageism, disabled women and violence, chronic illness and gender, accommodation in the workplace, and representations of disability in fairy-tales, media and other cultural discourses. Students should consult the Disability Studies Coordinator for details. This course may be repeated for credit when the topic varies.

Restrictions: Department Permission Required. Instructor Permission Required.

Requisite Courses: Any 3000-level DIS course and permission of the Chair (or designate) or Coordinator [prerequisite(s)].

DIS-4002 (3) Disability Studies Field Placement II (Apprenticeship/Internship/Practicum with variable meeting hours) This placement course provides students with a further opportunity to work in a disability-related setting and reflect upon the experience. Students apply their research skills and previous experience to a position in a disability organization. Students may work in teams and/or on their own, and make further contacts outside of academe. Students are matched with agencies based on their research skills, interests, academic background, and the needs of the host. Tasks may include literature updates, developing research and evaluation protocols, and co-writing, editing, and publishing reports.

Restrictions: Department Permission Required. Instructor Permission Required.

Requisite Courses: DIS-3002 and permission of the Chair (or designate) or Coordinator [prerequisite(s)].

DIS-4900 (3) Honours Research Paper (Directed Reading with variable meeting hours) The Honours Research Paper allows a student, in consultation with a faculty member, to pursue an area of interest that has emerged in their program of study. The course is taught on an individual arrangement between Supervisor and student. A Reader, with relevant expertise, also evaluates the final version. When scheduling permits, the student presents results at the annual WGS/DIS Colloquium. Topics may include an exploration of a film, novel, television or online show in its representations of ability and disability or evaluations of particular practical strategies and tactics like separation and mainstreaming for persons living with disabilities.

Restrictions: Department Permission Required. Instructor Permission Required.

Requisite Courses: DIS-2100 and permission of the Chair (or designate) or the Coordinator [prerequisite(s)].

EAST ASIAN LANGUAGES & CULTURE

EALC-1004 (3) East Asian Cultural Foundations (3 hrs Lecture) This course introduces students to the cultural traditions and belief systems of East Asia (primarily China, Japan, and Korea). Traditions examined include Confucianism, Daoism (Taoism), and Buddhism. Special attention is given to the examination of ideas stemming from primary source documents (in translation) within their historical and cultural contexts. Emphasis is given to the central role played by developments in China for the formation of East Asian cultural values.

EALC-1100 (6) Introduction to Japanese Language (3 hrs Lecture | 1 hrs Lab) This course introduces students to the modern Japanese language. The aim of this course is to provide a solid base in vocabulary, grammar, and pronunciation through speaking, listening, writing, and reading exercises. Students are introduced to Japanese syllabary (hiragana and katakana) and basic Japanese characters (kanji). In addition to providing the basis for further research for EALC students interested in Japanese studies, the course is of interest to a variety of students from various disciplines interested in acquiring basic Japanese language skills.

Note: Native speakers of Japanese or students who have standing in Japanese 40S or equivalent are not eligible to take this course.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and REL-2020.

Requisite Courses: EALC-1100L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

EALC-1200 (6) Introduction to Chinese Language (3 hrs Lecture | 1 hrs Lab) This course introduces students to the modern standard Chinese language (Mandarin). The aim of the course is to provide a solid base in vocabulary, grammar, and pronunciation through speaking, listening, writing, and reading exercises. In addition to providing the basis for further research for EALC students interested in Chinese studies, the course is of interest to a variety of students from various disciplines interested in acquiring basic Chinese language skills.

Note: This course is not intended for Chinese native speakers, including speakers of dialects other than Mandarin.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and REL-2030.

Requisite Courses: EALC-1200L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

EALC-1300 (6) Introduction to Korean Language (3 hrs Lecture | 1 hrs Lab) This course introduces students to the modern Korean language. The aim of this course is to provide a solid base in vocabulary, grammar, and pronunciation through speaking, listening, writing and reading exercises. Students are introduced to the Korean characters known as Hangul. In addition to providing the basis for further research in East Asian Languages and Cultures, the course is of interest to a variety of students from various disciplines interested in acquiring basic Korean language skills.

Note: Native speakers of Korean or students who have standing in Korean 40S are not eligible to take this course.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and REL-2040.

Requisite Courses: EALC-1300L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

EALC-2031 (3) Chinese-English Translation (3 hrs Lecture) This course seeks to improve students' language skills and deepen their ability to communicate meanings in written texts between the two languages and two cultures. Students translate original scripts drawn from various genres of literature, including scientific materials and documents. Basic approaches include guided class discussion, a minimum of lecture time and a maximum of translation practice time. This course is an introduction to the principles and techniques of translation, but requires proficiency in the Chinese and English languages.

Requisite Courses: At least 3 credit hours at the 1000 level in Rhetoric, Writing and Communication [prerequisite(s)].

EALC-2100 (6) Intermediate Japanese Language (3 hrs Lecture | 1 hrs Lab) In this course, students extend their knowledge of Japanese grammar and vocabulary in communicative and academic contexts through assignments, group work, and exercises in speaking, listening, writing, and reading. Students are expected to be able to read and write hiragana, katakana, and some kanji, and to have mastered pronunciation and basic Japanese grammar. In addition to providing the basis for further research for students in EALC who are interested in Japanese studies, this course is of interest to elementary students of Japanese who wish to improve their language skills.

Note: Native speakers of Japanese are not eligible to take this course.

Requisite Courses: EALC-1100 [prerequisite(s)]; EALC-2100L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

EALC-2200 (6) Intermediate Chinese Language (3 hrs Lecture | 1 hrs Lab) This course is a continuation of Introduction to Chinese Language (Mandarin), and is a study of Chinese in its spoken and written forms with more vocabulary, more advanced grammatical structures and written characters. Equal emphasis is given to speaking, listening, reading, and writing. Chinese dictionary usage is also addressed. In addition to providing the basis for further research for EALC students interested in Chinese studies, this course is of interest to a variety of students who wish to improve their Chinese language skills.

Note: Speakers of dialects other than Mandarin must receive permission from the instructor to take this course.

Requisite Courses: EALC-1200 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)]; EALC-2200L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

EALC-2301 (3) Intermediate Korean I (3 hrs Lecture | 1 hrs Lab) Intermediate Korean I is the first term of intermediate Korean language. The course is designed for students who have completed Introduction to Korean or the equivalent. To complete Korean language at the intermediate level, students must continue on to Intermediate Korean II. Building on their knowledge of Korean, students learn more advanced vocabulary, grammar, and idiomatic expressions. Students also learn about Korean culture through the textbook and audiovisual media. Students are encouraged to speak as much Korean as possible to improve their oral communication skills. Overall, the course aims to develop intermediate-level proficiency in reading, writing, speaking, and listening skills.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and EALC-2300.

Requisite Courses: EALC-1300, or equivalent [prerequisite(s)]; EALC-2301L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

EALC-2302 (3) Intermediate Korean II (3 hrs Lecture | 1 hrs Lab) Intermediate Korean II is the second term of intermediate Korean language. The course is designed for students who have already completed Intermediate Korean I in addition to Introductory Korean or the equivalent. Building on their knowledge of Korean, students learn more advanced vocabulary, grammar, and idiomatic expressions used in traditional and modern Korean. Students also learn about Korean culture through the textbook and audiovisual media. Students are encouraged to speak as much Korean as possible to improve their oral communication skills. Overall, the course aims to develop intermediate-level proficiency in reading, writing, speaking, and listening skills.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and EALC-2300.

Requisite Courses: EALC-2301, or equivalent [prerequisite(s)]; EALC-2302L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

EALC-2707 (3) Chinese Religions (3 hrs Lecture) This course is a study of the basic beliefs and practices of the Chinese as informed by the three major Chinese traditions: Confucian, Taoist (Daoist), and Buddhist. The course will examine the development of each of these traditions, as well as their blending into a comprehensive set of beliefs and practices that shaped the common understanding and practice of Chinese religion. The effect of Communism on Chinese religious life and the resurgence of religion in contemporary China will also be examined.

Cross-listed: REL-2707(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and REL-2707.

EALC-2708 (3) Religion in Japanese Life (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines the religious life of the Japanese people, as informed by traditions deriving from the native Shinto religion of Japan, the adapted traditions of Buddhism and Confucianism, and the impact of Westernization and modernization on traditional beliefs and practices.

Cross-listed: REL-2708(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and REL-2708.

EALC-2709 (3) Women in Asian Religions and Cultures (3 hrs Lecture) The course examines the experience of women in several Asian cultures (e.g., India, China, Japan), in different religious traditions (e.g., Hinduism, Buddhism, Confucianism, Daoism). The course is intended as a comprehensive introduction to women's experience in both pre-modern and modern contexts, with attention to how women are perceived and perceive themselves in religious and cultural roles.

Cross-listed: REL-2709(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and REL-2709.

EALC-2718 (3) Buddhist Traditions in East Asia (3 hrs Lecture) This course traces the historical development of Mahayana (Great Vehicle) Buddhism in East Asia, focusing on the founding of East Asian Buddhist traditions in China, and their transmission to Korea and Japan. The course introduces the major beliefs and practices associated with East Asian Buddhism, the schools, figures, and texts that form the traditions that have flourished in East Asian countries. In addition to Chinese Buddhist developments, the course examines the adaptation of Chinese Buddhist traditions in Korea and Japan.

Cross-listed: REL-2718(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and REL-2718.

EALC-2720 (6) Japanese Civilization (3 hrs Lecture) This course familiarizes students with major components of Japanese civilization such as religion, the arts, and politics with a specific focus on their importance in shaping Japanese history and culture. It is taught in Japan as an intensive summer course. Students reside and attend classes on the campus of Doshisha University in the city of Kyoto. The course features field trips and guest lectures.

EALC-2721 (3) Traditional Japanese Culture (3 hrs Lecture) This course surveys traditional Japanese culture through an exploration of visual and dramatic arts, literature, philosophy, and religion. Special emphasis is placed on cross-cultural roots that bridged Japan with its neighboring countries in East Asia. The historical foundations of popular Japanese contemporary culture - Manga, Anime, and high technology to name a few - are also discussed.

Cross-listed: ANTH-2721(3) & REL-2121(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ANTH-2121 | REL-2721.

EALC-2723 (3) Japanese Cinema (3 hrs Lecture) This course surveys Japanese cinema from the 1960s to the present day. To understand the context of the films, relevant literature (short stories, novels, and traditional Japanese theater on which the films are based) is discussed. In the process, the focus is on transitions from modern to postmodernism, alterity, and subjectivity in film. Directors examined include, among others, Ozu, Mishima, Kurosawa, Teshigahara, Miyazaki, and Kitano.

EALC-2725 (3) Food in Japanese Culture (3 hrs Lecture) This course explores the culture and history of Japanese cuisine. Designated in 2013 by UNESCO as part of the world's "Intangible Cultural Heritage." Japanese food is no longer restricted to Japan itself, but is now an integral component of global culinary culture. In the class, students follow the evolution of Japanese food from its origins in prehistoric hunting-gathering and rice cultivation to its globalization in fusion cuisine of the twenty-first century. The course ultimately aims to demonstrate how Japanese food today is not necessarily Japanese in origin, but the product of intra and later intercontinental cultural, political, and religious networks.

Cross-listed: REL-2725(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and REL-2725.

EALC-2731 (3) Chinese Culture and Beliefs (3 hrs

Lecture) This course focuses on Chinese traditions and values that have influenced modern Chinese society. This course is introductory and requires no prior knowledge of Chinese language and history. All the texts in this course are in English. Students discover ways in which cultural representations in social life, customs, business practice, literature, and art have affected and are being affected by beliefs. Through lecture and guided discussion students better understand how traditions and beliefs continue to inform about Chinese culture today.

Cross-listed: REL-2731(3).

EALC-2733 (3) Religious Traditions of Korea (3 hrs

Lecture) This course provides an historical overview of Korean religious traditions. We examine the historical processes that world religious traditions--Buddhism, Confucianism, and Christianity--have undergone in Korea. Then we consider the Korean folk religious tradition, Shamanism, and new religions in relation to the social context of contemporary Korea. The various Korean religious traditions are critically examined in terms of their cumulative, participatory process in world religious history.

Cross-listed: REL-2733(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and REL-2733.

EALC-2734 (3) The Making of Modern East Asian Culture (3 hrs Lecture) This course introduces students to East Asian culture in modern times. It surveys the transformation of traditional cultural values as a result of intense political and cultural influence from the West since the late 19th century, and explores the roots of contemporary culture in China, Japan, and Korea. Particular attention is given to the impact of literature (primarily short stories and novels by early 20th-century intellectuals) and Western thought on the East Asian region (e.g., social Darwinism, liberalism, science, and democracy, introduced to East Asia during the late 19th century), and on the way in which traditional values are being critically re-evaluated as China, Japan, and Korea have endeavored to modernize their societies.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and REL-2734.

EALC-2740 (3) The Supernatural in East Asian Culture (3 hrs Lecture) This course introduces students to East Asian culture through depictions of supernatural phenomena. By transgressing the boundaries of life and death, human and animal, real and unreal, supernatural beings shed light on socio-culturally constructed boundaries, such as status and gender. Through the lens of traditional supernatural literature, a framework of social structures in traditional East Asia emerges to show how characters confront and transgress the bounds of normative behaviour. Topics may include gender, purity and contamination, Five Elements Theory, Buddhism, Daoism, Neo-Confucianism, popular religion, cultural taboos, and changing views toward the supernatural in the age of scientific inquiry.

Cross-listed: REL-2740(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and REL-2740.

EALC-2770 (6) Introduction to Chinese Culture: Past and Present (3 hrs Lecture)

This course familiarizes students with major Chinese cultural traditions such as Confucianism, Daoism (Taoism), and Buddhism, examining specifically their roles in shaping Chinese culture in areas such as religion and philosophy, language and literature, art and architecture, economics and business. This course may be taught on campus, or as an intensive Summer course taught in China. When taught in China, students will reside and attend classes on the campus of Shanghai Normal University. It will feature field trips and guest lectures by Shanghai Normal University faculty.

EALC-2772 (3) Modern Chinese Literature in Translation (3 hrs Lecture) This course focuses on Chinese literary texts that reflect the stylistic conventions and cultural issues of China between 1911 and the 21st century. This course is introductory and requires no prior knowledge of Chinese language, history, or culture. All texts in this course are in English. Students not only examine the forms and contents of the literary texts from various theoretical points of view, but also explore the social, political, and historical contexts in which these texts are written. Through lecture and guided discussion, students discover the ways in which Modern Chinese Literature continues to inform about Chinese culture today.

EALC-2773 (3) Chinese Cinema (3 hrs Lecture)

This course focuses on films produced by Chinese filmmakers between the 1930s and the present in appropriate historical and cultural contexts. The course is introductory and requires no prior knowledge of Chinese language, history, culture, or literature. All the films studied in the course have English subtitles. Students in the course generally view one film per week, preceded by preparatory lecture and followed by guided class discussion.

EALC-2774 (3) Big Ideas and Great Debates in Chinese Intellectual History (3 hrs Lecture) This course explores the intellectual history of pre-modern China. By taking a thematic approach to leading intellectual currents within Chinese thought, the course critically examines debated and contested ideas between and among a diversity of schools of Chinese thought, including, but not limited to, Confucianism, Daoism, and Buddhism. The course is based on close reading of primary text materials in translation and students are required to engage in debate during class hours.

Cross-listed: REL-2774(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and REL-2774.

EALC-2780 (3) The Martial Arts of East Asia (3 hrs Lecture) In this course, students challenge the portrayal of East Asian martial arts as an ancient, mystical practice by examining the history of martial arts. Students explore how military techniques once intended for war, policing, and control of banditry came to be practiced as methods of moral and physical self-cultivation. The course examines the historical origins of martial arts in China, Japan, and Korea, their evolution, and how they both subverted and served state agendas in the modern era. Lastly, it covers the role of martial arts in contemporary popular culture. This class is an online course requiring a high speed internet connection.

Cross-listed: REL-2780.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and REL-2780.

EALC-2785 (3) Conceiving Japan and its World (3 hrs Lecture) This course explores Japan's collective identity by surveying the historical, cultural, and religious positioning of Japan in its world. Students examine how maps, both in their literal and figurative kinds, played a role in establishing this collective identity. Such literal maps include those of samurai domains, pilgrimage routes, and radioactive fallout from the Second World War and the 2011 Great Tohoku Earthquake. Figurative ones cover travel diaries of seventeenth century poets and contemporary Japan-centric worldviews from popular literature. Both types underscore historical and cultural shifts from the time of the Shoguns to the digital age of the twenty-first century.

EALC-3007 (6) Introduction to Classical Chinese (3 hrs Lecture | 1 hrs Lab) This course introduces students to Classical Chinese language grammar, style, and the use of traditional characters, through the reading of excerpts from traditional Chinese literature, the basis from which all forms of the Classical Chinese writing system, in Japan and Korea as well as China, developed. Special attention is given to texts from ancient China's intellectual and religious traditions, Confucianism and Daoism (Taoism). The course assumes no prior knowledge of Chinese.

Note: This course is not available to students with prior training in Classical Chinese.

Cross-listed: REL-3007(6).

EALC-3057 (3) Introduction to Classical Japanese (3 hrs Lecture) This course introduces students to Classical Japanese grammar, vocabulary, and orthography. Classical Japanese offers an opportunity for students to engage in the roots of the modern language and to further their studies in literary Japanese. Through grammars and readers, students learn how to read and interpret pre-modern Japanese poetry, diaries, and fiction. This course is suitable for students who have completed three years of modern Japanese or those who are native speakers of Japanese. It is of particular interest for those who are considering graduate level work in pre-modern Japanese culture.

Experimental Course - This course is offered on a trial basis to gauge interest in the topic. Students who successfully complete this course receive credit as indicated.

Restrictions: Instructor Permission Required.

Requisite Courses: EALC-3100 or EALC-3007 [prerequisite(s)].

EALC-3100 (6) Advanced Japanese Language (3 hrs Lecture | 1 hrs Lab) In this course, students complete their undergraduate studies in the Japanese language through advanced communicative and written exercises. Special emphasis is placed on social science readings, allowing students to read and comprehend a Japanese language newspaper article by the end of the course. Students are also encouraged to participate in the advanced level of the Manitoba Japanese Speech Contest.

Requisite Courses: EALC-2100 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)]; EALC-3100L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

EALC-3150 (3) Translating Japanese to English (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This course focuses on the practice of translating Japanese to English. Translation theory is introduced for students to familiarize themselves with the various techniques and tools Japanese language translators and interpreters tend to apply in their studies, professions, or travels. The course focuses especially on retaining the voice of the original Japanese source and on producing clean and accurate English translations of the material. Students have a choice of articles or short stories to translate for their final projects. The class is open to students who completed EALC-3100 and to native or fluent Japanese speakers.

Restrictions: Instructor Permission Required.

Requisite Courses: EALC-3100 or permission of the Instructor [prerequisite(s)].

EALC-3708 (3) Topics in Buddhist Culture and Society (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This course explores topics of contemporary interest regarding the study of Buddhism and society, examining major issues facing Buddhism in the Asian context, focusing on aspects of the institutional, social, and political role played by Buddhism. May be taken for credit more than once, with permission of instructor. Topics may include: Buddhism and Tibetan identity in the struggle for Tibetan autonomy in China, the Buddhist monastic institution and its role in society, and debates over the interpretation of Buddhism in modern Asian countries.

Cross-listed: EALC-4708(3) & REL-3708(3)/4708(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and EALC-4708 | REL-3708 | REL-4708.

Requisite Courses: 6 credit hours in East Asian Cultures courses (or equivalent) or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

EALC-3713 (3) Gender and Sexuality in Chinese Culture (3 hrs Lecture) This course focuses on Chinese society, culture and conceptions of identity through the prisms of gender and sexuality. Topics include normative social roles as defined by Confucian values, power and sexual dynamics within polygamous households, the social body vs. the biological body and the diversity of atypical bodies in traditional China. Further we will see how gender inequality was appropriated to reflect China's backwardness vis à vis the West and Japan in the modern period, and how contemporary culture and society has sought to free gender expression from the confines of national discourse.

Cross-listed: EALC-4713(3), REL-3713(3), REL-4713(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and EALC-4713 | REL-3713 | REL-4713 | EALC-3709.

EALC-3720 (3) Topics in Japanese Culture and Society

(3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This course examines a variety of topics in Japanese Culture and Society. Topics selected change from year to year according to instructor and student interests. Possible topics may include the development of intellectual culture in Tokugawa Japan (1600-1858), the role of women in Japanese culture, Shinto ("the way of the gods") thought and practice, and the search for identity in modern Japan. This course may be taken for credit more than once, with permission of the instructor.

Cross-listed: EALC-4720(3) & REL-3720/4720(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and REL-3720.

Requisite Courses: 6 credit hours in East Asian Cultures courses (or equivalent), or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

EALC-3721 (3) The Age of the Samurai

(3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) "Samurai" often evokes an image of a warrior entranced in the Bushido code, ready to commit harakiri upon command. This course demystifies such an aura surrounding Japan's warrior class by exploring their rise from Heian temple servants to Sengoku warlords and then their fall from Edo Japan's intellectuals and bureaucrats to the realms of the destitute. Sources include samurai autobiographies, their intellectual scholarship, and representations of samurai in contemporary popular culture.

Cross-listed: EALC-4721(3) & REL-3721(3)/4721(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and EALC-4721 | REL-3721 | REL-4721.

Requisite Courses: REL-2721 or EALC-2721 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

EALC-3731 (3) Topics in Chinese Culture and Society

(3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This course explores specific topics in the Asian Religions and Cultures area of study at an advanced level. This course may be repeated for credit when the topic varies. Students enrolled at the 4000 level are typically assigned a heavier workload in terms of assignments and are expected to perform at a more advanced level. Students should consult the department regarding potential offerings in a given year.

Cross-listed: EALC-4731(3) and REL-3731(3)/4731(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and REL-3731.

Requisite Courses: 6 credit hours in East Asian Cultures courses (or equivalent) or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

EALC-3732 (3) Topics in Chinese Intellectual and Cultural History

(3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This course explores a variety of topics in Chinese intellectual history. It examines specific cultural, literary, and intellectual trends in China, paying specific attention to how they were shaped by a variety of social, political, economic, and religious factors. Possible topics may include correlative cosmology in Han Confucianism, individualism in medieval China, Tang-Song intellectual transitions, Buddhist-Confucian interactions in the Middle Period of China, Neo-Confucianism and its social impacts in Late Imperial China, the rise of Evidential Studies in Qing China, and the May Fourth Movement. This course may be repeated for credit when the topic varies. Additional work is required at the 4000 level.

Cross-listed: EALC-4732(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and REL-3732.

Requisite Courses: 6 credit hours in East Asian Cultures courses (or equivalent), or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

EALC-3970 (3) Topics in Asian Religions and Cultures

(3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This course explores specific topics in the Asian Religions and Cultures area of study at an advanced level. This course may be repeated for credit when the topic varies. Students enrolled at the 4000 level are typically assigned a heavier workload in terms of assignments and are expected to perform at a more advanced level. Students should consult the department regarding potential offerings in a given year.

Cross-listed: EALC-4970(3) and REL-3970(3)/4970(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and EALC-4970 | REL-3970.

Requisite Courses: 6 credit hours in East Asian Languages and Culture or 6 credit hours in Religion & Culture, 3 of which must be in the Asian Religions and Cultures area of study, or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

EALC-3991 (3) Readings in East Asian Language and Culture

(3 hrs Directed Reading) This course provides individual study of a specialized subject at an advanced level in Chinese, Japanese, or Korean languages and cultures. Students plan a directed readings list with their instructor and meet on a regular basis to discuss the topics covered therein.

Experimental Course - This course is offered on a trial basis to gauge interest in the topic. Students who successfully complete this course receive credit as indicated.

Restrictions: Instructor Permission Required.

EALC-4708 (3) Topics in Buddhist Culture and Society

(3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This course explores topics of contemporary interest regarding the study of Buddhism and society, examining major issues facing Buddhism in the Asian context, focusing on aspects of the institutional, social, and political role played by Buddhism. May be taken for credit more than once, with permission of instructor. Topics may include: Buddhism and Tibetan identity in the struggle for Tibetan autonomy in China, the Buddhist monastic institution and its role in society, and debates over the interpretation of Buddhism in modern Asian countries.

Cross-listed: EALC-3708(3) and REL-3708(3)/4708(3).

ECONOMICS

ECON-1102 (3) Introduction to Economics: Micro (3 hrs Lecture) This is an introductory analysis of contemporary economic institutions and the application of micro-economic theory to current Canadian economic problems. The course will consider economic theories of production, consumption and exchange, price determination and the role of competition.

Note: Students may not hold credit for this course and ECON-1104(3) or ECON-1106(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ECON-1104 | ECON-1106.

ECON-1103 (3) Introduction to Economics: Macro (3 hrs Lecture) This is an introductory analysis of contemporary economic institutions and the application of macro-economic theory to current Canadian economic problems. The course will consider economic theories of the determination of national income, governmental monetary and fiscal policy, the role of money and the banking system, international trade and the determination of foreign exchange rates.

Note: Students may not hold credit for this course and ECON-1104(3) or ECON-1106(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ECON-1104 | ECON-1106.

ECON-1104 (3) Introduction to Economic Theory (3 hrs Lecture) This course provides an introduction to the principles of micro- and macro-economic theory. It is designed for students in the Environmental/Urban Studies programs. It may also be of interest to students majoring in other programs seeking an overview of economic theory.

Note: This course is not intended for Economics majors.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ECON-1102 | ECON-1103 | ECON-1106.

ECON-1106 (3) Introduction to Economic Development (3 hrs Lecture) This course provides an introduction to economic theory, while simultaneously emphasizing how such theory improves the understanding of issues facing developing countries. Both branches of economics (microeconomics and macroeconomics) are covered. Issues typically discussed include economic inequality, environmental economics, economic growth, financial crisis and international trade.

Note: This course is not intended for Economics majors.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ECON-1102 | ECON-1103 | ECON-1104.

ECON-1201 (3) Quantitative Methods for Economics and Business (3 hrs Lecture | 1 hrs Lab) This course presents a number of models from economics and finance using elementary quantitative techniques. It is designed to be a methods course that allows students from a variety of backgrounds to work with economic and finance models. The course also provides an overview of the quantitative background required for selected second and third year courses in Economics. It may be taken as a co-requisite for ECON-1102(3) and ECON-1103(3) for students interested in a mathematical review.

Note: This course is not recommended for students pursuing a BA (Hons) degree in Economics. Restriction: May not be taken for credit if students have completed a 2000-level course in Mathematics or ECON-2201(3).

Requisite Courses: Pre-Calculus Math 40S or Applied Math 40S or an equivalent course [prerequisite(s)]; ECON-1201L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

ECON-2101 (3) Intermediate Economics: Micro (3 hrs Lecture | 1 hrs Lab) This course provides a more advanced analysis of microeconomic concepts developed in first year. It examines the price system, allocation of resources, and the impact of alternative market structures on consumer and producer behaviour.

Requisite Courses: ECON-1102 with a minimum grade of C, or ECON-1104 or ECON-1106 with a minimum grade of B [prerequisite(s)]; ECON-2101L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

ECON-2102 (3) Intermediate Economics: Macro (3 hrs Lecture | 1 hrs Lab) This course introduces students to a more advanced analysis of macroeconomic concepts developed in first year. It examines subjects such as national income determination, theories of consumption, employment, interest, and money. Business cycles, inflation, and economic growth will be discussed in a Canadian context.

Requisite Courses: ECON-1103 with a minimum grade of C, or ECON-1104 or ECON-1106 with a minimum grade of B [prerequisite(s)]; ECON-2102L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

ECON-2201 (3) Mathematics for Economics and Finance (3 hrs Lecture | 1 hrs Lab) This course introduces and applies basic mathematical tools used in the analysis of economic and financial problems. It is designed as a technical bridge between intermediate and honours level theory courses. Topics such as derivatives, comparative statistics, economic models, and mathematical concepts used in finance will be presented within the context of economic and financial analysis.

Requisite Courses: MATH-1102 or MATH-1103 or ECON-1201, and a minimum grade of C in ECON-1102 and ECON-1103, or ECON-1104 or ECON-1106 [prerequisite(s)]; ECON-2201L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

ECON-2203 (3) Game Theory and Strategy (3 hrs Lecture) This is an introductory course in game theory. Game theory is a modern area of study that examines decisions and outcomes in strategic settings. It provides an analytical tool that is used for analyzing conflict and cooperation that arise in various social settings involving interactions between individuals and/or organizations. The focus of the course is on non-cooperative game theory, although some concepts from cooperative game theory may be covered as well. Ideas such as Nash equilibrium, dominance, backward induction, evolutionary stability, commitment, credibility, asymmetric information and uncertainty are discussed and applied to examples drawn from economics, business, politics and elsewhere.

Requisite Courses: Precalculus Mathematics 40S or Applied Mathematics 40S or ECON-1201; OR permission of the Instructor [prerequisite(s)].

ECON-2204 (3) Intro Data Analysis for Econ and Finance

(3 hrs Lecture | 1 hrs Lab) This course serves as an introduction to data analysis and empirical models used in Economics and Finance. Topics covered include how to obtain data used in Economics and Finance, prepare data for analysis, explore data analysis and carry out an empirical project. Students learn techniques for version control and replication, and how to organize, interpret and report empirical results in Economics and Finance. Issues such as economic determinants of environmental and health outcomes, returns to education, risk management and investment decisions are addressed.

Experimental Course - This course is offered on a trial basis to gauge interest in the topic. Students who successfully complete this course receive credit as indicated.

Requisite Courses: ECON-1102 ECON-1103 and STAT-1401 or STAT-1301 [prerequisite(s)]; ECON-2204L (must be taken concurrently).

ECON-2301 (3) Financial Markets and Financial Systems

(3 hrs Lecture) This course will focus on the role of money and financial institutions in the operations of a market economy. It will involve an analysis of the payments system, types of financial instruments, and differences in financial intermediaries.

Requisite Courses: A minimum grade of C in ECON-1102 and ECON-1103, or in ECON-1104 or ECON-1106 [prerequisite(s)].

ECON-2302 (3) Money and Banking (3 hrs Lecture) This course begins with a discussion of the quantity theory of money and the mechanics of monetary control. It is followed by an analysis of the determinants of money demand and the role of monetary policy within the framework of the Canadian financial system.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ECON-2310.

Requisite Courses: A minimum grade of C in ECON-1102 and ECON-1103, or in ECON-1104 or ECON-1106 [prerequisite(s)].

ECON-2303 (3) Labour Economics (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines competing theories of wage and employment determination. The simple neo-classical model, human capital theory, institutional and post-Keynesian approaches are considered with respect to Canada including the organization of the trade union movement, the role of collective bargaining, and the current issues such as technological change and industrial health and safety.

Requisite Courses: A minimum grade of C in ECON-1103 or ECON-1104 or ECON-1106 [prerequisite(s)].

ECON-2304 (3) Income Distribution and Industrial Relations

(3 hrs Lecture) This course studies theoretical models of income distribution. It also examines the structure of capital-labour relations in Canada including the organization of the trade union movement, the role of collective bargaining, and current issues such as technological change and industrial health and safety.

Requisite Courses: A minimum grade of C in ECON-1102 and ECON-1103, or ECON-1104 or ECON-1106 [prerequisite(s)].

ECON-2305 (3) Canadian Economic History

(3 hrs Lecture) This course surveys the development of the Canadian economy prior to 1867. Main topics will include early staple exports, agriculture, and industrialization.

Requisite Courses: A minimum grade of C in ECON-1102 and ECON-1103, or ECON-1104 or ECON-1106 [prerequisite(s)].

ECON-2306 (3) Canadian Economic Development

(3 hrs Lecture) This course examines the growth of the Canadian economy since 1867. The "National Policy" of the 19th Century, the development of the Prairie economy, the Great Depression, and the growing influence of the United States are considered.

Requisite Courses: A minimum grade of C in ECON-1102 and ECON-1103, or ECON-1104 or ECON-1106 [prerequisite(s)].

ECON-2311 (3) Economics of Natural Resource Extraction

(3 hrs Lecture) The course examines economic models of resource extraction and harvesting through time. Renewable and non-renewable natural resources such as forestry, fisheries, and fossil fuels are considered. An economic perspective of sustainability is introduced.

Requisite Courses: A minimum grade of C in ECON-1102 and ECON-1103 or in ECON-1104 or in ECON-1106 [prerequisite(s)].

ECON-2315 (3) Indigenous Economic Development

(3 hrs Lecture) This course provides an overview of economic development issues as they relate to Indigenous communities in Canada. The course begins with an overview of economic concepts to enable students to think about the economic issues in Indigenous communities. A historical overview and discussion of development strategies of the Federal government in Canada is provided. Students are then exposed to ways that land, labour and capital can stimulate economic development on and off reserves. Issues of natural resource development and urban reserves are discussed. The course concludes with case studies of economic development in Indigenous communities, highlighting the diversity of these initiatives across Canada.

Requisite Courses: ECON-1102 or ECON-1103 or ECON-1106; OR permission of the Instructor [prerequisite(s)].

ECON-2317 (3) Environmental Economics

(3 hrs Lecture) This course examines the role of economics in decision-making about the environment. Topics covered include the theory of externalities and public goods; market and non-market valuation of environmental amenities; and the regulation of polluting activities using instruments such as pollution taxes, tradable permits (cap and trade), and eco-labels.

Requisite Courses: A minimum grade of C in ECON-1102 and ECON-1103, or ECON-1104 or ECON-1106 [prerequisite(s)].

ECON-2318 (3) Energy Economics

(3 hrs Lecture) This course introduces the student to the issues and policies pertaining to energy markets from an economic perspective. Environmental, technical, social, and financial issues are considered. A case study for the demand for transportation energy is used as a unifying theme throughout the course.

Requisite Courses: A minimum grade of C in ECON-1102 and ECON-1103, or ECON-1104 or ECON-1106 [prerequisite(s)].

ECON-2402 (3) Money, Banking and Financial

Systems (3 hrs Lecture) This course discusses the role of money, banking, financial markets and financial institutions in a market economy. It covers the pricing of different securities, the efficient market hypothesis, the roles of financial intermediaries, as well as financial crises. This is followed by an analysis of money supply process and the conduct of monetary policy within the framework of the Canadian financial system. The international financial system is also discussed.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ECON-2301 | ECON-2302.

Requisite Courses: A grade of C in ECON-1102 and ECON-1103, or in ECON-1104 or ECON-1106 [prerequisite(s)].

ECON-2403 (3) Labour Economics and Industrial Relations (3 hrs Lecture) This course introduces students to the economic analysis of labour markets. Topics covered may include labour supply, labour demand, the determinants of wages and employment, human capital accumulation, immigration, collective bargaining, and discrimination. The course focuses on the Canadian labour market and may include the analysis of policies such as social assistance and minimum wages.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ECON-2303 or ECON-2304.

Requisite Courses: ECON-1102 and ECON-1103 with a minimum grade of C, or ECON-1104 or ECON-1106 with a minimum grade of B [prerequisite(s)].

ECON-2819 (3) Corporate Finance I (3 hrs Lecture) This course introduces students to the fundamentals of finance and presents theories and tools to be used in addressing corporate finance problems and issues. The course examines the theories and principles of financial management that relate to the practices used by corporations in the procurement, management and disbursement of capital funds. Topics include methods of capital acquisition and valuation of capital and financial assets.

Cross-listed: BUS-2819(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and BUS-2819.

Requisite Courses: BUS-2002(3) with a minimum grade of C+ or ECON-1102(3) and ECON-1103(3), both with a minimum grade of C+ [prerequisite(s)]; and students must have met their university writing requirement with a minimum grade of C+ (or exemption) [prerequisite(s)]; AND ONE of STAT-1301(3), STAT-1401(3), or STAT-1501(3) or the former STAT-1201(6) with a minimum grade C+; OR permission of the Instructor [prerequisite(s)].

ECON-2820 (3) Corporate Finance II (3 hrs Lecture) This course builds on the fundamentals introduced in BUS-2819(3)/ECON-2819(3) and discusses theories and tools used for evaluating risks and returns associated with financial assets. There is an intensive study of economic theories and principles of financial management. Topics include Capital Asset Pricing Model (CAPM), market efficiency, the cost of capital, optimal capital structure, and risk management.

Cross-listed: BUS-2820(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and BUS-2820.

Requisite Courses: BUS-2819(3) or ECON-2819(3), either with a minimum grade of C+; OR permission of the Instructor [prerequisite(s)].

ECON-3104 (3) Modern Microeconomics for Economics and Business (3 hrs Lecture) This course presents the concepts and theories that form the basis of modern microeconomic analysis. Market imperfections arising due to issues such as uncertainty, informational asymmetry and imperfect competition are analyzed, and their welfare implications are studied. Game theory is introduced as an analytical tool. Applications may include auctions and markets for insurance and used goods.

Requisite Courses: ECON-2101 [prerequisite(s)].

ECON-3105 (3) Behavioural Econ and Behavioural

Finance (3 hrs Lecture) This course is an introduction to behavioural economics and behavioural finance. These research areas have developed in response to work undertaken by economists and psychologists examining decision making under different settings. The course begins with a presentation of the standard models of decision making used by economists for choices under certainty and in uncertain settings. It then looks at experimental results based on expected utility theory and alternatives such as prospect theory. Issues that may be discussed include non-standard preferences, cognitive biases, bounded rationality, loss aversion, reference points, endowment effects, and behavioural game theory.

Experimental Course - This course is offered on a trial basis to gauge interest in the topic. Students who successfully complete this course receive credit as indicated.

Requisite Courses: ECON-2101 [prerequisite(s)].

ECON-3115 (3) Gender and the Economy (3 hrs

Lecture) This course explores the gender dimensions of economic life from both neoclassical and feminist economics perspectives. Topics explored include gendered divisions of labour within the family; gender inequality in the labour market; unpaid domestic labor and work-family balance; the intersection of ability, class, race and sexuality in social reproduction; gender differences in management; and the gender impact of technological change and globalization. Examples are drawn from both developed and developing countries. Particular attention is paid to policy remedies for gender inequality in the economy.

Requisite Courses: ECON-1102 or ECON-1104 or ECON-1106; OR permission of the Instructor [prerequisite(s)].

ECON-3120 (3) Microfinance in Theory and Practice (3 hrs Lecture) This course provides an overview of the economics of microfinance, a development strategy that provides credit, savings and insurance for individuals and families that are unable to access funds from formal financial institutions. Drawing on readings from practitioners and academics, it examines the strengths and limitations of microfinance as an approach to poverty reduction. Students are introduced to a number of sub-disciplines of Economics, including development economics, financial economics, feminist economics, and institutional economics.

Requisite Courses: ECON-1102 and ECON-1103, or ECON-1104 with a minimum grade of C or ECON-1106 with a minimum grade of C [prerequisite(s)].

ECON-3201 (3) Econometrics for Economics and Finance (3 hrs Lecture | 1 hrs Lab) This course is an introduction to the specification and estimation of econometric models as applied to empirical questions in economics and finance. It covers statistical inference in economics and finance, hypothesis testing, regression analysis, and multivariate regression models with emphasis on structural estimation using standard computer packages.

Requisite Courses: ECON-2101, ECON-2102, one of STAT-1301 or STAT-1401 or STAT-1501, and one of STAT-1302 or STAT-2001; OR permission of the Instructor [prerequisite(s)]; ECON-3201L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

ECON-3301 (3) International Trade: Theory and Policy (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines theories of international trade. It deals with approaches to the benefits of trade, the effects of tariffs and quotas, customs unions and imperfect competition on trade. It pays particular attention to Canadian trade policies.

Requisite Courses: ECON-2101 or permission of the Instructor [prerequisite(s)].

ECON-3302 (3) International Finance: Theory and Policy (3 hrs Lecture) This course is an introduction to international finance and open-economy macroeconomics. It examines exchange rate policy, the fiscal and monetary effects of trade, investment flows, and the development of the international monetary system.

Requisite Courses: ECON-2101 and ECON-2102; OR permission of the Instructor [prerequisite(s)].

ECON-3303 (3) Economics of Public Expenditures: Theory and Policy (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines the rationale of the public sector and its development and growth in Canada. It deals with the theoretical and practical aspects of public decision-making. The budgeting process relating to allocation, redistribution, and stabilization will be examined.

Requisite Courses: ECON-2101 [prerequisite(s)].

ECON-3304 (3) Economics of Taxation: Theory and Policy (3 hrs Lecture) This course will analyze the theory of taxation and the Canadian tax structure. It also deals with the role of alternative tax policies in attaining various economic and social goals including allocation, redistribution, and stabilization.

Requisite Courses: ECON-2101 [prerequisite(s)].

ECON-3305 (3) Development Economics (3 hrs Lecture) This course provides a survey of current economic issues facing less developed countries, and an introduction to the study of development economics. In addressing the major questions of economic development, the course considers both economic theories as well as the existing empirical evidence. Among the issues addressed are poverty, income distribution, human capital formation, population and employment growth, rural-urban migration and rural development. This course also provides students with an opportunity to examine the major debates involving international economic development.

Requisite Courses: ECON-2101 or permission of the Instructor [prerequisite(s)].

ECON-3307 (3) Industrial Organization and Competition Policy (3 hrs Lecture) Industrial Organization is the field in economics that examines models of monopolies and oligopolies with particular emphasis on the strategic issues related to imperfectly competitive markets. In addition, a number of business practices are examined in relation to their contribution to overall welfare in the economy. This course also involves a presentation and analysis of how current industrial organization theory and policy is reflected in Canada's Competition Act.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ECON-3309.

Requisite Courses: ECON-2101 [prerequisite(s)].

ECON-3308 (3) Regulation and Public Enterprises (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines the theory and policy related to the regulation of markets. It examines how regulations might be set to improve the allocation and distribution of resources in the economy. In the course, the effectiveness of a number of regulations is examined. The course also examines the role and operation of public enterprises in the economy as an alternative to regulation. In addition, a brief introduction to the economics of Private Public Partnerships is presented.

Requisite Courses: ECON-2101 [prerequisite(s)].

ECON-3310 (3) Economics of Health Care in Canada (3 hrs Lecture) This course will apply economic analysis to current issues in the delivery system for health care services in Canada. It will deal with such topics as the structure of the health care industry; economic costs of diseases, disability and premature death; pricing problems and social returns from public investment; incomes of health care practitioners; economic efficiency in the health care industry; benefit-cost analysis of various health care programs.

Requisite Courses: ECON-2101 [prerequisite(s)].

ECON-3311 (3) Government Policy Towards Business (3 hrs Lecture) This is a survey course that examines the way in which major areas of government economic policy can affect business. Policy areas outlined are international trade policy, competition policy, environmental management policies, public enterprises, and economic regulation. The emphasis is on the economic and social arguments underlying these major areas of government economic policy, but both normative and positive analysis of each particular public policy area are discussed.

Requisite Courses: ECON-1102 and ECON-1103, or ECON-1104 with a minimum grade C, or ECON-1106 with a minimum grade C [prerequisite(s)].

ECON-3315 (3) Urban Economics and Real Estate

Markets (3 hrs Lecture) This course uses economic analysis in order to understand the problem of urban growth and decay. Among the issues addressed are the location decisions of firms, the location patterns of households and firms within cities, suburbanization, agglomeration economies and the origin and economic functions of cities. An in-depth analysis of housing and real estate markets is also presented. Relevant Canadian case studies are used to illustrate the issues.

Requisite Courses: ECON-2101 [prerequisite(s)].

ECON-3316 (3) Cost-Benefit Analysis and Project

Evaluation (3 hrs Lecture) The techniques of benefit-cost analysis and program evaluation will be developed from the perspectives of economics with reference to natural resource economics and public expenditure analysis. Case studies will be used to examine the techniques.

Requisite Courses: ECON-2101 or permission of the Instructor [prerequisite(s)].

ECON-3321 (3) History of Economic Thought I

(3 hrs Lecture) This course examines the development of political economy from ancient times until 1870 with emphasis on Classical Political Economy. Adam Smith, David Ricardo, Karl Marx, and John Stuart Mill will be read in the context of the criticism of their contemporaries.

Requisite Courses: ECON-2101 and ECON-2102; OR permission of the Instructor [prerequisite(s)].

ECON-3322 (3) History of Economic Thought II

(3 hrs Lecture) This course examines the first and second generations of neoclassical writers (1870-1936) in the context of the criticism of their contemporaries. The focus will be on Walras, Jevons, Marshall, Edgeworth, Pigou, and J.B. and J.M. Clark. The emphasis is on the historical and philosophical dimensions of their work.

Requisite Courses: ECON-2101 and ECON-2102; OR permission of the Instructor [prerequisite(s)].

ECON-3403 (3) Public Economics: Theory and Policy

(3 hrs Lecture) This course examines the principles and practice of public economics with a focus on government taxation and spending policies. The implementation of these policies is studied within a Canadian context. Theoretical and practical aspects of how governments obtain and allocate public funds are discussed. The course focuses on how government programs and taxation policies affect individuals' and producers' behaviour and welfare, examines how government policies may be impacted by political concerns and efficiency considerations, and explores the interplay of different levels of government in a federal state like Canada (fiscal federalism).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ECON-3303 | ECON-3304.

Requisite Courses: ECON-2101 [prerequisite(s)].

ECON-3407 (3) Industrial Orga, Regulation, Comp

Policy (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines the theory and policy related to the conduct of private firms in the economy. Industrial Organization is the field in economics which examines the strategic interaction between imperfectly competitive firms and how their conduct affects prices, industry outputs, and social welfare. Competition Policy (also called Antitrust Policy) involves legislation designed to restrict anticompetitive behavior of firms. In addition, governments sometimes use regulations to directly affect output and pricing in certain industries. Restriction: Students cannot hold credit for this course ECON-3307 and ECON-3308.

Experimental Course - This course is offered on a trial basis to gauge interest in the topic. Students who successfully complete this course receive credit as indicated.

Requisite Courses: ECON-2101 [prerequisite(s)].

ECON-3819 (3) Advanced Corporate Finance

(3 hrs Lecture) This advanced finance course adds to the technical skill and conceptual understanding of accounting and corporate finance developed in previous courses. It provides an in-depth study of issues and tools that financial managers use in making decisions. Topics include capital budgeting under uncertainty, valuation and financial modelling, leasing, and options.

Cross-listed: BUS-3819(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and BUS-3819.

Requisite Courses: ECON-2820(3) or BUS-2820(3) with a minimum grade of C+ [prerequisite(s)]; Students must have met their university writing requirement with a minimum grade of C+ (or exemption); OR permission of the Instructor [prerequisite(s)].

ECON-4103 (3) Microeconomics

(3 hrs Lecture) This course provides students with an intensive review of the major principles and techniques of microeconomic analysis. It also deals with the determination of prices and the role of the pricing system as the mechanism by which individual and social decisions are made.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

Requisite Courses: A minimum grade of C+ in ECON-2101 and ECON-2201 [prerequisite(s)].

ECON-4104 (3) Macroeconomics

(3 hrs Lecture) This course emphasizes macroeconomic concepts concerning the measurement and determination of national income, and the application of macroeconomic policy tools to the Canadian economy.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

Requisite Courses: A minimum grade of C+ in ECON-2102 and ECON-2201 [prerequisite(s)].

ECON-4105 (3) Advanced Microeconomics

(3 hrs Lecture) This course introduces a number of topics in modern microeconomic theory. Modern microeconomic theory stresses the influence of asymmetric information, uncertainty, and strategic behaviour on the operation and performance of markets. Topics may include choice under uncertainty, expected utility theory, the insurance decision (including moral hazard and adverse selection), signaling models, and game theory. The course is primarily designed for students wishing to pursue graduate work in Economics or Finance.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Instructor Permission Required.

Requisite Courses: ECON-4103 and permission of the Instructor [prerequisite(s)].

ECON-4106 (3) Advanced Macroeconomics (3 hrs Lecture) This course entails advanced analysis of macroeconomic theories of aggregate consumption, investment demand, economic growth, and employment behaviour. A study of empirical works related to Canadian experience will be emphasized.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

Requisite Courses: ECON-4104 [prerequisite(s)].

ECON-4201 (3) Econometrics (3 hrs Lecture | 1 hrs Lab) This course considers standard econometric problems including multicollinearity, serial correlation, and heteroscedasticity. Autoregression and simultaneous equations models will also be introduced. One hour lab instruction is included.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

Requisite Courses: ECON-3201 [prerequisite(s)]; ECON-4201L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

ECON-4203 (3) Topics in Mathematical Economics (3 hrs Lecture) The course introduces advanced mathematical methods for formulating and analyzing economics theories and problems. Topics such as difference and differential equations, dynamic optimization, and game theory are presented with economics applications.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

Requisite Courses: ECON-2101, ECON-2102, and ECON-2201 all with a minimum grade of C+ [prerequisite(s)].

ECON-4303 (3) Topics in Applied Econometrics (3 hrs Lecture) This course covers empirical methods used in applied econometrics. The focus is on examining causal inference using observational data. Among the methods introduced are randomized trials, regression analysis, instrumental variables, regression discontinuity designs and differences-in-differences. Examples of research papers using these methods are drawn from numerous areas of economics, including labour, health and development economics. The choice of topics depends on the instructor. This course may be repeated for credit when the topic varies.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Instructor Permission Required.

Requisite Courses: ECON-3201 and permission of the Instructor [prerequisite(s)].

ECON-4306 (3) Topics in Economic Development (3 hrs Lecture) Interest in the topic of economic development has enjoyed resurgence in academic circles given the emergence of "new growth theory" and endogenous models of economic growth. These models place greater emphasis upon human capital accumulation, innovation, and growth. Concurrently, the rise of Southeast Asian economies has challenged conventional views about how the West grew rich or, more recently, why Latin America did not. This course is designed to examine the new growth theory literature in the context of recent historical changes in the world economy.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

Requisite Courses: ECON-2101 and ECON-2102 with a minimum grade of C+ [prerequisite(s)].

ECON-4307 (3) Topics in Macroeconomic Theory and Policy (3 hrs Lecture) This course provides students with an opportunity to build on the macroeconomics background developed in Honours Macroeconomics (ECON-4104 (3)).

The course considers macroeconomic problems and techniques for solving them, highlighting the use of dynamic models and their implications for policy. An emphasis is placed on the importance of political economy considerations in macroeconomics. Issues covered in any given year may include the interplay between demographics and fiscal policy, the determinants of policy related to technology adoption, and therefore economic growth, income redistribution, or the determination of monetary policy.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

Requisite Courses: ECON-4104 [prerequisite(s)].

ECON-4310 (3) Topics in International Economics (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines theoretical and applied topics related to international trade or international finance. Topics related to international trade may include a discussion of the benefits of trade, the effects of tariffs and quotas, customs unions and imperfect competition on trade. Topics related to international finance may include an examination of exchange rate policy, the fiscal and monetary effects of trade investment flows, and the development of the international monetary system.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

Requisite Courses: ECON-2101 and ECON-2102; OR permission of the Instructor [prerequisite(s)].

ECON-4311 (3) Topics in the History of Thought:

Keynes (3 hrs Lecture) The economic and philosophical writings of Keynes and the "Cambridge Circus" is examined in the historical and social context of the times.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

Requisite Courses: ECON-2101 and ECON-2102 with a minimum grade of C+ [prerequisite(s)].

ECON-4313 (3) Topics in Industrial Organization and Competition Policy (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines areas of research in modern industrial organization theory and competition policy. Industrial Organization is the field in economics that examines the effectiveness of competition in markets that are less than perfectly competitive. Among the topics addressed are models of imperfect competition, game theory and competition in a spatial framework. Business practices such as resale price maintenance, exclusive dealing, and tied selling are examined in the context of industrial organization theory and policy. In addition, the course examines how current research in industrial organization is reflected in Canada's Competition Act.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

Requisite Courses: ECON-2101 and ECON-2201 with a minimum grade C+ [prerequisite(s)].

ECON-4314 (3) Topics in Public Economics (3 hrs Lecture) The course deals with the theory of taxation and public expenditures within the context of first-best and second-best analysis. The theories of production, consumption, and other externalities are discussed. Other topics include the theory and practice of cost-benefit analysis and fiscal federalism. The economic analysis of collective decision-making in a non-market context is examined.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

Requisite Courses: ECON-2101 and ECON-2201 with a minimum grade C+ [prerequisite(s)].

ECON-4316 (3) Topics in Regulation and Public Enterprises (3 hrs Lecture) Regulation and public enterprises are two instruments used by governments to govern the allocation of resources in certain markets. Among the regulatory topics addressed are theories of regulation, cost of service regulation, rate of return regulation and price cap regulation. Reference is made to regulations in a number of industries, such as the energy, telecommunications and transportation industry. In addition, the role of Public Enterprises as an alternative approach to the allocation and distribution of resources is discussed.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

Requisite Courses: ECON-2101 and ECON-2201 with a minimum grade C+ [prerequisite(s)].

ECON-4317 (3) Topics in Environmental and Natural Resource Economics (3 hrs Lecture) This course presents selected issues in environmental and resource economics at an advanced level. Topics such as the theory of environmental policy, international aspects of environmental problems, monitoring and enforcement of environmental regulations, and efficient versus sustainable utilization of natural resources are examined.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

Requisite Courses: ECON-2101 and ECON-2201 with a minimum grade C+ [prerequisite(s)].

ECON-4318 (3) Topics in Labour Economics (3 hrs Lecture) Several new economic approaches have led to important insights into the nature of the labour market. Becker's new household economics provides a provocative interpretation of the family; principal-agent theory offers novel explanations of the organization of labour within the firm; and implicit contract theory challenges conventional views of employer/employee relationships. This course examines in depth one or two selected topics in labour economics.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

Requisite Courses: ECON-2101 and ECON-2201 with a minimum grade C+ [prerequisite(s)].

ECON-4411 (3) Advanced Reading Course in Economics (3 hrs Directed Reading) A program of reading, research, and consultation for senior students, to be arranged by the instructor and the student.

Restrictions: Department Permission Required. Instructor Permission Required. Honours Form Required.

ECON-4412 (3) Advanced Reading Course in Economics (3 hrs Directed Reading) A program of reading, research, and consultation for senior students, to be arranged by the instructor and the student.

Restrictions: Department Permission Required. Instructor Permission Required. Honours Form Required.

ECON-4800 (3) Investments (3 hrs Lecture) This course introduces students to the main financial instruments that are used in the investment industry, including a detailed description of financial instruments and how they are traded in financial markets. A brief review of portfolio theory is presented including a discussion of a number of key models of modern finance, including the Capital Asset Pricing Model and the Arbitrage Pricing Theory. The course also includes a detailed examination of the role and operation of fixed-income securities and equities. The course concludes with a discussion of the role and techniques of passive versus active portfolio management.

Note: This course is intended for students in the EFIN program.

Cross-listed: BUS-4800(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and BUS-4800.

Requisite Courses: BUS-2820(3) or ECON-2820(3) (or the former ECON-2319(6) or BUS-2319(6)) [prerequisite(s)]; and STAT-1302(3) or STAT-2001(3) [prerequisite(s)]; and ONE of MATH-1101(6) or MATH-1102(3) or MATH-1103(3) or ECON-1201(3); ALL with a minimum grade of C+ [prerequisite(s)]; and students must have met their university writing requirement with a minimum grade of C+ (or exemption); OR permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

ECON-4801 (3) Options, Futures, and Derivatives (3 hrs Lecture) This course is designed to provide an in-depth analysis of a number of topics in modern finance theory and applications. The main areas that are examined include Futures Markets, Option Markets and Derivatives. These financial instruments play a key role in the management of risk by firms, and have attracted increasing interest from private sector firms and the larger community. The role of these instruments in the financial markets and their effect on the financial system are examined in detail.

Note: This course is intended for students in the EFIN program.

Cross-listed: BUS-4801(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and BUS-4801.

Requisite Courses: BUS-2820(3) or ECON-2820(3) (or the former ECON-2319(6) or BUS-2319(6)) [prerequisite(s)]; and STAT-1302(3) or STAT-2001(3) [prerequisite(s)]; and ONE of MATH-1101(6) or MATH-1102(3) or MATH-1103(3) or ECON-1201(3); ALL with a minimum grade of C+ [prerequisite(s)]; and students must have met their university writing requirement with a minimum grade of C+ (or exemption); OR permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

ECON-4802 (3) Topics in Finance I (3 hrs Lecture) This course provides an opportunity to study a particular finance research topic in depth. The course covers primarily theoretical aspects in finance. Possible topics addressed include entrepreneurial finance, fixed income analysis and behavioral finance. This course may be repeated for credit when the topic varies.

Cross-listed: BUS-4802(3).

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and BUS-4802.

Requisite Courses: BUS-2820(3) or ECON-2820(3), and ECON-2201(3) and ECON-3201(3), all with a minimum grade of C+ [prerequisite(s)]; and students must have met their university writing requirement with a minimum grade of C+ (or exemption); OR permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

ECON-4803 (3) Topics in Finance II (3 hrs Lecture) This course provides an opportunity to study a particular finance research topic in depth. The course content covers primarily empirical aspects in finance. Possible topics addressed include financial risk and management, valuation and financial statement analysis, and valuation and financial modeling. This course may be repeated for credit when the topic varies.

Cross-listed: BUS-4803(3).

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and BUS-4803.

Requisite Courses: ECON/BUS-2820 and ECON-2201 and ECON-3201, ALL with a minimum grade C+; OR permission of the Instructor [prerequisite(s)].

EDUCATION

EDUC-1802 (3) Education Today (WEC and CATEP): An Introduction to Teaching (3 hrs Lecture)

This course offers a survey for those interested in the Manitoba K-12 education system. Its major objective is to further students' understanding of the relevant social, legal, and political factors that provide the context for life in the classroom and for the teacher-student relationship. This course is intended for students admitted to the Winnipeg Education Centre (WEC) program or the Communitybased Aboriginal Teacher Education (CATEP) program

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and EDUC-1001 | EDUC-1002 | EDUC-1801.

EDUC-1810 (3) Educational Leadership Within a Service-Learning Framework (3 hrs Lecture)

Service-learning is an educational approach that integrates service in the community with intentional learning outcomes. By providing students with the opportunity to frame theoretical learning in real-life situations, service-learning leads students to broaden their horizons and to change their perspectives on their participation as citizens of a diverse democracy. This course utilizes a methodology that combines academic instruction, meaningful service and critical reflective thinking to promote student learning and civic responsibility. Students should have flexibility in their schedule as they must complete 40 hours of community service at a designated site as part of the course requirements.

EDUC-2232 (3) Introduction to Conflict Resolution in Educational Settings (4 hrs Lecture)

This course will present an introduction to the theory and methods of conflict resolution, with special emphasis on conflict in educational settings. The course will help students to understand the nature of human conflict, responses to conflict, and models for constructive ways to deal with conflict between and among individuals and groups. Topics will include anger, power, creative dimensions of conflict, and mediation. These will be examined from an interdisciplinary perspective.

Cross-listed: CRS-2232(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and CRS-2232.

EDUC-2242 (3) Methods of Conflict Resolution in Educational Settings (4 hrs Lecture)

This course will provide practical applications of conflict resolution skills, for teaching conflict resolution and for the implementation of conflict management programs from elementary to secondary levels. Practical skills for conflict resolution in the classroom, in the home, in the peer group, and in staff relations will be developed. Areas of skill learning will include conflict mediation, listening skills, responding to anger and violence, and classroom management. A practicum component will be included to provide the opportunity to link theory to practice.

Cross-listed: CRS-2242(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and CRS-2242.

Requisite Courses: CRS-2232 or EDUC-2232, and CRS-1200 [prerequisite(s)].

EDUC-2410 (3) The School System: Structure and Dynamics (4 hrs Lecture)

This course is an introductory study of the structure, functions, and policies of the public school system at the local and provincial levels. Emphasis is placed on the professional, legal, political, administrative, and organizational aspects of the educational system as they relate to the classroom teacher in Manitoba schools.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and EDUC-2411 | EDUC-4404.

Requisite Courses: EDUC-1801 or EDUC-1802 or EDUC-1810 or EDUC-4002 and a minimum of 18 completed credit hours of course work [prerequisite(s)] or permission of an advisor in the Faculty of Education [prerequisite(s)].

EDUC-2411 (3) The School System: Structure and Dynamics for After-Degree Students (4 hrs Lecture)

This course is an introductory study of the structure, functions, and policies of the public school system at the local and provincial levels. Emphasis is placed on the professional, legal, political, administrative, and organizational aspects of the educational system as they relate to the classroom teacher in Manitoba schools. This course is for students registered in the After-Degree program.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and EDUC-2410 | EDUC-4404.

EDUC-2511 (3) Learning Theory (3 hrs Lecture)

This course is an introduction to psychological principles as they apply to the practice of teaching and learning within educational contexts. This course provides an overview of various learning theories and the implications each has for variables such as classroom interaction, motivation, instruction, assessment, and evaluation.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and EDUC-2501.

Requisite Courses: EDUC-2512 or EDUC-2514 (must be taken concurrently); EDUC-1801 or EDUC-1802 or EDUC-1810 and a minimum 18 completed credit hours of course work [prerequisite(s)].

EDUC-2512 (1) Learning Theory Practicum (3.5 hrs

Apprenticeship/Internship/Practicum | 3 hrs Lab) This course offers practical teaching experience in the schools under the guidance and supervision of practicum host teachers. Students complete 10 days of practicum over the fall or winter term. This course must be taken concurrently with EDUC-2511(3) and will be closely integrated with that course's assignments.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and EDUC-2514.

Requisite Courses: EDUC-2511 (must be taken concurrently); Two EDUC-2512Px (practicums) (must be taken concurrently).

EDUC-2513 (3) Learning Theory (RRC) (4 hrs Lecture)

This course is an introduction to psychological principles as they apply to the practice of teaching and learning within educational contexts. The course will provide an overview of various learning theories and the implications each has for variables such as classroom interaction, motivation, instruction, assessment, and evaluation.

Note: This course may be taken by Education students in the joint UW/Red River College program only.

EDUC-2514 (1) Learning Theory Practicum (WEC) (3 hrs Apprenticeship/Internship/Practicum) This course offers practical teaching experience in the schools under the guidance and supervision of practicum host teachers. This course must be taken concurrently with EDUC-2511(3) and will be closely integrated with that course's assignments. Students in this course will have a practicum experience consisting of one day per week for 10 weeks, plus an eight day block.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and EDUC-2512.

Requisite Courses: EDUC-2511 (must be taken concurrently).

EDUC-3400 (3) Educational Settings and the Sociology of Learning (3 hrs Lecture) This course is an introduction to the study of learning utilizing sociological principles. Social factors affecting teaching and learning will be examined. It will consider educational settings as learning environments, examining such features as the social characteristics of students, schools, and their surroundings, that have an impact on school performance. Some attention is given to a consideration of the relationship between school learning environments and educational reform.

EDUC-3510 (3) Inclusive Approaches to Teaching Exceptional Students I (4 hrs Lecture) This course addresses the relevant theories, delivery systems, assessment, adaptive programming, family and community involvement and education services for children with mild to moderate cognitive, emotional, and behavioral special needs. Attention is paid to the mandated provincial curriculum and policies, as well as to professional, legal, ethical and societal considerations. Students are expected to begin to link a theoretical perspective to a practical understanding of the wide-ranging issues of inclusive education in Manitoba schools.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and EDUC-2530 | EDUC-3511 | EDUC-4501.

Requisite Courses: EDUC-2511, with a minimum grade C, and EDUC-2512 or EDUC-2514 [prerequisite(s)]; Including the prerequisite courses, students must have completed a minimum of 48 credits hours of coursework, or permission of an advisor in the Faculty of Education [prerequisite(s)].

EDUC-3511 (3) Inclusive Approaches to Teaching Exceptional Students I for After-Degree Students (4 hrs Lecture) This course addresses the relevant theories, delivery systems, assessment, adaptive programming, family and community involvement and education services for children with mild to moderate cognitive, emotional, and behavioural special needs. Attention is paid to the mandated provincial curriculum and policies, as well as to professional, legal, ethical and societal considerations. Students are expected to begin to link a theoretical perspective to a practical understanding of the wide-ranging issues of inclusive education in Manitoba schools. Additional Requirements: Students must be admitted into the After-Degree program.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and EDUC-2530 | EDUC-3510 | EDUC-4501.

EDUC-3810 (6) Teaching/Learning and the K-8 Curriculum (3 hrs Lecture) This course will introduce students to the theory which underlies the teaching and learning process. Students will examine age appropriate teaching and learning strategies, methods of differentiated instruction and classroom management. The fundamentals of instructional design and assessment in lesson and unit planning will also be addressed. Students registering for this course must also register for the co-requisite practicum course which provides the experiential link from theory to practice.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and EDUC-3801 | EDUC-3803.

Requisite Courses: EDUC-2511 with a minimum grade of C, and EDUC-2512 or EDUC-2514 [prerequisite(s)]; EDUC-3811 or EDUC-3814 (must be taken concurrently); a minimum of 48 credit hours of course work; and Elementary students must have completed 6 credit hours in Mathematics to satisfy the Distribution Requirement [prerequisite(s)].

EDUC-3811 (2) Teaching/Learning and the K-8 Curriculum Practicum (2 hrs

Apprenticeship/Internship/Practicum | 3 hrs Lab) This course offers practical teaching experience in the schools under the guidance and supervision of practicum host teachers. Students complete 10 days of practicum in the fall term and 10 days of practicum in the winter term for a total of 20 days. This course must be taken concurrently with EDUC-3810(6) and will be closely integrated with that course's assignments.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and EDUC-3814.

Requisite Courses: EDUC-2511 and EDUC-2512 or EDUC-2514 [prerequisite(s)]; EDUC-3811P1, EDUC-3811P2, EDUC-3811P3 and EDUC-3811P4 (must be taken concurrently); minimum of 48 credit hours of course work [prerequisite(s)]; and Elementary students must have completed 6 credit hours in Mathematics to satisfy the Distribution Requirement [prerequisite(s)]; EDUC-3810 (must be taken concurrently).

EDUC-3814 (2) Teaching/Learning and the K-8 Curriculum Practicum (WEC) (3 hrs Lecture) This course offers practical teaching experience in the schools under the guidance and supervision of practicum host teachers. Students complete 20 days of practicum over two terms (fall and winter) and an eight day block over two terms (fall and winter). This course must be taken concurrently with EDUC-3810(6) and will be closely integrated with that course's assignments.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and EDUC-3811.

Requisite Courses: EDUC-2511 and EDUC-2514 [prerequisite(s)]; EDUC-3810 (must be taken concurrently).

EDUC-4000 (3) Special Topics in Education (4 hrs Lecture) This course will examine relevant issues and developments in education. Course content will vary from year to year. The topic of each course will be available to students prior to registration.

Note: Prerequisites for this course will be determined on an individual course basis.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and EDUC-5001.

EDUC-4001 (3) Independent Study (3 hrs Directed Reading) In this course readings in a particular topic will be arranged between an individual student and an Instructor. Where appropriate, a practicum may also be included as part of the course.

Note: Written permission of the instructor and the Chair of the Departmental Review Committee is required.

Restrictions: Instructor Permission Required. Department Permission Required.

EDUC-4002 (6) Foundations of Teaching and Learning (4 hrs Lecture) This course will consist of philosophical, psychological and pedagogical foundations in Education. The course will introduce psychological principles as they relate to the practice of teaching and learning within the educational context. Students will examine the philosophy and goals of education in Manitoba and in other cultures and will be encouraged to develop their philosophical and pedagogical perspectives by examining current theory and practice. Teaching and learning will be examined within the model of teacher decision-making that includes knowledge of the learner (learner characteristics), knowledge of the relationship of content, strategies, lessons and planning, and knowledge of methods (classroom organization, motivation, instruction, assessment).

Note: This course may be taken by students in the After Degree Program only.

EDUC-4003 (3) Pedagogy and Professional Practice (4 hrs Lecture) This course introduces Elementary (K to 8) After-Degree students to the theory which underlies the teaching and learning process. Students examine age-appropriate teaching and learning strategies, methods of differentiated instruction, positive classroom-learning environments, and the fundamentals of instructional design and assessment in lesson and unit planning. Teaching and learning is further examined within the context of Manitoba and Canadian educational issues and philosophies of education.

EDUC-4102 (3) Introduction to Teaching English as an Additional Language (4 hrs Lecture) This course provides an introduction to the field of Teaching English as an Additional Language (TEAL). It examines the scope of TEAL; communicative competence; theories of English language teaching in relation to their linguistic, pedagogical, and socio-cultural presuppositions; and EAL instructional techniques.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and EDUC-3201.

Requisite Courses: EDUC-2513 or EDUC-3810 [prerequisite(s)].

EDUC-4400 (3) Critical Pedagogy and Student Diversity (4 hrs Lecture) Critical pedagogy is a theoretical approach to understanding the classroom as a sphere of social action where it is possible to empower students by transforming the conditions that interfere with learning. This course applies principles of critical pedagogy to issues of classroom diversity, understood as a complex of ethnicity, economic class, gender, and other social differences that are often mobilized as axes of power in educational settings. Particular attention will be paid to the implications of critical pedagogy for teaching in inner city schools in Winnipeg, where there is a high incidence of poverty, marginalization and cultural diversity.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and EDUC-3401.

Requisite Courses: EDUC-2513 or EDUC-3810 [prerequisite(s)].

EDUC-4401 (3) Just and Effective Schooling (4 hrs Lecture) In this course students study conceptions of 'just' and 'effective' schooling, and the ways these priorities might be practically addressed. Through studying and mapping diverse ideological perspectives that prioritize 'just' and 'effective' schooling, students are provided with concepts to analyze educational contexts and programs committed to social equity. Engaging an inquiry-based approach, students make personal meaning in relation to these educational priorities to inform their teaching practice. In this course, schooling is understood as an ethical educational enterprise that is entangled with inequalities related to race, ethnicity, language, economics, gender, ability, knowledge systems and settler-colonial relations.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and EDUC-3402.

Requisite Courses: EDUC-2513, EDUC-3810, or EDUC-4002 [prerequisite(s)].

EDUC-4403 (3) Naming and Engaging Difference in Educational Settings (4 hrs Lecture) This course explores transcultural experiences in Canadian educational settings and the negotiation of power and hegemony in classrooms. Topics include current issues relating to the intersectionality of identities including gender, racialization, class, ethnicity, ability, religion, sexual orientation, settler-colonialism, and other aspects of identity. These issues are studied in the context of the classroom experiences and prominent Canadian narratives and policy related to multiculturalism. The course assumes respecting and sustaining cultural differences and attending to issues of power is integral to promoting equity in educational settings. Teaching strategies and pedagogy responsive to power and identity imbalances are integrated throughout course activities.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and EDUC-2402.

EDUC-4405 (3) Contemporary Issues in Inner-City Education (4 hrs Lecture) This course examines the inner city, its issues and its characteristics, with a balanced and contextualized approach, including the issue of equality versus equity. The role of education and educators in regards to meeting the specific needs and challenges of learners in the inner-city context are studied, particularly in respect to constructive community building and helpful approaches that create positive results.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and UIC-2515.

EDUC-4407 (3) Enrichment and Talent Development (4 hrs Lecture) This introductory course to gifted education considers philosophy, theoretical models, and issues such as acceleration, segregation versus integration, and appropriate teaching techniques. The course emphasizes practical strategies such as curriculum compacting, mentorship, creative problem solving, self-directed learning, and the development of theme units. Throughout, the general focus is on enrichment programming for talent development. A portion of the course may involve a practicum/mentoring placement, where students guide children or adolescents from a partnering school division (or divisions) through a higher order enrichment activity or project.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and EDUC-3502.

Requisite Courses: EDUC-2513 or EDUC-3810 or EDUC-4002 [prerequisite(s)].

EDUC-4408 (3) Issues with At-Risk Children and Youth (4 hrs Lecture) This course is designed to familiarize students with many key issues and concepts in the domain of at-risk children and youth. Topics covered include reclaiming children and youth at risk, identifying and nurturing the talents of troubled young people, celebrating survivors and resilience, developmental assets, cultural variables, learning disabilities/Attention-Deficit/Hyperactivity Disorder, and mentoring. Attention will be paid to areas such as conflict resolution and anger management; social skills training; and exploring issues such as bullying, gangs and gang prevention, and strength-building prevention and treatment programs.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and EDUC-3503.

Requisite Courses: EDUC-2513 or EDUC-3810 [prerequisite(s)].

EDUC-4409 (3) Mentoring At-Risk Youth (4 hrs Lecture) This pass/fail course is designed to provide the experiential link between theory and practice in the at-risk domain. Students mentor youth with a variety of social/emotional and educational needs. Mentoring experiences may involve high-school students at-risk of dropping out of school, elementary and middle years gifted students, high school war affected youth, or students exhibiting needs in the area of literacy.

EDUC-4410 (3) Introduction to Indigenous Education (4 hrs Lecture) This course explores First Nations, Métis, and Inuit perspectives of Indigenous education and pedagogies supporting meaningful inclusion of Indigenous cultures, languages, and worldviews in contemporary education. Students develop and demonstrate their ability to contribute to Indigenous education and reconciliation within a Manitoba context. Topics may vary but include traditional philosophies, education, and life skills; colonization and decolonization in education; Treaties in Canada; federal and provincial policies concerning Indigenous education; stereotypes and racism; Residential Schools; Indigenous resilience and self-determination; pathways to reconciliation; Indigenous education in Manitoba curricula; and creating effective learning environments that support Indigenous cultures, identities, languages, and student success.

Requisite Courses: EDUC-2513, EDUC-3810 or EDUC-4002 [prerequisite(s)].

EDUC-4412 (3) Teaching and Supporting Youth From Immigrant and Refugee Backgrounds (4 hrs Lecture)

This course is designed to provide teachers with an awareness and understanding of issues concerning children and youth from refugee and immigrant backgrounds. The global concern for peace education, conflict resolution, and basic human entitlements are addressed. Teachers who work in multi-ethnic cities must learn how to meet the unique needs of newcomer students and their families. Students examine the state of the world's children and learn how to effectively address the psychosocial and emotional needs of these children in today's classrooms. Students also learn how to foster resilience by developing the talents, skills, and gifts of children who have refugee and immigrant backgrounds.

EDUC-4502 (3) Critical Analysis of Mental Health Practices in Schools (4 hrs Lecture) In this course, student teachers develop ways to support student well-being in schools and engage knowledgeably with mental health curriculum and mental health awareness campaigns promoted in Manitoba schools. This course exposes student teachers to the conventional psychiatry-based mental health approach as well as the inter-disciplinary scholarly critique of conventional mental health premises and practices. This course provides students with tools for a practical analysis of mental health curriculum, as well as the opportunity to consider a range of approaches to student distress and well-being that emphasize ethics, compassion, social justice, and community building.

Note: It is expected that students have prior experience in another course with writing an academic paper using APA style.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and the special topics course EDUC-4000 Mental Health Premises and Practices.

EDUC-4600 (3) Critical Literacy for Empowerment (4 hrs Lecture) This course focuses on using critical reading and writing in early, middle, and senior school years to decrease student alienation and promote stronger performance through an empowering approach to studying texts and language conventions. In particular, the focus is on written texts such as literary works, school textbooks, and curriculum documents; and on language conventions such as Standard English and social discourses that affect students' perceptions of themselves and others and the possibilities open to them in the future. The approach is most obviously relevant to teaching in content areas such as the Language Arts, History, and Social Studies, but it is also relevant to teaching in the sciences.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and EDUC-3602.

Requisite Courses: EDUC-3810 or EDUC-2513 [prerequisite(s)].

EDUC-4603 (3) Teaching for Sustainability (4 hrs Lecture) Teaching for Sustainability explores the various definitions of sustainability used in educational settings. It examines models that provide frameworks for and a series of approaches that together create a sustainability-focused classroom.

EDUC-4604 (3) Classroom-Based Assessment (4 hrs Lecture) This course provides senior stream students with an overview of the current assessment techniques used in senior- and middle-years educational settings today. Students learn about the principles of fair assessment, ethical protocol in conducting classroom-based assessments and assessment of inquiry, types of assessment materials available, research properties of assessment, and relative advantages and disadvantages of various assessment techniques. This course emphasizes the theory and research available for conducting fair assessments and reporting information that is useful for enhancing students' educational experiences.

EDUC-4701 (3) Classroom Management (4 hrs Lecture) This course introduces students to the theory and practice relative to creating and managing an effective learning environment. Students examine relevant developments in classroom management, conflict resolution, and community building in the classroom. This course focuses on factors that influence student and teacher behaviors and those that can produce an optimal learning environment for all. Additionally, this course examines teacher identity and presence and the impact of these on learning and behaviors in the classroom.

EDUC-4710 (3) Elementary (K-8) Curriculum, Instruction & Assessment: English Language Arts 1 (4 hrs Lecture) The purpose of this course is to introduce pre-service teachers to the current trends, issues, materials, and methods in developing an effective early-years balanced literacy program, spanning Kindergarten to Grade 4, as supported by research. It provides them with foundational knowledge, theory, experience, and continuous assessment practices of students' learning in early-years literacy instruction.

EDUC-4711 (3) Elementary (K-8) Curriculum, Instruction & Assessment: English Language Arts 2 (4 hrs Lecture) This course introduces pre-service teachers to the theoretical foundations, instructional approaches, and assessment techniques relevant to the teaching of the English Language Arts at the middle-year level within the context of the Manitoba Education Curriculum Framework. The nature and development of the middle-years learner is emphasized, especially in its implications for learning and for planning for instruction. The course explores the six language arts, the basic content knowledge required to teach the middle-years program, meaningful pedagogy and instructional design, and text types, including extended texts.

EDUC-4712 (3) Elementary (K-8) Curriculum, Instruction and Assessment: Mathematics Foundational (4 hrs Lecture) This course introduces students to the instructional, assessment, and differentiation approaches relevant to the teaching of Mathematics within the context of the Manitoba Education Curriculum Framework for Kindergarten to Grade 8 Mathematics.

EDUC-4713 (3) Elementary (K-8) Curriculum, Instruction and Assessment: Mathematics - Advanced (4 hrs Lecture) This course builds on the K-8 instructional, assessment, and differentiation approaches introduced in the Elementary Mathematics - Foundational course. Particular attention is given to designing and implementing mathematical learning environments that foster various mathematical processes and goals highlighted in the Manitoba Education Curriculum Framework for the elementary grades.
Requisite Courses: EDUC-4712 [prerequisite(s)].

EDUC-4714 (3) Elementary (K-8) Curriculum, Instruction and Assessment: Science - Foundational (4 hrs Lecture) This course introduces students to the topics, concepts, issues, instructional approaches, and assessment techniques relevant and essential to teaching science at the Kindergarten to Grade 8 levels within the context of the Manitoba Education Science curricula.

EDUC-4715 (3) Elementary (K-8) Curriculum, Instruction and Assessment: Science - Advanced (4 hrs Lecture) This course builds on the instructional, assessment, and differentiation approaches and techniques introduced in the Elementary Science - Foundational course, fostering of the development of advanced skills in elementary-years science within the context of the Manitoba Curriculum for Kindergarten to Grade 8 Science.
Requisite Courses: EDUC-4714 [prerequisite(s)].

EDUC-4716 (3) Elementary (K-8) Curriculum, Instruction and Assessment: Social Studies - Foundational (4 hrs Lecture) This course introduces students to the instructional, assessment, and differentiation approaches relevant to the teaching of Social Studies within the context of the Manitoba Education Curriculum Framework documents for Kindergarten to Grade 8 Social Studies. Students engage in planning that integrates the teaching and learning processes and the social context within which teaching and learning occurs.

EDUC-4717 (3) Elementary (K-8) Curriculum, Instruction and Assessment: Social Studies - Advanced (4 hrs Lecture) This course builds on the instructional, assessment, and differentiation approaches introduced in the Elementary Social Studies - Foundational course. Students inquire into curriculum and design curriculum experiences within the context of the Manitoba Education Curriculum Framework documents for Kindergarten to Grade 8 Social Studies. Students engage in planning that integrates the teaching and learning process and the social context within which teaching and learning occurs.
Requisite Courses: EDUC-4716 [prerequisite(s)].

EDUC-4718 (3) Elementary (K-8) Curriculum,

Instruction and Assessment: Integrating the Expressive Arts (3 hrs Lecture) This course introduces students to the theory and instructional and assessment approaches relevant to the integration of the arts-dance, drama, music, visual arts, video, and creative writing-across the curricula within the context of the Manitoba Education Curriculum Frameworks for Kindergarten to Grade 8.

EDUC-4719 (3) Elementary (K-8) Curriculum, Instruction and Assessment: Physical Education - Health Education (4 hrs Lecture) In this course, students develop an understanding of the Manitoba Education Kindergarten to Grade 4 and Grades 5 to 8 curricula for Physical Education and Health Education. The course introduces students to the instructional approaches and assessment techniques relevant to the effective delivery of health and physical education at the Kindergarten to Grade 8 levels within the context of the Manitoba Education curriculum. Restrictions (ineligible students): Admission to the certification portion of the Education Program. Additional Requirements: This is a required course only for students in the Elementary stream (Integrated or After-Degree) who have a teaching major or minor in Kinesiology.

EDUC-4722 (3) Elementary K-8 Advanced Curricular Inquiry (Lecture/Seminar with variable meeting hours) As pre-service teachers, students explore the effectiveness of instructional methods and strategies, reflective decision-making, and engage in collegial activities to support professional growth in elementary teaching. In the course, students engage with the concept of teacher-as-professional inquirer, advanced pedagogical theories and the implementation of these theories in practice. Students intensively investigate one or more curricular topics and critical reflection in connecting theory and practice within professional learning. Course activities culminate in presentation of the products generated from each student's inquiry process.

Restrictions: Student must be in the final certification year.

EDUC-4730 (3) Senior-Years (9-12) Curriculum, Instructions and Assessment: Middle- Years English Language Arts for Senior-Years Teachers (4 hrs Lecture) This course provides pre-service teachers enrolled in the Senior Years program with an introduction to teaching literacy in the Middle Years (Grades 5 to 8). Students explore creative ways to teach short stories, novels, drama, poetry, non-fiction, and visual texts suitable for middle-years learners. Inquiry circles, self-directed literacy projects, and novel-study groups are a part of this course. Interdisciplinary themes and emerging literacy genres are explored. Assessment for literacy learning and practical applications of Manitoba Education ELA curriculum documents are analyzed. A focus on teaching both literary and non-fiction upper-level MY works is highlighted.

EDUC-4731 (3) Senior-Years (9-12) Curriculum, Instruction and Assessment: Middle- Years French for Senior-Years Teachers (4 hrs Lecture) This course is a curriculum-based course for students in the Senior-Years stream. Students develop an in-depth understanding of specific curricular topics in the French: Communication and Culture Curriculum. This course focuses on theoretical foundations, instructional approaches, and resources for teaching French in the middle years within the context of the Manitoba Education curriculum framework for French. Emphasis is placed on an oral proficiency, a balanced literacy approach, and critical reflection in connecting theory and practice. Restriction: Students admitted to the certificate portion of the Education Program.

EDUC-4732 (3) Senior-Years (9-12) Curriculum, Instruction and Assessment: Middle- Years Mathematics for Senior- Years Teachers (4 hrs Lecture) This course introduces Senior-Years students to the curriculum, instructional approaches, and assessment techniques relevant to the teaching of Mathematics at the middle-years level within the context of the Manitoba Education Curriculum Framework for Mathematics.

EDUC-4733 (3) Senior-Years (9-12) Curriculum, Instruction and Assessment: Middle- Years Physical-Health Education for Senior-Years Teachers (4 hrs Lecture) This course introduces Senior-Years students to the general theories and practices in teaching Physical Education and Health Education at all levels. Specifically, this course familiarizes students with the Manitoba Middle Years (Grades 5 to 8) Physical Education and Health Education Curriculum Framework. Students learn key curricular concepts, methods, and approaches for delivery to middle-years students while developing an understanding of how the Middle-Years Curriculum acts as the foundation for that of the senior years. Key topics, such as effective teaching principles, assessment of fitness, ongoing professional development, hygiene, and puberty are covered. Practical teaching experiences and teacher development are essential to this course.

EDUC-4734 (3) Senior-Years (9-12) Curriculum, Instruction and Assessment: Middle- Years Science for Senior-Years Teachers (4 hrs Lecture) This course introduces Senior-Years students to the curriculum, instruction, and assessment for teaching Middle- Years Science within the context of the Manitoba Education Grades 5 to 8 Science Curriculum. The course presents a wide variety of teaching strategies and resources that assist middle-years learners in their conceptual development and understanding of science, placing an emphasis on inquiry and the design process.

EDUC-4735 (3) Senior-Years (9-12) Curriculum, Instruction and Assessment: Middle- Years Social Studies for Senior Years Teachers (4 hrs Lecture) This course engages participants with the Manitoba Social Studies Curriculum documents for the Middle Years and associated resources. The Curriculum identifies its goals as helping students to acquire the skills, knowledge, and values necessary to understand the world in which they live, to engage in active democratic citizenship, and to contribute to the betterment of society. The course prepares teacher candidates to utilize the curriculum documents for meaningful and effective planning. It inquires into how a reflective teacher makes decisions about what and how to teach in relation to the teaching and learning context and the formal, social, and hidden curricula.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and EDUC-4842 | EDUC-4850.

EDUC-4736 (3) Senior-Years (9-12) Curriculum, Instruction and Assessment: Biology I (4 hrs Lecture) This course introduces students to curriculum, instruction, and assessment for teaching Biology at the Grade 9, 10, and 11 levels. It presents a wide variety of teaching strategies and resources that assist learners in their conceptual development and understanding of biology, placing an emphasis on practical laboratory work and student activities. The course examines the discrete Biology curriculum modules at each of the respective levels: Reproduction, Grade 9; Dynamics of Ecosystems, Grade 10; and Wellness and Homeostasis, Digestion and Nutrition, Transportation and Respiration, Excretion and Waste Management, and Protection and Control, Grade 11.

EDUC-4737 (3) Senior Years (9-12) Curriculum, Instruction and Assessment: Biology II (4 hrs Lecture) This course introduces students to curriculum, instruction, and assessment for teaching Biology at the Grade 12 and Advanced Placement levels. It presents a wide variety of teaching strategies and resources that assist learners in their conceptual development and understanding of biology, placing an emphasis on practical laboratory work and student activities. Curriculum modules for Grade 12 Biology are examined, and curriculum design for AP Biology is addressed. Topics studied include biological inheritance, evolutionary theory, and biodiversity.
Requisite Courses: Completion of EDUC-4734, EDUC-4736 and EDUC-4869 [prerequisite(s)].

EDUC-4738 (3) Senior-Years (9-12): Curriculum, Instruction and Assessment: Chemistry I (4 hrs Lecture) This course introduces students to the curriculum, instruction, and assessment for teaching Chemistry at the secondary level. It presents a wide variety of teaching strategies and resources that assist learners in their conceptual development and understanding of chemistry and places an emphasis on practical lab work and student activities. It includes an examination of the Chemistry Curriculum modules in Grade 9 Science (Atoms and Elements) and Grade 10 Science (Chemistry in Action) and the Grade 11 Chemistry Curriculum.

EDUC-4739 (3) Senior-Years (9-12) Curriculum Instruction and Assessment: Chemistry II (4 hrs Lecture) This course introduces students to the curriculum, instruction, and assessment for teaching Chemistry at the Grade 12 level. It presents a wide variety of teaching strategies and resources that assist learners in their conceptual development and understanding of chemistry and places an emphasis on practical lab work and student activities. Curriculum modules for Grade 12 Chemistry and models for AP Chemistry are examined.
Requisite Courses: Completion of EDUC-4734, EDUC-4738 and EDUC-4869 [prerequisite(s)].

EDUC-4740 (3) Senior-Years (9-12) Curriculum, Instruction and Assessment: Curriculum Design I (4 hrs Lecture) This course focuses on inquiry into teaching and learning in the senior-years curricular areas for which there are no mandated provincial curricula. Emphasis is placed on the process of curriculum design, curriculum theory, and contemporary issues related to content, instruction, and assessment at the senior-years level.

Requisite Courses: Completion of EDUC-4730 or EDUC-4735 [prerequisite(s)].

EDUC-4741 (3) Senior-Years (9-12) Curriculum, Instruction and Assessment: Curriculum Design II (4 hrs Lecture) This inquiry-based course explores senior-years curriculum with an emphasis on the practical aspects of instructional design and curriculum implementation. Using "the good school" as a guiding theme, students design curriculum frameworks projects individually and collaboratively. There is a focus on interactive classroom teaching and learning for the real world. Students develop practical, personal knowledge by engaging in classroom activities, reading assignments, and project-based learning.
Requisite Courses: Completion of EDUC-4740 [prerequisite(s)].

EDUC-4742 (3) Senior-Years (9-12) Curriculum, Instruction and Assessment: English Language Arts I (4 hrs Lecture) With an emphasis on recent adolescent literacy research and critical inquiry into teaching secondary English Language Arts, this course provides students with opportunities to examine critically, interpret, and explore relevant Manitoba curriculum documents and their implications for literacy learning. The course emphasizes teaching literary and non-fiction works (e.g., novels, poetry, short stories, articles, songs, biographies, internet postings, and film,) appropriate for Grades 9 and 10 English Language Arts. Strategies that highlight self-directed and collaborative ways of knowing, as well as assessment approaches, are analyzed.
Requisite Courses: Completion of EDUC-4730 [prerequisite(s)].

EDUC-4743 (3) Senior-Years (9-12) Curriculum, Instruction and Assessment: English Language Arts II (4 hrs Lecture) This course introduces students to the instructional approaches and assessment strategies relevant to the teaching of English Language Arts in Grade 11 and 12 within the context of the Manitoba Education Curriculum Frameworks for English. Emphasis is placed on effective ways to teach literature and non-fiction appropriate for the upper levels of senior high and on recent adolescent literary research and critical inquiry. Students explore instructional strategies that include reflective writing, collaborative inquiry, novel-study groups, and interactive media presentations.
Requisite Courses: Completion of EDUC-4742 [prerequisite(s)].

EDUC-4744 (3) Senior-Years (9-12) Curriculum, Instruction and Assessment: French I (4 hrs Lecture) This course is the first of two curriculum-based courses for students in the Senior-Years stream. Students develop an in-depth understanding of specific curricular topics in French: Communication and Culture. This course focuses on theoretical foundations, instructional approaches, and resources for teaching French at the senior-years level within the context of the Manitoba Education Curriculum Framework for French. This course emphasizes an oral-proficiency and balanced-literacy approach and critical reflection in connecting theory and practice.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and EDUC-4856.

Requisite Courses: Completion of EDUC-4731 [prerequisite(s)].

EDUC-4745 (3) Senior-Years (9-12) Curriculum, Instruction and Assessment: French II (4 hrs Lecture)

This course is the second of two curriculum-based courses for students in the Senior-Years stream. It provides students with the opportunity to extend knowledge and skills acquired in SY CIA: French I for the teaching of French: Communication and Culture. The focus in this course is on research and innovations in second-language teaching, detailed planning for instruction and assessment, integrating culture, teaching literature, and using technology within the context of the Manitoba Education Curriculum Framework for French at the high-school level.

Requisite Courses: Completion of EDUC-4744 [prerequisite(s)].

EDUC-4746 (3) Senior-Years (9-12) Curriculum, Instruction and Assessment: Mathematics I (4 hrs Lecture)

This course introduces students to the curriculum, instructional approaches, and assessment techniques relevant to the teaching of Mathematics at the senior-years level within the context of the Manitoba Education Curriculum Framework for Mathematics. The focus is on the Grades 9 and 10 Mathematics and the Grades 9 to 12 Essential Mathematics programs for the province of Manitoba.

Requisite Courses: Completion of EDUC-4732 [prerequisite(s)].

EDUC-4747 (3) Senior-Years (9-12) Curriculum, Instruction and Assessment: Mathematics II (4 hrs Lecture)

This course introduces students to the curriculum, instructional approaches, and assessment techniques relevant to the teaching of Mathematics at the senior-years level within the context of the Manitoba Education Curriculum Framework for Mathematics. The focus in CIA Mathematics II is on the Grade 11 and Grade 12 Applied and Pre-Calculus courses for the province of Manitoba.

Requisite Courses: Completion of EDUC-4746 [prerequisite(s)].

EDUC-4748 (3) Senior-Years (9-12) Curriculum, Instruction and Assessment: Physical Education-Health Education I (4 hrs Lecture)

This course provides students with an introduction to the overall Senior-Years Physical Education and Health Education Curriculum Framework in Manitoba. Students develop an understanding of key curricular concepts, methods, and strategies for delivery to senior-years students. Developing skills and knowledge related to assessment of Physical Education and Health Education teaching resources, movement and motor-skill theory in relation to teaching the discipline, behaviour management, and personal and social management is instrumental to this course.

Research-based findings and the foundations of the curriculum are used as the building blocks for learning.

Requisite Courses: Completion of EDUC-4733 [prerequisite(s)].

EDUC-4749 (3) Senior-Years (9-12) Curriculum, Instruction and Assessment: Physical Education-Health Education II (4 hrs Lecture)

This course develops students' knowledge and skills related to the teaching of the Senior-Years Physical Education and Health Education Curriculum Framework in Manitoba. Students broaden their understanding of key curricular concepts, methods, and approaches for delivery to Senior-Years students. This course introduces students to the teaching of pivotal health-related concepts, such as sexual education, nutrition, substance abuse, and addiction. In addition, theory and practical application strategies associated with assessment, evaluation, safety, and adaptation for students of all levels are instrumental to this course. Research-based findings and the foundations of the curriculum are used as the building blocks for learning.

Requisite Courses: Completion of EDUC-4748 [prerequisite(s)].

EDUC-4750 (3) Senior-Years (9-12) Curriculum, Instruction and Assessment: Physics I (4 hrs Lecture)

This course introduces student teachers to the curriculum, instruction, and assessment for teaching Physics at the Grades 9, 10, and 11 levels. The course introduces a wide variety of teaching strategies and resources to assist student teachers in their conceptual development and understanding of physics and places an emphasis on practical laboratory work and student activities. The course examines the Physics Curriculum modules of Electricity and Astronomy in Grade 9, Motion in Grade 10, and the Physics units of Waves, Nature of Light, Mechanics, and Fields in Grade 11.

EDUC-4751 (3) Senior-Years (9-12) Curriculum, Instruction and Assessment: Physics II (4 hrs Lecture)

This course introduces students to the curriculum, instruction, and assessment for teaching Grade 12 and Advanced Placement Physics. The course introduces a wide variety of teaching strategies and resources to assist student teachers in their conceptual development and understanding of physics with an emphasis on practical laboratory work and student activities. Advanced Placement (AP) courses go beyond the curriculum expectations of the secondary program and include topics typically found in first-year university-level courses.

Requisite Courses: EDUC-4734, EDUC-4750 and EDUC-4869 [prerequisite(s)].

EDUC-4752 (3) Senior Years (9-12) Curriculum, Instruction and Assessment: Social Studies I (4 hrs Lecture)

This course introduces students to Geography or History Social Studies curricula at the secondary level. It explores several foundational instructional strategies and examines approaches to planning for instruction and assessment. A critical question underlying these explorations is: What are the purposes of Geography or History education?

Note: This course may be repeated for credit when the topic varies (a maximum of two times).

Requisite Courses: EDUC-4735 [prerequisite(s)].

EDUC-4753 (3) Senior Years (9-12) Curriculum

Instruction and Assessment: Social Studies II (4 hrs Lecture) This course builds on Senior Years (9-12) Curriculum, Instruction, and Assessment: Social Studies I. This course introduces students to several major topics, events, and issues in Geography or History and provides for each the background content knowledge, teaching resource materials, and relevant pedagogical approaches. Furthermore, the course examines common concepts, themes, and concerns in Senior Years Geography and History Social Studies and curricula. This course may be repeated for credit when the topic varies (a maximum of two times).

Requisite Courses: EDUC-4752 [prerequisite(s)].

EDUC-4754 (3) Senior-Years (9-12) Curriculum,

Instruction and Assessment: Theatre Arts I (4 hrs Lecture) This course prepares teacher candidates for drama instruction at the secondary-school level. It focuses on the general approach to teaching a drama program, with an overview of each level and a study of progressions from one level to the next. Practical in nature, the students experience the drama exercises for themselves, centering on how to present the material effectively to their future students. Specific units that could be incorporated into a complete drama program are explored. Experiencing the projects first hand, students present a finished product, with a discussion of evaluation techniques following each presentation.

Requisite Courses: EDUC-4730 [prerequisite(s)].

EDUC-4755 (3) Senior-Years (9-12) Curriculum,

Instruction and Assessment: Theatre II (4 hrs Lecture) This course prepares teacher candidates to direct productions at the secondary-school level. It focuses on the specific skills utilized in productions, as well as the logistics of producing a musical. The course is practical and participatory with an exploration of the various facets of the production process and examines performance as part of the classroom experience.

Requisite Courses: EDUC-4754 [prerequisite(s)].

EDUC-4761 (3) Senior Years (9-12) Advanced

Curricular Inquiry (Lecture/Seminar with variable meeting hours) As pre-service teachers, students explore the effectiveness of instructional methods and strategies, reflective decision-making, and engage in collegial activities to support professional growth in senior years teaching. In the course, students engage with the concept of teacher-as-professional inquirer, advanced pedagogical theories and the implementation of these theories in practice. Students intensively investigate one or more curricular topics and critical reflection in connecting theory and practice within professional learning. Course activities culminate in presentation of the products generated from each student's inquiry process.

Restrictions: Student must be in the final certification

year.

EDUC-4770 (3) Practicum Block I: Elementary (3 hrs Apprenticeship/Internship/Practicum) This course offers teaching experience in Grades K-8 settings under the guidance and supervision of practicum host teachers and a Faculty-appointed supervisor. This practicum consists of a five-week block and a one-day-a-week experience for a total of nine days and includes a four-day, start-of-school experience.

EDUC-4771 (3) Practicum Block II: Elementary (3 hrs Apprenticeship/Internship/Practicum) This course offers teaching experience in Grades K-8 settings under the guidance and supervision of practicum host teachers and a Faculty-appointed supervisor. This practicum consists of a five-week block and a one-day-a-week experience for a total of nine days and, if appropriate, may include a four-day, start-of-school experience.

Requisite Courses: EDUC-4770 [prerequisite(s)].

EDUC-4772 (3) Practicum Block III: Elementary (3 hrs Apprenticeship/Internship/Practicum) This course offers teaching experience in Grades K-8 settings under the guidance and supervision of practicum host teachers and a Faculty-appointed supervisor. This practicum consists of a five-week block and a one-day-a-week experience for a total of nine days and includes a four-day, start-of-school experience.

Requisite Courses: EDUC-4770 and EDUC-4771 [prerequisite(s)].

EDUC-4773 (3) Practicum Block IV: Elementary (3 hrs Apprenticeship/Internship/Practicum) This course offers teaching experience in Grades K-8 settings under the guidance and supervision of practicum host teachers and a Faculty-appointed supervisor. This practicum consists of a five-week block and a one-day-a-week experience for a total of nine days and, if appropriate, may include a four-day, start-of-school experience.

Requisite Courses: EDUC-4772 [prerequisite(s)].

EDUC-4774 (3) Practicum Block I: Senior Years (3 hrs Apprenticeship/Internship/Practicum) This course offers teaching experience in Middle-Years settings under the guidance and supervision of practicum host teachers and a Faculty-appointed supervisor. This practicum consists of a five-week block and a one-day-a-week experience for a total of nine days and includes a four-day, start-of-school experience.

EDUC-4775 (3) Practicum Block II: Senior Years (3 hrs Apprenticeship/Internship/Practicum) This course offers teaching experience in Middle-Years settings under the guidance and supervision of practicum host teachers and a Faculty-appointed supervisor. This practicum consists of a five-week block and a one-day-a-week experience for a total of nine days and, if appropriate, may include a four-day, start-of-school experience.

Requisite Courses: EDUC-4774 [prerequisite(s)].

EDUC-4776 (3) Practicum Block III: Senior Years (3 hrs Apprenticeship/Internship/Practicum) This course offers teaching experience in Senior-Years settings under the guidance and supervision of practicum host teachers and a Faculty-appointed supervisor. This practicum consists of a five-week block and a one-day-a-week experience for a total of nine days and includes a four-day, start-of-school experience.

Requisite Courses: EDUC-4775 [prerequisite(s)].

EDUC-4777 (3) Practicum Block IV: Senior Years (3 hrs Apprenticeship/Internship/Practicum) This course offers teaching experience in Senior-Years settings under the guidance and supervision of practicum host teachers and a Faculty-appointed supervisor. This practicum consists of a five-week block and a one-day-a-week experience for a total of nine days and, if appropriate, may include a four-day, start-of-school experience.

Requisite Courses: EDUC-4776 [prerequisite(s)].

EDUC-4778 (3) Practicum Block Red River College: Senior Years (3 hrs Apprenticeship/Internship/Practicum) This course offers teaching experience in Senior-Years settings under the guidance and supervision of practicum host teachers and a Faculty-appointed supervisor. This practicum consists of a five-week block and a one-day-a-week experience for a total of nine days and, if appropriate, may include a four-day, start-of-school experience.

EDUC-4779 (3) Practicum Block Supplementary: Senior Years (3 hrs Apprenticeship/Internship/Practicum) This course offers supplemental teaching experience under the guidance and supervision of practicum host teachers. This practicum is typically taken in conjunction with one or more Curriculum, Instruction and Assessment courses. The student must have standing in this course and in the corresponding Curriculum, Instruction and Assessment courses in order to fulfill degree requirements. Prerequisites: Recommendation of the Performance Review Committee and written permission of the Chair of the Performance Review Committee or Director of Student Teaching.

EDUC-4866 (3) Senior Years (9-12) Curriculum, Instruction, and Assessment: History and Philosophy of Science and Science Teaching (4 hrs Lecture) This course examines the historical development of science in terms of major themes (like the atomic model) and how this development relates to science teaching. It is intended to foster a more complete view of the nature and philosophy of science to provide the science educator with a context for the content of the Manitoba curriculum and associated textbooks. This is not a formal course in the history of science; but rather, the course emphasizes the role of history and philosophy of science in science instruction. This course may also be of interest to elementary and middle years teachers who wish to gain a broader insight into science and can be used as certification elective.

Note: Available only to students admitted to the certification portion of the program.

EDUC-4869 (3) Senior Years (9-12) Curriculum, Instruction and Assessment: Theory of Science

Teaching (4 hrs Lecture) This course addresses effective science teaching strategies and current issues in science education. The focus is on methodology to promote student learning understanding of science concepts and processes. Practical methods for demonstrating, planning laboratory experiences, managing science equipment, and safety concerns are also developed and discussed.

Note: Available only to students admitted to the certification portion of the program.

Requisite Courses: EDUC-4734 SY C,I&A Middle Years Science for Senior Years Teachers (must be taken concurrently).

EDUC-4870 (3) Senior Year (9-12) Curriculum, Instruction and Assessment: Literacy Across the Curriculum (4 hrs Lecture) This course explores expanding notions of text and literacy across the curriculum. Prospective teachers are asked to consider how to bring learners and texts together to explore and construct meaning within their particular content areas. To this end, students are introduced to dominant theories and current approaches in the engagement of subject area texts through reading, viewing, listening, writing, speaking, and representing.

Note: Available only to students admitted to the certification portion of the program.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and EDUC-3102.

EDUC-4890 (3) Senior Years Curriculum, Instruction and Assessment: General Methods (3 hrs Lecture) This course introduces students to the instructional approaches and assessment techniques relevant to teaching at the Senior Years level within the context of the Manitoba Education and Training curriculum framework. Note: Students must be in the Joint UW/RRC Vocational Education Teacher Program and employed full-time as teachers. They must also have completed the 18 credit hours Arts or Science Minor.

EDUC-4891 (3) Practicum Block - Vocational Education (3 hrs Lecture) This course offers teaching experience in Senior Years settings under the guidance and supervision of practicum host teachers. A minimum of 110 hours of actual teaching must be completed.

Note: Students must be in the Joint UW/RRC Vocational Education Teacher Program and employed full-time as teachers.

Requisite Courses: EDUC-4890 [prerequisite(s)].

EDUC-5001 (3) Special Topics in Education (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines relevant issues and developments in education. Course content varies from year to year. The topic of each course will be available to students prior to registration.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and EDUC-4000.

EDUC-5401 (3) Creative Problem Solving (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines misconceptions that often inhibit creativity, distinguishes between creative and critical thinking, identifies problem-solving styles, and explores ways of developing creative environments in schools and other settings. After being introduced to various models for learning and applying Creative Problem Solving, students build a personal 'tool box' of pragmatic techniques and have the opportunity to practice them.

EDUC-5402 (3) Expanding Gifted Education (3 hrs Lecture) Gifted education in most school districts has traditionally been reserved for high-achieving, teacher-pleasing students. This course explores the expansion of enrichment programming to include hitherto marginalized students: nonconformists, dropouts, the "tough bright," children and youth from minority groups, and young people whose talents surface in domains other than reading, writing, and arithmetic. Specific topics such as inclusive philosophies and models, segregation versus integration, real-world problem solving, mentoring, self-directed learning, and strategies for developing the talents of all students in the regular classroom are examined.

EDUC-5403 (3) Meeting the Needs of FAS/FAE Students (3 hrs Lecture) FASD (Fetal Alcohol Spectrum Disorder) poses challenges for educators. This course considers methods of helping students with this condition function as effectively as possible in our schools. After examining diagnostic procedures and behavioural characteristics, the focus moves to classroom strategies for helping students to develop life skills, enhance their academic performance, and behave in socially acceptable ways. Prerequisites: A Bachelor of Education degree and 2 years of appropriate teaching/work experience OR permission of instructor.

EDUC-5404 (3) Reaching ADHD Child (3 hrs Lecture) This course focuses on specific issues surrounding attention-deficit/hyperactivity disorder (ADHD), including definition, incidence, identification, diagnosis, etiology, medication, behaviour management, self-management skills training, and prognosis. The intent is to present a balanced approach to help educators, parents, and other caregivers understand and cope more effectively with hyperactive children in the classroom, home, and community.

EDUC-5405 (3) Reclaiming Troubled Children and Youth (3 hrs Lecture) This course is designed to prepare educators to meet the needs of emotionally fragile and behaviourally disruptive children and youth. Emphasis is on Life Space Crisis Intervention (LSCI), an advanced, interactive, therapeutic set of strategies that help teachers and other caregivers understand the cycle of conflict and its long-term effects. Students learn to reframe problems from crisis management to crisis teaching, treat disrespectful students respectfully, de-escalate aggression and counter-aggression, recover after a crisis, and turn crisis situations into learning opportunities.

EDUC-5406 (3) Achieving Real-Life Skills (3 hrs Lecture) This course is designed to prepare educators to work more effectively with at-risk youth. Using a variety of practical resources, students learn how to help adolescents develop transferable, personal skills in a variety of domains. Students are introduced to the STARS (Steps to Achieving Real-life Skills) Program, a middle years guidance curriculum for at-risk young people that can be implemented on an individual, small group, or total classroom basis. Components of the program include self-reflection, relationship-building, anger management, values clarification, drug and alcohol awareness, family dynamics, and listening and communication skills.

EDUC-5407 (3) Teaching At-Risk Readers (3 hrs Lecture) Some children have great difficulty acquiring language arts skills. Helping these at-risk readers and writers achieve greater proficiency is an educational priority. The purpose of this course is to provide experienced, practicing teachers with the opportunity to develop a thorough understanding of reading and writing disability within a practical and a theoretical framework. The focus is on mastering the essential components of assessment and remedial strategies.

EDUC-5408 (3) Teaching At-Risk Students in the Inner City School (3 hrs Lecture) This course analyzes educational responses to the changes faced by children in Canadian inner-city schools. It examines the historical, cultural, political, and educational issues surrounding academically and socially at-risk students within an inner-city setting. Identity, race, culture, gender, and human rights are analyzed in relation to culturally appropriate pedagogy and learning styles.

EDUC-5410 (3) Understanding and Responding to Learning Disabilities (3 hrs Lecture) Learning Disabilities (LD), often termed invisible or hidden handicaps, can take many different forms and affect a wide range of students to varying degrees. Issues emphasized in this course include definition, types of disability, characteristics, self-concept, diagnosis, assessment, and remedial, compensatory, and classroom strategies.

EDUC-5411 (3) Youth Violence in Schools (3 hrs Lecture) Youth violence in schools is a symptom of multiple and pervasive societal problems. Child abuse, poverty, unemployment, intolerance, alcohol and substance abuse, lack of sufficient support services for youths and families, and exposure to media violence contribute to a culture of violence. The complex nature of youth violence demands multifaceted solutions. Reducing violence in schools requires early and systematic intervention in classrooms from early childhood to secondary levels. Schools, as influential socializing institutions, can play a central role in prevention and intervention.

EDUC-5412 (3) Gifted Education in the Inner-City (3 hrs Lecture) Specific facets of gifted education are explored in this course: practical and logistical concerns in inner city enrichment programming, theoretical models to guide practice, developing self-awareness in teachers and students, and strategies for the promotion of social capital across socioeconomic strata. Emphasis is placed on identifying and nurturing the talents of marginalized students.

EDUC-5420 (3) Introduction to School Guidance and Counselling (3 hrs Lecture) This course provides a comprehensive overview of the profession of school counselling. It provides students with an overview and general understanding of (1) historical perspectives and current activities of counsellors, (2) the role and function of counsellors in a variety of settings, (3) techniques utilized by counsellors, (4) multicultural considerations in counselling, (5) organization of counselling programs, and (6) legal and ethical guidelines.

EDUC-5421 (3) Theories and Issues in School Counselling (3 hrs Lecture) This course provides an overview of the fundamental theories of school counselling including: the contexts of effective treatment systems, person-centered therapy, existential and gestalt therapy, emerging counselling approaches, rational emotive behavioural therapy, action-focused therapy, reality and behavioural therapy. Also considered are values, objectives, ethical issues, and the counsellor-student relationship. Throughout, emphasis is placed on practical counselling strategies for early, middle, and senior years levels. Through lectures, readings, class activities, discussions and video clips, students learn about the fundamental components of the major theories, examine differences and similarities amongst the various approaches, and consider practical issues that school counsellors face.

EDUC-5422 (3) Early and Middle Years School Counselling (3 hrs Lecture) This course provides a thorough study of counselling as it relates to the early and middle years' student. Emphasis is placed on the role and function of the school counsellor within the framework of a comprehensive developmental guidance program model. Contemporary issues related to early years and middle years students are explored and strategies for assisting students are examined.

EDUC-5423 (3) Senior Years School Counselling (3 hrs Lecture) This course offers a study of school counselling as it relates to students at the senior years level. Emphasis is placed on the role and function of the school counsellor within the framework of a comprehensive developmental guidance program model. Contemporary issues related to students at the secondary level are explored and techniques for counselling are investigated.

EDUC-5424 (3) Group Guidance and Counselling in School Settings (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines the many facets of group dynamics, including characteristics, formation and dissolution, stages of change, and the role of the counsellor in facilitating collaboration, cooperation, and group processes. Strategies for facilitating productive and therapeutic guidance groups are investigated and the development of leadership skills in group counselling are conducted under supervision.

EDUC-5425 (3) Counselling Ethics for Canadian School Settings (3 hrs Lecture) This course is designed to provide a comprehensive overview of legal and ethical issues as they relate to the profession of school counselling. The objectives are to provide students with an overview and general understanding of: (1) standards of practice for counsellors; (2) professional responsibilities of counsellors in a variety of settings; (3) ethical counselling relationships; (4) ethical consulting and referral in counselling, and (5) legal and ethical guidelines in school settings. Topics include: informed consent, confidentiality, record-keeping, boundary issues, training and competence, clinical supervision, working with minors and diversity issues.

EDUC-5426 (3) School Counselling Practicum Skills (3 hrs Lecture) The practice skills course provides students with the opportunity to practice counselling skills and techniques in a supervised lab setting. Students analyze case studies and use digital recordings to practice counselling, consulting and coordinating skills. Students are required to conduct 10 individual counselling sessions with a client. Students are expected to demonstrate a progression of skills that allow gradual progress into direct service with students in a school setting (under guidance of a site supervisor).

EDUC-5427 (3) Supervised School Counselling Program (3 hrs Lecture) The practicum in school counselling provides an opportunity for students to synthesize the theoretical information on individual counselling and group counselling from their coursework and apply it in an early, middle, or senior years school setting. The course provides both a laboratory experience and a field experience under the joint supervision of a U of W supervisor and a site supervisor. The school counselling practicum is designed to assist students in learning the function and procedures that accompany the role of a school counselor through observation, shadowing, and reviewing relevant documentation. Students are required to complete a minimum of 100 hours in a supervised school setting. Paid working hours in a school division shall not count towards these practicum hours. Please see website on current application procedures. Field placements are limited and placements will only be arranged by the Faculty of Education Placement Coordinator.

Requisite Courses: EDUC-5426 with a minimum grade B and have a B. Ed. degree with at least two years of appropriate teaching/work experience [prerequisite(s)].

EDUC-5428 (3) Teaching Newcomers in Canada (3 hrs Lecture) This course provides teachers with an awareness of the issues concerning newcomer children and youth. Teachers who work in multi-ethnic cities must learn how to meet the unique needs of newcomer students and how to work effectively in partnership with families and the community. The course content examines the state of the world's children, global citizenship, and newcomer children's connections to Canadian classrooms. Providing psychosocial and emotional support to children and youth who come from diverse backgrounds is one of the concerns addressed.

EDUC-5429 (3) Education for Peace and Sustainable Development (3 hrs Lecture | 27 hrs Seminar/Discussion) Peace and security are fundamental to human dignity and development. The sustainable development of any culture is always endangered by insecurity and conflict. Human tragedies result in overwhelmed health-care systems; the destruction of homes, schools, and communities; and increased numbers of displaced people and refugees. Education for sustainable development plays a key role in promoting values for peace. Theories and practical examples of global education, peace education, capacity-building education, and social justice are explored, and literature linking peace education and sustainability is examined.

EDUC-5430 (3) Sex and Health Education (3 hrs Lecture | Seminar/Discussion) This course provides a comprehensive overview of the potentially sensitive outcomes of the Physical Education and Health Curriculum and how this pertains to the school counselor. The course provides an overview of the importance of personal and social management, health lifestyle practices, and personal safety for all students. In addition, students learn how mind and body are connected to promote lifelong healthy living.

EDUC-5431 (3) Mental Health Promotion in Schools (3 hrs Lecture) Teachers are often the first people who suspect mental illness in children. They work with children living with mental illness on a day-to-day basis. School-wide mental-health promotion requires an understanding of a whole-school-based response for nurturing mental health and resiliency for students and the school community. Issues related to physical and mental well-being, emotional literacy, and resilience are examined from a developmental perspective (early years, middle years, and senior years). This course promotes mental health, reduces the stigma associated with mental illness, and incorporates prevention and early intervention strategies in child and adolescent mental health.

EDUC-5432 (3) Crisis and Trauma in Learning Environments (3 hrs Lecture) This course introduces students to approaches and assessment techniques relevant to effective crisis and trauma work with early-, middle-, and senior-years students. Topics include strategies for prevention, intervention, and postvention; Western-based trauma discourse and counter-discourse; gender, colonization, and trauma; suicidal crisis; crisis related to body image, fat prejudice, and eating difficulty; anti-violence resistance and community building; "belonging" students; and self-care.

EDUC-5440 (3) Inclusive Education 1 (3 hrs Lecture | Seminar/Discussion) This course presents an overview of educational theories, assessment procedures, delivery systems, and adaptive programming practices designed to serve students with special needs. Topics to be addressed include foundation definitions, history of inclusive education, neuro-developmental disorders, etiologies, learning disability, attention deficit/hyperactivity disorder, enrichment, individualized programming, and classroom strategies to promote student success. The intent is to make the learning of the principles of inclusion meaningful by relating them to their application.

EDUC-5441 (3) Inclusive Education 2 (3 hrs Lecture) This course provides a more in-depth look at some of the topics covered in Inclusive Education 1. Specifically, assessment, service delivery, adaptations, and individualized educational and behavioral programming are explored. As well, emphasis is placed on examining practical strategies for meeting the needs of at-risk children and youth, establishing mentorship programs, and introducing enrichment activities in the regular classroom. Models, history, current issues and strategies in providing supports, accommodations, and differentiated curriculum in inclusive environments are explored.

Requisite Courses: EDUC-5440 [prerequisite(s)].

EDUC-5442 (3) Working With Exceptional Children 1 (Lecture with variable meeting hours) This course offers an overview of exceptional children within the school setting. The intent is to focus on the extensive field of special education in Manitoba, to examine programming for students with special needs, and to consider the causes, characteristics, and implications of specific exceptionalities. School issues are examined through multiple lenses. Specifically, this course reviews recent scholarship and research into students with exceptionalities, drawn from the fields of psychology, sociology and education. Additionally, the course focuses on constantly changing demographics in the schools and the requirement for educators to reflect upon the meaning of global citizenship.

EDUC-5443 (3) Working With Exceptional Children 2 (3 hrs Lecture | Seminar/Discussion) This course builds on the knowledge from Exceptional Children 1. It emphasizes an inclusive philosophy with consideration of how to meet the needs of all students. It focuses on teaming, planning, and intervention for more significant special needs, including cognitive, behavioral, and physical and sensory disabilities and disorders. Students concentrate on strategies that apply directly to their own school situations while learning from the varied experiences of their colleagues.

Requisite Courses: EDUC-5442 and EDUC-5001 [prerequisite(s)].

EDUC-5444 (3) Engaging Reluctant Learners (3 hrs Lecture | Seminar/Discussion) Designed primarily for in-the-trenches teachers of unengaged students, the purpose of this course is to help educators move from inflexible, deficit-based, linear approaches so often used with disenfranchised children and youth toward more adaptive, malleable, strength-based programming. The emphasis throughout is on using the connect-clarify-restore approach for relationship building as a basis for developing practical alternative programs for troubled and troubling young people. An example of some made-in-Manitoba initiatives (e.g. The Infinity Program, Lost Prizes) shows that one size definitely does not fit all.

Requisite Courses: EDUC-5440 and EDUC-5441 [prerequisite(s)].

EDUC-5445 (3) Educational Assessment (3 hrs Lecture | Seminar/Discussion) This course reviews current theories and applications of both formative and summative assessment practices for students in the inclusive classroom. Students explore standardized, normed, and criterion-referenced assessments and the interpretation of specific programming for identified students. This course gives students the opportunity to work with strategies and provides direction in working collaboratively with administrators, classroom teachers, students, parents and auxiliary professional personnel.

Requisite Courses: EDUC-5440 and EDUC-5441 [prerequisite(s)].

EDUC-5446 (3) Poverty and Potential (3 hrs Lecture | Seminar/Discussion) This course introduces students to issues in low-socioeconomics communities. Issues include student transitions, summer learning loss, tiered pedagogy, teacher effect, cultural disconnect, and the impact of family and environmental factors. Frameworks to conceptualize ways that support high-risk students are introduced in addition to practical, effective, and research-based strategies for supporting students. The course uses hands-on and interactive learning methods.

Requisite Courses: EDUC-5440 and EDUC-5441 [prerequisite(s)].

EDUC-5447 (3) Sex, Gender and Diversity (3 hrs Lecture | Seminar/Discussion) This course covers the spectrum of concerns facing educators in the effort to make their schools, classrooms and counseling services inclusive of sexual and gender minority students and others who are affected by a homophobic school climate: lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender, Two Spirit, and questioning (LGBTQ) students; students with LGBTQ parents; and others who are targeted or distressed by homophobia. Educators are introduced to a large range of print, web, and video resources from scholarly, professional, and community sources, including research reports, curriculum materials, Gay Straight Alliance materials, and community services.

EDUC-5448 (3) Programming for Aboriginal Students (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines Aboriginal Education in Manitoba public schools, with a particular focus on incorporating Aboriginal perspectives in curriculum as mandated by the Manitoba Department of Education. This course begins with an examination of historical experiences and contemporary realities of Aboriginal peoples in Canada and builds upon that understanding in the exploration of practical strategies, programs, and a curriculum appropriate for Aboriginal students.

EDUC-5449 (3) Bullying and School Violence (3 hrs Lecture | Seminar/Discussion) This course is organized around the social-ecological framework that looks at violence as existing within both a personal and an ecological context. The latter term, introduced by Bronfenbrenner, refers to the interaction of persons and social structures existing at several levels: family and primary social networks and intermediate social ecologies, such as schools and communities, as well as cultural and community contexts.

EDUC-5450 (3) Risk and Resilience (3 hrs Lecture | Seminar/Discussion) This course examines the characteristics and issues facing vulnerable children and youth, particularly those children called "at risk". This course seeks to emphasize strengths that might compensate for weaknesses, health instead of illness, normality instead of pathology, and hopefulness instead of professional cynicism. This population of youth is particularly threatening to untrained adults who are regularly lured in counter-aggressive or avoidant behavior. It is important that adults who work with these youth with unmet needs are able to provide corrective responses.

EDUC-5451 (3) Teachers and the Law (3 hrs Lecture | Seminar/Discussion) Legislation is examined with a special emphasis on inclusion and the provision of education to students with exceptional learning needs: (1) federal law; the constitution Act, Charter of Rights and Freedoms, (2) Manitoba Law; the Public Schools Act, Education Administration Act, Personal Health Information Act, Freedom of Information and Protection of Privacy Act, Child and Family Services Act, Human Rights and (3) Manitoba regulations and standards for appropriate educational programming. Manitoba Education and Advanced Learning, interdepartmental protocols, school division policy, and case law are included to provide participants with a current and comprehensive overview of the legal requirements for teachers.

EDUC-5452 (3) Leadership in Inclusive Education (3 hrs Lecture | Seminar/Discussion) This course presents an overview of the theories and practices regarding the development and maintenance of positive school climate and how positive climate can support the inclusive teaching and learning process. The impact of principal and teacher leadership on the collaborative and creative process within the school is examined. In addition, the concept of creativity, as it applies to inclusive teaching and learning in the K-12 Canadian classroom, is explored with an introductory focus on educators' beliefs and knowledge that foster creativity in the classroom.

ENGLISH

ENGL-1000 (3) English 1A (3 hrs Lecture) This course offers an introduction to university-level literary study, including the reading of creative literature (poetry, fiction, or drama); the theory and practice of literary criticism; the role of historical and cultural factors influencing literary texts; and research skills. Students' writing also receives significant attention. Because each section is different, students should consult the current section descriptions on the English Department website.

Note: Students taking this course plus 3 other credit hours of First-Year (1000-level) English will meet the prerequisite for most Upper-Year English courses. No more than 6 credit hours of First-Year English may count toward a major in English.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ENGL-1001 | ENGL-1111 | ENGL-1201(6).

ENGL-1001 (6) English 1 (3 hrs Lecture) This course offers a full introduction to university-level literary study, including the reading of creative literature (poetry, fiction, or drama); the theory and practice of literary criticism; the role of historical and cultural factors influencing literary texts; and research skills. Students' writing also receives significant attention. Because each section is different, students should consult the current descriptions of individual sections available on the English Department website.

Note: This course satisfies the prerequisite for most Upper-Year English courses. No more than 6 credit hours of First-Year English may count toward a major in English.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ENGL-1000 | ENGL-1003 | ENGL-1111 | ENGL-1201 | ENGL-1202 | ENGL-1203.

ENGL-1003 (3) Introduction to English: Topics in Literature (3 hrs Lecture) This course introduces students to a variety of creative literature (poetry, drama, and/or fiction) through the lens of a particular theme, genre, nationality or period. Each section is a uniquely designed introduction to university-level literary study. Because each section is different, students should consult the current descriptions of individual sections available on the English Department website.

Note: To meet the prerequisite for Upper-Year English, students taking this course should also take ENGL-1000(3). Students may not hold credit for this course and ENGL-1001 | ENGL-1111 | ENGL-1201 | ENGL-1202 | ENGL-1203 | LING-1200

ENGL-1004 (3) Introduction to English: Reading Culture (3 hrs Lecture) This course explores the role that culture, as a set of practices encompassing a range of texts, events, experiences, and social institutions, plays in everyday lives. Students interpret cultural forms and practices such as written texts, film, television, visual and performance art, music, and electronic media - and the institutions that shape them. May be of special interest to students who plan on pursuing further work in Cultural Studies.

Note: To meet the prerequisite for Upper-Year English, students taking this course should also take ENGL-1000(3).

ENGL-1005 (3) Introduction to English: Reading to Write (3 hrs Lecture) This course introduces students to university-level literary study. Students read a variety of creative literature (poetry, drama, fiction, and creative non-fiction) from a writerly perspective, to explore and analyse writers' techniques, and to gain a broader understanding of the art and craft of writing. Topics may include poetic structure, dramatic action, narrative strategies, organizational principles, imagery, setting, characterization, and voice. This course may be of special interest to students who plan to take Creative Writing courses at the 2000 level.

ENGL-2002 (3) The Creative Process (3 hrs Lecture) This course addresses the complex processes involved in the creation of a literary text from initial inspiration to publication. Students' reading of fiction and poetry is supplemented with lectures based on documented evidence of the authors' own approaches to the craft of writing (including literary essays, interviews, drafts, letters, and/or occasional live appearances, when possible). The course examines the habits, beliefs, influences, and intellectual reasoning behind the decisions writers make while composing and revising their drafts. We also study the effects of those decisions. The reading list may vary from year to year, while maintaining the goals of gender balance and an emphasis on literature of the twentieth and twenty-first centuries.

Requisite Courses: 6 credit hours of First-year English, including ENGL-1001(6) or ENGL-1000(3) [prerequisite(s)].

ENGL-2003 (6) The Field of Children's Literature (3 hrs Lecture) An introduction to the study of children's literature, this course explores the characteristics of this form of literature, unusually named for its readers rather than its producers. We study various strategies for reading young people's texts; cultural assumptions about children and childhood; trends in educational theory and practice; the economic and political contexts of the production, consumption, and marketing of texts for young people; and popular culture and media for young people. Texts from a range of genres, such as poetry, picture books, novels, blogs, and films, are considered.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and the former ENGL-2003(3)

Requisite Courses: 6 credit hours of First-year English, including ENGL-1001(6) or ENGL-1000(3) [prerequisite(s)].

ENGL-2004 (6) A History of Children's Literature (3 hrs Lecture) This course covers the history of children's literature from Sumerian clay 'readers' to the present day, with a focus on texts published before the mid-twentieth century. Topics include the shift of myths, fairy tales, and fables from oral to literary tradition; literary forms associated specifically with children, such as nursery rhymes and fantasy; the development of early picture books featuring woodcuts; and increased commodification of picture books that came with the advent of lithography. Students study the nineteenth- and twentieth-century rise of children as consumers, and changing notions of childhood such as the development of the concept of childhood innocence.

Requisite Courses: 6 credit hours of First-year English, including ENGL-1001(6) or ENGL-1000(3) [prerequisite(s)].

ENGL-2102 (3) Introduction to Creative Writing:

Developing a Portfolio (3 hrs Lecture) In this course, students concentrate on developing a portfolio of creative writing, including both poetry and short fiction. The course introduces students to strategies for writing in both genres and to the discipline involved in seeing a project through several drafts to its final stages. Emphasis is placed on the skills involved in self-editing and the professional preparation and submission of manuscripts suitable for a portfolio.

Note: This course is recommended for students who plan to enroll in further creative writing courses at the undergraduate level.

Requisite Courses: 6 credit hours of First-year English, including ENGL-1001(6) or ENGL-1000(3) [prerequisite(s)].

ENGL-2113 (6) Picture Books for Children (3 hrs Lecture) This course explores picture book elements, industries, and modes of reception and interpretation, involving strategies such as small-group discussions, presentations, oral and written forms of analysis, and the making of picture books. Of particular interest is our exploration of experimental and innovative picture book forms and their contribution to changing concepts of the child, childhood and children's culture. This course may incorporate experiential, community-based and service-learning components.

Note: Students may not hold credit for this course and the former ENGL-2113 (3)

Requisite Courses: 6 credit hours of First-year English, including ENGL-1001(6) or ENGL-1000(3) [prerequisite(s)].

ENGL-2114 (6) Fairy Tales, Fantasy, and Culture (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines fairy tales from their origins in myth and folklore to their uses in contemporary culture. Students explore the major themes and characteristics of traditional tales, such as those collected by Charles Perrault and the Grimms and written by Hans Christian Andersen and Oscar Wilde. They then consider the function of fairy tales in contemporary society (in, for example, the social texts of weddings and proms) and study narratives influenced by fairy tales, particularly narratives directed to audiences of young people. Topics might include second-world fantasy; narrative revisions of fairy tales; Disney's animations of fairy tales; or contemporary narrative films using fairy-tale motifs.

Note: Students may not hold credit for this course and the former ENGL-2114(3).

Requisite Courses: 6 credit hours of First-year English, including ENGL-1001(6) or ENGL-1000(3) [prerequisite(s)].

ENGL-2142 (6) Field of Literary and Textual Studies (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This course offers an in-depth introduction to, and practice in the skills of, literary and textual studies. Students explore the histories of literary and textual studies, including literary criticism and critical theories. They practice the skills of close reading and textual analysis, reading through the lenses of critical theories, researching, assembling bibliographies, and analyzing literary and cultural scholarship. Formats include oral presentation, seminar discussion, and formal, written, textual analysis.

Note: Written permission of the Honours Chair or designate is required. This course is compulsory for students entering the Honours program, open to students in the 4-year BA, and best taken soon after first-year English.

Requisite Courses: 6 credit hours of First-year English, including ENGL-1001(6) or ENGL-1000(3) and permission of the Honours Chair or designate [prerequisite(s)].

ENGL-2145 (6) Field of Cultural Studies (3 hrs Lecture)

This course introduces students to the key concepts that underpin the field of cultural studies. The course includes readings in theory and criticism and the study of cultural forms and practices, such as written texts, film, television, visual and performance art, music, print and electronic media, as well as the institutions that shape them. Since cultural studies is overwhelmingly interdisciplinary, the course also offers instruction in research methods, interpretive strategies, and writing. Issues covered may include subcultures, urbanism, nationalism, ethnicity, postcolonialism, globalization, sexuality, and gender.

Requisite Courses: 6 credit hours of First-year English, including ENGL-1001(6) or ENGL-1000(3) [prerequisite(s)].

ENGL-2146 (6) Screen Studies (3 hrs Lecture) This course offers an in-depth introduction to screen studies, a field that encompasses not simply cinema and television, but also considers other forms of moving image production and distribution: from artists' video and the expanded screens of the art gallery to apps, videogames and other contemporary online audio-visual formats. The course draws on concepts from cultural studies, film theory, television studies, media archaeology, and technology studies in order to examine the aesthetic, social, cultural, industrial, and political dimensions of the screen image.

Requisite Courses: 6 credit hours of First-year English, including ENGL-1001(6) or ENGL-1000(3) [prerequisite(s)].

ENGL-2180 (6) Popular Literature and Film (3 hrs

Lecture) This course focuses on popular cultural forms and genres, and also the very idea of "the popular" itself, in literature, film, and other media (tv, web). Depending on the year, the course may introduce students to types of popular literature and film from different historical periods and locations, or it may focus on one particular area, nation, theme, or genre (romance; horror, detection; fantasy; the western). Students explore central terminologies, concepts, and theories in the study of popular literature and film and develop their understandings of cultural studies and film studies in relation to literary studies.

Requisite Courses: 6 credit hours of First-Year English, including ENGL-1001(6) or ENGL-1000(3) [prerequisite(s)].

ENGL-2185 (3) Literary Communities (3 hrs Lecture)

Literary communities provide significant contexts for the writing and study of literature. This course explores the literary works, interrelated biographies, and historical/cultural contexts of communities of writers. This approach provides an alternative framework of study to those focusing on individual authors, literary periods, or genres. Possible literary communities for study in different offerings of this course might include the Bloomsbury Group, the Lake Poets, the Inklings, the expatriate American in Paris, the Beat Poets, and the Kootenay School of Writing.

Requisite Courses: 6 credit hours of First-year English, including ENGL-1001(6) or ENGL-1000(3) [prerequisite(s)].

ENGL-2202 (3) Literature of the Sixteenth Century (3 hrs Lecture) This course is a study of representative writers of the sixteenth century with emphasis upon the major poets, dramatists, and prose writers of the period.

Requisite Courses: 6 credit hours of First-year English, including ENGL-1001(6) or ENGL-1000(3) [prerequisite(s)].

ENGL-2203 (3) Literature of the Seventeenth Century (3 hrs Lecture) This course is a study of representative writers (to 1660), with emphasis upon the major poets, dramatists, and prose writers of the period.

Requisite Courses: 6 credit hours of First-year English, including ENGL-1001(6) or ENGL-1000(3) [prerequisite(s)].

ENGL-2220 (3) English Literatures and Cultures 700-1660 (3 hrs Lecture) This course addresses the history of literature of England from the 8th century until the Restoration in 1660. The course may comprise an overall survey and/or an exploration of significant literary and cultural moments, movements or topics across this time frame. Reading in the poetry, drama, and prose of the Old and Middle English, Tudor, Elizabethan, and Jacobean periods may be combined with selected theoretical and critical texts from each literary period, to demonstrate changing views about the production, reception, and role of literature in society.

Requisite Courses: 6 credit hours of First-year English, including ENGL-1001(6) or ENGL-1000(3) [prerequisite(s)].

ENGL-2221 (3) Medieval Literature: Chaucer and His Contemporaries (3 hrs Lecture) The later Middle Ages, the age of Chaucer, was a period of devastating calamities and highest creative achievements. In this course, students explore both, reflecting on the ways medieval life, with all its contrasts and exuberance, was imaginatively captured - and transformed - in romances, fabliaux, fables, lyrics, and mystery plays. The focus is on Chaucer's Canterbury Tales and other texts, such as Sir Gawain and the Green Knight and The Second Shepherd's Play. Typically students read these texts against the background of medieval notions about literature, art, music, folklore, religion, and science.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ENGL-2301| ENGL-4242 | ENGL-4302.

Requisite Courses: 6 credit hours of First-year English, including ENGL-1001(6) or ENGL-1000(3) [prerequisite(s)].

ENGL-2230 (3) British Literatures and Cultures 1660-1901 (3 hrs Lecture) This course addresses the history of British literature from 1660 through the Restoration, Eighteenth-Century, Romantic, and Victorian periods to the beginning of the 20th century. The course may comprise an overall survey and/or exploration of significant literary and cultural moments, movements or topics across the time frame. While British literature is the focus, there may also be consideration of transnational and transcultural issues such as trans-Atlantic literatures.

Readings in poetry, drama, fiction, and other prose from each literary period demonstrate changing views about the production, reception, and role of literature in society.

Requisite Courses: 6 credit hours of First-year English, including ENGL-1001(6) or ENGL-1000(3) [prerequisite(s)].

ENGL-2311 (6) Shakespeare (3 hrs Lecture | 3 hrs Lab) This course offers students an in-depth introduction to the works of Shakespeare through the critical examination of a representative selection of his plays and/or poems.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ENGL-2231.

Requisite Courses: 6 credit hours of First-year English, including ENGL-1001(6) or ENGL-1000(3) [prerequisite(s)]; ENGL-2311L (lab may not be offered every term) (must be taken concurrently).

ENGL-2401 (6) Tragedy and Comedy in Drama (3 hrs Lecture) This course investigates some of the changing concepts of tragedy and comedy in British and other European drama from the Greek playwrights to Ibsen. The major emphasis of the course will be on the study of plays. Attention will also be given to classical and modern critical theorists.

Requisite Courses: 6 credit hours of First-year English, including ENGL-1001(6) or ENGL-1000(3) [prerequisite(s)].

ENGL-2601 (6) The Novel (3 hrs Lecture) This course will vary in emphasis from year to year. It may consist of an historical overview of the national or international development of prose fiction over several centuries, or it may focus on a major fictional mode (such as 'realism,' for example), or it may concentrate on the formal aspects of the genre. The particular focus will be announced prior to registration. For further details, consult the Department of English website.

Requisite Courses: 6 credit hours of First-year English, including ENGL-1001(6) or ENGL-1000(3) [prerequisite(s)].

ENGL-2603 (3) Short Fiction (3 hrs Lecture) This course considers the short story both in its nineteenth century and contemporary forms. Short fiction in different English-speaking cultures, principally in England, the United States, and Canada, will be discussed.

Requisite Courses: 6 credit hours of First-year English, including ENGL-1001(6) or ENGL-1000(3) [prerequisite(s)].

ENGL-2604 (3) Poetry and Poetic Form (3 hrs Lecture) This course introduces students to various features and forms of poetic discourse. While historical context informs lectures and class discussion, the course focuses on the figural elements of poetry (such as rhythm and rhyme, diction and tone, metaphor and allegory). By engaging in thorough discussions and varied writing assignments, students learn to become more appreciative, critical readers of poetry, and in the process expand the possibilities of their own writing.

Requisite Courses: 6 credit hours of First-year English, including ENGL-1001(6) or ENGL-1000(3) [prerequisite(s)].

ENGL-2612 (3) Science Fiction (3 hrs Lecture) This course explores the literature identified as 'science fiction' in an attempt to define its characteristics and evaluate its strengths and weaknesses. While the texts include some Utopian and satiric fantasies of earlier centuries, the course concentrates on science fiction since H.G. Wells.
Requisite Courses: 6 credit hours of First-year English, including ENGL-1001(6) or ENGL-1000(3) [prerequisite(s)].

ENGL-2613 (3) Fantasy Fiction (3 hrs Lecture) This course analyzes literary works within the fantasy genre in light of contemporary psychoanalytic, feminist, and/or other cultural theories. While the course considers the history of the genre and the "fantastic" as a literary mode, the course concentrates on contemporary fantasy fiction from J.R.R. Tolkien to the present. Particular emphasis is placed on the poetics and politics of "world-building" in fantasy texts, a term that refers to the production of a vast and complex imaginary world whose historical, geographical, ontological, and cultural realities substantially differ from the world(s) inhabited by fantasy's various readerships.
Requisite Courses: 6 credit hours of First-Year English, including ENGL-1001(6) or ENGL-1000(3) [prerequisite(s)].

ENGL-2703 (3) Play Analysis (3 hrs Lecture) This is a practical course for actors, directors, and designers in the analysis of plays in rehearsal and pre-rehearsal situations. A variety of interpretive strategies are developed in approaching the problems of form, character, and theme in plays of different styles and periods. The emphasis is on Stanislavsky-derived techniques.
Note: This course is strongly recommended for all theatre students in the Honours or the General program.
Cross-listed: THFM-2703(3).
Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and THFM-2703.
Requisite Courses: THFM-1001 or THFM-1002 or THFM-1003 or 6 credit hours in first-year English, including ENGL-1001(6) or ENGL-1000(3) [prerequisite(s)].

ENGL-2710 (3) Literature in Translation (3 hrs Lecture) This course focuses on modern non-English literary texts in English translation. Readings may be organized around a genre such as the novel; a critical approach such as post-colonialism or cultural studies; a period such as Romanticism; or specific literary traditions in languages such as French, German, Spanish and Italian. Students should consult the Department of Modern Languages and Literatures for a description of the current offering. This course may be repeated for credit when the topic varies.
Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and MOD-2710.
Requisite Courses: SPAN-2180(3) or FREN-2180(3) or GERM-2209(3) or 6 credit hours of First-Year English including ENGL-1001(6) or ENGL-1003(3) [prerequisite(s)].

ENGL-2722 (3 or 6) Postcolonial Literatures and Cultures (3 hrs Lecture) This course introduces students to postcolonial literatures and cultures. "Postcolonialism" is a critical term used to describe the various social, linguistic, cultural, economic, and political relationships that have existed between imperial powers and the areas they colonized. Key critical concepts in postcolonial studies such as abrogation, hybridity, and transculturation are studied through a close reading and historical, political, and cultural contextualization of literary and other cultural works. Topics may include, but are not limited to, resistance, transformation, diaspora, globalization, and ecological imperialism.

Requisite Courses: 6 credit hours of First-year English, including ENGL-1001(6) or ENGL-1000(3) [prerequisite(s)].

ENGL-2740 (3 or 6) Introduction to African Literatures and Cultures (3 hrs Lecture) This course introduces students to literatures of the African continent, in English, and the cultures out of which they grew, with an extended focus on the literatures of African diasporas. It explores a topic in the field of African literature. Topic areas may be determined by genres, themes, specific national/regional literatures, or a survey of specific literary and cultural movements/traditions of Africa. The course focuses on major debates in the history of African literatures, including how to define African literature, the language of African literature, and the relationships of African literature to imperialism, colonialism, postcolonialism, decolonization, and globalization.
Note: This course may be repeated for credit when the topic varies.
Requisite Courses: 6 credit hours of First-Year English, including ENGL-1001(6) or ENGL-1000(3) [prerequisite(s)].

ENGL-2741 (3 or 6) Asian/North American Literatures and Culture (3 hrs Lecture) This course introduces students to both canonical and non-canonical works by Asian/North American authors written in English (or translated to English). The similarities and differences in historical experiences and literary expressions of Asian/Canadians, Asian/Americans/ and Mexican/Asians may be addressed. Students explore themes including language, intergenerational conflict and trauma, migration, colonialism, colourism, and cultural nationalism through a variety of genres. The course may focus on a specific ethnic or racial community or it may be offered as a pan-Asian/North American survey.
Requisite Courses: 6 credit hours of First-Year English including ENGL-1001(6) or ENGL-1000(3) [prerequisite(s)].

ENGL-2750 (3) Laughter, Love, and Death: Introduction to Classical Literature I (3 hrs Lecture) Homer's Odyssey is a story of greetings and farewells, homecomings and departures, laughter and tears. Starting from a study of the Odyssey, this course traces emotions, gender relations, and human mortality across an assortment of works from the Ancient Mediterranean world. Students read texts in English translation from Archaic Greece to the Roman Empire, in verse and prose, across the genres of epic poetry, history, tragedy and comedy, oratory and more.
Cross-listed: CLAS-2750(3).
Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and CLAS-2750.

ENGL-2751 (3) War, History, and Memory: Introduction to Classical Literature II (3 hrs Lecture) Homer's Iliad is a doom-filled beginning for the literature of war, a literary monument to fate, fear, memory, and loss.

Starting from a study of the Iliad, this course traces conflict, politics, and remembrance across an assortment of works from the Ancient Mediterranean world. Students read texts in English translation from Archaic Greece to the Roman Empire, in verse and prose, across the genres of epic poetry, history, tragedy, and comedy, oratory, and more.

Cross-listed: CLAS-2751(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and CLAS-2751.

ENGL-2802 (3) Syntax (3 hrs Lecture) Syntax is the study of the arrangement of words into groups, clauses and sentences. In this course students use morphological, syntactic, semantic, and lexical criteria to define traditional parts of speech, in order to understand how these combine to form a variety of clauses and sentences types. Form, function, class and structure are introduced from the perspective of systemic functional and communication linguistics. These descriptive frameworks are contrasted with transformational generative models and others.

Cross-listed: ANTH-2403(3) and LING-2003(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ANTH-2403 | LING-2003.

ENGL-2803 (3) Phonetics and Phonology (3 hrs Lecture) This course describes all English consonant and vowel sounds in terms of place and manner of articulation. It also identifies how sounds are organized into syllables and words by studying the concepts of phonemes, allophones and phonological rules. Although the course focuses on English phonology, it also draws heavily on other languages to illustrate the key concepts. Students will be required to master characters and diacritics from the International Phonetic Alphabet.

Cross-listed: ANTH-2401(3) and LING-2001(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ANTH-2401 | LING-2001.

ENGL-2804 (3) Language and Culture (3 hrs Lecture) The course examines how language encodes cultural dialects from different regions and time periods within various social and cultural contexts. Selected British, American, and Canadian dialects are studied from specific historical and contemporary periods. Social factors such as age, gender, ethnicity, class, socio-economic, educational, political, and religious factors are considered from a sociolinguistic perspective. The course also examines language and dialects related to various registers, such as student-teacher classroom exchange, job interviews, work talk, and casual conversation. To examine the differences in these registers, functional and systemic perspectives of communication linguistics are introduced.

Cross-listed: ANTH-2406(3) and LING-2101(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ANTH-2406 | LING-2101.

ENGL-2805 (3) Morphology (3 hrs Lecture) This course introduces students to the concepts and methods of word analysis. Students investigate the nature of morphemes (smallest units of meaning), their different types and functions, and the different ways they are organized into words. The course explores the process of word formation through derivation and compounding as well as grammatical uses of inflectional morphemes. Based largely in English, both lectures and exercises also draw on various other languages to highlight key morphological features and constructs.

Cross-listed: ANTH-2405(3) and LING-2002(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ANTH-2402 | LING-2002.

ENGL-2806 (3) Semantics: Philosophical Foundations

(3 hrs Lecture) Semantics is the branch of linguistics concerned with how we construct meaning using language. It is arguably the most diverse branch, situated between the highly formalizable "inner layers" of phonology, morphology and syntax and the fuzzier "outer layer" of pragmatics. Key ideas covered in the course include: the difference between sense and reference, the application of basic rules in formal logic, prototype theory, componential analysis, and cognitive semantics; how to identify thematic roles in sentences; the functions of noun classifiers, deictics, and adpositions in different languages; and, the nature of metaphors, metonyms and image schemas.

Cross-listed: ANTH-2405(3) and LING-2004(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ANTH-2405 | LING-2004 | PHIL-2374.

ENGL-2922 (3) Topics in Women Writers (3 hrs Lecture) This course focuses on a topic in the field of women writers which varies from year to year. The topic area may be defined by genre; historical period; literary and cultural movement; or local, national, or global communities. Students should consult the English Department Handbook for information about specific iterations of the course. This course may be repeated once when the topic varies.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and WGS-2922.

Requisite Courses: 6 credit hours of First-year English, including ENGL-1001(6) or ENGL-1000(3) [prerequisite(s)].

ENGL-2933 (6) Survey of Women Writers (3 hrs

Lecture) This course offers a select survey of women writers, theorizing about women, and feminist theory from the Middle Ages to the present. Lectures and discussion offer historical, aesthetic, social, theoretical, and literary contexts in which to consider women as subjects, writers, and readers and to consider the material conditions of women at different points in history and in different cultural contexts. The course also consider women in relation to various literary, political, and cultural movements, which may include, but not necessarily limited to, Neoclassicism, Romanticism, Victorianism, Feminism, Decadence, Modernism, Postmodernism, Globalization and Postcolonialism.

Requisite Courses: 6 credit hours of First-Year English, including ENGL-1001 or ENGL-1000 [prerequisite(s)].

ENGL-2981 (3) A History of Writing, Reading, and the Book (3 hrs Lecture) This course introduces students to the history of the book, the material basis of Western literate/literary culture, by exploring writing and reading technologies from the papyrus scroll to the digital screen. It briefly traces the history of producing, reading, preserving, and controlling material texts and covers such topics as writing as handwork, ideologies of reading, the manuscript codex, the invention of printing, the development of mise-en-page, notions of authorship, the reading public, the economics of book trade, and the digital revolution. The course offers a historical and material perspective on the past and present manifestations of literate/literary culture.

Requisite Courses: 6 credits of First-year English, including ENGL-1001(6) or ENGL-1000(3) [prerequisite(s)].

ENGL-3101 (6) Creative Writing Comprehensive (3 hrs Lecture) This course focuses on the fundamentals of creative writing. Students engage in workshops and discussion about the art and craft of writing and the writing process. The readings and assignments are designed to develop skills in creating and editing in various genres dependent on the instructor's choice.

Note: Interested students should submit a ten-page portfolio to the English Department by June 15. This should include writing as is relevant to the genres being taught in that specific year. Enrolment is limited.

Restrictions: Instructor Permission Required.

Requisite Courses: 6 credit hours of First-Year English, including ENGL-1001(6) or ENGL-1000(3), and ENGL-2102(3) and written permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

ENGL-3102 (1) Creative Writing Field Research

(Variable Meeting Hours) This course gives students the opportunity to work in groups with a professional writer for a short period and to engage in off-campus research as inspiration for creative writing projects. Each section takes a unique approach to specific aspects of writing; some sections may be offered entirely off campus.

Note: Interested students should submit a portfolio (five pages of their own writing in any genre) to the English Department by June 15. Please note that this course is one credit hour only and is graded on a Pass/Fail basis. This course may be repeated for credit when the topic varies.

Restrictions: Department Permission Required.

Requisite Courses: 12 credit hours in English and permission of the Department Chair [prerequisite(s)].

ENGL-3110 (3) Writing Creative Non-Fiction (3 hrs Lecture) This course is designed for students who wish to concentrate on writing literary non-fiction. Genres covered may include: personal essay, life writing (including memoir and biography), and literary journalism. Topics may include: structure, voice, ethics, and "truth." This is a workshop-based writing course, for which students will produce original works of creative writing.

Note: Interested students should submit a five-page portfolio of their own creative non-fiction to the Department of English well before registration.

Restrictions: Instructor Permission Required.

Requisite Courses: Take 6 credit hours of First-year English, including ENGL-1001(6) or ENGL-1000(3) and permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

ENGL-3112 (6) Advanced Creative Writing (3 hrs Lecture) This course provides further training in the creative writing for students who have successfully completed ENGL-3101(6) and who submit an appropriate portfolio. Student writing is discussed in workshops and individual conferences, and a major project must be completed. The reading and assignments are designed to expand upon students' writing in various genres dependent on the instructor's choice.

Note: Interested students should submit a ten-page portfolio to the English Department by June 15. This should include writing as is relevant to the genres being taught in that specific year. Enrolment is limited.

Restrictions: Instructor Permission Required.

Requisite Courses: ENGL-3101 and permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

ENGL-3113 (3) Writing Short Fiction (3 hrs Lecture) This course is designed for students who wish to concentrate on the craft of writing fiction, with a focus on the short story. Topics include characterization, dialogue, narrative structure and various elements of style.

Note: Interested students should submit a five-page portfolio of their own fiction to the Department of English by June 15.

Restrictions: Instructor Permission Required.

Requisite Courses: 6 credit hours of First-year English, including ENGL-1001(6) or ENGL-1000(3) and permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

ENGL-3114 (3) Writing Poems (3 hrs Lecture) This course is designed for students who wish to concentrate on the craft of writing poetry. Topics include metre, rhythm, lineation, imagery and various elements of poetic language.

Note: Interested students should submit a five-page portfolio of their own poetry to the Department of English by June 15.

Restrictions: Instructor Permission Required.

Requisite Courses: 6 credit hours of First-year English, including ENGL-1001(6) or ENGL-1000(3) and permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

ENGL-3115 (3) Writing for Children (3 hrs Lecture) This course allows students to explore and practice various forms of writing for children. Students read both successful classics and unconventional works that may question strict definitions of "children's" literature. In any given offering of the course, the instructor might focus on picture books, fiction for young adults, or other forms. Please consult the English Department website for a current course description.

Note: Interested students should submit a five-page portfolio of their own writing (any genre) to the Department of English by June 15.

Restrictions: Instructor Permission Required.

Requisite Courses: ENGL-2102 [prerequisite(s)].

ENGL-3116 (3) Topics in Creative Writing (3 hrs Lecture) This course explores a particular approach to creative writing or a specialized topic in the field of creative writing. The content varies from year to year. The course may focus on a specific genre (e.g., memoir, mystery, or science fiction); an issue of identity (e.g., region, sexuality, or ethnicity); or other topic (e.g., experimental writing; editing; chapbook publishing; or traditions in story-telling). Please consult the English Department website for a detailed course description in any given year. This course may be repeated once when the topic varies.

Restrictions: Instructor Permission Required.

Requisite Courses: 6 credit hours of First-year English, including ENGL-1001(6) or ENGL-1000(3) and permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

ENGL-3117 (3) Poetry for Young People (3 hrs Lecture)

This course explores poetry and poetic forms written for young people. In any given offering of the course, the poetry studied might have an historical dimension, or the course may focus exclusively on contemporary poetry or poetic forms from one or more regions. Attention is paid to the role that ideological figurations of the child, childhood, or adolescence play in poetic constructions of youth and young readers. Poetic forms studied may include, but are not limited to, nursery rhymes, nonsense verse, slam poetry, hip-hop, rap, dub poetry, novels in verse, plays in verse, and poetry written by young people.

Requisite Courses: 6 credit hours of First-year English, including ENGL-1001(6) or ENGL-1000(3) [prerequisite(s)].

ENGL-3118 (3) Topics in Fiction for Young People (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines varieties of narratives produced for children and adolescents from the end of the 19th century to the present. Students explore narrative structures and strategies, as well as theories of children's literature. Topics may include regional literature; global fiction in English for young people; canonical texts and texts that resist mainstream cultures; writing by young people; the forms, production, and reception of narrative; girls' books and boys' books; fantasy; and coming-of-age narratives. This course may be repeated once when the topic varies.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ENGL-2115.

Requisite Courses: 6 credit hours of First-year English, including ENGL-1001(6) or ENGL-1000(3) and 3 credit hours of study in Young People's Texts and Cultures at the 2000 level [prerequisite(s)].

ENGL-3119 (3) Canadian Children's Literatures and Cultures (3 hrs Lecture) This course investigates children's texts in Canada in order to examine various ideologies of Canadian childhood(s). Topics considered may include multiculturalism and its discontents; historical texts and the production of history; nationhood and border anxieties; the performance of gender and sexual identities; and territory, the land, and dis/possession.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ENGL-2116.

Requisite Courses: 6 credit hours of First-year English, including ENGL-1001(6) or ENGL-1000(3) and 3 credit hours in Young People's Texts and Cultures at the 2000 level [prerequisite(s)].

ENGL-3120 (6) Practicum in Literature, Literacy and Language (3 hrs Lecture) Students arrange volunteer work placements with organizations that support literature, literacy, and language development in Manitoba. First, students identify areas of interest, explore the theory and implications of the proposed work, and design the terms of their commitment and accountability within their chosen settings. Then they work at the placement and participate in the seminar so that they may reflect upon and represent their practicum work.

Requisite Courses: 6 credit hours in English at the 2000 level or above [prerequisite(s)].

ENGL-3122 (3) Special Studies I (3 hrs Lecture)

Students interested in advanced study in a specific area should consult the professor with whom they propose to work. Special Studies courses are offered only in exceptional circumstances, and/or only when students can satisfy program requirements in no other way, and only where the course proposal follows departmental guidelines and receives approval from the Departmental Curriculum Committee and the Department Chair.

Restrictions: Department Permission Required.

ENGL-3131 (6) Special Studies II (3 hrs Lecture)

Students interested in advanced study in a specific area should consult the professor with whom they propose to work. Special Studies courses are offered only in exceptional circumstances, and/or only when students can satisfy program requirements in no other way, and only where the course proposal follows departmental guidelines and receives approval from the Departmental Curriculum Committee and the Department Chair.

Restrictions: Department Permission Required.

ENGL-3151 (6) Critical Theory: An Introduction (3 hrs

Lecture) This course examines current theoretical debates in the fields of literary and cultural studies. Students read a range of selected texts in critical theory, from among Marxism, semiotics, psychoanalysis, reader response, post-structuralism, deconstruction, feminism, queer theory, critical race theory, postmodernism, and post colonialism. Although we may read literary and/or other cultural texts, the focus is on theory.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ENGL-2151.

Requisite Courses: 6 credit hours of First-year English, including ENGL-1001(6) or ENGL-1000(3) [prerequisite(s)].

ENGL-3160 (3) Topics in Young People's Cultural and Literary Texts (3 hrs Lecture) This course explores a group of literary, media, or cultural texts for, by and/or about young people that is different in focus from courses in children's literature offered at the 2000 level. Possible topics include girls' books, uses of myth, Indigenous children's texts, teen media texts, gaming and narrative theory, and narratives by and about child soldiers. Consult the English Department website for a description of the course being offered in any given semester. This course may be repeated once when the topic varies.

Requisite Courses: 6 credit hours of First Year English, including ENGL-1001(6) or ENGL-1000(3) [prerequisite(s)].

ENGL-3169 (3) Films for Young People (3 hrs Lecture |

3 hrs Lab) This course explores narrative films for young people, arguably the principal form through which contemporary North American young people encounter narrative. As well as looking at the history of the Hollywood system as this pertains to films for children and adolescents, we also look at the films for and about young people produced by international and independent filmmakers. Some attention is paid to developing strategies and a vocabulary for reading film.

Requisite Courses: 6 credit hours of First-year English, including ENGL-1001(6) or ENGL-1000(3) and 3 credit hours of study in Young People's Texts and Cultures at the 2000 level [prerequisite(s)].

ENGL-3180 (3 or 6) Making Peace and War in Literature and Culture (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines traditional and non-traditional literary and cultural representations of peace and conflict. It raises practical and theoretical questions about representations of violence, death, justice, and hope in relation to gender, ethnicity, nation, culture, creative identities, colonialism, imperialism, memory, and mythology. Throughout, the course explores the potential of the university as a site of peace making.

Requisite Courses: 6 credit hours of First-year English, including ENGL-1001(6) or ENGL-1000(3) [prerequisite(s)].

ENGL-3190 (6) Literature and Film (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines how novels, plays, short stories and historical narratives are associated with and/or adapted to screenplays and films. Attention is given to narrative theory and practices, elements and principles of story design, screenplay as literary genre, the art of adaptation, and interdisciplinary creative processes. Works to be studied range from British and American classics, such as The Scarlet Letter and Portrait of a Lady, to recent Canadian and international feature films, such as The English Patient and A History of Violence.

Requisite Courses: 6 credit hours of First-year English, including ENGL-1001(6) or ENGL-1000(3) [prerequisite(s)].

ENGL-3209 (3 or 6) Eighteenth-Century Studies

Culture (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines Restoration and eighteenth-century British literature, with a consistent attempt to contextualize it within contemporary political, economic, social, and intellectual life. Relevant contexts include the appearance and development of party-system politics: the growth of commercial capitalism, urbanization, and sociability; ongoing debates over the status of women, religious minorities, colonial rule, and the institution of slavery; and the impact on literary culture of an emergent mass reading public. In response to continuing challenges to the established canon of Restoration and eighteenth-century literature, the course may include works once considered representative, as well as works by lesser known writers.

Requisite Courses: 6 credit hours of First-year English, including ENGL-1001(6) or ENGL-1000(3) [prerequisite(s)].

ENGL-3210 (6) Romantic Literature and Culture (3 hrs Lecture) This course introduces students to English literature and culture of the Romantic period (1789-1832). The course not only considers Romanticism as a complex response to a shared set of literary and philosophical anxieties, but also focuses on the interplay between the socio-political concerns of the Romantic period and the literature that the period produced. Touching on topics as contentious as the French Revolution, women's rights, and the slave trade, the course examines the ways in which issues of nationality, race, and gender shaped the work of many of the most influential men and women writers of the day.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ENGL-2211.

Requisite Courses: 6 credit hours of First-year English, including ENGL-1001(6) or ENGL-1000(3) [prerequisite(s)].

ENGL-3211 (6) Victorian Literature and Culture (3 hrs

Lecture) This course examines the formations and transformations in British literature and culture between 1832 and 1901 through an exploration of literary (poetry and prose) and non-literary texts. In any year, the course is organized around several specific themes, such as Empire and colonialism, domesticity, detection and surveillance, childhood, or aestheticism; and several specific methodologies, such as cultural studies, postcolonial studies, gender and sexuality studies, narrative theory, or Marxist theory. Although this course draws on a wide range of non-canonical material, writers whose works we consider include the Brontës, George Eliot, Charles Dickens, Tennyson, the Brownings, Oscar Wilde, and Thomas Hardy.

Requisite Courses: 6 credit hours of First-year English, including ENGL-1001(6) or ENGL-1000(3) [prerequisite(s)].

ENGL-3222 (6) Modernism (3 hrs Lecture) This course studies the literature and culture of the modernist period, from approximately 1910 to 1945, and examines the characteristics and contexts of the period itself. Students study fiction, poetry, drama, and non-fiction from a variety of national contexts and international movements. Depending on the instructor, the course may focus on such modernist movements as imagism, Futurism, Dadaism, and surrealism, and on the political, economic, social, and philosophical contexts of modernity. This course includes a cultural studies approach to investigate the relationships between literature and other cultural forms, such as painting, film, architecture, and music.

Requisite Courses: 6 credit hours of First-year English, including ENGL-1001(6) or ENGL-1000(3) [prerequisite(s)].

ENGL-3225 (6) Contemporary British Literature and Culture (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines the transformations within British literature and culture that have occurred in the contemporary period, with a special consideration of how the idea of 'culture' itself has become integral to the articulation of a post-imperial national identity. Students examine literature alongside film, television, music, and the visual arts in order to comprehend the changes in British culture and society that have come with the transformation of Britain into a multicultural nation and with its efforts to find its geopolitical place in an era of globalization.

Requisite Courses: 6 credit hours of First-year English, including ENGL-1001(6) or ENGL-1000(3) [prerequisite(s)]; ENGL-2142 (must be taken previously or at the same time as this course).

The course may examine a specific artist, nation, genre, or period. This course may be repeated for credit once when the topic varies.

Cross-listed: IS-4717(3)/(6).

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and IS-4717.

Requisite Courses: 6 credit hours of First-year English, including ENGL-1001(6) or ENGL-1000(3) [prerequisite(s)]; ENGL-2003(6) or ENGL-2142(6) or ENGL-2145(6) or ENGL-2146(6) (must be taken previously or at the same time as this course).

ENGL-4720 (3 or 6) American Literature and Culture (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This course focuses on a specific area of study in American literature and culture. For example, it may focus on works from the Harlem Renaissance or the Beat Generation. Alternatively, it may draw on texts from a particular region or ones that address a specific subject. Specific focus depends on the instructor. Students may repeat this course once when the topic varies.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and ENGL-4531 | ENGL-4651.

Requisite Courses: 6 credit hours of First-year English, including ENGL-1001(6) or ENGL-1000(3) [prerequisite(s)]; ENGL-2003(6) or ENGL-2142(6) or ENGL-2145(6) or ENGL-2146(6) (must be taken previously or at the same time as this course).

ENGL-4730 (3 or 6) Postcolonial Literatures and Cultures (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This course investigates some of the central questions in the field of postcolonial studies through an analysis of cultural and theoretical works from one or more of these regions: Africa, the Caribbean, South Asia, the Middle East, and the Pacific Islands. This course may be repeated for credit once when the topic varies.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

Requisite Courses: 6 credit hours of First-year English, including ENGL-1001(6) or ENGL-1000(3) [prerequisite(s)]; ENGL-2003(6) or ENGL-2142(6) or ENGL-2145(6) or ENGL-2146(6) (must be taken previously or at the same time as this course).

ENGL-4740 (3 or 6) Topics in Comparative Literature (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This course focuses on a topic in the field of comparative literature, the study of literatures and cultures, literary history, and theory, across two or more linguistic groups, cultures, or national literatures. Texts originally written in other languages are read in translation normally. Students should consult the English Department web site for information about specific iterations of the course. This course may be repeated once when the topic varies.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

Requisite Courses: 6 credit hours of First-year English, including ENGL-1001(6) or ENGL-1000(3) [prerequisite(s)]; ENGL-2003(6) or ENGL-2142(6) or ENGL-2145(6) or ENGL-2146(6) (must be taken previously or at the same time as this course).

ENGL-4741 (3 or 6) Screen Studies (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This course focuses on a topic in screen studies that varies from year to year. Possible topics may include: genre (e.g., noir, melodrama, documentary); national cinemas (e.g., Canadian, Nigerian, Japanese); literary remediations; identity and representation (e.g., race, Indigeneity); youth culture (e.g., adolescent sexuality, Disney); video games and gaming; new media platforms and technologies; screen practices. In addition to media materials, the course focuses on critical and theoretical questions related to the topic. This course may be repeated for credit once when the topic varies.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

Requisite Courses: 6 credit hours of First Year English, including ENGL-1001(6) or ENGL-1000(3) [prerequisite(s)]; ENGL-2003(6) or ENGL-2142(6) or ENGL-2145(6) or ENGL-2146(6) (must be taken previously or at the same time as this course).

ENGL-4742 (3 or 6) Cultural Studies (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This course focuses on a topic in the field of cultural studies that varies from year to year. The course may focus on a specific critical and methodological approach (reception studies, Marxist cultural analysis, etc.), on a particular school of thought or moment in the field (the Birmingham Centre for Contemporary Cultural Studies; Cultural Studies beyond Britain; the turn to Gramsci in Cultural Studies), or on a particular topic in the field (popular culture; digital culture; fandom; the politics of representation; youth and subcultures; cultures of resistance; etc.) Students may repeat this course once when the topic varies.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

Requisite Courses: ENGL-2003(6) or ENGL-2142(6) or ENGL-2145(6) or ENGL-2146(6) (must be taken previously or at the same time as this course); 6 credit hours in First-Year English, including ENGL-1001(6) or ENGL-1000(3) [prerequisite(s)].

ENGL-4823 (3) Old English Language (3 hrs

Seminar/Discussion) This course provides an introduction to Old English (Anglo-Saxon). The study of sounds, vocabulary, and structure is followed by the translation and analysis of representative Old English literature, mainly prose.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

Requisite Courses: 6 credit hours of First-year English, including ENGL-1001(6) or ENGL-1000(3) [prerequisite(s)]; ENGL-2003(6) or ENGL-2142(6) or ENGL-2145(6) or ENGL-2146(6) (must be taken previously or at the same time as this course).

ENGL-4841 (3) Old English Literature (3 hrs

Seminar/Discussion) This course provides an introduction to the literature of Old English (Anglo-Saxon), by means of translation and analysis of selected prose and poetry, with proper emphasis upon Beowulf.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

Requisite Courses: 6 credit hours of First-year English, including ENGL-1001(6) or ENGL-1000(3) [prerequisite(s)]; ENGL-2003(6) or ENGL-2142(6) or ENGL-2145(6) or ENGL-2146(6) (must be taken previously or at the same time as this course).

ENGL-4901 (3 or 6) Gender, Literature and Culture (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This course focuses on a topic related to gender, literature, and culture that varies from year to year. Possible topic areas are the continued relevance of feminism and feminist theory to literary and cultural studies, queer theory and its impact on how we read texts, and the impact of critical race theory on the study of gender, literature, and culture. This course may be repeated for credit once when the topic varies.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

Requisite Courses: 6 credit hours of First-year English, including ENGL-1001(6) or ENGL-1000(3) [prerequisite(s)]; ENGL-2003(6) or ENGL-2142(6) or ENGL-2145(6) or ENGL-2146(6) (must be taken previously or at the same time as this course).

ENGL-4903 (3 or 6) Critical Race Studies (3 hrs

Seminar/Discussion) This course focuses on topics related to Critical Race Studies, textual representations of people and communities of colour, and theoretical conversations about race and ethnicity. Students are exposed to foundational as well as newer critical perspectives. Specific focus depends on the instructor. This course may be repeated for credit once when the topic varies.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

Requisite Courses: 6 credit hours of First-Year English, including ENGL-1001(6) or ENGL-1000(3) [prerequisite(s)]; ENGL-2003(6) or ENGL-2142(6) or ENGL-2145(6) or ENGL-2146(6) (must be taken previously or at the same time as this course).

ENVIRONMENTAL STUDIES AND SCIENCES

ENV-1600 (3) Human-Environmental Interactions (3 hrs Lecture) This course deals with a variety of topics which illustrate the complexity and diversity of environmental issues. The central theme is "understanding natural processes in the environment" as a means of measuring human impact. Topics dealt with reflect current environmental concerns-for example, global warming, overexploitation, wildlife management, urban issues, health issues.

Note: The Department recommends that students take RHET-1102 or RHET-1103 in their first year of studies as most courses in DESS programs include multiple writing assignments.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ENV-2600.

ENV-2060 (3) Environmental Justice in the Inner City (3 hrs Lecture) Environmental issues can feel overwhelming - they are urgent and everywhere, and impact inner-city places and residents unequally. How do communities take action for environmental justice, to share environmental well-being and protect land, water, air, and people? Students explore the past and present of environmental justice in theory and practice, looking at urban environmental justice internationally and engaging with local issues and movements that inspire hope and action. Through written, oral, and creative hands-on assignments, analyze environmental benefits and burdens through an intersectional lens, explore how environmental injustice is created and maintained, and find strategies for positive change.

Cross-listed: UIC-2060

Experimental Course - This course is offered on a trial basis to gauge interest in the topic. Students who successfully complete this course receive credit as indicated.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and UIC-2060.

ENV-2401 (1) Forest Field Skills Camp (3 hrs Lecture) This intensive two-week field course is mandatory for students in the Forest Ecology program and is designed to give students field survival and basic forestry skills. Topics include bush camp construction; safe use of boats, ATVs, and chainsaws; and basic bush survival skills. Students also learn how to correctly use topographical maps, compasses, air photos, GIS maps and other forestry equipment. This course is offered at University College of the North at The Pas, Manitoba.

Cross-listed: BIOL-2401(1).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and BIOL-2401.

ENV-2416 (3) Sex, Gender, Space, and Place (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines, from interdisciplinary perspectives including those of Women's and Gender Studies, Geography, and Environmental Studies, relationships among sex, gender, space and place in societies, cultures, environments, and ecosystems. Selected relevant topics are considered, such as ecofeminism, the cultural politics and political geography of sex and sexual identities, the gendering and sexing of city landscape and architecture, notions of public and private space, and the space/place in the sociocultural construction of femininity and masculinity. We consider how sex, gender, race, ethnicity, class, sexuality, and other aspects of identity affect the transformation of space into place.

Cross-listed: GEOG-2416(3) and WGS-2416(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and GEOG-2416 | WGS-2416.

Requisite Courses: GEOG-1105 or GEOG-1102 or GEOG-1103, or ENV-1600, WGS-1232 or permission of the instructor or permission of the chair [prerequisite(s)].

ENV-2477 (3) Forest Measurement (3 hrs Lecture) Students study the various methods, techniques, and statistical approaches to measuring tree growth and assessing forest inventory. This course examines individual tree growth and measurement (growth and yield) and the measurement of standing and harvested trees from an inventory and volume perspective.

Note: This course is intended for students enrolled in the Forest Ecology Program in Environmental Studies. Students not in this program but wishing to take this course need the permission of the instructor.

Cross-listed: BIOL-2477(3)

Restrictions: Students cannot receive credit for this course and BIOL-2477.

Requisite Courses: STAT-1301 or STAT-1501 (or the former STAT-1201) or PSYC-2101 or GEOG-2309 (must be taken previously or at the same time as this course).

ENV-2502 (3) Sociology of the Environment (3 hrs Lecture) This course offers an examination of environmental issues and concerns from a sociological perspective. Topics for review include environmental values, attitudes and behaviour; the environmental movement; the political economy of the environment, and environmental risk and risk assessment. Debates surrounding such concepts as sustainable development, deep ecology, environmental justice and global change will also be emphasized.

Cross-listed: SOC-2502(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and SOC-2502.

Requisite Courses: ENV-1600(3) or SOC-1101(6) or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

ENV-2521 (3) Voluntary Simplicity (3 hrs Lecture) Development is increasingly understood as a participatory, deliberate process aimed at enhancing the quality of life for individuals within community. This course examines the concept, theory, and practice of voluntary simplicity as a means of development for individuals seeking environmentally sustainable alternatives to consumer values and culture. The course explores both the historical roots of voluntary simplicity and its modern expressions and is informed by the understanding that effective conflict resolution practice is enhanced by building emotional well-being, vibrant community, sustainable environment, and social justice.

Cross-listed: CRS-2521(3), IDS-2521(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and CRS/IDS-2521.

Requisite Courses: ENV-1600(3) or IDS-1100(6) or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

ENV-2603 (3) Environmental Sustainability: A Global Dilemma (3 hrs Lecture) This course focuses on environmental factors relevant to understanding and implementing sustainable development. Its aim is to teach students to understand and appreciate fundamental ecological principles within the context of social values and technological constraints. Moreover, the course seeks to equip students to assess environmental problems from an interdisciplinary perspective, and to develop strategies that might solve these problems. Topics or issues that may be addressed include: ecosystem dynamics; feedback in environmental processes; the concepts of carrying capacities and population thresholds; optimum yield theory; loss of biodiversity; overconsumption and overpopulation; deforestation, desertification and pollution; energy demand versus supply; urbanization trends; global warming; ozone layer depletion; resource management, conservation, and recovery; and environmental monitoring and impact assessment.

Cross-listed: IDS-2603(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and IDS-2603.

Requisite Courses: ENV-1600 or IDS-1100 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

ENV-2604 (3) Environment and Health (3 hrs Lecture) There is growing concern amongst the scientific community, media, and general public that environmental chemical contamination may be responsible for some human and ecosystem health problems. This course provides a scientific overview of selected chemical contamination issues, discusses relative risks of recognized and potential hazards, and assesses possible technical and regulatory solutions. Topics may include stratospheric ozone depletion, tropospheric air pollution, acid rain, greenhouse gas emissions, anthropogenic pollutants such as PCBs and perfluorinated chemicals, and other relevant issues. A knowledge of high school level chemistry is useful, but not absolutely necessary.

Requisite Courses: ENV-1600(3) or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

ENV-3004 (3) Women, Health and the Environment (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This course introduces students to a number of pertinent issues and questions feminists are dealing with when considering women, health and the environment. We investigate how women, health and the environment intersect and explore some of the repercussions of particular environmental situations (including, but not limited to, environmental pollution, nuclear radiation, and synthetic hormones) on women's physical, emotional, spiritual and psychological health. We also study the ways in which feminists are researching and calling attention to the injustice of environmental degradation on women's health and various feminist strategies developed in challenging dangerous environmental practices.

Cross-listed: WGS-3004(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and WGS-3004.

Requisite Courses: WGS-1232(6) or the former WGS-2300 or the former WGS-2301 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

ENV-3025 (3) Issues in Sustainable Cities (3 hrs Lecture) This course addresses issues of sustainable urban development. Topics may include the following: world population growth and urbanization in developed and developing countries; the impact of technology, trade, and commercial globalization on urban environments; the degradation of land, water, and air inside of cities and in their bio-regions; the consumption of fossil fuels and the local and global impact of their combustion; the politics of sustainable urban development; the role of planning and urban administrative practices and policies in environmental degradation and mitigation; and the place of local environmental initiatives in national environmental actions.

Cross-listed: UIC-3025(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and UIC-3025.

Requisite Courses: GEOG-2414(3) or the former GEOG-2404, or UIC-1001(6) or permission of the instructor (must be taken previously or at the same time as this course).

ENV-3035 (3) Law and the Environment (3 hrs Lecture) This course provides an introduction to Canadian environmental law, including constitutional, common law, and statutory regimes. Topics include endangered species, air, water and waste management, toxic pollutants, contaminated land, resource development, the division of constitutional powers, regulatory approaches, environmental assessment, monitoring and enforcement, and environmental torts. Students consider the socio-economic, political, and scientific backgrounds of environmental problems. Current Manitoba examples illustrate these concepts, problems and solutions.

Requisite Courses: ENV-1600 [prerequisite(s)].

ENV-3419 (3) Geography & Environmental Studies and Sciences Internship

(Apprenticeship/Internship/Practicum Seminar/Discussion with variable meeting hours) The internship provides students with an opportunity to integrate academic learning volunteer placements with local organizations, including local non-for-profits and corporations. Students provide service to the community while gaining the benefit of practitioner experience. Students are matched based on the skills, interests and the needs of the host. Assessment is based on the host's evaluation and work submitted by the student (assessed by the faculty instructor). The grade is pass/fail. The cohort will meet together at least three times per semester.

Cross-listed: GEOG-3419(3).

Experimental Course - This course is offered on a trial basis to gauge interest in the topic. Students who successfully complete this course receive credit as indicated.

Restrictions: Instructor Permission Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and GEOG-3419.

Requisite Courses: GEOG-2419 [prerequisite(s)].

ENV-3471 (3) Forest Ecology (3 hrs Lecture) This course provides an integrative, interdisciplinary discussion on structure and function of forest ecosystems, with a special reference to boreal forests in North America. Topics to be covered will include the following: the concept of ecosystem studies; global and local variations in forest type; forest ecosystem classification; processes controlling ecosystem structure and function; disturbances, succession, and ecosystem function of boreal forests; and computer modelling in ecosystem studies.

Cross-listed: BIOL-3471(3)

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and BIOL-3471.

Requisite Courses: BIOL-2403 or GEOG-2213 and GEOG-2214 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

ENV-3473 (3) Principles of Silviculture (3 hrs Lecture) This course integrates biological principles of tree growth and regeneration (silvics) with the application of this knowledge to forest management (silviculture). Silvics is defined as biological life histories and environmental requirement of forest trees. Silviculture is the theory and practice of influencing forest regeneration, species composition, and growth to accomplish a variety of resource management objectives. Silvicultural practices include coverage of even-aged and uneven-aged management, and ecological reforestation principles and techniques.

Cross-listed: BIOL-3473(3)

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and BIOL-3473

Requisite Courses: BIOL-2153 and BIOL-2403 or permission of instructor [prerequisite(s)].

ENV-3476 (3) Forest Policy and Management (3 hrs Lecture) This course addresses the principles and practices of sustainable forestry in Canada. Topics include evolution of the forest industry including past and current forest policy and practices. Important aspects of harvesting, reforestation, forest protection, private woodlot forestry, natural products and First Nations forestry are discussed. The role of the forest industry in Canada is examined within the larger context of government regulation, multi-resource management, multi-stakeholder processes, and global markets. The environmental impact of forest management activities on natural landscapes is reviewed under ever changing environmental codes and restrictions and the need to produce green products.

Cross-listed: BIOL-3476(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and BIOL-3476.

ENV-3602 (3) Environmental Governance for Sustainability (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines current theoretical and analytical approaches useful for understanding environmental governance in today's complex problem domains. Focusing on the human dimensions of environmental resources, students examine major approaches to understanding complex human-environmental issues, such as conventional environmental problem solving, framing and discourse analysis; and social ecological systems thinking. Students develop a conceptual foundation and the analytical abilities needed to assess environmental governance concepts, issues, and cases associated with "wicked" environmental governance settings.

Requisite Courses: ENV-1600(3) or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

ENV-3603 (3) Winnipeg and the Environment: A Case Study Approach (3 hrs Lecture) This course focuses on the particular problems facing the City of Winnipeg in its interaction with the environment. Students are required to participate in an in-class strategic planning session to select issues and concerns that become the case study content of the course. Municipal planning initiatives are used to select the issues, to define their scope, and to propose policy and program solutions. The course format involves small interactive group discussions led by the students and facilitated by the instructor. A high level of student participation is expected.

Cross-listed: UIC-3603(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and UIC-3603.

Requisite Courses: ENV-1600 or the former ENV-2600 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

ENV-3606 (3) The Environment and Business (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines practical examples of ways in which business operations have responded to environmental and sustainability challenges and opportunities. The course provides an historical perspective on corporate environmentalism and covers current topics such as self-regulation and voluntary initiatives, environmental management systems, product stewardship, life-cycle analysis, industrial ecology, toxics use reduction, strict liability and due diligence, and sustainable performance management. The course uses case studies from Canada and elsewhere, including developing nations, to illustrate the issues, problems, and solutions discussed.

Requisite Courses: ENV-1600 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

ENV-3607 (3) Forests and the Environment (3 hrs Lecture) This course is intended to provide students with the fundamental knowledge of the interactions between human and forest ecosystems. It examines current forestry practices and studies new alternatives in forest resources management based on our growing knowledge of the natural dynamics of these ecosystems. The concepts underlying forest sustainability and forest conservation in a changing world are discussed. Using the boreal forest as an example, students will acquire an understanding of natural ecosystem dynamics and of proposed alternatives in forestry practices. The effects of global climate change and increasing human pressure on our forests are also examined.

Requisite Courses: BIOL-2403(3) or the former BIOL-3403 [prerequisite(s)].

ENV-3608 (3) Forest Wildlife Management (3 hrs Lecture) This course focuses on the management of wildlife populations in forested environments in Canada.

Students participate in an examination of forest biodiversity including discussion of terrestrial and aquatic species, ecosystems, conservation strategies, coarse and fine filter approaches, forest fragmentation, core habitat ranges, management at forest stand and landscape levels and how animals use forest habitats. Topics include habitat supply and modelling, population monitoring methods, the cumulative effects of forest management activities, legislation and guidelines, role of endangered species, adaptive forest management and the importance of terrestrial and wetland classification.

Requisite Courses: ENV-3607(3) [prerequisite(s)].

ENV-3609 (3) Research Methods and Design (3 hrs Lecture | 3 hrs Lab) This course is a prerequisite for the Research Projects course (ENV-3610(3)) and teaches students the steps and methods required to produce a successful research project. Students learn to develop a clear research question, form hypotheses and predictions and formulate a study with the appropriate measurements and design structure. Students are shown examples of experimental and other designs and methods used in the natural and social sciences. Finally, students develop a research design for their own project used in the Research Projects course.

Note: ENV-3609L must be taken concurrently.

Requisite Courses: GEOG-2309(3) or STAT-1201(6) or STAT-1501(3) or permission of the Department Chair [prerequisite(s)]; ENV-3609L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

ENV-3610 (3) Research Projects (3 hrs Lecture) This course teaches students to understand, develop, and complete research projects with relevance to real world situations. The primary objective is to help students develop research skills for the workplace. Students are required to undertake a research project in an area of environmental interest, typically using proposals developed in ENV-3609(3). Presentation of results, both orally and in written form, is required. Students work closely with the instructor or another member of the faculty and an external advisor from the community during completion of the project. Research projects are designed to assist community groups, government departments, private sector firms or other organizations.

Requisite Courses: ENV-3609(3) and a minimum of 60 credit hours towards their degree or permission of the Department Chair [prerequisite(s)].

ENV-3611 (3) Environmental Toxicology (3 hrs Lecture) This course provides an understanding of how and why chemicals may damage humans and other organisms. Basic principles of toxicology and environmental chemical exposure are covered, and detailed analysis is presented of the body's defences against toxicants and the physiological and/or biochemical mechanisms by which toxicants cause effects. Toxicological modeling and environmental risk assessment are introduced. Students apply these principles to explore emerging topics of interest in their own disciplines.

Cross-listed: CHEM-3611(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and CHEM-3611.

Requisite Courses: CHEM-1111 and CHEM-1112 or BIOL-1115 and BIOL-1116 [prerequisite(s)].

ENV-3612 (3) Environmental Impacts of Agriculture (3 hrs Lecture) The course provides a comprehensive knowledge on impacts of agriculture on the environment. It focuses on the global food production trends in meeting the growing population needs and the positive and negative impacts of agriculture on the environment, emphasizing the impacts on (a) the atmosphere and stratosphere resulting in global climate change and air pollution, (b) the hydrosphere resulting in water deficits and pollution, (c) the lithosphere soil degradation and (d) the biosphere through habitat degradation, overharvesting, and genetic pollution, causing biodiversity loss. The course also provides the conceptual knowledge required to produce food in an ecologically sustainable manner.

Requisite Courses: ENV-1600 or GEOG-2401 [prerequisite(s)].

ENV-4450 (3) Geographic Perspectives on Environment and Sustainability (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This course considers geographic and environmental approaches to sustainable staple-based development. Topics include conceptual and methodological tools and frameworks associated with resource management, including impact assessment, meaningful engagement, community-based management, corporate social responsibility, post approval practices and adaptive management. In critiquing current practices, students reflect on innovations designed to move towards more sustainable development. This course may be held concurrent with GDP/GEOG 7750. Student evaluation will differ depending on the level.

Cross-listed: GEOG-4450(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and GEOG-4450, GEOG-7750, and GDP-7750.

Requisite Courses: 18 credit hours in Geography or 18 credit hours in Environmental Studies and Sciences [prerequisite(s)].

ENV-4451 (2) Forest Ecosystems Field Course (3 hrs Field Study) This is an intensive three-week field course designed to give students a comprehensive overview of forest ecology field skills. Topics include field and laboratory exercises in boreal and urban forestry; tree and plant identification; classification of forest types; forest management and environmental impact; soil classification; forest succession; dendrochronology; forest measurement; forest protection and silviculture.

Note: This course is intended for students enrolled in the Forest Ecology and Forest Policy and Management Program in Environmental Studies and Sciences. Students not in this program but wishing to take this course need the permission of the instructor.

Cross-listed: BIOL-4451(3)

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and BIOL-4451

Requisite Courses: BIOL-2153 and BIOL-2403 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

ENV-4473 (3) Dendrochronology: Principles and Applications (3 hrs Lecture | 3 hrs Lab) This course constitutes an introduction to dendrochronology; the science of tree-ring analysis. Dendrochronology is particularly appropriate for students with interests in the chronological and dynamical aspects of tree growth, forest ecology, climatology, hydrology, geomorphology, and anthropology/archaeology. The history, principles and applications of dendrochronology are reviewed in this course. Problems related to the sampling and dating of tree-ring series; the development of chronological series, the analysis and interpretation of dendrochronological data are also emphasized. This course includes a compulsory field trip during the second or third weekend of the course.

Cross-listed: BIOL-4473(3)

Restrictions: Students cannot hold credit for this course and BIOL-4473.

Requisite Courses: BIOL-2403 and BIOL-2153 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)]; ENV-4473L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

ENV-4474 (3) Forest Health and Protection (3 hrs Lecture) This course focuses on the effect of fire, insect, disease, and abiotic disturbances on the sustainable management of commercial forests in Canada. The course covers historic practices, current activities, and future trends in protecting commercial forests and ensuring the integrity of forest ecosystems. Students focus on the impact of forest health activities on the general ecological components of forest systems and the relationship between forest successions. Students examine the evolution of Canadian forestry protection policy and industry regulation.

Cross-listed: BIOL-4474(3)

Restrictions: Students cannot hold credit for this course and BIOL-4474.

Requisite Courses: BIOL-2403 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

ENV-4475 (3) Urban Forestry (3 hrs Lecture | 3 hrs Lab) This course focuses on the biology, ecology, and management of urban forests. Students examine the impact of both natural and human-induced stresses on the urban forest, including forest protection and enhancement in relation to other competing interests in the urban environment. Students discuss the development of urban forest planning and management. Students study the role of Canadian policies and regulations in influencing urban forest tree species and integration of urban forests into our communities.

Restrictions: Students cannot hold credit for this course and BIOL-4475.

Requisite Courses: BIOL-2403 or permission of instructor [prerequisite(s)]; ENV-4475L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

ENV-4611 (3) Environmental Impact Assessment (3 hrs Lecture | 3 hrs Lab) This course explores the methodology of environmental impact assessment (EIA). Students learn about various types of EIA, the components of EIA review, the regulatory aspects of EIA and how to complete their own EIA. Students undertake EIA examples in both written and oral form.

Requisite Courses: Completion of at least 60 credit hours towards degree or permission of the Department Chair [prerequisite(s)]; ENV-4611L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

ENV-4613 (3) Directed Research in Environmental Studies and Sciences (3 hrs Project / Thesis) Students undertake research in their areas of interest. The research may take the form of a literature review, an experiment, or involve analysis of existing data. Evaluation is based on a written submission summarizing student findings.

Requisite Courses: ENV-1600 [prerequisite(s)].

ENV-4614 (3) Critical Environmental Issues (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines current issues of controversy and public concern in environmental studies and environmental science. The content varies from year to year and students should consult the Environmental Studies and Sciences Department for a more detailed description of topic areas in terms in which the course is offered.

Requisite Courses: ENV-1600(3) or permission of the Department Chair [prerequisite(s)].

ENV-4615 (3) Environmental Soil Science (3 hrs Lecture) The course provides students with a comprehensive knowledge of environmental issues related to soil science emphasizing the significant role soil plays in sustaining environmental quality. It focuses on soil functions, soil quality, environmental significance of soil properties and processes, ecological implications of soil-water-nutrient interactions, fate and transport of contaminants in soils, and environmental impact of soil erosion, all of which are interconnected to current environmental issues such as global warming, water pollution, soil degradation, atmospheric pollution etc. The course also aims to provide the conceptual knowledge required to manage soil on a scientifically-based, environmentally friendly, and ecologically sustainable manner.

Requisite Courses: GEOG-2213(3) and CHEM-1112(3) or the former CHEM-1101(6) or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

ENV-4616 (3) Campus Sustainability (3 hrs Project / Thesis) Students complete a project designed to assist with improving the university's sustainability performance. Project topics stem from the university's sustainability plan and are developed in consultation with the Campus Sustainability Office and other stakeholders. Topic areas include air quality, climate change, education, finance and procurement, governance, land use, transportation, waste diversion, water quality and management, and well-being. Students work in a collaborative team setting and are required to submit a written project plan and present their project outcomes orally and in writing.

Restrictions: Students may not receive credit for this course and ENV-4614 when the topic was Critical Environmental Issues: Campus Sustainability.

Requisite Courses: ENV-1600 or permission of the Instructor [prerequisite(s)].

ENV-4617 (3) Ecology and Management of Species at Risk (3 hrs Lecture) This course focuses on management and policy related to species at risk. Students learn what constitutes a species at risk and review the factors, both natural and human induced, that can cause a species to become at risk. Students gain a thorough understanding of the assessment criteria used to determine listing under provincial and federal endangered species legislation and of the legislation and policy framework that governs management of species at risk. Students examine management principles and practices for the recovery of species at risk and the prevention of species endangerment.

Restrictions: Students may not receive credit for this course and ENV-4614 when the topic (or subject) was Critical Environmental Issues: Ecology and Management of Species at Risk.

Requisite Courses: ENV-1600 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

ENV-4701 (6) Honours Environmental Studies and Sciences Thesis (3 hrs Project / Thesis)

This course provides an opportunity for students to undertake a project of personal interest under the guidance of a faculty member or equivalent and the Course Coordinator. Practical experience is provided in research design and methodology, data analysis, in the oral and written presentation of the findings, and participation in academic conferences. This course is intended to provide students with a solid background for entry into graduate programs or research-oriented careers.

Note: Enrolment in this course is limited by the availability of faculty to serve as supervisors. Students must obtain written permission from the Department Chair to register for this course. A written agreement between the student and the faculty supervisor is required before permission is granted.

Restrictions: Department Permission Required. Honours Form Required.

Requisite Courses: GEOG-2309(3) and ENV-4611(3), and 30 credit hours in Environmental Studies with a minimum 3.0 GPA (B) in honours subject courses [prerequisite(s)].

FRENCH STUDIES

FREN-1100 (3) Elementary French 1 (3 hrs Lecture | 1 hrs Lab) This course is designed for students with no prior training in French. It focuses on basic grammatical and lexical skills, such as common verbs in simple tenses, interrogative and negative sentences, daily life greetings and conversation. Students focus on basic skills in oral and written comprehension and expression in class. In the weekly one-hour lab (travaux pratiques) students practice grammar aiming at vocabulary acquisition, and greater ease with morphology and syntax. Students complete short reading and writing tasks designed to develop a good foundation for future courses. This course does not count towards the major.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and the former FREN-1001.

Prerequisite: Placement test or permission of the department.

Requisite Courses: FREN-1100L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

FREN-1102 (3) Elementary French 2 (3 hrs Lecture | 1 hrs Lab) This course is designed for students with a basic knowledge of French. Students learn grammatical and lexical foundations, such as past and future tenses, the subjunctive mood (for expressing emotions), the conditional present (to discuss hypothetical situations), pronouns (to avoid redundancy). Vocabulary used to discuss abstract concepts is introduced. Language comprehension and expression skills are practiced in class (e.g. short texts, songs, or poems are presented and discussed). The weekly one-hour lab (travaux pratiques) is dedicated to developing greater ease with using vocabulary, morphology, and syntax. Writing tasks include composing sentences and paragraphs.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and FREN-1001.

Requisite Courses: Placement test or FREN-1100(3) [prerequisite(s)]; FREN-1102L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

FREN-1103 (3) Elementary French 3 (3 hrs Lecture | 1 hrs Lab) This course is intended for students with some knowledge of French wishing to bring their proficiency up to the entrance level for a Major or Minor in French. The focus is on the review of basic grammatical skills (e.g. pronouns, past tenses, simple sentences), and on the gradual acquisition of complex structures (e.g. subordinate clauses, tenses of the conditional and the subjunctive). Lexical skills are targeted through reading activities (e.g. magazine articles, short poems or narratives) and by listening to audio documents (e.g. songs, video clips). The weekly one-hour lab (travaux pratiques) is dedicated to developing greater ease with using vocabulary, morphology, and syntax. Writing tasks evolve from shorter to longer sentences and to compositions.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and FREN-1111 | FREN-1112.

Requisite Courses: Placement test, or FREN-1102(3), or the former FREN-1001(6) [prerequisite(s)]; FREN-1103L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

FREN-1104 (3) Intermediate French 1 (3 hrs Lecture | 1 hrs Lab) This course is intended for students with a working knowledge of basic French. The focus is on the review of previously acquired grammatical and syntactical skills, and on the acquisition of new skills (e.g. past and compound tenses, conjunctions and expression of cause and effect). Lexical skills are targeted through reading activities (e.g. newspaper articles, poems, short stories). Writing tasks include compositions. The weekly one-hour lab (travaux pratiques) is dedicated to developing greater ease with using vocabulary, morphology, and syntax.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and FREN-1111 | FREN-1112.

Requisite Courses: Placement test or FREN-1103(3) [prerequisite(s)]; FREN-1104L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

FREN-2105 (3) Intermediate French 2 (3 hrs Lecture | 1 hrs Lab) This course is intended for students with a working knowledge of intermediate French wishing to undertake a program in French Studies (literature or linguistics), or to improve their written French for other disciplines. The focus is on perfecting grammatical and syntactical skills (e.g. direct and indirect speech, the passive, and complex sentences) through short writing activities. The weekly one-hour lab (travaux pratiques) is dedicated to developing greater ease with using vocabulary, morphology, and syntax.

Requisite Courses: Placement test, or FREN-1104, or the former FREN-1111, or the former FREN-1112 [prerequisite(s)]; FREN-2105L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

FREN-2110 (3) Composition and Grammar (3 hrs Lecture | 1 hrs Lab) This course is designed to improve students' written and grammatical command of French. Major modes are introduced (descriptive, narrative, and argumentative), with the grammatical tools required in the writing and editing process (e.g. complex sentences, conjunctions, adverbs, spelling). Model texts are presented and assignments focus on writing in a variety of genres (e.g. descriptions, narratives, summaries, reviews). Activities consist of writing sentences, paragraphs and essays, while practicing French syntax. The weekly one-hour lab (travaux pratiques) is dedicated to language practice through games, debates, and thematic presentations aiming at vocabulary acquisition, and greater ease with morphology and syntax.

Requisite Courses: FREN-2105(3), or Placement test, or the former FREN-1111(6), or the former FREN-1112(6) or permission of the department [prerequisite(s)]; FREN-2110L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

FREN-2114 (3) English-French Translation (3 hrs Lecture) This course in translation from English to French serves a dual purpose: to give students an opportunity to expand their French vocabulary and grammatical skills and to initiate them to specific written styles in the target language (French). To this end, a number of recurring semantic, grammatical and syntactic features of French will be studied through shorter translation exercises and through the translation of longer documents, e.g., newspaper articles, business letters or scientific abstracts.

Requisite Courses: FREN-2110; or placement test, or the former FREN-2109 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

FREN-2115 (3) French-English Translation (3 hrs Lecture) In this course the principles of translation from French into English will be introduced. The lexicon and stylistics of the target language (English) will be discussed in relation to different styles and registers. Students will translate authentic texts from a variety of contexts such as literary, commercial, journalistic and scientific. Literary translation will focus on descriptive and narrative components; practical texts will include advertisements, newspaper articles and scientific magazine articles.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and FREN-2112.

Requisite Courses: FREN-2110(3), or placement test, or the former FREN-2109(3) or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

FREN-2116 (3) French for Business (3 hrs Lecture) This practical course is intended primarily to teach students to communicate effectively in business situations with an emphasis on the Canadian context. To this end, course materials include situational texts reflecting business activities and covering a range of topics (e.g., office and computer, financial institutions, marketing and advertising). The course is designed to expand language skills already acquired as well as to present the specialized vocabulary and idioms used in the business environment. Extensive exercises in vocabulary, comprehension, business writing and correspondence are included.

Requisite Courses: FREN-2110, or placement test, or the former FREN-2109, or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

FREN-2180 (3) Introduction to French Literature (3 hrs Lecture) This course gives students the foundational skills required to read and write in French about literature. Students are introduced to the terms and tools of analysis necessary for a critical reading of modern literary texts which are drawn from different genres and a variety of areas of the francophone world, such as Canada, France, Africa and the Caribbean. Some class time is devoted to the development of writing skills.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and FREN-1381.

Requisite Courses: FREN-2105(3), or placement test, or the former FREN-1111(6), or the former FREN-1112(6) or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

FREN-2182 (3) Francophone Canadian Literature Before the 1960s (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines the francophone literature of Canada from its modern origins at the end of the 19 century to the mid-20 century. Works by women and men from Acadia, Manitoba and Quebec are examined with an emphasis on the central role played by Quebec in the creation of modern Canadian francophone literature. Authors studied may include Riel, Nelligan, Grandbois, Melanson, Savard, Guèvremont and

Roy. Novels, drama and poetry are analyzed using literary theories drawn from social realism/sociocritique and narratology. Periodic class discussions will take a table ronde format.

Requisite Courses: FREN-2105, or placement test, or the former FREN-1111, or the former FREN-1112, or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

FREN-2183 (3) Francophone Canadian Literature After 1960 (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines the francophone literature of Canada from the mid-twentieth century to the present day. Students examine works by authors from Acadia, Manitoba and Quebec, as well as by writers known as les écrivains migrants, with emphasis on the central role played by the novel and by the Révolution tranquille in the development of contemporary Canadian francophone literature. The course may include works of Blais, Miron, Ducharme, Tremblay, Hébert, Maillet, Chen, Chiasson and Léveillé. Novels, drama and poetry are analyzed using literary theories drawn from narratology and narrative/ semiotics discursive. Periodic class discussions will take a table ronde format.

Requisite Courses: FREN-2105(3), or placement test, or the former FREN-1111(6), or the former FREN-1112(6) or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

FREN-2202 (3) Phonetics (3 hrs Lecture | 1 hrs Lab) This course presents the theory and practice of French phonetics and phonology. Theory covers the acoustics and physiology of speech, the International Phonetic Alphabet, the description of French vowels, consonants, articulation features (assimilation, liaison, etc.), and prosodic patterns (syllabation, rhythm, intonation, etc.). Practical applications include phonetic transcription, orthoepy (the relationship between pronunciation and orthography) and a lab program aiming at oral performance.

Cross-listed: LING-2301(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and LING-2301.

Requisite Courses: FREN-2105, or placement test, or the former FREN-1112, or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)]; FREN-2202L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

FREN-2205 (3) Culture and Society in Contemporary France (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines major cultural and historical aspects of contemporary French society (e.g. the social system, the Fifth Republic, feminism, the role of Paris). The theoretical approach is comparative (e.g. Roland Barthes, Richard Hoggart, and E.T. Hall). Course material is presented through several media (e.g. songs, comics, film, political speeches). As they learn about diverse and iconic elements of French culture, students are given opportunities to develop their reading, speaking and writing skills.

Requisite Courses: FREN-2105, or placement test, or the former FREN-1111, or the former FREN-1112, or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

FREN-2207 (3) Society and Cultures in Quebec and in Francophone Manitoba after 1960 (3 hrs Lecture) This course offers an introduction to the cultures of Francophone Canada, with emphasis on the cultural expression of the Francophone communities in Manitoba, as well as on that of Quebec. Students study cultural material such as journalistic articles, festivals, film, television, music, comics and advertising in historical, social and political context. The development of Francophone cultures in minority contexts is central to the course. Students examine changing representations of women, the formation and evolution of national consciousness in Quebec and questions about what it means to be Francophone or Quebecois in a diverse society.

Requisite Courses: FREN-2105 or the former FREN-1111(6) or the former FREN-1112(6) or placement test or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

FREN-2383 (3) Introduction to Text Analysis (3 hrs Lecture) This course is designed to acquaint students with text analysis by introducing an array of methods to analyze and comment on literary texts of different genres and periods. Students learn to recognize, study and appreciate the elements of style and content. They also acquire practical skills through the presentation of exposés in oral and written forms.

Requisite Courses: FREN-2105, or placement test, or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

FREN-2384 (3) Literary Avant-Garde in French (1900-1950) (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines the concept of "avant-garde" in early twentieth century French literatures in Europe, the Antilles and Canada. We analyze texts from the Manifeste Dada (1918) through André Breton's Manifeste du surréalisme (1924) and Aimé Césaire's poetry to the Refus Global (1948) in Quebec. The course focuses on literary and cultural comparisons. It investigates various aspects of Modernism, such as aesthetic autonomy and the relationship between art and politics. The course works across genres and national literatures. Students learn about modernist movements and contexts: dada, futurism, surrealism, expressionism, theatre of the absurd and the négritude mouvement.

Requisite Courses: FREN-2105, or placement test, or the former FREN-1111(6), or the former FREN-1112(6), or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

FREN-2385 (3) Twentieth Century French Writers and Thinkers (3 hrs Lecture) French works from the '50s to the present day are studied in this course. Major literary trends and movements - existentialism, le nouveau roman and postmodernism - are analysed in fiction, poetry and essay by writers such as Sartre, Camus, Ponge and Yourcenar.

Requisite Courses: FREN-2105, or placement test, or the former FREN-1111(6), or the former FREN-1112(6), or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

FREN-2481 (3) Nineteenth-Century French Prose (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines the development of prose in nineteenth-century France. Works representing the main literary movements (Romanticism, Realism, and Naturalism) will be selected, as much as possible, from both male and female authors. These may include Stendhal, Balzac, Sand, Flaubert, Maupassant, and Zola. Students will be introduced to basic techniques of textual appreciation and commentary.

Requisite Courses: FREN-2105, or placement test, or the former FREN-1111(6), or the former FREN-1112(6), or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

FREN-2482 (3) Nineteenth-Century French Poetry and Drama (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines the development of nineteenth-century poetry and drama. The evolution of theatre from the drame romantique to the théâtre fin-de-siècle will be studied through selected works of such authors as Hugo, Musset, and Rostand. Poetry will include a selection from the romantic, parnassian, and symbolist schools (e.g. Desbordes-Valmore, Gautier, Baudelaire). Students will be introduced to basic techniques of textual appreciation and commentary.

Requisite Courses: FREN-2105, or placement test, or the former FREN-1111(6), or the former FREN-1112(6), or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

FREN-2609 (3) Decolonizing Voice: Francophone Indigenous Literature (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines the responses of Indigenous writers and artists (through novels, poems, plays and movies) to colonial structures and colonial discourse in Canada. All works are read in French. Indigenous guests are invited to the class and the students are asked to attend events in the Indigenous community as part of their course requirement. Students finish the course with a good understanding of Canada's historic relationship with Indigenous Canadians and how Canadians and how colonialism still affects present relationships.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and FREN-3609.

Requisite Courses: FREN-2105, or placement test, or the former FREN-1111, or the former FREN-1112, or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

FREN-3111 (6) Comparative Stylistics and Translation (3 hrs Lecture) In this course, French is studied by being contrasted with English in a comparative lexicology and comparative grammar approach. Linguistic divergence is examined at the lexical level (e.g. semantic values, stylistic variants, linguistic interference), the grammatical and syntactic levels (e.g. gender, modifiers, modal auxiliaries, word order), and the pragmatic level, with a focus on cultural strategies (e.g. sentence segmentation into translation units, modulation, grammatical transposition). Translation strategies are explored so as to address the distinctive lexical, grammatical, syntactic, and pragmatic features of each language.

Cross-listed: LING-3311(6).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and LING-3311.

Requisite Courses: 6 credit hours in 2000-level French Studies courses, including 3 credit hours in 2000-level language or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

FREN-3202 (3) Géolinguistique française (French Geolinguistics) (3 hrs Lecture) This course presents contemporary varieties of French in Canada and other parts of the Francophone World. After a brief introduction to linguistic change from early dialects to today's international norm, the course focuses on regional variation particularly in Canada and North America, major geolinguistic concepts (e.g. regionalism, isogloss), and fieldwork methods. Sound documents are explored for their vocabulary and grammar, to help students expand their communication skills in different environments, as they become more familiar with different varieties of French.

The Honours level concentrates on methodology and linguistic data analysis (e.g. lexicometry, linguistic atlases).

Cross-listed: LING-3303(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and FREN-4202 | LING-3303 | LING-4303.

Requisite Courses: 6 credit hours in 2000-level French language/linguistics or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

FREN-3204 (3) French Morphology and Syntax (3 hrs Lecture) Based on the analysis of modern French, this course presents fundamental linguistic concepts, including nature and types of monemes, distributional and syntactic properties of morphemes, and the French verbal system (mood, tense and aspect). The syntax of simple, compound and complex sentences is studied in a transformational-generative perspective, as it applies to French. At the Honours level, in FREN-4206/LING-4304, additional approaches (mainly the functional and the cognitive) are used to examine complex utterances in various oral and written styles.

Cross-listed: LING-3302(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and LING-3302.

Requisite Courses: 6 credit hours in 2000-level French language/linguistics, or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

FREN-3205 (3) Studies in Bilingualism (3 hrs Lecture) This course explores three major aspects of bilingualism: the context, the learner, and the writer. The context section introduces historical and geographical aspects of bilingualism (e.g. official/unofficial bilingualism in the Francophone world), and resulting sociolinguistic situations (e.g. diglossia/bilingualism). The main section of the course focuses on the bilingual learner (e.g. multilingual acquisition, compound bilingualism, the active lexicon in Franco-Manitoban and immersion school children). The concluding section examines examples of bilingual writing (e.g. Beckett, Green, Léveillé).

Cross-listed: FREN-4205(3), LING-3305(3) and LING-4305(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and FREN-4205 | LING-3305 | LING-4305.

Requisite Courses: 6 credit hours in 2000-level French language/linguistics, or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

FREN-3272 (3) Women's Writing in French (twentieth and Twenty-First Centuries) (3 hrs Lecture) This course explores women's writing in French in the twentieth and twenty-first centuries. By reading Colette, de Beauvoir, Sarraute, Darrieussecq, Dupré and Djébar, alongside critical texts (Perrot, Butler, Braidotti), students examine how women's lives and writing have changed across a century and a half. How do stories shape our understanding of gender roles? How do they reveal stereotypes about femininity, masculinity, gender, sexuality and ethnicity? We reflect on the role of women's writing in reshaping sexual and racial identities, and how the representation of gendered and racialized experiences in women's literature challenge the patriarchal/colonial discourses.

Requisite Courses: 6 credit-hours of 2000-level French Studies literature courses or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

FREN-3283 (3) Life-Narratives in French Literature (3 hrs Lecture) In 20 and 21 century literature from Proust and Colette to Annie Ernaux and Le Clézio, the representation of the self has undergone several transformations in form, content and generic boundaries. The course studies different genres: autobiography, autofiction and memoir. Students explore the meanings of these texts and what they conceal about Modernity and our contemporary age.

Cross-listed: FREN-4283(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and FREN-4283.

Requisite Courses: 6 credit-hours of 2000-level French Studies literature courses or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

FREN-3301 (3) History of the French Language (3 hrs Lecture) This course traces the development of the French language through the centuries, examining historical, political and social events that have a significant impact on linguistic change. Four periods are considered: the High Middle Ages and the first written texts; the Old French era with its dialects; Renaissance French, influenced by Italy and the Humanist movement; and the birth of modern French and la francophonie. Various linguistic documents are studied to illustrate the status and distinct features of French in different eras.

Requisite Courses: 6 credit hours in 2000-level French Studies courses or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

FREN-3481 (3) Nineteenth-Century Literature and Philosophy (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) The course invites students to reflect upon the contributions of French literature to ethics and metaphysics and to the circulation of ideas. Nineteenth-century writers openly tackling philosophical and scientific issues lead us to better understand the narrative construction of ideas and concepts in relation to forms of thought in the human experience. Thus, fiction and poetic speculation stand beside prolific nineteenth-century European philosophers (Kant, Hegel, Nietzsche), prompting students to reflect on the cultures and knowledge of our times through various theoretical lenses. The FREN-4481 students are assigned additional theoretical articles compared to the FREN-3481 students.

Requisite Courses: 6 credit hours of 2000-level French Studies literature courses [prerequisite(s)].

FREN-3482 (3) River Landscapes in Nineteenth-Century French Literature (3 hrs Lecture) The course invites students to reconsider the significance of rivers in the human experience through their depiction in nineteenth-century French literature. By integrating fluvial landscapes (natural or urban) into their works, novelists, poets and playwrights openly tackle social, cultural, ethical, metaphysical and psychological issues, giving us a better understanding of the narrative, poetic, and dramatic construction of values, of notions such as "landscape" and "melancholia", and more generally, of human existence. The goal is to prompt students to reflect upon the intricate yet tense relationship between text and reality in the art of depiction.

Requisite Courses: 6 credit hours of 2000 level French Studies literature courses or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

FREN-3580 (3) Littérature du XVIIIe siècle: Le siècle des Lumières (3 hrs Lecture) This course is intended to develop in the student an understanding and appreciation of the nature of literature and society in the eighteenth century. While emphasis vary from year to year, this course may include works by major authors such as Montesquieu, Prévost, Madame de Tencin, Françoise de Graffigny and Voltaire. Students also investigate trends such as la crise de conscience européenne, le mythe du Sauvage, "Lumières" et Raison, and l'Encyclopédie. Attention is given to relationships between literature and the arts.

Cross-listed: FREN-4580(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and FREN-4580.

Requisite Courses: 6 credit hours in 2000-level French Studies literature courses or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

FREN-3581 (3) Littérature du XVIIIe siècle: Lumières et Révolution (3 hrs Lecture) This course is intended to study the relationships between literature and society in the eighteenth century. While emphasis will vary from year to year, this course may include works by major authors such as Diderot, Rousseau, Beaumarchais, and Isabelle de Charrière. Emphasis will be placed upon the development of literary styles and the history of ideas in scientific, philosophical, and political contexts. Students will also investigate some trends such as philosophie et engagement au Siècle des "Lumières", le libertinage, la condition de la femme et l'Ancien Régime, le droit des gens, la Révolution and le préromantisme.

Cross-listed: FREN-4581(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and FREN-4581.

Requisite Courses: 6 credit hours in 2000-level French Studies literature courses or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

FREN-3680 (3) Littérature du XVIIe siècle: Le Baroque (3 hrs Lecture) This course offers a critical study of literary works representative of the seventeenth century. While emphasis will vary from year to year, this course may include works by major authors such as Corneille, Scarron, Cyrano de Bergerac and Molière. The course will investigate such trends as baroque, grotesque, romanesque and libertinage.

Cross-listed: FREN-4680(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and FREN-4680.

Requisite Courses: 6 credit hours in 2000-level French Studies literature courses or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

FREN-3681 (3) Littérature du XVIIe siècle: Le Classicisme (3 hrs Lecture) This course offers a critical study of works representative of the rich literary production of the seventeenth century, dominated by Louis XIV and the Court of Versailles. While emphasis will vary from year to year, this course may include works by major authors such as Molière, Racine, La Fontaine, Madame de Sévigné and Madame de La Fayette. The course will investigate some of the changing concepts of tragedy and comedy, and trends such as préciosité, classicisme, honnêteté and absolutisme.

Cross-listed: FREN-4681(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and FREN-4681.

Requisite Courses: 6 credit hours in 2000-level French Studies literature courses or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

FREN-3953 (3) The Contemporary Francophone Novel of Canada (3 hrs Lecture) In this course, students study a selection of contemporary Canadian francophone novels. The chosen texts represent major literary trends since 1960, and they vary in structure as well as the social, cultural and political questions they raise. Topics may include the uniquely Canadian narrative of Gabrielle Roy, Antonine Maillet's Acadian perspective, Marie-Claire Blais' revolutionary examination of the traditional Quebecois family, Réjean Ducharme's imagining of children's experiences, the dark worlds created by Gaétan Soucy, the feminist thought of Nancy Huston, and Ying Chen's take on the experience of immigration. Frequent discussions take a table ronde format.

Cross-listed: FREN-4953(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and FREN-4953.

Requisite Courses: 6 credit-hours in 2000-level French Studies literature courses or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

FREN-3954 (3) Littérature du «je» au Canada (3 hrs Lecture) This course offers a critical study of first-person literature in Canada, including Manitoba. Texts may include autobiographies, autofiction, memoirs, diaries, and letters. Students study the works of authors such as Gabrielle Roy, France Théoret, Nelly Arcan, Denise Bombardier, Claire Martin, and Gerald Leblanc from a literary perspective, with a focus on how their texts communicate a personal point of view. Students analyze the ways authors present their experiences with a concentration on the different forms personal writing can take, and what these forms suggest about the social and historical contexts in which first-person literature is produced in Canada.

Cross-listed: FREN-4954(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and FREN-4954.

Requisite Courses: 6 credit hours in 2000-level French Studies literature courses or permission of the instructor

[prerequisite(s)].

FREN-4021 (3) Tutorial (3 hrs Tutorial | 3 hrs Lab) The specialized study of a single author, or of a genre, period or theme, or of a specific language or linguistics topic, under the direction of a professor.

Note: Permission of the instructor is required to register.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Instructor Permission Required.

FREN-4115 (3) Literary and Intersemiotic Translation (3 hrs Lecture) This Honours course examines theoretical and practical issues in literary translation. It deals mainly with aspects of literary translation relating to genres (e.g., novel, drama), style (e.g., metaphors), metalinguistics (e.g., cultural elucidation) and theoretical issues (e.g. interpretation). The principal focus is on interlingual translation (from French to English and English to French). Secondly, intersemiotic translation is discussed, and examples of intermedial transpositions are analyzed (e.g. novel to film; play to opera; poem to painting). Coursework includes comparisons of translations and intermedial transpositions, reviews of theoretical works (e.g. A. Berman, U. Eco), and translation assignments in the student's preferred language(s). The course is taught in French.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

Requisite Courses: 3 credit hours in French literature [prerequisite(s)]; and 3 credit hours in 3000-level French language/linguistics, or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

FREN-4200 (3) Language and Style (3 hrs Lecture) The first focus of this course is on French Lexicology (e.g. word formation, neologisms), and the interaction between lexis, semantics (e.g. semantic fields) and syntax (e.g. idioms). The second focus is on the relation between language and style in various French texts (e.g. essays, speeches), explored for their stylistic variation and discursive features (e.g. foregrounding, rhythm). Class work investigates French vocabulary and dictionary presentations of linguistic variation (usage labels of time, place and style). Course work includes compositions that develop lexical and rhetorical cohesion when writing in French, and a research paper on an individual linguistic topic.

Cross-listed: LING-4300(3).

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

Requisite Courses: 6 credit hours in 2000-level French language/linguistics or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

FREN-4202 (3) Géolinguistique Française (french Geolinguistics) (3 hrs Lecture) This course presents contemporary varieties of French in Canada and other parts of the Francophone World. After a brief introduction to linguistic change from early dialects to today's international norm, the course focuses on regional variation particularly in Canada and North America, major geolinguistic concepts (e.g. regionalism, isogloss), and fieldwork methods. Sound documents are explored for their vocabulary and grammar, to help students expand their communication skills in different environments, as they become more familiar with different varieties of French. The Honours level concentrates on methodology and linguistic data analysis (e.g. lexicometry, linguistic atlases). Cross-listed: LING-4303(3).

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and FREN-3202 | LING-3303 | LING-4303.

Requisite Courses: 6 credit hours in 2000-level French language/linguistics, or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

FREN-4205 (3) Studies in Bilingualism (3 hrs Lecture) This course explores three major aspects of bilingualism: the context, the learner, and the writer. The context section introduces historical and geographical aspects of bilingualism (e.g. official/unofficial bilingualism in the Francophone world), and resulting sociolinguistic situations (e.g. diglossia/bilingualism). The main section of the course focuses on the bilingual learner (e.g. multilingual acquisition, compound bilingualism, the active lexicon in Franco-Manitoban and immersion schoolchildren). The concluding section examines examples of bilingual writing (e.g. Beckett, Green, Léveillé).

Cross-listed: FREN-3205(3), LING-3305(3) and LING-4305(3).

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and FREN-3205 | LING-3305 | LING-4305.

Requisite Courses: 6 credit hours in 2000-level French language/linguistics, or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

FREN-4206 (3) French Morphology and Syntax (3 hrs Lecture) Based on the analysis of modern French, this course presents fundamental linguistic concepts, including nature and types of monemes, distributional and syntactic properties of morphemes, and the French verbal system (mood, tense and aspect). The syntax of simple, compound and complex sentences is studied in a transformational-generative perspective, as it applies to French. At the Honours level, in FREN-4206/LING-4304, additional approaches (mainly the functional and the cognitive) are used to examine complex utterances in various oral and written styles.

Cross-listed: LING-4304(3).

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and FREN-4112 | LING-4302 | LING-4304.

Requisite Courses: 6 credit hours in 2000-level French language/linguistics or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

FREN-4283 (3) Life-Narratives in French Literature (3 hrs Lecture) In twentieth and twenty-first century literature from Proust and Colette to Annie Ernaux and Le Clézio, the representation of the self has undergone several transformations in form, content and generic boundaries. The course studies different genres: autobiography, autofiction and memoir. Students explore the meanings of these texts and what they conceal about Modernity and our contemporary age.

Cross-listed: FREN-3283(3).

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and FREN-3283.

Requisite Courses: 6 credit hours in 2000-level French Studies courses and permission of the Honours advisor or instructor [prerequisite(s)].

FREN-4284 (3) Modern and Contemporary Literature and Photography (3 hrs Lecture) This course studies the text-image relation, mainly the role of photography in literature, as well as various genres where visual image is essential. The course includes literary analysis by authors such as Roland Barthes, Hervé Guibert and Patrick Modiano.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and FREN-3284.

Requisite Courses: 6 credit hours in 2000-level French Studies literature courses and permission of the Honours advisor [prerequisite(s)].

FREN-4385 (3) Transculturalism in Literatures of Europe and the Americas (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) The last decades have seen a significant increase in transcultural studies, ranging from culture anthropology, political philosophy to literary studies. This course explores principal tenets of transculturalism (Bouchard, Imbert, Welsch) and studies Francophone writers from Europe and the Americas (Le Clézio, Nothomb, Robin, Laferrière) who showcase literature's potential of engaging aspects of transcultural paradigms: self-other, belonging-exclusion, pure-hybrid, here-there. By studying potential paths towards a theory of transcultural literary interpretation, students learn to avoid worshipping binary pairs such as particularism and universalism, diversity and homogenization, nationalism and cosmopolitanism.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

Requisite Courses: 6 credit hours of French Studies literature courses at the 2000-level or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

FREN-4483 (3) Nineteenth-Century Literature & Philosophy (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) The course invites students to reflect upon the contributions of French literature to ethics and metaphysics and to the circulation of ideas. Nineteenth-century writers openly tackling philosophical and scientific issues lead us to better understand the narrative construction of ideas and concepts in relation to forms of thought in the human experience. Thus, fiction and poetic speculation stand beside prolific nineteenth-century European philosophers (Kant, Hegel, Nietzsche), prompting students to reflect on the cultures and knowledge of our times through various theoretical lenses. The FREN-4481 students are assigned additional theoretical articles compared to the FREN-3481 students.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

Requisite Courses: 6 credit hours of 2000-level French Studies literature courses [prerequisite(s)].

FREN-4580 (3) Littérature du XVIII^e siècle: Le siècle des Lumières (3 hrs Lecture) This course is intended to develop in the student an understanding and appreciation of the nature of literature and society in the eighteenth century. While emphasis vary from year to year, this course may include works by major authors such as Montesquieu, Prévost, Madame de Tencin, Françoise de Graffigny and Voltaire. Students also investigate trends such as la crise de conscience européenne, le mythe du Sauvage, "Lumières" et Raison, and l'Encyclopédie.

Attention is given to relationships between literature and the arts. Students will also attend a weekly 75-minute seminar.

Cross-listed: FREN-3580(3).

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and FREN-3580.

Requisite Courses: 6 credit hours in 2000-level French Studies literature courses and permission of the Honours advisor [prerequisite(s)].

FREN-4581 (3) Littérature du XVIII^e siècle: Lumières et Révolution (3 hrs Lecture) This course is intended to study the relationships between literature and society in the eighteenth century. While emphasis will vary from year to year, this course may include works by major authors such as Diderot, Rousseau, Meumarchais, and Isabelle de Charrière. Emphasis will be placed upon the development of literary styles and the history of ideas in scientific, philosophical, and political contexts. Students will also investigate some trends such as philosophie et engagement au Siècle des "Lumières", le libertinage, la condition de la femme et l'Ancien Régime, le droit des gens, la Révolution and le préromantisme.

Cross-listed: FREN-3581(3).

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and FREN-3581.

Requisite Courses: 6 credit hours of French Studies literature courses at the 2000-level and permission of the Honours advisor [prerequisite(s)].

FREN-4680 (3) Littérature du XVII^e siècle: Le Baroque (3 hrs Lecture) This course offers a critical study of literary works representative of the seventeenth century. While emphasis will vary from year to year, this course may include works by major authors such as Corneille, Scarron, Cyrano de Bergerac and Molière. The course will investigate such trends as baroque, grotesque, romanesque, and libertinage.

Cross-listed: FREN-3680(3).

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and FREN-3680.

Requisite Courses: 6 credit hours of French Studies literature courses at the 2000-level and permission of the Honours advisor [prerequisite(s)].

FREN-4681 (3) Littérature du XVII^e siècle: Le Classicisme (3 hrs Lecture) This course offers a critical study of works representative of the rich literary production of the seventeenth century, dominated by Louis XIV and the Court of Versailles. While emphasis will vary from year to year, this course may include works by major authors such as Molière, Racine, La Fontaine, Madame de Sévigné and Madame de La Fayette. The course will investigate some of the changing concepts of tragedy and comedy, and trends such as préciosité, classicisme, honnêteté and absolutisme.

Cross-listed: FREN-3681(3).

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and FREN-3681.

Requisite Courses: 6 credit hours of French Studies literature courses at the 2000-level and permission of the Honours advisor [prerequisite(s)].

FREN-4748 (3) Le Théâtre Classique (3 hrs Lecture | Seminar/Discussion) This course investigates some of the changing concepts of tragedy and comedy in seventeenth-century and eighteenth-century French drama. Plays by the famous dramatists such as Molière, Racine, Marivaux, Voltaire and Beaumarchais are examined in light of major texts on the aesthetics of theatre, written by theorists such as Aristotle, Corneille, l'abbé d'Aubignac and Diderot. Class discussion includes a table ronde format.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

FREN-4760 (3) Poetry Works in Nineteenth-Century France (3 hrs Lecture) This course offers a study of selected nineteenth-century poets in the context of a review of the history and the evolution of French poetics and literary schools. Lectures explore the romantic, parnassian, and symbolist movements. Students study works by poets such as Hugo, Desbordes-Valmore, Vigny, Lamartine, Gautier, Baudelaire, Siefert, Verlaine, Kryszewski, and Mallarmé. From both the historical and the aesthetic perspectives, the centrality of Baudelaire's Fleurs du mal will be emphasized.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and FREN-4481.

Requisite Courses: 6 credit hours of French Studies Literature courses at the 2000 level and permission of the Honours advisor or instructor [prerequisite(s)].

FREN-4953 (3) The Contemporary Francophone Novel of Canada (3 hrs Lecture) In this course, students study a selection of contemporary Canadian francophone novels. The chosen texts represent major literary trends since 1960, and they vary in structure as well as the social, cultural and political questions they raise. Topics may include the uniquely Canadian narrative of Gabrielle Roy, Antonine Maillet's Acadian perspective, Marie-Claire Blais' revolutionary examination of the traditional Quebecois family, Réjean Ducharme's imagining of children's experiences, the dark worlds created by Gaétan Soucy, the feminist thought of Nancy Huston, and Ying Chen's take on the experience of immigration. Frequent discussions take a table ronde format.

Cross-listed: FREN-3953(3).

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and FREN-3953.

Requisite Courses: 6 credit-hours of French Studies literature courses at the 2000-level and permission of the Honours advisor or instructor [prerequisite(s)].

FREN-4954 (3) Littérature du «je» au Canada (3 hrs Lecture) This course offers a critical study of first person literature in Canada, including Manitoba. Texts may include autobiographies, autofiction, memoirs, diaries, and letters. Students study the works of authors such as Gabrielle Roy, France Théoret, Nelly Arcan, Denise Bombardier, Claire Martin, and Gerald Leblanc from a literary perspective, with a focus on how their texts communicate a personal point of view. Students analyze the ways authors present their experiences with a concentration on the different forms personal writing can take, and what these forms suggest about the social and historical contexts in which first person literature is produced in Canada.

Cross-listed: FREN-3954(3).

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and FREN-3954.

Requisite Courses: 6 credit hours in 2000-level French Studies literature courses or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

GEOGRAPHY

GEOG-1105 (3) Challenges of a Changing World: An Introduction to Human Geography (3 hrs Lecture) This course introduces geography as a means of interpreting world issues and places human-environment relationships in the context of global change. Rotating topics include resource use, food and energy supply, population change and human health; the dimensions of global forces such as urbanization, postcolonialism, nationalism, and globalization; and the environmental effects of climate change, biodiversity loss, and sustainability. Through the study of these challenges of a changing world, subfields in human geography are introduced including population, environmental, urban, political, social and cultural geography. Students learn theoretical and practical application in these fields and may specialize in them in upper years.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and GEOG-1101 | GEOG-1102 | GEOG-1103

GEOG-1205 (3) Science for a Dynamic World: An Introduction to Physical Geography (3 hrs Lecture | 3 hrs Lab) This course examines the processes that have shaped, and are shaping, our physical world. In particular, the course provides an introduction to fundamental concepts developed and applied in the important sub-fields of physical geography, including climatology, meteorology, geomorphology, hydrology, and geology. Labs emphasize the development of analytical skills and real-world applications.

Restrictions: Students may not receive credit for this course and GEOG-1200 | GEOG-1201 | GEOG-1202

Requisite Courses: GEOG-1205L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

GEOG-1305 (3) Mapping in a Global World: An Introduction to Geomatics (3 hrs Lecture) This course introduces the fundamental concepts and emerging trends in geomatics, geospatial data science and statistical techniques for human, environmental, and socio-economic impacts. It provides an overview of the geospatial industry and introduction to cross-disciplinary tools and techniques for accessing, visualizing, and analyzing geospatial data (i.e., GPS, satellite imagery, UAV or drones, GIS, and Google Maps). Also, there will be discussions on the issues and foundations of modern digital cartography including map projections, mapping quantitative data, online maps, and the impact of maps on society.

GEOG-2204 (3) Human Impact on the Environment (3 hrs Lecture) This course studies the causes, effects, and controls of detrimental change to the natural environment resulting from human activity. Emphasis will be given to issues pertaining to the alteration of ecosystems and the various types of air, water, and soil pollution.

GEOG-2207 (3) Climatology (3 hrs Lecture | 2 hrs Lab) This course examines climatological processes, at all scales (e.g., micro to macro), to arrive at an understanding of how and why climates vary spatially and temporally. It surveys the characteristics of the global climate system, but pays particular attention to the Northern Hemisphere and North America. Laboratory exercises involve the analysis and presentation of climatological data.

Requisite Courses: GEOG 1205(3) or the former GEOG-1201(3) [prerequisite(s)]; GEOG-2207L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

GEOG-2210 (3) Meteorology (3 hrs Lecture | 2 hrs Lab) This course surveys the causes and characteristics of weather. Fundamental thermodynamic and hydrodynamic principles of atmospheric physics will be reviewed. Common and severe/unusual weather phenomena will be explained, as will be the processes involved in the preparation of weather forecasts.

Requisite Courses: GEOG 1205(3) or the former GEOG-1201(3) [prerequisite(s)]; GEOG-2210L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

GEOG-2212 (3) Natural Hazards (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines the causes and characteristics of natural hazards. Emphasis is placed on the assessment of risk, the choice of adjustments, and differences between situations in developed and developing countries. Discussions will cover hurricanes, tornadoes, floods, earthquakes, and blizzards, as time permits.

Requisite Courses: GEOG-1205(3) or the former GEOG-1201(3) or the former GEOG-1202(3) or permission of instructor [prerequisite(s)].

GEOG-2213 (3) Introductory Soil Science (3 hrs Lecture | 2 hrs Lab) This course provides an introduction to pedology, the study of soils as physical entities in their own right. A review of the history of soil science is followed by a detailed introduction to soil forming factors and soil genesis. A brief review of the US Soil Taxonomy classification system then introduces a detailed review of the Canadian Soil Classification System, and the geographic distribution of soil types. This is followed by a review of the physical and chemical properties of soils, soil organisms and soil organic matter. The course concludes with an introduction to edaphology, the study of soils from the point of view of their plant cover. Laboratory sessions deal with the physical and chemical properties of soils using soil samples collected on one or more field trips, and with soil classification.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and GEOG-2203.

Requisite Courses: GEOG 1205(3), or the former GEOG-1201(3) and the former GEOG-1202(3) or permission of instructor [prerequisite(s)]; GEOG-2213L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

GEOG-2214 (3) Soil-Vegetation Systems (3 hrs Lecture | 2 hrs Lab) A review of edaphology, the study of soils from the point of view of their plant cover, is followed by an examination of soils as nutrient delivery systems to both natural cover and agroecosystems. Emphasis is placed on macro- and micronutrient supply, the use of fertilizers and organic residues, the role of organic farming, and water supply, drainage and erosion. This is followed by a discussion of the basic ecological/physiological requirements of plants important in understanding vegetation formations and ecoclimatic regions. The course concludes with a major discussion of Canada's ecoclimatic regions and the relationships between their vegetation covers, soil types and climates. Laboratory work includes the determination of certain soil nutrient contents, and the role of soil organic matter, plant residues and plant cover in limiting erosion, and the ecoclimatic aspects of vegetation formation distribution.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and GEOG-2203.

Requisite Courses: GEOG-2213 [prerequisite(s)]; GEOG-2214L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

GEOG-2215 (3) Mineralogy and Petrology (3 hrs Lecture | 2 hrs Lab) Students are introduced to the chemical and physical properties of the common minerals and rocks. Emphasis is placed on the origin, composition and classification of the common minerals and rock types. Weekly laboratories provide the student with the skills necessary for routine identification of minerals and rocks in hand samples. Students are also introduced to the fundamentals of optical mineralogy, which include the practice of study and identification of minerals using the polarizing microscope and rock thin sections. An optional field trip highlighting local geological features serves as an introduction to field recognition and classification of minerals and rocks and their associated provenance.

Requisite Courses: GEOG 1205(3) or the former GEOG-1202(3) or permission of instructor [prerequisite(s)]; GEOG-2215L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

GEOG-2216 (3) Physical Geology (3 hrs Lecture | 2 hrs Lab) This course surveys the elements of stratigraphy, structural geology, earthquakes, historical geology, and volcanism within the unifying concept of plate tectonics. Labs demonstrate the methods of determining the characteristics of major geological structures as they typically appear on maps and air photos.

Requisite Courses: GEOG-2215 [prerequisite(s)]; GEOG-2216L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

GEOG-2220 (3) Geomorphology (3 hrs Lecture | 2 hrs Lab) This course examines geomorphic processes driven by water, air, gravity and glaciers. Among the topics discussed are the factors which influence the stability and form of slopes, the characteristics of watersheds and stream networks, the transport of sediment in fluvial systems, and the depositional features produced by streams, glacial erosion and sedimentation. Labs emphasize analytic methods and quantitative analysis.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and GEOG-2201 | GEOG-2211 | GEOG-2218 | GEOG-2219.

Requisite Courses: GEOG-1205 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)]; GEOG-2220L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

GEOG-2222 (3) Planetary Exploration (3 hrs Lecture) Does life exist beyond Earth? How did the solar system form? These are questions that drive the exploration of the solar system. This course provides a state-of-the-art look into planetary exploration. It is organized into four main components: (1) Are other bodies in the solar system habitable? (2) What do we currently know about the solar system, its planets, and moons? (3) How do we explore the solar system? (4) Do the "building blocks" of life exist beyond Earth? Students look at the latest scientific discoveries and missions that are exploring our solar system and the uniqueness of the Earth.

Experimental Course - This course is offered on a trial basis to gauge interest in the topic. Students who successfully complete this course receive credit as indicated.

Requisite Courses: GEOG-1205 or GEOG-1202 or PHYS-1101 or PHYS-1301 or permission of instructor [prerequisite(s)].

GEOG-2304 (3) Introduction to Cartography (3 hrs Lecture | 2 hrs Lab) This course provides an introduction to the theory, practice, and methods of map making. Students make use of existing cartographic and statistical data bases, as well as input information through digitizing and scanning, to construct thematic maps using various software packages.

Requisite Courses: GEOG-1105, or GEOG-1205, or GEOG-1305 or the former GEOG-1102 or GEOG-1103 or GEOG-1201 or GEOG-1202 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)]; GEOG-2304L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

GEOG-2306 (3) Introduction to Geographic Information Systems (3 hrs Lecture | 2 hrs Lab) This course provides a systematic overview of GIS methodology and theory covering the essential principles of data acquisition, input, storage, manipulation, and output. The laboratory component of this course provides hands-on experience using industry standard software.

Requisite Courses: GEOG-2304 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)]; GEOG-2306L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

GEOG-2309 (3) Statistical Techniques in Environmental Analysis (3 hrs Lecture | 1 hrs Lab) Statistics describe and summarize data, and make predictions about a population from the information contained in samples. This course provides a working understanding of the elementary statistical techniques and computational procedures for students with little background in mathematics, and focuses on the applications of these tools to the analyses of geographical and environmental data. Topics include scales of measurement, univariate descriptive statistics, time series analysis, probability, sampling design, hypothesis testing, regression and correlation analysis, and models as quantitative techniques.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and GEOG-2310.

Requisite Courses: Any 3 credits of 1000 level Geography courses or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)]; GEOG-2309L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

GEOG-2316 (3) Introduction to Remote Sensing (3 hrs Lecture | 2 hrs Lab) This course introduces the principles of remote sensing and image analysis with a focus on the physics, sensor technology, processing, interpretation and applications of remotely sensed imagery with a specific emphasis on optical sensors and technologies.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and GEOG-3304.

Requisite Courses: GEOG-2304 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)]; GEOG-2316L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

GEOG-2401 (3) Agricultural Geography (3 hrs Lecture)

A study of agriculture from the viewpoint of physical and cultural environments, systems of exploitation, regional analysis, and a survey of the world's major agricultural activities.

Requisite Courses: GEOG-1105 or GEOG-1102 or GEOG-1103 or permission of the instructor or permission of the chair [prerequisite(s)].

GEOG-2408 (3) Environmental Perception and Communication (3 hrs Lecture) This course focuses on varied themes and topics relating to perceptions of physical and social environments. Variations in the perception, images, and attitudes held by individuals and groups within different societies are examined and related to varied behavioral responses within a spatial and environmental context. Topics in this course include perception of natural hazards (floods, droughts, frosts, hail, etc.); perception of natural resources and the management of natural resources; images of urban neighbourhoods, cities, metropolitan regions, provinces, countries, the world; mental maps; attitudes towards resource development and the implications for local, regional, and national planning.

Requisite Courses: GEOG-1105 or the former 1102 or permission of the instructor or permission of the chair [prerequisite(s)].

GEOG-2411 (3) Geography of Globalization (3 hrs

Lecture) This course engages with the evolution of capitalism, imperialism, and globalization from a critical geographical perspective. We examine the geographical impact of economic changes focusing on transnational corporations, the international division of labour, trading blocks, and the major inequalities of the world economy. Examples of major production and geographical shifts of production are considered to evaluate their social environmental impacts. The course also examines the geopolitical changes in the role of the state, social movements, and information "warfare".

Requisite Courses: GEOG-1105 or GEOG-1102 or GEOG-1103 or permission of the instructor or permission of the chair [prerequisite(s)].

GEOG-2412 (3) A Geographical Perspective on Tourism (3 hrs Lecture) Tourism is the world's most rapidly growing industry. It is now essential to the Canadian economy, and is the mainstay of many other national economies. This course provides a broad overview of the world tourism industry that includes a geo-historical perspective on the origins, evolution, and growth of tourism, the structure of the tourism industry, tourism market segments, destinations and demands, and the impacts of tourism on both tourists themselves and their host communities. Concepts of capacity and sustainable tourism are addressed. Some attention is given to local, regional, and Canadian development strategies and special topics in tourism.

Requisite Courses: GEOG-1105 or GEOG-1102 or GEOG-1103 or permission of the instructor or permission of the chair [prerequisite(s)].

GEOG-2414 (3) The Urban Environment (3 hrs Lecture)

Cities are challenged by the rapid acceleration of pollution, consumption of non-renewable resources and resulting waste, as well as biodiversity loss. In the coming decades nearly three quarters of the world population will be living in urban places underscoring the urgency for more sustainable and environmentally sensitive cities. This course examines the development of cities since the Industrial Revolution and the impact of urban structure and functions on the environment. Core urban design principles and a range of urban planning approaches are considered to shift urban areas towards sustainability.

Requisite Courses: GEOG-1105 or GEOG-1102 or GEOG-1103 or permission of the instructor or permission of the chair [prerequisite(s)].

GEOG-2415 (3) An Introduction to Urban Development (3 hrs Lecture) This course will examine the origins and evolution of cities, urban design, morphologic and townscape elements, and the economy and structure of urban systems.

Requisite Courses: GEOG-1105 or the former GEOG-1102 or GEOG-1103 or permission of the instructor or permission of the chair [prerequisite(s)].

GEOG-2416 (3) Sex, Gender, Space and Place (3 hrs

Lecture) This course examines, from interdisciplinary perspectives including those of Women's and Gender Studies, Geography, and Environmental Studies, relationships among sex, gender, space and place in societies, cultures, environments, and ecosystems. Selected relevant topics are considered, such as ecofeminism, the cultural politics and political geography of sex and sexual identities, the gendering and sexing of city landscape and architecture, notions of public and private space, and the space/place in the sociocultural construction of femininity and masculinity. We consider how sex, gender, race, ethnicity, class, sexuality, and other aspects of identity affect the transformation of space into place.

Cross-listed: ENV-2416(3) and WGS-2416(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ENV-2416 | WGS-2416.

Requisite Courses: GEOG-1105 or GEOG-1102 or GEOG-1103, or ENV-1600, WGS-1232 or permission of the instructor or permission of the chair [prerequisite(s)].

GEOG-2417 (3) An Introduction to Economic Geography (3 hrs Lecture) This course is designed to introduce the student to the basic principles of economic geography. The course is divided into two main topic areas. The first is an introduction to location theory, and the second introduces regional economic development. In essence, location theory attempts to determine why economic activities are located where they are or why they should be located in one place as opposed to another. It looks at all types of economic activity, including agriculture, manufacturing, and retail. The second topic, examining economic development and trade, seeks to explain why some regions prosper while others do not. It also examines strategies that will enable a region to enhance its economic development potential and explains patterns of trade.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and GEOG-2409.

Requisite Courses: GEOG-1105 or GEOG-1102 or GEOG-1103 or permission of the instructor or permission of the chair [prerequisite(s)].

GEOG-2419 (3) Sustainability: Resources, Policy and Activism in Canada (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines the dynamics of natural resource development in Canada. In doing so, students consider the governance of primary resources, including the economic, institutional and social systems which frame resource development. Political economy frames the analysis of current resource management laws and policies. This provides a foundation for critiquing competition in each sector, and mapping the varied interests of members of the policy community. Particular attention is paid to how different actors influence governance processes.

Requisite Courses: GEOG-1105 or GEOG-1102 or ENV-1600 or permission of the instructor or permission of the chair [prerequisite(s)].

GEOG-2425 (3) Introduction to Practice and Method in Human Geography (3 hrs Lecture | Lab) Human geographers employ a wide variety of methods and practices to analyze environmental patterns and explain spatial variations in human societies. This course introduces the foundations of conducting human geographical research in human geography. It surveys major theories and philosophies informing contemporary geographical thought and introduces practices and tools human geographers use to conduct and communicate research.

Requisite Courses: A minimum of 3 credit hours of 1000-level Geography courses or permission of the instructor or permission of the chair [prerequisite(s)]; GEOG-2425L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

GEOG-2431 (3) Population Geography (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines the history of the growth of the world's population and the present-day crises inherent in both the numbers and distribution of the global totals. Special attention is paid to the problems of defining such terms as "over-population" and to the lack of correlation between population, resources and technology.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and GEOG-3401.

Requisite Courses: GEOG-1105 or GEOG-1102 or GEOG-1103 or permission of the instructor or permission of the chair [prerequisite(s)].

GEOG-2440 (3) Environment and Culture (Lecture/Lab Combined with variable meeting hours) Nature is a key concept in geography, yet is notoriously difficult to define and has different meanings over time, place, and culture. This course introduces students to studies and concepts of nature utilized in environmental geography. Course units survey the history of geographical concepts of nature; debates and themes in the study of human-environment relationships; alternative ways of knowing culture; and new frontiers of geographic environmental thought.

Requisite Courses: GEOG-1102 or GEOG-1103 or GEOG-1105 or permission of the instructor or permission of the chair [prerequisite(s)].

GEOG-2503 (3) Manitoba's Physical and Human Environments (3 hrs Lecture) The main physical features of Manitoba are examined first. The second part of the course deals with rural settlement, beginning with the Red River Settlement and proceeding to the main homesteading period from 1870 to 1930. In the third part of the course, emphasis is given to economic development in Northern Manitoba, flood control works in the Red River Valley, and aspects of Winnipeg's growth, relative decline, and ethnic mix.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and GEOG-2500.

Requisite Courses: A minimum of 3 credits of 1000-level Geography courses or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

GEOG-3204 (3) Climate Change and Variability (3 hrs Lecture) The causes and characteristics of regional and global climate change and variability will be examined, as will be the methods of reconstructing climate histories. Emphasis will be placed on the North American experience. Topics will include atmosphere teleconnections (e.g., El Nino and La Nina), global warming, and climate forecasting.

Requisite Courses: GEOG-2207 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

GEOG-3210 (3) Hydrology (3 hrs Lecture | 2 hrs Lab) This course examines all major components (precipitation, evaporation, streamflow, groundwater) of the hydrologic cycle with the most attention being given to surface hydrology. The emphasis throughout the course will be placed upon the methods by which each component may be measured or estimated. Additional topics to be covered include the causes and consequences of floods, flood frequency analysis, estimation of peak streamflows, snow hydrology, sediment transport, water balance methods, and urban hydrology. Weekly assignments will provide experience in the practical aspects of data treatment, measurement techniques, and methods of prediction. This course is offered in alternate years.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and GEOG-4221.

Requisite Courses: GEOG-1205(3), or the former GEOG-1201(3) and GEOG-1202(3) or permission of instructor [prerequisite(s)]; GEOG-3210L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

GEOG-3212 (3) Climate Change As Hazard: Causes, Consequences, Responses (3 hrs Lecture) This course explores hazards being exacerbated or created by climate change (e.g., heatwaves, floods, droughts, storms, glacial retreat, sea-level rise). It examines their causes and consequences, and assesses diverse response strategies. Students gain an understanding of the scientific, social, economic, and political dimensions of climate change hazards and become better equipped to contribute to informed discussions, decision-making, and solution development.

Experimental Course - This course is offered on a trial basis to gauge interest in the topic. Students who successfully complete this course receive credit as indicated.

Requisite Courses: GEOG-2212 or permission of instructor [prerequisite(s)].

GEOG-3216 (3) Arctic Environments (3 hrs Lecture) The Arctic comprises about one-third of Canada but most 'southern' Canadians have little more than a passing knowledge of its character. This course is designed to improve our understanding of the physical environment, ecology, history, people, economy, and political development of a region which becomes less remote from the affairs of the nation each year.

Requisite Courses: GEOG 1205(3), or the former GEOG-1201(3) and GEOG-1202(3) or permission of instructor [prerequisite(s)].

GEOG-3218 (3) Global Biogeochemical Cycles (3 hrs Lecture | Lab) This course is an examination of global cycles of water and major elements, including carbon, nitrogen, phosphorus, and sulfur as expressed in atmospheric, terrestrial, ocean, and freshwater environments. Students learn about topics such as interactions between cycles and the Earth's climate; interactions between global and local processes; and impacts of human pressures such as land use change and pollution. These topics are explored using current scientific literature, lecture, group discussions, and class presentation.

Requisite Courses: GEOG 1205(3), or the former GEOG-1201(3) and GEOG-1202(3) or permission of instructor [prerequisite(s)]; GEOG-3218L (lab may not be offered every term) (must be taken concurrently).

GEOG-3219 (3) Quaternary Environments (3 hrs Lecture) The Quaternary is a period of dramatic climatic changes. This course examines the consequences of Quaternary climatic fluctuations on the physical environment. Consideration will be given to some of the important evidence and techniques used to reconstruct Quaternary environments and chronology.

Requisite Courses: Any second-year physical geography course or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

GEOG-3306 (3) Advanced Geographic Information Systems (3 hrs Lecture | 2 hrs Lab) This course deals with advanced theory and applications within GIS including 3D modeling, spatial analysis, geostatistical analysis, network analysis, and data creation, management and fusion with other data sources and types. Laboratory instruction provides the students with enhanced skills through exposure to the higher-level functions of industry standard GIS software.

Requisite Courses: GEOG-2306 or GEOG-3302 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)]; GEOG-3306L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

GEOG-3319 (3) Advanced Remote Sensing (3 hrs

Lecture | 2 hrs Lab) This course provides instruction on advanced image processing and classification techniques. These techniques are applied to the study of physical and human environments through a series of laboratory exercises and assignments. Students also gain exposure to RADAR and hyperspectral remote sensing including exposure to handheld imaging devices.

Requisite Courses: GEOG-2316 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)]; GEOG-3319L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

GEOG-3330 (3) Research Methods in Geography (3 hrs Lecture) This course introduces students to skills for conducting geographic research, and explores the uses, limitations, and methods associated with quantitative and qualitative analysis in human and physical geography. These skills are relevant for careers in academic and professional fields. Topics include primary data collection and analyses, questionnaire design and structured interviews, data assembly and interpretation, research design and ethics, and the presentation of research results. This course includes a significant practical element.

Requisite Courses: Any 9 credits at 1000 level geography courses and GEOG-2309 or permission of the instructor or permission of the chair [prerequisite(s)].

GEOG-3402 (3) Urbanization in the Developing World (3 hrs Lecture) The process of urbanization is now a developing, as opposed to a developed, world phenomenon. This course will explore the factors promoting urbanization in the developing world and discuss models of third world cities. The emphasis will be on problems facing the cities and the solutions that have been attempted. Specific topics will include urban growth and management, urban services, squatter settlements, the housing market, survival tactics of the urban poor, urban government, and the function of the city in the developing world.

Requisite Courses: GEOG-1105 or GEOG-1102 or GEOG-1103 or GEOG-2415 or permission of the instructor or permission of the chair [prerequisite(s)].

GEOG-3408 (3) Water Resources (3 hrs Lecture) The following are just some of the topics developed: the Columbia River Treaty, the Churchill Diversion, is Canada's water for sale? In predicting future Canadian needs for water, the relative merits of direct and indirect methods of forecasting are assessed. Analytical techniques such as economic base, input-output, and cost-benefit are fully developed.

Requisite Courses: GEOG-1105 or GEOG-1102 or GEOG-1103 or permission of the instructor or permission of the chair [prerequisite(s)].

GEOG-3411 (3) Landscapes of Authenticity: Heritage, Tourism, and Conservation (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) Heritage, tourism, and conservation lie at the centre of current debates around authenticity. Heritage refers to personal history, belonging, and tradition, yet is also a commodity used and traded by governments, interest groups, and the emerging 'heritage industries.' Travel is considered authentic and genuine while cultural tourism is treated with derision. In museums and archives, curators and archivists decide what is conserved and what is discarded or forgotten; how exhibits are arranged and how they tell stories. Students in this course learn geographical approaches to these landscapes of authenticity and consider how the past is placed in the present.

Requisite Courses: A minimum of 3 credit hours of 1000-level Geography courses or permission of the instructor or permission of the chair [prerequisite(s)].

GEOG-3413 (3) Urban Revitalization: Rebuilding of Decaying Cities (3 hrs Lecture) Issues surrounding growth and development have been replaced by concerns about decline and revitalization in many North American and European cities. This course will focus on urban decline and revitalization efforts. Theories of decline and the demographic, economic, and physical changes that occur in declining city neighbourhoods will be discussed. The course will then explore revitalization efforts, drawing extensively on case study material from selected cities as well as field and project work within Winnipeg. Broad approaches to revitalization, revitalizing the commercial sector, attracting people back to the inner city, leadership and the role of partnerships, rejuvenating older, greying suburban neighbourhoods, and planning for long term sustainability will be among the topics discussed.

Requisite Courses: GEOG-1105 or GEOG-1102 or GEOG-1103 or permission of the instructor or permission of the chair [prerequisite(s)].

GEOG-3415 (3) Contested Spaces (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) The 'new cultural geography' examines the constitution of power and ideology through space and place. This course considers a variety of these geographies including those of race, gender, nature, landscape, commodification, and capital, and examines representational practices such as photography, ethnography, mapping, and writing. Through weekly article discussion and problem-based learning exercises, students develop skills in critical analysis, interpretation, and communication.

Requisite Courses: A minimum of 3 credit hours of 1000-level Geography courses or permission of the instructor or permission of the chair [prerequisite(s)].

GEOG-3419 (3) Geography & Environmental Studies and Sciences Internship

(Apprenticeship/Internship/Practicum Seminar/Discussion with variable meeting hours) The internship provides students with an opportunity to integrate academic learning volunteer placements with local organizations, including local non-for-profits and corporations. Students provide service to the community while gaining the benefit of practitioner experience. Students are matched based on the skills, interests and the needs of the host. Assessment is based on the host's evaluation and work submitted by the student (assessed by the faculty instructor). The grade is pass/fail. The cohort will meet together at least three times per semester.

Cross-listed: ENV-3419.

Experimental Course - This course is offered on a trial basis to gauge interest in the topic. Students who successfully complete this course receive credit as indicated.

Restrictions: Instructor Permission Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and ENV-3419.

Requisite Courses: GEOG-2419 [prerequisite(s)].

GEOG-3430 (3) Housing and the Neighbourhood (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines the complexity of shelter environments within the urban landscape. The focus is on the North American housing market, the history of housing, and the way in which traditional and non-traditional markets are defined and understood. The unique characteristics of the modern city are examined as they are manifested in homelessness, marginal housing forms, shelter-induced poverty, suburban decline, and inner-city issues. Emphasis is also placed on current/historical policy and program responses to housing-related issues at the neighbourhood, municipal, provincial, and federal level.

Cross-listed: UIC-3430(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and UIC-3430.

Requisite Courses: GEOG-1105 or UIC-1001 or GEOG-1102 [prerequisite(s)].

GEOG-3431 (3) Healthy Communities and Cities (3 hrs Lecture) The social, physical, and built environments of cities have profound effects on health and well-being of urban populations. Urban design influences patterns of everyday mobility, opportunities for social interaction, access to green spaces, and availability of affordable food. This course explores the interlinkages of geography, public health, and urban planning. It considers the impact of multiple urban domains on public health and evaluates the necessity for comprehensive planning approaches to create healthy communities and cities. Emphasis is on health inequity within cities and urban design ideas and community-based planning that support mental and physical health.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and GEOG-2418.

Requisite Courses: GEOG-2431(3) or the former GEOG-3401(3) or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

GEOG-3432 (3) Urban and Community Planning (3 hrs Lecture) Urban planning is a process that has importance for the quality of life of those who live in inner-city and downtown neighbourhoods. According to Friedmann, planning is an interdisciplinary field that "links knowledge to action". This course examines traditions, theories and values in planning practice and highlights the important role in planning of civil society and community. Broad approaches to planning in Canada, the USA, and Britain, and specific processes and policies in Winnipeg, provide students with background on planning systems. The emphasis in this course is on practical knowledge and skills for community organizers.

Cross-listed: UIC-3030(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and UIC-3030.

Requisite Courses: UIC-1001 or UIC-2001 or GEOG-1103 [prerequisite(s)].

GEOG-3435 (3) Urban Political Ecology I (3 hrs

Seminar/Discussion) Political ecology offers a new way of looking at urban space by interweaving natural systems with social analyses of power. Seen through this lens, cities are dynamic spaces where non-human nature (water, plants, animals, minerals) interact with human social systems and ideas (race, gender, poverty, social justice, sustainability). Students explore selected topics and are introduced to research and methods in political ecology, urban environmental geography, and environmental history. Emphasis is placed on Canadian cities while global context is also considered.

Requisite Courses: GEOG-2440 or GEOG-2414 or permission of the instructor or permission of the chair [prerequisite(s)].

GEOG-3443 (3) Advanced Tourism and Recreation Geography (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This course is based on a selection of advanced readings on topics and problems dealing with recreational and tourism behavior, the supply and demand for different types of recreational space and tourism facilities, and issues of sustainability. A research project may be required of each student.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and GEOG-4407 | GEOG-4443.

Requisite Courses: GEOG-2412(3) or GEOG-3411(3) or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

GEOG-3445 (3) Power, Knowledge, Geography (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This course examines the power of geographical ideas in shaping social values and understandings. Seminars focus on analyzing spatial formations of various historical and contemporary topics such as colonialism, nationalism, warfare, popular culture, science, racism, surveillance, the body, genocide, the climate crisis, and fundamentalism. Students are asked to consider how 'the production of space' accompanies and influences the production of knowledge, revealing connections between geography and power.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and GEOG-4415 | GEOG-4445.

Requisite Courses: Any second-year systematic human geography (GEOG-24XX) or regional geography (GEOG-25XX) course or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

GEOG-3508 (3) Geographical Issues in the Developing World (3 hrs Lecture) Focusing on Asian, African, and Latin American countries, this course concentrates on development theories and issues. The course content includes discussion of the historical, political, socio-economic, cultural, and demographic factors important to the development equation and illustrates how these factors vary from region to region. Special attention is paid to newsworthy and unfolding issues of the day in the developing areas of the world.

Requisite Courses: GEOG-1105 or GEOG-1102 or GEOG-1103 or permission of the instructor or permission of the chair [prerequisite(s)].

GEOG-3509 (3) Regional Geography of Canada (3 hrs Lecture) Students are introduced to 'regionalism' as a geographical interpretation of Canada. The country's main regions are examined, with emphasis on how the physical and human environments of each have interacted to give it a unique character. Theory and methodology in regional geography are also considered, focusing on the evolution of Canadian geographical thought.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and GEOG-3501_6.

Requisite Courses: A minimum of 3 credit hours at the 1000 level or permission of the instructor or permission of the chair [prerequisite(s)].

GEOG-3510 (3) Prairie Landscapes (3 hrs Lecture) This course focuses on issues and interpretations of the Canadian prairie region. Students consider the history and geography of the prairies, including the roles of Indigenous people and settler societies in creating human landscapes. Contemporary topics include modern agriculture, resource conflicts, social change, and the rural-urban divide.

Requisite Courses: A minimum of 3 credit hours of 1000-level Geography courses or permission of the instructor or permission of the chair [prerequisite(s)].

GEOG-3511 (3) Topical Regions in Geography (3 hrs Lecture) This course is a systematic study of a topical world region from a geographic perspective. For the particular region selected for study, emphasis is placed on historical, political, socio-economic, cultural, demographic, and urban-rural development aspects as appropriate. The region of study will vary from year to year, with particular attention paid to regions currently or recently dominating world events.

Requisite Courses: GEOG-1105 or GEOG-1102 or GEOG-1103 or permission of the instructor or permission of the chair [prerequisite(s)].

GEOG-3512 (3) The Human Geography of Northern Canada (3 hrs Lecture) This course investigates contemporary issues in Canada's arctic and subarctic regions, focusing on the three territories: Yukon, Northwest Territories, and Nunavut. This region continues to be subjected to a variety of changes in the political, social and economic landscapes. The purpose of this course is to provide students insight into how these changes impact the human geography of northern Canada. Special attention is paid to ongoing and newsworthy issues. This course fulfills the Indigenous Requirement.

Requisite Courses: GEOG-1105 or GEOG-1102 or GEOG-1103 or permission of the instructor or permission of the chair [prerequisite(s)].

GEOG-4203 (3) Topics in Climatology (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This seminar course requires students to complete climate-related research projects, either individually or as a group. Research topics will vary to suit the interests of both the Instructor and the students.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

Requisite Courses: GEOG-2207, or the former GEOG-2205, or the former GEOG-2206, or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

GEOG-4212 (3) Topics in Earth Sciences (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion | 3 hrs Lab) The course examines current and historically significant concepts in fluvial and glacial geomorphology, geology, and related earth sciences, particularly those which produced lasting shifts in the way earth science phenomena are interpreted. Among the broad subject areas which are discussed are concepts in landscape evolution, the characteristics, patterns and metamorphosis of river channels, glacial spillways on the Prairies, catastrophic drainage of ice sheets, patterns of glacial erosion, geomorphic thresholds, plate tectonics theory, and asteroid impact and the Geologic Time Scale.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

Requisite Courses: 6 credits hours from GEOG-2215, GEOG-2216, GEOG-2218, or GEOG-2219 or the former GEOG-2201 or the former GEOG-2202 [prerequisite(s)].

GEOG-4215 (3) Projects in Earth Science (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This course discusses state-of-the-art geomatics techniques that can be applied to understanding and monitoring the Earth's surface environment, as well as other planetary surfaces. These include techniques for monitoring water quality, vegetation health, greenhouse gases, and planetary surface mapping. Lectures are supplemented by individual research projects that apply geomatics concepts to particular aspects of terrestrial and planetary monitoring.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Instructor Permission Required.

Requisite Courses: GEOG-1205(3) or the former GEOG-1201(3) and GEOG-1202(3); or GEOG-2215(3) or GEOG-2316(3) or GEOG-3319(3) [prerequisite(s)].

GEOG-4219 (3) Physical Geography Seminar (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This course integrates aspects of physical geography and examines contemporary concepts and issues in earth science, atmospheric science, and biogeography. Research topics vary to suit the interests of the students and the expertise of the instructor.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

Requisite Courses: 6 credit hours in Physical Geography at or above the 2000 level [prerequisite(s)].

GEOG-4320 (3) Projects in Geomatics (3 hrs Lecture) Students work in small groups to develop geomatics applications addressing selected planning, environmental management or research problems. Emphasis is on conceptual design of the selected application and implementation of a prototype solution using GIS and remote sensing approaches to problem solving. Students undertake team projects solicited from a number of external organizations through a team approach. Practical aspects of GIS project management such as team building, production of work plans and schedules, and the writing and presenting of final reports are introduced through this approach. Final results are presented in both oral and written reports.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

Requisite Courses: GEOG-3306(3) and GEOG-3319(3), or GEOG-4321(3) or GEOG-4322(3) or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

GEOG-4321 (3) Topics in Geomatics I (3 hrs Lecture) This course provides a synthesis of the current developments within the field and study of geomatics as it relates to hyperspectral remote sensing. Particular attention is given to applications that have a focus on physical and urban systems. Additional topics are integrated where appropriate. Students are required to select an area of interest and lead class discussions based on their selection.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

Requisite Courses: GEOG-3306(3) and GEOG-3319(3), or GEOG-4320(3) or GEOG-4322(3) or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

GEOG-4322 (3) Topics in Geomatics II (3 hrs Lecture) This course provides a synthesis of the current developments within the field and study of geomatics with a focus on synthetic aperture radar for physical and urban systems. Additional topics within this course include LIDAR mapping, GPS surveying and advanced spatial analysis. Students are required to select an area of interest and lead class discussions based on their selection.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

Requisite Courses: GEOG-3306(3) and GEOG-3319(3), or GEOG-4320(3) or GEOG-4321(3) or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

GEOG-4403 (3) Urban Land Use Developmental Processes (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This course investigates the processes by which urban development occurs (land use planning, urban governance, housing, industrial, etc.) with a critical appraisal of resulting urban form. Relevant urban theories are examined through the critical lenses of their urban form and development. Two major foci of the course are on how to make a local community (neighbourhood planning) and the design of social and public spaces as a means to develop a sustainable and healthy city.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

Requisite Courses: GEOG-2414 or GEOG-2415 [prerequisite(s)].

GEOG-4404 (3) Field Research in Urban Geography (3 hrs Field Study | 3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This course investigates, examines and appraises the major varieties of primary and secondary materials available for the study of urban areas. Particular emphasis will be placed on the acquisition and evaluation of local material, and the course will therefore call for students to be engaged in field research. This course alternates with GEOG-4403(3).

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

Requisite Courses: GEOG-2414 or GEOG-2415 [prerequisite(s)].

GEOG-4409 (3) Architecture and City Planning (3 hrs Lecture) This course explores the relationship between architecture and the city form, functions and planning in the social and historical context of the 20th century. Planning theory and practice is more specialized and separated from architectural theory. Yet, architecture has an important visual and functional impact on the urban form of the city and its planning. We survey the major architectural schools (Art Nouveau, Bauhaus, International Style) and the cultural avant-garde trends (Futurism, Surrealism, Situationism), and their relationship to and impact on city planning are surveyed.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

Requisite Courses: GEOG-2414 or GEOG-2415, or the former GEOG-2406 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

GEOG-4441 (3) Advanced Studies in Environmental Perception (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This course will consist of seminars examining selected topics relating to perceptions of physical and cultural environments. It will review and evaluate methods employed by geographers in the field of environmental perception. Whenever possible, students will be encouraged to apply these methods to local problems in natural hazards, mental mapping, and landscape aesthetics. This course will be of interest to students with an orientation to either physical or cultural geography.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

Requisite Courses: GEOG-2408 [prerequisite(s)].

GEOG-4443 (3) Advanced Tourism and Recreation Geography (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This course is based on a selection of advanced readings on topics and problems dealing with recreational and tourism behavior, the supply and demand for different types of recreational space and tourism facilities, and issues of sustainability. A research project may be required of each student. Additional in-depth work is required to receive credit at the 4000-level.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and GEOG-3443 | GEOG-4407.

Requisite Courses: GEOG-2412(3) or GEOG-3411(3) or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

GEOG-4445 (3) Power, Knowledge, Geography (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This course examines the power of geographical ideas in shaping social values and understandings. Seminars focus on analyzing spatial formations of various historical and contemporary topics such as colonialism, nationalism, warfare, popular culture, science, racism, surveillance, the body, genocide, the climate crisis, and fundamentalism. Students are asked to consider how 'the production of space' accompanies and influences the production of knowledge, revealing connections between geography and power. Additional in-depth work is required to receive credit at the 4000-level.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and GEOG-3445 | GEOG-4415.

Requisite Courses: Any second-year systematic human geography (GEOG-24XX) or regional geography (GEOG-25XX) course or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

GEOG-4450 (3) Geographic Perspectives on Environment and Sustainability (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This course considers geographic and environmental approaches to sustainable staple-based development. Topics include conceptual and methodological tools and frameworks associated with resource management, including impact assessment, meaningful engagement, community-based management, corporate social responsibility, post approval practices and adaptive management. In critiquing current practices, students reflect on innovations designed to move towards more sustainable development. This course may be held concurrent with GDP/ GEOG 7750. Student evaluation will differ depending on the level.

Cross-listed: ENV-4450(3).

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and ENV-4450, GEOG-7750, and GDP-7750.

Requisite Courses: 18 credit hours in Geography or 18 credit hours in Environmental Studies and Sciences [prerequisite(s)].

GEOG-4701 (3) Directed Readings in Human Geography (3 hrs Directed Reading) This course exposes students to contemporary and topical issues of human geography through authoritative readings compiled by the instructor. The student is required to produce a short dissertation.

Restrictions: Department Permission Required.

GEOG-4702 (3) Directed Readings in Physical Geography (3 hrs Directed Reading) This course exposes students to contemporary and topical issues of physical geography through authoritative readings compiled by the instructor. The student is required to produce a short dissertation.

Restrictions: Department Permission Required.

GEOG-4703 (3) Directed Readings in Geomatics (3 hrs Lecture) This course exposes students to contemporary and topical issues of geomatics through authoritative readings compiled by the instructor. Students are required to produce a short essay on a topic agreed upon by the instructor and the student.

Restrictions: Instructor Permission Required. Department Permission Required.

GEOG-4801 (3) Geography Field Seminar (30 hrs Field Study | 3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This course deals with the practical methodologies and problems associated with field research. Students are introduced to the necessary skills required for the acquisition, analyses, and presentation of primary field data. In addition to oral and written presentations of their research, students are required to participate in an intensive 10 day field camp at an off-campus venue prior to the start of the Fall Term lectures. Students should consult with the Chair of the Geography Department regarding the availability of this course and the location of field camp.

Restrictions: Instructor Permission Required. Honours Form Required.

Requisite Courses: GEOG-3330 and permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

GEOG-4901 (6) Honours Geography Thesis (3 hrs Project / Thesis) The Honours thesis provides the student with the opportunity to design and complete an original research project on a subject of interest and relevant to the discipline. In addition to completing the project, students in this course are expected to meet with a faculty supervisor on a regular schedule throughout the academic year. Presentation of their research results verbally and in thesis form to the Geography Department is an integral part of the course.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Department Permission Required.

Requisite Courses: GEOG-3330, 36 credit hours in Geography, a Geography GPA of at least 3.0, and permission of the Department Chair [prerequisite(s)].

GERMAN STUDIES

GERM-1001 (6) Introductory German (3 hrs Lecture | 1 hrs Lab) This course is designed for students who have no previous knowledge of German and who wish to acquire a command of the written and spoken language. Its main aim is to provide a solid base in vocabulary, grammar, and pronunciation. Weekly oral practice classes and computer exercises supplement the course in order to give the student additional practice in the practical applications of the language.

Note: Students who have AP German Language, the IB in German, or the DSD II (Deutsches Sprachdiplom II) may apply for 6 transfer credits for GERM-1001 in lieu of taking the course. Students who speak German fluently should consult with the German Studies advisor before enrolling in this course.

Requisite Courses: GERM-1001L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

GERM-2101 (3) Studies in German Culture I (3 hrs Lecture) This course offers a broad survey of cultural developments in German-speaking Europe from the Middle Ages to the Romantic period at the beginning of the 19th century, including developments in art, architecture, music, and the social/political background. Writings by authors such as Luther, Grimmelshausen, Kant, Lessing, and Goethe will allow for discussion of themes and issues in the context of their times.

Cross-listed: HIST-2323(3), GERM-3101(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and GERM-3101 | HIST-2323.

Requisite Courses: GERM-2109 or GERM-2110 [prerequisite(s)].

GERM-2102 (3) Studies in German Culture II (3 hrs Lecture) This course offers a broad survey of cultural developments in German-speaking Europe from the beginning of the 19th century to the present, including developments in art, architecture, music, and the social/political background. Writings by authors such as E.T.A. Hoffmann, Marx, Freud, Kafka, Brecht, and Christa Wolf will allow for discussion of themes and issues in the context of their times.

Cross-listed: HIST-2324(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and GERM-3102 | HIST-2324.

Requisite Courses: GERM-2109 or GERM-2110 [prerequisite(s)].

GERM-2109 (3) Intermediate German (3 hrs Lecture | 1 hrs Lab) In this course, students review grammar essentials, expand their vocabulary, and improve their oral and written communication skills while becoming more familiar with the culture of the German speaking world. Weekly oral practice classes supplement the course in order to boost speaking and listening skills.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and GERM-2001.

Requisite Courses: GERM-1001 or equivalent or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)]; GERM-2109L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

GERM-2110 (3) Advanced German (3 hrs Lecture | 1 hrs Lab) In this course, students expand their vocabulary and put their grammatical knowledge into use for reading and writing about the culture of the German-speaking world. In this context, they practice complex grammatical structures such as adjective endings, the passive voice, and the indirect discourse subjunctive. Weekly oral practice classes supplement the course in order to maintain speaking and listening skills.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and GERM-2001.

Requisite Courses: GERM-1001 or equivalent or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)]; GERM-2110L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

GERM-2115 (3) German-English Translation (3 hrs Lecture) This course introduces the principles of written translation from German into English. Students translate short authentic German-language texts from a variety of sources including newspapers, magazines, and literature. Practical exercises focus on translation difficulties relating to English vocabulary, grammar, and style. Students can expect to improve their knowledge of German grammar, vocabulary and syntax.

Requisite Courses: GERM-2109 or GERM-2110 [prerequisite(s)].

GERM-2202 (3) German Phonetics (3 hrs Lecture) This course presents the theory and practice of German phonetics and phonology, its practical applications (e.g., the use of pronunciation dictionaries), and material realizations in standard German. Some areas of theory covered include the physiology of speech, the International Phonetic Alphabet, as it relates to German, and phonetic transcription. Emphasis is placed on the relationship between pronunciation and orthography and on correcting the student's oral performance in German, including a study of intonation patterns in German.

Cross-listed: LING-2401(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and LING-2401.

Requisite Courses: GERM-2109 or GERM-2110 [prerequisite(s)].

GERM-2209 (3) Introduction to German Literature (3 hrs Lecture) This survey of representative poems, short stories, and dramatic texts introduces students to significant authors of German literature since the 18th century such as Schiller, Goethe, Rilke, Kafka, Frisch, and Bachmann. It also introduces them to the study of literature: how to read, discuss, and interpret literary texts.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and GERM-2207.

Requisite Courses: GERM-2110 or the former GERM-2001 [prerequisite(s)].

GERM-2331 (3) History of Modern Germany (3 hrs Lecture) This survey of political, economic, social and cultural developments in Germany from the Holy Roman Empire to the Berlin Republic focuses on developments after the Congress of Vienna (1815), including the 1848

Revolution, Bismarck and German unification 1871, Wilhelmine Germany and imperialism, World War I, the Weimar Republic, Hitler and National Socialism, World War II and the Holocaust, the two Germanies in the Cold War, and reunification in 1989/90. Major historiographical controversies and methods of interpreting and analyzing German history are examined through lectures, explication of primary sources and critical reading of secondary sources, group and class discussions, and films.

Cross-listed: HIST-2331(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and HIST-2331.

GERM-2386 (3) German Culture Through Film (3 hrs Lecture) This course uses German feature films to help students develop their language skills and learn about the culture and history of German-speaking Europe since the 1920s. With the support of subtitles or captioning, guided exercises, and interpretive discussions, students develop their listening, speaking, reading, and writing skills while becoming more familiar with German experiences in the twentieth and twenty-first centuries. Some attention is given to German film terminology and the analysis of scenes. The course includes notable films by such directors as Joseph von Sternberg, Rainer Werner Fassbinder, Volker Schlöndorff, and Fatih Akin.
Requisite Courses: GERM-2109 or GERM-2110 or the former GERM-2001 [prerequisite(s)].

GERM-2560 (3) Migrants, Ethnicity, and Conflict in Twentieth Century German-Canadian History (3 hrs Lecture) This course surveys the history of German immigrants and their descendants in Canada. It focuses on the crises and conflicts of the twentieth century, in particular German Canadians' responses to the two world wars, their experiences of the Great Depression, and the effects of German mass immigration during the post-World War II economic boom.

Cross-listed: GERM 2560

GERM-3101 (3) Studies in German Culture I (3 hrs Lecture) This course offers a broad survey of cultural developments in German-speaking Europe from the Middle Ages to the Romantic period at the beginning of the 19th century, including developments in art, architecture, music, and the social/political background. Writings by authors such as Luther, Grimmshausen, Kant, Lessing, and Goethe will allow for discussion of themes and issues in the context of their times. Students in GERM-3101 can expect longer and/or more in-depth assignments than students in GERM-2101.

Cross-listed: GERM-2101(3) and HIST-2323(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and GERM-2101 | HIST-2323.

Requisite Courses: GERM-2109 or GERM-2110 and any 3-credit hour course in 2000-level German Studies [prerequisite(s)].

GERM-3102 (3) Studies in German Culture II (3 hrs Lecture) This course offers a broad survey of cultural developments in German-speaking Europe from the beginning of the 19th century to the present, including developments in art, architecture, music, and the social/political background. Writings by authors such as E. T. A. Hoffmann, Marx, Freud, Kafka, Brecht and Christa Wolf allow for discussion of themes and issues in the context of their times. Students in GERM-3102 can expect longer and/or more in-depth assignments than students in GERM-2102.

Cross-listed: HIST-2324(3), GERM-2102(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and GERM-2102 | HIST-2324.

Requisite Courses: GERM-2109 or GERM-2110 and any 3-credit hour course in 2000-level German Studies [prerequisite(s)].

GERM-3103 (6) The German-Canadian Presence in Canadian History (3 hrs Lecture) This course will focus upon the European origins of German-speaking immigrants to Canada, their settlement patterns and their social, political, and economic roles. In addition, the course will examine both the effects of international events upon the German-speaking population and their place in the Canadian cultural mosaic.

Note: Please see the Department of History for a specific course description.

Cross-listed: HIST-3560(6).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and HIST-3560 | HIST-3561.

GERM-3113 (3) Exploring Language and Society Through Texts (3 hrs Lecture) In this course students examine current events, social issues, and politics in the contemporary German-speaking world through the analysis and discussion of media sources. The course offers extensive reading practice and is designed for students who wish to improve their oral and written proficiency in German. Emphasis is placed on the acquisition of specialized vocabulary. Course work includes written compositions, oral presentations, debates, and discussions.

Requisite Courses: GERM-2109 or GERM-2110 and any 3 credit German Studies course at the 2000 level except GERM-2001 [prerequisite(s)].

GERM-3401 (3) Business German (3 hrs Lecture) This course teaches students to communicate effectively in business situations. Course materials include situational texts reflecting business activities and covering a range of topics such as trade, telecommunications, computer technology, financial institutions, marketing, and advertising. The course is designed to expand language skills already acquired as well as to present the specialized vocabulary used in the business environment. It includes extensive exercises in vocabulary, comprehension, business writing, and correspondence.

Requisite Courses: GERM-2109 or GERM-2110 and any 3 credits German Studies course at the 2000 level [prerequisite(s)].

GERM-3403 (3) German Lexicology (3 hrs Lecture) This course focuses on the German lexicon, its forms and formation. Students learn to distinguish different structural types of words (e.g., acronyms, derivatives), to identify their basic components (e.g., prefixes, suffixes), and to recognize the mechanisms involved in their formation.

Through the study of synonyms and antonyms, students explore the semantic relationships between words. Course work emphasizes practical strategies for vocabulary enrichment and mastery.

Cross-listed: LING-3401(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and LING-3401.

Requisite Courses: GERM-2109 or GERM-2110 and any 3 credit hours in 2000-level German Studies course except GERM-2001(6) [prerequisite(s)].

GERM-3404 (3) History of the German Language (3 hrs Lecture) This course traces the development of the German language from early Germanic to the present. It examines both the internal evolution of the German language (its phonetics, phonology, morphology, syntax, semantics, and pragmatics) and the sociocultural and historical factors that influenced its development. Various linguistic documents illustrating the distinct features of German in different eras are studied.

Requisite Courses: GERM-2109 or GERM-2110 and any 3 credit hours in 2000-level German Studies [prerequisite(s)].

GERM-3561 (3) German-Canadian Identity - Historical Perspectives (3 hrs Lecture) This lecture/seminar course will explore questions of ethnic identity, using the example of German Canadians. While students will develop their individual research projects related to the broader issue of ethnicity, class discussion will focus on the historical presence of German speakers in Canada, their settlement patterns, their relationship to political culture and the Canadian state, and perceptions and self-images of German Canadians.

Note: A knowledge of German is not required.

Cross-listed: HIST-3561(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and HIST-3560 | HIST-3561.

GERM-3858 (3) The Acquisition of German as an Additional Language (3 hrs Lecture) In this course students explore the learning and teaching of German as an additional language. Students learn about the process of language acquisition based on the example of German and their own language learning. Students examine how this knowledge can be used for teaching German as an additional language. Topics might include child language acquisition, and theories, techniques and practices of adult second language acquisition.

Cross-listed: LING-3405(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and LING-3405.

Requisite Courses: GERM-2109 or GERM-2110 and any 3 credit hours in 2000-level German Studies courses [prerequisite(s)].

GERM-3910 (3) Special Topics in German Studies (3 hrs Tutorial) In this tutorial, students explore a topic in German literature or linguistics under the direction of a professor.

Note: This course may be repeated for credit when the topic varies.

Restrictions: Instructor Permission Required.

Requisite Courses: GERM-2109 or GERM-2110 and any 3-credit hours in 2000-level German Studies courses [prerequisite(s)].

HISTORY

HIST-1006 (3) Indigenous History to 1900: Origins, Contact, Colonialism (3 hrs Lecture) This course introduces students to the history of the Indigenous peoples of North America from the pre-contact period to the end of the nineteenth century. Major themes include the origins of Indigenous people, the diversity of Indigenous societies, contact experiences, and the impact of Christian missions, colonial warfare, treaties, and assimilationist policies. The course also addresses some of the traditional limitations of the discipline of history for interpreting the Indigenous past, and discusses the sources and methodologies that Indigenous and non-Indigenous historians have adopted in order to rethink Eurocentric interpretations. Max. 6 cr hr 1000 History may be counted for degree credit.

HIST-1007 (3) Indigenous History Since 1900: Racism, Resistance, Renewal (3 hrs Lecture) This course gives students the opportunity to explore themes and topics in modern Indigenous history from 1900 to the present. Course content focuses on the themes of Racism, Resistance and Renewal, and topics include: anti-Indigenous racism and inequality in education, health, and the law; histories of Indigenous agency and resistance in political movements, court action and everyday acts; and examples of efforts to define and enact decolonization such as cultural revitalization and repatriation. The course focuses on the history of Winnipeg and the surrounding area, while examples are also drawn from across Canada and the United States. Max. 6 cr hr 1000 History may be counted for degree credit.

HIST-1008 (3) Colonial Genocides and Indigenous History (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines the impact of colonial violence on Indigenous peoples in North America from the early contact period until the era of residential schools. The course is not intended to be a comprehensive overview of all atrocities ever committed against Indigenous peoples. Instead, this course examines a selected number of massacres, genocides, and episodes of ethnic cleansing in depth. The course also addresses some of the traditional limitations of the discipline of history for interpreting the Indigenous past, and discusses the sources and methodologies that Indigenous and non-Indigenous historians have adopted in order to rethink Eurocentric interpretations. Max. 6 cr hr 1000 History may be counted for degree credit.

HIST-1009 (3) Introduction to Indigenous Studies: Art, Culture and History (3 hrs Lecture) This course provides an introduction to Indigenous art, culture and history in North America. Starting with the pre-contact indigenous societies, students explore the richness and diversity of indigenous cultures as they evolved out of different eco-systems from Central America up to Canada's Arctic. Using Indigenous ontologies and epistemologies as a starting point, the course provides an alternative view of colonial history as well as the post-colonial struggle of indigenous peoples for their own identity, place and belonging in contemporary society.
Cross-listed: IS-1016

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and IS-1015 | IS-1016. Max. 6 cr hr 1000 History may be counted for degree credit.

HIST-2080 (3) The History of Archaic Greece (3 hrs Lecture) This course traces the history of Greece during the Archaic period from the beginning of the eighth century BCE through to the beginning of the fifth century BCE. Special emphasis is placed on the social, political and economic evolution of the Greek City-states (in particular Athens and Sparta), the failure of the Greeks to achieve political unity, cultural transformations, periods of warfare, and the Greeks' consequent vulnerability to external threats.

Cross-listed: CLAS-2301(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and CLAS-2091 | CLAS-2301 | HIST-2104.

HIST-2081 (3) The History of the Roman Republic (3 hrs Lecture) This course considers the history of the Roman Republic from the legendary foundations of the city of Rome through to the beginning of the Roman Empire. Lectures trace the major cultural, military, and societal events of the Republic. Particular emphasis is placed upon the expansion of Rome's power throughout Italy and the Mediterranean, the forces that brought about the transformation of the Roman style of government from Monarchy to Republic, and later to Empire, and the problems which attend these changes.

Cross-listed: CLAS-2303(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and CLAS-2096 | CLAS-2303 | HIST-2096.

HIST-2089 (3) The History of Classical Greece (3 hrs Lecture) This course traces the history of Greece during the Classical period from the beginning of the fifth century BCE until the rise of Macedon in the mid-fourth century BCE. Special emphasis is placed on social, political and economic evolution of the Greek city-states (in particular Athens and Sparta), the failure of the Greeks to achieve political unity, cultural transformations, periods of warfare, and the Greeks' consequent vulnerability to external threats.

Cross-listed: CLAS-2302(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and CLAS-2091 | CLAS-2302 | HIST-2104.

HIST-2090 (3) Topics in Classical Studies (3 hrs Lecture) This course explores a specific area in the field of Classical scholarship. The focus of study varies from year to year. Possible topics include ancient medicine, technology, economics, warfare, and the popular reception of the Classical tradition. Information concerning these course offerings is provided by the department.

Note: This course may be repeated for credit when the topic varies.

Cross-listed: CLAS-2010(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and CLAS-2010.

HIST-2097 (3) The History of the Roman Empire (3 hrs Lecture) This course considers the history of the Roman Empire from the end of the Roman Republic through to the reign of Constantine. Lectures trace the major cultural, military, and societal events of the first three centuries of the Empire. Particular emphasis is placed upon the expansion of Rome's power throughout the Mediterranean, Europe, and the Near East, the forces, individuals, and events that affect the Empire during the period 30 BCE-c.312 CE, and the problems that attended these changes.

Cross-listed: CLAS-2304(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and CLAS-2096 | CLAS-2304 | HIST-2096.

HIST-2099 (3) The Roman Army (3 hrs Lecture) This course considers the Roman army, from its origins and increasing professionalization during the Monarchy and Republic, to its role as emperor-maker during the third century CE. Topics may include the evidence for the army, recruitment, organization, strategy, unit tactics, troop disposition on the frontiers, and veterans. More broadly, this course examines the army's wider impact on culture and society with regard to religion, Romanization, and political life.

Cross-listed: CLAS-2950(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and CLAS-2950.

HIST-2108 (3) Mennonite Studies I (3 hrs Lecture) This course offers a survey of the origins and history of the Anabaptists in Switzerland, the Netherlands, Germany, Prussia, and Russia. Attention is given to the interaction of religion and culture in the history of European Mennonites.

Cross-listed: MENN-2101(3) and REL-2363(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and MENN-2101 | REL-2363.

HIST-2109 (3) Mennonite Studies II (3 hrs Lecture) This course is a survey of the immigration and resettlement of Mennonites in Russia and in North and South America. The course includes a study of the origins and distinctive characteristics of particular Mennonite groups and conclude with a brief survey of Mennonites around the world.

Cross-listed: MENN-2102(3), REL-2364(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and HIST-3109 | MENN-2102 | REL-2364.

HIST-2110 (3 or 6) The Twentieth-Century World (3 hrs Lecture) This course offers an historical approach to the characteristic problems, new or inherited, of the twentieth century, e.g., problems of industrialism; nationalism; balance of power; racial conflicts; imperial rivalries; origins, character, and results of World War I; totalitarian experiments; the Second World War; problems of the post-war period; the contemporary world-scene; the United Nations' difficulties and achievements.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and HIST-2100.

HIST-2112 (6) War as a Social Institution (3 hrs Lecture) This course offers a survey of the effects of war on the development of Western society, and the reciprocal effects of social forces on the art of war, from the ancient Greeks to the Nuclear Age.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and HIST-3103.

HIST-2113 (6) A History of Slavery (3 hrs Lecture) This course offers a historical survey of the institution of slavery from ancient times to the twentieth century. Emphasis is placed on slavery as the basis of imperial and economic systems, the African and New World experience, and the slavery of the twentieth century.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and HIST-3102.

HIST-2114 (3) European Empires and Early Modern Globalization (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines how European maritime empires initiated the first era of globalization from 1450 to 1800. From the era of Christopher Columbus until the voyages of James Cook to the Pacific in the 1770s, Europeans interconnected the world through trade, migration, war, and cultural exchanges. While some historians argue that this period witnessed the rise of European/Western global dominance, especially in the Americas, other scholars maintain that European influence in Asia and West Africa remained quite limited. This course is an introduction to this fascinating debate that has relevance for the world that we live in today.

HIST-2116 (6) Survey History of Latin America (3 hrs Lecture) This lecture course is an overview of the history of Central and South America. The course will study the Indigenous experience before European expansion into the region, then examine the effect of colonization on the cultural, political, and social structures of the region. The course concludes with an examination of the modern, post-colonial period.

HIST-2118 (3) Modern Mexico: From Acapulco to Zapatistas (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines the historical development of Mexico from independence through revolution to the present, with emphasis on major social, political, economic, and cultural developments that contributed to the formation of modern Mexico. The course explores key issues, including the role of race, ethnicity, class, and religion in Mexican independence and nation-building, war with the United States, dictatorship and revolution, the impact of free trade, and the multifaceted grassroots struggles to make a living or make for the U.S. border. Students are encouraged to engage in research, analysis, and problem-solving toward understanding the historical factors that have shaped Mexico.

HIST-2120 (3) History of Capitalism (3 hrs Lecture) This course investigates the historical development of capitalism, as well as major interpretive debates among scholars of business history and the history of capitalism. Beginning with a discussion of sixteenth-century trade and commerce, the course explores the development of transportation and mass production, the emergence of a managerial class, the roles of women and of workers, advertising and consumption, and alternative ownership structures, among others.

HIST-2121 (3) Environmental History of the Americas (3 hrs Lecture) This course is a survey of environmental history of North and South America from the pre-Columbian civilizations until the present. The course takes a hemispheric perspective to examine the diverse ways in which human societies across the Americas have interacted with their natural environments. While the first half of the course concentrates on the impact of European colonization on the 'New World', the second half focuses on how industrialization and urbanization have changed the various eco-systems of the Americas.

HIST-2122 (3) Racism in World History: From the Middle Ages to the Present (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines the history of racial ideas and policies and how they have shaped world history from the Middle Ages to the present. Students analyze the development of racial ideas and policies in the Western World (Europe and the Americas), and manifestations of non-Western racial ideas.

Topics may include the Crusades, Anti-Judaism, Anti-Semitism, European imperialism and colonialism, race mixing in Latin America, scientific racism, the Jim Crow system in the American South, the racial state of Nazi Germany, and the apartheid era in South Africa.

HIST-2126 (3) The Rise of the Ottoman Empire: the Sultan's Slaves (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines the political, social, cultural, and economic dimensions of the early Ottoman state from its inception at the beginning of the fourteenth century until the early eighteenth century. It presents the rich heritage of the Empire and its expansion to Europe, Asia and Africa, highlighting issues such as the origins of the Empire, imperial expansion, conflicts with European powers, the slave-based army, ordinary Ottoman lives, the complex bureaucracy of the state and the mysteries of the harem world. This course is twinned with HIST-2127 on the later Ottoman Empire from the eighteenth to the twentieth century.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and HIST-3101.

HIST-2127 (3) The History of the Late Ottoman Empire: Tulip and Culture Clash (3 hrs Lecture) This lecture course examines the political, social, cultural, and economic dimensions of the late Ottoman Empire from the beginning of the eighteenth century until 1922. In this period the empire dwindled as a result of the rising power of its European political opponents, first Austria and Russia and later Britain and France. The Ottoman elite responded by adopting a series of modernizing reforms and survived until 1922. This course is twinned with HIST-2126.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and HIST-3101.

HIST-2130 (6) A History of the Developing World (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines the historical roots of development and underdevelopment, processes that have led to the emergence of the developing world or Third World as a distinctive, though diverse region. It surveys trends such as colonization, industrialization, militarization and trade in the South from the 15th to the 20th century. It investigates the ways in which both external pressures and internal dynamics have contributed to continuity and change in these regions. This course will help students to understand the historical context for contemporary changes in developing countries, as well as the context in which particular development theories and practices emerged.

Cross-listed: IDS-2130(6).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and IDS-2130.

Requisite Courses: IDS-1100(6) or 6 credit hours in HIST 1000-level courses, or permission of the Instructor [prerequisite(s)].

HIST-2131 (3) History of Peace and Nonviolence I (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines the history of pacifism, peace movements, and nonviolence from ancient times to the 1700s. It focuses in particular on Europe, with special emphasis on the period from ancient Greece and Rome, to Early Modern times in Western Europe. The course also addresses history of peace in other parts of the world.

Thus, it contrasts Christian traditions of nonviolence with those of Hindu, Buddhist and other eastern traditions. For case studies, the course examines Mennonite communities in 16th and 17th century Switzerland and the Netherlands.

Cross-listed: MENN-2131(3), CRS-2131(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and CRS-2131 | MENN-2131.

HIST-2132 (3) History of Peace and Nonviolence II (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines the history of pacifism, peace movements, and nonviolence from the 1700s to the present. It focuses in particular on North America, but also covers selected events in other parts of the world. The course, thus, contrasts Christian traditions of nonviolence with those of Indigenous, secular, and eastern cultures. For case studies, the course examines Mennonite communities in 19th and 20th century Canada and the United States where Mennonites have embraced pacifism as a fundamental principle of social organization.

Cross-listed: MENN-2132(3), CRS-2132(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and CRS-2132 | MENN-2132.

HIST-2133 (3) Global Migration History (3 hrs Lecture) This lecture course surveys the diversity of worldwide migrations in the modern period. HIST-3101 (6) History of the Ottoman Empire (3 hrs Lecture/Seminar) This lecture/seminar course examines the political, social, cultural, and economic dimensions of the Ottoman Empire from its inception at the beginning of the fourteenth century until its demise in 1922. The multi-faceted aspects of this course are designed to present the rich heritage of the Ottoman Empire which expanded in its heyday from the Atlantic Ocean to the Indian Ocean and from the Danube to the Nile. The course offers a comprehensive introduction to Ottoman life throughout the centuries. It also highlights the legacy of the Ottoman Empire in Europe, Asia, and Africa.

HIST-3108 (3) Gender and Mennonites (3 hrs Lecture/Seminar) This lecture/seminar course examines the role of women and of men in the evolving Mennonite society. It traces these gender roles amongst the Radical Anabaptists of Western Europe, the agrarian Mennonite communities in Russia and North America, and Mennonites in modern, urban centres in North America. The course examines patriarchal structures of Mennonite households, churches and communities, but also focuses on the ways in which women create mechanisms of autonomy and meaning within those structures. The ideas that comprise Mennonite femininity and masculinity receive special attention. Gender is also traced through the Mennonite life cycle, commencing at childhood, and tracked through times of youth, marriage, mid-age, and retirement. The course examines how Mennonite theological teachings, everyday language, modes of production, fertility rates, and national cultures affect ideas of gender in Mennonite society.

Cross-listed: MENN-3108(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and MENN-3108.

lecture/seminar course analyses the historical evolution of Cuban society from the early colonial period, through capitalist development in the first half of the twentieth century, and to socialism after 1959. Emphasis is on the examination of the history of Cuba in the context of its relationship with the rest of the world. Emphasis is also on the national and international roots and dynamic of revolutionary change in Cuba, from the colonial period under Spain, through United States and Soviet hegemony, to the present, and includes consideration of the conditions and perspectives of various groups and social classes.

HIST-3118 (3) South Asian Diaspora Since 1800 (3 hrs Lecture/Seminar) This lecture/seminar course examines migration from South Asia (today comprising India, Pakistan, Bangladesh, Nepal, Bhutan, Sri Lanka and Maldives) in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries. Discussions focus on different types of migration and settlement developed within the British Empire, and the changes brought about by decolonization. The course covers labour issues including recruitment patterns, settlement patterns, establishment of educational and religious institutions, and the effect of overseas issues on nationalist politics in the colonial era. In the post-colonial period the course covers South Asian contributions to multicultural societies, labour policies, gender issues, racial discrimination and the politics of identity.

HIST-3121 (3) Women in the Modern World (3 hrs Lecture/Seminar) This lecture/seminar course will examine the varied experiences of women in a cross-cultural context, with emphasis on the transference of European ideologies of gender to a colonial setting. Students will analyze and compare notions of womanhood in modern Europe, Asia, Africa, and Latin America, and pay special attention to the agency of imperialism and colonialism in the construction of women's lives. Using primary and secondary sources, comparisons will be drawn where appropriate among different classes, regions, and times.

HIST-3124 (3) A Global History of Slavery, Indentured Labour and Sexuality 1700 to Present (3 hrs Lecture/Seminar) This course is a global history of slavery and indentured labour from 1700 to the present; focusing on sexuality and gender. The course compares transatlantic African slavery and Indian indentured labour migration and their implications. Topics include gender and slavery in African societies, sex and the slave trade, African enslavement in the Caribbean and North America, abolitionist discourses, gender in the Indian indentured labour system in the Caribbean, Mauritius, South Africa,

Malaya and Fiji, gendered approaches to peasant labour in India, the end of indenture and the historical implications of slavery and indenture today.

HIST-3125 (3) Topics in Contemporary Latin

American History (3 hrs Lecture/Seminar) This course examines key issues and events in contemporary Latin American history based on the social, political, economic and cultural phenomena critical to their development. As a contemporary history course, the chronological emphasis is on the post-1945 period, while the actual topics vary each time it is offered. Students have the opportunity to engage recent Latin American history, current regional and international issues, and the factors behind them, thereby promoting an understanding of the link between current events and historical causation. Students actively engage in methods of research, analysis, and problem-solving.

HIST-3126 (3) Mennonites and Environmental

History: A Global Perspective (3 hrs Lecture/Seminar)

This course considers how Mennonites from around the world have related to the environment in the 20th century, a time of immense technological change in agriculture and horticulture, with an emphasis on their relationship to nature and food production as farmers. It considers the way farmers have imagined their environments, and strategies they have taken to cultivate lands in distinctively different climates. Students study how Mennonite ideas on non-violence, simplicity and community, related to land and nature. Case studies may include Bolivia, Canada, Indonesia, the Netherlands, Russia, the US, and Zimbabwe.

Cross-listed: MENN-3126(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and MENN-3126.

HIST-3128 (3) Indigenous-Mennonite Relations (3 hrs

Lecture) Indigenous-Mennonite Relations examines the history of the encounters between Indigenous societies and a European settler group. It focuses on specific encounters, first in Canada, but also in the United States, Mexico, Paraguay and Bolivia. It considers the intrusion on Indigenous lands of ethno-religious societies such as the Mennonites, and the evolution of attending social relations, including both inter-community co-operation and conflict. It examines respective worldviews, including ideas on non-violence, social equality, gender relations, racialization and land stewardship. The course considers recent cross-cultural exchanges, including Mennonite advocacy, Indigenous counter-cultures, and persisting relations between the two cultures.

Cross-listed: MENN-3128(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and MENN-3128.

HIST-3130 (3) History of International Migration: The German Experience (3 hrs Lecture/Seminar) This course offers a survey of historical and current migration patterns, using the example of German-speaking migrants from the 18th to the 20th century. Students will explore migration processes, different types of migration, and the resulting cross-cultural encounters as well as the interaction of states and minorities. The lecture/seminar course will study Germany as a country of emigration and immigration, and discuss the existence of a German Diaspora. A knowledge of German is not required.

HIST-3135 (3 or 6) The Hudson's Bay Company and the Modern Department Store (3 hrs Lecture/Seminar)

In this lecture/seminar course, students examine the history of modern retail business organization, with special attention being given to the Hudson's Bay Company's urban retail stores. The extensive archives of the company affords students an excellent opportunity to study major issues in accounting, personnel, management, and marketing. The external social and political context in which the stores operated is also studied.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and BUS-3135.

HIST-3208 (3) Crusades and Crusaders in the Middle Ages (3 hrs Lecture/Seminar) This course focuses on the crusades in the Mediterranean world and Europe from the First Crusade to the Holy Land (eleventh century) to the capture of Granada from the Moors (fifteenth century). The course explores their roots, forms, and consequences. Special attention is given to the political, cultural, religious, and economic tensions and exchanges between Latin and Greek Christians, and between Christians and Muslims in the Middle East. Along with the crusading campaigns, participants' motivations, life in the crusaders' states, and the consequences of these movements on heretics, Jews, and pagan populations in Europe are explored.

HIST-3209 (3) Travel and Encounters in the Middle Ages (3 hrs Lecture/Seminar)

This lecture/seminar course examines the geographical horizon of medieval Europeans and their knowledge of the world through the travel accounts of merchants, explorers, pilgrims, and missionaries. The period under scrutiny encompasses the 11th to the 15th centuries, a time when this horizon was considerably broadened, for instance, by the Crusades and the Mongol invasions. Attention is given to the development of trade routes and networks across Europe and Asia, the encounters with other peoples, and the development of a medieval imagination of the world.

HIST-3212 (3) Fact, Fiction, and Images: Interpreting Manitoba Mennonites (3 hrs Lecture/Seminar)

This course introduces the student to a wide variety of historic Manitoba Mennonite writers. It includes authors of personal writings, authors or historic works from a variety of disciplines, and authors of poetry and historical fiction. This course analyzes the texts of these authors from the perspective of history, asking what light they shed on the lived experience of Mennonites in Manitoba and how specific historical times might have informed those writings. The course suggests a broad definition of "author", recognizing that all texts are literary constructions, employing particular media to make sense of the Mennonite worlds in Manitoba.

Cross-listed: MENN-3212(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and MENN-3212.

HIST-3213 (3) Environmental History of Europe in the Middle Ages (3 hrs Lecture/Seminar)

This lecture/seminar course examines the relationships between communities and the natural world in medieval Europe (ca. 400?ca. 1500). The course asks the question of nature's agency in medieval history by analyzing how nature shaped social structures, as well as cultural and religious identities, but also how medieval communities learned to control their environment and manage natural resources. Issues include the expansion of agriculture on European landscapes; manorial economy; agrarian and mining technologies; fishing and hunting; pollution and medieval urbanization; as well as natural disasters and diseases, such as the Great Famine and the Black Death.

HIST-3214 (3) Slavery in Roman Society (3 hrs Lecture)

Though underrepresented in evidence, slaves and ex-slaves were critically important members of Roman society. This class considers the ways that the institution of slavery and slaves themselves shaped Roman society, history and culture. Topics of study include sources of slaves, the social attitudes and legal framework that shaped the experience of enslavement, family life, and manumission.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and CLAS-3810.

Requisite Courses: At least 3 credit hours in any Classics course [prerequisite(s)].

HIST-3220 (3) Women in Medieval Europe, 800-1350 (3 hrs Lecture/Seminar) This lecture/seminar course examines the varied experiences of women in medieval Europe. Specific themes may include such topics as women's contributions to religious life and intellectual reform, the changing political and legal status of women in feudal society, women's participation in agrarian and market economies, and the construction of gender and sexuality as class experiences in the medieval period. Using primary and secondary sources, comparisons are drawn where appropriate among different regions and times.

HIST-3221 (3) Women in the Renaissance, 1350-1550

(3 hrs Lecture/Seminar) This lecture/seminar course examines the varied experiences of women in Renaissance Europe. Fundamental to this course is the analysis of traditional periodization as we attempt to answer Joan Kelly's question, "Did women have a Renaissance." Women of the Renaissance period are appraised in a broad range of roles: as members of the labouring classes and as intellectuals, as queens and as paupers. Using primary and secondary sources, students evaluate social, political, legal, and economic conditions in women's lives to determine how these variables could be interpreted in redefining the period known as the Renaissance.

HIST-3222 (3) Women in Early Modern Europe, 1550-1750

(3 hrs Lecture/Seminar) From the sixteenth to the eighteenth centuries, European societies underwent some critical transformations. This lecture/seminar course assesses the impact of those major ideological changes that especially affected women's lives. Was the Protestant Reformation good for women? What was "scientific" and "revolutionary" for women about the Scientific Revolution? Using primary and secondary sources, comparisons are drawn where appropriate among different classes, regions, and times.

HIST-3223 (3) Children and Childhood in Pre-Modern Europe

(3 hrs Lecture/Seminar) This part-lecture, part-seminar course examines the place of children in pre-modern European societies. Themes such as the conceptualization of childhood, and the place of gender inheritance, education, training, apprenticeship, and discipline of children are explored through the study of primary and secondary sources. The time frame and geographical focus may vary from year to year, but the course content covers primarily Western Europe, c. 1400-c.1700. Students are expected to read primary and secondary sources, and participate actively in course discussions.

HIST-3224 (3) Crime and Conflict in Pre-Modern Europe

(3 hrs Lecture/Seminar) This part-lecture, part-seminar course explores the way in which pre-modern European societies dealt with crime and conflict in the family, village, and at large. The course covers such topics as the gendered notions of crime and punishment and the evolution of judicial and policing infrastructures in pre-industrial Europe. The time frame and geographical focus may vary from year to year, but the course content covers primarily Western Europe, c.1400-c.1700. Students are expected to read primary and secondary sources, and participate actively in course discussions.

HIST-3225 (3) Slaves, Serfs, and Servants in Pre-Modern Europe (3 hrs Lecture/Seminar) This part-lecture, part-seminar course examines the multi-faceted dimensions of servility in pre-Modern Europe. Through the lens of primary and secondary sources, students gain an appreciation for the varied mechanisms under which women and men, young and old, were indentured in pre-industrial societies, and develop a critical understanding of the ideologies that justified the categorization of humankind along their servile status. The time frame and geographical focus may vary from year to year, but the course content covers primarily the institutions of slavery and other forms of servitude in Western Europe, c.1400-c.1700. Students are expected to read primary and secondary sources, and participate actively in course discussions.

HIST-3270 (3) Sexuality, Sex and Gender in the Greek and Roman Worlds

(3 hrs Lecture) This course focuses on issues relating to sexuality, sex, and gender in the Greek and Roman worlds. Theoretical approaches illuminate the various categories of ancient evidence. Particular topics for consideration vary, but include the social and philosophical location of homosexuality in Classical Greece, constructions of gender in ancient social and political discourse, representations of women in art and literature, and the history of classical scholarship on these subjects in response to contemporary social movements. Additional in-depth work is required for credit at the 4000-level.

Note: This course may be repeated for credit when the topic varies.

Cross-listed: CLAS-3870(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and CLAS-3870

Requisite Courses: At least 3 credit hours in any Classics course [prerequisite(s)].

HIST-3310 (3 or 6) Topics in Modern Ukrainian History

(3 hrs Lecture/Seminar) This course examines selected topics in Ukrainian history from 1800 to the present. Actual topics discussed vary from year to year. They include: transformations of Ukrainian nationalism and national identity in the East European context: Ukrainian territories in nineteenth century Habsburg and Romanov Empires; military, social and political dimensions of World War I and World War II in Ukraine; social change and identity in Soviet Ukraine; culture and politics of the post-Soviet transformation. The course consists of both lectures and seminars; in-class discussions based on readings constitute an important component of the course.

HIST-3314 (6) Recent European History

(3 hrs Lecture/Seminar) This lecture/seminar course concentrates on the turbulent period between the Franco-Prussian War and the Second World War, and deals with both domestic and international history. Domestic themes, drawn from across the continent, include industrialization, nationalism, church-state relations, socialism and anarchism, racism, and fascism. International themes include imperial rivalries, arms races, war avoidance and peacemaking.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and GERM-3103 | GERM-3561 | HIST-3561.

HIST-3561 (3) German-Canadian Identity - Historical Perspectives (3 hrs Lecture/Seminar) This lecture/seminar course will explore questions of ethnic identity, using the example of German Canadians. While students will develop their individual research projects related to the broader issue of ethnicity, class discussion will focus on the historical presence of German speakers in Canada, their settlement patterns, their relationship to political culture and the Canadian state, and perceptions and self-images of German Canadians.

Note: A knowledge of German is not required.

Cross-listed: GERM-3561(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and GERM-3103 | GERM-3561 | HIST-3560.

HIST-3570 (3 or 6) The Family in Canadian History (3 hrs Lecture/Seminar) This course traces changes in Canadian family life and ideals over the nineteenth and twentieth centuries, considering the impact of economic, legal, and cultural change and the influence of state policy, consumer culture and immigration. It examines the changing nature of marriage, family economies, access to birth control, and ideals of parenting. It explores not only ideals of family life, but also the experience and treatment of those who deviated from these ideals. The course gives equal time to lectures and to class discussion and, as such, depends on the active and regular participation of students.

HIST-3571 (3) History of Feminism in Canada (3 hrs Lecture/Seminar) This course examines the history of feminism, focusing on the Canadian experience set within the broader context of North America and the West. It considers the changing goals, methods of organizing, adherents, societal responses and impact during each of the three "waves" of feminism. It explores biographical history of key Canadian and Western feminists. The course gives equal time to lectures and to class discussion and, as such, depends on the active and regular participation of students.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and WGS-3571.

HIST-3572 (3 or 6) History of Childhood in Canada (3 hrs Lecture/Seminar) This course traces the history of childhood in Canada from the pre-industrial period to the late-twentieth century. It explores how new ideals of childhood which emerged in the late-nineteenth century differed from those existing previously and how an ideal of the child as dependent and in need of careful nurture and protection gradually took hold. It explores these subjects via a consideration of a number of issues which, from year to year, may include work, schooling, health, adoption, delinquency, recreation, and the emergence of children as a target consumer market.

HIST-3573 (3) Material Culture in Northern Plains Indigenous History, Field Course (3 hrs Field Study) In this experiential-learning course, we explore various ways in which Indigenous and European technologies complemented each other. The first half of the course consists of seminar discussions and lectures at the University of Winnipeg. The second half of the course takes place in the field, where students can work with Indigenous Elders from nearby First Nations communities. Students learn about and experience traditional technologies, such as tanning hides and/or manufacturing archery equipment, while being accommodated in traditional tipis and/or modern tents.

Note: Students should notify the instructor in case of dietary restrictions, plant-, animal-, or food allergies. There is a surcharge per student for this course to cover honoraria for Elders and other knowledge keepers, food-related costs and costs for materials the students will be using. Please consult the History Department.

Cross-listed: HIST-4573(3), ANTH-3273(3), ANTH-4273(3).

Restrictions: Instructor Permission Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and ANTH-3273 | ANTH-4273 | HIST-4573.

HIST-3576 (3) Twentieth Century U.S. History (3 hrs Lecture/Seminar) This lecture/seminar course explores key themes in the study of the United States during the twentieth century. The thematic focus of the course varies, but may include: gender and sexuality, social justice, protest, and liberation movements, American music or cultural history, empire and colonialism.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and HIST-3604

HIST-3577 (3) Race and Ethnicity in U.S. History (3 hrs Lecture/Seminar) This lecture/seminar course explores the critical study of race and ethnicity in the United States. The temporal and thematic focus of the course varies, but may include: histories of Black Americans, Asian Americans, racialized diasporic/(im)migrant communities, anti-racist and liberatory social movements, histories of American slavery, ideologies of race and/or ethnicity, race and the American city.

Restrictions: Students may not receive credit for this course and HIST-3605

HIST-3606 (3) Hawai'i and the United States (3 hrs Lecture/Seminar) This lecture/seminar course on Hawai'i history focuses on Kanaka Maoli (Indigenous Hawaiian) perspectives and U.S. settler colonial critique. We analyze and discuss historical scholarship and theoretical readings alongside cultural texts (film, music, visual art, print media, and more) to learn the importance of non-traditional sources for critical historical inquiry. Topics include Kanaka Maoli epistemologies and cultural practice. Western encounter, the Hawaiian Kingdom, U.S. annexation and territorialization, tourism and consumerism, U.S. popular culture and cultural appropriation, World War II, Asian Americans in Hawai'i, Hawai'i statehood, the Hawaiian Sovereignty Movement, Indigenous cultural resurgence, and the ongoing fight for decolonization.

Experimental Course - This course is offered on a trial basis to gauge interest in the topic. Students who successfully complete this course receive credit as indicated.

HIST-3613 (3) Native American History to 1850 (3 hrs Lecture/Seminar) This course examines how Indigenous peoples in what is now the United States, adapted to and resisted colonization from the time of European incursions in the sixteenth century until the expulsion of Indigenous nations from the US during the 1830s. Following an examination of the pre-colonial period, the processes of diseases, trade, warfare, diplomacy, dispossession, Christian missions, and colonial civilization policies are discussed from Indigenous perspectives. The course also considers the different sources and methods for interpreting Native American history. Students can take this course independently from HIST-3614.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and HIST-3609.

HIST-3614 (3) Native American History From 1850 to the Present (3 hrs Lecture/Seminar) This course examines the adaptation and perseverance of Indigenous peoples in the United States from the mid-nineteenth century until the present. During this period, Native Americans confronted settler colonialism, were forced onto reservations, and were faced with colonial policies that ranged from assimilationist practices to promoting limited autonomy. Since the early twentieth century, court cases, new types of activism, and ongoing struggles for sovereignty and identity have shaped Native American experiences. The course also considers the different sources and methods for interpreting Native American history. Students can take this course independently from HIST-3613.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and HIST-3609.

HIST-3615 (3 or 6) Material Culture in North American Indigenous History (3 hrs Lecture/Seminar) This lecture/seminar course traces North American Indigenous history from pre-contact times to the early 20th century through a close examination of Indigenous and fur trade material culture. Throughout the course of the fur trade Indigenous people and Europeans exchanged and adopted various technologies. These exchanges were of critical importance in shaping relations between Euro-American traders and Indigenous peoples. This course explores various ways in which Indigenous and European technologies complemented each other and highlights the non-material meanings associated with particular artefacts. We examine the social, cultural and spiritual connotations that Indigenous artefacts held and that European-introduced technologies and materials acquired.

Cross-listed: ANTH-3129

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and HIST-3515, ANTH-3126, or ANTH-3129

HIST-3616 (3) History of the Indigenous Peoples of the Northern Plains (3 hrs Lecture/Seminar) This lecture/seminar course traces the history of Indigenous Peoples on the Northern Plains from the pre-contact period to the mid-20th century on both sides of the present Canadian-U.S. border. Ancient plains cultures, the introduction of European technologies, the fur trade, struggles for regional dominance and control, advancing European settlement, and the establishment of reservations/reserves constitute the major topics of this course. In a comparative approach, this course explores critical differences and similarities in Indigenous history on both sides of the Canadian and US border.

Cross-listed: ANTH-3127

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and HIST-3518 and ANTH-3127.

HIST-3617 (3) Indigenous Peoples and Treaties (3 hrs Lecture/Seminar) This course examines treaties and treaty-making between Indigenous peoples and European colonial powers and their successor states from the early colonial period to the present day. The focus of the course is on treaties negotiated in North America but treaties made elsewhere may also be covered. Topics may include

European and Indigenous diplomatic practices, the Niagara Treaty of 1764, Indigenous concepts of land-ownership, US and Canadian treaty policies, and the enduring struggles for treaty rights by Indigenous peoples. Restriction: Students may not hold credit for this course and HIST-3519

HIST-3619 (3) Indigenous Peoples & Christian Missions (3 hrs Lecture/Seminar) This course examines a selected number of encounters between Indigenous peoples and Christian missionaries from the early colonial period until the present day. The main geographic focus is North America but encounters in Latin America and elsewhere may also be considered. The course highlights the experiences of Indigenous peoples and how they adapted to and shaped Christian missions. Topics may include Spanish Catholic missions, Jesuit missions in New France, New England Puritan missions, Moravian missions, and missions and residential schools in Canada.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and HIST-3119

HIST-3622 (3) Indigenous Peoples of Arctic Canada (3 hrs Lecture) This course focuses on the Inuit and their ancestors, inhabitants of Canada's Arctic and adjacent regions for nearly 5000 years. It examines the origins and development of their pre-and post-contact culture in light of archaeological and ethnographic evidence, with emphasis on regional variations in subsistence and settlement patterns, social organizations, intellectual life, and contact with Euro-Canadian institutions, ideas, and state policy. The course concludes by considering Inuit culture identity in the 21st century.

Cross-listed: ANTH-3120(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ANTH-3120.

HIST-3623 (3) Indigenous Women's History (3 hrs Lecture/Seminar) This course examines Métis, Inuit and First Nations women's history in Canada. The course covers a variety of themes, including Indigenous women's health, labour and education history; histories of sexual, legal, and social regulation of Indigenous women; and formal, informal, local and national women's organizations. Students also engage in historical interpretation of a variety of different kinds of historical evidence and consider the creative work of Indigenous women in diverse cultural fields including art, film, music and literature.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and HIST-3523, IS-3523, or WGS-3523

HIST-3625 (3) History of the Métis (3 hrs Lecture/Seminar) This lecture/seminar course examines the history of the Métis people from their origins in the fur trade era to the present. Key topics include the concepts of métissage and ethnogenesis, the buffalo hunt, resistance to colonialism, scrip, road allowance communities, the Sixties Scoop, and the Métis political revival of the late twentieth century. The seminars examine the important questions in Métis history, such as why a distinctive Métis identity developed among people of mixed Indigenous and European descent in some places but not others. Special emphasis is given to the work of Métis historians.

HIST-3632 (3) History of the Haudenosaunee Peoples

(3 hrs Lecture/Seminar) This lecture/seminar course examines the history of the Haudenosaunee peoples in Eastern North America from precontact until the present. Emphasis is placed on the Six Nations Confederacy and the Wendat (Huron) peoples living in Canada and the United States. Topics include the origins of the Confederacy, the fur trade and Christian missions, Colonial Wars and the destruction of Huronia in 1649, the dispersal and migration of Haudenosaunee communities through the Great Lakes region, and the influence of the Canada-US border on contemporary Haudenosaunee communities.

Cross-listed: ANTH-3136

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and HIST-3532, ANTH-3132, or ANTH-3136.

HIST-3633 (3) Indigenous Empires and Peoples in Latin American History, 1250-1800

(3 hrs Lecture/Seminar) This course examines how Indigenous empires and peoples shaped Latin American history from the rise of the Aztec Empire in thirteenth-century Mesoamerica until the Indigenous rebellions in the Andes region in the late eighteenth century. Topics may include the Spanish invasion of the Indigenous Caribbean, the rise and fall of the Aztec and Inca empires, Maya persistence, Indigenous peoples in colonial Brazil and the Amazon, the Guarani missions, the Church campaigns against 'idolatry', Black-Indigenous relations, and Indigenous women and gender. Attention is also paid to the critical examination of primary sources, including those produced by Indigenous peoples.

HIST-3673 (3) Material Culture in Northern Plains

Indigenous History, Field Course (Field Study | 3 hrs Lecture/Seminar) This experiential-learning course explores ways in which Indigenous and European technologies complemented each other. The first half consists of seminar discussions and lectures at the University of Winnipeg. The second half takes place in the field, where students can work with Indigenous Elders from First Nations communities. Students learn about and experience traditional technologies, such as tanning hides and/or manufacturing archery equipment, while being accommodated in traditional tipis and/or modern tents. There is a surcharge per student for this course to cover honoraria for Elders and knowledge keepers, food-related costs and costs for materials the students will be using.

Cross-listed: ANTH-3273/4273, HIST-3673

Restrictions: Instructor Permission Required. Instructor Permission Required. Students may not receive credit for this course and HIST-3571, HIST-3573, HIST-4573, ANTH-3273, and ANTH-4273

HIST-3690 (3) Indigenous Health History

(3 hrs Lecture/Seminar) This course introduces students to Indigenous health history focusing primarily on First Nations, Inuit and Métis experiences. Historical case studies will be drawn from the seventeenth to the twentieth centuries with a special emphasis on the impact of colonization on Indigenous medicine and Indigenous health in Canada.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and HIST-3523 or IS-3590.

HIST-3701 (3 or 6) Modern Africa

(3 hrs Lecture/Seminar) This course studies African History from the slave trade to the age of independence. Emphasis is on the African response to European Ambition and the role of nationalism, ethnicity, religion and westernization in the shaping of modern Africa.

HIST-3703 (3) South Africa in the Modern World

(3 hrs Lecture/Seminar) This course is an analysis of the political, economic, and social determinants of apartheid in the twentieth century.

HIST-3704 (3) West Africa in the Twentieth Century

(3 hrs Lecture/Seminar) This course offers selected studies in the development of new states from the beginnings of colonial rule to the present. Emphasis will be placed upon Ghana and Nigeria as models of the decolonization and independence experience.

HIST-3707 (3 or 6) Modern Africa through Print, Visual Media, and Song

(3 hrs Lecture) This course examines African history from 1884 to the present through print, visual media, and song. The course traces the historical and contemporary representation of Africa and Africans as understood by the Western World as well as the self-definition by Africans through print and visual media. It also considers the role representation has played based on socioeconomic and political structures in the continent overtime. It closely examines how representation contributed to the complexities of structures of dominance, gender, disparities, and power distribution between Africa and the West. The course situates each medium and song within its historical context.

HIST-3711 (6) History of Liberation Movements in Southern Africa

(3 hrs Lecture/Seminar) This lecture/seminar course examines the history of liberation movements in Southern Africa and their diverse efforts to attain independence. Particular focus is directed to the history of liberation movements in South Africa and Zimbabwe. Themes examined will include class, ethnicity, race, popular resistance and nationalism. Major topics will include the colonial background, roles of organizations, leadership, recruitment, political culture and ideologies.

HIST-3805 (3 or 6) Arts of the Arctic

(3 hrs Lecture/Seminar) The course is an introduction to the arts in the Canadian Arctic. It covers briefly the prehistoric and historic periods with a particular focus on post 1949 and contemporary visual arts. The course familiarizes the students with the diversity of indigenous art - and more specifically Inuit art - in a range of media including sculpture, prints, drawings and textiles, video, film and digital media as well as contemporary performance practices. The history of the development of these art forms is studied in their social, political, economic and cultural context. Local collections are extensively utilized.

Note: Students may not receive credit for both the 3 credit and 6 credit version of this course.

HIST-3807 (3 or 6) Topics in Twentieth and

Twenty-First Century Canadian Art (3 hrs

Lecture/Seminar) This is an advanced lecture/seminar course examining various areas in twentieth and twenty-first Canadian art. The course addresses issues such as the taxonomy of style - realism, abstract expressionism, minimalism; problems of value - dealers, galleries, craft, design and electronic imaging; and the politics of art - feminism, regionalism, First Nations, ethnicity, ordinary people and government funding. The course investigates issues that affect the country as a whole, within the global context. Assignments focus on art historical writing and criticism. The latter part of the course deals with aspects of Manitoba culture, for example, women artists. This involves individual student projects and primary research in local archives and collections.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and HIST-3821 | HIST-3822.

HIST-3809 (3 or 6) Art in the Age of Revolutions (3 hrs Lecture/Seminar) This lecture/seminar course focuses on the major artistic movements of Neoclassicism, Romanticism, Realism, Impressionism, and Post-Impressionism within the context of the social and political upheavals of the late eighteenth and nineteenth century. This course explores the relations between popular culture and the fine art of the ruling class, between ideology and artistic practice, between the revolution of the avant-garde and of the people, and among industry, exploitation, and empire, and between women as artists and as subjects of art.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and HIST-3817 | HIST-3818.

HIST-3810 (3 or 6) Art in the Twentieth-Century (3 hrs Lecture/Seminar) This course introduces the development of abstraction and expression in art from 1900 to 2000, particularly the relation of artistic movements to the political and historical context. The roles of war, sexuality, money, and the cult of personality in the production and reception of art are addressed within a framework of critical analysis, including formalism, Marxism, the feminist critique, and post-modern deconstruction. A wide range of media is explored including the arts of film, dance, sculpture, painting, and architecture.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and HIST-3819 | HIST-3820.

HIST-3811 (3 or 6) Gender, Art, and Art History (3 hrs Lecture/Seminar) Employing an intersectional feminist approach, this course addresses how gender and sexuality impact the creation and study of visual arts in western art history. Focusing on the roles, experiences and representation of women in western art, this course also ignites learning about masculinities and aesthetics, queer art and activism, and gendered racism. Art history lectures are complimented with critical dialogue sessions, four art-making workshops, and opportunities to visit with practicing artists, art historians and curators. No art-making experience required.

HIST-3813 (3) Art History in Focus I (3 hrs Lecture/Seminar) This lecture/seminar course offers students the opportunity for intensive study of a single artist's work or artistic movement on whose work there is a significant body of art historical writing and criticism. Each time the course is offered the name of the artist or movement in focus will be listed in the Timetable.

HIST-3814 (3 or 6) Indigenous Arts (3 hrs

Lecture/Seminar) This lecture/seminar course offers an introduction to the arts of indigenous peoples with a focus on contemporary First Nations and Métis art in Canada. Students explore critical approaches to the social and political issues surrounding tradition, appropriation, modernity, and personal identity in our survey of visual art. Forms examined may include painting, sculpture, print making, installation, dance, music, theatre, new media, and performance. Local artists, exhibitions, and collections offer students first-hand experience of current art production in Manitoba.

HIST-3816 (6) Art and Architecture of Pilgrimage (3 hrs Lecture/Seminar) This course is an introduction to the history of pilgrimage art and architecture from the Middle Ages to the Modern era. Medieval and Post-Medieval pilgrimages are used as a laboratory for investigating the topic of the journey to a shrine for the realization of spiritual benefits or the fulfilment of personal motives. Class discussions and lectures on the experience of pilgrimage and its visual ways of expression might include: the major pilgrimages to Christian, Muslim, Hindu and Jewish sites, and the later pilgrimages to North-American shrines.

HIST-3825 (3 or 6) Theories and Methods for Art

History (3 hrs Lecture/Seminar) This lecture/seminar course explores various art historical and critical approaches to the study of visual art and curatorial practice. Students investigate various theoretical approaches, for example, Indigenous curatorial practices and methodologies, race, gender, queerness, concepts of diversity and inclusion. Issues around accessibility, difficult knowledge, visual analysis, biography, iconography, the art market, as well as techniques and conservation may be considered. Students put into practice art historical research methods, visual methodologies, embodied knowledge, and contemporary curatorial theories through written assignments, experiential assignments and, whenever possible, field trips to local sites and exhibitions that take place during class time.

HIST-3826 (3) Art History in Focus II (3 hrs

Lecture/Seminar) This course offers students the opportunity for intensive study of a single artist's work or artistic movement on whose work there is a significant body of art historical writing and criticism. Each time the course is offered the name of the artist or movement in focus will be listed in the Timetable.

HIST-3828 (3 or 6) Dada & Surrealism: Art of the Unconscious (3 hrs Lecture/Seminar) This course examines the art and ideology of the Dada and Surrealist movements in the twentieth century. Dada and Surrealist artists rejected Enlightenment values, which they felt had led to World War I, and instead celebrated the irrational side of mind. Dada artists experimented with elements of chance in order to devalue the role of the artist, and the Surrealists explored the unconscious mind using automatic drawing techniques and dream inspired imagery. These movements were interdisciplinary, and in that spirit we examine art, literature, performances and films. Emphasis is also given to the role women played in these movements.

Restrictions: May not hold credit in this course and HIST-3813 if the topic was Dada and Surrealism.

HIST-3832 (3) Art, Design, and the City (3 hrs Lecture/Seminar) This lecture/seminar course examines ideas about cities and urban life. Topics may include Indigenous understandings of place and space, colonialism, public art and urban design, race, gender, disability and sexuality, Modernist utopias of the city, urban landscape and contemporary theories, and practices of urban planning. The course investigates concepts of the land and landscapes as frameworks for both the natural and built environment. The course examines how humans have transformed and manipulated space over time, while simultaneously developing cultures that encompass a range of ideas and attitudes towards landscape, place, identity, narrative and community.

HIST-3833 (3) From the Reel to the Digital: Indigenous Film and New Media Art (3 hrs Lecture/Seminar) This course explores how Indigenous artists have used digital technology, video, and film to engage with colonization, assimilation, residential schools, and other government policies in Canada and across the globe. The course themes are examined through the theoretical frameworks of visual, cultural, queer, and gender studies. These frames assist in analyzing how Indigenous artists create a visual language of resistance, revitalization, and decolonization. Artists explore topics such as the land, language, identity, sovereignty, environmental racism, economic development, health, music, art, dance, human rights, and spirituality through various media and artistic practices.

HIST-3834 (3) Beyond Wilderness: Visual Culture in Canada (3 hrs Lecture/Seminar) This lecture/seminar course examines the central role of the wilderness and concepts of landscape in historical and contemporary Canadian art. We explore how notions of wilderness and landscape have been constructed, circulated, gendered, and overturned in art history discourse. Manifestations of the wilderness and place in art are examined through social, economic, political, and cultural factors. Historical and intellectual frameworks might include nationalism, feminisms, colonialism, industrialism, events such as Railway construction, Wembley Exhibition, Oka Resistance, key individuals and groups of artists, social movements, and other key events in Canadian history.

HIST-3835 (3) Artistic Interventions of Board & Subcultures (3 hrs Lecture/Seminar) This lecture/seminar course engages with critical theories and practices in contemporary art, culture and design in relation to board and subcultures. Surfing, skateboarding, snowboarding, graffiti, and music such as punk and rap have a long history of disrupting public space and place. This course investigates how people make meaningful connections with these communities through the skate park, board videos, outdoor festivals and concerts. It reflects on key concepts in critical race theory, feminist, anti-oppressive and collaborative methodologies in conjunction with board and subcultures by drawing on the unique geographic locations of each of these subcultures within Canada and globally.

HIST-3840 (3 or 6) Seventeenth Century Art (3 hrs Lecture/Seminar) This course explores the visual arts of Italy, France, England, Spain, and the Netherlands against the background of the social, economic, political and religious change in the seventeenth century. Some of the topics we consider include the position of women artists, the cultural effects of colonialism, the natural sciences, art collecting and the emergence of the art market.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and HIST-3803.

HIST-3841 (3 or 6) Arts of the Middle Ages (3 hrs Lecture/Seminar) This lecture/seminar course is an introduction to the study of medieval art and architecture in Europe, from the demise of Late Antique traditions up to the Renaissance. In the context of a thematic survey, students are introduced to the terminology, methods, materials, subject matter and function of medieval art and architecture. Since the largest proportion of surviving materials is religious, this includes a firm grounding in the medieval Christian tradition and the nature of the prominent institutions of Church and state. Secular art is considered where possible or appropriate, and broader issues of material culture are explored.

HIST-3842 (3 or 6) Italian Renaissance Art (3 hrs Lecture/Seminar) This lecture/seminar course is an introduction to the study of Italian Renaissance art and architecture in the context of the social, political and economic circumstances of this time. This course traces the history of painting, sculpture and architecture of the mid-14th to the 16th century. More specific topics explore the virtuosity and philosophies of realism, the discovery of linear perspective, the artists' social and intellectual status, art patronage, and gender issues (women artists and women's art patronage). Some artists/art patrons are considered more in depth, such as Leonardo da Vinci, Michelangelo, and Isabella d'Este, among others.

HIST-3843 (3 or 6) Northern Renaissance Art (3 hrs Lecture/Seminar) This lecture/seminar course is an introduction to the study of art and architecture of the mid-14th to the 16th century Northern regions of Western Europe (France, England, Germany and the Netherlands) in the context of the social, political, and economic circumstances of this time. More specific topics should capture our attention, such as the development of panel and manuscript paintings, prints, the rise of realism and secular subjects in the arts, the transformation of the artist's status, and art patronage.

HIST-3902 (3) The Darwinian Revolution (3 hrs Lecture/Seminar) This lecture/seminar course examines the genesis, development, and assimilation of Charles Darwin's theory of evolution by natural selection. Topics include the historical sciences (e.g., geology, paleontology) before Darwin, pre- and non-Darwinian theories of evolution, the sources of Darwin's theory; and the social, scientific, and religious legacy of Darwin.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and HIST-2906 | HIST-3906.

HIST-3903 (3) Classical and Medieval Science (3 hrs Lecture/Seminar) This lecture/seminar course examines the theories, experiments, and calculations of Greek, Roman, and European scientists before the Scientific Revolution of the seventeenth century. As well as considering the work of the major contributors to astronomy, physics, and mathematics in this period, the course places their ideas and the work of the schools of Greece, Rome, and medieval Europe within their social, cultural, and intellectual contexts.

Cross-listed: CLAS-3090(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and CLAS-3090 | HIST-3211.

HIST-3911 (3) History of Madness and Psychiatry (3 hrs Lecture/Seminar) This course explores the different ways in which mental health and illness have been imagined, theorized, classified, and treated in the Western world from Antiquity to the present. The course looks at the lived experiences of people deemed to be "mad", and considers the philosophy and practices of those who attempted to treat madness, including psychiatrists. The course shows how intellectual, social, cultural, political, technological and other factors have interacted over the centuries to produce complex and ever-changing views of mental health and illness.

HIST-3913 (3) The History of Disease (3 hrs Lecture/Seminar) This lecture/seminar course surveys humanity's experiences with disease and analyzes its historical study. The course emphasizes epidemic diseases though non-infectious diseases are also considered. The objective is to examine, through the lens of history, popular and medical constructions of disease, the pattern of disease and its impact in any given society, and the medical, social, and cultural responses to it.

HIST-4000 (3) Tutorial (3 hrs Tutorial) This is a reading course by individual senior students with the Instructor of their choice.

Restrictions: Permission of Chair and Instr. Honours Form Required.

HIST-4007 (3) Historical Methods & Practices (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This seminar introduces students to the practices and methods in the discipline of History. The course explores theoretical and methodological issues of the discipline of History through an examination of diverse thematic fields. Attention is also paid to new methods as well as controversies in the discipline.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Department Permission Required.

HIST-4100 (6) Tutorial (3 hrs Tutorial) This is a reading course in World History taken by individual senior students with the Instructor of their choice.

Restrictions: Permission of Chair and Instr. Honours Form Required.

HIST-4103 (3 or 6) Colonization and the Age of Modernity in Latin America (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion)

This course examines the relationship between modernity and colonization in Latin America. It addresses how modern Latin American societies are shaped by their experiences under colonialism. It also examines the relationship between globalization and developments in Latin America at the regional, national, and local levels.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

HIST-4111 (3 or 6) Frontiers and Borderlands (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This seminar course uses the concepts of frontiers and borderlands to analyze relations between indigenous peoples and expanding empires in world history. After a discussion of the historiography of frontiers and borderlands, students apply these concepts to Ancient Rome, China, the Eurasian steppe, South Africa, the Americas, and Australia. Students pay considerable attention to the creation and persistence of borderlands in North America. Finally, the course discusses the many ways in which frontiers and borderlands are presented in literature, art, film, and public history.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

HIST-4112 (3 or 6) History of the Atlantic World (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This seminar uses the concept of an Atlantic World to examine the connections between Europe, the Americas, and West Africa from the first wave of European overseas expansion (1450-1500) to the Age of the Atlantic Revolutions (1775-1825). Topics may include the concept of Atlantic history, cultural contacts, religious exchanges, slavery and the slave trade, ecology and environment, commerce, migration, women and gender, and political ideas.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

HIST-4113 (3 or 6) Slavery in the Americas (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This course examines selected topics in the history of enslavement and race relations in North America, Latin America, and the Caribbean from 1600 to the present.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and HIST-4102.

HIST-4121 (3 or 6) Sex, Race, and Gender in Early Modern Europe (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This senior seminar deals with the history of ideas about humankind in the early modern period, c. 1450-1650. Through readings of primary and secondary sources, students examine the theoretical frameworks in the early modern period used in the classification of human beings, especially in reference to sexuality, race, and gender, with links made to other social constructs of differentiation, including socio-economic rank or station, and religion. This seminar explores these ideas in the context of early overseas colonization.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

HIST-4130 (3 or 6) History and Memory (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This seminar examines the field of memory studies through a comparative transnational survey (with a focus on Europe and the Americas).

Memory studies ask not "What happened in the past?" but rather "How did individuals and groups remember the past?". To answer this question, historians study oral history and other forms of informal communication, formal history education, museums, monuments, film, and photography. Students learn about major concepts such as historical consciousness; narrativity; collective memory, public history; culture and politics of history, including "history wars".

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

HIST-4200 (6) Tutorial (3 hrs Tutorial) This is a reading course in Pre-Industrial Europe by individual senior students with the Instructor of their choice.

HUMAN RIGHTS

HR-1200 (3) Introduction to Global Citizenship (3 hrs Lecture) In this course students trace the historical development of the idea of "global citizenship," interrogating the meanings, contradictions and contentions associated with this term. Through guest speakers and student research on specific issues and injustices that are present in Manitoba communities, and which also have global connections or manifestations, students examine current practices aimed at fostering global citizenship. The future of concepts related to global citizenship is addressed by analyzing rights and democratic citizenship and asking how such rights should be articulated and advanced.

Cross-listed: IDS-1200(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and HRGS-1200 | IDS-1200.

HR-2100 (3) Concepts and Conventions in Human Rights (3 hrs Lecture) The course explores the historical development of human rights concepts and the major international human rights conventions and instruments. Students become familiar with the breadth of the landscape of human rights including political, civil, social, economic and cultural rights.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and HRGS-2101 | POL-2101.

HR-2200 (3) History of Human Rights in Canada (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines the history of human rights within the Canadian context including key federal, provincial and municipal legislation as well as critical human rights institutions. The course explores the evolution of the human rights in Canada in relation to their international counterparts, and historical discrimination in Canada in areas such as immigration, employment and housing, internment of minority populations, gender, sexuality, anti-Semitism and treatment of Indigenous peoples.

Cross-listed: HIST-2512(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and HIST-2512.

HR-2310 (3) Refugees, Resettlement and Resilience (3 hrs Lecture) Drawing on interdisciplinary literatures of forced migration and social inclusion, this course examines the challenges and opportunities that people encounter in rebuilding their lives after forced displacement. While considering experiences of forced migration around the world, the course focuses primarily on the experiences of refugees in Canada related to social integration, employment and public services. Students learn to employ key concepts from the literatures in order to analyze case studies and strategies to improve services for and integration of refugees in local communities.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and HRGS-2310.

HR-2540 (3) Global Human Rights Advocacy (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This course provides knowledge and strategies for addressing current human rights topics. Through the readings from the literature of community engagement and activist assignments participants build awareness, develop confidence and acquire the tools to effectively engage in human rights campaigns. This course links participants to national and international social justice and human rights organizations working on related issues.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and HR-2550.

HR-2600 (6) Emerging Issues in Human Rights (3 hrs Lecture) This intensive course is designed to introduce students, in a range of disciplines and students entering university, to challenges and opportunities in global to local human rights, by cultivating foundational skills for academic success. In both classroom and community settings, students explore global issues using the city as our human rights 'campus' through current news items, literature, and social analysis from diverse perspectives, shaped by research expertise in Global College. The course is structured to strengthen skills in critical thinking and analysis, writing, oral/social media presentations within a human rights framework, for increasing student capabilities in a range of post-secondary academic programs.

HR-2650 (3 or 6) Special Topics in Human Rights (3 hrs Lecture) The nature and range of topics will vary, depending upon the expertise of the instructor. Students should consult the Human Rights advisor or Global College website for information about specific iterations of the course. The course may be repeated if the topic varies.

HR-3003 (3) Gendercide (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines gendercide in a comparative and global-sociological perspective. It explores two central propositions: that the framing should be an inclusive one, encompassing the experiences of both women/girls and men/boys and that recognition and amelioration of the phenomenon is a matter of the highest urgency. Themes may include theories of gendercide, sexual violence as a genocidal weapon, and the relevance of feminist and masculinity studies literatures for the study of gendercide. Case studies vary from year-to-year.

HR-3750 (3 or 6) Directed Readings in Human Rights

(3 hrs Directed Reading) In this course, readings and assignments in the area of Human Rights are arranged between an individual student and the instructor. Topics may not duplicate regular course offerings in Human Rights or other departments. This course is an opportunity to explore a specialized topic in the inter/multidisciplinary context of the field. Examples of potential topics: exploring the human rights implications of environmental policies; examining the application of the UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights; studying representations of human rights in the creative arts; or analyzing the Truth and Reconciliation Commission's Calls to Actions through a human rights lens.

Note: Students may not take more than 6 credit hours of Directed Readings in Human Rights.

Restrictions: Instructor Permission Required.

Requisite Courses: HR-2100(3) or HR-2200(3) or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

HR-3931 (3) Human Rights and Conflict Resolution

(3 hrs Lecture) Human rights advocates and conflict resolution practitioners both aim to build peaceable societies based on mutual respect and the rule of law. Rights advocates typically push the justice agenda while conflict resolution practitioners strive for transformation often without utilizing human rights norms and institutions as a basis for stability. This course systematically evaluates the tensions and parallels between the two fields, examining some of the ways in which human rights and conflict resolution scholars and practitioners can interact in their approaches. Basic human rights concepts are introduced and case studies are used in an exploration of the issues.

Cross-listed: CRS-3931(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and CRS-3931.

Requisite Courses: CRS-1200 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

HR-4001 (3) Capstone Seminar on Human Rights

(3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This capstone course examines theories and practices of human rights and contemporary global issues, and evaluates on-going cultural, economic, religious, legal, sociological and ideological debates that continue to influence the evolution of human rights. The course is taught within a multidisciplinary theoretical framework. This seminar provides a forum for synthesis and reflection on the human rights degree including integration of experiential and theoretical knowledge gained through the practicum and coursework.

Note: Students must have declared a major in Human Rights to take this course.

Requisite Courses: HR-3510 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

HR-4025 (3) Indigenous Languages: Culture, Rights, and Conflicts (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) Indigenous languages are an integral part of Indigenous peoples' identity, worldview and culture. It is however, currently estimated that up to ninety per cent of the world's Indigenous languages are likely to disappear by the end of the century. This course is designed to give students an overview of Indigenous language issues related to culture, advocacy, revitalization, and resistance. Students are encouraged to critically compare and contrast the treatment of Indigenous languages through legislation, policy, grassroots activism, and educational and systemic efforts in countries such as Canada, the United States, New Zealand, Norway, and Sweden.

INDIGENOUS LANGUAGES

IL-1408 (3) Indigenous Languages, Contact and Change (3 hrs Lecture) This course lays a foundation for Indigenous language learning and revitalization work with Indigenous language communities. The course examines Indigenous languages of Manitoba and the changes that have occurred due to colonization and assimilation. Students learn Creator's Laws and Sacred teachings regarding language. This course also examines the trauma that has been inflicted on Indigenous languages and speakers, through educational and other policies. Discussions focus on suggested solutions to endangerment and loss of Indigenous linguistic diversity. Languages such as Ojibwe, Cree, Ojibwe-Cree, Dakota, and Michif are highlighted for analysis.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ANTH-2408, LING-2105.

IL-1409 (3) Intro Michif I (3 hrs Lecture | 1 hrs Lab) This course is an introduction to Michif language in a culturally safe and supportive learning environment. The emphasis is on task and project-based immersion learning for whole language skills useful in daily and cultural life. A special focus is on the use of verbs in simple tenses in indicative, interrogative and imperative forms reflecting the complexity of Michif's verbal morphosyntax. As a class, students work on listening comprehension, oral expression, and written skills. In the one-hour lab students practice language structured to support the acquisition of that presented in class.

Cross-listed: IS-1401(3), ANTH-1409(3)

Experimental Course - This course is offered on a trial basis to gauge interest in the topic. Students who successfully complete this course receive credit as indicated.

Restrictions: Instructor Permission Required. Students may not hold credit for this class and ANTH-1409 | IS-1401.

Requisite Courses: IL-1409L (must be taken concurrently).

IL-1410 (3) Introductory Michif II (3 hrs Lecture | 1 hrs Lab) Michif II is an introduction to Michif language grounded in Métis ways of knowing, relating and doing. As per cultural teachings, classes open and close with ceremony (which is spiritual and not religious in nature). Community building and relational learning are central to course experience. The course instructor uses an immersive Comprehensible Input (CI) approach to language acquisition. The course will enable beginning students to converse with more proficient speakers and each other on more subjects involving common situations and everyday actions in a culturally appropriate manner. They will further develop their abilities to introduce themselves and others, open and close classes in a culturally appropriate manner, and give assistance appropriately in group settings. They will be able to talk with greater detail about their friends and family member, their own personal preferences and possessions, and use weather terms in complex sentences. They will be able to describe people and objects and where and how they are located in greater detail. They will be able to talk about all these situations in the past, present, future and conditional tenses. They will be able to name more common domestic and "wild" animals, birds and insects and geographic features. As well, they will be able to create and participate in the telling of simple stories. Most emphasis will be placed on listening and speaking but reading and writing in Michif will be used as appropriate. In addition, students will write personal reflections in English--and in part in Michif as able--on their learning and development as learners and speakers through the course.

Cross-listed: ANTH-1410(3) and IS-1402(3)

Experimental Course - This course is offered on a trial basis to gauge interest in the topic. Students who successfully complete this course receive credit as indicated.

Restrictions: Instructor Permission Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and ANTH-1410 | IS-1402.

Requisite Courses: IL-1410L (lab) (must be taken concurrently); ANTH-1409 [prerequisite(s)].

IL-3001 (3) Capstone in Indigenous Languages (3 hrs Lecture/Seminar) Students complete this course in the last semester of the program. It provides students with an opportunity to draw from their experience and understanding in the program by conducting a project on Indigenous languages (e.g., translation, documentation, curriculum development or language revitalization strategy for an Indigenous Community (on-reserve or in an urban setting)). This course is only open to students in the last year of the 3- or 4- year IL BA program.

Experimental Course - This course is offered on a trial basis to gauge interest in the topic. Students who successfully complete this course receive credit as indicated.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and IL-4001.

Requisite Courses: This course is a required course for the Thematic Major in Indigenous Languages. Students are required to have completed 18 credit hours from the Thematic Major or obtain permission from the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

IL-3107 (3) Advanced Ojibwe II (3 hrs Lecture) This course assumes basic speaking ability in Ojibway, emphasizes phonetic and grammatical structure, and presents the knowledge necessary for effective teaching of the language. Students also study narratives containing a broad sample of the structures they cover up to this level. As part of this course, students are expected to develop an instructional module appropriate for a 2000-level Ojibwe language course.

Requisite Courses: IS 3106 [prerequisite(s)].

IL-3301 (3) Special Topics in Indigenous Language (3 hrs Lecture) This course provides an opportunity for advanced study of an Indigenous language other than Cree and Ojibwe. Students are evaluated on their existing language ability at the beginning of the term to make sure they can be successful in this course. Learning may focus on the knowledge necessary for effective teaching of the language, and/or the study and creation of narratives in the language. The nature and range of topics vary, depending upon the expertise of the instructor. The course may be repeated if the topic varies.

IL-4001 (3) Capstone in Indigenous Languages (3 hrs Lecture/Seminar) Students complete this course in the last semester of the program. It provides students with an opportunity to draw from their experience and understanding in the program by conducting a project on Indigenous languages (e.g., translation, documentation, curriculum development or language revitalization strategy for an Indigenous Community (on-reserve or in an urban setting)). Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and IL-3001.

Requisite Courses: This course is a required course for the Thematic Major in Indigenous Languages. Students are required to have completed 18 credit hours from the Thematic Major or obtain permission from the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

IL-4002 (3) Special Topics in Teaching Indigenous Languages (3 hrs Lecture/Seminar) The course concentrates on a topic of primary relevance to teaching Indigenous languages. Examples of such topics are effective methods in Indigenous language teaching, student-driven pedagogies, culturally-sustaining assessment of Indigenous languages, and multiliteracies and pedagogical technologies. The topic of each course is available to students prior to registration. The course may be repeated for credit when the topic varies.

Restrictions: Department Chair Perm Required.

IL-4003 (3) Special Topics in Supporting Multilingualism and Indigenous Languages (3 hrs Lecture/Seminar) This course concentrates on a topic of primary relevance to supporting multilingualism and Indigenous languages. Examples of such topics are schools', teachers' and administrators' relationship to Turtle Island; colonization, decolonization and indigenization in multilingual schools; critical intercultural competence in schools; and collaborative institutional change and curricular reform. The topic of each course will be available to students prior to registration. The course may be repeated for credit when the topic varies.

Experimental Course - This course is offered on a trial basis to gauge interest in the topic. Students who successfully complete this course receive credit as indicated.

Restrictions: Department Chair Perm Required.

INDIGENOUS STUDIES

IS-1010 (3) Indigenous Ways of Knowing (3 hrs Lecture) Large numbers of Indigenous peoples settling in Winnipeg, and in core neighbourhoods, suggest that students studying urbanism need to be aware that the city and critical issues in the inner-city can be interpreted differently. This course offers an introduction to Indigenous ways of knowing through active participation in strategies that facilitate the production of Aboriginal knowledge and through comparisons with Euro-American ways of knowing. By taking part in basic ceremony and related practices, students gain an understanding of how First Peoples of Manitoba relate to each other, to the land, to other animals, and to the world.

Cross-listed: UIC-1010(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and UIC-1010.

IS-1016 (3) Introduction to Indigenous Studies: Art, Culture and History (3 hrs Lecture) This course provides an introduction to Indigenous art, culture and history in North America. Starting with the pre-contact indigenous societies, students explore the richness and diversity of indigenous cultures as they evolved out of different eco-systems from Central America up to Canada's Arctic. Using Indigenous ontologies and epistemologies as a starting point, the course provides an alternative view of colonial history as well as the post-colonial struggle of indigenous peoples for their own identity, place and belonging in contemporary society.

Cross-listed: HIST-1009.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and HIST-1009 | IS-1015.

IS-1017 (3) Introduction to Indigenous Studies: Politics and Governance (3 hrs Lecture) This course provides an introduction to the politics, economics and governance of indigenous peoples in Canada. These systems developed in distinctive ecological contexts that shaped the way these cultures learned to thrive in relationship to all other living things. The course begins with an introduction to the ontologies and epistemological foundations of thought then explores the historical evolution of the economic and political relationship between indigenous peoples (First Nation, non-status and Metis) and the nation state in Canada. Key topics include: the Royal Proclamation, the Treaties, Indigenous people and the Supreme Court of Canada, the Indian Act and Residential schools.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and IS-1015.

IS-1101 (6) Introductory Cree (3 hrs Lecture | 1 hrs Lab) This course is intended for students who are not fluent in Cree and have never taken a course in the language. The emphasis is primarily on oral work for the purpose of learning basic sounds, vocabulary, and grammatical patterns. Structural differences between Cree and English are highlighted.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ABOR-1101.

Requisite Courses: IS-1101L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

IS-1201 (6) Introductory Ojibwe (3 hrs Lecture | 1 hrs Lab) This course is intended for students who are not fluent in Ojibwe and have never taken a course in the language. The emphasis is primarily on oral work for the purpose of learning basic sounds, vocabulary, and grammatical patterns. Structural differences between Ojibwe and English are highlighted.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ABOR-1201.

Requisite Courses: IS-1201L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

IS-1202 (3) Ojibwe Field School Part 1 (Lecture with variable meeting hours) This Ojibwe Field Course is intended for students who have taken an introductory course in the Ojibwe language or have working knowledge of Ojibwe. The emphasis is primarily on oral work (utilization and comprehension) for the purpose of the expansion of learning sounds, vocabulary, and grammatical patterns. Structural differences between Ojibwe and English are highlighted.

Note: The field course takes place in an Indigenous community. Additional fees (normally non-refundable) are required to cover the cost of transportation, accommodations, meals, elder/speaker involvement. Additional Requirements: Field component is mandatory.

Experimental Course - This course is offered on a trial basis to gauge interest in the topic. Students who successfully complete this course receive credit as indicated.

Restrictions: Instructor Permission Required. Students who have taken IS-2001(6) Special Topics: Introductory Ojibwe Field School are not eligible to take this course.

Requisite Courses: IS-1201 Introduction to Ojibwe [prerequisite(s)].

IS-1401 (3) Introductory Michif I (3 hrs Lecture | 1 hrs Lab) This course is an introduction to Michif language in a culturally safe and supportive learning environment. The emphasis is on task and project-based immersion learning for whole language skills useful in daily and cultural life. A special focus is on the use of verbs in simple tenses in indicative, interrogative and imperative forms reflecting the complexity of Michif's verbal morphosyntax. As a class, students work on listening comprehension, oral expression, and written skills. In the one-hour lab students practice language structured to support the acquisition of that presented in class.

Restrictions: Instructor Permission Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and ANTH-1410.

Requisite Courses: IS-1402L (lab) (must be taken concurrently); IS-1401 [prerequisite(s)].

IS-1501 (6) Oral Immersion in Cree I (3 hrs Lecture | 1 hrs Lab) The Cree Immersion 1 course is intended for students to learn conversational Cree through community language learning methods. The emphasis is primarily on oral conversations using Cree vocabulary, expressions, simple sentences, and conjunctive sentences of selected themes through contemporary and traditional Cree perspectives.

Experimental Course - This course is offered on a trial basis to gauge interest in the topic. Students who successfully complete this course receive credit as indicated.

Requisite Courses: IS-1501L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

IS-1601 (6) Oral Immersion in Ojibwe I (3 hrs Lecture | 1 hrs Lab) The Ojibwe Immersion 1 course is intended for students to learn conversational Ojibwe through community language learning methods. The emphasis is primarily on oral conversations using Ojibwe vocabulary, expressions, simple sentences, and conjunctive sentences of selected themes through contemporary and traditional Ojibwe perspectives.

Experimental Course - This course is offered on a trial basis to gauge interest in the topic. Students who successfully complete this course receive credit as indicated.

Requisite Courses: IS-1601L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

IS-2001 (3 or 6) Special Topics in Indigenous Studies

I (3 hrs Lecture) The contents of this course focus on particular aspects of Indigenous Studies and may include topics on philosophical, social, economic, political or other issues. Selected topics are examined in a seminar offered by current staff, or local or visiting scholars from Canada and other countries. Topics accord with each scholar's area of expertise. Special class schedules may be arranged to accommodate visiting scholars. This course may be repeated for credit when the topic varies.

Note: A student may not count more than 6 credit hours of Special Topics at the 2000 level toward a degree in Indigenous Studies (formerly Aboriginal Governance).

Requisite Courses: IS-1016 (or HIST-1009) and IS-1017, or the former IS-1015 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

IS-2012 (3) Indigenous Sciences: Contributions to Contemporary Challenges

(2 hrs Lecture | 1 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This course explores the foundations, philosophy, and applications of Indigenous sciences. It considers ways Indigenous scientific wisdom can relate to western sciences and help address contemporary challenges. This course is designed to enhance students' cultural sensitivity and their overall scientific literacy regarding Indigenous perspectives (understanding) and wisdom (application) next to western sciences. Topics may include the philosophical foundations of Indigenous sciences and their application in the areas of health/wellbeing, food/agriculture, planetary health, and selected fields of STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering and Mathematics).

IS-2020 (3) Colonization and Indigenous Peoples in Canada

(3 hrs Lecture) In this course, students are introduced to Indigenous peoples in what has come to be known as Canada and undertake a survey of Indigenous cultural, political, economic, and spiritual situations from pre-contact to the present. Students examine colonialism in Canada (past and present) and its ongoing effects upon First Nations, Métis, and Inuit peoples. Topics include Indigenous world views, fur trade, treaties, Indian Act, residential schools and the child welfare system, as well as historic and contemporary Indigenous governance and sovereignty. Students are empowered to engage in meaningful dialogue about issues that affect Indigenous and non- Indigenous people in Canada.

Cross-listed: POL-2020(3) and UIC-2020(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and POL-2020 | UIC-2020.

IS-2030 (3) Management and Financial Administration for Community Leadership

(3 hrs Lecture) As small-scale and not-for-profit structures, community-based and Indigenous organizations often face unique challenges and political/cultural realities in terms of overall management and operations. This course provides students with a good understanding of the key facets of management and administrative structures and management controls, financial statements and budgeting, performance measures, strategic planning and operations analysis and evaluation.

Cross-listed: BUS-2030(3) and UIC-2030(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and BUS-2030 | UIC-2030.

Requisite Courses: UIC-1001 or IS-1016 (or HIST-1009) and IS-1017, or the former IS-1015 [prerequisite(s)].

IS-2040 (3) Indigenous Women and Resilience (3 hrs Lecture) The contributions and resilience of Indigenous (First Nations, Métis, Inuit) women have become increasingly well known in the North American and international political, economic, and cultural arenas. Contrary to historical representations and stereotypes, Indigenous and Métis women have been leading advocates, actors, and activists in Indigenous struggles for centuries, making significant contributions to their families, communities, and nations. Of importance are the policies that reflect changing perceptions and approaches to the "Indian problem," with particular focus on gender. Students develop critical thinking skills as we consider stereotypes and the impact they have on law and Indigenous rights in Canada and internationally.

Requisite Courses: IS-1016 (or HIST-1009) and IS-1017, or the former IS-1015 [prerequisite(s)].

IS-2050 (3) Indigenous Peoples, Lands, and Resources (3 hrs Lecture) The Canadian government is currently looking at privatizing indigenous peoples' land on-reserve. Some believe this will boost economic development and create jobs and opportunities. Others argue this will amount to nothing more than another assimilation project, with the potential to undermine indigenous cultures and communities. This course examines the unique relationship that indigenous people have to land and natural resources. It includes a study of national and international legal frameworks for indigenous resource and property rights and some of their implications in practice. Using this framework, the course includes a number of case studies involving national and international conflicts associated with resource development projects (hydro, mining, oil, etc.) in indigenous territories and explores the contradictions and possibilities for indigenous communities whether they choose to pursue these projects or not.

Requisite Courses: IS-1016 (or HIST-1009) and IS-1017, or the former IS-1015 [prerequisite(s)].

IS-2060 (3) Ago'diwinan miskwaadesi-miinising (Treaties on Turtle Island) (2 hrs Lecture | 1 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This course focuses on Anishinaabe treaty narratives as it is important to understand the nature of treaties from an Anishinaabe perspective. The Anishinaabe nations entered into a number of treaties during the mid-17th and 18th centuries with newcomers. This course examines the reasons for entering into and establishing a treaty relationship/process with respect to nation-to-nation, land and resource rights. Further, this course provides opportunities to understand the diversity of Anishinaabe nations; the basis of primordial rights; the effects and impacts of newcomer expansionism from the mid-17th and 18th centuries forward.

Note: Students cannot receive credit for IS-2060/3 Ago'diwinan miskwaadesi-miinising (Treaties on Turtle Island) and the former IS-2060/3 Indigenous Treaties in Canada.

Requisite Courses: IS-1016 (or HIST-1009) and IS-1017, or the former IS-1015, or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

IS-2101 (6) Intermediate Cree (3 hrs Lecture | Lab) This course is an intermediate course in the Cree language. It serves as a continuation of Introductory Cree (IS-1101) or as the entry-level course for fluent speakers of Cree. The course focuses primarily on oral conversational skills, vocabulary, and grammatical patterns. Attention is paid to Cree orthography, composition and translation. The lab component provides one-on-one and small group interactions intended to enhance language acquisition and provide additional opportunities for language practice and usage.

Requisite Courses: IS-1101 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)]; IS-2101L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

IS-2103 (3) Ethnography of Indigenous Peoples in Canada and the Us (3 hrs Lecture) This course surveys ethnographies of Indigenous peoples of Canada primarily, with some ethnographic material from the United States. Students are introduced to the history of North American cultural anthropology and its roots in Indigenous ethnographic research. The course familiarizes students with ethnography as the primary methodology of cultural anthropologists. Students apply critical thinking skills to the methodology as they read and analyse ethnographies as representations of Indigenous societies. Emphasis is placed on the work of Indigenous ethnographers, scholars, and contributors to Indigenous-focused ethnography.

Cross-listed: ANTH-2103(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ANTH-2103.

IS-2201 (6) Intermediate Ojibwe (3 hrs Lecture | 1 hrs Lab) This course is an intermediate course in the Ojibwe language. It serves as a continuation of Introductory Ojibwe (IS-1201) or as the entry-level course for fluent speakers of Ojibwe. The course focuses primarily on oral conversational skills, vocabulary and grammatical patterns. Attention is paid to Ojibwe orthography, composition and translation. The lab component provides one-on-one and small group interactions intended to enhance language acquisition and provide additional opportunities for language practice and usage.

Requisite Courses: IS-1201 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)]; IS-2201L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

IS-2240 (3) Indigenous Justice Issues (3 hrs Lecture) This course in applied political theory examines various moral and political issues that are the basis for present conflicts between Indigenous Peoples and the Canadian state. Indigenous and Western philosophies provide contexts for critically examining past and present relationships and for considering how to move into more just relationships. Topics may include: treaty rights, colonization, the Indian Act, residential schools, Aboriginal rights, racism, restorative justice, and the United Nations Declaration on the Rights of Indigenous Peoples.

Cross-listed: PHIL-2240(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and PHIL-2240.

IS-2301 (3) Community Development (3 hrs Lecture)

This course is an introduction to the idea of community development and community economic development. The course considers the principles and philosophy of community development/community economic development, and examines the key elements of CD/CED including neighbourhood revitalization; housing development and rehabilitation; employment development and training; and social enterprise.

Cross-listed: UIC-2001(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and UIC-2001.

IS-2401 (3) Indigenous Food Systems Field Study

(Apprenticeship/Internship/Practicum | 3 hrs Lecture) This course offers land-based learning opportunities to explore the importance of, challenges to, and opportunities for Indigenous food systems in Manitoba and Canada, along with classroom discussion on nutritional and health information. Interdisciplinary themes include traditional food as medicine; Indigenous food systems of production, consumption, distribution; Indigenous knowledges and perspectives on challenges and significance of traditional food systems. The typical course design includes 1 to 1.5 weeks in classrooms and 36 hours of experiential learning from Indigenous elders and Indigenous food researchers in Manitoba First Nations communities.

Restrictions: Instructor Permission Required.

IS-2402 (3) Mazinaatesewin: Indigenous

Representation in Film (1.5 hrs Lecture | 1.5 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This course critically examines the portrayal of Indigenous peoples in film by engaging with film and literature discussing indigenous cinema and how cinematic tropes lead to generalized representations which are solidified into the viewer's minds. Students explore topics such as imperfect and fourth cinema, Indigenous self-representation, collective authorship, representation, impersonation, and appropriation. Films examined are in the modern era (1970 onwards) and focus on Indigenous Cinema.

Note: Students cannot receive credit for IS-2402/3 Mazinaatesewin: Indigenous Representation in Film and the former IS-2402/3 Indigenous Representation in Film.

IS-2407 (3) Language Revitalization (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines the need for language revitalization in the context of language endangerment that is now occurring on a global scale. Students learn about factors that contribute to language remaining strong, as well as processes such as colonization and assimilation that have led to language shift, loss, and death. Students learn about the importance of diverse languages, and also about strategies and programs that communities have applied to maintain or regain their languages. Key language revitalization methods are taught, including language healing, language development, language learning technologies, language nests, and master-apprentice programs.

Cross-listed: ANTH-2407(3) and LING-2104(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ANTH-2407 | LING-2104.

IS-3001 (3 or 6) Special Topics in Indigenous Studies

(3 hrs Lecture) The contents of this course focus on particular aspects of Indigenous Studies and may include topics on philosophical, social, economic, political or other issues. Topics accord with each scholar's area of expertise, and will consist of material and assignments appropriate to a 3000-level course. This course may be repeated for credit when the topic varies.

Requisite Courses: IS-1016 (or HIST-1009) and IS-1017, or the former IS-1015 [prerequisite(s)].

IS-3010 (3) Protecting Indigenous Knowledge

Systems (3 hrs Lecture/Seminar) This course addresses emerging issues for Indigenous peoples regarding the use and exploitation of their knowledge and natural resources. It examines case studies where rights over knowledge and the stewardship of biodiversity have been threatened and examples where Indigenous peoples have been able to manage and protect their environment and associated knowledge. The course focuses on the contributions of native science, Indigenous ecological knowledge and wisdom of the Elders in North America and connections to similar Indigenous knowledge systems in other parts of the world.

Requisite Courses: IS-1016 (or HIST-1009) and IS-1017, or the former IS-1015, or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

IS-3012 (3) Ethnoecology As a Research Approach

(3 hrs Lecture) This course underscores the traditional ecological knowledge systems of Indigenous and local communities by examining the interactions among these communities, their knowledge, and the local environments that have sustained over time. Key themes include traditional food and medicinal plants, traditional natural resources management systems, and learning within indigenous knowledge and indigenous cultural landscapes. Such learning is explored through global case studies. Research approaches, tools, methods and ethical issues surrounding ethnoecological research within local and Indigenous communities are also explored. This course helps in developing academic and research skills in conducting interdisciplinary research that examines the relationships between nature and culture.

Cross-listed: ANTH-3170(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ANTH-3170.

Requisite Courses: IS-1016 (or HIST-1009) and IS-1017 (or the former IS-1015), or AG-1015 or UIC-1001 or IDS-1100 or ANTH-1001 or ANTH-1002 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

IS-3100 (3) International Rights of Indigenous Peoples (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines current developments at the international level with respect to the rights of Indigenous peoples, particularly the right to self-determination. The course examines decolonization as used in reference to Indigenous peoples. It includes a review of the Draft Declaration of Indigenous peoples and the Organization of American States Draft Declaration. The course reviews the United Nations bodies that deal with Indigenous issues. International Indigenous peoples' rights to land and treaty interpretation are considered and compared to Canada's current policy in maintaining a colonial relationship. Developments and issues of concern to the Indigenous Peoples Permanent Forum are covered.

Requisite Courses: IS-1016 (or HIST-1009) and IS-1017, or the former IS-1015 [prerequisite(s)].

IS-3104 (3) Indigenous Languages of South America (3 hrs Lecture) Presenting an integrated overview of the indigenous languages of South America, this course looks at main language families spoken there, their spatial distribution, history and classification, as well as their cultural background. With 53 language families and 55 isolates, South America is not only the most diverse region in linguistic terms, but also a storehouse of unusual structural features important for understanding the full range of possible variants of human language. The course also explores typological characteristics of South American languages, potential linguistic areas, proposals of more distant relationships, and the current situation of endangered languages in this region. Additional in-depth work is required to receive credit at the 4000-level.
Cross-listed: ANTH-3411(3), ANTH-4411(3), LING-3104(3), and LING-4104(3).
Restrictions: Department Permission Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and ANTH-3411 | ANTH-4411 | LING-3104 | LING-4104.

IS-3125 (3) The Intergenerational Legacy of Residential Schools (3 hrs Lecture) The residential school system was a mandatory school system for all Aboriginal children. The objective of these schools was to extinguish Aboriginal culture and language from the Canadian landscape. The first school opened in the late 1800's and the last school closed in the 1980's. The result from this long history is a legacy that impacts all Canadians and Aboriginal peoples. This course examines the impact of the residential school system in a variety of areas such as the loss of language and culture, loss of parenting skills, (especially mothering), as well as settler and Aboriginal relations.
Cross-listed: UIC-3125(3).
Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and UIC-3125.
Requisite Courses: IS-1016 (and HIST-1009) and IS-1017, or the former IS-1015 [prerequisite(s)].

IS-3162 (3) Social Enterprise in the Indigenous Context (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) Students study theories and practices related to social enterprise models in Canada, the UK, the US and elsewhere. The course has a particular interest in the relationship between social enterprises, related policies, and indigenous sovereignty or self-determination. Students are familiarized with the range of Indigenous social enterprises in Canada and internationally, and trained in policy and project analysis. Students put social enterprise theory into practice by creating a proposal for a hypothetical social enterprise project focused in an identified need, gap, or interest in an Indigenous community or organization.

Cross-listed: ANTH-3162(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ANTH-3162.

Requisite Courses: 30 credit hours in any subject [prerequisite(s)].

IS-3201 (3) Indigenous Ethnobotany Field School (Lecture with variable meeting hours | Lab) This field course on Indigenous Botany offers land-based learning opportunities to explore the multiple uses (including medicinal, ceremonial, aesthetic, and spiritual) of local plants by Indigenous communities along with the classroom instruction of botanical information. The major interdisciplinary sub-themes covered through this course include traditional medicinal plant knowledge, applied Ethnobotany, Indigenous conservation and bio cultural landscape. The course design includes 1 to 1.5 weeks in classrooms and 36 hours of experiential learning from herbalists and Indigenous elders in the Manitoba First Nations.

Restrictions: Instructor Permission Required.

IS-3204 (3) Gibiindwesijigemin: Documenting Indigenous Languages (1.5 hrs Lecture | 1.5 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This lecture/seminar course provides an introduction to the tools, techniques, protocols, and ethics of Indigenous language oral history documentation. Indigenous oral history foundations are critically examined and a review of the theories which inform Indigenous oral historiography is conducted. Focus is given to the practical recording, preparation, and presentation of linguistic and historical data in the Indigenous languages of Miskwaadesi-miinis (Turtle Island).

Experimental Course - This course is offered on a trial basis to gauge interest in the topic. Students who successfully complete this course receive credit as indicated.

Requisite Courses: IS-1101/6 Introductory Cree or IS-1201/6 Introductory Ojibwe [prerequisite(s)].

IS-3523 (3) Indigenous Women's History (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines Métis, Inuit and First Nations women's history in Canada. The course covers a variety of themes, including Indigenous women's health, labour and education history; histories of sexual, legal, and social regulation of Indigenous women; and formal, informal, local and national women's organizations. Students also engage in historical interpretation of a variety of different kinds of historical evidence and consider the creative work of Indigenous women in diverse cultural fields including art, film, music and literature.

Cross-listed: HIST-3623(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and HIST-3523 | HIST-3623 | WGS-3523.

IS-3717 (3 or 6) Indigenous Literatures & Cultures (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines the Indigenous literatures and cultures of North America. Students study early forms of Indigenous expression as well as writings produced after the Indigenous "renaissance" of the late 1960s. Focusing on works by established and emerging writers, the course emphasizes Indigenous values, knowledges, and theories while paying attention to the key concepts, critical debates and recent directions in the field of Indigenous literary studies today. Each version of the course may have a different emphasis. Students should consult the English Department website for a detailed course description any given year.

Cross-listed: ENGL-3717.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ENGL-3717.

IS-3723 (3 or 6) Topics in Indigenous Texts and Cultures (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines a range of texts by Indigenous artists and other cultural producers. In an era when stereotypes, racism, injustices, and inequities continue to undermine the well being of many, Indigenous artists, along with Indigenous and non-Indigenous scholars across a range of disciplines, activists, community members, and others are contributing to Indigenous peoples health, healing, and self-determination. The course emphasizes Indigenous values, knowledges, and theories. In a given year, we might focus on a specific artist, nation, country, genre, or period. Students should consult the English Department website for a description of the course offered in a given year.

Cross-listed: ENGL-3723.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ENGL-3723.

Requisite Courses: You must successfully complete 6 credit hours of first-year ENGLISH, including ENGL-1001(6) or ENGL-1000(3) [prerequisite(s)].

IS-3901 (3 or 6) Directed Readings (3 hrs Directed Reading) In this course, readings and assignments in the area of Indigenous Studies are arranged between an individual student and the instructor. Topics may not duplicate regular course offerings in Indigenous Studies or other departments. This course is an opportunity to explore a specialized topic in the interdisciplinary context of the field. Examples of potential topics include comparing Canadian and New Zealand/Aotearoa treaty rights efforts; analyzing artistic forms of Indigenous political resistance; exploring health implications of indigeneity in settler societies; and ethnohistorical research on early Winnipeg Aboriginal community organizations.

Restrictions: Instructor Permission Required.

Requisite Courses: IS-1016 (or HIST-1009) and IS-1017 (or the former IS-1015) and permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

IS-4000 (3 or 6) Indigenous Studies Practicum (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This course offers experience in Indigenous Studies under the guidance and supervision of faculty and on-site personnel. The course is arranged between the student, the instructor, and a site willing to provide relevant experience in a setting related to a topic in Indigenous Studies. The hours spent on-site will be determined according to the number of credits. Examples of possible practicum sites: Indigenous community organizations; Indigenous governmental or other institutions; museums or art galleries working on Indigenous exhibits or productions; non-Indigenous governmental or NGO entity dealing with Indigenous peoples or issues; or an Indigenous business or media outlet.

Restrictions: Instructor Permission Required. Honours Form Required.

Requisite Courses: IS-1016 (or HIST-1009) and IS-1017 (or the former IS-1015) and permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

IS-4021 (6) Pathways to Indigenous Wisdom (3 hrs Lecture) In this course, students' assumptions and world views are challenged and enriched by a deep and complex understanding of Indigenous ways of knowing. By decolonizing and indigenizing the mind, students are open to imagining and, later, implementing strategies that are embedded in indigenous teachings. The course emphasizes the importance of critical thinking through the examination and immersion into indigenous epistemologies and brings to the program the instructor's expertise in First Nations governance, development efforts and systems. Cannot receive credit in IS 4021 if previous credit in GIS 4021 or GIS 7021.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

Requisite Courses: IS-1016 (or HIST-1009) and IS-1017, or the former IS-1015 [prerequisite(s)].

IS-4022 (6) Indigenous Research Methodologies and Ethics (3 hrs Lecture) This course provides a review of the movement towards the decolonization of the Western model of research and the revitalization of Indigenous research frameworks and methodologies. The unique issues and principles involving ethical research in Indigenous communities are explored. The course also includes an overview of the governance by Indigenous communities of their own research and ethical review process.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Department Permission Required.

Requisite Courses: IS-1016 (or HIST-1009) and IS-1017, or the former IS-1015 [prerequisite(s)].

IS-4023 (3) Indigenous Peoples, Globalization and Development (3 hrs Lecture) Indigenous peoples today are enmeshed in the expanding modern economy, subject to the pressures of both market and government. More and more Indigenous communities are rejecting the traditional capitalist vision of development as human and environmental exploitation and focusing on new types of local development projects. This course analyzes some of the conflicts associated with traditional development projects in Indigenous communities. Taking Indigenous peoples as actors, not victims, as its starting point, the class then examines innovations in Indigenous economic development that are culturally respectful, environmentally responsible and which build a new sense of community.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

Requisite Courses: IS-1016 (or HIST-1009) and IS-1017, or the former IS-1015 [prerequisite(s)].

IS-4024 (3) Biocultural Diversity Conservation Balancing Scientific and Indigenous Knowledge

Practices (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This course focuses on the interrelationship between indigenous peoples and their environment. Indigenous and local communities contribute with understanding, practices and innovations regarding the use and conservation of biodiversity and natural resources in diverse ecosystems. The value of indigenous knowledge is recognized in international agreements and efforts are made to integrate traditional ecological knowledge into conservation and management programs. The tensions arising from the confluence of indigenous and scientific knowledge, the opposition of different epistemological approaches, the increasing loss of bio diversity and indigenous cultures, the interconnectedness between biological and cultural diversity are the central themes of this course.

Cross-listed: IDS-4824(3) and ANTH-4024(3).

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and ANTH-4024 | IDS-4824.

Requisite Courses: IS-1016 (or HIST-1009) and IS-1017, or the former IS-1015 [prerequisite(s)].

IS-4025 (3) Indigenous Languages: Culture, Rights, and Conflicts (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion)

Indigenous languages are an integral part of Indigenous peoples' identity, worldview and culture. It is however, currently estimated that up to ninety per cent of the world's Indigenous languages are likely to disappear by the end of the century. This course is designed to give students an overview of Indigenous language issues related to culture, advocacy, revitalization, and resistance. Students are encouraged to critically compare and contrast the treatment of Indigenous languages through legislation, policy, grassroots activism, and educational and systemic efforts in countries such as Canada, the United States, New Zealand, Norway, and Sweden.

Cross-listed: LING-4025(3), HR-4025(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and HR-4025 | LING-4025.

Requisite Courses: IS-1016 (or HIST-1009) and IS-1017, or the former IS-1015 [prerequisite(s)].

IS-4026 (3) Indigenous Food Security (3 hrs Lecture)

Community food security provides a rich diversity of self-organized food systems to improve, maintain and enhance health, well-being, resilience and ecological sustainability, originated and nurtured by Indigenous and other marginalized communities. By examining Canadian and international case studies as well as empirical research on Indigenous voices, knowledges and perspectives on their own food systems, this course critically engages students with the concepts, approaches, practices and challenges of Indigenous food production, consumption and distribution and their role in achieving community food security.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

IS-4028 (3 or 6) Human and Indigenous Rights in Latin America (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) Indigenous nationalities and other marginalized minority groups in Latin America have developed innovative strategies, alliances and forms of political participation to achieve recognition of their rights and to contribute to new political configurations in the region. This course studies the dynamic situation of Indigenous and human rights and social conflicts in Latin America. Topics included contested definitions of individual and collective rights, responses to human rights abuses, and intersections between human rights frameworks and related peacebuilding processes. A country or sub-region may be selected for an in-depth case study, and may vary in different times that the course is offered.

Cross-listed: HR-4210(3).

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Department Permission Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and HR-4210.

Requisite Courses: HR-2100 and HR-2200, or the former HRGS-2101, or the former POL-2101 or permission of the department [prerequisite(s)].

IS-4200 (3 or 6) Seminar in Selected Topics (3 hrs

Lecture) This course focuses on particular aspects of Indigenous Studies, and particularly on Indigenous governance/policy. The selected topic is discussed in seminar format. It may be approached from a variety of perspectives, including philosophical, social/cultural, economic, political, or artistic, and may be offered by current faculty, local or visiting scholars from Canada or other nations. The course may be repeated for credit when the topic varies.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

Requisite Courses: IS-1016 (or HIST-1009) and IS-1017, or the former IS-1015 [prerequisite(s)].

IS-4204 (3) Nibwaakaadendamowaad: Intellectual

Sovereignities (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This seminar surveys some of the prominent voices in Anishinaabe intellectual traditions from the 1960s to the present. The seminar examines seminal texts in intellectual sovereignties from Miskwaadesi-miinis (Turtle Island) in order to understand the nibwaakaadendamowaad (intelligentsia) of the Anishinaabeg, their role in creating the modern sovereignty discourse, and their intellectual legacy for all Anishinaabeg. The course explores the work of Anishinaabe leaders, scholars, artists, and writers.

Experimental Course - This course is offered on a trial basis to gauge interest in the topic. Students who successfully complete this course receive credit as indicated.

Requisite Courses: A minimum of 12 credit hours in Indigenous Studies or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

IS-4445 (3) Urban Indigenous Seminar (3 hrs

Seminar/Discussion) This seminar examines selected topics dealing with urban Indigenous issues. Topics may include the viability of urban Indigenous governance, urban reserves, and Indigenous education and economic development issues in the inner city. The issue of differing conceptions of Indigenous representation and identity held by various Indigenous organizations is a particularly challenging and contentious issue in the urban context. The portability and applicability of Indigenous and treaty rights in the urban environment may also be explored. We may also analyze the unique problems created by the range of jurisdictional responsibilities towards Indigenous people in the urban environment.

Cross-listed: ANTH-4145(3) and UIC-4445(3).

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and ANTH-4145 | UIC-4445.

Requisite Courses: You must successfully complete a minimum of 6 credit hours in Urban and Inner City Studies (UIC) courses, or obtain permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

IS-4703 (3 or 6) Indigenous Education in an Era of Globalization (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This course examines Indigenous learning systems and their adaptations within a global world. As societies become more integrated through globalization, traditional Indigenous learning systems are being challenged as to their viability. In response, Indigenous peoples are adapting their learning systems to meet the challenges that are occurring to the social fabric of their cultures. More generally, this course brings Indigenous perspectives on education to the analysis of globalization.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

Requisite Courses: IS-1016 (or HIST-1009) and IS-1017 (or the former IS-1015) or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

IS-4717 (3 or 6) Topics in Indigenous Literary and Culture (3 hrs Lecture) This course focuses on a topic in the area of Indigenous literary and cultural studies. For example, it may focus on historical or contemporary representations of Indigenous people in a range of artistic and non-artistic texts. Or, the course may study Indigenous artistic and intellectual responses to themes such as the environment, neo-colonialism, violence against women, health, sovereignty, and reconciliation by considering a specific artist, nation, genre, or period. Please consult the English Department website for a detailed course description in any given year. This course may be repeated for credit when the topic varies.

Cross-listed: ENGL-4717(3)/(6).

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and ENGL-4717.

Requisite Courses: You must successfully complete 6 credit hours of first-year ENGLISH, including ENGL-1001(6) or ENGL-1000(3). Co-requisite: ENGL-2142(6) [prerequisite(s)]; ENGL-2142 or permission of instructor (must be taken previously or at the same time as this course).

INTERNATIONAL DEVELOPMENT STUDIES

IDS-1100 (6) Introduction to International Development Studies (3 hrs Lecture) Persistent poverty and discrimination, rising inequality and environmental stress, vulnerability to violence and disaster-these problems challenge people around the world. Imagine yourself as an agent of change, seeking ways to live justly and peacefully with others and the earth. Where would one look for ideas? This course introduces students to the concepts and critical tools needed to understand a range of approaches to change, both conventional and transformative. Students learn to pose and answer questions about current development challenges, and to analyze examples of successful and unsuccessful development at the global, national, and community levels.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and MSC-2201.

IDS-1200 (3) Introduction to Global Citizenship

(3 hrs Lecture) In this course students trace the historical development of the ideal of "global citizenship," interrogating the meanings, contradictions and contentions associated with this term. Through guest speakers and student research on specific issues and injustices that are present in Manitoba communities, and which also have global connections and manifestations, students examine current practices aimed at fostering global citizenship. The future of concepts of or related to global citizenship is addressed by analyzing the rights of democratic citizenship and asking how such rights should be articulated and advanced.

Cross-listed: HR-1200(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and HR-1200 | HRGS-1200.

IDS-2110 (3) Participatory Local Development

(3 hrs Lecture) Poverty, inequality, gender discrimination, top-down decision making, inadequate technology, and conflict all prevent communities from meeting their development goals. This course prepares students to facilitate local development through participatory approaches that build community and capacity at a local level. Approaches examined include participatory assessments, microfinance, community-supported agriculture, and indigenous natural resource management.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and IDS-3110 | MSC-2110.

Requisite Courses: IDS-1100 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

IDS-2130 (6) A History of the Developing World

(3 hrs Lecture) This course examines the historical roots of development and underdevelopment, processes that have led to the emergence of the developing world or Third World as a distinctive, though diverse region. It surveys trends such as colonization, industrialization, militarization and trade in the South from the 15th to the 20th century. It investigates the ways in which both external pressures and internal dynamics have contributed to continuity and change in these regions. This course will help students to understand the historical context for contemporary changes in developing countries, as well as the context in which particular development theories and practices emerged.

Cross-listed: HIST-2130(6).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and HIST-2130.

Requisite Courses: IDS-1100(6) or 6 credit hours in HIST 1000-level courses, or permission of the Instructor [prerequisite(s)].

IDS-2131 (3) Rural Development (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines changes to rural society and economy in the South (Africa, Asia, and Latin America) brought about historically by colonialism, and more recently through modern development efforts. The course begins by considering how colonialism and expansion of capitalism reoriented agriculture and rural society towards a more global focus. Modern development efforts are then evaluated in light of their impact on rural economy and society. Discussion then highlights the impact of agrarian reform, technological change, and domestic government policies on economic development and social differentiation. Both gender and environmental issues will be interwoven throughout the course, and efforts will be made to draw connections with rural change in Canada.

Requisite Courses: IDS-1100 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

IDS-2160 (3) Indigenous People and the Industrial

State (3 hrs Lecture) The course considers the situation of Indigenous peoples in the regions of Africa, the Americas, Asia and the Pacific. While these people have distinct cultural histories, their relations to nation-states are similar in important ways. Tensions between indigenous people and the industrial state centre on such issues as external market dependency, diversification, and size of the government sector. Students critique standard definitions of progress and efficiency. The implications of contemporary industrial development projects for the future of human societies are studied within the framework of the primal insights, values and definitions shared by Indigenous peoples throughout the globe.

Requisite Courses: IDS-1100 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

IDS-2171 (3) Crisis, Humanitarian Aid and Development (3 hrs Lecture) Today disasters threaten global human security as never before. These crises are caused by a complex mix of natural hazards, such as floods, earthquakes or droughts, and human action. Humanitarian aid is an important response to disasters and an increasing part of international development aid. This course identifies the main organizations providing humanitarian aid, and examines their efforts to improve aid quality and their own accountability. It also explores the ways in which humanitarian aid can help to reduce vulnerability to hazards and enhance, rather than undermine, capacities for development.

Requisite Courses: Successful completion of 6 credit hours [prerequisite(s)]; IDS-1100 (recommended to be taken previously or at the same time as this course).

IDS-2183 (3) African Development Issues (3 hrs Lecture) This case study course will survey a subset of the theories, processes, policies and practice of development and underdevelopment in the diverse and complex context of Africa. In the face of intensifying global capital processes and declining humanitarian efforts, many African communities and countries face serious challenges. While exploring development problems and possible solutions, this course will also highlight the tremendously rich and diverse cultural, social and economic experience of African peoples and communities.
Requisite Courses: IDS-1100 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

IDS-2186 (3) Selected Topics: Regional Development Issues (2 hrs Lecture | 1 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This course focuses on the development and conflict challenges faced by a designated region of the world. It examines solutions put forward by communities, organizations, and governments from that region, as well as those of external development actors. In surveying those problems and solutions, the course highlights the distinctive character and experiences of the region, as well as its internal diversity. The course also identifies development concepts, practices and theories that have emerged in the designated region. Students may repeat this course for credit, provided the region of focus varies.
Requisite Courses: 6 credit hours successfully completed or permission of instructor [prerequisite(s)]; IDS-1100 (recommended to be taken previously or at the same time as this course).

IDS-2443 (3) Conflict and Development Issues in Indigenous Communities (3 hrs Lecture) Within the broad frameworks of international development and conflict resolution studies, this course explores the dynamics of indigenous people globally, with special reference to the Canadian context. The course describes key elements of indigenous cultures and world views. It examines inter- and intra-group conflict and conflict resolution processes involving indigenous communities. Processes of marginalization and underdevelopment are presented in order to understand the indigenous communities' social, economic, and political situations. Strategies for community development and conflict resolution will be highlighted as means to achieve transformation.
Cross-listed: CRS-2443(3).
Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and CRS-2443.
Requisite Courses: IDS-1100 or CRS-1200 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

IDS-2521 (3) Voluntary Simplicity (3 hrs Lecture) Development is increasingly understood as a participatory, deliberate process aimed at enhancing the quality of life for individuals within community. This course examines the concept, theory, and practice of voluntary simplicity as a means of development for individuals seeking environmentally sustainable alternatives to consumer values and culture. The course explores both the historical roots of voluntary simplicity and its modern expressions and is informed by the understanding that effective conflict resolution practice is enhanced by building emotional well-being, vibrant community, sustainable environment, and social justice.

Cross-listed: CRS-2521(3), ENV-2521(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and CRS/ENV-2521.

Requisite Courses: IDS-1100 or ENV-1600 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

IDS-2603 (3) Environmental Sustainability: A Global Dilemma (3 hrs Lecture) This course focuses on environmental factors relevant to understanding and implementing sustainable development. Its aim is to teach students to understand and appreciate fundamental ecological principles within the context of social values and technological constraints. Moreover, the course seeks to equip students to assess environmental problems from an interdisciplinary perspective, and to develop strategies that might solve these problems. Topics or issues that may be addressed include ecosystem dynamics; feedback in environmental processes; the concepts of carrying capacities and population thresholds; optimum yield theory; loss of biodiversity; over-consumption and overpopulation; deforestation, desertification, and pollution; energy demand versus supply; urbanization trends; global warming; ozone layer depletion; resource management, conservation and recovery; and environmental monitoring and impact assessment.

Cross-listed: ENV-2603(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ENV-2603.

Requisite Courses: IDS-1100 or ENV-1600 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

IDS-2804 (3) Global Perspectives on Aboriginal Societies, Spiritualities, and the Environment (3 hrs Lecture) This course explores the spiritual traditions of aboriginal cultures throughout the world. For example, we examine the role of elders and shamans in various aboriginal societies, their understandings of the environment in which they live, and their various expressions of spirituality. The course discusses the recognition of aboriginal rights at the United Nations and its implications for preserving land, cultures and spiritualities. Finally, students reflect on the effect of development on Indigenous lands and how that is affecting aboriginal societies and their traditional belief systems.
Cross-listed: REL-2804(3).
Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and REL-2804.

IDS-3101 (3) Development Ethics (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines the ethical questions posed by development thinking and practice. It introduces frameworks for ethical decision-making in development. Using specific examples, the course explores questions like: How are decisions about goals of development made? How are the costs of development distributed? What are acceptable methods in development activity, and who rightfully leads or engages in this activity? How far do answers to such questions differ between cultures and ideologies, and is agreement on these answers either possible or desirable?
Requisite Courses: IDS-1100 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

IDS-3111 (3) Development Aid Policy and Practice (3 hrs Lecture) This course identifies actors in the international development aid system, and their evolving models and methods of aid delivery. Students compare the activities of donor governments, both new and established, and those of inter-governmental organizations. Specific examples are used to scrutinize the impacts of aid-funded projects and programs, and to examine the problems of aid effectiveness and accountability. Students also explore debates about aid's contribution to equitable and sustainable development.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and MSC-3201.

Requisite Courses: IDS-1100 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

IDS-3141 (3) The Participatory Community Economy (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines theories of the community economy and analyzes strategies of community economic participation. The study of the community economy is rooted in both liberal (e.g. institutional economics) and critical literature (e.g. neo-Marxist, social movement theory). Particular theories come from community economic development; institutional economics; cooperation and cooperative theories; social economy; and natural resource management. Particular strategies include micro-financial services, asset building, micro-enterprise development, social enterprise, cooperative development, and community-based natural resource management. This course builds on theories of community development, participation, and social capital.

Requisite Courses: IDS-2110 (or the former IDS-3110) and ECON-1104 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

IDS-3150 (3) Mennonite Community and Development (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This course analyzes the experiences of the Mennonite community in service and peace work. It highlights the values, approach, and methods particular to Mennonite humanitarian work. The Mennonite tradition of holistic development emphasizes individual transformation (providing the tools for indigenous development) and social transformation (involving all peoples in creating local, national, and global systems that are just). The work of Mennonite organizations such as the Mennonite Central Committee and the Mennonite Economic Development Agency, of ecumenical organizations such as the Canadian Foodgrains Bank and InterChurch Action, and of inter-organizational groups such as SEED Winnipeg will provide examples for student reflection and analysis.

Cross-listed: MENN-3150(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and MENN-3150.

Requisite Courses: IDS-1100 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

IDS-3160 (3) Cultural Perspectives on Global Processes (3 hrs Lecture) The focus of this course is threefold. First it seeks to apply cultural perspectives on 'global scale theory.' Second, we discern the linkages among some of the main processes at work in 'global systems.' Main processes include communications, transportation, migration, capital, manufacture of export goods, non-state political organizations, and environmental and human health research. The emphasis is on how two or more of these interact. Third, we discuss the effects of these processes in local and regional contexts. The specific processes and their salient interrelationships are chosen in response to interests of those taking the course, and are developed by group reading and discussion, and individually in term paper projects.

Cross-listed: ANTH-3160(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ANTH-3160.

Requisite Courses: IDS-1100 or ANTH-1001 or ANTH-1002 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

IDS-3182 (3) Selected Topics in International Development Studies (3 hrs Lecture) This course presents an in-depth view of a particular problem in development, using theoretical and/or applied concepts. The nature and range of topics covered will depend upon the instructor. Please see the IDS Program for a specific course description. This course may be repeated for credit when the topic varies.

Requisite Courses: IDS-1100 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

IDS-3190 (6) International Practicum in International Development Studies

(Apprenticeship/Internship/Practicum with variable meeting hours) This course is an integrated work experience in an international setting for a minimum of three months. Students are expected to work 30 hours per week in a relevant organization and participate in academic exercises both before and during the practicum. Students reflect on, utilize, and expand their knowledge and skills in International Development while also examining their personal assumptions, gaining cultural awareness and enhancing their problem-solving abilities. Interested students consult with the Director of Practicum at Menno Simons College 9-months in advance of the term they wish to enroll.

Restrictions: Perm - MSC Pract Dir Required.

Requisite Courses: IDS-1100(6), IDS-2110(3), IDS-2171(3), CRS-2241(3) and additional 3 cr hrs of IDS core courses with a minimum GPA of 2.75 and permission of the Director of Practicum [prerequisite(s)].

IDS-3193 (3) Directed Readings in International Development Studies (3 hrs Directed Reading) In this course, readings and assignments in the area of International Development Studies will be arranged between an individual student and the instructor.

Restrictions: Instructor Permission Required.

Requisite Courses: IDS-1100 and permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

IDS-3198 (6) Local/National Practicum (6) in International Development Studies (3 hrs Apprenticeship/Internship/Practicum) This six-credit hour course is an integrated work experience in a local or national setting. Students work in a relevant organization in a supervised field experience and participate in academic seminars over the course of the semester. Students reflect on, utilize and expand their knowledge of International Development while also practicing workplace and professional writing, integrating development theories with practice and gaining grant writing skills. Interested students consult with the Director of Practicum at Menno Simons College 3 months in advance of the term in which they wish to enrol

Restrictions: Perm - MSC Pract Dir Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and IDS-3199.

Requisite Courses: IDS-1100(6), IDS-2110(3), IDS-2171(3) [prerequisite(s)]; and additional 6 credit hours of IDS core courses [prerequisite(s)].

IDS-3199 (3) Local/National Practicum (3) in International Development Studies (3 hrs

Apprenticeship/Internship/Practicum) This three-credit hour course is an integrated work experience in a local or national setting. Students work in a relevant organization in a supervised field experience and participate in academic seminars over the course of the semester. Students reflect on, utilize and expand their knowledge of International Development while also practicing workplace and professional writing and integrating development theories with practice. Interested students consult with the Director of Practicum at Menno Simons College 3-months in advance of the term in which they wish to enrol.

Restrictions: Perm - MSC Pract Dir Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and IDS-3198.

Requisite Courses: IDS-1100(6), IDS-2110(3), IDS-2171(3) [prerequisite(s)]; and additional 6 credit hours of IDS core courses [prerequisite(s)].

IDS-3210 (3) Community Organizing for Social Justice (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This course examines a range of strategies for promoting change in urban settings. Students study theories and historical examples of various kinds of social justice-focused community organizing. Local, national and international cases are examined. Examples may include, but are not limited to: neighbourhood-level organizing; feminist approaches to organizing; youth-led organizing; Indigenous models of organizing; forms of civil disobedience; policy advocacy and lobbying; and the use of the media in community organizing.

Cross-listed: UIC-3210(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and UIC-3210.

IDS-3901 (3) Humanitarian Aid and Conflict: Do No

Harm (3 hrs Lecture) This course focuses on the problems of providing assistance in complex emergencies, where armed conflict has generated crises requiring a humanitarian response. It covers the nature of contemporary armed conflict, the actors involved in responding to complex emergencies, and the many dimensions of humanitarian aid and intervention. Through analysis of aid's impacts on the conflict and its effectiveness at meeting human needs, the course explores models of humanitarian assistance that minimize negative impacts.

Cross-listed: CRS-3901(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and CRS-3901.

Requisite Courses: IDS-1100 or CRS-1200 plus 45 credit hours of university credit or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

IDS-3910 (3) Peace Theory and Practice (3 hrs Lecture)

This course investigates theories of peace. Theories of war and the practice of warfare have been studied a great deal; theories of peace and the practice of peace have been studied less. The course begins with attempts to define peace - a task as difficult as that of defining war and conflict-by drawing on key studies by peace research scholars like Galtung, Reardon and Elstain. The course is conducted in a modified seminar format (half the course in large group format, the remainder utilizing small group problem-based learning).

Cross-listed: CRS-3910(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and CRS-3910.

Requisite Courses: IDS-1100 or CRS-1200 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

IDS-3920 (3) Action Research Methods (3 hrs Lecture)

This course investigates the contemporary research and field work methods commonly used by researchers and practitioners in the fields of international development and conflict resolution studies. The course emphasizes attitudes and skills necessary to conduct participatory action research. Topics and techniques covered in the course include planning for research, proposal writing, sampling strategies, interviewing and focus group techniques, life history, photovoice and participatory video, integrating qualitative and quantitative methods, and post-field work activities.

Cross-listed: CRS-3920(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and CRS-3920.

Requisite Courses: IDS-1100 or CRS-1200 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

IDS-4100 (3) Senior Seminar in International Development Studies (3 hrs Project / Thesis) In this capstone seminar students compare cross-disciplinary and discipline-based approaches to various international development issues. They also explore solutions to the problem of integrating development theory and practice. Students articulate their own understanding of development on the basis of critical reflection on examples of successful and unsuccessful development. The seminar includes critical reflection on students' experiences with development issues in the classroom, the practicum, or in extra-curricular activities.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

Requisite Courses: IDS-2110 (or the former IDS-3110), IDS-3101, IDS-3111, and IDS-3199, or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

IDS-4110 (6) Development Theory (3 hrs Lecture) This honours seminar takes an interdisciplinary approach to the study of theories that have shaped the conceptualization and practice of development around the world. This includes critical attention to the nature of development theory, the processes through which theory is generated, and the context in which different theories have emerged and in which some became dominant. The seminar focuses on current versions of general development theories such as: modernization, structuralism, Marxism, dependency theory, neoclassical and neoliberal theory, alternative development, and post-development. Examples of current theories that focus on key development issues are also covered.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and IDS-4111.

Requisite Courses: IDS-2110, IDS-3111, IDS-3101, and IDS-3199, or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

IDS-4120 (3) Honours Thesis (3 hrs Lecture) Students in this course will plan and carry out an original research project related to International Development Studies. This research project will result in the writing and oral presentation of an honours thesis whose length and format will be based on standards for submission to a scholarly journal. Students will also engage in consultation with a research advisor and participate in collegial support processes for their research project.

Note: Students are strongly encouraged to complete their research requirements for the IDS Honours program before registering for this course.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

Requisite Courses: IDS-2110 (or the former IDS-3110), IDS-3101, IDS-3111 and IDS-3199 [prerequisite(s)].

IDS-4182 (3) Selected Topics in International Development Studies (3 hrs Lecture) This course presents an in-depth study of a particular problem in development, using theoretical and/or applied concepts. The nature and range of topics covered will depend upon the Instructor. This course may be repeated for credit when the topic varies. Please see the IDS Program or Academic Advisor for a specific course description.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

Requisite Courses: IDS-2110 and IDS-3111 or permission of the Program Coordinator or the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

IDS-4193 (3) Directed Readings in International Development Studies (3 hrs Lecture) In this course, advanced readings and assignments in the area of International Development Studies are arranged between an individual student and instructor.

Requisite Courses: Student must have successfully completed IDS-2110 (or the former IDS-3110), IDS-3101 AND IDS-3111 [prerequisite(s)].

IDS-4824 (3) Biocultural Diversity Conservation (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This course focuses on the interrelationship between indigenous peoples and their environment. Indigenous and local communities contribute with understanding, practices and innovations regarding the use and conservation of biodiversity and natural resources in diverse ecosystems. The value of indigenous knowledge is recognized in international agreements and efforts are made to integrate traditional ecological knowledge into conservation and management programs. The tensions arising from the confluence of indigenous and scientific knowledge, the opposition of different epistemological approaches, the increasing loss of bio diversity and indigenous cultures, the interconnectedness between biological and cultural diversity are the central themes of this course.

Cross-listed: ANTH-4024(3), IS-4024(3).

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and ANTH-4024 | IS-4024.

IDS-4910 (3) Conflict and the Construction of the Other (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This seminar addresses a central question raised in post-colonial theory about the way humans construct and maintain an understanding of the Other. We ask the question, "Have scholars found the idea of the Other useful as a synthesizing concept?" This problem-based, interdisciplinary seminar considers particular sites of struggle in cultural, social, and individual contexts. Finally, we ask about the implications of this inquiry for our cultural, social, and individual circumstances.

Cross-listed: CRS-4910(3).

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and CRS-4910.

Requisite Courses: CRS-1200, CRS-2210 and CRS-3220 or IDS-1100, IDS-2110 and IDS-3111, or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

IDS-4920 (3) Program Planning in Development and Conflict Resolution (3 hrs Lecture) Program planning is a critical first step in most interventions by development and conflict resolution organizations. This course covers blueprint planning required for preparation of funding proposals and various forms of strategic and participatory planning required for the application of results-based management and learning approaches during program implementation. Current debates regarding approaches to planning are also reviewed. Students acquire skills necessary for conceptualizing and implementing international or domestic projects undertaken by non-governmental organizations: needs assessment, goal and purpose identification, formulation of logframe, workplan and budget, and preparation of a funding proposal.

Cross-listed: CRS-4920(3).

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and CRS-4920.

Requisite Courses: IDS-1100 or CRS-1200 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

IDS-4922 (3) Program Evaluation in Development and Conflict Resolution (3 hrs Lecture) Evaluating programs is a means of systematically assessing interventions designed to promote development and conflict resolution. This course covers formative evaluations required for program decision-making and summation evaluations applicable for analyzing outcomes and impacts to determine relevance, effectiveness, efficiency, sustainability and potential for replication of programs normally implemented by non-governmental organizations. Current debates in approaches to evaluation are also reviewed. Students acquire skills in: selecting relevant quantitative and qualitative indicators, various approaches to obtain measures for the indicators selected, approaches to analyzing collected data, and effective presentation of evaluation conclusions and recommendations. Cost-benefit analysis is covered in ECON-3316(3).

Cross-listed: CRS-4922.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and CRS-4922.

Requisite Courses: CRS-1200 or IDS-1100 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

ITALIAN STUDIES

ITAL-1001 (6) Introductory Italian (3 hrs Lecture | 1 hrs

Lab) This course is designed for students who have little or no previous knowledge of Italian and who wish to acquire a solid base in the written and spoken language. An effort is made to place equal emphasis on reading, writing, aural comprehension, and oral expression. To this end, one hour of language laboratory / small-group work supplements classroom work each week.

Note: Native speakers of Italian or students who have standing in Italian 40S or equivalent are not eligible to take this course.

Requisite Courses: ITAL-1001L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

ITAL-2002 (3) Intermediate Italian (3 hrs Lecture | 1 hrs

Lab) The aim of this course is to enable students to increase their proficiency in the following skills: writing, reading, aural comprehension, and oral expression. Students review and build on grammar essentials read, translate, and discuss short stories and non-fiction topics of current interest, and write short compositions. Additional practice in conversation takes place during a mandatory one-hour language lab session per week.

Requisite Courses: ITAL-1001 [prerequisite(s)]; ITAL-2002L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

ITAL-2003 (3) Italian Language and Culture (3 hrs

Lecture | 1 hrs Lab) This course continues to review and build on the essentials of Italian grammar and increase proficiency in the following skills: writing, reading, aural comprehension, and oral expression. Students are expected to read, translate and discuss short stories/poems and readings on current events, and write compositions about relevant topics on Italian culture. Various readings from selected topics on Italian culture such as the arts, literature, politics, sport, food, immigration and globalization prepare students to think critically in Italian and expose them to aesthetics and societal changes in the Italian diaspora. Additional practice in conversation takes place during a mandatory one-hour language lab session per week.

Requisite Courses: ITAL-2002 [prerequisite(s)]; ITAL-2003L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

ITAL-2201 (3) Italian Food and Culture (3 hrs Lecture)

This course examines the ways in which Italian food is constantly being reinvented. We use texts and video to explore socioeconomic trends that have influenced food production and consumption in Italy, such as the initiative of the slow food movement in the 1980s when fast food threatened the nature of Italian cuisine. We look at changes in family dynamics and the role of women over the years. Language and literature play an important role in the evolution and reinvention of Italian food culture. In an era of multiculturalism and globalization, we question the term authentic when describing foods and beverages.

KINESIOLOGY AND APPLIED HEALTH

KIN-1101 (3) Introduction to Kinesiology (3 hrs Lecture) This course is an introduction to the study of human movements, considering knowledge, theory, and application related to physical activity and sport. Human movement is examined from various perspectives, including exercise physiology, biomechanics, motor learning, sport psychology, sport ethics, and sport sociology. This course also includes a review of kinesiology-based career options.

KIN-1102 (3) Introduction to Health (3 hrs Lecture) This course describes several concepts related to health including content covered by the Manitoba Physical Education/Health Education curriculum. Students learn to discern health information as it relates to making healthy lifestyle decisions and being able to educate others regarding healthy lifestyle practices.

KIN-1200 (3) Principles of Coaching (3 hrs Lecture) This course provides a thorough introduction to the coaching process emphasizing the theory and techniques of instruction, preparation and programming. This course will meet the knowledge requirements of the National Coaching Certification Program.

KIN-1601 (3) Nutrition for Health and Wellness (3 hrs Lecture) This course emphasizes basic nutrition information, especially as it contributes to informed decision-making by the consumer. Students are introduced to the major nutrients, Canadian nutrition standards and guidelines, and the role nutrition plays in optimal health, physical activity and disease prevention.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and KIN-2501.

KIN-2061 (3) Sport in the Ancient Greek World (3 hrs Lecture) The course examines the origin and historical development of sport in ancient Greece, its religious and political implications, and the nature of events and contests. Particular attention is given to intellectual and popular attitudes toward sport and the contribution made by ancient Greece in this area to Western civilization.

Cross-listed: CLAS-2061(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and CLAS-2060 | CLAS-2061 | KIN-2060.

KIN-2062 (3) Sport in the Ancient Roman World (3 hrs Lecture) The course examines the origin and historical development of sport in ancient Rome, its religious and political implications, and the nature of events and contests. Particular attention is given to intellectual and popular attitudes toward sport and the contribution made by ancient Rome in this area to Western civilization.

Cross-listed: CLAS-2062(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and CLAS-2060 | CLAS-2062 | KIN-2060.

KIN-2100 (3) Leadership in Sport: Emerging Perspectives (3 hrs Lecture) This course explores the origins and development of leadership theory and also discusses emerging contemporary leadership frameworks and their relevance to practitioners in sport. Conclusions about effective leadership are developed resulting from a review of the most recent research in sport and other related disciplines, and students generate a personal leadership framework enabling them to pursue their future leadership roles with clarity and confidence.

KIN-2101 (3) Program Planning in Sport (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines the planning process as it relates to the delivery of sport programs. Special emphasis is given to needs assessment, program design, planning and periodization, risk management formative and summative evaluation, effective sponsorship, fundraising, and program promotion.

KIN-2102 (3) Pedagogical Theories and Models in Physical Activity and Sport (3 hrs Lecture) This course focuses on teaching and how it relates to physical activity and sport. Using a theory-based emphasis, students develop an understanding of pedagogy; examine its role in physical activity and sport; and consider the key individuals involved in the pedagogical process (i.e., instructors; learners). Specific attention is given to model-based instruction and its application to contemporary physical activity programs for children and youth.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and KIN-2206 | KIN-2400.

Requisite Courses: KIN-1101 [prerequisite(s)].

KIN-2104 (3) Outdoor Recreation and Education (3 hrs Lecture/Lab Combined) This course views the outdoors as a laboratory for a multi-disciplinary approach to learning. The course focuses on the inter-relationships of skills and knowledge in the areas of recreation, education and the environment. Field trips and other outdoor experiences will be an important aspect of the course.

Requisite Courses: KIN-2102 [prerequisite(s)].

KIN-2105 (3) Sport and Exercise Psychology (3 hrs Lecture) In this course students examine the latest research and practice in sport and exercise psychology. The psychological effects and contributing factors related to each issue/topic are examined to determine the implications for those involved in sport and related roles and fields. This course also explores the needs of individual participants and the nature of group processes, as well as issues relating to the enhancement of performance, health and well-being.

Note: The Department of Kinesiology and Applied Health recommends students take PSYC-1000, Introduction to Psychology.

Requisite Courses: KIN-1101 or PSYC-1000 [prerequisite(s)].

KIN-2109 (3) Instructing Sport and Physical Activities (3 hrs Lecture) This course focuses on knowledge and strategies for instructing sport and physical activity. The target sport or physical activity varies. Topics include terminology, rules, offensive and defensive strategies and tactics, and basic skills of selected sport or activity. Learning outcomes, lesson and unit planning, practice preparation, and skill instruction are covered. Students are expected to be physically active in class and conduct in-class peer teaching. This course may be repeated for credit when the topic varies.

Requisite Courses: KIN-1302 or KIN-1303 or KIN-1200 [prerequisite(s)].

KIN-2111 (3) Coaching and Teaching Basketball 1 (3 hrs Lecture) This course offers an introduction to the coaching and teaching of fundamental and one-on-one basketball skills. Students will be given the opportunity for peer teaching and coaching. This course will meet the knowledge requirements of the National Coaching Certification Program.

Requisite Courses: KIN-1200 or KIN-1302 or KIN-1303 [prerequisite(s)].

KIN-2112 (3) Coaching and Teaching Volleyball I (3 hrs Lecture) This course offers an introduction to the coaching and teaching of basic volleyball skills and rules. Students will be given the opportunity for peer teaching and coaching. This course will meet the knowledge requirements of the National Coaching Certification Program.

Requisite Courses: KIN-1200 or KIN-1302 or KIN-1303 [prerequisite(s)].

KIN-2200 (3) Issues in Sport (3 hrs Lecture) This course focuses on political, ethical, social and cultural issues related to sport organization, implementation, or participation. Students are challenged to assess current issues such as fair play, drug abuse, human rights, etc. and develop perspectives and strategies based on an appreciation of historical, philosophical, and moral considerations.

Requisite Courses: A minimum of 30 credit hours including KIN-1101(3) or KIN-1200(3) [prerequisite(s)].

KIN-2202 (3) Prevention and Care of Sport Injuries (3 hrs Lecture | 2 hrs Lab) This course examines techniques and strategies for the prevention and immediate care of athletic injuries. As a requirement of the course, students must obtain certification in Standard First Aid and CPR Basic Rescuer. This course can be used toward the Science requirement.

Requisite Courses: KIN-2301 [prerequisite(s)]; KIN-2202L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

KIN-2204 (3) Human Physiology (3 hrs Lecture | 2 hrs Lab) This course examines the physiological processes of the major effector organ system (cardiovascular, digestive, muscular, respiratory, and renal) that maintain homeostasis within the human body. Regulation of homeostasis by control systems (nervous and endocrine) is also explored. This course can be used toward the Science requirement.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and BIOL-1103.

Requisite Courses: KIN-2204L (lab) (must be taken concurrently); BIOL-1115(3) and BIOL-1116(3) or BIOL-1112(6) or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

KIN-2207 (3) Physical Growth and Motor

Development (3 hrs Lecture) This course reviews knowledge and practice pertaining to physical growth, biological maturation, and motor development and their interrelationship in human performers. Particular emphasis is placed on the assessment and the development of basic movement skills through programming strategies for individuals and large groups.

Requisite Courses: KIN-1101 [prerequisite(s)].

KIN-2301 (3) Human Anatomy (3 hrs Lecture | 2 hrs Lab) This course involves a study of the human anatomical systems and their integration. Special emphasis is placed on the skeletal, articular and muscular systems. As well, the course investigates the analysis of movement.

Note: This course can be used toward the Science requirement.

Requisite Courses: KIN-2301L (lab) (must be taken concurrently); KIN-1101(3) or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

KIN-2304 (3) Scientific Principles of Fitness and Conditioning (3 hrs Lecture | 2 hrs Lab) This course provides an introduction to the major physical activity training principles for fitness assessments and exercise prescriptions in healthy populations. Topics covered include the measurement and evaluation of cardiovascular fitness, musculoskeletal fitness, body composition, balance and flexibility. The laboratory component consists of the practical skills and protocols used for proper fitness assessment. This course can be used toward the Science requirement.

Requisite Courses: KIN-1101 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)]; KIN-2304L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

KIN-2305 (3) Issues in Health (3 hrs Lecture) This course focuses on contemporary issues in health drawn from the intellectual, emotional, physical, social, spiritual, environmental and occupational dimensions of wellness. Students discuss issues and engage in critical evaluations that examine a holistic view of health and health promotion to varied populations and communities.

KIN-2850 (3) The Classical Roots of Medical Terminology (3 hrs Lecture) Knowledge of medical terminology equips students for a variety of fields. This course lays out the most important Greek and Latin roots of the vocabulary of contemporary medicine and demonstrates the predictable patterns by which these roots combine, introducing students to the concept of building language using root words, prefixes and suffixes. Students learn to define new compounds and phrases by analysis of their parts.

Cross-listed: CLAS-2850(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and CLAS-2850.

KIN-3060 (3) Health in Antiquity (3 hrs Lecture) This course explores health, disease, and medicine in the Greek and Roman world. It draws upon evidence from the ancient textual sources (especially Galen and Hippocrates), social history, and archaeology (the latter including all manner of finds - architecture, art, artifacts, environmental materials, and skeletal remains) to examine how residents of the Greek and Roman world perceived and experienced health and disease, and how they sought to combat illness and to promote healing.

Cross-listed: ANTH-3262(3) and CLAS-3060(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ANTH-3262 | CLAS-3060.

Requisite Courses: 3 credits in any Classic, Anthropology or Kinesiology course [prerequisite(s)].

KIN-3100 (3) Professionalism in Applied Health (3 hrs Lecture) This course presents the professional values and principles required to work and interact in an ethical manner within the interdisciplinary sport medicine and health promotion environment. Students explore the meaning and practice of professionalism as it relates to scope of practice, interprofessional relations, provider and client ethics.

Requisite Courses: KIN-2202(3) plus 60 credit hours [prerequisite(s)].

KIN-3103 (3) Inclusive Physical Activity (3 hrs Lecture) In this course students explore the interaction of personal, task and environmental variables in facilitating physical activity for persons with disabilities. While the focus is on school physical education, the course has application to inclusion in fitness, recreation, and sport settings. Students are required to volunteer in an out-of-class physical activity program for people with disabilities (minimum 8 hours).

Requisite Courses: KIN-1101 [prerequisite(s)].

KIN-3105 (3) Psychological Skills in Sport and Life (3 hrs Lecture) This course involves the study of theories and practices pertaining to psychological skills assessment, development and monitoring. Students analyze modern mental preparation techniques and discuss their implications for performance and satisfaction enhancement in sport and life.

Note: The Department of Kinesiology and Applied Health recommends students take PSYC-1000, Introduction to Psychology.

Requisite Courses: Minimum 30 credit hours completed [prerequisite(s)].

KIN-3106 (3) Exercise Physiology (3 hrs Lecture | 3 hrs Lab) This course examines the physiological response of the human body to the stress of acute and chronic exercise. Emphasis is placed on the neuromuscular and cardio-respiratory systems with special attention to the application of physiological principles of training. Laboratory work will illustrate specific physiological effects of exercise stress.

Note: This course can be used toward the Science requirement.

Requisite Courses: KIN-2204 Human Physiology or (Comparative Animal Physiology I & II [BIOL-3602 and BIOL-3603]) and KIN-2304 Scientific Principles of Fitness and Conditioning or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)]; KIN-3106L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

KIN-3107 (3) Therapeutic Modalities in Sport Medicine (3 hrs Lecture | 2 hrs Lab) This course involves a study of the principles of various modalities utilized in an athletic therapy clinic for the rehabilitation and reconditioning of sports injuries. It deals with the physiology of healing and how this process can be facilitated with the use of therapeutic modalities including ice, heat, muscle stimulation, ultrasound, and lasers.

Note: This course can be used toward the Science requirement.

Requisite Courses: KIN-3505 and a minimum grade of B in KIN-2301 and KIN-2202 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

KIN-3110 (1.5) Instruction in Individual/Dual Based Physical Activities (1.5 hrs Lab for Degree Credit) This course focuses on developing basic knowledge and skills related to the instruction of selected individual and dual sports/activities that are developmentally appropriate for various ages partaking in Physical Education classes, community sports or recreational programs. Principles of instruction, skill development, and basic rules and strategies of play in individual/dual based physical activities are discussed. Principles of motor development, motor learning, biomechanics, pedagogy and skill acquisition are applied.

Note: This course is graded on a pass/fail basis.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and KIN-1302.

Requisite Courses: KIN-2102 [prerequisite(s)].

KIN-3111 (1.5) Instruction in Team Based Physical Activities (1.5 hrs Lab for Degree Credit) This course provides students with specific knowledge related to the instruction of selected team sports and physical activities appropriate to schools or other settings. Principles of instruction, skill development, and basic rules and strategies of play are discussed. Information on motor development, motor learning, psychology, pedagogy, and skill acquisition in team based activities is applied.

Note: This course is graded on a pass/fail basis.

Restrictions: This course cannot be held for credit with the former KIN-1303 (Teaching Team Physical Activities), KIN-2111 (Coaching and Teaching Basketball) or KIN-2112 (Coaching and Teaching Volleyball).

Requisite Courses: KIN-2102 [prerequisite(s)].

KIN-3112 (1.5) Instruction in Rhythmic and Gymnastic Activities (1.5 hrs Lab for Degree Credit) This course explores both rhythmic and gymnastics-based activities in their many forms and purposes. The content encompasses the theory and practice of dance and gymnastic activities with a focus on the physical, cultural, and social aspects of these activities. All course material is covered from an instructional perspective with a concentration on developmentally appropriate delivery of these activities to children and youth.

Note: This course is graded on a pass/fail basis.

Restrictions: This course cannot be held for credit with the former KIN-1302 (Teaching Individual Physical Activities); KIN-1303 (Teaching Team Physical Activities).

Requisite Courses: KIN-2102 [prerequisite(s)].

KIN-3113 (1.5) Instruction in Fitness Activities (1.5 hrs Lab for Degree Credit) This course explores the many forms of fitness- and exercise-focused physical activities. All material will be covered from an instructional perspective with a concentration on developmentally appropriate introduction and instruction of fitness activities to children and youth. The content will encompass the role of fitness, fitness assessment, and fitness trends, and will also cover skills related to instructional strategies when introducing fitness activities as part of an education program.

Note: This course is graded on a pass/fail basis.

Restrictions: This course cannot be held for credit with the former KIN-1302 (Teaching Individual Physical Activities); KIN-1303 (Teaching Team Physical Activities).

Requisite Courses: KIN-2102 [prerequisite(s)].

KIN-3201 (3) Biomechanics (3 hrs Lecture | 2 hrs Lab)

This course employs mechanical and neuromuscular principles in the qualitative and quantitative analysis of human movement. Laboratory work examines two-dimensional kinematics and kinetics.

Note: This course can be used toward the Science requirement.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and KIN-2201.

Requisite Courses: KIN-2301 [prerequisite(s)]; KIN-3201L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

KIN-3202 (3) Musculoskeletal Support Techniques (3 hrs Lecture | 3 hrs Lab) In this course, the student studies the theoretical basis and application of various on-field assessment techniques, transportation of injured athletes from the field, functional testing, return to play guidelines, as well as taping and splinting techniques in sport. The student develops proficiency in the advanced techniques of on-field injury assessment and management, along with support techniques for the upper and lower body. The student is also introduced to techniques in splinting and bracing including foot orthotics, knee braces, and specialized splints. This is a practical, skill-based course designed for students pursuing Athletic Therapy as a career.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and KIN-2503.

Requisite Courses: KIN-2202 and KIN-2301 [prerequisite(s)].

KIN-3206 (3) Directed Studies (3 hrs Directed Reading)

Students wishing to pursue topics of special interest at an advanced level may do so in consultation with and under the supervision of a faculty member.

Note: Permission of the Department Chair is required.

Restrictions: Department Permission Required.

KIN-3208 (3) Physical Activity and Aging (3 hrs Lecture)

The course introduces students to theories, concepts, and issues associated with the effects of physical activity on adult development and aging. Course content includes how systems age, exercise prescription and physical activity program design and delivery for older populations.

Students are required to participate in an 8 hour community practicum experience related to aging and physical activity.

Requisite Courses: KIN-2304 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

KIN-3209 (3) Motor Learning and Development (3 hrs Lecture)

This course presents principles and theories that explain processes involved in the acquisition and control of motor skills with applications to teaching, learning, coaching, and rehabilitation. Several features of voluntary motor skills are explored, ranging from sensory processing to planning and generating skilled motor actions.

Mechanisms of motor learning are presented as a foundation to understand how the structure of practice and performance feedback influences the acquisition and retention of motor skills.

Requisite Courses: KIN-1101(3) [prerequisite(s)].

KIN-3256 (3) Honours Thesis I (3 hrs Lecture)

This course is designed for students wishing to pursue topics of special interest at an advanced level for completion of an Honours degree in Kinesiology. Students focus on establishing their research question/hypothesis, review of literature, and methodology in preparation for Honours Thesis II.

Restrictions: Department Permission Required.

KIN-3301 (3) Applied Human Anatomy (3 hrs Lecture | 3 hrs Lab)

The course focuses on the functional aspects of human anatomy. Topics include applied neuroanatomy (cranial nerves and concussions), anatomy of diagnostic imaging techniques such as X-ray, MRI, CT scan and ultrasound; and anatomical/musculoskeletal palpation skills. The course is geared to students in the Enhanced Major in Athletic Therapy. Students seeking other health related professional degrees or certifications must get permission of the instructor before registering for this course.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and KIN-4301.

Requisite Courses: Minimum grade of B in KIN-2301, or Permission of Instructor [prerequisite(s)].

KIN-3304 (3) Advanced Resistance Training (3 hrs Lecture)

This course examines the principles of resistance training from anatomical, biomechanical and physiological bases. Topics to be covered include: teaching specific exercise techniques, spotting and participant safety, program design, testing and monitoring, and physiological adaptations to training. The course has a large practical component, in which students are expected to acquire and demonstrate their expertise in the topic areas. This course will meet the knowledge requirement of the Manitoba Fitness Council's Resistance Training Course.

Note: This course can be used toward the Science requirement.

Requisite Courses: KIN-2301 and KIN-2304 [prerequisite(s)].

KIN-3305 (3) Physical Activity: Promotion and Adherence (3 hrs Lecture)

This course examines theory and practices that promote the adoption of physical activity and health behaviour, as well as strategies to foster adherence. Topics include effective individual and community intervention design, counselling in the fitness profession and the dose-response relationship to adherence of physical activity. Issues related to obesity, exercise addiction and physical activity across the lifespan are also discussed.

Requisite Courses: A minimum 30 credit hours completed [prerequisite(s)].

KIN-3500 (6) Athletic Therapy: Practicum 1 (3 hrs Apprenticeship/Internship/Practicum) This course provides both on-field and clinical experience in athletic therapy under the appropriate supervision. Students learn to apply the theoretical knowledge of injury prevention and management while working in a field setting for approximately 125 hours. A concurrent clinical placement of approximately 125 hours provides an opportunity to assess and rehabilitate injuries experienced by the athletic and physically active population. Students also attend regularly scheduled practicum seminars. This course can be used towards the Science requirement and is graded on a pass/fail basis.

Note: Proof of registration with the Canadian Athletic Therapists Association and the Manitoba Athletic Therapists Association must be provided to the practicum coordinator prior to obtaining permission to take the course. Acceptance into the Athletic Therapy Enhanced Major Program is required prior to registration, or Permission of the Instructor

Restrictions: Instructor Permission Required.

Requisite Courses: KIN-3202 (must be taken concurrently).

KIN-3501 (3) Assessment of Upper and Lower Limb Sport Injuries (3 hrs Lecture | 2 hrs Lab) This course presents the theoretical and practical knowledge necessary for the recognition of athletic injuries to the appendicular skeleton. Students will study orthopaedic assessment techniques as well as history taking, record keeping, and assessment protocols.

Note: This course can be used toward the Science requirement.

Requisite Courses: A minimum grade of B in KIN-2301 and KIN-2202 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)]; KIN-3501L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

KIN-3502 (3) Rehabilitation of Upper and Lower Limb Sport Injuries (3 hrs Lecture | 2 hrs Lab) This course presents the theoretical and practical knowledge necessary for the treatment of athletic injuries to the appendicular skeleton. Students will study rehabilitation protocols, including pain and inflammation management, range of motion, strength and reintegration to physical activity.

Note: This course can be used toward the Science requirement.

Requisite Courses: KIN-3201 and a minimum grade B in KIN-2304 and KIN-3501 or permission from the instructor [prerequisite(s)]; KIN-3502L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

KIN-3504 (3) Sport First Responder (3 hrs Lecture) In this course, students study the essentials of emergency care and develop the skills required to effectively respond to a medical emergency, particularly as it relates to the sport environment. Topics include field evaluation of traumatic injuries, primary and secondary survey, airway management, and neurological, internal and orthopaedic injuries.

Requisite Courses: KIN-2202 with a minimum grade B or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

KIN-3505 (3) Pathology in Sport Medicine (3 hrs Lecture) This course introduces the student to pathological manifestations occurring during illness and injury. Topics include the cellular and vascular events that occur after an injury, the inflammatory and healing process, as well as the many systemic and organically based illnesses and injuries that may be complicating factors when treating athletic injuries.

Note: This course can be used toward the Science requirement.

Requisite Courses: BIOL-1112 or KIN-2301 and KIN-2204 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

KIN-3506 (3) Soft Tissue Manual Therapy (3 hrs Lecture | 3 hrs Lab) Students explore the theoretical basis and technical application of soft tissue manual therapy. The course examines the basic components of joint mobilization, massage including pre and post event, myofascial release, trigger point therapy, soft tissue release, strain/counterstrain, instrument assisted and muscle energy techniques.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and KIN-3503.

Requisite Courses: KIN-2301 and KIN-2202, with a minimum grade of B, or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

KIN-4104 (3) Sport Ethics (3 hrs Lecture) Using such philosophical concepts as deontology, teleology and existentialism, this course provides an inquiry into ethics and morality as they apply to sport and physical education. The course challenges students' understanding of theories and frameworks, develops skills using methods in moral reasoning and critical reflection, and examines issues of professionalism and professional conduct. The role of organizations in promoting ethical values and social responsibilities in sport and physical education is also examined and critically evaluated.

Requisite Courses: KIN-2200 or KIN-2305 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

KIN-4106 (3) Exercise Physiology in Chronic Disease (3 hrs Lecture) In developed nations, chronic diseases comprise the major causes of morbidity and mortality. This course examines the pathophysiology of selected chronic diseases and how each affects exercise performance. Exercise prescription for these higher risk populations is also examined. The chronic diseases discussed include, but are not limited to: cardiovascular disease, diabetes, arthritis, osteoporosis.

Requisite Courses: KIN-3106 and KIN-3505 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

KIN-4200 (3) Advanced Seminar Coaching (3 hrs Lecture) This course is designed to integrate the theoretical and technical components of coaching. Students will discuss and prepare annual and quadrennial plans for their sport.

Requisite Courses: KIN-1200(3), KIN-2101(3), KIN-2105(3), KIN-2304(3) [prerequisite(s)].

KIN-4201 (3) Applied Biomechanics (3 hrs Lecture) This course focuses on the applied biomechanics of the musculoskeletal system, with specific emphasis on the role that effective and efficient ergonomics can play in the prevention of both acute and chronic injuries of the musculoskeletal system that occur as a result of abnormal, altered, or inefficient anatomical biomechanics.

Note: This course can be used toward the Science requirement.

Requisite Courses: KIN-3201 [prerequisite(s)].

KIN-4206 (3) Directed Studies (3 hrs Directed Reading) Students pursue topics of special interest at an advanced level in consultation with, and under the supervision of a faculty member. Content and approach vary depending upon instructor and student interests.

Note: Permission of the Department Chair is required to register.

Restrictions: Department Permission Required.

KIN-4207 (3) Motor Learning and Control (3 hrs Lecture) This course investigates contemporary theories, topics and issues in motor learning and motor control. Relevant theoretical concepts are applied to teaching, coaching and other physical activity settings. Various theories of motor learning and control are studied. The course studies the conditions and underlying processes associated with motor skill learning. Specific topics include the nature of motor learning and control; measurement and motor performance; structuring a practice environment; effective instructional conditions; transfer of learning; feedback; the controversy over abilities; and underlying neuromuscular processes in motor skill learning.

Note: This course can be used toward the Science requirement.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and KIN-3207.

Requisite Courses: A minimum 45 credit hours completed [prerequisite(s)].

KIN-4256 (3) Honours Thesis II (3 hrs Lecture) This course is a continuation of the work accomplished in KIN-3256 Honours Thesis I. Students focus on the completion and presentation of their thesis. This includes data collection, data analysis, reporting and interpreting results. Students present their results, conclusions and discussion to the department and other interested members of the University.

Requisite Courses: KIN-3256(3) [prerequisite(s)].

KIN-4344 (3) Field Placement (3 hrs Apprenticeship/Internship/Practicum) This course provides field experience to kinesiology students, where they will apply their knowledge and skills in a community-based environment (e.g., health/fitness facility, sports team, etc.). The course facilitates experiential learning and practical experience in a supervised, professional work setting. Volunteer field placements are for a minimum of 100 hours and will be negotiated between students, instructors, and hosting agencies based upon skills, interests, academic background, and needs of the host. This course is graded on a pass/fail basis. A placement location and permission of the department are required prior to registering.

Additional Requirements: PHIA training; Standard First Aid/CPR C; record checks may be required when working with minors and/or vulnerable populations; see also Department of Kinesiology and Applied Health Fieldwork Handbook for placement-specific recommended courses.

Experimental Course - This course is offered on a trial basis to gauge interest in the topic. Students who successfully complete this course receive credit as indicated.

Restrictions: Department Chair Perm Required.

Requisite Courses: KIN-2105, KIN-2202, KIN-2204, KIN-2301, KIN-2304, KIN-3106, KIN-3201, KIN-3209 [prerequisite(s)].

KIN-4500 (6) Athletic Therapy: Practicum 2 (3 hrs Apprenticeship/Internship/Practicum) This course provides both on-field and clinical experience in athletic therapy under the appropriate supervision. Students learn to apply the theoretical knowledge of injury prevention and management while working in a field setting for approximately 125 hours. A concurrent clinical placement of approximately 125 hours provides an opportunity to assess and rehabilitate injuries experienced by the athletic and physically active population. Students will also attend regularly scheduled practicum seminars. This course can be used towards the Science requirement and is graded on a pass/fail basis.

Restrictions: Instructor Permission Required.

Requisite Courses: Must receive a "pass" in KIN-3500 [prerequisite(s)]; A minimum B in KIN-3502 or Permission of the Instructor [prerequisite(s)]; KIN-4501 (must be taken concurrently).

KIN-4501 (3) Sports Injuries of the Spine (3 hrs Lecture | 3 hrs Lab) The student studies injuries incurred to the cervical, thoracic and lumbar spine including joints, ligaments, discs and surrounding musculature. The brain and skull are also studied. Topics include anatomy, mechanisms of injury, signs and symptoms, assessment techniques, treatment and rehabilitation.

Note: This course can be used toward the Science requirement.

Requisite Courses: KIN-3501 and KIN-3502 with a minimum grade of B or permission of the Instructor [prerequisite(s)]; KIN-4501L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

KIN-4502 (3) Drugs and Ergogenic Aids in Sport (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines the historical and contemporary issues and the physiological effects of the use and abuse of drugs and ergogenic aids in sport. Topics include the physiological effects of performance enhancing drugs such as anabolic steroids, stimulants, beta blockers, herbal supplements, creatine, and blood doping. The student is introduced to national and international guidelines for banned substances and testing protocols. Discussion also includes the common prescription and non-prescription drugs used in sport. The moral and ethical aspects of drugs and ergogenic aids in sport are emphasized throughout the course.

Note: This course can be used toward the Science requirement.

Requisite Courses: KIN-3106 [prerequisite(s)].

KIN-4556 (3) Honours Seminar in Kinesiology (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This course examines advance research methods, topics and professional practice in Kinesiology. This seminar provides Honours Kinesiology students the opportunity to enhance their understanding of kinesiology research and prepare them for undertaking their own research. Allowing them to explore issues related to advanced kinesiology topics and the research process (e.g. ethics, methodologies and instrumentation), as well as participate in discussions about research philosophy and issues related to writing and producing research.

Note: Permission of Chair or Honours supervisor is required.

Restrictions: Department Permission Required.

KIN-4601 (3) Nutrition for Sport Performance (3 hrs Lecture) This course explores the role of adequate nutrition for optimal performance in sport. Students examine sport--specific macro nutrient and micro nutrient needs of athletes, with a focus on the role of nutrients in energy metabolism as a means to support sport performance. Challenges in achieving adequate nutritional status and current issues in sport nutrition, including the use of nutritional ergogenic aids, are examined. Students are encouraged to consider evaluating scientific evidence in the rapidly evolving field of sports nutrition.

Requisite Courses: KIN-1601 (or the former KIN-2501), KIN-2304 and KIN-3106 [prerequisite(s)].

LINGUISTICS

LING-1001 (6) Introduction to Linguistics (3 hrs Lecture) This course introduces students to the nature of human language and linguistic research. The aim is to familiarize students with the properties of language by focusing on the following core areas: phonetics and phonology (sound structure), morphology (word structure), syntax (sentence structure), semantics (the structure of meaningful categories) and pragmatics (the use of language in specific social and cultural contexts). Other topics covered include language acquisition, language variation, and language change. A variety of languages are used for illustration.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ANTH-2022 | FREN-2022 | LING-1200.

LING-2001 (3) Phonetics and Phonology (3 hrs Lecture) This course describes all English consonant and vowel sounds in terms of place and manner of articulation. It also identifies how sounds are organized into syllables and words by studying the concepts of phonemes, allophones and phonological rules. Although the course focuses on English phonology, it also draws heavily on other languages to illustrate the key concepts. Students will be required to master characters and diacritics from the International Phonetic Alphabet.

Cross-listed: ANTH-2401(3) and ENGL-2803(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ANTH-2401 | ENGL-2803.

LING-2002 (3) Morphology (3 hrs Lecture) This course introduces students to the concepts and methods of word analysis. Students investigate the nature of morphemes (smallest units of meaning), their different types and functions, and the different ways they are organized into words. The course explores the process of word formation through derivation and compounding as well as grammatical uses of inflectional morphemes. Based largely in English, both lectures and exercises also draw on various other languages to highlight key morphological features and constructs.

Cross-listed: ANTH-2402(3) and ENGL-2805(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ANTH-2402 | ENGL-2805.

LING-2003 (3) Syntax (3 hrs Lecture) Syntax is the study of the arrangement of words into groups, clauses and sentences. In this course students use morphological, syntactic, semantic, and lexical criteria to define traditional parts of speech, in order to understand how these combine to form a variety of clauses and sentences types. Form, function, class and structure are introduced from the perspective of systemic functional and communication linguistics. These descriptive frameworks are contrasted with transformational generative models and others.

Cross-listed: ANTH-2403(3) and ENGL-2802(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ANTH-2403 | ENGL-2802.

LING-2004 (3) Semantics (3 hrs Lecture) Semantics is the branch of linguistics concerned with how we construct meaning using language. It is arguably the most diverse branch, situated between the highly formalizable "inner layers" of phonology, morphology and syntax and the fuzzier "outer layer" of pragmatics. Key ideas covered in the course include: the difference between sense and reference, the application of basic rules in formal logic, prototype theory, componential analysis, and cognitive semantics; how to identify thematic roles in sentences; the functions of noun classifiers, deictics, and adpositions in different languages; and, the nature of metaphors, metonyms and image schemas.

Cross-listed: ANTH-2405(3) and ENGL-2806(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ANTH-2405 | ENGL-2806.

LING-2101 (3) Language and Culture (3 hrs Lecture)

The course examines how language encodes cultural dialects from different regions and time periods within various social and cultural contexts. Selected British, American, and Canadian dialects are studied from specific historical and contemporary periods. Social factors such as age, gender, ethnicity, class, socio-economic, educational, political, and religious factors are considered from a sociolinguistic perspective. The course also examines language and dialects related to various registers, such as student-teacher classroom exchange, job interviews, work talk, and casual conversation. To examine the differences in these registers, functional and systemic perspectives of communication linguistics are introduced.

Cross-listed: ENGL-2804(3) and ANTH-2406(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ANTH-2406 | ENGL-2804.

LING-2102 (3) Method and Theory in Linguistic

Anthropology (3 hrs Lecture/Seminar) This course examines the relationship between language and culture, including the theories and principles of linguistic anthropology. More than 20 languages are compared and contrasted in order to understand the concepts of language structure. Topics include the basic principles of phonetics and phonology, morphology, syntax, pragmatics, language change, literacy, nonverbal communication and signed languages.

Cross-listed: ANTH-2400(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ANTH-2400.

LING-2103 (3) Languages of the World (3 hrs Lecture)

Taking a general overview of the linguistic map of the world where approximately 7000 languages are currently spoken, this course looks at some of the main language families and examines evidence for genetic relationships within them. Variations within a single language, principles underlying different writing systems, as well as issues of language contact, endangered languages, and the role of English as an emerging world language are also considered. Examples are drawn from a wide range of languages.

Cross-listed: ANTH-2404(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ANTH-2404 | LING-2404.

LING-2104 (3) Language Revitalization (3 hrs Lecture)

This course examines the need for language revitalization in the context of language endangerment that is now occurring on a global scale. Students learn about factors that contribute to language remaining strong, as well as processes such as colonization and assimilation that have led to language shift, loss, and death. Students learn about the importance of diverse languages, and also about strategies and programs that communities have applied to maintain or regain their languages. Key language revitalization methods are taught, including language healing, language development, language learning technologies, language nests, and master-apprentice programs.

Cross-listed: ANTH-2407(3) and IS-2407(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ANTH-2407 | IS-2407.

LING-2208 (3) Greek and Latin in Today's English (3 hrs Lecture) Of the 20,000 words in common use in English, about half have come from Latin, directly or through French. Greek, too, has made its contribution and continues to do so as the language of science expands. In addition to a thorough study of the formation of nouns, verbs, and adjectives from their Greek and Latin component parts, we will examine the Greek script, principles of transliteration, medical and scientific Greek, words from Greek mythology and society, Roman numerals, legal Latin, abbreviations of Latin words in common use, Latin mottoes and proverbs, and unusual plural forms in English. No knowledge of Latin or Greek is required.

Cross-listed: CLAS-2800(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and CLAS-2800.

LING-2301 (3) Phonetics (3 hrs Lecture | 3 hrs Lab)

This course presents the theory and practice of French phonetics and phonology. Theory covers the acoustics and physiology of speech, the International Phonetic Alphabet, the description of French vowels, consonants, articulation features (assimilation, liaison, etc.), and prosodic patterns (syllabation, rhythm, intonation, etc.). Practical applications include phonetic transcription, orthoepy (the relationship between pronunciation and orthography) and a lab program aiming at oral performance.

Cross-listed: FREN-2202(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and FREN-2202.

Requisite Courses: FREN-2105, or placement test, or the former FREN-1112 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)]; LING-2301L (Lab) (must be taken concurrently).

LING-2401 (3) German Phonetics (3 hrs Lecture)

This course presents the theory and practice of German phonetics and phonology, its practical applications (e.g., the use of pronunciation dictionaries), and material realizations in standard German. Some areas of theory covered include the physiology of speech, the International Phonetic Alphabet, as it relates to German, and phonetic transcription. Emphasis is placed on the relationship between pronunciation and orthography and on correcting the student's oral performance in German, including a study of intonation patterns in German.

Cross-listed: GERM-2202(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and GERM-2202.

Requisite Courses: GERM-2109 or GERM-2110 [prerequisite(s)].

LING-3001 (3) Textual Analysis (3 hrs Lecture)

This course examines the principles and methods of textual analysis as a language-centered approach to literary and non-literary discourse. Various texts are analyzed using six descriptive linguistic tools, namely sounding (phonology), seeing (graphology), wording (lexis), arranging (syntax), meaning (semology and semantics), and ornamenting (rhetoric). Textual analysis considers the effect of writers' choices to create different reader responses to literary elements such as developing characters, building suspense, creating humour, and achieving particular rhetorical purposes.

Cross-listed: ENGL-3800(6) and ANTH-3405(6).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ANTH-3405 | ENGL-3800.

LING-3006 (3) Language Typology (3 hrs Lecture)

This course examines and classifies a number of languages by applying the basic concepts of Anthropological Linguistics to analysis of the phonology, morphology, syntax, semantics, and pragmatics of various languages. The structure of these languages is compared and contrasted to explore typological patterns and explain structural diversity of human languages. Relations between the grammar and pragmatic features of the languages are also explored. Additional in-depth work is required to receive credit at the 4000 level.

Cross-listed: LING-4006(3), ANTH-3400 and ANTH-4400(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and LING-4006 | ANTH-3400 | ANTH-4400.

Requisite Courses: ANTH-2400 or LING-2102 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

LING-3101 (3) Registers of Our Daily Life (3 hrs

Lecture) Students are introduced to issues involved in the research being done by linguists, text analysts, discourse analysts, and sociolinguists concerning various types of institutional discourse. They are required to carry out a research project on a register of their choice. Experimental investigations and contemporary research focus on medical, scientific, legal, business, financial, political, classroom, and media discourse.

Cross-listed: ANTH-3407(3), ENGL-3802(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ANTH-3407 | ENGL-3802.

Requisite Courses: LING-2101 or ANTH-2406 or ENGL-2804 [prerequisite(s)].

LING-3102 (3) Comparative Indo-European

Linguistics and Mythology (3 hrs Lecture) This course proposes an integrated overview of Indo-European tradition based on comparative linguistics, mythology, archaeology, social structure and religion. A survey of Indo-European languages, ancient and modern, including their relationships, writing systems, and sociolinguistic context, is followed by an examination of problems in analysis and reconstruction of Indo-European proto-language and proto-culture. The course further explores major Indo-European mythological and poetic traditions, and possible reconstruction of their common sources. It also examines belief systems, literary continuations of mythopoetic material, archeological evidence and historiographic records. Additional in-depth work is required to receive credit at the 4000 level.

Cross-listed: LING-4102(3), ANTH-3406(3) and ANTH-4406(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ANTH-3406 | ANTH-4406 | LING-4102.

LING-3103 (3) Sociolinguistics (3 hrs Lecture | Seminar/Discussion) Sociolinguistics is the systematic study of language as a social phenomenon with a focus on the relationship between language and various social variables such as age, class, ethnicity and gender. This course examines language variations on regional (regional dialects), social (sociolects) and personal (styles and registers) level, as well as topics such as standard language, slang, jargon, politeness and taboo. It introduces students to the concepts of language ideologies, communities of practice, multilingualism, diglossia and code switching, and explores the problems of language in the contact and of language shift, revival and planning.

Cross-listed: ANTH-3408.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ANTH-3408.

Requisite Courses: LING-1001 or ANTH-1001 or ANTH-1002 [prerequisite(s)].

LING-3104 (3) Indigenous Languages of South America (3 hrs Lecture) Presenting an integrated overview of the indigenous languages of South America, this course looks at main language families spoken there, their spatial distribution, history and classification, as well as their cultural background. With 53 language families and 55 isolates, South America is not only the most diverse region in linguistic terms, but also a storehouse of unusual structural features important for understanding the full range of possible variants of human language. The course also explores typological characteristics of South American languages, potential linguistic areas, proposals of more distant relationships, and the current situation of endangered languages in this region. Additional in-depth work is required to receive credit at the 4000-level.

Cross-listed: ANTH-3411(3), ANTH-4411(3), LING-4104(3), and IS-3104(3).

Restrictions: Department Permission Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and ANTH-3411 | ANTH-4411 | IS-3104 | LING-4104.

LING-3105 (3) Speech and Language Disorders in Children (3 hrs Lecture) This course is designed to introduce students to the field of communication disorders in children. It provides an overview of professional issues. Possible topics include the identification of different types of communication disorders, procedures in the evaluation and treatment of these disorders, and child-care program planning techniques.

Cross-listed: DEV-3300(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and DEV-3300.

Requisite Courses: PSYC-2200 or Departmental permission [prerequisite(s)].

LING-3106 (3) Transnational and Intercultural Language and Communication (3 hrs Lecture) The course looks at the origins and development of language from a historical perspective and moves into specific case studies of unilingual, bilingual, and multilingual groups, their languages, how they communicate, and representational media used by the group. Students focus closely on how groups communicate with one another, often by using common languages and the practice of translation, and how groups use languages to represent their culture to other groups and within the group. Central to such transnational and intercultural communication is the representation of identity and heritage. As languages change, identity changes also occur.

Cross-listed: RHET-3156(3).

Requisite Courses: Any section of Academic Writing (or exemption from the writing requirement) and completion of 24 credit hours. Students taking a Major in Rhetoric and Communication must complete Academic Writing before taking this course [prerequisite(s)].

LING-3109 (3) Language Policy and Planning (3 hrs Lecture) Language Policy and Planning addresses the ways in which people, organizations, and governments have tried to control or influence how languages are learned, developed, and used. It includes the development of standardized languages, writing systems, and creation of grammars and dictionaries. It also addresses language legislation, and governments' and organizations' attempts to promote or prescribe certain languages, including in K-12 education. The implementation of language policies and plans is shaped by many factors including history, politics, and ideologies. Students in this course examine methods and theories of language policy and planning development and implementation with specific application to Indigenous languages.

Cross-listed: ANTH-3409.

Experimental Course - This course is offered on a trial basis to gauge interest in the topic. Students who successfully complete this course receive credit as indicated.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ANTH-3409.

Requisite Courses: 18 Credit hours completed in any subject area [prerequisite(s)].

LING-3201 (3) Special Studies (3 hrs Lecture) Students interested in advanced study in a specific area should consult the professor with whom they propose to work. Special Studies courses are offered only exceptional circumstances, and/or only when students can satisfy program requirements in no other way. The course proposal follows guidelines of the professor's host department and receives approval from the Program Coordinator.

Note: It is recommended that students complete at least 18 credit hours of Linguistics courses before registering.

Restrictions: Instructor Permission Required.

LING-3302 (3) French Morphology and Syntax (3 hrs Lecture) Based on the analysis of modern French, this course presents fundamental linguistic concepts, including nature and types of monemes, distributional and syntactic properties of morphemes, and the French verbal system (mood, tense and aspect). The syntax of simple, compound and complex sentences is studied in a transformational-generative perspective, as it applies to French. At the Honours level, in FREN-4206/LING-4304, additional approaches (mainly the functional and the cognitive) are used to examine complex utterances in various oral and written styles.

Cross-listed: FREN-3204(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and FREN-3204.

Requisite Courses: 6 credit hours in 2000-level French language/linguistics, or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

LING-3303 (3) Géolinguistique française (French Geolinguistics) (3 hrs Lecture) This course presents contemporary varieties of French in Canada and other parts of the Francophone World. After a brief introduction to linguistic change from early dialects to today's international norm, the course focuses on regional variation particularly in Canada and North America, major geolinguistic concepts (e.g. regionalism, isogloss), and fieldwork methods. Sound documents are explored for their vocabulary and grammar, to help students expand their communication skills in different environments, as they become more familiar with different varieties of French. The Honours level concentrates on methodology and linguistic data analysis (e.g. lexicometry, linguistic atlases).

Cross-listed: FREN-3202(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and FREN-3202 | FREN-4202 | LING-4303.

Requisite Courses: 6 credit hours in 2000-level French language/linguistics, or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

LING-3305 (3) Studies in Bilingualism (3 hrs Lecture) This course explores three major aspects of bilingualism: the context, the learner, and the writer. The context section introduces historical and geographical aspects of bilingualism (e.g. official/unofficial bilingualism in the Francophone world), and resulting sociolinguistic situations (e.g. diglossia/bilingualism). The main section of the course focuses on the bilingual learner (e.g. multilingual acquisition, compound bilingualism, the active lexicon in Franco-Manitoban and immersion schoolchildren). The concluding section examines examples of bilingual writing (e.g. Beckett, Green, Leveille).

Cross-listed: FREN-3205(3), FREN-4205(3), and LING-4305(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and FREN-3205 | FREN-4205 | LING-4305.

Requisite Courses: 6 credit hours in 2000-level French language/linguistics, or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

LING-3311 (6) Comparative Stylistics and Translation (3 hrs Lecture) In this course, French is studied by being contrasted with English in a comparative lexicology and comparative grammar approach. Linguistic divergence is examined at the lexical level (e.g. semantic values, stylistic variants, linguistic interference), the grammatical and syntactic levels (e.g. gender, modifiers, modal auxiliaries, word order), and the pragmatic level, with a focus on cultural strategies (e.g. sentence segmentation into translation units, modulation, grammatical transposition). Translation strategies are explored so as to address the distinctive lexical, grammatical, syntactic, and pragmatic features of each language.

Cross-listed: FREN-3111(6).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and FREN-3111.

Requisite Courses: You must successfully complete 6 credit hours in French Studies courses; including 3 credit hours in 2000-level language, or obtain permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

LING-3401 (3) German Lexicology (3 hrs Lecture) This course focuses on the German lexicon, its forms and formation. Students learn to distinguish different structural types of words (e.g., acronyms, derivatives), to identify their basic components (e.g., prefixes, suffixes), and to recognize the mechanisms involved in their formation. Through the study of synonyms and antonyms, students explore the semantic relationships between words. Course work emphasizes practical strategies for vocabulary enrichment and mastery.

Cross-listed: GERM-3403(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and GERM-3403.

Requisite Courses: GERM-2109 or GERM-2110 and any 3 credit hours in 2000-level German Studies course except GERM-2001(6) [prerequisite(s)].

LING-3405 (3) The Acquisition of German as an Additional Language (3 hrs Lecture) In this course students explore the learning and teaching of German as an additional language. Students learn about the process of language acquisition based on the example of German and their own language learning. Students examine how this knowledge can be used for teaching German as an additional language. Topics might include child language acquisition, and theories, techniques and practices of adult second language acquisition.

Cross-listed: GERM-3858(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and GERM-3858.

Requisite Courses: GERM-2109 or GERM-2110 and any 3 credit hours in 2000-level German Studies courses [prerequisite(s)].

LING-3505 (3) History of the Spanish Language (3 hrs Lecture) This course traces the development of the Spanish language from its Latin origins to its modern-day dialects in Spain and the Americas. It examines both the internal evolution of the Spanish Language (its phonetics, phonology, morphology, syntax, semantics, and pragmatics) and the sociocultural and historical factors that influenced its development. Various linguistic documents illustrating the distinct features of Spanish in different eras.

Cross-listed: SPAN-3301(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and SPAN-3301.

Requisite Courses: Any 9 credit hours in Spanish Studies above the 1000-level, or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

LING-4001 (3) History of Linguistics (3 hrs Lecture) In this course students explore the history of linguistics from Panini, Plato, and Aristotle before the common era, through the centuries until the nineteenth sixties. Theorists considered may include Thrax, Priscian, Sweet, Jespersen, Humboldt, Malinowski, Bloomfield, Sapir, and Saussure.

Cross-listed: ANTH-4403(3).

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and ANTH-4403 | ENGL-4801.

Requisite Courses: ANTH-3405 or LING-3001 or ENGL-3800 and permission of the Program Coordinator [prerequisite(s)].

LING-4003 (3) Topics in Linguistics (3 hrs Lecture) This course offers upper-level instruction in a variety of linguistically related topics. The specific focus of the course varies from year to year with the instructor. It may, for instance, focus on the work of an important linguist, a particular linguistic theory, or advanced studies in areas of syntax, lexicography, phonology, etc. This course may be repeated for credit when the topic varies.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

Requisite Courses: Permission of the Program Coordinator plus a minimum of 18 credit hours from List A and 12 credit hours from List B or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

LING-4004 (6) Honours Thesis (3 hrs Thesis) Students undertake a research project in an area of linguistic interest. Each project is supervised by a faculty member, who with the student selects a Thesis Committee consisting of at least one additional qualified person. Presentation of the results verbally and in thesis form to the Thesis Committee is an integral part of the course.

Note: This course is intended for but not restricted to students in the Honours program. Students must have a GPA of at least 3.0 in Linguistics.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Permission of Chair and Instr.

Requisite Courses: 18 credit hours from List A and 6 credit hours from List B [prerequisite(s)].

LING-4006 (3) Language Typology (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines and classifies a number of languages by applying the basic concepts of Anthropological Linguistics to analysis of the phonology, morphology, syntax, semantics, and pragmatics of various languages. The structure of these languages is compared and contrasted to explore typological patterns and explain structural diversity of human languages. Relations between the grammar and pragmatic features of the languages are also explored. Additional in-depth work is required to receive credit at the 4000 level.

Cross-listed: LING-3006(3) and ANTH-3400 and ANTH-4400(3).

Restrictions: Department Permission Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and ANTH-3400 | ANTH-4400 | LING-3006.

LING-4025 (3) Indigenous Languages: Culture, Rights, and Conflict (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion)

Indigenous languages are an integral part of Indigenous peoples' identity, worldview and culture. It is however, currently estimated that up to ninety per cent of the world's Indigenous languages are likely to disappear by the end of the century. This course is designed to give students and overview of Indigenous language issues related to culture, advocacy, revitalization, and resistance. Students are encouraged to critically compare and contrast the treatment of Indigenous languages through legislation, policy, grassroots activism, and educational and systemic efforts in countries such as Canada, the United States, New Zealand, Norway, and Sweden.

Cross-listed: IS-4025(3), HR-4025(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and HR-4025 | IS-4025.

Requisite Courses: IS-1015 or IS-1016 (or HIST-1009) and IS-1017 [prerequisite(s)].

LING-4101 (3) Topics in Language, Culture, and Communication (3 hrs Lecture)

This course offers instruction in current issues related to the interrelationship between language, culture, and communication. The specific focus of the course varies from year to year with instructor. This course may be repeated for credit when the topic varies.

Note: Permission of the Program Coordinator and the Instructor, plus LING-2101(3) and LING-3001(6) or in the absence of these courses permission of the Instructor is required. Students must have a GPA of at least 3.0 in Linguistics.

Restrictions: Department Permission Required.

Requisite Courses: LING-2101 and LING-3001 and permission of the Program Coordinator [prerequisite(s)].

LING-4102 (3) Comparative Indo-European

Linguistics and Mythology (3 hrs Lecture) This course proposes an integrated overview of Indo-European tradition based on comparative linguistics, mythology, archaeology, social structure and religion. A survey of Indo-European languages, ancient and modern, including their relationships, writing systems, and sociolinguistic context, is followed by an examination of problems in analysis and reconstruction of Indo-European proto-language and proto-culture. The course further explores major Indo-European mythological and poetic traditions, and possible reconstruction of their common sources. It also examines belief systems, literary continuations of mythopoetic material, archeological evidence and historiographic records. Additional in-depth work is required to receive credit at the 4000 level.

Cross-listed: LING-3102(3), ANTH-3406(3) and ANTH-4406(3).

Restrictions: Department Permission Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and ANTH-3406 | ANTH-4406 | LING-3102.

LING-4104 (3) Indigenous Languages of South

America (3 hrs Lecture) Presenting an integrated overview of the indigenous languages of South America, this course looks at main language families spoken there, their spatial distribution, history and classification, as well as their cultural background. With 53 language families and 55 isolates, South America is not only the most diverse region in linguistic terms, but also a storehouse of unusual structural features important for understanding the full range of possible variants of human language. The course also explores typological characteristics of South American languages, potential linguistic areas, proposals of more distant relationships, and the current situation of endangered languages in this region. Additional in-depth work is required to receive credit at the 4000-level.

Cross-listed: ANTH-3411(3), ANTH-4411(3), LING-3104(3), and IS-3104(3).

Restrictions: Department Permission Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and ANTH-3411 | ANTH-4411 | IS-3104 | LING-3104.

LING-4201 (3) Special Studies I (3 hrs Lecture) Students interested in advanced study in a specific area should consult the professor with whom they propose to work. Special Studies courses are offered only in exceptional circumstances, and/or only when students can satisfy program requirements in no other way. Students are required to submit a short course proposal to be vetted and approved by the professor with whom they propose to work and that professor's home department.

Note: Permission of the Program Coordinator and supervising Instructor plus a minimum of 18 credit hours from list A and 6 credit hours from list B is required. Students must have a GPA of at least 3.0 in Linguistics.

Restrictions: Department Permission Required. Instructor Permission Required.

LING-4202 (6) Special Studies II (3 hrs Lecture) Students interested in advanced study in a specific area should consult the professor with whom they propose to work. Special Studies courses are offered only in exceptional circumstances, and/or when students can satisfy program requirements in no other way. Students are required to submit a short course proposal to be vetted and approved by the professor with whom they propose to work and that professor's home department.

Note: Permission of the Program Coordinator and supervising Instructor plus a minimum of 18 credit hours from list A and 6 credit hours from list B is required. Students must have a GPA of at least 3.0 in Linguistics.

Restrictions: Department Permission Required. Instructor Permission Required.

LING-4203 (3) Tutorial Apprenticeship (3 hrs Lecture) This course provides opportunities for experiencing and exploring learning and teaching strategies in designated university linguistics and culture courses. Students may assist by; offering individual support and instruction for students facing challenges with course material; leading groups of advanced or remedial students within the class when appropriate; designing class materials including exercises and answer keys. Students meet regularly with the supervising professor in order to discuss and evaluate teaching strategies and materials.

Note: Permission of the Program Coordinator and supervising Instructor, plus a minimum of 18 credit hours from list A and 6 credit hours from list B is required. Students must have a GPA of at least 3.0 in Linguistics.

Restrictions: Department Permission Required. Instructor Permission Required.

LING-4204 (3) Research Apprenticeship (3 hrs Apprenticeship/Internship/Practicum) In this course students reflect on how research issues influence their study of language and culture. Students meet with instructors who have similar research interests in one-to-one tutorials and seminars to discuss common research questions and practices. They may consider a range of issues, including various recording, transcribing and analyzing strategies for real data. They may also consider how the analysis of key periodicals, critical studies and professional associations define a particular research topic, and constrain how various research topics and explorations are communicated. The course supports the development of research skills for work in the field of Linguistics and Culture.

Note: Permission of the Program Coordinator and supervising Instructor plus a minimum of 18 credit hours from list A and 6 credit hours from list B is required. Students must have a GPA of at least 3.0 in Linguistics.

Restrictions: Department Permission Required. Instructor Permission Required.

LING-4300 (3) Language and Style (3 hrs Lecture) The first focus of this course is on French Lexicology (e.g. word formation, neologisms), and the interaction between lexis, semantics (e.g. semantic fields) and syntax (e.g. idioms). The second focus is on the relation between language and style in various French texts (e.g. essays, speeches), explored for their stylistic variation and discursive features (e.g. foregrounding, rhythm). Class work investigates French vocabulary and dictionary presentations of linguistic variation (usage labels of time, place and style). Course work includes compositions that develop lexical and rhetorical cohesion when writing in French, and a research paper on an individual linguistic topic.

Cross-listed: FREN-4200(3).

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

Requisite Courses: 6 credit hours in 2000-level FRENCH language/linguistics or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

LING-4303 (3) Géolinguistique Française (french Geolinguistics) (3 hrs Lecture) This course presents contemporary varieties of French in Canada and other parts of the Francophone World. After a brief introduction to linguistic change from early dialects to today's international norm, the course focuses on regional variation particularly in Canada and North America, major geolinguistic concepts (e.g. regionalism, isogloss), and fieldwork methods. Sound documents are explored for their vocabulary and grammar, to help students expand their communication skills in different environments, as they become more familiar with different varieties of French. The Honours level concentrates on methodology and linguistic data analysis (e.g. lexicometry, linguistic atlases).

Cross-listed: FREN-4202(3).

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and FREN-3202 | FREN-4202 | LING-3303.

Requisite Courses: 6 credit hours of 2000-level French language/linguistics, or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

LING-4304 (3) French Morphology and Syntax (3 hrs Lecture) Based on the analysis of modern French, this course presents fundamental linguistic concepts, including nature and types of monemes, distributional and syntactic properties of morphemes, and the French verbal system (mood, tense and aspect). The syntax of simple, compound and complex sentences is studied in a transformational-generative perspective, as it applies to French. At the Honours level, in FREN-4206/LING-4304, additional approaches (mainly the functional and the cognitive) are used to examine complex utterances in various oral and written styles.

Cross-listed: FREN-4206(3).

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and FREN-4112 | FREN-4206 | LING-4302.

Requisite Courses: 6 credit hours of 2000-level French language/linguistics or permission of instructor [prerequisite(s)].

LING-4305 (3) Studies in Bilingualism (3 hrs Lecture)

This course explores three major aspects of bilingualism: the context, the learner, and the writer. The context section introduces historical and geographical aspects of bilingualism (e.g. official/unofficial bilingualism in the Francophone world), and resulting sociolinguistic situations (e.g. diglossia/bilingualism). The main section of the course focuses on the bilingual learner (e.g. multilingual acquisition, compound bilingualism, the active lexicon in Franco-Manitoban and immersion schoolchildren). The concluding section examines examples of bilingual writing (e.g. Beckett, Green, Leveille).

Cross-listed: FREN-3205(3), FREN-4205(3), and LING-3305(3).

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and FREN-3205 | FREN-4205 | LING-3305.

Requisite Courses: 6 credit hours in 2000-level French language/linguistics, or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

MATHEMATICS

MATH-0031 (0) Math Access for Early/Middle

Teachers (3 hrs Lecture | 1.25 hrs Lab) This course covers selected topics from the K-12 math curriculum in preparation for the course MATH-2903. Topics include the real number system, integer and fraction arithmetic, proportions and percentages, exponents, the distributive property, solving linear equations, basic geometry, the Pythagorean theorem and the Cartesian coordinate system. This course can be used to satisfy the prerequisite for MATH-2903 but may not be used as a prerequisite for MATH-0042 or for any other mathematics course.

Note: This is a non-credit course offered over 12 weeks.

Requisite Courses: MATH-0031L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

MATH-0041 (0) Mathematics Access I (3 hrs Lecture | 1.25 hrs Lab) This course covers mathematics from school math courses. Topics include the real number system, integer and fraction arithmetic, exponents and radicals, polynomial arithmetic and algebraic expressions, rational expressions, equation-solving techniques, coordinate geometry, lines, functions, and geometry of right-angled triangles. This course may be audited by students who have passed Applied Math 40S, Pre-Calculus 30S or Pre-Calculus 40S.

Note: This is a non-credit course offered over 12 weeks. Students who are registered in high school may not register in this course.

Requisite Courses: MATH-0041L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

MATH-0042 (0) Mathematics Access II (3 hrs Lecture | 1.25 hrs Lab) This course covers mathematics from high school pre-calculus courses. Topics include fractional equations, factorization of polynomials, synthetic division, inequalities, relations and functions, exponential and logarithmic functions, circular functions, and trigonometry. This course may be audited by students who have passed Pre-Calculus 40S. MATH-0042 can be used in lieu of Pre-Calculus 40S Mathematics for all university prerequisites.

Note: This is a non-credit course offered over 12 weeks. Students who are registered in high school may not register in this course.

Requisite Courses: A minimum grade of 65% in Pre-Calculus 30S or a minimum grade of C+ in MATH-0041 or permission of the Department Chair [prerequisite(s)]; MATH-0042L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

MATH-1103 (3) Introduction to Calculus I (3 hrs Lecture | 1.25 hrs Lab) This course covers differential calculus of a function of one variable. Topics include limits, continuity, and the differentiation of elementary functions (algebraic, trigonometric, inverse trigonometric, exponential and logarithmic functions). Applications include curve sketching, optimization problems, and related rate problems. The combined material from MATH-1103(3) Introduction to Calculus I and MATH-1104(3) Introduction to Calculus II is equivalent to MATH-1101(6) Introduction to Calculus.

Note: Students who have not obtained a minimum grade of 60% in Pre-Calculus 40S are strongly advised to take MATH-0042 prior to registering in this course.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and MATH-1101 | MATH-1102.

Requisite Courses: Pre-Calculus Mathematics 40S or MATH-0042 with a minimum grade of C or the former MATH-0040 [prerequisite(s)]; MATH-1103L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

MATH-1104 (3) Introduction to Calculus II (3 hrs Lecture | 1.5 hrs Lab) This course covers single variable integral calculus, parametric equations and polar coordinates. Topics include: definite and indefinite integrals, L'Hôpital's rule, techniques of integration, improper integrals, parametric equations and polar coordinates. Applications covered include areas between curves, volumes of solids of revolution, and arc lengths of parametric curves. The combined material from MATH-1103(3) Introduction to Calculus I and MATH-1104(3) Introduction to Calculus II is equivalent to MATH-1101(6) Introduction to Calculus.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and MATH-1101 | MATH-1102.

Requisite Courses: Minimum grade of C in MATH-1103 [prerequisite(s)]; MATH-1104L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

MATH-1201 (3) Linear Algebra I (3 hrs Lecture) This course covers results related to systems of linear equations, matrices, determinants, properties of complex numbers, vector geometry, vector space properties of n-dimensional Euclidean space and an introduction to eigenvalues, eigenvectors and linear transformations.

Requisite Courses: Pre-Calculus Mathematics 40S or Applied Mathematics 40S or MATH-0042 [prerequisite(s)].

MATH-1301 (3) Applied Mathematics for Business & Administration (3 hrs Lecture) This is an applied course covering several standard methods in mathematics that are relevant to students majoring in business or administration. The course provides an introduction to the time value of money, matrices, linear programming and regression analysis with applications to business and administration. Note: This course cannot be used towards the major, minor, teachable major or teachable minor requirement for a degree in Mathematics.

Restrictions: Students who have already received credit for a 2000-level course in mathematics, with the exception of MATH-2901(3), MATH-2902(3), MATH-2903(3), and MATH-2904(3), cannot enroll in MATH-1301(3).

Requisite Courses: Applied Mathematics 40S or Precalculus Mathematics 40S or MATH-0042 [prerequisite(s)].

MATH-1401 (3) Discrete Mathematics (3 hrs Lecture | 1.5 hrs Lab) MATH-1401 introduces abstract mathematical thinking and proof techniques in mathematics. This course covers logic (simple and compound statements, truth tables, logical equivalencies, quantifiers); proof methods (direct, contrapositive, contradiction); elementary set theory (subsets, unions, intersections, set difference, power sets, Cartesian products); basic number theory (divisibility, the division algorithm); mathematical induction; relations (binary, equivalence - including congruence modulo n , partial orders); functions (well-defined, one-to-one, onto, bijective, compositions, inverses). This course is intended for students planning to major in Mathematics.

Requisite Courses: Pre-Calculus Mathematics 40S or Applied Mathematics 40S or MATH-0042 [prerequisite(s)]; MATH-1401L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

MATH-2102 (3) Differential Equations I (3 hrs Lecture)

This is an introduction to differential equations including the following topics: solution of first order equations, reduction techniques, solution of n th order linear differential equations, and the Laplace transform method.

Note: Students who have already completed MATH-1201(3) or the former MATH-2201(6) should inform registration staff that they have standing in one of the corequisite courses.

Requisite Courses: MATH-1101, or MATH-1103 and MATH-1104 [prerequisite(s)]; MATH-1201 (must be taken previously or at the same time as this course).

MATH-2103 (3) Differential Equations II (3 hrs Lecture)

This course covers further concepts and methods of solving differential equations. The contents include: power and Frobenius series solutions, matrix methods for systems of linear differential equations, and an introduction to partial differential equations (including Fourier series and the method of separation of variables).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and MATH-2112.

Requisite Courses: MATH-2102 [prerequisite(s)]; MATH-2106 and MATH-2203 (must be taken previously or at the same time as this course).

MATH-2105 (3) Intermediate Calculus I (3 hrs Lecture)

Topics covered include sequences (including the formal definition of a convergent sequence); infinite series (convergence tests, power series, Taylor's theorem); and multivariable functions (limits and continuity, partial derivatives, chain rule, tangent planes, gradient and directional derivatives).

Note: Mathematics majors are strongly advised to take this course in their second year.

Restrictions: A student may not receive credit for both MATH-2105(3) and the former MATH-2101(6).

Requisite Courses: A minimum grade of C in MATH-1101(6) or in MATH-1104(3) [prerequisite(s)]; MATH-1201(3) or the former MATH-2201(6) (must be taken previously or at the same time as this course).

MATH-2106 (3) Intermediate Calculus II (3 hrs Lecture)

Topics covered include polar coordinates; optimization of multivariable functions (extrema, Lagrange multipliers); multiple integrals (double and triple integrals, applications, change of variable, cylindrical and spherical coordinates, Jacobians); vector functions; vector calculus (including line integrals and Green's theorem). Additional topics from vector calculus, such as Stokes' theorem and the Divergence theorem, will be taught if time permits.

Note: Mathematics majors are strongly advised to take this course in their second year.

Requisite Courses: MATH-2105 and MATH-1201 [prerequisite(s)].

MATH-2202 (3) Cryptography and Other Applications of Algebra (3 hrs Lecture)

This course will introduce students to modern applications of algebraic structures. It begins with a study of the fundamental properties of finite fields and their relationship with geometry. The course continues by studying such applications as error-correcting codes, cryptography, design of experiments and fast arithmetic.

Requisite Courses: MATH-1201 and MATH-1401 or permission of instructor [prerequisite(s)].

MATH-2203 (3) Linear Algebra II (3 hrs Lecture)

This course covers finite dimensional vector spaces; linear transformations and matrices; change of bases; eigenvalues and eigenvectors; and diagonalization; and inner product spaces.

Requisite Courses: MATH-1201(3) [prerequisite(s)].

MATH-2405 (3) Real Analysis I (3 hrs Lecture)

This course lays the theoretical foundation of single-variable calculus by providing a careful introduction to several fundamental concepts of analysis on the real line, and it provides a gateway to more advanced studies in analysis, topology and set theory. Topics covered include: functions acting on sets; countable and uncountable sets; suprema and infima; properties of the real numbers including completeness, the Archimedean property and density of the rational numbers in the real numbers; sequence convergence, monotone sequences, subsequences, the Bolzano-Weierstrass theorem and Cauchy sequences; limits of functions; continuous functions including proofs of the extreme and intermediate value theorems.

Requisite Courses: Minimum grade of C in both MATH-1104 and MATH-1401 [prerequisite(s)].

MATH-2413 (3) Introduction to Mathematical Finance

(3 hrs Lecture) This course gives an introduction to the mathematics of finance, an area of applied mathematics concerned with financial markets. Topics include present value analysis; geometric Brownian motion and its suitability as a model of stock prices; option pricing; the Arbitrage Theorem; derivations of the Black-Scholes formula; and portfolio selection. The approach emphasizes underlying mathematical tools and their derivation.

Requisite Courses: MATH-1201, either STAT-1301, STAT-1401 or STAT-1501, and either MATH-1103, MATH-1101, or MATH-1102 [prerequisite(s)].

MATH-2501 (3) Introduction to Number Theory (3 hrs Lecture) This course explores properties of integers, linear Diophantine equations, Fermat's Theorem, congruences, and quadratic residues.

Requisite Courses: MATH-1401 and at least 3 additional credit hours in Mathematics at the 1000 level or above [prerequisite(s)].

MATH-2612 (3) Mathematical Statistics I (3 hrs Lecture) This course provides students with a firm foundation in probability theory, which is necessary for a complete understanding of advanced statistics. Topics include combinatorial methods, probability, random variables, probability distributions and densities, joint and conditional distributions, mathematical expectation, special discrete probability distributions, and the continuous uniform and exponential distributions. Exam, term tests and assignments are utilized for student evaluation.

Cross-listed: STAT-2612

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and MATH-3611 | STAT-2612 | STAT-3611.

Requisite Courses: STAT-1302(3) or STAT-2001(3) [prerequisite(s)]; MATH-2105(3) (must be taken previously or at the same time as this course).

MATH-2903 (3) Mathematics for Early/Middle Years

Teachers I (3 hrs Lecture | 1.25 hrs Lab) This course is for prospective elementary or middle years teachers who wish to gain a thorough understanding of the mathematics underpinning many of the topics taught in the K-8 curriculum. Topics include discrete math (logic and deductive reasoning, proof techniques, sets), properties of number systems (natural numbers, rational numbers, irrational numbers, real numbers), number theory (algorithms, numeration systems, Euclidean algorithm, prime factorization, modular arithmetic, divisibility, greatest common factors and least common multiples), ratios and proportional reasoning and the role of algebra and functions in problem solving.

Restrictions: This course may not be used towards the major or minor requirement for a degree in Mathematics. Only students registered in the Faculty of Education program may register in this course.

Requisite Courses: At least one of Pre-Calculus Mathematics 40S or MATH-0042 or the former MATH-0040 or a grade of 65% or higher in Applied Mathematics 40S or a grade of C+ or higher in MATH-0041 or a grade of C+ or higher in MATH-0031 [prerequisite(s)]; MATH-2903L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

MATH-2904 (3) Mathematics for Early/Middle Years

Teachers II (3 hrs Lecture | 2 hrs Lab) This course is for prospective elementary and middle years teachers who wish to gain a thorough understanding of the mathematics underpinning many of the topics in the K-8 curriculum. Topics include probability and statistics (measures of centre and variation, permutations and combinations, probability rules, expected value), measurement (metric system and US measurement system, perimeter, area, volume, Pythagorean theorem), and Euclidean geometry (angles, polygons and 3-dimensional shapes, Euclid's axioms, congruence, coordinate geometry, transformations of the plane).

Requisite Courses: MATH-2903 or 3 credit hours of mathematics at the 1000 level or above, excluding courses MATH-2901 and MATH-2902 [prerequisite(s)]; MATH-2904L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

MATH-3101 (6) Introduction to Mathematical Analysis

(3 hrs Lecture) This course provides a careful treatment of the basic concepts of mathematical analysis including properties of the real numbers, countable and uncountable sets, the topology of metric spaces including compactness, connectedness, sequence/series convergence, continuity, and complete metric spaces. Rigorous proofs of the Heine-Borel theorem, the extreme value theorem, and the intermediate value theorem are given. Other topics studied include differentiation, Riemann-Stieltjes integration, normed linear spaces, uniform convergence and the Stone-Weierstrass theorem, and Fourier analysis.

Requisite Courses: MATH-2405(3) and MATH-2106(3), and MATH-2203(3) or MATH-2221(3) [prerequisite(s)].

MATH-3103 (3) Methods in Advanced Calculus

(3 hrs Lecture) This course covers methods and applications of advanced calculus. Topics are chosen from: differentiation and integration of vector valued functions; arc length and speed; curvature and general motion in 3-dimensional space; vector fields, line integrals and surface integrals; the fundamental theorems of vector analysis (Green's Theorem, Stokes' Theorem, and the Divergence Theorem); Fourier series and other topics in harmonic analysis.

Requisite Courses: MATH-2106 [prerequisite(s)].

MATH-3202 (3) Group Theory

(3 hrs Lecture) This course studies symmetry groups of regular polygons and Platonic solids, permutations and permutation groups; abstract groups, cosets, homomorphisms, subgroups, normal subgroups and quotient groups; isomorphism theorems, Sylow theorems, classification of finitely generated Abelian groups; group actions and counting with Burnside's lemma.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and MATH-3201 | MATH-4201.

Requisite Courses: MATH-1401 and MATH-2203 or the former MATH-2221 or the former MATH-2201 [prerequisite(s)].

MATH-3203 (3) Linear Algebra III

(3 hrs Lecture) This course introduces students to inner product spaces; properties of Hermitian and normal matrices; unitary matrices; factorization theorems; Schur's Theorem; the Spectral Theorem; the Cayley-Hamilton Theorem; and quadratic forms. At the discretion of the instructor, other advanced topics in linear algebra may be covered.

Requisite Courses: MATH-1401(3) and MATH-2203(3) and either MATH-1101(6) or MATH-1104(3) [prerequisite(s)].

MATH-3401 (3) Graph Theory

(3 hrs Lecture) This course includes the following topics: graph isomorphism, shortest path problem, Euler tours, trees, graph colourings and bipartite matchings.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and MATH-2011 | MATH-3403.

Requisite Courses: MATH-1401 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

MATH-3402 (3) Combinatorics

(3 hrs Lecture) This course includes the following topics: counting (inclusion-exclusion principle, addition and multiplication principles, pigeonhole principle, permutations, combinations, the binomial theorem), generating functions and recurrence relations.

Requisite Courses: MATH-1401 and one of MATH-1102 or MATH-1101 or MATH-1103 or MATH-1104 [prerequisite(s)].

MATH-3412 (3) Introduction to Operations Research

(3 hrs Lecture) This course provides a practical introduction to the formulation and solution of some economics and industrial problems using Operations Research models. It emphasizes model-building and problem-solving using computer packages. Topics covered are chosen from linear programming, transportation, assignment and transshipment problems, network models, integer programming, nonlinear programming, decision making, inventory models, and queuing theory.

Cross-listed: STAT-3412(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and STAT-3412.

Requisite Courses: MATH-1201 or MATH-2201 or ECON-3201 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

MATH-3612 (3) Mathematical Statistics II (3 hrs

Lecture) This course studies the continuous probability distributions and their general properties, distributions of functions of random variables, sampling distributions, including t and F and introduction to estimation and theory of hypotheses testing.

Cross-listed: STAT-3612(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and STAT-3612.

Requisite Courses: MATH-2612|STAT-2612 (or the former MATH-3611|STAT-3611) [prerequisite(s)]; MATH-2106 (Intermediate Calculus II) (must be taken previously or at the same time as this course).

MATH-4001 (3 or 6) Directed Readings in Mathematics (3 hrs Directed Reading) This is a reading course available only to students in their third or fourth year. A topic is arranged by mutual written agreement between the student and a Supervisor. The student is required to meet the Supervisor weekly.

Note: Students must have a minimum GPA of 3.0 in all mathematics courses, at least one 3000-level course and written permission of the instructor and the Department Chair.

Restrictions: Department Permission Required. Instructor Permission Required.

Requisite Courses: A minimum GPA of 3.0 in all Mathematics courses, at least one 3000-level Mathematics course and written permission of the instructor and the Department Chair [prerequisite(s)].

MATH-4003 (3) Topics in Mathematics (3 hrs Lecture)

This course covers an area in mathematics as selected by the instructor. Possible topics may be in algebraic combinatorics, functional analysis, Galois theory, representation theory, or advanced topics in combinatorics, graph theory, measure theory, or topology. Students should consult the instructor or Department Chair for the current topic. This course may be repeated for credit when the topic varies.

MATH-4101 (3) Complex Analysis (3 hrs Lecture) This course studies construction of the complex numbers from the reals, Cauchy's theorems, Laurent Series, evaluating line integrals by means of residues, Cauchy-Riemann equations, conformal mapping, harmonic functions, Riemann sphere, Riemann surfaces, analytic continuation and monodromy theorem.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and MATH-3102.

Requisite Courses: MATH-2106 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

MATH-4202 (3) Rings and Fields (3 hrs Lecture)

This course is a study of field axioms, finite and infinite fields, integral domains, fraction fields, division rings, abstract rings, polynomial rings, PID's and UFD's, Galois Theory; solvability of cubic and quartic, unsolvability of the quintic and other classical mathematical problems.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and MATH-3201 | MATH-4201.

Requisite Courses: MATH-3202 [prerequisite(s)].

MATH-4204 (3) Topics in Algebra (3 hrs Lecture)

This course explores topics from one or more of the following areas: module theory, Galois theory, Sylow theory, representation theory, matrix groups. The content varies from year to year. Please consult the Department of Mathematics & Statistics for a detailed course description in any given year. This course may be repeated for credit when the topic varies.

Experimental Course - This course is offered on a trial basis to gauge interest in the topic. Students who successfully complete this course receive credit as indicated.

Restrictions: Instructor Permission Required.

Requisite Courses: MATH-3202 [prerequisite(s)].

MATH-4401 (3) Networks, Graph Theory and Combinatorial Optimization (3 hrs Lecture)

Topics in this course are chosen from algorithmic complexity and problem classification, trees, distance invariants, Steiner trees, network flows and their applications, PERT networks, connectivity, optimal matchings, packings and coverings, colourings, perfect graphs and graph classes, planar graphs, extremal graph theory, and Ramsey theory.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and MATH-3013.

Requisite Courses: MATH-3401(3) [prerequisite(s)].

MATH-4403 (3) Set Theory (3 hrs Lecture)

This course introduces concepts of set theory essential to modern mathematics. Topics include axioms for sets, infinite sets, cardinality, ordinal and cardinal numbers, and ordered sets.

Requisite Courses: One of MATH-2405, MATH-2501, MATH-3202, MATH-3401 or MATH-3402 [prerequisite(s)].

MATH-4602 (3) Measure Theory and Integration (3 hrs Lecture) Topics in this course include Lebesgue measure and integration, abstract measure theory and integration, Banach spaces and L_p spaces. Principal results such as Littlewood's three principles, Hölder's inequality, the Riesz-Rischer theorem, the Radon-Nykodym theorem and Fubini's theorem are studied.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and MATH-3602.

Requisite Courses: MATH-3101 [prerequisite(s)].

MATH-4603 (3) Topology (3 hrs Lecture) This course is a study of topological spaces and their applications. Topics to be studied will include separation axioms, covering properties, product spaces, quotient spaces, filters, nets, convergence, compactness and connectedness.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and MATH-3602.

Requisite Courses: MATH-3101 (must be taken previously or at the same time as this course).

MENNONITE STUDIES

MENN-2101 (3) Mennonite Studies I (3 hrs Lecture) This course is a survey of the origins and history of the Anabaptists in Switzerland, the Netherlands, Germany, Prussia and Russia. Attention is given to the interaction of religion and culture in the history of European Mennonites.

Cross-listed: HIST-2108(3) and REL-2363(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and HIST-2108 | REL-2363.

MENN-2102 (3) Mennonite Studies II (3 hrs Lecture)

This course is a survey of the immigration and resettlement of Mennonites in Russia and in North and South America. The course includes a study of the origins and distinctive characteristics of particular Mennonite groups and conclude with a brief survey of Mennonites around the world.

Cross-listed: HIST-2109(3), REL-2364(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and HIST-2109 | HIST-3109 | REL-2364.

MENN-2131 (3) History of Peace and Nonviolence I (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines the history of pacifism, peace movements, and nonviolence from ancient times to the 1700s. It focuses in particular on Europe, with special emphasis on the period from ancient Greece and Rome, to Early Modern times in Western Europe. The course also addresses history of peace in other parts of the world.

Thus, it contrasts Christian traditions of nonviolence with those of Hindu, Buddhist and other eastern traditions. For case studies, the course examines Mennonite communities in 16th and 17th century Switzerland and the Netherlands.

Cross-listed: HIST-2131(3), CRS-2131(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and CRS-2131 | HIST-2131.

MENN-2132 (3) History of Peace and Nonviolence II (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines the history of pacifism, peace movements, and nonviolence from the 1700s to the present. It focuses in particular on North America, but also covers selected events in other parts of the world. The course, thus, contrasts Christian traditions of nonviolence with those of aboriginal, secular, and eastern cultures. For case studies, the course examines Mennonite communities in 19th and 20th century Canada and the United States where Mennonites have embraced pacifism as a fundamental principle of social organization.

Cross-listed: HIST-2132(3) and CRS-2132(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and CRS-2132 | HIST-2132.

MENN-3000 (6) Special Topics in Mennonite Studies

(3 hrs Tutorial) This tutorial is designed to enable students to follow an aspect of Mennonite Studies in depth. The topic should be selected in consultation with the Professor. Offered on an individual basis to advanced students at the discretion of the Chair in Mennonite Studies.

MENN-3102 (3) Luther, Zwingli and Radical Reformers (3 hrs Lecture) This course deals with the relationship between the objectives and methods of the "mainline" reformers of the sixteenth century (mainly Luther and Zwingli) and those of the "radical" reformers (such as Thomas Müntzer, Andrew Carlstadt, and the Anabaptists), and assesses the historical results of this relationship.

Cross-listed: HIST-3216(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and HIST-3216.

MENN-3108 (3) Gender and Mennonites (3 hrs Lecture)

This course examines the role of women and of men in the evolving Mennonite society. It traces these gender roles amongst the Radical Anabaptists of Western Europe, the agrarian Mennonite communities in Russia and North America, and the modern, urban centres in North America. The course examines patriarchal structures of Mennonite households, churches, and communities, but also focuses on the ways in which women create mechanisms of autonomy and meaning within those structures. The ideas that comprise Mennonite femininity and masculinity receive special attention. Gender is also traced through the Mennonite life-cycle, commencing at childhood and tracked through times of youth, marriage, mid-age and retirement. The course examines how Mennonite theological teachings, everyday language, modes of production, fertility rates, and national cultures affect ideas of gender in Mennonite society.

Cross-listed: HIST-3108(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and HIST-3108.

MENN-3110 (3) Russia and the Mennonites (3 hrs

Lecture) This lecture/seminar course deals with the history of the Mennonites in Imperial Russia and the Soviet Union from 1789 to 1989. Cultural, economic, and religious developments of the so-called 'Mennonite Commonwealth' in the nineteenth century and of the far-flung Mennonite communities in the Soviet Union during the twentieth century are emphasized and analyzed.

Cross-listed: HIST-3110(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and HIST-3110 | MENN-3203.

MENN-3111 (3) Conflict and Mennonites (3 hrs Lecture)

This course deals with the Anabaptist and Mennonite understanding and experience of pacifism throughout the centuries, with special emphasis on their dealings with nation-states, church schism, ethnic relations, and domestic abuse.

Cross-listed: HIST-3111(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and HIST-3111.

MENN-3114 (3) Latin America and the Mennonites (3 hrs Lecture) This lecture/seminar course is a study of the founding and development of Mennonite communities in Central and South America. The focus is on problems European and Canadian Mennonites faced (and still face) in their attempt to establish an existence and identity in a predominantly Latin world. The course contrasts these conservative Mennonites to the more radical communities composed of indigenous Latin American Mennonites. In particular, it compares the manner in which the two groups of Mennonites have responded to the social and economic issues of Latin America.

Cross-listed: HIST-3114(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and HIST-3114 | MENN-3101.

MENN-3116 (3) Mennonites and World Issues (3 hrs Lecture) This lecture/seminar course studies Mennonite responses to the wider world, and examines changes that have taken place among Mennonites with regard to world issues over the course of history. These issues include: urbanization, environmentalism, poverty, mass culture, the communications revolution, the global economy, and family life. An emphasis is placed upon the Twentieth Century World.

Cross-listed: HIST-3116(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and HIST-3116 | HIST-3301.

MENN-3126 (3) Mennonites and Environmental

History: A Global Perspective (3 hrs Lecture/Seminar)

This course considers how Mennonites from around the world have related to the environment in the 20th century, a time of immense technological change in agriculture and horticulture, with an emphasis on their relationship to nature and food production as farmers. It considers the way farmers have imagined their environments, and strategies they have taken to cultivate lands in distinctively different climates. Students study how Mennonite ideas on non-violence, simplicity and community, related to land and nature. Case studies may include Bolivia, Canada, Indonesia, the Netherlands, Russia, the US, and Zimbabwe.

Cross-listed: HIST-3126(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and HIST-3126.

MENN-3128 (3) Indigenous-Mennonite Relations (3 hrs Lecture) Indigenous-Mennonite Relations examines the history of the encounters between Indigenous societies and a European settler group. It focuses on specific encounters, first in Canada, but also in the United States, Mexico, Paraguay and Bolivia. It considers the intrusion on Indigenous lands of ethno-religious societies such as the Mennonites, and the evolution of attending social relations, including both inter-community co-operation and conflict. It examines respective worldviews, including ideas on non-violence, social equality, gender relations, racialization and land stewardship. The course considers recent cross-cultural exchanges, including Mennonite advocacy, Indigenous counter-cultures, and persisting relations between the two cultures.

Cross-listed: HIST-3128(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and HIST-3128.

MENN-3150 (3) Mennonite Community and Development (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This course analyzes the experiences of the Mennonite community in service and peace work. It highlights the values, approach, and methods particular to Mennonite humanitarian work. The Mennonite tradition of holistic development emphasizes individual transformation (providing the tools for indigenous development) and social transformation (involving all peoples in creating local, national, and global systems that are just). The work of Mennonite organizations such as the Mennonite Central Committee and the Mennonite Economic Development Agency, of ecumenical organizations such as the Canadian Foodgrain Bank and InterChurch Action, and of inter-organizational groups such as SEED Winnipeg will provide examples for student reflection and analysis.

Cross-listed: IDS-3150(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and IDS-3150.

Requisite Courses: IDS-1100 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

MENN-3202 (3) The Mennonite Image in World

Literature (3 hrs Lecture) This course deals with selected German and non-German authors who have treated the Mennonites as a major theme in their fiction. The following authors, among others, will be studied: H.J.C. von Grimmelshausen, Gottfried Keller, Theodor Fontane, Cæsar von Arx, Friedrich Dürrenmatt, and Sandra Birdsell.

MENN-3212 (3) Fact, Fiction, and Images: Interpreting

Manitoba Mennonites (3 hrs Lecture) This course introduces the student to a wide variety of historic Manitoba Mennonite writers. It includes authors of personal writings, authors of historic works from a variety of disciplines, and authors of poetry and historical fiction. This course analyzes the texts of these authors from the perspective of history, asking what light they shed on the lived experience of Mennonites in Manitoba and how specific historical times might have informed those writings. The course suggests a broad definition of "author", recognizing that all texts are literary constructions, employing particular media to make sense of the Mennonite worlds in Manitoba.

Cross-listed: HIST-3212(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and HIST-3212.

MENN-3452 (3) Anabaptism and Evangelicalism (3 hrs

Lecture) This course will seek to understand both Evangelicalism and Anabaptism in light of recent historiography. Considerable attention will be given to the development of fundamentalism and evangelicalism in the past century in order to provide a basis for understanding the distinctive and common elements of the two traditions.

MENN-3541 (3) Mennonites in Canada (3 hrs Lecture)

This course will survey major developments in Canadian Mennonite communities from 1786 to the present. It will trace the following themes: the Swiss American and Russian roots of Canadian Mennonites; community formation in Ontario and Western Canada; Anabaptism in every day life (especially the way it was played out in the family); theological developments in the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries; the survival of Mennonite faith distinctives in the urban and socially-integrated Canadian society since World War II. Special emphasis will be placed on establishing the unique features of Canadian Mennonite experience.

Cross-listed: HIST-3541(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and HIST-3541.

MENN-4535 (3 or 6) Immigration and Ethnicity in Canada and the United States (3 hrs

Seminar/Discussion) This seminar examines the history of immigration to North America between 1860 and 1960. The course focuses on the nature of migration patterns and the adaptation of immigrants to the new world, especially the rise of ethnic identities. Students discuss the similarities and differences in the Canadian and American immigration experience.

Cross-listed: HIST-4535(3/6).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and HIST-4535.

MODERN LANGUAGES & LITERATURES

MOD-2710 (3) Literature in Translation (3 hrs Lecture)

This course focuses on modern non-English literary texts in English translation. Readings may be organized around a genre such as the novel; a critical approach such as post-colonialism or cultural studies; a period such as Romanticism; or specific literary traditions in languages such as French, German, Spanish and Italian. Students should consult the Department of Modern Languages and Literatures for a description of the current offering. This course may be repeated for credit when the topic varies.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ENGL-2710.

Requisite Courses: SPAN-2180(3) or FREN-2180(3) or GERM-2209(3) or 6 credit hours of First-Year English including ENGL-1001(6) or ENGL-1003(3) [prerequisite(s)].

MULTIDISCIPLINARY

MULT-0999 (1) Junior Research Scholar (Variable Meeting Hours) This course is designed for students wishing to gain experience in university research prior to commencing their university program. Students work with a university professor on a mutually agreeable research topic. The course is offered on a pass/fail basis. This course may be repeated to a maximum of 3 credit hours in total. Restriction: This course may be used as an elective credit towards a degree, but is not intended to meet major requirements of General Degree requirements for any program.

Restrictions: Instructor Permission Required.

MULT-1000 (3) Introduction to University (3 hrs Lecture) This course serves as a preparatory course for university studies or as a support course taken concurrently with initial enrolment. Students become familiar with the nature and demands of university study, and acquire personal strategies and attitudes that enhance their first-year experience and their ability to function effectively in a university environment. Students also develop practical and effective learning, study, and time management skills, and learn how to apply strategies to aid in the writing of tests and exams. There are opportunities to practice such as note-taking, organizing information, essay writing, public speaking and class participation, and conducting research.

MULT-1005 (6) Concepts in Science (3 hrs Lecture) This course explores science at a qualitative level from this interdisciplinary viewpoint, with an aim to foster scientific literacy and develop critical thinking skills that are so crucial in today's society. Topics are drawn from biology, chemistry, geography, and physics, and range from the large - the universe, the earth, and ecosystems - to the small - cells, molecules, and atoms. Emphasis is placed on the unifying concepts running through such diversity, with activities and demonstrations forming an integral component.

Cross-listed: BIOL-1005(6) and PHYS-1005(6).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and BIOL-1005 | PHYS-1005.

MULT-1200 (3) Walls-To-Bridges: Studying Together at Corrections Facilities (3 hrs Lecture) Grounded in lived realities of criminalization and imprisonment, this course is offered at the correctional sites on various topics. Classes bring together campus-enrolled and incarcerated students. Emerging out of the American Inside-Out model, the Canadian Walls to Bridges Program (W2B) engages with Freirian principles and Indigenous pedagogy, and anti-racist practice. The course is taught by W2B - trained University of Winnipeg faculty. Students are interviewed before they are given permission to take the course. Campus-enrolled students travel to a corrections facility for each class and must have clearance.

Note: This course may be repeated for credit when the topic varies. Restriction: Students must receive clearance from the corrections facility where the course is being held.

Restrictions: Instructor Permission Required.

MULT-1900 (3 or 6) Topics in Multidisciplinary Studies (3 hrs Lecture) This course allows students to study a multidisciplinary topic. The topic may be one which is multidisciplinary so as not to be contained within the curriculum of a particular Department or Program. It may also be cross-listed with an existing course in which registration would be inappropriate for students not admitted to a restricted-entry program, but from which students in other programs could benefit. This course may be repeated for credit if the topic varies.

Restrictions: Permission of Chair and Instr.

MULT-2005 (3) Career: Life/Work Planning (3 hrs Lecture) In this course students develop understanding and skills for personal career planning. In the context of theories of career development, emphasis is placed on learning and practicing skills in communications, job-search, relationship-building, and personal assessment. Students consider how their approaches to life/career planning are influenced by past experiences, worldviews, gender and culture. Students develop a portfolio that documents their communication, education and career explorations, interpersonal, and management skills. Additionally, this course provides initial preparation for working with others in helping them to understand the world of work.

Note: Students who took this course content as a topic in MULT-3900 should not enroll in MULT-2005

MULT-2900 (3 or 6) Topics in Multidisciplinary Studies (3 hrs Lecture) This course allows students to study a multidisciplinary topic. The topic may be one which is multidisciplinary so as not to be contained within the curriculum of a particular Department or Program. It may also be cross-listed with an existing course in which registration would be inappropriate for students not admitted to a restricted-entry program, but from which students in other programs could benefit. MUSIC

MUS-1015 (3) Ensemble Practicum (Instrumental) (3 hrs Lecture) Ensemble is a rehearsal and performance practicum designed to develop the art of ensemble instrumental performance. Students perform a broad range of literature in many public events throughout the year.

Note: Those without previous experience as an instrumentalist in an ensemble should contact the instructor.

MUS-1500 (3) Music Appreciation (3 hrs Lecture) Over a century before his famous novel Les misérable inspired the celebrated Broadway musical, Victor Hugo recognized the unique, expressive nature of music. This course explores as many different musical genres as possible in order to achieve a broad understanding of how music reflects culture and society and crosses artistic boundaries to express, as Hugo aptly articulated, "that which cannot be said and on which it impossible to be silent." The central objectives of this course are to encourage active listening skills and informed personal and communal responses to music through study of musical language, history, idioms, style, and trends.

Cross-listed: THFM-1500(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and THFM-1500.

MUS-2011 (3) Ensemble Practicum (Choral) (3 hrs Lecture) Ensemble is a rehearsal and performance practicum designed to develop the art of ensemble performance in choral music. Students perform a broad range of literature in many public events throughout the year. This course may be repeated for credit once.

Note: those without previous experience singing should contact the instructor.

Cross-listed: THFM-2011(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and THFM-2011.

PHILOSOPHY

PHIL-1001 (6) Introduction to Philosophy (3 hrs Lecture) This course is a historical introduction to basic philosophical problems and methods. It considers central questions in ethics, religion, politics, knowledge, and metaphysics, e.g., are humans selfish by nature? Is moral decision-making rational? Does God exist? What is the meaning of life? What are the principles of correct reasoning? Is knowledge the same thing as perception? Is the real world different from the world as it appears to us? What are space and time? Do we have free will, or are our choices completely determined by forces outside of us? Philosophers discussed may include: Plato, Aristotle, Aquinas, Descartes, Hume, and Kant.

Note: PHIL-1301(6) and either PHIL-1001(6) or PHIL-1002(6) may be taken for degree credit.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and PHIL-1002 | PHIL-1003.

PHIL-1002 (6) Values and the Human Condition (3 hrs Lecture) This course introduces philosophical inquiry by examining how some philosophers in the Western Philosophical tradition understand human nature and the values that provide competing accounts of how to live well. Questions addressed may include: What is it to be human? What is the good life? Are human beings uniquely rational? Are we inherently independent or social? Is human value dependent upon God? Do we have moral and/or political responsibilities? Can we acquire the knowledge we need to achieve the good life? Is there life after death? Philosophers may include: Plato, Aristotle, Aquinas, Mill, Kant, Kierkegaard, Sartre as well as contemporary philosophers.

Note: PHIL-1301(6) and either PHIL-1001(6) or PHIL-1002(6) may be taken for degree credit.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and PHIL-1001 | PHIL-1003.

PHIL-1301 (6) Introduction to Logical Reasoning (3 hrs Lecture) This course develops critical thinking skills that are indispensable to the study of most academic disciplines. It provides an understanding of basic logical principles, methods for analyzing and evaluating arguments, as well as strategies for constructing well-reasoned arguments. Arguments for analysis and practicing reasoning skills come from everyday life, academic disciplines, and the philosophical tradition. Topics may include: deductive and inductive reasoning, validity and soundness, inductive strength and cogency, formal and informal fallacies, argument mapping, categorical logic, Venn diagrams, truth tables, sufficient and necessary conditions, theories of truth, and essay writing.

Note: PHIL-1301(6) and either PHIL-1001(6) or PHIL-1002(6) may be taken for degree credit.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and PHIL-2301 | PHIL-2302.

PHIL-2002 (3) History of Philosophy: Classical (3 hrs Lecture) This course is the study of a limited but representative selection of classical philosophers, especially Plato and Aristotle. The readings will focus on a variety of philosophical problems. The contributions of the different thinkers will be critically evaluated and the influence of earlier thinkers on subsequent philosophical thought will be explored.

PHIL-2003 (3) History of Philosophy: Early Modern (3 hrs Lecture) This course is the study of a limited but representative selection of modern philosophers from the time of Descartes to the time of Kant. The readings will focus on a variety of philosophical problems. The contributions of the different thinkers will be critically evaluated and the influence of earlier thinkers on subsequent philosophical thought will be explored.

PHIL-2004 (3) History of Philosophy: 19th Century Continental (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines a limited but representative selection of Continental philosophers and themes from the 19th and 20th centuries. The philosophers may include such figures as Hegel, Schopenhauer, Comte, Marx, Kierkegaard, Nietzsche, and Bergson. Possible themes are the idea of historical development, the competing claims of the sciences and the humanities, the attack on reason and objectivity, the assertion of the primacy of the will, and the analysis of the human condition.

PHIL-2005 (3) History of Philosophy: Recent Anglo-American (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines a limited but representative selection of English-speaking philosophers and themes from the 19th and 20th centuries. The philosophers may include Mill, Bradley, James, Dewey, Royce, Collingwood, and Russell. Possible themes are theories of meaning and truth, the relation between perception and reality, the controversy between science and religion, and values in a social context.

PHIL-2010 (3) History of Philosophy: Existentialism (3 hrs Lecture) This course explores characteristic existentialist themes including notions of human freedom, anxiety, self-deception, authenticity, and the limits of meaning and knowledge. We consider such representative thinkers as Kierkegaard, Nietzsche, Heidegger, Sartre, de Beauvoir, and Camus.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and PHIL-2007.

PHIL-2012 (3) History of Philosophy: Medieval Latin (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines selected philosophical works in the Latin traditions from the time of Augustine to the end of the 14th century. Topics in moral and political philosophy, logic and metaphysics, epistemology, philosophy of science, and philosophical theology may be discussed. The influence of earlier Arabic and Hebraic thinkers on subsequent Latin philosophical thought is explored.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and PHIL-3503.

PHIL-2020 (3) History of Philosophy: Renaissance (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines the philosophical thought of the European Renaissance, from 1400 to 1600. Themes include the Renaissance recovery of classical Greek philosophy, the Renaissance interpretation and development of Arabic (Islamic and Judaic) philosophy, mathematics, science and Renaissance humanism. Authors include: Petrarch, Pico, Nicholas of Cusa, Marsilio Ficino, Erasmus, Thomas More, Bacon, Galileo, and Machiavelli.

PHIL-2200 (6) Social and Political Philosophy (3 hrs Lecture) This course is a critique of attempts to give ethical justification for social institutions and practices. Why should one obey the state? When is disobedience justified? Are there any inalienable and absolute human rights? What are the conditions and limits of liberty? Why and when is it moral to punish? Is free enterprise consistent with principles of justice? Is it ever right to engage in war? Readings will include the work of some of the following: social contract theorists, utilitarians, Hegelians, Marxists, existentialists, and analytic philosophers.

Cross-listed: POL-2200(6).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and PHIL-2205 | POL-2200.

PHIL-2201 (6) Moral Philosophy (3 hrs Lecture) This course will examine representative moral ideas and standards of human conduct, with some consideration of their practical relevance. Topics that may be considered are the nature of morality, conceptions of the good life, virtues and vices, the justification of moral standards, moral relativity and scepticism, the bearing of behavioural studies on moral judgment and the validation of standards, and the question of freedom and moral responsibility. Readings will be selected from both classical and contemporary sources.

PHIL-2202 (3) Health Care and Bioethics (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines bioscience and medical ethical issues from Western moral and legal perspectives. Topics may include: abortion, euthanasia, stem cell research, cloning, gene therapy, the genetic manipulation of organisms, the distribution of scarce medical resources, patient confidentiality, competency criteria, the physician-patient relationship, patient right to information and the truth, the definitions of life and death, new reproductive technologies, and the debate between public and private health care.

Note: PHIL-2202(3) was previously titled Ethics in Medicine and Law.

PHIL-2207 (3) Philosophy of Law (3 hrs Lecture) Typical problems are the nature and function of law, the relations between law and morality, and the examination of legal concepts and legal reasoning. There will be some discussion of the actual function of law in society.

Requisite Courses: Any introductory course in Philosophy or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

PHIL-2208 (3) War and Peace (3 hrs Lecture) This is a study of the ethical issues connected with war and the securing of peace, as articulated in the writings of major philosophers such as Plato, Aristotle, Aquinas, Hobbes, Kant, James, Russell, and Camus, and perhaps selected political and military thinkers such as Machiavelli and Clausewitz. Relevant moral theories such as the ethics of non-violence, the idea of a holy war, the theory of the just war, and the doctrine of deterrence will be critically examined both in their historical context and in the context of the nuclear age.

PHIL-2211 (3) Philosophy of History (3 hrs Lecture) The course will include an examination of topics such as the following: significant answers to the question, "What is history," the relation between fact and value judgment in understanding history, the relevance of historical understanding for structuring our insight in to the human condition, the meaning of world history as a whole, and theories of historical explanation.

PHIL-2219 (3) Philosophy of Art (3 hrs Lecture) Through reading key theorists in the history of aesthetics, this course examines some of the fundamental problems in the philosophy of art, including those of the definition and purpose of art, the nature of beauty, the sources of genius and originality, the problem of forgery, and the possible connection between art and the moral good.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and PHIL-2221.

PHIL-2220 (3) Philosophy of Literature (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines some of the philosophical problems posed by literature, i.e., the nature and function of literature, problems of interpretation and criticism, the place of authors' intentions in reading and understanding texts, and the possible role of literature in moral life.

PHIL-2230 (3) Moral Issues in Business (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines ethical issues arising from business practice. Possible discussion questions include: Does capitalism violate human rights? Are there limits to what can be bought and sold? Do corporations have moral as well as legal obligations? Does a just state ensure that all citizens have jobs? Does economic value trump the right to life? Is it permissible for a company to value shareholder profit above environmental protection? Should whistle blowers be protected? Is it fair to force private companies to adhere to affirmative action policies in the work place? Are lies and deceit in advertisements morally permissible? Note: PHIL-2230(3) was previously titled Ethical Issues in Business.

PHIL-2232 (3) Philosophy of Religion (3 hrs Lecture) This course is a philosophical examination of basic problems of religion and theology. Topics are selected from the nature and main forms of religion, the existence and nature of God, the claims of mystical and religious experience, the relation of religion and science, the relation of religion and morality, the problem of evil, human destiny, revelation and faith, and the nature of religious language. Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and PHIL-2231.

PHIL-2233 (3) Environmental Ethics (3 hrs Lecture) The course will examine principles and problems related to our responsibilities for the world in which we live. Typical topics may include the following: the implications of ecology for ethics, our obligations to future human generations, the varieties of value which might be found in the world of nature, and tensions between ideals of liberty and justice under conditions of scarcity.

Note: This is a required course for the Environmental Studies degree.

PHIL-2234 (3) Philosophy of Nature (3 hrs Lecture) This course considers hypotheses about the nature of things as suggested by recent developments in the physical and biological sciences coupled with philosophical speculation. How have modern theories of evolution, relativity, genetics, biochemistry, quantum mechanics, electromagnetism, and nuclear physics altered our understanding of the origins and nature of the cosmos? In the light of scientific theory and speculation on such topics, the course reassesses philosophical theories about space, time, matter, and life.

PHIL-2240 (3) Indigenous Justice Issues (3 hrs Lecture) This course in applied political theory examines various moral and political issues that are the basis for present conflicts between Indigenous Peoples and the Canadian state. Indigenous and Western philosophies provide contexts for critically examining past and present relationships and for considering how to move into more just relationships. Topics may include: treaty rights, colonization, the Indian Act, residential schools, Aboriginal rights, racism, restorative justice, and the United Nations Declaration on the Rights of Indigenous Peoples.

Cross-listed: IS-2240(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and IS-2240.

PHIL-2251 (3) Philosophy of the Natural Sciences (3 hrs Lecture) Key issues in understanding and evaluating the enterprise of natural science form the subject matter. Questions dealt with might include the following: Is there a scientific method? Can scientific theories be tested against experience? What are the criteria for the acceptability of scientific theories? Is induction reliable? What are the "laws of nature" and how can they be known? Is a true scientific theory simply a useful tool in our search for power over nature, or does it also provide us with an accurate description of the world we live in?

PHIL-2252 (3) Philosophy of the Social Sciences (3 hrs Lecture) The course will be concerned with understanding the social sciences and psychology, with special emphasis on methodological issues. Possible topics are the following: theory construction in the human sciences, the influences of ideologies upon the methods and findings of these disciplines, the problem of objectivity, types of explanation, and the relation between explaining, predicting, and engineering human behaviour. Is it reasonable to look for laws of human behaviour on the basis of which we can engage in utopian social planning?

PHIL-2264 (3) Philosophy of Mind (3 hrs Lecture) This course is a consideration of philosophical problems concerning the mind, such as the nature of mental activity (consciousness, perception, thinking), personal identity, the relation of mind and body, and our knowledge of other minds. The bearing of psychology on these philosophical reflections will be considered.

PHIL-2281 (3) Philosophy of Education (3 hrs Lecture) This course is an examination of traditional and modern philosophical perspectives on the educational and learning process as applied to current practices.

PHIL-2291 (3) History of Educational Ideas (3 hrs Lecture) This course is a study of the development and implications of educational ideas from Plato to the present.
Note: This is a Support Course for the Education Program.

PHIL-2302 (6) Logic (3 hrs Lecture) This course studies the fundamentals of logic including (i) the basic elements of formal logic -- the classical logic of propositions and quantifiers and topics in some non-classical approaches, and (ii) the applied study of practical logic -- the evaluation and analysis of informal reasoning. Historical and Philosophical matters will be included.

Note: This course may not be used to fulfil the Humanities requirement.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and PHIL-1301 | PHIL-2301.

PHIL-3100 (3) Epistemology (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines problems of knowledge. Topical investigations may include skepticism; knowledge and its relation to thought; experience, truth, and inference; subjectivity and objectivity; relativism and absolutism; and realism versus antirealism.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and PHIL-2261.

Requisite Courses: A minimum of 12 credit hours in Philosophy [prerequisite(s)].

PHIL-3101 (3) Metaphysics (3 hrs Lecture) This seminar course examines problems of metaphysics. Topical investigations may include causation and determinism; necessity and possibility; identity and persistence, including personal identity; essence and essentialism; freedom and agency; ontology; substances and events; realism and antirealism; and the nature of time.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and PHIL-2261.

Requisite Courses: A minimum of 12 credit hours in Philosophy [prerequisite(s)].

PHIL-3215 (6) Philosophy and Social Reality (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This course is an enquiry into the relationship between the individual and society as seen by some historically important Western philosophers. The examination of this relationship discloses the extent to which theories of knowledge, reality, values, and society are interdependent.

Requisite Courses: A minimum of 12 credit hours in Philosophy [prerequisite(s)].

PHIL-3301 (6) Argumentation (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This course studies the principles and techniques of the critical interpretation and evaluation of argumentation. Topics studied include normative rules of reasoned discussions useful to resolve conflicts of opinion, and violations of such rules, i.e. informal fallacies and other faults of argumentation.

Requisite Courses: A minimum of 12 credit hours in Philosophy [prerequisite(s)].

PHIL-3304 (3) Philosophy of Language (3 hrs Lecture)

This course focuses on the theory of signs, symbols, and meaning in language. Does meaning lie in a relation between language sign and an object in the world, in an internal state of consciousness, or in the pragmatic context of language use? Attention is given to various kinds and functions of language: descriptive and evaluative discourse, the language of logic and mathematics; and argumentation and reasoning in natural language. Through a study of natural language and computer languages the course asks what, if anything, is distinctively human in our language and other symbol systems.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and PHIL-2372.

Requisite Courses: A minimum of 12 credit hours in Philosophy [prerequisite(s)].

PHIL-3500 (3) Philosophical Perspectives (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion)

This course studies historical works by selected philosophers. Each course coherently focuses on an important thinker, a movement or school of thought, their predecessors and historical impact, and with comparisons to other thinkers strikingly similar or opposed in doctrine. The course avoids excessive specialization, but is built around the conviction that one good way to get breadth of philosophical insight is to move deeply into the spirit and world view of the great philosophers. For details on the topic to be studied, please contact the Philosophy Department.

Requisite Courses: A minimum of 12 credit hours in Philosophy [prerequisite(s)].

PHIL-3502 (3) History of Philosophy: Medieval, Arabic and Hebraic (3 hrs Lecture)

This course examines the medieval Arabic and Hebraic interpretations of Greek thought, and the philosophical dialogue between Islamic and Jewish philosophers, with particular emphasis on questions of the nature of philosophy, politics and theology. Authors include al-Kindi, Averroes, al-Ghazali, ibn Tufayl, Avicenna, al-Farabi and Maimonides.

Requisite Courses: A minimum of 12 credit hours in Philosophy [prerequisite(s)].

PHIL-3504 (3) Plato and Before (3 hrs Lecture) Ancient Greek works of speculative and critical thought concerning the nature of reality, truth, beauty, goodness, knowledge, and human existence provide the material for study; with the greatest portion of time spent on the dialogues of Plato. Students are encouraged to develop their own reflections on fundamental issues in response to the works read.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and PHIL-4112.

Requisite Courses: A minimum of 12 credit hours in Philosophy [prerequisite(s)].

PHIL-3505 (3) Aristotle and After (3 hrs Lecture)

Aristotle is the dominant figure in this course, but some attention is paid to philosophical developments in the Hellenistic and Medieval periods. This course is normally taken after PHIL-3504(3) but may be taken by students having some familiarity with the writings of Plato.

Note: Students who have not taken PHIL-3504(3) are encouraged to consult with the department prior to registration.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and PHIL-4113.

Requisite Courses: A minimum of 12 credit hours in Philosophy [prerequisite(s)].

PHIL-3507 (3) 17th Century Philosophy (3 hrs Lecture)

This course is a systematic study of leading philosophical thinkers of the 17th century, such as Descartes, Hobbes, Spinoza, Locke, Leibniz, and Berkeley.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and PHIL-4114.

Requisite Courses: A minimum of 12 credit hours in Philosophy [prerequisite(s)].

PHIL-3508 (3) 18th Century Philosophy (3 hrs Lecture)

This course is a systematic study of leading philosophical thinkers of the 18th century, such as Burke, Smith, Rousseau, Bentham, and Kant.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and PHIL-4115.

Requisite Courses: A minimum of 12 credit hours in Philosophy [prerequisite(s)].

PHIL-3509 (3) 19th Century Philosophy (3 hrs Lecture)

This course is a systematic study of leading 19th century European philosophers such as Hegel, Schopenhauer, Feuerbach, Nietzsche, Schiller, and Fichte.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and PHIL-4116.

Requisite Courses: A minimum of 12 credit hours in Philosophy [prerequisite(s)].

PHIL-3510 (3) Anglo-American Philosophy (3 hrs Lecture)

This course is a systematic study of leading 20th century Anglo-American philosophers such as Moore, Russell, Wittgenstein, Dewey, Carnap, Quine, Brandom, Rorty, McDowell, and Arendt. Topics may include common sense philosophy; logical atomism; logical positivism; logical analysis; Oxford Linguistic Philosophy; pragmatism; and naturalism.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and PHIL-4118.

Requisite Courses: A minimum of 12 credit hours in Philosophy [prerequisite(s)].

PHIL-3511 (3) Postmodern Philosophy (3 hrs Lecture)

This course provides an overview of challenges to the philosophical tradition that developed in the twentieth century, including critiques of traditional notions and theories of epistemological and linguistic certainty, ethical and political normativity and justification, as well as the ideals of reason, truth, and progress. Thinkers discussed may include: Nietzsche, Heidegger, Kojève, Adorno, Horkheimer, Lyotard, Deleuze, Foucault, Derrida, and Rorty.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and PHIL-4119.

Requisite Courses: A minimum of 12 credit hours in Philosophy [prerequisite(s)].

PHIL-3512 (3) Philosophy of Mind (3 hrs Lecture)

This course examines key problems and developments in the philosophy of mind. Topics may include the mind-body problem; supervenience and reductionism; the nature of consciousness; theories of reference; subjectivity and self-knowledge; mental content and the nature of intentionality. Issues arising from cognitive science; neuroscience, and artificial intelligence may also be addressed.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and PHIL-4276.

Requisite Courses: A minimum of 12 credit hours in Philosophy [prerequisite(s)].

PHIL-3513 (3) Topics in Ethics (3 hrs Lecture) This course critically examines a moral problem, theory, or theorist. Theorists may include: Plato, Aristotle, Locke, Hume, Mill, Kant, Moore, Anscombe, Nussbaum, Morito. Problems may include: notions of the good life, moral obligation, the scope of the moral community, the is/ought distinction, human rights.

Requisite Courses: A minimum of 12 credit hours in Philosophy [prerequisite(s)].

PHIL-3514 (3) Topics in Applied Ethics (3 hrs Lecture) This course systematically studies a contemporary ethical issue, exploring the ways contemporary philosophers attempt to resolve it. Topics may include: climate change and individual responsibility; entitlements of the poor and obligations of the rich; censorship and freedom of expression; crime and punishment; euthanasia; the right to privacy; employment and medical care; disability rights.

Requisite Courses: A minimum of 12 credit hours in Philosophy [prerequisite(s)].

PHIL-3515 (3) Topics in Political Philosophy (3 hrs Lecture) This course critically examines questions in political philosophy, both perennial and contemporary. Authors discussed may include: Plato, Aristotle, Hobbes, Rousseau, Locke, Mill, Marx, Rawls, Nozick, Strauss, Scruton, Taylor, Kymlicka, Turner. Problems may include: When are people a nation? When is a state illegitimate, Do the sovereignty claims of Indigenous Peoples trump those of nation states? What is a social contract? Do citizens have political obligations? Is democracy the only just form of government? Is civil society morally preferable to anarchy? What does justice require of a nation's economic and political institutions? What is the relationship between collective and human rights?

Requisite Courses: A minimum of 12 credit hours in Philosophy [prerequisite(s)].

PHIL-3516 (3) Topics in Applied Political Philosophy (3 hrs Lecture) This course systematically studies a contemporary political question, exploring the ways in which contemporary philosophers have attempted to answer it. Topics may include, but are not limited to, duties of government and citizens; government intervention in the economy, including the collective bargaining process; security rights vs. liberty rights; genocide and state-sponsored terrorism; the treatment of linguistic and ethnic minorities; war and peace. Emphasis is on the theoretical resources that philosophers have available to them in thinking about the ideal society and forms of government.

Requisite Courses: A minimum of 12 credit hours in Philosophy [prerequisite(s)].

PHIL-4117 (3) Topics in Continental Philosophy (3 hrs Lecture) This course is a systematic study of a problem, set of problems, or key figure(s) in contemporary continental philosophy. Possible themes include: the Foucault-Habermas debate; Derrida and/or Levinas' critique of Husserl; problems in contemporary continental ethics; the scope of hermeneutics; phenomenological method; theories of the self. Possible thinkers to be discussed include: Husserl, Heidegger, Gadamer, Habermas, Levinas, Derrida, and Foucault.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and PHIL-4131.

Requisite Courses: A minimum 15 credit hours in Philosophy (9 credit hours at the 2000 level or higher); B average in all Philosophy courses; and permission of the Programme Advisor [prerequisite(s)].

PHIL-4204 (3) Topics in Moral Philosophy (3 hrs Lecture) This course is a systematic study of a problem or set of problems in contemporary moral philosophy. Possible topics include comparison of normative theories (e.g., deontology, utilitarianism, and virtue ethics), freedom and moral responsibility, relativism, the nature of moral agency, and the nature and justification of moral judgments. The emphasis is on recent debates in moral philosophy; however, some reference is made to the historical roots of contemporary moral problems.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and PHIL-4202.

Requisite Courses: A minimum 15 credit hours in Philosophy (9 credit hours at the 2000 level or higher); B average in all Philosophy courses; permission of the Programme Advisor [prerequisite(s)].

PHIL-4266 (3) Topics in Epistemology (3 hrs Lecture) This course involves a systematic study of a problem or set of problems in epistemology. Topics may include knowledge and justification; foundationalism and coherentism; perception, introspection, and memory; and skepticism.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and PHIL-4265.

Requisite Courses: A minimum 15 credit hours in Philosophy (9 credit hours at the 2000 level or higher); B average in all Philosophy courses; permission of the Programme Advisor [prerequisite(s)].

PHIL-4267 (3) Topics in Metaphysics (3 hrs Lecture) This course involves a systematic study of a problem or set of problems in metaphysics. Topics may include the nature or categories of being; substance; modality; problems of space and time; and free will.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and PHIL-4265.

Requisite Courses: A minimum 15 credit hours in Philosophy (9 credit hours at the 2000 level or higher); B average in all Philosophy courses; permission of the Programme Advisor [prerequisite(s)].

PHIL-4277 (3) Topics in Analytic Philosophy (3 hrs Lecture) This course is the study of a problem or set of problems in contemporary analytic philosophy. It may include works by Frege, Russell, Moore, Wittgenstein, Quine, Davidson, Putnam, and Sellars.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and PHIL-4275.

Requisite Courses: A minimum 15 credit hours in Philosophy (9 credit hours at the 2000 level or higher); B average in all Philosophy courses; permission of the Programme Advisor [prerequisite(s)].

PHIL-4501 (3) Topics in Aesthetics (3 hrs Lecture) This course provides a systematic study of a problem or set of problems in philosophical aesthetics. Possible topics include: contemporary theories of art; the nature of beauty; problems in the interpretation of art. In a given year, the course may focus specifically on one art form, such as music, architecture, or film; it may be dedicated to a problem that crosses formal boundaries, such as expression, intention, or authenticity; or it may critically assess the work of a given aesthetic theorist or movement, such as the British 18th century or Formalism; Kant, Collingwood, or Danto.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

Requisite Courses: A minimum 15 credit hours in Philosophy (9 credit hours at the 2000 level or higher); B average in all Philosophy courses; permission of the Programme Advisor [prerequisite(s)].

PHIL-4502 (3) Special Topics Honours Seminar (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This course provides a forum for the close study of an area of philosophy that may not be covered by our regular course offerings, or that may reflect the current research interests of our faculty. Topics may focus on a particular thinker or movement, a problem in philosophical method, or an emergent area of philosophical debate.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

Requisite Courses: A minimum 15 credit hours in Philosophy (9 credit hours at the 2000 level or higher); B average in all Philosophy courses; permission of the Programme Advisor [prerequisite(s)].

PHIL-4503 (3) Topics in the History of Philosophy (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This course involves a detailed critical investigation of a major figure, movement, or period within the history of philosophy, with particular attention to those not covered in the regular courses at the earlier levels. Topics may include, for example, Platonism, Aristotelian commentators, ancient neo-Platonists, 18th century British Empiricism, German idealism, the Vienna Circle, or a systematic study of a particular thinker.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

Requisite Courses: A minimum 15 credit hours in Philosophy (9 credit hours at the 2000 level or higher); B average in all Philosophy courses; permission of the Programme Advisor [prerequisite(s)].

PHIL-4504 (3) Topics in Social and Political Philosophy (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This course involves an investigation into contemporary problems or developments in social and political thought. Topics may include: classical political rationalism, Islamic political philosophy, multiculturalism, critiques of liberalism, contemporary Marxist debates, or problems of global justice and human rights. This course may equally concentrate on the work of a major figure, such as Taylor, Habermas, or Weil.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

Requisite Courses: A minimum 15 credit hours in Philosophy (9 credit hours at the 2000 level or higher); B average in all Philosophy courses; permission of the Programme Advisor [prerequisite(s)].

PHIL-4700 (3) Directed Individual Study (3 hrs Directed Reading) This course presents senior students with the opportunity for in-depth research and writing in a specific topic or problem area, selected by the student in consultation with a Faculty Advisor. The student will meet regularly with his/her Advisor to discuss the research in progress, and will submit a substantial paper on the topic at the end of term.

Note: A preliminary course description must be submitted in writing to the Instructor and Programme Advisor by the end of the first week of term. Only one Individual Study course may be taken for degree credit.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and PHIL-4900 | PHIL-4901.

Requisite Courses: A minimum 15 credit hours in Philosophy (9 credit hours at the 2000 level or higher); B average in all Philosophy courses; permission of the Programme Advisor [prerequisite(s)].

PHIL-4800 (6) Honours Thesis (3 hrs Lecture) To complete the Honours BA, students must undertake, normally in the final year of their study, a programme of research under the supervision of a member of the department. The thesis provides the student with the opportunity to design and complete an original research project on a subject of interest and relevance to the discipline. Students wishing to enrol in this course must first consult with the Programme Advisor to determine a thesis topic. Submission of the student's final work is followed by an oral examination.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and PHIL-4900 | PHIL-4901.

Requisite Courses: A minimum 15 credit hours in Philosophy (9 credit hours at the 2000 level or higher); B average in all Philosophy courses; permission of the Programme Advisor [prerequisite(s)].

PHYSICS

PHYS-1005 (6) Concepts in Science (3 hrs Lecture) This course explores science at a qualitative level from this interdisciplinary viewpoint, with an aim to foster scientific literacy and develop critical thinking skills that are so crucial in today's society. Topics are drawn from biology, chemistry, geography, and physics, and range from the large - the universe, the earth, and ecosystems - to the small - cells, molecules, and atoms. Emphasis is placed on the unifying concepts running through such diversity, with activities and demonstrations forming an integral component.

Cross-listed: BIOL-1005(6) and MULT-1005(6).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and MULT-1005 | BIOL-1005.

PHYS-1101 (6) Foundations of Physics (3 hrs Lecture | 3 hrs Lab) This calculus-based course provides students with a working knowledge of the basic concepts underlying modern physics. Topics covered include the following: Introduction to Newtonian mechanics with special emphasis on the principles of conservation (i.e., energy and momentum); applications of Newtonian mechanics, including the simple harmonic oscillator and harmonic waves on a string; gravity theory, including planetary/satellite motion, escape velocity; equilibrium; rotational motion and angular momentum; fluids; the behaviour of waves, including sound waves, interference, and the Doppler effect; and an introduction to electromagnetic fields.

Note: This course is intended primarily for Physics majors but is also useful preparation for entrance exams for professional programs.

Requisite Courses: Physics 40S and Pre-Calculus Mathematics 40S or Applied Mathematics 40S [prerequisite(s)]; PHYS-1101L (lab) (must be taken concurrently); MATH-1101 or both MATH-1103 and MATH-1104 (must be taken previously or at the same time as this course).

PHYS-1301 (6) Introduction to Physics (3 hrs Lecture | 3 hrs Lab) This is a non-calculus course intended for pre-medical, pre-dental, and arts students. Topics include the following: mechanics, electric and magnetic fields, electric circuits, light, optics, Bohr theory, radioactivity, and nuclear reactions.

Note: In order for a student with credit in PHYS-1301(6) to proceed to further courses in Physics, he/she must have (a) permission of the Department and (b) standing in MATH-1101(6) or both MATH-1103(3) and MATH-1104(3).

Requisite Courses: Pre-Calculus Mathematics 40S or Applied Mathematics 40S or MATH-0042 [prerequisite(s)]; PHYS-1301L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

PHYS-1701 (6) Astronomy (3 hrs Lecture) This course is a science elective intended for the liberal arts student. There is no formal laboratory, but there will be periodic observations and demonstrations. The topics include the following: stellar astronomy and stellar evolution, the solar system and its evolution, galaxies, and theories of the universe. There will also be an introductory treatment of the composition of matter, the nature of light, the principles of optics, and the operation of telescopes and auxiliary instruments.

PHYS-2001 (3) Directed Studies in Physics

(Seminar/Discussion with variable meeting hours) Students study a topic in Physics at an introductory to intermediate level chosen to meet student needs. Please consult the Physics Department. This course may be repeated for credit when the topic varies.

Restrictions: Department Permission Required.

PHYS-2102 (3) Scientific Computing (3 hrs Lecture)

Many problems arising in science are too difficult to solve analytically, and thus require analysis of some form of computer based analysis. Using the language of C/C++, this course introduces the most common programming constructs used in scientific computing. The critical importance of data structures to represent information is emphasized, which naturally leads to an object-oriented approach to problem solving. The use of external libraries, such as those for numerical analysis, to solve more advanced problems are explored, with attention paid to checks that can be made on the reliability of the results.

Cross-listed: ACS-2102(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ACS-2102.

PHYS-2103 (3) Numeric and Symbolic Computing (3 hrs Lecture) This course provides an introduction to modern scientific software packages for numeric and symbolic computation that are commonly used in teaching, research and industry. Topics covered include functions, arrays, plotting, and data visualization. In an algorithmic self-contained way, this course introduces and discusses algebra, linear algebra, integration, differentiation, and the solution of differential equations with a focus on real world and scientific applications. Although there is no university-level mathematics prerequisite, comfort with basic algebra and rudimentary ideas in pre-calculus is assumed.

Cross-listed: ACS-2103(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ACS-2103.

Requisite Courses: MATH-1101 or both MATH-1103 and MATH-1104 (recommended prerequisite); Pre-Calculus Mathematics 40S or permission of the Physics Department [prerequisite(s)].

PHYS-2105 (3) Mathematical Physics I (3 hrs Lecture)

This course provides a study of mathematical techniques commonly used in Physics. Topics covered include vector calculus, coordinate systems, complex variables, distributions, and introductory matrix algebra. The companion course Mathematical Physics II continues this study with further areas of interest.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and PHYS-2104.

Requisite Courses: PHYS-1101 and MATH-1101 or both MATH-1103 and MATH-1104 [prerequisite(s)].

PHYS-2106 (3) Mathematical Physics II (3 hrs Lecture)

This course, which is a companion course to Mathematical Physics I, is a study of mathematical techniques commonly used in Physics. Topics covered include diagonalization of complex matrices, Fourier analysis, ordinary and partial differential equations, and special functions.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and PHYS-2104.

Requisite Courses: PHYS-1101, and MATH-1101 or both MATH-1103 and MATH-1104, or PHYS-2105 [prerequisite(s)].

PHYS-2110 (3) Statics (3 hrs Lecture) This course provides an introduction to systems in static equilibrium. Topics covered include statics of particles, equivalent systems of forces, equilibrium of rigid bodies, centroids and centers of gravity, and analysis of complicated structures.

Requisite Courses: PHYS-1101 and MATH-1101 or both MATH-1103 and MATH-1104 [prerequisite(s)].

PHYS-2112 (3) Scientific Computing with Python (3 hrs Lecture) This course introduces the basics of Python needed for scientific computing as well as some higher level data structures and features that are uncommon in lower-level languages such as C and C++. Students learn how to write modules and functions to solve a variety of scientific problems. They also learn how to take advantage of the numerical libraries NumPy and Pandas that extend Python with high-performance vectorized calculations and visualizations. Students also explore other packages, such as matplotlib, Vega-Altair and scikit-learn.

Note: This course is appropriate for all students with an interest in scientific computing, and experience with elementary computer programming is recommended.

Cross-listed: ACS-2112(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ACS-2112.

PHYS-2200 (3) Electricity and Magnetism (3 hrs Lecture | 3 hrs Lab) Electromagnetic physics underlies much of the technology and physical phenomena found in our daily lives. This course provides an introduction to electrostatics, circuits, magnetic effects of a current, electromagnetic induction, properties of dielectric and magnetic materials.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and PHYS-2201.

Requisite Courses: PHYS-1101 and either MATH-1101 or both MATH-1103 and MATH-1104 [prerequisite(s)]; PHYS-2105 (must be taken previously or at the same time as this course); PHYS-2200L (Lab) (must be taken concurrently).

PHYS-2202 (3) Optics and Waves (3 hrs Lecture | 3 hrs Lab) This course provides an introduction to optics and wave motion. Topics covered include geometric optics with lenses and mirrors, Snell's law, the wave equation and basic properties of waves, interference and diffraction, wave vectors, and wave velocities. Other topics may include polarization and Fourier optics.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and PHYS-2201.

Requisite Courses: PHYS-2105 and PHYS-2200

[prerequisite(s)]; PHYS-2106 (must be taken previously or at the same time as this course); PHYS-2202L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

PHYS-2302 (6) Modern and Thermal Physics (3 hrs Lecture | 3 hrs Lab) This course contains a series of topics in physics which provide students with a broad understanding of physics that appears in our daily lives and beyond. Topics covered are thermal physics (temperature, entropy, and the laws of thermodynamics, the ideal gas, work and Carnot cycles, kinetic theory, probability, statistical distribution functions), special relativity (including Lorentz transformations, velocity addition, the Doppler effect, relativistic energy and momentum), and quantum physics (early indications of quantum physics, the Bohr model of hydrogen, uncertainty principles, the Schrodinger equation and simple solutions, atomic, nuclear, and subatomic physics).

Requisite Courses: PHYS-1101 and either MATH-1101 or both MATH-1103 and MATH-1104 [prerequisite(s)]; PHYS-2302L (lab) (must be taken previously or at the same time as this course); PHYS-2105 and PHYS-2106 (must be taken concurrently).

PHYS-2502 (3) Radiation and the Environment (3 hrs Lecture) This course provides an overview of radiation in the environment and its effects on materials and living systems. Topics will include x-rays, ultraviolet, visible, infrared, microwave and radio-frequency emissions, acoustical and ultrasonic radiation, and alpha, beta, and gamma radiation from radioactive sources. Emphasis will be placed on the applications of radiation in the real world, including health and environmental issues.

Requisite Courses: Any core laboratory course in Biology, Chemistry, or Physics [prerequisite(s)].

PHYS-2503 (3) Medical Imaging (3 hrs Lecture) This course is an introduction to medical techniques, such as ultrasound, x-rays, CT scans, MRIs, and PET scans. The basics of how each technique works as well as what causes contrast in the images are explored, both qualitatively and quantitatively, using algebra and trigonometry. The suitability of each technique for imaging specific medical problems will be discussed.

Requisite Courses: CHEM-1111 and CHEM-1112, or PHYS-1101, or PHYS-1301 [prerequisite(s)].

PHYS-2602 (3) Quantum Computing (3 hrs Lecture) This is an introductory course in quantum computing and quantum information theory. Students learn how to carry out explicit calculations and gain a fundamental grasp of quantum mechanics, quantum computation, teleportation, quantum cryptography, entanglement, quantum algorithms, and error correction. The course covers the fundamental of quantum computing needed to study more advanced quantum mechanical concepts. Students learn the basics of programming an actual quantum computer.

Experimental Course - This course is offered on a trial basis to gauge interest in the topic. Students who successfully complete this course receive credit as indicated.

Requisite Courses: MATH-1201(3) or permission of the instructor (must be taken previously or at the same time as this course); MATH-2203 or PHYS-2106 (recommended to be taken previously or at the same time as this course).

PHYS-2705 (6) Cosmology: Science Fact to Science Fiction (3 hrs Lecture) This course gives an introduction to the scientific study of the universe as a whole. Modern aspects of cosmological physics, not usually encountered in elementary physics courses, will be covered. These topics include the following: the standard scenario for early universe evolution; the triumph of big bang cosmology; the hierarchical nature of galaxy formation and clustering; the speed-of-light constraint on space travel and communication; the paradoxical nature of quantum physics; the existence of antimatter; the success of the Special Theory of Relativity; the description of gravity using Einstein's General Theory of Relativity; the characteristics of neutron stars, black holes, wormholes, cosmic strings and other astrophysical oddities; and the logic of spacetime topology of higher dimensions, of parallel universes, and of time travel. Finally, the course will consider how human beings and extraterrestrial life forms fit into the overall scheme of things. Although the subjects discussed will be conceptually sophisticated, the presentation will require minimal mathematical knowledge.

PHYS-2777 (3) The Study of Time (3 hrs Lecture) With an overall scientific perspective this course concerns itself with information gathered from Philosophy, History, Neuroscience, Biology and Physics pertinent to our fundamental notions of time. Topics such as the historical and philosophical notions of time and time keeping, the biological clocks of living organisms, the perception of time in everyday life, the thermodynamic arrow of time, the physical dilation of time, the possibility of time travel, the description of time from a higher-dimensional point of view, and other relevant aspects of time are discussed. Although the subjects covered are conceptually sophisticated, the presentation requires minimal mathematical knowledge.
Requisite Courses: A minimum of 18 credit hours completed or with permission of the Physics Department [prerequisite(s)].

PHYS-2803 (3) Physical Computing: Interacting With the Real World (3 hrs Lecture | 3 hrs Lab) This course introduces computing systems that interact with the physical world. Designing systems of this type involves a combination of software and hardware development. Students are introduced to software development for microcontrollers or single board computers, with a focus on interfacing to sensors and serial communication. Hardware topics include basic circuit theory as well as components such as light emitting diodes (LEDs). In the lab component, students get hands-on experience constructing and troubleshooting circuits as well as controlling hardware with software.
Cross-listed: ACS-2803(3)
Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ACS-2803.
Requisite Courses: complete 18 credits [prerequisite(s)]; PHYS-2803L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

PHYS-2812 (3) The Physics of Music (3 hrs Lecture) This course is an introduction to the physical underpinnings of the production, propagation and perception of the sounds that we interpret as music. After an overview of the fundamentals of both physics and music, we explore the nature and propagation of sound waves, the meaning of pure tones, and the question of how pure tones combine to form the harmonious complex waveforms produced by various musical instruments. Other topics include the workings of the human ear, and basic elements of concert hall acoustics. Finally, by studying elements of fractal music, we examine some issues surrounding the question of what is music, compared to, say, a random collection of sounds.

Requisite Courses: A minimum of 30 credit hours of study [prerequisite(s)].

PHYS-3103 (3) Special Topics in Physics (Seminar/Discussion with variable meeting hours) This course examines a topic in physics chosen to meet student needs. The topic will vary from year to year. Please consult the Physics Department for the current topic.
Restrictions: Department Permission Required.

PHYS-3202 (3) Intermediate Mechanics (3 hrs Lecture) This course is a three dimensional vector treatment of Newtonian particle dynamics with an emphasis on conservation principles. Topics include advanced problems in dynamics, such as friction, gravity, rotation of rigid bodies and moments of inertia, and damped and forced oscillations.
Requisite Courses: PHYS-1101, PHYS-2105, and PHYS-2106 [prerequisite(s)].

PHYS-3203 (3) Advanced Mechanics (3 hrs Lecture) This course covers advanced topics in classical mechanics. The course includes Lagrangian and Hamiltonian formalisms of mechanics, including those involving constraints; dynamics of systems of particles; the 4-vector formalism for special relativity and relativistic dynamics; and coupled oscillators and normal modes.
Requisite Courses: PHYS-1101, PHYS-2105, PHYS-2106, and PHYS-3202 [prerequisite(s)].

PHYS-3301 (6) Quantum Mechanics (3 hrs Lecture) Quantum mechanics underlies physics at the microscopic level, including a great deal of modern technology. This course covers the following topics: the wave properties of matter, quantum operators, probabilistic interpretation of wave-functions, applications of the Schrodinger equation (including the treatment of the harmonic oscillator and the Coulomb potential), angular momentum and spin, quantum statistical distributions and their applications, and the interpretation of quantum mechanics.
Requisite Courses: PHYS-2105, PHYS-2106, and PHYS-2302 [prerequisite(s)]; MATH-2102 (recommended to be taken previously or at the same time as this course).

PHYS-3403 (3) Thermal and Statistical Physics (3 hrs Lecture) Statistical mechanics provides the microscopic description of the thermodynamic behaviour of matter. Students learn the standard methodology of statistical mechanics which strives to derive all of the classical results of thermodynamics through quantum statistical analysis. Topics include the microcanonical ensemble, the canonical ensemble, Boltzmann's Distribution, as well as the quantum mechanical description of heat and work. Other more advanced topics in statistical mechanics are discussed depending on time.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and PHYS-3401.

Requisite Courses: PHYS-2105, PHYS-2106, and PHYS-2302 [prerequisite(s)].

PHYS-3901 (3) Intermediate Physics Laboratory (3 hrs Lecture | 3 hrs Lab) This course introduces students to the measurement and error analysis techniques in the areas of solid state physics, atomic spectroscopy, superconductivity, nuclear and particle physics, and fundamental noise measurements. Students set up and conduct several experiments as well as formulate and present reports on their work. Students develop a clear, concise, and effective scientific writing and presentation skills.

Requisite Courses: PHYS-2200 (or the former PHYS-2201) and PHYS-2302 [prerequisite(s)]; PHYS-3901L (Lab) (must be taken concurrently).

PHYS-4001 (6) Honours Thesis (3 hrs Project / Thesis)

This course is normally taken in the final year of the honours program. Students will undertake a research program in experimental or theoretical physics under the supervision of a faculty member. An essential component of the course is the oral and written presentation of the results.

Note: Students must consult with the Department Chair and the prospective supervisor before enrolling.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Department Permission Required.

PHYS-4201 (6) Electrodynamics (3 hrs Lecture) The human senses and virtually all the forces experienced in everyday life are electromagnetic in origin. Electromagnetism is the best understood of the four fundamental forces, and the subject remains one of the pillars of modern physics despite being largely developed in the 1800s. Students gain a complete view of classical electrodynamics, starting with static electricity and magnetism, proceeding to Maxwell's equations and electromagnetic radiation, and finishing with its natural extension to special relativity.

Requisite Courses: PHYS-2105, PHYS-2106, and PHYS-2200 (or the former PHYS-2201) [prerequisite(s)]; MATH-2105, MATH-2106, and PHYS-2202 (recommended to be taken previously or at the same time as this course).

PHYS-4302 (3) Condensed Matter Physics (3 hrs Lecture) This course deals with the physics resulting from assembling a very large number of atoms to form a macroscopic piece of a solid. The main topics are: ordering of atoms to form crystal structures, and how the crystal structures vibrate; electronic characteristics of solid insulators, semiconductors and metals; magnetic properties of solids; and how defects significantly modify the physical characteristics of solids.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and PHYS-4301.

Requisite Courses: PHYS-2105 and PHYS-2106

[prerequisite(s)]; PHYS-3301 (must be taken previously or at the same time as this course).

PHYS-4303 (3) Subatomic Physics (3 hrs Lecture)

Students gain an understanding of introductory topics in nuclear and particle physics. They use special relativity and Feynman diagrams to describe particle decay rates and scattering cross sections, study the role of fundamental symmetries in particle physics, and learn the rules of Quantum Electrodynamics. If time allows, students also learn about the Strong and Weak nuclear forces, general gauge theories and neutrino oscillations.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and PHYS-4301.

Requisite Courses: PHYS-2105 and PHYS-2106 [prerequisite(s)]; PHYS-3301 (must be taken previously or at the same time as this course).

PHYS-4501 (6) Introduction to General Relativity (3 hrs Lecture)

This course will introduce the student to the modern theory of gravitation called General Relativity. The course begins with a thorough treatment of the role of Special Relativity in mechanics and electromagnetism using four-vectors and spacetime diagrams. A short introduction to tensor analysis will then be given. Following this, the Einstein equations will be formulated and the standard solutions will be analyzed. Using these solutions the experimental tests of General Relativity will be investigated as well as astrophysical and cosmological predictions.

Note: In general, students will be expected to have or be willing to acquire a high degree of mathematical literacy. Students should consult with the instructor.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and PHYS-3401.

Requisite Courses: PHYS-2105 and PHYS-2106 [prerequisite(s)].

PHYS-4602 (3) Advanced Quantum Mechanics (3 hrs Lecture)

This is an advanced course that describes the underlying structure of quantum mechanics and its applications. Topics include general formalism and approximation methods (including perturbation theory), and may include scattering theory, Feynman path integrals, relativistic quantum mechanics, and quantum computing. Students learn to apply the basic theory to several physical problems including the fine and hyperfine structure of the hydrogen atom.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and PHYS-4601.

Requisite Courses: PHYS-2105, PHYS-2106, PHYS-2302 and PHYS-3301 [prerequisite(s)].

PHYS-4901 (3) Advanced Physics Laboratory (3 hrs Lecture | 3 hrs Lab)

This laboratory course builds upon PHYS-3901 with increased emphasis on independent discovery and journal-quality science writing. Students perform a variety of experiments from different areas of physics that incorporate modern experimental techniques, including computer control of instruments, automated data collection and analysis, and numerical simulations. Student-initiated projects (subject to instructor approval) are also possible.

Requisite Courses: PHYS-3901 [prerequisite(s)];

PHYS-4901L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

POLITICAL SCIENCE

POL-1011 (6) Introduction to Political Science (3 hrs Lecture) Political science is the parent discipline of a number of areas of study including a very broad definition of what is 'political'. This course provides a foundation for the study of politics in the world around us. Topics include human rights, global affairs, the Canadian Constitution and Treaties, political theories, the role of the state, political systems, public administration and policy, and political participation, movements and protest. The course is presented within the context of historical and current events. Maximum 6 credit hours of Political Science at the 1000 level may be used for degree credit.

POL-1012 (3) The Canadian State and Indigenous Peoples (3 hrs Lecture) This course provides an introduction to the historical and contemporary relationships between the Canadian government/society and Canada's Indigenous peoples. Topics include the Treaties, the Indian Act and subsequent efforts to abolish or reform these fundamental legislative parameters of the relationships. Other topics include original Indigenous governance traditions and contemporary Indigenous governance in the cities. Maximum 6 credit hours of Political Science at the 1000 level may be used for degree credit.

POL-1014 (3) Great Ideas in Political Thought (3 hrs Lecture) This course introduces students to central questions crucial to the study of political thought. Students examine the ideas of great thinkers such as Plato, Aristotle, Confucius, Hobbes, Locke, Rousseau, Wollstonecraft, J.S. Mill, Marx, and Engels and their perspectives on enduring questions such as: What is human nature? What is the best form of government? Is politics an activity in which all subjects/citizens are able to participate or should it be a specialized activity reserved for social, economic and/or intellectual elites? How much power should a state exercise over individuals' lives? Should citizens always obey the law? Maximum 6 credit hours of Political Science at the 1000 level may be used for degree credit.

POL-1016 (3) Global Political Issues (3 hrs Lecture) This introductory course offers a broad perspective on global politics. Providing a foundation in the role of the state, the course covers topics such as global political economy, security, power, human rights and inequality in an ever-changing world. Maximum 6 credit hours of Political Science at the 1000 level may be used for degree credit.

POL-1018 (3) Issues in Canadian Politics, Government, and Democracy (3 hrs Lecture) This course gives students an introduction to power in the Canadian political sphere and how it is mediated in institutions, ideas and structures. We examine how issues and decisions of political leaders influence our economic and social lives. The course covers the major ideologies and institutions of government decision-making and reform at the municipal, provincial, regional and global levels in Canada, including an introduction to partisan politics as well as ongoing and emerging public policy issues. The course examines democracy from a comparative perspective, including comparing Canada's political system with different countries throughout the world. Maximum 6 credit hours of Political Science at the 1000 level may be used for degree credit.

POL-1020 (3) Why Politics Matters: Themes and Debates (3 hrs Lecture) This course introduces students to various theories and debates of political analysis. The course discusses political power and how it is exercised. Comparisons across liberal democracies provide insights into the strengths of political processes regarding citizen engagement, government decision-making, political participation and state-society relations. The course concludes by analysing the process of change in a political system either through formal, representative institutions, such as political parties and legislatures, or through the collective action of social and political organizations. Maximum 6 credit hours of Political Science at the 1000 level may be used for degree credit.

POL-2010 (3) Politics in the Inner City (3 hrs Lecture) This course introduces students to political problems and political strategies regarding the inner city. It includes an examination of City Hall, parliamentary politics of the provincial and federal levels as it affects the inner city, and various electoral and non-electoral strategies that can be adopted to advance the interests of inner-city residents.

POL-2020 (3) Colonization and Indigenous Peoples in Canada (3 hrs Lecture) In this course, students are introduced to Indigenous peoples in what has come to be known as Canada and undertake a survey of Indigenous cultural, political, economic, and spiritual situations from pre-contact to the present. Students examine colonialism in Canada (past and present) and its ongoing effects upon First Nations, Métis, and Inuit peoples. Topics include Indigenous world views, fur trade, treaties, Indian Act, residential schools and the child welfare system, as well as historic and contemporary Indigenous governance and sovereignty. Students are empowered to engage in meaningful dialogue about issues that affect Indigenous and non-Indigenous people in Canada.

Cross-listed: UIC-2020(3) and IS-2020(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and IS-2020 | UIC-2020.

POL-2100 (6) Global Politics (3 hrs Lecture) This course provides students with an introduction to the study and practice of global level politics. It explores different ways that the scope and content of 'global politics' is understood theoretically, informed by the view that global politics is seen differently depending on the assumptions that are brought to bear. A range of post-Cold War global practices are considered, including globalization, global political economy, development, security, and global governance. Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and POL-2123.

POL-2200 (6) Social and Political Philosophy (3 hrs Lecture) This course is a critique of attempts to give ethical justification for social institutions and practices. Why should one obey the state? When is disobedience justified? Are there any inalienable and absolute human rights? What are the conditions and limits of liberty? Why and when is it moral to punish? Is free enterprise consistent with principles of justice? Is it ever right to engage in war? Readings will include the work of some of the following: social contract theorists, utilitarians, Hegelians, Marxists, existentialists, and analytic philosophers.

Cross-listed: PHIL-2200(6).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and PHIL-2200 | PHIL-2205.

POL-2220 (6) Politics and Film (3 hrs Lecture) Film is one of the most exciting and complex art forms. This course seeks to enrich students' experience and understanding of movies, to see them as complex cultural creations that embody political and social meanings and not simply as entertainment. Various theoretical approaches to film are examined as well as topics connected to the particular films viewed. Topics may include images of women in film, racial politics, the politics of Hollywood cinema, the slave in film, homosexuality in the movies, and conventions of realism.

POL-2300 (6) Public Administration (3 hrs Lecture) This course offers a general survey of the major areas of public administration. It introduces students to basic terminology, concepts, and issues in the field of public administration. The course begins with organization theories and the relationship between public administration and politics. Topics may include: leadership, change management, ethics, equity and diversity as human resource issues in the public sector, public sector unionization, policy planning and government budgeting, tools of accountability such as program evaluation and performance measurement. Students also learn about public sector trends in alternative service delivery.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and POL-2305.

POL-2320 (3) Government-Business Relations in Canada (3 hrs Lecture) This course critically examines the relationship between business and government. State regulation of the economy is a significant element of public policy. Consequently, business and business groups are important political actors seeking to influence the shape and direction of public policy. This course examines that relationship and various mechanisms by which business seeks to influence the state.

POL-2400 (6) Canadian Politics (3 hrs Lecture) This course offers a general introduction to the study of Canadian politics, including an analysis of political culture, political parties, federalism, continentalism, regionalism, and political institutions.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and POL-2430.

POL-2410 (6) Human Rights and Civil Liberties in Canada (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines the concepts of human rights and civil liberties. It will incorporate a case study approach in some areas. The course will include an examination of several approaches and concepts of human rights and civil liberties. It also includes an emphasis on selected topics such as: biological rights, rights of children, criminal law in the civil rights context, aboriginal rights and equality rights. The course is very strongly oriented towards Canadian problems, laws and institutions.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and POL-2450 | POL-2510.

POL-2415 (3) The Politics of Racism (3 hrs Lecture) This course analyzes contradictions that emerge in the ideology and political practices of the liberal state in its approach to issues of racism. The concept of racism is introduced through an analysis of its individual, institutional, systemic and organized forms. Using documentation from cases in Canada, the United States, Germany, and other countries, the course examines state measures to combat racism, makes use of case studies of state facilitation of the aims of organized racism, and examines activist methods used to counter organized racism and its state facilitation. The intersection of the state and the field of racism is examined as well through analyses of cases involving state security and intelligence services.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and POL-2431.

POL-2500 (3) City Politics (3 hrs Lecture) The course examines how an array of cross-cutting democratic objectives, including local democracy, representation, equity and equality, and effective governance, shape the politics, policy, and organizational structure of cities and city regions in Canada. The course covers a number of topics, including: the role of and the relationship between elected officials and city staff in municipal government; oversight and accountability at the local level; municipal elections and electoral systems; municipal budgeting; and city regional governance.

POL-2505 (3) Issues in City Politics (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines current issues affecting cities and city regions throughout Canada and the world, and the political and policy responses of government. The course covers a number of topics, including: decaying infrastructure; population growth; housing affordability; gentrification; transportation; and climate change. The course examines the origins of these issues, the tools available to government to address them, and the contradictions and conflicts that exist within governments' policy responses.

POL-3030 (3) Special Topics in Political Science (3 hrs Lecture) This course considers selected topics in Political Science; as course content changes, students are encouraged to consult the Department of Political Science regarding potential offerings in a given year. This course may be repeated for credit when the topic varies.

POL-3105 (3) Global Political Economy (3 hrs Lecture) This course provides an introduction to the theories and methods of global political economy and a study of the application of these two areas such as militarization; north-south relations; globalization of production; trade and finance regimes; gender and ecological questions.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and POL-3133.

Requisite Courses: POL-2100 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

POL-3110 (3) International Organization (3 hrs Lecture)

This course examines various theoretical approaches to the study of international organizations as a generic phenomenon, recognizing that they are part of a complex web of relations that can have subnational, national, international, and transnational ties. More specifically, it explores the place and role of international organizations within the framework of global governance.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and POL-3134.

POL-3115 (3) Gender and Global Politics (3 hrs

Lecture) This course examines gendered perspectives on the theory and practice of global politics. It considers a range of perspectives on gender and politics, and applies these to an examination of conflict and cooperation, security, global political economy, ecology, human rights, international organizations and international law.

Requisite Courses: POL-2100 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

POL-3120 (3) International Law (3 hrs Lecture)

This course deals with the nature of international law in society, the universality of international law, the state and other international persons, sovereignty and equality, recognition of governments and states, civil war and intervention, war and neutrality.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and POL-3137.

POL-3121 (3) Special Topics in Global Politics (3 hrs Lecture) This course considers selected topics in Global Politics; as course content varies from year to year, students are encouraged to consult the Department of Political Science regarding potential offerings in a given year. The course may be repeated for credit when topic varies. Ineligible students: students may not receive credit for POL-3122 if they have taken the same topic under the POL-3121 course number

POL-3122 (3) China in the Contemporary Global

Politics (3 hrs Lecture) China's recent rise to global prominence has had uneven impacts on Chinese citizens, the Chinese economy, the Chinese state, and the world outside of China. In this course, we seek to understand China's rise by asking certain questions. What do various approaches to the study of International Relations (IR) and International Political Economy (IPE) tell us about China's rise in contemporary world politics and in the contemporary Global Political Economy? What are the economic sources and vulnerabilities of China's newfound global prominence? Is China a challenger to an American-led world order? Ineligible students: students may not receive credit for POL-3122 if they have taken the same topic under the POL-3121 course number

POL-3130 (3) Canada in World Affairs (3 hrs Lecture)

This lecture/seminar course explores differing explanations of Canadian actions in global politics and examines specific areas such as foreign economic and trade policies, military and security policies, and policies towards different regions of the world.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and POL-3142.

Requisite Courses: POL-2100 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

POL-3135 (3) Global Security (3 hrs Lecture)

This course examines various meanings, dynamics and applications of security in global politics, with particular attention to contemporary debates and issues. It explores what security is, who or what is being secured, from what and by what means. Select topics include: human security, migration, humanitarian intervention, environment, health and food security, gender, global war on terrorism, nuclear non-proliferation and security in the post-colonial world.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and POL-3143.

POL-3136 (3) US Politics (3 hrs Lecture)

This course is a study of the United States' political system, including topics such as American political culture, political groups and parties, elections, formal political institutions and policies and trends. We will examine the foundations of the American political system, review the roles and responsibilities of branches of government, and consider the interaction between the American public and American political institutions. You will be expected to have basic awareness of current political events in the United States, as they will come up in our discussion of the weekly topics. By the end of the course students will be able to identify and describe the major institutions and issues that influence politics and political decision making in the United States Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and POL-3436, POL-3437 and POL-3438.

Requisite Courses: POL-1011 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

POL-3205 (3) Reason and Revolution (3 hrs Lecture)

Reason and revolution are ideas central to contemporary politics. This course explores their roots in 18th century Europe. Enlightenment thinkers argue that society can be reorganized based on reason, freedom and equality. Counter-enlightenment thinkers argue that such attempts often degenerate into the type of violence and terror evident in the French Revolution. This course explores these issues in the writings of thinkers such as Immanuel Kant, Jean-Jacques Rousseau, Edmund Burke, Mary Wollstonecraft, Thomas Paine and others. Restriction: Students may not hold credit for this course and POL-3235(3).

POL-3210 (3) Politics and Art (3 hrs Lecture)

This course examines political expression in the visual, performing and literary arts. The course treats various forms of art as cultural documents which provide insight into the political ideas and political culture of society.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and POL-3236.

POL-3216 (3) Special Topics in Political Theory (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines one among a range of specialized issues in political theory. Depending on the instructor, topics covered may include Pierre Trudeau's political thought, Gramsci as a thinker, Hobbes's feminism, and/or globalization and inequality. This course can be repeated for credit when the topic varies.

POL-3220 (3) Politics of Post-Modernism (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines a selection of the precursors, proponents and critics of post-modern political thought such as Nietzsche, Foucault, Rorty, Lyotard, Jameson, Butler, Habermas, Derrida and Baudrillard. This course focuses on the politics generated by post-modernism. Among the questions considered are: What is modernism? What is post-modernism? What are the potential effects of a postmodern perspective on political theory and political practices? How has post-modernism influenced feminism and new social movements more generally?

POL-3224 (3) Research Methods and Project Design (3 hrs Lecture) This is a basic course in research design, intended for beginners. It includes, but is not limited to, research design and evaluation, measurement, sampling, data collection methods, elementary data analysis, research ethics, and reporting results.
Note: Students may not receive credit for this course and the former POL-2206(3).

POL-3230 (3) Canadian Political Thought (3 hrs Lecture) The course examines the historical development and political expression of major Canadian ideologies: conservatism, liberalism, socialism, English-Canadian nationalism, and nationalism in Quebec politics.

POL-3233 (3) Power and Politics: 16th Century Political Thought (3 hrs Lecture) This course explores sixteenth century political thought in the historical context of the dramatic transformations of the Renaissance, the Reformation, the Scientific Revolution and the rise of capitalism. Key thinkers examined include: Machiavelli, Erasmus, More, Luther, Calvin, Bodin and Thomas Smith. Special attention is given to newly emerging conceptions of power, state, citizen, family and political freedom.
Note: Students may not hold credit for this course and the former POL-3200.

POL-3234 (3) Sovereignty and Politics: 17th Century Political Thought (3 hrs Lecture) This course explores seventeenth century political thought in the historical context of the dramatic transformations of the Reformation, the Scientific Revolution, the English Civil Wars, and the rise of capitalism. Key thinkers to be examined include English Levellers, Descartes, Hobbes, Locke, and Harrington. Special attention is given to highly contested conceptions of sovereignty, property, natural rights and liberties, and revolution.
Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and POL-3200.

POL-3235 (6) Politics of Love and Sex (3 hrs Lecture) This course offers students the opportunity to study political thought through the prism of love and sex. Students are introduced to some of the central thinkers in the Western canon (such as Plato, Augustine, Rousseau, and Wollstonecraft). We consider the complexity and persistence of problems for human society related to love and sexuality. In addition, the course allows for a close examination of current controversies revolving around these human passions, such as gender relations, pornography, homosexual marriage, and prostitution.

POL-3250 (3) Violence, Hegemony and the Rise of Mass Politics (3 hrs Lecture) The 20th Century has been called the age of extremes, one of the most violent in our world's history. It witnessed two world wars, the rise of fascism, the cold war, massive decolonization, universal suffrage and the advent of mass politics and globalization. This course explores political philosophies shaped during these events. Thinkers considered include Rosa Luxemburg, V.I. Lenin, Antonio Gramsci, Friedrich von Hayek, Isaiah Berlin, Hannah Arendt, members of the Frankfurt School and Frantz Fanon. We concentrate on problems faced by democracy in mass society; violence, nationalism, hegemony and freedom.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and POL-4210 | POL-4238.

POL-3255 (3) Liberals, Marxists, and Anarchists (3 hrs Lecture) The 19th century witnessed the birth of many of the political ideas that shape our world, from J.S. Mill's liberalism to Marx and Engel's communism, including Nietzsche and the Anarchists. This course places thinkers and movements such as these within their historical context and shows how their ideas are relevant in today's world.
Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and POL-4205 | POL-4237.

POL-3260 (3) Liberalism and Social Democracy (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines the crucial revision of socialism to take account of freedom, the welfare state, democracy and regulation rather than public ownership. It will examine the ideas of Bernstein, Hobhouse, Crosland, Karlsson and Giddens. It deals with similar themes in the Canadian political context, especially the ideas of Frank Scott and Pierre Elliott Trudeau.

POL-3300 (3) Public Policy Process (3 hrs Lecture) The focus of this course is the interplay of politics and the public policy process, with concentration on theories of policy-making, actors in the policy process, and institutions and structures in the policy process. The role of interest groups, political parties, governmental organizations and the like are among the subjects to be examined.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and POL-3331.

POL-3305 (3) Special Topics in Public Policy (3 hrs Lecture) The focus of this course will change from year to year, according to the interests of faculty and students. Its general purpose is to permit advanced undergraduate students to examine specific issues in public policy, especially those which are of contemporary interest but are not the subject of a routinely offered course.

Note: The course may be repeated only when the topic varies.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and POL-3310 | POL-3332 | POL-3333.

POL-3310 (3) Health Care Policy in Canada (3 hrs Lecture) This course investigates current trends and issues in health care policy in Canada. Students are introduced to the structure of the Canadian health care system, including federal and provincial policy history and the structure of its financing. The course focuses on challenges which occur in implementing and administering health policy change at the federal and provincial levels. The course emphasizes the regionalization of service delivery and the expansion of community-based primary care. Alternative models of health care delivery are explored.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and POL-3305 | POL-3332 | POL-3333.

POL-3315 (3) The Canadian Legal System (3 hrs Lecture) An examination of the structure and functioning of the legal system in Canada, including such topics as: the historical background of British and Canadian law; the Canadian constitution and its prescription for federal and provincial jurisdictions; the nature and limits of executive, legislative and judicial powers; the distinction between common law and statute law; the various fields of law, e.g., criminal, domestic, contract and torts; civil rights and human rights; the administration of justice.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and POL-3428.

POL-3320 (3) Gender and the Law (3 hrs Lecture) This course focuses on a number of aspects relative to gender and the law in Canada. The course includes the following: (1) women, trans and non-binary people within the legal system, e.g., as judge, lawyer, victim and offender; (2) a study of the various laws which affect women, trans and non-binary people either directly or indirectly, examination of existing legislation and review of case law; (3) discussion of various agencies (primarily those which are legislated) which regulate the lives of women, trans and non-binary people in many areas including the family, reproductive rights, criminal, employment, Aboriginal law, and religious freedoms.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and POL-3429.

POL-3321 (3) Gender and Organizations (3 hrs Lecture) Exploring gender's relevance to organizations of various types, including corporations and not-for-profits, this course addresses how gendered analysis can benefit a variety of perspectives on organizations. Taking critical and postmodern approaches to organizational theory and practice, the course considers gender with respect to such topics as leadership; management; communication; conflict resolution; diversity, inclusion, and intersectionality; power; negotiation; organizational change; organizational justice; ethics; healthy workplaces; volunteer workers; management; human resources; and globalization.

Cross-listed: BUS-3321(3) and WGS-3321(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course

and BUS-3321 | WGS-3321.

Requisite Courses: POL-2300, WGS-1232 or BUS-2103 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

POL-3400 (3) Indigenous Politics in Canada (3 hrs Lecture) The course provides a critical foundation for understanding the context and issues surrounding Canada's recognition of its Indigenous heritage within Canadian democracy. The animated political relationship between Canadian governments and Canada's Indigenous populations, framed by legislation, policy issues, and the expectation of a positive shared future, is the focus of this course.

POL-3405 (3) Indigenous Politics in Manitoba (3 hrs Lecture) The course offers a foundational understanding of political organizations, issues, and historical, political, and other contributions of Manitoba's Indigenous people within the context of Manitoba politics.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and POL-3434.

POL-3411 (3) Indigenous People in Canada and the Law (3 hrs Lecture) The course explores foundational documents supporting and defining Canada's legal governance relationship with Indigenous People including federal, provincial, municipal and band responsibilities.

POL-3415 (3) Indigenous Justice and Canadian Law (3 hrs Lecture) This foundational course explores Canadian and Indigenous law in Canada, issues related to legal compliance, and efforts to integrate and incorporate practices from both traditions towards a more effective and appropriate legal system in Canada.

POL-3439 (3) Politics in Manitoba (3 hrs Lecture) This course seeks to describe and explain changes in the political culture, political economy and political institutions of Manitoba. Topics may include different approaches to Manitoba politics; political parties in Manitoba; voting patterns in Manitoba; social class, ethnicity and cultures in Manitoba; federal-provincial relations and their impact upon Manitoba.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and POL-3432 | POL-4405 | POL-4430.

POL-3450 (3) Sustainability and Environmental Politics (3 hrs Lecture) In 1987 the concept of "sustainable development" was popularized by the Brundtland Commission's Report. Since that time, the term has been used and abused in a great variety of contexts worldwide. The course examines the measures and implications of this concept as it impinges on virtually every policy area in Canada. Specific areas to be examined may include, but will not be limited to, the following: Green politics and capitalism, Canadian Round Tables, values and sustainability, international impacts, urbanization, the welfare state, and the role of women.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and POL-3420.

POL-3452 (3) Gender Issues in Canadian Politics (3 hrs Lecture) This course provides an overview of issues facing women in Canadian politics. It begins with an understanding of the different types of feminism and explores feminist theory as an epistemology, an ideology and a social movement. Students then examine issues such as the backlash against feminism, the electoral project, women and public policy concerns and portrayals of women in the media. At the conclusion of the course, students are expected to be cognizant of the salient issues facing women in politics and have a broader understanding of feminist analysis.

POL-3455 (3) Politics and the Mass Media (3 hrs Lecture) This course introduces students to the study of politics and the mass media. Few Canadians actually have the opportunity to attend the machinations of politics first hand, and thus must rely on the mass media to provide them with information about what elected officials are saying and doing. News is constructed within the journalist paradigms and the delivery of news is highly mediated. This course examines what news is and how politicians are both manipulators of and manipulated by the news that's accessed daily.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and POL-3424.

POL-3460 (3) Provincial Politics in Canada (3 hrs Lecture) This course provides students with an appreciation of the importance of politics at the provincial level. Students explore issues of regionalism and federalism, while analyzing in a comparative manner the different political realities of each distinct province. What makes provincial politics in Manitoba different from provincial politics in BC or Quebec? What is the role of the provincial premier given the current state of federalism and the impact of globalization? These questions are examined in an effort to provide an understanding of the important and evolving role of the province in Canada.

Requisite Courses: POL-2400 (recommended prerequisite).

POL-3470 (3) Comparative Federalism and Multi-Level Governance (3 hrs Lecture) Most of the world's population live in a country which has multiple layers of government with policy responsibilities constitutionally divided between a national and regional political authorities. In the 21st century, issues of decentralization to regional governments, subsidiarity and local autonomy are argued to be significant to viable social, cultural and political development. This course comparatively analyses the many issues that animate governance in multi-level systems which will include actors, institutions and policy processes. Students investigate the politics of federalism and multi-level governance in jurisdictions such as Canada, the United States, Australia and the European Union.

POL-3500 (3) Globalization and City Politics (3 hrs Lecture) This course studies the process of globalization and its impact on urban politics. The growing power and world-wide mobility of corporations and money mean that important questions affecting cities are being decided in distant capitals. At the same time, national, provincial and local governments, as well as local communities, are responding to these developments. The course examines these political struggles.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and POL-3325.

POL-3510 (3) Interest Groups and New Social Movements (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines the roles of interest groups and social movements in influencing and shaping public policy. The course explores the concept of participation and representation by examining the organization of interests outside of mainstream political parties. The methods by which interest groups and social movements organize themselves, and, in particular, issues of democracy and accountability within these organizations, will be explored. Topics include theoretical perspectives on new social movements, as well as the experiences of workers' movements, women's movements, anti-poverty movements, environmental movements and the role of corporations and economic interest groups.

POL-3520 (3) Community Democracy in a Global Age (3 hrs Lecture) Our democratic institutions, for the most part inherited from the 19th century, are challenged in the 21st century by global markets and corporate mobility. This course explores the effect of globalization on our democratic institutions. While globalization may undermine our democratic institutions, social movements increasingly demand new forms of democratic practice. This course explores the claims of social movements for local/direct democracy and possible solutions to the "crisis" of democracy.

POL-3600 (6) Directed Readings (Directed Reading with variable meeting hours) A directed reading is an intensive course of study arranged in consultation with a departmental supervisor. It is open to third year General and third and fourth year Honours students. The program of reading and consultation is arranged by the supervisor and the student. The student is required to write a major paper and take an oral examination with a second reader present.

Restrictions: Instructor Permission Required.

POL-3605 (3) Directed Readings (Directed Reading with variable meeting hours) A directed reading is an intensive course of study arranged in consultation with a departmental supervisor. It is open to third year General and third and fourth year Honours students. The program of reading and consultation is arranged by the supervisor and the student. The student is required to write a major paper and take an oral examination with a second reader present.

Restrictions: Instructor Permission Required.

POL-4040 (3) Special Topics in Political Science (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This course considers selected topics in Political Science at an advanced level; as course content changes, students are encouraged to consult the Department of Political Science regarding potential offerings in a given year. This course may be repeated for credit when the topic varies.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

POL-4100 (3) Seminar in Global Politics (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This course involves an intensive and advanced study of selected contemporary issues in global politics. The course focuses on various theoretical approaches to the study of global politics and the application of some of these to an analysis of global politics. Students may not receive credit for both this course and the former POL-4123(3), POL-4145(6) or POL-4145(3).

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

Requisite Courses: POL-2100 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

POL-4105 (3) Seminar in Global Political Economy (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) Much scholarship and popular thinking on the Global Political Economy (GPE) frequently holds that it is something abstract and in the distance or operating on some level that we call the global. In this class, we interrogate such dispositions by considering how large scale structures of the GPE (possibly including, but not limited to, trade, finance, production and migration) and how particular localities, including Winnipeg, neighbourhoods, households, and various daily sites are "implicated in the global". What parts of our daily lives are affected by the GPE? What is our relationship with the GPE? How do we think of political and economic agency in a purportedly global age?

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and POL-4133.

Requisite Courses: POL-2100 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

POL-4106 (3) The Political Economy of Rising Non-Western States (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) In this course, students examine and consider the extent to which we are in the midst of a transition to a new global political economy, one in which rising non-Western states have increasing amounts of clout. Students consider what it has meant to develop outside of the global capitalist core historically, and whether patterns of development inherited from history have significance today. Finally, students consider the extent to which non-Western countries are building mechanisms that at the most challenge and at the least circumvent mechanisms associated with Western, if not American, aspirations to governing the global political economy since World War II.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

Requisite Courses: POL-2100 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

POL-4110 (3) Seminar in International Organization (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This course is a study of international institutions and the processes of international cooperation. Special emphasis is placed on the League of Nations; the United Nations Organization and its specialized agencies; and regional arrangements such as the European Economic Community, the Commonwealth and the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and POL-4134.

Requisite Courses: POL-2100 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

POL-4120 (3) Seminar in Canadian Foreign Policy (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This course examines specific areas of Canadian foreign policy. These may include, but are not limited to, policies related to trade and environment, development assistance, defence, refugees and immigration, or policies related to specific regions.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and POL-4142.

Requisite Courses: POL-2100 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

POL-4121 (3) Special Topics in Global Politics (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This course considers selected topics in Global Politics at an advanced level; as course content will vary, students are encouraged to consult the Department of Political Science regarding potential offerings in a given year. This course may be repeated for credit when the topic varies.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

Requisite Courses: POL-2100 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

POL-4200 (3) Feminist Political Thought (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This course is an inquiry into feminist political thought. It considers both historical and contemporary writers of importance to feminist political theory. The basic aims of the course are: first, to consider feminist political theory's critical perspective on the classical canon of political thought; and second, to discuss contemporary feminist political theories, including liberal, Marxist, gynocentric and postmodern feminist thinkers.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and POL-4236.

Requisite Courses: One 3 credit hour course in Area 2, Political Thought, or PHIL-2200 or WGS-3301 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

POL-4215 (6) Seminar in Political Thought (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines a range of current issues in political theory. Topics covered may include issues related to globalization, debates about multiculturalism, civil society, and the viability of democracy and sovereignty in the 21st century.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and POL-4216 | POL-4240.

Requisite Courses: One 3 credit hour course in Area 2, Political Thought, or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

POL-4216 (3) Special Topics in Political Theory (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This course examines a range of specialized issues in political theory. Depending on the instructor, topics covered may include Pierre Trudeau's political thought, Gramsci as a thinker, Hobbes's feminism, and/or globalization and inequality. This course can be repeated for credit when the topic varies. Where the subject matter of POL-3216 and POL-4216 is similar, students engage in higher and more intense research and study in POL-4216.

Restrictions: Department Chair Perm Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and POL-4215 | POL-4240.

POL-4220 (6) Liberty and Community in Modern Canadian Political Thought (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion)

This course examines the confluence and tension of freedom and community in the thought of six modern Canadian thinkers: Woodsworth, Scott, Trudeau, Macpherson, Taylor and Grant.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and POL-4239.

Requisite Courses: One 3 credit hour course in Area 2, Political Thought, or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

POL-4225 (6) Scope and Methods of Political Science

(3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) The course offers an analysis of the interrelationship among philosophy, theory and method in contemporary Politics. Emphasis in the course will be placed on the development of theoretical principles of political inquiry and the critical analysis of a variety of theoretical approaches commonly employed in Politics, such as behaviouralism, systems theory, class analysis, socialization theory and others.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and POL-4246.

Requisite Courses: One 3 credit hour course in Area 2, Political Thought, or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

POL-4301 (3 or 6) Administrative Foundations of the Public Sector (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion)

This course is an examination of the theoretical basis for the administrative state, including such problems as the relationship of political values to administrative decisions, the role of the career civil service in governmental policy formation, the relationship between administrative officials and private interest groups, and the protection of individual rights against administrative abuses. Attention is given to techniques and institutions designed to achieve democratic control of administrative action. Formerly titled: Administrative Theory.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

Requisite Courses: One 3 credit hour course in Area 3, Law, Public Policy and Administration or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

POL-4380 (6) Special Topics Seminar in Public Administration

(3 hrs Lecture) The course concentrates on a topic of primary relevance to students of public administration. Examples of such topics are the role of public bureaucracy in Canadian federalism, the regulatory process in Canada, the role of Crown corporations, issues in health care policy, public administration in Manitoba, and gender and public policy. The course may be repeated for credit when topic varies.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

POL-4385 (3) Special Topics in Public Administration

(3 hrs Lecture) The course concentrates on a topic of primary relevance to students of public administration. Examples of such topics are the role of public bureaucracy in Canadian federalism, the regulatory process in Canada, the role of Crown corporations, issues in health care policy, public administration in Manitoba, and gender and public policy. The course may be repeated for credit when the topic varies.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

POL-4400 (6) Seminar in Canadian Politics

(3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This seminar examines selected aspects of Canadian politics. These may include, but are not necessarily limited to political power, culture, ideologies, parties, institutions, political economy, the constitution, federalism, regionalism and Canada-US relations.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and POL-4420.

Requisite Courses: POL-2400 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

POL-4405 (6) Seminar in Manitoba Politics

(3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This course analyzes selected aspects of the political process and of public administration in the Province of Manitoba. Topics may include political party organization and ideology; public sector management; the politics and administration of northern development, social welfare, education, health care, and other issues of provincial importance. A seminar format will be adopted, and public officials will be invited to offer insights built on practical experience.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and POL-3432 | POL-3439 | POL-4430.

Requisite Courses: One 3 credit hour course from Area 4, Canadian and Comparative Politics, or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

POL-4410 (3) Seminar in Women in Politics

(3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) The course is an examination of the role of women in politics. It will concentrate on a particular aspect of political life such as women in revolution, women and electoral politics, feminist politics.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and POL-4431.

Requisite Courses: One 3 credit hour course from Area 4, Canadian and Comparative Politics, or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

POL-4415 (3 or 6) Political Economy and the State

(3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This course examines the role and function of the state and the economy in the contemporary age within what is commonly defined as the "nation state". Analysis extends beyond the national level. However, the course addresses other levels of governance such as local, indigenous, provincial, national, and pan-national forms. Drawing insights from a host of theoretical perspectives, particular attention is paid to the deeply embedded nature of the economy within the structures of the state, and conversely of the state within the economy. Formerly titled: State and Economy.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

Requisite Courses: One 3 credit hour course in Area 4, Canadian and Comparative Politics, or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

POL-4440 (6) Seminar in Indigenous Political Issues

(3 hrs Lecture) Current and ongoing issues directly affecting Indigenous people within the political context of Canada and Manitoba are explored throughout this seminar.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

Requisite Courses: One 3 credit hour course in Area 4, Canadian and Comparative Politics, or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

POL-4445 (3) The Politics of Racism in Canada (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This course explores the politics of race and racism in Canada. It examines the intersecting issues of race, gender, class, immigration/refugee status, and culture as they relate to state policy and governance. The course addresses a range of issues including official multiculturalism, citizenship, state violence, indigeneity and colonialism, and the increasing securitization of racialized immigration groups and refugees in the post-9/11 world. Understanding race and whiteness as a socially constructed system of power relations is the central focus of the course.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

POL-4505 (3) Politics of Urban Development (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) Urban development, understood as the growth and change of the urban built form and environment, has a tremendous impact on the lives and livelihoods of residents who reside in urban areas. As a result, urban development and planning is one of the most important policy areas for municipal government, and a significant source of political conflict at the local level. This course compares and contrasts the politics of urban development in cities in North America and abroad, by examining the forces (actors, institutions, and the economy) that shape the development and planning policies of cities.

Note: Students may not hold credit for this course and Graduate Studies courses GPOL-7335 and GPOL-7505.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and POL-4334.

Requisite Courses: One 3 credit hour course from Area 5, City and Community Politics, or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

POL-4515 (6) Inner City Seminar (3 hrs Lecture) This course seeks to explain the emergence and the character of inner cities, and to evaluate proposed solutions to inner city problems. Some attention is paid to the literature on American inner cities; we focus intensively on Winnipeg's inner city. The course features a 3 hour per week practicum requirement with an inner city community-based organization, and the conducting of original, primary research on an inner city topic.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

Requisite Courses: One 3 credit hour course in Area 5, City and Community Politics, or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

POL-4525 (3) Local Public Administration (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This course examines the processes of public administration at the local level and introduces students to the themes and challenges confronting leaders of local public administration in Canada. Topics covered in the class include the administration and institutional structures of municipalities and city regions, large public policy areas such as higher education, and the indigenous tradition of local public administration.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

POL-4600 (6) Directed Readings (Directed Reading with variable meeting hours) A directed reading is an intensive course of study arranged in consultation with a departmental supervisor. The department offers two options of course delivery. Option 1: A program of reading and consultation is arranged by the supervisor and the student. The student is required to write a major paper and take an oral examination with a second reader. Option 2: The directed reading is offered in conjunction with a 3000-level course. The student is normally required to attend classes. The evaluation structure may include participation marks, a seminar presentation, a test and/or final examination. A major paper is required.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Instructor Permission Required.

POL-4605 (3) Directed Readings (Directed Reading with variable meeting hours) A directed reading is an intensive course of study arranged in consultation with a departmental supervisor. The department offers two options of course delivery. Option 1: A program of reading and consultation is arranged by the supervisor and the student. The student is required to write a major paper and take an oral examination with a second reader. Option 2: The directed reading is offered in conjunction with a 3000-level course. The student is normally required to attend classes. The evaluation structure may include participation marks, a seminar presentation, a test and/or final examination. A major paper is required.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Instructor Permission Required.

POL-4610 (6) Honours Thesis (3 hrs Project / Thesis) Students enrolled in this course pursue a programme of independent research under the supervision of a faculty member. Students proposing to enrol in this course must consult a Department Honours advisor.

Note: Permission of the instructor is required.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

PORTUGUESE

PORT-1001 (6) Introductory Portuguese (3 hrs Lecture | 1 hrs Lab) This is designed for students who have little or no previous knowledge of Portuguese and who wish to acquire a solid base in the written and spoken language. An effort is made to place equal emphasis on reading, writing, aural comprehension and oral expression. To this end, one hour of language laboratory/small group supplements classroom work each week. Restriction: Native speakers of Portuguese are not eligible to take this course.

Requisite Courses: PORT-1001L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

PSYCHOLOGY

PSYC-1000 (6) Introductory Psychology (3 hrs Lecture)

This course provides an introduction to the scientific analysis of behaviour and mental activity from the biological, social, and individual perspectives. Major topics include the following: perception, motivation, learning, memory, intelligence, personality, states of consciousness, social interaction, developmental processes, hereditary and environmental influences, abnormal psychology, therapeutic methods, and procedures for collecting and summarizing data. Students are expected to participate directly or indirectly in the Department's ongoing research program. This course is prerequisite for all other Psychology courses.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and PSYC-1000/3 (transferred introductory course from another institution). Students may not hold credit for this course and PSYC-1001.

PSYC-2101 (3) Introduction to Data Analysis (3 hrs Lecture | 3 hrs Lab) This lab course introduces basic data analytic techniques appropriate to experimental and non-experimental research designs. Topics include frequency distributions, descriptive statistics (e.g., mean, standard deviations), and inferential statistics (e.g., estimation and hypothesis testing for means, correlation and count data). The lab component provides an opportunity to develop computational and basic computer skills relevant to data analysis. This course is required for Majors and Honours students in Psychology.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and STAT-1201 | STAT-1302 | STAT-1601 | STAT-2001.

Requisite Courses: PSYC-1000 [prerequisite(s)]; PSYC-2101L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

PSYC-2102 (3) Introduction to Research Methods (3 hrs Lecture | 3 hrs Lab) This lab course introduces basic research designs. Topics include observation and measurement, reliability and validity, balanced coverage of experimental and non-experimental design strategies, control of extraneous variables, generalizability, and research communication. The lab component provides an opportunity to apply knowledge to research experiences that sample from representative areas of psychology. This course is required for Majors and Honours students in Psychology.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and PSYC-2100.

Requisite Courses: PSYC-2101(3), or STAT-1302(3), or STAT-2001(3), or the former STAT-1201(6), or the former STAT-1601(3) [prerequisite(s)] [prerequisite(s)]; PSYC-2102L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

PSYC-2200 (3) Developmental Psychology I:

Fundamentals (3 hrs Lecture) This course, along with PSYC-3200(3), serves as an introduction to developmental psychology. This course covers the following topics: historical and philosophical background (e.g., the nativist-empiricist conflict), theories of development, the biological foundations of early ontogeny (i.e., heredity, conception, prenatal development, and early post-natal development of the nervous system), developmental methodology, and the basics of human perceptual and cognitive development. This is the single 3 credit hour course prerequisite for more advanced courses in the developmental area.

Requisite Courses: PSYC-1000 [prerequisite(s)].

PSYC-2210 (3) Introduction to Educational

Psychology (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines how the basic principles of psychology can be applied to educational research. Topics include heredity, environment, and maturation; motivation and learning; concept formation and creativity; teacher-student interactions; the school as a social system; and current technological advances in education.

Requisite Courses: PSYC-1000 [prerequisite(s)].

PSYC-2300 (3) Personality Psychology (3 hrs Lecture)

This course introduces the various aspects of personality study. These may include (a) theories of personality, ranging from Freudian and revisionist Freudian perspectives to current formulations; (b) personality assessment from a psychometric perspective; and (c) past and present research on personality processes and individual differences.

Requisite Courses: PSYC-1000 [prerequisite(s)].

PSYC-2400 (3) Social Psychology I (3 hrs Lecture)

This course emphasizes the social behaviour and cognitions of the individual in social context. Central topics dealt with from this perspective include social perception and impression formation; attitudes, beliefs, and values; prejudice and discrimination; and the formation and function of the social self. Other relevant topics include sex and gender roles and differences; moral judgment; social development, and social psychology applied to health, law, and justice. Theories and methodology relevant to this orientation and these topics will be examined.

Requisite Courses: PSYC-1000 [prerequisite(s)].

PSYC-2410 (3) Social Psychology II (3 hrs Lecture)

This course emphasizes the social behaviour that emerges in groups of individuals in various interrelationships in social contexts. The theory and method necessary to understanding the principles governing this emergent social behaviour are stressed. Central topics include group dynamics; affiliation, attraction, and close relationships; interpersonal communication and transactions; aggression; prosocial behaviour and altruism; leadership; social change and conflict; and conformity and social control. Other relevant topics include organizational psychology and environmental psychology.

Requisite Courses: PSYC-1000 and PSYC-2400 [prerequisite(s)].

PSYC-2420 (3) The Psychology of Sex and Gender (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines whether and to what extent behaviours and attributes are gender-and/or sex-related. The psychological literature is examined for findings pertinent to the question of female-male differences and similarities, and for indications of socio-cultural and biological factors that may explain these findings. Current social beliefs and norms concerning sex and gender are examined in the light of existing data.

Requisite Courses: PSYC-1000 [prerequisite(s)].

PSYC-2430 (3) Psychological Approaches to Social Issues (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines issues of social importance in light of psychological theory and research findings. To set the stage for understanding both sides of the issues, the course begins with a primer on the default settings that people typically apply to social issues that hinder open-minded discussion, and how to avoid them. The course then surveys pressing issues such as climate change, terrorism, racism, economic inequality, and artificial intelligence. The specific topics for a particular offering may be obtained in advance from the Department.
Requisite Courses: PSYC-1000 [prerequisite(s)].

PSYC-2600 (3) An Introduction to Cognitive Psychology (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines empirical and theoretical approaches to the study of human cognitive processes. Topics to be discussed include perception, attention, short- and long-term memory, semantic memory, language, and thinking. Demonstrations illustrating major principles and exercises for improving cognition are included.
Requisite Courses: PSYC-1000 [prerequisite(s)].

PSYC-2610 (3) Perception I (3 hrs Lecture) At the border between the physical world and the mind lie the senses. Exactly how the senses manage to gather information about the world is a difficult question that has long engaged physicists, physiologists, anatomists, psychologists, engineers, and computer scientists. This course surveys the results and theories of this interdisciplinary field. The course is valuable preparation for those interested in such areas as audiology, optometry, human factors engineering, medicine, and psychology.
Requisite Courses: PSYC-1000 [prerequisite(s)].

PSYC-2620 (3) Psycholinguistics (3 hrs Lecture) This course provides an examination of the various models and approaches to language behaviour, with particular emphasis on contemporary psycholinguistic theory and research. Topics include language acquisition, the physiological and cognitive processes mediating language behaviour, semantic considerations, symbolic behaviour, animal communication, and the cultural context of language. This course may be of particular interest to students anticipating graduate study in communication disorders and psycholinguistics.
Requisite Courses: PSYC-1000 [prerequisite(s)].

PSYC-2700 (3) Introduction to Clinical Psychology (3 hrs Lecture) This course will provide a comprehensive introduction to the broad field of clinical psychology. There will be a focus on models of clinical psychology, clinical research and practice, clinical judgement, and ethical, professional, and political issues related to the discipline.
Requisite Courses: PSYC-1000 [prerequisite(s)].

PSYC-2800 (3) Fundamentals of Animal Learning (3 hrs Lecture) Contemporary approaches to the study of animal learning will be considered in order to highlight changes in perspectives occurring over the last fifteen years. Areas explored include animal cognition, evolutionary continuity of learning, and the application of learning principles to aid the understanding of clinical phenomena such as pain sensitivity and drug tolerance.

Requisite Courses: PSYC-1000 [prerequisite(s)].

PSYC-2900 (3) Physiological Psychology I (3 hrs Lecture | 3 hrs Lab) This course is an introduction to the physiological determinants of behaviour. The development, structure, and function of the nervous and endocrine systems are considered in detail. Topics to be covered include the brain bases of sensory, motor, and cognitive processes.
Requisite Courses: PSYC-1000 [prerequisite(s)]; PSYC-2900L (must be taken concurrently).

PSYC-2920 (3) Drugs and Behaviour (3 hrs Lecture) An examination of the physiological means through which drugs exert their effects on behaviour will constitute the core of this course. Topics covered include the assessment of behavioural drug effects, the basic structure and function of the nervous system, and the general principles of pharmacology.
Requisite Courses: PSYC-1000 [prerequisite(s)].

PSYC-3050 (3) Culture and Psychology (3 hrs Lecture) This course will examine research findings, theory, and methods related to the study of human behaviour and experience as a function of culture. Culture will be interpreted to include ethnicity and social class, but may also include other societal factors that have a similarly broad effect. We will examine the influence of culture on such domains as basic perceptual and cognitive processes, human development and family processes, and issues in social, personality, clinical, and abnormal psychology. Specific methodological and theoretical issues, such as proposals for indigenous theories and methods, will also be considered.
Requisite Courses: At least 3 credit hours in Psychology beyond the 1000 level or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

PSYC-3200 (3) Developmental Psychology II: Childhood (3 hrs Lecture) This course complements PSYC-2200(3) as the second part of an introduction to developmental psychology. The emphasis here is on theory and research on children. Topics covered will include personality and social development, as well as areas of study that will vary from offering to offering of the course (e.g., perceptual and cognitive development beyond the basics offered in PSYC-2200(3), language, intelligence, abnormal development).
Requisite Courses: PSYC-2200 [prerequisite(s)].

PSYC-3220 (3) Adult Psychology (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines theoretical views, research methodology, and research evidence pertaining to human functioning during adulthood and aging. In addition to examining basic processes such as memory and learning, attention will be given to such topics as job selection, marriage, retirement, life satisfaction, and death and dying.
Requisite Courses: PSYC-2200 [prerequisite(s)].

PSYC-3230 (3) Adolescent Psychology (3 hrs Lecture)

This course examines contemporary data and theory concerning the nature of adolescence. Topics to be covered include: definition and history of theory and research on adolescence; family power structure; parent-peer cross-pressure; sex role development; identification; cognitive development; and the youth culture.

Requisite Courses: PSYC-2200 [prerequisite(s)].

PSYC-3450 (3) Organizational Leadership and Decision Making (3 hrs Lecture) This course provides an in-depth survey of research and theory about leadership and decision making in organizations. Power, trait, behavioral, contingency-based, social exchange and transformational models of organizational leadership are examined. Additional topics include leadership styles for effective group decision making, ethics in leadership, and the impact of gender and culture on leadership.

Requisite Courses: PSYC-2400 or PSYC-2440 or BUS-2103 [prerequisite(s)].

PSYC-3470 (3) Forensic Psychology (3 hrs Lecture)

This course examines ways that psychological principles can inform understand of and practices in the criminal justice system (i.e., law enforcement, courts, corrections). Topics to be covered include: detection of deception, eyewitness testimony, legal decision-making, juries, mental illness in court, risk assessment, psychopathology, and corrections. Research on psychological factors in the criminal justice system and field practices are emphasized.

Cross-listed: CJ-3470(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and CJ-3470.

Requisite Courses: CJ-2101, or SOC-2125 and SOC-2126, or PSYC-2101 and PSYC-2102, or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

PSYC-3480 (3) Interpersonal Communication (3 hrs

Lecture) This course emphasizes the multilevel communication processes that underlie and support social interaction and relationship formation and change. Special attention is given to the differences and connections between verbal and nonverbal communication and to the rules and rituals of social interaction in everyday life. The methodologies basic to the understanding of communication processes are also stressed.

Requisite Courses: PSYC-2400 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

PSYC-3490 (3) The Psychology of Close

Relationships (3 hrs Lecture) Close stable relationships are fundamental to individual human development and functioning as well as to social cohesion. This course examines the special theoretical and methodological requirements for studying the formation and enactment of close relationships, paying attention to such examples as infant-caregiver interaction, family relations, friendship, love and commitment, conflict and cooperation, and mentor-protégée relationships.

Requisite Courses: PSYC-2410/3, Social Psychology II [prerequisite(s)].

PSYC-3600 (3) Cognitive Processes (3 hrs Lecture)

This course introduces the interdisciplinary area of cognitive science, which integrates cognitive psychology, computer science, robotics, and linguistics. Alternative approaches to cognition are considered, including traditional cognitive models, connectionism, and embodied cognition. The course examines the philosophical and historical foundations of each approach, strengths and weaknesses of each, and relevant empirical results on memory, categorization, perception, language, and other cognitive phenomena.

Requisite Courses: PSYC-2600 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

PSYC-3700 (3) Abnormal Behaviour in Adults (3 hrs

Lecture) This course will provide information important to the understanding of psychopathologies that occur in adulthood. Various perspectives (e.g., genetic/biological, social, etc.) and theories (e.g., behavioural, cognitive, psychodynamic, etc.) of abnormal behaviour will be discussed. A major emphasis will be placed on current research in understanding psychopathology.

Requisite Courses: PSYC-2102 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

PSYC-3710 (3) Abnormal Behavior Children and Adolescents (3 hrs Lecture) This course will provide information important to the understanding of psychopathologies that occur during childhood and adolescence. Various perspectives (e.g., genetic/biological, social, etc.) and theories (e.g., behavioural, cognitive, psychodynamic, etc.) of abnormal behaviour will be discussed. A major emphasis will be placed on current research in understanding psychopathology that occurs during childhood and adolescence.

Requisite Courses: PSYC-2200 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

PSYC-3720 (3) Behaviour Modification (3 hrs Lecture)

This course deals with the application of the principles of conditioning theory to the teaching and modification of human behaviour.

Requisite Courses: PSYC-1000 [prerequisite(s)].

PSYC-3740 (3) Introduction to Family Processes (3 hrs Lecture) This course will cover the theoretical aspects of family processes. Emphasis will be given to various theoretical formulations of family dynamics and treatment strategies. The use of family therapy for the treatment of various disorders will be discussed and compared to individual treatment approaches.

Requisite Courses: PSYC-1000 [prerequisite(s)].

PSYC-3790 (3) Applied Psychology (3 hrs Lecture) This course provides the necessary background for students intending to conduct work in applied settings in psychology. The course focuses on professional and ethical issues and is required for the Certificate in Applied Psychology. It covers principles of community psychology using an ecological perspective, including topics such as wellness, prevention, policy and system change, research design, and program evaluation.

Restrictions: Department Permission Required.

Requisite Courses: PSYC-2102(3) [prerequisite(s)].

PSYC-3830 (3) Genes, Evolution, and Behaviour 1 (3 hrs Lecture) This course provides an introduction to the study of behaviour from the point of view of genetic inheritance and evolution. Emphasis is placed on the ways in which genetic analysis can help us to understand the interplay between the environment and genes in the determination of behaviour. Topics include genetic defects and chromosomal anomalies, classical ethology, population genetics, heritability estimation, and that aspect of population ethology known as sociobiology.

Requisite Courses: PSYC-1000 [prerequisite(s)].

PSYC-3900 (3) Physiological Psychology II (3 hrs Lecture | 3 hrs Lab) This course is a continued study of the structure and function of the nervous system with an emphasis on the physiological and neurological processes underlying regulatory, instinctual, and social behaviour in animals and humans, and on brain systems involved in learning and memory. Laboratories focus on research techniques in neuroscience, including neuroanatomy, histology, electrophysiology, and neuroimaging.

Requisite Courses: PSYC-2900 [prerequisite(s)]; PSYC-3900L (must be taken concurrently).

PSYC-3910 (3) Human Neuropsychology (3 hrs Lecture) The course assumes basic knowledge of neuroanatomy and focuses on the understanding of neural function provided by a study of congenital malformation of structure, brain disease, and behavioural loss. Topics include the following: developmental anomalies and associated behaviours; plasticity and recovery of function following insult or disease; localization of function; hemispheric specialization; epilepsy. Although not a prerequisite, Human Neuropsychology would be especially useful as a background for all the following courses: PSYC-2600(3), PSYC-3600(3), and PSYC-4600(3).

Requisite Courses: PSYC-2900 [prerequisite(s)].

PSYC-3920 (3) Cognitive Neuroscience (3 hrs Lecture | 3 hrs Lab) This course provides an introduction to the field of cognitive neuroscience, the study of the neural substrates underlying cognitive functions. The course will examine the cognitive functions performed by all of the major brain areas, including memory, language, movement, emotion, and decision-making. Specific emphasis will be placed on understanding how different brain systems interact in order to support complex cognitive behaviours. The course is expected to provide a strong foundation in the converging fields of cognitive psychology and neuroscience; laboratories are expected to provide the research skills necessary to test the cognitive functions discussed during lectures.

Requisite Courses: PSYC-2900 [prerequisite(s)]; PSYC-3920L (must be taken concurrently).

PSYC-3930 (3) Mind, Brain, and Body (3 hrs Lecture) This course explores the new fields of psychoneuroimmunology and positive psychology examining how the brain and the body are influenced by psychological phenomena. Conversely, bodily states can influence and even trigger disorders of the mind. The course focuses on the physical and psychological consequences of stress and adversity and on different means of maximizing resilience and minimizing harm. Important amongst the psychological means of promoting health are the techniques being developed as part of positive psychology. Positive psychology fosters psychological and, reciprocally, physical health by promoting and strengthening positive (parasympathetic) emotions, fostering active engagement, and identifying meaningful activity.

Requisite Courses: PSYC-2101 and PSYC-2102 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)]; PSYC-2900 (recommended to be taken previously or at the same time as this course).

PSYC-4010 (3) Advanced Readings and Research in Psychology I (3 hrs Directed Reading) This course allows students to engage in specialized readings and/or research of their own choice under the direction of a member of the Department of Psychology. Normally only subject matter not covered in an available course will be selected. Prior to registering for this course, a student must select an Advisor, prepare an Instructor-approved course of study, and submit the course of study for review by the Psychology Honours Committee. Forms are available from the Department of Psychology outlining this procedure. Registration will not continue without the completed forms. Restrictions: Department Permission Required. Requisite Courses: PSYC-4100 [prerequisite(s)].

PSYC-4020 (3) Advanced Readings and Research in Psychology II (3 hrs Directed Reading) This course allows students to engage in specialized readings and/or research of their own choice under the direction of a member of the Department of Psychology. Normally only subject matter not covered in an available course will be selected. Prior to registering for this course, a student must select an Advisor, prepare an Instructor-approved course of study, and submit the course of study for review by the Psychology Honours Committee. Forms are available from the Department of Psychology outlining this procedure. Registration will not continue without the completed forms. Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Requisite Courses: PSYC-4010 [prerequisite(s)].

PSYC-4025 (3) Topics in Psychology (3 hrs Lecture) This course studies specific topics in Psychology at an advanced level. Students should consult with the department regarding potential offerings in a given year. Potential topics include: Psychology and the Arts, Reading Development and Dyslexia, Aggression and Violence, Political Psychology. This course may be repeated for credit when the topic varies.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Instructor Permission Required.

Requisite Courses: PSYC-2102 [prerequisite(s)].

PSYC-4030 (3) Psychological Issues in Historical Perspective (3 hrs Lecture) This course deals systematically with selected theoretical and methodological issues common to contemporary psychology and its recent history. In any given year, consideration will be restricted to one or two major issues to be dealt with at an advanced level. The issues selected will be made known to students in advance registration.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

Requisite Courses: PSYC-2102 [prerequisite(s)].

PSYC-4040 (6) Honours Thesis (3 hrs Lecture) To complete the Honours degree each student must satisfactorily complete before the end of their Honours program and after taking PSYC-4100, a program of research under the supervision of at least two faculty members. Students wishing to enrol in this course should consult with the Department of Psychology.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

Requisite Courses: PSYC-4100 or permission of Psychology Honours Committee [prerequisite(s)].

PSYC-4100 (6) Intermediate Research Design and Data Analysis (3 hrs Lecture | 3 hrs Lab) This lab course extends the basic research and data analysis methods introduced in 2101(3) and 2102(3). Topics in this course include intermediate research methods (e.g. computer-aided research design and literature search, construct validity), intermediate data analysis methods (e.g., analysis of variance and partial/multiple correlation techniques for selected experimental and non-experimental designs), and current issues in social science methodology. The lab component provides opportunities to design, execute, analyze, and report the results of behavioural research, and emphasizes the use of computers in research design and data analysis (e.g., the use of such statistical packages as BMDP, SAS, and SPSS). This course is required of all students in the Psychology Honours program.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

Requisite Courses: PSYC-2102 [prerequisite(s)]; PSYC-4100L (must be taken concurrently).

PSYC-4200 (3) Topics in Developmental Psychology (3 hrs Lecture) This course will examine selected topics in Developmental Psychology not covered by PSYC-4240(3) Social Development and PSYC-4250(3) Cognitive Development. The exact topic(s) covered will be determined by the instructor and may vary from year to year.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

Requisite Courses: PSYC-2200 [prerequisite(s)].

PSYC-4240 (3) Social Development (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines theory and research concerning social development from birth to adolescence. It includes topics such as attachment, sense of self, peer relations, play, aggression, prosocial development, moral development, family and other socialization influences, and gender role development.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

Requisite Courses: PSYC-2102 and PSYC-2200 [prerequisite(s)].

PSYC-4250 (3) Cognitive Development (3 hrs Lecture) This course introduces the student to contemporary research in areas such as memory, language, and logical thinking, that comprise the psychological study of mental growth from birth to adulthood.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

Requisite Courses: PSYC-2102 and either PSYC-2200 or PSYC-2600 [prerequisite(s)].

PSYC-4300 (3) Topics in Personality (3 hrs Lecture) This course will examine selected topics in personality theory and/or research. The exact topic(s) covered will be determined by the Instructor and may vary from year to year.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

Requisite Courses: PSYC-2300 or PSYC-3300 [prerequisite(s)].

PSYC-4350 (3) Freud: on Personality and Clinical Practice (3 hrs Lecture) This course, together with its sequel (PSYC-4355(3)), presents most of Sigmund Freud's psychological writing as it appears in the definitive English text, The Standard Edition. This first half covers Freud's theory of personality, including his concepts of the unconscious, infantile sexuality, the Oedipus complex, and dream interpretation. The course focuses on Freud's earlier writings and on the case studies of Dora, Little Hans, Rat Man, and Schreber.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

Requisite Courses: PSYC-2102 [prerequisite(s)].

PSYC-4355 (3) Freud: on Society and Culture (3 hrs Lecture) This course, the complement to PSYC-4350(3), is the second half of a survey of Sigmund Freud's work as it appears in The Standard Edition. The concern here is with the social theories Freud developed during the second half of his career. The major writings covered will be Totem and Taboo, The Future of an Illusion, Civilization and Its Discontents, Group Psychology and the Analysis of the Ego, Moses and Monotheism, and the case study of the Wolf Man. A principle theme of these works is the proposition that civilization relies, somewhat precariously, on a renunciation of instinct. While stressing the large titles listed above, the course follows the idea of instinctual ambivalence through various of Freud's shorter writings on sexuality (e.g., "Civilized sexual morality and modern nervous illness") and on literature and art (e.g., "Dostoevsky and parricide").

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

Requisite Courses: PSYC-2102 [prerequisite(s)].

PSYC-4400 (3) Topics in Social Psychology (3 hrs Lecture) This course is designed for the student who has some background in social psychology and wants to become acquainted with ongoing areas of social psychological research. Several topics will be investigated in depth, and these may vary from year to year. Topics might include prejudice and attitude change, the effects of media, gender roles, interpersonal attraction, aggression, or others. This course may be repeated for credit when the topic varies.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

Requisite Courses: PSYC-2410 [prerequisite(s)].

PSYC-4410 (3) Research Seminar in Social Psychology (3 hrs Lecture) This course is designed for the student who has some background in social psychology and methodology and wants to pursue some aspect of it in depth. Each year the course will focus on a particular broad theoretical or applied area of social psychology (e.g., social cognition, group processes, interpersonal relationships) and students will pursue individual projects from within that area. Through exposure to these individual projects and a core of assigned readings, students will attempt to develop an understanding of the theoretical and methodological issues that are important to the development of research in the chosen area of social psychology.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

Requisite Courses: PSYC-2410 and PSYC-4100 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

PSYC-4600 (3) Topics in Human Learning and Memory

(3 hrs Lecture) This course examines current research and theory in human learning and memory, with a particular emphasis on the historical development of issues in this area. The range of topics will vary depending on the interests of students.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

Requisite Courses: PSYC-2600 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

PSYC-4610 (3) Topics in Perception (3 hrs Lecture) A research-based course consisting of lectures, demonstrations, and seminars on special topics relating to sensory and perceptual mechanisms in humans and non-humans. The range of topics will vary, depending on particular interests of students and current interests of the instructor.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

Requisite Courses: PSYC-2610 [prerequisite(s)]; PSYC-3611 (recommended prerequisite).

PSYC-4630 (3) Topics in Cognitive Psychology (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines a specific theoretical or applied topic in cognitive psychology. Sample topics might include: memory development, inhibitory mechanisms in cognition, cognitive psychology in education, and cognitive retraining after head injury. Please consult the Psychology Department for the current topic. This course may be repeated for credit when the topic varies.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

Requisite Courses: PSYC-2600 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

PSYC-4700 (3) Topics in Abnormal Behaviour (3 hrs Lecture) This is an advanced level course in abnormal psychology. The focus of the course is on recent research related to theories and mechanisms of abnormal behaviour. Topics include factors related to the development, maintenance, and treatment of abnormal behaviour in children and adults.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

Requisite Courses: PSYC-2102 [prerequisite(s)].

PSYC-4730 (3) Biological Considerations in Clinical Psychology (3 hrs Lecture) This course will deal with the biological bases of several psychological disorders. In addition, the various psychotherapeutic and pharmacological treatments are discussed and compared. Topics may include disorders such as alcoholism, anorexia nervosa, mania, depression, schizophrenia, Parkinsonism, Huntington's Chorea, and Alzheimer's disease.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

Requisite Courses: PSYC-2102 [prerequisite(s)].

PSYC-4750 (3) Psychological Testing

(3 hrs Lecture) This course is designed to present the basic concepts of psychological assessment and deals with the theory, construction and use of psychological tests, especially as it relates to clinical assessment. Material presented may include personality, vocational and cognitive assessment techniques.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

Requisite Courses: PSYC-2102 and PSYC-2300 [prerequisite(s)].

PSYC-4800 (3) Animal Cognition (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines cognitive and emotional processes in non-human animals, such as episodic memory, interval timing, numerical ability, concept learning, tool use, communication, learned helplessness, empathy, prosocial behavior, self-control, and perspective-taking. The neural and evolutionary basis of animal cognition is discussed.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

Requisite Courses: PSYC-2800 or BIOL-2451 and PSYC-1000 [prerequisite(s)].

PSYC-4820 (3) Neuroscience of Addiction and Fear (2 hrs Lecture | 2 hrs Lab) This course focuses on the link between neural mechanisms in the brain and behavior. Topics include how rewards, particularly drugs of abuse, change the brain, and how circuits in the brain permit humans and nonhumans to learn about and avoid potential dangers. Laboratories in the course employ computer aided simulations of the effects of brain lesions and localized drug infusions on the acquisition and extinction of fear learning in a fictional rat.

Note: PSYC-3900(3) or PSYC-3920(3) is recommended but not required.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

Requisite Courses: One of PSYC-2800, PSYC-2900, or PSYC-2920 [prerequisite(s)]; PSYC-3900 or PSYC-3920 is recommended but not required (recommended to be taken previously or at the same time as this course); PSYC-4820L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

PSYC-4830 (3) Genes, Evolution, and Behaviour II (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This course provides advanced study behaviour from the point of view of genetic inheritance and evolution. Emphasis is placed on the ways in which genetic analysis can help us to understand the interplay between the environment and genes in the determination of behaviour. Specific topics to be investigated and presented by students include genetic defects and chromosomal anomalies, classical ethology, population genetics, heritability estimation, and that aspect of population ethology known as sociobiology.

Note: PSYC-3830 or BIOL-2301 recommended.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

Requisite Courses: PSYC-2102 [prerequisite(s)]; Note: BIOL-2301 or PSYC-3830 is recommended (recommended to be taken previously or at the same time as this course).

PSYC-4900 (3) Topics in Physiological Psychology (3 hrs Lecture) This course in physiological psychology examines research findings in a selected topic. Topics vary and may include either human or nonhuman research.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

Requisite Courses: PSYC-2900 and one of PSYC-3900, PSYC-3910, or PSYC-3920 [prerequisite(s)].

PSYC-4920 (3) Topics in Cognitive Neuroscience (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines a specific theoretical or applied topic in cognitive psychology. Sample topics might include: memory development, inhibitory mechanisms in cognition, cognitive psychology in education, and cognitive retraining after head injury. Please consult the Psychology Department for the current topic. This course may be repeated for credit when the topic varies.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

Requisite Courses: PSYC-2900 and PSYC-3920 [prerequisite(s)].

RADIATION THERAPY

CCMB-2520 (3) Physics of Radiation Therapy (3 hrs Lecture) This series of lectures is designed to provide the student radiation therapist with a fundamental understanding of the physical nature of both photons and electrons and specifically the manner in which they interact with an absorbing/scattering medium. The concepts presented in this series will enhance the student's ability to make decisions regarding clinical radiation therapy treatments.

Requisite Courses: Admission to the Radiation Therapy Program, PHYS-1301, STAT-1501, or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)]; CCMB-2903 (must be taken previously or at the same time as this course).

CCMB-2540 (3) Radiation Protection, Health Physics & Quality (3 hrs Lecture) This course reviews the fundamental concepts which are used to minimize risk when working with sources of ionizing radiation, with emphasis on the application of these concepts to radiation therapy. Topics covered include: types and sources of radiation, radiation quantities and units, biological effects and potential risk, basic principles of protection, regulation and dose limits, methods of dose monitoring, and application in radiation therapy. Students learn about the concept of quality processes in radiation therapy planning and delivery; and advances used to improve the delivery of healthcare.

Requisite Courses: Admission to the Radiation Therapy Program, CCMB-2520, or permission of the instructor (must be taken previously or at the same time as this course).

CCMB-2550 (3) Technology and Biology in Radiation Therapy (3 hrs Lecture) In this course we discuss the design and function of clinical equipment, basic principles of imaging modalities and criteria for use as they relate to radiation therapy. Practical reinforcements of principles are provided in a lab setting. The fundamental concepts of radiation biology are described at the cellular and patient levels. Students are introduced to theories of how radiation interacts with cells and tissues, what impact radiation has on organisms and the human body, and how to best achieve treatment goals.

Requisite Courses: Admission to the Radiation Therapy Program, CCMB-2520 and PHYS-2503 [prerequisite(s)]; CCMB-2912 and CCMB-2913 (must be taken previously or at the same time as this course).

CCMB-2560 (3) Advances in Radiation Therapy (Seminar/Discussion with variable meeting hours) Radiation biology concepts are expanded on from prior knowledge and applied to clinical practice; students gain further insight into ways to exploit cellular differences in healthy cells so as to increase the likelihood of tumor eradication. Additional technical, imaging and treatment practices are examined and discussed in terms of current practice and developing technology. Students are encouraged to critically appraise literature and synthesize information related to clinical practices.

Requisite Courses: Admission to the Radiation Therapy Program, CCMB-2904 and CCMB-2911 [prerequisite(s)]; CCMB-3934 (must be taken concurrently).

CCMB-2901 (3) Professional Practice and Patient Care in Radiation Therapy I (3 hrs Lecture) This course focuses on the practice of radiation therapy within the health care environment. It provides the student with the knowledge and skills to practice competently and empathetically in a radiation therapy department. Topics include: health care systems, infection prevention and control, patient assessment (including problem solving and critical thinking), psychosocial aspects of caring for cancer patients and their families, patient education (theory and practice), and site related side effects of cancer treatment (primarily radiation therapy). The lab component of this course provides the student with hands-on experience allowing them to relate the didactic material to simulated clinical situations.

Requisite Courses: Admission to the Radiation Therapy Program, BIOL-1112, SOC-1100, SOC-1102, CCMB-2902, and CPR First Aid [prerequisite(s)]; CCMB-2912 (must be taken previously or at the same time as this course).

CCMB-2902 (3) Clinical Radiation Oncology I (3 hrs Lecture) This course introduces the fundamental concepts, supporting the use of radiation in the treatment of disease. It includes etiological and epidemiological aspects, the value of early diagnosis, the biological and pathological aspects of cancer in the human body, the principles of radiobiology and general management of patients with malignant disease. Students are introduced to the clinical presentation of cancer, routes of spread, the management of major tumor sites, focusing on the use of radiation therapy in both a palliative and curative role. The lab component of this course provides the student with hands-on experience allowing them to relate the didactic material to simulated clinical situations.

Requisite Courses: Admission to the Radiation Therapy Program and BIOL-1112 [prerequisite(s)]; CCMB-2903 (must be taken concurrently).

CCMB-2903 (3) Treatment Planning and Dosimetry I (3 hrs Lecture) The goal is to provide the student with the necessary mathematical and technical skills, as well as the attitudes, which are required in the planning process. Because of the dangers inherent in the use of ionizing radiation the student must be knowledgeable of the various factors which need to be considered when using radiation for treatment. This course provides the basic information required to correctly calculate treatment parameters and accurately plan radiation treatments for patients. The lab component of this course provides the student with hands-on experience allowing them to relate the didactic material to simulated clinical situations.

Requisite Courses: Admission to the Radiation Therapy Program, PHYS-1301, BIOL-1112 [prerequisite(s)]; CCMB-2902 and CCMB-2520 (must be taken concurrently).

CCMB-2904 (3) Clinical Education I (Apprenticeship/Internship/Practicum with variable meeting hours) Students will apply basic concepts of radiation therapy to the planning and delivery of treatment. Opportunities to plan and deliver treatment, as well as to interact with patients; will be provided. This clinical is an orientation to the profession of radiation therapy, and is conducted under the supervision of a registered radiation therapist (R.T.T.). The focus will be on assessment, evaluation, communication, and application of theory to clinical practice.

Requisite Courses: Admission to the Radiation Therapy Program, CCMB-2901, CCMB-2912, CCMB-2913, CCMB-2550 [prerequisite(s)]; CCMB-2911 (must be taken concurrently).

CCMB-2911 (3) Professional Practice and Patient Care in Radiation Therapy II (3 hrs Lecture) This course builds on Professional Practice and Patient Care in Radiation Therapy I (CCMB 2901). Topics include: self-care and professional growth, professional and therapeutic communications, professionalism, advanced practices in patient assessment, providing a safe environment for ourselves and our patients, societal diversity and cultural awareness, complementary and alternative medicine, supportive care, and legal and ethics issues in health care. The lab component of this course provides the student with hands-on experience allowing them to relate the didactic material to simulated clinical situations.

Requisite Courses: Admission to the Radiation Therapy Program, CCMB-2901, CCMB-2912, CCMB-2913, CCMB-2550, CCMB-2540 [prerequisite(s)]; CCMB-2904 (must be taken concurrently).

CCMB-2912 (3) Clinical Radiation Oncology II (3 hrs Lecture) This course builds upon the knowledge and skills acquired in Clinical Radiation Oncology I. The course continues to focus on cancer, with emphasis on clinical presentation, routes of spread and the management of major tumor sites in both adults and children. Considerable time is spent on treatment techniques and sequelae of treatment, which enhances the student's critical thinking skills as it relates to a variety of scenarios. Students will also gain an understanding of systemic radiation therapy treatment and the role of radiation therapy in the treatment of benign disease. The lab component of this course provides the student with hands-on experience allowing them to relate the didactic material to simulated clinical situations.

Requisite Courses: Admission to the Radiation Therapy Program, CCMB-2902 [prerequisite(s)]; CCMB-2901, CCMB-2550 and CCMB-2913 (must be taken previously or at the same time as this course).

CCMB-2913 (3) Treatment Planning and Dosimetry II (3 hrs Lecture) A continuation of Treatment Planning and Dosimetry I, this course focuses on the application of previously learned information. The course will actively encourage and provide opportunity for the student to apply knowledge in other related areas to the skilled and accurate planning of treatment. Treatment plans will be designed combining technical aspects (such as 3D conformal & intensity modulated planning, 3D imaging, adjacent fields, electron therapy, & brachytherapy planning), with the specific needs of the patient. In order to enhance learning, students will be encouraged to critique a variety of treatment plans, both as a method of evaluating their own work in terms of accuracy, efficiency, and feasibility; and as a quality assurance tool, promoting excellence in the field of radiation therapy. The lab component of this course provides the student with hands-on experience allowing them to relate the didactic material to simulated clinical situations.

Requisite Courses: CCMB-2912 and CCMB-2550 (must be taken concurrently); Admission to the Radiation Therapy Program and CCMB-2903 [prerequisite(s)].

CCMB-3901 (3) Directed Studies I (Directed Reading with variable meeting hours) This course is structured to provide a learner-centered environment and is intended to build on previous courses specific to radiation therapy and supporting students in understanding clinical oncology concepts of specified malignant conditions. This knowledge will enhance the student's problem solving and decision making capabilities and support the student's ability to perform in the clinical radiation therapy environment as they develop as Radiation Therapists.

Requisite Courses: Admission to the Radiation Therapy Program, CCMB-3914 [prerequisite(s)]; CCMB-3924 (must be taken concurrently).

CCMB-3903 (3) Directed Studies II (3 hrs Directed Reading Seminar/Discussion with variable meeting hours) Affiliations are scheduled in a number of areas within CCMB as well as other relevant areas (e.g., diagnostic radiography, MRI, US). An independent learning project, researching a topic of special interest to the student and culminating in a paper of not less than 3000 words must be submitted. Competency Based examinations assess both the cognitive (knowledge, application and critical thinking) and affective domains of learning related to Radiation Therapy practice.

Requisite Courses: Admission to the Radiation Therapy Program, CCMB-3901, CCMB-3924 [prerequisite(s)].

CCMB-3914 (6) Clinical Education II (Apprenticeship/Internship/Practicum with variable meeting hours) Students will apply concepts of radiation therapy to clinical practice under the supervision of a registered radiation therapist (R.T.T.). The focus will be on the planning and delivery of radiation treatment, as well as assessment, communication, and teaching skills. Opportunities to problem solve through applications of knowledge to the clinical situation, will be provided.

Requisite Courses: Admission to the Radiation Therapy Program, CCMB-2911, CCMB-2912, CCMB-2913, CCMB-2540, CCMB-2550 [prerequisite(s)].

CCMB-3924 (6) Clinical Education III (Apprenticeship/Internship/Practicum with variable meeting hours) The student is assigned to a variety of clinical areas, with the majority of time spent in the planning and delivery of treatment. Students continue to apply fundamental concepts of radiation therapy to the care of cancer patients of all ages, and their families, during the time in which they are undergoing radiation therapy. The focus is on the critical thinking, communication skills, team work, and advocacy. The level of clinical responsibilities is increased as the student performs competencies under the supervision of a registered radiation therapist (R.T.T.).

Requisite Courses: Admission to the Radiation Therapy

Program, CCMB-3914 [prerequisite(s)]; CCMB-3901 (must be taken concurrently).

CCMB-3934 (6) Clinical Education IV

(Apprenticeship/Internship/Practicum with variable meeting hours) Students apply fundamental concepts of radiation therapy, mainly in planning and delivery of care to cancer patients of all ages, and their families, during the time in which the patient is undergoing treatment. The level of clinical responsibilities is increased as students perform competencies under the supervision of a registered radiation therapist (R.T.T.). The clinical practice outcomes of this course begin to integrate the professional responsibilities of an RTT in the domains of cognitive, psychomotor, and affective skills. Students are required to attend the Western Manitoba Cancer Centre in Brandon for a minimum 2 week rotation.

Requisite Courses: Admission to the Radiation Therapy Program, CCMB-3924 [prerequisite(s)]; CCMB-2560 (must be taken concurrently).

CCMB-3944 (6) Advanced Clinical Education V

(Apprenticeship/Internship/Practicum with variable meeting hours) The student continues to apply concepts of radiation therapy, in planning and delivery of care to cancer patients and their families, during the time in which the patient is undergoing treatment. The level of clinical responsibilities and complexity is increased from Clinical Education IV as the student performs competencies under the supervision of a registered radiation therapist (R.T.T.). The clinical practice outcomes of this course correlate with the entry-level professional responsibilities of an RTT in the domains of cognitive, psychomotor, and affective skills. Students are required to attend at the Western Manitoba Cancer Centre in Brandon for a minimum 2 week rotation.

Requisite Courses: Admission to the Radiation Therapy Program, CCMB-3934 [prerequisite(s)]; CCMB-4902 (must be taken concurrently).

CCMB-4902 (3) Independent Studies (9 hrs Directed Reading Seminar/Discussion with variable meeting hours) This course is structured to provide a learner-centered environment and is intended to build on previous courses specific to radiation therapy and supporting students in understanding clinical oncology concepts of specified malignant, non-malignant and benign conditions. This knowledge enhances the student's problem solving and decision making capabilities and supports the student's ability to perform in the clinical radiation therapy environment as they develop as Radiation Therapists.

Requisite Courses: Admission to the Radiation Therapy Program, CCMB-3934 [prerequisite(s)]; CCMB-3944 (must be taken concurrently).

RELIGION AND CULTURE

REL-1002 (3) Exploring Religions: World's Religions

(3 hrs Lecture) Religion is a universal phenomenon that varies in meaning from culture to culture. This course examines the ways religion is understood in different cultures, introducing basic concepts used in the academic study of religion (e.g., sacred and profane, myth and history, symbol and ritual, etc.) through a survey of the major world religious traditions (e.g., Judaism, Christianity, Islam, Hinduism, Buddhism, Confucianism, Taoism, and the religions of indigenous peoples of North and South America). The teachings of individual traditions, how these teachings developed over time, and differences in interpretation will be examined against the background of the culture that produced them.

REL-1003 (6) Exploring Religion: the Bible

(3 hrs Lecture) The meaning of the Bible is seldom self-evident. It has been interpreted in different and sometimes contradictory ways by various faith communities, within both Judaism and Christianity, who look to the Bible as an authoritative religious guide. The course seeks to explain why the Bible has been interpreted differently by various religious groups living in different times and places. It does so by introducing students to modern biblical scholarship, which sees the Bible against the background of the historical, political, cultural and intellectual contexts in which the biblical texts were written and interpreted.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and REL-2125.

REL-2001 (6) Elementary Biblical Hebrew

(4 hrs Lecture) This course will introduce students to the fundamentals of biblical Hebrew grammar and vocabulary. Selected prose texts in the Hebrew Bible will be read and translated.

REL-2011 (3) Introduction to Modern Standard Arabic I

(3 hrs Lecture | 1 hrs Lab) This course is designed to introduce Modern Standard Arabic to students who have little or no prior knowledge of the language. Students learn the Arabic alphabet and master basic concepts of case and agreement. Vocabulary and additional grammatical concepts are discussed and integrated into classroom exercises and homework assignments. Restriction: Arabic speakers and persons with more than the most rudimentary prior knowledge of Arabic are not eligible to take this course.

Restrictions: Instructor Permission Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and REL-2010.

Requisite Courses: REL-2011L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

REL-2012 (3) Introduction to Modern Standard Arabic II

(3 hrs Lecture | 1 hrs Lab) This course is designed to further develop introductory Modern Standard Arabic skills for students who have taken REL-2011 Modern Standard Arabic I. Students master basic concepts of case and agreement, learn how to form id-fah constructions, and form simple nominal and verbal sentences. Vocabulary and additional grammatical concepts are discussed and integrated into classroom exercises and homework assignments. Restriction: Arabic speakers and persons with more than the most rudimentary prior knowledge of Arabic are not eligible to take this course.

Restrictions: Instructor Permission Required.

Requisite Courses: REL-2011 [prerequisite(s)]; REL-2012L (Lab) (must be taken concurrently).

REL-2121 (3) Early Judaism: From Formative to Normative

(3 hrs Lecture) This course surveys the historical events, documents, modes of interpretation, major figures and diverse communities and beliefs and practices that preceded and informed the emergence of rabbinic Judaism. The course unpacks the influence of momentous events such as Greek and Roman conquests in the Middle East, the nascent Jesus movement, and the destruction of the Jerusalem Temple in 70 C.E.. It explores how documents such as the Dead Sea scrolls, the Apocrypha and the Pseudepigrapha and authors such as Philo of Alexandria and Josephus provide insight into the formative period of Early Judaism. It introduces students to the major genres of early biblical interpretation, such as typology, allegory, and midrash and oral Torah.

Cross-listed: CLAS-2704.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and CLAS-2704.

REL-2125 (3) Modern Biblical Interpretation

(3 hrs Lecture) Through the examination of specific, selected texts, this course introduces students to the basics of how secular biblical scholars approach and analyze biblical texts.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and REL-1003.

REL-2127 (3) Major Biblical Themes

(3 hrs Lecture) This course will examine biblical texts on various themes such as creation, salvation, law and covenant, priesthood and kingship, death and human destiny.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and REL-3155.

REL-2131 (3) Apocalyptic Literature

(3 hrs Lecture) This course will begin with a general introduction to apocalypse as a unique literary genre and will examine some of the problems of reading and interpreting apocalyptic writings in the light of their ancient contexts. This will be followed by an analysis of selected biblical and extra-biblical apocalyptic texts.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and REL-2010_3.

REL-2133 (3) Wisdom and Spirituality in Ancient Israel

(3 hrs Lecture) This course is a study of the biblical books of Psalms, Proverbs, Ecclesiastes, and Job. The Psalms are the hymns of the Second Temple (516 BCE to 70CE), and continue to be central to the readings, prayerbooks, and hymns of Judaism and Christianity. Proverbs, Ecclesiastes and Job are part of the literature of ancient Near Eastern scribal schools and the Book of Job is widely recognized as a classic of world literature. The course explores these books and academic methods and approaches to reading and understanding them.

Experimental Course - This course is offered on a trial basis to gauge interest in the topic. Students who successfully complete this course receive credit as indicated.

REL-2211 (3) Studies in the Synoptic Gospels (3 hrs Lecture) This course seeks to understand the origin of the three Synoptic Gospels of the New Testament - Matthew, Mark, and Luke - and the relationship among them. The study also involves a close examination of the distinctive character of these Gospels according to their literary and theological presentations of Jesus.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and REL-2211_6.

REL-2213 (3) Jesus in John (3 hrs Lecture) This course analyses the literature of the Fourth Gospel and the Johannine Epistles in their respective contexts. The intention is to discover the implication of the Johannine ways of presenting Jesus to the first communities of readers in their social settings.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and REL-2122.

REL-2237 (3) Religion in Greece and Rome (3 hrs Lecture) This course will survey the religious beliefs and practices of the Greeks and Romans. Topics to be discussed will include the following: the worship of Olympian and Chthonic deities, oracles, orgiastic and mystery religions, Roman cults and rituals, Near Eastern religions, and the beginnings of Christianity.

Cross-listed: CLAS-2702(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and CLAS-2702.

REL-2304 (3) Atheism, Skepticism and Religion (3 hrs Lecture) This course explores the five major contemporary critiques of religion, all of which have their roots in the writings of 19th and 20th Century critics of religion. Students will learn about the original historical contexts of the interpretations of religion advanced by Karl Marx, Sigmund Freud, Emile Durkheim, Max Weber, and Friedrich Nietzsche. The main concern of the course is to examine how these five powerful critiques shape the ways contemporary North Americans understand religion.

REL-2305 (3) Early and Medieval Christianity (3 hrs Lecture) This course introduces students to the religious and social changes that took place within the Christian tradition in the first fifteen centuries of the Common Era. Students explore the varieties of Christianity that emerged in this period in response both to theological debates within the church and to political forces in Europe, Africa and the Middle East. This course examines the changing relations between the church and imperial powers, as well as the development of monastic orders, mystical piety, the sacramental system, and the papacy. In addition, several key figures (such as Augustine and Aquinas) and key debates (such as the nature of sin and the trinity) are discussed.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and REL-2300 | REL-2301 | REL-2311.

REL-2306 (3) Modern Christianity (3 hrs Lecture) This course is a survey of modern Christianity as a global phenomenon from the 16th century to the present. This course examines the changing role of the church within the modern world from the Reformation to contemporary societies. It also examines the decline of Christianity in the West and its growth in the global South. Finally, this course introduces students to major thinkers within the modern church, including Martin Luther, Menno Simons, Dietrich Bonhoeffer, Dorothy Day, Desmond Tutu and Kwok Pui-Lan.

REL-2307 (3) Twentieth-Century Christianity (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines Christian thought and practice globally in light of the dramatic and often violent events of the twentieth century. Topics may include the two world wars, the Shoah, the Cold War, the Civil Rights and anti-war movements, feminist, liberation, and decolonial movements, as well as the rise of Christian fundamentalism. Special attention is given to those voices and movements that responded to and helped to shape public life thought during this century, including the Confessing Church, the Civil Rights Movement, and Vatican II.

REL-2363 (3) Mennonite Studies I (3 hrs Lecture) This course is a survey of the origins and history of the Anabaptists in Switzerland, the Netherlands, Germany, Prussia and Russia. Attention is given to the interaction of religion and culture in the history of European Mennonites.

Cross-listed: HIST-2108(3) and MENN-2101(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and HIST-2108 | MENN-2101.

REL-2364 (3) Mennonite Studies II (3 hrs Lecture) This course is a survey of the immigration and resettlement of Mennonites in Russia and in North and South America. The course includes a study of the origins and distinctive characteristics of particular Mennonite groups and conclude with a brief survey of Mennonites around the world.

Cross-listed: HIST-2109(3), MENN-2102(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and HIST-2109 | HIST-3109 | MENN-2102.

REL-2401 (3) Religion and Popular Culture (3 hrs Lecture) This course considers the place of religion in North American popular culture. It explores how elements of popular culture (e.g., radio and television programs, compact discs, films, videos, and fashion) influence the ways many people conceive of religion and its role in their lives. Through this exploration, students will develop critical skills necessary to analyze ambiguous cultural phenomena, examining both the ways religious traditions are depicted in popular culture, and how religions respond to the values and beliefs implicit in popular culture itself.

REL-2402 (3) Fundamentalisms in Global Context (3 hrs Lecture) Fundamentalism is one of the most prominent religious phenomena in contemporary cultures and around the world. This course will explore a variety of so-called "fundamentalist" religious movements in contemporary Judaism, Christianity, and Islam. What do these groups have in common, and what distinguishes them from each other? It will also consider how appropriate the term "fundamentalist" is for understanding these groups and individuals and what the implications of this "fundamentalist" label are for them. Several "fundamentalist" religious movements will be discussed in order to understand their relationship with "modernity" and "pluralism", the two traditions to which fundamentalists seem to be responding.

REL-2405 (3) Religion and Culture: the Multifaith Society (3 hrs Lecture) The focus of this course will be on the ways Canadian institutions both reflect and have responded to religious pluralism. While French and British Christians dominated this country for hundreds of years, contemporary Canada is characterized by increasing multiculturalism. The less restrictive policies Canada adopted towards non-European immigrants in the 1960s have transformed the status and situation of religion in major institutions such as universities, government, and the media. The purpose of this course is to help students reflect critically on the overall place of religion in a society, the inherent Christian and "euro-centric" foundations of which have been challenged by growing non-Christian and/or non-European communities.

REL-2406 (3) Issues in the Study of Secular Society (3 hrs Lecture) This course explores issues of contemporary interest regarding the study of religion and secular society, focusing on social, moral, political and existential aspects of western secularity. Broadly, the course engages topical questions of public life in a secular world from an interdisciplinary perspective. Issues of focus may include: the role of religion in the public sphere; religion, secularism and social justice; individual and group identity in secular contexts; ecology in a secular world; communication in secular society; skepticism, atheism and religious faith.

REL-2407 (3) Contemporary Religion from a Social Scientific Perspective (3 hrs Lecture) This course will introduce students to the ethnographic approach to religious phenomena, as well as the range of social scientific theories with which ethnography is associated. The distinguishing feature of ethnographic research is the way it involves the observer in the everyday lives of the people he or she is studying. This course explores several recent examples of participant observation research in the context of North American religious groups. As well, the course considers the relevance of the work of scholars such as Malinowski, Levy-Bruhl, Turner, and Geertz for the ethnographic study of contemporary religious life.

REL-2425 (3) Religion and Contemporary Moral Issues (3 hrs Lecture) This course explores the relationship between religion and morality through a consideration of selected contemporary moral issues and the religious responses to them. Issues to be considered may include those pertaining to gender and sexuality, beginning and end-of-life debates, war and peace, ecology and the environment, human rights and social justice. Through its engagement with each of these issues, the course analyzes how religion implicitly and explicitly shapes modern moral thinking.

REL-2507 (3) Sexuality in the Religious Context (3 hrs Lecture) This course will observe patterns in the interpretation and regulation of human sexual relations in one or more of the major religious traditions, and will explore the implications of changes in these relationships in the modern world for those whose cultures are informed by those traditions. Included will be the implications of feminist movements for contemporary religions.

REL-2511 (3) Religion and Society: the Critique of Development (3 hrs Lecture) The course will examine the rise of a secular, capitalist, technological world order in Western Europe and North America, and its impact upon the rest of the world. The contribution of Christianity to this new world order, together with its increasing marginalization, will be noted. The responses of the affected cultures and religions, in particular their critique of Western imperialism and its visions of development, and their alternative proposals, will be examined. The role of religion as a factor which inhibits or encourages social change, in different contexts, will be a main theme.
Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and REL-2512.

REL-2513 (3) Health, Healing and Spirituality in Cross-Cultural Perspective (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines the role which spirituality plays in health and the practice of healing, exploring how different ideas about healing and spirituality are rooted in distinct cultural perspectives. Topics covered will include comparisons of the relationship between religious beliefs, the process of healing, and the practice of medicine in the history and current experience of different cultures, both Western and Non-Western.

REL-2515 (3) Ecology and Religion (3 hrs Lecture) This course explores the relationship between the religious beliefs and perceptions about nature in the context of Western, Eastern, and indigenous cultures. A critical examination is offered of the ways in which Christian perceptions of nature have influenced the development of western science and technology. As well, the course provides a survey of some contemporary scholarly attempts to relate ecology and religion.

REL-2601 (3) Modern Judaism (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines the historical, religious, intellectual and cultural life of Jewish peoples from the nineteenth-century European Hasklah (Jewish Enlightenment) to the global diaspora and the contemporary State of Israel. Key themes that are explored in this class include migration and return, anti-Semitism and the Shoah (Holocaust), nationalism, feminism, secular Judaism, and religious change.

REL-2605 (3) Modern Christian Denominations (3 hrs Lecture) This course concentrates on specific Christian institutions, bodies or movements such as, but not limited to, the following: The Roman Catholic Church, the Orthodox Church, the Anglican Church, the United Church of Canada, and the Pentecostal churches.

REL-2607 (3) New Religions in North America (3 hrs Lecture) This course will survey alternative religious movements which have recently arisen in North America, some as mission enterprises from elsewhere, others as spiritual responses from within the North American situation. Winnipeg and Manitoba groups will be emphasized. The aim of the course will be to understand the groups on their own terms, and to begin to think about how we might respond to and evaluate these movements.

REL-2703 (3) Religions of India (3 hrs Lecture) This course explores the diversity of religious expression in India against the background of Indian culture. The focus will be on the origins and historical development of Indian ideas and practices. These are represented in the dominant tradition of Hinduism, as well as other important traditions originating in India (Buddhism, Jainism, and Sikhism), emphasizing continuities, patterns, and distinct developments.

REL-2704 (3) Buddhist Traditions in India and Southeast Asia (3 hrs Lecture) The course examines Buddhist beliefs and practices, focusing on the life and teachings of Gautama, the historical founder, the interpretation of his message in the Theravada tradition, and the development of Mahayana tradition in India. Special attention is given to examining the scriptural literature upon which these traditions are based and the spread of Theravada traditions to Sri Lanka and Southeast Asia.

REL-2707 (3) Chinese Religions (3 hrs Lecture) This course is a study of the basic beliefs and practices of the Chinese as informed by the three major Chinese traditions: Confucian, Taoist (Daoist), and Buddhist. The course will examine the development of each of these traditions, as well as their blending into a comprehensive set of beliefs and practices that shaped the common understanding and practice of Chinese religion. The effect of Communism on Chinese religious life and the resurgence of religion in Contemporary China will also be examined.

Cross-listed: EALC-2707(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and EALC-2707.

REL-2708 (3) Religion in Japanese Life (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines the religious life of the Japanese people, as informed by traditions deriving from the native Shinto religion of Japan, the adapted traditions of Buddhism and Confucianism, and the impact of Westernization and modernization on traditional beliefs and practices.

Cross-listed: EALC-2708(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and EALC-2708.

REL-2709 (3) Women in Asian Religions & Cultures (3 hrs Lecture) The course examines the experience of women in several Asian cultures (e.g., India, China, Japan), in different religious traditions (e.g., Hinduism, Buddhism, Confucianism, Daoism). The course is intended as a comprehensive introduction to women's experience in both pre-modern and modern contexts, with attention to how women are perceived and perceive themselves in religious and cultural roles.

Cross-listed: EALC-2709(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and EALC-2709.

REL-2710 (3) Classical Islam (3 hrs Lecture) This course focuses on the religious tradition of Islam from its inception through the medieval period. The message and the style of the Qur'an are examined, and Muhammad's life and experience as a prophet are traced. The fundamental beliefs and major practices of Islam are critically explored. The course also examines the emergence of religious, political and legal institutions in the early centuries of Islam. In addition, attention is given to theological, philosophical and mystical interpreters of Islamic ethos, with particular reference to specific scholarly interpretations from different regions of the Islamic world.

REL-2711 (3) Contemporary Islam (3 hrs Lecture) This course explores Islam as a faith and way of life in the modern context. Examples of Muslim approaches to modernity in general are examined, and modern interpretations of selected Qur'anic themes are studied. Themes such as gender equality and the freedom of women, and their implications for contemporary Islam, are discussed. The course traces the activities and opinions of Muslim organizations from the Muslim world. In addition, it assesses the current status of Islam in North America.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and REL-2701.

REL-2713 (3) Muslims in Canada (3 hrs Lecture) This course provides an historical overview of the Muslim community in Canada. The rise and development of Islamic institutions, organizations, associations, and forms of leadership are examined. In addition, Islamic identity, religious lifestyle, Islamic education, and the range of challenges facing Muslims living in Canada are discussed.

REL-2714 (3) Gender and Sexuality in Muslim Societies (3 hrs Lecture) After considering the social context of the ancient Near East, the first part of the course explores gender in the Qur'an, considers the formative role women played in the early Islamic movement, and examines constructions of gender in medieval Muslim societies. In the second part of the course, students explore Islamic legal and ethical doctrines regarding gender and sexuality, focusing on marriage and divorce, veiling and segregation, and same-sex relationships. Students review scriptural texts on these issues, and critically examine how these texts have been interpreted and re-interpreted in premodern and modern contexts.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and REL-2702.

REL-2715 (3) African Religions (3 hrs Lecture) Africans have, for long, practiced several closely related but diverse religions. This course surveys African Religions taking into account this religious plurality. Certain themes, including, cosmology and mythology, monotheism and polytheism, divinity and experience, rituals, etc., are discussed. Selected African Religions are introduced, briefly, highlighting these themes according to geographical locations (mainly in the sub-Saharan). Detailed treatment of one or more religions from each region is provided. For current concerns, this course critically studies selected works by scholars of African religions on various topics (from theory and method to roles of women).

REL-2718 (3) Buddhist Traditions in East Asia (3 hrs Lecture) This course traces the historical development of Mahayana (Great Vehicle) Buddhism in East Asia, focusing on the founding of East Asian Buddhist traditions in China, and their transmission to Korea and Japan. The course introduces the major beliefs and practices associated with East Asian Buddhism, the schools, figures, and texts that form the traditions that have flourished in East Asian countries. In addition to Chinese Buddhist developments, the course examines the adaptation of Chinese Buddhist traditions in Korea and Japan.

Cross-listed: EALC-2718(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and EALC-2718.

REL-2719 (3) Religion and Politics in the Middle East (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines the relationship between religion and politics in the contemporary Middle East. Class readings cover a wide variety of Middle Eastern states such as Turkey, Israel, Iran, Egypt, Syria, and Iraq. Key topics covered in the course include religion-based political movements, the place of religion in regional struggles over democracy and human rights, the place of religion in sectarian and ethnic conflicts, and the role of women in regional debates over religion. Attention is given to relevant current events affecting the contemporary Middle East.

REL-2721 (3) Traditional Japanese Culture (3 hrs Lecture) This course surveys traditional Japanese culture through an exploration of visual and dramatic arts, literature, philosophy, and religion. Special emphasis is placed on cross-cultural roots that bridged Japan with its neighbouring countries in East Asia. The historical foundations of popular Japanese contemporary culture - Manga, Anime, and high technology to name a few - are also discussed.

Cross-listed: EALC-2721(3) and ANTH-2121(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ANTH-2121 | EALC-2721.

REL-2725 (3) Food in Japanese Culture (3 hrs Lecture) This course explores the culture and history of Japanese cuisine. Designated in 2013 by UNESCO as part of the world's "Intangible Cultural Heritage." Japanese food is no longer restricted to Japan itself, but is now an integral component of global culinary culture. In the class, students follow the evolution of Japanese food from its origins in prehistoric hunting-gathering and rice cultivation to its globalization in fusion cuisine of the twenty-first century. The course ultimately aims to demonstrate how Japanese food today is not necessarily Japanese in origin, but the product of intra and later intercontinental cultural, political, and religious networks.

Cross-listed: EALC-2725(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and EALC-2725.

REL-2731 (3) Chinese Culture and Beliefs (3 hrs Lecture) This course focuses on Chinese traditions and values that have influenced modern Chinese society. This course is introductory and requires no prior knowledge of Chinese language and history. All the texts in this course are in English. Students discover ways in which cultural representations in social life, customs, business practice, literature, and art have affected and are being affected by beliefs. Through lecture and guided discussion students better understand how traditions and beliefs continue to inform about Chinese culture today.

Cross-listed: EALC-2731(3).

REL-2733 (3) Religious Traditions of Korea (3 hrs Lecture) This course provides an historical overview of Korean religious traditions. We examine the historical processes that world religious traditions--Buddhism, Confucianism, and Christianity--have undergone in Korea. Then we consider the Korean folk religious tradition, Shamanism, and new religions in relation to the social context of contemporary Korea. The various Korean religious traditions are critically examined in terms of their cumulative, participatory process in world religious history.

Cross-listed: EALC-2733(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and EALC-2733.

REL-2740 (3) The Supernatural in East Asian Culture the Supernatural in Pre-Modern East Asian Literature and its Contemporary Cinematic Adaptations (3 hrs Lecture) This course introduces students to East Asian culture through depictions of supernatural phenomena. By transgressing the boundaries of life and death, human and animal, real and unreal, supernatural beings shed light on socio-culturally constructed boundaries, such as status and gender. Through the lens of traditional supernatural literature, a framework of social structures in traditional East Asia emerges to show how characters confront and transgress the bounds of normative behaviour. Topics may include gender, purity and contamination, Five Elements Theory, Buddhism, Daoism, Neo-Confucianism, popular religion, cultural taboos, and changing views toward the supernatural in the age of scientific inquiry.

Cross-listed: EALC-2740(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and EALC-2740.

REL-2774 (3) Big Ideas and Great Debates in Chinese Intellectual History (3 hrs Lecture) This course explores the intellectual history of pre-modern China. By taking a thematic approach to leading intellectual currents within Chinese thought, the course critically examines debated and contested ideas between and among a diversity of schools of Chinese thought, including, but not limited to, Confucianism, Daoism, and Buddhism. The course is based on close reading of primary text materials in translation and students are required to engage in debate during class hours.

Cross-listed: EALC-2774(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and EALC-2774.

REL-2780 (3) The Martial Arts of East Asia (3 hrs Lecture) In this course, students challenge the portrayal of East Asian martial arts as an ancient, mystical practice by examining the history of martial arts. Students explore how military techniques once intended for war, policing, and control of banditry came to be practiced as methods of moral and physical self-cultivation. The course examines the historical origins of martial arts in China, Japan, and Korea, their evolution, and how they both subverted and served state agendas in the modern era. Lastly, it covers the role of martial arts in contemporary popular culture. This class is an online course requiring a high speed internet connection.

Cross-listed: EALC-2780.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and EALC-2780.

REL-2801 (3) Introduction to Indigenous Spirituality (3 hrs Lecture) This course provides an introduction to the plurality of Indigenous religious traditions in North America and the diversity, complexity, and vitality of these traditions. Included in the course content is an understanding of traditional ceremonies, cosmology or worldview, creation stories and other narrative forms, cultural values, healers, and medicine. Special attention is given to Anishinaabe, Omushkego, and Dakota traditions.

REL-2802 (3) Indigenous and Christian Encounter (3 hrs Lecture) This course will explore Indigenous Spirituality in the context of the encounter between Christianity and the traditional religions of the Indigenous peoples of Canada from first contact to the present. Topics will include missionary societies, residential schools and historical and contemporary responses to the Christian tradition. Special attention will be given to Anishnabe, Omushkego, and Dakota traditions.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and REL-2805.

REL-2803 (3) Indigenous Sacred Narratives (3 hrs Lecture) In Indigenous traditions, storytelling is an important means by which cultural values, traditional knowledge and worldviews are taught. In this course, students are introduced to the vast corpus of sacred narratives found in Indigenous religious traditions in the Americas. Narratives are examined to identify mythic themes/story types, human and non-human characters, cultural values, and traditional teachings. Indigenous and academic concepts are used to understand the importance and meaning of sacred narratives. Methodological and interpretive issues in the study of myth are explored.

REL-2804 (3) Global Perspectives on Aboriginal Societies, Spiritualities, and the Environment (3 hrs Lecture) This course explores the spiritual traditions of Indigenous cultures throughout the world. For example, we examine the role of elders and shamans in various aboriginal societies, their understandings of the environment in which they live, and their various expressions of spirituality. The course discusses the recognition of Indigenous rights at the United Nations and its implications for preserving land, cultures and spiritualities. Finally, students reflect on the effect of development on Indigenous lands and how that is affecting Indigenous societies and their traditional belief systems.

Cross-listed: IDS-2804(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and IDS-2804.

REL-2901 (3 or 6) Art in Non-Christian Religions (3 hrs Lecture) This course explores the intrinsic links within non-Christian religious traditions between beliefs and social systems and the art produced in those contexts. We examine different traditions, regions, and eras, in religions such as Buddhism, Hinduism, Islam, Judaism, and Aboriginal Spirituality, and media such as architecture, decorative arts, painting, and sculpture. Students explore art's implicit and explicit messages about the religious beliefs of its producing society, the function of art in particular religions, and how one reads religious art. We investigate the impact of social, economic, and power structures on religious art, and the role of patronage in art production.

Cross-listed: HIST-2802(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and HIST-2802.

REL-2942 (3) The Philosophy of Yoga (3 hrs Lecture) In this course students become acquainted with the tradition of yoga and its background in the South Asian ascetic and religious discourse. This course potentially combines historical, philosophical, and experiential approaches in order to provide a nuanced vision of the traditional practice of yoga and thus provide a background and context to the modern global yoga movement.

REL-3011 (3) Intermediate Arabic (3 hrs Lecture | 4 hrs Lab) This course is a continuation of REL-2012 Introduction to Modern Standard Arabic. Students will continue their study of Modern Standard Arabic. The goal of this course is to be able to form and understand Arabic sentences at an intermediate skill level. Students will develop their abilities in reading, writing, aural comprehension, and oral expression.

Requisite Courses: REL-2012 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

REL-3120 (3) The Prophets in Israel's Culture (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This course is a study of the biblical prophetic literature in its social and religious context, paying attention to the prophets' perspectives on social, political, theological, and moral concerns.

Cross-listed: REL-4120(3).

REL-3601 (3) Storied Lives: Contemporary Spiritual Biographies and the Construction of Identity (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) In this course students will be introduced to the current social scientific reflection on the "life history" as a means of understanding individuals and contextualizing the larger notions of "religious traditions" and "culture". Specifically, we will consider the ways people construct and maintain their religious identities through weaving their own experiences into a narrative which includes other individuals and institutions. In addition to considering this method theoretically, students will have an opportunity to employ this tool in the context of fieldwork.

Cross-listed: REL-4601(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and REL-4601.

Requisite Courses: 6 credit hours in Religion & Culture or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

REL-3701 (3) Issues in the Interpretation of the Qur'an (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) In this seminar, some of the issues pertaining to Qur'anic interpretation (exegesis) are discussed. After gaining an understanding of the book as a scripture, the history and the development of its exegetical venture is traced. Approaches of both classical and modern Muslim commentators on the Qur'an are explored. The Orientalists' approach to the Qur'an and its interpretation is also examined. For practical concerns, this course deals with the interpretation of the Qur'an in a broader context. Examples include the Qur'anic commentaries on Moses and Jesus.

Requisite Courses: One of REL-2801, REL-2802, REL-2803, REL-2804, REL-3802, REL-4802, REL-3803, REL-4803, REL-3804, or REL-4804 and permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

REL-4900 (3) Topics in Historical Judaism,

Christianity, Or Islam (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This course explores specific topics in the Historical Judaism, Christianity, or Islam area of study at an advanced level. Students enrolled at the 4000 level are typically assigned a heavier workload in terms of assignments and are expected to perform at a more advanced level. Students should consult the department regarding potential offerings in a given year.

Cross-listed: REL-3900(3).

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and REL-3900.

Requisite Courses: 6 credit hours in Religion & Culture, 3 of which must be in the Historical Judaism, Christianity, or Islam area of study, and permission of the Department Chair [prerequisite(s)].

REL-4940 (3) Topics in Religion and Modern Western Culture (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This course explores specific topics in the Religions and Modern Western Culture area of study at an advanced level. Students enrolled at the 4000 level are typically assigned a heavier workload in terms of assignments and are expected to perform at a more advanced level. Students should consult the department regarding potential offerings in a given year.

Cross-listed: REL-3940(3).

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Instructor Permission Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and REL-3940.

Requisite Courses: 6 credit hours in Religion & Culture, 3 of which must be in the Religions & Modern Western Culture area of study, and permission of the Department Chair [prerequisite(s)].

REL-4970 (3) Topics in Asian Religions and Culture (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This course explores specific topics in the Asian Religions and Cultures area of study at an advanced level. Students enrolled at the 4000 level are typically assigned a heavier workload in terms of assignments and are expected to perform at a more advanced level. Students should consult the department regarding potential offerings in a given year.

Cross-listed: REL-3970(3) and EALC-3970(3)/4970(3).

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and EALC-4970 | REL-3970.

Requisite Courses: 6 credit hours in East Asian Languages and Culture or 6 credit hours in Religion & Culture, 3 of which must be in the Asian Religions and Cultures area of study, and permission of the Department Chair [prerequisite(s)].

REL-4980 (3) Topics in Indigenous Religious Traditions (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This course explores specific topics in the Indigenous Religious Traditions area of study at an advanced level. This course may be repeated for credit when the topic varies. Students enrolled at the 4000 level are typically assigned a heavier workload in terms of assignments and are expected to perform at a more advanced level. Students should consult the department regarding potential offerings in a given year.

Cross-listed: REL-3980(3).

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and REL-3980.

Requisite Courses: 6 credit hours in Religion & Culture, 3 of which must be in the Indigenous Religious Traditions area of study, and permission of the Department Chair [prerequisite(s)].

REL-4990 (6) Readings in Religion (3 hrs Lecture) This course will provide individual directed study of a specialized subject at an advanced level.

Cross-listed: REL-3990(3).

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Department Permission Required.

REL-4991 (3) Readings in Religion (3 hrs Lecture) This course will provide individual directed study of a specialized subject at an advanced level.

Cross-listed: REL-3991(3).

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

REL-4999 (6) Languages for Religious Studies (3 hrs Tutorial) This course will provide an individual tutorial program in a language required by an advanced student in connection with ongoing study in a specialized religious field.

Note: Permission of the Department Chair is required.

Cross-listed: REL-3999(6).

Restrictions: Department Permission Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and REL-3999.

REL-5000 (6) Method and Theory in the Study of Religion (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This course will introduce the problem of method in Religious Studies, discussing Religion as a field of study, its definition, development, and relation to other disciplines. The student will be introduced to various methods of studying Religion and will be guided in the practice of a method suitable to his or her own area of research.

REL-5001 (3) Method and Theory in the Study of Religion I: Social Scientific Approaches (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines the problem of method in Religious Studies, discussing Religion as a field of study, its definition, development, and relation to other disciplines. Students examine classic social scientific approaches to the study of religion: sociological, anthropological, psychological, as well as feminist and post-modernist methods. Along with REL-5002(3), this course fulfills the method and theory requirement for the Joint Masters Program in Religion.

REL-5002 (3) Method and Theory in the Study of Religion II: Textual Interpretation (3 hrs Lecture) This course introduces the problem of method in Religious Studies, especially as it relates to the study and interpretation of religious texts. Texts are examined from the perspective of various possible hermeneutical interpretations, taking into account literary, contextual, and historical concerns, as well as doctrinal and ideological considerations. Students consider both traditional religious and post-traditional ways of interpreting texts, gaining appreciation for how historical and ideological forces shape the interpretation of religious texts. Along with REL-5001(3), this course fulfills the method and theory requirement for the Joint Master Program in Religion.

REL-5990 (6) Advanced Individual Study in Religion (3 hrs Directed Reading) This course will provide individual, directed study of a specialized topic for students beyond the undergraduate level.

REL-5991 (3) Advanced Individual Study in Religion (3 hrs Directed Reading) This course will provide individual, directed study of a specialized topic for students beyond the undergraduate level.

RHETORIC AND COMMUNICATIONS

RHET-1101 (3) Academic Writing: Humanities (3 hrs Lecture) Academic Writing teaches the essential strategies for university writing and research: the discovery of topics, the arrangement of ideas, the assessment of audience and purpose, and the practice of effective editing. Sections of RHET-1101 are designed for students likely to major in a discipline in the Humanities, such as English, History, or Philosophy. Assignments may include summaries, reviews, critiques, and research papers. Students are introduced to the styles of documenting sources and to the research databases relevant to the Humanities. The Department website provides detailed information about each section.

Note: Students may receive credit for only one Academic Writing course at the 1000 level for graduation. Students with standing in the former ENGL-0100(3) Fundamentals of Rhetoric must register in a 3 credit hour version of Academic Writing in order to satisfy the writing requirement.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ENGL-1100 | ENGL-1101 | ENGL-1121 | ENGL-1122 | RHET-1102 | RHET-1103 | RHET-1104 | RHET-1105 | RHET-1106 | RHET-1110 | RHET-1115.

RHET-1102 (3) Academic Writing: Social Sciences (3 hrs Lecture) Academic Writing teaches the essential strategies for university writing and research: the discovery of topics, the arrangement of ideas, the assessment of audience and purpose, and the practice of effective editing. Sections of RHET-1102 are designed for students likely to major in a discipline in the Social Sciences, such as Politics, Psychology, or Sociology. Assignments may include annotated bibliographies, literature reviews, and ethnographies. Students are introduced to the styles of documenting sources and to the research databases relevant to the Social Sciences. The Department website provides detailed information about each section.

Note: Students may receive credit for only one Academic Writing course at the 1000 level for graduation. Students with standing in the former ENGL-0100(3) Fundamentals of Rhetoric must register in a 3 credit hour version of Academic Writing in order to satisfy the writing requirement.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ENGL-1100 | ENGL-1101 | ENGL-1121 | ENGL-1122 | RHET-1101 | RHET-1103 | RHET-1104 | RHET-1105 | RHET-1106 | RHET-1110 | RHET-1115.

RHET-1103 (3) Academic Writing: Sciences (3 hrs Lecture) Academic Writing teaches the essential strategies for university writing and research: the discovery of topics, the arrangement of ideas, the assessment of audience and purpose, and the practice of effective editing. Sections of RHET-1103 are designed for students likely to major in a discipline in the Sciences, such as Biology, Chemistry, or Physics. Students are introduced to the styles of documenting sources and to the research databases relevant to the Sciences. The Department website provides detailed information about each section.

Note: Students may receive credit for only one Academic Writing course at the 1000 level for graduation. Students with standing in the former ENGL-0100(3) Fundamentals of Rhetoric must register in a 3 credit hour version of Academic Writing in order to satisfy the writing requirement.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ENGL-1100 | ENGL-1101 | ENGL-1121 | ENGL-1122 | RHET-1101 | RHET-1102 | RHET-1104 | RHET-1105 | RHET-1106 | RHET-1110 | RHET-1115.

RHET-1104 (3) Academic Writing: Business and Administration (3 hrs Lecture) Academic Writing teaches the essential strategies for university writing and research: the discovery of topics, the arrangement of ideas, the assessment of audience and purpose, and the practice of effective editing. Sections of RHET-1104, designed for students in Business and Administration, focus on the fundamentals of good writing and critical thinking in academic and institutional settings. Students practise the forms of communication common in business, public administration, and non-profit organizations, such as summaries, reports, proposals, and correspondence. Students also learn the documentation styles and research databases relevant to Business and Administration. The Department website provides detailed information about each section.

Note: Students may receive credit for only one Academic Writing course at the 1000 level for graduation. Students with standing in the former ENGL-0100(3) Fundamentals of Rhetoric must register in a 3 credit hour version of Academic Writing in order to satisfy the writing requirement.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ENGL-1100 | ENGL-1101 | ENGL-1121 | ENGL-1122 | RHET-1101 | RHET-1102 | RHET-1103 | RHET-1105 | RHET-1106 | RHET-1110 | RHET-1115.

RHET-1105 (3) Academic Writing: Multidisciplinary (3 hrs Lecture) Academic Writing teaches the essential strategies for university writing and research: the discovery of topics, the arrangement of ideas, the assessment of audience and purpose, and the practice of effective editing. Sections of RHET-1105, designed for students who have not yet chosen a field of study, take a multidisciplinary rather than discipline-specific perspective. The approach taken in each section (for instance, the assignments, the research methods, and the styles of documentation) varies. The Department website provides detailed information about each section.

Note: Students may receive credit for only one Academic Writing course at the 1000 level for graduation. Students with standing in the former ENGL-0100(3) Fundamentals of Rhetoric must register in a 3 credit hour version of Academic Writing in order to satisfy the writing requirement.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ENGL-1100 | ENGL-1101 | ENGL-1121 | ENGL-1122 | RHET-1101 | RHET-1102 | RHET-1103 | RHET-1104 | RHET-1106 | RHET-1110 | RHET-1115.

RHET-1106 (3) Academic Writing: Links with the Disciplines (3 hrs Lecture) Academic Writing teaches the essential strategies for university writing and research: the discovery of topics, the arrangement of ideas, the assessment of audience and purpose, and the practice of effective editing. Sections of RHET-1106 are linked with departments such as Conflict Resolution Studies, Environmental Studies, and Kinesiology and Applied Health. Students who are registered in a discipline-specific course are also enrolled in an Academic Writing section that concentrates on the texts, topics, methods of research, and forms of writing appropriate to that discipline. The Department website provides detailed information about each section.

Note: Students may receive credit for only one Academic Writing course at the 1000 level for graduation. Students with standing in the former ENGL-0100(3) Fundamentals of Rhetoric must register in a 3 credit hour version of Academic Writing in order to satisfy the writing requirement.

RHET-1110 (6) Academic Writing: Extended (3 hrs Lecture) Academic Writing teaches the essential strategies for university writing and research: the discovery of topics, the arrangement of ideas, the assessment of audience and purpose, and the practice of effective editing. This course is designed to give students extensive opportunities to further develop their writing abilities, such as generating, evaluating, and developing ideas logically, supporting arguments with evidence, gathering and documenting information from a variety of sources, and using language clearly and correctly. The Department website provides information about each section.

Note: Students may receive credit for only one Academic Writing course at the 1000 level for graduation. Students with standing in the former ENGL-0100(3) Fundamentals of Rhetoric must register in a 3 credit hour version of Academic Writing in order to satisfy the writing requirement.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ENGL-1100 | ENGL-1101 | ENGL-1121 | ENGL-1122 | RHET-1101 | RHET-1102 | RHET-1103 | RHET-1104 | RHET-1105 | RHET-1106 | RHET-1115.

RHET-1115 (3 or 6) Academic Writing: English As an Additional Language (3 hrs Lecture) Academic Writing teaches the essential strategies for university writing and research. This course is designed to give students whose first language is not English extensive opportunities to further develop their writing abilities, research skills, and public speaking skills. During the course, students learn to generate, evaluate, and develop ideas logically, support arguments with evidence, gather and document information from a variety of sources, use language clearly and correctly. Particularly, students have extensive opportunities to practice writing different genres of texts, and to develop public speaking skills, through a debate and a research presentation.

Note: Students may receive credit for only one Academic Writing course at the 1000 level for graduation. Students with standing in the former ENGL-0100(3) Fundamentals of Rhetoric must register in a 3 credit hour version of Academic Writing in order to satisfy the writing requirement. RHET-1115(3/6) may not be taken by students whose first language is English.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ENGL-1100 | ENGL-1101 | ENGL-1121 | ENGL-1122 | RHET-1101 | RHET-1102 | RHET-1103 | RHET-1104 | RHET-1106 | RHET-1105 | RHET-1110.

RHET-1120 (3) Introduction to Rhetoric and Communications

(3 hrs Lecture) This course provides an introduction to the study of Rhetoric and Communications, and the role that persuasion and persuasive discourse plays in contemporary communication, culture, and society. Topics include the role of persuasion in everyday communication, the relationship between rhetoric and structures of language, and foundations in rhetorical scholarship, writing studies, and the study of communications. Other topics may include the study of rhetoric in political communication, literacy pedagogy and textuality, religion, the law, public relations, and visual rhetoric in art, film, popular culture, and advertising.

Note: This course does not fulfill the University of Winnipeg's Academic Writing requirement.

RHET-2115 (3) Advanced Eal Writing: Negotiating Conventions

(3 hrs Lecture) This course is designed to enhance international students' academic literacies, and is aimed at students with a basic understanding of academic discourses and expectations, having already completed introductory-level Academic Writing. It will enable students to explore the knowledge and expectations for producing academic and professional texts. Students have opportunities to enhance their writing competencies and become aware of the convention-driven expectations involved in academic writing. Throughout the course, students come to appreciate their existing linguistic repertoires and develop new ones that enable them to participate legitimately in their desired professional and/or academic communities, particularly at the university level.

Requisite Courses: Any section of Academic Writing or exemption from the writing requirement [prerequisite(s)].

RHET-2131 (3) Professional Style and Editing

(3 hrs Lecture) This course teaches students to revise their prose, not for new ideas but for better phrasing of the ones they already have. Students will learn how to write in several prose styles and to edit each other's work professionally in terms of stylistic (rather than only grammatical) criteria. The course will include a number of short style exercises as well as longer essays, and a great deal of practice in editing. It will be a great help for anyone intending to write polished term papers or theses, not to mention business memos.

Requisite Courses: Any section of Academic Writing or exemption from the writing requirement and completion of 24 credit hours [prerequisite(s)].

RHET-2135 (3) Rhetorical Criticism (3 hrs Lecture) This course is recommended for students whose interests extend beyond the kinds of literature traditionally studied in English courses. The emphasis will be on non-literary texts and on language used to persuade -- on media talk and advertising copy; on political speeches, campaigns, and editorials; on popular and professional essays. For the rhetorical critic, such uses of language are considered worthy of close analysis not because they have lasting aesthetic value, but because they reveal cultural values and social trends. Students in this course will examine a variety of nonfiction in order to develop the perspective of rhetorical criticism, which views language acts as responses to historical circumstances, addressed to particular audiences and motivated by particular goals. Contemporary, written texts will comprise the bulk of the reading in the course, but speeches and pre-modern texts may also be considered. In addition, students will be encouraged to suggest other readings (including magazine and newspaper articles) that are suitable for rhetorical analysis.

Requisite Courses: Any section of Academic Writing or exemption from the writing requirement and completion of 24 credit hours [prerequisite(s)].

RHET-2137 (3) Contemporary Communication

Theories (3 hrs Lecture) Communication theories explain the way human beings interact verbally, at levels ranging from the interpersonal to the organizational. In this course, students are introduced to some of the major contemporary theories and practices pertaining to individual and group communication. These theories include (but are not limited to) social construction, symbolic interactionism, cultural criticism, dramatism, hermeneutics, standpoint theory, ethics, relational theories, and gender-based approaches. Readings are drawn from contemporary North American and European theorists. A variety of written and oral assignments invite students to apply their understanding of these theories to practical, even everyday communicative situations.

Requisite Courses: Any section of Academic Writing or exemption from the writing requirement and completion of 24 credit hours [prerequisite(s)].

RHET-2141 (3) Representations of Indigeneity (3 hrs Lecture) This course investigates the representation of Indigenous peoples in contemporary and historical forms of public communication such as text books, scholarship, government documents, internet, television, news media and public awareness campaigns, and how these representations contribute to perpetuating, challenging, or dispelling racist stereotypes and colonization practices.

There is an emphasis on writing by emerging and established Indigenous writers and scholars on themed topics such as business and economics, history, politics, art, social movements, environment, and education. Students taking a Major in Rhetoric and Communications must complete Academic Writing before taking this course.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and GRHET-2141 (3) Representations of Indigeneity

Requisite Courses: Any section of Academic Writing or exemption from the Writing requirement [prerequisite(s)]; Completion of 24 credit hours [prerequisite(s)].

RHET-2142 (3) Rhetoric of Animality (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines what has come to be known in the humanities as "the question of the animal". It considers how moral discourse in the West has failed to grapple with the physical and metaphysical presence of non-human animals. Students examine how the moral status of animals has been theorized in Western thought. Students interrogate the different tropes used to uphold the human-animal distinction, including the idea that speech, communication, and reason confer a special status upon humanity. Students engage a wide range of writings addressing "the question of the animal". Students taking a Major in Rhetoric and Communications must complete Academic Writing before taking this course.

Requisite Courses: Any section of Academic Writing or exemption from the Writing requirement [prerequisite(s)]; Completion of 24 credit hours [prerequisite(s)].

RHET-2143 (3) Rhetoric of Medicine (3 hrs Lecture)

Medicine is one of the oldest and most respected professions. Given its centrality in our lives, it is crucial that medicine be taken seriously by the humanities. What, then, does rhetoric have to say about medicine? How can we use rhetoric to investigate the history, practice, and culture of medicine? What insights can rhetoric offer about medical discourse? This course explores the role of language, performance, ethics, and power in medicine. The aim is to cultivate a crucial humanistic perspective on medicine and to understand its place in the modern social imaginary. Students taking a Major in Rhetoric and Communications must complete Academic Writing before taking this course.

Requisite Courses: Any section of Academic Writing or exemption from the Writing requirement [prerequisite(s)]; Completion of 24 credit hours [prerequisite(s)].

RHET-2145 (3) Theories and Practices of Oral

Communication (3 hrs Lecture) The goals of this course are threefold: to improve students' presentation skills in both design and delivery, to develop their critical analysis of presentations, and to extend their scholarly understanding of rhetoric and oratory. This course covers such topics as presentation structure, paralinguistic communication, the use of technology, charisma, gender and delivery, and rhetorical strategies of identification. Course work is evenly distributed between praxis-centred performance and scholarly reading and analysis, with assignments including both spoken presentations and theory-based research work.

Requisite Courses: Any section of Academic Writing or exemption from the writing requirement and completion of 24 credit hours [prerequisite(s)].

RHET-2246 (3) Revolutions in Communication (3 hrs Lecture) This course provides students with an historical overview of communication, focusing particularly on those periods in which human relations were dramatically influenced by a shift from one communicative medium to another. After briefly considering the early use of pictorial symbols, the emergence of language, and the development of writing, the course examines some of the profound social changes effected in the western world by the fifteenth century invention of the printing press. Finally, we focus on the revolutionary impact of twentieth century communicative technologies: radio, telephone and then the computer and the Internet, the effects of which are so wide-ranging that we have only begun to assess them.

Requisite Courses: Any section of Academic Writing or exemption from the writing requirement and completion of 24 credit hours [prerequisite(s)].

RHET-2250 (3) Communications and Popular Culture

(3 hrs Lecture) This course provides students with the historical, social-political, and cultural contexts for studying contemporary rhetoric and communications. Students look at changing rhetorics of taste, from the nineteenth to the twentieth century, as new media made art and culture more accessible to the public. Students examine how new processes of mediated distribution of art, and the rise of modern capitalism, changed the discursive strategies for writing about popular culture. Course topics include the rise of photography and the technological reproducibility of images; mass media and the culture industry; technology and globalization; and augmented reality and video games.

Requisite Courses: Any section of Academic Writing or exemption from the writing requirement and completion of 24 credit hours [prerequisite(s)].

RHET-2350 (3) Writing in Digital Spaces (3 hrs Lecture)

This course is designed as an introduction to reading and writing digital texts. Just as electronic devices have become the tools of choice for composition, so networks have become a medium of choice for publication. Students learn the effects of the following contexts on writing: real-time, synchronous communication; anytime asynchronous communication; and emerging online genres (such as social media and blogs). Emphasis is on reader awareness in evaluating the credibility of material in the online environment, developing and evaluating an online ethos, and webpage production that balances audience awareness, online conventions, and visual design.

Note: You cannot receive credit for this course if you have credit for it under its former title, Reading and Writing Online.

Requisite Courses: Any section of Academic Writing or exemption from the writing requirement and completion of 24 credit hours [prerequisite(s)].

RHET-2500 (3) Tutoring Writing (3 hrs Lecture) This course introduces students who want to work as tutors to the current theories of tutoring writing, to the protocols and procedures of our Tutoring Centre, and to the specific demands of our students. These demands include writing in the disciplines and tutoring

English-as-an-Additional-Language writers. The course requires delivery of public workshops on writing, as well as contributions to writing centre communities nationally and internationally. As students begin tutoring, they reflect together on their experiences, increasing their resources and tutoring strategies.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and EDUC-3301 | EDUC-3303 | EDUC-3305 | RHET-2505 | RHET-2520.

Requisite Courses: Grade of B or better in any section of Academic Writing or in any upper-level course in Rhetoric, Writing, and Communications or permission of instructor [prerequisite(s)].

RHET-2530 (3) Rhetorical Grammar (3 hrs Lecture) This course sharpens students' ability to edit efficiently at the sentence and paragraph levels. Through close analysis of examples, students first acquire a vocabulary for discussing grammar, syntax, and error that refines their understanding of English sentence structures. With these tools, students can identify structural flaws more precisely and thoroughly and better distinguish between errors and stylistic choices. The relationship between sentences - cohesion, unity, and emphasis - is then considered, and students are briefly introduced to fundamentals of style. Hands-on and skills-centred, this course includes many editing exercises.

Requisite Courses: Any section of Academic Writing or exemption from the writing requirement and completion of 24 credit hours [prerequisite(s)].

RHET-3131 (3) Advanced Editing: Principles and Practices

(3 hrs Lecture) This course addresses issues such as the negotiation of meaning in text production, changing practices of language use, and the historical and social construction of error (including attitudes about "good taste") through a study of editorial practices. Students apply rhetorical analyses of audience, purpose, genre, and context as they edit various documents to strengthen style and readability as well as to ensure accuracy and correctness. Designed to help students develop sound editorial judgement and practical abilities, the course outlines principles of editorial practice that consider the needs of the reader, improve emphasis, and remedy common stylistic flaws.

Requisite Courses: RHET-2131 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

RHET-3132 (3) Directed Readings in Rhetoric and Composition

(3 hrs Lecture) This course provides students with the opportunity to undertake research in Rhetoric and/or Composition in their particular areas of interest. Students will arrange a program of reading and individual study in consultation with an appropriate instructor.

Requisite Courses: Any section of Academic Writing or exemption from the writing requirement and completion of 24 credit hours [prerequisite(s)].

RHET-3133 (6) Directed Readings in Rhetoric and Composition

(3 hrs Lecture) This course provides students with the opportunity to undertake research in Rhetoric and/or Composition in their particular areas of interest. Students will arrange a program of reading and individual study in consultation with an appropriate instructor.

Requisite Courses: Any section of Academic Writing or exemption from the writing requirement and completion of 24 credit hours [prerequisite(s)].

RHET-3139 (3) Rhetorics of Visual Representation

(3 hrs Lecture) This course provides a systematic and comprehensive account of the grammar and rhetoric of visual design. By looking at the formal structures of design - colour, perspective, arrangement, and materiality - students examine the ways in which images communicate meaning. This course draws on a considerable range of examples to demonstrate the differences and the similarities between the grammar of language and that of visual communication. Given the influence and sophistication of visual texts and their relative neglect in scholarship, visual critique is important and necessary.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and RHET-2139.

Requisite Courses: Any section of Academic Writing or exemption from the writing requirement and completion of 24 credit hours [prerequisite(s)].

RHET-3153 (3) Studies in the Rhetorics of Gender (3 hrs Lecture) This course focuses on issues growing from the complex interaction of gender and language use, with a particular focus on written texts. Beginning with an overview of research on the relationship between gender and communicative behaviour, including feminist critiques of language, it considers such topics as the following: the rhetorics of women's movement and of contemporary men's movements; verbal (and, to a lesser extent, visual) constructions of masculinity and femininity in advertising and the media; innovative uses of language which resist and subvert prevailing conceptions of appropriate communicative behaviour; and the rhetoric of public debates over issues such as abortion and reproductive technologies, in which gender is a central factor.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and WGS-3153.

Requisite Courses: Any section of Academic Writing or exemption from the writing requirement and completion of 24 credit hours [prerequisite(s)].

RHET-3154 (3) The New Journalism (3 hrs Lecture) "New Journalism" arose in the 1960s when Truman Capote, Tom Wolf, Joan Didion, Hunter S. Thompson, and others began to infuse their reporting with rhetorical and literary technique, creating a hybrid genre of reportage that was both factual and artistic. They dethroned the novel as the most prestigious outlet for imaginative literary talent in their generation and instigated the first powerful renewal of North American letters in fifty years. The course includes works of both early and later periods of this movement, and considers a number of critical and theoretical statements about its practice.

Requisite Courses: Any section of Academic Writing or exemption from the writing requirement and completion of 24 credit hours [prerequisite(s)].

RHET-3155 (3) Environmental Communication (3 hrs Lecture) This course explores the growing field of environmental communication as practiced in professional environments. It examines the role of media, communication, and rhetoric in raising awareness about environmental and sustainability issues. Students discuss how different forms of media impact our ability to address environmental problems and the role communication and rhetoric play in contemporary environmental activism, science communication, environmental journalism, public relations, political communications, and the promotion of sustainable behaviour. It draws on diverse approaches to identify potential best practices for communicating about environmental issues with a variety of target audiences through different media.

Requisite Courses: Any section of Academic Writing or exemption from the writing requirement and completion of 24 credit hours [prerequisite(s)].

RHET-3156 (3) Transnational and Intercultural Language and Communications (3 hrs Lecture) This course looks at the origins and development of language from a historical perspective and moves into specific case studies of unilingual, bilingual, and multilingual groups, their languages, how they communicate, and representational media used by the group. We focus closely on how groups communicate with one another, often by using common languages and the practice of translation, and how groups use languages to represent their culture to other groups and within the group. Central to such transnational and intercultural communication is the representation of identity and heritage. As languages change, identity changes also occur.

Cross-listed: LING-3106(3).

Requisite Courses: Any section of Academic Writing (or exemption from the writing requirement) and completion of 24 credit hours [prerequisite(s)].

RHET-3158 (3) The Culture Wars (3 hrs Lecture) This course introduces students to the nature of communication in a divided society. Students consider the challenges that cultural, conceptual and more diversity pose to democratic dialogue and civic engagement. They consider first historical background that explains the contemporary culture wars. They then evaluate a series of recent case studies concerning moral conflict and communication breakdown. The aim is to get students to think critically about what communication means in the absence of a shared vocabulary and what kind of dialogue is appropriate for a radically diverse society.

Requisite Courses: Any section of Academic Writing or exemption from the writing requirement and completion of 24 credit hours [prerequisite(s)].

RHET-3250 (3) Composition Studies (3 hrs Lecture) This course introduces the main theories, topics, and issues in the field of composition, including theories of the composing process; writing pedagogy; the place of the writer in the university; the relationships among writing, gender, culture, and race; and the effect of new communicative technologies on the composing process. Students rehearse many of the processes and techniques considered in the course, and they may be required to carry out a data-based research project in composition, involving systematic observation and analysis of the composing process.

Requisite Courses: Any section of Academic Writing or exemption from the writing requirement and completion of 24 credit hours [prerequisite(s)].

RHET-3255 (3) Narrative Thinking and Writing (3 hrs Lecture) Students in this course consider narrative as a way of thinking or mode of knowing, rather than as a method of transcription. They focus on the narrative methodologies of autobiographical criticism and ethnography by examining texts that represent early and recent examples of each. Working with autobiographical criticism, students consider how feminist theory has been instrumental in the development of criticism that foregrounds the connection between self and text. Turning to ethnography, students examine changes in the relationship between observer and field. In addition to considering these issues as readers of narrative, students are asked to write narratives that engage issues requiring analysis and to reflect on how narration both enables and inhibits the development of ideas.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ENGL-2150 | RHET-2150.

Requisite Courses: Any section of Academic Writing or exemption from the writing requirement and completion of 24 credit hours [prerequisite(s)].

RHET-3320 (3) Forms of Inquiry in Written

Communication (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines the methods and methodologies of the research community that takes writing as its subject-defining method as a technique of gathering evidence and methodology as the underlying theory and analysis of how research proceeds. We review how the community of researchers formed since the 1960s has relied upon diverse ways to make knowledge about writing and writing processes. Students examine qualitative approaches that are common or that are gaining prominence in this community, with emphasis on ethnography, case study, and teacher research narrative. The influences of feminism, pluralism, and collaborative scholarship are also considered. Students will become familiar with these methods by reading theory and research and by conducting their own research project.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and RHET-4320.

Requisite Courses: Any section of Academic Writing or exemption from the writing requirement and completion of 24 credit hours [prerequisite(s)].

RHET-3321 (3) Composing Our Winnipeg: Rhetoric of/and the City

(3 hrs Lecture) In this course, we consider how our city has been written so far, and how its culture(s) and geography are a function of confrontations between language, cultures of poverty and power, and complex institutional decision-making. Rather than ignoring or mythologizing inequities -- endorsing uncomfortable silences and uneasy confrontations as our cityspeak -- we consider some material realities and social myths that shape our thinking about Winnipeg centre and neighbourhoods: who are we, what do we do, who moves in and out? From this interaction of real and imagined city, we compose a third space that signifies what the city can be.

Requisite Courses: Any section of Academic Writing or exemption from the writing requirement and completion of 24 credit hours [prerequisite(s)].

RHET-3329 (3) Writing for Scholarly Audiences (3 hrs Lecture) This course addresses the varieties of scholarly discourse: why academics write and speak in a particular way, and how the contexts of political and economic environments that surround a university affect textual production. By reading and analyzing representative texts of various disciplines, students will learn to recognize and practice the sort of rhetoric used by academics. The goals of this course are threefold: (1) to increase students' awareness of norms and disciplinary conventions; (2) to help prepare students for advanced scholarship; and (3) to learn more about the pragmatic components involved in writing, thinking, and speaking at an academic level. In exceptional cases, this course may be taken to satisfy the Academic Writing requirement with permission of the Instructor and Chair.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ENGL-2110 | ENGL-2129 | ENGL-2130 | ENGL-2181 | RHET-2129 | RHET-2130.

Requisite Courses: Any section of Academic Writing or exemption from the writing requirement and completion of 24 credit hours [prerequisite(s)].

RHET-3330 (3) Investigative Journalism

(3 hrs Lecture) This course provides an overview of the history, theory, and practice of investigative journalism in Canada, placing the form in historical context and surveying its major practitioners in print and broadcast. The theoretical framework of investigative journalism is analyzed and parallels are drawn to social sciences. Students learn some practical tools of the investigative journalist, including search strategies, chronologies, computer-assisted reporting, online research methods, study and analysis of public records, and access-to-information methods. The ethics and legalities of investigative journalism are surveyed and case studies analyzed.

Requisite Courses: Any section of Academic Writing or exemption from the writing requirement and completion of 24 credit hours [prerequisite(s)].

RHET-3331 (3) Writing Internship

(Apprenticeship/Internship/Practicum with variable meeting hours) The Writing Internship involves a placement with a community organization. Students learn how to write for audiences outside of the academy, follow specific ethical guidelines for writing and produce a range of written texts. The specifics of each internship are determined in consultation between the community organization, the student-intern, the university's internship coordinator, and the instructor. Training and supervision for the work components are provided by the community organization and academic oversight are provided by the instructor. Assessment for the Writing Internship is Pass/Fail, based on performance evaluation by the community organization and academic writing demonstrating learning from the experience.

Restrictions: Instructor Permission Required.

Requisite Courses: Any section of Academic Writing or exemption from the writing requirement and completion of 30 credit hours (which may include cognate courses) [prerequisite(s)].

RHET-3335 (3) Communication and the Climate Crisis

(3 hrs Lecture) This course examines the role of media, communication, culture, and rhetoric in the public sphere in raising (or suppressing) awareness about environmental issues like climate change. This course explores how different actors (e.g., corporations, governments, environmental groups) talk about the 'environment', depending upon their interests and values. It also engages with how different forms of journalism impact our ability to address environmental problems, as well as the role communication and rhetoric play in contemporary environmental activism. These issues are explored using the climate crisis as a focal lens to better engage with the growing field of environmental communication and its relation to ecological sustainability.

Experimental Course - This course is offered on a trial basis to gauge interest in the topic. Students who successfully complete this course receive credit as indicated.

Requisite Courses: Completion of 24 credit hours and any section of Academic Writing or exemption from the writing requirement [prerequisite(s)].

RHET-3340 (3) Technical and Professional

Communication (3 hrs Lecture) This course provides an overview of the emerging field of organizational communication and an introduction to the ways in which a variety of rhetorical theories explain the strategic choices available to professional and technical communicators. Students analyze various artefacts of organizational communication, as well as plan, draft, edit, and design a range of professional and technical documents, such as business correspondence, proposals, and reports. The assignments stress the importance of a critical analysis of purpose, situation, context, and readership for making effective, appropriate, and ethical choices as technical and professional communicators. Uses and design of electronic correspondence and on-line information are discussed.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and RHET-2140.

Requisite Courses: Any section of Academic Writing or exemption from the writing requirement and completion of 24 credit hours [prerequisite(s)].

RHET-3450 (3) Critical Studies of Social Media (3 hrs Lecture/Seminar) Social media and social networking websites structure many of our experiences of the world, ourselves, and the culture that surrounds us. This course takes a critical, cultural, and rhetorical approach to the study of social media. Topics include the rhetoric of the public profile and persuasive constructions of social media selfhood and identity curation; the language and meaning of social media "friendship" and "publicity;" questions about the rhetoric of privacy under conditions of constant surveillance; the relationship between discourse, algorithms, and platform logics; and the role of social media in framing the world of meaning and public discourse.

Requisite Courses: Any section of Academic Writing or exemption from the writing requirement and completion of 24 credit hours [prerequisite(s)].

RHET-3460 (3) Games and the Rhetoric of Play (3 hrs Lecture) This course introduces students to humanities-based game studies, focusing on rhetorical studies of game design, game writing, and play as a medium of communication. Topics may include the debate between ludological (rule-based) and narratological (story-based) approaches, procedural studies, platform and software studies, gamification, games and adaptation studies, and games as rhetorical objects. This course examines games as a discipline in its own right. While it is not a course in game design or programming, students have the opportunity to create their own games and reflect upon them from the perspectives of rhetorical criticism, design, and play.

Requisite Courses: Any section of Academic Writing or exemption from the writing requirement [prerequisite(s)]; and completion of 24 credit hours [prerequisite(s)].

RHET-3750 (3) Classical Rhetoric: History, Theory and Practice (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines the history, theory, pedagogy, and practices of the classical period of western rhetoric, extending from Homer's Iliad and Odyssey of the eighth-century BCE to the rhetorical thinkers of the first-century CE. Students discuss the work of such canonical figures as Gorgias, Plato, Aristotle, Cicero, and Quintilian, locating them within the intellectual, political, and historical influences of their time. Always, the focus is rhetorical, students locating the origins of many rhetorical concerns in the classical period and tracing how these concepts, terminologies, and techniques persist and change throughout the ages.

Cross-listed: CLAS-3750(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and CLAS-3750.

Requisite Courses: Any section of Academic Writing or exemption from the writing requirement and completion of 24 credit hours [prerequisite(s)].

RHET-3900 (3) Topics in Rhetoric, Writing, and Communication (3 hrs Lecture) This course offers a study of an area of rhetoric, writing, or communications not covered by the general courses in the department. Depending on the particular expertise or research interests of a given instructor, it may, for instance, centre on the rhetorics of a particular genre, a particular political focus, or a given thematic. The course also allows students to explore a given theoretical approach at a more advanced level than they might in other offerings. This course may be repeated for credit when the topic varies.

Requisite Courses: Any section of Academic Writing or exemption from the writing requirement and completion of 24 credit hours [prerequisite(s)].

RHET-4138 (3) Modern Rhetorical Theory (3 hrs

Seminar/Discussion) This course provides an overview of modern rhetorical theory. It covers several major figures and schools of thought from the twentieth century to the present. Contemporary themes addressed include power, politics, democracy, science, religion, art, media, and popular culture. Students learn how to apply the theories learned in class to everyday life. The aim of the course is to help students become more critically aware of the complexities of our social and symbolic universe.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and the former RHET-3138.

Requisite Courses: Completion of 42 credit hours [prerequisite(s)].

RHET-4150 (3) Studies in the Rhetoric of Nonfiction (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This course examines nonfiction as a creative, constructive art that draws on a wide range of literary and rhetorical resources to entertain, inform, and persuade readers. Nonfiction encompasses a variety of genres--travel and adventure literature, memoir and biography, nature writing, the personal essay, the polemical essay, and New Journalism. The focus in any given year depends on the instructor's interests and selection of readings. Whatever the focus, the course considers each text as both rhetorical and literary, taking into account the context of its writing and intended audience, its author's purposes, its central ideas, its structure, and its style. The course involves intensive close reading and examination of assigned texts using literary and rhetorical approaches. The class consists of short lecture presentations and a great deal of class discussion.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and the former RHET-3150.

Requisite Courses: Completion of 42 credit hours [prerequisite(s)].

RHET-4151 (3) Critical Theories of Discourse and Ideology (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion)

Critical theories of discourse and ideology enable us to identify the ways that culturally prominent systems of value-laden language produce the forms and limits of probable (and even possible) thoughts and values. This course engages students in an intensive study of theories of discourse and ideology, and the rhetorical strategies used for writing about and critiquing ideological texts in the media. Using examples from contemporary media, it focuses on theories of rhetoric, discourse, and ideology that may be used for critiquing ideological texts and the ways that modern mass media use rhetoric, language, and images to reproduce forms of power.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and the former RHET-3151.

Requisite Courses: Completion of 42 credit hours [prerequisite(s)].

RHET-4152 (3) Digital Rhetorics (3 hrs

Seminar/Discussion) This course introduces students to the basic themes, issues, and intellectual debates in the study of digital rhetorics. It provides a critical perspective on what it means to live in a digitally mediated world. To this end, the course seeks to answer the following questions: How should we define media? What separates new media from old? What is the relationship of media to culture and society? What role does digital rhetoric play in a modern democracy? Students explore a variety of perspectives for considering digital rhetorics, including language, ethics, power, and identity.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and the former RHET-3152.

Requisite Courses: Completion of 42 credit hours [prerequisite(s)].

RHET-4401 (3) Rhetoric of the Public Sphere (3 hrs

Seminar/Discussion) This course adopts a rhetoric and communications framework for the purpose of conducting an intensive study of the concept of the public sphere, everyday processes of communal discourse and negotiation. It examines written, spoken, visual, gestural, and other texts that mediate relations among people in civic spaces. It may include such topics as the definition of the term "public sphere," the history of public discourse, the relationship between state and civil society, the ethics of public texts and power, the impact of the media in narrating public events, and the textual "handling" of social tensions.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and the former RHET-3401.

Requisite Courses: Completion of 42 credit hours [prerequisite(s)].

RHET-4420 (3) Rhetorics of Identity (3 hrs

Seminar/Discussion) This course undertakes an intensive study into the symbolic mediation of identity. It examines how symbolic systems reflect, produce, and challenge such concepts as gender, race, ethnicity, sexuality, class, ability, age, nationality, and humanness. Drawing connections between discourses and privilege, the course also explores power and identity politics, examining the reciprocal relationship between symbols and ideology. Its topics may include the performance and circulation of digitally mediated identities, constitutive rhetoric, rhetoric of the body, civic identity, and the post-human.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and the former RHET-3420.

Requisite Courses: Completion of 42 credit hours [prerequisite(s)].

RHET-4900 (3) Honours Thesis in Rhetoric and Communications (3 hrs Project / Thesis)

The Honours Thesis in Rhetoric and Communications is taught on an individual basis through an arrangement between the professor and student. The student completes an Honours thesis under the mentorship of a supervising faculty member in the Department of Rhetoric, Writing, and Communications. The thesis may develop out of the student's prior work in Rhetoric and Communications. The Honours thesis is optional and may be taken in partial fulfillment of credit hours required for the Honours BA in Rhetoric and Communications. Students enrolling in the Honours Thesis must be registered in the Honours BA program in Rhetoric and Communications.

Requisite Courses: Must be registered in the Honours BA Rhetoric and Communications program and have completed at least 6 credit hours in RHET at the 4000-level and at least 42 credit hours [prerequisite(s)].

SOCIOLOGY

SOC-1006 (3) Beginnings in Law and Criminology (3 hrs Lecture) This course introduces students to the relationship among law, crime and society. It examines a range of law and policy from both a historical and contemporary perspective. Students are introduced to classical and contemporary theories in the field, as well as research methods and disciplinary debates.

SOC-1100 (3) Introduction to Sociology I: Concepts and Methods (3 hrs Lecture) This course provides an introduction to the discipline of sociology. Topics include classical and contemporary sociological theory, quantitative and qualitative methodologies, and the foundational concepts of social structure, culture, and socialization.
Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and SOC-1101 | SOC-1105.

SOC-1102 (3) Introduction to Sociology II: Applications (3 hrs Lecture) This course applies sociological concepts and methodologies to the study of contemporary society. Topics may include class inequality, gender, race and ethnicity, work, technological change, immigration, globalization, medicine, crime and deviance, and social media. This course is required of all sociology majors and minors.
Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and SOC-1101
Requisite Courses: SOC-1100(3) [prerequisite(s)].

SOC-2000 (3) Sociology of Sport (3 hrs Lecture) This course introduces various aspects of the study of sport. Using the major theoretical perspectives in sociology, the function of sport in contemporary society is examined. Contemporary issues in sport and society are also covered.
Requisite Courses: SOC-1100 or SOC-1101 or KIN-1101 [prerequisite(s)].

SOC-2001 (3) Sociology of Leisure (3 hrs Lecture) This course analyzes the nature and extent of leisure phenomena in contemporary society. Topics to be covered include institutions, aspects of formal organizations, social roles, and social research strategies.
Requisite Courses: SOC-1100 or SOC-1101 [prerequisite(s)].

SOC-2010 (3) Classical Sociological Theory (3 hrs Lecture) This course provides an introduction to the foundational thinkers in social and economic theory, each of whom helped lay the foundations for all subsequent social thought. Students undertake an in-depth examination of classical sociological ideas from theorists such as August Comte, Emile Durkheim, Karl Marx, Friedrich Engels, Max Weber, Harriet Martineau, W.E.B. Du Bois, and Georg Simmel. This course is required of all majors and honours students and it is a prerequisite for SOC-2011(3) 20th Century Sociological Theory and SOC-2012(3) Contemporary Sociological Theory.
Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and SOC-2114.
Requisite Courses: SOC-1100 or SOC-1101

[prerequisite(s)].

SOC-2011 (3) 20th Century Sociological Theory (3 hrs Lecture) An in-depth examination of early to mid-20th century sociological ideas, this course provides an overview of thinkers in social theory, each of whom helped lay the foundations for subsequent social thought in Europe and North America. Theorists covered may include: Antonio Gramsci, Norbert Elias, C. W. Mills, Emma Goldman, Frantz Fanon, Talcott Parsons, Robert Merton, Erving Goffman, Edwin Sutherland, Howard Garfinkel, Harold Becker, George Herbert Mead, Herbert Blumer, Georg Lukacs, Theodor W. Adorno, Max Horkheimer, Herbert Marcuse, Ralf Dahrendorf, Ralph Miliband, and Peter Berger and Thomas Luckmann. Students are encouraged to take SOC-2011(3) prior to taking SOC-2012(3).
Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and SOC-2114.
Requisite Courses: SOC-1100 (or SOC-1101) and SOC-2010 [prerequisite(s)].

SOC-2012 (3) Contemporary Sociological Theory (3 hrs Lecture) An in-depth examination of middle and late-20th century and contemporary sociological ideas which may include those of: Edward Said, Anthony Giddens, Jurgen Habermas, Ulrich Beck, Pierre Bourdieu, Stuart Hall, Michel Foucault, Manuel Castells, Patricia Hill Collins, Niklas Luhmann, Dorothy Smith, Jean-François Lyotard, Zygmunt Bauman, Jacques Derrida, Judith Butler, Donna Haraway, Loïc Wacquant, Bruno Latour and Slavoj Žižek.
Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and SOC-2114.
Requisite Courses: SOC-1100 (or SOC-1101) and SOC-2010 [prerequisite(s)].

SOC-2101 (3) Social Inequality in the Era of Globalization (3 hrs Lecture) Using historical and comparative material, this course examines the historical origins of various inequalities including class, gender, racial-ethnic and international stratification. A major emphasis is placed upon the dynamics of these inequalities in the era of globalization and what has been termed "globalization of poverty".
Requisite Courses: SOC-1100 or SOC-1101 [prerequisite(s)].

SOC-2103 (3) Sociology of Families (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines the traditional nuclear family in Western industrialized societies and its various forms. Particularly, families are treated as social relationships and, how these relationships are established, challenged, broken up and re-built are examined. Topics covered include theories on families, dating, family formation, domestic work, domestic violence, divorce, single, and step families. Gender perspectives are applied in this course.
Note: Students may not receive credit for SOC-2103(3) and the former SOC-2103(6).
Requisite Courses: SOC-1100 or SOC-1101 or WGS-1232 (Declared Majors in Developmental Studies may have the requisite waived by obtaining permission of the Sociology Department Chair) [prerequisite(s)].

SOC-2104 (3) Sociology of Work (3 hrs Lecture) This course focuses on topics and concepts that are essential to a sociological understanding of work and occupations, while enabling students to gain insight into their own relationship with the world of work. A central proposition of this course is that work is fateful for our social lives, meaning our attitudes, behaviours, and options towards work are entwined with our social environment. While the main focus is on work in contemporary Canada, including technological developments, credentialism, precarious work, work-life balance, and labour activism, this course also examines how work has changed historically and how it differs across societies and cultures.

Requisite Courses: SOC-1100 or SOC-1101 [prerequisite(s)].

SOC-2105 (6) Race, Ethnic and Indigenous Relations (3 hrs Lecture) This course answers the call for sociology to end its "complicity in the elimination of the native." It explores how settler-colonial frameworks inform the experience of Indigenous peoples. Sociology is examined as an extension of settler-colonial logics and power structures. The scholarship of Indigenous academics is the focus of the course, as students systematically examine major theories of racism. Contemporary issues covered in the course are defined as those elements of modernity which intersect in the lives, traditions, and future of Indigenous peoples (e.g., politics, media).

Requisite Courses: SOC-1100 or SOC-1101 (Declared majors in Indigenous Studies may have the requisite waived by obtaining permission of the Sociology Department Chair) [prerequisite(s)].

SOC-2107 (3) Criminological Theory (3 hrs Lecture) The problems of defining and explaining crime and deviant behaviour are considered as well as an analysis of the major theoretical trends in the field. The course is designed to introduce students to the intellectual history and development of major theories of crime and deviance and to provide those who wish to pursue their interest with the analytical tools required in the advanced courses in the field of criminology.

Requisite Courses: SOC-1100 or SOC-1101 [prerequisite(s)].

SOC-2108 (3) Sociology of Deviance (3 hrs Lecture) This course introduces students to the study of discourses of social regulation, moral regulation, and governance in Canada. It focuses on the processes and practices of normalization by exploring practices of power that shape social conduct and individual behaviour around the concept of deviance.

Requisite Courses: SOC-1100 or SOC-1101 [prerequisite(s)].

SOC-2109 (3) Social Policy and Social Welfare (3 hrs Lecture) This course focuses on the policy context of social welfare with particular emphasis on Canada. How do Canada and other welfare states face up to the challenges posed by major socio-economic trends of today? The impact on welfare policies of globalization and such other important phenomena as family structure, gender roles, ethnic diversity, and an aging population is examined. Policies designed to deal with the challenges of poverty, social isolation, healthcare, homelessness, and disabilities are analyzed. Students are encouraged to apply sociological concepts and learn to analyze and judge particular policies.

Requisite Courses: SOC-1100 or SOC-1101 (Declared Majors in Developmental Studies may have the requisite waived by obtaining permission of the Sociology Department Chair) [prerequisite(s)].

SOC-2115 (6) Sociology of Socialization and Development (3 hrs Lecture) Using several theoretical perspectives, this course investigates the processes of socialization and personality formation through this life cycle. Emphasis is placed on the content, stages and agencies of socialization in a variety of social contexts. Discussion and analysis are based on social, social psychological and comparative data.

Requisite Courses: SOC-1100 or SOC-1101 (Declared Majors in Developmental Studies may have the requisite waived by obtaining permission of the Sociology Department Chair) [prerequisite(s)].

SOC-2118 (3) Sex and Gender Relationships (3 hrs Lecture) This course discusses the dynamics of sex and gender relationships in different socio-cultural contexts. Major topics for discussion include gender role differentiation, sex role stereotyping and changes over time in male/female relationships in North American society. Attention is given, where possible, to cross-cultural studies.

Requisite Courses: SOC-1100 or SOC-1101 or WGS-1232 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

SOC-2119 (3) Sociology of Law (3 hrs Lecture) This course analyzes the effects of law on social relationships as well as the social dynamics which give rise to, maintain and alter laws. The sociological aspects of institutions and organizations are studied in the context of the Canadian legal system.

Requisite Courses: SOC-1100 or SOC-1101 [prerequisite(s)].

SOC-2125 (3) Introduction to Quantitative Research Methods (2 hrs Lecture | 2 hrs Lab) This course is an introduction to the use of descriptive and inferential statistics in the social sciences, with an emphasis on sociology. Students are introduced to survey research and techniques of data analysis. Lab work is included to develop computer-based statistical skills for use in research. This course is required for majors and honours students.

Note: This course meets the University Science Requirement.

Requisite Courses: SOC-1100(3), or the former SOC-1101(6), or KIN-1101(3), or CJ-1002(3), or the former CJ-1101(6) [prerequisite(s)]; SOC-2125L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

SOC-2126 (3) Introduction to Research Design and Qualitative Research (2 hrs Lecture | 2 hrs Lab) This course is an introduction to the principles and techniques of social science research. Areas of discussion involve the major methodological questions in the field, such as the relationship between empirical research and theory construction and the other factors that influence basic research processes. Included will be an introduction to the principles and design of qualitative research. Lab work is included to develop computer skills for use in research. This course is required for all honours and majors students.

Requisite Courses: SOC-1100(3) or the former SOC-1101(6), or KIN-1101(3), or CJ-1002(3), or the former CJ-1101(6) [prerequisite(s)]; SOC-2126L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

SOC-2201 (3) Sociology of Aging (3 hrs Lecture) This course considers the age structure of Canadian society, aging in different cultures, methods of studying aging and sociological theories of aging. Possible issues for discussion include housing, pensions, transportation, and health care.

Requisite Courses: SOC-1100 or SOC-1101 [prerequisite(s)].

SOC-2202 (3) Changing Patterns of Aging (3 hrs Lecture) This course investigates the changes taking place today in the lives of middle-aged and older Canadians. Emphasis is placed on changes in social institutions and their impact on the process of aging, including the responses of people to change. Possible topics to be covered include issues related to changes in individual and population aging, such as intergenerational relations; changing perceptions of career and retirement; family and community-related role and commitment changes; and new values, attitudes, and alternative lifestyles in later life.

Requisite Courses: SOC-1100 or SOC-1101 [prerequisite(s)].

SOC-2205 (3) Sociology of Power and Money (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines the relation between capitalism and the social relations, ideologies, and processes of socialization characteristic of contemporary society. Topics include work and technological change, the class structure, the state and globalization, consumerism, and the environment.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and SOC-3204.

Requisite Courses: SOC-1100 or SOC-1101 [prerequisite(s)].

SOC-2208 (3) Women, Crime, and Social Justice (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines gender differences in crime, theories of women's crime, and the treatment of both women offenders and victims by the criminal justice system. Emphasis is placed on the feminist scholarship that addresses these issues.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and SOC-3208.

Requisite Courses: SOC-1100 or SOC-1101 [prerequisite(s)].

SOC-2209 (3) Sociology of Youth Justice (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines the historical development of a separate justice system for young persons in Canada. The course offers a sociological analysis of the effectiveness of various reform measures adopted in separate court systems for youth. Attention is directed to the nature and extent of youth crime as well as changing public perceptions about youth violence. The course also examines force-based systems of punishment and restorative models of youth criminal justice. The Canadian youth justice system is compared to models in other Western jurisdictions.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and SOC-3201.

Requisite Courses: SOC-1100 or SOC-1101 [prerequisite(s)].

SOC-2210 (3) Sociology of Crime and Punishment (3 hrs Lecture) This course explores punishment from a sociological perspective which involves the study of penal theory and various kinds of disciplinary intervention. Consideration is given to punishments which occur outside the criminal justice system and the wider forms of social regulation in our society. Sociological analyses of punishment consider women prisoners, prisoners from visible and ethnic minorities, and aging prisoners. The privatization of punishment, movements for radical reform, and the establishment of alternative systems of restorative justice and First Nations approaches are also examined.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and SOC-3203.

Requisite Courses: SOC-1100 or SOC-1101 [prerequisite(s)].

SOC-2211 (3) White Collar and Corporate Crime (3 hrs Lecture) This course is a comprehensive examination of the prevalence and impact of crime committed by those working in the "suites" as opposed to the "streets". Expanding upon the concept of "white collar crime", the course focuses on an investigation of both "occupational" and "organizational/corporate" criminality. As part of that investigation, the course analyzes the "socially injurious acts" of corporations and formal organizations (including governments) against their employees, consumers, the public, and the environment. The course also looks at the deviant and illegal acts of individuals

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and SOC-3213.

Requisite Courses: SOC-1100 or SOC-1101 [prerequisite(s)].

SOC-2212 (3) Sociology of the Body (3 hrs Lecture) The focus of this course is the body, not in its biological sense but in its social sense: the body as a social construction. Every society within a given historical period develops specific meanings for the forms, functions, and movements of the body. This course examines the human body from a number of different perspectives and studies the body as a site of social interaction. This course surveys the history of thinking about the body, the body as a reflection of society and theories of corporeal representation.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and SOC-3212.

Requisite Courses: SOC-1100 or SOC-1101 [prerequisite(s)].

SOC-2307 (3) Sociology of Youth (3 hrs Lecture)

Analyzing youth in contemporary society, this course explores their problems and roles in the family, education, the economy, politics and government, youth organizations, sub-cultures and social movements.

Requisite Courses: SOC-1100 or SOC-1101 [prerequisite(s)].

SOC-2308 (3) Critical Social Issues I (3 hrs Lecture)

Using a sociological perspective, this course examines issues of current social controversy. (A more detailed description will be available in the Department Office during the terms in which the course is offered.)

Note: This course may be repeated for credit when the topic varies.

Requisite Courses: SOC-1100 or SOC-1101 [prerequisite(s)].

SOC-2404 (3) Sociology of Development and Underdevelopment (3 hrs Lecture)

Based on a variety of theoretical perspectives and research in the area of socio-economic development, this course focuses on the problems faced by industrializing countries. Major issues might include the unequal allocation of natural and agricultural resources and the basis of social and political inequalities between industrialized and industrializing countries.

Requisite Courses: SOC-1100 or SOC-1101 [prerequisite(s)].

SOC-2408 (3) Critical Social Issues II (3 hrs Lecture)

Using a sociological perspective, this course examines issues of current social controversy. Potential topics include neofascism, power and terrorism, mental health/illness, and the social impact of pandemics. (A more detailed description will be available in the Department Office during the terms in which the course is offered.)

Note: This course may be repeated for credit when the topic varies.

Requisite Courses: Take SOC-1100 or SOC-1101 [prerequisite(s)].

SOC-2501 (3) Technology and Society (3 hrs Lecture)

This course provides a sociological analysis of the theoretical and substantive issues involved in the impact of technological change on contemporary society. It focuses on technological change as it affects the world of work, the environment, human reproduction, gender relations, and communications. We explore the growing significance of the Internet and its implications for such matters as privacy, community, and social relations. Various strategies for implementing technological change are also examined.

Requisite Courses: SOC-1100 or SOC-1101 or ENV-1600 [prerequisite(s)].

SOC-2502 (3) Sociology of the Environment (3 hrs Lecture)

This course offers an examination of environmental issues and concerns from a sociological perspective. Topics for review include environmental values, attitudes and behaviour; the environmental movement; the political economy of the environment, and environmental risk and risk assessment. Debates surrounding such concepts as sustainable development, deep ecology, environmental justice and global change will also be emphasized.

Cross-listed: ENV-2502(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ENV-2502.

Requisite Courses: SOC-1100 or SOC-1101 or ENV-1600 [prerequisite(s)].

SOC-3002 (3) Comparative Genocide (3 hrs Lecture)

Comparative Genocide critically reviews central themes of genocide studies and describes an array of new directions in the field, including cultural genocide, gender and genocide, and structural violence. This course is case-study focused, seeking to place both established and less established cases of genocide in a wider comparative perspective. Cases analyzed may include genocide of Indigenous Peoples in North America and other settler societies, the Nazi Holocaust, the Armenian genocide, the Sri Lankan genocide, the Rwanda genocide, among others. Cases covered vary from year-to-year.

Requisite Courses: SOC-1100 or SOC-1101 [prerequisite(s)].

SOC-3003 (3) Gendercide (3 hrs Lecture)

This course examines gendercide in a comparative and global-sociological perspective. It explores two central propositions: that the framing should be an inclusive one, encompassing the experiences of both women/girls and men/boys and that recognition and amelioration of the phenomenon is a matter of the highest urgency. Themes may include theories of gendercide, sexual violence as a genocidal weapon, and the relevance of feminist and masculinity studies literatures for the study of gendercide. Case studies vary from year-to-year.

Cross-listed: HR-3003(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and HR-3003.

Requisite Courses: SOC-1100 or SOC-1101 [prerequisite(s)].

SOC-3102 (6) Sociology of Medicine (3 hrs Lecture)

The focus of this course is on the social context of disease and medical care. Topics to be covered include stress and psychosomatic illness, causes and consequences of mental illness, the sick role, variations in illness behaviour, doctor-patient relationships, unorthodox systems of medical practice, psychiatric therapies, organization of the medical profession, social structure of the hospital and politics of the health care system.

Requisite Courses: SOC-1100 or SOC-1101 [prerequisite(s)].

SOC-3104 (6) Globalization and Societies in the World System (3 hrs Lecture)

This course examines the origins and dynamics of the "new world order" from the perspective of world systems and other theories. Various, and often conflicting conceptions of the globalization and its impact on human relations are given a central focus with a particular concern to the interrelationship of nations in the "global village". Emphasis is placed on such crucial phenomena as culture, economic life and distribution of power. Alternatives to modern national societies are examined.

Requisite Courses: SOC-1100 or SOC-1101
[prerequisite(s)].

SOC-3115 (3) Political Sociology (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines the emergence of representative democracy in Western industrialized nations. Particular emphasis is given to social and political forces impacting on government and the state, the rise and demise of the Keynesian welfare state, and the abilities of governments to deal with the challenges of "globalization". This course also examines variables linked to voting behaviour in these countries.

Requisite Courses: SOC-1100 or SOC-1101
[prerequisite(s)].

SOC-3118 (6) Women in Society (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines the social position of women in Western industrial capitalist societies with comparative material from socialist and non-industrial societies. Particular attention is given to the social status of women in the workforce and in the household and to prospects for change. Sociological perspectives explaining the origin and maintenance of the social position of women are examined.

Requisite Courses: SOC-1100 or SOC-1101 or WGS-1232 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

SOC-3123 (3) Crime, Victimization, and Justice in Indigenous Communities (3 hrs Lecture) This course involves the study of adult and youth crime, victimization and justice in Indigenous communities. It involves the study of various types of programs (e.g., sentencing circles) developed by Indigenous communities to facilitate culturally appropriate justice programs and their impact upon community development.

Requisite Courses: SOC-1100 or SOC-1101 (Declared majors in Indigenous Studies may have the requisite waived by obtaining permission of the Sociology Department Chair) [prerequisite(s)].

SOC-3128 (3) Sociology of Sexuality (3 hrs Lecture) This course explores sociological theories and research in the area of gender and sexuality. The course material examines social construction of gender and sexuality from both micro (interactional) and macro (social structural) viewpoints. The focus is on modern society but attention will be paid to historical processes and cross-cultural studies. Topics such as gender socialization, sports, and the family will also be explored.

Requisite Courses: SOC-1100 or SOC-1101 or
WGS-1232 [prerequisite(s)].

SOC-3201 (3) Sociology of Youth Justice (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines the historical development of a separate justice system for young persons in Canada. The course offers a sociological analysis of the effectiveness of various reform measures adopted in separate court systems for youth. Attention is directed to the nature and extent of youth crime as well as changing public perceptions about youth violence. The course also examines force-based systems of punishment and restorative models of youth criminal justice. The Canadian youth justice system is compared to models in other Western jurisdictions.

Requisite Courses: SOC-1100 or SOC-1101
[prerequisite(s)].

SOC-3203 (3) Theories of Penalty (3 hrs Lecture) This course explores punishment from a sociological perspective which involves the study of penal theory and various kinds of disciplinary intervention. Consideration is given to punishments which occur outside the criminal justice system and the wider forms of social regulation in our society. Sociological analyses of punishment consider women prisoners, prisoners from visible and ethnic minorities, and aging prisoners. The privatization of punishment, movements for radical reform, and the establishment of alternative systems of restorative justice and First Nations approaches are also examined.

Requisite Courses: SOC-1100 or SOC-1101
[prerequisite(s)].

SOC-3204 (3) Sociology of Power and Money (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines the relation between capitalism and the social relations, ideologies, and processes of socialization characteristic of contemporary society. Topics include work and technological change, the class structure, the state and globalization, consumerism, and the environment.

Requisite Courses: SOC-1100 or SOC-1101
[prerequisite(s)].

SOC-3205 (3) Policing, Governance and Security (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines the changing role of the state in relation to policing, in the context of risk and safety, through an examination of domestic policing, border and immigration patrol, and private security measures. In particular, it examines the nature of policing in Canada from a comparative standpoint; the expansion of the use of detention without due process in the context of terrorism; the rise of private security to police gated communities and the institutional environs such as shopping malls, schools and suburban property. It also examines other issues such as the technological advancements in surveillance.

Requisite Courses: SOC-1100 or SOC-1101
[prerequisite(s)].

SOC-3208 (3) Women, Crime, and Social Justice (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines gender differences in crime, theories of women's crime, and the treatment of both women offenders and victims by the criminal justice system. Emphasis will be placed on the feminist scholarship that addresses these issues.

Requisite Courses: SOC-1100 or SOC-1101 or
WGS-1232 [prerequisite(s)].

SOC-3210 (3) Critical Studies in Medicine and Psychiatry (3 hrs Lecture) This course provides a sociological approach to understanding the power of medicine and psychiatry in modern society. Topics include cross-cultural differences in conceptions of normal and abnormal, the social history of psychiatric institutions, gender and mental health, social factors contributing to mental and emotional problems, suicide, the experience of psychiatric survivors and patients, the mental health crisis of prisoners, the social construction of mental pathology, the organization and effectiveness of treatment programs, human rights and psychiatric abuses, and the psychopharmaceutical industry.

Requisite Courses: SOC-1100 or SOC-1101 [prerequisite(s)].

SOC-3212 (3) Sociology of the Body (3 hrs Lecture) The focus of this course is the body, not in its biological sense but in its social sense: the body as a social construction. Every society within a given historical period develops specific meanings for the forms, functions, and movements of the body. This course will examine the human body from a number of different perspectives and study the body as a site of social interaction. This course will survey the history of thinking about the body, the body as a reflection of society and theories of corporeal representation.

Requisite Courses: SOC-1100 or SOC-1101 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

SOC-3213 (3) White Collar and Corporate Crime (3 hrs Lecture) This course is a comprehensive examination of the prevalence and impact of crime committed by those working in the "suites" as opposed to the "streets". Expanding upon the concept of "white collar crime", the course focuses on an investigation of both "occupational" and "organizational/corporate" criminality. As part of that investigation, the course analyzes the "socially injurious acts" of corporations and formal organizations (including governments) against their employees, consumers, the public, and the environment. The course also looks at the deviant and illegal acts of individuals.

Requisite Courses: SOC-1100 or SOC-1101 [prerequisite(s)].

SOC-3214 (3) Mass Communication and Media (1.5 hrs Lecture | 1.5 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This course examines the social implications of developments in communications and media technologies. Course material focuses on Canadian mass communications and media in an increasingly globalized context. Topics of study include the construction of social reality through communications and media, theoretical perspectives on production and reception, critical analyses of communication industry policy and ownership, news media and journalism, globalization and mass media culture, media representations of war and conflict, and political activism in new media.

Note: Students who obtained credit in the former SOC-3209(6) may not receive credit for this course.

Requisite Courses: SOC-1100 or SOC-1101 (Declared Majors in Rhetoric, Writing, and Communications or the UW/RRC Joint Communications Degree/Diploma may have the requisite waived by obtaining permission of the Sociology Department Chair) [prerequisite(s)].

SOC-3215 (3) Popular Culture (1.5 hrs Lecture | 1.5 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This course examines the construction of social reality through the dynamics of popular culture. Course material focuses on North American popular culture in an increasingly globalized context. Topics include the history and politics of high and low culture, cultures of consumerism, advertising, public space, identity and popular culture, subcultures and countercultures, culture jamming, postmodern strategies of representation, and political activism in popular culture.

Note: Students who obtained credit in the former SOC-3209(6) may not receive credit for this course.

Requisite Courses: SOC-1100 or SOC-1101 or ENGL-2145 or WGS-2260. (Declared Majors in Rhetoric, Writing, and Communications or the UW/RRC Joint Communications Degree/Diploma may have the requisite waived by obtaining permission of the Sociology Department Chair) [prerequisite(s)].

SOC-3223 (3) Green Criminology (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines the history and contemporary nature of 'green' (environmental) criminology harms as well as the diverse strategies developed to protect the environment. It explores the way in which governments, transnational corporations, military apparatuses, and ordinary people going about their everyday activities routinely harm the environment, ecology and animals. Topics include the social construction of environmental problems, pollution, illegal disposal of waste, animal rights, the prosecution of specific environmental offences, the regulation of environmental activities, environmental risk, and transnational offences. Students may also be interested in CJ/SOC-3223, which covers different material.

Cross-listed: CJ-3223(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and CJ-3223.

Requisite Courses: SOC-1100(3) or the former SOC-1101(6), or CJ-1002(3) or the former CJ-1101(6), or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

SOC-3233 (3) Green Justice (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines inequalities across race, gender, class and locality in relation to environmental problems such as toxic waste disposal, air pollution, climate change, deforestation, and environmental disasters. It also examines the response to these inequalities in the form of local and global movements, protests, and politics. Topics include: the history of green justice; how green justices are created; differential exposure to environmental risks; the impact of green inequalities and the various responses to green injustices. Students may also be interested in CJ/SOC-3223, which covers different material.

Cross-listed: CJ-3233(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and CJ-3233.

Requisite Courses: SOC-1100(3) or the former SOC-1101(6), or CJ-1002(3) or the former CJ-1101(6), or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

SOC-3301 (3) Family and Work: Current Issues (3 hrs Lecture) The connection between family living and work activity is fundamental to the well-being of most people. In this course, students will study the social distribution of work, work within families, family members' work outside of the home, family/work conflicts, family diversity and work patterns and government work policies. The focus of this course will be on Canadian families, but will also include research in other countries relevant to Canadian experience. The emphasis will be on current issues.

Requisite Courses: SOC-1100 or SOC-1101 [prerequisite(s)].

SOC-3303 (3) Globalization and Families (3 hrs Lecture) Students learn about the connections between families and other social institutions such as social networks, the nation state, work, religion, health, and technologies in the context of globalization. The course also covers topics of poverty of and inequalities between families and the changing family systems in different regions of the world.

Requisite Courses: SOC-1100 or SOC-1101 [prerequisite(s)].

SOC-3304 (3) Immigrant Families (3 hrs Lecture) This course systematically discusses the unique dynamics of families of recent immigrants in their process of immigration and integration into Canadian society. Topics covered are diverse family forms, family formation, spousal relations, intergenerational relations, older immigrants and elderly care, transnational kinship, and fertility. Since immigrant men and women face dissimilar challenges, a gender perspective is applied through the course. This course aims to assist students of immigrant families to cope with the unique challenges they face and to facilitate students of public services, education, social work, policing, etc. to provide more culturally sensitivity services.

Requisite Courses: SOC-1100 or SOC-1101 [prerequisite(s)].

SOC-3305 (3) International Migration (3 hrs Lecture) This course systematically investigates the issues of international migration in the modern world from a sociological perspective. The main goal of this course is to provide students with an understanding of the emerging global dynamics of migration and its consequences for migrants and non-migrants everywhere in a comparative perspective. Various migratory movements and settlement patterns in different regions and countries are discussed. Some special attention is also given to Canadian experience so that students can develop a better understanding of immigration and settlement issues of Canada in a global context.

Requisite Courses: SOC-1100 or SOC-1101 [prerequisite(s)].

SOC-3333 (3) Liberation Sociology (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines liberation sociology - a form of emancipatory sociology - which seeks sound scientific knowledge, but often takes sides with and the outlook of the oppressed. The course adopts what Gideon Sjoberg calls a countersystem approach, envisioning research relevant to everyday human (and nonhuman animal) problems. The significance of taking this standpoint is explored throughout this course, including the consequences for the stages of social research: on how we know what we know; on what we choose to research; on the nature of our scientific endeavours; on the methods we choose; and on the conclusions that we can draw from research.

Requisite Courses: SOC-1100 or SOC-1101 [prerequisite(s)].

SOC-3401 (3) Animals in Society (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines the relationship between humans and non-human animals, looking at the historical development of this relationship and various theoretical approaches to it. Through an examination of ideas such as anthropocentrism, it looks at the social construction of animals, the ways in which they are symbolically transformed, presented, and represented as part of human culture, through a human lens. Students may also be interested in SOC-3402, which covers different material.

Requisite Courses: SOC-1100 or SOC-1101 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

SOC-3402 (3) Critical Animal Studies (3 hrs Lecture) This course offers a critical analysis of the exploitation of animals in the context of global capitalism and environmental destruction. Current developments within the field of critical animal studies are shifting the ways that humans view issues such as the captivity of animals and their use in food production. Critical animal studies calls for a change in the way we conceptualize and act towards animals, moving animals from the margins to the center of scholarship, and advocating for animal rights. Students may also be interested in SOC-3401, which covers different material.

Requisite Courses: SOC-1100 or SOC-1101 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

SOC-4101 (3) Seminar in Social Stratification (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This course examines the nature and significance of social stratification from an historical perspective as well as the structure and development of modern capitalism and socialism. Class relationships in contemporary societies and the future of class are analyzed. Other topics include caste and status communities, power differentials, women and stratification, and such topics in social stratification as students choose to research.

Restrictions: Instructor Permission Required.

Requisite Courses: SOC-1100 or SOC-1101 [prerequisite(s)].

SOC-4116 (3) Seminar in Quantitative Research Methods (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This course is an advanced study of the techniques and methodology of quantitative sociological analysis. This will include in-depth discussion of methodological questions plus theoretical and practical experience with research design, data collection, statistical data processing and interpretation. The emphasis will be placed on computer based data analysis techniques. A major research project is to be completed.

Restrictions: Instructor Permission Required.

Requisite Courses: SOC-2125(3) and SOC-2126(3) or the former SOC-2106(6) [prerequisite(s)].

SOC-4126 (3) Seminar in Qualitative Research Methods (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This course is the advanced study of the major qualitative approaches to research, among them: phenomenology, symbolic interaction, ethnomethodology, and ethnology. This will include in-depth discussion of the methodological questions and debates of the day plus an opportunity for students to gain firsthand experience using a variety of data gathering techniques such as participant observation, interviewing surveys, life histories and case studies. Some computer-based applications of qualitative analysis will be explored. A major research project is to be completed.

Restrictions: Instructor Permission Required.

Requisite Courses: SOC-2125(3) and SOC-2126(3) or the former SOC-2106(6) [prerequisite(s)].

SOC-4201 (3) Selected Topics I (3 hrs

Seminar/Discussion) The content of the Selected Topics Course varies from year to year.

Restrictions: Instructor Permission Required.

SOC-4202 (3) Selected Topics II (3 hrs

Seminar/Discussion) The content of the Selected Topics course varies from year to year.

Restrictions: Instructor Permission Required.

SOC-4401 (3) Seminar in Sociological Theory (3 hrs

Seminar/Discussion) This course examines major classical and contemporary theories. Central theoretical debates and their contemporary relevance are evaluated. Possible topics for discussion also include theory construction and verification processes.

Restrictions: Instructor Permission Required.

Requisite Courses: SOC-1100(3) or the former SOC-1101(6); plus SOC-2010(3) and either SOC-2011(3) or SOC-2012(3), or the former SOC-2114(6) [prerequisite(s)].

SOC-4405 (6) Honours Research Paper (3 hrs Project /

Thesis) At the end of their fourth year, Honours students are required to present an Honours paper. This course provides fourth year students with an opportunity to prepare that paper. Each student will select an area of special interest and will work under the guidance of a supervisor throughout the year. Required of all Honours students.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

SOC-4406 (3) Seminar in Sociology of Law and Criminology (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This course is an advanced study of the sociology of crime, moral regulation and deviance. The course also examines law and social control institutions and practices. Student-initiated research is involved.

Restrictions: Instructor Permission Required.

Requisite Courses: SOC-1100 or SOC-1101 [prerequisite(s)].

SOC-4408 (3) Seminar in Socialization and Development (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This course is an advanced study of the processes of socialization and personality development through the life cycle. Various theoretical orientations are discussed emphasizing methodological questions, theoretical contributions and empirical research.

Restrictions: Instructor Permission Required.

Requisite Courses: SOC-1100 or SOC-1101 [prerequisite(s)].

SOC-4409 (3) Seminar in the Sociology of Science, Medicine, and Technology (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion)

This course examines major theoretical developments and trends in the interrelated areas of science, medicine and technology. Topics include the political economy of medicine, social history of medicine, bioethics and biopolitics, the pharmaceutical industry, medical imaging and graphics technologies, genetic engineering, the social studies of science and technology, and the sociology of scientific knowledge.

Restrictions: Instructor Permission Required.

Requisite Courses: SOC-1100 or SOC-1101 [prerequisite(s)].

SOC-4412 (3) Seminar in Sociology of Families (3 hrs

Seminar/Discussion) This course is an advanced study of the sociology of families with a major focus on theoretical approaches to the study of families; an examination of internal processes of families; a delineation of patterns of stress at each stage of family development; and an analysis of linkages with other institutions at each stage of family development. Attention is placed on the North American family with some reference to cross-cultural material.

Restrictions: Instructor Permission Required.

Requisite Courses: SOC-1100 or SOC-1101 or WGS-1232 [prerequisite(s)].

SOC-4413 (3) Seminar in Race and Ethnic Relations (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This course emphasizes the theoretical and substantive issues in the study of race and ethnic relations. The structure, development, ideologies, and linkages of race and ethnic relations with social institutions are examined in a comparative cross-national perspective. Specific issues based on student concerns will be explored in depth.

Restrictions: Instructor Permission Required.

Requisite Courses: SOC-1100 or SOC-1101 [prerequisite(s)].

SOC-4414 (3) Seminar on Women in Society (3 hrs

Seminar/Discussion) This course examines the status and role of women cross-culturally and historically. Emphasis is placed on theoretical perspectives attempting to account for the social position of women. Particular attention will be paid to work and inequalities.

Restrictions: Instructor Permission Required.

Requisite Courses: SOC-1100 or SOC-1101 or WGS-1232 [prerequisite(s)].

SOC-4415 (3) Seminar on Sociology of Culture (3 hrs

Seminar/Discussion) This course examines the major sociological perspectives on the emergence and nature of contemporary urban culture. The course will examine issues such as the culture-ideology debate, high culture versus low culture, commercial mass culture, secular rituals and the increasing impact of mass media.

Restrictions: Instructor Permission Required.

Requisite Courses: SOC-1100 or SOC-1101 [prerequisite(s)].

SOC-4800 (6) Field Research Placement

(Apprenticeship/Internship/Practicum) This course provides students with two sociological field research placement options. They can either be matched with an opportunity to work in a supervised research setting in a community or they can take an existing research proposal and work with a matched community organization to bring that proposal to completion. The course has both classroom and field research components.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Instructor Permission Required.

Requisite Courses: SOC-2125 and SOC-2126 and permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

SPANISH STUDIES

SPAN-1001 (6) Introductory Spanish (3 hrs Lecture | 1 hrs Lab) This course is designed for students who have little or no previous knowledge of Spanish and who wish to acquire a solid base in the written and spoken language. An effort is made to place equal emphasis on reading, writing, aural comprehension, and oral expression. To this end, one hour of language laboratory / small-group work supplements classroom work each week.

Note: Native speakers of Spanish or students who have standing in Spanish 40S or equivalent are not eligible to take this course.

Requisite Courses: SPAN-1001L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

SPAN-2001 (6) Intermediate Spanish (3 hrs Lecture | 1 hrs Lab) The aim of this course is to enable students to increase their proficiency in the following skills: reading, writing, aural comprehension and oral expression. Students review and build on grammar essentials, discuss readings and related topics of current interest, write compositions, and practice the spoken language. One-hour of language laboratory / small-group work provides additional practice each week.

Note: Students who have received a year or more of their secondary school education in a Spanish-speaking environment are not eligible to take this course.

Requisite Courses: SPAN-1001, Spanish 40S or permission of the Department [prerequisite(s)]; SPAN-2001L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

SPAN-2109 (3) Advanced Intermediate Spanish I (3 hrs Lecture) This course is designed to help students make the transition from the intermediate to the advanced level. It continues to develop intermediate skills in reading, writing, speaking and listening. It provides a review of pronunciation and grammar with particular attention paid to the use of the subjunctive mood and complex sentences. This is combined with extensive writing practice and conversation about contemporary issues relating to the Spanish-speaking world. Students improve proficiency by further developing their communicative competence while expanding their social and cultural awareness.

Requisite Courses: SPAN-2001 or permission of the Department Chair [prerequisite(s)].

SPAN-2110 (3) Intermediate Written Expression (3 hrs Lecture) This course is designed primarily to improve student's written expression in Spanish; oral expression also receives attention. Students are introduced to the major aspects of the writing process, specific writing techniques (description, narration and argumentation), and grammatical and stylistic editing. Model texts are presented and assignments focus on selected prose genres (e.g., composition, correspondence, summary). Individual work and small-group activities consist of writing sentences, paragraphs, and compositions.

Requisite Courses: SPAN-2109 or permission of the Department Chair [prerequisite(s)].

SPAN-2114 (3) English>Spanish Translation (3 hrs Lecture) This course in translation from English to Spanish serves a dual purpose: to give students an opportunity to expand their Spanish vocabulary and grammatical skills and to introduce them to specific written styles in the target language (Spanish). A number of recurring semantic, grammatical and syntactic features of Spanish are studied through shorter translation exercises and through the translation of longer documents, (e.g., newspaper articles, business letters, advertisements).

Requisite Courses: SPAN-2109 or SPAN-2110, or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

SPAN-2115 (3) Spanish>English Translation (3 hrs Lecture) Taught in Spanish, this course introduces the principles of written translation from Spanish into English. Practical exercises focus on translation difficulties relating to English vocabulary, grammar, and style. Students translate short authentic Spanish-language texts from a variety of sources including newspapers, magazines, and literature.

Requisite Courses: SPAN-2109 or SPAN-2110 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

SPAN-2180 (3) Introduction to Hispanic Literature (3 hrs Lecture) This course gives students the foundational skills required to read and write in Spanish about literature. Students are introduced to terms and tools of analysis necessary for a critical reading of literary texts drawn from different genres and a variety of areas of the Hispanic world (Spain and Latin America). Some class time is devoted to the development of writing skills as well as academic research techniques.

Requisite Courses: SPAN-2001 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

SPAN-2181 (3) The Hispanic American Short Story (3 hrs Lecture) This course allows students to develop an appreciation of the diversity of literature of the Hispanic world through the study of representative short stories from authors of Latin American countries such as: Juan Rulfo (Mexico), Gabriel García Márquez (Colombia), Baldomero Lillo (Chile), Isabel Allende (Chile) among others. Through the reading of these short stories, students are able to expand their Spanish language lexicon, increase their cultural knowledge of the regions as well as augment their historical sociopolitical awareness of the countries of the authors studied. Course approaches include close textual reading of the texts, vocabulary development, and photographs and films on the cultural and historical backgrounds of the works selected.

Requisite Courses: SPAN-2001 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

SPAN-2384 (3) Modern Spanish Literature and Culture (3 hrs Lecture) This course offers a critical study of representative works by Spanish novelists, poets and dramatists from the beginning of the twentieth century to the Spanish Civil War (1936-1939) and from the postwar era up to Franco's death in 1975, with particular attention to the influence of Spain's social and political history on its writers and their literary works. Authors studied may include Federico García Lorca, Camilo José Cela, Carmen Laforet, and Antonio Buero Vallejo.

Requisite Courses: SPAN-2001 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

SPAN-2385 (3) Postmodern Spanish Literature and Culture (3 hrs Lecture) This course offers a critical study of representative works by Spanish novelists, poets and dramatists after 1975, with particular attention to the dramatic political and socio-cultural changes that Spain has experienced and the role of the country within the European Union today. Authors studied may include Juan Benet, Juan Goytisolo, José Ángel Valente and Carmen Martín Gaité.

Requisite Courses: SPAN-2001 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

SPAN-2386 (3) Introduction to Hispanic Cinema (3 hrs Lecture) This course traces the evolution of Spanish and Latin American cinema. The development of the Hispanic cinematic canon is explored through the critical analysis of representative films by renowned directors such as Luis Buñuel, Víctor Erice, Pedro Almodóvar, Adolfo Aristarain, Pablo Larraín, and Alejandro González Iñárritu. Attention is paid to the sociocultural and political context of the films presented. Students acquire the terminology and tools of analysis specific to film studies while exposed to the social realities of contemporary Spain (e.g., national stereotypes, European integration, racism, immigration, gender identities) as depicted in films.

Requisite Courses: SPAN-2001 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

SPAN-2710 (3) Classics of Spanish Literature (3 hrs Lecture) In this course students study three classics of Spanish literature: The Life of Lazarillo de Tormes, by an anonymous author; the first part of Don Quixote, by Miguel de Cervantes Saavedra; and Life is a Dream, by Pedro Calderón de la Barca. Students discuss and analyze the historical, socio-cultural, intertextual, metatextual, and self-referential implications of these works, as well as their influence in other arts such as painting and cinema. Students in SPAN-2710 read the texts in English translation and write in English. The language of lectures is English.

Cross-listed: ENGL-2710(3), MOD-2710(3), SPAN-3710(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ENGL-2710 | MOD-2710 | SPAN-3710.

SPAN-3113 (3) Exploring Language and Society Through Texts (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines current events, social issues and artistic and intellectual trends in the contemporary Hispanic world through the analysis and discussion of media sources including the Internet, television and the press. The course offers extensive reading practice and is designed for students who wish to develop a high level of oral and written proficiency in Spanish. Emphasis is placed on the acquisition of specialized vocabulary. Course work includes written compositions, oral presentations, debates and round-table discussions.

Requisite Courses: Any 9 credits in Spanish Studies language courses or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

SPAN-3114 (3) English<>Spanish Interpretation (3 hrs Lecture) Taught in Spanish, this course introduces the basic techniques of consecutive and simultaneous interpretation (spoken translation) from English into Spanish and Spanish into English. Students focus on cross-cultural communication problems and develop skills through a variety of topics, style, and registers. The skills practiced in this course are applicable to various fields of interpretation (e.g., conference, legal, and medical).

Requisite Courses: SPAN-2114 or SPAN-2115 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

SPAN-3181 (3) Modern Latin American Literature (3 hrs Lecture) This course provides a chronological survey of Latin American literature from the "Modernismo" period (c. 1880) to the present day, including selections from such authors as Rubén Darío (Nicaragua), Gabriela Mistral (Chile), Jorge Luis Borges (Argentina), Pablo Neruda (Chile), Octavio Paz (Mexico) and Gabriel García Márquez (Colombia). Through the analysis of representative texts of various literary genres, the course examines the literary movements of the period and their social political and historical context.

Requisite Courses: Any 9 credit hours in Spanish Studies above the 1000 level, or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

SPAN-3182 (3) Spanish Literature of the Golden Age (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines the main literary genres and movements of the Golden Age in Spain through the study of representative works from the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries by such authors as Garcilaso de la Vega, San Juan de la Cruz, Santa Teresa de Jesús, Cervantes, Góngora, Quevedo, Calderón de la Barca, Lope de Vega and Tirso de Molina. Special emphasis is placed on the study of Don Quijote de la Mancha, the first modern novel of Western literature.

Requisite Courses: Any 9 credit hours in Spanish Studies above the 1000 level, or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

SPAN-3184 (3) The Latin American Novel (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines the development of the Latin American novel. Students study important contemporary Latin American writers, such as Isabel Allende, Gabriel García Márquez, Manuel Puig, Juan Rulfo, Carlos Fuentes and Mariano Azuela.

Requisite Courses: Any 9 credit hours in Spanish Studies above the 1000 level or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

SPAN-3185 (3) The Spanish Novel (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines and discusses novels written by Spanish authors, such as Miguel de Cervantes, Francisco de Quevedo, Leopolda Alas "Clarín", Benito Pérez Galdós, Juan Valera, Camilo José Cela, and Juan Benet.

Requisite Courses: Any 9 credit hours in Spanish Studies above the 1000 level or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

SPAN-3186 (3) Colonial and Nineteenth-Century Latin American Literature in Spanish (3 hrs Lecture) This course provides a chronological survey of Latin American literature from the end of the 15th century, the age of Spanish colonization, to the 19th century, the heyday and decline of realism and naturalism. Literary movements and their social, political and historical contexts are examined through the analysis of representative texts. Selections are drawn from such authors as Bernal Díaz del Castillo (Spain), El Inca Garcilaso de la Vega (Peru), Sor Juana Inés de la Cruz (Mexico), Simón Bolívar (Venezuela), Esteban Echeverría (Argentina), Gertrudis Gómez de Avellaneda (Cuba), and Daniel Riquelme (Chile).

Requisite Courses: Any 9 credit hours in Spanish Studies above the 1000 level or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

SPAN-3187 (3) Spanish Literature of the Middle Ages

(3 hrs Lecture) This course examines the evolution of Spanish literature from the 11th to 15th century. Authors or works studied will include El Cantar de Mio Cid, Don Juan Manuel, El Arcipreste de Hita, Jorge Manrique and Fernando de Rojas. Special emphasis is placed on the study of La Celestina.

Requisite Courses: Any 9 credits hours in Spanish Studies above the 1000 level or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

SPAN-3301 (3) History of the Spanish Language (3 hrs

Lecture) This course traces the development of the Spanish language from its Latin origins to its modern-day dialects in Spain and the Americas. It examines both the internal evolution of the Spanish Language (its phonetics, phonology, morphology, syntax, semantics, and pragmatics) and the sociocultural and historical factors that influenced its development. Various linguistic documents illustrating the distinct features of Spanish in different eras.

Cross-listed: LING-3505(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and LING-3505.

Requisite Courses: Any 9 credit hours in Spanish Studies above the 1000-level, or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

SPAN-3710 (3) Classics of Spanish Literature (3 hrs

Lecture) In this course students study three classic works of Spanish literature: La vida del Lazarillo de Tormes, by an anonymous author; the first part of Don Quijote de La Mancha, by Miguel de Cervantes Saavedra; and La vida es sueño, by Pedro Calderon de la Barca. Students discuss and analyze the historical, socio-cultural, intertextual, metatextual, and self-referential implications of these works, as well as their influence in other arts such as painting and cinema. Students read the original texts and write in Spanish. The language of lectures is English.

Cross-listed: SPAN-2710(3), ENGL-2710(3), MOD-2710(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and SPAN-2710 | ENGL-2710 | MOD-2710.

Requisite Courses: Any 9 credit hours in Spanish Studies above the 1000 level, or permission of the Instructor [prerequisite(s)].

SPAN-3910 (3 or 6) Special Topics in Spanish Studies

(3 hrs Directed Reading) In this tutorial, students explore a topic in Spanish language or literature under the direction of a professor. Examples of possible topics are irrationalism in literature in Spanish language in the 20th century, which includes the mystical and surrealist poetry of Octavia Paz, and the magic realism of Juan Rulfo and Gabriel Garcia Márquez; or, the world famous novel of Miguel de Cervantes entitled Don Quijote de La Mancha. This course may be repeated when the topic varies.

Restrictions: Instructor Permission Required.

STATISTICS

STAT-1301 (3) Statistical Analysis I (3 hrs Lecture) This course introduces students in the natural, physical, social and human sciences to elementary statistical analysis and its applications. Topics include: descriptive statistics; probability theory; discrete random variables and their expected values and variances; normal distribution and applications; sampling distributions; estimation of parameters; and statistical inference for one population.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and STAT-1401 | STAT-1501.

Requisite Courses: Pre-Calculus Math 40S or Applied Math 40S [prerequisite(s)].

STAT-1302 (3) Statistical Analysis II (3 hrs Lecture) This course is an extension of STAT-1301(3). Topics include: review of statistical inference for one population; statistical inference for two populations; chi-square tests; analysis of variance; goodness-of-fit tests and contingency tables; linear regression and correlation; and non-parametric procedures.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and PSYC-2101 | STAT-1201 | STAT-1601 | STAT-2001.

Requisite Courses: STAT-1301, STAT-1401, or STAT-1501 [prerequisite(s)].

STAT-1401 (3) Statistics I for Business and Economics (3 hrs Lecture) This course introduces students in business and economics to statistical analysis and applications. Students learn to graph and analyze data using Excel. Topics include descriptive statistics, basic probability including counting techniques, discrete random variables and their expected values and variances, the normal probability distribution and its applications, sampling distributions, hypothesis testing and estimation of parameters.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and STAT-1301 | STAT-1501.

Requisite Courses: Pre-Calculus Mathematics 40S or Applied Mathematics 40S [prerequisite(s)].

STAT-1501 (3) Elementary Biological Statistics I (3 hrs Lecture) This course provides students in the biological and health sciences with an introduction to data analysis and statistical inference. Topics include: descriptive statistics; probability concepts; Bayes' Theorem; screening tests; discrete probability distributions; uniform and normal distributions; sampling distributions; and statistical inference for one population. Applications are drawn from biology, chemistry and other sciences.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and STAT-1301 | STAT-1401.

Requisite Courses: Pre-Calculus Mathematics 40S or Applied Mathematics 40S [prerequisite(s)].

STAT-2001 (3) Elementary Biological Statistics II (3 hrs Lecture) This course is an extension of STAT-1501 (3). Topics include: a review of statistical inference for one population; statistical inference for two populations; analysis of variance for completely randomized and randomized block designs, including contrasts and multiple comparisons; analysis of qualitative data based on the chi-square distribution, including goodness-of-fit tests; relative risk and odds ratios; regression and correlation analyses; and nonparametric procedures. Applications are drawn from biology, chemistry and other sciences.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and PSYC-2101 | STAT-1201 | STAT-1302 | STAT-1601.

Requisite Courses: STAT-1301, STAT-1401, or STAT-1501 [prerequisite(s)].

STAT-2102 (3) Business and Management Statistics

(3 hrs Lecture) This course surveys quantitative management science techniques used in both the private sector and government. The contents include classical decision-making, utility for money, statistical and Bayesian decision-making, decision trees, index numbers and their properties, elementary quality control, and decomposition of time series and seasonal and cyclical analysis. Emphasis will be on having students communicate effectively through essays and term projects.

Requisite Courses: STAT-1302 or STAT-2001 [prerequisite(s)].

STAT-2103 (3) Intermediate Biological Statistics

(3 hrs Lecture) This course provides students with the underlying concepts and techniques for applying biometrical procedures to problems arising in biological and medical research. Topics include basic experimental designs and models for one-factor analysis of variance, multiple comparison procedures, data transformations, introductory multiple linear regression analysis, analysis of count data, Poisson index of dispersion, inference about the Poisson parameter, analysis of proportions, analysis of covariance with one factor and one covariate, and biological assay (analysis of quantal response, probit and/or logit transformations, parallel line assays and slope-ratio assays. Logistic regression with one regressor variable may also be covered.

Requisite Courses: STAT-1302 or STAT-2001 [prerequisite(s)].

STAT-2104 (3) Nonparametric Statistics

(3 hrs Lecture) This course considers statistical methods for analysing data when the distribution of the population is unknown and/or the measurement is on a nominal, ordinal, or interval scale. The contents include inference based on the binomial distribution, the Mann-Whitney-Wilcoxon test, the Wilcoxon signed rank test, measures of association for ranked data, the Kruskal-Wallis and Friedman tests, and elements of contingency table analysis.

Requisite Courses: STAT-1302, or the former STAT-1201, or both STAT-1501 and STAT-2001 or the former STAT-1601 [prerequisite(s)].

STAT-2301 (3) Survey Sampling I (3 hrs Lecture) This course emphasizes practical aspects of conducting sample surveys. Some of the sample survey designs that are examined include simple random sampling, stratified random sampling, systematic sampling and cluster sampling. The course also deals with Horvitz-Thompson estimator as well as ratio and regression type estimators. The statistical software R is used throughout the course and applications to real-life data are an integral part of the course.

Note: This course is of interest not only to Statistics majors but also to students of Business, Economics, Sociology, Environmental Sciences and other social sciences.

Requisite Courses: STAT-1302 or STAT-2001 [prerequisite(s)].

STAT-2413 (3) Introduction to Mathematical Finance

(3 hrs Lecture) This course gives an introduction to the mathematics of finance, an area of applied mathematics concerned with financial markets. Topics include present value analysis; geometric Brownian motion and its suitability as a model of stock prices; option pricing; the Arbitrage Theorem; derivations of the Black-Scholes formula; and portfolio selection. The approach emphasizes underlying mathematical tools and their derivation.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and MATH-2413.

Requisite Courses: MATH-1201, either STAT-1301, STAT-1401 or STAT-1501, and either MATH-1103, MATH-1101, or MATH-1102 [prerequisite(s)].

STAT-2612 (3) Mathematical Statistics I (3 hrs Lecture)

This course provides students with a firm foundation in probability theory, which is necessary for a complete understanding of advanced statistics. Topics include combinatorial methods, probability, random variables, probability distributions and densities, joint and conditional distributions, mathematical expectation, special discrete probability distributions, and the continuous uniform and exponential distributions. Exam, term tests and assignments are utilized for student evaluation.

Cross-listed: MATH-2612.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and MATH-2612 | MATH-3611 | STAT-3611.

Requisite Courses: STAT-1302 or STAT-2001 [prerequisite(s)]; MATH-2105(3) (must be taken previously or at the same time as this course).

STAT-2702 (3) Statistics for Epidemiology (3 hrs

Lecture) This course provides a comprehensive introduction to the basic concepts, principles, and methods of studying disease occurrence in human populations. It covers the applications of epidemiology in public health practice and preventive medicine. Topics include: definitions, measures of disease frequency and effect, measures of risk, diagnostic and screening tests, epidemiological study designs, causality, interaction, bias, confounding, and internal and external validity. The class may be interspersed with special selected topics.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and STAT-3701.

Requisite Courses: STAT-1302 or STAT-2001 [prerequisite(s)].

STAT-2903 (3) Statistical Computing I (3 hrs Lecture |

1.5 hrs Lab) This course introduces the use of modern statistical computer packages for data management and data analysis. Topics include introduction to statistical programming language R, pseudo random number generation, simulation of discrete and continuous random variables, test of one and two sample means and proportions, linear regression, analysis of contingency tables, non-parametric statistics and ANOVA.

Requisite Courses: STAT-1302 or STAT-2001 [prerequisite(s)]; STAT-2903L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

STAT-3102 (3) Applied Multivariate Methods (3 hrs

Lecture) This course introduces students to the concepts and procedures of multivariate statistical analysis. Analysis and interpretation of multivariate data are emphasized. Topics include: matrix algebra, random vectors from two populations, multivariate analysis of variance, discriminant analysis, cluster analysis, and one of the following topics: factor analysis, canonical correlation analysis, correspondence analysis. R statistical software is used to facilitate most analyses.

Requisite Courses: MATH-1201 and either STAT-1302 or STAT-2001 [prerequisite(s)].

STAT-3103 (3) Applied Regression Analysis (3 hrs

Lecture) This course provides students with the skills necessary to perform regression analyses and to interpret statistical issues related to regression applications in many areas, especially in health sciences. Topics include linear and nonlinear regression models, residual diagnostics, multicollinearity, model selection, transformations and weighted least squares, measures of influence and generalized linear models with a focus on logistic and Poisson regression. The statistical software R or SAS is used throughout the course and applications to real-life data are an integral part of the course.

Requisite Courses: STAT-1302 or STAT-2001, and MATH-1201 [prerequisite(s)].

STAT-3104 (3) Analysis of Variance and Covariance (3 hrs Lecture) This course provides students with insight into the practice of statistical research. Emphasis is placed upon the development of various analysis of variance (ANOVA) models for single-factor and multi-factor studies. Topics are chosen from design and analysis of completely randomized, randomized block, Latin square designs and the analysis of covariance (ANCOVA). Random, fixed and mixed effects models as well as sample size determination, power analysis, diagnostics and remedial measures are discussed. Split-plot, nested, partially nested and repeated measure designs may be presented.

Requisite Courses: STAT-1302 or STAT-2001 [prerequisite(s)].

STAT-3105 (3) Time Series and Forecasting (3 hrs

Lecture) The course deals with the general problem of analysing data which is ordered over time, for the purpose of forecasting and statistical prediction. Such data do not represent an independent sample and thus can not be analyzed using other statistical methods. Topics include: trend analysis, smoothing by moving averages, seasonal indices; forecasting using exponential smoothing and Box-Jenkins models.

Restrictions: Instructor Permission Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and STAT-2601.

Requisite Courses: STAT-3103 [prerequisite(s)].

STAT-3302 (3) Survey Sampling II (3 hrs Lecture)

Statistical agencies have long collected data of interest to governments to inform the development of public policy through surveys. This course emphasizes some key theoretical and practical aspects of survey methodology. Some important unequal probability sampling designs such as probability proportional to size sampling and multi-stage sampling are studied. The Horvitz-Thompson, generalized regression and calibration estimators and their properties are investigated. This course also covers practical methods for dealing with missing survey data, such as imputation. R statistical software is used to facilitate some analyses.

Requisite Courses: STAT-2301 with a minimum grade of C, and STAT-2612|MATH-2612 (or the former STAT-3611|MATH-3611) [prerequisite(s)].

STAT-3412 (3) Introduction to Operations Research

(3 hrs Lecture) This course provides a practical introduction to the formulation and solution of some economics and industrial problems using Operations Research models. It emphasizes model-building and problem-solving using computer packages. Topics covered are chosen from linear programming, transportation, assignment and transshipment problems, network models, integer programming, nonlinear programming, decision making, inventory models, and queuing theory.

Cross-listed: MATH-3412(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and MATH-3412.

Requisite Courses: MATH-1201 or MATH-2201 or ECON-3201 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

STAT-3501 (3) Simulation (3 hrs Lecture | Lab) This course is designed to show students how a computer can be utilized to model phenomena with stochastic elements and how analysis can be carried out in the context of a simulation study. Topics will be drawn from the following: generating an arbitrary random variable; the discrete event simulation approach; variance reduction techniques; statistical validation techniques; bootstrapping and other resampling methods; statistical analysis of simulated data; and simulation languages.

Requisite Courses: STAT-2612 or MATH-2612 (or the former MATH-3611 or STAT-3611) and STAT-2903 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

STAT-3612 (3) Mathematical Statistics II (3 hrs Lecture)

This course studies the continuous probability distributions and their general properties, distributions of functions of random variables, sampling distributions, including t and F and introduction to estimation and theory of hypotheses testing.

Cross-listed: MATH-3612(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and MATH-3612.

Requisite Courses: STAT-2612|MATH-2612 (or the former STAT-3611|MATH-3611) [prerequisite(s)]; MATH-2106 (must be taken previously or at the same time as this course).

STAT-3904 (3) Statistical Computing II (3 hrs Lecture)

This course introduces modern techniques of statistical computing for practical analysis of data using the statistical software R. Topics include random number generation, an introduction to resampling methods, classical and Bayesian inference and Monte Carlo methods, methods of finding roots, numerical integration methods, expectation-maximization, and Markov chain Monte Carlo. All statistical principles are illustrated using simulated and real-life data sets.

Requisite Courses: STAT-2903 or STAT-3103 [prerequisite(s)]; STAT-3612 or MATH-3612 (must be taken previously or at the same time as this course).

STAT-4102 (3) Survival Analysis (3 hrs Lecture | Lab)

This course introduces the core concepts and methods for analyzing time-to-event (survival) data obtained from various epidemiological and medical applications. Topics include: an introduction to survival analysis; right censoring and left truncation; life tables, non-parametric estimators (e.g., Kaplan-Meier); Log-rank test; parametric methods for analyzing survival data (e.g., exponential model, Weibull model); semi parametric methods (e.g., Cox proportional hazards model).

Requisite Courses: STAT-2612 or MATH-2612 (or the former STAT-3611 or MATH-3611 or STAT-3201 or STAT-2701) [prerequisite(s)].

STAT-4103 (3) Statistical Learning (3 hrs Lecture)

This course deals with a variety of topics in statistical learning and their implementation in R. Topics include introduction to statistical learning methods; review of linear regression; use of LASSO and ridge regression techniques to identify useful explanatory variables; understanding the practical difference between predictive outcomes from parametric and non parametric methods; implementation of several ensemble learning methods; clustering methods and dimension reduction; employing reasonable programming practices with basic R syntax and functions; report writing for projects using standard software. Students who major in Data Science are encouraged to take ACS-4953 prior taking this course.

Requisite Courses: STAT-3103 [prerequisite(s)].

STAT-4202 (3) Statistical Inference (3 hrs Lecture)

This course expands on Mathematical Statistics II. Topics include the following: Theory of point and interval estimations; completeness and minimal sufficiency, Rao-Blackwell theorem; theory of tests and hypotheses; likelihood ratio tests; unbiased and invariant tests; sequential probability ratio tests; and Bayesian Inference.

Requisite Courses: STAT-3612 or MATH-3612 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

STAT-4401 (3) Probability Theory (3 hrs Lecture)

This course is a continuation of Mathematical Statistics I (STAT-3611 (formerly STAT-3201 or Applied Probability STAT-2701)) and is intended to give students a firm foundation in probability theory. Topics include random walks, characteristic functions and central limit theorem concepts of convergence, laws of large numbers, and martingales and stochastic differential equations.

Requisite Courses: STAT-2612 or MATH-2612 (or the former STAT-3611/MATH-3611) or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

STAT-4501 (3) Spatial Statistics (3 hrs Lecture | 1.25 hrs

Lab) This course considers the theory and application of statistical techniques for analysis of spatial (geographic) data. Topics include: characteristics of spatial data, types of maps and issues in mapping, spatial analysis of areal units (Moran's I statistic and extensions), point pattern analysis (centrography, measures of density, distance and dispersion), spatial statistics for fields (spatial interpolation, semivariogram and kriging) location quotient, Gini index and Lorenz curve. Use of R statistical software and some spreadsheet software is required. Examples are drawn from demography, developmental practice geography, epidemiology, environmental science, and biology.

Requisite Courses: STAT-1302 or STAT-2001 or GEOG-2309 or the former STAT-1201 or STAT-1601 [prerequisite(s)]; STAT-4501L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

STAT-4601 (3) Statistical Design of Experiments (3 hrs Lecture) This course explores basic principles of statistical experimental design including randomization; replication; blocking; confounding; nested versus crossed factors; split-plot designs; fixed, random and mixed models; and the contrast between designed experiments and observational studies. It investigates factorial and fractional factorial designs with an emphasis on 2k factorial designs and 2k-p fractional factorial designs. Other potential topics include robust parameter design, 3k-p fractional factorial designs, balanced incomplete block designs, mixture experiments, and response surface methodology.

Requisite Courses: STAT-3104 [prerequisite(s)].

THEATRE AND FILM

THFM-1001 (6) Introduction to Theatre: Performance

(3 hrs Lecture) This course is designed as an introduction to the basic concepts of contemporary theatre with an emphasis on the art and craft of the performer. While the focus is on the development of acting technique, lectures, readings, and practical work also introduce students to the broader context of theatre. The course explores areas of improvisation, movement, and role preparation through workshops and class presentations. Students are evaluated on both written and performance assignments.

Note: Only ONE of THFM-1001, THFM-1002 or THFM-1003 may be used toward the major.

THFM-1002 (6) Introduction to Theatre: General

(3 hrs Lecture) This course provides a scholarly introduction to the study of theatre, including an overview of the components of the theatre production, exposure to key developments in the history of theatre, examination of current ideas and debates in theatre both nationally and internationally, and the development of skills for analyzing plays both in written form and in performance. Several plays produced on Winnipeg stages in the current theatre season form the basis of class discussions and assignments; students are required to attend performances of these plays outside of class time.

Note: This course can be used towards the Humanities Requirement. Only ONE of THFM-1001, THFM-1002 or THFM-1003 may be used toward the major.

THFM-1003 (6) Introduction to Theatre: Indigenous Performance

(3 hrs Lecture) Students study performance in plays and stories of the Indigenous peoples of this area of North America through practical exercises, lectures and readings and/or films. The approach to development exercises, rehearsal and performance are based on traditional Indigenous teachings synthesized with approaches that have been adopted from other cultures by contemporary Indigenous theatre artists. The art and craft of the actor/performer/storyteller is explored through improvisation, role preparation, workshops and class presentations. Students are evaluated on both written and performance assignments. An Elder serves as advisor and support to the course. This course fulfills the prerequisite for all courses currently requiring an Introduction to Theatre course (THFM-1001 or THFM-1002), including THFM-2101 Acting Theory and Practice.

Note: Only ONE of THFM-1001, THFM-1002 or THFM-1003 may be used toward the major.

THFM-1010 (6) Introduction to Film

(3 hrs Lecture | 3 hrs Lab) This course introduces the student to aspects of the art of film through lectures, screenings, and some practical involvement in the filmmaking process. A critical approach to film in Manitoba and across Canada is developed through readings, screenings, and guest lectures. A selection of international films is discussed, focusing on their social and aesthetic impacts. A series of practical labs gives students some first-hand experience of film production.

Note: This course can be used towards the Humanities Requirement.

THFM-1500 (3) Music Appreciation (3 hrs Lecture) Over a century before his famous novel Les Misérables inspired the celebrated Broadway musical, Victor Hugo recognized the unique, expressive nature of music. This course explores as many different musical genres as possible in order to achieve a broad understanding of how music reflects culture and society and crosses artistic boundaries to express, as Hugo aptly articulated, "that which cannot be said and on which it is impossible to be silent." The central objectives of this course are to encourage active listening skills and informed personal and communal responses to music through study of musical language, history, idioms, style, and trends.

Cross-listed: MUS-1500(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and MUS-1500.

THFM-2001 (3) Theatre/Film Practicum I

(Apprenticeship/Internship/Practicum with variable meeting hours | Lab) In this course, students participate in a teaching production in the area of specialization they select. Depending on specialization, THFM-2001L (lab) may be required to be taken concurrently. Please consult with the department for more information.

Restrictions: Department Permission Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and THFM-3809.

Requisite Courses: THFM-2001L (lab) may be required depending on specialization (recommended to be taken concurrently).

THFM-2002 (3) Theatre Practicum II

(Apprenticeship/Internship/Practicum with variable meeting hours) In this course, students participate in a production either on a more advanced level in the area of specialization chosen in THFM-2001(3) or in another area of specialization.

Restrictions: Department Permission Required.

Requisite Courses: THFM-2001 and permission of the Department Chair [prerequisite(s)].

THFM-2003 (3 or 6) Topics in Theatre and Film

(Tutorial with variable meeting hours) Students taking this course arrange a program of reading, individual study, and lab work in consultation with an appropriate instructor.

Note: This course may be repeated for credit if the topic varies.

Restrictions: Department Permission Required.

THFM-2011 (3) Ensemble Practicum (Choral)

(Apprenticeship/Internship/Practicum with variable meeting hours) Ensemble is a rehearsal and performance practicum designed to develop the art of ensemble performance in choral music. Students perform a broad range of literature in many public events throughout the year. This course may be repeated for credit once.

Note: Those without previous experience singing should contact the instructor.

Cross-listed: MUS-2011(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and MUS-2011.

THFM-2101 (6) Acting Theory and Practice

(Lecture/Lab Combined with variable meeting hours) This course is a practical and theoretical study of the principles of actor technique and role analysis. Students are expected to engage in performance work from a range of styles and aesthetics and in the theoretical work of major practitioners/theorists in the field. Lectures, discussions, and student presentations are accompanied by workshop exercises and scene studies. Students are required to meet with scene partners for rehearsals outside of scheduled class times. This course is the foundation course for subsequent courses in the acting stream of study.

Requisite Courses: THFM-1001 or THFM-1003 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

THFM-2133 (3) Introduction to Devised Theatre (3 hrs

Lecture) This course introduces students to Devised Theatre. It is designed to inspire and initiate the creation of original theatre work. Students are introduced to a range of specific performance techniques and principles that provide them with concrete construction tools for creating new performance work. The course consists of readings, videos and films, discussions, practical workshops, movement-based practices, and in-class student performances. Course work involves developing a process of creating several small-scale performance projects.

Experimental Course - This course is offered on a trial basis to gauge interest in the topic. Students who successfully complete this course receive credit as indicated.

Restrictions: You cannot hold credit for this course and THFM-2003 if the topic is Devised Theatre.

Requisite Courses: THFM-2101 (must be taken previously or at the same time as this course).

THFM-2201 (3) Principles of Design (3 hrs Lecture | 3 hrs Lab) This course is an introduction to the principles and practice of theatrical design in scenery, costumes, and lighting. Drawing skills are not required. Students learn ways to communicate visual information as a designer.

Note: This course can be used towards the Humanities Requirement.

Requisite Courses: THFM-2201L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

THFM-2202 (3) Graphic Standards for Design &

Production (3 hrs Lecture) This course explores the various methods theatre designers use to communicate to the production team. Through manual drafting techniques to the use of CAD technology, this course prepares students to communicate accurately with members of the production staff. Drafting is a key method of communication for the theatre design student, production student, and film student interested in production design/art department. These skills are necessary to be an effective leader in these areas of focus.

THFM-2310 (6) Filmmaking I: Screen Narrative

Technique (3 hrs Lecture | 3 hrs Lab) This is a practical introduction to storytelling on screen from the director's perspective. In film or video the sequence structure of various shots and angles forms the basic grammar of screen narrative. This course focuses on the analysis and creation of these visual sequences. Techniques such as storyboarding, camera placement, movement, coverage, transitions, and editing are explored using the medium of video in both a field and studio environment.

Note: It is recommended that students take one of THFM-1001, THFM-1002, or THFM-1003 prior to, or concurrently with, this course.

Requisite Courses: THFM-1010 [prerequisite(s)]; THFM-2310L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

THFM-2311 (6) Film Comedy (3 hrs Lecture) This course looks at film comedy from the earliest silent film comedies of Edison and Méliès to the contemporary comedies of Kevin Smith and Woody Allen. It focuses on cinematic techniques used to achieve a comic action or comic perspective. Students explore the cinematic tools of comedy filmmakers in historical perspective. They also do some practical filmmaking work.

Requisite Courses: THFM-1010 [prerequisite(s)].

THFM-2312 (6) Documentary Filmmaking (Lecture with variable meeting hours) In this course emerging filmmakers are introduced to documentary filmmaking tools and techniques. Beginning with screenings and lectures, then moving to hands-on experience, students explore and experience non-fiction storytelling through an examination of contemporary filmmaking practices and the opportunity to conceive, develop and produce their own short, non-fiction films.

Note: Students who have taken the Special Studies version of this course (THFM 3002-604 offered only in Winter, 2008) may not take this course.

Requisite Courses: THFM-1010 [prerequisite(s)].

THFM-2314 (6) Film Horror (3 hrs Lecture) The course examines the full range of horror films from classic to contemporary, exploring the aesthetics unique to the genre. The course looks at how story structure, lighting, framing, mise en-scene, sound, and editing are applied towards creating the style and aesthetics of horror films. A large portion of the course focuses on the practical elements of shooting a horror film and students have an opportunity to write and shoot their own short horror film.

Requisite Courses: THFM-1010(6) [prerequisite(s)].

THFM-2401 (3) Theatre History I: Æschylus to Shakespeare (3 hrs Lecture) This course consists of a study of the historical development of theatrical art from the ancient Greeks to the closing of the London theatres in 1642. All aspects of theatrical performance, including plays, acting, costumes, scenery, theatre architecture, and the relationship between theatres and society will be discussed.

Note: This course can be used towards the Humanities Requirement.

Cross-listed: HIST-2190(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and HIST-2190.

THFM-2402 (3) Theatre History II: Molière to Irving (3 hrs Lecture) This course covers developments in European and North American theatre from the seventeenth century to the end of the nineteenth century. Several Asian theatre forms are also discussed.

Note: This course can be used towards the Humanities Requirement.

THFM-2405 (3) Staging Greek and Roman Drama (3 hrs Lecture) This course focuses on the staging of Greek and Roman tragedy and comedy. Examination of the surviving texts of selected plays, the remains of ancient theatres, contemporary accounts of dramatic performance, and relevant artwork leads to a recreation of an ancient theatrical experience with information on stage configuration, scenery, masks, costumes, properties, gestures, dance, song, mechanical devices, and stage convention. In addition to their written work, students are expected to participate in demonstrations and performances in class.

Note: This course can be used towards the Humanities Requirement.

Cross-listed: CLAS-2405(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and CLAS-2405.

THFM-2406 (6) The History of Fashion and Dress (3 hrs Lecture) This course introduces the history of fashion. Students learn what dress is as well as how and why it is studied. The dress from ancient times to the 21st century is then discussed, with an emphasis on western Europe. The links between fashion, social history, and material culture are examined. The course is intended as background for students of theatrical design, but may be taken as an elective by anyone interested in the field.

Note: This course can be used towards the Humanities Requirement.

Cross-listed: HIST-2192(6).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and HIST-2192.

THFM-2410 (6) History of Film (3 hrs Lecture) This course surveys the history of narrative film from its earliest beginnings to the present day. Students gain an understanding of the evolving techniques and technical advancements in the art form and the corresponding aesthetic achievements of film artists. The course focuses on the major film movements and filmmakers from Europe, North America, and Asia.

Note: This course can be used towards the Humanities Requirement.

Cross-listed: HIST-2191(6).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and HIST-2191.

THFM-2501 (6) Mime and Improvisation (3 hrs Lecture) This course consists of a study of the theory and practice of theatrical mime and theatrical improvisation. Attention is paid to both the developmental and performance aspects of mime and improvisational activity.

Requisite Courses: THFM-1001 or THFM-1002 or THFM-1003 [prerequisite(s)].

THFM-2502 (3 or 6) Voice and Speech Skills for Presentation and Performance (3 hrs Lecture) This course is a study of the theory and practice of voice production, projection, speech improvement, and oral communication techniques as they apply to work in performance, in the classroom, and in a variety of other contexts in life where good communication skills are valued. In the 3 credit hour course, students engage in experiential learning activities that include storytelling and persuasive speech delivery by working on crafting content, rehearsing, workshopping, and presenting assignments in front of an audience of peers. The 6 credit hour course is an expanded approach to this material.

THFM-2505 (3) Principles of Physical Training for the Actor (3 hrs Lecture) This course is designed to introduce actors to the core objectives and fundamental principles regarding the physical training of the actor. Through ongoing in-studio practice, lectures, and group presentations, students learn about the basic anatomy of the body, principles of efficiency in movement, training methodologies, injury prevention, and the long-term requirements of performance. Participants in this course gain a full overview of body mechanics and a solid foundation in movement principles that will directly apply to further movement studies and acting in general.

Note: This course is graded on a pass/fail basis.

THFM-2510 (3) Introduction to Producing for Film (3 hrs Lecture) This course is intended for students who are interested in understanding the business aspects of creating, producing and disseminating a film or television project in Canada. It takes students through several stages of an independent film production including concept development, financing, production, post-production and distribution. Specific attention is paid to research and marketing, finance and funding, legal and insurance issues, and to getting your work seen by the right people, as well as business affairs and etiquette. The course consists of lectures and workshops with faculty and guest professionals. No previous knowledge of business or finance necessary.

THFM-2601 (3) Costuming (3 hrs Lecture) This course is a survey of costuming crafts and of the skills necessary to construct a theatrical garment. Skills and theoretical knowledge are developed in a laboratory situation with attention focused on the principles and elements of design interpretation.

Note: Students entering this course must be able to operate a domestic sewing machine and make clothes from a pattern.

THFM-2602 (3) Lighting Design (3 hrs Lecture/Lab Combined) This course examines the practice of lighting design for theatre. Familiarizing themselves with stage lighting equipment and control systems through lectures and lab work, students study the design process through practical hands-on exploration of the craft. The course also emphasizes how the lighting designer communicates. In addition, students have the opportunity to observe professional designers as part of their exploration and study.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and THFM-2605.

Requisite Courses: Take THFM-1010 or THFM-2801, THFM-2803 or THFM-2201 as pre or co-requisite (must be taken previously or at the same time as this course).

THFM-2603 (3) Make-Up: Theory and Practice (3 hrs Lecture | 3 hrs Lab) This course teaches the theory and technique of make-up as used in theatre and film. Course content extends beyond standard two-dimensional techniques. This course is suitable for actors, designers, and artisans who are pursuing a career in the performing arts.

THFM-2604 (2) Introduction to Stage Lighting for Dance (3 hrs Lecture) This course is intended specifically for students enrolled in the Dance Program with the objective of providing them with a basic introduction to stage lighting for dance. The format is an intensive two-week series of classes and workshops. Topics include basic electrical principles and safety procedures, major types of lighting instruments and their functions, and lighting control theory. Students have an opportunity to put theory into practice with a series of labs emphasizing lighting for dance.

Note: This course is restricted to students who have been accepted into The University of Winnipeg/School of Contemporary Dancers Dance Program and is offered on a pass/fail basis.

THFM-2605 (2) Lighting for Dance Practicum (3 hrs Lecture) In this course, material taught in THFM-2604(2) Introduction to Stage Lighting for Dance is applied to exercises culminating in a public presentation. Students go through the entire process of creating and executing lighting designs for an actual performance of a new work. This involves conferences with the choreographer(s), a series of proposals, and final design and execution. Additional conferences are arranged as needed.

Note: This course is restricted to students who have been accepted into the University of Winnipeg/School of Contemporary Dancers Dance Program and is offered on a pass/fail basis.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and THFM-2602.

Requisite Courses: THFM-2604 (must be taken previously or at the same time as this course).

THFM-2606 (2) Self Producing for Dance (3 hrs Lecture) Through a series of lectures and demonstrations, this course introduces students in the Dance Program to a range of knowledge and skills required to self-produce dance programs. Topics include grant application, co-op contracts, space assessment and rental, promotion, insurance and liability, etc.

Note: This course is restricted to students who have been accepted into The University of Winnipeg/School of Contemporary Dancers Dance Program and is offered on a pass/fail basis.

THFM-2607 (3) Introduction to Sewing for Theatre (3 hrs Lecture) This course is an introduction to sewing through lecture and practical assignments. No previous knowledge of sewing is required. Students learn hand stitching, sewing machine basics, various stitches and seam finishes, how to handle fabric, and other basic skills with some emphasis on sewing situations specific to a theatre production setting.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and THFM-2001 Intro Sewing.

THFM-2608 (3) Costuming Practicum: Costuming the Production I (3 hrs Lecture) This course provides hands-on experience in taking a costume from the designer's sketch to a fully completed ensemble ready for stage. Lectures provide students with the essential skills of a costumer. Building from this knowledge, the background and the context of the specific costume design is addressed, and the students prepare, build, purchase and alter costumes for departmental public exercises under the guidance of the instructor. Proficiency in both hand stitching and sewing machine use is required for this course.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and THFM-2001 (costuming focus).

Requisite Courses: THFM-2601 or Permission of the Instructor [prerequisite(s)].

THFM-2610 (3) Script and Screen (3 hrs Lecture) This course focuses on the study of a number of significant American screenplays, such as Casablanca, Chinatown, and Pulp Fiction. They are discussed as examples of the craft of screenwriting and as illustrations of the screenwriter's contribution to the filmmaking process. Particular attention is given to how the screenwriter controls the flow of dramatic and visual information in order to structure particular film experiences. The relationship between script and film is examined through analysis of the films made from the screenplays studied. While the course is particularly aimed at those interested in screenwriting, it will be valuable for anyone who wants to understand the most popular storytelling medium of our time.

Note: This course can be used towards the Humanities Requirement.

THFM-2611 (3) Introduction to Screenwriting (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This course introduces students to the basics of screenwriting. It includes a study of the language of film, narrative principles, formatting script analysis, and adaptation. The role of the screenwriter in the filmmaking industry is also examined.

Note: Creative Writing students (ENGL) may take this course with the permission of the Department of Theatre and Film's Chair. This course can be used towards the Humanities Requirement.

Requisite Courses: THFM-1010 [prerequisite(s)].

THFM-2612 (3) Script and the Small Screen: TV Drama (3 hrs Lecture) Television drama exerts an undeniable impact on our culture. This may be partly due to complexities that underlie its ostensible simplicity. This course focuses on the narrative strategies that teleplay writers in drama series have employed to maintain viewer interest despite frequent interruptions and breaks from episode to episode or season to season. The course examines recent drama series. While it is particularly aimed at those interested in screenwriting, it is valuable to anyone who wants to understand how series television narrative works.

Note: This course can be used towards the Humanities Requirement.

THFM-2701 (6) Playwriting I (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion)

This course introduces students to creation strategies such as idea-outline-draft, imaginary improvisation, and RSVP cycles. In this course the play will be seen as a kind of score for directors, designers, and especially for actors. Creation of the dramatic moment, the dramatic scene, characters revealed through action, and finally a one-act play in which a protagonist seeks to accomplish an objective, form the central concerns of the course. Students are expected to complete a one-act play to at least a second draft.

Note: This course can be used towards the Humanities Requirement.

Requisite Courses: THFM-1001 or THFM-1002 or THFM-1003 or 6 credit hours in ENGLISH Creative Writing (ENGL-1005, ENGL-2002, ENGL-2102, ENGL-3101, ENGL-3102, ENGL-3113, ENGL-3114, ENGL-3115, ENGL-3116) or THFM-3611, or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

THFM-2703 (3) Play Analysis (3 hrs Lecture) This is a course in the analysis of plays in rehearsal and pre-rehearsal situations for anyone involved in practical theatre production. A variety of interpretive strategies are developed in approaching the problems of form, character, and theme in plays of different styles and periods. The emphasis is on Stanislavsky-derived techniques.

Note: This course is required for all Theatre students in the Honours or the General program. This course can be used towards the Humanities Requirement.

Cross-listed: ENGL-2703(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ENGL-2703.

Requisite Courses: THFM-1001 or THFM-1002 or THFM-1003 or 6 credit hours in first-year English, including ENGL-1001(6) or ENGL-1000(3) [prerequisite(s)].

THFM-2801 (6) Theatrical Production I (3 hrs Lecture | 3 hrs Lab) This course is designed to give students a survey of the technical aspects of theatrical and media production, concentrating on facilities, scenery construction, lighting, and an introduction to sound. Emphasis is on basic concepts and hands-on application through practical lab work on departmental productions.

Note: It is recommended that students without prior theatre experience take a 1000-level course from the Department of Theatre and Film concurrently with this course.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and THFM-2803 or THFM-2001 (Carpentry) or THFM-2807.

Requisite Courses: THFM-1001 or THFM-1002 or THFM-1003 (recommended to be taken previously or at the same time as this course); THFM-2801L (Lab) (must be taken concurrently).

THFM-2802 (3) The Business of Theatre (3 hrs Lecture) This course introduces students to the business side of a career in the theatre. For students in ALL disciplines of the theatre industry, this course offers a basic vocabulary for career and project management.

Topics covered include: seeking employment, unions, taxes for freelance arts workers, and writing applications for grants and festivals. In addition, the basics of producing and touring, including budgets, communications and scheduling are examined. The course consists of lectures and workshops with faculty and guest professionals. No previous knowledge of business or finance is necessary, but a working knowledge of theatre is required.

Requisite Courses: THFM-1001, THFM-1002 or THFM-1003 or permission of the Instructor [prerequisite(s)].

THFM-2803 (3) An Introduction to Lighting and Sound in Production (3 hrs Lecture | 3 hrs Lab)

This course is designed to give the student an introduction to the technical aspects of theatrical and media production, concentrating on lighting and an introduction to sound. Emphasis is placed on basic concepts in the safe use of facilities and equipment and practical application through hands-on lab work in a departmental production.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and THFM-2801.

Requisite Courses: THFM-1001 or THFM-1002 or THFM-1003 (recommended to be taken previously or at the same time as this course); THFM-2803L (Lab) (must be taken concurrently).

THFM-2804 (3) Introduction to Arts and Cultural Management (3 hrs Lecture)

This course is intended for students who have an interest in pursuing a career in some aspect of the arts and would like to acquire a greater understanding of the operational aspects of the business. The course begins with a general introduction to the formation of an arts-centred organization. Class discussions include topics such as: the role of a board of directors; establishing a mandate and objectives; forming a business structure; staffing that structure; ongoing management control systems; and funding alternatives and methods, including applications for public funding.

THFM-2806 (3) Conflict Resolution, Social Change and The Arts (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion)

Conflict Resolution, Social Change and the Arts explores how different arts have been used to affect social change. The course looks at ways that cultural productions play a positive role in building peaceful societies. The expressive arts and other action methods can provide a bridge between personal and collective experience to help people master complex feelings in their healing process while also inspiring, motivating, and uniting social movements. The course covers theory and practice from around the world highlighting community-based arts. Students learn how to implement arts within community projects and the assessment of outcomes and, as such, make connections between artistic disciplines and community well-being.

Cross-listed: CRS-2310.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and CRS-2310.

THFM-2807 (3) An Introduction to Stagecraft in Production (3 hrs Lecture | 3 hrs Lab)

This course introduces the student to the principles of stagecraft and the study of theatre facilities with an emphasis on proscenium and studio spaces, safety in the handling of equipment and materials, and the use of the Workplace Hazardous Materials Information System. Students apply the principles acquired from the lecture to hands-on projects such as the building of stage scenery and production work related to the departmental public exercises.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and THFM-2801 or THFM-2001 Theatre Practicum: Carpentry.

Requisite Courses: THFM-1001 or THFM-1002 or THFM-1003 (recommended to be taken previously or at the same time as this course); THFM-2807L (must be taken concurrently).

THFM-2920 (3) Introduction to Dance for Musical Theatre (3 hrs Lecture) This course introduces the student to the basics of dance, with attention to a variety of styles used in contemporary musical theatre. The course is designed for students without previous training in dance who wish to take THFM-3920(6) Musical Theatre.

Note: This course may not be taken by students who have taken any courses in the Dance Program (DANC).

Requisite Courses: THFM-1001 or THFM-1002 or THFM-1003 or permission of Department Chair [prerequisite(s)].

THFM-2922 (3) Introduction to Music and Singing (3 hrs Lecture) This course builds on the rudiments of music and the fundamental techniques of solo and choral singing, and song interpretation for application to Musical Theatre.

Note: The course is designed for students with some basic musical knowledge (for example, high school or church choral or band experience) who are planning to take THFM-3920(6) Musical Theatre. It may be taken by general interest students with the permission of the Chair of the Department of Theatre and Film.

Requisite Courses: THFM-1001 or THFM-1002 or THFM-1003 or permission of Department Chair [prerequisite(s)].

THFM-3001 (6) Special Studies in Theatre/Film (3 hrs Tutorial) Students taking this course arrange a program of reading, individual study, and lab work in consultation with an appropriate instructor.

Restrictions: Department Permission Required.

THFM-3002 (3) Special Studies in Theatre/Film (3 hrs Tutorial) Students taking this course arrange a program of reading, individual study, and lab work in consultation with an appropriate instructor.

Restrictions: Department Permission Required.

THFM-3003 (3) Special Studies in Theatre/Film Humanities (3 hrs Tutorial) Students interested in advanced exploration of a specific area of theatre or film studies arrange a program of reading, individual study, and private lectures with an appropriate instructor. This program of study must meet the criteria for a course in the Humanities.

Restrictions: Department Permission Required. Instructor Permission Required.

THFM-3101 (6) Acting III: Advanced Practice, Process and Performance (Lecture/Lab Combined with variable meeting hours) This advanced course solidifies the rigorous work of the performer and builds on the foundation of previous performance courses. It consolidates the building blocks of acting, further develops approaches to understanding text, deepens the investigation into how to meet the demands of a script, and culminates in a showcase.

Requisite Courses: THFM-2101 [prerequisite(s)].

THFM-3103 (6) Movement for Actors (3 hrs Lecture)

This course introduces students to modern movement techniques, including the principles of Rudolph Laban. Its aim is to increase body awareness and promote mind/body connectedness.

Requisite Courses: THFM-2101 or permission of the Department Chair [prerequisite(s)].

THFM-3105 (6) Advanced Movement I (3 hrs Lecture | 3 hrs Lab) This course is designed to provide focused and consistent physical training and to lay a movement foundation for students who have chosen to pursue the Acting concentration in the Theatre Honours Program. Classes develop the individual's awareness, skill, and confidence in the use of movement as it pertains to the acting process. Topics include range and efficiency of movement, integration of voice and gesture, spatial awareness, rhythm, playing action, style, and working in the ensemble.

Requisite Courses: THFM-3105L (lab) (must be taken concurrently); THFM-4131 (must be taken concurrently).

THFM-3106 (6) Advanced Movement II (3 hrs Lecture | 3 hrs Lab) To prepare students for work in the professional field or in post-graduate studies, this course provides those in the final stages of the Honours Acting Degree with more specific challenges. Classes continue to develop the individual's movement potential but place greater emphasis on movement as it pertains to the staging of theatre. Areas of study include expanding range of motion and expression, advanced work in ensemble, character studies, blocking, and external character traits and style.

Requisite Courses: THFM-3106L (lab) (must be taken concurrently); THFM-4134 or THFM-4141 or THFM-4145 (must be taken concurrently).

THFM-3108 (3) Voice & Text Foundations in Studio (3 hrs Lecture) This course covers the anatomy and physiology of the voice, which informs a progressive curriculum of embodied vocal skills. Other areas covered include vocal health/hygiene, application of voice work connected to thought and action through application to text. Students explore their vocal habits and build a repertoire of vocal technique in studio classes, and gain experience in applying new skills to their application to text, to support their understanding of the demands of performance.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

THFM-3109 (3) Voice & Text Foundations in Performance (3 hrs Lecture) This course builds on the work done in THFM-3108 expanding upon the progressive curriculum of embodied vocal skills including breath responsiveness, ease of phonation (vibration), forward placement of tone, resonance, range, freedom of articulation, and awareness of speech action in application to performance in the Honours public exercise. Students continue to build a repertoire of vocal technique in studio classes, and gain experience in applying new skills to their acting work in performance.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

Requisite Courses: THFM-4131 (must be taken concurrently); THFM-3108 [prerequisite(s)].

THFM-3110 (6) Screen Acting (3 hrs Lecture | 3 hrs Lab)

Film acting as an art may be approached as a refined version of stage acting but film, unlike the stage, is an intimate medium where the slightest change of mood, emotion, or psychological action is felt and magnified. Using video to record and examine students' work, the course covers the basic principles of the art of acting as they apply to the specific requirements of film: script analysis, role preparation, rehearsal, and blocking. In addition, students are introduced to the vocabulary, protocol, and culture of the film environment. Employment-related topics such as resumes, auditioning, and cold reading are also covered.

Requisite Courses: THFM-2101 OR permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)]; THFM-3110L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

THFM-3131 (3) Approach to Directing (3 hrs Lecture)

This course serves as an introduction to the field of theatre directing. Through lectures and workshops, students explore preparation, analysis, conceptualization, dramaturgy, communication, ethical issues and the casting, rehearsing and staging of performance within the shifting role of the theatre artist as a global citizen. This course also provides a cursory history of the development of direction as an art form, with the goal that such study will aid students in considering new perspectives and approaches in their own directing endeavours.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and THFM-3002 SpSt Approach to Directing.

Requisite Courses: THFM-1001, THFM-1002 or THFM-1003 [prerequisite(s)].

THFM-3201 (6) Styles in Design (3 hrs Lecture | 3 hrs Lab)

This course takes students beyond the fundamentals of design and explores advanced theories of colour, perspective, and drawing. Special attention is given to the styles of design in contemporary theatre and the historical background which produced them. Lab work will develop skills in drafting, drawing, and the techniques of painting.

Requisite Courses: THFM-2201 [prerequisite(s)]; THFM-3201L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

THFM-3310 (6) Filmmaking II: Directing the Short Film

(3 hrs Lecture | 3 hrs Lab) This course focuses on the creation of more complex visual narratives than those discussed in Filmmaking I. Emphasis is placed on scene blocking and sequence building within an extended narrative, with special emphasis on directing actors for the camera. Working with film and video, the course looks at the importance of lighting, sound, and music in visual storytelling, including interior and exterior lighting and exposure and the dynamics of location shooting.

Requisite Courses: THFM-2310 and permission of the Department Chair [prerequisite(s)]; THFM-3310L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

THFM-3312 (6) Sound Editing for Film (3 hrs Lecture | 3 hrs Lab)

This is primarily a practical course on sound editing, with some emphasis on sound theory and the history of sound in film. Students learn the process and technique of sound editing for film, from building sound tracks to working with dynamics processors. Using Pro-Tools software, students learn how to input sounds, edit dialogue tracks, build effects tracks, process sounds using EQ plug-ins, and mix tracks.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and THFM-3311.

Requisite Courses: THFM-2310 [prerequisite(s)]; THFM-3312L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

THFM-3313 (6) Advanced Picture Editing (3 hrs Lecture | 3 hrs Lab)

This is an advanced editing course focusing on both continuity-style editing and non-narrative editing techniques. The course examines standard narrative editing technique from assembly through the various rough-cut stages to a fine cut. Using digital non-linear editing systems, students learn the importance of pacing and rhythm within a scene and sequence, how to cut for dramatic effect, how to cut around continuity problems, and techniques for "invisible" cutting. The course also looks at montage editing, from the theories of Eisenstein and montage editing in dramatic features to the application of montage in music videos and movie trailers.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and THFM-3311.

Requisite Courses: THFM-2310 [prerequisite(s)]; THFM-3313L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

THFM-3401 (3) Theatre History III: Ibsen to the Present

(3 hrs Lecture) This course is a continuation of Theatre History II, but may be taken without prerequisite. It covers developments in world theatre from the late nineteenth century to the present.

Note: This course can be used towards the Humanities Requirement.

Cross-listed: HIST-3190(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and HIST-3190.

THFM-3402 (3) Canadian Drama and Theatre

(3 hrs Lecture) This course is dedicated to the study of plays written since the late twentieth century in the land known as Canada. This is a course about legacies: artistic, stylistic, canonical, dramaturgical, ideological, and colonial. Through an examination of plays and supplementary readings students in this course explore where we have come from and where we are headed in theatre in this country.

Note: This course can be used towards the Humanities Requirement.

Cross-listed: ENGL-3403(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ENGL-3403.

THFM-3502 (6) Drama in Education (3 hrs Lecture) This is a survey of the major approaches to the use of dramatic and theatrical techniques in the field of education. Students study the ideas of leading practitioners of educational drama and work to develop the skills necessary for the teaching of drama in school settings, and for the use of drama techniques in teaching other subjects. Particular attention is given to how the principles and philosophies of Drama in Education guide best practice in a classroom environment.

Note: This course can be used towards the Humanities Requirement.

THFM-3503 (3) Stage Combat for Actors (3 hrs Lecture) This course is designed to introduce performers to basic stage physicality and the techniques of being both victim and perpetrator of illusory violence. The focus of the course is on the day-to-day skills required by all professional actors, regardless of age or gender, to cope safely with slaps, falls, kicks, rolls, and an assortment of other physical challenges that are routinely met in modern theatre and film. All skills are learned in a dramatic context and are designed to enhance the actor's overall physicality and body awareness on stage.

Note: This course is graded on a pass/fail basis.

Requisite Courses: THFM-1001 or THFM-1002 or THFM-1003 [prerequisite(s)].

THFM-3608 (6) Costuming Practicum: Costuming the Production II (6 hrs Lecture) Though it is not a formal pre-requisite, this course builds on the knowledge and experience gained in THFM-2608 as students act as a practical costuming department for two departmental public exercises in a single term. Students acquire hands-on experience in taking a costume from the designer's sketch to a fully-completed ensemble ready for the stage, including sourcing, preparing and building and altering all costumes. Proficiency in hand stitching and sewing machine use are required for this course.

Restrictions: Instructor Permission Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and THFM-3001 SpSt Costuming the Production.

Requisite Courses: THFM-2601 and permission of the instructor required [prerequisite(s)].

THFM-3611 (6) Advanced Screenwriting (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This advanced screenwriting course concentrates on writing longer dramatic narratives. The course takes the form of a workshop where students develop half-hour and feature-length dramatic scripts from premise and synopsis through step-outline and treatment to final draft. The course focuses on creative processes, story elements and structure, story and scene design, and story analysis. Students gain a working understanding of plot development, character development, techniques for writing dialogue, and advanced script format and style. The course also considers the role of screenwriters in Canadian filmmaking.

Requisite Courses: THFM-2611 with a minimum grade of B [prerequisite(s)].

THFM-3701 (6) Playwriting II: General (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This course builds on the skills students acquired in THFM-2701(6) Playwriting I by applying them to the particular tasks of writing a full-length play (i.e. over 90 minutes). The development of plot complications in order to sustain the protagonist's action, sub-plot(s), scene structure, and the arrangement of incidents are central concerns in this course. Students are expected to complete a first draft of a full-length play during the course.

Note: This course can be used towards the Humanities Requirement.

Requisite Courses: THFM-2701 or permission of the Instructor [prerequisite(s)].

THFM-3801 (6) Theatrical Production II (3 hrs Lecture | 3 hrs Lab) The areas covered in this course are applicable to film and studio environments as well as the stage and are designed to build upon the training started in THFM-2801(6) Theatrical Production I while introducing work in other areas such as properties, painting, and wardrobe. Practical experience becomes a major component of the course and will involve increased emphasis on the basics of production organization, backstage conduct, and crew maintenance. Through hands-on experience during public exercises, students are ultimately responsible for a variety of performance aspects and are given an opportunity to experiment with crew supervision, computer lighting control and/or digital sound editing, and post-production techniques.

Note: Variable labs total not less than 120 hours over the year.

Requisite Courses: THFM-2801 and permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

THFM-3802 (3) Stage Management (3 hrs Lecture | 3 hrs Lab) This course gives students a basic introduction to the central role of stage management in the theatre. Intended for general Arts students wishing to get a realistic glimpse of the theatrical experience, this course uses lectures and simulations to reveal the process of mounting a show from the first rehearsal to the final curtain. In addition, labs will provide an introduction to computer applications and the preparation of organizational tools current in the profession.

Note: Those wishing more intensive and practical experience are referred to THFM-4802(3) Honours Stage Management - Theory AND THFM-4803(3) Honours Stage Management - Practice.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and THFM-4802 | THFM-4832.

Requisite Courses: THFM-3802L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

THFM-3803 (3) Properties for the Stage (3 hrs Lecture) The object of this course is to provide students with an introduction to prop making and acquisition. Emphasis will be placed on practical skills development, research, practice, and the review of special materials and handling procedures for them.

Requisite Courses: THFM-2801 [prerequisite(s)].

THFM-3804 (3) Scenic Painting (3 hrs Lecture) The object of this course is to provide students with an introduction to scenic painting. The proper use of paints and pigments will form a basis from which a study of the major professional painting techniques will be undertaken.

Requisite Courses: THFM-2801 or THFM-2201 [prerequisite(s)].

THFM-3807 (3) Theatrical Production Operations and Management (3 hrs Lecture) The objective of the course is to continue the training in technical production for theatre begun in THFM-2801(6) Production I with the introduction of management concepts. It may be taken alone or may be used as a complementary course to THFM-3801(6) Production II in order to optimally balance the theoretical and practical between the two. Students begin to examine the roles of the Technical Manager as they relate to performing arts production. Emphasis is placed on organizational skills such as scheduling, materials acquisition, and personnel and facilities management.

Requisite Courses: THFM-2801 or THFM-2803 [prerequisite(s)].

THFM-3808 (3) Stagecraft Practicum (6 hrs Apprenticeship/Internship/Practicum) This course is a practicum in stagecraft which encompasses the management and construction of all scenery for one of the departmental public exercises. The students in this course are involved in planning, ordering materials, shop setup, construction, installation, and removal of a complete set. The course consists of both lectures and labs, which occur concurrently in each class, as necessary.

Requisite Courses: THFM-2801 [prerequisite(s)].

THFM-3809 (3) Stagecraft Techniques (3 hrs Lecture) This course is the continuation of the stagecraft portion of THFM-2801(6) with greater emphasis on the development of the skills required in the construction of stage scenery. Topics covered include more advanced consideration of techniques and principles of construction for two- and three-dimensional scenery. Emphasis is on layout and preparation for construction problems applicable to the entertainment industry. Considerations of safety in the handling of equipment and materials are included throughout along with the use of the Workplace Hazardous Materials Information System as it applies to theatrical scene shops.

Restrictions: Instructor Permission Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and THFM-2001 | THFM-4809.

Requisite Courses: THFM-2801 and permission from the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

THFM-3920 (6) Musical Theatre (3 hrs Lecture | 3 hrs Lab) This course introduces the acting student to the special performance demands of musical theatre. It is designed to expand the student's acting skills by focusing on the particular challenges presented by a variety of musical theatre styles. Students also receive training in dance and singing, with the emphasis on learning to integrate these elements into the dramatic context.

Note: Students are expected to have previous training in dance and singing, at least to the level achieved in THFM-2920(3) Introductory Dance for Musical Theatre and THFM-2922(3) Introduction to Music and Singing; students who already have backgrounds in either of these areas may apply to the Chair to be exempted from taking one or both of these courses.

Requisite Courses: THFM-2101, THFM-2920, and THFM-2922 [prerequisite(s)]; THFM-3920L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

THFM-3924 (3) Advanced Dance for Musical Theatre (3 hrs Lecture) This course focuses on moving students' performance abilities to the next level while developing technical and interpretive skills. Emphasis is on the technical aspects of a variety of dance disciplines which are prevalent in the art form, including jazz, ballet, tap, and contemporary movement. Proper placement and alignment, incorporation of characterization, and stylistic elements are explored within classic and contemporary repertoire. Focus is placed on developing the techniques necessary to convey the story behind the movements including timing, delivery, and intention.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and THFM-3002(3) SpSt Advanced Dance.

Requisite Courses: THFM-2920 or permission of instructor [prerequisite(s)].

THFM-3925 (3) Advanced Music and Singing (3 hrs Lecture) This course focuses on advancing basic music skills (rhythm and ear training, sight singing, and score reading), as well as more advanced approaches to the development of healthy vocal technique through voice-building exercises, rehearsal skills, audition technique, repertoire selection, and the integration of character development in the performance of selections from the Music Theatre repertoire.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and THFM-3002 SpSt Advanced Singing.

Requisite Courses: THFM-2922 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

THFM-4041 (6) Special Studies in Theatre/Film (3 hrs Directed Reading | 3 hrs Lab) Students taking this course arrange a program of reading, individual study, and lab work in consultation with an appropriate Instructor.

Note: Permission of the Department Chair is required.

Restrictions: Department Permission Required. Honours Form Required.

THFM-4042 (1 or 3) Special Studies in Theatre/Film (3 hrs Directed Reading) Students taking this course arrange a program of reading, individual study, and lab work in consultation with an appropriate Instructor.

Restrictions: Department Permission Required. Honours Form Required.

THFM-4043 (3) Honours Special Studies in Theatre/Film Humanities (3 hrs Tutorial) Students interested in Honours-level advanced exploration of a specific area of theatre or film studies arrange a program of reading, individual study, and private lectures with an appropriate instructor. This program of study must meet the criteria for a course in the Humanities.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Instructor Permission Required.

THFM-4108 (3) Speech Foundations in Performance (3 hrs Lecture) This course reinforces a progressive curriculum of experiential learning; building upon the foundations of voice and text explored in the third year courses. Various text-based and performance-based experiential learning opportunities continue as students learn new skills related to speech. Proficiency in speech action is developed by learning the International Phonetic Alphabet (IPA) and exploring practical speech action in studio. Students can expect to enhance their understanding and execution of articulatory-speech action and how this work connects to self, identity, character, storytelling, and performance.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

THFM-4109 (3) Voice & Holistic Expression in Performance (3 hrs Lecture) This course celebrates the artist's skills, identity, voice, and body by engaging in the creative process throughout the term and offering experiential learning activities to encourage each student to share their voice, lived experience, and perspectives through self-generated texts and performances. Students also engage holistically and skillfully with texts written by others, that they then rehearse/perform in a variety of theatrical performance contexts, including in studio for peers and with invited audiences.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

Requisite Courses: THFM-4141 (must be taken previously or at the same time as this course); THFM-4108 [prerequisite(s)].

THFM-4131 (9) Acting III: Honours (Lecture/Lab Combined with variable meeting hours) This is an advanced course which offers a study of acting style and technique as they relate to the interpretation of plays within the modern period and within certain well-defined genres. In addition to regular classes and labs, students participate in the rehearsal and performance of one full-length production presented as a public exercise and lab sessions designed to prepare them for the associated challenges of this production.

Note: Registration in this course is by audition only. Auditions are held annually at the end of April; see the department's Student Advisor in Room 3T03, email thfm@uwinnipeg.ca or call 204-786-9955 for details.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Instructor Permission Required.

Requisite Courses: THFM-2101, THFM/ENGL-2703, and permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)]; THFM-3105 and THFM-3108 (must be taken concurrently).

THFM-4133 (9) Devised Theatre (6 hrs Lecture/Lab Combined) This course explores several models for the generation and development of original material for performance. Students are expected to engage in various methods of individual and collaborative play-making research and to explore various processes and forms in the construction of original performance work. Students are responsible for producing substantial amounts of theoretical and practical research outside of scheduled class times. The course culminates in the construction of public performance pieces and additional rehearsals will be scheduled outside of class time.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

Requisite Courses: THFM-2101 and permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

THFM-4134 (6) Interpreting Shakespeare (3 hrs Lecture) This course is for performance students who seek an understanding of the problems of text analysis, stylistic control, and verse speaking involved in classical interpretation. Emphasis will be placed on intellectual understanding of the text and on the practical skills necessary to translate that understanding into an effective performance. Grading in the course is based on both written and practical assignments, and may include a public exercise.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

Requisite Courses: THFM-2101 [prerequisite(s)].

THFM-4135 (3) Acting for the Media (3 hrs Lecture) This course is designed to give the student a basic practical and theoretical understanding of the demands of acting for the camera. It focuses on specific knowledge, skills, and techniques with special attention to adaptation from stage to media work. Classes consist of lectures and discussions on the art and craft of film acting interpreted with practical exercises designed to address and overcome the problems inherent in the art. Students are expected to research and present special topics of relevance, prepare and perform a major role in a scene, prepare and perform minor acting roles as needed, and participate in technical activities in support of classmates' work.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

Requisite Courses: THFM-2101 [prerequisite(s)].

THFM-4136 (3) Advanced Media Acting (3 hrs Lecture) This course continues the work of THFM-4135(3) Acting for the Media. Through ensemble work on 5-10 minute video productions, acting students further develop their knowledge and skill in all aspects of the media process: acting, directing, editing, camera, sound, and lighting. These projects are supplemented with lectures, readings, workshop exercises, and discussions. Students must be prepared to work some evenings and/or weekends outside of scheduled class time in order to accommodate shooting and editing.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

Requisite Courses: THFM-4135 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

THFM-4141 (9) Acting IV: Honours - Style & Genre (Lecture/Lab Combined with variable meeting hours) This course focuses on the development of students' acting skills and techniques in a performance context, involving particular historical styles and/or theatrical genres. The course emphasizes vocal styling, period movement, and physical characterization, as well as ensemble techniques. Students participate in the rehearsal and performance of two full-length productions presented as public exercises, and lab sessions designed to prepare them for the challenges of each.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and THFM-4145.

Requisite Courses: THFM-4131 [prerequisite(s)]; THFM-3106 and THFM-4108 (must be taken concurrently).

THFM-4145 (6) Acting IV: Honours - Contemporary Performance (3 hrs Lecture) This is a 6 credit-hour course designed for students who have completed Acting III: Honours; students who have completed Acting III: General may take it with permission of the Department Chair. This course undertakes the further development of the student's acting skill and ensemble technique with particular emphasis on achieving authenticity of dramatic action and sustaining character in the performance of a full-length contemporary play.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and THFM-4141.

Requisite Courses: THFM-4131 [prerequisite(s)]; THFM-3106 (must be taken concurrently).

THFM-4203 (6) Contemporary Stage Design (3 hrs Lecture | 3 hrs Lab) This advanced course in design (sets and costumes) continues the development of design skills on both theoretical and practical projects. Students study in the capacity of design assistants or designers on Department-sponsored or approved productions. Papers of design analysis along with renderings, models, and post-production self-criticism are integral to the course.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

Requisite Courses: THFM-3201 and THFM-3202 [prerequisite(s)].

THFM-4331 (6) Directing I (3 hrs Lecture | 3 hrs Lab) This course explores the director's process in the dramatic theatre, including such matters as play selection, the audition, coaching actors, and finding "the theatrical metaphor." In the lab sessions students present scenes and receive criticism of their work. The final project for the course includes the direction of a one-act play. The student will also write papers of intent and papers of self-criticism in connection with each directing assignment.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

Requisite Courses: THFM-1001 or THFM-1003, and THFM-2703 or ENGL-2703, and at least 3 additional credit hours above the 1000 level in Theatre and Film or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

THFM-4441 (3) Theatre Aesthetics (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This course consists of an examination of some fundamental questions about the nature of Theatre and Film. Seminar discussions will be supplemented with the reading of key texts in dramatic theory and criticism.

Note: This course can be used towards the Humanities Requirement. Permission of the instructor is required in the case of General course students applying to enrol in this Honours course.

Requisite Courses: THFM-2401 or HIST-2190 or THFM-2402 or THFM-2405 or CLAS-2405 or THFM-2703 or ENGL-2703 or THFM-3401 or HIST-3190 or THFM-3402 or ENGL-2311 or ENGL-3401 or FREN-4748 [prerequisite(s)].

THFM-4442 (3) Advanced Theory of Acting (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This course deals with major issues in the theory of acting and other modes of theatrical performance, with attention to Stanislavsky, Meyerhold, Artaud, and Grotowski, as well as to more recent attempts to understand the nature of acting, the principles underlying actor training, both physical and psychological, and the aesthetics of acting and other performance modes. Some attention will be given to recent cross-cultural and cross-disciplinary studies of performance.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

Requisite Courses: THFM-1001 or THFM-1002 or THFM-1003 [prerequisite(s)].

THFM-4532 (6) Swordplay: Stage and Screen (3 hrs Lecture) This course is an introduction to the basic principles of swordplay for stage and screen. Using the stage combat rapier, the course teaches systems for safety, principles of illusion, and style/period considerations as they relate to staged swordplay. The course is considered a performance course and all stage combat skills are evaluated in the context of a dramatic scene.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

Requisite Courses: THFM-3503 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

THFM-4802 (3) Honours Stage Management - Theory

(3 hrs Lecture | Lab) This course is designed to give students comprehensive, theoretical understanding of stage management. Students learn about basic management practices as they relate to the profession. Lectures provide students with an overview of stage management and the fundamental skills it demands. Labs are both instructional and practical in nature and encompass the use of computers. When paired with THFM-4803 Honours Stage Management - Practice, students develop comprehensive knowledge and skills in the full spectrum of stage management responsibilities.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and THFM-3802 | THFM-4832.

Requisite Courses: THFM-2801 [prerequisite(s)]; THFM-4802L (lab) (must be taken concurrently).

THFM-4803 (3) Honours Stage Management - Practice

(3 hrs Lecture) This course is designed to provide students with a practical forum within which the theoretical concepts learned in THFM-4802(3) Honours Stage Management - Theory can be tested by working as part of the stage management team supporting a public exercise. Students have the opportunity to apply these principles and techniques in a practical setting by filling a stage management position on at least one public exercise. As the emphasis of this course is comprised of an introductory first experience of practical work, tutorial sessions are arranged with individual students. These are designed to guide students through the practical stage management experience.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and THFM-4832.

Requisite Courses: THFM-4802 and permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

THFM-4809 (6) Advanced Stagecraft Practicum (3 hrs Lecture | 3 hrs Lab) This course is a continuation of the stagecraft portion of THFM-2801 Production I with greater emphasis on the skills, techniques, and principles required to construct stage scenery. The course is also an advanced practicum which encompasses the management and construction of all scenery for the department's 4th-year public exercise (Fall). In addition, course content focuses on the development of blueprint reading and other practical skills as they relate to scenic construction. Emphasis is also placed on the role of the master carpenter's relationship with the set designer.

Note: Students who have taken the former THFM-2001(3) Practicum version of Stagecraft II may not take this course.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and THFM-3809.

Requisite Courses: THFM-2801 [prerequisite(s)].

URBAN AND INNER CITY STUDIES

UIC-1001 (3) Introduction to Urban and Inner-City Studies (3 hrs Lecture) The course provides an overview of the dynamics that drive a city's growth and that produce change over time. It considers the social impact of urban change, with particular emphasis on the interconnectedness of the different parts of the city and on the impact of urban change on the inner city. It examines how these changes shape city politics, looking at the political interests and problems associated with the commercial core, older residential neighborhoods near the centre, and burgeoning suburban and exurban areas. It also examines how the three levels of government are involved in shaping and responding to these changes.

UIC-1002 (3) Issues in the Inner-City Studies: An Introduction (3 hrs Lecture) The inner-city, a post-war phenomenon unique to North America, is of interest to urban studies because it focuses our attention on the margins and on issues of social justice. This course is offered on an occasional basis to respond to specific requests from the inner-city community, and/or to take advantage of opportunities to examine trends or concerns that arise in the inner city. The topic covered may vary from year to year. Students should consult the Department of Urban and Inner-City Studies about the topic in any given year. If the topic is different from one they have previously taken, they are permitted to enroll in the course and receive credit.

UIC-1010 (3) Indigenous Ways of Knowing (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) Large numbers of Indigenous peoples settling in Winnipeg, and in core neighbourhoods, suggest that students studying urbanism need to be aware that the city and critical issues in the inner city can be interpreted differently. This course offers an introduction to Indigenous ways of knowing through active participation in strategies that facilitate the production of Indigenous knowledge and through comparisons with Euro-American ways of knowing. By taking part in basic ceremony and related practices, students gain an understanding of how First Peoples of Manitoba relate to each other, to the land, to other animals, and to the world.

Cross-listed: IS-1010(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and IS-1010.

UIC-1012 (3) Dynamics of the Inner City (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This course exposes students to inner-city life, experienced through field trips to meet with formal and informal community leaders and community-based organizations. Students benefit from presentations by those whose calling and work focuses on critical inner-city issues. We observe changes arising from resiliency, activism, multiculturalism, and the blending of social justice and traditional Indigenous values. Students explore the inner-city life of Indigenous peoples and newly-arrived Canadians. Classes emphasize discussion and "inner-city stories".

UIC-2001 (3) Community Development (3 hrs Lecture) This course is an introduction to the idea of community development and community economic development. The course considers the principles and philosophy of community development/community economic development, and examines the key elements of CD/CED including neighborhood revitalization, housing development and rehabilitation, employment development and training, and social enterprise.

Cross-listed: IS-2301(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and IS-2301.

UIC-2010 (3) Métis Identity, Culture and Rights (3 hrs Lecture) In this course, students undertake an historical overview of Métis origins, culture, and overnance. Students explore the role that the Métis played in Manitoba's confederation, and other efforts to secure rights - including resisting Canadian expansion during the North-West Resistance (1885). Students learn about Métis dispossession from land, experiences in day and residential schools, and ongoing Métis selfdetermination. Students also discuss contemporary issues faced by the Métis including important court cases, the phenomenon of raceshifting, land claims and restoration of the Métis homeland. Students gain a better understanding of the Métis Nation with a particular focus on the Manitoba Métis community. Restriction: Students who have credit for UIC-3100, Issues in Urban and Inner-City Studies, when the topic was Métis Identity, Culture and Rights cannot take this course for credit. Students who hold credit for HIST-3525 or 3625 require permission from the instructor.

UIC-2020 (3) Colonization and Indigenous Peoples in Canada (3 hrs Lecture) In this course, students are introduced to Indigenous peoples in what has come to be known as Canada and undertake a survey of Indigenous cultural, political, economic, and spiritual situations from pre-contact to the present. Students examine colonialism in Canada (past and present) and its ongoing effects upon First Nations, Métis, and Inuit peoples. Topics include Indigenous world views, fur trade, treaties, Indian Act, residential schools and the child welfare system, as well as historic and contemporary Indigenous governance and sovereignty. Students are empowered to engage in meaningful dialogue about issues that affect Indigenous and non- Indigenous people in Canada.

Cross-listed: POL-2020(3) and IS-2020(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and IS-2020 | POL-2020.

UIC-2030 (3) Management and Financial Administration for Community Leadership (3 hrs Lecture) As small-scale and not-for-profit structures, community-based and Indigenous organizations often face unique challenges and political/cultural realities in terms of overall management and operations. This course provides students with a good understanding of the key facets of management and administrative structures and management controls, financial statements and budgeting, performance measures, strategic planning and operations analysis and evaluation.

Cross-listed: IS-2030(3) and BUS-2030(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and IS-2030 | BUS-2030.

Requisite Courses: UIC-1001(3); or IS-1016(3) (or HIST-1009 (3)) and IS-1017(3); or the former IS-1015(6) [prerequisite(s)].

UIC-2035 (3) History of Indigenous Institutional Development in Winnipeg (2 hrs Lecture | 1 hrs Seminar/Discussion) Indigenous peoples in Manitoba's largest urban centre have long been challenging systemic racism and colonial structures. In this course students learn about the rich history of Indigenous-led resistance and development in Winnipeg from 1950 and into the 2000s. Topics include the development of the Indian Métis Friendship Centre, the Ma Mawi Wi Chi Itata Centre, Children of the Earth School, Native Women's Transition Centre (now Indigenous Women's Healing Centre), and Neeginan Centre. Students also learn about a new generation of Indigenous leaders building spaces of hope and resistance in Winnipeg's inner-city neighbourhoods.

Cross-listed: HIST-2513

Experimental Course - This course is offered on a trial basis to gauge interest in the topic. Students who successfully complete this course receive credit as indicated.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and HIST-2513.

UIC-2050 (3) Doing Research in the Inner City (3 hrs Lecture) Understanding research and how knowledge is produced is crucial for people who work and live in urban and inner-city spaces. Students examine theory, approaches, and methods of urban research, focusing on inner-city and community contexts. Students learn to select, apply, and practice hands-on methods, and gain skills relevant for careers in academic, community-based, policy, and professional fields. Topics include anti-racist, Indigenous, and feminist approaches to research, power dynamics and ethical considerations, critical and community-based approaches to research design, and the communication and mobilization of research results.

Experimental Course - This course is offered on a trial basis to gauge interest in the topic. Students who successfully complete this course receive credit as indicated.

UIC-2060 (3) Environmental Justice in the Inner City (3 hrs Lecture) Environmental issues can feel overwhelming - they are urgent and everywhere, and impact inner-city places and residents unequally. How do communities take action for environmental justice, to share environmental well-being and protect land, water, air, and people? Students explore the past and present of environmental justice in theory and practice, looking at urban environmental justice internationally and engaging with local issues and movements that inspire hope and action. Through written, oral, and creative hands-on assignments, analyze environmental benefits and burdens through an intersectional lens, explore how environmental injustice is created and maintained, and find strategies for positive change.

Cross-listed: ENV-2060

Experimental Course - This course is offered on a trial basis to gauge interest in the topic. Students who successfully complete this course receive credit as indicated.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ENV-2060.

UIC-2210 (3) Introduction to Community Advocacy (1 hrs Lecture | 2 hrs Seminar/Discussion) The Civil Rights Movement of the 1960s and the War on Poverty that followed gave rise to a North American advocacy movement. With growing concern that people living in poverty required representation to fully assert their rights, storefront law offices opened in impoverished neighbourhoods and Canada's Legal Aid program was developed. This course examines the history and forms of advocacy from individual to public interest, and different models for providing advocacy services. It explores the role that advocacy plays in influencing public policy, particularly with respect to various social and benefit entitlement programs aimed at responding to urban poverty.

UIC-2220 (3) Urban Poverty and Policy (1 hrs Lecture | 2 hrs Seminar/Discussion) Urban poverty is a growing problem throughout the world, including Canada. It is affected by a wide range of policies. This course examines urban poverty through the lens of these various policies, considering their origins, impact, adequacy and ideological character.

UIC-2515 (3) History of Education in Winnipeg's Inner City (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines the history of education in Winnipeg's North End and broader inner city from the early 20th century to today. Particular attention is paid to those who have come to be identified as the "Other": eastern European immigrants early in the 20th century; Indigenous people and newcomers today. The relationship between poverty and educational outcomes is closely examined. Also emphasized are innovative educational strategies that have emerged in the inner city and that have been demonstrated to work well in improving educational outcomes.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and EDUC-4405 | HIST-2515.

UIC-3001 (6) Urban and Inner City Practicum (3 hrs Apprenticeship/Internship/Practicum) This course provides students with an experiential learning opportunity at an inner-city organization. Students spend three hours per week with the organization, observing what takes place, meeting and working with inner-city people and organizations, and taking on work assignments under the direction of the organization's staff and with the support of the course instructor. Course assignments may include, among others, interpretive journals and/or projects prepared for the organization.

Requisite Courses: UIC-1001 and one other Core Course in Urban and Inner-City Studies [prerequisite(s)].

UIC-3002 (3 or 6) Directed Readings in Urban and Inner City Studies (3 hrs Lecture) This course provides students with the opportunity to identify a topic of interest in Urban and Inner-City Studies and to examine the topic in depth under the supervision of a professor who has expertise in that area. This course may be taken more than once for credit if the topics vary.

Note: Students may take a maximum of 12 credit hours in directed readings courses at the 3000 and 4000 level. Permission of the instructor is required.

Restrictions: Department Permission Required.

UIC-3003 (6) Community Development and Advocacy Practicum (Apprenticeship/Internship/Practicum with variable meeting hours) Learn about community advocacy and community development in the inner city through practical experience. Students spend six hours per week at a community organization, working on assignments directed by organization staff and supported by the course instructor. Students put into practice the theory they have learned in prerequisite courses (either UIC-2210 Introduction to Community Advocacy, or UIC-1001 Introduction to Urban and Inner-City Studies plus one other Core course in UIC). Students reflect and integrate learning through regular class meetings and written and oral assignments, with instructor feedback and support.

Experimental Course - This course is offered on a trial basis to gauge interest in the topic. Students who successfully complete this course receive credit as indicated.

Restrictions: Instructor Permission Required.

Requisite Courses: UIC-2210, or UIC-1001 and one other core course in UIC [prerequisite(s)].

UIC-3010 (3) Two-Spirit, Indigiqueer & Indigenous LGBTQ Realities (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This course examines Two-Spirit, Indigiqueer, and Indigenous LGBTQ identities, realities, and selected issues. Among other topics, we explore Indigenous conceptions of gender and sexuality, colonial impacts upon Indigenous gender and sexual diversity, relationships between queer Indigenous community and the mainstream LGBTQ community, as well as Two-Spirit resurgence and self-determination especially in an urban context. Students learn to identify characteristics of nation-specific Indigenous concepts of gender and sexuality as well as ongoing colonial impacts.

Cross-listed: IS-3011.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and IS-3011.

UIC-3020 (3) Women and the Inner City (3 hrs Lecture/Seminar) This course explores a number of issues specific to women living in the inner city. We examine the economic, political, and social conditions that influence the lives of diverse populations of women living in the inner city and the various issues and problems associated with their positioning. Within this larger context, special attention is paid to the specific issues and problems related to the experience of urban Indigenous women, new immigrant women, underemployed women and street-involved women.

Cross-listed: WGS-3020(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and WGS-3020.

UIC-3025 (3) Issues in Sustainable Cities (3 hrs Lecture) This course addresses issues of sustainable urban development. Topics may include the following:

world population growth and urbanization in developed and developing countries; the impact of technology, trade, and commercial globalization on urban environments; the degradation of land, water, and air inside cities and in their bio-regions; the consumption of fossil fuels and the local and global impact of their combustion; the politics of sustainable urban development; the role of planning and urban administrative practices and policies in environmental degradation and mitigation; and the place of local environmental initiatives in national environmental actions.

Cross-listed: ENV-3025(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ENV-3025.

Requisite Courses: GEOG-2414, or the former GEOG-2404, or UIC-1001, or permission of the instructor (must be taken previously or at the same time as this course).

UIC-3030 (3) Urban and Community Planning (3 hrs Lecture) Urban planning shapes the city spaces where we live, work, and play, and affects the well-being of all urban dwellers. Students critically examine planning history, theory, and practice in local context, with an emphasis on understanding values, power, and process. Students explore planning at city and neighbourhood scales through assignments, activities, and field trips that highlight current issues and planning strategies for equity and transformation. Topics may include community leadership and participation in planning, Indigenous urban planning, planning as social control, and planning for sustainable and equitable cities.

Requisite Courses: UIC-1001 or UIC-2001 or GEOG-1105 or the previous GEOG-1103, or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

UIC-3036 (3) History of Winnipeg's Inner City (3 hrs Lecture) Students analyze and take inspiration from Winnipeg's history of inner-city counterplanning, investigating the emergence and political function of the term "inner city" in Winnipeg, especially its role as a coalition-building identity. Students trace how innercity conditions have been produced not simply by top-down processes such as neoliberalism but by local movements that mediate such processes. Students read this history not only as a chronicle of social action but as a regional epistemological tradition and body of critical urban theory. Topics include the Inner City Committee for Rail Relocation, Inner City Voice newspaper, and the Community Inquiry Into Inner City Revitalization.

Cross-listed: HIST-3516(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and HIST-3516.

UIC-3050 (3) Immigration and the Inner City (3 hrs Lecture) This course explores both long-standing and recent questions about immigration and the inner city. Topics include the impact on contemporary inner-city communities of immigration; globalization; international and transnational social and economic developments; and civil wars, internal wars, and violent conflicts. Students' inquiry into the relationship between immigration and the inner city involves an exploration of both early and contemporary discourse on the subject.

UIC-3060 (3) Confronting Racism and Oppression (3 hrs Lecture) This course helps students understand what racism is, how it's expressed in Winnipeg's inner city and what factors contribute to its existence. The course provides practical tools for confronting racism, awareness and skill-building around dealing with internalized racism, and guidelines to becoming an ally with those experiencing the brunt of oppression that racism creates. The course emphasizes student participation and discussion and in-depth analysis of ideologies that underlie race-based practices, specifically with respect to Indigenous populations.

Restrictions: Students who have credit for UIC-3100 when the topic was Confronting Racism cannot take this course for credit.

UIC-3100 (3) Issues in Urban and Inner-City Studies (3 hrs Lecture) This course is offered on an occasional basis to focus the discussion of students and community resource people on specific issues that are of current interest to academics and practitioners in the field of Urban and Inner-City Studies. The topic will vary from year to year. Please consult the department about specific topics.

UIC-3125 (3) The Intergenerational Legacy of Residential Schools (3 hrs Lecture) The residential school system was a mandatory school system for all Aboriginal children. The objective of these schools was to extinguish Aboriginal culture and language from the Canadian landscape. The first school opened in the late 1800's and the last school closed in the 1980's. The result from this long history is a legacy that impacts all Canadians and Aboriginal peoples. This course examines the impact of the residential school system in a variety of areas such as the loss of language and culture, loss of parenting skills, (especially mothering), as well as settler and Aboriginal relations.

Cross-listed: IS-3125(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and IS-3125.

Requisite Courses: IS-1016 (or HIST-1009) and IS-1017, or the former IS-1015 [prerequisite(s)].

UIC-3210 (3) Community Organizing for Social Justice (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This course examines a range of strategies for promoting change in urban settings. Students study theories and historical examples of various kinds of social justice-focused community organizing. Local, national and international cases are examined. Examples may include, but are not limited to: neighbourhood-level organizing; feminist approaches to organizing; youth-led organizing; Indigenous models of organizing; forms of civil disobedience; policy advocacy and lobbying; and the use of the media in community organizing.

Cross-listed: IDS-3210(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and IDS-3210.

UIC-3220 (6) Community Advocacy Internship (3 hrs Apprenticeship/Internship/Practicum | 3 hrs Lecture) This experiential learning course provides students an opportunity to put advocacy theories into practice through an internship with a community-based organization. Prior to the beginning of the course, the instructor works with students to identify a placement aligned with their specific advocacy interests and acts as a liaison between the placement supervisor and students. In addition to attending an internship one day (6 hrs.) per week, students participate in a monthly seminar led by the instructor. Students write reflection papers on their workplace experiences in relation to advocacy theories and prepare a final paper and class presentation.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and UIC-3001.

Requisite Courses: UIC-2210 [prerequisite(s)].

UIC-3230 (6) Inner-City Work Study

(Apprenticeship/Internship/Practicum | 6 hrs Seminar/Discussion) Inner-City Work Study is a summer intensive course that brings students from diverse backgrounds together to work and learn in the inner city. In the spirit of reconciliation and building bridges toward a city free from racism and exclusion, students explore theories of community practice toward transformative change, guided by anti-oppressive and social justice frameworks. Students put theory into practice through a paid 4-month summer internship with a community-based non-profit organization. The intensive work/study program provides students the unique opportunity to combine scholarly learning with summer employment where they will gain valuable experience while contribute to the inner-city community.

Restrictions: Department Permission Required.

Requisite Courses: Students will have completed a minimum of 3 credit hours in an Urban and Inner-City Studies course [prerequisite(s)].

UIC-3240 (3) Poverty and the Law (3 hrs Lecture) This course focuses on poverty law as it affects the individual and the community. It offers the student insight into the legal and administrative regimes governing the lives of persons of low or modest income. From the theoretical and practical perspective, it explains how certain laws may act as barriers to the full participation of disadvantaged persons in a free and democratic society. Finally, the course examines how the law can be used to advance the interests of persons of low and modest incomes.

Note: This course was formerly numbered UIC-3040 and had the same subject material.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and UIC-3040.

UIC-3330 (3) Solidarity and Social Economy in the City

(3 hrs Lecture) Social economy encompasses cooperatives, commercially-oriented social enterprises, voluntary organizations and charities, community organizations and neighbourhood groups. It stretches across to the domestic economy of families. This course examines the marginalized or invisible value in largely non-market and non-monetized activities in the city -- the informal and autonomous ways in which we meet our needs. It introduces models of welfare pluralism and examines highly productive activities that are based on democratic solidarity.

Cross-listed: UIC-4330(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and UIC-4330.

Requisite Courses: UIC-2001 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

UIC-3430 (3) Housing and the Neighbourhood (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines the complexity of shelter environments within the urban landscape. The focus is on the North American housing market, the history of housing, and the ways in which traditional and non-traditional markets are defined and understood. The unique characteristics of the modern city are examined as they are manifested in homelessness, marginal housing forms, shelter-induced poverty, suburban decline, and inner-city issues. Emphasis is also placed on current/historical policy and program responses to housing-related issues at the neighbourhood, municipal, provincial and federal level.

Cross-listed: GEOG-3430(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and GEOG-3430.

Requisite Courses: UIC-1001 or GEOG-1102 [prerequisite(s)].

UIC-3603 (3) Winnipeg and the Environment: A Case Study Approach (3 hrs Lecture) This course focuses on the particular problems facing the City of Winnipeg in its interaction with the environment. Students are required to participate in an in-class strategic planning session to select issues and concerns that become the case study content of the course. Municipal planning initiatives are used to select the issues, to define their scope, and to propose policy and program solutions. The course format involves small interactive group discussions led by the students and facilitated by the instructor. A high level of student participation is expected.

Cross-listed: ENV-3603(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ENV-3603.

Requisite Courses: ENV-1600 or the former ENV-2600 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

UIC-4001 (3 or 6) Directed Readings in Urban and Inner City Studies (3 hrs Directed Reading) This course provides the students with the opportunity to identify a topic of interest in Urban and Inner-City Studies and to examine the topic in depth under the supervision of a professor who has expertise in that area. This course may be taken more than once for credit if the topics vary. Students may take a maximum of twelve (12) credit hours in directed readings courses.

Note: Permission of the instructor is required.

UIC-4010 (3) Urban Poverty (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) Poverty in urban centres has become a particularly serious problem in the late 20th-early 21st centuries. It differs, in many important respects, from the urban poverty of earlier generations. What are its distinguishing features? Why has it emerged at the time and in the form that it has? What modes of explanation can best guide us to a better understanding of this poverty? This course attempts to answer such questions, examining some theoretical works that address contemporary urban poverty.

Requisite Courses: A minimum of 6 credit hours in UIC courses or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

UIC-4020 (3) Inner-City Workshop (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This course combines theory and practice in the study of the dynamics of low-income inner-city communities. The course includes an examination of some recent literature on the phenomenon of low-income inner cities. It also features a practicum placement -- three hours per week -- with an inner-city community-based organization, and a term paper based on primary research on an inner-city topic, preferably related to the practicum assignment. Students develop research skills in a hands-on fashion, while being exposed to the practical realities of day-to-day life in the inner city.

Restrictions: Department Permission Required.

Requisite Courses: A minimum of 6 credit hours in Urban and Inner City Studies courses [prerequisite(s)].

UIC-4330 (3) Solidarity and Social Economy in the City (3 hrs Lecture) Social economy encompasses cooperatives, commercially-oriented social enterprises, voluntary organizations and charities, community organizations and neighbourhood groups. It stretches across to the domestic economy of families. This course examines the marginalized or invisible value in largely non-market and non-monetized activities in the city -- the informal and autonomous ways in which we meet our needs. It introduces models of welfare pluralism and examines highly productive activities that are based on democratic solidarity.

Cross-listed: UIC-3330(3).

Restrictions: Instructor Permission Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and UIC-3330.

Requisite Courses: UIC-2001 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

UIC-4445 (3) Urban Indigenous Seminar (3 hrs Lecture) This seminar examines selected topics dealing with urban Indigenous issues. Topics may include the viability of urban Indigenous governance, urban reserves, and Indigenous education and economic development issues in the inner city. The issue of differing conceptions of Indigenous representation and identity held by various Indigenous organizations is a particularly challenging and contentious issue in the urban context. The portability and applicability of Indigenous and treaty rights in the urban environment may also be explored. We may also analyze the unique problems created by the range of jurisdictional responsibilities towards Indigenous people in the urban environment.

Cross-listed: ANTH-4145(3) and IS-4445(3).

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and ANTH-4145 | IS-4445.

Requisite Courses: A minimum of 6 credit hours in UIC courses or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

UIC-4520 (3) Theories of Urban Poverty (3 hrs Lecture) This seminar analyzes and evaluates the works of various social scientists who have written about urban poverty in the late 20th and early 21st centuries. The course addresses issues such as the causes of today's urban poverty, the ways in which urban poverty today differs from earlier forms, the relationship between urban poverty and global economic forces, and the relationship between urban poverty and drugs, gangs and violence. Writers studied may vary from year to year.

Cross-listed: POL-4520

Restrictions: Instructor Permission Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and POL-4520.

WOMEN'S AND GENDER STUDIES

WGS-1232 (6) Introduction to Women's and Gender Studies (1.5 hrs Lecture | 1.5 hrs Seminar/Discussion)

This course is an introduction to the theories, methods, and issues of Women's and Gender Studies, focusing on contemporary feminist scholarship and movement in North America. It explores how gender intersects with systems of power and inequality, including sexism, colonialism, racism, homophobia, transphobia and class discrimination to shape lived experience. It builds on the premise that sex, gender and sexuality are inextricable from other social differences, such as race, ethnicity, religion, language, age, and (dis)ability in the construction of identity. Course materials drawn on include scholarly literature, case studies, fiction, new media, film and video, art, and feminist cultural production.

Note: Students with standing in WGS-1232(6) may not receive credit for the former 95.2332(6) offered prior to 1988.

WGS-2001 (3) Gender and Folklore: A Survey (1.5 hrs Lecture | 1.5 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This interdisciplinary course introduces students to the concepts of folklore and gender and their interrelationships. It looks at representations of gender and gendered uses of folklore. It considers relationships between traditional, popular, and mass cultures, with a focus on how gender is expressed and communicated in and by them. It examines folklore as a mode of communication.

WGS-2251 (3) Gender, Race, and Nation in Canada (1.5 hrs Lecture | 1.5 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This interdisciplinary course explores the work of feminist academics, activists and artists/cultural producers to investigate what it means to say "I am Canadian." Through an interlocking feminist frame of analysis/frame of praxis that examines the intersections of gender, race, class, and sexuality, we work to develop an understanding of transnational feminist citizenship. In our explorations, we locate ourselves in our own differing Canadian contexts, examining our own social locations and practices. Topics include concepts such as home, belonging, colonization, decolonization, sovereignty, exile, nation, nationalism, multiculturalism, marginalization, exclusion, citizenship, cultural activism, democracy and resistance. Topics vary.

WGS-2256 (3) New Media, Culture Jamming, and the Third Wave (1.5 hrs Lecture | 1.5 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This course is an introduction to new media and culture jamming in the context of Third Wave Feminism. It explores how feminists today are using new media technologies including hypertext, blogs, gaming, online zines, and digital audio/video in the virtual praxis of feminism. It also examines how feminist culture jamming works to resist the occupation of public space and imagination by corporate and mainstream media. Course materials focus on the transformative potential of new media and culture jamming as tools for social change.

WGS-2258 (3) Boys, Men, and Masculinities on Film (1.5 hrs Lecture | 1.5 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This course examines myths, theories, and images of boys and men that shape how they are represented and how they represent themselves in popular culture, particularly in feature films. Using feminist, queer, trans, and cultural studies theories, we look, for example, at how political and material conditions influence representation. We focus on North American masculinities, examining gender, race, class, age, sexuality, nationality, ethnicity, ability, and other categories of identity. Film genres considered include westerns, comedies, and action. Topics considered include work, health, relationship, media, and violence.

WGS-2260 (3) Girls, Women and Popular Culture (1.5 hrs Lecture | 1.5 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This course examines some of the myths, theories and images of girls and women that shape how they are represented and how they represent themselves in popular culture. In addition to studying popular culture via feminist theory and cultural studies, the ways in which political and material conditions influence the representation of girls and women are examined. While this course primarily examines North American popular culture, gender, race, class, age, sexuality, ethnicity, nationality, ability, and other categories of identity are also considered. Areas of study include myths of romantic love, images of the body and women in action.

WGS-2262 (3) Sex, Sexuality, Gender, and Audiovisual Media (1.5 hrs Lecture | 1.5 hrs Seminar/Discussion) Using multidisciplinary and interdisciplinary perspectives, this course addresses how gendered analysis, primarily feminist but also queer, postmodern, postcolonial, and critical race theory, illuminates audiovisual media, particularly film and television. The course explores the transformative potential of audiovisual media to re-imagine hegemonic and mainstream notions of sex, sexuality, and gender. For all media, the course examines genres, creators, audiences, performers and texts. Possible topics include soap operas and horse operas, documentaries and reality TV, intercultural cinema, transnational video art, cinematic transgender and transbiology, and representations of violence.

WGS-2264 (3) Disabilities, Sexualities, and Rights (1.5 hrs Lecture | 1.5 hrs Seminar/Discussion) Links between living with disabilities and risk of disadvantage or discrimination are clear, yet focus on equity, employment access, services, and physical health needs may render invisible issues of sexual health, identity, and expression of people with disabilities. This course embraces social models and explores human rights implications of challenging bio-medical views of sexualities and disabilities, focusing on how people with disabilities embrace their sexualities and/or are prevented from doing so. Students explore these topics from critical disability, feminist, and queer perspectives. Recognizing and balancing complex and sometimes apparently competing self-identities and needs are integral from a human rights perspective.

Cross-listed: DIS-2200(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and DIS-2200.

Requisite Courses: DIS-1003 and DIS-1004 or

WGS-1232 or 30 credit hours [prerequisite(s)].

WGS-2270 (3) Food Cultures, Sex, and Gender (1.5 hrs Lecture | 1.5 hrs Seminar/Discussion) Using multidisciplinary and interdisciplinary perspectives, this course addresses how gendered analysis, including feminist, queer, postmodern, postcolonial, and critical race theory illuminates the cultures of food and food's complex relation to human societies. The course examines such topics as cross-cultural perspectives on eating behaviours; gender and food systems; recipes, cookbooks, and menus as texts; food and the body; social construction of culinary practices, beliefs, and traditions; politics of family and meals; psychological, cultural, and social determinants of taste; malnutrition, hunger and food security; food in fiction, film and art; social and cultural dimensions of food technologies; and the political economy of the global food system.

WGS-2333 (3) Feminisms: Background and Fundamentals (1.5 hrs Lecture | 1.5 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This lecture/seminar course provides an overview of feminist concepts to the end of the 20th century, and their implications for current feminist theory and practice through a combination of lectures, presentations, films, and seminar discussions. The course addresses feminist thought from its cross-cultural beginnings to its more recent forms and the bases, background, and fundamentals needed to understand current feminisms and feminist theorizing. We look at gender-based critiques of traditional disciplines and their concepts, as well as the development of issues currently of concern to feminisms, including such areas as colonialism, racism, homophobia, gender diversity, and sexualities.

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and WGS-3301.

Requisite Courses: WGS-1232 [prerequisite(s)].

WGS-2416 (3) Sex, Gender, Space and Place (3 hrs Lecture) This course examines, from interdisciplinary perspectives including those of Women's and Gender Studies, Geography and Environmental Studies, relationships among sex, gender, space and place in societies, cultures, environments and ecosystems. Selected relevant topics will be considered, such as ecofeminism, the cultural politics and political geography of sex and sexual identities, the gendering and sexing of city landscape and architecture, notions of public and private space, and space/place in the sociocultural construction of femininity and masculinity. We will consider how sex, gender, race, ethnicity, class, sexuality and other aspects of identity affect the transformation of space into place.

Cross-listed: GEOG-2416(3) and ENV-2416(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ENV-2416 | GEOG-2416.

Requisite Courses: GEOG-1105 or GEOG-1102 or GEOG-1103, or ENV-1600, or WGS-1232 or permission of the instructor or permission of the chair [prerequisite(s)].

WGS-3001 (6) Indigenous and Critical Race Feminisms (3 hrs Lecture/Seminar) Indigenous and racialized scholars, activists, and artists are leading the way in intersectional feminisms. This course acquaints students with issues such as identity, gender, representation, race, sovereignty, land, settler colonialism and decolonization. Students explore Indigenous, critical race and anti-racist feminist theories that resist colonial violence, gendered, and racialized representations of ethnicity. The theoretical frameworks of Indigenous women and women of colour are central to this course, and we examine and locate our understanding of our feminist practices through these theoretical frameworks.

Restrictions: May not hold credit for this course and WGS 3500 when the topic was Anti-Racism and Indigenous Feminisms.

Requisite Courses: WGS-1232 [prerequisite(s)].

WGS-3003 (3) Gender, Sex, Sexuality and Science (1.5 hrs Lecture | 1.5 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This course raises feminist questions about how science and scientists address concepts of gender, sex and sexuality. Using anti-racist, decolonial and intersectional approaches, we investigate how concepts of human gender, sex, and sexuality have been constructed. More specifically, how biology has been invented and is understood by science and the medical profession. We examine the various outcomes and repercussions of these narratives for people across the gender spectrum. We address the ways in which these perceptions of biology, sex, gender and sexuality may influence people's lives and investigate various strategies currently used to challenge problematic and erroneous attitudes and practices.

Requisite Courses: WGS-1232 or the former WGS-2301 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

WGS-3004 (3) Women, Health and the Environment (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This course introduces students to a number of pertinent issues and questions feminists are dealing with when considering women, health and the environment. We investigate how women, health and the environment intersect and explore some of the repercussions of particular environmental situations (including, but not limited to, environmental pollution, nuclear radiation, and synthetic hormones) on women's physical, emotional, spiritual and psychological health. We also study the ways in which feminists are researching and calling attention to the injustice of environmental degradation on women's health and various feminist strategies developed in challenging dangerous environmental practices.

Cross-listed: ENV-3004(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and ENV-3004.

Requisite Courses: WGS-1232 or the former WGS-2301 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

WGS-3005 (3) Gender in Fairy Tale Film and Cinematic Folklore (1 hrs Lecture | 2 hrs Seminar/Discussion) Fairy tale film (movie or TV versions of international wonder tales) and cinematic folklore (representations of other traditional genres in film) express notions of gender that have multiple implications for their creators and audiences. Using feminist film theory, we explore filmed versions of traditional culture primarily for adults. Topics include postmodern and psychoanalytic perspectives; metamorphosis, enchantment, monstrosity, and abjection; transgender and transbiology; the rise in popularity of adult fairy tale film; analyses of particular auteurs; adaptation theory; genre and generational shifts and remixes; historic and contemporary perspectives on innovative cinematography and special effects, and/or contemporary iconography.

Requisite Courses: WGS-1232 or WGS-2001 or the former WGS-2002 or ENGL-2114 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

WGS-3006 (3) Embodied Subjects (3 hrs

Seminar/Discussion) This course uses an intersectional approach to embodiment that attends to how constructions of class, debility, disability, frailty, gender, race, sexuality, and other social differences come to figure in experiences and understandings of the body. We think about bodies as sites not only of social inscription but also of agency and possibility and highlight feminist and crip activism. What is embodiment? What is a subject? How are subjects embodied? What are the implications of embodied subjectivity? Why are some humans perceived as more embodied than others and how do the above constructions affect those perceptions?

Cross-listed: DIS-3006(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and DIS-3006.

Requisite Courses: WGS-2333 or DIS-2100 or permission of WGS Chair or DS Coordinator or instructor [prerequisite(s)].

WGS-3020 (3) Women and the Inner City (1.5 hrs

Lecture | 1.5 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This course explores a number of issues specific to women living in the inner city. We examine the economic, political, and social conditions that influence the lives of diverse populations of women living in the inner city and the various issues and problems associated with their positioning. Within this larger context, special attention is paid to the specific issues and problems related to the experience of urban Aboriginal women, new immigrant women, underemployed women and street-involved women.

Cross-listed: UIC-3020(3).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and UIC-3020.

WGS-3040 (6) Feminist Cultural Productions (3 hrs

Seminar/Discussion) This interdisciplinary course explores a wide range of cultural practices such as performance, poetry, zines, crafting, street art, video and film, radio, spoken word, comics, and hypertext, to develop connections among artistic practices and feminist theory. To understand the economic, political and social conditions that women artists face, we investigate cultural production by women artists and critically engage a wide range of feminist culture and practices. We explore concepts such as interpretation, representation, cultural production, appropriation, censorship, voice, the body, identity, cultural democracy, and cultural resistance. Topics may vary. Students develop their own creative work.

Cross-listed: WGS-4040(6).

Restrictions: Students may not hold credit for this course and WGS-4040.

Requisite Courses: WGS-1232 or permission of the instructor [prerequisite(s)].

WGS-3200 (6) Feminist Research Methodologies

Seminar (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This course takes students through the process of conducting a feminist research project. Steps include choosing a topic, obtaining bibliographic background, learning about and choosing among a variety of research methods, writing a research proposal which will be passed through the Women's and Gender Studies Ethics Committee, following University Human Research Ethics Board procedures, conducting preliminary research, and presenting preliminary results. Discussions of readings, seminars on a variety of readings on different feminist research methods, and workshops on how to apply those research methods comprise the main content.

Requisite Courses: WGS-1232 [prerequisite(s)].

WGS-3302 (3) Feminisms: Current Perspectives (1 hrs Lecture | 2 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This primarily seminar course delves into contemporary feminist theories and their implications for feminist practice through a combination of lectures, presentations, films, and seminar discussions. The course addresses emerging feminist concepts and current issues of concern to feminist theorizing. It offers a broad overview, or focuses on a particular topic such as theories of the body, postcolonial feminist theories, and queer and trans theorizing of gender.

Requisite Courses: WGS-2333 [prerequisite(s)].

WGS-3321 (3) Gender and Organizations (1.5 hrs

Lecture | 1.5 hrs Seminar/Discussion) Exploring gender's relevance to organizations of various types, including corporations and not-for-profits, this course addresses how gendered analysis can benefit a variety of perspectives on organizations. Taking critical and postmodern approaches to organizational theory and practice, the course considers gender with respect to such topics as leadership; management; communication; conflict resolution; diversity, inclusion, and intersectionality; power; negotiation; organizational change; organizational justice; ethics; healthy workplaces; volunteer workers; management; human resources; and globalization.

WGS-4000 (9) Women's and Gender Studies

Practicum (1.5 hrs Project / Thesis | 1.5 hrs Seminar/Discussion) Students engage in a feminist practicum project with a Manitoba organization involved in feminist work. The first term (3 credit hours) will be spent linking issues of feminist theory and practice, and developing a meaningful work project with an organization. In the second term (6 credit hours), students will complete the work project, meet periodically with the class to report on progress, and share strategies and knowledge. Students present their final report at the WGS Colloquium. The nature of the project is decided by the student, in consultation with their instructor and practicum supervisor. Students arrange their own placement with an organization, subject to instructor approval.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

Requisite Courses: WGS-2333 (or the former WGS-3301) and WGS-3302, or permission of the instructor or the Department Chair [prerequisite(s)].

WGS-4004 (3) Cultural Studies and Feminism (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) The field of cultural studies has been shaped by encounters between several forms of inquiry including but not limited to feminist critique, class-conscious ethnic and critical race studies, psychoanalysis, anthropology, sociology, education, folklore studies, indigenous, postcolonial, and diasporic studies, as well as studies in communications and media, literature, visual arts, and the performing arts. This seminar style course highlights feminist engagements with the interdisciplinary field of cultural studies. Specific themes in the course vary by instructor.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required. Students may not hold credit for this course and ANTH-4106 | POL-4415 | WGS-4000 | WGS-3232 | WOM-2200.

Requisite Courses: WGS-2333 (or the former WGS-3301) and WGS-3302, or permission of the instructor or the Department Chair [prerequisite(s)].

WGS-4100 (6) Queer Studies in the Global

Postmodern (3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This course introduces queer theories in the context of global postmodern culture. It builds on the premise that sex, gender, and sexuality intersect with other relations such as class, disability, race, ethnicity, citizenship, language, and religion. Course materials trace foundational texts in queer theory from feminist, poststructuralist, and gay and lesbian studies, as well as developments that have emerged in light of bisexual, transgender, indigenous, postcolonial, and diasporic critiques. This course also insists upon the relevance of queer studies for considering conflicts of national and trans-national consequence including neo-colonialism, globalization, citizenship, immigration, war, terrorism, and human rights.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

Requisite Courses: WGS-2333 (or the former WGS-3301) and WGS-3302, or permission of the instructor or the Department Chair [prerequisite(s)].

WGS-4200 (3) Advanced Feminist Theory

(3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This course provides a forum for the exploration of complex and crucially significant texts and topics in feminist theory, and seeks to strengthen the ways students understand theory as interactive with learning, research, policy and practice.

Restrictions: Honours Form Required.

Requisite Courses: WGS-2333 (or the former WGS-3301) and WGS-3302, or permission of the instructor or the Department Chair [prerequisite(s)].

WGS-4232 (3) Practical Feminisms

(3 hrs Seminar/Discussion) This course moves students toward the work and study they will conduct following graduation. It examines the academy and other workplaces as gendered locations, from both theoretical and practical perspectives. Students learn strategies and techniques for success in applying for and working within graduate programs and a variety of workplaces. As the capstone seminar for Women's and Gender Studies students, it accommodates discussions arising from students' current research, practicum projects, and theses. The seminar gives students the opportunity to work collectively, listen, read purposively, and constructively critique and support each other's work.
