INTRODUCTION

The Department of Rhetoric, Writing, and Communications teaches both practical communicative skills and critical thinking about communicative texts and contexts. To prepare first-year students for success in university, our introductory courses provide instruction in academic writing. (Please see Course Listings for information about how these courses are numbered and organized in order to represent the disciplinary conventions associated with different fields of learning). To prepare more advanced students for careers in communications and for participatory citizenship, our upper-level courses combine practical instruction in writing and public speaking with attention to the history, theory, and analysis of rhetoric and communication. The Department also houses the Tutoring Centre and Computer Writing Lab, both offering a range of resources for students to develop their writing abilities and prepare assignments.

In addition to writing courses at the introductory level, the Department offers a 3-Year, 4-Year, and Honours BA with a Major in Rhetoric and Communications. This program emphasizes the interpretation, evaluation, production, and precise editing of messages for a range of audiences, media, and purposes. Students in the Major practise writing in a variety of genres and read contemporary non-fiction, analyze visual and verbal arguments, trace the impact of print and electronic media on western culture, and—through the study of theory and close attention to textual practices—examine how ideology is embodied in discourse. Students with a BA in Rhetoric and Communications can enter graduate studies in such fields as Communications, Composition, Media Studies, and Rhetoric. They are also well prepared for public- and private-sector careers that depend on advanced analytical and communicative skills, especially in writing. We also offer a Minor in Rhetoric, Writing, and Communications.

Also available is a 4-Year Degree/Diploma in Communications, offered jointly by The University of Winnipeg and Red River College. The Degree/Diploma balances a well-rounded liberal arts education with applied and workplace training to prepare students for careers in Journalism, Public Relations, Advertising, or Broadcast and Media Production.

The Department offers a Certificate in Writing designed for students who wish to focus on honing their writing knowledge and practices. Since the courses required for the Certificate in Writing are also part of the Rhetoric and Communications degree program, they can be used toward a 3-year, 4-year, or Honours BA, if students choose to continue their studies.

The requirements for each of our programs are described below.

Students interested in our programs should contact the Department (204-258-3865) for basic information. Students are also encouraged to seek advice from faculty members about appropriate courses. A number of courses at the 2000-level or above may be taken for credit toward a Major in English, or counted toward any degree as electives.

JOINT COMMUNICATIONS DEGREE/DIPLOMA (UW/RRC Polytech)

The University of Winnipeg offers a combined degree/diploma program in Communications in cooperation with RRC Polytech. Generally, students begin at the University of Winnipeg, completing at least 60 credit hours before proceeding to RRC Polytech, where they take the two-year Creative Communications Program. The final 12 credit hours of University of Winnipeg courses must be taken during these two years at RRC Polytech if the student wishes to graduate within four years; otherwise, these credit hours may be completed before or after attending RRC Polytech. Students are granted block transfer of 48 credit hours for their Creative Communications Diploma and granted a B.A. in Communications once they have received their diploma and completed the prescribed 72 credit hours of study at the University of Winnipeg.

APPLICATION PROCEDURES

Applications to the University of Winnipeg alone do not constitute applications to the Joint Communications Program. Students must apply separately to RRC Polytech for admission to Creative Communications. In their applications to each institution, students must indicate their interest in the Joint Communications Program.

RRC Polytech does not reserve seats for joint degree students. You are advised to apply to the RRC Polytech start date you wish to attend once it is advertised on RRC Polytech's website at www.rrc.ca/cre. Offers of admittance will be made to qualified applicants based on portfolio scores in descending order until all available seats are filled. The annual application intake opens on March 1 and closes the following February. For example, for the Fall 2023 start date applications will be accepted between March 1, 2022 and February 28, 2023. Applicants not offered a seat may reapply for a future intake by submitting a new application, application fee, and portfolio based on the portfolio specifications for that application year.

This program requires two terms each year of full-time coursework and takes two years to complete. The program at RRC Polytech generally accepts no more than 75 applicants per year. Courses in the first year of the Creative Communications Program include introductions to journalism, advertising, public relations, and electronic publishing; broadcast media; current events; style in journalism; and business communication. The second year of the Program provides further experience with broadcast media and requires practicums in public relations, advertising, broadcast production, and journalism.

Note: Students who have already fulfilled first-year requirements and/or who have completed the Creative Communications Diploma from RRC Polytech should contact Dr. Andrew McGillivray, Chair, Department of Rhetoric, Writing, and Communications, at 204-786-9269, for further information about upper-level courses and requirements.

GENERAL INFORMATION

WRITING REQUIREMENT

University of Winnipeg students who are required to take a writing course (see Degree and Major Requirements for all Arts and Science Degree Programs) may enrol in any one of a variety of sections of Academic Writing, which is offered in both 3-credit hour and 6-credit hour versions. Students who believe their ability as writers would benefit from the extended practice offered by the 6-credit hour course are encouraged to register in Academic Writing: Extended. These students may wish to consult with Academic Advisors about their decision.

All EAL students who feel that they would benefit from extra attention paid to language learning should enrol in RHET-1115(3/6) Academic Writing: English as an Additional Language.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

Academic Writing may not be used to meet the Humanities requirement. All upper level courses offered by the Department of Rhetoric, Writing, and Communications (with the exception of RHET-2530(3) Rhetorical Grammar) may be used to meet the Humanities requirement.

Students intending to transfer to the University of Manitoba should know that Academic Writing: Multidisciplinary, Academic Writing: Humanities, and Academic Writing: Links with the Disciplines fulfil the U of M requirement of 3 credit hours of Written English. However, Academic Writing does not fulfil the first-year English requirement for the U of M professional programs in Dentistry or Medicine, nor the Approved Arts Elective for Pharmacy.

COURSE LISTINGS

ACADEMIC WRITING COURSES

The Department of Rhetoric, Writing, and Communications offers multiple sections of its first-year courses in Academic Writing. Each section teaches the essential strategies for university writing and research: the discovery of topics, the arrangement of ideas, the assessment of audience and purpose, and the practice of effective editing. Problems with sentence construction, grammar, and punctuation are addressed as the need arises.

NOTE: Only one 1000-level Academic Writing course may be used as credit toward graduation.

3 credit hour courses:

The options available to students taking the 3 credit hour version of Academic Writing fall into three general categories:

- Sections designed to prepare students for major fields of study (Academic Writing: Humanities, Academic Writing: Social Sciences, Academic Writing: Sciences, or Academic Writing: Business and Administration);
- Sections linked to introductory courses in specific disciplines (Academic Writing: Links with the Disciplines);
- Sections that take a multidisciplinary rather than a discipline-specific perspective (Academic Writing: Multidisciplinary).

Hybrid 3/6 credit hour courses:

RHET-1115(3/6) Academic Writing: English as an Additional Language (EAL) can be offered as a 3-credit hour or 6-credit hour course. Students are advised to consult WebAdvisor to determine which version will be offered in a particular academic year.

6 credit hour courses:

RHET-1110(6) Academic Writing: Extended

The specific content and approach of each section vary according to the interests and expertise of individual instructors and according to students' needs.

Further information about these courses is available in the descriptions below. Students are advised to consult the Department or Academic Advisors for more details about individual sections of Academic Writing.

Note: Information about prerequisites, corequisites, and restrictions for all sections of Academic Writing follows the description of the different options.

Note: For All Sections of Academic Writing

PREREQUISITES: EAL students must comply with the University's English language requirements: English Language Requirements | Future Student | The University of Winnipeg \(uwinnipeg.ca\)
