INTRODUCTION

Cultural Studies is a field of research that moves across traditional disciplines in the humanities and social sciences to understand culture and the arts as part of social, economic, and political environments. Central to the field of Cultural Studies are the questions of what constitutes a text, how some texts, visual images, and cultural artefacts come to be valued over others, and how questions of value relate to the distribution of power and authority.

The MA in Cultural Studies is a degree with two approved specializations: 1) Texts and Cultures, and 2) Curatorial Practices.

CURATORIAL PRACTICES

Specialization Advisor: Serena Keshavjee

This course-based MA is intended to give students an excellent foundation in both the academic and professional aspects of gallery and museum work. The mixture of theoretical and practical courses in the Curatorial Practices specialization, which includes courses from the Texts and Cultures specialization, will introduce students to critical issues in the study of visual cultures. Students study historical and contemporary curatorial principles in a seminar format as well as engaging in a hands-on Practicum course with individual placements in partnered art institutions, such as the Winnipeg Art Gallery, Plug In ICA, and the Buhler Gallery at St Boniface Hospital. Graduates of the Curatorial Practices specialization will be prepared for employment in visual arts institutions as curators, art historians, critical writers, gallery educators; in the field of communications; and in archival and museum institutions. They may also go on to pursue further doctoral studies in Art History. The specialized courses in Curatorial Practices are open to all students in Cultural Studies
