PURPOSE
This national endowment fund is intended to stimulate thoughtful examination of values-based and ethical sport.
It was established in 2014 by Lyle Makosky to help support the work of the True Sport Foundation (TSF) and the Canadian Centre for Ethics in Sport. The fund’s capital is held and invested by the Community Foundation of Ottawa and annual earnings are used by the TSF to support financial awards in the area of values and ethics in sport with a view to:

- Critical examination and open dialogue on the compelling challenges in today’s sport;
- Protecting and enhancing the quality and value of the sport experience;
- Ensuring the integrity of the conduct of sport; and
- Watching over the values, ethical code and principles on which sport is founded.

FUND DETAILS
Candidate Eligibility
- Must be Canadian citizen or landed immigrant
- Must be active in Canadian sport; as an athlete, practitioner (coach, official, administrator) or educator (teacher, academic, etc.); and
- If an athlete, must be engaged in advanced education.

Candidate Prioritization
Eligible candidates will be prioritized according to the following:

1) High-performance athlete enrolled at a Canadian university, community college or other post-secondary educational institution, and/or engaged in some form of guided study/learning intended to advance their educational foundation. High-performance athlete refers to athletes who are any of the following: international team members, national team members, carded athletes, university varsity team members, competitive club athletes reaching national championships level, etc. Student-athlete candidates require a minimum 70 per cent academic average at the time of application.
2) Post-secondary student active in sport at some level
3) Sport practitioner active/working in sport as a high performance coach, official or administrator
4) Educator or academic teaching in a sport, sports sciences, or sport management/administration or other applicable discipline.

Evaluation of Proposed Study on Values and Ethics in Sport
Proposal will be reviewed and assessed using the following framework:

1) The subject focus and scope of the study and its importance to Canadian sport;
2) The quality of the study design (evaluation of the three phases: formative/preparation; study conduct/approach; and analysis, summary and application); and
3) The potential impact and usefulness to Canadian sport.

Limitations on Use of the Fund
Awards from the fund may be used:

- Help defray the costs of the post-secondary program of study; and/or
- Underwrite the time and costs associated with conducting the project and sharing any findings.
APPLICATION PROCEDURE

Applications must be submitted electronically to the True Sport Foundation:
(www.truesportfoundation.ca/en/lylemakoskyform)

Applications must:
1. Outline the design, structure and methodology of the study approach to be undertaken, the focus of the study and in what form the results will be presented to the True Sport Foundation, in particular:
   a) Include a clear indication of whether the expected focus and outcome will be primarily:
      i. A foundational study – e.g. “What is fair play?” and/or
      ii. An applied examination – e.g. “How can fair play be implemented and what is its impact?” and/or
      iii. An evaluative approach – e.g. "What is the short and long term benefit?"
   b) Clearly outline the particular benefit/value of the work you will do in the area of values and ethics in sport.
   c) Clearly outline how you plan to share your results to create the greatest impact.
2. Include up to three reasons why you feel you deserve support from the Lyle Makosky Values and Ethics in Sport Fund.
3. Include two letters of reference.
4. Explain how the award will help in your academic costs and any special living costs that you will incur (if applicable).
5. Include your academic year budget and costs you will incur (if applicable). You may use standard university or college forms, or your application for financial assistance to a regulated funder.
6. Include a PDF copy of your academic transcript.

For more information visit: www.truesportfoundation.ca/en/lylemakosky

ABOUT LYLE MAKOSKY

As an Assistant Deputy Minister (ADM) with the Government of Canada, Mr. Makosky designed and directed the Health Department's corporate, multi-year, strategic planning exercise, the most comprehensive and far reaching in the department's history. As ADM for Fitness and Amateur Sport (1986 – 1993), he guided the reformulation of federal policy and programs culminating in a new federal-provincial framework and landmark federal sport policy, co-authored the Task Force Report “Sport – The Way Ahead,” and helped lead the movement to control drugs in sport worldwide.
Makosky has also demonstrated a life-long commitment to Canadian sport while involved as a national athlete, coach, official and executive in many fields of sport.

ABOUT THE TRUE SPORT FOUNDATION

The True Sport Foundation is a national charitable organization that promotes values-driven sport. As a leader in the True Sport Movement, the Foundation is committed to ensuring that sport makes a positive contribution to Canadian society, to our athletes and to the physical and moral development of Canada’s youth.