SLFNHA is the regional health authority for First Nations in the Sioux Lookout region. We serve 33 First Nations in the area, providing a variety of health services including primary health care, counselling, accommodations, and more. What we do has a real impact on the lives and wellbeing of over 30,000 clients who would otherwise wait months, or even years, for services that most Canadians take for granted. Sioux Lookout First Nations Health Authority wants to ensure that people have access to all the health resources they may need - regardless of whether it involves a service we offer.

SLFNHA is looking for highly motivated professionals who are interested in making a difference in the First Nations community.
