Review of events & grad student news!

Earlier this term, in late September, M.A. students had the chance to participate in a week of "Conceptualizing Justice, with two research workshops and a keynote by the Honorable Senator Kim Pate. 1st year M.A. student Nicole Murdoch gave a wonderful introduction to Kim Pate's talk – thank you!

Thank you to Dr. Michael Weinrath for organizing & hosting yet another great get-together for our grad students, alumni, & BAH students at this year's "Gathering of the Deviants."

CJ M.A. Alumni News!

M.A. Alumna Bilguundari (Dari) Enkhtugs co-publishes a paper on house arrest and rehabilitation with UW faculty! Dari completed her M.A. under the supervision of Dr. Kevin Walby and is now a PhD candidate in Sociology at the University of Alberta.

Does house arrest impede the working alliance between probation officers and their clients? A comparison of home detention and probation cases
