History is the study of past individuals and groups, processes and events, and ideas and institutions.

Historians examine a variety of evidence from written, oral, material, and visual sources to help them interpret the past. As a history student, you will explore the careers of major figures, like Marie Curie and Mahatma Gandhi, Martin Luther and Martin Luther King Jr., Chief Peguis and Justice Murray Sinclair. You will also study the everyday experiences of people who worked to secure their own livelihoods and shape their own destinies.

The Department offers a wide range of courses across time and space but has particular strengths in:

- Canadian History
- History of Medicine and Science
- Indigenous History
- World History
- History of Art
- Oral History

This program leads to a Bachelor of Arts degree (3-year, 4-year, or Honours). Students taking an undergraduate degree in another Major may choose to add a Minor in History as a secondary area of interest. We also offer a joint Master’s program with the University of Manitoba – see separate fact sheet.

SAMPLE CAREERS

The skills students develop -- reading, document review, synthesis, writing, public speaking, interviewing, time-management -- are invaluable in virtually all workplace settings and especially in business, law, government, and journalism. Some graduates put their historical knowledge to work as teachers or professional researchers while others find employment in museums, libraries, or archives.

SAMPLE COURSES

- History of the Metis in Canada
- Anti-Semitism and the Holocaust
- Islam and the West

- Russia since 1917
- Women, Art and Society
- History of Madness and Psychiatry

Experiential Learning

Students have access to a variety of learning experiences beyond the traditional classroom. Recent examples include a two-week intensive field course (near Riding Mountain National Park) on traditional Indigenous material culture, a course on Winnipeg’s food history involving oral histories with restaurateurs and food preparation, and practica at the Winnipeg Art Gallery, the Canadian Museum of Human Rights, and the Manitoba Museum.
SAMPLE FIRST YEAR

Two courses from the department’s 1000-level offerings – see chart below. You can also satisfy the ICR – the Indigenous Course Requirement by choosing one of the ICR courses.

RHET-1101(3) Academic Writing: Humanities or other section of Academic Writing (if required)

21-24 credit hours Electives, depending on interest (TIP: HIST-2900/6 History of Science satisfies the University’s Science Requirement.)
