

Greetings from the President

Welcome to The University of Winnipeg!

Our campus is situated on ancestral lands, on Treaty One Territory. These lands are the heartland of the Métis people. We acknowledge that our water is sourced from Shoal Lake 40 First Nation.

We are looking forward to having you join our campus community this fall. Whatever your major, your university experience will guide you to be the kind of decision maker and leader our world needs. We have brilliant professors who will go above and beyond to help you achieve your goals.

We are committed to providing you with exceptional learning opportunities, networking, peer support, and mentorship. We provide many exciting hands-on learning opportunities, from research to co-op work placements, that will prepare you for a rewarding career and successful future.

Our advice to you is simple: approach the unknown with courage and curiosity. Step outside of your comfort zone and harness all the opportunities available to you. This is your time to stretch your mind and broaden your horizons. Consider joining a student group – there are many to choose from – and be open to opportunities for connecting, growing, and learning. As you explore all UWinnipeg has to offer, you will develop your ability to collaborate with a variety of people, strengthen your leadership skills, and make lifelong friends.

This university holds a special place in the city, province, and beyond for its academic excellence, Indigenous inclusion, environmental commitment, small class sizes, and campus diversity. We are excited to welcome you to our close-knit community.

Dr. Todd A. MondorPresident and Vice-Chancellor

Tips for Success

Keep Your Course Outline

The course outline or syllabus contains all of the important details about your classes, including when your assignments are due, your reading schedule for the week, and your instructor's office hours.

Note Important Dates

Familiarize yourself with important UWinnipeg dates and deadlines. Put date reminders in your phone and agenda to keep track of assignments, papers, and exams.

Declare Your Major

You are able to declare and/or change your major and/or degree by submitting a new signed major form to Student Central. Forms are available at Student Central or on the website-go to "Current Students" and click on the "Forms" red button.

Plan Ahead

Planning out time to work on your assignments and papers will reduce your stress levels and help you achieve higher grades. There are free workshops available on effective time mapping, note-taking techniques, test/exam-taking strategies, and more:

Go to Class and Review the Class Materials

Success in university involves working hard and being diligent. Going to class is super important. Skipping class is often a reason students fail. In addition to attending class, students need to spend time outside of class reading, working on assignments, and researching and writing papers. Review class materials each week to make preparing for exams at the end of term that much easier.

Your student card is used as ID to enter campus buildings after hours, during exams, for Wesmen games, and more. To request your student card, email your photo to Student Central. For photo tips and pick-up dates, see Student Central's website:

uwinnipeg.ca/student-id-card.

Never Miss an Email

UWinnipeg uses your webmail account as our primary mode of communication. Check your email regularly so that you do not miss any important information.

Visit the UWinnipeg Website

To find student-related information and resources on the University's website, go to uwinnipeg.ca and in the upper, left-hand corner, click the link called "Current Students".

A withdrawal schedule is posted before each term begins highlighting both the dates that you can get a full refund when dropping a course and the final date to withdraw from a class (without refund). You cannot drop a class after the final voluntary withdrawal date, so look up these dates before classes begin.

Take Care of Yourself

Take care of all aspects of your health and well-being. Try to find a balance between academics and your personal life. Remember to set aside time for self-care, get a good night's sleep, and spend time with people who care about you. If you feel stressed or overwhelmed, don't be afraid to ask for help from our Counselling Services! Also, keep in mind the support services listed in this resource guide.

Academic Integrity

The University of Winnipeg upholds principles of academic integrity and seeks to ensure that students do not commit acts of academic misconduct. We strive to maintain an environment in which academic integrity is understood and valued and serves as the basis for student learning. It doesn't matter whether you're in a chemistry lab, working on an English essay in the library, or working online with a group to complete an assignment, academic integrity is important in all academic departments and methods of learning. Academic misconduct includes, but is not limited to, plagiarism and cheating.

Acts of plagiarism may include, but are not limited to, one or more of the following:

- Not giving recognition to the author for phrases, sentences, thoughts, or arguments incorporated into student work
- > Not using quotation marks or referencing appropriately
- > Submitting the same work for evaluation to more than one course without the consent of each instructor to do so
- > Two or more students submitting identical or virtually identical work for evaluation when the work was intended to be completed individually

Acts of cheating may include, but are not limited to, one or more of the following:

- Copying another person's answer
- > Communicating with others at a test/exam with the purpose of obtaining, exchanging, or imparting information related to the test
- > Consulting with unauthorized sources to obtain assistance, including, but not limited to, written, digital, and/or other aids not approved by the instructor
- > Obtaining a copy of the exam or test or questions from the exam or test before they are officially available
- > Purchasing essays, or other assignments in whole or in part, and submitting these works for evaluation as one's own

We expect appropriate student conduct and, when necessary, we identify and discipline student academic misconduct as it infringes on the culture of academic integrity upon which the University is built.

The University of Winnipeg takes academic misconduct seriously and has tools and policies ensuring that academic integrity is maintained throughout the institution. Consequences for academic misconduct may include loss of marks on an assignment/test/exam and/or loss of marks in a course, suspension and/or expulsion from the University.
