PRESENTER

JESSICA MILLER is an intuitive and inspirational leader with a high degree of expertise in communications, business operations, and not-for-profit development. In February of 2021, Jessica joined the Winnipeg Humane Society (WHS) team as Chief Executive Officer, having served on the WHS Board of Directors since 2018. Respected in the animal advocacy world, with a lifelong agenda to speak for those who cannot speak for themselves, Jessica's key strengths are in planning, providing strategic direction, leveraging partnerships, and mentoring teams. Jessica holds a Degree in Rhetoric in Communications, majoring in public relations from UW, and a Diploma in Creative Communications, majoring in public relations from Red River College.
