COURSE DESCRIPTION

This course is designed as an introduction to the basic concepts of theatre with an emphasis on the art and craft of the performer. The course focuses on developing performance skills, text analysis, and spectator skills. While the emphasis will be on the development of acting technique, this course is also an introduction to theatre in the larger sense. Time will be spent examining the relationship between the various creative roles in the theatre.

This class will be an experiment. The world learned about Zoom only five months ago, and no one is a true expert yet. We are all living through a transition – and it looks like we will be going through this transition for quite a while. And yet here we are, attempting the impossible: learning about an artform that is defined by social gathering while physically apart. Indeed, this will be a challenge, but we can still have a conversation, together; we can still learn and explore the beauty of the dramatic language; we can still exchange resources and share experiences – we are still storytellers.

We will proceed with patience and kindness, and with the belief that this challenge is a brilliant opportunity to look at Theatre a bit differently – the possibilities are endless. We will discover a lot along the way, and find a common rhythm together, adapting as we move ahead.

In terms of practical skills, the course objective is for the student to be able to generate a dramatic action in an imagined circumstance in such a way that an audience ‘believes’ it. With regards to practical analytical skills, the course objective is for the student to be able to examine a script from the perspective of an interpretive artist.

Performance Skills: The Fall term focuses on basic performance skill development, including foundational concepts about ‘playing an action’, improvisation, language games and monologue work. In the Winter term, students will rehearse and perform two scenes selected from contemporary dramatic literature.

A Practical Handbook for the Actor will be used as a technical guide. Knowledge of this material will be tested in written form.

Text Analysis: Three play-texts will be studied over the course of the year (see list). Knowledge of this content will be tested in quizzes.

Spectatorship: We will watch digital versions of performances captured live through Digital Theatre+, Marquee TV, CBC Gem (Stratford HD) and other platforms.

Classes will consist of lectures, group discussions, practical exercises and projects, and workshop sessions focusing on prepared performance material. Students are expected to take notes and keep a journal.

In consultation with the instructor, students are responsible for finding material for monologues in the Fall term, and for scene work in the Winter term. The Library and the UW bookstore carry a selection of scene and monologue anthologies

REHEARSALS

During the Fall Term, students will be required to 'meet' to practice the improvisational exercises introduced in class. This requirement will involve from one to two hours of out-of-class work per week. During the Winter Term, all students will be required to take part in continuous ongoing scene rehearsals outside of scheduled class time. This requirement will involve a minimum of two to four hours per week. Students unable or unwilling to comply with this requirement are asked to withdraw from the course immediately.

Any student who repeatedly misses rehearsals, comes late, or fails to rehearse adequately may be asked to withdraw from the course. This includes scheduled in-class rehearsal periods. This provision has been established to protect the educational interests of scene partners and other classmates.

Scenes must be approved by the instructor PRIOR to the start of the allotted rehearsal period.

MARK DISTRIBUTION

Performance Skills Evaluation	10%
Test One – October 26	10%
Scene One – Feb 02 *Pass/Fail – First Pass (prepared, rehearsed, off-book)	15%
Play Analysis/Quizzes (Oct 08, Nov 12, Feb 04, Mar 04)	10%

Regarding Pass/Fail: A number of the performance assignments include a pass/fail component. This component is a necessary part of the process. If the student fails this component, it will result in a 10% reduction in the final grade for the assignment. In addition, 25% of the scene mark will be based on work leading up to the performance.*

Mandatory “one-on-one” interviews will be held in the exam period at the end of each term. Failure to attend will be counted as an absence and marks will be deducted as per the attendance policy. Alternate arrangements will be made for students hoping to leave town before either of these dates; speak to the professor about your specific situation well in advance.

Class communication will take place mainly via email. Students are encouraged to regularly check their uwinnipeg email accounts for information and updates from the University.

CONVERSION SCALE The following conversion table will be used for calculation of the final grade.

A+	90 – 100%	GPA	4.5	C+	65 – 69.9%	GPA	2.5

COURSE DELIVERY AND PROTOCOL

Given the challenges of delivering performance related courses online, the instructor may offer a combination of materials delivery options through Nexus and a combination of asynchronous (recorded) and synchronous (live online) sessions. Students are expected to be available during the scheduled class times unless the instructor has specified for particular sessions.

With the reality of reliance on technology, student must make every effort to participate in synchronous (live online) sessions but there will be flexibility around attendance and participation where technological barriers exist. The goal will be to work with students to make sure their access needs are met.

The instructor will work with students if frequent absenteeism or lateness becomes disruptive and explore solutions if the challenges are due to the limitations of remote learning. Nevertheless, professional conduct is always expected, and failure to meet reasonable standards of responsible behaviour in relation to classmates, instructors and course participation will not be tolerated.

Regardless of the way materials are delivered, teacher and students are responsible for a creative, supportive, and protective atmosphere in order to best serve the work. Students must accept artistic individualities and help their colleagues with constructive criticism. The unity, creativity, and health of the class are more important than any personal or artistic differences.

Recordings of on-line classes will only be made if students are absent with cause and will therefore miss an important lesson. In this case the recording will be limited to the pinning of the instructor's video and not include other students without their express permission. Class recordings may not be shared with anyone outside the class and may only be retained until the end of the academic year. Students who are concerned about recording, can also choose to turn off their camera.

As would be the case with normal practice in live performance classes the instructor or teaching assistants may record student performances for grading and feedback purposes but these will not be distributed to others in the classroom and will be destroyed with other grading materials after the appropriate retention period for appeals (normally one year).

As in any performance class, students are encouraged to present their performances during live sessions but may submit pre-recorded presentations with the permission of the instructor if there are barriers to presenting their work live. These recordings will be used for evaluation purposes and shared with the rest of the class for group feedback in the same way as a live performance would be.

No student is allowed to disseminate recordings outside of the class or post recordings publicly. Access to the recordings will be limited to the instructor and the students. Violation of this provision may be cause for expulsion from the class.

LATE ASSIGNMENTS

Assignments will NOT be accepted after the due date. Extensions may be granted but only BEFORE the due date and with a valid reason, at the professor's discretion. Assignments will normally be accepted by email unless other options are specified (dropbox or other means). For large submissions, students are advised to send a separate email confirmation that the materials have been transmitted to ensure delivery to the instructor's mailbox has actually been made.

SCENEWORK AND ONLINE REHEARSALS

When students are assigned group work (dialogue scenes) the responsibility to arrange and participate in online (zoom) rehearsals, or live rehearsals if allowed later in the year, rests with the students in the group. This is an expectation with regard to professional conduct and participation in the course.. Preparation is a contributing evaluative component for the assignment.

Any student who repeatedly is late for or misses such rehearsals, or fails to rehearse adequately will be asked to withdraw from the course. This provision has been established to protect the educational interests of scene partners and other classmates.

Scenes must be approved by the instructor PRIOR to the start of the allotted rehearsal period.

DRESS REQUIREMENT (in the case of work “in real life”)*All apparel must fit well, and allow for ease of movement

As many of our online live classes are physical in nature and students may be asked to practice present performance techniques are asked to wear comfortable clothing. Wherever possible, students should arrange to work online from a private location which is large enough to provide some movement. Please observe the following guidelines:

- Pants must allow freedom of movement (i.e. sweats, tights, yoga/martial arts pants, shorts)
- No low-rise pants, overly baggy pants or street shoes or hats
- T-shirts or leotards (a fair bit of time may be spent on the ground so low-cut tops are a bad idea)
- Bare feet/dance shoes are both acceptable
- Hair should be tied back
- Any jewelry worn should not interfere with movement
- No chewing gum

JOURNALS & REFLECTIVE ESSAY

The student is expected to keep a journal of the knowledge and experience that they acquire in class and any knowledge gained outside of class that has bearing on creative work. The entries should be of a reflective nature regarding classroom exercises, technical assignments, focused answers to specific questions, play/scene analysis, and observed discoveries about theatre, performance, and personal growth. This is also a good place to document your rehearsals and scene work that is being done outside of the classroom. This journal will form the research basis for the final essay assignment and will be submitted with the Acting Essay. It is required that the journal be submitted to the professor at least once during the first term for feedback and a preliminary mark.

The Acting Essay is a composite summary of the individual student's personal journey, process and theory of Acting and Performance based on the text A Practical Handbook for the Actor, class lectures and discussions, log/journal, personal discoveries, and rehearsal/performance experiences.

TENTATIVE SCHEDULE (NOTE: major emphasis on the word 'tentative')

The following is provided as a guideline only and may be subject to change (NOTE: we will 100% change paths here and there, and that is ok!) as a result of unforeseeable challenges in course delivery, technological interruptions causing delays in delivery, or the changing institutional strictures and/or provincial guidelines within which we offer courses for the coming year.

SCENE GRADING CRITERIA

1. Are you playing action, i.e. is your character doing something to the other character(s)? (Specificity)
2. Is your character interacting impulsively with the other character(s) moment to moment (i.e. is the scene a "pinch/ouch" ping pong game?)?
3. Is your character reacting with a point of view and an attitude? (Vulnerability)

4. Does the character have a logical "through line" where required?
5. Are you meeting particular demands of the script? For example:
 - a) special language requirements (rhythm, timing, diction, lyricism, poetic imagery, etc.)
 - b) special style requirements (depth of character for realism and naturalism, stepping in and out of character for didacticism, massive variety and the surprise use of pauses for absurdism, ease in breaking the fourth wall for feminism, etc.)
6. Is there sufficient commitment to the action and circumstances to make the scene believable and emotional as opposed to merely intellectual? (Impulse)
7. Are the numerous shifts in action occurring clearly?
8. Are you taking advantage of the ironies available in the scene?
9. Is there progression in the scene, i.e. does something change?
10. Is the tension (leading to conflict) strong and clear?
11. Can we hear you comfortably?
12. Are the stakes sufficiently high to make the scene exciting?
13. Is the physical world in which the scene takes place used to strengthen the action?
14. Are the actor's voice, body, and inner impulse in harmony? (Unity)
15. Is the actor using her/his body effectively to carry the action of the scene? (Physical character, blocking and physicalization of action)

NOTE: The list above is a summary of the key considerations which regularly arise when qualified adjudicators evaluate scene work. At various stages of training, some of these considerations may be weighted above others. However, it is difficult, at any point, to ignore any of the above criteria, particularly when some of the performers are achieving mastery in an area where others are not.

ATTENDANCE AND LATENESS for first-year Performance classes

Given that this is a practical studio course, extensive participation and professionalism are required. As a result, punctuality and attendance at on-line and in-person classes and at out-of-class rehearsals are of the utmost importance. Although the on-line component of the course may allow for some flexibility where unexpected issues come into play, normally the following would apply:

- Attendance and punctuality will be recorded at the beginning of every class.
- Unexcused absences from lectures, labs, or out-of-class rehearsals will be penalized at a rate of 1% per instance.
- Unexcused lateness for lectures, labs, or out-of-class rehearsals will be penalized at a rate of .5% per instance.
- After a THIRD late or absence, the instructor will schedule a meeting with the student to discuss withdrawal from the course.
- After a FIFTH unexcused absence the student will be required to meet with the Chair of the department to discuss withdrawal from the course.

- Excused absences or lates require a medical note or prior arrangement with the instructor. It is at the instructor's discretion whether or not to excuse a non-medical absence.
- After FIVE excused absences the student will be required to meet with the Instructor to discuss whether it is realistic for him/her to continue in the course.

Given the rigorous, practical nature of studio courses, and the demands these courses make in terms of attendance and punctuality, students with chronic medical conditions that require extensive absence should meet with the instructor at the beginning of the term to discuss whether the course is appropriate for them.

NOTES FOR PERFORMANCE COURSES

- Senior acting students scheduled to perform in a departmental public exercise will be expected to attend rehearsals, either online or in person depending on the Instructor's schedule. Rehearsals for final presentations and public exercises are scheduled well in advance; students must arrange their university and work schedules so as not to conflict with them. Students must attend ALL scheduled rehearsals.
- Any student who repeatedly misses rehearsals, arrives late, or fails to rehearse adequately will be asked to withdraw from the course (see Attendance note, above).
- As many of our classes are physical in nature, students are asked to wear comfortable clothing. Even while working on-line, there will be physical work required. Ideally the student will have space to move while on-line and be dressed to move. If there are limitations due to the student's remote environment, adjustments should be made with the instructor in advance.
- No eating, chewing gum, or wearing a mask during on-line work.
- In a presentation environment, student actors, like professionals, are expected to provide their own basic makeup supplies where required. ABSOLUTELY NO SHARING OF MAKEUP will be allowed due to the potential health risks.
- Senior acting students scheduled to perform in a departmental public exercise are asked not to modify their hair colour or style without first checking with the instructor/director.
- When attending classes, rehearsals or labs in the Theatre building, outdoor footwear must be removed before entering ANY of the Studios: 0T09 (Concourse Studio), 0T19 (Mime Lab), 1T15 (Theatre), 2T05 (2nd Floor Studio), 2T15 (Movement Studio). We suggest you bring suitable dance shoes or slippers to wear if working in one of these spaces. Your professors will monitor and enforce this regulation in order to preserve the integrity of the special flooring in these rooms. Please respect this rule.
- Students attending rehearsals or labs in the Theatre building are not allowed bring props, costumes, or furnishings to support in-person scene presentations for health and hygiene reasons.
- Students attending rehearsals or labs in the Theatre building MUST NOT move existing furnishings from their current locations.

STUDENT PARTICIPATION POLICY & COURSE CONTENT NOTE (Performance-Related Classes)

Theatre is a communal art form in which a number of interdependent artists and crafts people co-operate to create a work of art. This fact is necessarily transferred to the learning situation, and is reflected in many of the Department's courses. Consequently, it is the Department's policy that students are required to: complete homework such as reading, line-learning, script analysis, prop lists, design drawings, etc.; attend classes; attend rehearsals both within and outside of class times; and, in short, to exhibit commitment towards the inevitably shared endeavours of our field of study.

Any student failing to fulfil these requirements is harmful to the progress of dedicated students and may, after due warning, be asked to withdraw from any individual Departmental course.

COURSE CONTENT NOTE

Dramatic literature depicts a wide range of human actions, both elevated and base, public and private, physical and psychological, sexual and non-sexual, etc. Acting students must learn to simulate life truthfully in interaction with other students in the safety of the acting class and the rehearsal hall through exercises, discussions, and directions which address rather than avoid truthful, particularized, personalized action.

Much of an actor's work is based upon actual experiences of life which become translated into fictional circumstances. Because of this, the teaching of acting may involve encouraging the student to examine personal and even intimate areas of life to help him or her access life experiences appropriate to the demands of the work.

Performance classes often require strenuous physical activity. When in-person, classes and rehearsals may also involve physical interaction between students as part of class exercises or character development and occasional physical contact by instructors for purposes such as the demonstration of a technique or to make a posture correction. Students are responsible for wearing clothing appropriate to these activities.

Students who have concerns about dealing with the full range of actions and subject matter involved in drama are urged to discuss these concerns with their course instructor.

HEALTH AND ACCESSIBILITY SERVICES

Life happens to everyone. If you are experiencing a crisis in your life, or if you have a physical or mental health issue, communicate with your Professor or Accessibility Services – let us know so we can provide support or direct you to those who can. The earlier we know, the earlier we can discuss what resources might be available. Students with documented disabilities, or temporary or chronic medical conditions requiring academic accommodations for tests/exams/presentations (e.g., private space or more time) or during lectures/labs (e.g., note-takers) are encouraged to contact Accessibility Services (AS) at 204-786-9771 or accessibilityservices@uwinnipeg.ca to discuss appropriate options. All information about a student's disability or medical condition remains confidential. If you are registered with Accessibility Services, do not assume that Accessibility Services (AS) has informed your instructor that you have registered with them. Please see <http://www.uwinnipeg.ca/accessibility>. If you do not register with AS, you cannot be granted special consideration (e.g. extra time to write exams/tests, attendance issues because of physical or mental health conditions, etc.).

The University of Winnipeg promotes a scent-free environment. Please be respectful of the needs of your fellow classmates and your instructor by avoiding the use of scented products while attending on-campus lectures and labs. Exposure to perfumes and other scented products (such as lotion) can trigger serious health reactions in persons with asthma, allergies, migraines or chemical sensitivities. We are asking for your cooperation to create a scent-free environment on campus by students, faculty and staff.

"THE REAL THING" LECTURE SERIES

During the FW terms, the Department of Theatre and Film presents a series of six lectures held on Wednesdays during the free period (12:30-13:20); in 20-21, these will be presented online (by Zoom or other platform). This series will feature speakers from a range of areas in the performing arts: technical, performance, design, management, film, directing, playwriting, etc. These speakers will specifically address issues related to “the business of the business.”

The first Lecture will take place at 12:30 pm Wednesday, September 23rd, and features Yolanda Bonnell, a performer and playwright of Ojibwe and South Asian descent, from Fort William First Nation Indian Reserve in Thunder Bay, ON. Now based in Toronto, Yolanda graduated from Humber College’s theatre performance program and was named one of NOW Magazine’s artists to watch in Summerworks in 2016.

Further guests and dates will be confirmed in September.

Normally, attendance at EVERY lecture is mandatory for all Honours students in Theatre (4000-level courses, all areas), as well as students in THFM-3110-001 Screen Acting, THFM-3201 Styles in Design, and THFM-3801 Production II, and any other appropriate 3000-level course being taught in the term.

For the unusual circumstances of 2020-21, attendance is STRONGLY RECOMMENDED for all Honours students, 3000-level THFM majors, potential Theatre Honours/Majors and for Film Majors.

Please see our department website in the Fall for information.

ORIENTATION ASSEMBLY

Each year in September we hold an Orientation Assembly to welcome students to the new term; introduce our new students to faculty and other students; provide information about the department, its various activities and those of its professors; and deliver news about what's coming up. Those considering Honours are strongly recommended to attend. All others are welcome and encouraged to attend.

This September, the Assembly will likely happen via Zoom.

Please see our department website in September for information.

TAFSA

All students enrolled in at least one theatre or film class are automatically members of TAFSA, the Theatre and Film Students’ Association, which plans a number of exciting activities each academic year. Activities organized by TAFSA include regular Performance Jams, Department parties and Socials as well as DioFest (a new play festival featuring student written and produced plays), and 24/7 (an event in which students move into our building and several plays are written, rehearsed, produced, and presented – all in a period of 24 hours!).

Please join TAFSA to find out more at their meetings, every second Monday from 12:30-13:20 pm (by Zoom or other platform in 2020-21). This is a great opportunity for students to connect with other like-minded people and a way to get involved in the department events.

BUILDING SECURITY

To safeguard the health of the UWinnipeg community — and support public health efforts — during the ongoing COVID-19 situation, the UW campus is closed until further notice. All academic instruction and evaluation will continue through alternate delivery.

The Asper Centre for Theatre and Film (home to the Department of Theatre and Film) is CLOSED as per Campus policy. Access for students attending in-person labs in our building will be arranged as necessary. All studios and labs are locked 24/7.

NOTE: It is MANDATORY that anyone attending labs or rehearsals in the building carry an ID card/student card to verify they are allowed to be on campus. If a Security Guard checks and you do not have proper accreditation, you will be evicted.

These rules are in place to protect our students and our equipment; please respect them.

RECORDING ON-LINE CLASSES

The instructor may choose to record a zoom or video class if there are online connectivity issues, absences, or to post to Nexus for later review.

If a lecture is recorded, students will be given notice (via the course outline or on a case-by-case basis) that their personal information may be captured; informed of how long the recording will be retained; and whether the recording will be used for evaluation of any kind. Students will also be given the option to turn off their cameras/microphones and use pseudonyms to remain anonymous (except where class participation is required).

Students with concerns or who wish to seek alternate arrangements may discuss the matter with the instructor.

Access to recordings will be limited to the academic staff, students, and others with a legitimate need. Recordings containing student personal information will not be posted publicly, but only on UW-approved servers.

No student is allowed to disseminate recordings outside of the class or post recordings publicly. Access to the recordings will be limited to the instructor and the students.

ELECTRONIC COURSE OUTLINE ADDENDA

Students must check our website at <http://uwinnipeg.ca/theatre-film> and read the menu items called Fire Safety Instructions in the Asper Centre for Theatre and Film and Access Card/Building Use Policy.

Room bookings at the ACTF are suspended until at least December 31, 2020 and possibly longer. However, when we are able to allow students to book rooms again, links to Room Booking Instructions and electronic Online Room Booking Form can also be found on our department website. Please read and note all instructions carefully.

GENERAL NOTES

- Students can find answers to frequently ask questions related to remote learning here: <https://www.uwinnipeg.ca/covid-19/remote-learning-faq.html>.
- Students should check their UWinnipeg e-mail addresses daily as this is the most direct way instructors and the University will contact students, particularly during the current remote learning environment.
- This course outline should be considered a guideline only. Time constraints and other unforeseen factors may require that some topics be omitted or covered in less detail than indicated.
- Archival records such as videotapes, sound recordings, and photographs may be made or taken during class or lab times. The University uses such materials primarily for archival, promotional, and teaching purposes. Promotional use may include display at open houses or conferences, or use in advertising, publicity, or brochures. In reading and accepting the terms in this course outline, students acknowledge consent for such use by the University. Should a student not wish to convey such consent, they should withdraw from this course immediately.
- Unless necessary for accessing class, cellular phones should be turned off during classes and examinations. Texting is not permitted in class.
- Any student attending a test or final examination may be required to present proof of identity; photo identification is preferred.
- It is the student's responsibility to retain a photocopy or computer disk copy of ALL assignments submitted for grading; in the event of loss or theft, a duplicate copy is required.
- When it is necessary to cancel a class due to exceptional circumstances, instructors will make every effort to inform students via uwinnipeg email (and/or using the preferred form of communication, as designated by the instructor), as well as the Departmental Assistant and Chair/Dean. Students are reminded that they have a responsibility to regularly check their UWinnipeg e-mail addresses to ensure timely receipt of correspondence from the university and/or their course instructors.
- Regulations, Policies, and Academic Integrity: Students are encouraged to familiarize themselves with the "Regulations and Policies" found in the University Academic Calendar at: <https://uwinnipeg.ca/academics/calendar/docs/regulationsandpolicies.pdf>. Particular attention should be given to subsections 8 ("Student Discipline"), 9 ("Senate Appeals"), and 10 ("Grade Appeals").

Please note the importance of maintaining academic integrity, and the potential consequences of engaging in plagiarism, cheating, and other forms of academic misconduct. Even "unintentional" plagiarism, as described in the UW Library video tutorial "Avoiding Plagiarism" (<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=UvFdxRU9a8g>) is a form of academic misconduct.

Similarly, uploading essays and other assignments to essay vendor or trader sites (filesharing sites that are known providers of essays for use by others who submit them to instructors as their own work) is a form of misconduct, as it involves "aiding and abetting" plagiarism. More detailed information can be found here: Academic Misconduct Policy and Procedures: <https://www.uwinnipeg.ca/institutional-analysis/docs/policies/academic-misconduct-policy.pdf> and <https://www.uwinnipeg.ca/institutional-analysis/docs/policies/academic-misconduct-procedures.pdf>.

- Copyright and Intellectual Property. Course materials are the property of the instructor who developed them. Examples of such materials are course outlines, assignment descriptions, lecture notes, notes on whiteboards, test questions, and presentation slides—irrespective of format. Students who upload these materials to filesharing sites, or in any other way share these materials with others outside the class without prior permission of the instructor/presenter, are in violation of copyright law and University policy.

Students must also seek prior permission of the instructor/presenter before, for example, photographing, recording, or taking screenshots of slides, presentations, lectures, and notes on the board. Students found to be in violation of an instructor's intellectual property rights could face serious consequences pursuant to the Academic Misconduct or Non-Academic Misconduct Policy; such consequences could possibly involve legal sanction under the Copyright Policy (https://copyright.uwinnipeg.ca/docs/copyright_policy_2017.pdf).

- Research Ethics. Students conducting research interviews, focus groups, surveys, or any other method of collecting data from any person, including a family member, must obtain research ethics approval before commencing data collection. Exceptions are research activities done in class as a learning exercise. For submission requirements and deadlines, see <http://www.uwinnipeg.ca/research/human-ethics.html>.
- Privacy. Students should be familiar with their rights in relation to the collecting of personal data by the University (<https://www.uwinnipeg.ca/privacy/admissions-privacy-notice.html>), especially if Zoom is being used for remote teaching (<https://www.uwinnipeg.ca/privacy/zoom-privacy-notice.html>) and testing/proctoring (<https://www.uwinnipeg.ca/privacy/zoom-test-and-exam-proctoring.html>).
- Respectful Learning Environment. All students, faculty and staff have the right to participate, learn and work in an environment that is free of harassment and discrimination. Students are expected to conduct themselves in a respectful manner on campus and in the learning environment irrespective of platform being used.

Behaviour, communication, or acts that are inconsistent with a number of UW policies (e.g., Respectful Working and Learning Environment Policy at <https://www.uwinnipeg.ca/respect/respect-policy.html>; Acceptable Use of Information Technology Policy at <https://www.uwinnipeg.ca/institutional-analysis/docs/policies/acceptable-use-of-information-technology-policy.pdf>) could be considered “non-academic” misconduct.

And <https://www.uwinnipeg.ca/institutional-analysis/docs/student-non-academic-misconduct-procedures.pdf> .

- Students may choose not to attend classes or write examinations on holy days of their religion, but they must notify their instructors at least two weeks in advance. Instructors will then provide opportunity for students to make up work examinations without penalty. A list of religious holidays can be found at <http://uwinnipeg.ca/academics/calendar/docs/important-notes.pdf>

And finally, a thought:

“...it is no coincidence that the culture that first gave Europe Law and Democracy is also the culture that first gave the continent drama. What the ancient Greeks realized was that democracy and law, however fundamental to human government, necessarily cannot incorporate contradiction or uncertainty. Something can't be a bit illegal. We can't almost vote. But to be human is to be uncertain and is to be contradictory. The Greeks realized the need for a public space in which strangers could sit next to one another and engage in the public interrogation of the uncertainty and contradiction of what it is to be alive. This space was the theatre. Through the consideration of what has happened here and what might happen next (through, in effect, the stories it stages), the dramatic space (the theatre), defines what it is for the contradictory, uncertain human animal to live in a democracy.”

-Simon Stephens, playwright
