

THE MUSH HOLE

Created and Produced by Santee Smith

Co-presented with Kaha:wi Dance Theatre (Toronto, Ontario)

Created by award-winning dance artist Santee Smith, The Mush Hole is a powerful and timely performance that uses song, dance and theatre to explore the lives and spirits of children who were forced to attend Ontario's Mohawk Institute residential school. The poor quality of the food served to students led to the school's nickname, The Mush Hole. The Mohawk Institute Residential School was operated by the Anglican Church of Canada and the Government of Canada from 1885 to 1970.
