

Graduating Theatre Artist Round Table

Royal MTC would love to hear about your experience as an emerging artist in the Canadian theatre industry to better assist the community during the transition from theatre student to professional artist. This event is to collect and record responses from recent and graduating students to inform future educational programming and help us understand the current gaps in our industry. Please join us for a session to discuss:

Current and post-grad support systems
Networking opportunities
Desired skill training
Long term career planning
